Ron Pierce, 60, has not driven since March 7, 2015. He always held out hope he might drive again, but today he's officially calling it a career. Harness racing's second leading money driver, with over $215 million to his credit, has announced he is hanging up his red, white and blue colors.

"It was time. I feel great," Pierce exclusively told Harness Racing Update this week. "When I stopped, I had to have three surgeries in 2014 on my back and neck. Right now, I feel great. I'm better physically than when I was in my 30s. But I found that I enjoy doing other things, and having my time alone."

After recovering from his surgeries, the outdoorsman spent the winter scuba diving and cycling in Florida. In March, he returned to his home base in New Jersey and by May he was off on his next adventure – first to visit his mother in Montana and then on Fairbanks, Alaska.

"My first goal was to get my legs and hips and back in shape. It took me a while. There were times I'd need a day or two or three to recuperate. But it kept getting better," Pierce said. "I did lots of mountain climbing. I was 273 miles north of Fairbanks in Addigans Pass. No cell phones, no Internet. They had something called 'End Reach' for texting if you needed it. But I was there to be away from everything – racing included. I've been out of the loop for some time now concerning the sport."

While in Alaska, Pierce started prospecting for gold.

"I was metal detecting – looking for gold. I have pictures on Facebook about my finds. The first two-three months it wasn't so good. Then I changed areas and drove 350 miles southwest. I found some gold nugget pockets that had not been hit before. Sometimes I got a little, sometimes a lot. One nugget was over four ounces. I think when I left I had 130 ounces of gold in all. Next year I plan on going back, with machinery this time."

Pierce grew up in the wilds of northern California and before he was in school he was already hunting with his brother, Keith, to help feed his family. Pierce's father Don – who died in 2005 – was a horseman and outdoorsman, but Ron didn't take to horse racing right away.

"I didn't fully concentrate on racing early on. I was more interested in girls, traveling, hunting snorkeling, mountain climbing, you name it," Pierce said. "There were other things I wanted to do, too. When I married Melody in 1986, she was very helpful in getting me to take things real, to pay bills, to concentrate on racing. She helped me so much."

Pierce got his start in racing working for Vernon and Donny

Dancer and Art Unger.

"I knew I needed some seasoning," Pierce said. "I wasn't ready to drive at the Meadowlands in those days against Mickey McNichol, Eddie Davis, Bill O'Donnell, John Campbell and Ted Wing. I wanted to try California, and Macau, and Canterbury. I figured my best experience would be in California. They had some bigger tracks and I could win a few driving titles there, several hundred races – maybe even a thousand. I raced at Pomona, Sacramento, Hollywood Park and Los Alamitos. I did exactly what I set out to do."

Pierce said he started to take racing seriously around the time he turned 30. By that age he had yet to crack the top 150 drivers in career earnings.

He made up for lost time in a hurry (see fact boxes for career highlights) and ended up winning more than 9,500 races – some clearly more memorable than others.

Thursday marked the 10th anniversary of the race known at The Red Mile ever since as The Wave.

Pierce, driving Passionate Glide, turned and waved goodbye to Trond Smedshammer, driving Queen Serene, while sailing past at the top of the stretch in the raceoff for the Kentucky Filly Futurity.

"The only regret I have for this race was my own drive the race before when I let Queen Serene get too far in front of me," Pierce said. "I was mad at myself. I knew in the raceoff that I was going to beat her, whether Trond was 1:10 to the half or 1:04. I was going to sit on her back and win. I was also reluctant at this point to be racing a third heat. The Breeders Crown and the Matron were still coming up and you hate to race horses of this caliber three times in a day. As the raceoff unfolded, (:28.4, :57, 1:25.3 and 1:53) I knew I was going by and I just looked over and waved goodbye to Trond. It wasn't planned. I just did it. It caused a lot of reaction, good and bad. But it did get a lot of publicity for the sport. NBC, CBS and ESPN all carried it."

That same day on the other side of Lexington, a colt named Somebeachsomewhere sold early in the yearling sale at Fasig-Tipton. Two years later, Pierce became the only man to beat The Beach when he orchestrated the upset by a neck in the 2008 Meadowlands Pace with Art Official in a 1:47 world and stakes record.

"I liked (Art Official) a lot. I knew he had some issues, but he was tough and fast. The connections told me he couldn't leave much, so when I scored him down that night, I shook him up pretty good. I pretty much decided then and there I was leaving," Pierce said. "The only chance I had to beat Somebeachsomewhere was to be up with him. Realistically, I was hoping to be right close by and maybe be second best.

