From cornfield to Crown

How a dream of bringing world-class horse racing to Indiana via the Breeders Crown came together in just 23 years thanks to an investment by both the horsepeople and Hoosier Park in the future of the industry in the state.

by James Platz

Dave Landry

In less than 23 years, Hoosier Park (shown circa 2009) has gone from a cornfield to the host site of the 2017 Breeders Crown.

Next weekend, the eyes of the racing world will be focused on Hoosier Park Racing & Casino as the track plays host to 12 Breeders Crown finals. In the midst of the preparation, Rick Moore, Hoosier Park's vice president and general manager of racing, reflected on the journey the Anderson, IN facility has taken on the way to hosting the sport's championship event.

Born out of a cornfield in central Indiana, Hoosier Park has transformed from an upstart to one of the industry's success stories in less than 25 years.

"I remember our first season in 1994. We were offering $27,000 a day in purses and filling six races a night," Moore said. "I never imagined there could be a Breeders Crown event at Hoosier Park. I think that's a testimony to everyone involved, everyone working together and pulling in the same direction."

Ernie Gaskin remembers those early days, as well. In Indiana's pari-mutuel infancy, Gaskin was an appointee to the state's breed development committee. Working with fellow appointees Nat Hill and Hank Blackwell, the men were charged with building the framework to a program that would improve the quality of the Indiana-sired and bred product. In that role, Gaskin also found himself serving as a salesman for the program, asking legislators to continue funding to the racing industry as the foundation was built for future success.

"Getting the Breeders Crown awarded to us here and having some Indiana bred horses that can compete at that level is what we tried to sell to the politicians and the government of Indiana," Gaskin said. "We tried to sell that we can do that, and we did it, in 23 years, which is nothing shy of a miracle. You've got Hannelore Hanover, Wiggle It Jiggleit; you know the names out there, Indiana bred horses. That is where we wanted to go."

The opportunity to play host to the Breeders Crown came at a cost, and a hefty one at that. The price tag: $900,000. Hoosier Park kicked in $400,000 and the horsemen supplied the remaining $500,000 from their purse account. That can be viewed as a significant hit directly to horsemen's pocketbooks, but Indiana had one advantage: time.

Joe Putnam, a trainer and Indiana Standardbred Association director, explained that the three-year lead time helped with spreading the "pain" over multiple years.

"There was a little bit of skepticism at first, but we had the opportunity to bring the Super Bowl of harness racing to our home track for the first time ever," he said. "We knew three years in advance so that we could spread that $500,000 out over a couple of seasons of racing. It was a very minimal impact on the purses. For what we're going to get in return, we felt like it was a good investment."

Any decision that leads to a reduction of purses, no matter how small, can be met with opposition. Putnam said that communicating with the horsemen helped to alleviate some of that skepticism. Still, there may be some that still object to the use of purse account funds to help bankroll the Breeders Crown. Gaskin insists that with a big picture view, the investment was necessary, and will pay dividends.

"That's probably not making some guys happy, but that's where the vehicle has to go to succeed. It just has to go that direction to succeed," he said. "We all had to pay a little bit

Playing host to the Breeders Crown would not have been possible without a contribution of $500,000 from the Indiana horsepeople via their purse account.

for the Breeders Crown. Anybody that raced a horse this summer at Hoosier Park helped pay a little bit because of the purses, because of the money. I hope most people get the big picture. I know there are some that don't, there are some that didn't agree with it from the get-go. But it's what we had to do."

Whether you race at Hoosier Park often, or will make your first starts at the Anderson facility during next weekend's Breeders Crown finals, bringing the championships to the Hoosier State is about more than just numbers. According to Jessica Barnes, director of standardbred racing and breed development for the Indiana Horse Racing Commission, it's an opportunity to showcase the strength of Indiana's racing and breeding product. It's also a chance to show what makes Indiana's racing industry special.

"It gives us an opportunity to showcase all that Indiana has to offer, and I believe this is very important to our program. By hosting the Breeders Crown, it gives us an opportunity to show what our facts and figures can't; that Indiana is a great place to race," Barnes said. "Anyone taking part in this year's Breeders Crown has an opportunity to experience true Hoosier hospitality and see firsthand how much our state supports horse racing."

Putnam agrees. He has competed in Indiana since 1995, and he's seen the transformation of the industry as it has grown and developed. He believes that Hoosier Park's facilities are on par with the best in the sport, and many will leave next weekend with a favorable view of the track and Indiana.

