Ottawa-area horsepeople mobilize to try to save Rideau Carleton Raceway

by Matthew Lomon

ALL OVER ONTARIO

with MATTHEW LOMON

When Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Ottawa, the owner and operator of Rideau Carleton Raceway, announced last Thursday (April 2) the abrupt conclusion of live harness racing at the Ottawa, ON five-eighths-mile track after 63 years, the immediate reaction from the local horseman's association was one shared by many.

"Shock, dismay and extreme disappointment," Gordon McDonald, president of the National Capital Region Harness Horse Association (NCRHHA), told HRU.

McDonald, who was notified of Hard Rock's decision during a 3 p.m. conference call that Thursday, added he had no reason to believe the conversation would take such a decisive turn.

"I was expecting to get on there and have a discussion about continued negotiations around race schedules for the year," he said. "I was expecting a shortened schedule, of course, because I had been involved in these discussions back and forth, communicating with Ontario Racing, who were directly negotiating with Rideau, and our rep on the board of Ontario Racing [Bill O'Donnell] as well.

"I had understood that the negotiations were ongoing."

Following the revelations brought forth by the call, McDonald moved diligently, authoring a response to the notice, which was published on Standardbred Canada at 4:26 p.m. – 26 minutes after the official press release from Hard Rock.

The NCRHHA's statement, which can be largely attributed to McDonald, also served as a means for the organization to notify its members of the sudden and upsetting development.

As responses from fellow NCRHHA representatives poured in, common themes, including frustration, confusion, and uncertainty, began to emerge.

However, it is the human element amid the fallout from Hard Rock's decision that McDonald says stands among the group's foremost concerns.

"We have people who have deep roots in this industry going back to the early days of racing in 1962 onward," he said. "These are real families and real people who have invested in the community and whose livelihoods in many cases depend on Rideau Carleton racing each year... Families are being affected, many of whom cannot move. There are only a few who can, so a lot of families, I think, are going to be faced with getting out of the industry and losing a livelihood and the long careers in the industry that they've had."

“The future for people like grooms, who don’t own horses and don’t own investments, they exist day-to-day with a job in the industry where they care for our equine athletes... So many people’s lives, so many people’s families are going to be affected by this in a significant way.”

The end of Rideau Carleton racing has inspired moments of reflection, not just from McDonald and the NCRHHA, but also from those like Hall of Fame driver Mike Lachance, whose name and legacy will forever be part of the eastern Ontario raceway’s storied history.

The winner of over 10,000 races and $185 million in lifetime prizes has fond memories of spending time at Rideau Carleton in the early ’60s.

“I used to race there with my dad,” said Lachance, adding with a laugh, “I was in school, and I used to go and race horses at night and come back home tired and go to school the next day and I wasn’t learning anything.”

“He was waiting for me sometimes when I used to come back from school on the bus, and I’d step out and just throw my books in the door and go to the track to race horses.”

In 2010, the revered reinsman was feted by friends, family, and fans on Mike Lachance Night at Rideau Carleton, hosted in conjunction with the NCRHHA, Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation and Standardbred Canada.

Unfortunately, nights celebrating the sport’s greats are likely no longer in the cards at Rideau after Hard Rock’s move to make it the sixth North American harness track to close since 2022.

For McDonald and the NCRHHA, a financial gap being the main factor behind the closure has been a difficult pill to swallow.

“Rideau has a long history of a very engaged racing community, a very collaborative racing-community-racetrack-relationship, and we’ve worked very hard at that over the years to make it so,” McDonald said. “It’s extremely unfortunate that it comes down to a financial decision.”

“I don’t know what the gap is, but whatever the gap, it’s unfortunate that it comes down to a financial decision, where there is a gap in funding that cannot be rectified, and to lose that history, to lose the only track in this part of Ontario, in this region, is an absolute shame. I’m hoping that the Government of Ontario sees that and recognizes that they can’t let that happen.”

The NCRHHA was kept in the loop as best as the framework allowed through an almost two-year cycle of ongoing discussions between Ontario Racing and the OLG, which governs Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Ottawa.

McDonald, though satisfied with how the NCRHHA was kept informed as talks progressed, still felt the framework fell short of giving horsepeople a fair role in the conversation – financial hang-ups aside.

“We may have been able to help broker a solution to the non-financial discussion points, if we had been directly involved in the conversation,” McDonald said. “But again, that is just pure

“I’m representing a racing community that has already made significant investments and I’m wanting us to turn our attention to not just keeping people in the industry, but also compensating people in part for what they’ve already done in generating economic benefit to Ontario by maintaining their investments through this past winter over the last five months.”

speculation. I don’t know for sure how the conversations went. I understood the big sticking point was the financial stumbling block and regardless of how involved we were, I just don’t think that we could have gotten over the financial hurdle. We certainly couldn’t have influenced resolving the financial hurdle.”

McDonald and NCRHHA have since turned to what they can control and that is a proactive defense for horsepeople impacted by the closure of Rideau.

The president of the horseman’s association initiated talks with Ontario Racing on Monday (April 6), centered around a funding envelope to assist people who have already invested in horse stock and assets.

“I’m representing a racing community that has already made significant investments and I’m wanting us to turn our attention to not just keeping people in the industry, but also compensating people in part for what they’ve already done in generating economic benefit to Ontario by maintaining their investments through this past winter over the last five months,” McDonald said.

McDonald connected with the NCRHHA in a zoom call on Wednesday (April 8) to brief his fellow members on where the initial discussions with Ontario Racing stand.

He added that no agreement is in place with Ontario Racing and talks remain ongoing.

“Our only hope [of saving Rideau Carleton], I think, at this point, is political involvement and perhaps additional funding from the provincial government to correct the gap that exists – the gap to what’s being offered versus what is truly necessary to maintain all tracks in a healthy industry.”

~ Gordon McDonald

Efforts adjacent to the NCRHHA’s directives have already begun, as well. Most notable is the Save Rideau Racing initiative.

The grassroots petition has accumulated over 2,600 signatures since being created on April 4.

“The major priority for the Save Rideau Racing group and initiative is that we’re hoping to encourage political involvement to get the government involved over and above their administrative organizations and their funding organizations,” he said. “We’re hoping that the government of Ontario will get directly involved in the communication to Hard Rock and encourage Hard Rock to reconsider their decision.”

McDonald himself isn’t directly involved with the coordination of the Save Rideau Racing campaign, but other members of the NCRHHA are.

He is currently in touch with the leader of the initiative but says he must remain focused on dealing with the government and public sector bodies to push to secure funding in the event Hard Rock’s decision cannot be overturned.

Based on recent discussions, McDonald believes the Save Rideau Racing “is our only hope that remains.

“I’ve been informed that Hard Rock has already begun to step back. They’ve already had conversations with their staff. They’re already taking human resource actions, if you will. It seems to me they’re already getting ready to step back from racing; already taking the actions to do so.

“Our only hope, I think, at this point, is political involvement and perhaps additional funding from the provincial government to correct the gap that exists – the gap to what’s being offered versus what is truly necessary to maintain all tracks in a healthy industry.”

While the sense of urgency around reversing Hard Rock’s decision grows with each passing day, the NCRHHA and the folks behind the Save Rideau Racing movement remain steadfast in the pursuit of their goals.

The NCRHHA, specifically, has spent more than two decades fighting for the interests of horsepeople in the Ottawa area – now, with Rideau facing a grave existential threat, McDonald hopes the government will step up in the same way.

“To our racing community, we started out as a grassroots organization, as the National Capital Region Harness Horse Association back in 2004,” he said. “The representatives with the NCRHHA worked hard, very hard, in the early years to build this relationship into what it was, and to lose all of that now is a shame... a real shame.

“There’s that aspect of community impact, the economic spin-off effect that you have on the economy in the region, all of that will be lost, and that is extremely unfortunate. I just hope the Ontario Government recognizes that history, that this is a sole racetrack in this region, the jobs, impact on the economy, and the community at large, and that it’s too big, and too much to lose for this area.”

