A look at Dan Patch honorees past and present

Adding this year's award-winners to some of the notable champions from previous years.

by Bob Heyden

With the 2023 Dan Patch Awards in the rearview mirror it's time for one last look back at some of those honorees and ones from the past.

Confederate joins Artsplace (1992), and Niatross (1980) as homebred pacers that were named Horse of the Year. Artsplace was 4, while the other two were 3. Homebreds were the norm in 2023 for Owners of the Year Diamond Creek. On the trotting side, CR Kay Suzie (1995) and San Pail (2011) were also homebred HOY winners.

STARTER KIT

Brian Brown trained Confederate first, then the pacer went to Brett Pelling at 3. It is not at all unusual to see a HOY who started his racing career elsewhere. Albatross is among the most famous going from 2YOCP of the Year in 1970 with Harry Harvey to back-to-back HOY with Stanley Dancer in 1971-72. Moni Maker with Bill Andrews (1995 into early 1997) before Team Takter took over. Bye Bye Byrd went from Don Taylor in 1958 to Clint Hodgins in his 1959 HOY season. Doug Arthur sure took care of a freshman named Cam Fella in 1981 and then he wound up with Pat Crowe for consecutive HOY campaigns in 1982-83. Team Stafford had Precious Bunny in 1990 and then he went to Bill Robinson for his magical 1991 season. Gene Riegler had Artsplace for his two biggest money-earning seasons and then Bob McIntosh in 1992 for his unblemished HOY run.

2023 U.S. HORSE
OF THE YEAR

Mark Hall / USTA

The Diamond Creek team behind Confedrate celebrate the pacer's 2023 Horse of the Year Award at Sunday's (Feb. 25) Dan Patch Awards in Orlando, FL.

SWEDE VICTORY

In 2023, Trainer of the Year for the 11th time went to a Swede — Ake Svanstedt. In the 39 years of the award, six different Swedish natives — Svanstedt, Nancy Takter (2020), Marcus Melander (2019), Per Eriksson (1991), Soren Nordin (1986) and six-time winner Jimmy Takter (1996, 2000, 2010, 2014-16) — have won.

Meanwhile, the Trainer of the Year and Driver of the Year award have both eluded U.S.-born horsemen/horsewomen since 2018. Trainer Ron Burke and driver Aaron Merriman were the last to do it. This year driver Aussie Dexter Dunn's four-year reign ended with Canadian-born Scott Zeron's first victory. Svanstedt's win was also his first.

RISING OR ALREADY RISEN?

Twice, the Rising Star Award has gone to a youngster, male and female, who had the HOY that same season. Montrell Teague did it in 2015 with Wiggle It Jiggle it a year after Nancy Takter did the same with JK She'salady.

TROTTER GENDER DISPARITY

Trotter of the Year has gone to a female exactly one-third of the time, 33.3 per cent (18/54). By contrast, the Pacer of the Year just five times has gone to a lady since the award began in 1970, or just nine per cent.

IT'S HANOVER, OF COURSE

Hanover Shoe Farms, a year after Bulldog Hanover won unanimously, has been the Breeder of the Year 12 times, the all-time most.

FEMALE PROXIMITY WINNERS

The Proximity Award has gone to a female just three different times, including mother/daughter Margot Taylor (1994) and Ellen Taylor (2008). Gail Cunard was the last to do so in 2009.

A COMPARISON OF PRECIOUS BUNNY AND CONFEDERATE

- The 1991 HOY and the 2023 HOY were both 3-year-old pacing colts.
- Both won by a wide margin: Precious Bunny 270-10 over Giant Victory and Confederate 112-7 over Tactical Approach. Both runners up were the Hambletonian winner.
- Both lost on their last day of racing. Precious Bunny was third and fifth in his two tries in the Provincial Cup (1991) on Nov. 24. He wound up his season 21-for-25 and set a new money record of $2.2 million.

Confederate lost his last try, also the last week of November 2023, in the FanDuel versus older. He set the new 3YOCP world record of 1:46.1 at Lexington's Red Mile.

- Both were sired by a Pacer of the Year (POY). Cam Fella was a two-time HOY/POY and Sweet Lou was the 2014 Pacer of the Year.

The real question is did their final day on the racetrack prevent them from being unanimous? While we'll never know, surely Confederate would not have had six others – Tactical Approach (7), Sylvia Hanover (3), Bythemissal (2), Jiggy Jog S (2), It's Academic (1) and Karl (1) – getting votes had he continued his winning streak.

