John Campbell said his quest to develop universal racing rules across North America is a slow process, but one well worth the effort.

"We had a meeting of my committee in January in New Jersey and I think everybody there would agree that it was very productive," said Campbell, the president and CEO of the Hambletonian Society. "We covered a lot of ground and, basically, that's gone back to the USTA to get the wording and intent all put together," Campbell said.

"We just kind of went through the USTA rulebook and evaluated them all. Some we've changed and some are fine, some were reworded. This is all in the preliminary stages because we have to present this all again in September to the USTA and they won't vote on that until March 2019."

"We did give them a limited number that we discussed and agreed upon this year and they are going to vote on those in the March meeting coming up. Obviously, I'm optimistic that they will get passed. We think there's value in everything that we've brought to the rule committee."

Campbell said his focus is on racing rules, not ones dealing with medication or putting a horse on a list.

"A lot of it is rewording or bringing back into focus rules that are already there, but have been ignored to a certain extent."

He said it is critical for the sport's future that the rules be the same or very similar from jurisdiction to jurisdiction.

"I think the pylon rule, the extended breaking rule and the whipping rule are three that stand out that the public and participants are confused by," Campbell said. "I actually think that every racetrack should publish what the pylon rule, what the breaking rule and what the whipping rule is at their track in their program."

He said the hope is to get his short-list of rules passed this year at the USTA and then come back next year with a complete block of rules which, once passed, can then be taken to Racing Commissioners International (RCI) to try to get as many different commissions to adopt them.

"I'm not unrealistic. I know we won't get everyone to adopt them right away, but if we can get a block of them to adopt them and then work on the other commissions to come around in the future and build around that, I think that's the most realistic approach that I can have," Campbell said.

He has also been working with Standardbred Canada on developing universal rules across Canada, an initiative that has the support of Jean Major, the CEO of the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO).

"I think there's a lot of merit to it," Major said. "Having tried it on the casino gaming side and, years and years ago, having tried it through RCI, it's quite a task. It's quite daunting. It's probably easier to be done within Canada than it is in North America. We have a lot more flexibility in terms of changing our rules and much more quickly. In the States, I don't know if it's changed because I haven't looked at it in a while, but they have to go through a legislative process and they are fairly rigid in the rule-making process."

"Conceptually, I'm in favor of it. Even if it's not 100 per cent, but if you move towards common rules on 80 per cent of racing activity, I think that's a significant improvement. We have folks working with Standardbred Canada and with our counterparts across Canada to do just that."

Campbell said it's all about creating a better experience for bettors and participants.

"We're hoping that when (universal rules) get done they will mirror up rather well so that any difference in the wording will not make a difference to how the race is called and the bettor or participant can't really tell the difference," Campbell said.

HESTON BLUE CHIP

An education in Paris

As part of his on-going education since retiring as a driver last July, Campbell made his first trip to the Prix d'Amerique in Paris in January.

"It was certainly impressive to see how they present the whole Prix D'Amerique card. One thing that we have to realize is that harness racing is a major sport in France and they don't have the competition with the other major leagues that we do here in this country," Campbell said.

"It's a heightened sense of an event for the whole country. On track, they had 38,000 people there. You can imagine what an event it is. Then, when you factor in how their training centers are set up, I don't think there is anything anywhere near that anywhere else in the world – a training center set up that well for horses to be exercised and live. It's really impressive, the French approach to harness racing. It's really very impressive."

Asked whether seeing such a large, enthusiastic crowd for harness racing reminded him of harness racing's glory days in North America, Campbell said, "It certainly makes you envious, not only for what they've got going on there, but for what we had at one time in certain venues. The reality is that we don't now. I think if we would have paid attention to our product years and years ago when we were the only gambling game in town, I think our business would be in far better shape than it is now, but that didn't happen and now we have to live with that reality."

Campbell said in France there is no post time drag.

"They put up post times for the next race, as soon as a race is official, and there's a countdown clock right in front of the grandstand and also for the drivers to watch in the infield when they are parading and that's when they go," Campbell said. "I understand with the drag (in North America) that it's become a culture and it's not going to change. The racetrack operators know if they go back to when the post time really is and it's a hard line, it's going to cost them a lot of money. Nobody is willing to give that up at this point."

