Rideau Carleton Raceway in Ottawa, ON has ceased racing after 63 years.

Racing ends at Rideau Carleton Raceway

The Ottawa facility is the fifth North American harness track to close since 2022.

by Debbie Little

Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Ottawa, the owner and operator of Rideau Carleton Raceway in Ontario announced on Thursday (April 2) that, effective immediately, racing has ended at the Ottawa, ON five-eighths-mile oval.

“We made significant investments in racing infrastructure and adjusted our operations multiple times over the last three years; however, a sustainable path forward was not possible,” said Christine Crump, president Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Ottawa in a press release. “Many of us hold deep respect and fond memories of the racing industry but consumer preferences have changed. This is a sad time for our team members, the horse racing community and all those directly impacted. Racing at Rideau Carleton Raceway will always be remembered as an important chapter in the site’s history.”

Kawartha Downs in the Peterborough, ON area is now the only Ontario harness track open east of Toronto.

Rideau Carleton Raceway, which opened on Sept. 1, 1962, is the latest in an unfortunate string of harness tracks to close their doors in the last four years.

Pompano Park ended operations on April 17, 2022, followed two years later by Freehold Raceway on Dec. 28, 2024, with the termination of Cal Expo Harness and Fraser Downs the next year, on May 2, 2025 and Aug. 15, 2025, respectively.

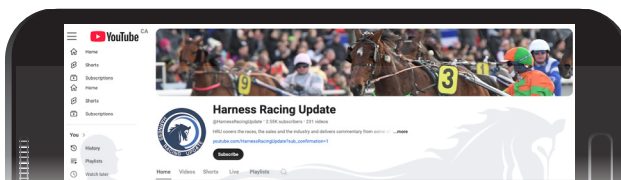

Illinois' only harness racing non-fair facility, Hawthorne Race Course, is currently in U.S. Bankruptcy Court, and it's still unclear if standardbred racing will resume at that facility in the Prairie State.

Unlike some of the municipalities that saw their racetracks closed, Ontario currently boasts 11 standardbred facilities in addition to Rideau Carleton Raceway.

Those 11 tracks — Clinton Raceway, Dresden Raceway, Flamboro Downs, Georgian Downs, Grand River Raceway, Hanover Raceway, Hiawatha Horse Park, Kawartha Downs, Leamington Raceway, The Raceway at Western Fair District, and Woodbine Mohawk Park — all had dates for 2026 announced in mid-to-late March, with Rideau Carleton Raceway being the only track not included.

In the most recent release, Andrew Gaughan, independent chair of Ontario Racing said in part, "To help ease this transition, a portion of the funding traditionally provided to Rideau Carleton Raceway will be used to establish a relocation support program, while the balance of funding will go back into purses for live horse racing at other Ontario standardbred racetracks."

ALL OVER ONTARIO

with MATTHEW LOMON

A bike ride past Truro Raceway eventually landed Ben Hollingsworth in the winner's circle

by Matthew Lomon

If there were ever an award recognizing the most interesting man in harness racing, Ben Hollingsworth would have as strong a claim as anyone.

"There aren't many jobs in this industry that I haven't done at some point or another," said the Truro, NS native. "When I was a kid, I was charting races. I was timing races. I worked in the race office helping out. I've done the numbers at the track. I've trained horses. I've groomed horses. I've driven horses. I was a vet assistant for a while – I've done it all... It's cool, after doing all those little things throughout the years, to be in the big leagues now."

A trainer by definition, the multi-talented Hollingsworth has spent the better part of 15 years sharpening his craft – then at his hometown Truro Raceway and now at harness ovals across Ontario.

His journey to the "big leagues," as the Guelph-based horseman coined it, originated from humble beginnings.

Horses had always been a constant presence in his life. His father and grandfather owned several, and he even looked after a pony of his own.

What Hollingsworth had rarely been around was racehorses. However, that changed for good following a chance encounter over the 2004 Easter weekend.

"I got a new bike for Easter, took it for a ride, and ended up at the racetrack," Hollingsworth said. "When I stopped there, I just happened to walk into the barn of Phil and Dale Pinkney, and I've been there every weekend and day since."

Wandering into the barn of an O'Brien Award-winning horseman like Phil Pinkney – out of complete happenstance – at no more than 13-years-old was tantamount to hitting the harness racing jackpot.

"They took me under their wing, made me part of their family, and taught me everything right from the ground up," Hollingsworth

"There aren't many jobs in this industry that I haven't done at some point or another. When I was a kid, I was charting races. I was timing races. I worked in the race office helping out. I've done the numbers at the track. I've trained horses. I've groomed horses. I've driven horses. I was a vet assistant for a while – I've done it all... It's cool, after doing all those little things throughout the years, to be in the big leagues now."

~ Ben Hollingsworth

said. "I started sweeping the floor of the barn – I didn't even know the difference between a mare and a stud."

He remains eternally grateful for his time with Phil, who passed away in 2021 at the age of 84, and the lifelong memories gained from learning under one of Atlantic Canada's most admired horsemen.

"Phil would pick me up after school on Fridays, let me stay at his house, and we'd spend all day Saturday at the barn," Hollingsworth said. "Saturday night, we'd watch Mohawk races on TV, and all those great horses like Admirals Express and Primetime Bobcat. Sunday morning, we'd go back to the barn and spend all day at the track, then he'd take me home after the races."

"I spent so much time with those guys; they taught me everything I know."

Hollingsworth obtained his trainer's license in 2009, five years after strolling into the Pinkney barn by chance.

He didn't waste any time translating the lessons from his mentors into a winning moment, which came in his third career start with Artsplace pacer Allamerican Parade on Dec. 6 at Truro.

“It’s been a lot of long days, late nights, and early mornings but that’s what you do... It would be nice to move more to the big track [Mohawk], but that’s hard to do. If we can have a little luck this summer, maybe by next summer, we’ll be there.”

~ Ben Hollingsworth

“It came in 2:09, around there [2:08.2],” Hollingsworth said with a laugh. “I remember it was the middle of winter, really cold, and the track was frozen like concrete – we probably shouldn’t have raced, but we did.”