"A lot of new people are going to see the place and experience the racing facility," he said. "I think everyone will be impressed. Everything is first class and they (Hoosier Park management) are going to make this a special event."

Next weekend, harness racing's best will converge on Hoosier Park. Regardless of the outcome on the racetrack, Indiana is the big winner. And that victory can be attributed to the hard work of many focused on elevating the state's racing profile.

"To get to this level in this short of time, it's been a dream come true for Indiana," Gaskin said. "We're gaining respect all the time."

Sale manager Steve Cross said it was the best sale yet, as Rockin Image filly sets an all-time sale record with a bid of $145,000.

The Hoosier Classic Sale Company closed out its 2017 Select Yearling Sale on Saturday with another strong session. The back half of the catalog was nearly as strong as the first session, producing the two highest-priced babies of the sale.

Newport Party, a Rockin Image filly consigned by Legacy Lane Farm, was hammered down for a record $145,000. Cataloged as Hip 236, the filly is out of Hall of Fame broodmare Fox Valley Monika, dam of millionaire Glass Pack. Bo DeLong, one of the sale's most active buyers, signed the ticket.

Sunday Clothes, a Rockin Image brother to top Indiana sophomore Beckhams Z Tam, brought the next highest bid. The colt, out of the Electric Yankee mare Sara's Lucky Charm, was purchased by Anthony Lombardi for $125,000. The pacer, Hip 296 in the catalog, was consigned by In Law Stables of

The record-breaking sale grossed nearly $7 million and had a two-day average of $19,527 that was up more than 17 per cent from 2016.

Topeka, IN.

Those two yearlings highlighted a second session where 173 yearlings grossed $3.18 million, signaling an average of $18,387. When combining the two days, Hoosier Classic sold 355 yearlings for $6.93 million. A two-day average of $19,527 resulted in an increase of more than 17 per cent compared to 2016 business levels.

The top trotter of the session was again from the newest crop of Swan For All. This time it was Hip 299, a Swan For All filly from consignor Meadow Brook Farm. A first foal from Kadabra mare Seeking A Dream, the trotter was purchased by William Rufenacht, serving as agent, for $65,000.

Swan For All yearlings continued to be highly sought after at the Hoosier Classic sale. With 38 passing through the ring over the two days, the sire's progeny averaged $36,737. A total of 10 yearlings sold for $50,000 or more. On the pacing side, Rockin Image again set the pace. With 63 babies selling during the two sessions, the son of Rocknroll Hanover grossed sales of $1.87 million, producing an average of $29,754.

Wisconsin native DeLong signed tickets on 14 horses for a combined $602,000. The racing veteran settled on eight pacers and six trotters. Tom Pollack also invested heavily in the Indiana program. The Pennsylvania-based owner purchased seven yearlings, spending $314,000. Ohioan Bruce Trogdon was active at the Hoosier Classic sale. Signing as Emerald Highlands Farm, Trogdon picked up eight pacers for a total of $186,500. Indiana horseman Don Eash took home 18 babies, investing $211,000 in total.

"Once again the breeders were rewarded for their diligence and foresight in buying quality mares and breeding to marketable stallions," said sale manager Steve Cross. "Hoosier Classic would like to thank the consignors, bidders and buyers for making this year's sale our best yet."

Hannelore Hanover and Crazy Wow take Crown tests with ease.

by Frank Cotolo, for Breeders Crown

Hannelore Hanover and Crazy Wow won their respective $25,000 Breeders Crown open trot eliminations at Hoosier Park Saturday night.

Hannelore Hanover (Swan For All—High Sobriety) took control immediately in the first elim, leaving the gate and never yielded the top, winning in 1:52.4 with Yannick Gingras in the bike for trainer Ron Burke, owners Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Bruscemi and F. Baldachino and breeder Hanover Shoe Farms.

Unchanged into the stretch, Hannelore Hanover cut fractions of :28, :57.4, 1:25.4, followed until three-quarters by JL Cruze. Il Sogno Dream came first over and went after the leader with Mambo Lindy picking up his cover but Hannelore Hanover was still able to turn the boys away as the 5-year-old mare finished in front by 2¼ lengths.

Mambo Lindy got up for second and JL Cruze picked up the show on the rail. Il Sogno Dream was fourth and the other qualifier for next week's final was fifth-placed Pinkman.