MOST HOY WINNERS HAVE AT LEAST ONE NOT-SO-GREAT MOMENT

It happens. Over half of the HOY winners had a day or a race they would love to forget during their award-winning season. Here are just some of them:

- In 1999, Moni Maker was far, far back at The Meadowlands in the Titan Cup on June 18, finishing eighth. She had little trouble returning to claim her second straight HOY which has not been done since.
- In 1994, in the Cane Pace, Cams Card Shark was off the board for his only time at 3, when he would go on to set the new single-season money mark of $2.264 million.

- Gallo Blue Chip was last twice in a row very early in 2000 – getting hit in the face by a whip didn't help – but he too bounded back swimmingly and set the earnings mark that stood for eight years.
- In 1995, CR Kay Suzie had a Hambletonian Day to forget as the huge favorite but did recover to claim a HOY title.
- In 2007, Donato Hanover did not lose a race until his final two, a second and third in the Breeders Crown. He had long since wrapped up the title by then.
- In 2016, Always B Miki missed the board in the U.S. Pacing Championship (now the McKee) finishing fourth to a strong group of free-for-allers in a thrilling finish. Miki laughed that off and went on to a world record 1:46, a Breeders Crown and was an easy HOY choice.
- Beach Towel in the 1990 North America Cup, well, let's just turn the page. The first to $2 million in any season (1990) was last in the Cup, but it had no effect as he quickly resumed his dominance, probably being better at seasons end in the Pompano Breeders Crown romp than at any point of his career.
- Niatross falling over the hub rail at Saratoga is part of history, and it was during his 1980 second HOY season.

"[As a teenager], I would watch the OTB [Off-Track Betting] channel and mimic calls," Stabile said. "And then I would do calls in the St. John's cafeteria for my friends from the night before. I'd mimic [Tom] Durkin and Bob the most."

Stabile's big break in announcing came in 2018 when Aqueduct winter back-up announcer Frank Mirahmadi let him call a race at his namesake "Big A."

"It was a five-horse field and I still remember the names of the horses," Stabile said.

Stabile continued to get opportunities to call at Aqueduct from New York Racing Association (NYRA) back-up announcer John Imbriale, and over time, graduated to calling full cards in the winter at Aqueduct.

The Big A featured at The Big M

by Debbie Little

It isn't only young drivers in the spotlight this winter at The Meadowlands.

With so many members of The Big M's broadcast team in Orlando, FL last weekend for the Dan Patch Awards, Anthony Stabile made his debut in the East Rutherford, NJ, announcer's booth.

"Anthony did a good job," said Dave Little of Meadowlands' TV, who started his race-calling career on half-mile tracks. "Moving from the half-mile track to the mile track is a more difficult transition than if you were doing it the other way around."

"The fact is, on a half-mile track you can see everything very well. I'm certain there are a lot of half-mile track announcers that don't even use binoculars."

Stabile, who got his nickname "The Big A" from Hondo, the long-time sports handicapping columnist for the New York Post, has been one of the regular announcers at Yonkers Raceway since January of 2023.

Raised in Queens, NY, Stabile's love of racing started when his parents took him to Roosevelt Raceway when he was just 3 years old.

Stabile grew up listening to the long-time voice of Yonkers Raceway, Bob Meyer, and by the age of 8 or 9 knew that calling races was his dream job. A dream that never left him.

“I’m going to respect the fact that Ken Warkentin has called races at that place for 32 years. That’s his booth. My job Saturday night was to tell the fans what was happening on the racetrack and protect his booth. That’s all I was trying to do, that’s all you’re supposed to do when somebody invites you into their booth.”

~ Anthony Stabile

Stabile said he did some of his best calling in the winter of 2020-21, which was validated by one of his heroes.

“I idolized Tom Durkin my entire life and I got a call from him, maybe on New Year’s Eve 2020,” Stabile said. “He said, ‘I’m very proud of you.’ I still tear up when I think about it. He said, ‘I remember you walking in my booth doing that term paper when you were 13 or 14 years old and you are there now. These last two days you have been absolutely brilliant. Whatever you and John are doing, just keep doing it and if you need anything, you know where I am.’”

At that same time, Stabile was doing TV work for NYRA and when their Fox Show expanded in 2022, it was no longer possible for him to call races at Aqueduct.

In Little’s experience, it’s been easier to find announcers than qualified talent to fill in on The Big M TV show, so it makes sense to him that Stabile would be a more valuable commodity to NYRA on-air than behind the mic. Stabile’s tenure at NYRA concluded in May of last year.