“Doing it with that horse, who was given to me because the owner didn’t want him anymore, was really special. It was cool to reach the winner’s circle with my own horse and my own equipment – that was my ‘I made it’ moment.”

While firmly on the right path, Hollingsworth still had a few stops to make before going all-in on his racing dream.

In 2012, he enrolled at Dalhousie University to pursue a degree in Animal Science, which he obtained in May 2015.

During his time at the Halifax institution, Hollingsworth wore several hats, including horse trainer, scholar, and columnist at the Atlantic Post.

“They have somebody to cover every track, so I covered everything going on at Truro,” he said, adding with a laugh, “It was just something different. Writing is something I should do more of, but I’m happy doing what I’m doing right now.”

Hollingsworth’s extracurricular ventures also saw him travel across the United States with the Harness Horse Youth Foundation, educating children about horsemanship, animal care, and racing fundamentals.

Through his work with the foundation, Hollingsworth found himself working summers for Lindy Farms in Connecticut.

In his words, he “fell in love with the place.”

After working for Frank M. Antonacci and Lindy, Hollingsworth connected with trainer Tony Alagna the following summer.

The accomplished conditioner made him an offer he couldn’t refuse.

“He said to me, ‘I have a job for you wherever you want to go, U.S., Canada, doesn’t matter, but if you come back and you want to work for me, you’ll get to look after Artspeak,’” Hollingsworth said. “And that’s what I did.”

Hollingsworth became the 2014 Metro Pace winner’s caretaker after graduation, watching in awe as the lightning-fast bay captured the 2015 Simcoe in 1:48.2 at Woodbine Mohawk Park. “To have him be one of the first horses I looked after in Ontario was incredible,” he said.

Hollingsworth’s run as the groom for superstar pacers continued in the summer of 2018, when he followed future dual Hall of Famer McWicked on the road.

It was a magical run for the lifetime earner of more than $5 million, who captured the William R. Haughton Memorial, Allerage Farms Open Pace, Dan Rooney Invitational Pace, Ben Franklin, and Breeders Crown, all while under Hollingsworth’s care.

He ended up putting his bonus from the sizzling stretch towards claiming his first horse, Lautner Seelster, in early 2019.

While the now retired Santanna Blue Chip gelding didn’t pan out as hoped, Hollingsworth’s determination to live out his dream never wavered.

When his perseverance was challenged again soon after, he had a decision to make.

“I was working for Rod Boyd in 2020, but it was three-a-head at one point, so Rod decided to slow down operations,” Hollingsworth said. “I either had to go find another job or try things on my own.”

Hollingsworth opted for the latter – but adversity wasn’t finished with him just yet.

“I went through a global pandemic and a strangles shutdown within the first six months of going out on my own,” he said. “If I could make it through those two things, everything else would be easy.”

Admittedly, there were times when Hollingsworth questioned whether he’d make it through, but he always found the answers.

Hollingsworth began to grow his client base through advertisements on Standardbred Canada – with the first call coming from respected Ontario horseman Murray Brethour.

The winner of nearly 3,400 races lifetime pitched Hollingsworth on a trial run with Big Jim filly, My Mother Pearl.

It’s fair to say the experiment was a success.

"She had, I think, $400 made when she came to the barn," Hollingsworth said. "She ended up finishing her racing career with over $215,000 and a mark of 1:53."

Hollingsworth purchased the now 9-year-old mare halfway through her 4-year-old year. She remains with him to this day and is currently in foal to Century Farroh.

"She's been amazing," he said. "I owe almost all of what I got to her."

Today, Hollingsworth and his stable of one dozen tour the Ontario circuit, leaving their mark on tote boards from Clinton Raceway to Kawartha Downs.

Through 43 starts this season, Hollingsworth sports a 10-5-8 record with nearly $90,000 in prizes.

He's eclipsed at least $230,000 in four straight years, including a career-best $365,432 and 32 wins last season.

With help from his "fantastic" stable-hand River Thomas, Hollingsworth sends out a consistent weekly contingent headlined by "classy old boys" Insanity, Lord Anthony, and Batterup Hanover.

"Those old boys, I can put them in every week and know that they're going to come up with a good effort," Hollingsworth said. "That's been huge. They carry the team."

Complementing the veteran trio is a cast of youngsters in Major Miki, who set a 1:54 mark in his second career start, Pelican Bay, and Mai Tide, who went five-for-six last season with an eight-length triumph in the London Classic Sale final at The Raceway at Western Fair District.

Doing right by his horses, his loyal owners like Michael Goldberg, Debbie Francis, and Rosanne Langille, and the countless people who supported him at every stop along the way is what drives Hollingsworth to make each season better than the last.

The East Coast kid with a well-rounded resume wouldn't have it any other way.

"It's been a lot of long days, late nights, and early mornings but that's what you do," Hollingsworth said. "The numbers have been good, but we like to do our work, race our horses, stay out of everybody's way, quietly make a name for ourselves, and hopefully somebody notices."

"It would be nice to move more to the big track [Mohawk], but that's hard to do. If we can have a little luck this summer, maybe by next summer, we'll be there."

JEAN-MICHEL BAZIRE SET FOR COMEBACK

Three months after a serious training accident, Jean-Michel Bazire is set to return to the sulky.

The incident occurred on Jan. 2 at Grosbois, where Bazire and stable employee René Mascle were both involved in a heavy fall during training. Bazire suffered significant injuries – particularly to his left hand – forcing him to miss the entire second half of the Paris winter meeting.

Following a period of rehabilitation, his comeback – first indicated by his son Nicolas Bazire – is now confirmed by Paris-Turf. He will return at his home track in Royan over the Easter weekend.

Bazire is wasting no time: he is scheduled to drive four horses on Saturday, followed by a trip to Châtelailon-La Rochelle the next day for three additional drives.

His return is a major boost for French harness racing.

CONCERNS OVER DECLINING HORSE POPULATION IN SWEDEN

Swedish harness racing continues to face structural challenges, with the number of foals declining year after year.

Easter traditionally marks the return of many top horses from their winter breaks, and while several stars will appear this weekend, field sizes remain noticeably small – raising concerns that the highly competitive races fans are used to may become less frequent.

