

Wakizashi Hanover is "Freaky" Good Again

By Bill Finley

In a race that pitted brother-versus-brother and star-versus-star, there was a lot of hype coming into last night's Jennas Beach Boy at Hoosier Park. In the end, though, it wasn't much of a race. Wakizashi Hanover took care of that.

Indiana-bred star Freaky Feet Pete tried his best in his first tilt on the Grand Circuit, but he was no match last night for Wakizashi Hanover in the $110,250 Jenna's Beach Boy. With Tim Tetrick beating little brother Trace, Wakizashi won by 2 1/4 lengths in 1:48.4.

It was a big night at Hoosier, where another highlight was still another win by Bee A Magician over the boys, this time in the Centaur Trotting Classic.

Even though he was nowhere near Hoosier last night, Wiggle It Jiggle It was part of the story in the Jennas Beach Boy. Wakizashi Hanover is one of only two horses to have ever beaten him and Wiggle It Jiggle It is the only horse that had beaten Freaky Feet this year. That made last night's race more or less a battle to see who is the second best 3-year-old male pacer on the planet.

The other story was the battle of the Brothers Tetrick, as Tim drove Wakizashi and Trace drove Freaky Feet Pete.

The betting public knew it would be one or the other, making Pete the 3-5 favorite and Wakizashi the 6-5 second choice. The next lowest price on any other horse in the race was the 50-1 on Camturo Rock.

Trace took the initiative off the gate, gunning Freaky Feet Pete from the nine post while Tim settled into a two-hole trip. It seemed at times as if they were the only two in the race. Tim waited patiently, didn't tip out until mid-stretch, and then sat back in the bike as his mount blew past Freaky Feet.

"Freaky Feet Pete is a good horse," said Wakizashi's co-owner Bruce Kennedy. "When you're dealing in harness racing anything can happen in a race and when your opponent has a record like Freaky Feet Pete had you can't take it lightly. We knew he was a dangerous horse.

"The fact that he won wasn't a big surprise. Timmy left just enough to tell the other horse you're not going to get there cheap. Then they both tried to set the pace for their own horses. Timmy has always been very confident with our horse."

Wakizashi Hanover is now 10 for 16 on the year and might be in line for a Dan Patch Award if not for the fact that Wiggle It Jiggleit is out there. It's not clear when the two will meet again. Wiggle It Jiggleit is headed to Hoosier to face Freaky Feet Pete in the Indiana sire stakes finals on Oct. 10. Meanwhile, Kennedy said the Oct. 6 Keystone Classic at The Meadows will be next for their horse.

Wakizashi Hanover is being pointed for the Breeders Crown, while Wiggle It Jiggleit's connections say they are leaning against supplementing into that race.

As for Bee A Magician, she seems to be more machine than horse. Last night was her 61st career start and her 41st career win. She's clearly the top older trotter in the sport, males included.

The only thing different for her last night was the presence of a new driver. Brian Sears elected to drive at Yonkers in the New York sire stakes finals, so Dave Miller picked up the assignment. Sears will be back for her next race.

Perhaps keeping in mind that Bee A Magician has a huge race coming up in the Oct. 10 Yonkers International, Miller was content to let the daughter of Kadabra do her own thing. She didn't really gear up until the final turn and when she did she swept past Gural Hanover. Wind Of the North made somewhat of a race of it late with a late move, but Bee A Magician held on to win comfortably, by 1 ½ lengths. The time was 1:53.

Bee A Magician won for the 41st time last night

"She's an amazing horse," Miller said. "She overcame a bad post (No. 9) and got the job done. It's not easy for these mares to keep racing the boys. They are bigger and stronger and she's one of the few that can keep beating them."

Second choice Natural Herbie, also International-bound, showed nothing, finishing eighth.

The first of the night's stakes races resulted in a minor upset as Sunset Glider beat 2-5 favorite Womans Will by a half-length for the Takter-Gingras combination in the $207,300 Kentucky Stallion Management for 2-year-old trotting fillies. The race drew just five horses. Sunset Glider led throughout.

Indiana-bred Topville Cadillac won a division of the Kentucky Stallion Management for 2-year-old pacing fillies, with Call Me Queen Be winning the other. Call Me Queen Be was driven by Scott Zeron, who came right back and won the Elevation for 2-year-old pacing colts with American Passport. Trainer Tony Alagna finished one-two in the race with Mindtrip rounding out the exacta. Both were maidens coming into the race.

CHAPTER SEVEN

Undefeated Travel Playlist Providing Early
Return on Investment

By Tom Pedulla

YONKERS, NY - Tom Grossman of high-powered Blue Chip Farms knows talent when he sees it, and that led him to join several others in making a recent investment in undefeated Travel Playlist. If only the stock market offered such swift and encouraging returns.