Stabile has also been a co-host on The Meadowlands’ live simulcast show and will be on the set next to Little on March 16 and 30.

In 2020, Stabile called his first race at Yonkers, which started the ball rolling for him on the harness side of announcing.

Growing up a fan of Meyer, Stabile pays homage to “The Bullet” when he calls at Yonkers by using some of Meyer’s recognizable catch phrases, such as “This field is in the hands of the starter,” and “This field is in motion.”

According to Little, The Meadowlands has enough announcers on staff — Ken Warkentin, Jason Settlemoir, Shades Demsky, Scott Warren, as well as Little himself — that they rarely need to bring in someone from the outside, but when that occasion does arise, their freelance announcing depth chart is also stacked with Peter Kleinhans, Mike Bozich, Gabe Prewitt, Michael Carter, and now, Stabile.

The opportunity to call at The Big M would check a box on the bucket list for any announcer, including Stabile, who did not take the moment lightly.

“I was just a little apprehensive for lack of a better term,” Stabile said. “But I felt pretty good once all the announcements were done [prior to the start of the card].”

Little said he was texting with Stabile throughout the night and his first text said, “Have a good night, I’ll be listening (critiquing??!!).”

According to Little, Stabile’s response was, “Critique away, please. No kid gloves either.” To which Little texted “Kid gloves are not my style. I’ll text you later.”

Little said as a race caller, from the stretch to the finish is where you really want to shine and thinks Stabile was not dealt the easiest of cards when you consider that eight of the 14 races were decided by a half-length or less, including one dead heat.

“The momentum didn’t carry them by and you want to give the big call, but it’s also not my booth,” Stabile said. “That’s Ken’s booth and you have to have respect. I’m going to be 47 years old on March 31st and I feel like respect for the game and the tradition is mostly gone.

“I’m going to respect the fact that Ken Warkentin has called races at that place for 32 years. That’s his booth. My job Saturday night was to tell the fans what was happening on the racetrack and protect his booth. That’s all I was trying to do, that’s all you’re supposed to do when somebody invites you into their booth.”

Goomster crowned Illinois Horse of the Year

by Neil Milbert

For the second time in two years, the Illinois-bred Horse of the Year is a trotter.

The 2023 honoree is Goomster, a 4-year-old gelded son of the deceased sire Cassis out of the Muscle Hill mare Sheeza Muscle. He was bred by Vernon Miller, is owned by Dennis Gardner of West Salem, IL, and is trained by Desirae Seekman. His driver has been Desirae's husband, Travis.

Goomster and the other 2023 Illinois-bred champions will be honored at a banquet on Saturday night (March 2) at the State Fairgrounds in Springfield.

In addition to being selected Horse of the Year, Goomster will be recognized as the champion 3-year-old male trotter after reigning as the 2022 champion 2-year-old trotter.

Then, Gardner also was his trainer and he was driven by Kyle Wilfong.

"I bought him from this Amish guy, Vernon Miller, who raised the colt when he was a yearling early in the summer and that fall, we started breaking him," Gardner said. "He was kind of ornery to break so I gelded him. I kind of wish I hadn't now but, on the other hand, I don't know if he'd have been as good a horse.

"He's my horse of a lifetime. I'm 56 and I'll be 112 years old if I get another one like him."

Gardner trained Goomster until the fall of his 2-year-old campaign.

"I had a lot of stuff going on with my other young horses, and Kyle had made Indiana his base," he said, explaining why he gave the gelding and some other racehorses to the Seekmans. "I told Travis: 'I want Des to train him and you to drive him for a few months and we'll see how that works.'"

"They have done a tremendous job. No way could I take him away from them. It has been great for all of us — now I concentrate on my colts — and another bonus is we've become good friends."

After compiling a 12-race 2022 composite of five wins and four places and earning $120,125, Goomster outdid himself last year by winning 16 of his 21 starts and finishing second four times in the process of earning $158,084. He had a career best mark of 1:52.4 at Springfield.

The Illinois-bred followed up his victory in the $93,000 Erwin Dygert Memorial on Hawthorne Race Course's Night of Champions on Oct. 14 by going to Hoosier Park and annexing a pair of $20,000 open races.

"He has been a dream come true," Travis said. "He can leave the gate and do a quarter in :27 if you want or you can do a quarter in :31. On a super cold night [in his last start on Dec. 11 at Hoosier] he won by about 6 ½ lengths and I buggy drove him around the track."

