Campbell Breaks Wrist in Baby Race Spill at Meadowlands, Still Hopes to Make Hambo

By Bill Finley

Hall of Fame driver John Campbell broke his wrist in a spill during baby races yesterday at the Meadowlands. Campbell sat out last night's races at the Meadowlands and will also pass on his drives tonight. However, he told Harness Racing Update last night that he hopes to drive next weekend.

"The timing of this could not have been worse," he said. "It's eight days before the Hambletonian and that's obviously not a day I want to miss."

The accident occurred during the fifth race on the card of qualifiers. Campbell was driving Drazzmatazz, who took the early lead but started to tire and drop back on the field on the far turn. Driving Usher, Jimmy Takter found himself right on Campbell's heels as Drazzmatazz was coming to a near stop. Takter and Campbell locked wheels and Campbell went down.

The spill came amidst what has been one of Campbell's best years in quite a while. With 116 wins on the year, he has already surpassed his 2014 total, when he had 115 victories. Campbell's drives have earned $2,973,756 on the year, much of it coming with JL Cruze, who is regarded as the top trotter in the sport.

This will be the second time within the last two years that Campbell has been sidelined. In February, 2014, he broke his collarbone when ice skating with his grandson. He also suffered a broken knee and shoulder in a 2011 spill at Chester.

"Am I snake bit? It doesn't do me any good to look at things that way," he said.

His latest mishap doesn't figure to cost him much time, but it could be a big blow if he misses Hambletonian Day. Campbell, 60, is scheduled to drive Muscle Diamond in the Hambletonian. He said that he wasn't in any pain yesterday and that break was about as mild as a fractured bone can get. His plan is to train horses next week and the re-evaluate his status.

"If it were the middle of winter I'd be fine taking some time off," he said. "But this is different and I'm hoping this won't stand in the way of my driving next weekend. I'll just see how I feel and go from there."

While Muscle Diamond is an outsider in the Hambletonian, Campbell possibly could drive a live contender in the Hambletonian Oaks in Wild Honey. She will compete tonight in the elims for the Hambletonian Oaks. Takter is her trainer and said yesterday he has not yet enlisted a driver to take over for Campbell tonight, but mentioned he might handle the driving chores himself. Campbell said he did not speak to Takter yesterday and, therefore, cannot be certain that he will get the drive on Hambo Day of he is available.

Campbell was also scheduled to drive Melady's Monet for trainer Kevin McDermott in tonight's TVG series. McDermott said Corey Callahan will get the assignment tonight and that Jason Bartlett will be given the drive on Hambletonian Day in the Cashman.

"You can't help but feel bad for John," McDermott said. "He's had such bad luck lately and he was having a huge year. I wish him well."

Campbell was also listed to drive Doo Wop Hanover in the TVG leg for pacers tonight and was down for eight drives Friday night, including Gifted Lady in a Jim Doherty Memorial 2-year-old filly trot elims. He also had a drives in all three of the elims for the Peter Haughton Memorial for 2-year-old colt trotters.

Pierce to Undergo Knife Again, Says Retirement Not Out of Question

By Bill Finley

Ron Pierce is having problems getting over back problems

Originally hoping to be back on Hambletonian Day, Ron Pierce appears to be nowhere close to making his return as he said yesterday his back problems will likely lead to another surgery. Pierce is scheduled to meet with his doctor next week, but seemed resigned to the fact that he will need another operation. Due to nagging problems that built up over his career, Pierce had neck and back surgery in March. He said yesterday his neck is doing well but his back is an issue and he cannot see himself driving again until it gets better. He believes the only way that is going to happen is with another operation.

"I could probably drive now, but if I did it would only be a matter of time before I'm busted up again and would need something done," he said. "This isn't just about driving. Right now, my back is bad enough that I can't do the things in life I enjoy, driving and all sorts of other things. I need to get this fixed. One thing I really don't want to do is to start taking pain medication to get through this."