"We were happy with her today," said Burke. "She did exactly what she was supposed to do."

He said she had her earplugs still in when finishing.

"We tried a new shoe on her last week (at Hoosier) for the first time in her life and I think that was (why she lost). She didn't like the shoe."

As the heavy public choice, Hannelore Hanover paid $2.40 to win.

Crazy Wow (Crazed—No Pan No Gain) left brightly in the second elim to take control of his six foes and go wire to wire, winning in 1:53 with Gingras completing the open trot driving sweep. Burke, who trained both elim winners, schools the 5-year-old owned by Our Horse Cents Stable, Stable 45, J & T Silva Stables, Deo Volente Farms and bred by Peter Pan Stables.

Crazy Wow sped to the first quarter in :26.3, the half in :56.4 and three-quarters in 1:25.1.

Lookslikeachpndale followed in second most of the mile until giving way to Marion Maurader, who went first up after the half and presented a mild challenge to Crazy Wow, which resulted in a second-place finish, 1¾ lengths behind the winner.

Lookslikeachpndale held for third with Homicide Hunter (the supplemented entry) making the final by taking fourth. Resolve was sharp late, coming up the rail with a rush to finish fifth and just make it into the final.

Crazy Wow paid $5.20 to win.

Lost In Time (Scott Zeron) took the first of three Breeders Crown eliminations for 2-year-old colt and gelding pacers at Hoosier Park Saturday night wire-to-wire in 1:52.4.

Freshman pacing colts in the spotlight

Lost In Time, Stay Hungry and Karpathian Kid win eliminations.

by Jay Bergman, for Breeders Crown

Lost In Time, the top-rated freshman pacing colt, made it look easy in the first of three $20,000 eliminations for the Breeders Crown on Saturday night at Hoosier Park.

With Scott Zeron in tow, Lost In Time was an easy winner in 1:52.4 as the 2-5 public choice.

Lost In Time, a son of A Rocknroll Dance from the Artiscape-sired dam Summer Mystery, left belatedly and overtook early leader This Is The Plan past the :27 opening quarter. Zeron efficiently shut down the middle half and then put the Jim Mulinix-trained colt in gear for the homestretch. A :26.4 final quarter secured the victory with This Is The Plan second, 1¼ lengths behind the winner.

Lost In Time, a $47,000 yearling purchase at last year's Lexington Selected auction, returned $2.80 to win. He's owned by A Rocknroll Dance Racing, D. Miller, W. Rufenacht and Team S Racing. Lost In Time, the Metro Pace winner, has now taken four of six starts in his first year of racing.

"There's a huge headwind tonight and the fractions worked out perfectly," said Zeron following the victory.

Keystone Tenacious rallied late for third, earning a berth in next week's final.

Patience paid off for driver Doug McNair in the second Crown elimination as Stay Hungry nosed out Indiana-bred Shnitzledosomethin on the wire in a brisk 1:50.4.

There was plenty of early activity with Grand Teton taking control at the quarter in :26.1 and cutting a swift clip for Mark MacDonald. Shnitzledosomethin sat in the pocket throughout but came out at headstretch and easily disposed of the leader. Stay Hungry was sitting third throughout but in midstretch Doug McNair was able to find a seam and the son of Somebeachsomewhere from My Little Dragon (Dragon Again) drove by him as they hit the wire.

A $150,000 yearling purchase from the Lexington Selected sale by trainer Tony Alagna for owners Bradley Grant and Irwin Samelman, Stay Hungry has now won five of his seven starts in his brief career.

"He's much better off a helmet," said Alagna after the race. "Doug (McNair) said he was never better. He exploded when he popped the plugs."

Whos Bettor came through inside to finish third with Western Passage wide in fourth. Western Passage earned a berth in the final as the high earner among the fourth-place

Stay Hungry (3, Doug McNair) hit the wire first in the second of three Crown eliminations winning by a nose in 1:50.4.

Sent off at 5-2, Stay Hungry returned an even $7 to win.

Driver David Miller was aggressive with Karpathian Kid and that paid off handsomely in the final elimination. The Erv Miller-trained colt scored in 1:51.

Karpathian Kid made a second move to regain past the :26.3 opening quarter from I'm A Big Deal but was immediately under pressure from Closing Statement with Brian Sears. That colt took control at the half and kept up a lively clip. In the homestretch, Closing Statement bore out opening the door for Miller and Karpathian Kid to squeeze through and score by a length over Closing Statement with Dorsoduro Hanover finishing third and advancing to the final.

