The stage is set in Paris for Prix d'Amérique Weekend

Can Joviality upset the boys in one of the world's biggest trotting events?

by Thomas Hedlund

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Vincennes racetrack in Paris is gearing up for a spectacular weekend with many high-quality races on the Saturday (Jan. 27) and Sunday (Jan. 28) cards. The highlight is the $545,000 Prix d'Amérique on Sunday afternoon.

The most spectacular thing about the Prix d'Amérique this year is maybe the fact that Courant Stable chose to try the 5-year-old Joviality among some of the best horses in Europe. With Joviality's prior start in fresh memory, the decision to start in the Prix d'Amérique is far from a crazy move.

Joviality finished second to Jushua Tree in the Prix de Croix and the latter would probably have been the favorite in Sunday's big race in Paris.

Björn Goop will drive Sabine Kagebrant's mare. Joviality is the second richest trotter in the 18-horse strong field. Only Vivid Wise As has earned more money than Joviality.

Title defender Hooker Berry is definitely one of the more interesting horses in the Prix d'Amérique even this year, but the probable favorite when the field gathers inside of the track as the start waits is Idao de Tillard. Thierry Duvaldestin's trotter tried this race already last year, but that day Idao de Tillard was not in his best shape. In his preparation races before the Prix d'Amérique 2024, he looked sounder and alert, so it's probably correct that he will be the bettors' choice on Sunday.

Amanda Stephens

Elitloppet winner Hohneck is obviously in the race, but the chance that he will follow up his tremendous season in 2023 by winning the biggest race in France is highly unlikely. Hohneck is a top trotter, but he showed more efficiency on shorter tracks and distances in the prior season. Trainer Philippe Allaire has two other shots in Izoard Vedaquais and Italiano Vero where the former has the best chance of challenging for the win.

Prix d'Amérique 2024 might very well be a fight between well merited mares. Joviality was mentioned before, but what about Fabrice Souloy's Ampia Mede Sm, who became queen of the winter meeting 2023-24 after triumphs in the Prix de France and the Prix de Paris? Franck Nivard has driven the Italian-bred mare quite cautiously in the preparation races at Vincennes and she will most certainly enter the track in the best possible condition on Sunday.

And don't forget Inmarosa. Laurent-Claude Abrivard's mare could be the race's real upsetter if she gets her cover trip.

Saturday's card at Vincennes is very impressive. The $105,000 Prix du Luxembourg for older horses close to the very elite is usually the main attraction this day, but to be honest, the Luxembourg is just a race among others this day, even if some really strong horses will be behind the gate in the 2,100 meters long Prix du Luxembourg.

The $160,000 Prix Roquepine for 3-year-old fillies, $320,000 Prix Ourasi for the 4-year-olds, $160,000 Prix Paul Viel for 3-year-old colts and $320,000 Prix Bold Eagle for 5-year-olds are all top races which every harness racing fan gladly will pay entrance to see.

Bob McClure is on the mend after an unexpected winter break

by Melissa Keith

Bob McClure hasn't driven at Woodbine Mohawk Park, or anywhere else, since Jan. 15. It's no winter vacation for the 2019 Dan Patch Rising Star Award winner: He was injured in a snowmobile accident last week.

"But the story's not nearly as sexy as it sounds," said McClure with a laugh, recovering at home on Wednesday (Jan. 24). "Me and [fellow WMP driver] Doug McNair went out [snowmobiling]. It was the first time getting out this year. I think we were out for four hours. We were honestly just pulling into the driveway to park the sleds; we were all done. We were winding down and coming in the driveway, and as I went to make the turn, the back end hit some ice and the front end kind of caught. I kind of tipped over, not very fast... and I happened to land on my hip the wrong way. The femur took the brunt of it. It's broken. I had to get surgery on Thursday [Jan. 18] at 3 in the morning. They've got a rod and some screws in there, which is good. That helps the healing process."

He had started the new year with four WMP driving wins before the accident. Now, McClure said his focus is on a quick comeback, while making the most of the unexpected downtime.

"That's the benefit of the surgery: To really make sure it heals very well," he said. "I'm lucky right now. My oldest son is home sick from school this week, so me and him are hanging out... He's pretty good company."

Injuries are familiar terrain for drivers. McClure recalled previous setbacks.

"When I broke my pelvis in a similar spot in 2019, it required about eight weeks of physio, and then I broke my humerus, which is the second-biggest bone in your body [besides] your femur, and I broke that in an accident in 2020 at Mohawk, in

Claus Andersen

Driver Bob McClure, Canada's Driver of the Year for 2020.

November," he said. "That couldn't get surgery, because of where the break was, which is a problem. That slows down the healing process. That took about four months of physio, and it did take three or maybe four months to get back [driving]. If I hadn't gotten surgery on this femur, it would have definitely been more than four months."

Instead, he anticipates an accelerated recovery.

"You work your way back in [to the WMP driving colony], just like everybody else has to," said the Rockwood, ON horseman. "I know when I do come back, I've kind of made it a dedication that I was going to try and drive more, from early summer to fall this year, to maybe stay a little bit sharper, a little bit busier. I kind of took it a little easy the last couple of summers because, obviously, I want to spend time with my boys. Now my older son Ryder likes to come to the races with me."

McClure had a series of waits before his latest surgery. It began with a wait for transport to the nearest hospital, and then to another.

"Where me and Doug [McNair] were parked was close to Orangeville, [ON] so I was ambulated to the hospital in Orangeville, but they couldn't handle this kind of injury or surgery, so they airlifted me to Sunnybrook [Hospital] in Toronto," McClure said. "That was Wednesday night. Thursday, early morning, they informed me I was going to get surgery that day, so I told my wife Jody and everybody that any minute, I could get called in for surgery. Then the whole day went by, and nothing...All of a sudden, at 2:30 in the morning, they come in and woke me up... at 3 o'clock in the morning, roughly, I got the surgery done. I was back in my room by about 5 and they had me up walking with a walker, putting weight on it, around 10 in the morning, which is pretty amazing."

McClure said he told hospital staff that he would like to get home as soon as possible, but this was complicated by the stairs in his house. He requested crutches, so he could train for his homecoming while in the hospital.

"I got up the stairs, so they let me go on Sunday," he said. "My friend Josh McKibbin came and got me. I hit a roadblock, something went wrong with my left knee, and I ended up back in the hospital on Monday."

After having his knee checked out, McClure suffered a third bit of bad fortune.

"When I got home, I got in from the garage, and must have had snow on the crutch and it gave out. Now I've got a pulled groin too."

Although a slightly-delayed recovery will prevent the star-crossed reinsman from attending the 2023 O'Brien Awards gala on Feb. 3 in Charlottetown, PEI, he told HRU that he wished he could attend the banquet to show support for good friends who are divisional finalists.