Pierce has not driven since March 7. Originally, he thought he would be out no more than six weeks. When it became clear he would be out longer, he targeted Hambletonian weekend for his comeback, another goal that won't be reached.

"I really miss driving," he said. "It takes something like this to make you realize how much you appreciate what you do."

Pierce is 58 and has 9,569 career victories. He said two of his goals are to drive a winner in his sixties and to reach 10,000 winners. He is cautiously optimistic that will happen.

"I want to drive again and I think I can," he said. "But if I can't get my back properly fixed I can't go out there anymore. Retirement is not out of the question."

There's no "Wiggle" in the Adios, Good News for the Nine Who Will Go

By Bill Finley

Chris Ryder has seen enough of Wiggle It Jiggleit. His National Seelster has lost to the reigning king of he 3-year-old male pacing division all four times he has faced him this year, and he's 8 for 10 in all other races. So when Ryder learned that Wiggle It would not be going in today's $400,000 Adios at The Meadows, he was quick to point for the race.

National Seelster will look to overcome the nine post in the Adios

"After we won a sire stakes at Yonkers with him we had an idea that Wiggle It Jiggleit and three or four other good ones weren't going to the Adios so we jumped in," he said. "If he were going in this race I don't know if we would have gone or not. It would have made for a much tougher decision."

Zigging when Wiggle It zags could be a constant theme throughout the season for those with lesser pacers. There won't be many $400,000 races on the calendar that won't include the star of the George Teague Jr. barn, so the Adios is a huge opportunity for those who are in.

National Seelster could more than double his seasonal earnings of $149,902 with a win today, but he'll have to do so out of the nine hole. He wound up there despite winning an elimination race last week, the same fate that befell him after he won an elimination for the Hempt at Pocono. In the Hempt finals, he couldn't overcome the post and finished last.

"That race is an anomaly," Ryder said. "I have no idea what happened to him that night."

But Ryder is certainly no fan of the nine post.

"I used to be on the fence as far an opinion when it comes to whether winners of eliminations should get to pick their posts," he said. "I've had mainly good experiences with that, but after wining two elims with this horse and drawing the nine hole in two finals I now have an opinion. The Meadowlands has a good system, where the elim winners get to draw one through six. The people who don't like that system, I'd like to see how they like it after winning two elims and getting the nine hole both times."

Another storyline this afternoon at The Meadows will be Ron Burke's attempt to win his second career Adios. Burke, who last won the race in 2007 with May June Character, calls The Meadows his home track and has long let it be known that, to him, winning the Adios ranks right up their with any accomplishment in the sport. He'll send out three horses, Yankee Bounty, Cooperstown and My Hero Ron. The latter, a new acquisition into the Burke barn in June, looks like his best shot. The son of Well Said, has won all three starts since moving into his new barn and looked sharp in victory in the elims.

"I love him," Burke said about the gelding. "I think he's our best shot. He just gets better every time we race him. He's versatile. He's a big horse, a strong horse, with a good attitude."

After winning eight of 10 starts last year, Yankee Bounty is 0 for 10 on the season, but Burke is hoping a second place finish in an elim behind My Hero Ron is a positive sign.

"He's definitely underachieved," the trainer said. "He was the best 2-year-old in Pennsylvania last year. Other horses got better (this year) and he didn't seem to. But last week also was a little bit of a return to form."

Dude's The Man is the 5-2 morning line favorite in the race. The horse has lost six straight, but only missed by a neck when third in the elims. Corey Callahan will drive.

No Friend to Horse Racing, Chris Christie Will Attend Haskell

New Jersey Governor and Presidential hopeful Chris Christie will attend Sunday's Haskell at Monmouth Park, which will feature Thoroughbred Triple Crown winner. Asbury Park Press writer Bob Jordan found it ironic that Christie will show his face at Monmouth after trying to shut down that track and the Meadowlands. To read the Press' story click here.

Report: Construction Underway in New York on Dual Harness/Auto Racing Track

A new harness track could be coming to New York State.