"I understand the drag for financial considerations, but my issue is... why not get that next race out as quickly as you can after a race goes official so you're eliminating the time in between races, even if you have the same amount of drag?"

Campbell said it was "a rude awakening" when he stopped driving and sat through an entire race card with his wife, Paula.

"I lasted four races and then I started complaining," Campbell said. "She started laughing at me. She said, 'You lasted four, I've watched 40,000.'"

He said he's really enjoying his role with the Hambletonian Society, still has a lot to learn and is thankful for the help and expertise of Hambletonian Society veterans Tom Charters and Moira Fanning. Still there are days he misses the action of being on the track.

"There's no question, I do miss that, but I've never missed it since the weather got cold," he said, laughing. "When the weather was good, like the Saturday before Futurity Day at Lexington, I missed it terribly, but Sunday (when there was a downpour) I didn't miss it at all."

The inside story of what really happened in the 1999 World Trotting Derby

Nearly 20 years later, Ron Gurfein reveals what really happened to his trainee Self Possessed in DuQuoin.

by Ron Gurfein

Bob Marks, among others, has asked what exactly happened in the 1999 World Trotting Derby.

Plain and simple, the way the cards fell, my owners were out $130,000, I had my pocket picked for $6,500 and a counterfeit sire was born.

It was early Saturday morning, Sept. 4, 1999. I left my room to have coffee with Doc Narotsky before heading to the track for what should have been a wonderful afternoon. However there were a few circumstances that changed a simple day at the office to an aggravating nightmare. This not unusual in horse racing, but this day should have never happened.

One of Gurfein's more frustrating days on the track came in the 1999 World Trotting Derby with Self Possessed.

I have kept this story to myself for close to two decades and since it has a slight, but still negative, impact on some of my best friends, I have kept it too myself. Bob Marks lived this ordeal with me and he pushed my buttons on how interesting it would be for the rest of the industry to hear.

After my coffee with Doc I proceeded to walk to my car. When I left the motel I was greeted by a blast of hot air that was unimaginable. My car thermometer registered 91 and it was nine o'clock in the morning. If you have ever been to DuQuoin you know what kind of day I was in for.

The Derby had some very nice horses including Angus Hall, Enjoy Lavec, CR Renegade and CR Commando, however Self Possessed was at the top of his game beating his foes by five-and-a-half in the $1 million Hambletonian, in world record time, and by four in the American-National only a week before. It should have been a walk in the park.

It wasn't.

Self Possessed won the first heat by two-and-three-quarter lengths from the nine hole but being parked three deep in the first turn by Angus Hall in 27 seconds took its toll. He was a very big colt and didn't bounce back quickly and was still blowing quite a bit going out to the second heat. Mike Lachance raced him cautiously and he was beaten on the wire by Enjoy Lavec. This left me with a major decision. Do I go back a third heat on that 100-degree day or scratch? The World Trotting Derby payoff is strictly by summary. In simple terms, no money is paid until the last heat is over and if you scratch you get nothing. Already guaranteed $132,500 just for going behind the gate it wasn't a hard decision. I went to the Narotsky compound and asked for more time. He said when the colt is ready we go.

My colt cooled down really well and was perky going on the track for the third and final heat. Although I had the disadvantage of the two hole, I was sure he could out sprint Enjoy Lavec under any circumstances. Honest fractions prevailed and Johnny Takter had his colt at the three quarters in 1:26. Mike eased the big colt out of the pocket and by mid stretch he had a head in front, then Enjoy Lavec changed lanes leaving substantial green paint on my brown race bike and caused my colt to veer sideways. The Derby was to belong to Takter and Perretti et al. I knew there was no time for an inquiry as the drivers were already in the limo with their colors on, very late for their private jet to Toronto. Lachance had said incidental contact, I said good luck in Canada and returned to the Narotsky compound to cry on Doc's shoulder.

That horrid scenario did nothing to diminish my colt. He snapped back and crushed Enjoy Lavec in the Kentucky Futurity and went on to be a wonderful stallion. Enjoy Lavec on the other hand tried to destroy the Perretti broodmare band and to quote Bob Marks, "he never had a foal that could trot even a little bit in the paddock." If it wasn't for bad timing and the lack of an honest call he may have stood in Colorado.

Dave Briggs asks: What is the greatest song ever written.

Here we go with great again. I find it very difficult to categorize anything as greatest, but my favorite is one of the longest ever written.

