He's one of harness racing's most in-demand drivers. Horses he's driven have earned $9.25 million or more every year since 2007. That number jumps to $11 million for each of the last seven years. He's intelligent and articulate. And his concern about the future of the game is both passionate and thought-provoking.

I caught up with Yannick Gingras on Monday afternoon (June 5) as he waited for his children to come home from school. He was enjoying a day off. The night before, he was back in his home province of Quebec at Hippodrome 3R at a drivers' tournament.

Big green was not on the line. The biggest purse on the card was $8,000. The next highest was $4,400. Reported total handle was $113,113. Other names in the program included Stephane Bouchard, Jody Jamieson, Louis Phillippe Roy, Daniel Dube, Scott Zeron, Sylvain Filion and David Miller.

"It was nice to be home for half a day," said Gingras. "I grew up about an hour away from there. All of my buddies were there. My mom, my grandmother and my dad, too."

Gingras is big on trying to keep the sport's fans happy.

"Sometimes, it's just the right thing to do," said Gingras of the road trip. "Most of the time we do try to show up for the fans. We don't have enough of those."

The 37-year-old's opinions on the state of the game and what he thinks should be done are ones worth noting.

Gingras drives top horses for the top barns. He follows the money. Pennsylvania, New York, and when the Grand Circuit stops there, New Jersey. He experiences plenty of success, yet doesn't necessarily like much of what he sees.

"The (slot machine) money will be taken away from us," said Gingras. "You see Pennsylvania right now taking money away. It's reality. The purses are down 25-30 per cent from two or three years ago. People are blinded. People think we own this, that the slot machine revenue is ours, and the money is ours forever. People need to wake up. What happened in Ontario will happen to us. But I hope I'm wrong. I really do."

"The Green Hornet," as he is known, explained that racing still might be plentiful in Ontario, but that it's a bit of a smoke screen. "Mohawk is racing six nights a week, yes, but (Ontario racing) is not strong," said Gingras. "They used to race for $300-$400 million a year. Now they are racing for $100 million. People think racing in Ontario is as good as ever. Ontario used to be the place to go. You had 'B' tracks going for 'A' track money. It's not there anymore. You had tracks like Hanover racing for $150,000 in purses a night and betting $50,000 a night in handle. That can't last. It was just a matter of time before the Ontario government came in and said, 'We are going to take some money out,' and it happened."

My contention regarding harness racing itself is that it's too boring for people 25 and under to embrace, especially when compared to the action of thoroughbred racing. But Gingras disagreed.

"The racing itself is not boring," said Gingras. "I bring people to the track all the time and they love it, but we can't get people to come back. The time between races is a problem. There's even more time between races at the thoroughbreds but they entertain you while you are there. With us, between races, there is nothing. My kids went to the track two weeks ago, and they went to get ice cream. The ice cream stand was closed after the sixth race. On a Saturday night! I mean, come on! But that's the kind of thing we do. And we wonder why people don't come back."

So what's the solution?

"It's about marketing," said Gingras. "But I don't know what the answers are. The track operators, they are not geniuses when it comes to marketing, either. That's why a percentage of money should be taken out of purses, let's say one per cent, and give this money to a marketing firm that knows what they are doing. We are horsemen. They are marketing experts. Let them do what they do."

"Don't give them a 20-year contract, give them a two- or three-year contract. Or split it between two or three companies. And then if it doesn't work, move on to somebody else. I don't know. And I can't tell you what to do. That's not my job. But I do know we suck at how we are doing it now."

Even though the quality of horses has slipped, the Meadowlands continues to out handle all North American harness tracks by a wide margin. Why is it tracks with big purses and top drivers lag so far behind?

"People don't want to bet small tracks," said Gingras. "They don't like a lineup. When you go to Yonkers, it's as boring as it gets. Do I like to race at Yonkers? Of course. But racing-wise, if I was a bettor, I wouldn't bet there. The gate opens, you know what's going to happen. It happens every night, every race. They have the best horses and drivers, but the racing is not interesting for bettors. Yonkers has to find a way to make it interesting for bettors.

"At the Meadowlands, you have options as a bettor. That's what's keeping the Meadowlands alive, the fact that it's a mile track. People also don't bet much in Pennsylvania. The front end in Pennsylvania, it isn't quite like Yonkers, but it's close."

So how do we get young people to the track?

"A lot of ways have been tried," said Gingras. "We have to spend money. If we try to rely on camel races and food trucks and word of mouth, yes, they come out for the night, but they don't come back. You need people who come back all the time, not just come two times a year.

"You don't get the 25-year-old to come back. They can't afford it. They can't come and have four or five beers and gamble. A round of beer is 50 bucks. Are we in the food and beverage business or in the gambling business? And the Meadowlands is not the only one. The other racetracks are the same.

"These people who are not betting very much, those are the people 20 years from now, they are going to have money. These are the people that we need to bring back. We need to cater to them."

According to the United States Trotting Association, $423 million in purses were distributed during 2016. Should a piece be set aside to market the sport?

"The track operators and horsemen's leaders don't believe in taking some money out for marketing," said Gingras. "I think somewhere around two or three per cent would be good. I don't think any horseman will mind. We have to start looking at ourselves. We have to worry about the game down the road. With the purse structures we have now, there is no reason we can't spend that money. Let's have everyone who has a USTA license vote on it."

I asked Gingras about the smaller tracks and the possible resistance to such a tariff on their purse accounts, given the shortage of marquee races they have.

"That's the problem, they are so worried about themselves," said Gingras. "We have to stop being short-sighted. If the sport in general is doing better, the smaller tracks will do better, but it's not that easy to sell. You take one per cent out of a $4,000 purse at Monticello. That's $40. Will that kill anybody? Are you telling me that's going to make a difference? You have to look at the big picture. But that's the problem. They all want to worry about themselves and they don't want to worry about the industry. That's why we are in the situation we are in now."

For Gingras, the bottom line is be money wise.

"There is money being spent, but it's not being spent the right way," said Gingras. "Let's hire a good company. Vote on what marketing firm you want. You don't want harness racing people doing the marketing. I don't want (the Meadowlands') Jeff (Gural) to do it, (New York horsemen's) Joe (Faraldo) to do it or (Pennsylvania horsemen's) Sam (Beegle) to do it. I'm not knocking them. I just want a firm that does THAT. Let's get the best firm that we can afford. But you can't spend on 30 and under and expect immediate results. It takes time to grow. Time is running out. We won't have the slot money forever."

On his best horses right now...

Any time Yannick Gingras is the interviewee, the question of horses he's driving must be asked. Here's his thoughts on some of the better ones he's driving right now:

"Lady Shadow couldn't be any stronger right now," said Gingras of the mare who won Harrah's Philadelphia's Betsy Ross on May 28 in 1:49. "She's come back great this year. The sky's the limit."

Crazy Wow won the Maxie Lee in 1:52 on the same card. "He has been surprisingly good," said Gingras. "The kind of horse who last year lost races he should have won. He's a little stronger this year."

Dayson was incredibly game racing uncovered to take the Graduate at Mohawk in 1:52.3 on June 3. "I did not want to race him like that," said Gingras. "After he added Lasix (two starts earlier), I did not want to race him that hard. I honestly thought he was beat (he won by a nose). I thought he raced great."

Hambletonian hopeful Rubio is getting ready to make his seasonal debut. "He qualified Saturday (June 3) and was very, very good. He could not have qualified any better. When I asked him in the stretch, he had plenty."

And last, but certainly not least, a 3-year-old trotting filly who could be a Horse of the Year candidate. "Ariana G. She's special. A great filly," said Gingras. "The other day (when she won on June 2 at the Meadowlands in 1:51.1), I was just slowing her down for the last three-eighths. I was going as slow as I could without getting beat. You don't want to be walking across the wire but you don't want to overextend her. The NJSS Final is not the goal for the year. You just hope she has a couple of miles left in her like that. They only have so many in them."

Could Ariana G go with the boys in the Hambletonian? "She's as good as all of the top colts. Obviously, it's (trainer) Jimmy's (Takter) decision. A filly going two heats on the same day, it's a big concern. But she's very easy on herself."

Downbytheseaside (David Miller) won the first NA Cup elim.

