BITS ON BREEDING

Can Wiggle It Jiggleit Crack High Society?

"The race is not always to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, but that's the way to bet." - Damon Runyon.

The sophomore stakes classics are not always to the blue-bloods, but that's the way to bet.

When you look back over the list of 3-year-old colt champions in harness racing, you inevitably encounter horses with carriage trade family trees. Their sires are the uptown swells that reside at the top of the stallion lists and they hail from fashionable female families.

Despite an unfashionable pedigree, Wiggle It Jiggleit could be the sport's best 3-year-old male pacer

But just to keep racing interesting and unpredictable, a horse by a lesser known stallion periodically sneaks into high society and proves that he belongs. This year that intruder is Wiggle It Jiggleit.

Can Wiggle It

Jiggleit elbow his way to the ultimate signs of respectability, wins in the North America Cup and Meadowlands Pace this summer? Don't bet against it. In fact it's not smart to bet against Wiggle It Jiggleit at all since he's won all seven of his lifetime starts.

His pedigree is hardly plebian. His dam earned $140,000 while his second dam Movie Star Laag made $440,000. Skip back two more generations in his female line and you chance upon Stienam, a Breeder Crown winner of more than $1.3 million.

Wiggle It Jiggle it is a son of Mr. Wiggles, sire of eight foals in his first Indiana crop and Wiggle It Jiggleit is one of only two with records. In his last two seasons at stud in Delaware, Mr. Wiggles has served a total of nine mares. (Obviously, you can look for that number to increase.) Mr. Wiggles was a superb pacer on the track, winning the $500,000 Hoosier Cup as a sophomore. That same year he won elims of both the Adios and Breeders Crown and was second in each in the final. In the North America Cup, he finished fourth. That put his bankroll as just under a cool million in 23 tries as a 3-year-old.

Indiana breeders echoed Shania Twain by singing "That Don't Impress Me Much" when Mr. Wiggles went to stud in the Hoosier State in 2011. He bred only 17 mares and went east to Ohio after one season. In Ohio he bred 20 mares in 2012.

Certainly no one would place Mr. Wiggles among a list of stallions such as Somebeachsomewhere, Bettor's Delight, Well Said, Art Major, and Rocknroll Hanover. But don't tell Mr. Wiggles that.

There certainly is precedent for upstarts by lesser known stallions winning major races in the sport's sophomore classics.

In fact, that's exactly how the Hambletonian was ushered in at the Meadowlands in 1981. Shiaway St. Pat, a humbly-bred gelding from the Michigan fair circuit, upset a field comprised of sons of Speedy Crown, Super Bowl, Nevele Pride, and other leading sires of that era.

One prominent Kentucky breeder spotted me after the 1981 Hambletonian and grumbled, "Well, this sets breeding back about 30 years."

(That wasn't exactly true as the following year's Hambo final featured a stirring stretch duel between sons of Super Bowl and Speedy Crown, the twin towers of trotting sires of the 1980s.)

The best sophomore trotting colt of 2002 was Kadabra, by Primrose Lane out of a mare by a stallion named Trotting Happy. Those two stallions will surely never be confused with Super Bowl and Speedy Crown.

Kadabra was one of only five colts sired by Primrose Lane in 1999 and yet he showed remarkable talents as a 2-year-old for trainer-driver-owner Homer Hochstetler. He was sold for a long price in early 2002 and went to trainer Jimmy Takter. He earned more than $1.2 million as a 3-year-old despite not being eligible to the Hambletonian. We can dial back three decades to the mid-1980s when a chestnut sensation named On The Road Again came to dominate his pacing peers at ages three and four. His sire was Happy Motoring who got the champ in first crop and never attained that level as a sire again.

On The Road Again was a real racehorse who asked no quarter and gave none. In his 61 starts he compiled a 44-9-5 slate and raced all over North America on all size tracks against all comers. He was widely admired by horsemen and fans as he repeatedly defeated pacers by Albatross, Most Happy Fella, Niatross, and the like.

So fancy pedigree helps a horse. A fancy pedigree helps its sale price as a yearling and often assures the horse of a place in a prominent stable. But Americans love overachievers, the ones whose raw talent and desire can lift them from the ranks of the ordinary to the exalted status of extraordinary.

Wiggle It Jiggle it is well on his way to making that journey now, but each step up the ladder gets more challenging.

