Zoccali closes out Big M career by betting to aid Classy Lane victims

by Dave Briggs

Darin Zoccali used his last night working at the Meadowlands Racing and Entertainment to raise $588 to donate to the victims of the Classy Lane fire in Ontario.

Zoccali, who recently resigned as the East Rutherford, NJ track's director of racing operations, put his money where his mouth is Saturday (Jan. 9) by placing a $40 win wager on all 14 of his TVG Checkmark Selections on the Meadowlands card — $20 from himself and $20 from his father. He cashed four winners.

"It was a wonderful night. I had fun," Zoccali told HRU. "It did provide a good distraction. It enabled me to focus on a good cause."

Zoccali encouraged other bettors to play along and pledge their winnings to the Classy Lane recovery fund. He heard that some players did just that. It all helped Zoccali take the edge off a difficult night.

"It was certainly bittersweet and emotional. I'll miss the team here, they are the best in the business. Thank you to everyone who supported me over the years, it's greatly appreciated," he said.

Zoccali, who has worked in some capacity at the Meadowlands for 10 years — the last four in his current role — said he resigned his position to spend more time with his family.

"My two kids are starting to grow up a little bit. Not being around on Fridays and Saturdays and missing a lot of things — kids birthday parties and family functions... was starting to get to me," Zoccali said. "This year, they're going to be racing more weekends than they have in some time. Between that and the thoroughbreds there's maybe four weeks that there's not racing at the Meadowlands. To sacrifice all that time with the family, in addition to being in the office during business hours during the week and putting in 60 hours a week. It just started to get to be a bit tough."

He said the recent death of his mother-in-law put things in perspective for him.

"The battle that she fought with cancer for the last year-and-a-half and the closeness of the family (were factors)," Zoccali said. "My father-in-law passed away when my wife was 18. So, she has no parents left. Obviously, I want to have a career to support my family, but also be there for them as much as possible. Now I'm in a situation that presented itself where I can do that."

Zoccali said he has a new job lined up, but isn't at liberty to say, yet, where he will be working next.

"I think the company is going to put out a release. So, I don't want to steal their thunder," Zoccali said. "It will be in racing... but I won't be as much in the 'limelight' of harness racing. I'm actually looking forward to that a little bit. That can become stressful. I'm certainly looking forward to being able to focus on a job and doing a job well."

Jason Settlemoir, the CEO and general manager of the Meadowlands, said Zoccali will be missed at the Big M.

"Darin is a great colleague and a great friend and I'm sorry to see him go, but we wish him nothing but the best. Hopefully, everything will work out for him and, hopefully, here at the Meadowlands we'll keep moving forward," said Settlemoir, who indicated Zoccali's position would be filled internally with current staff.

Zoccali said both Settlemoir and Meadowlands chairman Jeff Gural were "very supportive" about his decision.

"They're both family-oriented people. They basically told me, 'You have to do what's best for your family.' Jason, in the staff meeting, called me his little brother because we've been together a long time," Zoccali said. "We go back a long way to Tioga. I started with him up there in 2008 calling races."

"I feel a strong sense of loyalty to Jason and Jeff. They gave me a lot of opportunities. I certainly feel that I made the most out of them, but they still had to be given to me in the first place. Those are the guys — along with Sam McKee at the Meadowlands — that got my foot in the door in the business."

Electrical and propane systems thought to cause Classy Lane blaze

Fire officials said it might take as much as two months to determine what caused the Jan. 4 fire in Barn 1 at Classy Lane Stables in Puslinch, ON that killed 43 horses - and even then all the information may not be made public.

Investigators told the Guelph Mercury's Tony Saxon that they are focusing on the electrical and propane systems as potential causes for the blaze. Arson is not suspected and farm owner Jamie Millier told HRU that there were no smokers that worked in that barn.

Wayne Romaine, the field investigations supervisor with the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office, told Saxon the investigation was focusing on the east end of the barn.

Our deepest sympathies are with the owners, trainers, drivers, caretakers and many others, including the harness racing fans, impacted by this tragedy at Classy Lane Stables. The horses lost were members of our family and their passing is emotional and heartbreaking for everyone at Woodbine Entertainment Group.

