The Meadowlands is putting outsiders' suggestions into action

Though, thinking outside the box can be hampered by an archaic system.

by Debbie Little

MEADOWLANDS MATTERS

with DEBBIE LITTLE

Thanks to suggestions made both by members of the press and their loyal customers, The Meadowlands is thinking outside the box to put more fans in the stands.

Meadowlands chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir said that he and track president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural have always been open to suggestions.

"Jeff and I don't have an issue with trying anything new; I think everybody realizes that," Settlemoir said. "Since 2006 at Tioga and Vernon, we've been trying new things and carried that here to The Meadowlands.

"We try just about anything that makes any type of sense, kind of like throwing things against the wall and seeing what sticks, and sometimes even circle back to things again."

One of the ideas that was shared from a customer was naming the Graduate Series finals after the late, great Stan Bergstein, but more about that in next week's column.

"I always enjoy talking to my customers through email, so, they can always email me and you can put my email address in

In a Tales teaser, Bowie picks the Final Four

Basketball star and harness racing devotee Sam Bowie is featured — for the second time — in Murray Brown's Tales From The Curmudgeon column that runs on Sundays. But, since Bowie gave Brown his NCAA Final Four picks, and the tournament resumes on Saturday, a day before Brown's next column will be published, we thought you might like to know Bowie's thoughts on which teams will advance... in advance.

Here's what he had to say on the subject:

"In the first game I like Florida to defeat Auburn," Bowie said. "Of course, a lot will depend on the physical readiness of Auburn's star Johni Broome. If Broome is alright, it should be one heck of a game.

"In the second game I like the Duke Blue Devils over the University of Houston. I just believe they are bigger, faster, deeper and yes, better.

"In the final, I like Duke to win it all.

"When I watched our UK [University of Kentucky] team defeat Duke early this season, I thought to myself, 'This team barely resembles the team we will see by the time the tournament comes along. They start three freshmen who have barely played a dozen games in the totality of their careers. Those freshmen, plus two others are now battle proven stars.'" there [jsettlemoir@playmeadowlands.com], because, you know, sometimes we don't think about something and when somebody sends it to us, it just kind of dawns on us and you say, 'Wow, I can't believe that we never thought of this before.'

"There is nothing more precious to me than an on-track customer or an off-track customer.

"So, there are a lot of great ideas that are out there that never get explored because they're not sent by the customers that are out there with them, and listen, I mean, if it's a good idea, we'll give it a try."

In a February column in HRU, a lively discussion was had between John Campbell and Dave Briggs about post drag and computer-assisted wagering (CAW).

The Meadowlands has already addressed the former, and according to Settlemoir, is working on the latter.

Settlemoir was quick to point out that unlike eliminating the drag for their Championship Meet, which starts in May, stopping the CAWs from wagering in the win pool once they hit two minutes to post, and thus preventing those dramatic shifts in odds, is complicated and there are regulatory hang-ups as well as tote hang-ups.

"I'm working on it daily with the tote company and the New Jersey Racing Commission in order to make this go forward," Settlemoir said. "We're trying the same thing that NYRA had tried having the CAWs come out at two minutes until post time.

"At some point in time, we will be able to roll it out. Whether I'm going to be able to hit Friday (May 2), along with the on-time post time or not, I'm uncertain just for the simple fact that everything's moving slowly for some reason. When it comes to things like this in our industry, the old adage goes, it's tough to do these types of things because it requires outside-the-box thinking, and requires different types of rules to be in place and changed, and computer systems updated, and quite honestly, the industry can be archaic when it comes to those kind of things."

In Bob Duff's March 7 column, he wrote about revamping the harness racing betting handbook and one of his ideas was about taking bets on which horse in a race will win each quarter.

According to Settlemoir, they are looking at taking wagers on who will be the on the lead at the half, but just like with the CAWs, it's complicated.

"So, we're trying to get some answers out of the New Jersey Racing Commission of how we need to steer that forward and whether or not that needs legislative help," Settlemoir said. "Everything has to be approved by the racing commission and depending on some of the things, it has to be approved by the Division of Gaming, too.

odds to our customers and everybody that is watching, but on the outside, I want to eliminate the tote board, and I want to eliminate the jumbo screen, so [the drivers] can’t see the odds on the horses, and they told me that I couldn’t do that because legislatively or by rule, it must be broadcast in the same form throughout the facility and no other forms of it can take place. So, anything I show on my TVs has to be displayed outside as well.”

There are also other promotions currently going on at The Big M for Players Rewards members, the details of which can be found on their website.

“I think one of the things you have to do is provide a value to people and look, I mean, horse racing can be relatively cheap at The Meadowlands,” Settlemoir said. “We have all these neat little promotions that we do in the summertime, and you’re starting to see some of those pop up here in the spring because, naturally, I want to be ahead of the curve just a little bit to see how we do. But, our focus, obviously, is on driving on-track handle and revenue.”

Settlemoir said The Big M has “seen a little bit of an uptick this year in the on-track handle, but nothing to set the world on fire.”

With everything they are doing for their on-track customers, Settlemoir is remaining optimistic for the year.

“I need our owners and trainers to continue to support our entry box,” Settlemoir said. “And I need our drivers to close the holes in the first turn, no half-in, half-out down the backside or on the turns, and no move-overs at the top of the stretch, and to use the whip appropriately, and just continuing to be professionals while on the racetrack, making sure that the product that we’re putting out there for our customers is what it has always been, and that’s the top product in the industry. Without a doubt, The Meadowlands continues to be the top harness track by not only just off-track handle, but on-track handle as well.

“We rightfully still control Friday and Saturday nights in the simulcast market and that hasn’t happened just by accident. That’s happened by design over several years and it took a lot of time to get to that, but we’ve been there for the last couple of years and I expect us to continue to hold that mantle for the rest of time.”

Note: On Saturday (March 29), The Meadowlands fourth race was a tribute to Hunter Myers, where both The Meadowlands and SBOANJ pledged to donate their net revenue share to Hunter’s fiancée, Chloe Fisher, and son, Hayden Myers, with Jeff Gural pledging to match the total share which came in a hair under $250,000 so far. But in an effort to raise as much as possible for Myers’ family, The Meadowlands again thought outside the box.

“I had Andrew [Demskey, the regional director of racing at Tioga and Vernon Downs] send out an email at Jeff’s direction, asking the simulcast outlets to send their portions as well that they made for the fourth race, and to have it postmarked by April 15th, and I have received a couple of emails already,” Settlemoir said.

Online wagering service Day At The Track as well as Woodbine Entertainment have already contacted The Meadowlands and are cutting checks and Settlemoir is hopeful that more of their simulcast partners will reach out by the April 15th deadline.

BRUSH AND CRUSH

with DEAN TOWERS

Amateur races, Yonkers, drivers and more in my whip around harness racing

by Dean Towers

I've been a little lax in writing columns lately, but I've been watching and wagering on the sport and, shocking, I know, I do have a lot on my mind.

I'll try and jam a few thoughts for your perusal in one column, with a quick trip around harness racing, primarily through the eyes of a customer.

THE AMATEURS ARE KILLING MY BANKROLL

The last time I mentioned the amateur driving series I got some hate mail, so I guess it's time to get your pens fueled up.

I've about had my fill of amateur racing at The Meadowlands.

I played Yonkers last week and the amateur trot featured a few horses of some merit, and the usual hardball was played with Bruce Baker — as he is wont to do — parking out Fanatic and Yogi Sheridan. It was fine, really; the fractions were slow, the racing was safe, the horses were not too taxed; it is what it is.

Meanwhile, however, at the flagship wagering track, it's continually a different story.

Last Friday evening (March 28) at The Big M, the amateur race, kicking off a Pick-5 with upwards of $50,000 bet into it, featured the usual assortment of cheaper claimers. A 70-1 shot driven by William Clarke made the lead, but then immediately parked out a 3-2 shot who was pulling the 2-hole. This was after an already super-fast :27 flat first quarter. The drivers appeared to have a conversation. What they were saying one only can guess.

The result was pure carnage for customers, with the battling leaders both dead, and a 65-1 shot closing from last.

Is this handicapable? Not on your life.

I wish this was just one instance, but it happens more and more often in that series.

I'm all for these men and women having a little fun at this grassroots game. But can we run these races on Hambletonian morning, at Monticello or at 5 o'clock? I'd love to be able to play the Pick-5 again.

YONKERS, DEALING WITH THE HAND THEY ARE DEALT

I have to hand it to the management of the Hilltop Oval. They are trying their best to drive handle to their track, and I believe they're doing it in fundamentally correct ways.

Nightly, I notice Empirecitybets.com promoted on their feed which offer every day players rebates, helping them win more when they bet Yonkers. They increased the cost of the late Pick-4 to juice-up payoffs. They report prices correctly on the feed. They got rid of the passing lane where drivers now pull the 2-hole almost every race by the three quarters.

Frankly, the only gripe that I have as a bettor is that they show pool data on the feed while the horses are lining up behind the gate.

The problem for bettors at Yonkers of course, are the prices, and that's directly linked to the passive racing style. With inside posts showing such a high impact value (wins over expected) and the purses being so large where outside horses can take a week off and wait for a better post, it just makes things pretty bland.

I think management at Yonkers understands the gambler and is doing a lot of good things, but it's difficult to succeed when you're not playing with pocket kings.

SPEAKING OF DRIVERS...

A couple of things:

One, I miss a driver that hasn't driven at The Meadowlands much this winter, and two, I'm super-impressed with his fill-in.