"Art Official hit his knees really hard, harder than you normally see in top horses. I got him up on the bit and left 100 miles per hour, :26 flat. When I saw challenges coming to the half, (Art Official) still felt good so I left Yannick (Gingras driving Bullville Powerful) out there to a :51.4 half. Dave Miller (Mucho Sleazy) was breathing down my neck pretty good at this point. Paul MacDonell swung wide to get the top at the five-eighths, and I sat right there behind him, and all of a sudden I could feel Art Official getting right up on the bit. I told myself, 'Wow, this is a good situation.' We hit the three-quarters in 1:19.1, and I felt I had him. My colt swelled up and I was able to get up by a neck. All the credit goes to (trainer) Joe Seekman and his staff for getting his colt into peak condition."

As Pierce retires three prominent drivers reflected on the Hall of Famer's career.

"He does things that none of the rest of us can do," said Mark MacDonald. "He is one of the best of all time. In the 2006 North America Cup, I had a longshot in there – 90-1 maybe – and was getting a trip and thought I might be able to steal it. But here comes Ronny, measuring from eighth or ninth with Total Truth.

"No one's taught me more about driving a good horse than Ronny – and he did it the hard way. In 2005, when I set the world record with American Ideal of 1:47.4 at the Red Mile, it was more Ronny's doing than mine. I had only driven there a time or two and Ronny reminded me that the second quarter was slightly downhill. I was caught out early and reached the quarter in :25.4. It was Ronny, during the race (driving Village Jolt), who told me to go on. I did, and past the five-eighths he was sitting behind me and sensed my colt taking a breather so he yelled so loud he roused my colt as well as his and American Ideal took off. 1:47.4."

Tim Tetrick said Piece is, "one of the best ever, a natural. He's part horse. He's also in very good shape – fit as a fiddle. He would do things in a race you wouldn't do and it worked for him. He's one of my idols. I try to do what he does sometimes, but he's the one and only."

Hall of Famer Bill O'Donnell said Pierce is a great driver. "I could tell 30 years ago by the way he sat in the bike he was going to be really good. He had a way with a horse – never in trouble, relaxed. He was always coming the right way at the wire. He didn't do any boasting. His horses did that on the track for him. He's a hard worker and a loyal guy. Years ago, he wasn't getting the call on some of the better horses, but his patience worked for him."

As for the future, Pierce said he is putting that on hold for awhile. "When I got back to Jersey in early October, I had three feet worth of mail and bills, which is not my favorite thing to attend to. But I'm thinking about possibly going to South America this winter. It's summer there. As for not driving horses anymore, why should I? I am healthier than I've been in years and I like doing different things. At some point I'll go to the barns and see some faces and friends, but for now I'm doing my thing and enjoying life."

Ron Pierce - Career Highlights

In case someone is not familiar with the long and distinguished career of Ron Pierce, here are some of the highlights:

- He didn't win his first Breeders Crown until after his 35th birthday (1991, Giant Victory).
- He is the richest driver of all time to have a Triple Crown winner (1999, Blissful Hall).
- He was the first driver to win a race in 1:50 flat with a two-year-old (Badlands Hanover in the 1998 Breeders Crown).
- He's the only driver to six times win the freshman pacing Breeders Crown.
- No other driver in history has won a million-dollar race six straight Years (2006-2011).
- No other driver has won either the Meadowlands Pace or the Hambletonian five straight seasons – 2007 Donato Hanover, 2008 Art Official, 2009 Well Said, 2010 Muscle Massive and 2011 Roll With Joe.
- Only three drivers in the last quarter century have driven the Pacer and Trotter of the Year in the same year – John Campbell (1994 with Cams Card Shark and Pine Chip); Tim Tetrick (2012 with Captaintreacherous and Chapter Seven) and Pierce (2014 with Sweet Lou and Shake It Cerry).
- Pierce is the second driver to reach $200 million career behind John Campbell.
- Drove his first winner at Freehold in October 1975 (Clans Amber).
- Drove his first Meadowlands winner at age 21, in 1977, back to back weeks with SEP.

- At the turn of the century, Pierce was over $48 million and #11 all-time among drivers
- Pierce is the only driver to ever win six straight races with a single horse in sub-1:48 each time (2014-Sweet Lou).
- Pierce was the first driver to ever win a race with a three-year-old in 1:47 (2008 Meadowlands Pace, Art Official).
- His first major money win came in the 1989 Wilson for $907,000 when the Kelvin Harrison trained freshman Sam Francisco Ben won it.
- His first million-dollar win came in the 1993 Hambletonian with American Winner. "Winning the Hambletonian was beyond my wildest dreams. I never thought I'd win it. I had dreamed of it enough. I must have floated around for two, three weeks after that win in 1993 with American Winner."