MacArthur Park sung by Richard Harris and written by Jimmy Webb who also wrote Up Up and Away, and By The Time I Get To Phoenix (possibly a sequel) has been my answer for many many years. It was also recorded by Frank Sinatra, Diana Ross, Tony Bennett, The Four Tops and more recently Carrie Underwood.

A real park in the Westlake district of Los Angeles carries the name. There have been many stories about how the song was written and it's true meaning, but my favorite and most romantic is that Jimmy Webb's girlfriend, a cousin of Linda Ronstadt, left him. He was truly heartbroken. When he was made aware of her impending wedding that was to take place in MacArthur Park he went to the ceremony but instead of announcing his presence he hid in a shed to watch the proceedings without being noticed. Subsequently, the rains came and watching the raindrops ricochet off the wedding cake he thought it created the effect of melting. Thus the famous phrase "someone left a cake out in the rain."

An interesting fact about the song is that although it is a very highly-rated single it could have topped the charts in many places but the DJ's never liked to play songs over three minutes and MacArthur Park is seven minutes plus.

Harrison LeVan asks: (10 questions) I can't answer them all right now but will try one. As a young trainer what is the best way to market yourself to bring in new owners?

The potential owner base has drastically dried up in the past 10 years and not so much due to disinterest but to old age. I also see standardbred buyers going into thoroughbred ownership something that is quite as evident in recent years.

The best way to market anything is have it be good. You can't sell an over-ripe tomato or a car that can't go 40 mph. If you are good, they will come. If you are on your own, race the horses you have where they can win and don't be afraid to lose them because if you are good at what you do there are plenty of others. Work hard and be totally hands on with all the horses in your care. Try not to miss a thing. Your horses and equipment should shine on the track no matter what class they are in and, most important of all, never enter a horse that will make you look bad. Please no 100-1 shots, unless you know they are better than they appear.

If you worked for a top barn ask your previous employer to send you some horses.

One of the new young guns of the industry, Andrew Harris, was helped immensely by his previous boss, Casie Coleman, who supported him vigorously.

Be social, share time with the owners, lunch, dinner going to the races. Relationships built on respect and trust are very important. Always be 100 per cent honest with the clients even if it means telling them something they don't want to hear.

Communication is a major factor. Be there for them when they need you. Many things in our sport are not easy to understand and need serious explanation. Remember, if you don't tell them the problem now it will most likely come back and bite you in the butt at some horribly inopportune moment.

Last but not least make sure you know what you don't know, it will take you a long way.

Steven Katz asks: what are the biggest differences between those enamored with standardbreds and those finding favor with thoroughbreds?

I have had the opportunity to be a part of both worlds. I love both sports and like the people involved in all of racing.

The standardbred as a breed is far more manageable and likeable than his thoroughbred counterpart. Therefore, our sport is more hands on. I have broken hundreds of standardbreds to cart with nary a problem. I have broken a few thoroughbreds to cart with many a problem. There basic temperaments are quite different.

I think that the difference between the breeds is a determining factor in the attraction to various groups of society. Owning a string of racehorses was a fashion statement that was very attractive to old money. The Phipps', Carnegies' and Whitneys' created social events out of racing to the point that the Saratoga Meet and the Keeneland Meet would attract all of high society.

While this was going on, many of the standardbred owners, a lot of self made millionaires and blue-collar workers, were enjoying a deli sandwich at The Stage.

Not to demean the vast wealth in our sport, but mostly new money, men that started with little or nothing, are the backbone of harness racing. Not too many owned a railroad, a bank, or a diamond mine.

Our sport is far more of a hands-on game. Trainers and owners alike have a closeness to the horse. Many owners train and even drive some of their stock, not likely to happen in the thoroughbred barns. Mike McCarthy, a good friend and the leading Jockey at Delaware Park for about a decade would always come to my barn and train with me. Can you picture me going over to Bobby Baffert's barn and asking to go for a spin with American Pharoah or Arrogate? There was a time when we were more socially elite, but as the years passed so did many of the old money participants. I remember evenings in the Turf Club at Pompano where one could see a Johnson, Skoglund, Van Lennep, a Gerry, a Nichols or a Dodge. Those days are gone forever. One thing is for certain the new money in our sport is very game. After listening to gloom and doom for at least 10 years I think this sport is the healthiest it has been in a long, long time.