That said, Daniel Wäjersten will send out Gio Cash (Victor Gio) in the Gold Division at Romme on Sunday (April 5). Gio Cash competed in the Yonkers International Trot last fall, finishing fourth, and previously defeated Don Fanucci Zet in major Swedish races during the summer.

Meanwhile, Daniel Redén will field his American stars Allegiant (Tactical Landing) and Keep Asking (Chapter Seven) at Färjestad on Friday (April 3), where both races they contest have attracted notably short fields.

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

Aussies look to continue dominance over Kiwis at Cambridge

by Adam Hamilton

Jason Lee was born at the right time.

Well, at least for the way the pendulum of dominance has swung between New Zealand and Australia.

As the 30-year-old Lee, from farming stock in the western districts of Victoria, prepares for another trip across to New Zealand, he knows the privileged position he is in.

"It's just so different now," he said. "When I was growing up, the Kiwis used to come across and dominate just about all of our key [Australian] races. It's just the way it was. I think the Aussies embraced it.

"But it's really changed in the past five years or so, which is great timing for someone like me."

The trend looks set to continue at the huge Night of Champions at Cambridge, on New Zealand's North Island, next Friday (April 10).

And Lee drives the leader of the expected Aussie domination, champion trotting mare Keayang Zahara. She is $1.10 favorite (for a $1 bet) to win the $530,000 TAB Trot.

It's no surprise given she's won 27 of her 28 starts, including an Australasian record-equaling 15 at Group 1 level. She shares that record with the great Lyell Creek, who raced with success in North America in the early 2000s.

Keayang Zahara is one of three Aussies in the seven-horse slot race. The others are the second and third favorites, Queensland star Gus and Keayang Zahara's stablemate, Jilliby Ballerini. She will be driven by Lee's cousin, Glen Craven.

This will be the third running of the TAB Trot and Australians have dominated the first two with Just Believe winning in 2024 and Arcee Phoenix last year.

It's almost unthinkable that the trophy won't return to Australia again.

There are even more Aussie raiders in the other marquee race at Cambridge, the $1 million Race by Sport Nation. At least five of the 10 pacers in the field will be Australian raiders.

That's a record total of eight Aussie raiders at Cambridge, one more than last year.

And the quality trumps the quantity.

The great Leap To Fame, arguably the best pacer Australia has seen, leads the way. He's returning to defend the crown he won in such a powerhouse and remarkable style last year.

Many still say it's the best performance of his career. Certainly, the Kiwis do, given it's the first time they had seen Leap To Fame in the flesh.

Leap To Fame has an elite support crew, too.

The two pacers who have beaten him the most (three times) – Swayzee and Kingman – will try to do it again.

Swayzee and Kingman also have proven form in New Zealand, winning the past three iconic NZ Cups between them (Swayzee in 2023 and '24) and Kingman (last year). Kingman beat Leap To Fame in his win.

Stuart McCormick

Keayang Zahara (Jason Lee) winning the Great Southern Star.

“ [Five-year-old trotter Keayang Zahara] feels like driving a rocket. She’s got gears, the sort of gears that only some of the best pacers I’ve driven have given me over the years. ”

~ Jason Lee

Joining them will be emerging star The Janitor, who has yet to beat Leap To Fame, but threatened to do so at their past two meetings.

The Janitor ran a slashing third to Don Hugo (with Leap To Fame second) in the Group 1 Blacks A Fake last December.

Then he looked like he was going straight past Leap To Fame in the Miracle Mile on March 14, before the champ dug deep and fought him off.

Throw in multiple Group 1 winner Captains Knock and it completes a stellar Aussie line-up.

Like the TAB Trot, it’s nigh on impossible making a case for a Kiwi win in the Race by Sport Nation.

For Lee, going to New Zealand to drive “the best horse I’m likely to ever drive” is an opportunity he wants to savor.

“Although there’s plenty of pressure and expectation every time she races and you’re always trying to think ahead, I’m trying to reflect and enjoy as best I can,” he said. “Sometimes you’ve just got to look back and smell the roses a bit.”

That also applies to Keayang Zahara’s one defeat, in blistering time by a small margin, in May, last year.

“People ask whether it’s good she’s not unbeaten as far as the pressure goes, but that’s not how I see it,” Lee said. “I honestly would’ve loved it. It’s got a better ring to it, unbeaten, compared to having that one blemish, and it would’ve been great for the sport, too.”

While Keayang Zahara won all three starts during a New Zealand raid as a 3-year-old in late 2024, Lee says winning the TAB Trot would be next level.

“In just a short time the race has grown into one of the biggest trotting races in this part of the world,” he said.

“I’m good friends with Chris Svanosio and to watch him win it with Arcee Phoenix last year and the thrill it gave him, it made me hungry.

“It runs deeper than that. Keayang Zahara is getting a big following, especially around the area at home where anytime you go to shops or the pub, people are asking about her.

“It’s also a new challenge and, as I said before, I’m someone who loves a challenge. It helps when you’ve a mare like this on your side.”

So, how does it feel to drive Keayang Zahara?

“She feels like driving a rocket,” Lee said. “She’s got gears, the sort of gears that only some of the best pacers I’ve driven have given me over the years.”

Lee said New Zealand fans would see a lot more “grown up” Keayang Zahara compared to 18 months ago.

“Obviously her ability has been super since day dot, but it’s her manners and ringcraft which have improved now,” Lee said. “She’s a complete racehorse. She’s a very smart animal now, she knows when to conserve her energy. That maturity also applies to her traveling to the races now.”

Keayang Zahara has relegated stablemate Jilliby Ballerini to second spot in their past three clashes, but there have been times where people think the gap is closing.

Could Jilliby Ballerini cause an upset at Cambridge?

“That’s an interesting one because Glen [Craven] and I get to drive both of them at times,” Lee said. “Sometimes you’ll drive ‘Ballerini’ and get off and think she’s closing the gap, then next time you’ll get back on ‘Zahara’ and realize Ballerini is nowhere near her.

“Ballerini is a star in her own right and I’m sure there’s a scenario where she could beat her, but I think if they clash 50 times, Zahara will win 48 or 49 of them.”