10 great Ron Pierce horses

Donato Hanover

"I loved this colt. People think I'm crazy when I talk about he being able to go with, and defeat, at times, Muscle Hill. Hey, I knew with Explosive Matter in 2009 that when I stepped onto the track with Muscle Hill I probably couldn't beat him. But Donato was a stronger horse than Muscle Hill and had Muscle Hill been extended a few times it would have made him vulnerable to a colt like Donato Hanover. When Donato set his lifetime mark in the 2007 Kentucky Futurity, I was stung some by John Campbell's colt after a :54 and change half. At that point, I just let him roll. he was super, but I think I might have hit the bottom of the tank. So when the Breeders Crown came around, he showed the effects and was passed by Arch Madness in the elimination and final. But at least it was a good horse doing it."

American Winner

"I first drove him at Freehold in the Dexter eliminations and final. My first impression was that he didn't look like much – a streamlined colt; scrawny actually; not a lot of flesh. But he could trot. By the third time I drove him, he was up in the irons and right on the bit. He tried real hard and got the best of Pine Chip the first part of that season, up until around Lexington. I still think that American Winner should have been voted Trotter Of The Year over Pine Chip. That one always bothered me."

Well Said

"Loved that horse. Steve Elliott and Toni Rose – what a job they did with him. He had allergy issues. He was a push button horse, but you needed to trip him a little bit, and he was racing against a tough bunch. Classy. I felt confident going to the gate every time I drove him."

Shake It Cerry

"Loved that filly. I went to The Meadows one day to drive three of Jimmy Takter's trotting fillies – they all won – and he asked me which one I'd like to stick with. I told him no doubt – Shake It Cerry. We never ran her down or abused her. She finished up the year with the bit in her mouth. My dream with her (which didn't happen due to his inactivity) was to race her conservatively at four and then with the Prix D'Amérique at five. I watched her race some last year and I don't think she was as happy. She was overdriven some and not within herself."

Tom Ridge

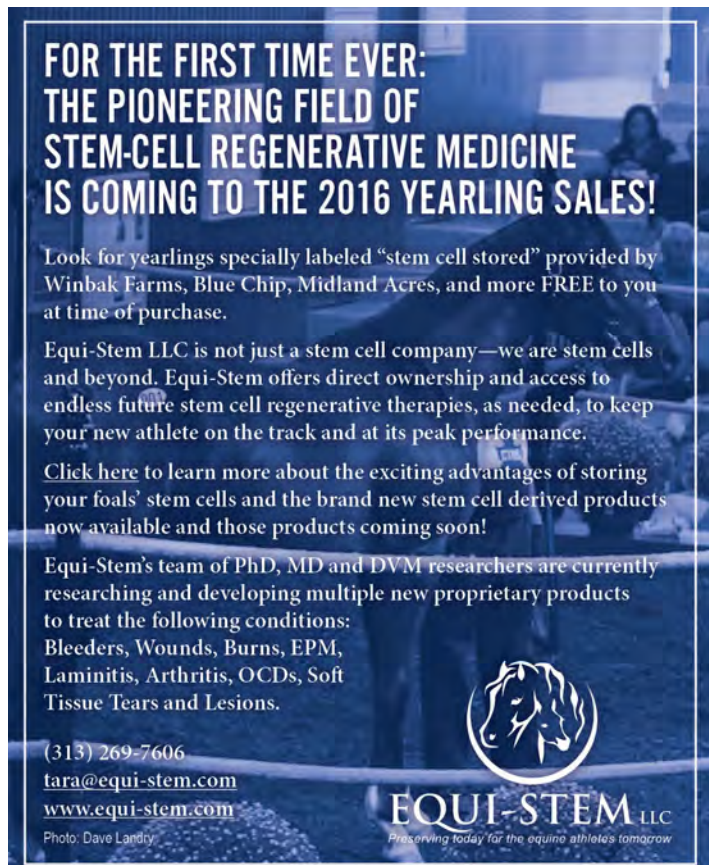

"I'm still mad thinking about the 2004 Hambletonian. He jogged in his elim, but in the final Danny Dale (the starter) had slowed the car down so much waiting on a horse my horse got all bothered and he might have choked. He wasn't himself at all there. He showed the next month when he set the world record what kind of potential he had."

Muscle Massive

"That was a case of Jimmy Takter priming a horse for that one particular race. What a job he did. I got a little fortunate in that John (Campbell) and Lucky Chucky gave me some cover late... I don't John had any choice but to go on with him when he did."

Shady Daisy

"I got lucky with her. Mike Lachance had driven her and beaten Miss Easy, but in her next start he had a commitment to a Brittany Farm horse, so I wound up with (Shady Daisy). The first time I raced her, I brushed her on the backstretch and felt something I had never felt before – she could really go, wicked fast. It was somewhat unfortunate that she had to race against Staying Together and Artsplace, but she held her own there. The only regret I have with Daisy is the 1993

Breeders Crown when I let Kelly Sheppard and his filly go at the three-eighths. By the time I got back out, it was too late and I ran out of track (and Swing Back won).”