"We're in the process of investigating the propane delivery system as well as some of the electrical components," Romaine said.

Fire officials said the barn had a sub-floor heating system that was fuelled by propane.

The investigation has been difficult. Romaine said the barn mostly collapsed and sustained a great deal of fire damage.

"We're de-layering it," Romaine said. "It's a metal-clad building so the heavy equipment is peeling that metal-clad covering to be able to get in and be a little more intrusive with our examination."

The barn did not have a sprinkler system or smoke detectors, but was not required by law to have either.

Millier told The Toronto Star that the barn had passed an insurance inspection in August of 2015.

Another stallion crown for Bettor's Delight
by Dean A. Hoffman

Bettor's Delight swamped all his rivals to easily claim the crown as the leading sire in North America last year (USTA - 2015 earnings: all age pacers). His offspring earned more than $18.3 million, easily outdistancing runner-up Rocknroll Hanover. (It's the third straight year that Bettor's Delight and Rocknroll Hanover have finished 1-2 in the pacing sire standings.)

Fillies such as LA Delight, another sensational juvenile star from the Bob McIntosh operation, and Bettor Be Steppin, were among the pacers that vaulted Bettor's Delight to the top in earnings.

Others padding his bankroll were Betting Exchange, Betting Line, Bettor N Better, Mosquito Blue Chip, Bettor's Edge, All Bets Off, and Shebestingin.

Bettor's Delight was also the leading sire of sophomore pacers in 2015, leading Rock N Roll Heaven to the wire in that category (USTA - 2015 earnings: 3yo pacers).

Among sires of freshman pacers, Somebeachsomewhere reigned supreme, swamping his rivals (USTA - 2015 earnings: 2yo pacers).

Often when reviewing the lists of leading standardbred sires, you're reminded of that line from the movie Casablanca: "Round up the usual suspects." The same names appear on the lists each year. After all, crème rises to the top.

Last season, there was an outlier in that Big Bad John, the 2011 Jug winner, ranked fifth among sires of juvenile pacers in total earnings. He stood in Ohio and has 108 in his first crop to race last year and they banked enough to allow him to elbow a spot at the table among the established sires. That's perhaps a harbinger of the future for other Buckeye stallions as the slots-fueled purses escalate in Ohio.

Bettor's Delight has been extraordinary since he entered stud, always breeding large books and sending forth quality performers. In his career, he's sired 15 millionaires and that total will only grow in coming years. He's never served fewer than 119 mares in a single season in North America. Last year, he bred 173 mares in Ontario and the two previous seasons he bred a total of 337 mares in Pennsylvania.

His best career performers are the mares Darlin's Delight and Southwind Tempo and the gelding Bettor Sweet, all with career earnings well in excess of $2 million.

(Bettor's Delight has also done service Down Under as a shuttle stallion.)

On the racetrack, Bettor's Delight was as handy as a Swiss army knife, always a threat every time he faced the starter. He was certainly a Delight to those who bet on him: in 26 career starts, he hit the board 22 times with 15 of those being victories. His rivalry with the supersonic Real Desire in 2000-2001 made for superlative competition.

For the 2016 season, Bettor's Delight - owned by the Bettor's Delight Syndicate and managed by Blue Chip Farms - stands at Winbak of Canada for a fee of C$12,000.

Rocknroll Hanover's performers in 2015 earned more than $8.7 million. The son of Western Ideal died in March, 2013, leaving him with only 44 juveniles in his 2014 crop to race this coming season.

Ranking third among all pacing stallions in North America is Somebeachsomewhere, who had only 421 foals campaigning in 2015 versus 1,211 for Bettor's Delight and 994 for Rocknroll Hanover.

Last year, Somebeachsomewhere sent out the juvenile wiggler Pure Country who was a perfect 10-for-10 for breeder/owner Diamond Creek Farm and trainer Jimmy Takter. She earned $689,968 for the season.

