Handle growth requires wide-open harness racing data...

... and bright minds to interpret it.

BRUSH AND CRUSH

by DEAN TOWERS

by Dean Towers

Arjun Menon is a senior at the University of Michigan majoring in Sports Management with a focus on analytics and a minor in economics. He's also the owner of one of the best X \(Twitter\) feeds around. It details hard-to-find football stats, actionable intelligence and angles he programmed himself that bettors and fans use to enjoy the sport.

How did his feed get so popular?

"I've always been a football fan, but it got taken to the next level when I learned to code my freshman year of college, and that was only possible because of all the public NFL data available," Menon said to me via a direct message on "X".

"If NFL data wasn't there, I probably wouldn't have taken learning coding that seriously and may not have been where I am now."

It would be interesting if Menon was a unique case, but he isn't.

Ben Baldwin and a partner run Rbsdm.com, a completely free site with some mind-blowing handicapping and general interest football statistics, all created with free data. In addition, this same free data has spawned popular websites like The Edge and NFL Player Stat Explorer which are independently owned and created.

Pop onto football betting reddit sometime, and you'll see these sites — as well as many others like them — referenced over and over again by fans and bettors alike. There is little doubt the explosion of free data has helped enrich not only interest in the sport of football at the micro-level, but has also driven betting handle in the aggregate.

Meanwhile, in horse racing land where data has been protected for eons, we are starting to see some cracks in the armor.

Just this month, Equibase announced they're offering a free dataset for the entire year of 2023 for the sport of thoroughbred racing. The data giant said in a release that the "potential uses for the data include testing for product development or individual handicapping theories, support for research projects in academia, and enabling sports marketers and organizations outside the industry to see the type of data available for horse racing."

Equibase also noted this data release is what they'd consider only a "first step" to stimulate interest and innovation.

A second step, I believe, should be harness racing offering everything – every race, every chart line, every piece of past performance data they have in the sports' history – for free to these same masses.

When we get the data out there it allows the Baldwins and Menons and other sharp programmers to have at it, if they wish. It allows them to create, innovate and potentially drum-up interest in the sport.

Last summer my cottage neighbor, a nice young lad about 13, came over to see me. He was taking a summer course in coding and wondered if I could help him with something.

"Do you know Python?" he asked.

"The snake?" I replied, only half joking.

No, I couldn't help my young neighbor, but it reminded me that it's a completely different world. Our pens, papers and highlighters were once the mighty tools of the handicapping trade, but they're being replaced with R and SQL and Python. I believe it's time for the sport to sail with the tide, not continue to row against it.

Owner/trainer/driver John Calabrese continues to prove it all night

by Debbie Little

As a teenager growin' up in the '70s in New Jersey, three things were important to John Calabrese: harness racing, Bruce Springsteen, and the New York Football Giants.

Calabrese, the Dan Patch Amateur Driver of the Year for 2023, had never seen a harness race before they built The Meadowlands a few towns away from where he grew up in Bergen County.

“In the summer of 1980, [Niatross] was in the Oliver Wendell Holmes,” Calabrese said. “They gave out posters and I think there were 42,000 people there that night. They actually opened up the gates early that night for some reason and it was packed.”

~ John Calabrese

“It was a big thing,” Calabrese said of the construction of The Big M. “I watched them build it all through high school. You could sit in the back of the history department and watch them put the steel up.”

Calabrese admits that at that time he was more interested in the football stadium that was being built across the parking lot from the racetrack, because he was a Giants fan.

“We all went to Opening Night at The Meadowlands [in 1976], and then I started working there maybe a year later,” he said.

Calabrese, who was born 10 years and one day after his hero, Bruce Springsteen, also saw the Giants christen their stadium a month after The Meadowlands opened.

“I may have been a senior in high school, but I started working there on Opening Day at Giants Stadium,” he said.

Calabrese sold hot dogs at Giants Stadium so that he could get into the games for free.

He eventually did a similar job at The Meadowlands.

“I worked there when they built [Paddock] Park because when the track first opened, there was no park,” he said.

Calabrese, who will be the guest on The Meadowlands’ pregame show’s “In The Sulky” segment on Saturday night (March 30), is proud of his accomplishments at the mile oval. One in particular that stands out is when a 20-year-old Calabrese saw Niatross compete.

“In the summer of 1980, [Niatross] was in the Oliver Wendell Holmes,” Calabrese said. “They gave out posters and I think there were 42,000 people there that night. They actually opened up the gates early that night for some reason and it was packed.”

DIAMOND CREEK

“The last few years, I’ve worked harder than ever,” Calabrese said. “I put more miles on my truck in the last three years doing this amateur driving.”

~ John Calabrese

Calabrese was manning his hot dog cart on the macadam near the building, not far from the winner’s circle.

“I had a line of 20 people from the time I walked out there to the time I was done,” he said.

At the end of the night, Calabrese had sold 1,042 hot dogs, a record that still stands.

