Schnittker trio looks poised as sophomore stakes kick off in Weiss series

Heavily-staked Victor Laszlo looks promising at Pocono.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

One of the surer signs of spring is the start of the harness racing stakes season. Following another winter of not much happening in the 2-turned-3-year-old division, there finally comes a glimpse of what may come in this year's season when sophomore colt and gelding trotters kick off the first four different Bobby Weiss stakes at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono this upcoming Monday (April 8).

For 3-year-olds who were non-winners or 2 races or $35,000 lifetime as of February, the Weiss series offers an opportunity for horses across the different 3-year-old divisions to jump start their season and in some cases, their careers. It's not uncommon for there to be a standout throughout the series that goes on to make a name for themselves as the stakes season picks up, and such could be the case with a group of two trotting colts and one gelding sent out by trainer Ray Schnittker.

The best looking one of those three so far looks to be the Chapter Seven colt Victor Laszlo. A $110,000 Lexington Selected yearling purchase and what looks to be the only Hambletonian-eligible horse in the series, he rounded out last season with a fifth-place finish in the Valley Victory final, losing by only about seven lengths or so to division winner Karl.

"We've got him staked really heavily," said Schnittker. "He jumped on a foot early last year and lost most of the year, and then he went from trotting in 2:00 to trotting in about 1:53 in five weeks. Time will tell but I think he's got talent, and he should be pretty tough in [the Weiss] though."

The time span Schnittker speaks of is when Victor Laszlo debuted in early season qualifiers in late-May and early-June, but then after his June debut in a New York Sires Stakes race at Yonkers, he didn't race again until late in the season in October. At that point, the young colt kept up well in non-winners of 2 races that went in the 1:53 range, and then was race-timed in 1:53.3 in that Valley Victory final. After qualifying sharply two races ago at The Meadowlands to win by 13 lengths in 1:57.3, he made his seasonal debut earlier in the week to crush in 1:57.2 over a sloppy-rated track at Pocono.

“We’ve got [Victor Laszlo] staked really heavily. He jumped on a foot early last year and lost most of the year, and then he went from trotting in 2:00 to trotting in about 1:53 in five weeks. Time will tell but I think he’s got talent, and he should be pretty tough in [the Weiss] though.”

~ Ray Schnittker

Another horse that Schnittker is optimistic about is the gelding Titan Your Grip (E L Titan). He raced far better last year than his 0-for-8 record indicates, as he still earned nearly $100,000 with four second-place finishes while racing throughout the NYSS circuit.

“He was a very nice New York-sired colt last year and I think he’ll be a big factor in his upcoming race,” said Schnittker. “He should be a top three or four trotter in New York this year. Last year he was parked the mile from post 7 in the New York Sires Stakes final and lost by just a couple lengths.”

As for how the horse will fare heading into his first race of the year, Schnittker said that Titan Your Grip likely needed his first start which came at Yonkers two weeks ago after electing to qualify the gelding back only once.

The third of Schnittker’s Weiss horses for the 3-year-old trot division is a Walner colt named High Life who sold for $65,000 out of the same 2022 Lexington Selected sale as Victor Laszlo.

High Life surprised in his first start since December, winning in 2:00 flat and surprising in the process at odds of 10-1 over a Pocono off-track.

“I put hobbles on him for that race and I probably should have had them on earlier,” said Schnittker, noting that the horse may not need them eventually. “He actually qualified okay against Victor Laszlo at The Meadowlands even though he was gapped off quite a bit against him. But he raced pretty good the other day, and the track that day was real deep for Pocono.”

Other horses that catch the eye throughout the series include the Greenshoe gelding Green Pastures. Trained by Per Engblom, Green Pastures debuted a month ago at The Meadowlands and was a 1:55.2 winner where he pulled away smartly following a perfect 2-hole ride. He followed that up next out with a first-over grind and broke in that race’s latter stages when it looked like he was still battling on.

That above race was won by the gelding Wellington Hanover (International Moni), who is also in this series. Wellington

Hanover is the case of a rare Burke horse that struggled mightily in the summer stages last year but clearly the time off has served him well. The gelding qualified back with a time of 1:56 and proved that was no fluke when he stormed home wide in his 2024 debut to win going away at upset odds of 21-1.

Elsewhere, the Six Pack colt Four Sixes makes his third start of the year. He cruised in both of his first couple races at The Meadows this year and he showed blazing early speed last year in June in a Tompkins-Geers stake at The Meadowlands. Usain Hanover (Bar Hopping) looks well-prepared for the series, having qualified a single time at The Meadowlands in 1:56 for trainer Nifty Norman. Electric Speed (Tactical Landing) is another Nifty Norman trainee and could be interesting with flat miles. Las Vegas Journey (Muscle Hill) was a $130,000 Harrisburg buy for Svanstedt who is now with trainer Norman Morford. He was well-staked last year at 2 and qualified impressively at Pocono when he won by double digits; he comes from the family of Trixton. Going Green is another Greenshoe, this one for trainer Jenny Melander, who was lightly stakes tested at 2.

There are a couple other horses who appear on the fringe but wouldn’t be a surprise if they’re able to step up if they’ve matured since last year. Following who those horses will be marks the start of a brand new 3-year-old stakes season.

Twos in Training series debuts for 2024

The popular video series starts its sixth year with Heather Wilder interviewing trainer Brian Brown in Florida.

by Dave Briggs

Another sign of spring is here. HRU's Broadcast Division is proud to announce the 2024 debut of its Twos in Training series beginning with Heather Wilder interviewing trainer Brian Brown in Florida.

The video will debut at 5 a.m. (ET) today (April 5) on our YouTube channel here. Subscribe today, so you don't miss an episode.

Special thanks to Wire to Wire Wealth, and the Standardbred Horse Sales Company for sponsoring the Brown video.

This is the first of many 2024 Twos in Training videos HRU has in the works from Florida, New Jersey and Ontario featuring the talented Wilder, Heather Vitale and Jaimi MacDonald. More will debut very soon.

While you wait for more episodes, check out Wilder's 2023 interview with Brown. It can be viewed here.

Rime of the ancient 'Mariner'

The racing career of the 15-year-old warrior Mariner Seelster will be coming to an end soon, but what an ending it has been.

by Debbie Little

As a 15-year-old, Mariner Seelster could be considered ancient when it comes to racing, but unlike the famous Coleridge poem, the only "crime" the gelded son of Camluck—M T Freedom has committed is winning.

Mariner Seelster, who has won four of his six starts this year, including four straight, competes in the Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club (MADC) races, since — according to United States Trotting Association rule 9.07 — 15-year-olds can only compete in "matinees, county fair races, races exclusively for amateur or club drivers as sanctioned by USTA, or non-betting racing under saddle events."