I'm a huge Yannick Gingras fan. For my money he's pound for pound the best driver in our sport. Watching Yonkers of late it reminded me how great he is. His mind, his effort, just about everything is vintage Gingras; even on a rainy Wednesday night in the middle of February.

I once had a thoroughbred owner tell me he loves listing leading rider Irad Ortiz not just because he's very good, but because he will try to win on his 5 claimer like he's riding the chalk in the Kentucky Derby. I put Gingras in that exact same vein. Cheap overnights at Yonkers or the Meadowlands Pace, it's the same Gingras.

Over at The Mecca, a young man making some noise is Brett Beckwith, and even at his age, to my eye at least, he looks pretty seasoned. He's cool and calm regardless of the situation, and appears to have little fear. He puts his charges in a position to win, in my view rarely over drives or under drives a horse, and thinks his way around the track. He's been a great addition to the colony.

PREWITT PLEASED, BUT WORK TO DO

I noticed the Hoosier Park handle was pretty boisterous early in the meet, even pushing almost a million through the windows on a competitive Saturday last week, so I pinged the track's grand poo-bah Gabe Prewitt for a status check, and he seemed fairly happy with the early results.

"We've struggled early for horses, but have been overwhelmed with the support," he said via text. "I'm really excited to see what happens when we get rolling with typical Hoosier competitive cards. The upcoming week looks like the best yet."

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

When drivers go 'Mad'

by Brett Sturman

(Editor's note: HRU did not assign the topic of either this column or Brush and Crush. Those columnists are, normally, free to write whatever strikes their fancy. The fact that both Dean Towers and Brett Sturman chose to, independently, write about amateur racing this week was a coincidence, but it does speak to how strongly they both feel about the subject. So, we felt it made the most sense to run them in the same issue. Your feedback is welcome. Email us at editor@harnessracingupdate.com).

Back in my day when studying political science at West Chester University, we learned of an old cold war foreign policy concept named "mutually assured destruction," or MAD for short. The idea being that using a nuclear weapon would result in eventual destruction for all sides, and because of that, no one would use such a weapon to start with.

In harness racing, it's the doctrine of mutually assured destruction that generally keeps races in balance by preventing unnecessary suicidal duels between horses. But, as a couple of races from just over the past week has shown, that alone doesn't always serve as a deterrent.

Unironically if you put a 'C' after MAD you get MADC, the Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club. Though the MADC races are a source of controversy due the unpredictable style in which the races are run, I've generally been a proponent of them. But one MADC race from last Friday (March 28) at The Meadowlands went beyond what can normally be anticipated.

In the first race of the night, 70-1 horse Uncle Coz (driven by William Clark) was placed on the lead from post 3, and 3-2 race favorite Duck Into The Nite (Geovany Hernandez) landed from post 4 into an early 2-hole. Right past the opening quarter mark, Duck Into The Nite took to the outside to move to the lead past the big longshot, but was immediately met with resistance. By the time he thought better of it and sought to go back into the pocket, that spot was closed by the horse sitting third. Lower-level animals Uncle Coz and Duck Into The Nite duelled through a :27.3 second quarter and it didn't take long after for the rest of the field to catch and pass them following a slowed :30.2 third quarter. The two horses naturally dropped back to finish last and second-to-last, all while antics continued through the stretch.

Despite looking every bit the part of 70-1 on paper, it is worth noting that Uncle Coz still finished ahead of Duck Into The Nite, which would suggest that the race favorite wasn't necessarily a strong one, and still may not have won even if he had a cleaner trip. But one thing to be said with absolute certainty is that if Uncle Coz had released the favorite to the lead, the same way it would have happened with Meadowlands professional drivers, both horses would have been guaranteed a higher chance at a better finishing position. The race ended up being won by an off-the-pace Warrawee Xceed, who paid $133.40.

Two days later at Northfield on Sunday (March 30), a race took shape that was even more inexplicable. In the race number 13 conditioned event for non-winners of $1,500 in the last four starts, it was 116-1 long shot Pitt Panda (Ryan Ver Hage) that pressed the pace early from the 2-hole despite having ample room to drop into the pocket behind the 12-1 rail horse Union Station (Jacob Baird). After settling into the pocket briefly where a :26.3 opening quarter was set, you can see the reins shaken on Pitt Panda to come out of the pocket and attack the leader for no good reason and those two duelled through a :55.4 half, all this while the 1-9 favorite watched from the third and eventually won by 10 lengths.

Predictably, Union Station finished seventh by 17 lengths and the race agitator, Pitt Panda, finished eighth by 36 lengths. What was the point in the way the horse was driven?

The common denominator in these races are non-catch drivers – they're all both the trainer and driver – who lack professional seasoning as drivers. Even if the intent isn't to purposefully sabotage a race, there should be strong penalties for such drives.

At different times over the years this column has written about judges assigning fines and suspensions for unsatisfactory drives due to lack of effort where a driver doesn't try, and this is maybe worse because it's sacrificing not only one horse, but any others forced into the duel while changing the complexion of the race. In either case – a lack of effort or a reckless effort – it results in drivers not putting forth their best effort to win.

In assessing penalties, the challenge does become who is to say how a horse should have been driven and what determines it.

I'd be more forgiving of The Meadowlands race because there isn't a rule that says you automatically need to give up the lead just because of having longshot status, and, for all I know, maybe the driver felt his horse had a better chance to win than the 70-1 odds had indicated. But the Northfield race on the other hand really does appear to be inexcusable, where a 117-1 was encouraged to leave the pocket and give the horse on the front no other option on the half-mile track other than to duel to submission. That type of drive should never happen again.

There needs to be safety considerations, too. Drivers that lack experience racing their animals in ways completely counter to how a professional would drive the same race increases risk.

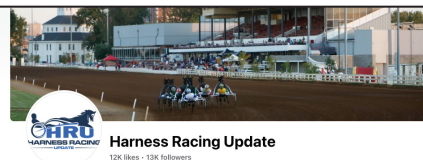

None of this is to say that drivers can't play hardball with one another and park horses where it makes sense, that's what makes racing competitive. Drivers are always jawing at each other for position and most times it's completely fine. But it must be done with the question in mind, that is by doing so going to give my horse the best chance to win? If the answer is no, then they're back to conceding a mutually assured defeat for themselves and for racing.

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

Politics spills over into just about everything

by John Berry

If you are “for” something, it’s PRO.

If you are “against” something, it’s CON.

Moving forward might be called PROgress.

Stagnation might be described as CONgress.

Not too long ago, in a town hall meeting, a congressional representative, supposedly of and for the people, had a tough time with the audience, especially, a veteran that questioned the motives of the congressman and his fellow reps simply asking if he represents the interests of the voters that elected him to office or was he more interested in serving his higher ups.

This veteran knows he has no real voice in changing things in Washington, DC, but he had the intestinal fortitude to speak his piece among his peers, who also have no voice.

He then got thrown out of the town hall meeting. That figures!

What’s this got to do with our grand sport?

Well, over the past goodness knows how many years, I have had conversations with horsemen and women and countless fans and have come to feel like that veteran in the town hall meeting to hear, absorb and try to come up with ideas and solutions to insure the future of a sport that I truly love.

I have received plenty of feedback from folk on both sides of the fence when it comes to the touchy subject of the speed explosion in our sport.

Some horsemen have expressed a view that I should get over the criticism of speed and accept it because this is the world in which we are living today.

“It’s not 1960 anymore,” one prominent horseman said.

Another lamented, “Times are different today, and we all have to adjust to today’s world.”

I totally understand that.

Hey, (should that be ‘hay’?) history shows the first Indy 500 auto race averaged just a bit over 74 miles-per-hour, and that was in an era when the classes in harness racing went from the 2:30 class on up with, literally, only a handful of 2:00 miles on the history books.

Today, the Indy 500 speed is in the 230 mph range, even a bit more.

I love speed just as much as anyone.

From witnessing Rusty Range’s track record at Sportsman’s Park in the summer of 1964 – if memory serves me – of 1:58.2 onward to the 1:55 explosion at The Meadowlands when they opened in 1976, to Niatross’ epic achievement in his Red Mile time trial, to the 2:10 2-year-old list melting away to obscurity and, more than 15 years ago (can you believe it?) Sportswriter and One More Laugh pacing in 1:49.2 as 2-year-olds.

Now that sub-1:50 2-year-old list is well over 50.

Yes, I am excited by that! I think it’s fantastic for what I believe to be the greatest of equine breeds, our standardbreds.

But, at the same time, I realize, too, that I have no voice in this sport, but that doesn’t stop me from, at least, trying to come up with some viable suggestions to help save harness racing or, at the very least, improve it a bit.

From suggestions about re-draws and saddle pads to the “fill it or kill it” proposal and improving value for those punters still alive and faithful (6 per cent takeout on track), I know nothing will change, and that may be okay, for now, but might spell disaster for later as we age and lose more players to the inevitable.

But I listen to the folks – though aging – that made and make this sport great in the first place, the fans, you know, distinguished members of the BDHC (Broken Down Horseplayers Club).

Yes, they are a dying breed with few replacements waiting in the wings.

Not many have listened to the fans recently, say, over the past 40 years.

“Why do you think The Meadowlands handles $3 [million] on a lot of nights. Because they have full fields, decent purses and a $50 bet hardly dents the [tote] board. When you get down to fives and sixes [in a field], the product takes a hit and the value is lessened.”