Rainbow Blue

“I would have to say that she was probably the best female I ever raced. A big, heavy mare with a huge tank. She could go fast a long, long way. Head and shoulders the best of her class. When she was named Horse Of The Year, she did it over a horse who won the Triple Crown – Windsongs Legacy – so that was special. The only race I lost with her, she saw a cameraman halfway on the infield at the Meadowlands on Hambletonian Day and it spooked her and she jumped (in the Mistletoe Shalee).”

Blissfull Hall

“I wish I had started racing him sooner. Rick Zeron taught him well at two. Danny Dube had him for the Meadowlands Pace and a few other races early at three. I got him and he was already seasoned. He knew exactly what he had to do. If you gave him a trip of any kind, he took it from there. He had the speed to do just about anything. But you had to be a little bit careful with him. He could get hot at times, just like Cambest, his sire, could.”

Mr Muscleman

“What a pleasure it was to race him. He was a beast, but one you could rate in behind if you wanted. Pretty much anything at all was okay with him. A big long tall horse who covered a lot of ground. I hate to mention it but I still get mad at the Elitlopp that he lost by a nose. We should have, and would have, had the horse challenging not made a break top of the stretch allowing the horse on my back to get me a nose. What’s even worse is that I got fined $12,800 for a one-handed whip, which I didn’t even realize I did. I just didn’t like the whole thing. I swore I’d never go back to Sweden to race after that.”

Early and Important Influences

It’s impossible to properly credit all of the important, influential people in Ron Pierce’s life – Stanley Dancer was one, for sure – but Pierce spoke about four key people.

Peter Haughton

“Peter and I were good friends. He was only a couple of years older than me. It was really sad when he died (in a car accident at age 25). He was impressive as a horseman. I worked for Ernie Spruce some back then and (Peter and I) got a chance to talk a lot. We’d be working out horses side by side in the morning, and he’d be telling me about the family – four-five generations back of the horse he was working. I was lucky if I knew the sire or the dam. Peter was a prince of a guy. Being Billy’s son, he had occasions where he’s be talking to multi-millionaires, but he never changed when he was talking to or hanging out with the caretakers. The same guy.”

Shelly Goudreau

“I didn’t get to know Shelly all that well. But I was talking to him the race before he had the accident that killed him (in 1982). I was there that night. Shelly got a lot of respect and was a total all around horseman.”

Joe O'Brien

"I was raised on the fair circuit. I was watching Joe from diapers. Gentleman Joe. He had this set of hands you couldn't believe. Horses loved him. And he had this soothing voice. He could get horses to go in a kindly way. I learned a lot by watching Joe. So many people wanted Joe to time trial their horses because of the easy way he had with them."

Brett Pelling

"He was a very important man in my career. He gave me a lot of powerful horses to drive. Times are changing was two fingers to drive – my kind of horse. He liked it, he wanted it, first over. That's how he won the Jug. Dream Away, I Am A Fool, Reinvent, Like A Prayer. The Hambletonian with Like A Prayer might be the most frustrating race I was ever in. I got sideswiped on the final turn and lost about six, seven lengths and got beat a neck by Chip Chip Hooray. We should have won by three lengths or more. Brett could get in to a horse's head. Nobody I could remember could aim for a big race like Brett could. His father Brian was a top horseman and that helped."

Walner trots to world record in International Stallion Stakes

by Ray Cotolo for Red Mile

Sweeping to command off a :55.1 half, Walner gradually drew clear of his rivals and sprinted home in the stretch to win one of five divisions for the $280,000 International Stallion Stakes in a world-record 1:51.3 Thursday (Oct. 6) at Red Mile.

The time beat Southwind Frank's world record of 1:52.2 set in the International Stallion Stakes last year.

Dover Dan grabbed the lead through a :28.1 opening quarter, with Fraser Ridge trotting second and Muscles Jared in third. Walner flew from fourth to the lead marching into the far turn. Leading by three-quarters in 1:23.3, he kicked away from Dover Dan, who drifted enough to allow Fraser Ridge room to trot at the pylons.

Fraser Ridge got up for second with Dover Dan third.

Linda Toscano trains Walner, a Chapter Seven colt out of the Ken Warkentin mare Random Destiny. A winner of four in five starts, he has earned $78,750 for owner Kenneth Jacobs. Tim Tetrick drove the $2.40 winner.

"I told Linda that it felt like I was at [the half] in 57 and three-quarters in 1:25," Tetrick said. "But when it flashed up (1):23, I thought 'Oh shoot!' He went to the wire, plugs in, and I asked him a bit, but he trotted all the way to the wire.

"He's a great colt; I've liked him from day one. Even when I got to sit behind him down at (Pinehurst Training Center) I've liked him. He only had one little mistake, but he's a good horse."