Maven, Creatine Have Tests in Europe This Weekend

By Bill Finley

Last seen finishing third in the TVG Final Nov. 29 at the Meadowlands, Creatine will make his European debut

Creatine will have his European debut today in Sweden the Copenhagen Cup in Denmark.

Creatine, who won the Kentucky Futurity at three and the American National and the Allerage last year at four, has been preparing for this race since being sent to Bergh's stable in January. It is a 1.3-mile test worth $26,411 to the winner.

"He's got to learn how to race differently, but they've been training him since he's been over there in mid-January and he's done all sorts of different kinds of training and I think he's thrived in that environment," co-owner Adam Bowden said. "We always thought he was that type of horse, a horse that could stay a mile and a quarter, a mile and a half. If he were a thoroughbred he'd be a Belmont horse. Each week, Robert tells us he's gotten better and better. I think he's expecting big things from him."

Bowden is hoping to earn an invitation to the Elitlopp.

"He has to perform well (in Saturday's race) and he has to get invited, but that's the goal, the Elitlopp," Bowden said. We've circled that date on the calendar. I believe plan is to race one more time after this race and before the Elitlopp, so he has two chances to get invited."

The following day Maven will take on nine others in the Copenhagen Cup in Denmark. The Glidemaster mare has had a difficult time while campaigning in Europe, but shouldn't have any excuses Sunday as she drew well (the two post) and one of her main rivals, BBS Sugarlight, drew post nine.

"I just came back (Wednesday) and was over there with her for three days," trainer Jimmy Takter said. "I was very happy with how she worked. She got post two and it's time for her to wake up now. She had gotten lot of bad posts. Those races over there are extremely difficult, especially when you have 8, 10, 11 every time. You wind up fourth over outside and they go miles in 53.3, 54 for the mile and a quarter. You're sitting outside, then have to go three wide. It's really difficult. At least she will have her nose on gate. She'll be facing good horses but I think she will be the favorite."

Nuncio, still another former U.S. campaigner now in Europe, has also been invited to the Elitlopp but owner-trainer Stefan Melander has yet to decide if he is going to accept.

Thirty Days for Trainer Bob Bongiorno

Trainer Bob Bongiorno, who had been enjoying an impressive comeback, after 22 years away from the sport, has been suspended 30 days and fined $1,000 by the Pennsylvania Harness Commission after his horse Hurricane Jon Paul tested high and failed the pre-race blood gas test before an April 24 races at Chester. Bongiorno has 10 days to appeal the decision.

Date Change for Lexington Selected Sale

The schedule for the 2015 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale has been changed slightly from what was originally planned. The auction will now begin on Monday, Oct. 5 and continue through Friday, Oct. 9, with an evening start time for all five sessions.

The sale had originally been scheduled for Oct. 6-10.

"We feel the sale is better aligned with The Red Mile's Grand Circuit racing calendar this way," said co-manager Randy Manges. "It will now start on the night just prior to the second week of racing, and end on the night before the Kentucky Futurity," he continued.

The first week of Red Mile Grand Circuit racing runs from Wednesday, Sept. 30 through Saturday, Oct. 3, with a 7 p.m. post time. The second week, Wednesday, Oct. 7 through Saturday, Oct. 10, features the traditional 1 p.m. post.

The Lexington Selected Sale, held at the state-of-the-art Fasig-Tipton Pavilion on Newtown Pike, has been harness racing's leading point of yearling commerce since its inception, with a higher per horse average than any other sale.

Hot Shot Blue Chip Out of Retirement

By Ken Weingartner (USTA)

Hot Shot Blue Chip has returned. Where he goes from here remains to be seen, but trainer Jonas Czernyson is happy to have the mercurial trotter back in his barn.

It is a much better place for the 9-year-old gelding than out in his fields.

Hot Shot Blue Chip, a multiple-stakes-winner with $1.20 million in career purse earnings, last raced in August 2013 and was retired in early 2014 because of a knee injury. But Hot Shot Blue Chip failed to enjoy his newfound leisure time, so Czernyson decided to bring him back for some work on the training track.

"He was getting mean to the other horses he was turned out with, he was kicking at people," Czernyson said. "I said let's bring him in and put him back in training and see what happens. We did that in the beginning of February and slowly I got him trained down. He kept on going and kept on going."