Favourites dominate in North America Cup eliminations

Downbytheseaside, Huntsville and Fear The Dragon were victorious and will pick their posts for next Saturday's $1 million final.

by Mark McKelvie / WEG standardbred communications

Racing's finest three-year-old pacing colts and geldings faced off Saturday at Mohawk to contest three $50,000 eliminations to determine the starters for the June 17 $1 million Pepsi North America Cup.

Winning was a breeze for Downbytheseaside and driver David Miller in the first elimination.

Downbytheseaside got away fifth as Sports Column marched his way to the early lead, pacing past the first quarter in :27. Into the backstretch, Lawrencetown Beach, who was fourth on the rail, was first to make a bid for the front. Downbytheseaside followed. Lawrencetown Beach took command before the midway point, but a looming Downbytheseaside snatched the lead at the half in :54.4. Once the Brian Brown trainee cleared, he started to pull away from his seven rivals.

Ultimately, no one could catch the 1-9 favourite. He cruised by the three-quarter pole in 1:21.4 and crossed the wire first by two lengths in 1:50.4. Western Hill and Sports Column rallied for second and third, respectively.

"I don't think he was at his best tonight for whatever reason. I've seen him better," said Miller. "(The wind) could be playing a factor. You're leaving into it and you're finishing into it and it might have something to do with it.

"He was a pretty solid horse last year and got better as the year went on, which is unusual. He came back this year and we can't be happier with him. Just tonight, I wouldn't say he was at his best."

Downbytheseaside remains unbeaten as a three-year-old with four victories from four outings. He notched his 12th lifetime victory in 17 starts. With the win, the son of Somebeachsomewhere and Sprig Hanover lifts his career earnings to $858,616 for owners Country Club Acres Inc, Joe Sbrocco, Richard Lombardo and Diamond Creek Racing.

Downbytheseaside paid $2.10 to win and place, combining with Western Hill ($8.40) for a $19.80 (4-3) exactor. A 4-3-7 (Sports Column) triactor was worth $254.60, while a $1 superfecta [4-3-7-5 (Some Attitude)] returned $670.55. There was no show wagering.

Huntsville, who has never been worse than second in his career, added another victory to his record with a 1:49.1 score in the second North America Cup elimination.

Huntsville and driver Tim Tetrick dropped into fourth as Classic Pro, Ozone Blue Chip and Normandy Beach battled three-wide into the first turn. Ozone Blue Chip dropped back to third while Normandy Beach drove on for the lead, leaving Classic Pro to take the pocket spot. Just after Normandy Beach posted the opening quarter in :26.3, Huntsville was on the move first up. The 1-9 favorite brushed to the front and held command past the half in :55.2 and three-quarters in 1:22.1.

Into the stretch, Huntsville was untouchable adding distance between himself and the rest of the field. The sophomore scored by four and a quarter lengths en route to the winner's circle. Classic Pro surged to finish second and Ozone Blue Chip was third.

"It looked like it was easy enough and he caught a nice division and he raced really well," said trainer Ray Schnittker. "It was a good mile. Probably in the afternoon or something like that it would be a [1]:48 and a piece mile, I would think.

"He's a very fast colt. He's a great big colt so hopefully he just keeps getting better as the year goes on. You never know though."

Huntsville scored his third triumph of the season from four outings and 10th career victory. With the win, the son of Somebeachsomewhere and Wild West Show increases his career earnings to $801,263 for Schnittker, who shares ownership with Theodore Gewertz, Charles Iannazzo, and Steven Arnold.

Huntsville paid $2.10 to win and place, combining with Classic Pro ($11.50) for a $39.70 (2-4) exactor. A 2-4-5 (Ozone Blue Chip) triactor was worth $214, while a $1 superfecta [2-4-5-8 (Miso Fast)] returned $951.20. There was no show wagering.

Driver Dave Miller and trainer Brain Brown teamed up to win their second 'Cup' tilt in the third and final elimination. Fear The Dragon, who is now five-for-five this season, overcame a break in stride to scorch his foes in 1:50.

When the gate wings folded, Miller pointed Fear The Dragon towards the three-hole while Ocean Colony was taken to the front and Hurricane Beach took the two-hole spot. After Ocean Colony posted a :27.2 opening panel, Fear The Dragon was given the signal it was time to make a move. Launching a first-over attack on the leader, Fear The Dragon surged to the lead before the half.

The 1-5 bettor's choice held command past the mid-way point in :55, which is when an eager Ocean Colony made his bid for the front. The 9-2 third choice couldn't catch up to his front-stepping foe but added pressure as they passed the three-quarters in 1:22.

In deep stretch, Fear The Dragon opened up on pack, but the colt jumped over a fallen head number and broke stride. Miller was able to get Fear The Dragon pacing again just steps before crossing the wire. Filibuster Hanover rallied for second and Ocean Colony dropped back to third.

"If you watch leaving the gate, Yannick's horse (Ocean Colony) lost his head number as he was crossing over," said Miller. "I didn't even think of it. My horse stepped over it.

"I was real happy with him. He was just cruising along there. I asked him a little bit. He is a little lazy at times. I was real happy with him. He was real comfortable."

With the win, the son of Dragon Again and Armbr Cinnamon is captured his 10th career victory and lifts his career earnings to $325,844 for Emerald Highlands Farm.

Fear The Dragon paid $2.70 and $2.10, combining with Filibuster Hanover ($5.80) for a $21.70 (7-3) exactor. A 7-3-6 (Ocean Colony) triactor was worth $44.50, while a $1 superfecta [7-3-6-2 (Miso Fast)] returned $56.10. There was no show wagering.

The top three finishers from each elimination along with Miso Fast, who was the fourth-place finisher to draw into the final, will compete in the $1 million final next Saturday at Mohawk. The connections of the elimination winner may select their post positions for the final, which will take place at a press conference held on Tuesday, June 13 at Mohawk. Toronto Maple Leafs winger Matt Martin will be the guest drawmaster for Canada's richest standardbred race.

It wasn't your average elimination night at Mohawk

by Dean Towers

On elimination nights, this can sometimes be heard from grandstands, simulcast centers, and homes across North America:

"They should stop racing elimination races as pari-mutuel affairs, because they're horrible for the betting public"

"The chalk gets an easy lead and nothing happens."

"Eliminations are boring."

Maybe those arguments carry some water, but at Mohawk on Saturday we could throw them right out the window.

In the first elimination, the expected easy, boring win for the 1-9 shot Downbytheseaside was a pipe-dream. After settling fifth, the strapping son of Somebeachsomewhere out of Sprig Hanover was tested through an all-out sprint :53.1 middle half, and this left him soft at the end of his mile. The colt had too much class compared to his overmatched foes and he still held on nicely for the win.

David Miller sounded a little disappointed in his postrace interview and it'll be interesting to see if that was warranted or not. Regardless, when 1-9 shots win exactly like they're supposed to, handicapping is an easy game. If not, we sharpen the pencils.

Skipping over to the third elimination, the fun continued. What looked like a textbook quarter-pole move by David Miller and the very fast Fear the Dragon didn't end up being so easy because of Hurricane Beach. The Somebeachsomewhere—Blazing Yankee colt, driven by Louis Roy, simply would not sit the hole, and pressed Fear the Dragon in a :27 backstretch move. After putting away Hurricane Beach, Fear the Dragon and David Miller had to survive a late break in stride caused by a head number that was laying on the track.

Yes, those two eliminations sure were boring weren't they? Nothing to see here, move along.

Thankfully, what many consider the division leader – Huntsville – had things much easier in his elimination. Eased back early by driver Tim Tetrick, Huntsville roared to the front, quickened the tempo with a :26.4 third quarter and won as easy as a horse can. If one nitpicks (as we as handicappers often do) it was a little concerning that the colt drifted in the lane. But again, that's nitpicking.

Come next Saturday night, it's pretty clear bettors will flock to Huntsville, Fear the Dragon and Downbytheseaside in that order, with the former being the heavy chalk.

Looking at the horses who did not win, but kind of impressed can sometimes yield some fruit and there were a couple who caught my eye.

Against Fear the Dragon, Ron Burke's Filibuster Hanover looked really sharp off cover. He was one of the most live horses in the lane of the evening. Another Burke pupil – Miso Fast – came from way back in his elimination and looked like he had some fire. I could see both those horses in the superfecta, with a decent starting slot.