~ Bert S

“ I have been to venues where a bet of any decent size – even $20 or $30 – can knock a horse down from 6-1 down to 9-5. A $20 winning bet goes from $140, $150 to $56 or $58. We are betting against ourselves. It’s a double bite, first, on takeout and, then with the drop in odds. If you don’t realize it, well, you’d better open those eyes, wide. ”

~ Bert S

But I do, and I try and convey their thoughts – “as if we matter” one said – in these HRU columns.

Yes, I seem to be the sounding board writing for HRU to our leaders with the hope that something will stick to the wall for our future.

Not many in the upper echelon seem to care about a declining fan base and the shrinking field sizes and tracks with decoupling becoming more of a threat with every new meeting of state legislatures.

Smitty from Chicago said, “The only reason that racing is still ongoing today is because so many tracks have closed, and that’s kind of a blessing – not that the tracks closed – but it helped consolidate the number of entries in a race as those horses had to go to other tracks.

“If they were still open, we’d have all four and five horse fields all over the place.”

Rich, also from the Midwest, and a recent vacationer here in Florida, relayed, “speed means nothing to me and all I want to do is cash a ticket and I could care less if the mile is in 1:40 or five minutes.”

It all comes down to which side of the fence you’re on – those in the paddock watching their own horses race in company with, virtually, the same number of bettors in the stands, or those aging folk that are in their casino’s simulcast area or making their bets on their phone at home or wherever.

There are valid points on both sides of the fence, as they say, but every time we lose a horse, “it costs a track an entry,” said simulcast visitor Freddy H, “and every entry we lose in a race takes away a player’s betting value.”

Yes, we are getting double whammy’d here, on both sides of the fence, and like water evaporating, we hardly notice from day to day.

“Why do you think The Meadowlands handles $3 [million] on a lot of nights?” said Bert S. “Because they have full fields, decent purses and a $50 bet hardly dents the [tote] board. When you get down to fives and sixes [in a field], the product takes a hit and the value is lessened.

“I have been to venues where a bet of any decent size – even $20 or $30 – can knock a horse down from 6-1 down to 9-5. A $20 winning bet goes from $140, $150 to $56 or $58. We are betting against ourselves. It’s a double bite, first, on takeout and, then with the drop in odds. If you don’t realize it, well, you’d better open those eyes, wide.

“There are some viable tracks, like Meadowlands, Hoosier, Northfield, that get some play but the bites [takeout], especially on the exotics, are way too deep.”

When confronting this gent on the takeout on the numbers racket, er, the legal state lottery, he quickly responded, “Yeah, but they have multi-million-dollar lures for a few bucks, and that’s a whole different ballgame.”

We have two crutches holding us up, some casinos and some legislatures.

When you think about that, those are pretty weak crutches as evidenced by what happened in Florida, and it’s happening again there, and Illinois with Hawthorne the only track open, and with only limited racing days, with Balmoral, gone, Maywood, gone, Arlington Park, gone.

Political dollars always overhang our industry and casinos are always looking for outs and trying to find political help in breaking so-called iron-clad promises that protect our pari-mutuel racing entities.

One might choose to ignore the signs but, when Pompano and Calder fell into the ocean of memories and Gulfstream and Tampa Bay Downs seem to be in danger, along with the 40 others over the past years, the crutches seem to be shaking.

As for me, I love our sport so much that nothing will ever change for me.

I will give harness racing my heart and soul until my dying breath.

But competition and instant gratification games have taken a bite out of our beloved pari-mutuels, and as much as we love the excitement of our speed – and as much as we hate to admit it – it just is very difficult to compete for an $8.40 winning mutuel ticket or even a $83.60 winning trifecta ducat these days, and have to wait 20 or 22 minutes to try it all over again.

A Hambletonian did you know

by Bob Heyden

April 1 marked 125 days to Hambletonian Day 2025, so it's time to start fine tuning your knowledge. Let's get started.

1. Billy Haughton and Stanley Dancer, the two leading Triple Crown conditioners of all time, each won their first Triple Crown race in New Jersey in back-to-back Hambletonians with Speed Bowl in 1982 for Haughton and Duenna in 1983 for Dancer.

2. Tactical Landing is 2-for-2 in his first two offerings in the Hambletonian, a record, but his fastest credit comes on the other side, with Megan Scran trained mare Tactical Mounds (1:49.4).

3. The Steve Phillips starting gate debuted in the 1946 Hambletonian and never looked back, but he was hardly a Johnny-come-lately. At just 23 years of age in 1910, he was already a starting judge, and was the starter for the first Hambletonian in 1926.

4. The 1968 Hambletonian was the only one contested on a Sunday. Nevele Pride dominated. It was referred to then as the only "non-betting $100,000 race in the world."

5. Three Haughtons – Billy, Tommy and Peter – appeared in a Hambletonian driving at 25 or younger. Billy was 25 in 1949 but finished 18th, Tommy was 23 in 1980 winning a heat with Final Score. He won the final with Speed Bowl at 25 in 1982. Peter was 21 getting the final check with Quick Pay in the 1976 final, the youngest driver ever to cash in any Hambletonian.

6. Before we see Marcus Melander and Maryland potentially headlining the 2025 Hambletonian, remember Melander amazingly got checks in six of his first seven attempts: 2017 (third), 2018 (fifth), 2019 (second, third and fifth), 2020 (fifth), 2021 (sixth and seventh), 2022 (second, third and fifth again), and 2023 (second).

7. Walter Cox dominated the 1929 Hambletonian finishing 1, 2, 3, and 4. He was born three years after the Civil War in 1868 and passed away eight days after Pearl Harbor in 1941.

8. In 1962, A. C.'s Viking was handled by 62-year-old driver Sanders Russell with his leg in a cast, and post 15 too. No matter, he still won.

9. Stars Pride had a record eight Hambletonian winners to his credit. The first three Stanley Dancer Hambletonian winners of five altogether, were all sons of Stars Pride: Egyptian Candor (1965), Nevele Pride (1968) and Super Bowl (1972).

10. There's a 69-day span between the earliest Hambletonian, Alf Palema (Aug. 1, 1992), to the latest, Walter Dear (Oct. 8, 1929).

HAMBLETONIAN DASHING DEBUTS

Let's start with 1969 and go forward 55 years, taking a look at those who busted through, while debuting on Hambletonian Day no less, in style.

1969 – Howard Beissinger, 46: He decided to start out with a Triple Crown winner, Lindys Pride, the favorite and the first of three for Beissinger closely followed by Speedy Crown in 1971 and his son Speedy Somolli in 1978.

1970 – John Simpson, Jr., 27: The youngest until 1982, when he won with a son of 1964 Triple Crown winner Ayres named Timothy T. His $71G take on that day was the crowning point to be sure as he banked just $36G in his following 11 Hambletonian finals combined.

1981 – Ray Remmen, 34: The Hambletonian relocated to New Jersey and was won by Remmen and Shiaway St Pat. Remmen had never been in a $100,000 race. This $838,000 pot was by

#BET ON HARNESS

HOW MUCH DID YOU BET TODAY?

$538G the new Hambletonian standard. His Michigan-bred was second choice twice $7.20 and $4.40 in the race off.

1989 – Bill Fahy, 35: He debuted with Probe and was part of the unreal dead heat of that year with Park Avenue Joe, the ninth contested at The Meadowlands and the first ever Triple Crown race that resulted in a tie.

1991 – Jack Moiseyev: He is the only driver to win the Hambletonian, be the nation's leading dash-winner, and the leading money-winning driver in the same year, 1991, Giant Victory.

2000 – Trevor Ritchie: He remains the only driver ever to debut in and win both the Meadowlands Pace (Frugal Gourmet, 1987) and the Hambletonian (Yankee Paco, 2000). Yankee Paco was the last chestnut to win the Hambletonian. No chestnut since has gotten a check in the Hambletonian.

2001 – Stefan Melander: He swept in from Sweden and dominated both the elim and final with Scarlet Knight, $3.40 to win.

2002 – Eric Ledford, 30: He held on gamely with Chip Chip Hooray paying $12.60 as the second choice to Andover Hall who made an unfortunate early break.

2005 – Roger Hammer, 59: He and Vivid Photo get the job done reversing tactics storming home from off the pace as the second choice.

2019 – Bob McClure, 28: He won with Forbidden Trade and made it even better in 2024 with a runner up finish thus becoming the only driver in the past half century to be 1-2 in his initial two Hambletonian tries.

2022 – Todd McCarthy, 29: He won with Cool Papa Joe in not only his Hambletonian debut, but his first with the Jim Campbell youngster also. He paid $106, a Hambletonian record price when the smoke cleared.

TIM TETRICK'S PAIR OF ALL-TIME HAMBLETONIAN RECORDS

This year will likely see Tim Tetrick perform on the grandest stage, again, and if so, it'll be his 19th-straight Hambletonian final. His current 18 is already the high-water mark, but that's not all. Tetrick is the only driver to win a Hambletonian heat/elim four straight years: Bar Hopping (2016), fifth in the final, Enterprise (2017), third in the final; Crystal Fashion (2018), fourth in the final, and Green Manalishi (2019), fifth in the final. Nine elim wins overall in the Hambletonian, and he captured the 2012 final with Market Share.

Sheila Napier's stories continue to catch attention

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

by Chris Lomon

Casting a wide net continues to serve horsewoman Sheila Napier well.