Travel Playlist, in his first race since the new ownership group was announced on Tuesday, provided an early and impressive return by storming home a convincing winner of the Genesee Valley Farm Pace New York Sire Stakes Final for 2-year-old colts and geldings on Saturday night at Yonkers Raceway. He extended his perfection to 5 for 5.

His sizzling performance as he overcame post seven in a field of seven highlighted New York's Night of Champions for 2-year-old trotters and pacers. Each of the four New York Sire Stakes Finals carried a hefty 225,000 purse.

NYSS Finals winner Travel Playlist may have a bright future

Non Stick also remained unbeaten as she won the Crawford Farms LLC Trot for 2-year-old fillies for her sixth victory. Allerage Echo capitalized on an early break by previously undefeated Dayson to take the Allerage Farm Trot for colts and geldings. Dime A Dance, one of three Ron Burke trainees in the Winbak Farm Pace for 2-year-old fillies, rattled off her fourth consecutive victory for Burke.

But it was Travel Playlist and the investment made in the very fast son of Art Major that created the greatest buzz during the second and last New York Night of Champions after 3-year-olds were in the spotlight two weeks ago.

Ronald Michelin remains the majority owner of Travel Playlist but agreed to move into what appears to be a blindingly bright future with Grossman's Blue Chip Farms, Taylor Made Stallions, and Fred W. Hertrich's All-American Harnessbreds.

"We're looking to hit the lottery and have a stallion like the father," said Grossman. He raced and stands Art Major, a winner of more than $2.7 million in his brilliant career.

"We are certainly interested in all of his offspring and watch them very closely," Grossman said. "This is, by far, the most interesting 2-year-old out of this horse in many, many years."

Travel Playlist was confidently driven by Marcus Miller, who took command early. They withstood a demanding opening quarter of 26.2 and pulled away as they spun out of the final turn for home. His new owners all but expected such domination when they dug deep into their wallets to claim a financial stake in the bay colt. Terms of the agreement were not announced.

"We paid for him assuming he had a real shot to be a top 3-year-old and sire," Grossman said.

Grossman said the newcomers to the Travel Playlist bandwagon will serve as "advisers and cheerleaders" while Erv Miller, who remains as the trainer, plots a course that they hope will lead to the Breeders Crown.

"He's still got a lot to prove," Grossman said. "Obviously, he's a very talented, fast horse and, if he's tough like his father, he will keep doing this."

Non Stick is another youngster with a long road ahead in his racing career and much to prove. But Jeffrey Gural, one of his owners, is so pleased with him that he was delighted the other day when he came upon a bill that was higher than expected. The bill reflected a 50 percent share in the daughter of Lucky Chucky, double the percentage he thought he owned.

Gural can be forgiven his confusion. He has a fair amount going on at all times as owner of Meadowlands Racetrack in East Rutherford, N.J., not to mention his assorted owning and breeding interests.

Gural said his visit to Yonkers, a rival track, was nonetheless a bit nostalgic. "I spent a lot of the years of my youth at Yonkers Raceway," he said. "It's nice to come back here and have a little luck."

Gural thought the latest of Non Stick's six victories was arguably the most impressive. "I thought this was a good test," he said. "She's undefeated, but she's been drawing the easy division."

Non Stick assumed an early lead and was never seriously threatened. Gural gave much of the credit to trainer Ake Svanstedt and commended his choice of driver Daniel Dube, who knows the intricacies of the half-mile oval at Yonkers.

"It's always a smart move when you come to a track like this to have somebody who knows his way around," Gural said.

In the race before Non Stick kept his unblemished record intact, Gural rooted home Allorage Echo as the breeder of that horse. Allorage Echo, a bay gelding by Conway Hall, won for the fifth time in nine starts with a pair of runner-up finishes.

Afterward, George Ducharme, his trainer, announced that Allorage Echo's 2-year-old campaign was over. "That's it, the last start for the year," he said. "It's been a long year. It's time to get him some rest."

Allorage Echo

Ducharme is confident he has not yet gotten to the bottom of Allorage Echo. "He's done everything asked of him," he said. "I don't know where the bottom is right now."

With Burke trainees comprising half of the six-horse field that started in the Winbak Farm Pace, it was perhaps not that surprising that Dime A Dance, a daughter of Roll With Joe, got the job done in 1:54.1. She was joined in the race by stablemates Mother of Art and Encore Deo.

"There's no limit right now," Burke said of Dime A Dance's future. "She looks like a top horse."