“So, for everybody that has a track record at The Meadowlands, I have one, too,” he said with a laugh.

Even though he was exceptionally busy that night, Calabrese still got to watch Niatross – his favorite horse – race and win.

“I could sell and look at the same time,” he said with a laugh. “The people [on line] would want to watch the race, too, so it was almost like you took a minute break from working when he got past the half and watched him come down the lane.

“I had the greatest seat in the house for three or four years, you know.”

Niatross is still Calabrese’s favorite horse.

“I think he’s still the greatest horse ever,” he said. “It’s not like today. He went everywhere. Half miles, two heats.”

Unlike many amateur drivers who also have full-time jobs as doctors or lawyers, Calabrese is all about harness racing.

He owns a couple of horses that he also trains and has a farm where residents of nearby Magical Acres (Chesterfield, NJ) turn out horses in his paddocks.

He was started in the business by his dad.

“My father talked about getting a horse,” he said. “So, that’s why I went onto the backstretch to learn what’s going on and then we started buying.”

“I’m pretty sure [our first horse] was Triple Coup from Larry Remmen.”

When he was starting out, in addition to taking care of a couple of his own, Calabrese helped train horses in the morning for the Remmens, Noel Daley, Jim Campbell and Chris Ryder.

“I worked for Chucky [Sylvester] for three years,” Calabrese said. “I never had a trotter until I worked for Chucky. When I started with him, I had those things on the run all over the place and now that’s all I buy.

“You want to learn about trotters, go work for Chucky for a couple of years. He was amazing. He would just answer anything you wanted. And then when I started buying trotters, he gave me a lot of help.”

As the reigning Amateur Driver of the Year, Calabrese is afforded the honor to represent the United States at the World Championship for Amateur Drivers (World Cup), which will be held in August in Finland.

When Calabrese was chosen, Joe Faraldo, president of the North American Amateur Drivers Association (NAADA), explained why he thought Calabrese was a good selection.

“His UDRS, driving horses he never sat behind before, driving on the lead and from behind, all around good horseman, and very good all-around driver, period,” Faraldo said. “He will make a good rep at the upcoming World Cup.”

Calabrese was ultra-consistent in 2023, hitting the board in 48 per cent of his drives. That consistency has carried over to 2024, where he’s now hitting the board 56 per cent of the time and has four wins in five starts at The Meadowlands.

In the 30-year history of the Amateur Driver of the Year award, only Hannah Miller and Dein Spriggs have won it in back-to-back years. Calabrese would like to make that number three.

“The last few years, I’ve worked harder than ever,” Calabrese said. “I put more miles on my truck in the last three years doing this amateur driving.”

Calabrese’s hard work has paid off, culminating in a career year in 2023.

At 64, he said he wants to start slowing down a little but the thought of winning the title again is on his mind.

“I don’t know if it’s going to be this year or next year, but I’m going to start cutting back and enjoying life a little bit because it’s been more than I’ve done in my whole career of horses.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Trainer Julie Wagonblott's horses are thriving on TLC

by Chris Lomon

From pats to pep talks, to post-race pecks, trainer Julie Wagonblott's unabashed love for her horses is always on display.

In the minutes before one of her standardbreds heads out to the track, the pacer or trotter is peppered with affection and encouraging words ahead of their upcoming race.

"They are my babies," Wagonblott said. "Everything is about them. Whenever I am at the racetrack, in the paddock, I don't leave their side. I always tell them before the race, 'Be careful out there and come back to me safe.'"

On the night of Feb. 8, everyone at Batavia Downs, horse people, horse racing fans and others, were all witness to a beautiful moment between Wagonblott and Pennant Seelster, a 10-year-old son of Manofmanymissions—Pepi Lavec.

The bay trotter, who Wagonblott has owned for four years, was in tough for the evening's third race.

In rein to Michael Baumeister, Pennant Seelster, at 19-1, took on six foes in the $10,135 dash.

After a quick start to get away second, the gelding maintained his position through a half in 1:00.3 before being shuffled back to third at the three-quarter mark.

Wagonblott, with a bird's-eye view of the action, watched nervously as Pennant Seelster and Baumeister endeavored to track down the leader, who was nearly two lengths on top with a quarter of a mile to go.

A second-place finish seemed well within reach.

Pennant Seelster had other ideas.

With the wire quickly approaching, the veteran trotter hit another gear and got up in the final steps to secure a half-length score in 2:01.2.

"I didn't think he was going to win it, so I was standing there, urging him on," Wagonblott said. "In the end, he took off. Our driver told us that after he came around the turn, he kind of let go of the lines and let Pennant do what he needed to, and he took over and took him for the ride."

It was the 17th career win for Pennant Seelster, nicknamed Seely, and the first victory for his trainer.

The winner's circle photo was a memorable moment for both.

"Wendy Lowery, who is the track photographer — she is amazing — told me she noticed the bond I have with my horses," Wagonblott said. "In every picture that I have, I am kissing them."

