The second session of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale held Wednesday night (Oct. 5) at the Fasig-Tipton sales facility in Lexington, KY continued the strong trend started on opening night.

Led by off-the-charts interest in offspring of Muscle Hill, the sale was also driven by Swedes at the top end.

“(European buyers) were definitely successful tonight and they were also the underbidders on quite a few,” said David Reid, who shares the sale manager role with Randy Manges. “They were definitely strong, very strong, tonight.”

Robert Lindstrom, agent for Lennart Agren’s SRF Stable of Boden, Sweden purchased the second session sale topper — a Muscle Hill colt out of Habit Of Creature named Go To Hill — for $350,000 out of the Preferred Equine consignment.

“I’m thrilled for the breeder,” said Preferred’s David Reid. “Tim Klemencic has been a long-time client of Preferred Equine and I’m very happy to see him rewarded for his hard work. He works hard, he studies the business. He had a horse here last year that I thought undersold a little bit, What The Hill, and he won the Peter Haughton. I really couldn’t be happier for him.”

Counting Tuesday’s gangbusters opening night, the $350,000 bid tied for the fourth-highest price fetched at the sale this year, so far.

Lindstrom led all buyers on day two on behalf of SRF, spending $632,000 on four yearlings. He was followed by fellow Swede Ake Svanstedt who spent $585,000 on five yearlings. Jimmy Takter purchased three yearlings and spent $420,000. Through two days, Takter leads all buyers with $2,030,000 spent on 11 yearlings total. Lindstrom/SRF ranks second through two days with $912,000 spent on six horses, followed by the Burke Racing Stable that has purchased 11 yearlings for a total of $827,000.

The second-highest priced horse from day two was Tae Kwon Deo, a Muscle Hill colt out of Brigham Dream that sold for $240,000 and was also consigned by Preferred, which led all day two consignors with 34 yearlings grossing $2,918,000, an average of $85,824.

Tae Kwon Deo was purchased by Lufti Kolgjini AB of Sweden.

The next highest-priced yearling sold was a Muscle Hill filly out of Sterling Volo named Stylish Volo that sold to Emilio and Maria Rosati of Australia for $220,000. Stylish Volo was consigned by Kentuckiana Farms that grossed $1,806,000 for 22 yearlings sold on day two.

Through two days, Muscle Hill leads all sires with a $129,341 average for 41 yearlings sold. Somebeachsomewhere offspring have averaged $129,892 and Kadabra is third with an average of $108,333 for three yearlings.

Overall, the second session average of $70,897 was up 26.5 per cent over the second session average of the 2015 sale. Through two days, the sale's average of $92,717 is up 20.6 per cent from the two-day average of $76,845 fetched in 2015. Despite selling 19 fewer horses this year through two days, the sale gross is up to $21,603,000 from $19,365,000.

"The one thing I have heard consistently throughout the week is that individuals are matching up to the pages. Sometimes that doesn't always work, but so far it's worked out well," Reid said. "I feel like the catalog is a little tighter this year... I couldn't be happier. We just want to keep the momentum going."

"Right through, the energy has been very positive. The owners and buyers have been very resilient and they are out in force. Lexington has had great success with its graduates and that's no coincidence because there are buyers here. The catalogue is strong."

Twenty-nine horses sold for $100,000 or more on day two. Reid said he is happy for the breeders whose horses have sold well.

"The breeders invest a lot of money and they do it the old-fashioned way. They spend money on mares, they invest in stallions and they take the gamble, so you're seeing the product that's paying off for them," Reid said.

As for whether the sale can continue on a strong note, Reid said he was cautiously optimistic.

Dave Landry

It was a busy, profitable night at Fasig-Tipton with 29 yearlings selling for $100,000 or more.

Harness Racing Update

"I'm always a little conservative because you can't keep going up, up, up. But, I think the overall depth of the catalog is stronger and I've been saying that for a couple of weeks now," Reid said. "That said, we'll just stay focused because we've only sold 230-something head in the sale, so we're not even halfway there, but I think it's going to hold up."

The sale continues tonight through Saturday.

For a trainer who is known for his stellar work with young horses, including this year's Metro champion Beyond Delight, one can reasonably assume that Tony O'Sullivan has a couple of tips to impart on the subject of yearling selection.

But his advice begins and ends with a single word: Athleticism.

"For me, the first thing is their presence. They have to be athletic. You have to be able to see that they're going to be there physically. I'm not going to say pedigree, because everybody says that. If the horse is not athletic, I'll walk away," he said.

"That's my main thing, before I get into the pedigree or conformation or anything. My initial impression of the horse means a lot."