In a way, the albatross this 'Mariner' bears is the earnings cap that the MADC put in place to protect horses of his age.

The MADC rule states: "15-year-old horses are limited to maximum purse earnings of $25,000 during their 15-year-old year after which they are no longer eligible to race."

To their credit, the MADC wants to protect their older competitors.

David Glasser, a member of the MADC, spoke with HRU back in 2022 when these rules were first introduced and again now to explain their thought process.

The MADC rule states: "15-year-old horses are limited to maximum purse earnings of $25,000 during their 15-year-old year after which they are no longer eligible to race."

"We discussed $20,000, and also $25,000," Glasser said. "The representative of the trainers was Stacy Chiodo, who had Rock To Glory turning 15 the next year and we [Stacy, Scott Warren, representation from the State Vet and me] came up with what we thought was a good way to protect the 15-year-olds from bouncing from barn to barn at this age.

"If they could race like 14-year-olds, and race pro and at any track, they could get claimed constantly and that's something we wanted to discourage. So, with a MADC claim tag of $12,500 combined with a maximum you could earn of $25,000, we thought this would deter that, and it has. If Mariner could race all year, and anywhere, he'd have changed barns many times by now, because when a horse is claimed in an MADC race, you have to tag next start if staying in MADC and we don't want this for these 15-year-old horses."

Mariner Seelster is owned by Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC, Alexander Racing Stable LLC, D'Elegance Stable IX and T L P Stable and trained by Travis Alexander and driven by 2022 Amateur Driver of the Year, Tony Beltrami, and is competing on Saturday (April 6) in race 1, following a fourth-place finish last week.

Alexander and his wife, Alaina, have liked Mariner Seelster from the time he was a baby.

"We tried to buy him as a yearling and we were the under bidders [at the sale]," Travis said.

Mark Ford trained Mariner Seelster for the majority of his career, but in late 2021, Travis finally got the chance to train him and became co-owner in 2022.

The horse is special to the Alexanders, especially Alaina.

"That's why I always claim him back, because my wife is very fond of him," Travis said. "I don't want to call him a pet because he's not really a pet, but she has her select few that she looks after a little bit and he's one of them."

Tony Beltrami driving Mariner Seelster to victory at The Meadowlands in March.

As a 14-year-old, at the end of 2023, Mariner Seelster was a little over $5,000 away from hitting $1 million for his career and had he won his last race, rather than finishing second, he would have hit the mark. Being less than $2,500 away from the million-dollar plateau, the Alexanders decided to race Mariner with the amateurs at The Meadowlands. After finishing eighth in his first start, Mariner picked up Beltrami as his driver and things just clicked with the pair rattling off four-straight wins.

“That happens sometimes,” Beltrami said of his connection with Mariner Seelster. “It happened with Dream Out Loud as well. It’s nice when you can communicate with one through the lines like that.”

Even though his time driving Mariner Seelster is coming to an end, Beltrami appreciates what they have shared.

The Alexanders have not been able to be at The Meadowlands for Mariner Seelster’s last two races because their flights from Florida were delayed. However, this week should be different.

“He gets another kick at the can and Alaina will be there,” Travis said. “The win would have been nice [last week] but he waited for her.”

Travis hopes to join his wife but has several horses racing that same day in the Weiss at Pocono Downs, including the last race on the card, so it may not be possible.

Whether Mariner Seelster wins or loses on Saturday, he will eventually pass $25,000 for the year.

“I’m just glad he got over [a million dollars],” Travis said. “He deserved it. He’s raced hard and long and he loves his job. If he didn’t love his job, we wouldn’t be racing him, but he’s as happy as any horse we have right now. And he’s so sound, he’s one of the soundest horses in the barn.”

“He’s always going to have a spot with us. We have a couple of retirees out at Blue Chip, but I don’t think Mariner would like that life right now. I think he would like another job just like Stacy’s horse. Just something else to do for a while.”

Chiodo retired 15-year-old Rock To Glory in 2023 after he also passed $1 million in earnings. However, “Rocky” didn’t like being retired, so he is now in his new career as a riding horse (story here).

According to Travis, Mariner Seelster has also been ridden and he could still race him in another state in amateur races that don’t have the $25,000 cap.

“I can’t see sending him down to someone else and being able to sleep in my bed at night. I’d be in the garage,” Travis said with a laugh.

Poseidon Seelster rules the stakes seas

The pacer stormed to victory in Woodbine Mohawk Park's New Holland pacing series final for trainer Donald Lindsey.

by Melissa Keith

To the ancient Greeks, Poseidon was the god of horses, storms, earthquakes, and the sea. Saturday (March 30) night at Woodbine Mohawk Park, Poseidon Seelster (p, 5, 1:48.2s; $540,187) was a horse who lived up to that mythological billing, storming off the gate for driver Tyler Moore, parting the sea in deep stretch, and shaking up the tote board at a generous 10-1 in the $71,000 final of the New Holland pacing series.

The 7-year-old son of Sunshine Beach—Porsche Seelster led to the :26.1 opening quarter, then allowed 3-5 favorite Whichwaytothebeach to take charge. Poseidon Seelster and Moore enjoyed a pocket trip behind the new leader, staying just ahead of his Donald Lindsey stablemate Gias Surreal, who followed from single-file third to the :55.1 half before getting shuffled back. In the stretch drive, Poseidon Seelster appeared to lack racing room, but took the inside path to a narrow victory in a 1:51s blanket finish.

Driver Moore told post-race interviewer Randy Waples that luck played a strong role in the nose-margin win over quick-closing runner-up Century Heineken. All but the last two finishers in the 10-horse field were within two-and-quarter lengths of the winner at the wire.

"It was pretty tight for a minute," Moore said. "There was enough room for the horse, but not for the rest of me, and it eventually just started to fan out just enough for me to get going, and that's what made it so close. I didn't actually get into full gear until it was, you know, getting late in the stretch."

Donald Lindsey echoed those words a few days later, as the winning trainer and co-owner described the "very, very tight race with a ground-saving trip by Tyler."

The Fergus, ON horseman told Harness Racing Update that Poseidon Seelster, “didn’t have a lot of racing room and didn’t have an ideal trip” in the previous leg of the WMP series for non-winners of $150,000 lifetime.

“The horse was flat [on March 23],” Lindsey said. “I would say in the first two legs of the [New Holland] Series, he wasn’t as sharp as he had been back in February. Hopefully he can regain that form he had back in February.”