On this day, Napier, who works as a caretaker in the barn of trainer Ron Potter, is on the shore of a Delaware reservoir, taking a break from the stable life for an afternoon of fishing.

The longtime horsewoman, joined by her daughter Jessica Greene, and longtime fishing partner Clyde Pfister, didn't have to wait long to reel in her first catch of the day – less than a minute before her initial cast.

"I've caught about six crappies so far," Napier said. "It's very peaceful, which helps me shut everything out. We usually have some good spots, knock on wood, where we don't have to wait long. I was the first one to cast, and 30 seconds later, I had a fish."

When she isn't enjoying time by the water, Napier is busy doting on the horses she takes care of.

Napier's deep love for horses began at a young age. Growing up in Ohio, she always dreamed of having a horse, though she didn't get into riding until her teenage years.

Her passion for the animal would eventually lead to a career working with racehorses, starting during her high school years.

"I was in love with the horses from day one," she said. "I have always been in love with them since I was a little girl. I didn't get into riding them until I was a teenager. But driving down the road, I remember seeing horses and asking my mom for one for Christmas."

While that wish didn't come true, the opportunity to work with racehorses did present itself, starting during her high school days.

"I went to the Delaware [Ohio] Area Career Center where I met [longtime Delaware horsepeople] Jim and Jo Pollock," said Napier, a native of Cincinnati. "Jo was the instructor/teacher at DACC for the equine science lab. A little while later, my first racing job was working for trainer Frank Todd, Jr."

Working with standardbreds was a perfect fit for Napier.

As far as picking out a favorite horse over the hundreds she has worked with over the years, she had a three-part answer.

Super Gizmo, a pacing son of Nobleland Sam—Super Plus, was purchased for a modest $10,000 at the 2000 Ohio Select Yearling Sale. Although he wasn't expected to have a standout career, by the time he retired, he had won 35 of 183 races, earning nearly $200,000 in purse money.

His unlikely success, including setting a track record at Scioto Downs, made him a barn and fan favorite.

"I first started taking care of him in 2002," Napier said. "I remember Ron [Potter] telling me the horse wasn't that fast, but next thing you know, he held a track record at Scioto Downs, 1:51.4, and everybody loved him."

Big Bad John, another Potter trainee, took the barn on the ultimate thrill ride.

“I am so excited about the Breeders Crown coming and the new paddock that is being built at Scioto. It’s going to be nice, and I think we’re going to have a great crowd. There are plenty of farms in the area, where people can bring their horses a couple of weeks before the races.”

~ Sheila Napier

The son of Western Hanover—Trulyawork Of Art was a world champion and retired with nearly $1 million in earnings. He set a world record of 1:53h as a 2-year-old, winning six stakes as a freshman, before winning the 2011 Little Brown Jug (1:50.2 - 1:50) at 3, while defeating the best of his generation.

“He was just an absolute dream come true,” Napier said. “He gave us all so much to remember.”

Rounding out the Napier heart horse trifecta is Custom Cantab.

In 2018, the trotting daughter of Mr Cantab—Custom Model won 13 times. Included in that baker’s dozen were wins in Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final at Hoosier Park and the season-ending Matron at Dover Downs.

Napier recalled how Custom Cantab’s fiery personality made her particularly special.

“I just loved taking care of her,” Napier said. “She had sass and attitude; that filly made me happy. She knew if she had won and if she didn’t, she was upset. There was one race, at Hoosier Park, where she was trying to pass a horse, and you could see her reach over to the inside and try to bite the other horse. She was special.”

Napier’s contributions to those successes and others didn’t go unnoticed.

Seven years ago, Napier was honored with the Caretaker of the Year Award from Hard Rock Rocksino Northfield Park and the U.S. Harness Writers Association.

She was deeply touched by the nomination and the heartfelt letter from her boss at the time, Chris Beaver.

“I was actually very surprised,” she said of the honor. “I found out I had been nominated by quite a few people, and I saw one of the letters, which was from my boss at the time, Chris Beaver, and I was touched by what he wrote.

“It makes me feel good knowing what I do for the horses makes them happy. They make me happy too.”

When she isn’t working in the barn, cheering on the Potter horses at the racetrack, or enjoying an afternoon of fishing, Napier can be found watching her daughter and a familiar face compete in the show ring.

Napier’s daughter, Jessica Greene, shares her mother’s passion for horses.

“She has a horse named Carols Comet, who was trained by Ron Potter,” Napier said. “My daughter absolutely loved this horse. He ended up with Josh Greene and next thing you know, I got a text from Josh asking where he should send him.

“Jessica shows this horse and leases a quarter horse, who she is going to show this summer. She started doing this a few years ago and she enjoys it.”

Napier admits that watching her daughter, who works for trainers Beau and Teesha Brown, perform on the show circuit is far less stressful than watching her pacers and trotters line up behind the starter car.

“I’m less stressed watching Jessica,” Napier said. “She’s doing her best out there, and I know her horses will do well for her. She is part of IEA [Interscholastic Equestrian Association] — they go around riding other horses they haven’t ridden before — and she kicked butt in that. I always look forward to seeing her compete.”

Looking ahead, Napier is excited for the 2026 Breeders Crown at Scioto Downs, which will bring even more attention to the area. With a new paddock under construction, she’s looking forward to a great crowd and the chance to continue supporting the horses and people she cares about.

In the rich 66-year history of Scioto, the track has only ever hosted two singular divisions of the Breeders Crown: the older mare trot in 1986, won by Grades Singing and Herve Filion, and the older open pace in 1988, won by Call For Rain and Clint Galbraith.

“I am so excited about the Breeders Crown coming and the new paddock that is being built at Scioto,” Napier said. “It’s going to be nice, and I think we’re going to have a great crowd. There are plenty of farms in the area, where people can bring their horses a couple of weeks before the races.”

By then, Napier will no doubt have more tales to share — horse racing, horses, fishing and more.

And if history is any indication, those stories are sure to catch the attention of many.

Rolling to success on the lanes

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Nineteen teams qualified for the 2025 National Collegiate Women's Bowling Championship, which got underway Thursday (April 3). Two of them are led by head coaches who also have careers in harness racing.

Jeff Zidek, who has worked at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows in either part-time or full-time roles since 1987, is the head coach of St. Vincent College in Latrobe, PA. He is the only coach in the history of the program, which began in 2017.

Angela Reynolds, who has worked at Mohegan Pennsylvania's Pocono Downs in various roles since 2007, is the head coach of Kutztown University. A standout during her own collegiate bowling days at Delaware State University, Reynolds took over the Kutztown program in 2019.

Both Zidek and Reynolds are leading a team to the National Collegiate Women's Bowling Championship for the first time. The tournament is notable in that programs from NCAA Division I, Division II and Division III compete together. St. Vincent is a Division III school while Kutztown is Division II.

In the most recent National Tenpin Coaches Association Division II/Division III rankings, Kutztown was No. 6, and St. Vincent was No. 7.

"Who would think that in our sport of harness racing you'd have a couple of people tied into a totally different sport in the same way as coaches?" said Zidek, who since 2019 has worked fulltime at The Meadows as the track's announcer.

"To go from racing horses to bowling, you don't hear about that every day," said Reynolds, who is the medication documentarian at Pocono Downs in addition to assisting in other administrative capacities and being a licensed charter. "It's cool."

St. Vincent received an automatic bid to the national tournament as the champion of the Allegheny Mountain Collegiate Conference, with Zidek garnering AMCC Coach of the Year honors for the third time in his career. The Bearcats will travel to the Rochester (NY) Regional to face Marian University in their single-elimination opener.

The winner will advance to meet Youngstown State, the tourney's overall No. 3 seed, in the start of the double-elimination regional round on Friday. The four regional winners will head to the finals round April 11-12 in Las Vegas.

"Once you make an NCAA national tournament, no matter what happens, no one can ever take that away from you," Zidek said. "And the percentage of athletes that get to say in life that they made an NCAA tournament is very small. And they've done it. No matter what happens this week, it's always going to be something they can hang their hat on."

Zidek, a 1990 St. Vincent graduate who served as the college's sports information director from 2003-19, has compiled a 300-75 record with the Bearcats. The team was 49-17 this season as it headed into Thursday's action.

"I've tried to build my program with athletes good enough to go Division I but choose to focus more on the academic side," Zidek said. "I've been able to find enough athletes to buy into that philosophy that could have gone to larger programs. I will travel everywhere I can to try to find the diamond in the rough."

"I enjoy that part of it because, the thing is, you do change their lives. I have brought students here from a couple thousand miles away and some of them stay, they ended up living and working in Pennsylvania. You look at those situations and you try to do what you can to benefit them as not just athletes but as students and help them move on with their life after this. I've had good luck with that."

Zidek has been bowling since the age of 7. In addition to winning individual and doubles tournaments in western Pennsylvania, he has thrown multiple perfect games in his career. He continues to bowl weekly in area leagues and tournaments and has consistently averaged 215 over the past 15 years.

"The NCAA does not have men's bowling, it's just a women's sport," Zidek said. "That's one of the reasons I wanted to start the program, because I never got the chance to bowl in college. Women's college bowling had been picking up. When the college made the decision to add it, I saw an opportunity for me to do something a little different. The time was right for me."

Kutztown received an automatic bid to the national tournament as the champion of the East Coast Conference, with Reynolds earning her first ECC Coach of the Year honor. The Golden Bears will travel to the Pittsburgh Regional to face Fayetteville State in their single-elimination opener.