"It would have been nice going for Sylvia [Hanover]," McClure said. "She's a slam dunk for the 3-Year-Old Filly Pacer and a really good shot for the Horse of the Year. I also really wish I could be there for Etsell. Everybody knows how close me and Mark are. He's like a father to me. He's up for four O'Briens [Trainer of the Year, O'Brien Award of Horsemanship, and as trainer and co-owner of Older Trotting Mare Adare Castle and 2-Year-Old Trotting Colt Willowtime]. He's been a big part of my success, and he will be, going forward. He was actually here yesterday, plowing my driveway."

Sylvia Hanover's return to the track is another occasion McClure anticipates.

"All I can say is that anytime she's racing and they list my name, I'll be there," he said.

Trainers Mark and Shawn Steacy will make decisions around the Dan Patch 2- and 3-Year-Old Pacing Filly of the Year's impending 4-year-old season, along with Sylvia Hanover's owners, Tony and Betty Infilise (Hudson Standardbred Inc., Hudson, QC).

"It's just been such a blessing to be along for the ride with her, and it's amazing she's coming back at 4," McClure said of the champion filly that no other driver has sat behind in a pari-mutuel start. "I think everybody wants to see that, and see how good she can be.

"The [2023] Breeders Crown [final], she must've been tired that day, but she still got it done. She was a little goofy at 2, and she still got the job done. She was way better at 3. God help them if she comes back full-racehorse at 4, because she's one of the most talented racehorses I've ever seen."

As far as his own comeback goes, McClure is staying realistic.

"In 2021, I missed four or five months," he said. "Nobody bounces out of that, really. Last year, I was real happy, obviously. I had Sylvia [Hanover]; I won two [Ontario Sires Stakes Gold] Super Finals; I had a good money year. I still feel like there's more out there for me. I can do better."

He said recovery will likely take him to Florida.

"I thought about maybe attending the Dan Patch [Awards] in Orlando..." he said. "Me and my wife might try to trek down, if I can walk a little bit better by then... I'm sure by March. I love going down and checking out babies and driving some of the 3-year-olds that are coming back. I've gone down the last four or five years for that, and I love that."

The WMP regular recalled returning from a prior injury by getting back into his routine in the Sunshine State.

"In 2021, I went down in February," McClure said. "I started back in Florida after I broke my arm, because I wanted to try driving at Pompano... Last year, I went to see Scott McEneny. He had some nice colts and a 3-year-old coming back that I really liked. We stopped in to see Paul Reid; he's always got one floating around. I've got a good relationship with Paul, and George Ducharme had one he wanted me to check out last year, so I popped in [at Spring Garden Ranch].

"Then I traveled down to Sunshine Meadows. I like going down to Sunshine Meadows too, because there's a lot of Ontario trainers there too, like another guy I've got a really good relationship with, Dan Legace. He's got a great eye for yearlings, so it's nice to go down and see what he's coming back with, too."

McClure said he expects to pick up the pace of rehabilitation over the coming weeks.

"I'm going to be using the hyperbaric chamber for the two months, physio," he said. "I'm going to do everything I can to speed it along. I want to be sitting behind horses in March, get the feel back, and hopefully be driving [races] again in April, and really make a strong push this summer."

In the meantime, McClure said he will be enjoying time with his wife Jody and their sons 2-year-old Jayce and 8-year-old Ryder, although not as he had originally hoped.

"The two times I got hurt racing, I didn't feel sorry for myself," he said. "I just said, 'That's life, that's the job, that's a part of it.' It didn't bother me mentally, at all. This one kind of upsets me, because I didn't have to go snowmobiling... Not that we were doing anything stupid or reckless. Now I can't play hockey with my son; I can't take them tobogganing. That kind of upsets me a little bit. I feel that I selfishly deprived them of a really good winter."

Linda Toscano and Scott Zeron are a winning combination

by Debbie Little

In 2023, the combination of trainer Linda Toscano and driver Scott Zeron led to trophies both on and off the track.

The U.S. Harness Writers Association honored Toscano and Zeron with the 2023 W.R. Haughton Good Guy Award and Driver of the Year, respectively.

The Good Guy Award holds special significance for Toscano because of who it's named for.

"To get an award that even is associated with the ultimate good guy, as far as I'm concerned, is humbling and it's really nice," Toscano said. "I was thinking of an instance that happened to me when I was a caretaker and it kind of just epitomizes what kind of a good guy he was.

"I was taking care of a horse by the name of Bunnyful for Buddy Regan and coming to The Meadowlands, which was new at the time. My horse was probably 50 or more to one in a Jersey Sire Stakes race and Billy had McKinzie Almahurst in the race."

Longshot Bunnyful went a big mile and finished second, but it's what happened after the race that meant so much to Toscano.

"As a caretaker, I was in the test barn giving my horse a bath," she said. "And Haughton came in to check on his horse who had won the race and came over and said to me, 'Linda, your horse raced great tonight. You gave me a run for my money and you made me worry for a second.' Well, that to me was like winning the race. The fact that not only did he take the time to come over and speak to me but he knew my name, you know, I was a lowly caretaker at the time.

"Now, I'm sure he probably had to ask somebody as he walked in 'What's the girl's name that takes care of that colt?' But the fact that he did it, gives you an idea of what kind of a guy he was. Everybody just hopes to be able to have his personality. He had quite a personality and he had quite a work ethic."

Toscano also couldn't be happier to see Zeron being honored.

Claus Andersen

Trainer Linda Toscano and driver Scott Zeron after it's My Show won the 2023 Pepsi North America Cup.

"He deserves it," she said. "He quietly goes out there every single year and they call him 'The Money Man' for a reason. He is completely nonplussed by the amount of money and dollar signs as far as the purses are concerned. He gives every horse the best chance they could possibly have and he has the ability to step up and put them in the right place on the nights of the big races."

Between Canada and the U.S., Zeron had previously finished second in Driver of the Year voting on four occasions: three times in the O'Briens and once for the Dan Patch. Unlike the Dan Patch awards, which announce winners in both human and equine divisions except for Pacer, Trotter and Horse of the Year, which are announced live at the banquet, the O'Briens have two finalists in each category and the winner is announced live at their banquet.

"In Canada, I was nominated three times, and in Canada if you've been nominated you go to the awards," Zeron said. "I went three times, twice knowing full well I had no chance of winning, but it was an honor to be nominated. Then the third time I thought I couldn't lose it and I did.”

Zeron is currently first call for Toscano, which is very important to her.

“I find that my horses like the same set of hands, and I like them to have the same set of hands,” she said. “I’m not the person that sends them down the road every single week. I like to race them into shape and Scott understands that about me. And we’ll have a conversation as to how I want the horse raced and whether he’s ready to go down the road and sometimes if we’ve been racing him one way, this is the time to change it up and go in a different direction and we do that very well together.”

It was easy for Zeron to explain why he likes driving for Toscano.

“I think it’s the same reason she has a Good Guy Award,” Zeron said. “Linda is a very likable, charismatic, calm, happy-go-lucky person. And when she brings that energy to the racetrack with her, it rubs off on me. She doesn’t put any pressure that she may get on her end, on me. It feels a lot more like a friendship than it does a work relationship and we both want the same outcome.