Thanks again to all my readers. Your comments have been wonderful. Next week Bob Marks asks what horses I have selected that I thought could be great and how they turned out. Have a wonderful week.

One of Art Major's fastest sons

Odds On Equuleus comes to Indiana for the 2018 breeding season after a distinguished racing career. The third fastest son of Art Major brings a solid record of production and desirable bloodlines to the Hoosier State. On the track, Odds On Equuleus battled the best on the Grand Circuit over multiple seasons. Some of his highlights include:

Won his $87,550 International Stallion Stake division in a time of 1:50

Finished a neck behind Captaintreacherous in the $1,000,000 Metro Final

Raced second in the $635,750 Meadowlands Pace with a 1:48.4 effort

Paced second in the $100,000 Meadowlands Maturity in a time of 1:49.3

At two, Odds On Equuleus banked over $400,000 in earnings and hit the board in eight of nine seasonal starts, registering five wins. He captured his $109,206 division of the Nassagaweya at Mohawk in 1:52.3, his fourth career start, before claiming a Metro elimination and racing a close second to Captaintreacherous in the final. The colt finished his freshman campaign with a victory at The Red Mile in the International Stallion Stake.

As a sophomore, Odds On Equuleus finished second five times in some of the sport's biggest races. He was second in a North America Cup elimination, runner-up in the Meadowlands Pace, and second in a Little Brown Jug heat, clocking a 1:50.3 mile before pacing in 1:51.2 later that afternoon in the Jug final. Odds On Equuleus finished in the money in the Empire Breeders Classic, Messenger Stake and American National.

Competing in the open ranks for four seasons, Odds On Equuleus continued to reach the winner's circle and log fast miles. He took his 1:47.3 mark at age five and paced in 1:48.4 as a seven year old in 2017, turning in miles in 1:51 or lower six times in his final season of racing. Babies shine at Sunshine Meadows

by Ron Gurfein

It was an exquisite morning at Sunshine Meadows in Florida, not a cloud in the sky and temperatures approaching the mid-80s. I am not sure if it was the beautiful weather or the publicity of Murray Brown catering the morning brunch sponsored by Hanover Shoe Farm, and promising the best spread of the season via Facebook. The usual suspects were all present, however the crowd expanded with some fresh new faces. Mary Ellen McDuffee was present with her famous husband David, and had some wonderful things to say about my column that were greatly appreciated. Anthony Bonomo stopped by from Saratoga a thoroughbred owner on his way to buy a fine pair of binoculars. Chris Antonacci and his beautiful wife Liv, Pat Walker and her daughter from Walker Standardbreds in Sherman, IL, a place of many Tony Alagna sightings, and, last but not least, the owner of the 2018 2-year-old pacing filly of the year Bill Donovan.

Some very nice training miles were also on tap for the morning. Crowned Eagle a Cantab Hall colt from Red Hot Spicy looked exceptional in 2:35, for Paul Kelley. Lindy Farms had a nice set of Quarterbackbluechip (Cantab Hall out of Southwind Caitlin), Throw Out The Tab (Cantab Hall—Victory Treasure) and an unnamed colt by Muscle Hill out of Kinda Crazy Lindy that were all mowed down in the final strides by Kings County a Muscle Hill Colt out of Brooklyn in 2:32/:34. Great set. Lindy Farm also had some nice fillies on display. I loved Unbelindyable a Lucky Chucky from Lindys Leadinglady and an unnamed Trixton filly by French stallion Love You out of True Diva, going their mile in 2:38/:36.

On the pacing side, Stick That Lip Out might turn out a major bargain for Henderson, Alagna and Riverview Racing. The Roll With Joe filly out of Knockout Pout was only an $18,000 yearling. I caught her mile in 2:37/:34 well within herself.

I have included a list of most of the 2-year-olds at Sunshine Meadows. It will be completed shortly. Sometimes it can be like torture getting a trainer to send you something. I will try my best to review some of the other stables ASAP.

New imports could have a big say in the older pacing ranks

by Brett Sturman

Horses from New Zealand and Australia have been importing to North America at record rates over the past couple of years, and at least two fresh imports could show the ability to make loud noise in this year's older pacing division. Down-Under standouts that include the Australia-bred Waikiki Beach and New Zealand-bred Heaven Rocks will race in the U.S. this season for the Let It Ride Stables and will be trained by the Australian native Ross Croghan.