The winner will advance to meet Nebraska, the tourney's overall No. 2 seed, in the start of the double-elimination regional round.

Kutztown brought a 63-43 record into Thursday's match.

"It's so cool just to get the bid to go," Reynolds said. "This is the first time in the school's history that they've won an ECC championship. You have your ups and downs every year, but that was the only goal we had all year, and they worked hard and came together so well."

"If we wouldn't have won, I still would have been so proud of them because of the growth they showed in everything; team bonding, team unity. There was more than just bowling going on. The support they provided for their teammates, it could bring a tear to your eye. It was amazing."

Reynolds, a 2012 graduate of Delaware State, was a three-time National Tenpin Coaches Association All-American for the Hornets. She participated in the national tournament twice and helped Delaware State to the semifinals in 2009.

"Back then, it was the top eight got picked," Reynolds said. "It's a mental game. I can prepare them a little bit for what's going to happen, but it's still so much different from when I was there."

Kutztown University is nearly 90 minutes from Reynolds' home in northeast Pennsylvania, and it's another half-hour to the bowling center. But the travel is a small price to pay for Reynolds to remain connected to the sport and its athletes in a special way.

"Kim Terrell-Kearney was my coach at Delaware State, and I loved everything about her," Reynolds said. "She was a total mentor. I hung on every word she said, and her word was gold. I thought if she could change my life so much, what can I do for others?"

"I enjoy the girls, and teaching the sport that I love, just passing on everything I have to younger generations. I think it's a great sport."

Woodbine Entertainment celebrates racing directors Megan Walker and Martha Wakely

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

Throughout horse racing history, women have made invaluable contributions to advancing the sport, from breaking barriers as jockeys and trainers to influencing its development as owners and breeders. Respected figures like Woodbine Entertainment's Megan Walker and Martha Wakely have played pivotal roles in reshaping the industry and inspiring future generations.

Though their respective careers at Woodbine focus on different breeds – Walker with the standardbred division and Wakely with the thoroughbred division – both share a deep passion for horse racing that has driven their careers.

On March 24, Walker was promoted to director, standardbred racing operations, while Wakely was promoted to director, thoroughbred racing operations.

"Megan and Martha's leadership, expertise, and unwavering dedication have been instrumental in driving the success of our racing operations," said Michael Copeland, CEO of Woodbine Entertainment. "Their ability to foster collaboration and uphold a high standard of excellence has made a lasting impact on both standardbred and thoroughbred racing. These well-deserved promotions recognize not only their accomplishments but also the immense value they bring to our organization and the broader horse racing community."

Jim Lawson, executive chair, Woodbine Entertainment, said, "These promotions are in recognition of hard work and a testament to the immense value Megan and Martha bring to the organization. It reflects their dedication and the significant impact they have each made in shaping a brighter future for our entire team."

Standardbred racing is in Walker's DNA.

Her father, respected horseman Larry Walker, recorded 2,394 wins as a driver, accompanied by $21.1 million in lifetime earnings. He added over 800 wins and nearly $10 million in purse earnings as a trainer.

"Growing up in the sport – from breeding to racing – shaped my understanding and respect for every aspect of the industry,"

New Image Media

Martha Wakely.

Megan said. “That first-hand experience, passed down through my parents, has been invaluable in my journey at Woodbine.”

Megan joined Woodbine Entertainment in 2016 as a standardbred concierge and owner development associate. From there, she held the role of manager, standardbred racing operations, for nearly three and a half years, before taking on the responsibilities of senior manager, standardbred racing operations.

Teamwork forms the foundation of her approach to industry relations, emphasizing collaboration and collective success.

“Every person in the industry – owners, trainers, drivers, breeders, and horseplayers – play an important role in its success,” Megan said. “Without each one, the sport wouldn’t function. My approach is built on respect, understanding, and collaboration. If we work together, we can continue to push the industry forward.

“It [the promotion] is a great honor. Woodbine Mohawk Park is one of the premier standardbred racetracks in North America. The opportunity to grow, learn, and contribute alongside the best in the industry has been and continues to be a privilege.”

Add the role of track director, board of directors with Standardbred Canada to the equation, and Megan’s horse racing résumé is both robust and rewarding.

“Without a doubt, the people and the horses are the best part of my experience working at Woodbine,” she said. “This industry is built on passion and dedication, and I’ve been fortunate to work alongside some of the hardest-working individuals, from racing participants to our exceptional team at Mohawk. Our standardbred racing team is the best in the business and take great pride in what they do.”

Wakely, like Walker, comes from a horse racing background.

Her parents Doug and Mildred Wakely, owned thoroughbreds, and her brother-in-law, John LeBlanc, Jr., is a graded stakes-winning trainer based at Woodbine.

“We had horses as kids and were into showing them,” Martha said. “My parents eventually got into thoroughbreds. We were those kids standing at the rail watching the races. My dad was so proud. My sister [Maggie LeBlanc] could state any horse’s name and rhyme off pedigrees. Maggie is still breeding and owning horses – I just wish my mom and dad were here to see how their hobby and passion for this industry has affected my sister and me.”

Martha brought her knowledge and adoration of racing to Woodbine in May 2008, as an administrative assistant. Her other roles over the years include thoroughbred racing associate, owner concierge, manager, racing operations and horsemen concierge services, and senior manager, thoroughbred racing operations.

She was promoted to director, thoroughbred operations, on the same day as Megan.

“I don’t think much will change,” Martha said. “It feels like there is more responsibility, which I embrace wholeheartedly. I am very lucky to have the relationship I have with our horse people.

It’s such a joint venture, the relationship with horsepeople, especially right now – the whole industry is facing a tough time. There are a lot of challenges for horsepeople, Woodbine and the industry itself.”

Facing those challenges earnestly and directly is integral to the success of Martha’s role.

“Everything we do is with the horsepeople in mind,” she said. “I think that is where I can help, in knowing how any decision affects a horse. We have to work hand-in-hand, and I believe the horsepeople are going to see that there are plans to make their lives in the backstretch better.

“That approach is important to Michael [Woodbine CEO, Copeland]. When we started the food program in the backstretch dorms last year, that was just scratching the surface of what he wants us to do to make life better for horsepeople. Collectively, we have to step up and carry on that same mindset.”

Martha continues to be inspired by other women in the industry, from trainers and jockeys who ply their respective trades at Woodbine, to fellow Woodbine employees, and key figures in other prominent racing positions.

“When I was a kid, I remember watching trainers Janet Bedford and Joanie Clark, and just being amazed by their commitment to racing and how they worked to have great success in a male-dominated industry,” Martha said. “Jenny Creer was the vet for my brother-in-law’s horses and was one of the first female vets on the backstretch at Woodbine.”

Martha also lauded the efforts of the women behind the formation of LongRun Thoroughbred Retirement Society.

Established in 1999, LongRun is one of the most respected horse retirement and adoption organizations, and the first industry-funded adoption program in Canada. Its picturesque property, home to over 50 retired thoroughbreds, is situated in Hillsburgh, less than an hour’s drive northwest of Woodbine Racetrack.

“Equine welfare continues to be more and more important to our sport,” said Martha, a founding member of LongRun. “This organization started with women behind it. Vicki Pappas gathered a whole group of women together and formed it. We did it and now it’s huge. Vicki is still running it – hands-on, every day. I have been lucky to meet so many extraordinary women through these beautiful animals.”

With the 2025 Woodbine thoroughbred season fast approaching, Martha has been a constant presence on the bustling backstretch in the leadup to opening day.

It is a place that feels just like home.

“Every day is special and is different,” she said. “There will be disagreements, but at the end of the day, we are all passionate about the same things – a love of racing.”

Even on tough days, there’s a silver lining.

“You never know what the day will bring, but one thing is certain – you’re always around horses,” Martha said. “And it doesn’t get any better than that.”

Big M horsemen, bettors honor Myers

The fourth race on The Meadowlands Saturday night (March 29) card was the "Hunter Myers Memorial Race," where patrons were encouraged to watch and wager on the event as both The Big M and SBOANJ pledged to donate their net revenue share to Hunter's fiancée Chloe Fisher and their son Hayden Myers.

In addition, Meadowlands chairman/chief executive officer Jeff Gural will personally match the total share.

The charitable pursuit motivated wagering that was just a hair under $250,000.

FEATURE TO MAXIM: The driver of Maxim Hanover wouldn't have minded trying to win on the front, but in the end, a 2-hole trip did the trick as the Robert Cleary trainee took the feature, a $17,500 high-end conditioned pace.

"He didn't show a lot of gate speed last week," said winning driver Andy McCarthy. "I tried to get him involved a little better [this time around]. I put his mind on the job and that was ideal for us. He was quite focused on the front, but was just as happy with a 2-hole trip."

Primary Colors fired away from post 2 in the 10-horse field as Maxim Hanover was forced to race wide in the first turn after departing from post 5. McCarthy kept 'Max,' a 4-year-old gelded son of Captaintreacherous—Mean Lean, in motion, looping the leader after Primary Colors hit the quarter in :27.2. Primary Colors then quickly retook the top, passing the half in :55.3.

They continued 1-2 around the far turn and past three-quarters, which was timed in 1:24. Primary Colors was determined through the stretch, but couldn't deal with Maxim Hanover, who vacated the pocket with less than an eighth to go, and sailed right by to record a three-quarter-length win in 1:50.3.

"He's got a big engine, a big set of lungs," said McCarthy. "If his mind is on the job, he's a pretty talented horse. It's time [for him] to step up. I think he'll become a really nice open horse."