Toscano also trained Chapter Seven, and compared this first-crop colt favorably to his sire.

"He acted like the real deal right from the first day," she said. "He has a lot of the same traits his father does; he loves his work, he's a big, beautiful-gaited horse, and he gets over the ground so easy that you have to be careful you don't go too fast with him."

"I figured (he'd go) 1:52, and I would've been happy with that, but 1:51-and-a-piece is just unbelievable," Jacobs said. "We were very patient with him, and now we're waiting for the Breeders Crown if we can get lucky enough to win that.

"I've never had a trotter this good."

Southwind Cobra popped out of the pocket in the stretch, trotting to a 1:53.3 win over New Jersey Viking and Signal Hill.

Soho Hanover took command from Southwind Cobra, brushing to the lead after a :28.3 first quarter. Money Macintosh was racing third, Sir John F fourth and 1-2 favorite New Jersey Viking fifth. After a :56.2 half, Signal Hill was flushed first-over by Shivered, boxing in New Jersey Viking into the far turn. Money Macintosh edged out of third and provided Signal Hill cover heading to three quarters. Losing stride, Money Macintosh forced Signal Hill three wide through a 1:25.2 third quarter.

Southwind Cobra tipped off the rail and trotted to the lead in the stretch. Signal Hill stalled toward the center of the track and New Jersey Viking fanned towards the center of the track, recouping ground trying to gain the lead, only able to come a half-length shy of victory.

By Muscle Hill out of the Broadway Hall mare Caerphilly, Southwind Cobra won his second of nine starts this season, earning $62,672 for owners Burke Racing Stable, Jack Piatt II, Lawrence Karr and Weaver Brussemi. Trained by Ron Burke and driven by Yannick Gingras, he paid $22.60 to win.

"I raced my horse on the front last week and I don't think that's the place for him," Gingras said. "I knew there were good horses behind me, but I knew I had a lot of trot, too. He likes to track down horses, and he raced this way well this afternoon. It was a matter of whoever would get there first."

After losing to Snowstorm Hanover in their $55,250 Bluegrass division, International Moni slid by Snowstorm Hanover to win their division of the International Stallion Stakes in 1:53.1.

Patton was the early pacesetter, trotting the first quarter in :28.1 before losing the lead to International Moni midway down the backstretch. Snowstorm Hanover tracked his backside brush, following his cover and eventually clearing the lead through a :56.1 half. Such An Angel soon pulled first over into the far turn, bringing Meme Hanover into the mix heading to three quarters. Timed in 1:25.1, Snowstorm Hanover held command.

Meme Hanover angled off Such An Angel's cover as she faltered through the stretch. From third-over, Mountain Of Love began flying down the center of the track after Snowstorm Hanover, who was also under pursuit by International Moni attempting to slide up the pylons. The two matched strides approaching the wire, with International Moni getting a nose in front of Snowstorm Hanover.

International Moni, by Love You out of the Speedy Crown mare Moni Maker, won his first race in eight starts this season, compiling $77,795 in earnings for owner Moni Maker Stable. He is trained by Frank Antonacci and driven by Scott Zeron. He paid $7.80 to win.

"I thought it was close; we were wheel-to-wheel at the wire," Zeron said. "I love this horse. He just needed to get stronger throughout the year just like he showed today; I double-used him. He's a really nice animal to sit behind. He does that job for me and I just have to put him into play."

"This is a special win on a lot of different levels," Antonacci said. "This horse is 25, 30 years in the making and a little outside-of-the-box thinking, and Moni Maker didn't lose many photos, so that was good to see. We're proud of this horse."

Devious Man grinded first-over to the lead and held control as Simply Volo lunged for second in a 1:53.2 mile.

Clearing the lead through a :28.4 quarter, Simply Volo led down the backstretch. Long Tom brushed to the lead from fourth, taking control after a :56.2 half. He led around the far turn as Devious Man edged out of third to the outside, coming alongside Long Tom at three-quarters in 1:25.

Devious Man inched to the lead in the stretch. Long Tom chased at the rail while Simply Volo fanned out of the pocket toward the center of the track, hesitating for a few strides before charging toward Devious Man. He came a half-length short of passing Devious Man, while Long Tom trotted home third.

Winning his seventh race in 11 starts, Devious Man, by Credit Winner out of the Garland Lobell mare Miss Garland, has now earned $308,233 for owner Stroy Inc. Trained by Julie Miller and driven by Andy Miller, he paid $3.40 to win.

"My horse is really game," Andy Miller said. "He has been pretty good all year; the only hiccup he had was in the Peter Haughton when he made a break at the start. He has been bustling around those New York tracks, so he dug in pretty good (to hold off Simply Volo)."