According to a report on Syracuse.com, construction is underway in Hastings, New York on a facility that would host auto races and harness races. The project is the brainchild of Glenn Donnelly and will be called Central New York Raceway Park. Donnelly said he hopes to begin harness racing there in November, 2016. Another Cobalt Positive for Aaron Lambert

Trainer Aaron Lambert has been hit with a positive after a horse he trained tested positive for an elevated level of cobalt in a June 27 race at Pocono Downs. The horse in question is Dynamic Youth. Lambert was handed a 15-day suspension and a $500 fine by Pennsylvania authorities.

Lambert made news when he had a horse test positive for the same drug last year at the Meadowlands. After private tests done by the Meadowlands revealed the cobalt positive, Lambert was banned at the Jeff Gural-owned tracks, but Gural showed a soft side this year and let Lambert race again at his tracks. That, likely, is about to change.

A Baby Race Six-Pack for Takter

Meadowlands press release

EAST RUTHERFORD, NJ - Breakfast with the Babies, Final Edition drew a small crowd of dedicated racing enthusiasts to enjoy the weather and the chocolate babka along with some nice trotting and pacing prospects. They ended as they began with the Jimmy Takter Stable the undisputed star of the show.

NJSS two-year-old filly trot final winner All The Time put on a public workout this morning for the Takter/Yannick Gingras team cruising the oval in 1:57. The top Muscle Hill filly was not made eligible for the Jim Doherty Memorial, a good break for the competition in there but likely a disappointment for her camp comprised of owner/breeders Marvin Katz and Al Libfeld.

Straight A Student took a nice record of 1:58.1, nailing Time To Talk in the last stride or two for driver Mark MacDonald. Paul Kelly trains the filly, a $65,000 Credit Winner Lexington buy for his interests as Paul Kelley Racing along with partners Abraham Singer and Bill Weaver.

Takter drove his Donato Hanover filly Haughty to an impressive 1:56.4, displaying a good late kick closing into the 28.3 final quarter. Jimmy bought her for the interests of Libfeld, Katz and Goldband for $80,000 at Harrisburg last fall.

Threeupthreedown was a front end winner in the first trotting colt race for Tim Tetrack and trainer Erv Miller taking a record of 1:59.4 in the process. He's a homebred Muscle Hill racing for the interests of Shim Racing and Mike Anderson's Paymaq Racing.

Zlatan won another baby race for Gingras and Takter, this on in 1:57 holding off Open Road Hanover. Christina Takter, Herb Liverman and John & Jim Fielding paid $37,000 for this Muscle Mass colt. This race was marred by an incident on the final turn where John Campbell was dumped from his sulky. John was up quickly but reportedly had gone in for an x-ray of the wrist.

Reigning Moni looked great this morning after the break winning in 1:55.4 for Gingras and Takter in just the second start for the son of Donato Hanover. Yannick let him roll along through pretty good numbers and had more left, finishing in 28.1 to win by many. With the great Moni Maker a generation back in his pedigree, Reigning Moni is owned by a couple of her owners in KR Breeding, Preferred Equine along with Brixton Medical and Christina Takter.

Western Fame won the first pacing race for Gingras and Takter in 1:55.4. He sat in behind Headforthebeach and got by that one late in the 28 second final quarter. He's a Brittany homebred Western Ideal colt.

The Art Major colt Talk Show created a buzz all the way from Florida this winter and he has done nothing to discourage that talk. Trainer Steve Elliott gave Talk Show a few weeks off after a 1:52.3 NYSS win at Tioga and he looked sharp in this morning workout with Scott Zeron subbing for John Campbell in 1:54.1 home in 26.3 completely on his own. Pegasus Racing, Team S Racing and Barbara Bongiorno own this exciting prospect, a $40,000 buy in Lexington last fall.