"It started out just as something to do because he was so bored being at the farm. That's why I brought him in. I saw that he was sound before I brought him in; the others were galloping in the field and he was trotting in the field. I said we'd give him a chance."

Hot Shot Blue Chip, owned by Tom Dillon, progressed so well that Czernyson put him in a qualifier Thursday at The Downs at Mohegan Sun

Pocono. With Scott Zeron handling the driving, Hot Shot Blue Chip sat in sixth place for most of the mile before coming home with a :28.2 final quarter-mile to post a 1:56 win.

"He qualified pretty good and he came out of it OK," Czernyson said. "Now we're going to see what the next step is. We haven't gotten that far yet because we didn't know what he was going to do."

"He likes to be a race horse, so whatever class we have to race him, that's where he's going to go," Czernyson added. "He's not staked to anything, so he's not going to make it back to be a stakes horse. He's going to tell us where he should race. But I'm never going to put him in a claimer and he's never going to leave my barn. Me and Tom have an agreement on that. He's going to stay here and be our pet."

Hot Shot Blue Chip did not require surgery for his injury, but needed time to heal.

"It was a bone in the knee, it wasn't in the joint or anything, and everyone just said he needed more time," Czernyson said. "But when you have an 8-year-old, it's tough to give him time. So we gave him a year off and it looks like it's healed."

Hot Shot Blue Chip, a son of Revenue S-Hustle N Muscle, has been known for his inconsistent performances on the racetrack. He went off stride in nine of the 20 most lucrative starts of his career – including the Hambletonian, Kentucky Futurity and two editions of the Breeders Crown – but was talented enough to win the 2012 Credit Winner Stakes and 2012 Pride In Progress. He defeated Chapter Seven, Arch Madness and Mister Herbie in the Credit Winner while establishing his career mark of 1:51.2.

In addition, he finished second in the 2010 Breeders Crown Open, 2011 Pride In Progress and two editions of the Allera Farms Open Trot. He also finished third in several stakes, including two editions of the Maple Leaf Trot.

“He always gives all he has – or runs,” Czernyson said with a laugh. “But that’s Hot Shot. I took the hobbles off of him (for Thursday’s qualifier) because he runs with them too. There was no need to have him running in hobbles. And he looks nicer that way.”

For his career, Hot Shot Blue Chip has won 21 of 82 races. Time will tell whether he can add to that total.

“He filled out nicely; he looks as good as he did before,” Czernyson said. “He’s a nice horse to have around. I’m excited about it. I’m happy to have him back.”

Happiness, Rules Of The Road score on Grand Circuit at The Meadowlands

By Darin Zoccali

With The Championship Meet upon us, The Grand Circuit took center stage on Friday night at The Meadowlands.

The three year old filly pacers contested the $43,106

W.N. Reynolds Memorial. On paper it was a very competitive field of seven and it played out that way on the racetrack. Bettor Be Steppin, sent off as a very slight 8/5 favorite would dictate the terms establishing a tempo of 27, 55.4 and 1:24. She turned for home with the 9/5 second choice, Happiness right on her back. Bedroomconfessions was grinding away first over, with Divine Caroline riding her cover. With just an eighth of a mile to go, these four fillies lined up across the track. Happiness found room at the pylons and sprinted through to the tune of a 26.3 final quarter to win going away in the end. Divine Caroline rallied off cover to finish up second with Bedroomconfessions third.

Happiness was driven to victory by Yannick Gingras for Ron Burke who co-owns the filly with Weaver Brussemi L.L.C. The 1:50.3 clocking was a lifetime mark for the three year old daughter of Rocknroll Hanover.

The $39,816 John Simpson Memorial for three year old filly trotters was also a part of the Grand Circuit action on Friday night. Riley’s Dream was bet down to 3/5 favoritism, but she would find herself locked in throughout the first three-quarters of a mile as Shaqline never found the pylons and remained parked out outside Riley’s Dream throughout. In the meantime, Rules Of The Road showed tremendous early speed for Dave Miller as she reeled off fractions of 27.1, 56.1 and 1:25.1 while trotting unopposed on the lead throughout the mile. Turning for home, Rules Of The Road kicked away from the field and she was never threatened, winning in 1:54. The win was one of four on the night for Dave Miller and the winner is eligible to The Hambletonian Oaks for trainer Janice Connor who co-owns the filly with Arden Homestead Stable.