Karpathian Kid is a homebred son of Somebeachsomewhere from Vysoke Tatry, a daughter of Dragons Lair. The winner is owned by D. & J. Prushnok, D.J. Miller and L. Means.

"The trip worked out well," said Miller following the race.

As the favorite in the field, Karpathian Kid returned $3.40 with his fourth career win in 11 starts.

Favored pacer Karpathian Kid (David Miller) won the third elimination in 1:51.

Dealt A Winner and Mach It So take Breeders Crown eliminations at Hoosier Park.

by Gerry Connors, for Breeders Crown

In a topsy-turvy season for the older male pacers, the main consistent factor in the division's two $25,000 Breeders Crown eliminations was driver David Miller, as the leading active sulky-sitting money leader handled both winners, Dealt A Winner and Mach It So.

Dealt A Winner, the leader pro tem of the division with three straight 1-2 finishes against top company, was quarter-mover number two in his elim, as Mel Mara came out to go around early leader Keystone Velocity past the :27.1 opener, with 6-5 favorite Dealt A Winner ($4.40 to win) and Miller right on that one's back then going on to the lead near the :54.4 half. The three-quarters was reached in 1:22.3, and with 7-5 second choice All Bets Off having his first-over bid stall, the stretch challenge came to the pacesetter's left, with Keystone Velocity and Split The House firing strongly on the inside.

Dealt A Winner (Cams Card Shark—Lazan Hanover) dug deep and maintained a neck margin over Keystone Velocity on the money, stopping the clock in 1:49.3, with "Velocity" nosing out Split The House for the deuce. Manhattan Beach (closing well) and All Bets Off were the others who advanced to next week's final. Dealt A Winner, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, is trained by Mark Silva for owner Jeffrey Snyder.

Mach It So scored his first victory since the William Haughton Memorial at the Meadowlands on July 15, and in the process tied the Hoosier track record for older pacing geldings of 1:48.2 in his wire-to-wire score. Miller sent the altered son of Mach Three—Beach Dancer right to the top and was one of few drivers in the early races who kept his pacesetter rolling, setting fractions of :26.1 and :54.3, before meeting the challenge of favored Sintra as that one brushed from fourth towards the 1:21.1 three-quarters.

Mach It So and Sintra went at it head-to-head the first half of the lane, but then the chalk tired into the wind, and Mach It So maintained the advantage by three-quarters of a length on the money. McWicked, last most of the way, came with a wicked late roar to grab second by a half-length from Missile J. Rock N' Roll World and Sintra got the final two spots for next week's final.

Though perhaps not a recent winner, Mach It So got his ninth check in 10 starts against top company, and the Jeff Bamond Jr. trainee, bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, now has 2017 earnings of $515,903 and a career bankroll of $2,206,647 for Bamond Racing LLC. He returned $11.00.

"Both of my horses were good tonight," said Miller. "I was able to get them in a good position. Dealt A Winner has had a good streak of form, but Mach It So was sharp tonight, too. It should be a great race next week."

Fourth Dimension (Brian Sears) set a 1:54 track record for two-year-old trotting colts with his win in the second of two Breeders Crown eliminations.

Fourth Dimension sets track record for rookie trotting colts

His 1:54 mark came in the second of two Breeders Crown eliminations. The first was won by Crystal Fashion in 1:54.3.

Crystal Fashion and Fourth Dimension won their respective $20,000 Breeders Crown eliminations for 2-year-old colt and gelding trotters Saturday night at Hoosier Park.

In the first elim, Crystal Fashion (Cantab Hall—Window Willow) stalked early speed to close and win a duel to the wire in 1:54.3.

Driven by David Miller, the Fashion Farms-owned freshman colt sat third behind early leavers, with Samo Different Day getting the top and cutting fractions of :28.3, :57.2 and 1:26.

Crystal Fashion, trained by Jim Campbell, came out at the top of the stretch and dueled with Samo Different Day to the wire and got up for a neck victory. Closing rapidly was Fiftydallarbill to get third. Dawson Springs was fourth and Moosonee finished fifth to take the last spot for next week's final.

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, Crystal Fashion paid $6.20 to win.

Fourth Dimension (Chapter Seven—Corazon Blue Chip), with Brian Sears in the sulky, won the second elim in 1:54, a track record for freshmen colt trotters.