Bill's Man powered by race-leader What The Hill to win his division of the International Stallion Stakes in 1:52.3 over Don Dream and Shake It Off Lindy.

Unchallenged through splits of :28.1 and :56, What The Hill held control into the far turn. Shake It Off Lindy drafted from the pocket while Bill's Man, circling by Fly On as he lost stride into the turn, moved into third. He continued pulling toward What The Hill, passing three-quarters in 1:24.3 before taking the lead into the stretch. Shake It Off Lindy had no room to trot as Don Dream tipped from off the cones and stormed down the center of the track. Don Dream moved into second and Shake It Off Lindy into third as Bill's Man hit the line.

Bill's Man, by Credit Winner out of the Yankee Glide mare Silver Springs, won his second race in 11 starts this season, earning $70,441 for owners William Wiswell and M&L Of Delaware LLC. Trained by John Butenschoen and driven by Corey Callahan, he paid $16.40 to win.

"I was planning on following Andy (Miller on Fly On), but he got a little rough," Callahan said. "It looked like he was going to lose him, so I went ahead and went three deep to go around him. By the time I was already halfway by, he had run and we were in a good spot."

"This is a really good horse. Looking at his lines, he has been there in the lines where he hasn't run. He has shown us a lot of trot all along. He probably would've won (last week) if I asked him to go on, but I was trying to be careful with him since he jumped in his last couple times. I wanted to keep his confidence up, and it helped, so I'm not at all surprised by this effort today."

"We're absolutely thrilled to death," Butenschoen said. "We're in Lexington, and we won a race; hoot hoot, hit hit, hooray. Whatever, it's fun."

"He is Breeders Crown-eligible, and he has the Valley Victory later on, maybe even the Matron. We're going to see how he comes out of this race first, and then play it by ear."

Grand Circuit action at the Red Mile continues today (Oct. 7) with four divisions of the $255,000 International Stallion Stakes for 2-year-old trotting fillies. Today's card also features a $3,038 Pick-5 carryover, which covers races two through six. First race post for the seven-race card is 1 p.m.

Lexington Sale Continues To Soar

The session average of $41,834 is up 26.8 per cent compared to the third night a year ago. The cumulative average is up 22 per cent compared to the first three days of the 2015 sale.

It was the third huge night in a row at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

Randy Manges said he “couldn’t be more thrilled” with the results from the third session of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale held Thursday night (Oct. 6) at the Fasig-Tipton sales facility in Lexington, KY.

Minutes after the last hammer of the night fell, Manges, who shares the sale manager role with David Reid, reported the session average of $41,834 was up 26.8 per cent over the third session average of $32,981 from the 2015 sale.

So far, through three days, the sale’s average of $73,198 is up 22 per cent from the three-day average of $60,007 fetched in 2015. The cumulative sale gross is up 12.7 per cent from $24,543,000 for 409 horses sold to $27,669,000 for 378 horses sold.

“The cumulative average is up 22 per cent over last year. That’s really huge, actually,” Reid said. “The money is up 12 per cent.”

That’s with 31 fewer horses being sold this year.

Manges said there’s a good chance the sale will continue to be up after tonight’s session, too.

“We have a lot of good horses left. In comparison to other years, we’re stronger our last two days so I’m confident that they’ll at least hold – the numbers will hold. I feel very good about the horses we’re selling (tonight), and especially good about the horses selling on Saturday.

“We’ve got a lot of nice Ohio-breds, we’ve got a couple of really good Indiana-breds so they should sell well. And we’ve got some very nice trotters selling on Saturday. The Europeans will be here.”

The Europeans were active again Thursday night, with three of the five highest-priced yearlings being sold to European owners, including the session topper, a Kadabra–Cha Cha Glide filly named Magic Carpet Ride purchased for $175,000 by Robert Lindstrom, agent for Lennart Agren’s SRF Stable of Boden, Sweden, the team that bought the session two sale-topper for $350,000. Reid’s Preferred Equine sold Magic Carpet Ride.

The second-highest yearling sold Thursday was Night Rhythm, a Muscle Hill colt out of Tail Of Night purchased for

After a big day at Red Mile, Frank M. Antonacci and family purchased the second-highest priced yearling sold on Thursday night.

$160,000 by Greathorse MA of Enfield, CT, a stable operated by the Antonacci family of Lindy Farms fame that own and operate GreatHorse golf course in Hampden, MA. The purchase, from the Kentuckiana Farms consignment, came just hours after the Antonacci family's colt International Moni won his International Stallion Stake across town at Red Mile in 1:53.1.

"It was just a great day, one of those perfect Red Mile days that everybody likes to have. The sun was out and the track's great. It's a day you like to have, just a great Lexington day," said Frank M. Antonacci.