Following the top three on the list of 2015 leading pacing sires are: Mach Three, American Ideal, Art Major, Western Ideal, Western Terror, Dragon Again and Well Said.

Trotting stallions: All honors go to Donato Hanover for a sweep as the leading sire of all-age trotters, two-year-olds, and three-year-olds (USTA - 2015 earnings: all age trotters - 2yo trotters - 3yo trotters). Virtually every time a major trotting event was contested, there was a Donato Hanover son or daughter swinging for the fences and often connecting.

Trotters such as the brilliant juvenile Broadway Donna (winner of nine of 10 starts and $531,286), Shake It Cerry, D'One, The Bank, and Uncle Lasse. Then were augmented by Haughty, Double Exposure, Womans Will and others to comprise a thundering herd of Donatos full of trot whenever they turned into the homestretch.

The 12-year-old son of Andover Hall enjoys consistent popularity with breeders and trainers, as does his sire. Andover Hall ranked fifth among all trotting sires in North America behind Kadadra, Cantab Hall, and Muscle Hill.

Unlike Bettor's Delight, Donato has not dominated the top spot for trotting sires in recent years. That honor in 2013-14 fell to Cantab Hall, Donato's stablemate at Hanover Shoe Farms.

Muscle Hill accomplished his third-place overall rank with only 243 foals at the races, while those above him had two or three times as many warriors working for them. So it's not surprising then that Muscle Hill was the leading trotting stallion in the critical category of earnings per foal of two-year-old trotters in 2015 and he was third in the same category for sophomores behind his racetrack rival Explosive Matter and Cantab Hall.

The best testament to the esteem that owners and trainer have for Muscle Hill is when one of his yearlings walks into the ring. To be the final bidder on a standout son or daughter of Muscle Hill, you need deep pockets.

Again, a young Ohio-based stallion Triumphant Caviar got attention last year when his juveniles earned an average of $20,102, enough to rank him fifth in the average earnings category above many nationally-prominent stallions. Watch for the subsequent crops of Triumphant Caviar to see if they can hold their own against the onslaught of competition in the Buckeye State.

Snowshoe series underway at WEG

Great finishes and impressive efforts was the story of Friday night's first round of the Snowshoe Series at Woodbine Racetrack.

A total of 24 three and four-year-old pacers were split into three $17,000 divisions for the first leg of the three-week series.

In the first division, just a head separated the top-five finishers, as St Lads Charger scored a 14-1 upset.

After a first-quarter battle, Every Intention led the field down the backstretch and by the half in :55.1. St Lads Charger and driver Trevor Henry came first-up around the final turn from third and sat less than a length from the lead turning for home.

In the stretch, St Lads Charger was able to edge by Every Intention in the final eighth, but a trio of challengers made it a five-across finish. At the wire, St Lads Charger prevailed in 1:54.3 by a nose over Brown Dirt Cowboy and Hickory Terrific. Hp Black Shadow and Every Intention finished fourth and fifth, respectively, by a head. The top-seven finishers were separated by less than two-lengths.

A three-year-old son of Sportswriter, St Lads Charger is trained by Victor Puddy for owners Randy Christopher, Limco Inc., and Bill Manes. The sophomore pacing colt won just one of 10 starts as a rookie in 2015.

St Lads Charger increased his career earnings to over $20,000 with the victory. The Puddy trainee paid $30.40 to win.

Fresh off a victory in the Valedictory Final, Shades Of Bay scored a three-length victory in the second division at odds of 1-5.

Driven by Phil Hudon, Shades Of Bay got away fourth, but made a powerful backside move to the lead and posted a half-mile time of :56.2. After pacing a third-quarter of :29.1, Shades Of Bay cruised home in :27.2 to win in 1:52. Tower Of Power finished second, while Swappportunity was third.

A four-year-old son of Art Major, Shades Of Bay is trained by Sean Mehlenbacher for owner Timothy Kim.

Last season, Shades Of Bay won four of 11 starts for earnings exceeding $50,000. The four-year-old has now won four of five starts since joining the Mehlenbacher stable in November. Shades Of Bay now has five wins and over $60,000 in career earnings. He paid $2.50 to win. In the final division, Richard Moreau trainee Rafa scored a four-length victory at 9-5 in 1:52.3.