Carmine's for Carmine

NYC's Italian eatery is on the menu to honor Hall of Fame driver Carmine Abbatiello.

by Debbie Little

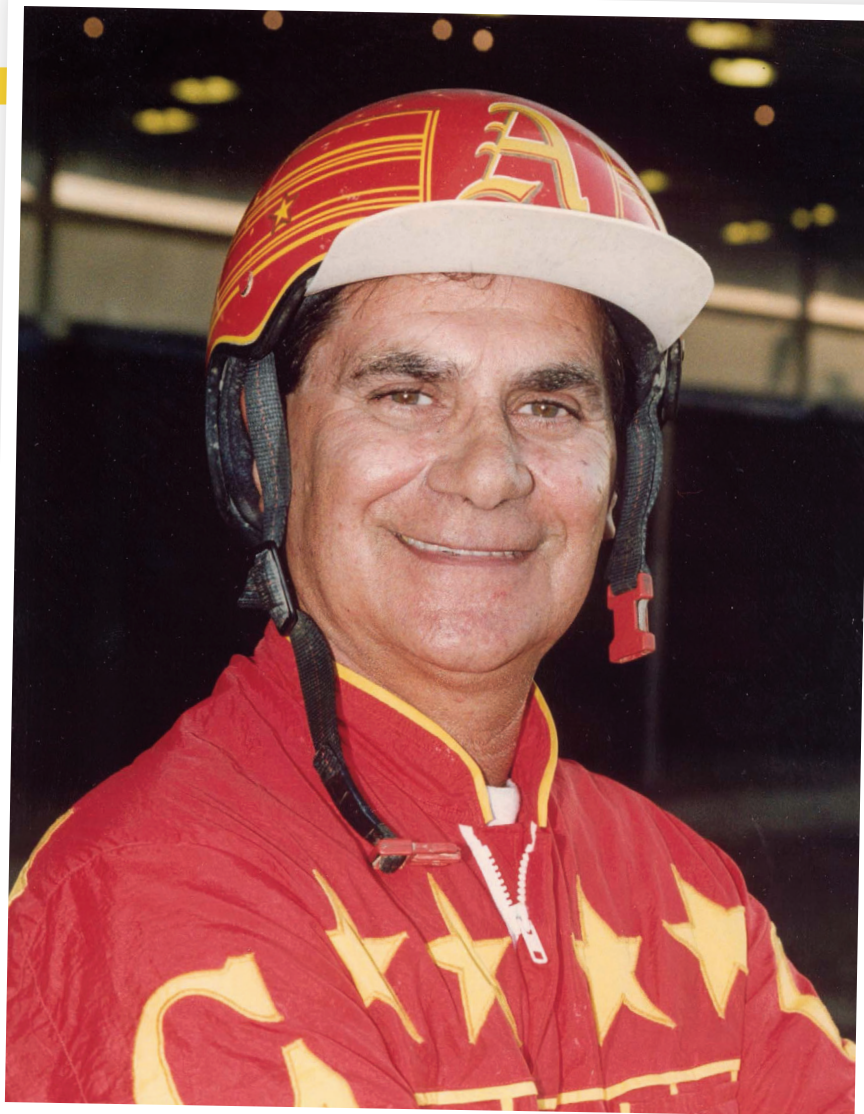

Could there be a better way to celebrate the legacy of the late, great Carmine Abbatiello than with an Italian family-style meal from the restaurant named for him?

On Saturday (April 18), The Meadowlands will transport those dining in their restaurants – Pink and Trotters – to Southern Italy via Carmine's NYC as they play host to "An Evening with Carmine's at The Meadowlands."

The late harness horse owner and restaurateur Arthur J. Cutler opened Carmine's flagship restaurant in 1990 on Manhattan's Upper West Side, named in honor of the Hall of Fame driver.

Earlier this year, on Jan. 27 at the age of 89, Abbatiello died, prompting The Big M's president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural, a friend of Cutler's, to come up with a fitting tribute to "The Red Man."

"After Abbatiello's passing Jeff [Gural] and Alicart, parent company of Carmine's NYC, spoke about doing a Carmine's Night at the track to honor the Hall of Fame driver,"

The late, great Carmine Abbatiello.

"[Jason Settlemoir] called me up to see if I wanted to do a night for dad and they would try to get Carmine's restaurant involved... and have some of the old-timers come and, you know, just have a reason to get everybody together... I made calls to some friends and family, and they secured Carmine's restaurant to come, so, it just came together quickly and many thanks to everyone involved at The Meadowlands. It's a nice thing."

~ Eric Abbatiello

“ I idolized Carmine for years. Back then, when I was racing at Brandywine and Liberty Bell in the middle '70s, I used to send horses to New York, and I used to use Carmine before anybody. So, I always respected so much his talent as a catch driver. Carmine was one in a million, a tremendous, tremendous talent. He had a way to cut a mile with a horse like nobody. ” said Meadowlands chief operating officer/ general manager Jason Settlemoir. “We were able to work out logistics and details over the last couple of months and are looking forward to a night of great food and legendary stories about the great Carmine Abbatiello.”

Eric Abbatiello, Carmine’s son, said he remembers getting the call from Settlemoir about wanting to celebrate the life of his dad with a meal fit for the king that he was.

“He called me up to see if I wanted to do a night for dad and they would try to get Carmine’s restaurant involved... and have some of the old-timers come and, you know, just have a reason to get everybody together... so, I gave him the go ahead,” Eric said. “And Rachel [Ryan], she works in the marketing department, she’s wonderful, and she was able to put it together. I sent them some pictures, I made calls to some friends and family, and they secured Carmine’s restaurant to come, so, it just came together quickly and many thanks to everyone involved at The Meadowlands. It’s a nice thing.”

Thanks to Gural, Cutler actually got to meet his Italian eatery’s namesake.

“Carmine was here one night and we introduced him to Artie and that was a real thrill for Artie,” Gural said in a Meadowlands winner’s circle interview.

In 1998, Gural created an open trot at The Meadowlands, the Arthur J. Cutler Memorial, following his friend’s untimely death from a heart attack at age 53 in 1997.

The night of this year’s Cutler Memorial, Saturday (May 16), might have seemed like the perfect night to honor Carmine with Carmine’s, but since they could not make that date work, all parties involved are happy they were able to come up with a night that did work.

Hall of Famer Mike Lachance will not be able to be at The Meadowlands next Saturday night, but he is thankful for the friendship he had with Carmine, who he last saw a month before his passing.

“I idolized Carmine for years,” Lachance said. “Back then, when I was racing at Brandywine and Liberty Bell in the middle '70s, I used to send horses to New York, and I used to use Carmine before anybody. So, I always respected so much his talent as a catch driver.

“Carmine was one in a million, a tremendous, tremendous talent. He had a way to cut a mile with a horse like nobody.

“He deserves to have a night for him and I’m tickled to death to see that that’s going to happen. Carmine was one of the best of his time.”

Eric was very close to his dad, and throughout his life, he said he remembers how much his dad enjoyed taking him and his friends out to dinner. So, what could be a better tribute to Carmine than friends, family, and fans breaking bread?

A limited number of tickets still remain for anyone who wants to have a great meal and pay tribute to one of harness racing’s all-time best.

“I’m anxious to see who’s able to show up, because... nobody’s young anymore in my father’s age group,” Eric said with a laugh. “It’ll be interesting to see who comes. I know it’s tough to get everybody out, because everyone gets set in their ways as they get older. But you know what? I’ll try to light a fire underneath some of them.

“My mom told me a long time ago, ‘Eighty per cent of life is just showing up.’ That’s what you’ve got to do.”

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

On the search for new stars in Bobby Weiss Series

by Brett Sturman

Now officially into spring, marked not only by the calendar but by the gradual return of top stakes prospects, a select group of horses will take most of the headlines from here on out. That includes 2-year-old pacing champion Loua Dipa who returned this past Wednesday to a qualifying win at The Meadows, as well as Horse of the Year pacer Beau Jangles who is scheduled to take to the track today (April 10) in a qualifier at Southern Oaks Training Center in Florida.

Outside of the already known horses, the annual late-closing Bobby Weiss Series at Pocono Downs offers an opportunity for much less familiar and less accomplished-to-date horses to make an early impression in the sophomore season and gain both confidence and momentum. There's been enough instances through the years where a horse or two emerges from the series to play a role and make a name for themselves as the stakes season carries through the summer and, who knows, maybe can even challenge the very best 3-year-olds.