"There's nothing that breeds confidence better than success at the track or having a winner," said Reid, who owns a piece of International Moni. "People love winners and it's great for the emotions and great for the soul."

Night Rhythm is the third yearling Greathorse MA has purchased at the Lexington sale, following the Somebeachsomewhere colt out of Western Silk named M A P they purchased on opening night for $85,000 and the Muscle Hill–Say What colt Southwind Slate they bought for $90,000 in the opening session.

"Our over-arching plan is to try to buy colts that could be interesting stallions," Antonacci said. "(Night Rhythm) is what we think is one of the classic pedigrees and he is maternally inbred.

"We were keyed in on him since earlier this week, but it never hurts to have some good feelings with the whole crew when you're going in to buy one."

Crawford Racing LLC of Syracuse, NY purchased the third highest-priced yearling sold Thursday when the hammer fell at $150,000 on the Chapter Seven–Surrey With Fringe filly Sevenmaidsadancing consigned by Spring Haven Farm.

After five thirds, Dia Monde finds the OSS winner's circle

After finishing third in five straight Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series starts, stretching back to September, 2015, three-year-old trotting gelding Dia Monde grabbed a win in the last regular season event of his career at Mohawk Racetrack on Thursday evening.

In rein to Randy Waples, Dia Monde left smartly from post six and landed second behind early leader Dunvegan Don, who led the field to a :27 opening quarter. Waples continued to sit on the rail as fan favorite Bee In Charge took control heading for the :57.1 half, and then tipped Dia Monde into the outer lane heading by the 1:26.1 three-quarters. With a clear look at the finish line, Dia Monde shifted into overdrive and powered under the wire a one and three-quarter length winner in 1:54. Tony Soprano also closed well to be second, leaving Bee In Charge the third-place finisher's spoils.

"He raced good, we're pretty tickled with him finally getting that win," said June Durand, who shares ownership of Dia Monde with her husband, trainer Tom Durand, and Allan Smith of Oakville, ON.

The victory boosted Dia Monde into fourth spot in the division standings, with 98 points, heading into the Oct. 15 Super Final. Through all 13 of his sophomore starts the son of Deweycheatumnhowe and Lady Bar has three wins, two seconds, five thirds and earnings of $163,612.

Dia Monde is the second foal out of Lady Bar – a

Reid said racing at Red Mile may have delayed the sale crowd a bit, but it, ultimately, did not affect the bottom line.

"It was a bit slow in the very, very beginning, but it rolled on through afterwards. I talked to many of the consignors tonight and they all seemed pretty satisfied and, more importantly, for the buyers I think the sale has been running at a great pace. It's been a very smooth sail, from an operations and auction point of view and I just think things are very solid through the middle here," Reid said.

"I really look forward to the next two sessions. We're through 389 hip numbers and the market is holding strong and I'm overall very pleased."

half-sister to former Durand trainee Clarice Marie ($313,400) – that Smith and the Durand's have owned, and it was their long familiarity with the family that first drew the partners to Dia Monde.

“We had Littlejack Hanover and he was small, he was a Donato (Hanover), and then when we went to look at this colt he was twice the size, a big, strong colt,” recalls June Durand. “And the thing we liked about him is, Looking Hanover ($1,125,136) was the other good horse out of the family and he's a Muscles Yankee and Deweycheatumhowe is out of Muscles Yankee, so it's kind of going back to that same cross, and he's a big beautiful horse. We paid lots for him, but I think he was worth it.”

The gelding was a $70,000 purchase at the 2014 Harrisburg Yearling Sale, and Smith says he has repaid their investment in ways that cannot be reflected on a balance sheet.

“We've been fortunate enough we've had some good stakes horses and done well financially, but it's more the fun of winning,” said Smith. “Being with Tom and June – all the work they do to pick out the right horses and get them where they do with a small stable – I'm pretty impressed with what they do and I've always supported it and always will.”

The partners will be hoping Dia Monde can continue his winning ways into the $250,000 Super Final, where he will face division point leader Muscle Hustle, the winner of the other $105,000 Gold division on Thursday.

Sent off as the fan favorite, and also in rein to Waples, Muscle Hustle took control just after the :28 opening quarter and rolled through a :58.1 half and a 1:26.3 three-quarters without facing a challenge. Muscle Hustle hit the wire one length ahead of Holiday Party and two more up on Will Take Charge in 1:54.1.

“Muscle Hustle, he was awesome, last quarter :27.3, won fairly handy, and everything is good with him,” said trainer Per Henriksen of the division point leader. “He's healthy and everything.”

Thursday's outing was Muscle Hustle's first in just over a month, he was sidelined with his second bout of sickness this season following a third-place result in the Sept. 3 Simcoe Stakes, but Norwood resident Henriksen expects the colt to be in top shape for next week's finale.