As the 3-1 third choice in the betting, Maxim Hanover returned $8.40 to win while recording his ninth victory in 27 lifetime tries. He now has earnings of $264,112 for owners Royal Wire Products Inc.

A LITTLE MORE: Todd McCarthy led the driver colony with three winners on the card while Maria Reid and Jeff Cullipher led the trainers with two victories apiece... A $5,029 carryover led to just over $25,000 in "new money" wagered on the 20-cent Pick-6. After a sequence that saw winner's odds of 1-2, 19-1, 3-1, 9-1, 3-5 and 9-1, winning tickets were exchanged for $9,887.44... All-source betting on the 14-race card totaled $3,204,938.

Bartlett's six-bagger at Yonkers includes Brennan Series hat trick

Jason Bartlett had six consecutive victories on Wednesday night (April 2) at MGM Yonkers Raceway, including a trio of tallies in the opening leg of the John Brennan Trotting Series. Each of the series races went for a purse of $30,000.

All of Bartlett's victories in the John Brennan Trotting Series came with Per Engblom trainees, as they connected with 4-year-old Greenshoe gelding Green Pastures (paid $11.60 to win) in 1:56.1 for owners Vip Internet Stable LLC., Engblom Stable LLC., R A W Equine Inc. and Marco Greico, 7-year-old Bold Eagle mare Golden Rain S (paid $3.20 to win) in 1:55.1 for owners Engblom Stable LLC. and Thomas Lind-Holm and 6-year-old Whataworkout gelding Cantstop Yankee (paid $9.10 to win) in 1:56.1 for owner/breeder Kapildeo Singh.

The only horse able to derail the Bartlett/Engblom combo (they were second) in the John Brennan Trotting Series was 5-year-old Father Patrick gelding Antognoni S, who connected in 1:55.2 for co-owner/driver Yannick Gingras, trainer Ron Burke and co-owners Burke Racing Stable LLC., Weaver Brussemi LLC. and Fac Racing LLC.

Named in honor of the longtime SOA of NY horsemen's representative who passed away from complications of COVID-19 in March 2020, the John Brennan Trotting Series has additional prelims on April 9 and April 16 before a $100,000 guaranteed final and $50,000 guaranteed consolation on April 23.

SECOND LEGS OF MATCHMAKER AND BORGATA SET: Tonight (April 4), four $50,000 splits of the second round of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series will go behind the gate. First leg winners Walkin On Sunshine (post 1) and Silk Cloud A (post 5) meet up in the second tilt (race 4) while the other opening round winners - Factory Girl (post 2) and Aardie B Miki N (post 5) headline the third (race 8) and fourth tests (race 9), respectively.

The MGM Borgata Pacing Series will then resume on Monday (April 7) with five $50,000 divisions. The featured event is race 9 where round one winners Verdun (post 1), Mossdale Ben N (post 6) and Aardies Flash N (post 7) square off. Also looking to improve to two-for-two in the Borgata will be For Once Inmy Life (post 1, race 7) and Binge On Yankee (post 4, race 8).

PICK 5 POOL GETS A BOOST ON MONDAYS AND FRIDAYS: Starting tonight (April 4) and continuing for every Monday and Friday card during the legs of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series and Blue Chip Matchmaker Series, MGM Yonkers Raceway, in conjunction with the SOA of NY, will offer a $20,000 guaranteed Pick 5 pool in race 5.

The guaranteed Pick 5 pool on Mondays is also a part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Mossdale Ben N leads triple for Stratton in MGM Borgata Pacing Series

Mossdale Ben N is now five-for-five in the U.S. and was one of three winners for driver Jordan Stratton in Monday's (March 31) first round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series at MGM Yonkers Raceway. For Once Inmy Life, Aardies Flash N, Verdun and Binge On Yankee were the other victors in their respective $50,000 groupings.

Driven by Stratton in the fourth division, Mossdale Ben N got away in the sixth position but wound-up gapping cover past the :56.1 half and then ending up three-wide before the 1:22.4 three-quarters. However, Mossdale Ben N was able to get down into a two-wide position on the final bend and hit his best stride in the lane, rallying past leader Its A Me Mario (Jason Bartlett) on his way to a half-length victory in 1:51.1. Desperate Man (Matt Kakaley) collected third.

A 7-year-old gelded son of A Rocknroll Dance bred in New Zealand by A.G. Affleck, Mossdale Ben N is a 13-time winner overall and has earned $181,519. Trained by Peter Tritton for owner PJT Investments Inc., Mossdale Ben N paid $6.40 to win as the 2-1 second choice and led a $32.20 exacta and a $58.80 trifecta.

For Once Inmy Life took the fastest split for Stratton in 1:51 flat. For Once Inmy Life worked his way past Coaches Corner (Bartlett) for the top spot beyond the :27.2 quarter, kept control through a :55.2 half and a 1:23.2 three-quarters and staved off a two-wide Coaches Corner to the wire, delivering by a half-length. Dunkin' (Tim Tetrack) collected third.

Cory Stratton trains For Once Inmy Life, a 5-year-old gelding by Downbytheseaside, for owner Winters Racing Stable. The Joe Sbrocco-bred For Once Inmy Life made his 12th appearance in the winner's circle, has put away $416,615 and returned $4.70 to win as the 6-5 second choice. He was atop a $10 exacta and a $40.60 trifecta.

Also, part of Stratton's hat trick, was 17-1 shot Aardies Flash N, who tallied in his section in 1:51.2. Aardies Flash N settled in fourth and picked up cover from Humble A (Bartlett) and Wish You Well (David Miller) on the way to the 1:23.2 three-quarters but wound up first-over on the final bend when Humble A cleared to the point and Wish You Well ducked into the pocket. Despite losing the helmets he was tracking, Aardies Flash N didn't lose interest and surged by 1-5 favorite Humble A late in the mile before he reached the wire a length-and-a-quarter in front of him. Wish You Well collected third.

Six-year-old Always B Miki gelding Aardies Flash N was sent out by trainer Per Engblom for owner M T Stables Ontario Inc. Bred in New Zealand by Grant Enterprises Ltd., Aardies Flash N has a summary of 16-9-6 from 47 outings, has pocketed $205,423 and returned $37 to win. The exacta was worth $69 and the trifecta kicked back $199.50.

Monday's first Borgata battle went to Verdun and driver Pat Lachance in 1:52.1. Verdun landed in sixth from post 6 and was on excess cover fourth-over, but Lachance fanned him wide on the last turn, and behind a :26.4 final kicker, he got up to tally by a head. Huntinthelastdolar (Bartlett) was the runner-up and Chase H Hanover (Anthony Napolitano), who carved out panels of :27.4, :56.2 and 1:24, had to settle for third.

Verdun is a 5-year-old Bettors Delight stallion trained by Lachance for owner Tom Ceraso, Jr. Verdun, who was bred by Roland Trudel, won for the 23rd time in his career, has banked $470,209 and paid $11.80 to win as a 9-2 offering. He keyed a $56.50 exacta and a $163 trifecta.

In the midst of a driving rainstorm, 20-1 Binge On Yankee (Scott Zeron) pulled off the upset of the night in the finale, stopping the teletimer in 1:53. Binge On Yankee made the lead with ease from post 7, put up fractions of :27.4, :57 and 1:24.4 and kept pocket-sitter Typhoon Banner N (Joe Bongiorno) at bay through the lane and to the wire for the decision by a neck. Why Not Now (Kakaley) grabbed third.

Trainer Jeff Gillis also co-owns Binge On Yankee, a 5-year-old Stay Hungry gelding, with partner Ellen Ott. Binge On Yankee, who was bred by Charles Keller III, secured his 14th lifetime triumph and has stashed away $299,507. He returned $43.80 to win while the exacta and trifecta paid $230.50 and $534, respectively.

The MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims run through Monday (April 28), with the $200,000 (added) final and $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation on Friday (May 9) where they will be joined by the $200,000 (added) final and $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Pacing Series.

SERIES ACTION CONTINUES: Tonight (April 4), four $50,000 splits of the second round of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series will go behind the gate. First leg winners Walkin On Sunshine (post 1) and Silk Cloud A (post 5) meet up in the second tilt (race 4) while the other opening round winners – Factory Girl (post 2) and Aardie B Miki N (post 5) – headline the third (race 8) and fourth tests (race 9), respectively.

PICK 5 POOL GETS A BOOST ON MONDAYS AND FRIDAYS: Starting tonight (April 4) and continuing for every Monday and Friday card during the legs of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series and Blue Chip Matchmaker Series, MGM Yonkers Raceway, in conjunction with the SOA of NY, will offer a $20,000 guaranteed Pick 5 pool starting in race 5.

The guaranteed Pick 5 pool on Mondays is also a part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Vernon Downs to begin live racing on Saturday, April 19

Vernon Downs is set to begin its 72nd anniversary of racing on Saturday (April 19). Post time for Opening Night is 5:05 p.m. and features a t-shirt giveaway after the third race.

As the only seven-eighths-mile track in New York, Vernon Downs features exhilarating racing action and family friendly entertainment. In 2024, "Lightning" Leon Bailey cruised to the top of the driver standings with a career best 166 wins. Last year's leading trainer was Jessica Okusko. Both will be returning to defend their titles.