For handicappers, next weekend's final can probably be boiled down to what price one wants to take on Huntsville. Personally I am not a chalk player, and with his drift in the lane, along with the fact we could see him challenged early with at least one Brian Brown entrant, I will look elsewhere. I'll probably take a shot that Downbytheseaside is tightened up with those strong fractions, and use Filibuster Hanover in the supers.

Frost Damage Blues (James MacDonald) won her Roses Are Red elim in 1:50.1.

Girl Power

Frost Damage Blue, Nike Franco N and Lady Shadow won the Roses Are Red eliminations Saturday at Mohawk. Idyllic Beach and Tequila Monday won the Fan Hanover tests.

by Mark McKelvie / WEG standardbred communications

Pacing fillies and mares did their best to shine on Saturday's Pepsi North America Cup elimination card in the eliminations of the Roses Are Red and Fan Hanover stakes.

A group of 23 older pacing mares were split into three $35,000 eliminations for the Roses Are Red, while 19 sophomore pacing fillies competed in two $35,000 divisions.

The top-three finishers, plus a fourth-place finishers, gained access to the Roses Are Red final.

Frost Damage Blues came through at 6-1 to win a highly competitive opening elimination of the Roses Are Red.

Driver James MacDonald steered the Tom Fanning trainee to victory in 1:50.1. Frost Damage Blues got away sixth and sat in that position for the opening-half mile.

Blue Moon Stride made a move to the lead at the opening-quarter in :26.2. The lead was short-lived, as Darlinonthebeach rushed up to grab the front and reach the half in :54.1.

MacDonald was able to work out a second-over trip on the far turn for Frost Damage Blues, while Darlinonthebeach reached three-quarters in 1:21.4.

In the stretch, Frost Damage Blues shot off cover and charged up to pick up her second win of the season. Pure Country followed the winner on the far turn and finished a length and a quarter back in second. Witch Dali shot up the pylons from seventh to grab third, while Bernadette was fourth.

A five-year-old daughter of Western Ideal—Art Matters, Frost Damage Blues has made a few trips to Mohawk during her racing career and was familiar with having MacDonald in the bike.

"I drove her last year in the Milton elimination and she really impressed me... I loved her last year and was just hoping I would get a chance to get a crack at her again," said MacDonald. "I knew short field it would suit her well and I was just hoping I could get a second or third-over trip and make the final, anything after that was bonus."

Frost Damage Blues is now two for four this season, which brings her to 14 career victories and earnings of over $191,000 for owner Bill Augustine.

She paid $15.60 to win.

Nike Franco N delivered a strong 1:49.2 performance to win the second elimination.

The Joann Looney King trainee made a second-quarter brush to the lead from third for driver Tim Tetrick and never looked back. Nike Franco N took over the lead from Call Me Queen Be and went onto post fractions of :54.3 and 1:22.2, before a :27 kicker to win by a length and a half.

Call Me Queen Be finished second, while Penpal came through for third.

A seven-year-old daughter of Mcardle—Neareo Franco, Nike Franco N was bred in New Zealand and came over from Australia last fall after being purchased by Richard Poillucci.

"She felt really good, that was kind of the first time I ever raced her that way," said Tetrick post-race. "She moved right onto the front and relaxed good and when somebody come she swelled right up."

Nike Franco N tallied her third win in six outings this season with her 1:49.2 score and increased her 2017 earnings to $92,500. The mare from down under now has 25 career victories to go with her bankroll of over $450,000.

Nike Franco N returned $3.70 to win.

The final elimination saw defending champion Lady Shadow find the winner's circle.

The Ron Adams trainee came up to attack the leader Prairie Sweetheart on the far turn to make the winning move. Lady Shadow charged home in :27.2 to score the victory by three-quarters of a length in 1:50.2.

Wrangler Magic finished second, while Prairie Sweetheart held on for third.

A six-year-old daughter of Shadow Play—Lady Camella, Lady Shadow is now three for three this season. Her career numbers now sit at 31 wins and over $1.9 million earned for owners David Kryway, Carl Atley, Edwin Gold and BFJ Stable.

Lady Shadow paid $2.20.

Bernadette, who finished fourth in the first elimination, in

New Image Media

Lady Shadow (Yannick Gingras) won her Roses Are Red elimination in 1:50.2.

was the fourth-place finisher to draw into next week's final.

The scenario was simple for the Fan Hanover eliminations, as the top-five finishers from each split advanced to next week's final.

Idyllic Beach returned to Mohawk and found success once again. The Jimmy Takter trainee captured the first Fan Hanover elimination in 1:51.

Driver Yannick Gingras was able to get a four-hole trip for Idyllic Beach and had a perfect view of several lead changes. Jayes A Lady led at the opening-quarter in :27.3, but was quickly circled by Soiree Seelster, who immediately surrendered the lead to Roaring To Go.

The newest leader paced a half of :55.3 and carried the lead around the far turn. Gingras came first up with Idyllic Beach and was able to surge to the lead in the lane. She finished off her mile with a final-quarter of :27.2 to win by 2 ½ lengths.

Al Mar Got A Fever, who followed the winner on the far turn, finished second, while Roaring To Go dug in for third. The final two spots in next week's final were grabbed by Future Headlines and Dancing Shadows K.

A daughter of Somebeachsomewhere out of Idyllic, Idyllic Beach was making just her second start of the season and hadn't competed in a pari-mutuel race since May 11.

"I knew she would be tight enough to win or give a good performance, Jimmy (Takter) has them ready," said Gingras post-race. "I went by them at the top of the stretch with a handful of pace and the last sixteenth she was a little bit tired, so she needed the race, but I think she'll be that much stronger next week."

The winner of last year's Shes A Great Lady Stakes, Idyllic Beach now has 10 wins in 16 career outings for earnings of over $750,000. She is owned by Christina Takter, John Fielding, Brixton Medical Inc and Marvin Katz.

Idyllic Beach paid $3.30 to win.

Tequila Monday lived up to her 1-5 billing to win the second Fan Hanover elimination in 1:50.4.

The Chris Oakes trained filly and driver Brian Sears sat fourth throughout most of the mile, while Bettors Up led the field through relatively easy fractions of :27.1 and :56.3.

Shes Watching came first up to engage in a heated third-quarter battle with Bettors Up. The third-quarter was paced in :27.1, which set up well for the stalking Tequila Monday, who was angled out on the far turn and was in full flight behind the lead pair.

In the stretch, Tequila Monday was able to track down and surge by Bettors Up to win by a length and a quarter. Shes Watching held on for third, while Agent Q was fourth.

A daughter of American Ideal out of Margarita Monday, Tequila Monday was making her first start on a track bigger than 5/8ths of a mile.

"I think she liked the big track a little better than the half-mile for sure," said Sears following the race. "She gets a little bumpy at times, but she has a lot of go and we haven't really found the bottom of her yet."

Tequila Monday is now three for five this season and seven for 10 in her career. Her bankroll now exceeds $300,000 for owners Susan Oakes and Chuck Pompey.

The Oakes trainee paid $2.50 to win.

The finals for both the Roses Are Red and Fan Hanover were drawn on Saturday night. Elimination winners had the opportunity to select their posts and the fields are as follows:

Crazy Wow sets Scioto record while winning Charlie Hill Memorial

The 5-year-old stallion and driver Chris Page set a 1:52 track record in front of a standing-room only crowd at the Columbus, OH oval.

by Kim French / USTA Internet News Editor

On an absolutely picturesque evening at Eldorado Scioto Downs, Crazy Wow and Chris Page assumed command upon their departure from the gate and had no tense moments en route to a powerful 1:52 track record score Saturday in the $200,000 Charlie Hill Memorial in front of a standing-room only crowd. Defending older trotting champion Obrigado (Mark MacDonald) was second, with Canadian invader Musical Rhythm (Peter Wrenn) third.

Page was still incredulous at how the race unfolded for his horse after he addressed his legions of young fans in the winner's circle that were shouting his name and pleading for his whip or his sunglasses as a souvenir of his victory.

"I can't believe how it all worked out," he said. "I intended to get him involved in the race early-on, but I wasn't planning on going to the lead. When the wings were still unfolding off the gate I looked to my left and wondered where everybody else was. He just took me out there all on his own and from there on it was all him. I could not have asked for a better trip."