“If [my horses] lose, I let them know it’s okay; we’ll just get them next week. They always get their treats and loving after every race and believe it or not, whether it’s Alan, or my girl, American Jazz, who I’ve had less than a year, we have a routine that every night before I leave, I tell them I’m going home and to have a good night. Each one of them puts their heads out of their stalls for their goodnight kisses.”

~ Julie Wagonblott

I don’t stand to the side of the horse. When I was positioning him for the picture, I was telling him he did a great job. Wendy caught me doing that and she got a photo of him looking at me and listening to me.

“He is also the horse who helped me get my trainer’s license. Here, you have to do a written test and then after you pass that, you have to do a track test. One of the things you have to do is take them around the track for a 2-minute mile. I chose him. Whenever I jog him, if he gets spooked, I just tell him, ‘Mommy’s back here’ and he instantly relaxes and goes back to what we were doing. He is special and will always hold a special place in my heart.”

It is a perfect example of the connection Wagonblott shares with her horses.

Alan, known as Lil Man around the barn, is an 8-year-old son of Dontyouforgetit—Betty Jean, who has made 153 starts, 28 of them wins, over his career.

Wagonblott has owned the Trotter for a Year.

“He is my special little guy,” she said. “I remember his first race. I had some people say, ‘What is he going to do? He’s so little!’ I ignored them, and low and behold, he took that race by nearly 12 lengths. I just grinned and smiled at everybody because he showed them what his little body could do and showed proof that size does not matter.”

And then there is American Jazz, also known as Princess.

The daughter of American Ideal—Southwind Jazmin has 11 career wins, including one this year for Wagonblott, who also owns the 5-year-old bay mare.

“She can be a handful because she is young and still learning manners, but she is a good girl and is eager to please,” Wagonblott said. “She’s funny. If she doesn’t win a race, she will fight on the way to the wash stalls because she wants to go back on the track as if she’s telling us she wants a redo.”

Whether they get their win photo taken or finish off the board, each horse is treated as if they won by open lengths.

“If they lose, I let them know it’s okay; we’ll just get them next week,” she said. “They always get their treats and loving after every race and believe it or not, whether it’s Alan, or my girl, American Jazz, who I’ve had less than a year, we have a routine that every night before I leave, I tell them I’m going home and to have a good night. Each one of them puts their heads out of their stalls for their goodnight kisses.”

If you had asked Wagonblott a few years back if those scenes were in her future, she likely would have laughed off the very thought of it.

“I met my boyfriend, Carmen, and he had one horse,” Wagonblott said. “I fell in love with this horse, the more I helped him and the more I went to the racetrack and helped him out. I ended up liking everything about the sport. That is what inspired me to get my trainer’s license. I look back a few years and I didn’t even know how to clean a stall and I was timid around the horses. I give a lot of credit to my boyfriend for teaching me everything about the horses, how to care for them, and what they need to be healthy and happy.”

All of it is a dream come true, literally.

“I was that young girl who always wanted a horse and hoped one day that I would have one to call my own,” Wagonblott said. “My mom always tells my boyfriend, ‘You helped my daughter fulfil her dream.’ Never in a million years would I have thought I would be training a horse. But that’s where I am.”

And there is no place else Wagonblott, who also owns a local store, would rather be.

“I love it,” she said. “I truly do. I feel so lucky and blessed to work with horses and to have such a special relationship with them.”

Something she is reminded of whenever she watches them leave the paddock and head to the racetrack.

“Every race they go out, I hope they win,” she said. “But if they don’t, there is always next week. If they come back safe and sound, that is the most important thing.”

It's the 50th anniversary of Team Haughton's greatest training season

by Bob Heyden

It's the 50th anniversary of probably the greatest training season ever.

In 1974, Team Haughton, dad Billy and son Peter, had 88 stakes' wins and over $3 million in earnings.

Of the seven $100,000 races in the sport that year, six of the seven were won by the Haughtons with three for Billy and three for the 19- and then 20-year-old Peter.

Peter won:

The $150,000 Prix D'Ete.

The $117,095 Colonial.

The $100,000 American Pacing Championship. (Handle With Care thus became history's first sub 1:55 winner beating the boys at Hollywood Park in 1:54.4).

Billy won:

The $160,150 Hambletonian. (His first, with Christopher T).

The $104,350 Adios.

The $100,300 L K Shapiro.

Along the way, Armbr Omaha became the first winner of five $100,000 races in a single season.

ROLE REVERSAL?

A major statistical oddity on Night #2 of the recently opened Hoosier Park meet. On Saturday (March 23) in race 4, a $20,000 claimer named I C Caviar was second for driver Marvin Luna and trainer Charles Stewart. The 13YO gelding is by Malabar Millennium, and was making his 315th lifetime start. His slate now reads 315 49-55-43 good for $543,474. The oddity? His dad was just 1-for-12 lifetime for 71G, and that one was the 2002 Hambletonian elimination, his claim to fame. Speaking of oddities, on Opening Night, an 18-year-old driver handled a 12-year-old horse. Wyatt Farmer with Bell I No, also hit the board, finishing third at 7-1.