Vernon Downs hosts a bevy of stakes races including eight New York Sire Stakes cards featuring the top trainers and drivers in the sport. On June 13, the 3-year-old filly trotters and 3-year-old colt trotters take center stage in the $500,000 Empire Breeders Classic. Then on July 3, Vernon Downs once again plays host to the $500,000 Zweig Memorial which annually features the best Grand Circuit sophomore trotters on the road to the Aug. 2 $1 million Hambletonian at The Meadowlands.

To close out the season's stakes action, the inaugural New York Sire Stakes Big Apple for state-bred freshmen will offer $1 million in purses. Elimination races are set for Oct. 4 with a $250,000 final for each division of trotters and pacers on Oct. 11.

Vernon Downs is proud to offer the best promotions in harness racing. Reoccurring giveaways include the popular Summer Sizzler, Meat Madness and Back to School gift cards. The Easy As 1-2-3 promotions features discounted food and drink specials. On July 3, a spectacular fireworks show will follow the races. "Corntastic weekend" will take place Aug. 15-16 featuring free locally grown corn.

The always-popular Horse Play Car Giveaway starts May 9 and runs until Oct. 18. For all upcoming promotions and promotions rules visit www.vernondowns.com/racing.

Live racing takes place from April through November and entry to the track is free every race day. Individuals must be 18 years of age to wager on horses and participate in promotions/giveaways. For post time information, promotions information and full 2025 live racing calendar, visit www.vernondowns.com/racing.

Captain Terminator strong in Series championship win

Persistence paid off for the ownership of Glasser Racing LLC and trainer Mike Watson as Captain Terminator won a $17,500 Game Of Claims Pacing Series championship on Tuesday afternoon (April 1) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

Glasser Racing entrusted the Saskatchewan-bred son of Trueland Hanover to Watson after the veteran was claimed out of the series' first preliminary, which he won, for $10,000. The base claiming price elevates for each prelim in the Game Of Claims, and $12,500 was paid for the sharp pacer as he also won round 2. Glasser Racing had to come up with $15,000 going to the last preliminary if it wanted the horse back for a shot at the final, and it did (the horse was third after starting from the difficult trailing post 9; Angelo, the horse who won that race, didn't qualify for the final, but he came back to win himself on Tuesday).

In the Game Of Claims championship, Captain Terminator was taken right to the top by driver Jim Marohn, Jr., who had won with him in the middle leg. After a quarter in :27.4 and half of :56.4, the leader was presented with a stern challenge from brusher Petipou, who got a small lead but not the inside before the 1:24.3 three-quarters. Captain Terminator shook off that bid and continued on nicely, winning by 1¾ lengths over Stick With Cramer, the only other double-GOC winner in this final, who, after facing clogged outer tiers, closed strongly as usual.

The total investment in the ownership of the 'Captain' was a net $12,500 (paid $10,000 in the first leg and $15,000 in the third, minus the $12,500 received after being claimed in round 2), and Glasser Racing is already "out" on the horse after he earned $4,500 for them in his previous win and $8,750 in this championship, a total of $13,250. And they have a sharp pacer who could well go on and pile up more earnings.

The trotters have a Game Of Claims Series starting next Tuesday (April 8), and several prospects raced in the $15,000 claiming handicap co-feature. That event was won by the Andover Hall gelding Grapple Hanover, now a career winner of $347,810, who caught pacesetter Golden Compass in a 1:55.4 mile. Braxten Boyd drove the winner, rebounding from a break in his seasonal bow, for trainer Brandy Wine and owner Brett Boyd Racing Inc.

Tyler Buter and George Napolitano, Jr. each had three sulky successes on the day; they led the Tuesday tally, and they are tied for the top for the meet at 47 triumphs.

Racing resumes at Pocono on Saturday with a 1 p.m. program, which will feature five $20,000 divisions of the second preliminary of the Bobby Weiss Series for sophomore pacing males. Two of the sections will match up two winners in the first round: Captain Conan and Flight In Motion in race 13, World Of Wishes (fastest winner in 1:51) and Gold Glove Hanover a race later. Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Beaujolais Breeze wins Weiss Series division in 1:55.2 career debut

The chestnut Love You sophomore gelding Beaujolais Breeze made a striking pari-mutuel debut on Monday afternoon (March 31) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, as the Love You gelding came up on the grind while going his back half in :56.3 to win his $20,000 division of the Bobby Weiss Series' first preliminary for 3-year-old trotting males in 1:55.2.

Favored Te Quiero Lindy had made the lead by the :28.3 quarter, moderated the half to :58, then went on with the wind to reach the three-quarters in 1:26.3. Tyler Buter had initially stayed in with Beaujolais Breeze, but when the two-wide tier made little headway he sent his charge out to the uncovered position later on the backstretch and gained steadily, finally edging out the favorite by a half-length for trainer Nifty Norman and the partnership of Tom Vassiliou, Deo Volente Farms LLC, Thomas Pontone, and Enzed Racing Stable Inc.

The other two Weiss divisions were won by George Napolitano, Jr.-driven geldings, neither the betting favorite, but both nonetheless taking a new mark of 1:57.1; one shares the trainer of Beaujolais Breeze, and the other shares his sire.

The second winning Weiss pupil of Nifty Norman was Pantofolaio (Italian for couch potato), a Bar Hopping gelding who was nothing like his name in grinding to the lead late on the far turn and then resisting Blue Patrol by a neck for Dean Lockhart, Wayne Carleton, and Jeffery Runk. The second son of Love You to visit Pocono's Victory Lane was Luvutothemoonanbak, who persevered gamely on the lead to defeat Big Shot by the slightest of margins for trainer Blake MacIntosh and Clancy Farms.

Fathers and sons big winners as Weiss Series starts

Trainer/fathers and driver/sons combined to win half the six $20,000 divisions of the first preliminary of the Bobby Weiss Series for 3-year-old pacing males Saturday afternoon (March 29) at a warm Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

The fastest mile was turned in by Team Ryder, trainer Chris and driver Patrick, as the Bettor's Wish gelding World Of Wishes turned in as tough a maiden-breaking win in his second lifetime start as you are likely to see, stopping the clock in 1:51. World Of Wishes, owned by Philip Steinberg, pushed the two favorites well past a :26.4 opener before allowing both to get by, then was right back uncovered nearing the :55.1 half. On a day where the wind gave horses a push down the backstretch, World Of Wishes reclaimed command with a :26.4 brush, passing by a 1:22.2 three-quarters, and drawing off late to win by three lengths at 10-1.

Even though he had the fastest mark in the field (1:53.2), another altered son of Bettor's Wish, Cover The Spread, was allowed to go off at 40-1 in his seasonal bow. The pacer rallied from the 2-hole to catch 12-1 Atta Boy Abe, the second-longest-priced horse in the field, to win in 1:54.3 by a neck for driver Tyler Buter, trainer/father Todd, and Oldfield Racing LLC.

Tyler went on to win two other Weiss divisions, one of them at 14-1 with the Betting Line gelding Flight In Motion, who overcame a first-over trip to lower his mark to 1:52, decisioning Federer by a half-length for trainer Eddie Dennis and the partnership of Mulligan Stables and Jason Johnson Inc. His other sulky success was with one of the three Weiss favorites who won, the Captain Crunch gelding Captain Conan, who led at every call while breaking his maiden in 1:52.4 - :55.3 for trainer Robert Cleary and owner Robert Corrigan.

Team Pelling – trainer Brett and driver Jack – were the third father/son pairing to visit Victory Lane, as the Papi Rob Hanover gelding Gold Glove Hanover wheeled right back in after racing on Tuesday and promptly reduced his mark in 1:52.1. He punched back tenaciously after being passed by brusher Jackson Cooper and achieving a head margin for Pelling Racing LLC while going his own back half in :54.4.

Also, a Weiss winner, was the only winning colt, Ooglesville, a son of Huntsville and a consistent horse in the NYSS at 2, making every pole a winning one in his return while recording his first race win in 1:53 - :55.2. Zip Time was a half-length in back of the winner, who was driven by Jason Bartlett for trainer Per Engblom and Morrison Racing Stables.

The 1:50 winners on the card were Virgo, the fastest at 1:49.2 for driver Simon Allard, and a pair who took lifetime marks for driver Anthony Napolitano: Southwind Celsius (1:50) and Rose Run Zeke (1:49.3).

Woodbine Mohawk Park card cancelled after six; New Rules takes New Holland final

Woodbine Mohawk Park was forced to cancel Saturday (March 29) evening's card after six races due to inclement weather causing poor visibility.

A pair of finals for the New Holland Series was to highlight Saturday's return of live racing at Woodbine Mohawk Park following a "March Break." The New Holland Trotting Series final was contested before the cancellation, while the New Holland Pacing Series final will now take place next Saturday (April 5).

New Rules and driver Trevor Henry converted off a 2-hole trip behind heavy-favorite Fashion Frenzie to take the $69,000 New Holland Trotting Series final. It was a table-turning performance for New Rules, who had finished in the runner-up spot behind Fashion Frenzie in both preliminary legs.

Fashion Frenzie cut the mile against his four rivals, setting easy fractions of :58 and 1:28 to lead into the lane. New Rules popped off the favorite's back and overtook halfway down the lane. The eventual winner had to contest with a late push from Locatelli, holding on by a head in 1:56.3.

Fashion Frenzie settled for third, while Truffles Too was fourth.

Trained by Dave Menary, New Rules is now five-for-nine this season with $133,500 earned for owner Pollack Racing LLC. The 5-year-old's career totals jump to 21 wins and over $400,000 earned.

New Rules paid $5.50 to win.