Met's Hall took the early lead, though Fourth Dimension left alertly from post 7 and found a good spot third past an opening fraction of :27. Before the :57 half, Fourth Dimension took to the outside and got the lead, rushing through a 1:25.4 three-quarters.

Crystal Fashion (David Miller) won his elimination in 1:54.3.

You Know You Do went first over late but couldn't get past Missile Hill, who split horses in the stretch. Missile Hill was third, You Know You Do was fourth and Skyway Torpedo took the fifth spot, grabbing the final berth in next week's final.

Trained by Marcus Melander for owners Courant, Inc., Fourth Dimension shook off Met's Hall's stubborn challenge to win by 1¼ lengths and pay $5.80.

International Moni (Scott Zeron) set a 1:52.4 track record in his Crown elimination that was later bettered by What The Hill in his elim.

International Moni, then What The Hill set Hoosier track records

International Moni shaved one full second off the track record in the first of three Breeders Crown eliminations, then What The Hill did him one better.

by Ellen Harvey, for Breeders Crown

The field is set for the Breeders Crown final for 3-year-old trotting colts.

In the first of three $25,000 elimination races held Saturday night at Hoosier Park, it was International Moni (Scott Zeron) sweeping down the center of the track to win by 2¼ lengths in 1:52.4, a new track record. The previous record of 1:53.4 was co-held by Rubio, set just last week, and Bar Hopping, set last year.

Top Flight Angel (Andy Miller) was first to the lead in :27.3 and was on top briefly until being overtaken by Dover Dan and driver Corey Callahan just past the quarter. By the time the field got to the :55.3 half, Rubio (Brian Sears) was on the move to the lead and held it until the 1:23.3 three quarters.

But International Moni, a son of the French stallion Love You and former Horse of the Year Moni Maker, was on the move on the outside and bore down on the leaders to take the lead and put ground between him and the field for the win. Seven And Seven was second and Dover Dan was third, getting the final guaranteed spot in the Crown final, set for next Saturday.

Top Flight Angel was fourth and will get the final spot in the final by virtue of his 2017 earnings, highest of the three fourth-place finishers, with $395,828 in the bank.

Frank M. Antonacci trains for owner/breeders the Moni Maker Stable. It was International Moni's eighth win in 13 starts this year and pushed his 2017 earnings to $395,828. He returned $3.40 to win.

"The race set up great with so much action going on," said Zeron. "Three leader changes, it set up great for me, just sitting back in the five hole. I was able to come first up like I'd want to. Down the lane, I asked my horse, never slowed him down from the second I moved him, and he never slowed down in the lane."

In the second elimination, Lindy The Great earned another Breeders Crown entry for trainer Antonacci, again with a homebred for KR Breeders and co-owner Robert Rudolph. The son of Crazed—Highscore Kemp led wire-to-wire through fractions of :27.3, :56, and 1:23.3 to win by 4¼ lengths in 1:53. Tim Tetrick was in the driver's seat.

Dean Gillette

New Jersey Viking (Ake Svanstedt) was second with Giveitgasandgo (Corey Callahan) third for a berth in the final.

It was the third win in nine starts for Lindy The Great ($4.20 to win), and his winnings rose to $168,683 for 2017.

In the third and final elimination, What The Hill (David Miller) hustled right off the gate to grab the lead by the :28 quarter and stayed in that spot through the :56.4 half and 1:24.3 three quarters with Yes Mickey (Svanstedt) at his back throughout.

In the stretch, Yes Mickey tipped off the rail to get to the wheel of What The Hill briefly, but the son of Muscle Hill—K T Cha Cha pulled away easily for the 1¼-length win in 1:52.1, to set another track record. The prior mark was 1:52.4, set earlier by International Moni.

Yes Mickey was second and Guardian Angel As (Tim Tetrick) third to grab spots in the final. The winner returned $4.40.

Ron Burke trains What The Hill for owners Burke Racing, Our Horse Cents Stable, Jerry and Teresa Silva and Deo Volente.

What The Hill was a $65,000 yearling at the Lexington Select Sale. The breeder is Stan Klemencic.

Dean Gillette

In the third Crown elimination for sophomore trotting colts, What The Hill (David Miller) bettered International Moni's track record with a 1:52.1 performance.