What needs to go right for Keayang Zahara to win again?

“It’s more a case of what doesn’t need to go wrong,” Lee said. “She’s a champion and rightly being talked about as one of the best trotters we’ve seen in this part of the world.”

If she wins again at Cambridge, Lee knows the question will come up about a truly international raid for a race like next year’s Elitlopp will come up again.

“Yes, and it’ll be the same answer,” he said. “It’s a possibility, but one we haven’t thought much about and won’t until the end of this year or early next.

“For now, we’re just enjoying having a mare good enough to win some of the best races in our part of the world.”

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Horses are an escape from Corey Pickrem's regimented full-time job

by Chris Lomon

Corey Pickrem had already amassed a treasure trove of fond racing memories. But something in him wanted to add more.

As a kid growing up in Lower Sackville, a suburban community of the Halifax Regional Municipality, NS, the racetrack became a familiar place for Pickrem at a young age.

"I was born into racing," he said. "My grandfather, Ron Pickrem, who goes by Butch, has been involved in harness racing for 70 years, and raced horses at the old tracks in Halifax. He had a stable at Sackville Downs and drove, owned, and trained standardbreds.

"One of the earliest memories I have is being at the racetrack and watching his horses race at Truro. The best part of the day was always going over to the ship-in barn to see the horses. I was too young at that time to work with them, but when I was around 15, my grandfather started training on a regular basis. He was retired from his full-time job, but he had a couple of horses who would compete at Truro."

That was when the younger Pickrem finally had the chance to see the sport from a completely different perspective.

"I started jumping right in as a groom and later on, I jumped in the jog cart and started jogging horses," Corey said. "It kind of went from there."

Where it went, with the odd detour taken, was to a place and position he had never once envisioned.

The idea of getting back to racing — he had left the sport for somewhere around 10 years — came during the spring of 2021.

"When I got back into horses, it was around the COVID-19 lockdown, so there wasn't a whole lot to do," Corey said. "I was working from home and life for a lot of people was boring. I really started following racing again. Truro was one of the first ones to come back after lockdown."

Scrolling through Facebook one evening, a particular post piqued Corey's interest.

"[Longtime horseman] George Rennison and his wife Andrea were selling fractional ownerships," he said. "So, I jumped right in and gave it a whirl. It was time. I bought five per cent of a 2-year-old who was in training."

"I have been [working for the Armed Forces] going on for 17 years now. I know what structure and rules and regulations look like. It doesn't take you long to realize there are similarities to harness racing - the early mornings, late nights, and the rules and regulations we all adhere to."

~ Corey Pickrem

Humans of Harness Racing
Corey Pickrem.

"The first day I went to the barn to see the colt, George asked if I wanted to jog one. It had been 10 years, but I thought, 'Why not?' It was at that moment I knew I was ready to do this again."

Corey and Rennison would have another discussion in that very setting a few years later.

"I owned some with George and Andrea for a few years and had some good luck," he said. "There were no hard feelings when I told George I was going for my trainer's license and own a couple of my own. All he wanted was to help me become a trainer. That is what is special about our industry, especially, the East Coast, it is one big family."

Starting with a one-horse stable, Corey launched his training career in 2025.

His first win came on July 6 of that same year at Truro Raceway.

Top Of Her Trade, a daughter of Bolt The Duer (NY), paced the mile in 1:57.4, coming home in :29.2 for the half-length score.

"She started the year off slowly, but by July, she was starting to come around," Corey said. "To be honest, I didn't expect her to win on that day. She was down in class, but I didn't know how it was going to pan out."

"She can leave pretty well. She drew the rail that day and I figured we could get a check. We were lucky enough to get the win. It was her fastest time in two years. It was humbling in itself, but it was also a memorial race for a gentleman who used to work at Sackville, where it all started for my family. It was kind of a full-circle moment in a way."

The bay mare, owned by Corey and his wife Eve, went 2-3-5 from 27 starts, along with just north of $4,700 in purse earnings, last year.

Modest numbers, certainly but for the modest man who guided her to a pair of winner's circle trips, Top Of Her Trade, a $6,000 Harrisburg purchase in 2018, is far more than just 10 in-the-money finishes.

For Corey, the 9-year-old bay represents everything good about the sport he has a deep appreciation for.

"For that first win, my wife and kids were there, my grandfather and father - lots of support from friends and family," Corey said. "It was quite the feeling. People say that you don't forget the first win and I definitely won't."

"I don't know exactly what the feeling was. I was more in shock by seeing it happen, knowing she was on top and she was going to cross the wire first. It was an incredible feeling."

Simply being in the position of training horses is perhaps Corey's biggest joy.

"It was 15 years between being a kid in the barn and coming back to it in this position," he said. "It made me think, 'Maybe I can do this.'"

Corey's return to the racing life has not been a solo flight.

It has been the epitome of a family affair.

"My two boys were born into racing because of me, but my wife had no exposure to it until I started bringing her to the

“The best part is being around the horses every day. We all see their beauty and the magic in the sport. Being around the horses is a bit of an escape from my full-time job. When I’m at the barn, it’s either me and the horses or whoever is there helping out. It’s really a great way to decompress.”

racetrack,” he said. “I like to think that my wife Eve and our sons Benjamin and Jackson – I have watched them develop a passion for the sport – are now a huge part of this world.

“I grew up in racing, but they have chosen it and adopted the lifestyle - all for the love of the horses and the sport.”

Once reluctant to be near horses, Eve is very much hands-on now.

“Three years ago, my wife wouldn’t go near a horse and now, she will get to the paddock, grab a horse and bring it to the barn and give them all the care in the world.

“I don’t know if they knew what they were getting into when I jumped back into this world, but they have embraced it and I can’t thank them enough for their support.”

Or for what their view of racing and horses does for him.

“It brings a different perspective for me,” Corey said. “For someone who has been involved in the sport, you see it one way and now to have someone from outside racing come into it and see it in a different way – that is a wonderful thing to have.”

As is the prospect of saddling up for another season of racing on Canada’s East Coast.