According to Desirae, who has been married to Travis for 12 years and has been training for about 11 years, Goomster, also is a push-button horse to train.

Both she and Travis have parents with standardbred racing resumes — Joe and Tina Seekman and Rick and Theresa Ledford. The families have owned horses and Joe and Rick were successful trainers.

Currently, Desirae and Travis are based at a small farm his parents own in Gaston, IN, about 20 miles north of Hoosier Park. They have two daughters, Raegyn and Graceyn.

Their plans are for Goomster to qualify at Hoosier in mid-March in preparation for his 4-year-old season. They will race there and probably at Oak Grove before returning to Illinois so he can participate in this summer's non-betting races at Springfield, partially funded by the Hawthorne purse account, to prepare for the resumption of weekly pari-mutuel harness racing in Illinois at the dual-purpose Chicagoland track on Oct. 12.

"We'll race him every other week in the hot part of the summer and keep him as fresh as possible," Travis said. "I'm afraid the big night [the Night of Champions] will be pushed into December."

Gardner is looking forward to the summer stint at Springfield.

"I love that track," Goomster's owner said. "My family has been involved there since the early 1950s. My great grandpa, Elmer Knackmuhs, won the very first stakes race at the Illinois State Fair. He bought the mare and her first foal won the race.

“We’ll race him every other week in the hot part of the summer and keep him as fresh as possible. I’m afraid the big night [the Night of Champions] will be pushed into December.”

~ Travis Seekman

"My family always had trotters. My uncle, George, owned half of Gumcorner Lad [a member of the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association Hall of Fame]."

Gardner has eight 2-year-olds and a pair of 3-year-olds he is training at the track on his 865-acre farm — some of which "is just woods" — while Goomster and his other 4-year-old in training, Take Me To Dennyland, are with the Seekmans.

According to Gardner, Goomster's dam, Sheeza Muscle Girl, "never made it to the races but a friend told me she was a nice mare who trained pretty good. I would like to buy the mare but Vernon [Miller] won't sell her."

Looking ahead to the start of Goomster's 2024 campaign at Hoosier, Gardner is a bit apprehensive because "he'll have to race in the opens [against 4-year-olds and up] and that will be tough."

His former driver, Wilfong, doesn't think it will be a problem.

"Last fall Goomster showed he will be able to compete just about anywhere they take him," Wilfong said. "Des and Travis are doing a great job."

Travis and Desirae regard Wilfong and his [trainer] wife, Nicole, as fast friends.

"We go on family vacations together," Travis said. "Off the track Kyle and I are best friends. At the track he has been very supportive of Des and I."

Travis finished third in the 2023 Hawthorne trainer standings last year with 69 wins, 67 places and 63 shows in 437 races and $723,215 in earnings.

Meanwhile, with Goomster in the forefront, horses trained by Desirae made 32 starts at the meeting, recording 13 wins, six places and four shows while making bank deposits of $115,494.

In addition to her training duties, Desirae, works as a behavioral therapist and has a small business, Design by Des, specializing in creating custom gear for horse owners and trainers.

"On top of all that she's a full-time mom," Travis said. "She has a heck of a busy life."

Before getting married and gravitating to training, Desirae made her mark as a softball player. Her Beecher High School team won an Illinois State championship and she was a second-baseman and catcher at Prairie State College, where she had an athletic scholarship and majored in criminal justice.

Daughter Raegyn is a budding athlete, participating in cheerleading and tumbling.

"Raegyn has a competition Saturday in Muncie [IN] and I'll have to dart from there to Springfield for the [Illinois-bred champions] banquet," said the mom in motion.

Finish Lines: Following her stellar 2022 Horse of the Year campaign as a 3-year-old filly trotter, Funky Wiggle failed to earn a championship when she moved up to the aged mare trotter division in 2023. The champion of her Illinois-bred age group for the eighth straight year was the now-retired Annas Lucky Star.

The other champion trotters who will be recognized at the Springfield banquet are: 2-year-old filly Whiskey Lou, 2-year-old male Lous Private Eye, 3-year-old filly Bell Boots, aged male On Higher Ground, broodmare Queen Jamie and sire Lous Legacy.

The champion pacers: 2-year-old filly Chickabell, 2-year-old male Gorgeous Big Guy, 3-year-old filly Fox Valley Leah, 3-year-old male Fox Valley Landen, aged mare Scorecard Dandy, aged male He'zzz A Wise Sky, broodmare Gimmeazzzmooch and sire Somestarsomewhere.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Driver William Carter looks to continue exceeding personal goals on the track

by Chris Lomon

William Carter hasn't yet been on target when it comes to reaching personal goals, but that isn't a bad thing.