Saturday’s victory was the 19th from 98 lifetime starts for the relatively lightly-raced gelding. Lindsey said Poseidon Seelster started his career at Mohawk for previous conditioner Matt Dupuis, but changed course during 2021 COVID shutdowns at racetracks, which “really messed things up in his 4-year-old year.” The pacer spent most of that season in the United States, which Lindsey said “wasn’t a bad thing, with the Graduate Series [at The Meadowlands]. There was no Confederation Cup; it was canceled due to COVID. There was no Prix d’Ete. Those were two events that would have made his 4-year-old year a lot better, I think.”

Lindsey and co-owners Paul Kleinpaste of Orangeville, ON; William Alempijevic of Lexington, KY; and Garth Bechtel of Meaford, ON bought Poseidon Seelster at the end of his sophomore season. Nik Drennan has trained the gelding during stateside trips, like the 2022 MGM Borgata Series at Yonkers Raceway, when he closed to collar Tattoo Artist in the 1:51 flat mile in leg 3 for catch driver George Brennan.

“If he’s sharp, maybe we’ll give him some invitational events. Other than that, we didn’t stake him at all. The only stake we might stake him to, from this point, is the Gold Cup and Saucer [Aug. 17 at Red Shores Charlottetown]... We didn’t pay him into the [Canadian] Pacing Derby or anything this year. He’s a nice horse, but I don’t think it’s in his best interest to race in that group of horses.”

"We took him last year, and he's a horse that doesn't like the grind of the Borgata Series [which] really shows how tough a horse is..." Lindsey said. "We found that he's not a horse that likes to campaign five or six weeks in a row. Last year, he was competitive in it, but we would have had to miss this [New Holland] series to go in it [this year]."

Poseidon Seelster's Canadian trainer said travel was less of an issue than finding the right race.

"I'm not concerned about having him in Fergus or New Jersey or where he races," Lindsey said. "It's just where we think is the best place to have a good year. Not just one good start, but a good year overall."

Current plans call for staying at Mohawk, "just racing him where we can see fit," said Lindsey, who called Poseidon Seelster "a Saturday-night horse at Mohawk," next slated to start in the April 6 WMP preferred. After taking on top older pacers in 2022 and 2023, Poseidon Seelster is, somewhat surprisingly, not staked to any major events in 2024.

"If he's sharp, maybe we'll give him some invitational events," Lindsey said. "Other than that, we didn't stake him at all. The only stake we might stake him to, from this point, is the Gold Cup and Saucer [Aug. 17 at Red Shores Charlottetown]... We didn't pay him into the [Canadian] Pacing Derby or anything this year. He's a nice horse, but I don't think it's in his best interest to race in that group of horses."

The trainer said the May 31 Camluck Classic at The Raceway at Western Fair is another possibility: "If he's sharp at the time, we might get an invitation, who knows? He's a very handy horse. He can get around a small track well."

The 2024 New Holland Series champ has tangled with some of the biggest names in the sport in recent years.

"I would say his biggest races weren't wins," said Lindsey. "When he was third in the [2022 Canadian] Pacing Derby behind Bulldog Hanover and Tattoo Artist, that was probably as good as he's ever been."

Lindsey is training a stable of 12 horses at the moment: three 2-year-olds, three 3-year-olds, and six older racehorses.

"Twelve to race this summer, some 'B' track horses, some Mohawk-caliber horses, and everything in between," he said. "I generally don't have a lot of horses, [but] there's been some half-decent horses go through the barn over the years. I prefer being more hands-on, and always looking for quality. With a smaller stable, it's harder to come by."

Lindsey has campaigned the winners of 531 races and $5,328,216 from 3,696 starts as a trainer since 2002.

He said his all-time favorites undoubtedly include Alexie Mattosie (p, 5, 1:48.1m; $1,097,270), who "took us all around and traveled all around, so he's up there," and 2011-12 Ontario Sires Stakes Gold finals winner Keystone Orion (6, 1:55h; $536,351).

After his latest win, Poseidon Seelster may be gaining on them.

"I was more confident before the first leg than I was the rest of the [New Holland] Series," Lindsey said. "When I saw the list of eligibles, I thought that he would be one of the better ones in the final, but you never know who shows up and how sharp the horse is going to be, and it showed. He was 6-5 in the first leg, so he definitely deserved to be in the group of horses."

Whether he steps up to invitational level this season or not, expect to see plenty of Poseidon Seelster at Mohawk.

"He's a very happy horse, very willing," said Lindsey. "Nice to jog, nice to train. The drivers really like him. He can bounce off the car and get position, and then relax when he's in a hole. He's good that way. The thing is, he's a little claustrophobic at times, in a small trailer or in the test stalls at Mohawk, with the roof on the stalls. Other than that, he's a nice horse to be around. He's definitely one that you wake up every morning and you're happy to see in the barn."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Andrew Topham is charting his course in harness racing

by Chris Lomon

The start of Andrew Topham's horse racing career is off the charts.

At the age of 22, Topham, whose long list of horse racing roles includes that of assistant race secretary and charter with First Tracks Cumberland, is already making a name for himself in the Maine standardbred industry.

How he came to work at First Tracks Cumberland was anything but a straight path.

Racing and its equine stars fascinated Topham from an early age, including the times he would accompany his grandfather, Mike Timmons, to the backstretch to see the horses.

Timmons has been a fixture at the Cumberland fairgrounds for years.

"I started going to the races with my grandfather, who was buying and selling horses for as long as I can remember," Topham said. "Growing up, I was around the barn, and hanging out at Scarborough Downs and different fairs around Maine.

"I always enjoyed it, but it was never something that I thought I would be part of."

Topham's association with racing was supplanted by sports and studies for a stretch.

He attended the Maine Maritime Academy to earn a degree in International Business and Logistics.

"I grew away from racing as I got a little older," he said. "I was big into sports, especially football and hockey, so that was taking up a lot of my time.

"I ended up getting my degree and thought I'd come out of school doing something supply chain related."

Horse racing had other ideas in store for Topham, who would reconnect with the sport in the spring of 2021.

Help was needed ahead of First Tracks Cumberland's inaugural harness racing meet that May and Timmons quickly volunteered his grandson.

“I started going to the races with my grandfather, who was buying and selling horses for as long as I can remember. Growing up, I was around the barn, and hanging out at Scarborough Downs and different fairs around Maine.”

~ Andrew Topham

It was a jack-of-all-trades, anything but glamorous gig, for the then 19-year-old Topham.

“They needed someone to do maintenance, sweeping floors and cleaning up the bathrooms,” Topham said. “They didn’t have anyone else to do it, so my grandfather said I would. It started from there. I really enjoyed working with [harness racing operation] Black Bear and established some good relationships with the people there.”

As it turned out, Topham wouldn’t need to spend hours scouring job websites.