“He didn't race for four weeks, but his race here should make him even better,” said the horseman, who conditions the son of Muscle Mass and Crown Laurel for Ecurie Bergh Inc. of Norwood.

In his five Gold Series starts Muscle Hustle logged three wins, one second and one fifth for 180 points, and trotted to an Ontario Sires Stakes record 1:52.2 over the five-eighths mile surface at Georgian Downs. Through 12 starts this season he has tallied seven wins, two seconds and one third for earnings of $239,832.

Henriksen also trains Bee In Charge, who finished third behind Dia Monde, and said the fan favorite tested sick after the race.

“Bee In Charge didn't race as good as I thought he was gonna do, and we scoped him and he had some mucous so he is obviously a little sick,” said Henriksen. “We've just got to get him healthy for the Super Final.”

Heading into the Super Final off wins aboard both Muscle Hustle and Dia Monde puts Waples in the difficult position of choosing between two horses that appear to be prime shape for the post season.

“They're both really nice horses. I really haven't made up my mind. It'll probably just go by post position, I think that's the way it will go anyways,” said Waples. “We'll see what happens, see how they come out of it.”

“I was really happy with the pair of them you know. I thought Muscle Hustle was the best in his class as long as things went his way and he was healthy,” the reinsman continued. “And Dia Monde, I know that horse can beat anybody out there, but he just hasn't really been putting it all together his last couple, but tonight he really showed up, he put a big, big effort in tonight.”

Waples is also the regular reinsman for superstar sophomore pacing filly L A Delight and trotting filly Caprice Hill. Both fillies were victorious in their freshman Super Finals and both head into this year's test undefeated in regular season Gold Series action.

With a total of $2 million up for grabs in eight divisions, Super Final night gets under way at 7:30 pm at Mohawk on Sat., Oct. 15.

Gural issues statement on purses

New Meadowlands Racetrack owner, and chairman Jeff Gural has issued the following statement regarding the current status of the purse account at the Meadowlands:

“I'm being told that social media has been abuzz in response to some of my recent statements regarding the purse account at the Meadowlands. I want to state the facts and clear up any misconceptions about the status of that account and address the difficulties we face moving forward with no alternative revenue stream to supplement our purses.

"The Meadowlands purse account is currently overpaid by $ 5.1 million. As the revenue generated continues to fall short of purses paid, that amount is projected to grow to $5.8 or $ 5.9 million by the end of 2016. Simply stated, the money to continue to race and pay those purses is covered by me, personally. I am funding the purse account out of my pocket.

"While it is true that the twelve Breeders Crown races cost $ 900,000 and we try to get $10,000 sponsorships to cover $120,000 of that money, the remaining $780,000 to pay for the Breeders Crown races effectively comes out of my pocket. I also put up $ 20,000 as Allera Farms and Tioga Downs/Vernon Downs each does a $ 10,000 sponsorship for two of the races, leaving only ten to sell to the industry.

"I also personally fund the cost of investigator Brice Cote and our out of completion testing along with sending those samples to the finest labs in the world in the hope of deterring the doping of our horses and provide a fair and level playing field for those who race at The Meadowlands.

"So long as we are solely dependent on revenue from conventional means, live, import and export handle on the races, it is critical to the future of The Meadowlands that we are able to present a bettable product to at least stop the bleeding.

"I hope this clears up any misconceptions, of course if you have any questions please let me know."

New Meadowlands COO Jason Settlemoir addressed the gravity of the situation and Gural's role in keeping The Meadowlands operating: "Without the personal funding from Jeff, it would have been virtually impossible the last three years to have any meaningful stakes program. For the record, the cost of stakes at The Meadowlands for the 2016 season will be just shy of $6 million.

"As we assumed we had a good chance of getting a casino in 2017 we wanted to help the breeders by maintaining a decent stakes program. We actually expanded the program substantially over the past few years by including Graduate Series for four year olds and the TVG Classic races in an attempt to further incentivize older horses to continue racing.

"It is clear that the recognizable names of the sport's stars generates great interest, demonstrated by the continuing rivalry between Wiggle It Jiggle It, Always be Micki and Freaky Feet Pete which has inspired a level of excitement not seen in our sport for years.

"Sadly, this may not be the case next year with several of the top horses of this season being injured or having already announced that they will not return to the race track next season. The Woodbine Entertainment Group and Hambletonian Society have both withdrawn support for the Gural rule, diluting its effectiveness.

"With the opening nights of the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale averages through the roof, we would hope that the breeders and consignors will step up and help by sponsoring our major stakes as Crawford Farms has supported the Meadowlands Pace for the past two years.

"Going forward our plan is to underpay the purses by one million dollars each year, so that Jeff can get his money back over the next six years. Obviously if a casino becomes a reality this would all change, but for now this is the plan."