A field of six top mares went to the gate in the $27,500 Fillies and Mares Open Handicap Pace. Sayitall BB was the aggressor moving to the front and leading the charge around the track, reaching the half-mile in 55.4 and three-quarters in 1:24.3. The Breeders Crown winner turned for home with the lead, but the field began to close in. With mares coming from anywhere, the mare coming fastest of all was the one closing from last, Weeper. She appeared on the far left of the screen and sprinted home to a sub-26 second final quarter to win. Weeper was driven by Brett Miller for Jimmy Takter and owners Bay Pond Racing Stable.

Weeper is eligible to all the major stakes for the mare pacers at The Meadowlands, including the TVG Championships.

Jerseylicious returned a winner on Friday night at The Meadowlands, winning an upper level condition event for fillies and mares pacers. Sent off as the overwhelming 1/5 favorite Jerseylicious secured a pocket trip behind the speedy That Woman Hanover. But Dave Miller decided it was time to move with three-eighths of a mile to go and he pulled the pocket with Jerseylicious, securing the lead prior to the three quarter pole. From there, the five year old daughter of Western Ideal opened up several lengths and was able to fend off the late brush of Beautiful Lady to score in 1:50.4, just three-fifths off her lifetime mark.

Jerseylicious is well-staked at The Meadowlands, including eligibility to the TVG Championship for the Pacing Mares, Golden Girls and The Lady Liberty.

Muscle Network made it back to back wins Friday. The former Valley Victory Champion made it five wins from 13 career starts with his 1:53.3 winning performance. His earnings are now past $335,000 lifetime and he is eligible to The Graduate series which gets underway on Memorial Day at Tioga Downs.

Hambletonian Eligibles were prominent on the program Friday night and a couple of them won. Saboro Hanover won a maiden event for Nifty Norman and Dave Miller. The $75,000 Harrisburg yearling was equipped with trotting hobbles and responded by sprinting a visually impressive final quarter to score in a sharp 1:54.3. Additionally, Dapper Don, making his three year old debut, scored in impressive first-over fashion in 1:55.4. The connections have a Hambletonian-ring to them, being the same that won the 2012 Hambletonian with Market Share, including driver Tim Tetrick, who was very high on the colt. "He's come a long way," said Tetrick. "He let me drive him how I wanted, let me put him where I wanted. He's matured.

Current Crisis and Robert Krivelin were victories in the $15,000 GSY Amateur Final. Despite a frenzy of action that saw trotters stacked three and four wide on the first turn, Krivelin was able to secure a position near the lead where he tracked Mr Ridgetaker who was very wide early and Bambino Hall. Kriven guided his trotter to the lead past the half-mile pole and Current Crisis opened up daylight from there, soaring past three-quarters and romping to an easy triumph. Hannah Miller was forced very wide behind stalled trotters coming off the bend and finished with a flourish to be second while Jenny Melander and All About Justice checked in third.

Robert Krivelin trains and drives Current Crisis for the Hero Stables. The win was the 25th in the career of the six year old trotter, sending his earnings to nearly $240,000.

On the wagering front, the 11th race on the program featured the fourth largest payout in the history of The Meadowlands and the second largest trifecta of all time. It was a perfect storm, as Two Hip Dip, Donnie Darko and Lock Down Lindy, the three favorites all broke stride. Battle Mage avoided any trouble and scored the 32-1 upset. Cutup Hanover was second at 34-1 and Silverhill Volo was third at 99-1. That combination resulted in a $2 trifecta return of $62,559.60. The largest trifecta of all time came nearly twenty years ago and returned over $88,000 for a $2 return. The only larger payouts were a pick-6 that yielded over a $100,000 return and the recent $200,000 jackpot that was paid out in the Super Hi-5.

The total handle of $2,597,671 was a ten-percent increase over this same Friday in 2014.

Racing resumes on Saturday, with first post time at 7:15 P.M. There are carryovers in both $.20 cent Jackpot Super Hi-5 wagers, with the fifth race carryover now standing at $108,703 and the last race carryover growing to $83,532.

Bier Names Palone to Drive Wind Of The North in Elitlopp, But Must First Get Past Cutler Prep

With Dave Miller unable to commit to the drive, trainer Daryl Bier has named Dave Palone to drive Wind Of The North in the Elitlopp.