This year's Bobby Weiss series got kicked off across three days last week for all four sophomore divisions, starting with the pacing colts on Saturday. For non-winners of 2 races of $30,000 lifetime as of Feb. 1, the most impressive winner across all divisional races and a somewhat surprising one at that, was a horse named Twin B Thriller.

In the sixth race that day, Twin B Thriller perhaps aided by the rail starting position, blazed the way through every call of the race and rocketed home to a win in a time of 1:49.4. Fractions he set in that race were :26.4, :53.4, 1:21.1, before wrapping up in a sub-1:50 time, all while making his first start since last September. By comparison, that time of 1:49.4 even bested the time of the winners/over race that day which consisted of fast horses Backstreet Shadow and Lou Hill – that race went in 1:50.2.

The Twin B Thriller win came on the heels of a couple 1:55 qualifiers, but to come right out and lower that by over five seconds in his first start out was eye catching. Though, this isn't a horse that has come from nowhere. He raced six times last year, winning in four of those (two of which were by wide margins) and established a freshman mark of 1:52.4 over the same Pocono track. There's a foundation in him established last year and although he broke in that lone stakes try at Tioga in the Reynolds to end his campaign last year, he's a horse that already deserves merit not only for the remainder of this series, but as the season goes on.

Another winner from that Saturday worth keeping tabs on is the Joe Bongiorno-trained Ooglesaurus, who was a 1:52 victor at odds of 1-5 with Brett Beckwith driving. Ooglesaurus began his campaign last month with a win at The Meadowlands, before finishing third in his next-out race to stablemate Sneaky Squeaky, who came back to win again next out in a time of 1:50.4. Already two-for-three on the season, it'll be interesting to see if he can keep moving forward throughout the series. He, along with other pacing colt winners, which included Magic Monarch and the second-placed-first Barrow, are both back in-to-go Saturday (April 11) as the series continues with leg 2.

The pacing fillies are just as interesting. Of those races that were contested this past Tuesday (April 7), the fastest of the divisions was won by a filly named Vanna By The River, but I think the one that the series could go through is a filly by the name of Miss Jum Jabber.

Miss Jum Jabber came into the Bobby Weiss Series having just two career starts prior, having not made her career debut until March 13. But she's shown a ton of early promise in not only winning her opening leg at Pocono in a time of 1:55.4 (LQ :26.4), but also by winning her second career start in a time of 1:51.1 at The Meadowlands with a last quarter of :26.2. That came following her debut race a week earlier when she closed in :25 flat for trainer Brett Pelling, who was quoted after that Meadowlands win as saying, "She is [Sire Stakes] dual eligible, so after a leg or two in the Weiss at Pocono, I'll make a call as to her future."

As entries came out for Tuesday's leg 2, Miss Jum Jabber is absent, as perhaps indicated by Pelling weeks ago that she might be. Who is in, is the aforementioned Vanna By The River, who was a dominant winner in 1:53.2, seemingly out of nowhere at odds of 16-1.

Vanna By The River entered her race earlier this week with an 0-for-12 record with only one second-place finish and wasn't particularly threatening in either two races in 2026 up to that point. But maybe inspired by the driver change from trainer Cory Stratton to newly-minted USHWA Rising Star Braxten Boyd, Vanna By The River coasted to the front, never let anyone get close, and opened up late when asked. Vanna By The River will square off in leg 2 against another leg 1 winner in last year's New York Sire Stake finalist American Cheese who scored at odds of 1-9 for Jared Bako training and Jason Bartlett driving.

As evident by these select horses, there's the potential for some real talent within the pacing divisions. With still two more preliminary legs and finals that will take place the last week of the month, perhaps a couple of the promising 3-year-olds can make names for themselves and maybe eventually take on the accomplished returning ones.

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

The standardbred is anything but standard these days

by John Berry

As you probably know, I love the history of our grand sport.

I still cringe every time a race is re-named, as if we do not have room for another stakes race, another headline, another potential big event.

Over the years, it's bad enough that we have lost so many classic events – many from tracks now buried from our luscious history like Hollywood Park, Santa Anita Park, Sportsman's Park, Roosevelt Raceway, and Liberty Bell Park, to name just a handful.

Michigan and New Jersey, themselves, could fill the other hand.

Along with the stakes that have disappeared like the American Classics, The Californian, even the Motor City Pace at D.R.C., we have let these grand events – and 100 more – disappear into thin air, along with the great horses that dotted our history books in ink, that, now, has turned into disappearing ink.

When the Nat Ray, honoring the first driver to win The Hambletonian in 1926 was "re-maned" – make that "re-named" – well, that was the crowning touch of idiosyncrasy on behalf of our sport.

The closures in just our lifetime are too many to mention.

But, now that I think of it, here some are, and maybe it will wake some up:

Freehold, The Pomp, Cal-Expo, Balmoral, Maywood, Bay Meadows, Jackson, Saginaw Valley, Garden State Park, Brandywine, The Rock, Sports Creek, and Washington Park.

Add to that Great Lakes Downs, Woodlands, Northampton Fair, Brockton, Playfair Race Course, Solano, and the aforementioned ones up top in this Mane Attraction and we've got a disaster on our sport's hands and hooves.

Yes, the standardbred has transformed over the years and we are about to embark on a new season of raw speed – so fast that records are now made to be broken by 1/100ths or 1/1000ths of a second – not a quarter second, as was the case in our sport's infancy.

First, the standardbred got its name well after the thoroughbred Messenger came across the ocean in 1788 and Yankee became the first horse to accomplish a trotting mile under 3:00 in 1806 – that record being 2:59 in Harlem, NY.

In the 1830s, two pacers made the 2:30 list among the fastest performers during the decade – the Chestnut gelding Oneida Chief and the bay gelding Drover, clocked in 2:28 in 1839.

As time wore on, in the 1840s, the legendary Lady Suffolk was first to eclipse the 2:30 mark, she having achieved a record of 2:29 1/2 in 1843.

By the end of that decade, the chestnut gelding James K. Polk had whittled almost three second off the mark of Lady Suffolk with a mark of 2:27 in 1845.

In the 1850s the grand chestnut pacing mare Pocahontas (2:17 1/2 to wagon) and the roan pacing gelding Pet (2:18 1/2) were on the books, along with the legendary Flora Temple, who had eclipsed the 2:20 mark – 2:19 3/4 in 1859 at the age of 14.

This may have ushered in the Currier and Ives era, as well, as George M Patchen, Highland Maid, Tacony, Ethan Allen, and the pacer Pet all reached the record books.

In the 1850s and 1860s, the Currier and Ives historical collection blossomed further with the mares Goldsmith Maid and American Girl, along with the gelding Dexter and several others – all clocked in the "two-teens."

This ushered in the era of the standardbred.

In the 1870s, the National Association of Trotting Horse Breeders was formed and, to qualify for the registry, horses were required to meet a specific standard of speed – that being two minutes and 30 seconds (2:30).

This helped in defining the breed and the transition from the carriage horse to "elite" standardbred.

Just about every standardbred traced its lineage back to one horse, Hambletonian 10, foaled in 1849, a descendant of the aforementioned thoroughbred Messenger.

The standardbred has come a long, long way since then.

They are anything but standard these days.

A century-and-a-length ago, there were only a handful of standardbreds on the 2-year-old list that were able to penetrate the 2:10 list.

Since records were kept from the 2-year-old colt Doble's record of 2:40 3/4 in 1872 down to the colt Arion's being less than a "photo" away from 2:10 fame in 1891, the grind down was a quarter-of-a-second at a time.

And we had yearling speed records on the books, too, with the filly, Pride, in a time-trial in San Francisco, CA in 2:44 1/2 in 1881 to hit the record books down to the chestnut filly, Pansy McGregor down to 2:23 3/4 in Holton, KS in late 1893.

The colt, Frank Perry, established himself as the world record holder for 1-year-olds with a 2:15 Time Trial performance in 1911.

Yet another interesting example was from the gelding The Scheme that holds the record for yearling geldings at 2:21 3/4 in 1921.

The Scheme was driven by Alex Wishart and, in conversation with my late, great friend Chase Dean back about a half-century ago, Dean explained that Wishart drove many yearlings for L. E. Brown of Delavan, IL and he had yearling auctions and sold them and shipped them to new owners via railroad.