Commencing his journey from post position eight did not seem to hamper Crazy Wow's need to display his speed. Conditioned by Ron Burke and owned by Our Horse Cents Stables, Stable 45, J&T Silva Stables and Deo Volente Farms, the 5-year-old stallion, fresh off his first victory in nearly a year in the $150,000 Maxie Lee Invitational on May 28 at Harrah's Philadelphia, laid down a very swift first split of :26.2 with Obrigado in hot pursuit in the field of nine with the scratch of Homicide Hunter. In essence, it was reduced to eight competitors after 2015 Dan Patch Award winner and world champion JL Cruze broke stride going into the first turn.

As Crazy Wow and Page went past the half-mile marker in :55.1, Obrigado was hemmed in and slightly shuffled back to third as Hemi Seelster (Brett Holland) moved aggressively, intent on not allowing his top two rivals to stray too far.

After Crazy Wow passed the three-quarter marker in 1:23.1, the rest of the field began their bids to overtake him in their quest for the wire. Both Centurion ATM (Aaron Merriman) and Musical Rhythm made their moves from sixth and fifth, respectively, as Hemi Seelster tired from his earlier efforts to drop back to fourth entering the top of the stretch.

This transition of positions provided Obrigado, who was making his 2017 debut, with a desperately needed seam and he and MacDonald pulled to the outside in an attempt to chase down Crazy Wow. Their efforts, however, were in vain, as Crazy Wow appeared to lengthen his stride with each hoof he placed upon the Columbus oval and he maintained a comfortable 1-3/4 length advantage right to the wire. Musical Rhythm spurted up the rail after Obrigado vacated that area to finish third.

"I had driven him once before," Page said. "It was a long time ago and I don't remember anything specific about him from that race, other than I already knew he was a very good horse, but tonight he was something; he was much more than just very good. I know his connections have worked with him and it certainly has paid off."

Collecting his second consecutive triumph and propelling his 2017 record to 5-2-3-0, with his career resume now at 47-17-10-3, Crazy Wow has now earned more than $1.7 million. Sent off the as the second selection at 3-1, the stallion paid a generous $8.20 for his victory. Obrigado at 3-1 provided $5.00 to his supporters to place, with Musical Rhythm (14-1) offering $7.80 to show.

Hannelore Hanover (Yannick Gingras) was on cruise control in her Armbro Flight elimination.

Hannelore Hanover breezes; International Moni turns heads

Hannelore Hanover and Charmed Life won the Armbro Flight elims, but it was International Moni that caught attention with a last-to-first win at 14-1 in his Goodtimes test with Scott Zeron wearing Antonacci colors.

by Mark McKelvie / WEG standardbred communications

Elimination weekend kicked off Friday night (June 9) at Mohawk Racetrack with the Armbro Flight and Goodtimes Stakes.

Each event required a pair of eliminations, with the Armbro Flight splits going for a purse of $35,000 and the Goodtimes for a purse of $30,000.

A “Sunday stroll” was the words used by driver Yannick Gingras to describe Hannelore Hanover’s easy 1:52.2 victory in the first Armbro Flight elimination for trotting mares.

The Ron Burke trained five-year-old got away third in a field of seven and made a second-quarter move to command for Gingras. ‘Hannelore’ reached the half in :56 and three-quarter pole in 1:24.4 to lead the group of mares into the lane.

The stretch drive was a walk in the park, as Hannelore Hanover cruised home in :27.3 and pulled away from her rivals to win by 2 ³/₄ lengths.

Emoticon Hanover, who was the early leader, finished second, while Renegade Magic took third spot. Ready Any Time and Kestrel rounded out the top-five to advance to next week’s final.

No Show wagering was available on the first Armbro Flight elimination, but that didn’t matter to the “bridge jumpers”, who wagered $104,863 to place on Hannelore Hanover.

The daughter of Swan For All—High Sobriety now has two wins in three starts this season, with both her 2017 victories coming at Mohawk.

“Last week when she raced here, she was really good and she was even better tonight,” said Gingras post-race. “She’s back to her old self and it was a Sunday stroll.”

Hannelore Hanover’s 28th career victory increases her seasonal earnings to $65,700 and helps push her career earnings to almost $1.6 million. She is owned by Burke Racing LLC, Weaver Bruscelemi LLC, Frank Baldachino and J And T Silva Stables LLC.

The Burke trainee paid $2.10.

The second elimination featured a battle between last year’s sophomore champions Broadway Donna and Caprice Hill. However, Charmed Life stole the show picking both mares off to win in 1:53.1.

Caprice Hill was able to get away with relatively easy fractions of :27.2, :56.4 and 1:25.3, as she led the field through the opening three-quarters of a mile. Broadway Donna came first up from third on the final turn to set up a stretch sprint, while Charmed Life got a perfect two-hole trip.

In the stretch, Broadway Donna was able to edge by Caprice Hill with less than an eighth of a mile to go, but she couldn’t fend off the charging Charmed Life, who was angled to the far outside by driver Louis Philippe Roy and powered by to win by a length.

Flowers N Songs finished fourth, while Majestic Presence was fifth to advance to the final.

Trained by Rene Allard, Charmed Life won three of her first four starts this season, but was winless in her last two coming into Friday. Young reinsman Roy had never driven the winner of over $1.2 million before and admitted it was a big moment for him.

“I talked with Rene before the race and he said she might be a little nervous so try and keep her calm during post parade,” Roy said. “But I think it was me that was more nervous than her because I didn’t know her at all and driving her for the first time in elims of a big race like that.”

Charmed Life, who now has 26 career wins, pushed her seasonal earnings over $100,000 with her elimination score. She paid $4.30 to win.

Hannelore Hanover and Charmed Life each earned the right to select their posts for next week’s $253,000 final.

The Goodtimes eliminations featured a field of nine and a field of eight sophomore trotting colts and geldings vying for a spot in next week’s final.

International Moni’s upset victory in the first elimination created plenty of buzz throughout the sport. The Frank International Moni (Scott Zeron) came from last to win his Goodtimes elimination at 14-1.

Antonacci trainee was able to come from last to win at 14-1 for driver Scott Zeron in 1:54, but it was the driving outfit that Zeron wore that garnered most of the attention.

Zeron wore what appeared to be a skin-tight shirt replicating the Lindy Farms colours. The colours, which were designed by a company named Speed Silks of Amarillo, Texas, are made of a fabric engineered to reduce aerodynamic drag.

"The Antonacci's own a lot of thoroughbreds and they like that the jockeys wear their colours," said Zeron. "They feel it represents the owners and trainers and they wanted me to try it and you know I don't say no to anything new and they were nice enough to let me do it here.

"(Antonacci) wants to be aerodynamic, he wants everything skin tight almost like a luge. You want every advantage you can have and we ended up coming from last to first to win it by a nose so maybe he was right."

International Moni is a son of French Stallion Love You out of the great mare Moni Maker and is owned by Moni Maker Stables. Friday's start was the first of his three-year-old season.

The Antonacci trainee had one win in 12 starts last season, but did hit the board eight times and earned $191,763.

International Moni sat ninth for the first half before moving up to eighth and eight lengths from the lead turning for home. The Love You colt was able to trot by on the far outside, as none of his rivals were able to deliver a solid stretch kick.

Guardian Angel As, who grabbed the lead at the half, finished second, while Jake, who led at the opening-quarter was third. Seven And Seven, who won last year's Wellwood Memorial, was fourth in his season debut, while Southwind Woody was fifth.

International Moni paid $31.80 to win.

The second elimination had no drama, as undefeated colt

Enterprise was a gate-to-wire winner in a career-best 1:53.1.

David Miller picked up the late catch-drive behind Enterprise and just had to point the Marcus Melander trainee in the right direction. The son of Chapter Seven—Shes Gone Again colt posted fractions of :27.4, :56.4 and 1:25.1, before trotting home in :28 for a two-length victory.

Owned by Courant Inc, Enterprise, who won his only start as a rookie, is now a perfect five for five and has banked $52,450.

Awol Hanover finished second, while Shake It Off Lindy was third. Mass Production and Southwind Cobra completed the top-five to advance to next week's $251,000 final.

Enterprise paid $3.10 to win.