“Just before I was graduating, Black Bear approached me and said they could offer me a full-time role if I wanted it,” he said. “I thought, ‘Why not give it a try and see what happens?’”

Topham got his answer quickly.

He discovered the most rewarding part of his racing roles is the variety they offer.

No two days are ever the same, offered Topham.

“One of my favorite parts of the job so far is that every day brings something different,” Topham said. “It isn’t a traditional desk job where you are doing mundane tasks. You have no idea what every day is going to bring, so that makes it fun.”

Charting the races is a welcome task for someone who has always excelled at math.

“On race day, I watch the races as they go and then input the information into the computer afterwards,” he said. “At first, I was nervous – I looked at programs all the time – because you don’t know what really goes into charting a race.”

A month before starting at Cumberland, Topham went to Monticello to spend a week under the tutelage of John Flynn, who has been the charter at the New York racetrack for over 40 years.

“John was wonderful; he taught me everything that I needed to know,” Topham said. “That was a huge help because when I started at Cumberland, it felt as though I had done it before. I wasn’t overly nervous doing it.”

Ensuring the lines are correct is top of mind for Topham.

“It’s a very different way to watch a race, but it’s fun,” he said. “I enjoy it. I have always liked math and numbers, so it’s something I find very interesting.”

As assistant race secretary, Topham works closely with race secretary Rob Pennington to put the races together at Cumberland.

“That is very enjoyable as well, working to create the best card for our horse people,” Topham said.

Topham has long held great admiration for horse people at Cumberland and throughout Maine.

Working at the racetrack has elevated that respect.

“For the most part, everyone is very positive,” he said. “There is no doubt that everyone works hard, and people are always willing to help each other. It’s one of many reasons why I’m very excited about what Black Bear and First Tracks will bring to the industry and continue to grow it across the state.”

When he isn’t watching football or hockey, Topham dedicates some of his spare time to the sports card world.

Whether it’s buying or selling, he enjoys staying on top of the latest trading trends and new offerings.

“I love all things sports, whether it’s watching games or playing in a fantasy football league,” he said. “My big hobby is collecting cards or selling them. It is something I enjoy a lot. I guess it comes down to just loving everything associated with sports.”

As for what’s in the cards, career-wise, Topham doesn’t know yet what might be in store for him.

He is, however, excited about what the future holds. Not only for himself but for the Maine harness racing scene as well.

“I don’t know where I might be and what will be next,” Topham said. “I think things are looking good for horse racing here and I’m looking forward to what the future holds for racing in Maine.”

Having people like Topham as part of the industry is no doubt a big boost for its fortunes.

If a first-rate, team-first attitude is any barometer of success, Topham, who still helps clean up around the track after the races, sweeping up tickets and doing other tasks, is on track to be a difference-maker in Maine standardbred racing.

“I am very lucky to work with such great people,” he said. “Everyone has been so helpful to me. If I have any questions, they are happy to answer them. It’s always a nice feeling to go to the office and see so many people dedicated to making our racing product the best it can be.”

Just like Topham himself.

Even running in a marathon, Kate Gath is always focused on Catch A Wave

by Adam Hamilton

Kate Gath's love of running is legendary.

The superstar Aussie harness driver enjoys speed off the track as much as on it and has competed in several marathons, including New York in 2022.

She's deep in training again for her second attempt at the Gold Coast marathon in July.

For the past year or so, each time Gath has slipped her running shoes on, she's paused for a moment and thought "will I think about him today, or not?"

No, she's not referring to husband Andy, but rather star pacer Catch A Wave.

For all the joy and success Catch A Wave has brought, and there's been plenty of it with 20 wins from just 35 starts and almost $1.3 million in prize money, Kate admits, "he's also done my head in at times, as well."

Catch A Wave stormed to stardom and looked on the verge of greatness when he won the rare and huge Chariots Of Fire and Miracle Mile double early last year.

But in 13 starts since he's managed just three wins and finished back at the rear in his two biggest targets, the $2.1mil TAB Eureka last September and the $500,000 Hunter Cup in February.

To call him an enigma is a stretch, but he's certainly been a source of great frustration – to connections and punters.

"He's definitely been disappointing this past 12 months or so," Kate said. "After he won the Chariots and Miracle Mile, most would've thought if he's not as good as Leap To Fame, then he's not far off him."

“It’s probably been more in the past few months that Andy [Gath, Kate’s husband and Catch A Wave’s trainer] and I have really noticed how physically different the horse is to when he won the Chariots and Miracle Mile. He’s really filled out. There’s no comparison when you see the photos from those races back then and compare him now. It’s even more pronounced when you sit behind him and see how big his bum is now.”

~ Kate Gath

“You’ve seen what Leap To Fame has done in the 12 months since, doing amazing things and becoming a champion, while we’ve been scratching our heads and wondering what might have been so many times.”

Catch A Wave has always been quirky, from the days he wouldn’t go onto the training track, to the Vicbred final night he almost missed the score-up to the start the race because he wanted to dash down into the infield.

Kate hoped, and still hopes to some extent, it’s something he will “mature out of,” but the now 5-year-old is taking time if that’s the case.

“He still feels immature, but maybe it’s just him,” Kate said. “Some horses are like that and have quirks all their lives.”

On one of her runs, Kate thought back to the lengthy spell Catch A Wave had after winning that Miracle Mile in March, last year. She pondered why it seemed to be a bit of a fork in the road of his career.

“It’s probably been more in the past few months that Andy [Gath, Kate’s husband and Catch A Wave’s trainer] and I have really noticed how physically different the horse is to when he won the Chariots and Miracle Mile,” Kate said. “He’s really filled out. There’s no comparison when you see the photos from those races back then and compare him now. It’s even more pronounced when you sit behind him and see how big his bum is now.

“He’s really grown up and out. He spelled at Pauline’s place. She’s the wife of Richard [Matthews], who owned Catch A Wave and passed away in late 2021. Pauline was really mindful of making sure he had plenty of feed and spelled well. He certainly did.”

The theory? Kate and Andy think they may not have been working the bigger and stronger version of Catch A Wave hard enough.

“In a few of the races, he’s over raced and not finished it off, or been rundown and pulled-up big, like he needed the run,” Kate said. “After a while we just thought, That’s it, the gloves are off and increased his workload. We still can’t be sure it’ll change things, but we haven’t got anything to lose. Now at this [very] top level, he has to be at his very best.

“The early signs are good. When he won at Melton [March 30], he felt much more like the Catch A Wave of old. He sort of towed me, then really picked up when I wanted him to and hit the line strongly. Maybe we haven’t had him fit enough.”

Kate reflected on the glorious phase through the Chariots Of Fire and Miracle Mile and how it was the busiest and hardest phase of Catch A Wave’s career.