Since they didn't have much time to train them down, Dean explained that Wishart would let them loose in a gallop and, when they got tired and fell into a trot or pace, they'd "put the watch on them."

Back then, there were more than 900 race meetings coast-to-coast!

We have records on the books going back before the standardbred horses were even classified a standardbred.

And we have records on the books at distances from two miles, three miles, and five miles up to 10 miles, 20 miles, 50 miles and, yes, 100 miles – that record first achieved in 1845, again in 1846 and, finally, in 1853 when the bay gelding Conqueror indelibly put his name in the records books at 8:55:53 for the 100-mile distance.

Gone, forever, are the days of Goldsmith Maid setting world's records as a 20-year-old in 1877.

Gone, are the days when horses like Tru Single G started over 100 times during the early 1950s, or Abax racing at age 26.

The standardbred breed has changed from a breed of durability to a breed of raw speed.

We are witnessing a transformation of our grand standardbred breed before our very eyes.

Soon, we will have a declining racing population as speed continually displaces durability.

This makes one wonder if the decline of racetracks is, actually, a negative thing or a blessing, since we will be having more problems filling races down the road – or track – as speed, finally, overwhelms durability to a point of no return.

We breed no more for the likes of Su Mac Lad, Seatrain, The Grey Gladiator or Foiled Again.

The 2-year-old season is just about here and excitement looms boldly ahead.

When the 2-year-old pacer Big Jim paced in 1:49.1 back in 2010, it was something really special.

When A Rocknroll Dance did the same a year later, it was, also, really special.

Then Sweet Lou went a tick faster that same year, really special. Now, today, we have 18 different 2-year-old performers that have been under 1:49.

Will a 1:51 pacer wind up entered in a 4 or 5 claimer? It's becoming a ho-hum mile these days.

Even our trotters are giving hints, as the incredible filly Mission Brief took a 2-year-old mark of 1:50.3 14 seasons ago, and 22 trotters have records under 1:52.

So much for the 2:10 2-year-old list.

Today's juveniles are/will be 90-110 lengths faster than that coveted list of a generation past.

What's more important – speed or longevity on the track?

So, what do we call this new breed of speed since it's no longer a standardbred?

And, even more importantly, can we save our sport and the bettors in the same breath?

We need an answer in 1:45.3.

Giovaz (Alessandro Gocciadoro) winning the $220,000 Premio Derby 4 Anni for fillies on Monday in Turin.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Total Gocciadoro domination in Turin

by Thomas Hedlund

Monday's (April 6) feature meeting in Turin turned into a complete showcase for Alessandro Gocciadoro, whose stable dominated the day's major events.

Two divisions of the $220,000 Premio Derby 4 Anni were contested, and in the fillies' division Gocciadoro-trained runners swept the podium.

Giovaz (Maharajah), driven by Antonio Di Nardo, was involved in the early battle for position and eventually landed in the pocket trip after Gocciadoro himself sent Glamour Queen (Face Time Bourbon) to the lead after 900 meters.

Down the backstretch, Giovaz moved up first-over and had already taken control entering the final turn. Glamour Queen fought on gamely along the inside, but Giovaz edged clear in the closing strides to score in a 1:56.1 mile rate over 2,060 meters.

Glamour Queen finished second, while Gioconda Jet (Maharajah), also trained by Gocciadoro and driven by Magnus A. Djuse, completed a stable trifecta in third.

GUGLIELMO JET HOLDS ON

In the colts' division, Guglielmo Jet (Maharajah) was the clear favorite – unsurprisingly so.

The colt ranks among the very best of the Italian 4-year-old crop and has already taken on – and beaten – top French rivals at Vincennes this winter.

Guglielmo Jet took over the lead after 700 meters but did not trot entirely comfortably, particularly through the turns, and the earplugs were pulled early. Gocciadoro had to stay active in the bike to keep his horse focused, and when challengers came both inside and outside in the final 100 meters, his main task was simply to keep the colt together.

Jimmy Top (Ready Express) and Golden Boy (Maharajah) both mounted strong late challenges, but Gocciadoro managed to nurse Guglielmo Jet home first in a 1:55.4 mile rate over 2,060 meters, with both rivals recording the same time.

ALWAYS EK BEST IN COSTA AZZURRA

In the $240,000 Gran Premio Costa Azzurra, Magnus A. Djuse was content to sit first-over behind Always Ek (Filipp Roc) – and it proved to be the winning move.

Dany Capar (Exploit Caf), driven by Gocciadoro, was quickest off the gate, but Dubhe Prav (Robert Bi), driven by Santo Mollo, pressed forward from an outer post and took over the lead before the first turn, with Dany Capar settling in the pocket.

Djuse remained parked outside the leader with Always Ek, and turning for home the 10-year-old had worn down the frontrunner and powered clear to a decisive victory.

Stablemate Free Time Jepson (Face Time Bourbon) finished strongly for Andrea Guzzinati but could not threaten Always Ek, settling for second, while Dany Capar held third – sealing yet another Gocciadoro-trained trifecta on the day.

Always Ek stopped the clock in a 1:53.1 mile rate.

DON FANUCCI ZET ON HIS PATH TOWARDS ELITLOPPET

Ten-year-old Don Fanucci Zet (Hard Livin) won Elitloppet at Solvalla as a 5-year-old in 2021. Last year he was runner up behind Go On Boy and on Wednesday (April 8) evening the Daniel Redén trainee was ready for his season debut 2026.

And driver Örjan Kihlström didn't have to push Don Fanucci Zet especially hard the first 150 meters claiming the lead. The son of Hard Livin, who has entered Elitloppet every year since his debut in the race 2021, took a big step towards another entry in the big mile race at Solvalla on Wednesday night, as he cruised to a safe win in the second E-race ahead of Elitloppet.

Don Fanucci Zet raced relaxed in front and just sprinted to victory in 1:54.2.

Alessandro Gocciadoro's Diva Ek (Trixton) claimed the first E-race two weeks ago and after Wednesday's $20,000 The Onion's race she shares the lead in the series with Don Fanucci Zet.

Remaining races in E-race-series:

Nuncios Lopp on April 22 – Solvalla

Paralympiatravet on May 9 – Åby

Meadow Roads Lopp on May 13 – Solvalla

Milemästaren on May 16 – Tingsryd

Pris Daniels Lopp on May 23 – Gävle

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

A bright expectation changed Karly Warner's life

by Chris Lomon

There was a time when Karly Warner wasn't sure she wanted to carry on her family's horse racing legacy – until a bay trotter changed her mind.

Standardbred racing had been part of her life since before she took her first steps, from trips to the racetrack to long days in the barn and working as a groom.

Her love for the sport and the horses was never in doubt. Whether she wanted to make it a career, however, was another question entirely.

"My parents [Kerin and Michelle] have done this their whole lives, their parents did it and my aunt and uncle did this as well," she said. "I grew up in this industry. My parents would take me to the races. I grew up on a farm and I loved it. But I didn't think I wanted to do this."

Then she met Bright Expectation.

"He changed my life the moment I met him," Karly said. "He's a 6-year-old Cantab Hall. I got him two years ago through an online sale. When I met him the next day, it was a true bond."

From that moment on, the two were inseparable.

"I got my groom's license when I was 15 and my trainer's license when I was 19," she said. "I got to work alongside him, and he was the one who made me want to get my trainer's license. I took the test and passed, and I have had it for two years now. He's the main reason why.

"When I walk into the barn, he knows my voice and he finds me right away. He can be a little rude to other people, but he is totally different with me. He's so goofy and funny. I have so many photos and videos of him just being himself. I have five other horses, but he is my baby."

That connection prompted a major life decision.

Once again, it was the horse with a half-faint star who helped guide her.

"I'm in college right now, my final semester, at the University of Albany, where I major in Forensic Science and a minor in “The horses pulled me in [to racing], and I am so grateful for that. My goal is to have fun and for the horses to have fun, too. It takes up a lot of your time, but I am okay with that. Outside of racing, I am doing online classes. With this industry it is kind of your whole life, but I love that. And I love my horses.”