Sire stakes atop Cal Expo marquee

The Minnesota Kid, who has established himself at the top of the division, seeks another trophy in tonight's (April 4) $20,000 California Sire Stakes for the 3-year-old pacing colts.

First post for the 10-race Watch and Wager LLC program is 6:45 p.m.

The Minnesota Kid, a son of Karpathian Kid who is owned by Stephanie Ann Longo, takes his lessons from Jose Castillo and will be handled by Luke Plano.

He has dominated the first two stakes events for this group, putting his versatility on display in the process.

The Minnesota Kid took them coast-to-coast in the first big-money clash on Feb. 21, then sat back in the most recent and came with a powerful stretch kick to win going away by 4½ lengths.

Night Train Lane was the runner-up in that last stakes dance and will be looking for some revenge tonight. The Proof homebred carries the banner of Wayne Knittel with Bob Johnson the conditioner and Mooney Svendsen doing the honors.

Rounding out the field are Wind Me up Blue, Yerderntootin, JK Cache Meoutside, Tutto Bene, Aint No Uppy Man and Blazin For Life.

Overthemoonforyou, Celebrity Status shine

The flashbulbs were going off again for Overthemoonforyou and Celebrity Status after last week's Sire Stakes for the 4-year-old pacers.

Overthemoonforyou was winning for the ninth time from 10 starts on the year and was picking up her third stakes trophy for Qks Racing, trainer Quentin Schneider and pilot Aaron Lehman.

Meanwhile, it was the second trip to the winner's circle following a stakes event this season for Celebrity Status, who captured the first big-money contest for this group in February but was hard used and tired in the March 8 gathering behind Alien Art Form.

The Set The Pace Racing LLC color-bearer was able to work out a perfect 2-hole trip last week for driver/trainer Nick Roland and had little trouble motoring by when it counted while establishing a new lifetime mark in the process.

Coming into this week's action, Schneider has a two-length lead over Roland in the training race, while Roland begins tonight's program with three more victories than defending champion Luke Plano atop the driver standings.

Registration open for 2025 Horsemen's Hockey Tournament

Organizers of the annual Horsemen's Hockey Tournament are pleased to announce that the 2025 tournament will take place on Sunday (April 27) at the Cambridge Sports Park.

The tournament is open to all hockey-playing participants of the racing industry.

Sign-up is open now and organizers encourage those interested to sign-up as soon as possible to help determine the number of teams in this year's tournament.

To sign-up, click here.

The tournament will continue with its open draft format. Captains (to be named later) will draft their teams from the list of players signed up for the tournament.

The entry fee for this year's tournament is $60 a player (to be paid at the door). The entry fee guarantees a minimum of three games, a meal and drink ticket.

The Horsemen's Hockey Tournament would not be possible without the support of sponsors. Any individuals or groups interested in sponsoring this year's event are encouraged to reach out to organizers Curtis MacDonald (i.curtis.macdonald@gmail.com), Jody Jamieson, James MacDonald and Mark McKelvie (mark.mckelvie@live.ca) through social media or e-mail.

Tritton Big M trainee is a horse of a different 'Colour'

Saturday night's (April 5) fifth race at The Meadowlands has one starter that may have onlookers rubbing their eyes in disbelief.

Yes, Always B Colour IR looks different. So different, in fact, you've likely never seen one behind a starting gate that looks like him.

You see, Always B Colour IR is a pinto, or skewbald, as they are known in Australia.

A pinto is "a horse or pony of various breeding that is marked with patches of white and another color," according to the Merriam-Webster dictionary website, but the definition doesn't do justice to just how striking one of these horses are once one sees them up close.

"I grew up knowing these horses to be called skewbald," said Always B Colour IR's trainer, Shane Tritton. "They're very rare. Obviously, it's the coloring. They have skewbalds racing in Australia and Europe, but they've always had a notorious history of not producing the best horses. People want these things and try to breed them because they love the coloring but not many of them have turned out to be high-quality race horses."

So, what is Always B Colour IR doing at The Meadowlands?

"In certain parts of Ireland, they predominantly only race the skewbalds," said Tritton. "Every now and again, one ventures out of their little racing community to try and mix in with the other racehorses and some of them rise up and there's been a couple who've done fairly well. But this horse, we believe, is on a whole new level, and that's basically why he's come to us, because they believe, based on what they've seen of him in Ireland, he's possibly the best one that's ever been produced and that's why he's here. To give him a shot to prove that."

A 4-year-old son of Always B Miki—Mamma Said who has drawn post 4 on Saturday, in his first start on American soil, Always B Colour IR showed speed before finishing third in what was a solid qualifier. According to Tritton, his mile time of 1:52 was the fastest-ever for the breed. His last charted line before that was a third-place finish racing in Ireland seven months ago.

"We went to the Vincent Delaney Memorial in Ireland last year," said Tritton. "He raced that day, and my wife Lauren fell in love with him straight away, as she does. He raced quite well and we approached the trainer and said he's a beautiful horse, and mentioned that if he wanted a home for him, we'd love to have something to do with him if he progresses."

"I think it was three or four months later we got in contact with a couple of people, the breeders from over in Ireland that put the owner, Shane Curtin, in contact with us, and he kind of reached out and said would you be interested in giving this guy a shot, I think he could be pretty special. We were happy to give him a go. We've had a bit of luck with these Irish horses. We know that they can step up to the plate in this country. I do believe he is every bit as good as they think he is and, hopefully, with a bit of experience racing over here, he's going to prove it."

Shane is his stable's trainer, but when it comes to Always B Colour IR, Lauren, who is the horse's driver, was the person who got this all started.

"He's a really lovely horse to have around the barn," said Lauren. "I saw him in his stall at the Vincent Delaney Memorial and there was no one around. I walked past him and I said to Shane, 'Find whoever owns or trains this horse, because we are taking him home.'"

Lauren, a two-time winner of the driver's premiership back in her native Australia, is looking forward to the process with her new horse.

"He has a lot of learning to do," said Lauren. "When I first sat behind him, I felt so much raw talent but he just didn't know what to do with it. He needs help. He's good gaited and has lovely manners. It's not going to be hard to teach him. I'm really excited to be a part of this. This type of thing is something the industry needs right now."

Due to the small purses he raced for in Europe, Always B Colour IR, who is in a non-winners of two on Saturday, fits the maiden 4-year-old class, so Shane is hoping a win will come shortly.

"The mother looks the way he does," said Shane. "She was good in their racing. He's the most unique horse you'll ever see. We were walking back from the qualifiers, to warm up, and there were 30 people that stopped him on the way to the track. He is certainly something people don't see every day."

Shane is optimistic about what lies ahead.

"I have a very high opinion of him," said the trainer. "He's held his own against some of the nicer horses we have at home. I know he's still very green but my dream is that he's going to be the first horse with coloring like this to break 1:50. That would be what dreams are made of."

FREE PPs: To show appreciation to its loyal fan base, The Meadowlands offers free program pages for every race of every race card on its website.

Go to playmeadowlands.com, then click on the "news" dropdown to get the past performances at absolutely no cost.

THE SCHEDULE: During the month of April, live racing at The Big M will be conducted every Friday and Saturday with a first-race post-time of 6:20 p.m.

CATCH THE SHOW: Check out the live "Racing from The Meadowlands" pregame show at 5:45 p.m. every Friday and Saturday when track announcer Ken Warkentin opens up the mic with a scene set and program changes.

Warkentin will then throw to the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set, where The Big M's Dave Little and Jessica Otten will provide news, notes, selections and a look at the night's featured races.

Joe Romanelli will handle interviews from the back paddock as well as providing commentary and selections on the FanDuel Television (FDTV) feed.

THE BILL OF FARE: Every night, The Meadowlands offers a marvelous menu of popular wagers that offer a low 15 per cent takeout.

They are:

- 20-cent Pick-5: Races 1-5
- 20-cent Survivor Pick-7: Races 3-9 (mandatory payout nightly)
- 50-cent Pick-4: Races 6-9 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- 20-cent Pick-6: Races 8-13
- 50-cent Pick 4: Races 10-13 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- 10-cent non-jackpot Pentafecta (Hi-5): Race 14

TIME TO GET SOCIAL: Everything Meadowlands is available by going on X. You can check in with the Big M team for early changes, racing information and staff selections by going to @themeadowlands or #playbigm.

GLADA, Grattan Helmets join in raffle to benefit family of Hunter Myers

GLADA (Great Lakes Amateur Driving Association) and Grattan Helmets are joining together to raise money for the family of Hunter Myers.

Purchase a $25 ticket for a chance to win a customized Grattan Helmet. All donations will go to the Hunter Myers family.

"[GLADA vice president] Larry [Ferrari] came up with this idea, and he called Grattan and got them to donate the helmet and 100 per cent of the proceeds are going to go to the Myers family and we're absolutely thrilled to be able to do that," said GLADA president Steve Oldford.

The drawing will be held on Friday (April 18).

For GLADA, known for raising money for charities and noble causes, this is personal, since their home tracks are Northfield and The Meadows and they knew Myers.

"We'd see him in the locker room and he was a great young man who loved to kid around," Oldford said. "When he first started, we used to tease him, 'Hey, come on out and race with us.' He was a fine young man and it's a big loss."

To purchase tickets, please send money via Venmo to Larry-Ferrari-2. Please contact Larry Ferrari at 216-470-6390 or Steve Oldford at 810-300-3234 for further information.

Make Good Friday a GREAT Friday for the Myers Family.