If all goes to plan, the two imports can bring some needed new blood and a bit of foreign intrigue to an older pacing division that currently lacks any true star. There's nothing wrong with the top older horses from last year such as Keystone Velocity, Mach It So or All Bets Off as examples, but missing are some of the killers that we've seen in recent years past.

Waikiki Beach (Somebeachsomewhere—Cyclone Beach) seems to be regarded as the more 'put-together' horse of the two, and his connections are giving him every opportunity to see what he can do.

Eric Cherry of the Let It Ride Stables says that Waikiki Beach will be heavily staked.

"He's staked up for all the majors and he's going to be starting in the Levy," Cherry said. "We left him out of a couple of them, but in general he's pretty staked up. I wouldn't say he's the perfect package but he seems to have all the credentials so we'll find out if he can go back to his form from when he was a 2- and 3-year-old."

Cherry is referencing the fact that Waikiki Beach won 20 of 21 starts as a 2- and 3-year-old including multiple Group 1 races, but went winless in his final 14 starts prior to departing for the U.S. Providing additional insight, Croghan noted that the horse was unbeatable his first two years racing. "He looked like the next coming of Niatross at 2 and 3, believe it or not. He did all that and came back at 4 and had that problem that 4-year-olds have of leaving the gate against seasoned free-for-allers and it was just a different kettle of fish for him," said Croghan. "When I was down there I talked to (former Waikiki Beach trainer) Mark Purdon about him and I went and kind of went over the horse myself from head to toe, and I just thought he was a horse I could possibly change the schedule on and help out a little bit."

Croghan is keeping his fingers crossed but so far so good as Waikiki Beach is two-for-two in the U.S., with two wins in the open at Pompano, including his most recent in a lifetime best of 1:50.2.

Waikiki Beach will be shipping up from Florida to New Jersey in a few days and he'll be joined by Heaven Rocks, who is scheduled to arrive from New Zealand in five days.

The mercurial Heaven Rocks is another multiple Group 1 winner although he is, by far, the wild card of the two. The gelding by Rock N Roll Heaven—Mendelico is loaded with raw ability but is also wildly unpredictable. It wasn't too long ago when trainer Mark Purdon was drawing comparisons between Heaven Rocks and stablemate Lazarus, who is arguably the best pacer today in the world.

"He's an extremely powerful horse," said Croghan. "He's got 1:47 capabilities; he's just a bit of rogue. When the decision was made to buy him, it was made basically with everyone fully involved that the horse could definitely hit or could definitely miss. He's not a turnkey horse that's easy on himself. He's got a V12 under the hood, but he just doesn't have power steering to go along with it."

Echoing Croghan's comments is leading New Zealand bloodstock agent John Curtin. "Of all the imports there (in North America), Heaven Rocks is probably the scariest one for speed. He's got unbelievable speed and it's just a matter of a trainer getting him right because he has his own mind, but he can certainly pace a scary mile if he does everything right."

Heaven Rocks will be heavily staked, although with his later arrival to the states won't debut until sometime after the Levy.

"We bought him and the funny thing is that we actually staked him before he was vetted out," said Cherry. "The 15th (the February 15th staking deadline) doesn't wait on anyone, so we knew we were going ahead and we had a deal based on vetting him out, and we made a decision to go ahead and stake him. If he would have failed the vet then we would have lost that, but basically, he has a tremendous amount of ability. Along with my partner Dana (Parham), we feel there is more upside and more downside with him than a horse with Waikiki Beach but we're willing to take a shot and see how it goes."

Cherry acknowledged that with the older division lacking some of the horses we've seen in years past that it creates a favorable environment for these types of imports, but he stopped short of saying that success at this high level would come easily for that fact alone. "Look, it's never easy," said Cherry. "You still have to be the best of who's there. But I would have to say from a couple of years ago – and this is one of the things that goes into our decision making (to import horses here) – is that there aren't any Always B Miki's or Wiggle It Jiggle it's that we see, and some of the ones that are still around that were good back then, are a few years older now. Again, it's never easy at the top, but it may not be as deep as it was a few years ago."

Should Waikiki Beach and Heaven Rocks perform at levels their connections are hopeful of, the trend of acquiring Down Under horses with the intent to race at high levels in North America will continue.