Criminal Justice,” Karly said. “I have been doing online classes because I have found I truly love this industry and I think I want to do it full time. So, I put my degree on hold for the time being. It wasn’t my plan, but ‘Bright’ made it be that.”

Karly’s parents fully backed her choice.

“My parents are my biggest supporters,” she said. “They always wanted me to go to college. When I told them I wanted to do this [racing] full time, they supported me. They have taught me everything I know. They said that I could put my degree on pause. They know I love this horse and the people around me, and maybe it is not the time to finish my degree for now.”

Helping her horses achieve top marks, be it personal-best times or otherwise, is Karly’s priority.

In her rookie training season, she recorded five wins and 32 top-three finishes from 57 starts.

Her first parimutuel win came on Aug. 4, 2024, with Smart N Sassy, a bay son of Courtly Choice.

“It was on a Sunday because I remember they had the sires stakes that day,” she said. “I actually got Jason Bartlett to drive my horse. It was exciting to get that win. At the time, I was 19, and I think a lot of people were shocked that I got this win and got it with Jason. I was in awe that day. I truly thought I would never get a win. It was just unbelievable. It was really cool.”

She matched that five-win total again the following year.

Now, the New Jersey-born horsewoman is hoping one of her future victories comes from a very familiar partner.

“Last February, Bright Expectation broke his coffin bone,” she said. “I was in tears. We rehabbed him for over a year, and he is finally back jogging and training. He is going to be ready when Vernon Downs opens for training in a couple of weeks.”

Her goal is simple: go one better.

“Bright has seconditis, so I would love to get a win with him,” she said. “I have won with my other horses, but it would mean so much if I could win a race with him. I would love to do it at Tioga Downs, where we race right now. Jim Pantaleano drives Bright, so having them win together would be the greatest feeling. I also raced him at The Meadowlands against the biggest trainers in the sport, people like Ron Burke and Tony Alagna. We finished third in the open and it felt like a win.

“He is always so close and then it seems like, ‘No, I don’t want to do it. Second is fine.’”

That she’s even in a position to chase that win is something she doesn’t take for granted.

“I grew up in Jersey and mainly went to Freehold,” Karly said. “I would always sit in the kitchen. My dad used to drive, and I would love to watch him race. I would talk with the other drivers. I loved playing with the horses and going to the track. I grew up on a farm.

“We didn’t have a lot of horses back then – now we have around 50 – so we have come a long way.”

And she’s just getting started.

“The horses pulled me in, and I am so grateful for that,” Karly said. “My goal is to have fun and for the horses to have fun, too. It takes up a lot of your time, but I am okay with that. Outside of racing, I am doing online classes. With this industry it is kind of your whole life, but I love that. And I love my horses.”

That love was on full display in the days leading up to Easter.

Every horse in her barn received a personalized, pastel-themed gift, while also sporting a festive look.

“I know it sounds a bit crazy, but I bought them all Easter baskets with treats and I dressed them up,” she said. “They loved it and I love them. It was a nice reminder how happy I am to be here.”

A gift, in every sense, that keeps on giving.

Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame

Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame 50th Anniversary Class announced

by Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame

The Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame is pleased to announce the organization's 2026 inductees, marking the 50th year of honoring the best in Canadian racing.

This 50th Anniversary Class features six standardbred inductees as well as a Legend inductee, all of which can be described as accomplished industry leaders, skilled horsepeople and horses that have thrilled fans.

That standardbred inductees are:

Builder – Dr. Maurice Stewart

Male Horse – Majestic Son

Veteran Horse – Western Dreamer

Female Horse – Put On A Show

Trainer – Doug Arthur

Driver – Mike Saftic

• Dr. Maurice "Mo" Stewart, a 1974 Graduate of the Western College of Veterinary Medicine, was described by Canadian Racing Hall of Fame inductee, Keith Clark, as a "tireless worker trying to improve Alberta racing." Further, "He is a respected veterinarian, successful breeder/owner, and a relentless advocate for Alberta on the national scene." During his 35+ years of service to Canadian racing, Stewart has volunteered with numerous industry organizations on boards, committees, as a delegate and a leader in the industry to meetings, functions, galas, conferences and seminars at the provincial, national and international level, all for the betterment of the sport.

• Majestic Son's racing career consisted of 38 starts, including 22 wins, a mark of 1:52.2 and $1,993,157 in purse earnings. A son of Angus Hall out of the King Conch mare, Celtic Contessa, Majestic Son was trained by Mark Steacy for the Majestic Son Stable. His career was highlighted by wins in the premiere stakes for sophomore trotters including the Champlain, Goodtimes, Canadian Trotting Classic, and Breeders Crown. As a sire, his North American progeny have earned $25.4 million including millionaires Charmed Life and Perfetto as well as six $750,000 winners, nine $500,000 winners, 31 winners of $250,000, and 66 winners of $100,000. The son of Western Hanover—Fits Of Fun holds the distinction of being the only gelding to win a Pacing Triple Crown. Since July 2001, he was a resident of the Hall of Champions at the Kentucky Horse Park, where he passed away in March 2026 at the age of 32.

• Put On A Show, a daughter of Rocknroll Hanover, earned over $2.4 million with 31 wins in 50 starts. On Canadian soil during her 2-year-old season she won the Eternal Camniation as well as an elimination and final of the She's A Great Lady and was second in both the 2-year-old filly pace elimination and final of the Breeders Crown at Woodbine. As a broodmare, Put On A Show has produced six foals of racing age with three winners, including Pepsi North America Cup and Little Brown Jug winner It's My Show ($1,814,958; 1:46.4), and Meadowlands Pace winner Best In Show ($763,119; 1:48).

- Doug Arthur had a reputation in harness racing as a “developer of champions” after taking Cam Fella, a $19,000 yearling purchase, and developing him into the Harness Horse of the Year in 1982 and 1983. The legacy of Cam Fella as a racehorse, a sire, and a foundation to the standardbred breed, relates back to his original purchaser and developer, Arthur. Over time, Arthur was deemed by his peers as an astute judge of horseflesh with an ability to identify a yearling's potential talent.

- Mike Saftic started his harness race career as a driver in 1981 in his hometown of Sudbury, ON, before moving to the OJC circuit where he began working with Garth Gordon. His first big break came in 1989 driving free-for-all pacer Soft Light, that took Saftic across North America winning multiple Can-Am races, the Monctonian Pace, and his first Meadowlands driving victory. Among the stand-out horses driven by Saftic is CHRHF inductee and Horse of the Year Ellamony, who Saftic guided to victory in the Breeders Crown. Other notable horses and victories include Metro Pace winner Sir Luck, Jugette winner Pleasure Chest, and Gold Cup and Saucer winner Nuclear Flash. In 1995, he represented Canada in the World Driving Championship in Russia. Over a 40+ year career, Saftic's stats include over $102 million in purse earnings.

The Legend Category recognizes horses and people with Canadian horse racing accomplishments occurring at least 50 years prior to induction, with a particular focus on individuals considered “Unsung Heroes” and “Trailblazers” whose contributions helped shape the sport in Canada.

A Legend inductee in 2026 is a man often referred to as the “Dean of Ontario Harness Racing,” William Henry Riddell.

Over his lifetime, Orangeville, ON resident, William Henry Riddell was devoted to harness racing as a veterinarian, a breeder, a trainer, and a driver during the 1920s and '30s. He built a nationally renowned standardbred stable with horses he bred carrying the “Riddell” name on their registration papers.

The Class of 2026 will be inducted on Aug. 12, 2026 during at an Induction Gala held at the Mississauga Convention Centre. Additional details, including information about event tickets, will be announced May 1.

Three horses repeat in MGM Borgata Pacing Series

by Yonkers Raceway media

Soho Firestone A, Huntinthelastdolar, and Donegal Luther N improved to two-for-two in this year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series after victories in their respective $50,000 splits on Monday (April 6). Captain Albano, who was third in his race a week ago, took the remaining test.

In the showdown of the night between opening round winners Donegal Luther N (Yannick Gingras) and Chase H Hanover (Anthony Napolitano) in the final section, the former parked out the latter through fractions of :26.4, :55.2, and 1:23.4, then withstood a bid by pocket-sitter Ima Perfect Choice (Matt Kakaley) in the stretch to prevail by three-quarters-of-a-length in 1:52.2. Heza Charttopper A (Scott Zeron) finished in the third spot.