Yannick and Jimmy struck yet again with the Somebeachsomewhere pacing filly Bring A Ring in 1:56.1. She opened a long lead into the stretch and held on despite drifting out a few paths late. Bring A Ring was a $40,000 Harrisburg purchase by Christina Takter, John Fielding and Joyce McClelland.

The final two-year-old race of the 2015 season at The Meadowlands was taken by Shezarealideal and Andy Miller. The Western Ideal filly already a PASS winner over at The Meadows, led all the way and closed the 1:55 mile with a 26.3 kicker. Darlinonthebeach was a restrained second and Call Me Queen Be third in a meeting of three stakes winning fillies. Nick Surick and KDM share ownership of the winner who was bred by Nick's mom Debbie Surick.

Handover Belle Heads Into Fresh Yankee On A High-Note

By Darin Zoccali

Handover Belle just missed by a nose to Market Share one week ago, tonight, she flipped the script on her eight opponents winning the $28,500 Open Trot in 1:51.1.

Combined in the wagering with Gural Hanover, Handover Belle allowed the pace to settle down in front of her, as her stablemate did the early lifting, reaching the quarter in a sharp 26.4. As the field turned down the backstretch, Hanover Belle made her move for the lead and she cleared Gural Hanover and rolled past the half-mile in 54.1. With no challenge coming around the far turn, Handover Belle was able to back the field down a bit, trotting 28.4 on the far turn. At that point, Gural Hanover pulled the pocket to challenge his entry-mate in the stretch as the rest of the field closed in. Wind Of The North mounted a strong bid along the pylons, while Allie Labrook and Shake It Cerry came charging down the center of the racetrack. But, Handover Belle was able to hold everyone off to score a game victory. Wind Of The North rallied up the pylons for the place spot, with Allie Labrook rolling late to get up for third.

Handover Belle was driven by Yannick Gingras for Ron Burke, Weaver Brussemi and Howard Taylor. With the victory, Handover Belle surpassed $500,000 in lifetime earnings.

The Jimmy Takter duo of French Laundry and The Bank were as-advertised in the $23,750 three year old open trot as they made their final tune-ups for The Hambletonian. Sent off as the 2/5 favored entry, The Bank cleared the lead going past the three-eighths pole, while his stable-mate, French Laundry, followed suit and took over into the far turn. French Laundry opened up daylight as the field reached the head of the stretch, but The Bank cut into that margin through the lane as the two finished well in front of the rest of the field and streaked under the line together, with French Laundry holding on by a neck in 1:52.4. It was four lengths back to Aldebaran Eagle in third.

French Laundry was driven by Brett Miller for Jimmy and Christina Takter, John and Jim Fielding, Marvin Katz and Al Libfeld. The win was the 10th in 18 lifetime starts for French Laundry and his earnings now stand at over $392,000.

The freshman trotters geared up for the first round of major stakes for the two year olds on Friday night at The Meadowlands. Twenty four fillies went behind the gate in three eliminations of the Jim Doherty Memorial (formerly The Merrie Annabelle) while 19 colts and geldings contested the Peter Haughton Memorial eliminations, split into two divisions.

One of the major stars of the night was Broadway Donna, who entered the first Doherty elimination with an unblemished record and she left just the same, romping to a 1:53.3 score as the 1/9 prohibitive choice over Celebrity Eventsy and I'm Outstanding. The clocking was not only a lifetime mark, but it was the fastest mile by any two year old trotter, filly or colt, thus far in 2015.

Broadway Donna was guided to victory by Dave Miller for trainer John Campbell and Fashion Farms LLC, who also bred the filly. She will undoubtedly be a short-priced favorite in the $389,450 Jim Doherty Memorial Final on Hambletonian Day after running her record to a perfect five for five.

The second elimination for the Doherty saw Womans Will assert her will over eight other fillies, winning in 1:55.3 as the even money favorite. She held off a late burst from the Jimmy Takter trained and driven Miss Tezsla and Silent Blessings.