As for what screams athleticism to O'Sullivan, the trainer has a few indicators on his list.

"A well put-together horse where everything is in proportion. I like horses that have a bit of substance on them, because they seem to be able to weather the storm a little bit more," he said.

"I'm also looking for a bright eye, and just general alertness. That's general stuff, but I'll walk away from a horse if I just automatically don't like him."

Always B Miki to stand at Diamond Creek in 2017

World champion Always B Miki p, 1:47f ($2,227,368), who holds the distinction of winning three races in 1:47 in a single season – no other horse has more than one 1:47 or faster mile – will be retired to stud duty at Diamond Creek Farm in Pennsylvania at the end of his 2016 racing campaign. He is scheduled to compete in the Allerage on Sunday at Red Mile and then complete his career at the Meadowlands in the Breeders Crown and TVG Free-For-All.

The horse's ownership group, Bluewood Stable, Roll The Dice Stable and Christina Takter, issued the following statement in announcing the news: "Diamond Creek Farm has purchased a significant interest in Always B Miki. The entire partnership is elated. This is a natural progression for a great horse, to stand at a great facility where he will receive excellent support."

Diamond Creek Farm's Adam Bowden said he had been working on a deal to stand the stallion at stud for quite some time.

"I'm really excited. I've been working on this all summer and hoping and praying it would happen," said Bowden. "It's just great to add him to our stallion roster."

A stud fee will be announced at a later date.

Hall of Famer Jimmy Takter has trained Always B Miki during the horse's 4-year-old and 5-year-old campaigns, which included victories in the Breeders Crown last year at age four and this season the Mohawk Gold Cup, W.R. Haughton Memorial, Ben Franklin, Jim Ewart Memorial and Hoosier Park Pacing Derby. His 1:47 victories in the Franklin elimination and final and Ewart equaled the world record for

"He is a very special horse, a great horse. I'm sure he's going to be a successful sire," said Takter. "I also think he's going to be an interesting horse for the breed."

Bred by Joe Hurley's Roll The Dice Stable, Always B Miki is a son of Always A Virgin and the Artsplace mare Artstopper. Trained at ages two and three by Joe Holloway and Roger Welch, Always B Miki won back-to-back races at The Red Mile Grand Circuit week, including the Tattersalls, and in the Meadowlands Pace he famously finished a hard-fought second in world record time after starting from post nine and being parked two wide the entire race.

Always B Miki's start in the Allerge at Red Mile Sunday afternoon will be his 50th career start. Going into the Allerge he has 26 career wins and 42 on-the-board finishes.

Freaky Feet Pete shut down for season due to injury

The connections of Freaky Feet Pete have announced that their star 4-year-old pacer will not race again in 2016 due to injury.

A posting on Freaky Feet Pete's Facebook page reads as follows: "This is a very hard announcement to make, but unfortunately due to injury Pete's season has come to an end. It's hard, for sure, but we are thankful we caught it and didn't do any further damage. Hopefully, if everything goes well, we

Zeron would make history with Marion Marauder Triple Crown

by Rich Fisher / USTA web newsroom senior correspondent

In three days, Scott Zeron will attempt to become the youngest driver to win a harness racing Triple Crown, for either trotters or pacers. Throw in the fact his horse's owners are paying a hefty supplemental fee of around $50,000, and that could make for a lot of pressure as Zeron gets set to drive Marion Marauder in the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington's Red Mile on Sunday (Oct. 9).

But a laidback, understanding group — consisting of trainers Paula Wellwood and Mike Keeling and owners Jean Wellwood and Devin Keeling — have made things easy for the 27-year-old Canadian since this journey started at the Hambletonian and continued with the Yonkers Trot.

“They're not hanging over me going, ‘This is the end all, be all, we want this,’” Zeron said. “Heading into the Hambo they told me, ‘It's a long year, we've got a lot of races to race,’ and not saying, ‘Listen, this Hambletonian is all we want, it's all we care about.’ That would make it pressure filled. They just want the horse to race well.

“(Pressure) varies for every horse and every trainer. The connections I'm driving for are just the nicest, greatest, most appreciative people you could ever drive for. I know that they're confident in me, without a doubt, and I'm confident in my horse. I really think it hasn't been a pressure filled year.”

It has been nothing but an enjoyable year. Having a horse as talented as Marion Marauder also helps calm the nerves.

“This is the kind of horse that both the connections and myself have never been able to be a part of, so it's all taken in stride,” Zeron continued. “The nerves would be different if I had a horse that broke every other week, things like that. But this horse is a true gentleman and the connections are just a pleasure to drive for.”