After a nine-win driving season in 2022, Carter, born and raised in Philadelphia, spent some time thinking about what he hoped to achieve the following year.

"I won 53 races in 2023, which was far above the 25 races I wanted to win," Carter said. "I was very happy with how everything played out."

Carter got off the wings quickly last year and carried that momentum throughout the season.

One highlight from 2023 was a four-win night as a "P" (probationary license) driver.

The other notable moment came in early September at Ocean Downs when Carter, a week after turning 19, won his first sires stakes race in Maryland with Rustys Baby Ruth.

Carter was impressed with the daughter of Rustys For Real well before her first official start.

"Her trainer is Elwood Tignor, who has been my dad's friend for a long time," Carter said. "They were on the phone and Elwood was going on about this filly. My dad said, 'How about you let my son qualify her?' So, I did, and I told Elwood she was pretty nice."

After a second-place performance in her first start, Carter had loftier praise for the bay filly, bred and owned by Ashley Page.

Not a surprise considering the results of her next three races were all wins, including a brilliant effort in the $85,000 Sires Stakes final at Ocean Downs in September.

Rustys Baby Ruth prevailed by 3 lengths, from post 7, cutting the final quarter in a field-best :30.1 to stop the teletimer in 1:57.4.

William Carter gained some driving momentum in 2023.

"That was the first big race I had ever been in, so to be able to win that, it was a sigh of relief and a great feeling," Carter said. But not something to dwell upon.

Instead, Carter is dialed in on improving his skills in the race bike, with the hope of attracting more opportunities to compete in races like the sires stakes ranks and beyond.

One of the biggest challenges in his career, admittedly, has been learning to deal with a tough night at the racetrack.

"I'm sure a lot of young drivers go through the same thing, trying to turn the page after a bad drive or if the horse didn't race as you expected it would," he said. "You have to learn to turn the page and when I first started, I would get very frustrated with myself. I

“Growing up, I played baseball and basketball, but I always knew it was going to be horses. From everything I can remember, it was always about horses. I can remember being really young and sitting on my dad’s lap while he was jogging a horse. I guess I was destined to be in horse racing.”

would let it stay with me for the rest of the card. Now, my focus is to learn from the last race and move on to the next one.”

Carter has also fine-tuned his driving approach.

“When I first started, I was very aggressive; a little overly aggressive out there,” he said. “I would sometimes pull horses at a time when I shouldn’t have, so I learned a lot last year. I have learned to be more patient and also when to go and when not to go.”

The result is a much more refined look and feel in the sulky.

If Carter does have any questions about his craft, he isn’t shy about reaching out to his contemporaries.

“The drivers who have been in the sport a long time always tell me that I can learn something new each day,” he said. “That is definitely true. When you come to the racetrack, you have to keep your mind open and your ears open. It’s important to listen and learn. I try to be respectful to everybody. I don’t want to come off as being cocky.”

He also has two other trusted go-to sources.

“My dad [longtime horseman Billy Carter] pretty much taught me everything that I know,” William said. “He drives horses and he shares some advice on things I can do to improve and things he sees that I am doing well.

“[Trainer and driver] Roger Plant is another person I go to if I have any questions about driving. He gives me a lot of good advice too.”

That William found a way into the sulky is no surprise.

Early on in his life, he figured he was odds-on to join the harness racing ranks.

“Growing up, I played baseball and basketball, but I always knew it was going to be horses,” William said. “From everything I can remember, it was always about horses. I can remember being really young and sitting on my dad’s lap while he was jogging a horse. I guess I was destined to be in horse racing.”

He was also destined to sport a similar look on the racetrack.

William’s driving colors are an homage to his father, with a twist.

“My colors are my dad’s colors,” William said. “We both have black and red, but where he has black, I have red and vice versa. We both have a “C” on the back.”

William is hopeful his objectives, both current and future, pay off with those colors co-featured in winner’s circle photos.

On the night of Feb. 20 at Rosecroft, he had his picture taken four times, winning races 2, 3, 4, and 13.

“In the short term, I want to get my name out there, but also stay humble and be myself,” William said. “Every driver has the same long-term goal, to win the big stakes races.”

There is one race at Rosecroft he has in his sights as well.

“I would love to be in and win the Potomac Pace,” he said. “That’s my home track, so I would love to say I won that race.”