HARNESS RACING
UPDATE

“We’d put all our focus on trying to defend [Catch A Wave’s] Miracle Mile crown, but he pulled-up quite lame after a lead-up [start] at Geelong and we thought he’d gone amiss. It was a scary 24 hours or so, but thankfully they found it was a corn with an abscess buried underneath it. He was treated and recovered really quickly, but not quick enough for the Miracle Mile. So, we were left with a fit horse ready to go and had to revisit two races we’d ruled-out, the Race By Grins [Cambridge, April 12] and the Nullarbor.”

~ Andy Gath

“Not just the racing, but the travel,” she said. “He raced three times in four weeks at Menangle [near Sydney] and travelled up and back from Melbourne [20-hour return trip] each time. It did him no harm and maybe he actually thrived on it.

“So, we’re increasing his work in training, mainly by replacing the slow jog days with fast jogs and just increasing the speed of all his work in general. And we’ll be racing him more often.

“He didn’t need a lot of work when he was younger because he was smaller and got away with it more on natural ability, but maybe he needs it now.”

The proof will come soon with Catch A Wave booked on a flight Monday (April 8) from Sydney to Perth to tackle Australia’s second-richest pacing race, the $1.25 million Nullarbor at Perth’s Gloucester Park on April 19.

The 5-year-old son of Captaintreacherous has had two lead-up races at Melton and, in line with Gath’s comments, will have another at Gloucester Park the week before the Nullarbor.

“So, the Nullarbor will be his fourth [race] in five weeks and he’ll be back again a week later in the other big race over there, the [$300,000] Fremantle Cup,” Kate said.

Gloucester Park, a rare and traditional half-mile track, will represent lots of firsts for the Catch A Wave team.

The horse himself has never raced there, Kate hasn’t driven there and Western Australia, where Gloucester Park is located, is the only harness racing state in Australia where the highly decorated Andy hasn’t trained a Group 1 winner.

Kate’s not worried about Catch A Wave handling the tight track.

“He’s never raced on a half-mile track, but our training track is the same size and we’ve never had one get around it better than ‘Tex’ [Catch A Wave’s stable name],” she said. “I know Andy would love to tick a box in his career and win a Group 1 in WA.

“And, as for me, I’ve watched a lot of racing at Gloucester Park and it’s so different. They race and drive very differently to what I’m used to. I always said to Andy, if he ever took a horse to Perth, he could put a local on it, but I’m not letting Tex go anywhere without me, so that’s why I’m going.”

Just the fact Catch A Wave is going to Perth is a surprise given Andy had ruled it out just a couple of months ago.

“We’d put all our focus on trying to defend his Miracle Mile crown, but he pulled-up quite lame after a lead-up [start] at Geelong and we thought he’d gone amiss,” Andy said. “It was a scary 24 hours or so, but thankfully they found it was a corn with an abscess buried underneath it. He was treated and recovered really quickly, but not quick enough for the Miracle Mile. So, we were left with a fit horse ready to go and had to revisit two races we’d ruled-out, the Race By Grins [Cambridge, April 12] and the Nullarbor.

“In the end, Rob [Tomlinson from Regency Foods Australia] made us a good offer to [race] in his Nullarbor slot and knowing the Fremantle Cup was the week after added to the attraction.

“In the end, he’s at a stage of his career where he has to race and needs to stand-up. And it’s also a rare opportunity to [start] in two races worth $1.55 million in the space of eight days and not have to take on Leap To Fame, who is far and away the benchmark horse in this part of the world.”

It’s now become a trademark of Kate’s to punch out a long training run of her own on the morning of a feature race, especially when Catch A Wave is racing.

It will be hard for her to think anything else bar him when she’s pounding the pavement in the hours before the Nullarbor on April 19.

The Raceway surpasses record handle and announces acquisition of a training centre

The Raceway at Western Fair District will enter its busiest stretch of the racing season on the heels of another record-setting wagering year at the London, ON, half-mile oval.

The Friday (March 29) program capped off the 2023-24 Ontario racing fiscal year with a total of $58,468,000 wagered over 121 race dates, surpassing last year's record number of $56,709,000. The 3 per cent increase in total handle matched a 3 per cent increase in per race handle over the same period.

The highwater benchmark for the meet came on the Tuesday (Jan. 30) program when $852,000 was wagered on the 12-race program.

"It's very encouraging to eclipse last year's record wagering numbers," said director of equine programming, Greg Blanchard. "The numbers are solid for a small half-mile track such as ours and is something that our entire team takes pride in. It gives us a nice boost as we head into the final two months of our spring meet; our most exciting part of the season."

The Raceway will play host to the Ontario Regional Driving Championship for the sixth time on Tuesday (April 23). Nine of Ontario's top reinsmen will square off in the nine-race competition with the top finishers qualifying for the national championship later this summer in Trois-Rivieres, QC. The field will be headlined by former World Driving Champion and multiple O'Brien Award winner James MacDonald.

The track's signature event, the $150,000 Camluck Classic Invitational, sponsored by Seelster Farms, is slated for Friday (May 31). The powerful program will also feature four City of London Series finals, The London Classic Yearling Sale Trot and the first leg of the Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots Series for 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

The always popular Party on the Patio, a special Top Of The Fair menu, live entertainment, giveaways and more will also be featured on Camluck Classic night. More details will be announced on the track's social channels and at www.theracewaywfd.com.

Western Fair Association acquires Dorchester Downs Training Centre

Western Fair Association (WFA) is also pleased to announce that it has entered into an agreement to purchase the Dorchester Downs Training Centre located in Dorchester, ON, on the outskirts of London. The beautiful 49-acre property boasts a five-eighth's mile track, features two barns with 100 stalls and is the home of some of the region's largest stables.

The Western Fair Association has enjoyed a longstanding commitment to harness racing in Ontario. The raceway site, formerly known as Salters Grove and later named Western Fair Raceway, was the first in Canada to conduct night time racing in 1961 and was the scene of harness racing legend John Campbell's first driving win.

In 2022, the Western Fair Association took over ownership and operation of Canada's largest standardbred yearling sale — the London Classic Yearling Sale — and the acquisition of Dorchester Downs further positions WFA as one of Canada's leading racing organizations.

"When this opportunity came about, we thought it made sense for the Association to explore," said Western Fair Association CEO Reg Ash. "It is a fantastic property that is ideally located in a rapidly growing municipality and further supports live racing in this part of the province. This demonstrates our commitment to a vibrant racing industry in Southwestern Ontario."

WFA will take over operation of the facility in early July.