“We’ll try for round 2,” he said. “I have four horses in the stable right now, three aged horses and a 2-year-old colt, who I purchased last fall. I take it day by day. I will just keep chugging along and hopefully the work that was put in this winter will show some results this summer. I’m not one to set goals. I just try my best and hope for the same from our horses.

“I am very excited to have a stakes horse this year, Woodmere Lebron, for the 3-year-old Atlantic Sires Stakes season. But again, I try not to get too caught up in things. We know anything can happen in horse racing. What I enjoy is being in the moment, looking after our horses and that they are cared for every day.”

Corey will also have to navigate a full-time career in the Canadian Armed Forces while running a stable.

“Coming to the barn is my hobby,” he said. “It feels like a full-time job at times, but I truly enjoy it.”

Despite being decidedly different, the roles do share some similarities, significant ones, according to Corey, who holds the role of Human Resources Officer for those who administer the Canadian Armed Forces youth program.

Diligence, dedication, and perseverance are common threads.

“What’s similar is the work ethic you need,” he said. “I have been [working for the Armed Forces] going on for 17 years now. I know what structure and rules and regulations look like.

“It doesn’t take you long to realize there are similarities to harness racing - the early mornings, late nights, and the rules and regulations we all adhere to.”

As for the most rewarding aspect of harness racing, Corey, who has four horses training and two who are being turned out at home, points to the pacers and trotters under his watchful eye.

“The best part is being around the horses every day,” he said. “We all see their beauty and the magic in the sport. Being around the horses is a bit of an escape from my full-time job. When I’m at the barn, it’s either me and the horses or whoever is there helping out. It’s really a great way to decompress.”

It’s also a way to enjoy something deeply meaningful with his family and fellow horsepeople.

“The level of support you get from horsepeople in the Maritimes – they embrace you and want you to be part of their community,” he said. “It’s all for the love of the sport.”

A sport that keeps giving Corey new memories to chase.

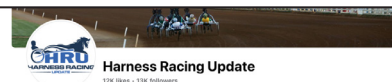

And he’s far from done making them.

Fashion Schooner foals Tactical Landing colt for new owners Armitage Farm

by Christinne Aguilar

A little more than four months after Armitage Farm acquired mare Fashion Schooner for $700,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sales Company mixed sale in Harrisburg, PA, that mare has produced a Tactical Landing colt already named Spotlight Armitage. Fashion Schooner a royally-bred Walner mare out of Broadway Schooner, earned $765,564 in her career for her owner/breeder Fashion Farms and trainer Jim Campbell. Fashion Schooner has one other foal, a Muscle Hill filly named Fashion Daniela that is a yearling.

Soho Firestone A (Jason Bartlett) winning his MGM Borgata Pacing Series test on Monday at Yonkers.

Bartlett triples to begin MGM Borgata Pacing Series

by Yonkers Raceway media

Driver Jason Bartlett won three of the five $50,000 divisions of the first round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series on Monday night (March 30) at MGM Yonkers Raceway with Soho Firestone A, Redwood Hanover, and Huntinthelastdolar. Donegal Luther N and Chase H Hanover won the remaining splits.

Soho Firestone A sat the pocket behind Always A Thrill (Matt Kakaley) through fractions of :27, :55.2, and 1:23 in the first flight and then rallied up the inside in the lane to defeat a second-over Aye Aye Captain N (Brent Holland) by a nose in 1:51.2. Sherlock N (Jim Morrill, Jr.) was game from first-over and was third, just a neck behind the top two.

A 7-year-old gelding by American Ideal, Soho Firestone A was sent out by Doug Dilloian, Jr. for owners David Linker, Brian Loman, and Robert Venable. Soho Firestone A has a summary of 20-17-8 from 75 appearances, has put away $367,839 and paid $2.60 to win as the 1-5 choice. He led a $23.04 exacta and a $63.04 trifecta.

Redwood Hanover and Bartlett led their four foes to the :28.4 quarter, :57.3 half, and 1:25.3 three-quarters in the next grouping and then came home in 27 seconds flat to defeat pocket-sitter Dele Row A (Holland) by 2½ lengths in 1:52.3. Twisted Destiny couldn't gain from first-over and had to settle for third.

The victorious 6-year-old Stay Hungry stallion is trained by Per Engblom and is owned by Evans Nation with Engblom Stable LLC. and Hickory Hollow Stables. He is a 17-time winner from 67 outings, has pocketed $547,053, and returned $2.10 to win as the 1-9 favorite. He was atop a $27.28 exacta and a $73.44 trifecta.

Bartlett and Engblom also connected with Huntinthelastdolar in 1:52.1 in the third section after he put up fractions of :27.4, :56.3, and 1:24.4. Verdun (Pat Lachance) held second after a pocket trip and Catalpa Rescue A (Scott Zeron) put in a first-over grind out of fifth in the final three-eighths-of-the-mile to get third.

Engblom sent out Huntinthelastdolar, a 6-year-old gelded son of Huntsville, for owners E Five Racing and John Fielding.

Huntinthelastdollar made his 24th stop in the winner's circle from 72 trips behind the gate, has banked $1,155,468 and paid $2.96 to win as the 2-5 favorite. He led a $7.14 exacta and a $15.76 trifecta.

Donegal Luther N (Yannick Gingras) pressed on to the top beyond the 27 second opening quarter in the fourth Borgata battle, and after a 56 second half and a 1:24.1 three-quarters, he closed in :27.4 to down defending series champion Mossdale Ben N (Morrill, Jr.), who had led early and then yielded to sit in the 2-hole, by a length and a quarter in 1:52. 1-5 favorite Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy) was unable to rally from second-over and had to settle for third in his 2026 debut.

Donegal Luther N is an 8-year-old gelded son of Bettors Creek trained by Jared Bako for the ownership group of Kap Singh Racing Stable, Stephen Klunowski, and Earl Hill, Jr. He has 12 wins, nine seconds, and four thirds from 48 starts, has earned $183,970 and returned $7.18 to win as the 5-2 second choice. The exacta was $52.38 and the trifecta kicked back $112.12.