Outside the goals he sets and life in the barn, William leads a mostly quiet but contented life.

Spending time with his friends is a top priority.

Not being preoccupied with thoughts of horses 24/7, however, is no easy task.

“When I get the time, I like to hang out with my friends and not think about horses, but that is tough,” William said. “I love horses, but sometimes, it’s nice to have a little time away. The funny thing is you do miss them when you are away from them. So, when I come in and see them again, it makes me happy.”

As does surpassing the numbers he’d like to achieve each year.

And even if he is a little off in his predictions, William has somehow managed to find the winning formula for success.

Bright 'Rose' returns fresh for Matchmaker preparation

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Season after season, Lit De Rose continues to bloom.

The now 9-year-old female pacer enjoyed a career-best season in 2023, posting 11 wins and earning $354,985. It was her fourth consecutive campaign with six figures in purses and bettered her previous money high of $211,805 set one year earlier.

Bred and owned by Quebec's Guy Corbeil, Lit De Rose closed out last season with a three-race win streak at MGM Yonkers Raceway, with the third victory pushing her beyond $1 million in purses in Canadian dollars. For her career, the daughter of Leader Bayama—Intense has won 46 of 132 starts and banked C$1.01 million (US$925,707).

Lit De Rose made her 2024 debut last week at Yonkers as she prepares for next month's start of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series at The Hilltop. She finished second in last year's Matchmaker final after posting a win, a second, two thirds, and a fourth in the five preliminary rounds.

"Honestly, I thought she would have a good year [in 2023], but I didn't think she would make $350,000," said Pat Lachance, who has trained and driven Lit De Rose for all 58 of her races in the States. "She's always been a good mare, but it's almost impossible to do that as a racehorse. I thought maybe a couple hundred wouldn't be out of reach, but not 350.

"She kept getting better and better all year. She stayed razor sharp. I was super happy with her."

Lit De Rose began her career in Quebec, where at age 2 she was named the province's best freshman filly pacer. Three years later, she finished second behind Kissin In The Sand in the 2020 Milton Stakes at Woodbine Mohawk Park. Since November 2021, the mare has made all but three of her starts in the U.S., with 57 of the 58 coming on the half-mile oval at Yonkers.

Lifetime at Yonkers, Lit De Rose has earned a paycheck 54 times. She has 23 wins at The Hilltop and a total of 39 top-three finishes.

Lit De Rose (5, Patrick Lachance) in action at Yonkers in 2023.

"She gets around a half really well," Lachance said. "It's worked out really good for her. A small track doesn't slow her down at all. She shows up every week and is just so consistent."

Some of Lit De Rose's success and longevity can be attributed to her off-the-pace style of racing. The mare led at three-quarters only once in her past 35 races at Yonkers. During that span, she paced her last quarter in 28 seconds or faster on 33 occasions and was the fastest or co-fastest finisher 25 times.

"The closers are a lot easier to keep sharp," Lachance said. "The front-runners are almost impossible to keep good for a long period of time. The closers, it's just easier; it's one run at the end and that's it. The front-runners have to go four quarters, basically, and hope to get one off, but there's always somebody coming. With her, she has to race one quarter, so it's a lot easier."

Tonight (March 1), Lit De Rose heads to the $35,000 invitational for fillies and mares at Yonkers, where she will start from post 2 in a field of six. She is 4-1 on the morning line. Last week, she finished fifth in her seasonal debut following a more than three-month respite.

"She had a long year, a lot of starts, so we gave her a little bit more of a break this year to freshen her up, and figured we'd get her ready for the Matchmaker," Lachance said.

The six-week Blue Chip Matchmaker Series begins March 15.

"I'm looking forward to it, absolutely," Lachance said. "It's a grind. It's hard to keep them good for six weeks in a row, but her style helps and she's tough. She's showed that she can do it. So, we'll see."

Racing begins at 7 p.m. (EST) at Yonkers. For free programs, visit the Standardbred Owners Association of New York website here.

USHWA conducts successful annual meetings, banquet

The United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) held its annual meetings this past Saturday and Sunday (Feb. 24-25) at the Rosen Centre in Orlando, FL. The Dan Patch Awards Banquet, presented by Caesars Entertainment, provided its usual fitting climax to USHWA's annual weekend gathering of its directors and membership; the honors accorded Confederate and the other stars of the sport in 2023, human and equine, have already been written up and disseminated in the trade media.