Following Friday's eliminations, the post positions were drawn for both finals and the full fields can be viewed below. The Armbró Flight and Goodtimes finals are part of the stacked Pepsi North America Cup card on Saturday, June 17.

BREAKING STRIDE

Five plays for the neophyte

by Trey Nosrac

Episode #3 – Henry, Benny and Lydia (Harness Cage Match)

This is another in a series of wildly unorthodox methods searching for inroads that might lead some people under the age of 40 to harness racing, people who live on their phones and in their social networks, people who do not know harness horse racing exists. Each entry targets people who might be willing to have a gambling fling but will not endure agonizing over a race program.

Let us begin this spasm of lunacy with four simple premises:

- The intricacies of solving the riddle of a harness horse race are a bridge too far for the vast majority of reactional gamblers who do not relish deep research into a wager.
- A racing trotter, a wonder to most of us in the trotting and pacing choir, is not overly enthralling to recreational gambler. They bet on strange things like the coin flip of the Super Bowl, basketball over/under results, lottery tickets, or hedge fund ratios in the stock market.
- People find other people endlessly fascinating. People can boast, brag, embarrass themselves, stand as avatars, be blamed, sell themselves and heaven knows what else. People, good and bad, fascinate us because we relate. Conflict sells. We pay attention to politics and pundits who rile us. We watch movies where things explode and people are in peril.
- People hustling to make money in the world of cyber commerce are relentless and innovative. Often, these people can find ways to make money without much upfront investment. Let us put a few of these people in a position to use our sport in creative and independent ways. Meet a trio of entrepreneurial harness racing people in the social world of interconnectivity who want your business. They want you to traffic their site.

Hammering Henry

A tweet and IM goes out at 4:45 PM EST

Hello Newbies and Oldbies and Wannabies.

It is time to make some money with Hammering Henry. I am playing against Ludicrous Lydia and Buzzkill Benny in races 4, 5, and 6 at The Meadows tonight. If this were a boxing match, they would stop it before it begins. As the Trumpster would say,

“These two are losers. I have a beautiful plan that you will love for the races tonight.” As any graduate of Trump University would say, my success rate is Amazing.”

Ludicrous Lydia

A tweet and IM goes out at 4:47 PM EST

LOL – OMG... Henry and Benny tonight – be ready with the mute button when I share the screen with these boys, especially Henry who is as a much fun as a bad rash. Girls, not only will you make some money, you will feel good doing it. I have been studying the races and my vibes are good!

Buzzkill Benny

A tweet and IM goes out at 4:47 PM EST

Think of tonight's match logically. You have a boastful clown, a lovely girl and a man who uses mathematics and a solid system. Need I say more?

Rules of an online Harness Cage Match.

- 1) Each player has a bankroll of $100. The three players can only wager to win or place on three designated races.
- 2) You pick one of the three players. Three minutes before post time of the fourth race, you lock in a $30 stake to the player of your choice.
- 3) The winner is the player who has the highest earnings after the third race (or shows the least losses).
- 4) If you staked the winning player, you win $70.
- 5) At three minutes before post-time of each race, Lydia, Benny and Henry have sixty seconds of airtime to explain what horse they (you) wagered on, how much they (you) wagered and why they (you) made this wager.

After each race, the players will have another 60 seconds of airtime to explain (gloat or moan) what went right or wrong in the previous race

Glassine Hanover fastest in PASS at The Meadows

Pittstop Danika and Caviart Ally took the over divisions in the event for sophomore pacing fillies.

by Evan Pattak / The Meadows

Glassine Hanover opened a sizable lead, then held on late to score in 1:52.3, fastest division in Saturday's $145,803 Pennsylvania Sires Stake at The Meadows. Pittstop Danika and Caviart Ally took the other splits in the event for 3-year-old filly pacers known as the Adios Betty.

Glassine Hanover last year won a pair of PASS legs at The Meadows, so she clearly thrives here. When she opened up a two-length lead for Tyler Smith at the three-quarters, it appeared she might jog off. But when long shot Black Jack Pat charged late, the daughter of Dragon Again—Gifted Yankee was all out to down her by a nose. Gallic Sea finished third.

"She was waiting on them a little bit," said Smith, pinch-hitting for regular driver Trace Tetrack, who was banged up but not seriously injured in a race mishap Friday at Hoosier Park. "I kind of shut her down a little bit going into the last turn. Once she saw the other horse, she fought her off."

Trent Stohler trains Glassine Hanover, who soared over $200,000 in career earnings, for Trent Stohler Stable, Benjamin Graber, Tim Graber and Dolne Farm Services.

Dismissed at 20-1 and shuffled to last at the three-quarters, Pittstop Danika looked hopelessly beaten. But when Mike Wilder found a seam and then shifted her outside, Pittstop Danika roared through the stretch and pulled off the upset in 1:52.4, a lifetime mark. Dr. J's Kiss was a half-length back in second, with Gigi From Fiji third.

"She raced vicious last week off the pace," Wilder said, "so I wanted to wait as long as I could and see if she could have a good kick. That was the game plan going in — maybe not get shuffled to last. When I got her out, she just exploded."

Ron Burke, who trains the daughter of Yankee Cruiser—Danika Hanover for Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brussemi LLC and M1 Stable, said she'll be pointed to upcoming PASS legs and the Quinton Patterson Adioo Volo at The Meadows.

Saddled with post 8, Caviart Ally alertly got the lead but had to pace in :26.3 to get there. When she was pocketed by Inverse Hanover, the 4-5 favorite, she got the breather she needed. The daughter of Bettor's Delight—Allamerican Cool blew by the favorite in the lane to defeat him by 1-3/4 lengths in 1:53.2, matching her career best. Big City Betty completed the ticket.

"That first quarter probably was a little faster than I would have liked," said winning driver Andrew McCarthy. "I wasn't really concerned because she was doing it easy enough. She's a bigger track kind of horse. I had a little trouble getting her around the turns at Yonkers."

Noel Daley conditions Caviart Ally, who boosted her lifetime bankroll to $176,822, for Caviart Farms.

Rubio set a career best mark of 1:53.1 when his trainer Jimmy Takter drove him to victory in his PASS division Saturday at Pocono.

by PHHA / Pocono

There were no repeat winners in the second preliminary leg of Pennsylvania Sire Stakes (PASS) action for three-year-old trotting colts Saturday night at Mohegan Sun Pocono, but three “new shooters” thrust themselves into the upper reaches of the divisional rankings with impressive successes.

Dover Dan, a son of Andover Hall out of the immortal C R Kay Suzie (whose world record for baby trotting fillies on a half-miler stood up for 20 full years before Wild Honey broke it in 2014), showed some of the potency in his veins by swinging wide on the final turn and then drawing off through the lane to a 2½-length victory over favored Moonshiner Hanover in 1:52.4, which also gave the John Butenschoen trainee a new lifetime mark. Corey Callahan did the driving for owners William Wiswell, Jean Goehlen, and Eugene Schick.

Callahan/Butenschoen accounted for another PASS winner, also timed in 1:52.4 for a personal record, although calling him “a new shooter” is admittedly a stretch. But the Yankee Glide—Mazda Hanover ridgling Giveitgasandgo, the 2016 divisional Sire Stakes champ, had only two seconds in as many seasonal starts coming up to the race, but he showed himself on the improve, stepping home in :55.2 to hold off pocket-sitting favorite President Lindy by 1 1/4 lengths, boosting his career earnings over $300,000 for the partnership of Harmony Oaks Racing Stable Inc., David Miller, Lawrence Means, and VIP Internet Stable LLC.

Rubio, a Cantab Hall—Italienne Girl colt, was prepared excellently for his seasonal debut by trainer Jimmy Takter, and then the Hall of Famer finished the job off by guiding Rubio as he went first-over the last 3/8 yet still grinded down pacesetter Muscles Jared by a length, taking a new mark of 1:53.1 while trotting his own back half in :55.2. Heavy favorite Sortie, a Sire Stakes and Currier and Ives winner in his only seasonal starts, made a break moving to the lead in front of the stands, but Rubio, third as the favorite in the Peter Haughton last year, would have been a tough foe to contend with in any event as he circled the first Saturday in August by winning for owner Christina Takter, John and Jim Fielding, and Brixton Medical Inc.