Womans Will was driven by Andy Miller for Julie Miller and owners Al Libfeld and Marvin Katz, who bred the filly.

Kathy Parker got the job done as a co-favorite at 5/2 in the third elimination of the Doherty, winning in 1:56.1 for Johnny Takter. The two year old filly was guided to the lead before the half-mile pole and appeared to be an easy winner, until a 90-1 longshot, Lindy's On Fire, burst on the scene in the last sixteenth of a mile, but Kathy Parker was able to hold on by the narrowest of margins. Sunset Glider was a trapped-in third.

Kathy Parker, named for the editor of the Horsemen and Fair World, was trained by Jimmy Takter for Christina Takter, Brixton Medical, R A W Equine and J. Mc Clelland.

The nine that have locked in their spots in the $389,450 Jim Doherty Memorial Final are:

Broadway Donna
Celebrity Eventsy
Silent Blessings

Womans Will
I'm Outstanding
Lindy's On Fire

Kathy Parker
Miss Tezsla
Sunset Glider

The three fourth place finishers that will be draw by lot for the final spot in the final are:

Southwind Adele

Gifted Lady

Encore Gold

The draw for the last entrant and the post position draw for the Jim Doherty Memorial will take place on Saturday afternoon.

The first Peter Haughton elimination saw another favorite return dividends as Southwind Frank made short work of the field of 10, scoring his third victory in four starts in 1:54.1 as the 1/5 betting choice. Leading from the three-eighths pole to the wire, Southwind Frank easily held sway in the stretch over Earn And Burn and Alexander Hanover.

Southwind Frank was driven to victory by Yannick Gingras for Ron Burke, who co-owns the colt with Weaver Brussemi, Our Hrs Cents Stables and J & T Silva Stables.

The second elimination produced an 8-1 upset in Milligan's School, who sat third behind a rapid pace, moved on the far turn, opened up in the stretch and held sway rather easily in 1:54.1. Favored Bar Hopping rallied willingly in the stretch to be second with Brooklyn Hill a game third.

The winner is owned by Story Inc and trained by Julie Miller. Andy and Julie Miller teamed up for their second win of the night.

The 10 two year olds qualifying for the $349,850 Peter Haughton Memorial Final are:

Southwind Frank
Earn And Burn
Alexander Hanover
Bar Hopping
Southwind Flash

Milligan's School
Sliding Home
Dominion Beach
Brooklyn Hill
Winter Harbor

Both fields will be drawn on Saturday afternoon.

The Jackpot Super Hi-5 carryover went unclaimed on Friday night and the carryover into the Saturday program will be $225,376.

Post time for the Saturday program, featuring the eliminations for The Hambletonian Oaks is 7:15 P.M.

Morrill Dominates with Freshman Fillies

By James Witherite - Tioga Downs Racing Media

NICHOLS, NY - Jim Morrill, Jr. continued his success on the New York Sire Stakes circuit on Friday (July 31) evening at Tioga Downs, prevailing in five of the evening's 10 races. Among his wins was a $56,500 New York Sire Stakes split for 2-year-old pacing fillies, in which Soft Idea ($3.00) kicked clear in upper stretch after staving off mild pressure on the far turn.

Soft Idea, a daughter of American Ideal and Walk Softly, was relaxed in the early stages, brushing from fourth to clear Wishy Washy Girl (Ray Schnittker) after a :27.4 first quarter. Once making the lead with a circuit to go, Soft Idea pulled the pace back through middle fractions of :57.4 and 1:26.1 before Mother of Art (Mike Simons) applied mild first-over pressure through the far turn. Soft Idea kicked clear off the far turn, opening up 4-3/4 lengths on her rivals for a 1:54.2 triumph. Mother of Art held second, while Art Critic (Aaron Byron) emerged from traffic to take third.

Linda Toscano trains Soft Idea for the South Mountain Stables, the Bay's Stable, the Radio Racing Stable, and Little E, LLC.