GELDING KING

We are a month out (April 28) from the 27th birthday for Gallo Blue Chip, who is now the oldest living standardbred Horse of the Year. CR Kay Suzie's passing last year at 30, passed the torch to Gallo, who was not only the HOY 24 years ago, but was the single season money record setter at $2.4 million topped only by Somebeachsomewhere eight years later.

GOOD NEWS FOR DAVE MILLER AND T C I?

Can the winningest 2YO trotter combine with the winningest active money-winning driver to win the 2024 Hambletonian? Can Dave Miller breakthrough in the 25th anniversary year of his very first Hambletonian drive – 1999 getting no money with two also-rans (Supershade eighth and Big Z Crown ninth). Can Miller follow the Billy Haughton blueprint of not win in your first quarter century and then break the ice in your 50s? Haughton started in 1949 to no avail with Crossbow, and a quarter century later in 1974 at age 50 he did get it done with Christopher T.

WHAT WAS IT ABOUT 2012?

World Champions were foaled everywhere in the year 2012. Consider that it was the year that Pinkman was born and he was so non-descript early on at 2 in 2014 he would be entered as Hip #1518 in the Harrisburg Mixed Sale. Taken out after he found his stride. To this day he is the single-season record holder for any Jimmy Takter trainee at $1.9 million in 2015.

- Homicide Hunter is now 6 years into being the fastest trotter ever, 1:48.4, not counting his Breeders Crown win at Pocono.
- Hannelore Hanover was born the same year as Homicide Hunter and she scorched the same Red Mile oval in 1:49.2 during her 2017 HOY season with $3 million, too.
- Wiggle It Jiggle It was the 2015 HOY and to this day is the all-time two-season record holder (2015-16) in earnings among all pacers at $3.9 million plus.
- Always B Miki, the 2016 HOY was the first to win in 1:46 and now the fastest sire ever to six Breeders Crown wins. He is the reason WIJL didn't surge past $4 million for that illustrious 2015-16 period.
- Mission Brief, born on Leap Year Day in 2012, is the greatest 2-3YO trotting filly these eyes have seen. Try and find another female trotter at 2 and 3 who was the fastest of the age group, regardless of sex.
- JK She'salady ran the table in 2014 at 2 en route to HOY, and then, incredibly, was the Broodmare of the Year five years later.
- Freaky Feet Pete, born in 2012, was 32-for-42 at 2-3-4. Outstanding, especially doing so against two Horses of the Year in ABM and WIJL.

AKE SVANSTEDT LOOKS TO CONTINUE MAKING HAMBLETONIAN HISTORY

He's coming off an epic season which saw his horses completely dominate the trotting scene. Now 65, Ake Svanstedt is looking to keep the ball rolling especially on Hambletonian Day where he's already a two-time winner.

History says:

- Del Miller last drove in the 1982 Hambletonian at age 69 making a break with favored Arndon.
- Stanley Dancer was 65 for his Hambletonian finale in 1992 with Guardian Angel who was unable to make the final finishing fourth in his elim.
- Howard Beissinger was 66 in 1989 when his Shogun Lobell was fourth in the dead-heat Hambletonian season. Beissinger was just 20 years removed from his debut in 1969 with Triple Crown winner Lindy's Pride at age 46.
- Mike Lachance was 62 with Creatine in 2013, where he won his elim but was eighth with the big money on the line.

- John Campbell had three shots at it at age 61 in his finale in 2016 with longshots in the elims – The Royal Harry, Mavens Way, Hollywood Highway – and none went forward.
- Doug Ackerman was 63 in 1991 with Wall Street Banker who was eighth in his elim.
- Berndt Lindstedt was 66 in 2002 with Likely Lad, who finished fourth in the elim, but he took Choco Chip Hanover who hit the board in his elim and then was seventh in the final.

FIRST CROPPERS CROWN SHOW-STOPPERS

Last year, five winners were from their sires first offerings: Walner with Jiggy Jog S, Huntsville with Max Contract, Downbytheseaside with Bythemissal, Always B Miki with Grace Hill and Tactical Landing with Tactical Approach.

FOR PETE'S SAKE

Can anyone top this? Pete Wrenn has the distinction of being able to say he was leading driver at nine different tracks. Is it even possible to eclipse that?

507 TRIPLE CROWN RACES IN THE BOOKS...

Will anyone younger than 22 years and two weeks ever again win a Triple Crown event?

Peter Haughton's record from the 1976 Kentucky Futurity with Quick Pay has been approached just once, by Scott Zeron (23) in the 2012 Jug with Michaels Power.