Desperate Man aims for Borgata Series grand slam in round four Desperate Man will look to stay undefeated in this year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series as he races in the first of a trio of $50,000 splits of the fourth leg on Monday night (April 8) at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Five foes will line up against Desperate Man, who drew post 5 in the event (race 3 on the 12-race program). Dunkin' (post 1) has two straight victories in the series himself and Covered Bridge (post 4) took a division back in the first round.

In the second section (race 4), someone will get their initial triumph in the 2024 edition of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series. Former series champions Funatthebeach N (post 3) and This Is The Plan (post 4) are in this tilt, as are former MGM Grand Messenger Stakes victor Pleaseletmeknow (post 1) and multi-time Borgata finalist Leonidas A (post 2).

Race 10 is the last of Monday's flights, and Rocknroll Runa A (post 1) looms as the one to beat as he has a pair of victories and a third in the prelims to date. Last year's MGM Borgata Pacing

Series champion Hellabalou (post 4) turned in a much-improved effort in leg 3 and may be rounding into form at the right time.

A full look at the fields is as follows:

DIVISION 1 / RACE 3

Post – Horse – Driver – Trainer

1. Dunkin' – Tim Tetrick – Scott Di Domenico
2. Idealsomemagic A – George Brennan – Cory Stratton
3. Torrid Saint A – Matthew Athearn – Jimmy Nickerson
4. Covered Bridge – Jordan Stratton – Jeff Gillis
5. Desperate Man – Matt Kakaley – Travis Alexander
6. Sumomentsomewhere A – Yannick Gingras – Mickey Burke, Jr.

DIVISION 2 / RACE 4

Post – Horse – Driver – Trainer

1. Pleaseletmeknow – Matt Kakaley – Travis Alexander
2. Leonidas A – Austin Siegelman – Matthew Medeiros
3. Funatthebeach N – Jordan Stratton – Jeff Gillis
4. This Is The Plan – Yannick Gingras – Mickey Burke, Jr.
5. Hemsworth N – Joe Bongiorno – Jared Bako
6. Strengthfromabove – Joe Bongiorno – Besim Odza

DIVISION 3 / RACE 10

Post – Horse – Driver – Trainer

1. Rocknroll Runa A – Mark MacDonald – Larry Stalbaum
2. Backstreet Shadow – Matt Kakaley – Travis Alexander
3. Coaches Corner – Jason Bartlett – Per Engblom
4. Hellabalou – Yannick Gingras – Mickey Burke, Jr.
5. Venturesome Arden N – George Brennan – Ricky Bucci
6. Fouever Boy – Mark MacDonald – Linda Toscano

Preliminary round action in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series continues through Monday (April 15), with the $200,000 added final slated to take place on Monday (April 22). This year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series final will also have a "win and you're in" feature for the $125,000 Birthday Invitational Pace in May to celebrate 125 years of MGM Yonkers Raceway, the Battle of Lake Erie at MGM Northfield on June 8 and the Aria Invitational at Yonkers (scheduled for Sept. 7).

The John Brennan Trotting Series will be added to the current mix of ongoing stakes races at MGM Yonkers Raceway on Wednesday (April 3) with four $25,000 tilts to get that event underway. The John Brennan Trotting Series, which has three prelims prior to the $55,000 added final on April 24, is named in honor of the longtime SOA of NY horsemen's representative who passed away from complications of COVID-19 in March 2020. The series is for 3-year-olds and older who were non-winners of six pari-mutuel races or $200,000 through Feb. 1, 2024, with winners over $250,000 as of that date not eligible.

Tonight's (April 5) program at MGM Yonkers Raceway will be headlined by two $40,000 splits of the fourth leg of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for pacing mares. Mikala (post 2), Dougs Babe A (post 3) and Incaseyou didnt know (post 5) all look for their second prelim win in the first division (race 4), while Lit De Rose (post 1) goes for her third in the other section (race 9). She'll take on the likes of Delitfulcatherin N (post 6), one of last Friday's victors. The opening rounds of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series will continue through Friday (April 12), with the $125,000 added final on Monday (April 22).

Live racing takes place at Yonkers on a Monday-Friday schedule with post time each night at 7 p.m. (EDT).

Big M to once again go national on FOX Sports

The Meadowlands' biggest stakes races of 2024 will again be televised live on the networks of FOX Sports thanks to a partnership with the television department at the New York Racing Association (NYRA) as part of its "America's Day at the Races" broadcasts.

"Working with a first-class TV team like the one at the NYRA has been something beneficial to The Meadowlands and all of harness racing," said Meadowlands' chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemaier. "We feel that showing our biggest races to a national audience is something we are convinced is making thoroughbred fans into harness fans, and that's something that's good for both industries."

There will be nine shows from The Meadowlands during the course of the year, and only two of them (as of now) will include coverage of thoroughbred racing (Aug. 3 and Oct. 18). Jessica Otten of Big M TV and Gabe Prewitt of The Red Mile will be back as the on-camera talent onsite, joining Acacia Clement and Paul Verderosa of the NYRA, who will be in the studio. Additional broadcasts from harness venues other than The Meadowlands will be added in the coming weeks.

Here is the tentative schedule for The Big M broadcasts with the marquee event that will be shown. Where not listed, specific networks – FOX, FS1 or FS2 – will be determined:

- May 18: Cutler, 9-11 p.m. (FS2)
- July 6: Graduate finals/Meadowlands Pace eliminations, 8-11 p.m. (FS2)
- July 13: Meadowlands Pace final, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Aug. 3: Hambletonian, 1-7 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 18: Breeders Crown eliminations, 1-6 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 19: Breeders Crown eliminations, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 25: Breeders Crown finals, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Oct. 26: Breeders Crown finals, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)
- Nov. 30: Fall Final Four, 8-11 p.m. (TBD)

"As America's Day at the Races continues to grow and evolve, FOX Sports and NYRA are thrilled to continue our partnership with The Meadowlands in 2024," said NYRA senior director of TV broadcast operations Eric Donovan. "Jeff Gural and Jason Settlemoir have been instrumental in recognizing the importance of live national television coverage for harness racing and we look forward to presenting marquee events from The Meadowlands, including the 2024 Breeders Crown."

NYRA and FOX Sports were honored by the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) with the President's Award as well as the Sam McKee Award for excellence in broadcasting. Both awards recognized overall commitment to the sport of harness racing in 2023, when America's Day at the Races aired more than 70 hours of live coverage and analysis, including the Breeders Crown and Hambletonian.

A FLURRY OF ACTIVITY: The Meadowlands will be offering its usual array of possibilities for punters this weekend, which, of course, starts with live harness racing tonight (April 5) and Saturday (April 6). Post time is 6:20 p.m. for both 14-race programs.