"You've got a problem up there like we've got down here, and you can't just get good horses," Curtin said. "Everybody is looking for horses, and there are an awful lot going up there at this moment, with 15 horses alone leaving Australia tonight (Wednesday)."

Croghan acknowledges the same. As fewer horses are available, horses at sale are overpriced and finding top quality stock is at a premium.

Waikiki Beach and Heaven Rocks are both only 6-year-olds, and could be highly competitive in the older pacing ranks for years to come. Beginning next month we'll find out just how good they are.

Johansson delighted to work with new acquisition

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Dave Landry

L A Delight's new trainer, Nancy Johansson.

Given her background, it is no surprise L A Delight is something of a professional. And that delights her new trainer, Nancy Johansson.

Johansson began working with the 5-year-old pacer following her private purchase last month by Adam Bowden's Diamond Creek Racing. She was trained previously by Hall of Famer Bob McIntosh, earning $1.32 million and capturing divisional O'Brien Award honors in Canada at ages 2 and 3.

"She's a lovely mare to be around," Johansson said. "She does her work. There's nothing really out of the ordinary about her, which is extraordinary, I guess, in some kind of way. She knows exactly what she's supposed to do."

L A Delight is a daughter of Bettor's Delight out of stakes-winner West Of L A. She was bred by McIntosh, C S X Stables and Al McIntosh Holdings Inc., and is a half-sister to millionaire Somewhere In L A. Her family also includes 2012 North America Cup champion Thinking Out Loud and stakes-winning You See L A.

She enters 2018 with 23 wins and 36 total top-three finishes in 47 career starts. Her victories include the 2015 She's A Great Lady Stakes, the 2016 Jugette, and two Ontario Sire Stakes championships.

"It's a tough act to follow," Johansson said with a laugh.

L A Delight, who has won two qualifiers this month for Johansson, is being prepped for the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series, which begins March 16, at Yonkers Raceway. The six-week event concludes April 21 with a $125,000-added final.

"She's a little hard to gauge, because she's one of those horses that does enough to win," Johansson said. "But she was well in hand and not stressed at all by either qualifier."

"The Matchmaker is a tough series. It's a lot of weeks in a row and I want her peaking for the legs and final there, not for qualifiers. Hopefully with a little bit of racing she'll find her form."

L A Delight (John Campbell) winning the 2016 Jugette.

Johansson, a previous winner of the U.S. Harness Writers Association's Rising Star Award, has enjoyed success with female pacers, most notably with 2014 Horse of the Year JK She'salady. Last year, Johansson set career highs for wins, with 36, and trainer's rating, with a .310 mark.

Among her top returnees from 2017 is 3-year-old filly pacer Kissin In The Sand, who won seven of 14 races last season including the Kindergarten Series championship and divisions of the Bluegrass and International Stallion stakes.

"She's coming back nicely," Johansson said. "She's just training on the straight track right now, getting some conditioning into her. She's always been a good-sized filly and she filled out a little bit during turnout. The time off was good for her."

"She's probably the fastest filly I've ever trained, like quick speed. She's got high speed to her. If she could put it all together and mature a little bit and grow a little bit from last year, I think her speed can take her a long way this year."

Johansson's stable also includes 17 2-year-olds.

"I'd say overall that this is the best group I've ever had," Johansson said. "We've had one or two standouts every year, but this year as a whole group, I'd say it's probably the best. We have some nice trotters. We have a couple really nice Father Patrick-(sired) fillies that I like a lot and two Cantab Hall-(sired) fillies that are very nice."

"Hopefully they can do some damage on the track."

Heathers set to dazzle Dan Patch red carpet

What's better than one Heather? Two Heathers, of course!

Well-known harness racing personalities Heather Vitale and Heather Wilder will be walking the red carpet at the U.S. Harness Writers Association's (USHWA) annual Dan Patch Awards banquet on Sunday night, Feb. 25, at Rosen Shingle Creek resort in Orlando, FL and broadcasting live on their Facebook pages.

"If you can't make the banquet we are going to bring the party to you!" said Wilder.

The Facebook Live shows will begin at 6 p.m. and continue until 7 p.m., when the awards dinner will commence.