Will anyone capture the Pacing Triple Crown, vacant since 2003 when No Pan Intended did it?

WORKING ON IT

Answer in next column... Looking for the sire with the fewest career starts who has a HOY credit. So far, Swan For All at 11 8-2-0 with Hannelore Hanover in 2017 is a good start.

World champ Plunge Blue Chip delivers Chapter Seven filly for Kountry Lane

by Dr. Bridgette Jablonsky

This beautiful Chapter Seven filly, owned by Kountry Lane Standardbreds and foaled at Anvil And Lace Farm, is out of the world champion Plunge Blue Chip 3.1:49.4 $1,576,251. Foaled on March 20, and photographed at just one week of age, this filly is just the second foal out of Plunge Blue Chip. The first foal, a 2-year-old Chapter Seven filly named Kountry Meadow, is currently in training in the Lindy Farms Racing Stable. Plunge Blue Chip will be bred back to Walner.

Thayer seeks return of Breeders Crown to Kentucky

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Kentucky State Sen. Damon Thayer hopes an amendment to state legislation could help pave the way for a return of the Breeders Crown to the Bluegrass State.

Sen. Thayer, a Republican who serves as the Senate Majority Floor Leader, introduced an amendment that would create an international harness racing event reserve account of up to $900,000 for a Kentucky track that hosts an international harness racing event that distributes at least $5 million in purses and awards.

Beginning on July 31, 2024, the account would receive $300,000 annually until it reached the $900,000 threshold.

“My goal is to see Kentucky part of the Breeders Crown rotation,” said Sen. Thayer, a longtime horse racing advocate who is completing his 22nd and final year in the Senate. “That’s the language we came up with to try to get us in the running. The licensing fee to host the Breeders Crown is $900,000. So, I wanted to set up a perpetual fund that would give a Kentucky track the impetus to make a bid for the Breeders Crown.”

Lexington’s Red Mile has hosted Breeders Crown races on two occasions, including the championship’s inaugural event, the 2-year-old colt-and-gelding trot won by Workaholic, on Oct. 5, 1984. Three years later, the track was the location for the Breeders Crown Mare Pace, which was won by Follow My Star.

Since 2010, all 12 Breeders Crown races have been held at a single track.

Dave Landry
The Red Mile.

"Getting Kentucky in the rotation for the Breeders Crown is a strong economic driver," Sen. Thayer said. "The Red Mile is the obvious spot and Lexington would be a great host city, but that certainly wouldn't preclude our two newer tracks, Cumberland Run and Oak Grove, from bidding on it if they want to. But clearly The Red Mile has the facilities, the history, the racing surface, and a big-time city like Lexington that would make it a prime host."

"This would be a great opportunity to show off the horse capital of the world."

Sen. Thayer, whose prior experience in horse racing included working for the Breeders' Cup, played an instrumental role in advancing the 2021 legislation that brought historical horse racing to Kentucky. The pari-mutuel gaming machines have generated billions of dollars in wagering and fueled the growth of the industry and purses in the state.

"We've got a lot of standardbred farms here and more and more are being added every year," Sen. Thayer said. "People are buying the dual-eligible Kentucky-breds at the Lexington Selected Sale here in the fall. The standardbred industry is really on a very positive trajectory."

In addition to the amendment for the event reserve account, Sen. Thayer introduced an amendment to provide up to $250,000 annually for standardbred, thoroughbred, and quarter horse aftercare facilities in Kentucky that have achieved and maintained levels of service and operation that resulted in national accreditation.

"I just feel with the success of historical horse racing here in Kentucky that we should peel off some of the proceeds each year to support aftercare efforts here," Sen. Thayer said. "I think this is the best way to do it."

"Before I leave at the end of the year, I wanted to make sure that aftercare was included in that amendment. We incentivize the breeding of racehorses through our breeders' incentives program — thoroughbred, standardbred, and quarter horse — and I felt we should have something on the backend to show our support for these aftercare efforts."

The bill containing the equine-related amendments advanced from committee last week and will be voted upon this week.

Sen. Thayer represents Kentucky's 17th Senate District, which includes southern Kenton County, and all of Grant and Scott counties. He announced this past December that he would not seek re-election in 2024.

"I made my decision not to run again with a clear mind and a happy heart," Sen. Thayer said. "I'm enjoying my last session but looking forward to the next chapter of my life. It will probably be heavily involved in horse racing and bourbon making, my two favorite things."

Give Me This Dance voted 2023 California Harness Horse of the Year

The California Harness Horsemen's Association along with the California Sires Stakes had their annual banquet and awards ceremony in the clubhouse at Cal Expo this past Saturday (March 23).

Jim Perez, executive director for the CHHA, presided over the meeting along with Donna Newman, executive administrator for the Sires Stakes committee.

Perez talked about such items as an increased new horse incentive for the future 2024-25 Cal Expo meet, the solid horsemen's agreement and contract with Watch and Wager through 2030, along with remembering horsemen and horses who had passed away in the past year.