Drivers James MacDonald and Doug McNair were just two of many taking advantage of a huge breakfast spread Saturday put on by the Woodbine Entertainment Group for the Mohawk baby races.

BUZZWORTHY

Major kudos to WEG for Mohawk breakfast spread for baby races

by Garnet Barnsdale

On a glorious sunny morning at Mohawk Racetrack yesterday morning, 10 baby races were contested, with several promising performances paced and trotted on the track witnessed by possibly the biggest crowd ever gathered at morning qualifiers.

While the observers were out to watch their babies go through their motions – most qualifying for the first time – they were treated to a full buffet breakfast on the apron by the Woodbine Entertainment Group, with even drivers and trainers partaking in the bountiful spread laid out in the area that is known as the BBQ pit situated halfway down the stretch.

Guests enjoyed a full breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, potatoes, pancakes and French Toast accompanied by coffee, water and a variety of juices. WEG certainly didn't skimp out and the event was advertised and promoted well, to the point where it caused quite a buzz which translated into a healthy turnout.

The Stable.ca was well represented as the fractional ownership group qualified 10 rookie trotters and pacers. A noticeable cheer from the crowd erupted as The Stable's Donato Hanover—Celebrity Nike colt Canale Hanover trotted down the lane to a 12 3/4-length 1:59 win.

Macdonald said the free breakfast was great and it helped contribute to a healthy turnout. "We appreciate Mohawk putting on the free breakfast," he said. "Obviously, not all of our 264 clients could make it in person Saturday, but you can be sure the vast majority were tuning in on HPI. It was certainly nice to see such a great turnout."

Trainer Jack Darling provided these comments on an announcement about the breakfast on Standardbred Canada: "Thank you to WEG for this. It's a very nice gesture to the owners. The owners and their friends are also our best customers. It should be a nice crowd and a great way to start off the most exciting time of the year for harness racing."

Prominent owner Adriano Sorella praised organizer Megan Walker, who was hired earlier in the year as Standardbred Concierge and Owner Development Associate.

"If there was anything positive I have seen in the last couple of years at WEG," he began, "it was the hiring of Megan Walker. I've never had any issues getting tables, seating, reservations, etc. I would actually pay a membership fee to have the type of service she provides. She actually even went out of her way to make sure I had close parking when I had my hip surgery. I didn't even ask for it, she just remembered I was having the surgery."

On a beautiful Saturday morning with hope springing eternal with a large crowd of owners watching their babies race, Macdonald, Darling and Sorella weren't the only ones singing WEG's praises. The gesture and effort put forth providing the free breakfast seemed as appreciated as the food itself.

B Yoyo (Joe Bongiorno) trotted in 1:50.2 Friday at The Meadowlands.

B Yoyo trots to 1:50.2 mile

The purse was only $20,000 and beforehand, most would not have guessed the race would be especially memorable, but Joe Bongiorno and B Yoyo made sure nobody would ever forget the sixth race at the Meadowlands on Friday night (June 9).

B Yoyo, a 7-year-old Striking Sahbra—B Joyflo gelding, ripped out of the pocket to go by the heavily favored Gural Hanover and win going away in 1:50.2. The final time is a world record for an older gelding over a mile track.

"He is one of the toughest horses I have ever sat behind," said Bongiorno. "I am totally speechless. I have never been more proud of a horse, he deserves it so much. He is all heart. I never even popped the earplugs. I am really grateful to be able to sit behind such a nice horse in a world record mile."

Gural Hanover (Jordan Stratton) made the lead from his outside post through an opening quarter mile in :27 while B Yoyo happily settled into the pocket. Gural Hanover continued to lead the single file field through a half-mile in :55 and three-quarters in 1:23.1.

From there it was all B Yoyo who tipped out of the pocket and finished off the record mile with a :27 final quarter.

Earlier in the night, veteran horseman Todd Buter won his 1,000th career race when Stitch In Time won the opener. Buter's son Tyler was in the sulky for the milestone victory.

Eric Abbatiello closed out the card sweeping the final three races with winners that paid $16.80, $21.40 and $14.60.

Total handle on the 10-race card was $2,137,910.

Bill's Man and Devious Man win EBC elims at Vernon

Vernon Downs played host to the Empire Breeders Classic Eliminations for 3 year-old trotting colts on Friday (June 9). Also on this night were three divisions of the New York Sire Stakes for sophomore pacing fillies.

Bill's Man (Corey Callahan) would win the first of the two EBC Eliminations. Owned by William Wiswell and M&L of Delaware LLC, the Credit Winner—Silver Springs colt would follow Stick With Me Kid (Brian Sears), before blowing by in the stretch to win in 1:53. Such An Angel (Mark MacDonald) would come up for second behind Bill's Man ($3.90). Stick With Me Kid would hang on for third. Top Flight Angel (Marcus Miller) would finish fourth to qualify with the other three for the Sunday, June 18 final.

Devious Man (Andy Miller) won the second EBC Elimination. Swell Chap (Corey Callahan) would take charge and lead just before the half. Lord Cromwell (John Campbell) would brush by and control the tempo swelling to a two-length advantage at the top of the stretch. Devious Man ($4.10) who is owned by the Andy Miller Stable and Stoy Inc. and trained by Julie Miller would make his move with a burst of speed overtaking Lord Cromwell (third) and runner-up Swell Chap in 1:53.4. Dw's Revenge (Brian Sears) finished fourth. All four colts would reach next Sunday's final as well. The ninth horse to qualify for the Empire's Breeders Classic Final for sophomore trotting colts is Another Chapter (Jim Morrill Jr.).

Clear Idea (Mark MacDonald) captured the first division of the NYSS for 3-year-old pacing fillies ($39,900). Clear Idea ($8.10) the American Ideal—Glass Maker is owned by Hutt Racing Stable and trainer Blake Macintosh, went gate-to-wire in 1:52.0 Gurl Band K (Dan Dube) was second with Artrageous (Andy Miller) third.

Angel's Pride (Brian Sears) would take the second NYSS division ($40,600). The Roll With Joe—Angel Place filly that is owned by the Triple D Stables Inc. and Jfe Enterprise LLC, while trained by Scott Di Domenico, won with a late move in the stretch to win in 1:51.0. Angel's Pride ($14.60) held off Major Master Piece (Jim Morrill Jr.) while St Helena (Mark MacDonald) got third.

The third NYSS division ($40,600) was taken by Playing Favorites (Jason Bartlett). The 3-year-old Roll With Joe—Odds On Lassomyhrt filly who is owned by Lewis Whitaker Jr. and Charles Rowe while trained by Jenny Melander, used a late move to overtake Planet Rock (John Campbell) to win in 1:52.3. Playing Favorites paid $13.20 for the upset win.

Magic Forces (Marcus Miller) took third.

Vernon Downs will play host to the Empire's Breeders Classic final for 3 year-old trotting fillies ($228,250) along with the Empire's Breeders Classic Final for 3 year-old trotting colts ($252,000) on Sunday (June 18) at 1:05 p.m.

Speed galore in Ohio Sire Stakes

Speed was all the rage in a quartet of Ohio Sires Stakes (OHSS) for 3-year-old pacing fillies on Friday night (June 9) at Scioto Downs. It was the second of four legs in the series for Ohio-breds that offers a minimum purse of $40,000 per division.

Lionel Watiker's Rose Run Skyler—who won her OHSS Leg 1 on May 1 at Miami Valley Raceway in 1:54.3 — paced to a sizzling career best 1:53 victory as she nailed down her fourth consecutive triumph for her owner in her OHSS division with Aaron Merriman in the sulky. She finished a healthy three lengths ahead of Rosa's Touch (Mike Wilder) with Type A Grey (Chris Page) third.

Conditioned by Watiker's son Derek, the sophomore daughter by The Panderosa—A And Gs Finest upped her career earnings to $79,375 as she notched career victory number five. Bred by the Rose Run Farm, Rose Run Skyler was purchased by Watiker at the Ohio Selected Sale.

"We watched her video and thought she was extremely athletic looking," he said.

Watiker — who owns a heavy highway construction company in Zanesville, OH, has been immersed in the standardbred industry since the late 1970's.

"My father was involved as an owner back then and in the 1980's I trained a few horses for him but I'm enjoying it now with my sons being involved," he said.