“I’m not a short-sighted person and she’s not one that trains 150 horses. So, the ones that she has that she likes, we need to make sure they do well throughout their whole career.”

Obviously, Toscano is not the only trainer that contributed to Zeron’s award-winning season just as he’s not the only driver that she employed in 2023, however, their combination over the last several years has been special and rewarding for both.

Stand-out moments for their trainer-driver combo in 2023 had to be winning the North America Cup with It’s My Show, as well as winning the Little Brown Jug (It’s My Show) and Jugette (Ucandoit Blue Chip) on back-to-back days. Although Zeron had won both the Jug and NA Cup before, it was his first Jugette win and it was Toscano’s inaugural victory in all three.

When asked how she would best describe Zeron as a driver, Toscano said: “Accommodating, cool under pressure and incredibly talented.

“I’m very grateful to have Scott in my corner and very grateful for everything he’s done for me [in 2023], and years prior, too. When the money is on the line, the horse is still there for him because he hasn’t abused them.”

Zeron was equally complimentary when he described why he likes working with Toscano.

“She’s a dream to drive for because she trusts your decision making out there,” Zeron said. “Without trust, you’re just driving for what you think they want versus the way you want to drive that horse or the way that horse feels on that given day. Trust is such a big thing between a trainer and a driver.

“And then the belief that she believes every time I sit behind one of her horses that I am the best option for that given horse or I’m the best driver for her... When you can go behind the gate with absolute trust and confidence in the trainer, it translates every time. Linda gives me the trust and the belief that we are the perfect team.”

Just Believe, Leap To Fame prep Saturday for Hunter Cup card next week at Melton

by Adam Hamilton

As the magnificence of Brisbane Inter Dominion night still lingers, the brightest stars of the show will do it all again at Victoria's biggest meeting on Saturday (Feb. 3).

Globally renowned trotter Just Believe, or "Harry" as he is known by many fans, and Down Under's standout pacer Leap To Fame will headline a stellar Hunter Cup card at Melton.

Although trotting is the poor relation to pacing in Australia (albeit the gap is closing), such is Just Believe's aura and following, he will challenge Leap To Fame for top billing on the night.

"I never thought I'd see the day," Just Believe's trainer Jess Tubbs said. "It's pretty cool, isn't it?"

"He's got such a big following and taking him to Sweden last year has been such a big part of that. I love that we've got a horse who is so widely known by his stable name [Harry]."

Just Believe was a star on the rise when we went to Sweden for Elitloppet and two subsequent races last May/June, but he's returned a megastar... and clearly a better horse.

The 8-year-old made it six wins from as many starts since returning home when he cruised to victory in the Group 2 Knight Pistol Trot at Ballarat last Saturday night (Jan. 20).

"He's better, for sure," Tubbs said. "His attitude has changed at home and his races show it, too. He's had to do the work [outside the leader] so many times, including the Inter Dominion final and last Saturday night, but it doesn't faze him.

"You run out of things to say about him except he's a very special horse and we're privileged to have him."

Just Believe will tackle the Group 2 Dullard Cup at Melton on Saturday night (Jan. 27) ahead of a title defense of the $300,000 Great Southern Star next Saturday.

Like Elitloppet and the Little Brown Jug, the Great Southern Star consists of heats and a final on the same race card.

Just Believe was beaten in his heat last year, but cemented his rise to greatness with a victory in the final.

As good as the gelding was clean-sweeping his three heats and final of the Brisbane Inter Dominion last December – he did the same in Melbourne a year earlier – he looked at least as good if not better at Ballarat.

“And he’ll improve off that [race], too,” Tubbs said. “He came to hand so quickly after a little break we decided to [race] him at Ballarat, but knowing he was a bit short of his top.”

Just Believe sat parked throughout and still won easily in a 1:57 mile rate for 2200m.

The other big talking point of the race was the slashing run for second by French-bred European import Callmethebreze at his first Aussie race for trainer Anton Golino and the huge Yabby Dams operation, run by Pat Driscoll.

To close well late for second to Just Believe and in a race boasting such depth was a fantastic sign and one which surprised the much-travelled Golino a little.

“I wasn’t sure what to expect and looked at it as a really learning race,” he said. “He went great.”

Callmethebreze is a Group 1 winner in Italy and banked almost $1.7mil before being bought by Driscoll.

He looms as one of, if not the, major rival to Just Believe in the Great Southern Star.

Back to Just Believe and the burning question still lingers about whether he will return for another crack at Elitloppet.

The other option is to stay closer to home and target the new $650,000 TAB Trot slot race at Cambridge in New Zealand on April 12.

That would take the May 26 Elitloppet off the table.

Here’s driver Greg Sugars’ comments after the Ballarat last Saturday night: “We’ve had invitations from New Zealand to get him over there. Nothing's been signed, sealed or delivered as of yet. We haven't actually had any official invitations from Sweden yet to see whether they want us back there.

“[Leap To Fame is] better now [than in October 2023]. More experienced and just tighter than I had him then with all the racing he’s had. The way the race was run in the Victoria Cup didn’t suit him, but we’re keen to give it another go there [in Melton] and the longer [2760 meters] will suit him even better, too.”

"At this stage you'd probably have to say it's more likely New Zealand is on the cards, but anything can happen over the next month or two. Sweden has started reaching out since his win [last] Saturday night."

Stay tuned.

Now to Leap To Fame, who took his record to 30 wins (and six seconds) from just 40 starts when he cruised to a first-up victory at Albion Park last Saturday night.

Like Just Believe, it was his first race since winning the Inter Dominion pacing final at Albion Park on Dec. 16.

Trainer/driver Grant Dixon was keen to sharpen Leap To Fame right up for the Hunter Cup, so the 5-year-old will race again at Albion Park on Saturday night.

There's a bit of unfinished business for Dixon and owner Kevin Seymour after Leap To Fame was a beaten favorite at his last trip to Melton in the Group 1 Victoria Cup last October.

"He's better now," Dixon said. "More experienced and just tighter than I had him then with all the racing he's had. The way the race was run in the Victoria Cup didn't suit him, but we're keen to give it another go there [in Melton] and the longer [2760 meters] will suit him even better, too."

Leap To Fame could have another "date night" with Just Believe not long after the Hunter Cup.

If Just Believe goes to the TAB Trot at Cambridge, Leap To Fame will almost certainly be there too for the $1 million race by Grins.

Before that, Leap To Fame will chase the $1 million Miracle Mile at Menangle on March 10.

"That's the only really big race I haven't won and I really want to," Seymour said.

Dixon said the $100,000 Newcastle Mile on Feb. 23 – where the winner gets a ticket into the Miracle Mile – would likely be Leap To Fame's next race after the Hunter Cup.