Dean Gillette

Track Tetrick orchestrated a 28-1 upset with Rock N Tony in the second of two Crown eliminations for sophomore pacing colts in a division in which both Fear The Dragon and Filibuster Hanover failed to advance to the final.

Dean Gillette

Downbytheseaside (Brian Sears) was a comfortable 1:51.1 winner in his elimination.

Rock N Tony posts 28-1 stunner

Rock N Tony won his sophomore pacing colt Crown elimination at 28-1 defeating Fear The Dragon and Filibuster Hanover, who both failed to advance to the final. Meanwhile, Downbytheseaside won his division comfortably.

by Jay Bergman, for Breeders Crown

The second $25,000 Breeders Crown elimination for male sophomore pacers Saturday at Hoosier Park was the wildest race of the night as 28-1 shot Rock N Tony, an Indiana-bred son of Rockin Image from the Cole Muffler-sired Pandemonious, pulled off a major upset that saw both favorites – Little Brown Jug winner Filibuster Hanover and North America Cup champion Fear The Dragon – fail to qualify for the final. Rock N Tony scored in 1:50.2 for driver Trace Tetrick.

With the favorites racing from off the pace, Blood Line and Rock N Tony both blasted to the front in a :27 opening quarter with Blood Line able to walk to the half in :55.4. That set up a second-half sprint that led to the Indiana Sires champion finding room along the inside and score by a length over Blood Line.

Erv Miller trains Rock N Tony, a $49,000 yearling purchase from the Hoosier sale for owners Anthony Lombardi and Rocco Ruffolo.

"I expected him to be good. That's why I entered him," said Miller. "He was plagued with sickness about a month ago, but he's over that now."

Following Rock N Tony and Blood Line into the final will be Beckhams Z Tam, Mac's Jackpot and the supplemental entry Funknwaffles.

Rock N Tony returned $58 to win.

Downbytheseaside got back on the winning track in the first elimination.

Driven by Brian Sears, Downbytheseaside led virtually wire-to-wire winning in 1:51.1.

A son of Somebeachsomewhere from the Allamerican Native-sired mare Sprig Hanover, Downbytheseaside was able to rate fractions kindly after a :27.3 opening quarter. There were no challengers, allowing Sears to coast through fractions of :57 and 1:24.3 before sprinting home in :26.3 to win by a length over Boogie Shuffle.

A $55,000 yearling purchase from the 2015 Lexington Selected sale, Downbytheseaside won for the 18th time in his career for owners Country Club Acres, Joe Sbrocco, Richard Lombardo and Diamond Creek Racing Stable. Brian Brown conditions the colt.

"He was having problems with his liver enzymes," said Brown. "Cranberry juice has been helping the horse."

An even-money favorite, Downbytheseaside returned $4 for the victory. Joining him in next week's final will be runner-up Boogie Shuffle, Photobombr Hanover, Miso Fast and Ocean Colony.

Grange was instrumental in saving famed Canadian standardbred farm

Susan Grange's love of horses was so deep she often used her wealth to preserve valuable land in the Greater Toronto Area as horse country — perhaps no piece of property more notable than a 1,100-acre spread in Inglewood, ON that is hallowed ground in Canadian harness racing history.

Grange died this week at the age of 63, but we would be remiss not to remember her for saving the property that was once home to the famed Armstrong Bros. farm and keeping it from becoming another tacky subdivision.

About 15 years ago, Grange, a passionate horsewoman, purchased the Armstrong Bros. property partly as an investment, but also to keep it home to horses for as long as possible.

"I didn't want to see it just turn into matchstick houses," Grange once told Trot magazine. "Eventually it's definitely going to be developed, whether we like it or not. It's moving this way. But ideally, if it's going to be developed, I'd like to see country estates, you know? The thought of it just being wall to wall houses... would be awful."

Grange had many equine interests, but carried on her mother's passion for standardbreds that included owning Red River Hanover and Rocknroll Hanover with Jeffrey Snyder. After Grange's mother died, Grange carried on owning a few standardbreds, including Well Said with Snyder.

And that land that was once Armstrong Bros that she saved from being turned into cul-de-sacs and row after row of houses? Today, part of that land continues on as a prominent standardbred breeding operation as the base for Winbak Farm of Canada.

— Dave Briggs

Walter deserves another chance

It's about time Walter Case is given a chance to resume his amazing career (full story here).