Extremely appealing to the bettor are the size of the betting pools at The Big M, which are the biggest in harness racing.

Last week, all-source handle totaled $3,520,145 on the Saturday (March 30) card. One night earlier, wagering was $3,445,558, meaning that during the 28-dash race week, $6,965,703 was pushed through the windows, leaving total action less than $35,000 short of $7 million.

EVERYBODY IN THE (PICK-4) POOL: Last Saturday, action on the track's two 50-cent Pick-4s was vigorous as both pools exceeded $100,000. A total of $213,600 was put in play on the Big M's most popular multi-leg bet, which begin on a nightly basis in races 6 and 10, respectively.

BETTING LIKE PROS: The evidence that the betting public likes wagering on Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club events was strong once again last weekend, as average action on the four events was in excess of $300,000.

Friday's three races saw wagering of $308,865 (race 1), $300,627 (race 4) and $254,169 (race 8) before Saturday's lone dash took in $344,073 (race 1).

POWERHOUSE PAYOUTS: The Big M has a handful of multi-leg bets that are popular with players. One of the reasons they are is the possibility of making a score, as evidenced by last Friday's $7,182 payout in the 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 and Saturday's $8,223 return in the 20-cent Pick-8 and $3,821 cash-in for the 20-cent Pick-6.

ROCKING THE CLOCK: On a windy night with temperatures in the mid-50s, the track was lightning-fast last Saturday. Need proof?

The 1:50 barrier was busted three times during the course of the card, with Red Right Hand's 1:49.1 clocking representing the fastest mile of 2024 on the pace at The Big M.

Lexus Kody scored in 1:50 on the trot, to establish a track record for older trotting geldings. His effort was also the fastest trotting mile of the year not only at The Meadowlands, but the entire sport.

SHARPEN YOUR PENCILS: The much-anticipated live-money handicapping contest at The Meadowlands, postponed due to bad weather two weeks ago, will take place this Saturday (April 6).

There is no entry fee for players and the prize pool is a guaranteed $5,000, which will be fully funded by The Big M. The night of the contest, players must register/check-in at the Clubhouse Lobby by 6:20 p.m., and a $100 betting card – cash only – must be purchased to participate, as this is a live money/wagering contest. Entry includes a program.

The contest format:

- Contestants must bet a minimum of 10 Meadowlands races
- $10 minimum bet per race; no maximum bet
- Win, Place, Show and/or Exacta wagers only
- One horse per race
- Unlimited entries allowed per person
- Players keep all pari-mutuel winnings

Prize board:

- First: $2,000
- Second: $1,250
- Third: $1,000
- Fourth: $500

Game Of Claims trotters open series in Pocono slop

Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania hosted six $17,500 divisions of the first preliminary in the Game Of Claims Trotting Series for $25,000 base-tag horses, and the star of the day over the "sloppy +2" track was the Kadabra gelding Fight Song, who fronted his field throughout en route to a victory in 1:55.3; with the next-fastest time recorded being 1:57.2.

Anthony Napolitano kept the quick trotter's mind to business throughout to win by daylight for trainer Susan Marshall, co-owner with John Marshall. "ANap" also had the seat behind GOC winner Vegas Ticket, who won for the second straight race while covering the off going in 1:58.1.

Two-time defending driver champion Matt Kakaley also won twice in the Game Of Claims, scoring four times in all in the muck to stay in the lead while seeking his third straight title. Speaking of third straight, Passionate Promise has now stood in the winner's circle after his race in his last trio of starts, this time after a 1:57.2 success; that clocking was also recorded by Kakaley's other series winner, Evil Guy, who has three wins and a second after four seasonal races.

Braxten Boyd won a GOC contest in 1:57.4 handling a winner of two straight, Hockey Hanover – the only horse to win two Pennsylvania Championships in the same year, as he took the Fair Championship and the Stallion Series Championship seven year ago when he was 2. And Kinnder Thinktwice got the trotting brigade off to an upset start when he circled his opponents to win in 1:58 for driver Simon Allard, paying $75.00 for a deuce to win. None of the six success stories was claimed from the victories, although eight of their foes changed hands to the tune of $206,250.

The Bobby Weiss Series for promising 3-year-olds will be in the spotlight when racing resumes at Pocono on Saturday at 1 p.m. Pacers of both sexes will go in their first series prelims, with six sections of males and three of females racing for $20,000 purses. Free Pocono programs are or will be available from www.phha.org.

New Holland Series wraps up with stylish performances

Poseidon Seelster won a tight thriller, while Special Mission posted an impressive score in Saturday's (March 30) New Holland Series finals at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The New Holland Series ended on Saturday night with a $70,000 final in the pacing division and $71,000 final on the trotting side.

Poseidon Seelster flashed early speed, ended up in a pocket trip and slipped up the rail to win in a four-horse photo the New Holland pacing series final. Tyler Moore steered the Don Lindsey trainee.

The race opened with a hot :26.1 quarter courtesy of Poseidon Seelster and Whichwaytothebeach, who cleared entering the backstretch. After posting panels of :55.1 and 1:22.4, Whichwaytothebeach carried the lead to the eighth pole before being swarmed.

At the wire, Poseidon Seelster prevailed by a nose over a shaking loose Century Heineken, while Whichwaytothebeach and Frankie finished third and fourth by a neck.

A 7-year-old gelding, Poseidon Seelster now has three wins in 11 starts this season. The Lindsey trainee finished sixth and second in the New Holland preliminary legs. Saturday's win boosts his career numbers to 18 wins and over $659,000 in earnings for owners Lindsey, Paul Kleinpaste, William Alempijevic and Garth Bechtel.

Poseidon Seelster paid $22.90 to win.

The Blair Burgess trained Special Mission blew his rivals out with a 4 ¼-length victory in 1:52.3 to take the New Holland trotting series final.

Driver Jody Jamieson made his move with Special Mission approaching the half, angling out from sixth to come first up. The 5-year-old kept marching up, overtaking leader Pikachu Hanover.

Special Mission opened on the field to win easily in a career-best equaling 1:52.3.

Handsome Sebastian finished second, while Franks Angel was third.

Special Mission improved to five wins in eight starts this season with Saturday's victory. The Burgess trainee has now made $76,520 this season for owners Daniel Roland and Bred Winr Stables. His career statistics now read nine wins and over $100,000 earned.

A $2 win ticket on Special Mission returned $7.80.

Saturday night's card also saw an accident occur in the evening's 11th race.

Three-year-old gelding Brigus and driver Sylvain Filion made contact with the wheel of Vis A Vis Bluechip in the stretch drive, causing Brigus to fall to the track. Four-year-old gelding Holy Jalapeno and driver Phil Hudon were unable to avoid the fallen horse and also fell to the track.