"I like the idea of a gap between [races] rather than having to try and qualify in one of the [two] sprints at Menangle just a week before the [Miracle] Mile," he said. "You'd have to go 1:48 or so to qualify and then even quicker the next week in the big one itself."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Nineteen-year-old Carlee Evans always has time for harness racing

by Chris Lomon

Time is often at a premium for Carlee Evans, but her unabashed love for horses and horse racing is never in short supply.

It is by no means a stretch to say that the horsewoman who hails from Leslie, MI, works twice as hard to ensure the horses under her watchful eye are well taken care of.

Evans, whose mother, Sarena Massey-Evans, trained horses up until 2022, and whose aunt, Staci Massey-Malady, is a longtime conditioner, is in near-perpetual motion whenever she heads to the stables each morning.

And that suits her just fine.

"I was paddocking for my mom a lot," Evans said. "And now, these days, I paddock for my Aunt Staci – and do stalls there – so any time she needs me to go to the track, I will. I also work for trainer David Lake. I help at his barn, paddock horses, and do whatever I can to help him as well."

Some days, not surprisingly, can be a whirlwind for Evans.

But working closely with pacers and trotters is, admittedly, a dream role for the 19-year-old.

A life in horse racing was perhaps inevitable.

"I got involved in racing through my mom, my grandfather, Gary Massey, and my aunt," Evans said. "I suppose you could say I was born into it."

"I'm guessing I have had that interest in horses since I was 5. My aunt has a warm room in her barn, so me and my cousin, Peyton, would sit in there when we were little. We would just hang out at the barn, and it was great."

Racing is still very much the thrill ride Evans was introduced to as a kid.

Her contributions to racing in Michigan have not gone unnoticed.

Evans and Katie Toska were named the 2022 Caretakers of the Year by the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association.

The press release announcing the awards said: "These two young ladies dedicate all of their time to the care and training of their own standardbreds, as well as those of their families and other trainers when needed."

Courtesy Carlee Evans
Carlee Evans.

“There isn’t too much that I do outside of horse racing, to be honest. I am always in the barn, but I am happy there. I guess you could say that racing is my hobby. This isn’t a job to me; it is truly something I love to do. If I didn’t have horses in my life, I don’t know what I would really do. I have such a strong bond with the horses I work with.”

~ Carlee Evans

“It meant a lot,” said Evans of the honor. “There are so many fantastic caretakers in Michigan, so to be one of the people that was recognized is very special. I do work hard, and I try to paddock them the best I can. I love the horses and I do my best to take care of them.”

Horses under her care are given love, and plenty of latitude.

“I’m overly friendly with them,” Evans said. “I let them get away with everything; they get to do what they want. I love to spoil them.”

Acting Captain, a now-retired 14-year-old son of Somebeachsomewhere—Keystone Trinidad, is still very much living the pampered life, courtesy of Evans.

Over 296 career races, the bay gelding won 39 races and bankrolled $172,735 for his connections.

“We have had him for about nine or 10 years, and he is like my little child,” Evans said. “I take him everywhere with me. Now he is at David’s because I’m working there. Anywhere I am, he is there too.”

“The two of us instantly bonded. When he came to the barn for the first time, I just fell in love with him. He is very sweet and he’s also a tough racehorse. He was an open horse at Northville at one point and he gave everything he had. I love him.”

Evans wears her heart on her sleeve when it comes to Acting Captain.

“I have a tattoo of his freeze brand on my arm,” she said. “What can I say? He just stole my heart.”

Evans’ busy racing life might soon see an addition to her daily duties.

The idea of becoming an owner again is becoming a more frequent thought.

“I would like to get back into the racing part,” she said. “I retired Captain after he had an accident at one of the fairs, so I am looking to get another horse to race. I sold two that I had before, but I love the racing part a lot, so I want to do that again.”

For now, she will have to live vicariously through her aunt and Lake.

“It gets me so excited when I watch them race,” Evans said. “Taking care of them all week, watching them go out on the track, and seeing them perform well is such a rewarding feeling.”

Interests and personal pursuits outside of racing have taken a backseat to the racing world for Evans, who is in college, studying to become an ultrasound technician.

It isn’t, however, a negative in her eyes.

Any moment that she can watch a horse she looks after line up behind the starter car is a welcome one.

“There isn’t too much that I do outside of horse racing, to be honest,” she said. “I am always in the barn, but I am happy there. I guess you could say that racing is my hobby. This isn’t a job to me; it is truly something I love to do. If I didn’t have horses in my life, I don’t know what I would really do. I have such a strong bond with the horses I work with.”

It is something she is happily reminded of whenever she walks into the two, familiar barns each morning.

Evans, who continues to successfully navigate a busy life in the classroom and in racing, knows precisely what to expect when she takes her first step inside.

“When I see [the horse] for the first time in the morning, they all whinny at me – Captain really whinnies at me because he wants to have my attention – and that is a great feeling to have. To see how happy they are is what makes me happy too.”

It is why a life in racing has never been one of tedium or regret for Evans.

“What I do is never boring for me,” she said. “Working at two stables, it can be crazy, but it is always interesting.”

Daryl Bier, 57, dies

Daryl Scott Bier, 57, died suddenly Wednesday (Jan. 24, 2024), of a heart attack, at his home, in Endicott, NY.

Bier, a native of Jessup, PA, was born July 14, 1966, to Esther and Arthur Bier. A second-generation harness horseman, Bier made his career training and driving standardbred racehorses beginning in 1987. After 15 years as a journeyman, racing at tracks on both coasts of the United States, he established a home base on the Delaware circuit in the 2000s, where he raced until he was forced to retire in 2021 as a result of complications from a fractured pelvis and spine sustained in a racing accident at Pocono Downs in 2014.

Among Bier's most notable trainees were Wind Of The North 4,1:51 ($1,216,509), who raced in the 2015 Elitloppet; world record holders Higher And Higher p,5,1:49.1f ($923,475) and Special T Rocks p,4,1:48.3f ($751,370); Highalator p,5,1:48f ($675,764); Modern Family 4,1:51 ($575,925); and Bandolito p,4,1:48f ($466,095). In addition to his 448 wins as a trainer, Bier drove the winners of 1,909 races and $14.5 million in purses.

Bier is survived by his lifelong partner, Jenny; their children, Sebastian, Emily (Jyair Battin) and Matthew; sister, Danyell; brothers, Thomas (Bernadette) and Sean (Crissy Crissman-Bier); nieces, Riley and Chloe; and nephew, Catello Long, and mother-in-law, Annette Björk. In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his father-in-law, Göran Björk.

Visitation will take place Friday (Feb. 2), from 4-7 p.m., and a funeral service will be held Saturday (Feb. 3), at 10 a.m. at Arthur A. Albin Funeral Home, 1003 Church Street, Jessup, PA.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Standardbred Retirement Foundation P.O. Box 312, Millstone Twp., NJ 08535.

The Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame 2023 Immortals announced

In July 2023, the Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame announced that the trustees of the Museum had unanimously endorsed the election of Col. Elisha A. Buck, James Clark and Direct Scooter as harness racing Immortals. On Sunday (July 7, 2024), these individuals will be inducted into the Hall of Immortals during ceremonies held under the tent on the Museum lawn.