The other featured New York Sire Stakes event on the evening saw No Clouds Bluechip ($4.30) claim the winner's share of a $55,500 purse. Mike Simons secured the pocket with the daughter of Roll With Joe and B J's Sunshine, drafting behind American Ivy (Mark MacDonald) through sectionals of :27.1, :57.3, and 1:25.2. Boxed on the far turn by the first-over Killing Em Softly (Morrill), No Clouds Bluechip found room at the top of the stretch when Killing Em Softly broke stride, edging off the pegs and sprinting to the lead in mid-stretch. No Clouds Bluechip also prevailed in 1:54.2, defeating American Ivy by three-quarters of a length. Vino and Formaggio (Chris Lems) held third off a ground-saving trip.

John Berger trains No Clouds Bluechip for Richard and Farrell Carney, along with Barbara Berger.

Live racing returns to Tioga Downs on Saturday (August 1) evening, with a 12-race card due to begin at 6:15 p.m. Eastern time.

| 8 Lindy's Tru Grit | Cantab Hall | J Miller/A Miller |

OBRIGADO won the most recent leg of this series back here in June and he looked good that night in doing so. He since went a game trip at Northfield and then closed in :26:3 last week after a no-shot trip; Mark Mac is likely to put him up front once again now and this one will show back up tonight. NATURAL HERBIE is another that had too far to come last week for Verlin Yoder; everyone still remembers the mile he went here on Hambletonian Day last year. MASTER OF LAW is one of those horses that you can't figure from week to week but his very best would give him an upset chance; Brett Miller is slated to take the lines once again. FLANAGAN MEMORY raced well when last seen at this track in June but didn't flatter himself in either recent try at Mohawk; he'd be a tough call now. DW'S NY YANK is likely to be leaving for Burke and will be part of the early speed; a possible sneaky play. Winter sensation MELADYS MONET looks to have regained some confidence of late over at Yonkers.

6th Race. $35,000, Trot. Hambletonian Oaks Elim

| 6 Galka Hanover | Muscle Massive | Burke/Gingras |
| 7 Wild Honey | Cantab Hall | Takter/TBA |
| 8 Smokinmombo | Explosive Matter | Beaver/Merriman |

SMOKINMOMBO has yet to miss the board in six starts this season and with any luck driver Merriman will get a live drive here next week on Hambletonian Day. This one already beat the likely favored #5 at Pocono three races back and has plenty of speed to overcome the outside; PASS star can go with these. WILD HONEY couldn't keep late with Mission Brief last out but wasn't exactly loaded two back here in the Del Miller; a potentially vulnerable short priced favorite. LOCK DOWN LINDY hasn't shown her best as a 3-year-old but has still made almost $100K; this would be a good time to realize some of that potential she showed last year. SMEXI deserves respect from the Takter barn but she's lost her last three - all as the favorite

7th Race. $35,000, Trot. Hambletonian Oaks Elim

| Post Horse | Sire | Trainer/Driver |

| 1 Rules Of the Road | Muscle Hill | Connor/Callahan |
| 2 Sarcy | Donato Hanover | Ji Takter/Johnny Takter |
| 3 Speak To Me | Muscle Massive | Takter/Zeron |
| 4 Magic Marker | Andover Hall | Norman/D Miller |

| 6 Livininthefastlane | Donato Hanover | J Miller/A Miller |
| 7 Classical Annie | Andover Hall | Arledge/Merriman |
| 8 Spirit To Win | Cantab Hall | Jones/B Miller |

LIVININTHEFASTLANE was wildly bet down to even money in the Del Miller two weeks ago over Mission Brief before losing after an arguably over aggressive drive. Julie Miller hasn't been nearly as sharp this year as we've seen her in the past but this Donato Hanover filly has been tremendous all year; should be able to turn the tables on #8.