Dave Palone has picked up an Elitlopp drive

"Dave (Miller) just couldn't commit," trainer Daryl Bier said. "He didn't know what was going on and thought it was too far ahead. There are four New Jersey sire stakes finals and the Rooney that same weekend. Dave (Palone) and I go so far back. He's a good friend. Back in the day he gave me a place to stay. I was living in his spare room for about a month and a half until I got on my feet. He fed me, too. I'll be absolutely thrilled to be over there with him."

Gearing up for the trip to Sweden, Wind Of The North will face a tough assignment tonight at the Meadowlands in a prep for the Cutler Memorial. He was beaten last out at Chester as the 5-2 favorite, but Bier said you can put a line through that race.

"When I bought him they had him on Lasix and with trotting hobbles and when I training him down he trained very well without the trotting hobbles and he actually trained very well without Lasix," Bier said. "Lately, he's been having problems with dehydration and I've been giving him the minimum amount of Lasix. Actually, the other day at Chester he came out of race with the thumps. So I decided it was time to take him off Lasix. He really didn't race well over there at Chester. He didn't get a good trip but usually when they get the thumps they get distanced. We worked him out, got him hydrated; his blood is good and he should race great (tonight)."

The Meadowlands feature includes several big names like 2013 Horse of the Year Bee A Magician and 2012 Hambletonian winner Market Share. The morning line favorite is Melday's Monet, who is coming off a win in the Meadows Maturity. DW's NY Yank, a winner of three straight in the open ranks at Yonkers, is also a threat.

Brett Sturman's Meadowlands Pick 4 Analysis

Race 7, N/W $15,000 L5 Pace

ALLSTAR LEGEND makes his first start since last August and his history here is very well documented. Those were two top horses that caught him in that qualifier last week and he can beat these for Burke in first start off the bench DAPPER DUDE gutted out a win against lesser but hasn't been seen for three weeks; he's not overmatched in this spot if right. WINDSONG GORGEOUS has been used hard throughout the entire meet and now goes first start for Russo off the claim; let's see how he bounces back for a barn that's been producing. ODDS ON EQUULEUS is always at the mercy of the pace but is an obvious contender nonetheless. ONTARIO SUCCESS was Campbell's pick over #7 although the outside post won't make things easy.

Race 8, N/W $10,000 L5 Pace

MISTER VIRGIN was claimed back by Renaud last week and continues to fire almost every week despite racing against horses that are valued at far more than this one's $25K claiming tag. Tonight's field doesn't look that bad and he may be able to bottom these out similar to that race five starts ago; Tetrick's pick over two others. EASTEND EDDIE makes his first start since last July for Burke and you can't fault that recent qualifier in the slightest; has some back class too. COBALT MAN steps up off a win and makes his fifth start for Capone; he's been able to go with these types in the past. LONG LIVE ROCK makes his third start back since the January layoff and finds a more realistic spot than what he's been up against in his last two. SMARK ROKKER gets a key driver change.

Race 9, N/W 4 or $86K Life Pace

GOKUDO HANOVER has now won four of his last five races and remarkably hasn't been favored in any of them. He won his last two by just a nose and a neck but you can't fault a horse that all he does is win; gelding has become quite gritty. ART HISTORY has coasted in his last pair while winning in quick times but the top choice did get the better of him the last time they squared off three back; good matchup coming. SWEET BEACH has gotten his act together of late and he exits a game first over try on the heels of that blowout win two back; wouldn't be a surprise at all. IDEALBEACH HANOVER came up with a pretty big mile last out and that came with Dauplaise driving; go figure. Gingras is aboard now for Ford and he should take action. THAT'S MY OPINION has underachieved.

Race 10, Claiming $10,000 Pace

NORTHERN PRIZE went a long first over trip last week and was still inching in at the finish when he ran out of ground. That's now three straight second place finishes since the barn change to Borke but all of them have been solid tries; he's the best horse in here. IN KENNY'S HONOR picked up his first win last out in a couple years and that's now two straight improved races since the barn move; Berry will be aggressive from the rail. NF DRUM ROLL was somehow bet down to 1/5 last Saturday and faded to finish fourth; he was claimed out of that race for Ford and at least should offer a more fair price this time around. WESTERN TSUNAMI should always be regarded as a threat against these and is likely to be gunning early from the outside; CAJON HOT SHOT has been used hard on the front end in all of his recent races.