Colonel Elisha A. Buck (1840-1893) owned trotters, managed a major race track, covered the sport in print and was an original founder of the Grand Circuit. Buck was vice president of the Buffalo Trotting Park, a venture spearheaded by Hall of Fame Immortal C. J. Hamlin. The track put on meets unrivaled among other racing venues of the time, and was the site of world-record performances by horses like Goldsmith Maid, Dexter and Rarus. In 1871, Buck and track operators from Cleveland, Springfield (MA) and Utica together created an association called the Quadrilateral Trotting Combination, a name later changed to Grand Circuit. In October 1875 Buck purchased a fifty per cent interest in The Spirit of the Times — a weekly sports newspaper that began in New York City in 1831 — and became its new editor and publisher. The paper provided statistical information others did not and helped to standardize harness racing by suggesting betting practices and offering efficient track management techniques. Buck gained full control of the publication in 1879 and ran the paper until his death in 1893.

James Clark (1863-1944) began his career as a horseman at the age of 14 in a blacksmith shop in Friendship, NY. Before he turned 19, Clark was in charge of fitting pacers and trotters at the Genesee Valley Stock Farm in Scio, NY. From there he went to two western New York breeding farms, Village Farm and Jewett Farm, known for foaling Joe Patchen, the sire of Dan Patch. Later, Clark became a freelance farrier traveling for years through the Grand Circuit shoeing some of the most prominent trotters and pacers during the period 1897 to 1912 and earning him the reputation of being one of the most skillful farriers of harness horses of his day. Clark had shod both Cresceus and Dan Patch when they broke world records. While working the Grand Circuit, Clark wrote occasional articles for the turf press, and his observations on racing and horses attracted widespread attention. In 1916, Clark authored the highly regarded Shoeing and Balancing the Light Harness Horse. Clark also edited and prepared the copy for the book Two Minute Trotters, published in 1922. He also wrote for numerous turf papers including The Horseman and Fair World. Clark joined the American Association of Trotting Horse Breeders in 1918 as assistant secretary and was made editor of the association's official publication, the Breeders' Journal.

Direct Scooter (1976-2005) developed into one of the top free-for-all pacers of all time. Unraced at 2, Direct Scooter won 36 of 60 races over his two-year career. Lightly staked at 3, he won 21 of 32 starts and earned $298,162, setting his lifetime mark of 1:54 at Hollywood Park. At 4, Direct Scooter was voted 1980 Older Pacing Horse of the Year after winning 15 of 28 starts and earning $502,289, a single-season earnings' record by an older horse. Four-year-old victories included the Graduate Series final, Canadian Pacing Derby, U.S. Pacing Championship and Cornell Memorial. Direct Scooter retired to stud duty at Walnridge Farm in the fall of 1980, where he sired 1,673 with earnings of more than $102 million. His fastest and richest performer is the $2.94 million-winning Matt's Scooter, who took a record of T1:48.2. He is also the sire of world champion In The Pocket p,3,T1:49.3 ($1,537,473). As a broodmare sire, Direct Scooter sired the dams of winners of over $153 million, with 1,428 in 2:00 and 443 $100,000 winners including Hall of Famer Rocknroll Hanover p,3,1:48.3 ($2,754,038) and world champions Pacific Rocket p,4,1:50s ($2,333,401) and Royalflush Hanover p,4,1:49.3 ($2,153,893).

The Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame is located at 240 Main Street in Goshen, NY, and is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Admission is $10 for adults, $5 for children 4-12. Current Museum and USTA members are free. ## Pocono Downs' Banks inducted into PA Harness Racing Hall of Fame

To say Joseph Banks was ahead of his time is probably an understatement. A highly successful local business man, Banks purchased Pocono Downs out of bankruptcy in 1983 and essentially saved the sport of harness racing in the state and was instrumental in the expansion of the industry.

One day in the early 1990s, Banks, along with his daughter Jennifer, were at the track surveying the premises. Jennifer recalled her father telling her someday the vacant land "over there" will be eventually where a casino will sit.

Banks died in 1996 and didn't see his prediction come true.

On Saturday night (Jan. 20), Banks was one of five people honored by the Keystone Chapter of the United States Harness Writers Association with induction into the Pennsylvania Harness Racing Hall of Fame at the Omni in Bedford, PA.

"I think it's a great honor for all his efforts," Jennifer said. "The track was pretty popular and well attended in the 1960s and 1970s. Then it had a pretty big dip, like most harness tracks in the state, it was hurting.

"At the time, my dad worked really hard and became his own lobbyist. He spent a lot of time in Harrisburg. He more or less said the life expectancy for harness and thoroughbred tracks in the state is doomed if they don't do anything."

Following his purchase of the track, Joseph immediately went to work to revive the facility. He replaced the track surface, installed new lighting and refurbished the upper grandstand. The clubhouse was another area of the facility he worked hard to upgrade.

His biggest accomplishment just might have been working with legislatures to expand off-site gambling where races from around the country could be simulcast at Pocono Downs.

"In the 1980s legislation was passed with interstate betting, then it became intrastate betting," Jennifer said. "That really kept the industry going. It gave it a shot in the arm. He worked hard and closely with a lot of other people to get that accomplished. He really got involved in that."

Thanks to Joseph's efforts, off-track betting became available in 1988, which helped boost the purses for winning drivers. Not long after, Pocono Downs had built five OTB (Off Track Betting) parlors across the state.

Ron Battoni, who served as the executive director of the Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association before semi retiring in 2015, worked closely with Joseph in the early going. Joseph was tough, but fair, Battoni said. More importantly, Battoni said, Joseph was meticulous.

"He took it out of bankruptcy and then took it over himself," Battoni said. "The first run-in I had with him; I got the job as executive secretary for the horsemen's association. The contract was up. Back then if there was no horsemen's agreement you can't simulcast. Things didn't go well when we first met. We settled the contract for simulcasting on New Year's Eve. After that we got along great. The best way to describe him is that he was a great man."

Joseph came on the racing scene at the perfect time, Battoni said. Pennsylvania was about to pass off-track wagering. Pocono Downs had the ability to develop five off-track wagering sites. The first was built in Allentown. The next was built in Erie.

"After that, along came full-card simulcasting," Battoni said. "Back then, it was always simulcasting tracks in Pennsylvania. When full-card simulcasting came in 1993, that meant OTB would never close. You could take any track in the country and simulcast that. It was a big push for (Joseph) and us as far as purses."

Harness racing broadcasts on Fox Sports and NYRA honored with USHWA's President's Award

The sport of harness racing is often cited for its failure to pursue consistent national television coverage through the past decades, but that all changed in 2023. The initiative that began as a partnership between The Meadowlands and America's Day at the Races produced by the New York Racing Association (NYRA) came to full fruition in 2023 with more than 70 hours of live harness racing broadcast on national television channel Fox Sports and their cable affiliates FS1 and FS2, delivering ratings showing more than 850,000 viewers. This is why the president of the U.S. Harness Writers Association (USHWA), Barry Lefkowitz, has chosen to honor them.