Livininthefastlane (inside)

SPIRIT TO WIN pulled off the mega-shocker last out and in retrospect should have garnered a little more respect than she did. From out here this one might need another magic drive from Miller but there's no questioning her current form for Canadian conditioner Dustin Jones; early speed might be coming now. RULES OF THE ROAD jogged last week on a virtually uncontested race. Daughter of Muscle Hill now shows consecutive 1:52 type miles but she'll be tested by a few of these; the rail is her biggest asset. SARCY couldn't do anything with Smokinmombo last out at the Meadows and now gets a new driver in Johnny Takter, Jimmy's brother. He's actually won here before and this filly can threaten with her A-1 best. SPEAK TO ME gets Zeron back as the other entrant from the Takter barn; she can make the final.

8th Race. $50,000, Pace. TVG Open

| Post Horse | Sire | Trainer/Driver |
|-------------------|-------------------|------------------|
| 1 Doo Wop Hanover | Rocknroll Hanover | Elliott/TBA |
| 2 Mach It So | Mach Three | Bamond/Tetrick |
| 3 Bettor's Edge | Bettor's Delight | Burke/Bongiorno |
| 4 Wake Up Peter | Rocknroll Hanover | Remmen/Callahan |
| 5 State Treasurer | Real Desire | Moore/D Miller |
| 6 JK Endofanera | Art Major | Takter/B Miller |
| 7 Foiled Again | Dragon Again | Burke/Gingras |
| 8 Dancin Yankee | Yankee Cruiser | G Green/Merriman |

JK ENDOFANERA makes his third start since moving from Burke to Takter and had way too much ground to cover two weeks ago in the Haughton. He hasn't had a realistic chance yet in the new barn to flaunt his best but he could be sitting on a good one; Brett Miller has been driving excellent of late for Takter. STATE

TREASURER will likely go off as the favorite tonight and he was one that I liked last out. Unfortunately, he was buried for much of that mile before naturally running over horses late to just miss; this is a very competitive field and there might be better options if he's odds-on. FOILED AGAIN nearly shocked in the Haughton last out and he seems to deliver his best when everyone counts him out. The 11-year-old closed in :25 and change that night like a few others and he'll attract much more attention now; could use a hot pace up front. DOO WOP HANOVER was an easy play against last out at even money as he was all-out two back off a perfect trip to win the Graduate. He'll get a new driver now as Campbell is out with an injury but I still wouldn't bite with the short price. MACH IT SO was part of a big night for Tetrick on Pace night and this was one of a couple he got home at a big price for trainer Bamond. He'll need similar racing luck tonight but it isn't out of the question. DANCIN YANKEE makes a rare appearance here for the Green barn; I'm sure Gural could do without a win in this corner.

6th Race. $62,500, Pace. Adioo Volo

Handicapping Analysis by Brett Sturman

| Post Horse | Sire | Trainer/Driver |
|----------------------|------------------|---------------------------|
| 1 Serious Filly | Somebeachs'where | Brown/Tetrick |
| 2 Bedroomconfessions | American Ideal | Alagna/Zeron |
| 3 Dobre Povedane | Well Said | Butenschoen/Wilder |
| 4 Hipnumberone | American Ideal | Garcia-Herrera/Pantaleano |
| 5 Storm Point | Somebeachs'where | Burke/Palone |
| 6 Kays Dragon Lady | Dragon Again | Burke/Gingras |
| 7 Somewhere Sweet | Somebeachs'where | Brown/D Miller |
| 8 Bettor Be Steppin | Bettor's Delight | Holloway/Callahan |

BETTOR BE STEPPIN is just two races removed from upsetting in the Lynch final at Pocono and seems to have a clear class edge over these on paper. Bettor's Delight filly easily has enough speed to overcome the outside draw and should be controlling this on the front; will warrant any short price that she offers. STORM POINT almost lasted in her most recent in a PASS race won by a multiple sire stakes winner. She goes for hometown connections of Burke and Palone and will attract attention on that fact alone; almost has to be in some type of stalking position near the front. BEDROOMCONFESSIONS is winless on the season for Alagna despite being one of the better fillies in the sport last year. That recent NYSS try at Monticello may serve as a good confidence builder and Zeron will give her every chance if good enough. DOBRE POVEDANE won over the track last week and that was her first start in two months; picks up Wilder as Corey goes to the favorite. KAYS DRAGON LADY seems ambitiously spotted if you ask me but I guess stranger things have happened.