In the final Borgata showdown, Chase H Hanover (Anthony Napolitano), the runner-up in last year's final, drove on two-wide and got the lead away from Aroda N (Lauren Tritton) after a :27.3 quarter. Chase H Hanover then hit the half in 56.2 and the three-quarters in 1:23.4 as Captain Moore A (Gingras) moved up first-over from third. Chase H Hanover and Captain Moore A battled around the last turn and into the lane, with Captain Moore on a narrow advantage on the outside, but Chase H Hanover wouldn't be denied and fought back to prevail by a nose in 1:52. Howlenth hills (Kakaley) was third and 1-2 favorite Coaches Corner (Bartlett) wound up fourth after having a third-over trip from fifth.

Cory Stratton trains Chase H Hanover, an 8-year-old gelding by Captaintreacherous, for owners El Dorado Stables and Robert Weinstein. Chase H Hanover picked up his 35th lifetime victory, has now stashed away $1,382,379 and paid $36.78 to win as a 17-1 offering. He keyed a $261 exacta and a $561.78 trifecta.

MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims continue through Monday (April 27) before a $200,000 (guaranteed) final and a $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation on Friday (May 8).

JOHN BRENNAN TROTTING SERIES GETS UNDERWAY

The 2026 edition of the John Brennan Trotting Series commenced on Wednesday night (April 1) at MGM Yonkers Raceway with a pair of $30,000 divisions, and the victories went to Top Gun Hanover and Always A Story.

The John Brennan Trotting Series is named in honor of the longtime Standardbred Owners Association of New York horsemen's representative who passed away from complications of COVID-19 in March 2020.

Top Gun Hanover (Jason Bartlett) moved up two-wide to take the lead away from Pierre In Paris (Yannick Gingras) past the :28.2 quarter and continued on the point to the :57.2 half and the 1:26.1 three-quarters as Green Mel (Tyler Buter) made a two-wide advance out of third as the field raced on the backstretch for the final time.

Green Mel trotted onto even-terms with Top Gun Hanover on the final bend, but once they straightened up in the lane, Top Gun Hanover kicked back away and went on to prevail by a length-and-a-half in 1:54.3. Green Mel had to settle for second, followed by Pierre In Paris.

A 4-year-old son of Walner, Top Gun Hanover is trained by Per Engblom for owners E Five Racing and John Fielding. Top Gun Hanover has a record of 9-7-0 from 29 career starts, has earned $202,091 and paid $3.48 to win as the favorite. He led a $10.84 exacta and a $37.34 trifecta.

Bartlett and Engblom went for the sweep with 2-5 choice Zenmeister S in the second flight, and he followed Kazio DK (Gingras) to the quarter in :28.3 and the half in :57.4 before Bartlett guided him to the outside on the way to the 1:26.4 three-quarters. Kazio DK was able to thwart Zenmeister S' bid initially, but then Kazio DK made a break on the last turn, which put Zenmeister S on the lead and Always A Story (Buter), who had been positioned second-over, in the first-up position.

Zenmeister S spun into the lane on a clear lead and looked to see it out, but Always A Story had plenty of trot to the wire and was able to get around Zenmeister S in time, defeating him by a head in 1:55.1. Alimony Mike (Matt Kakaley) finished in the third position.

Jared Bako sent out Always A Story, a 4-year-old Chapter Seven mare, for owners Kap Singh Racing Stable and Earl Hill, Jr. Always A Story has 10 victories, seven seconds, and six thirds from 38 trips behind the gate, has pocketed $128,675, and returned $6.90 to win as the 2-1 second choice. She was atop a $14.64 exacta and a $48.46 trifecta.

This year's John Brennan Trotting Series has two more prelims on April 8 and 15 prior to the $100,000 (guaranteed) final and $50,000 (guaranteed) consolation on April 22. After being contested at the distance of a mile and a quarter in 2025, the final and consolation will go back to the standard mile distance this year.

Stakes action continues at Yonkers tonight (April 3) and Monday (April 6) with the second legs of the MGM Ursula McIntyre Pacing Series and the MGM Borgata Pacing Series, both of which have four $50,000 splits. The four opening round winners in the McIntyre — Louies Girl N, Seaside Diva, Tick A Loch A, and Coastal Babe N — drew in separate races and will all therefore have a chance to improve to two-for-two. Meanwhile, in the Borgata, two of Monday's (March 30) winners — Donegal Luther N and Chase H Hanover — meet up in the last section (Race 7).

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Hawthorne harness horsepeople still in bankruptcy limbo

Unfortunately for Illinois harness owners, trainers and drivers, the status of the $1.3 million in overdue purse money and $1.2 million in bounced checks that they are owed by Hawthorne Race Course remained unchanged following the latest bankruptcy hearing on March 31 in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court of Northern Illinois.

The harness people were hoping Judge Timothy Barnes would order the release of the funds from Hawthorne's debtor-in-financing agent JDI Loans.

However, because of objections by many of Hawthorne's multiple other creditors, the judge again put a final decision on hold.

Also on hold is the $350,000 Hawthorne owes the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association (IHHA) for organizational expenses that have accumulated since last fall.

A final order on the overdue purse money, bounced checks and IHHA funding isn't expected until Monday (April 13), according to the IHHA's executive director, Tony Somone.

Boyd hoping for bright future at Big M

Braxten Boyd is willing to put the work in now so that things down the road pay off in a big way.

The 26-year-old driver took the first three weeks of the year off from racing at The Meadowlands, yet, still finds himself firmly in fifth place in the standings there with 22 walks down victory lane.

A year ago, Boyd's 71 wins at The Big M were good for fifth in the standings. Overall, he racked up 337 victories (to tie a career best) and earnings of $5 million (a career high) on the way to being selected as the 2025 Dan Patch Rising Star Award winner.

Boyd is experiencing what many drivers in his age group do: The grind.

But he's OK with it.

"The New York Sire Stakes has been really good to me the last couple of years and I am planning on doing that a lot this year," said Boyd. "Hopefully, I stumble into a horse that's good enough on that circuit that could do some Grand Circuit racing. I'm open to doing anything. You just have to hope and pray you get the opportunity."

Opportunity came knocking a year ago with the high-octane 3-year-old pacer Madden Oaks.

"Getting to taste that sweet victory in the Meadowlands Pace, and even the second-place finish in the North America Cup was something I'll never, ever forget," said Boyd. "To be in those races, what a blessing. Thank the Lord that we were able to win one of them."