The last Trotting Triple Crown winner was Glidemaster in 2006. He became the eighth horse to sweep the Hambletonian, Yonkers Trot, and Kentucky Futurity.

Marion Marauder won the Hambletonian in August and Yonkers Trot in September. Since then, his connections hedged on attending the Kentucky Futurity, with the original plan to skip the event. Ironically, it was after Marion Marauder was beaten by Bar Hopping at the Canadian Trotting Classic in his most recent start that thoughts began to differ.

Mike Keeling had wanted to hit the Red Mile all along, and he finally convinced the rest of the group it was the right thing to do.

“As far as I know, right after the Canadian Trotting Classic, they didn't want to have a five-week break until the Breeders Crown elimination; it was just a little too long,” Zeron said. “We went over the list of who we felt could be going to the Futurity, and the rule is that if there's 12 they go straight to the finals.”

The draw is not until Thursday, so it will not be known until then whether there is just one race. If not, the eliminations and final will both be contested Sunday.

Scott Zeron would be the youngest Triple Crown winner if he and Marion Marauder win Sunday's Kentucky Futurity.

"I think for them it was a matter of praying we don't go two heats, only in the best interest of the horse not having to go two heats twice in the year," Zeron said. "And I think, if you ask them, it was a case of Marion feeling really well the last two weeks, and they just wanted to race him."

Zeron admitted he would have been disappointed, but understanding, about losing his shot at history.

"For sure, but I would have supported whatever decision they made," he said. "The Breeders Crown is another one I haven't won. If we go straight to the final, the plan will work out brilliantly." Marion Marauder has won nine of 12 races this year and earned $1.25 million. His victories include the Hambletonian, which also contested eliminations and the final on the same day, Yonkers Trot, Goodtimes Stakes and a division of the Stanley Dancer Memorial. He finished second in the Canadian Trotting Classic and Colonial.

The driver admitted he could never script a season like this.

"When things are going right, they're just going right," said Zeron, who has been the horse's lone driver since the middle of his 2-year-old season. "If you really break it down, Marion has been a phenomenal animal for me."

"Those two major critical (Triple Crown) stakes we had coming into the Futurity, we won by a nose and a head. The roles could have been reversed either way. I'm grateful to just have a horse like him to take me on this kind of trip. He's a pleasure to drive. He makes me confident when I'm out there with him. I just have to put him in a spot to have a chance to win the race. That's really my only job, he does the rest."

Marion Marauder is coming off a three-week layoff since losing the Canadian Trotting Classic and Zeron feels it was a necessary respite after an extremely busy schedule.

"He was coming off a stretch of (racing) five consecutive weeks," Scott said. "All the races prior to that, he had layoffs. He had three weeks between the Stanley Dancer and the Hambo. He's always had nice comfortable breaks except for those five weeks straight. By the end of it they just wanted to assess the way he came out of the Trotting Classic, and I think he's been more than feeling well which is why they made the decision to come to Kentucky."

Zeron, who has finished second in the Futurity twice, would supplant Trond Smedshammer as the youngest driver of a Trotting Triple Crown winner. Smedshammer was 37 when he trained and drove Windsong's Legacy to the Triple Crown in 2004.

On the pacing side, George Sholty was 33 when he guided Romeo Hanover to complete the Pacing Triple Crown in 1966. William Myer drove Romeo Hanover in the Cane Pace with Sholty winning the Little Brown Jug and Messenger.

Although seeking his first Futurity win, Zeron has won the Tattersalls so he has had some success in big 3-year-old races at the Red Mile. He is already the youngest driver to win the Little Brown Jug (with Michael's Power in 2012) and the second youngest to win the Hambletonian. As a Canadian, he still yearns to win the Canadian Trotting Classic, but a win on Sunday would take away the sting of that setback.

"It would take all of the pain away from that, no doubt," Zeron said. "I would forget about the Trotting Classic by winning the Futurity and getting that Triple Crown."

The list of drivers to be part of a Trotting Triple Crown-winning campaign includes Hall of Famers Joe O'Brien, Ralph Baldwin, John Simpson Sr., Stanley Dancer (twice), Howard Beissinger, and Campbell. To join that list at all would be impressive. To be the youngest man on it makes it even more notable.

"It's a big deal for me," Zeron said. "I'm here for the whole Grand Circuit two weeks. It all leads up to that last day. I'm excited about it, I'm confident my horse can do it."

"It's a lot for a horse to do. But hopefully we draw well, hopefully I drive well and the horse is on his game."

One thing that's not on is the pressure.