Both horses got up from the accident and are reported to be okay.

Hudon was examined on track and sent to a local hospital for further evaluation as a precaution. Filion got up and walked off the track under his own power.

Woodbine extends best wishes to all those involved in the spill.

Shenandoah Downs opens its 2024 spring meet Saturday

Shenandoah Downs raises the curtain on its ninth season of pari-mutuel harness racing this weekend in Woodstock. Nestled in the heart of Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, the track will host a pair of seven-week meets this year; a spring session that runs from April 6 - May 19 and a fall session that runs from Sept. 14 - Oct. 27. Racing takes place every Saturday and Sunday at 1:05 p.m. with two exceptions; on Kentucky Derby Day (May 4) and Preakness Day (May 18), when first post is 2:05 p.m.

Opening day features a commemorative t-shirt giveaway to the first 500 fans in the gate and in addition, the first 200 fans will also receive a bonus complimentary baseball cap courtesy of Standing Stallions. On Sunday, another 200 caps will be given away and concession specials include $1 hot dogs and $2 canned beer. Eight lucky fans that registered through social media contesting will get a chance to "Own a Horse for a Day" and win their share of a $5,250 purse. The Virginia Harness Horse Association sponsors the promotion three times each race meet, and gives 24 fans overall a chance to participate. They all enjoy complimentary lunch, meet their horse and connections in the paddock area before the race and of course keep their share of winnings. On track customers will have a chance to register for the promotion on April 13 and 14 and again on May 4 and 5.

Other meet promotional highlights include Corgi dog races on April 14, a college cornhole tournament on April 20, a Blues 'n BBQ promotion on April 27 that includes a cooler bag giveaway, car show and barbecue food truck on site and Kentucky Derby and Preakness Day parties on May 4 and 18 respectively. Topping it off, a 20th birthday party for legendary pacer Foiled Again will take place on May 11. Harness racing's richest horse will be at the track to celebrate the special occasion with all his fans. A concert series will also be held on Saturdays in conjunction with the races that feature some of the region's best musicians.

Shenandoah Downs offers free parking and free admission for on-track customers, and free TrackMaster past performance programs for all fans via its shenandoahdowns.com website. Free tip sheets from long time thoroughbred and harness handicapper Derby Bill Watson will be available via the website as well. The Shenandoah simulcast signal is available to wager via all major streaming platforms and at many tracks and OTBs around the country.

Mass stake 2024 continuation payments due April 15

Owners and trainers of horses eligible to the Massachusetts Sire Stakes should take note that the 2024 continuation payments for all 2- and 3-year-old contenders are due by Monday (April 15).

The 2-year-old payment is $200 and the 3-year-old payment is $300. If there has been a change of name or ownership, please submit a copy of the registration certificate at this time.

The necessary form for this payment is available for download at sominc.net under the "forms" tab.

While on that page, you may also want to download and submit the 2024 yearling nomination form which will be due next month on Wednesday (May 15).

Foals of 2023 from a resident mare registered with Standardbred Owners of Massachusetts, Inc. and the Massachusetts Department of Agricultural Resources are eligible for registration to the Massachusetts Breeding Program. Yearling registration requires a copy of the U.S.T.A registration certificate and the fee of $25. Late registration will be accepted until Dec. 31, 2024. Late registration requires a copy of the U.S.T.A registration certificate and the May 15 fee of $25, plus a $500 late fee.

Inglis Jewellers Diamond Classic slot deadline reminder

A reminder to trainers and owners of Maritime sired 2-year-old colts or fillies in 2024, that the deadline to purchase a slot for the Inglis Jewellers Diamond Classic is Monday (April 15, 2024).

The Inglis Jewellers Diamond Classic slot buy-in race returns with a $50,000 purse and an incredible $2,500 diamond necklace, courtesy of Inglis Jewellers for each division winner. They will also receive an original art work of their horse courtesy of harness artist, Michelle Hogan.

A reminder that there are two divisions, one for Maritime sired 2-year-old colts and one for Maritime sired 2-year-old fillies. Slots can be purchased for $6,000 each and may be sold, traded or subject to a lease agreement and the horse doesn't need to be declared until time of entry.

All conditions can be found here, then search Truro Raceway 2-year-old Diamond Classic.

A reminder to all Maritime sired 2-year-old owners that the slot purchase deadline is April 15, 2024.

Purchases can be made through the Standardbred Canada stakes portal or email Emelia Gillespie at egillespie@standardbredcanada.ca.

Tim Bojarski reappointed to USHWA's Hall of Fame screening committee

Tim Bojarski, a past national president of the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) and current president of USHWA's Upstate New York chapter, has been named to his second six-year term on USHWA's Hall of Fame screening committee, it has been announced by Michael Carter, current national president of USHWA, the largest organization devoted to Standardbred communicators.

The screening committee takes the Hall of Fame nominations from USHWA chapters, discusses them with a panel of representatives from the Hall of Fame, and then decides who will go on the summer ballot for Hall of Fame election. They also select a veteran to go into the Hall of Fame. (The Hall of Fame discussions will take place this year at Goshen on Sunday (July 7), the day when Bojarski himself will be inducted into the Communicators Hall of Fame).

Bojarski has served on the screening committee for the last eight years. He served two years as president of USHWA (2016-17), and then after leaving office, a six-year term (through 2023) during his first appointment as a regular member of that committee.

National president Carter said "Tim has been an asset, not only to USHWA, but harness racing as a whole for many years. His experience in USHWA, including being a past president, makes him the prime candidate for being renamed to the Hall of Fame screening committee. I personally have learned a lot from Tim, and look forward to working with him and the entire committee throughout my presidency."

Bojarski's resume includes extensive work in the media as a columnist for Hoof Beats magazine, the acclaimed publication of the United States Trotting Association (USTA), and as a publicist for Plainridge Park, the Standardbred Owners of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Sire Stakes and Batavia Downs. The Akron, New York resident has a 45-year background in harness horse ownership and training, has driven in qualifying races and currently owns six horses racing in New York and Massachusetts. He has been a member of USHWA for 23 years, 17 of them as a director of the Association.

Bojarski joins returning screening committee members Steve Wolf, Gordon Waterstone, Leon Zimmerman, and Thomas Hicks, and new appointee Callie Davies-Gooch.

The United States Harness Writers Association is the leading group of communicators chronicling the standardbred horse. USHWA conducts the official annual balloting for the sport's most prestigious honors: induction to the Hall of Fame and Communicators Hall of Fame, along with the selection of the Horse of the Year, Trotter and Pacer of the Year, and the leading divisional horses of each season, along with the outstanding humans connected with the year's top racing.