Made possible by funding from the U.S. Trotting Association, the Hambletonian Society, the Little Brown Jug Society, and the host tracks of Harrah's Hoosier Park, Eldorado Gaming at Scioto Downs and The Meadowlands, many of harness racing's classic events were expertly showcased to a totally new audience in the broadcasts overseen by executive producer Eric Donovan, senior director of TV broadcast operations at NYRA.

Hosts Jessica Otten and Gabe Prewitt were the ringmasters for the harness racing broadcasts, bringing their proficient commentary, analysis and betting insight to an entirely new TV audience, with programming that either shared airtime with enormously popular thoroughbred signals like Saratoga and Churchill Downs or were stand-alone showcases, like the three-hour programming block for the Breeders Crown at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

America's Day at the Races hosts included Acacia Clement, Greg Wolf, Laffit Pincay, Richard Migliore, and Paul Verderosa, who all took a turn from the studio with the harness racing broadcasts, with Clement in particular showing a professional and rapid grasp of the sport with an understanding of both the differences and similarities in the two breeds.

The Hambletonian at The Meadowlands was featured on FOX Sports; the first time since 2011 that the trotting classic returned to one of the “Big Four” networks. Many of the top events throughout North America were aired live on the Fox affiliates: the Meadowlands Pace, Little Brown Jug, Ohio Super Night, Caesars Trotting Classic, NJ Sire Stakes finals, and the sport’s year-end championships, the Breeders Crown.

Most importantly, the viewership of the broadcasts was measurable, meaning hundreds of thousands of viewers were exposed to harness racing in a positive light, and the crossover audience increased throughout the season. If the 98th Hambletonian segments from Whitney Day at Saratoga are included, viewership was measured at over 2.7 million viewers for the entire series. Subtracting the majority thoroughbred broadcast segments of the Whitney Day coverage, the viewership for the harness racing broadcasts in 2023 was 894,000.

“The importance of network television coverage can never be undervalued,” said Lefkowitz in making the announcement. “The extensive coverage provided by Fox Sports/NYRA filled an important gap that has been missing for a long time. The coverage was outstanding, bringing harness racing to a new audience is very important and the cooperation among various harness racing entities was particularly rewarding. It is my pleasure and privilege to present them with the USHWA President’s Award.”

The quality of this broadcasting was recently honored with USHWA’s Sam McKee Broadcasting Award, for the Oct. 28 FS2 coverage of the Breeders Crown, which featured a story on Harness Horse of the Year odds-on favorite Confederate.

Fox Sports/NYRA will be recognized with this award at the upcoming Dan Patch Awards ceremony, presented by Caesars Entertainment, on Sunday (Feb. 25) at the Rosen Centre in Orlando, FL.

Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts announces 2024 racing schedule

A milestone season began at the historic Yonkers Raceway on Monday (Jan. 22) as Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts, one of the premier gaming and hospitality destinations in the country, announced the racing schedule for the upcoming 2024 season at the 125-year-old half-mile harness track.

Since opening in 1899 as Empire City Racetrack, the legendary track has been home to many memorable moments. Celebrities, notable politicians and athletes such as Frank Sinatra, Ed Sullivan, Mickey Mantle, Jimmy Carter, and Ronald Reagan frequented Yonkers Raceway. The legendary champion thoroughbred racehorse Seabiscuit won a purse of $7,300 in the Scarsdale Handicap at the track in the 1930s when the track was briefly a thoroughbred track.

In 2021, UFC Lightweight Champion Charles Oliveira competed against Harness Hall of Fame driver Tim Tetrick in an exhibition race and took home the win. In December 2023, two-time NBA MVP Nikola Jokic, an avid harness racing fan, made a surprise visit to the historic track, further demonstrating Yonkers Raceway as the leading destination for harness fans worldwide.

The exciting 2024 racing schedule includes 240 days of racing; more than any other track in the country. Over 80 equine athletes compete nightly, five days per week, running from Monday (Jan. 22, 2024) through Wednesday (Dec. 21, 2024). Season highlights include the first five legs of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series beginning on Friday (March 15), MGM Borgata Pacing Series beginning Monday (March 18), $300,000 MGM Yonkers Trot and MGM Grand Messenger on Friday (June 21) with eliminations on Friday (June 28) and of course, the world famous MGM Yonkers International Trot scheduled for Saturday (Sept. 7) with eight New York Sire Stakes finals also taking place that same day. MGM Yonkers Raceway will payout over $50 million in purses in 2024, more than any racetrack in the world.

“For 125 years, generations of horse racing fans have visited Yonkers Raceway to enjoy a world-class sports product,” said Ed Domingo, president/COO of Empire City Casino by MGM Resorts. “As we continue to invest in Yonkers Raceway, we look forward to an exciting and historic 2024 season to celebrate not just the track’s 125th anniversary but the incredible five years since MGM Resorts became the steward of this iconic sports venue.”

MGM Resorts has invested over a million dollars in track renovations to enhance the overall racing experience. Renovations include resurfacing the track with more than six-thousand tons of recycled track material, the installation of all new-LED lighting, raising the turns by as much as a foot and a new multiple display LED infield tote board. The upgraded infield tote board’s multiple display allows racing fans at Yonkers Raceway to see broadcasts of the live action on the infield board.

The most recent upgrade came over the holiday break with a near quarter million investment to upgrade the horse paddock.

MGM Resorts has also invested in its racing team members and management. At the helm of the track's leadership are four industry veterans, including racing director Alex Dadoyan, race secretary Jonathan "Joe" Frasure, Jr. and assistant race secretary Rich Mattei. The trio bring many years of combined harness racing leadership experience to Yonkers Raceway. Yonkers Raceway also has a new track superintendent, Ed Angell, who joined in spring 2023.

The Empire Terrace, the trackside restaurant, will be available on select race days throughout the season where harness racing fans and families around the region can enjoy a night at the races.

Batavia Downs record handle surges past half-million on Monday

The track was fast for the Monday afternoon (Jan. 22) card at Batavia Downs, and so was the pace at which money flowed through the windows from all outlets as the track handled $509,180, setting a new all-time one-day betting record on live racing at the track and marked the first time ever that the Downs handled in excess of one-half million dollars while under the ownership of Western Regional Off-Track Betting.

This is the third time this meet – that has only raced four days so far – that the track has set a new standard for handle. The high-water mark on Monday came in the fifth race where $69,298 was bet on that single event.

Don Hoover, director of live racing at Batavia Downs, said: "This is definitely historic for the track, something that has never been done before. And it speaks volumes for the competitive racing our horses and their connections put on the track every race day. Our customers recognize that and want to bet on it and we are grateful to be in this situation. It's a total team effort to make these races a success and everyone associated with the track shares in this achievement."