Chris Schick, General Manager for Watch and Wager, also spoke about the current successful meet at Cal Expo and the promising future for Cal Expo horsemen.

Donna Newman also spoke of the Sires Stakes growth of foal crops since the program was revamped through legislation in 2017, along with the new policy of dropping the stallion registration fee starting with the breeding season of 2024. She then went on to present the Sires Stakes award winners.

Worthy Opponent was the 4-year-old horse divisional champion. By Hi Ho Silverheel's out of Mistup Magic, he had 32 starts, four wins, three seconds and three thirds in 2023 and banked $39,085. He was owned by Wayne Knittel and trained by Bob Johnson.

Divine Art was the 4-year-old mare divisional champion. By Outrageous Art out of Keystone Divine, she had 35 starts, 12 wins, four seconds and four thirds, earning $120,634. She was owned and trained by Gerry Longo.

Longo also picked up the leading driver and trainer award in the Sires Stakes.

Jim Perez then went on to award the CHHA Horse of the Year award to a mare for the first time in 36 years. Give Me This Dance was a 4-year-old mare with 31 starts, 12 wins, seven seconds and one third while bankrolling $130,649. She was owned by Alan and Cheryl Sandbulte and trained by Jose Castillo.

Woodbine Mohawk Park back in action Saturday with 15-race card

Woodbine Mohawk Park is set to resume live racing this Saturday (March 30) with an extra-large 15-race card.

The New Holland Pacing and Trotting Series finals will highlight the super-sized program on Saturday. The $71,000 Pacing Series final will go as race 6, while the $70,000 Trotting Series final is carded as race 9.

Whichwaytothebeach carries momentum in the New Holland Pacing Series final after a 3 ¼ lengths score in the second leg. The Garry Merner trainee is no stranger to stakes finals, having raced in last year's Canadian Pacing Derby and many top Grand Circuit events as a 3-year-old.

Sylvain Filion will sit behind Whichwaytothebeach, leaving from post 3. The 6-year-old posted a mile of 1:50.3 in last week's second leg, the fastest of all the preliminary legs.

First leg winners HP Momentum (post 1, Trevor Henry) and Jilliby Dynamite A (post 4, Louis-Philippe Roy) will be prominent factors in Saturday's final.

The New Holland Pacing Series final will go as race 6 (8:15 p.m.) with a full field of 10.

The New Holland Trotting Series final will have all eyes on 7-year-old Pemberton. The former O'Brien Award winner has won two of three starts this season, including a length and a half second leg triumph in 1:55.2.

James MacDonald will sit behind the Julie Walker trained Pemberton, who has 16 lifetime wins and over $600,000 in earnings. Post 2 is the starting spot for Pemberton.

Southwind Oncore (post 1, Travis Cullen) got the better of Pemberton in the opening leg of the New Holland. The Jodie Cullen trainee posted a career best 1:53 victory in round one, but finished fifth in the next round.

The New Holland Trotting Series final will have a field of nine clashing with post time scheduled for 9:24 pm.

EARLY POST TIME AND ADDED WAGERS

After live racing took a brief "Spring Cleaning Break," the action resumes on Saturday at an early post time of 6:10 p.m.

The 15-race card will feature three Pick-5 wagers and three Pick-4 wagers.

The $100,000 Early Pick-5 starts in race 1, while the middle Pick-5 starts in race 6 and the Late Pick-5 in race 11.

The Pick-4 wagers start in races 4, 8 and 12.

MGM Borgata Pacing Series action kicks off April racing at Yonkers

The fields are now set for leg #3 of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series, which will take place at MGM Yonkers Raceway on Monday (April 1). A total of 22 horses were entered and were split into a trio of $50,000 divisions.

Desperate Man (post 3) and Rocknroll Runa (post 7) improved to two-for-two in the series Monday night (March 25) and will meet for the first time in the event in the featured third section (race 9). They'll be joined by Whats Stanley Got A (post 4), one of the other leg 2 victors and round 1 winner Covered Bridge (post 6).

Linedrive Hanover (post 6) has a win and a second thus far in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series and is the headliner back in the first of Monday's tests (race 5). MGM Borgata Pacing Series 2022 champion Funatthebeach N (post 4) was a game second in his race last night and will try to back that up against Linedrive Hanover.

Dunkin' (post 1) tallied in his split in leg 2 and will look for another victory in the second of the third-round flights (race 8). Defending MGM Borgata Pacing Series champion Hellabalou (post 7) is also in this dash, as is Backstreet Shadow (post 6), who will make just his second pari-mutuel appearance of 2024.

A full look at the fields is as follows:

Many ways to get your action at The Big M

For fans craving action, The Meadowlands is where it's at this four-day weekend (March 28-31) with live racing featuring big fields.

The No. 1 harness track in the world will offer live racing tonight and Saturday night. Each card has 14 races and will begin at 6:20 p.m.