Unraced at two, Rose Run Skyler also captured the $50,000 Scarlet And Grey at Miami Valley Raceway on May 8 in 1:53 and a Scioto Downs overnight on May 25 in 1:54.1, both with Merriman at the controls.

"Derek trained 'Skyler' down to 2:05 last year but we all felt it would be better to wait and race her as a 3-year-old," Watiker said. "We wanted to give her time to mature."

In addition to his son Derek who also drives, Watiker utilizes the talents of his son Chase — a fourth year veterinarian student at Ohio State University — to help with allergy issues affecting the sophomore pacing filly.

"It's quite unusual, but 'Skyler' is allergic to things most horses have in their daily life without trouble," Watiker said. "Certain types of grass and hay, apples, etc. — she's allergic to all of them. We have to constantly monitor and manage her diet very carefully and that's where Chase has been most helpful."

Rose Run Skyler is also routinely nebulized and gets a little bit of time in the field, Watiker added.

"We keep her turn-out time brief; no more than two hours at a time because we don't want her to ingest too much grass and get sick," he said. "She definitely responds to it all very well though."

Favorite Pistol Packin Mama and driver Peter Wrenn demolished their rivals by five lengths, stopping the clock in a lifetime best 1:52.2 in their OHSS division. The Panderosa—Art Debut lass took the lead going to the :55.3 half and steadily drew away from the rest of the field in just her fifth start of the season.

"Last week at Hoosier, she was a good second to Glassine Hanover, who is a very, very nice filly," Wrenn said. "So I knew she was going to be sharp in here tonight."

Owned by the Herres Stables of Bellbrook, OH, Pistol Packin Mama pushed her career bankroll to $71,250 with this OHSS win. This filly won Leg 1 of the series on May 1 at Miami Valley Raceway by 4-1/2 lengths using similar tactics. Longshot (21-1) Glorious Intent (Chris Page) was second, while 13-1 Zoe Ellasen (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) finished third.

Bye Bye Felicia (Chris Page) prevailed in her OSS division by a commanding 3-3/4 lengths to win in a new life mark of 1:52.2. The victory was the first of the year in six tries for the daughter of Woodstock, who is conditioned by Brian Brown for Ohio owners Jennifer Brown, Scott Davis, Steve Mullet and Joyce McClelland. Opie's Girl (Kayne Kauffman) finished second, while Official Kisser (Jason Brewer) was third. Bred by Billy Walters and Joe McLead, Bye Bye Felicia now has $130,809 in career earnings.

Aaron Merriman picked up his second OHSS victory of the night as he guided Ellasen to a new life record of 1:52.4 for trainer Ron Potter and owner Clyde A. Perfect of Lawrenceburg, IN. The daughter of Big Bad John battled 15-1 longshot rival Cams Little Bit (Kyle Ater) down the stretch to win by a length, with 60-1 The Lady Vanishes (Ryan Stahl) getting up for third.

Bred by Tonya Keckler, Ellasen upped her career earnings to $83,203 via her third lifetime victory in 17 starts.

Update on Hoosier Park spill

During the tenth race at Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Friday, June 9, an incident occurred approaching the final turn involving several horses and drivers. A major spill took place when Onedin Mach N, driven by Andy Shetler, appeared to take a bad step while racing down the backstretch in second place.

Four additional horses and drivers were involved in the accident, though no serious injuries appear to have been sustained by any of the horses or drivers behind Onedin Mach N. However, Onedin Mach N was euthanized after suffering a catastrophic injury.

All of the drivers involved were examined and treated by the attending medical staff at Hoosier Park. Two of the drivers involved in the accident, Andy Shetler and Ricky Macomber, Jr., were shaken up and took off of their remaining assignments after the 10th-race incident.

Gingras sweeps baby races

Today's trotting races were the Yannick Gingras swept all six baby races on Saturday morning at the Meadowlands, hooking up with trainer Jimmy Takter on five of those.

Trotting fillies opened the day with a nice looking Chapter Seven—Muscleini filly named Sevenbuyeleven winning gate to wire in 1:58 with a :28 final quarter for Gingras. Linda Toscano trains the $50,000 Harrisburg but for owner Kenny Jacobs. Natalie Hanover (Ake Svanstedt) was second and Dab Hanover (Jimmy Takter / Mattias Melander) third.

Gingras came right back to win race two for Takter with Bella Glos, a Cantab Hall—Global Desire filly that cost Black Horse Racing $95,000 at Harrisburg last fall. She led at every call and finished well in hand through a :28 flat end to her 1:57.2 mile. A pair of fillies from the Svanstedt barn followed, Vivacious Allie (Svanstedt) second and Lucky Ava third.

Gingras' reign with the fairer sex continued in race three with another Takter trainee. Air Quote Hanover cut the 1:57.4 mile, sprinting home in :27.4 under her own power. This one is a daughter of Donato Hanover—Aurora Hall the was a $70,000 Harrisburg purchase for Order By Stables last fall. Svanstedt was again second best, this time with What A Knockout.

The $350,000 Lexington purchase by Lennart Agrin's SRF Stable, Go To Hill was an impressive winner for the Gingras/Takter combo with a front end 1:59.1 win, final quarter in 29 seconds. The Muscle Hill—Habit Of Creature colt opened a considerable lead mid-stretch then coasted in on his own. Spee Club closed up nicely as Svanstedt's futile pursuit of Takter ran to three in a row.

Hill Street continued the mastery for Takter and Gingras with a 2:00.4 win. Yannick evidenced why he is in such demand with the youngsters as the aggressive son of Muscle Hill—Think Twice wanted to go forward right from the start. Gingras had other ideas and wrangled him into fourth early through the slow :31.2 quarter. Things did not speed up much down the backside despite Svanstedt moving his $200,000 colt Sonofamillionaire to the top in 1:02.2 as Yannick edged his charge out of fourth to settle in second behind that one. That was the order through the 1:32.3 six panels where Gingras fanned him off the leader's back and Hill Street trotted on by through a 28.1 last quarter to get the win. Ray Schnittker closed up nicely with his Chasin' Dreams to lose in a photo while Ake had to settle for third this time. The partnership of Brixton Medical, Fielding, Liverman and Hatfield own the $180,000 Lexington buy.

The final piece of the trotting baby sweep for Gingras was with Takter's Andover Hall—Athena Miss colt Storming Mist. The $120,000 Lexington purchase sat a comfortable pocket behind Fourth Dimension (Marcus Melander) through easy fractions and went by willingly through a :28.1 end to the 1:59.3 mile to hold off the closing Six Pack (Svanstedt). Brixton Medical, Fielding, Liverman and RAW Equine share ownership of Storming Mist.

There were only two races for pacers, fillies first and Hurrikane Shorty was the winner in 1:56.3 for Jimmy Marohn, Jr. The pair had the early lead, released eventual second-place finisher Dance Blue (Gingras) through the middle fractions then brushed by in the stretch through a :27.2 final quarter. John McDermott, Jr trains the $8,000 Goshen Sale Art Major—Speed Date filly for Jonathan Klee, Pegasis Investments and GR Vierno.

JK Musicman took the colt pace from just off the pace in 1:56 / :27.1. Damion Diesel Hahn (Schnittker) cut the fractions and held up 'til mid-stretch then gave way first to the winner then Major Sugar Rush snuck by very late for the place. JK Musicman is a homebred American Ideal—JK Soundofmusic colt trained by Nancy Johansson for the 3 Brothers Stables.

Whip ban delayed in Australia

The executive of Harness Racing Australia (HRA) has reaffirmed its commitment to the removal of the use of whips in harness racing, but announced this week it would not implement such rules by the previously-stated Sept. 1 date.

"The executive is committed to the concept as unanimously endorsed at the HRA annual meeting last October," chairman Geoff Want said after a June 6 meeting in Sydney. "Despite some objections from participants, this is an important animal welfare issue and we will continue to consult with the broader industry on the implementation date and procedures and to determine how to address their concerns".

Want said that from the work already undertaken, the original implementation date of Sept. 1, 2017 was not achievable and alternatives will be examined in the weeks ahead.

"The HRA executive remains committed to achieving real progress this year. To that end, we will focus on implementing on September 1 an even more rigorous rule restricting the use of whips during harness races, to be accompanied by severe penalties for those unable to comply," Want told the Sydney Morning Herald.