The back-to-back leading pilot at Tioga Downs knew there were nay-sayers critical of him before the Meadowlands Pace, and he was glad to silence them.

"There were some podcasts, and they said 'Braxten has the morning-line favorite and he's got no shot,'" said Boyd. "And I thought, well, I guess we'll have to see."

At the age of 21 in 2021, Boyd won 245 races, and has won at least that many every year since. He appreciates the opportunities at The Meadowlands that have come his way.

"The two biggest trainers that come to mind are Mark Silva and my [future] brother-in-law Tee Wine," said Boyd. "Since I got out here five years ago, I don't really drive for anybody that I originally came out here for, so it's really funny how everything kind of changes. Mark, Tee and Amanda Fine have been very instrumental to my success."

Boyd is chill when it comes to what lies ahead in the summer when names like Dunn, Gingras, McCarthy, Bartlett, Tetrick, and Zeron start popping up on the entry sheet.

"We're just kind of going to let it play out," said Boyd. "I'm still getting some opportunities here and there. I just want to put my name out there in case they ever need me. The high-level trainers have a lot of power behind them, and sometimes being fourth or fifth on their list is just fine."

"I've been blessed enough to drive some for Marcus Melander on the New York Sire Stakes circuit the last couple of years. I might be fifth or sixth or seventh on the totem pole, but I do everything I can to get lucky and get one of their horses that you can do well with in the future."

Thus, even after winning six times at The Big M last weekend, Boyd will once again drive primarily at Tioga once the warm weather hits.

"If somebody's looking for a driver at Tioga, it doesn't hurt that people know that I'm there a lot," said Boyd.

But he still dreams of making The Meadowlands his year-round home base, especially if they get a casino.

"I hope for that every day," said Boyd. "It will create more opportunities for all of us out here. We'll be racing there more days and I would definitely move closer.

"We all dream of living those guys' [The Meadowlands pilots] lifestyles but you realize how blessed you are with some of the chances you do get. Driving in the Meadowlands Pace and North America Cup, those are some of the most fun moments in my life, and, hopefully, we get to do it again. Still, sometimes it's better to place yourself in a spot where you might get more work than getting the more powerful horses."

For someone who will likely have thousands of drives over the next several decades, Boyd has an eye on the end of the road for both himself, and his fiancé, Brandy, who currently trains a few horses.

"[In five years], hopefully, I'm at The Meadowlands and Pocono and living closer to The Meadowlands," he said. "Hopefully, we have a casino there and race more days at The Meadowlands, too. And I can retire early."

NEW POST TIME: Beginning tonight (April 3), The Meadowlands will move its post time to 6:35 p.m.

"We have analyzed our handle with both early and late start times and believe that moving back post time will help the handle, which, in turn, helps the horsemen and women, the State of New Jersey and the racetrack," said Big M chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir.

With the exception of July 4 (6 p.m.) and Aug. 8 (noon), all live harness racing programs at The Meadowlands will begin at 6:35 p.m. for the remainder of 2026.

BOZICH AND LITTLE LIGHT IT UP: It was a good night on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set Saturday (March 28) night, as co-host Mike Bozich, the voice of Harrah's Philadelphia, and Big M TV veteran host Dave Little both had extraordinary nights.

Bozich finished the card with seven winners, including the last four in a row. His night got off to a terrific start when he gave out Hes A Sweetheart ($11.80 to win) in the first race to go along with a $100 exacta and the $618.20 trifecta.

His "Final Four" included the Pick-3s in both the 13th and 14th races, which paid $34.30 and $25.40, respectively.

Little tabbed six on top, but his followers were most pleased after playing his Early 50-cent Pick-4, when Little used short-priced favorites in the sixth and ninth races as "singles." After catching a 6-1 winner in the seventh race and a 9-2 chance in the eighth, Little's fans cashed in for $766.40 after an investment of just $36.

Sophomores start Pocono's Weiss Series action Saturday

Three-year-olds looking to take major steps up the classification ladder will be meeting at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania throughout the month of April in the Bobby Weiss Series, with the first preliminary action set for this Saturday (April 4).

Named after the longtime master trackman at Pocono, the Weiss Series features sections for each of the four sex/gait divisions of sophomores, with the top horses in three preliminary legs coming together for $50,000 series championships starting on April 25. Pacing colts will race on Saturdays, and their trotting counterparts match up on Mondays; females of both gaits will go gateward on Tuesdays.

In the opening round for sidewheeling males, many eyes will be on the Captaintreacherous gelding Barrow, who is undefeated in three starts including a 1:51.4 mark, and who wheels right back in after triumphing this past Monday. Any horse who lures Dave Palone eastward in Pennsylvania also deserves extra attention, and among the all-time leading driver's mounts on Saturday is the Perfect Sting gelding Stingman, undefeated in four 2026 starts, all at The Meadows.

Two trotters matched in the first preliminary for trotting males on Monday are Bee Positive, by top sire Walner out of Horse of the Year Bee A Magician, who comes off a maiden-breaking win of 1:55.3, and Dilly Hanover, an altered son of International Moni who blasted home in :56.3 to make his career debut a winning one in 1:56.3 here on Tuesday.

The only trotting filly entered in the Weiss on Tuesday who shows a 2026 victory is Cynic, a daughter of Captain Corey, and she has already posted three triumphs, including a 1:56 victory in the Wohlmut Memorial Final Series at The Meadows. Her opponents in the series certainly have the pedigrees to go on – five of them were six-figure sales at the yearling auctions.

In the pacing miss Weiss action, Jamie's Way looked very promising here last Monday when she showed a high gear in the stretch, the Papi Rob Hanover filly breaking her maiden in 1:53.2 while coming her own back half in :55.2. Trainer Michael Hall comes north from Rosecroft with two 3-year-olds showing a 3 2-1-0 seasonal tab: She B Minnie (by Always B Miki) and Sicerto (by Sweet Lou) – with those two stallions still sharing the Pocono track record of 1:47.