Driven by Sylvain Filion, Rafa was third around the first turn, while Thoughtyoulikeit battled with outside challenger Pistopackinpipe. The lead pair continued to battle through a half of :55.4.

Around the final turn, Thoughtyoulikeit put away Pistopackinpipe, but faced a new challenge from Tylers Beach Boy, as Rafa continued to pace along in the pocket.

In the stretch, Rafa was able to convert off the inside trip and charged by the leaders to win by open-lengths in 1:52.3. Tylers Beach Boy finished second, while Shippen Out got up for third ahead of Thoughtyoulikeit.

A son of Camluck, Rafa is trained by Moreau for owner Robin Morley. The four-year-old was making just his third career start Friday and is now a perfect three for three after winning both of his starts in 2015.

Rafa now sports a career bankroll of $19,000. The Moreau trainee paid $5.90 to win. In order to be eligible to the Snowshoe, the three and four-year-old pacers had to be non-winners of two races or $30,000 lifetime as of October 31, 2015.

The second leg of the Snowshoe will take place next Friday (Jan. 15).

Bushwacker repeats in Meadowlands feature

One week ago, Bushwacker emerged on the scene at The Meadowlands in the featured open handicap with a compelling victory. Saturday night was no different as Bushwacker steamrolled to another sharp score, posting the first sub-1:50 mile of the season, winning in 1:49.3.

Despite winning last week, Bushwacker (8-5) was relegated to the second choice in the wagering behind Doctor Butch (4-5) who was making his second start off the brief layoff.

Doctor Butch left hard off the gate, as did Bushwacker, but it would be the former to dictate the terms. Doctor Butch set an ambitious pace, reaching the points of call in 26.1, 55 and 1.23. While Better Than You rode the pocket, Bushwacker launched a bold blitz toward the lead and overtook Doctor Butch just as the field was set to turn for home. Bushwacker quickly opened up by a pair of lengths and he maintained that margin through the stretch thanks to a 26.3 final quarter to score his second victory of the year in as many starts. Doctor Butch held on to the place spot, with Kingofthejungle rallying from last to be third.

Bushwacker won for the 14th time for trainer Chris Ryder and owner Henderson Farms. His career earnings surpassed $380,000 with the win.

Corey Callahan scored a grand slam of driving victories on the card, including the aforementioned featured open pace.

Total handle for the 14-race program was $2,935,127, a 12 per cent increase over the totals for the 13-race card one year ago.

Racing returns on Friday (Jan. 15), with first post time at 6:35 p.m.

Phil Your Boots takes Yonkers preferred

Phil Your Boots (Tyler Buter, $7.40) took it to the house Saturday night, winning Yonkers Raceway's $24,000 preferred handicap pace.

Sent immediately to work from post five, Phil Your Boots worked around pole-sitting Cyclone Kiwi N (Jason Bartlett) and was on his way. He then led the way (:27.2; :56.1, 1:24.3, 1:52.3), with 11-10 favorite Aslan (Brian Sears) trying it first-up from third.

"Phil" owned a length-and-a-half lead into the lane, then held off Aslan by a length-and-three-quarters. Third went to Cyclone Kiwi N, with Drunken Desire A (Matt Kakaley) and Famous Western (George Brennan) showing belated interest for the final pay envelopes.

It was the seasonal debut for second choice Phil Your Boots, a now-six-year-old Shanghai Phil gelding owned by Louis Frascella and trained by Andrew Harris. The exacta paid $20.20, with the triple returning $42.20.

The Raceway's season continues with a "French-centric" Sunday afternoon card (first post 12:10 p.m.), along with Monday (7:10 p.m.) and Tuesday (1 p.m.).

PHHA donate $10,000 to Classy Lane fire victims

The Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association (PHHA) has pledged $10,000 to the fund created by the Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA) to assist those affected by the Classy Lane barn fire.

The contribution is being made on behalf of the entire PHHA membership.