The Big M is coming off another $3-million Saturday night, as nearly $3.2 million was pushed through the windows. During 2024, there have been 19 programs when betting has bettered the $3-million barrier from just 23 race dates.

Players can, as usual, rest assured they are putting their money into by far the biggest pools in harness racing as full fields will once again be the rule, as average field size over the 28-race race week is an impressive 9.4.

SATURDAY SPOTLIGHT: The stars will be out on the live card Saturday at The Big M, starting with a 15-year-old wonder horse.

Mariner Seelster, permitted to race only because horses beyond the age of 14 are eligible to perform in fair or amateur dashes in New Jersey, will go for his fifth consecutive victory in the opener, a Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club 2 event on the pace.

Before the races begin, 2023 Dan Patch Amateur Driver of the Year John Calabrese will be Dave Little's guest on the track's pregame show "In the Sulky" segment, which begins shortly after the broadcast begins at 5:45 p.m.

During the card, Andy McCarthy is sure to have plenty of punters interested in how he's doing.

His dominance on Saturdays has been scintillating all year long.

McCarthy guided four winners last Saturday (March 23) at the mile oval, including the feature, with Betterinpinehurst.

There have been 11 Saturday race cards conducted during 2024 at The Meadowlands, and McCarthy has at least one win on each one. He's won at least three dashes seven times, at least four on three occasions and became just the second driver this year at The Big M to win five times, which he accomplished on Feb. 24.

CHECK OUT THE SHOW: The Big M's live "Racing from The Meadowlands" pregame show takes place before every live race card from the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set.

The broadcast begins at 5:45 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday, before racing kicks off at 6:20 p.m.

This weekend, Little will be hosting both shows. Tonight, joining The Big M TV veteran on the set will be John Rallis before Anthony Stabile sits in the chair on Saturday.

HANDICAPPING CONTEST POSTPONED: Due to the heavy rainstorm that hit the metropolitan area last Saturday, the live money handicapping contest at The Meadowlands was postponed and will now be held on Saturday (April 6).

There is no entry fee for players and the prize pool is a guaranteed $5,000, which will be fully funded by The Big M. The night of the contest, players must register/check-in at the Clubhouse Lobby by 6:20 p.m., and a $100 betting card — cash only — must be purchased to participate, as this is a live money/wagering contest. Entry includes a program.

The contest format:

- Contestants must bet a minimum of 10 Meadowlands races
- $10 minimum bet per race; no maximum bet
- Win, Place, Show and/or Exacta wagers only

- One horse per race
- Unlimited entries allowed per person
- Players keep all pari-mutuel winnings

Prize board:

- 1st: $2,000
- 2nd: $1,250
- 3rd: $1,000
- 4th: $500
- 5th: $250

For complete contest rules and regulations, go here.

DRIVE OF THE WEEK: On Friday night (March 23), Dave Miller was named the second recipient of the track's weekly "Drive of the Week" award for his handling of Buddy Earl, who won on Saturday (March 16), after superbly timed piloting.

Want to get involved?

Each Monday, following the weekend of racing, The Meadowlands will post a poll on X (the platform formerly known as Twitter) asking fans to vote for their favorite drive of the past weekend. The poll will run for 24 hours, allowing one vote per X handle.

Meadowlands TV and management will select at least two outstanding drives from the weekend to include in the poll. Fans can suggest a drive to be included in the poll via X. If that drive is included in the poll, the fan will receive a $25 betting voucher valid at The Meadowlands (for those 18+, random drawing used if multiple fans suggest the same drive).

The winning drive will be announced every Tuesday afternoon and the winning driver will receive a $500 donation to the charity of their choice, courtesy of Jeff Gural and the Meadowlands.

Kakaley to PHHA board; Hartline voted vice president

The Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association is pleased to announce a new director to its board.

Matt Kakaley, leading driver at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania for the past two seasons, was recently seated at the March PHHA board of directors meeting. Boasting an 18-year career in the sport, Kakaley was one of the most active drivers of 2023, starting in over 3,000 races. Kakaley and his longtime girlfriend Annie are proud parents to daughter Arianna.

Additionally at the March meeting, Jacob Hartline was voted into the vice president position. An accomplished trainer at both PHHA tracks, Pocono and Harrah's Philadelphia, Hartline has been a PHHA director for over a decade.

Nob Hill Flash, Hashtag Money Game Of Claims champions

The Nob Hill High gelding Nob Hill Flash completed a sweep of his Game Of Claims series action for $15,000 base-tagged pacers Monday (March 25) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, tacking on a 1:52 victory in his $20,000 Championship event after winning in each of his preliminaries.

Nob Hill Flash, the 50-cent favorite, moved from third from driver Anthony Napolitano nearing the :27.2 quarter, but Play Jet Ray pulled the pocket in front of him and went around early leader Aerosmith Hanover, with Nob Hill Flash refilling his own hole. Just past the :55.4 half, the "Flash" flashed out uncovered and battled with Play Ray Jet the rest of the way, past a 1:23.3 three-quarters and through the lane until finally gaining the advantage as he won by a neck.