Donegal Luther N is an 8-year-old gelded son of Bettors Creek trained by Jared Bako for the ownership group of Kap Singh Racing Stable, Stephen Klunowski, and Earl Hill, Jr. He has 13 wins, nine seconds, and four thirds from 49 starts, has earned $208,970 and returned $2.76 to win as the 1-5 choice. The exacta was $11.56 and the trifecta kicked back $128.02.

Back in the first flight, Soho Firestone A (Jason Bartlett) won by a head in 1:51.3 after he led at the :27.3 quarter, :56.3 half, and 1:24 three-quarters. Howlenthedhills (Kakaley) found room on the inside in the stretch from the 2-hole but just came up short, while Matai Phil N (Lauren Tritton) angled out in the lane after an inside trip and closed with pace for third.

A 7-year-old gelding by American Ideal, Soho Firestone A was sent out by Doug Dilloian, Jr. for owners David Linker, Brian Loman, and Robert Venable. Soho Firestone A has a summary of 21-17-8 from 76 appearances, has put away $392,839, and paid $2.60 to win as the 1-5 choice. He led a $6.90 exacta and a $35.32 trifecta.

The second division saw Huntinthelastdolar and Bartlett on the front-end early, but he would be overtaken by pocket-sitter Celtic Spirit N (Joe Bongiorno) after the quarter, which went on the board in 28 seconds flat. From there, Celtic Spirit N went on to the half in 57 seconds and the three-quarters in 1:25 while Huntinthelastdolar sat in the pocket, Always A Thrill (Kakaley) went first-up from third and defending series champion Mossdale Ben N (Jim Marohn, Jr.) worked out a second-over journey.

In the lane Celtic Spirit N dug in gamely while Huntinthelastdolar rallied on the inside and Mossdale Ben N surged on the outside, and at the wire it was Huntinthelastdolar in front by a head over Mossdale Ben N in a 1:52.4 mile. Celtic Spirit N was third, just a neck behind.

Per Engblom trains Huntinthelastdolar, a 6-year-old gelded son of Huntsville, for owners E Five Racing and John Fielding. Huntinthelastdolar made his 25th stop in the winner's circle from 73 trips behind the gate, has banked $1,180,468 and returned $4.36 to win as the even-money favorite. He keyed a $7.76 exacta and a $31.26 trifecta.

Redwood Hanover and Bartlett nearly made it a clean sweep for last week's winners but came up half a length short to Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy) in the third grouping. Redwood Hanover went to the outside from the pocket before the :27.1 quarter and took command away from Sweet Beach Life (Kakaley) prior to that marker. Once he was on the point, Redwood Hanover paced to the half in :56.1 and the three-quarters in 1:23.4 as McCarthy wheeled Captain Albano first-up from fourth on the third turn.

Captain Albano ground his way into contention while uncovered and sustained his bid in the lane, wearing down Redwood Hanover late in the 1:51.4 effort. Sweet Beach Life had space on the inside in the stretch and checked in the third spot.

Mike Lizzi

Donegal Luther N (Yannick Gingras) winning his MGM Borgata Series leg on Monday at Yonkers.

A two-time Dan Patch Award recipient, the Noel Daley-trained Captain Albano is a 5-year-old Captaintreachers stallion owned by Patricia Stables LLC., L.A. Express Stable LLC., Sjoblom Racing Inc., and Michael Dolan. Captain Albano is a 27-time victor from 47 outings, has pocketed $2,199,323, and paid $7.46 to win as the 5-2 second choice. He was atop an $11.18 exacta and a $27.04 trifecta.

MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims continue through Monday (April 27) before a $200,000 (added) final and a $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation on Friday (May 8).

MA ISABELLE AND KAZIO DK WIN IN JOHN BRENNAN TROTTING SERIES

The second round of the John Brennan Trotting Series was featured on Wednesday (April 8) at MGM Yonkers Raceway, and the winners of the two $30,000 divisions were Ma Isabelle and Kazio DK.

The John Brennan Trotting Series is named in honor of the longtime Standardbred Owners Association of New York horsemen's representative who passed away from complications of COVID-19 in March 2020.

After Pierre In Paris (Yannick Gingras) and Green Mel (Jordan Stratton) made breaks before the start, just four horses were left in contention in the opening flight. Commodus A (Jason Bartlett) would put up fractions of :30, :59.2, and 1:27.3 while Ma Isabelle (Pat Lachance) followed in the pocket and opening-leg victor Always A Story (Tyler Buter) waited in third until being sent two-wide before three-quarters.

Commodus A dug in gamely on the lead in the stretch, but Ma Isabelle and Always A Story both closed at him, and at the finish it was Ma Isabelle who got her nose on the wire first, defeating Commodus A by a nose in a 1:56.2 mile. Always A Story checked in the third position.

Lachance trains the victorious 5-year-old daughter of Alarm Detector for owners/breeders Tom and Elizabeth Rankin. Ma Isabelle has 10 wins, 14 seconds and 11 thirds from 66 starts, has earned $178,892, and paid $61.90 to win as a 29-1 shot. She led a $290.08 exacta and an $1,184.86 trifecta.

Kazio DK (Gingras) wound up with the lead after Diplomacy (Bartlett) went off-stride on the first turn in the second section, and after he cut the quarter in :29.3, the half in :58.2, and the three-quarters in 1:28.2, Kazio DK trotted home in :28.4 to defeat pocket-sitter Exquisite Taste (Lachance) by 3¾ lengths in 1:57.1. Velociraptor (Colin Kelly) was the third-place finisher.

Gingras also co-owns the Ron Burke-trained Kazio DK, a 5-year-old gelding by Muscle Massive, with partners Burke Racing Stable LLC., Weaver Brussemi LLC., and Fac Racing LLC. Kazio DK has a summary of 7-11-4 from 35 appearances, has banked $107,099, and returned $6.76 to win as the 2-1 second choice. He was atop a $12.60 exacta and a $39.36 trifecta.

This year's John Brennan Trotting Series has one more prelim on April 15 prior to the $100,000 (guaranteed) final and $50,000 (guaranteed) consolation on April 22. After being contested at the distance of a mile and a quarter in 2025, the final and consolation will go back to the standard mile distance this year.

Stakes action continues at MGM Yonkers Raceway tonight (April 10) and Monday (April 13) with the third leg of the MGM Ursula McIntyre Pacing Series and MGM Borgata Pacing Series, respectively. The McIntyre has four $50,000 splits, while the Borgata has a trio of $50,000 divisions.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Weiss Series fillies contest first leg at Pocono

by PHHA / Pocono

Sophomore fillies were in the Weiss Series spotlight on Tuesday afternoon (April 7) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, as four fields of trotters and three of pacers each went for $17,500 purses in their first-round preliminaries.

Despite stiff winds, a temperature hovering near 40 degrees, and 16-1 tote board status, the Huntsville miss Vanna By The River made a shambles of her division, pacing wire-to-wire in 1:53.3 to break her maiden in her 13th career start. Braxten Boyd opened his advantage on the rest of the field throughout the last quarter, as Vanna By The River scored the powerful victory for trainer Cory Stratton and Our Three Sons Stable LLC.

American Cheese, fresh off winning her 2026 debut at Yonkers six days ago, came right back to take her Weiss division in 1:54.4, the daughter of American Ideal guided by Jason Bartlett for trainer Jared Bako and the partnership of Blue Chip Bloodstock Inc. and Philip Steinberg. In the other section on this gait the Bettor's Wish filly Miss Jum Jabber sat just off a dawdling pace set by Sundownsomewhere, then still could gain into a :27 sprint to the wire to beat the pacesetter by a head in 1:55.2 and win her second consecutive start, with Bradley Chisholm handling the lines for trainer Brett Pelling and his Pelling Racing LLC.

Driver Tim Tetrick and sire Captain Corey accounted for two of the four trotting cuts of the Weiss, including the quickest and most decisive winner, Cynic, who came over from The Meadows and ran her 2026 tally to 4 3-1-0 while lowering her mark to 1:55.3, 5¾ lengths to the good for trainer Britney Dillon and Joseph Musser Trust. The other successful pairing between the driver and sire came with Lady Tessie Marie, who won her seasonal bow in 1:58.4 for trainer Scott DiDomenico and the ownership combine of Angela Cornell and Tessie Esry.