Brett Miller Misses Hoosier Drives After Breaking Foot

Brett Miller had to take off his drives at Hoosier Park last night after breaking his right foot in a freak accident at

Brett Miller will return Wednesday after breaking his foot

Delaware, Ohio. The good news for Miller is that it is not a serious break and he is planning on driving Wednesday at the Red Mile. Among others, he is down to drive Celebrity Eventsy that night in the Bluegrass Series.

"It was just a freak accident," Miller said. "I was loading my race bike on to the back of my truck to leave Delaware, I jumped off the truck and landed on my foot the wrong way.

"They said there's no displacement, so I don't need screws or pins in it. Right now, I have a funny looking shoe on it. On Tuesday, they'll put me in a small walking cast and I'll be ready to go. But until then they told me not to put one ounce of weight on it."

Wiggle It Jiggleit Sire to Sugar Valley Farms in Ohio

Mr Wiggles, the sire of pacing superstar Wiggle It Jiggleit, will stand at Sugar Valley Farms in Ohio for the 2016 breeding season. His stud fee will be $4,000.

Mr Wiggles has moved around quite a bit in his young career as a stallion. He stood in Indiana his first year and Wiggle It Jiggleit is a product of that crop. But he was bred to only 17 mares that year. His next stop was Ohio and Sugar Valley but he was bred to only 20 mares that year. That crop now consists of 2-year-olds and has produced a sub 1:55 performer in Mr Wiggle Pants, whose lifetime mark is 1:53.2. From there, he returned to the Delaware farm of George Teague Jr, and bred just three mares in 2013 and six in 2014. No doubt due to the success of Wiggle It Jiggleit, he bred 42 mares this year.

"What Wiggle It Jiggleit has done is huge for the sire," said Sugar Valley's Joe McLead. "George and I have been friends and business partners for quite some time and he felt it was time to move him back here. The first time around it just was not economically feasible for us. Once Wiggle It Jiggleit started doing what he's doing we started discussing bringing him back. Why not capitalize on what he is doing and how well his other crop is doing with such a small amount of horses?"

"I think his book will be full within the next couple of months. We've already had a lot of requests from major breeding farms from around the country and we haven't even put out a press release yet. The reception is going to be really good. He's standing at a reasonable price, $4,000, and there is a lot of opportunity here in Ohio."

Illness Knocks Two Superbly Bred Hanover Horses from Harrisburg Sale

Two of the better bred horses in the Harrisburg yearling catalogue have come down with cases of spinal ataxia. One, Player Hanover, had been euthanized. The other,

The hope is that yearling filly Danielle Hanover can be saved as a broodmare after coming down with spinal ataxia

Danielle Hanover, is likely to survive the ordeal but will likely never race and has, of course, been taken out of the sale.

"Both of them were ataxic behind," explained Hanover spokesman Murray Brown. "But, unfortunately, that's part of the breeding business. It seems that when it happens it almost always affects the best ones."

Player Hanover, a colt, is by Muscle Hill out of World

Champion and millionairess Possess The Magic. Danielle Hanover, also a filly, is by Cantab Hall out of D Train, and is a half-sister to Donato Hanover.

"The Muscle Hill-Possess The Magic colt was so neurologically impaired that he had to be put down," Brown said. "The Cantab Hall-D Train filly was not nearly as bad. She is likely untrainable, but hopefully she will be okay as a broodmare. I don't think that its unrealistic to have expected that between the two of them they would have brought between $300,000-$400,000."

Venus Delight powers to victory in Milton Stakes

CAMPBELLVILLE, ON - Venus Delight and driver James MacDonald surged to the lead in deep stretch to capture the $300,000 Milton Stakes Saturday night at Mohawk Racetrack.

Venus Delight

A five-year-old daughter of Bettors Delight, Venus Delight captured her Milton Stakes elimination last week and started from post three in Saturday's rich event for older pacing mares.

The Jeff Bamond Jr. trainee got away fifth in the early stages for MacDonald, while Lady Shadow and driver Doug McNair touched down on the front at the opening-quarter in :26.

Lady Shadow and McNair were able to dictate the pace and took the field by the half in :54.4. Down the backstretch, Yagonnakissmeornot and Jody Jamieson came first up from fourth, allowing MacDonald to catch cover and situate Venus Delight second-over heading into the final turn.

Lady Shadow paced by the three-quarter pole in 1:22.3 and appeared to create a few lengths of separation on her rivals at the top of the lane. Venus Delight flipped off cover in the lane and took aim at tracking down Lady Shadow. Several mares began to close in on the leader, but Venus Delight had the most pace and powered by in deep stretch to win by half a length over Lady Shadow in 1:50.1.

Sandbetweenurtoes finished third, while Katie Said was fourth to round out the Superfecta.

The driving victory with Venus Delight in the $300,000 event is one of the biggest triumphs to date for MacDonald.