Owner Karen Taylor and trainer Pierre Paradis, who took over the horse after his first prelim win, won the second with him but then lost him to another claim, wound up winning the crucial game of musical claiming chairs last week when reacquiring him, and saw the game pacer garner the lion's share of the Championship purse. Despite being claimed every prelim week, Anthony Napolitano, top driver on the day with a quartet of triumphs, guided Nob Hill Flash in all four of his GOC wins.

The $7,500 base-priced pacers went their $15,000 Championship race on Monday as well, and Hashtag Money, who had won his two previous starts but had to overcome the outside post 8, made it look easy with a coast-to-coast win in 1:52.3, a new mark, while returning a big $81.40 mutuel. Fractions of :27.1, :56.2 and 1:23.4 proved no deterrent to the Alberta-bred Sunshine Beach gelding as he won by 3 lengths for driver Simon Allard. Unclaimed in his first two series legs, Hashtag Money moved to the corner of trainer Ivan Llopez and Friendship Stables LLC after the last prelim, and for that duo the timing was perfect.

Pocono also saw its fastest trotting mile of the year on the mild Monday card, as the Kadabra mare P L Notsonice was ready in her second seasonal race to tally in 1:53.4. Matt Kakaley was behind the winner of $455,946 for trainer Steven Brabrook and Elite Harness Racing LLC.

Dontpokethedragon, who lost a 10-race win streak when he was third in the final preliminary of his Game Of Claims Series group last Saturday (March 16) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, rebounded in a big way seven days later, overcoming a rough journey to take the $35,000 championship of the GOC event for $25,000 base-tag pacers in 1:54.1 under adverse conditions. In winning, Dontpokethedragon regained the North American lead for most victories in 2024 with nine success stories before the first quarter of the year has been passed.

Dontpokethedragon, a gelded son of Custard The Dragon driven by George Napolitano, Jr., was in the middle of the expected early scramble, tucking in fourth well before a :27.1 opener over a sloppy track and amidst temperatures dropping throughout the card from the first post mercury reading of 39 degrees. Napolitano had the favorite out and rolling going into the second turn, before the :55.4 half.

The “Dragon” roared up uncovered to challenge pacesetter Will The Wizard A, grabbing the lead near the 1:24.3 three-quarters. But a fresh challenger appeared in second-over Flashy Dude, and the race came down to these two, with Dontpokethedragon winning by a neck over that tough rival. Tam Major A, bothered in traffic after being shuffled, came flying late to be third and complete a 1-2-3 finish by the only three in the field of eight who had posted two victories in their three preliminaries.

Dontpokethedragon had changed hands after each of his prelims, and the ownership who wound up winning this series’ game of musical claiming chairs was P T Stable, with Lou Pena picking up the training duties. The sidewheeler’s sponsorship already has back $17,500 of its $30,000 investment of the previous week, and Dontpokethedragon, “just a claimer,” was at press time the fourth-richest pacer of the year in the U.S. and Canada, with a seasonal bankroll of $81,200. (There is no claiming in the GOC finales, so Dontpokethedragon will have the chance to recoup more of P T Stable’s investment in his next start).

Cumberland, Maine qualifiers on RTN

First Tracks Cumberland is pleased to announce that the initial qualifying races slated for Saturday (April 6) will be broadcast live on the Race Track Network (RTN). The action starts at 11:30 a.m. (EDT) in a little over 10 days.

Trainers should declare by 9 am on Friday (April 5). Horses that have a clean line from Dec. 1, 2023, or after, are NOT required to qualify through the first two weekends of racing (until April 20). Beginning with the draw for the April 26th program, the 45-day rule goes back into effect.

Race secretary Rob Pennington said, "The track crew has done an excellent job maintaining the racing surface over the winter, which will benefit the racehorses and the horse people alike. By all accounts, everyone in Maine is looking forward to another exciting spring-summer meet at the iconic Cumberland oval in Southern Maine."

Condition sheets for the upcoming meet will be available after the qualifiers, and additional information is always available on our website: <https://firsttrackscumberland.com/>.

In addition to the live RTN broadcast, qualifiers will also be streamed live via the internet (free) on our website. Click on live racing/video replays. The live racing icon in the player box will be enabled.

First Tracks Cumberland will remain on RTN channel 9747 this season. Race fans and horsemen can also go to: www.rtn.tv.

Opening day for First Tracks Cumberland spring-summer meet is April 12, with regular racing on Friday and Saturday each weekend. First post is slated for 3:15 pm (EDT) throughout the extended pari-mutuel meeting, which runs for 17 weeks (34 race dates) through Aug. 3.

For additional racing information, sign up for the for First Tracks Cumberland text messaging service. On a web browser, go to the following link: here.