Sponsored by Weaver Brusceri LLC and Ron Burke, the entire awards dinner, hosted by Roger Huston and Jason Settlemyre, will be broadcast live on the USHWA Facebook page and available on the U.S. Trotting Association's YouTube page the following day, Monday, Feb. 26.

Vitale has hosted two popular television shows: Post Time and PA Harness Week. In addition to her local weekly productions, the charismatic personality has covered the sport nationally on ESPN2, CBSN and MAV-TV. Vitale loves communicating with standardbred enthusiasts around the world via social media and her unconventional interviews with a "when in doubt, add glitter" attitude has brought a unique sparkle to the sport and grabbed the attention of new fans.

Wilder is currently known for her talent management for the Delaware County Fair during the live TV broadcast of the Little Brown Jug. While working as public relations and marketing director for the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association she became a pioneer of reporting on racing on Facebook Live and coordinated the promotion of countless on-track events. She was the 2013 recipient of USHWA's Lew Barasch Memorial Breakthrough Award.

While the two Heathers will interview arriving attendees on the red carpet, one special guest will be Ric "The Nature Boy" Flair, considered by many to be the greatest professional wrestler of all-time. Flair is attending the Dan Patch Awards dinner as a guest of one of the honorees and will also be meeting and greeting attendees on the Red Carpet, which is sponsored by Hoosier Park.

Be a 'Statsmaster' and win at Big M

If one invests the time, they can find some extremely useful information at the Meadowlands website, www.playmeadowlands.com, which can help them cash some big tickets.

Once at the site, handicappers can click on the "News and Stats" tab near the top of the homepage, and then go to "Driver/Trainer Standings". There, you'll find an endless amount of numbers provided by StatsMaster, which is powered by TrackMaster.

Some of the data you'll find may surprise you, and also enable you to get a leg up on those who opt to not use the site, which is always free.

Some of the golden nuggets found after sifting through the rocks include:

- Eric Carlson and Eric Abbatiello both sport solid UDRS of .271 during the month of February.
- Marcus Miller has nine wins with trotters thus far in 2018, the most of any driver, while Anthony Napolitano is next with eight.
- Given the number of favorites he drives, Yannick Gingras sports a remarkable positive ROI of 111 per cent for his 34 drives in the month of February.
- Thus far this year, two drivers with positive ROIs include Abbatiello (53 per cent) and Bill Mann (40 per cent with only 3 wins in 52 starts).
- Two top trainers with outstanding ROIs this year include Ron Burke (55 per cent) and Jenn Bongiorno (42 per cent).

So try StatsMaster at the Big M's website, it just might reveal something that will help you hit big.

FRIDAY FACTS: The February 16 program saw $2.6 million in total handle, an average of just over $200,000 per race, the third time this year that per race plateau was reached... In the Late 20-Cent Jackpot Super High Five, the 7-5 favorite hit the wire first followed by the third, fourth and second choices in that order. Despite all of that chalk, those who had the winning combination of 5-9-4-1-8 still cashed $274.68 for a 20-cent wager. Interest is certain to be sky high tonight in the bet, as the carryover has now swelled to $108,155.

Meadowlands issues reminder to owners

The Meadowlands wishes to remind the owners of horses nominated to 2018 stakes of the new language in place regarding approved trainers that was made public in a Feb. 1 press release.

The new language may be found in all Meadowlands stakes conditions under the "Rules" heading and states:

"Any horse nominated to any Meadowlands stakes/event must be in the care of an approved trainer by April 15, 2018 for any stake/event raced during the month of May and by May 15 for all other 2018 stakes/events. Nominator also agrees that any horse paid into any 2018 Meadowlands stake/event may be required to be stabled at an approved facility in a state that agrees to cooperate in an Out Of Competition Testing (OOCT) protocol; an approved for up to 14 days facility within a 150 mile radius of The Meadowlands or the Tioga or Vernon Downs stable area by the date set by The Meadowlands for that stake/event for the purpose of OOCT. Failure to comply with these conditions may result in any agreement created by the acceptance of any stakes payment to be declared void at the discretion of The Meadowlands rendering the horse(s) in question ineligible to race in those stakes/events with no liability to The Meadowlands and no assurance of a refund of payments previously made to the stake/event in question."

Questions may be directed to the race office at (201) 842-5130.

TVG, America's Horseracing Network and premier advance deposit wagering (ADW) platform, is pleased to announce it will host a major qualifying event as part of the World Harness Handicapping Championship (WHHC).