Monday also marked the beginning of the Western New York TrackMaster Series for pacers, an event that was responsible for setting betting marks during the 2023 winter meet. These races were once again very exciting on Monday but saw two drivers win nine of the 15 carded events.

Jim Morrill, Jr. won five races during the afternoon, four of which were from his regular connections, trainer Sam Smith and owner Mike Torcello. Morrill scored with Road Map (1:57, $2.50), Mister J R (1:57.3, $2.60), Stonebridge Hypnos (1:59, $2.40) and Authentic Hanover (1:59.1, $9.00). His fifth win was behind Mississippi Rabbit (1:58, $3.20) who is owned by William Mac Millan and trained by Joe Skowrya.

Brett Beckwith was right behind Morrill, Jr. in the win column as he registered a grand slam of his own. He won with Surfers Paradise (1:58.2, $8.60), Weekend Atnannies (1:58.1, $3.90) and Thatmomentinlife (1:57.3, $7.80) who were all trained by Mark McDonough, and also with Long Train Runnin (1:57, $2.70) who was trained by Jim Clouser, Jr.

Free full past performance programs for every live card of racing at Batavia can always be downloaded at the Downs' website (bataviadownsgaming.com) under the "Live Racing" tab and all the racing action can be viewed as it happens for free at the Batavia Downs Live Facebook page.

Pick-6 punting at The Big M this weekend

With a shot of warm air coming to the region, temperatures will be exceeding seasonal averages with readings expected in the 50-degree range this weekend, which is the perfect time to come out to The Meadowlands and sample a smorgasbord of possibilities.

First up, of course, is the harness racing, which takes place on the usual Friday (Jan. 26) and Saturday (Jan. 27) evenings with a first-race post time of 6:20 p.m.

There figures to be plenty of action at the windows. This weekend will offer what's been the norm at the mile oval lately – plenty of big fields – with 14-race cards being offered both nights that offer 13 10-horse fields tonight and 12 more on Saturday.

The big fields have helped business at The Big M get off to a solid 2024 start, with four of the first five race cards seeing total handle exceed $3 million.

One wager sure to attract a lot of interest is tonight's 20-cent Pick-6, which will start out with a double carryover of $14,531 after no winning tickets were sold on the puzzle last weekend (Jan. 19-20).

The last time there was a similar Pick-6 circumstance was Dec. 1 of last year, when players were motivated to pump $37,927 of "new money" into the pool after a carryover of $13,662 was the starting point.

"Our Pick-6 carryovers are always popular," said track chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemoir. "They create a lot of buzz with our players because they offer such incredible value. Since the carryover itself is not subject to the already low 15 per cent takeout, it's commonplace for a bet like this to offer what is called a negative takeout, when the return to players actually exceeds what's wagered when there are winning tickets sold."

CHECK OUT THE SHOW: Join The Meadowlands' TV team of Dave Little and Jessica Otten this weekend as they will be on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set with The Big M's live "Racing from The Meadowlands" pregame show.

The broadcast will start at 5:45 p.m. both tonight and Saturday with track announcer Ken Warkentin going over some of the track's promotions before he gives out the scratches and driver changes on the program.

Live racing takes place every Friday and Saturday with a first-race post time of 6:20 p.m.

BECKWITH IN THE HOT SEAT: Check out the pregame show on Saturday when Otten will interview Brett Beckwith in another edition of the pregame show "In the Sully" segment.

The interview will begin at approximately 5:50 p.m.

DID YOU SAY FREE? Free past performances for every race of every Meadowlands card are available by going to playmeadowlands.com.

THE GREAT EIGHT: The Meadowlands provides eight opportunities for the player to make a score trying their luck betting in pools with a low 15 per cent takeout. The lineup of The Big M's "Great Eight" is as follows (all wagers – with the exception of the Pick-7 – are carryover eligible):

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 2: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7
- Race 4: 20-cent Pick-8
- Race 6: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guarantee)
- Race 7: 20-cent High-5
- Race 8: 20-cent Pick-6
- Race 10: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guarantee)
- Race 11: 20-cent High-5

"X" MARKS THE SPOT: Everything Meadowlands is available by going on X (formerly known as Twitter). You can check in with the Big M team for early changes, racing information and staff selections by going to @themeadowlands or #playbigm.

Stay in touch with The Big M team of Otten (@JessicaOtten1), Little (@DaveLittleBigM) and Warkentin (@kenvoiceover).

WITHERITE'S RACE REVIEWS: Race reviews and selections by The Meadowlands' morning-line odds maker and program analyst James Witherite are available 48 hours before a given race card. To access, simply go to playmeadowlands.com, go to the "handicapping" tab, then click "race reviews".

WINTER CHILI COOK-OFF: On Saturday (Feb. 17), one of the most popular Big M events is back again, as cooks and tasters alike will be on hand for the 2024 Winter Chili Cook-Off.

The contest will take place Trackside (on the ground floor) from 5-9 p.m., so if you think you make the best chili, enter the contest and show the judges what you've got.

Not a cook? Free samples will be given for the People's Choice vote following the 7 p.m. turn-in. The Cook-off will take place in the Food Court and outdoor East Apron area.

Meadowlands to expand NYRA broadcast partnership

The Meadowlands' looks to renew their partnership with the TV team at the New York Racing Association (NYRA) in 2024 after strong 2023 results.

"We had eight "America's Day at the Races" [broadcasts]," said Jason Settlemoir, COO and general manager at The Meadowlands. "The viewership and resulting wagering figures certainly exceeded our expectations on those show days. Without Jeff Gural's longstanding relationship with NYRA, especially his friendships with David O'Rourke and Marc Holliday, none of this would be possible. Gural has consistently said that being on TV and getting national exposure is a must for harness racing to be a viable sport. Gural puts his money where his mouth is and has been the main driving force behind harness racing returning to national television through NYRA."

The 2023 America's Day at the Races' Meadowlands broadcasts with peak viewership figures (show were on FS2 unless otherwise noted):

- 4/29: 73,000
- 5/19: 232,000 (FS1)
- 5/20: 51,000
- 7/1: 33,000
- 7/8: 50,000
- 7/15: 119,000 (FS1)
- 8/5: 1,343,000 (FOX)
- 9/8: 27,000

In 2024, The Meadowlands will look to increase the number of broadcasts to cover a majority of stakes nights.

"We had a positive discussion with Eric Donovan, the senior director of TV broadcast operations at NYRA, said Settlemoir.

"We are both in agreement about expanding our coverage for our Championship meet.

"One thing that would be great for 2024 is if New York would allow NYRA Bets to take our nighttime harness signal. That would really move the wagering needle for us."

Once an agreement has been finalized, a full schedule of broadcasts on Fox Sports (FS1 and FS2) will be released.

Virginia Certified Residency Program distributed $700,000 from 2023 standardbred races

The Virginia Harness Horse Association announced that $700,000 in Certified bonus monies for foals of 2020 and 2021 will be distributed from races held in 2023; a total of $300,000 for the 2020 crop, from 33 individual awards, and $400,000 for the 2021 crop, from 51 individual awards.