6 Triple V Hanover Somebeachs'where Brown/D Miller
7 Divine Caroline Rock N Roll Heaven Holloway/Callahan

DIVINE CAROLINE went a giant mile in defeat two weeks ago at the Meadowlands and it took an even braver filly to beat her that night. She's become the most consistent of these and arguably is the fastest right now; she can overcome the outside post in this compact field and has a chance to end a summer long losing skid in style. THE SHOW RETURNS is one that I've chased in recent weeks and you could make the case that she's tailing off a bit from that June form. This one was hard used early last out in the Miss NJ but was only even in the late stages; gets an interesting new driver now in Zeron. SASSA HANOVER is one of two Burke entrants in here and she's another that's been tough to figure this season. She certainly hasn't come back as strong as she was last year, which is what we're seeing with a number of these sophomore fillies; YG's choice. SOUTHWIND ROULETTE won 5 of 11 last year but is winless in 6 starts this year. This isn't the toughest stakes race and she makes her second start back off a brief layoff; may go better than you think. BETTER SAID hasn't proven to be up to open stakes caliber competition this season but these connections do well together. TRIPLE V HANOVER showed some potential earlier in the summer and isn't out of the question if you can overlook her last.

12th Race. $400,000, Pace. Delvin Miller Adios

| Post Horse | Sire | Trainer/Driver |

| 1 Yankee Bounty | Yankee Cruiser | Burke/B Miller |
| 2 Dude's The Man | American Ideal | J Okusko/Callahan |
| 3 Trading Up | Somebeachs'where | Alagna/Palone |
| 4 Cooperstown | Four Starzzz Shark | Burke/Kakaley |
| 5 Dreams Beachboy | Somebeachs'where | Alagna/Zeron |
| 6 Lost For Words | Well Said | Brown/D Miller |
| 7 My Hero Ron | Well Said | Burke/Gingras |
| 8 Angelo J Fra | The Panderosa | Parker/Hall |
| 9 National Seelster | Bettor's Delight | Ryder/Tetrick |

DUDE'S THE MAN seems ready to get his due and Callahan will be bound to put him in play earlier this time around with $400,000 on the line. The runner-up to Jiggleit two back in the Pace, this one was taken off the gate last week in his elimination before being overloaded to just miss after coming home with another raging final quarter. Okusko trainee has turned it on in recent weeks and this post will give CC any number of options; he really ought to be best in here and take home this years Adios. MY HERO RON is where Yannick opts to and trainer Burke is on record saying he feels this gelding is his best chance over two other stablemates. He coasted last week in 1:50:3 and is yet to taste defeat on the season since moving from Erv Miller to Burke; he'll get the acid test today. LOST FOR WORDS has been a standout over the last two seasons on the PASS circuit but has struggled a bit when racing on the open stage. He took first run last week at a tiring leader and still couldn't hang on against a 40/1 outsider; trainer Brian Brown and drive Dave Miller warrant respect though. NATIONAL SEELSTER actually beat the top choice at Vernon back in June but would still need a monstrous effort to win from out here. Elimination winner from last week will suddenly offer a giant price compared to the 50 cents on the dollar he offered just a week ago. YANKEE BOUNTY started off his career 8 for 8 but hasn't won since, including the final 2 races of last year and all 10 of this year's races. He gets a driver change now to Brett Miller and lands the rail; maybe he'll shine back through in this spot at a price. That was a well earned upset score last week for COOPERSTOWN and it wasn't completely out of the blue either. The only concern is that Gingras is off but we've seen Kakaley fill in nicely; a serious threat to at least land a share.