Twenty-six USHWA directors, including officers, active past presidents / life members, and at-large / chapter directors came together Saturday afternoon to examine and plan a framework for the Association's operations. A committee headed by Hall of Fame Museum director Janet Terhune, comprised of Hall executive staff and members of USHWA, came up with a plan to solve the Communicators Hall of Fame's running out of display space by displaying a good number of the CHOF artwork trophies and digitizing the others in an easily-accessible and sortable kiosk / TV system. The board approved a $20,000 expenditure to keep the memory of these distinguished communicators on proper prominent display.

The directors also voted to place Judy Davis-Wilson and Debbie Little, both former Presidents of USHWA, both former Members of the Year, and both distinguished in their respective sections of harness racing, on the summer ballot for possible election into the Communicators Hall of Fame.

USHWA also made updates and refinements of its operating by-laws and rules and regulations, with the large number of suggested modifications often accompanied by spirited discussion and voting.

Some 50 members of the organization, including the directors, attended a Sunday morning meeting focusing on the general membership of the Association. The highlights of the major activities occurring during Saturday's gathering were recounted and were a topic of continued conversation, and reports from both all of the committees that oversee major areas of USHWA activity and from the officers of the Association were delivered. Any questions the membership had on any aspect of USHWA were encouraged and answered.

Michael Carter was elevated from first vice president to president of USHWA in voting for a slate of officers. Heather Vitale rose from second vice president to first vice president, while Melissa Keith joined the officers as second vice president. Outgoing USHWA president Barry Lefkowitz becomes chair of the USHWA board per the Association's bylaws; Bill MacDonald and Jerry Connors were returned as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

In times of contraction elsewhere in harness racing, USHWA lost only four total members over the last year, revealing the dedication of the group and the excellent coverage they provide of the best of racing, while also serving as an outreach/recruitment tool for bringing "fresh blood" to the sport. This core group, along with any recruits, will allow USHWA to carry on hosting its annual acclaimed Dan Patch Awards Banquets and continue to knowledgeably vote to recognize the best and brightest in harness racing, both human and equine.

International Women's Day race set for March 8 at Woodbine Mohawk Park

Woodbine Entertainment will be celebrating International Women's Day with a special race on Friday (March 8) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The International Women's Day race will feature a field of women drivers competing. This will mark the third-straight year Woodbine Mohawk Park has hosted an International Women's Day race.

Last year's event was split into two races, with Marie-Claude Auger and Anita Ouellette scoring victories. Natasha Day won the first International Women's Day race back in March of 2022.

As part of the celebrations, Woodbine's simulcast show will feature Woodbine hosts Elissa Blowe, Monique Vág and former Woodbine commentator Renee Kierans. The broadcast will shine a spotlight on the women of harness racing throughout the entire evening.

Post time on Friday (March 8) is 7:10 p.m. The full entries for the card will be released next Tuesday.

Big M strides toward spring in high gear

After going a perfect eight-for-eight during February when it came to $3-million nights at the windows, The Meadowlands looks to keep the party train in motion with big business continuing into March at a facility that offers more than just the most popular harness racing in the world.

"The Meadowlands cruises into March on the heels of a big February at the box office," said track chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemyer. "Every card saw handle top $3 million as full fields continue to draw enormous interest in our wagering pools. As the weather warms up, we at The Big M are stepping up our on-track game, hoping to generate added excitement in the month of March."

With St. Patrick's Day coming in a little more than two weeks (on March 17), it's fitting that an Irish-bred pacer has been the talk of The Big M.

Oakwood Ardan IR, a 5-year-old gelded son of Sweet Lou – Trend Setter, picked up his sixth win in as many tries – all at The Meadowlands – Saturday (Feb. 24) night at the mile oval since his arrival from Great Britain, taking the featured high-end conditioned pace in 1:52.3.

Trainer Robert Cleary has done a good job of keeping his student fresh, as his winning streak began all the way back on Dec. 16 of last year.

"He's not bad," said Cleary with a laugh. "He does what he likes to do. Chase down horses."

IT'S ALL RIGHT HERE: The Meadowlands has many promotions coming up in the next several weeks sure to interest patrons into spending an evening at one of the more attractive destinations in the Metropolitan Area for a night out without having to deal with New York City traffic.

OH YES, IT'S LADIES' NIGHT: Saturday (March 9), will be one for women in harness racing to shine, as The Meadowlands will again host an International Women's Day-themed broadcast, sponsored by Clinton Tractor.

Jessica and Jenna Otten will host the in-house show on the live broadcast, and, in addition, Dawnelle Mock will be on hand for paddock and social media interviews. The night will include interviews, features and videos.