Jason Bartlett added a Weiss trot win to his pacing triumph in guiding the Gimpanzee filly Concise to a 1:57.4 mark in her first race since last July, with the only diamondgaited favorite to win trained by Nik Drennan, whose Drennan Stable LLC sharing ownership with Joseph Davino and Brad Stockman.

Curtis Salonick

Vanna By The River (Braxten Boyd) winning her Weiss Series test on Tuesday at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

The Tactical Landing miss Allioop Blue Chip reduced her tab to 1:56.1 by taking another Weiss trot for driver Andrew McCarthy, trainer Noel Daley, and owners R. Lynn and Philomena Curry.

Drivers Tetrick and Bartlett posted doubles on the day as noted; they were joined by Boyd, who also won an overnight, and Simon Allard, who bookended the card. Fourteen different barns sent out winners on the afternoon.

Pacing males come back for their second Weiss preliminary when racing returns to the Downs on Saturday at 1 p.m.; all four first-round winners will be looking to make it two straight.

DILLY HANOVER STAYS UNDEFEATED WITH WEISS WIN AT POCONO

Three-year-old male trotters competed in three $17,500 first round preliminaries of their Bobby Weiss Series at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania on Monday afternoon (April 6). All three winners were making their second starts of the year, and two were Bar Hopping geldings driven by Tyler Buter, but the fastest was Dilly Hanover, an altered son of International Moni who is undefeated in two career starts.

Unraced at 2, Dilly Hanover won his career bow in 1:56.3 last Tuesday, and six days later he came back and lowered his mark to 1:56.1 for driver Braxten Boyd and trainer Emily Bost, the latter co-owner with R K 4 Racing and Bruce James Potter. "Dilly" was out three-eighths until clearing Finn McCool, then got a stern challenge from the pocketsitter through the last quarter, forcing a :28.2 kicker to preserve the victory as the 2-holer lapsed very late from gait in his 2026 bow.

The faster of the two Tyler Buter / Bar Hopping success stories was Confident Volo, who rallied from fifth at the stretch call to get home first in 1:57.2. Confident Volo, the heavy favorite, was handled as his name would suggest to remain unbeaten after two starts this campaign for trainer Todd Buter and Oldford Racing LLC.

Phoebus Hanover broke his maiden in his second career start in 1:57.3 in the other Weiss split, surprising the assembled while paying $37.60 to win. Buter sat third on the rail much of the way, then found room between horses, and “Phoebus” came through shining to notch the win for trainer Nifty Norman and his Enzed Racing Stable Inc., co-owner with Dean Lockhart.

In all, Tyler Buter, defending driving champion and 2026 leader, won six times during the Monday action at Pocono, tying Brett Beckwith’s one-day seasonal high at the northeast Pennsylvania track. Simon Allard and Braxten Boyd guided two winners apiece. On the training side, “T. Buter” was also the top conditioner of the day, as Todd Buter was the only doubler.

WEISS PACERS WOW, FAST TIMES THE NORM AT POCONO

The Weiss Series for developing 3-year-olds in all divisions started its April-long stay at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania on Saturday, with Twin B Thriller getting the pacing male sector off to a flying start with a 1:49.4 victory in his $17,500 division of the first prelim on a very nice day.

Unraced since Sept. 13, Twin B Thriller had won four of six at 2 and took two straight qualifiers before his yearly bow, but his final clocking, beating his old mark by three seconds, was a shocker. George Napolitano, Jr. took early control from the pole with the Always B Miki colt and kept it while Stingman, coming from The Meadows off four straight wins and bringing Dave Palone along, dueling hard for the lead, this ultimate “Pennsylvania East vs. West” battle resulting in stinging fractions of :26.4, :53.4, and 1:21.3.

Twin B Thriller had more left in the tank in the stretch and went on to lower his mark by three full seconds. Making his first start for trainer Dennis A. Laterza and the ownership of Ginko Stable Inc. and Latz A Luck Stable, Twin B Thriller did not look tired at the end, and it will be interesting to follow his development.

Napolitano took another Weiss section, one of three wins on the card that tied him for day’s honors with Matt Kakaley, with the Sweet Lou gelding Magic Monarch, who lowered his mark five-and-two-fifths seconds by stopping the timer in 1:51.4 while victorious for trainer Kevin Lare (who ironically trained Twin B Thriller last year) and owner Frank Chick.

The Captaintreacherous gelding Barrow is undefeated in four 2026 races, all at Pocono, and he too reduced his mark to 1:51.2 – but in an unconventional way. Vizcaya came out of the 2-hole on the far turn and crossed the wire first, but it was ruled that he caused interference in coming free on the last bend, and thus Barrow got the victory and credit for his own electronic timing. Brett Pelling trains the sophomore, and Brad Chisholm was in his usual perch behind the biggest check-getter for Let It Ride Stable Inc., Morrison Racing Stables, and Jesmeral Stable.

Making it a clean sweep of new lifetime marks generated by Weiss combatants was Ooglesaurus, whose 1:52 time dropped his best by two-and-two-fifths seconds. Brett Beckwith had the steer behind the altered son of Lazarus N for trainer Joe Bongiorno, giving Morrison Racing Stables a Weiss double.

Driver Anthony Napolitano and trainer Darren Taneyhill joined the aforementioned as doublers on the day.

Driver Jordan Stratton scores career win 6,000

A 1:54.3 win with Lucapelo A in Monday night's (April 6) ninth race at MGM Yonkers Raceway gave Jordan Stratton the 6,000th victory of his driving career.

Trained by Jordan's brother Cory, Lucapelo A took command past the 28 second quarter-mile marker and never looked back, holding off challengers in the stretch to prevail by a neck and give Jordan the milestone. Meadows is first to offer live video of draw Hollywood Casino at The Meadows has become the first harness track in North America to offer live video of the post-position draw for each race card with a dedicated YouTube channel.

"We are pleased to offer this service to our owners, trainers, and the general public," said Michael Carter, Meadows director of racing. "Years ago, everyone could come to the race office and watch the 'shaking of the pills' for the draw, but as with most things these days, everything is now done on the computer. This improves transparency and allows so many more people to see the process take place as it happens.

"Plus, now you won't have to wait for the full draw results to be posted and you can find out a lot more quickly where your horse has drawn."

Viewers on The Meadows YouTube channel will be able to see in real time the actual post positions assigned randomly by the United States Trotting Association's eTrack Racetrack Office System.

While the exact time of the draw can vary by day based on the review and verification of entries for each race card, viewers can subscribe to the channel to receive an alert on draw days when the live video begins.

Handle gains at Oak Grove continue through three weeks

In just the third week of the 2026 harness racing meet at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming & Hotel, a typical 12-race card of overnight races for the southern Kentucky oval generated the third highest betting handle in the track's six-year history.

Monday's (April 6) races ended on the cusp of a half-million dollars bet with just over $450,000 churning through the windows. The Monday handle figure is only bested by the 2024 handle record at Oak Grove of $522,941 and the current record of $582,666 set last year on the Monday following the Kentucky Derby. Year over year, Monday's card showed handle gains of 21.3 per cent, and those gains continued into the following race day with Tuesday's card outhandling the previous year by 4.2 per cent. Heading into the fourth week of racing, overall handle at Oak Grove remains up year over year by 6.7 per cent with over $2 million bet so far this season.

The win percentage of favorites continues to fall at Oak Grove after back-to-back days this week that saw only four public choices reach the winner's circle. Several long prices surprised over the two days with Copper Teen stunning in the lone amateur driving race of the week and paying $77.78 to win. Roshun Trigg trainee April's Big Guy also pulled off yet another surprise at Oak Grove when winning the penultimate race on Monday and paying $85.74 to win - almost two years, to the day, after he landed a 26-1 upset over the track.

The penultimate race on Monday also had record payouts in the trifecta and superfecta pools. With the top four finishers sent at odds of 41-1, 9-2, 51-1, and 11-1, respectively, the 50-cent trifecta returned $8,344.72 while the 10-cent superfecta paid $6,006.40.