"This is likely to mean that only an extremely limited wrist action will be allowed in racing," continued Want. "That would make the use of the whip in Australian harness racing among the most controlled in the world, and we will impose some of the heaviest penalties for misuse."

Trials had been conducted at tracks in May under draft rules with the use of the safety device 'Prototype 1', a device of approximately 160cm in total length including a long padded end. This prototype was tested for the first time at Carrick and feedback from drivers via conversation and the feedback form, in addition to steward comments and vision analysis, it was concluded that the Prototype 1 was unwieldy, too long and heavy. It was caught in the wind and drivers had trouble "turning the whip around in a timely manner."

In response to the feedback, a lighter and shorter device was used with a flap on the end was used. The drivers preferred the use of the lighter device as it provided greater control, safety and finesse.

In being allowed to use the device for safety purposes, the drivers did not report any safety issues that they were unable to mitigate with the use of the safety device. Drivers were also interviewed in respect to the ability of their horse to "find the line," with differing views received predicated on age and experience.

Howard Taylor pens letter to Gural about Out Of Competition testing

Editor's Note: The following letter was sent to Jeff Gural by attorney Howard Taylor on June 7 and is published here with the permission of both Taylor and Gural. Taylor wants to emphasize that he is in favor of out of competition testing, but has issues with how Gural conducts his program.*

Dear Mr. Gural:

On this date, June 7, 2017, your employee, Bryce Cote came to the farm in Toronto, Canada, where Ron Adams is stabled to take blood from my mare, Lady Shadow. I do understand your out of competition testing program and our obligation to cooperate if we participate at your tracks. However, you must understand that this is not a proper way to conduct out of competition testing.

Mr. Cote came to the farm unannounced. There were no veterinarians at the farm, and Mr. Adams was forced to seek a retired veterinarian who happened to be visiting the farm to take blood on his behalf. The vial was then given to Mr. Cote who then left the farm with the vial. There was no chain of custody nor protection for Mr. Adams against something being added to the sample, either innocently or on purpose.

The purpose of this letter then is to inform you that I have instructed all of my trainers who intend to race at your tracks that they must cooperate with your out of competition testing program. However, they have also been instructed that they will only cooperate by giving samples to a licensed veterinarian who would then be responsible for sealing the sample in front of my trainer and placing same into a tamper proof container which Mr. Cote or your representative must supply. There will be no sample given to Mr. Cote without these protections. If you are unwilling/unable to abide by my requirements, my trainers have been instructed to not allow the sampling. If there is any action towards my horses' ability to participate under these circumstances, there will be legal ramifications.

If you have any questions or would like to discuss this issue further, please feel free to call.

Very truly yours,

Howard A. Taylor / Philadelphia, PA

More on disruptor column

(RE: 2017-06-02 column) Dean Towers needs to look up the word "invest". Any time you spend money with the hope of making money you are investing. A trainer's investment is not limited to buying a horse. Payroll, payroll taxes, feed, equipment, trucks, trailers etc. etc. are all part of a trainer's investment. In fact, most of the economic justification for the slot contribution is trainer generated. How long do you think the slot money would last if legislators were given this as an economic indicator? "The number of catch drivers that can now afford a jaguar has increased 1000 per cent since the advent of slot money." Brett Pelling was right on regarding the percentage split.

Observations from Alan Leavitt

Herewith a few observations from the cheap seats:

1. The racetracks' practice of dragging (i.e. holding the field until long after the clock showing minutes to post time has hit zero) is a direct assault on the integrity of harness racing. The tracks claim it increases handle, and the more they do it, the more it becomes a self fulfilling prophecy. But the American race with by far the biggest handle is the Kentucky Derby and when the clock at Churchill hits zero, they're loading the horses into the gate. Any hope we have to ever gain new bettors or owners will go down the drain as long as dragging continues.

2. It is shameful that there is not one woman member of the Living Hall of Fame. For me, the most obvious first choice is Bea Farber, the great Queen Bea. Farber proved that a woman could drive a horse just as well as any man, and better than most, and she did it against the most insurmountable obstacles.

During Bea's heyday, I was a partner on a top 3 year old pacing colt who was trained by Billy Haughton. The colt had a stake at Hazel Park and Billy couldn't be there. He called to tell me that, and said he'd called the racing secretary to get a driver. He said the racing secretary gave him the name of one of the men there, but he added that the best driver at Hazel, by far, was Bea Farber, but the boys would go crazy if Billy put her down. That was what Bea faced at every turn, yet she still compiled an incredible record of driving accomplishments, including internationally and it's not that she's alone. Linda Toscano and Paula Wellwood have both won Hambletonians and Casie Coleman has won more major stakes than anyone could count. Hanover Shoe Farms' Dr. Bridgette Jablonsky has the hardest job in the business, running the largest operation in the world and doing every side of it with total efficiency and total integrity. All of these women should already be in the Hall, and it's beyond shameful that none of them are.

3. To date we have no decent sale of two year olds in training, and it is a serious hole in our business model. The thoroughbreds show the world on what seems like a weekly basis how successful such sales can be. They get great prices, often as high as a million dollars, and they produce top stake horses. Right now anyone who wants to get into harness racing will inevitably claim a horse, and why not? He's getting a known quantity, and he can start getting a return both financially and emotionally the week after he makes the claim. But, if we had a good sale of two year olds qualified and ready to race, a newbie could have all the benefits the claimers offer, but he'd be getting a horse with much higher possibilities.

When I say a good sale, I mean a sale of well-bred, well-trained stakes prospects who have shown their ability on the racetrack before they go in the ring. And they must be fully staked.

It's something we sadly lack at the moment, but I have a very smart friend named Frank, and he and I might very soon be filling that void.

— Alan J. Leavitt / Lexington, KY

Eye-opener at the Meadowlands

As a regular at the Meadowlands, I go there because I look at the trainer colony (with a few exceptions) and know that most of the ones that I would be concerned about betting against are not allowed at the track. Also, betting on half or five-eighths mile racing is a joke. Bad racing and no pool size. Now getting to the point. Everybody is talking about that 1:46:4 mile up at Mohawk. But knowing the stable I would not be concerned. What I am concerned about is the second race at the Meadowlands on June 3. The mile put up by Always At My Place was an eye-opener. Horse out for three weeks with latest form so-so and was swallowed up at PHIL after leading his last start. Now leaves in 26+ tucks makes another quarter move in 26+, gets passed at the half then pops at the 3/4 (third move) to open up and win by five in 1:48:2. The horse was driven by Joe Bongiorno (not Gingras) and trained by Ron Burke. Burke has a 16 per cent win percentage at the Meadowlands and about 24 per cent overall. That means he has to get a win pct (ex Meadowlands) in high 20's or low 30's. Usually when in the past trainers have put up these stats something is amiss.

What my real opinion is HRU would probably not print. I would hope Jeff Gural will send specimens to the Hong Kong lab (hopefully they had the sense to take a sample after the race).

In conclusion, if this horse tripped out it would not be concerning, but being used this hard and having so much in the tank is troubling. This is one of the many reasons this game is on the decline.

— John Christiansen / Flanders, NJ

RE: Bill Mulligan story

Very nice story on a very nice person (full story here)... I got to meet (Bill Mulligan) and race against him in the Billings, as I joined the club about the same time.

The “young kid” holding the horse in the group photo is a very young Jim Marohn Jr., who as you know, is driving very well at the Meadowlands, PCD and other PA and NY tracks.

He too, is very well mannered. Working for and being around good people, develops good character.

HARNESS RACING
UPDATE

MESSAGE TO OUR READERS

When we brought HRU back in January, we asked for your support both as readers and advertisers. We have been overwhelmed with the response so far on both ends, but still need your help to make HRU viable and sustainable. Here are three ways you can help—and they're all free:

1. If you haven't already, please subscribe to receive HRU and encourage anyone you know who might like HRU to do the same. It's quick and easy and, again, free!
2. Support the advertisers that support us. Click on their ads and check out their websites. Most ads are linked to their sites. Tell them, or us, if you like one of their ads and why. The advertisers keep HRU free for readers.
3. Write more letters. One of the most popular features of HRU is Sunday's Feedback section. We want to hear from you!

THANKS from the new HRU Team!