The TVG qualifier will take place Saturday, March 3 and requires players to make ten $10 win and place wagers on any races from the Meadowlands, Woodbine, Yonkers and Cal Expo. The contest is open to all TVG/4NIBets/PABets customers. New customers can sign up for an account by visiting TVG.com.

The contest will award three spots to the $75,000 World Harness Handicapping Championship, the largest tournament in the industry, on April 28, 2018 at the Meadowlands Racetrack. Each spot includes the $1,000 entry fee and bankroll plus travel expenses and hotel accommodations. Cash prizes will also be awarded to contestants finishing in fourth place through ninth place ranging from $500 up to $1,000.

"TVG is investing heavily in the U.S. horse racing business and harness growth is one of our main goals for 2018," said Niall Connell, TVG commercial director. "This contest and our support of the harness industry's largest handicapping tournament is just a starting point in a year that will bring more visibility and content to harness racing on TVG and TVG.com."

Players can opt in to participate in the contest beginning on Feb. 24 and continue through the contest date on March 3. Contest standings will be updated throughout the contest on a live leaderboard on the website.

Hanover donates Explosive Matter breeding to scholarship fund

The Meadows Standardbred Owners Association announces that Hanover Shoe Farms has donated a breeding to Explosive Matter, to benefit the MSOA's Collegiate Scholarship Fund.

Hanover Shoe Farms has been a longtime partner with the MSOA's scholarship program, donating breedings for the past several years that have helped the sons and daughters of area horsemen with their college expenses.

"We can't thank Hanover enough for their continued support," said MSOA President Rich Gillock. "Our scholarship program would not be as successful as it is without the support of partners like Hanover."

Explosive Matter took a lifetime mark of 1:52.3 and earned over $1.5 million in his career. The son of Cantab Hall stands for a fee of $5,000.

The breeding will be auctioned on the website OnGait.com starting Thursday (Feb. 22). The auction will run for seven days.

Connie Winn to chair ARCI Pari-Mutuel Auditors Committee

Connie Winn, the Oregon Racing Commission's Supervisor of Account Wagering Hubs has been appointed by ARCI Chairman Jeff Colliton to Chair the Pari-Mutuel Auditors Committee. Sylvie Dubreuil of the Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency (CPMA) has been designated as Vice-Chair.

The ARCI Pari-Mutuel Auditors Committee provides the racing regulatory network with essential input concerning wagering system security, accountability, and the propriety of new wagers. The committee was largely responsible for the creation of the ARCI Tote Standards relied upon by most regulatory entities in assessing totalizator companies. The committee also analyzes and reviews new wagers.

The ARCI Model Rules concerning wagering have, in some jurisdictions, the force of law as they have been incorporated by reference. In Canada, a change to certain sections of the ARCI Model Rules document becomes the public policy in that jurisdiction. In California, the creation of a new wager on horse racing requires state Legislative approval unless there is an ARCI Model Rule governing the wager, which would still need to be authorized by the California Horse Racing Board (CHRB).

Last October, the ARCI Pari-Mutuel Auditors Committee and the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau conducted a continuing education briefing for regulatory staff in conjunction with the Thoroughbred Racing Association's 20/20 committee dealing with the technology aspects of processing the myriad of individual financial transactions taking place each day throughout the pari-mutuel system.

"Most fans don't pay attention to all this," said ARCI President Ed Martin. "They just assume everything will work and the integrity of their bets will be protected. They never see all the work that goes into making that the reality."

Winn takes over the committee at a time when regulatory policy needs to be revisited to adapt to advances in technology and a changing industry.

At the Oregon Racing Commission Winn manages the multi-jurisdictional licensing of 10 Advanced Depositing Wagering (ADW) Hubs and twenty-two white label affiliates, as well as the regulating and auditing of on site and remote ADW's including operations, information technology, finance and security. She is also responsible for the Pari-Mutuels Auditing Department which manages simulcasting, historical and live racing in the state of Oregon.

Previously Winn served as the Vice President of Career Services with Education Management Corporation, responsible for the selection, customization and implementation of information systems, including data tracking, metrics monitoring, design, usability, training, & implementation.

Ms. Dubreuil is the Director of Operations for the Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency and plays a critical role in the regulation of wagering across all the Canadian Provinces.