"I feel great," said MacDonald in the winner's circle. "You always feel great after a win, but after a $300,000 win it's pretty special."

The Milton Stakes victory gives Venus Delight seven wins from 16 starts this season.

"The trip was great, I wasn't sure what was going to happen," said MacDonald. "I was worried maybe I would get stuck first up, but when Jody didn't go out of there and I caught his cover I was more than happy."

"She stalled a little bit in the last turn and I got taken out a bit, but a good horse can overcome a bad trip."

Owned by Bamond Racing LLC., Venus Delight has earned over $500,000 this season to bring her career earnings to $758,133. Saturday's victory was her 24th lifetime.

A $2 win ticket on Venus Delight returned $6.30.

Still Another Pa. Harness Week Fan Weighs In

I am very disappointed that "PA Harness Week" is no more. It's a show I stumbled upon a few years ago, and found to be extremely entertaining! I thought the repartee between Steve Ross and Heather Vitale "made" the show. I have only a minor interest in harness racing, but I watched the show every Saturday morning for all the fun.

I miss it, and I know I'm not the only one. I hope you'll have the good sense to bring it back as soon as possible. Sincerely, Joann Simmens

Short and to the Point

My comment on The Jug: "Wiggle It Jiggle It, No balls - all heart and guts."

Bob Emery

Kudos to Team Teague

When good things happen to good people, it makes everyone else feel good, too. Such is the case with Team Teague - who captured the venerable Little Brown Jug yesterday. This was accomplished in the most unimaginable way possible - parked for his lungs 1st-up in both of his heats and still managing to beat the best of his generation!

Today, everyone is just about unanimous in praising Wiggle It Jiggleit, as the best thing since the microwave oven.

While I hate being an I told you so, well...I told you so. From the very first time I watched him glide over a racetrack, I knew he was special. No, make that V-E-R-Y special! In addition to being fast and having a gait capable of gobbling up ground so effortlessly, he has the heart of a champion - and was huge capturing The Jug. I guess George Teague knew what he was talking about, when he said Wiggle It's lungs were capable of taking in lots of air.

I'm certainly not harness racing's leading authority (not by a longshot), but as someone old enough to have watched Bret Hanover, Albatross, Niatross and, more recently, Somebeachsomewhere, in action, I always believed that Wiggle It Jiggleit was worthy of being in the same conversation of "greatness." When I suggested that, some - a lot smarter than me - scoffed and rolled their eyes.

The truly great one's often display their mettle in defeat. For the thoroughbred Triple Crown Champion, Seattle Slew, that occurred in the 1978 Jockey Club Gold Cup, when he ran both halves of the Laz Barrera entry of Life's Hope and fellow Triple Crown champ, Affirmed, into defeat, before getting beat a nose by a one-run closer named Exceller - after setting an insanely-fast pace.

In the 2008 Meadowlands Pace, Somebeachsomewhere would taste defeat for the only time in his magnificent career. SBSW was parked 3-deep on a :52+ change half-mile, before losing, albeit begrudgingly, to Art Official - who had gotten a perfect, 2-hole trip. For Wiggle It Jiggleit, that race took place at the Meadowlands - in The Cane Pace. Wiggle It got parked to the quarter in :25.4 before grabbing the lead, then, he parked In The Arsenal to the half in :52.1! But, even after such a grueling half-mile, he refused to quit and just got nipped for show! The Cane was not about a 1-5 shot getting beat, but rather, a great horse demonstrating true greatness.

I believe that harness racing missed the boat by not promoting Wiggle It Jiggleit as its "face." Just look at what the Thoroughbred folks did with American Pharoah this year. Case in point, even though the Cane Pace - 1st jewel of pacing's Triple Crown, was part of a stakes-heavy, closing day card at The Meadowlands, including The Hambletonian - I found it curious that Wiggle It Jiggleit's name was hardly mentioned in the lead-up. Some might say that storied The Hambletonian was the feature on that card and deserved all of the promotional play. But, think about this: would there be any horse racing at any racetrack on the same day that American Pharoah was competing, where American Pharoah would not be the star of the show?

When a special horse like Wiggle It Jiggleit comes along - with all the built-in "sizzle" - including a great name, classy connections - who also happen to be African American - well...you must promote that horse heavily! It should have been a concerted effort by the entire industry - one facing enormous challenges - trying desperately, to somehow, get itself into the consciousness of a general public, who has long forgotten about it.

The public loves superstars. I'm certain they would have readily embraced one with an infectious name like Wiggle It Jiggleit - if only they were aware of him.

Sadly, however, it was just a blown opportunity.

Finally, congratulations to Team Teague - George, Montrell, and Clyde Francis - for winning The Little Brown Jug and for sharing your wonderful Wiggle It Jiggleit with us!