Among the 2020 crop, Graham Grace Stables' Call Me Goo earned the biggest award, $27,982, courtesy of a stellar campaign which saw the 3-year-old filly trotter win 12 of 16 races and bankroll $348,452. The daughter of Googoo Gaagaa won nine straight races between May 2 and Aug. 25 including scores in the $85,000 Maryland Sire Stake finals at both Ocean Downs and Rosecroft. She also prevailed in the $115,000 Crossroads of America Stakes at Hoosier and the $141,000 Matron at Dover. The consistent trotter was bred by William Roberts and spent her Virginia residency at the Powhatan Plantation in King George.

Charles Myers' Hillbilly Pacin Hill's bonus payment of $23,145 was second best. The Racing Hill gelding pacer earned $101,084 from 18 top-three finishes in 26 starts including a 3-length victory in the Virginia Breeder's $89,800 3-Year-Old Colt/Gelding Pace at Shenandoah Downs which followed runner-up finishes in both Breeder's preps. Hillbilly Pacing Hill was bred by Sharon Dotson at her Hillbilly Haven Farm in Burkeville. Lucas Myers piloted the pacer in all 26 starts last year.

James Brown's Terry's Watching collected a $20,093 bonus from six wins and four second place finishes in 2023. Three of each came at the Woodstock oval and those points helped secure Brown the third highest award. The Charlie De Vie trotter was bred by Betsy Brown, who drove Terry's Watching in his final three wins of the campaign.

Jane Dunavant's Starlight Lounge earned a $19,704 bonus while Pam Wagner and Scott Woogen's KJ Alexander collected a $18,692 award. The former had only two wins in 19 starts but was solid otherwise with seven runner-up finishes and four thirds, amounting to $79,954 in purse earnings. The Dusty Winner filly trotter finished second in the $84,000 Virginia Breeder's 3-Year-Old Filly Trot. The latter, a gelding trotter, accumulated $57,430 in purses. The son of What The Hill had a big score in a $25,000 Virginia-Certified race last May and a Virginia Breeder's elimination race in October. KJ Alexander was bred by Scott Woogen. The duo spent their respective residencies at Charlie Dunavant's Farm in Victoria and at Snow Hill Layne Farm in Troy.

Among the 2021 crop, Sarah Said — owned by Garry Martin, B Kleinberg Racing and Lee Unkefer — parlayed a five-race win streak at Ohio tracks last year into a $27,034 bonus. The 2-year-old Well Said filly pacer bankrolled $71,641 from 11 starts and recorded a 1:53.2 mark in the Buckeye Stallion Series at Scioto Downs Aug. 15. Her six-month Virginia stay was at Hull Prairie Farms in Bealeton.

The second highest bonus winner ($26,317) was Pam Wagner and Scott Woogen's gelding trotter KJ Dash who finished the year with seven wins from 10 starts and $157,809 in earnings. The freshman son of Lockkeeper captured a trio of high-profile events in 2023; the $87,875 Virginia Breeder's 2-Year-Old Colt/Gelding Trot and $85,000 Maryland Sire Stake finals at both Rosecroft and Ocean Downs. KJ Dash is a residency graduate of Snow Hill Layne Farm.

Rip Away, a Jane Dunavant homebred filly trotter, was best in the $92,400 Virginia Breeder's divisional championship last year which helped trigger an overall $23,524 bonus payment. The daughter of Dusty Winner, who amassed $91,600 in winnings, bagged third and fourth place finishes in respective $110,000 Delaware State Bred Finals (DSBF) as well.

Rounding out the top five, Ken Weckstein and Gary Messenger's Spectacular Plus earned a $22,695 reward while Nanticoke Racing and C. Delbert Cain's Platinum Proposal accumulated $21,441 bonus. The former is a Huntsville gelding pacer who competed exclusively in New York and recorded four straight wins in the New York Sire Stake Excelsior Series. The latter is a trotting filly by E L Platinum who had a trio of wins and seconds and a pair of thirds with earnings of $116,300. Bred by Thomas Dodson, Platinum Proposal was a runner-up in her Virginia Breeder's final but later in the year, prevailed in the DSBF final at Dover Downs. Respective six-month stays in the Commonwealth were at Powhatan Plantation and Hull Prairie Farms.

Turning to this year, the 2022 and 2021 foal crops will each compete for $400,000 in Certified bonus monies as 2- and 3-year-olds, respectively. Horsemen around the country with 2023 foals that wish to participate in the Certified Residency program will need to have them based at a registered Virginia farm by July 1. Certified farms are as far north as Berryville and as far south as Bristol. Participating horses must complete a six-month residency before they turn 2 years of age.

Foals that are part of this program earn points based on purses earned in races as both 2- and 3-year-olds with a per race cap of 5,000 points; based on $5,000 in purse winnings. At the end of each calendar year, points are added up for all horses and a dollar figure is assigned to each point. Bonus monies are then awarded respectively to the owner of the horse at the time it raced. Horses are rewarded with double points from all overnight races held in Virginia. ## Covered Bridge and George Brennan star as racing returns to Yonkers

Covered Bridge, coming off a campaign where he earned over $528,000, took the feature, while driver George Brennan made six trips to the winner's circle on opening night of the 2024 live racing season Monday (Jan. 22) at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Driven by Jordan Stratton in the $32,000 event, Covered Bridge showed speed to overcome the outside post 8 and worked his way past Whats Stanley Got A and Joe Bongiorno after the :27 opening quarter. It was all Covered Bridge from that point as he maintained control through the half of :55.4 and the three-quarters of 1:24.3, then kicked home in :28.2 to widen his margin to 3 1/4-lengths in 1:53 flat at the finish line. Whats Stanley Got A was second-best, followed by Lou's Sweetrevenge and Yannick Gingras.

Jeff Gillis trains Covered Bridge, an 8-year-old gelding by American Ideal, for owner Mark Ford. Covered Bridge, who paid $3.40 to win and led a $12.20 exacta and a $60 trifecta, picked up his 45th career victory and has now banked $1,163,855.

As for Brennan, he had a pair of natural hat tricks in his six-bagger. He cleaned up in races 4 through 6, prevailing with Benhope Rulz N [1:54.1] for trainer Darran Cassar and owner Windermere Stable LLC., Genius Man [1:55.2] for owner/trainer Ricky Bucci and Adam Crocker A [1:55] for trainer Scott Di Domenico and owner Dominick Pinto. Brennan then annexed the ninth dash with Pointomygranson [1:54.3] for trainer Deborah Daguet and owner P T Stable, the 10th with Rolling With Sam [1:54.2] for trainer Andrew Adamczyk and owner Morrison Racing Stables and the nightcap with Gothic Rock [1:55.4] for owner/trainer Bucci.

MGM Yonkers Raceway will have programs on Monday through Friday nights now that the meet has gotten underway, with post time at 7 p.m. (EST). Monday's cards will include a $10,000 guaranteed Pick 5 pool starting in race 5.