"Our hearts go out to all of our fellow horsemen who are suffering," said PHHA president Sam Beegle. "As a past fire victim, I understand just how devastating it is to endure something like this. We hope this donation will help provide some small measure of relief when combined with the outpouring of support throughout our industry."

USHWA donates $1,000 to Classy Lane fire recovery

The United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) will be making a $1,000 contribution towards the fund created to assist the people affected by the tragic fire Jan. 4 at Classy Lane Training Centre in Ontario.

"The words 'barn fire' may be among the two scariest words in all of harness racing," said Chris Tully, USHWA president. "The devastating effects such an event has on a harness community cannot be overstated. Many of the people suffering losses in this fire were and are supporters of USHWA when they have a champion horse, and we feel that it is imperative to support these people in this extremely difficult time.

"We are hopeful that our contribution, added to the large amount of financial support received from across the harness world, will help those affected to rebuild their stables and start them back on the road to competition and success."

The Central Ontario Standardbred Association (COSA), whose president is Hall of Fame horseman Bill O'Donnell, has created an official page for donations at the GoFundMe website. Horsemen and fans who want to contribute to the Fund can click on the link, or mail a check made out to "Classy Lane Barn Fire" and send it to:

Ellen Taylor named USHWA's of the year

Tara Ellen Taylor has been named the United States Harness Writers Association's USHWA's of the year for her lifelong commitment to the sport, primarily through the Harness Horse Youth Foundation (HHYF).

Previously, Taylor has been honoured with the Proximity Award, the HTA Special Achievement Medal (2002), the USTA President's Award (2015), Indiana Standardbred Association Special Achievement Award (2015), and the Indiana State Fair Grand Circuit Appreciation Award (2002).

"I am honored to receive the USHWA's of the year award. I enjoy serving the industry which has given, and continues to give, me so many valuable life lessons and much happiness. USHWA represents individuals working behind the pen, camera, and computer who care about improving harness racing awareness — a worthy goal for each of us," Taylor said.

A native of the Indiana heartland of harness racing, Taylor was named after the only mare to ever beat Greyhound in a race. She received her first horse, an orphan foal, in 1969 and has participated as an owner, breeder and caretaker ever since.

Focusing exclusively on trotters, foals bred and owned by Taylor have gone on to become Indiana and Illinois award-winning two-year-old champions.

Undoubtedly, it is Taylor's lifelong commitment to HHYF that has garnered "Miss Ellen" the widest range of industry accolades and recognition.

Taylor travels thousands of miles each year to ensure that the HHYF, a charitable organization dedicated to providing young people and their families educational opportunities with harness horses, is effectively fostering the next generation of participants and fans.

Taylor's award, along with the Dan Patch Horse of the Year and additional human award trophies will be presented on March 6 in Fort Lauderdale, FL.

HRU's official curmudgeon weighs in

Congratulations to everybody involved in bringing an old friend back to our industry. You may not have made everybody happy by doing so, but you have certainly brought some pleasure to this old geezer. The pleasure of seeing HRU again is of course tempered by the horrific event that took place on Monday evening.

I have never been as proud to be a member of our fraternity as I have amidst all the sorrow of these last few days.

Generally speaking, we horsemen are a contentious group. It's very rare that we agree on the small things. But when a calamity such as the stable fire at Classy Lane occurs, somehow we are able to unite for a common goal.

Words cannot express how I feel about the effects of the fire on everyone associated with it. The loss of so many wonderful horses is unbearable. Nevertheless I feel strongly that most of the people involved will come through it, although it won't be easy for anybody.

Lastly, I'd like to thank the folks at WEG for putting on the beautiful memorial service on Thursday evening.

However, I have been appointed this site's resident curmudgeon - and as a curmudgeon generally does I do have a complaint. Instead of holding the memorial service in the harness paddock at Woodbine, which, in effect, restricted the event only to horsemen, why wasn't it held in the thoroughbred paddock in the grandstand where everybody - including the public, our customers - could also share in the mourning process?

Peace, and a happy, prosperous and most importantly healthy 2016 to all horsepeople and horses everywhere.

- Murray Brown