Water Sports Teen takes Big M feature

Water Sports Teen displayed remarkable grit one week ago when in with $25,000 claimers, after taking over at the half and going down the road from there in 1:51 with a horse menacing him throughout the stretch drive.

His assignment Saturday night (March 28) at The Meadowlands: Could he win again bumping up to meet better in the $19,000 featured claiming handicap pace for horses in for a tag of no less than $40,000 and no more than $60,000?

The answer was a resounding yes.

Off an eye-popping speed-at-the-start, speed-at-the-end score last week in this event, Sun Of A Show was on the go from the get-go in the 10-horse field, as were Rockin Jukebox and Southwind Gendry. Driver Andy McCarthy opted out of the early fray and sat in the 4-hole with Water Sports Teen as Rockin Jukebox hit the quarter in :27.1.

Southwind Gendry, despite drawing post 10, made the front soon thereafter, which is when McCarthy moved Water Sports Teen off the rail and sprinted up to the point at the half in :55. Rockin Jukebox came back for more first-over at the five-eighths, applying pressure to the leader into the far turn, but was still a length behind at three-quarters, which went in 1:22.4.

The battle was now on for the stretch drive.

"Water" on the inside, "Jukebox" on the outside, but McCarthy's horse continued to find enough, and despite a final late surge by Rockin Jukebox, Water Sports Teen held sway to record his third win in his last four tries by a head in 1:50.3. Southwind Gendry finished third.

"He's been super and was very strong last week," said McCarthy. "And [tonight] he got the job done.

"Joey [Bongiorno, driving Rockin Jukebox] was coming fast, but this horse, he's pretty tough. He saw him coming on the outside. He dug it and fought him off and did not give it up. He's just a nice horse. He's tough, has a good set of lungs and the will to win."

An 8-year-old gelded son of Somebeachsomewhere—Posey Tina who is trained by Aaron Lambert, Water Sports Teen lifted his lifetime stats to 27 wins from 130 starts, good for earnings of $459,386. Owned by Vincent P. Ferriero, Jr., he returned $11.60 to his backers after being sent to the gate as the 9-2 fourth choice in the wagering.

BOZICH AND LITTLE LIGHT IT UP: It was a good night on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set, as co-host Mike Bozich, the voice of Harrah's Philadelphia, and Big M TV veteran host Dave Little both had extraordinary nights.

Bozich finished the card with seven winners, including the last four in a row. His night got off to a terrific start when he gave out Hes A Sweetheart ($11.80 to win) in the first race to go along with a $100 exacta and the $618.20 trifecta.

His "Final Four" included the Pick-3s in both the 13th and 14th races, which paid $34.30 and $25.40, respectively.

Little tabbed six on top, but his followers were most pleased after playing his Early 50-cent Pick-4, when Little used short-priced favorites in the sixth and ninth races as "singles." After catching a 6-1 winner in the seventh race and a 9-2 chance in the eighth, Little's fans cashed in for $766.40 after an investment of just $36.

NEW POST TIME: If 6 p.m. was too early for you to make it out to the races, then the new post time change is for you.

Effective tonight (April 3), post time for the first race will push back to 6:35 p.m.

Live racing will continue on a Friday-Saturday basis.

A LITTLE MORE: The "Killer Bs" were at it again, as Brett Beckwith, Braxten Boyd, Jason Bartlett, and Joe Bongiorno tied atop the driver leaderboard with two wins apiece... Bongiorno was the top trainer with a pair of walks down victory lane... All-source handle on the 14-race program totaled $2,536,832.

Shenandoah Downs 2026 Spring Race Meet kicks off April 11, Roger Hammer to be honored

Shenandoah Downs kicks off its 11th year of pari-mutuel harness racing in Woodstock on April 11 and continues a seven-week spring season with cards every Saturday and Sunday at 1:05 p.m. through May 24. A seven-week fall meet will follow from Sept. 19 – Nov. 1, preceded by a four-day non-wagering session at the Shenandoah County Fair (Sept. 2-5).

Opening day festivities on the 11th will include a celebration of iconic driver/trainer Roger Hammer, highlighting his impact on Virginia harness racing over the past 27 years along with an 80th birthday tribute – albeit a couple months delayed. The first 500 fans 18 and up will receive a commemorative t-shirt themed around the Bedford, PA native's career. Later in the card, fans in attendance can meet Hammer and enjoy a piece of celebratory birthday cake. Hammer turned 80 earlier this year on Feb. 18.

Most known for his homebred trotter Vivid Photo – who had a magical run from 2004-12 highlighted by a 2005

Hambletonian win – Hammer has put up impressive career stats as both a driver and trainer. In the sulky, he has 16,479 starts, 4,463 wins, and purse earnings of $23.9 million. As a conditioner, he has 14,026 starts, 2,658 wins, and winnings of $21.2 million.

In the Commonwealth, Hammer's presence has been felt since pari-mutuel harness racing was introduced at Colonial Downs in 1998. The New Kent oval – which featured a unique one turn mile track configuration – continued operating through 2014. Hammer participated as a driver and trainer in 11 of those years. Once Shenandoah Downs opened and became Virginia's new home for harness racing in 2016, he has been an annual fixture at the Woodstock oval.

Hammer brought his Hambletonian champ to compete at Colonial in five consecutive years, from 2005 to 2009. Vivid Photo won the track's signature event, the $100,000 Patriot Trot, in '06 and '07. He also won an overnight race there in '05 and finished second and fourth, respectively, in the final two Patriot trot editions in '08 and '09.

Heading into the 2026 Shenandoah spring meet, Hammer is 22 training starts away from his 1,000th in Virginia. Between Colonial and Shenandoah, his horses have made 978 starts – 365 at Colonial and 613 in Woodstock. He has reached the winner's circle 142 times with earnings of $850,456.

The octogenarian still ships in from his home base in Bedford, PA every race day during the Shenandoah meets. The 2025 campaign was his most active yet in Virginia with 120 starts. Hammer's Battin Athousand, with earnings of $241,000, won during both the spring and fall meets. His other winners included Maker Lather, Little Town Road, and Light My Torch.

Additional season details are at shenandoahdowns.com. TrackMaster past performance programs and Derby Bill Watson's daily tip sheet are available free via the website.