He paid his dues and I believe he has finally learned his lesson. Of course, time will tell. It should not have taken this long for Walter to be reinstated, as there are several driver and trainers with similar rap sheets that are racing. Monticello has a driver with gun possession, spousal abuse, race fixing and a slew of DUIs to his credit. Northfield Park has a trainer with armed robbery and vehicular manslaughter on his record and a driver there was convicted of being part of a large counterfeit ring. Pompano has trainers linked to numerous crimes. For anyone to be up in arms about Walter Case getting another chance is not judging him fairly, as a precedent has been set to license former criminals and to single out Mr. Case and deny him a license would be discrimination.

Towers and Keeneland

RE: 2017-10-21 Brush And Crush

Here's what racing has become, Mr. Towers:

Computer server "A" that sits in a dark room in, say, New Jersey, dumps money into the pools and is competing with other servers, including server "B" which operates in some room in South Dakota, or Wyoming, or anywhere else removed from the host track.

Yes, people show up at Keeneland and Del Mar. They do NOT show up at Aqueduct, Churchill (except for one day), most of the other Tbred tracks.

The betting money is all coming from machines that are guided by guys that have pretty deep pockets, and, let's face it, are controlling the pools. The $20 a race player has virtually a zero per cent chance of beating that, especially with the enhanced rebates that are afforded them.

We can speak of all the pomp and circumstance of the Triple Crown and the top stakes races at the biggest tracks, but the reality is some of the dark, dank racing that takes place at say, Mountaineer Park on a Monday night, or Penn National, or any of those. That's a problem.

The harness side is MUCH worse. Freehold is now unbettable. Small pools are becoming smaller pools at most of these places. The racing, in a word, stinks.

The "Millenials" that everyone values so much in the business community, have no interest in racing, and less than zero in harness racing.

It's not about the takeout for many of the people who bet. A one per cent rise in takeout isn't keeping many away that want to go and play and/or enjoy it.

It will keep the guy away who doesn't care at all about the sport or the animals anyway. It's strictly a financial prospect for them, and while their bets pay lots of bills within the industry, they are not fans of the sport and thus, would be much quicker to cease participation.

With or without takeout changes, can the harness (especially) industry fix the Thursday N/W races at Freehold to make it more interesting? No.

International Day last week at Yonkers induced a handle of a little over $1 million, which is a dreadful night of handle for the Meadowlands. And that's with a top card at Yonkers.

Nobody wants to be in that funnel you speak of, Mr. Towers.

They do, however, want to be funneled into a local casino or card room, or an online poker game.

When you can make racing look like a card table or nightclub, then, and only then, can you get kids to play the game that they don't want to play.

— Vic Dante / North Caldwell, NJ

Judges need to do their jobs

Every race day I sit in a home office with four large 50" flat screens and watch just about every race from tracks I follow and those I miss are recorded. I do this because I bet for a living but as each race day passes I find myself more and more frustrated at the lack of proper procedures with respect to the race judges.

If I can see lack of trying by drivers and grabbing up horses in the stretch then how can these judges not see it? On average, 3-4 races per night will blatantly show races of questionable performance that these judges fail to do anything about. Sure it's an observation and if the judges were really doing their job then before the official went up on the board if they were all in agreement then give them the power and let them right at that moment to place horses and change the order of finish. After the race, those drivers that were found guilty of a placing offence would then get 10 days suspension for first offence, 2nd offence 30 days and 3rd offence 60 days. Any repeat offender in the same calendar year automatically gets one year.

I have never liked purse checks handed down the order of finish like Halloween candy and would like to see only top three get a check and if the judges had the power to alter the order of finish then we could eliminate many of the horses that shouldn't even be on the track along with suspicious drives.

MESSAGE TO OUR READERS

When we brought HRU back in January, we asked for your support both as readers and advertisers. We have been overwhelmed with the response so far on both ends, but still need your help to make HRU viable and sustainable. Here are three ways you can help—and they're all free:

1. If you haven't already, please subscribe to receive HRU and encourage anyone you know who might like HRU to do the same. It's quick and easy and, again, free!

2. Support the advertisers that support us. Click on their ads and check out their websites. Most ads are linked to their sites. Tell them, or us, if you like one of their ads and why. The advertisers keep HRU free for readers.

3. Write more letters. One of the most popular features of HRU is Sunday's Feedback section. We want to hear from you!

HRU HARNESS RACING UPDATE

THANKS from the new HRU Team!