During the pregame show, Jessica will have Lauren Harmon on set as her guest "In the Sulky."

Harmon is a lifelong horsewoman who is the niece of Big M trainer Rob Harmon. The segment will begin at 5:50 p.m.

HANDICAP WELL, WIN SOME GREEN: After a brief hiatus, The Meadowlands is bringing back a live money handicapping contest on Saturday (March 23).

There is no entry fee ($100 live money bankroll required) for players and the prize pool is a guaranteed $5,000, which will be fully funded by The Big M. The night of the contest, players must register/check-in at the Clubhouse Lobby by 6:20 p.m. A $100 betting card must be purchased to participate as this is a live money/wagering contest.

The contest format is:

- Contestants must bet a minimum of 10 Meadowlands races.
- $10 minimum bet per race; no maximum bet.
- Win, place, show and/or exacta wagers only.
- One horse per race.
- Contestants keep all pari-mutuel winnings.
- Unlimited entries allowed per person.
- Players keep all pari-mutuel winnings.

For complete contest rules and regulations, go here.

GET FREE PPs: Past performances for every race of every Meadowlands program are available free of charge by going to playmeadowlands.com.

THE GREAT EIGHT: The Meadowlands provides eight opportunities for the player to make a score trying their luck betting in pools with a low 15 per cent takeout. The lineup of The Big M's "Great Eight" is as follows (all wagers – with the exception of the Pick-7 – are carryover eligible):

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 2: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7
- Race 4: 20-cent Pick-8
- Race 6: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guarantee)
- Race 7: 20-cent High-5
- Race 8: 20-cent Pick-6
- Race 10: 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guarantee)
- Race 11: 20-cent High-5

CHECK OUT THE SHOW: The Big M's live "Racing from The Meadowlands" pregame show takes place before every live race card from the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set.

The broadcast begins at 5:45 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday, before the live racing kicks off at 6:20 p.m.

"X" MARKS THE SPOT: Everything Meadowlands is available by going on X (formerly known as Twitter). You can check in with the Big M team for early changes, racing information and staff selections by going to @themeadowlands or #playbigm.

Stay in touch with The Big M team of Otten (@JessicaOtten1), Dave Little (@DaveLittleBigM) and Ken Warkentin (@kenvoiceover).

WITHERITE'S RACE REVIEWS: Race reviews and selections by The Meadowlands' morning-line odds maker and program analyst James Witherite are available 48 hours before a given race card. To access, simply go to playmeadowlands.com, go to the "handicapping" tab, then click "race reviews."

Buffalo Raceway ready for Saturday's opener

Buffalo Raceway is ready to open the 2024 live harness racing season on Saturday night (March 2) with a 13-race program set to get underway at 6 p.m.

The featured events on the card will be the $14,000 open pace in the seventh race followed by the $14,000 open trot in the ninth.

It will also be the first night fans can enjoy the action in high definition in-house and online. Also, new graphics have been added to complement the high-definition broadcast.

Opening night will feature free programs for all customers and it is also the return of the Lucky Exacta contest. Fans will receive a lucky exacta combination along with a "Where You Goin" t-shirt. Should your exacta come in during specified races, you will spin the wheel for free wagers.

While fans will enjoy the new presentation of the races, they'll also see familiar faces in the driver colony and on the trainers' side of the ledger.

Jim Morrill, Jr. will be seeking his fourth straight driving championship. He won 126 races last season and $1,075,059 in purse earnings. Kevin Cummings, who finished in second place last season with 100 victories, is poised to make another run at the title while Joe Chindano, Jr., who placed third last season with 75 scores, is back and is expected to be a contender as well.

Other local favorites set to drive in the opener are Drew Monti, David McNeight, Jr., David McNeight III, Ray Fisher, Jr., Kyle Swift and Kyle Cummings.

On the trainers' side, Samuel Smith, who took the championship on the last night of the 2023 season, looks for a repeat after posting 49 victories last year. He'll be battling it out with David Russo who was second with 45 wins and Jennifer Giuliani who was third with 40.

Other trainers to focus in on opening night include Shawn McDonough, Maria Rice, Ryan Swift, James Clouser, Jr. and Christopher Petrelli.

Buffalo Raceway will race Wednesdays at 2:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 6:00 p.m. with the exception of Saturday (May 4, Kentucky Derby Day) which will begin at 2:30 p.m. Friday racing will begin on April 3 with the starting time slated for 2:30 p.m.