Tuesday's card also had a pair of double-digit winners with Mike Murphy trainee Heknowsallthetrix paying $55.76 in the third race and Fox Valley Compass paying $30.30 two races later. The return on win bets averaged around 6-1 odds for the third week of racing, up from the 4-1 average in the second week.

Top driving honors this week split between in-laws Marcus Miller and Atlee Bender, who won three apiece through 25 races on the week. Tony Dinges led all trainers on the week with three victories, two of which he piloted to make him among the six drivers who scored doubles this week. Austin Hanners, Jeremy Bobbitt, Joey Putnam, Brandon Bates, and Tyler Miller all doubled on the driving side while Randy Crisler, Todd Luther, Jamaica Patton, Rob Laffoon, and Kevin Miller doubled on the training side.

Action in the driving standings tightened with Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. away from the Tuesday card to qualify star pacing filly Loua Dipa at The Meadows. Wrenn sits tied atop the driving standings with Brandon Bates at nine wins through the meet while Atlee Bender sits in third with six victories, Marcus Miller in fourth with five victories, and Joey Putnam in fifth with four victories. The top of the trainer standings has a three-way tie between Ron Burke, Randy Crisler, and Tony Dinges at five wins each. Walter Haynes, Jr. sits fourth in the training standings with four wins.

Several other horses scored long-awaited Oak Grove wins through the third week of the meet. Admiral Hill, who won the $30,000 open pace on Monday, collected his first Oak Grove win since he smashed the track record for a pacing mile with his 1:48 victory in the 2024 Kentucky Sire Stakes final for 4-year-olds. War Of Will, who won the penultimate race on the Tuesday card, made his first visit to the Oak Grove winner's circle since 2024. And E Mode's Desire, often a runner-up when last campaigned at Oak Grove in 2024, finally got his picture taken with a win in the third race on Monday.

The 2026 season of harness racing at Oak Grove continues on a Monday-Tuesday rotation through July 14 with a single exception for the inaugural running of the $500,000 Oak Grove Trotting Derby, which will take place on Preakness Day, Saturday (May 16) and will have eliminations the week following the 2026 Kentucky Derby on Monday (May 4). First-race post time at Oak Grove is 1:10 p.m. (CDT).

Antognoni S looking to 'Cruze' in Big M series

The Ron Burke-trained Antognoni S had a fabulous 2025, yet, he didn't make headlines like his stablemate Lexus Kody, who ended the season as the Dan Patch Trotter of the Year after earning an industry-best $1.3 million.

Last year, Antognoni S won 16 of 24 starts and banked $481,537. His two biggest wins came at Yonkers Raceway – in the MGM Grand Prix and John Brennan Trotting Series – but he didn't race during the course of the season in the bigger events against "Kody," or Kody's arch-rival, Periculum.

This year, things could be much different.

Antognoni S will be at The Big M tonight (April 10) in the first leg of the JL Cruze, a series that pays tribute to the first horse to ever break the 1:50 barrier on the trot at The Meadowlands. Antognoni S is the 5-2 morning-line favorite from post 3 with co-owner Yannick Gingras in the sulky.

"He's ready to go, I think, right now," said Burke of Antognoni S, who qualified at The Big M on April 4 in spectacular fashion. "Last year, it was never a question of racing at The Meadowlands, it was just, we didn't have him in the big stakes. We didn't make payments because we didn't really know last year how good he was."

Antognoni S' versatility could go a long way toward a big 2026. It's already obvious that he can do things at a high level going four turns.

"It doesn't matter [what sized track], honestly, that's a good horse," said Burke. "By the end of [2025], I told [co-owner] Mark [Weaver] and them guys, he's better than [Lexus] Kody. We would train them together and he would beat Kody.

"I think this year he'll be maybe the best aged trotter we have."

It won't be easy pickings for Antognoni S tonight. He still has to contend with Asteroid and Resolve To Win, who finished second and third, respectively, a week ago in The Big M's overnight trotting feature. Take All Comers led for most of that dash, and he, too, is part of the 10-horse field.

The JL Cruze series will have its second leg on April 24 before the final on May 2.

Then, the stakes season for older trotters at The Meadowlands kicks off on May 16 when 4-year-olds and older go at it in the $175,000 Arthur J. Cutler Memorial. It was last year in the Cutler that Antognoni S made his last appearance at The Big M, when the 6-year-old gelded son of Father Patrick—Bouncing Bax finished third as the 6-5 favorite behind Periculum and Lexus Kody.

Maybe both of Burke's trainees will face off again in the Cutler, as Lexus Kody gets his season underway this Saturday.

“Lexus Kody qualifies Saturday at The Meadowlands,” said Burke. “I think Kody has a bigger [2026] schedule, you know, because we do keep Antognoni more for [the smaller tracks], because, obviously, Kody can’t do Yonkers like Antognoni can. Kody will do it once in a while but he’s not going to do it all the time like this horse will. So more small tracks with this horse, more big tracks with Kody.”

What’s the schedule for Antognoni S?

“I’ll have to talk to his genius co-owner and driver,” said Burke with tongue firmly in cheek. “I’m sure after the first start, we’ll see what he thinks.”

“He does fit him well,” said Burke of Gingras when speaking seriously. “He does such a nice job with him because he keeps him quiet. The horse can get hot. He does a great job. He picked his spots when he pushed him leaving and made him sit in. I thought that’s what I loved the other day about the qualifier. He sat in perfectly and then exploded [home in :25.4 to win in 1:54.1].

“We didn’t know he was that good [last year], so he’ll get more [opportunities] this year. He’ll get more of a chance to prove he belongs. And there’s no doubt in my mind that he belongs.”

WHO’S ON THE SHOW? Tonight, and Saturday, a pair of faces that are in the rotation will be seen on the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set alongside simulcast show regular Dave Little.

Tonight, Manhattan lawyer and sports agent Larry Fox, a “double threat” who has not only co-hosted the show several times but called an entire race card on Nov. 20 of last year as well, will sit alongside regular host Little.

Little will then shift one chair to the right on Saturday, when his wife, Debbie, the associate editor and columnist at Harness Racing Update, will be the host of the broadcast.

Ken Warkentin will call the races – as usual – on Friday and Saturday.

Gary DiLeo will serve as paddock interviewer both nights as well as providing analysis and selections on the FanDuel Television (FDTV) feed tonight.

Kiara Morgan will handle FDTV on Saturday.

THE SCHEDULE: Live harness racing at The Meadowlands will be conducted on a Friday-Saturday basis through Sept. 12 with a first-race post time of 6:35 p.m.

There are two post time exceptions. The post times that are different occur on July 4, when the Meadowlands Pace eliminations program kicks off at 6 p.m., and on Aug. 8, when the Hambletonian Day card begins at noon.

JOHN THE REVELATOR: John Rallis brought his A+ game to a new spot now featured on The Big M’s live pregame TV presentation last weekend.

On Friday (April 3), the Trot Magazine columnist suggested that viewers take note of recent performances by a pair of horses in the new “Replays with Rallis” segment.

Targaryen Empress rallied well to finish fourth in the second race, but Rallis’ fans rejoiced in the seventh, as 11-1 shot Cheese Omelet hit the winner’s circle with 73-year-old driver Dante Scattolini recording his first-ever victory at the mile oval, returning $25.20 to win.

But Rallis wasn’t finished.

Saturday (April 4) night, the 2025 Dan Patch Lew Barasch Breakthrough Award winner gave out another pair of competitors, and once again led his flock to a big score.

Idiosyncratic got a fourth-place check in the third race, but Rallis saved his best for last for a second straight program, as in the 10th, Novel came from just off the pace to score at 15-1, paying $32 to win.

For those who risked $20 to win on each of the horses Rallis turned the spotlight on, their investment would have been $80, with their return totaling $572, good for a profit of $492.

KIARA KILLED IT: Morgan was back on The Meadowlands’ talent scene for the first time in four weeks on Saturday (April 4), giving her analysis of the races on the FanDuel Television (FDTV) feed, and her followers had big smiles on their faces after playing along with her in the Early 50-cent Pick-4.

Her picks were also available on X at @themeadowlands.

Morgan’s ticket – which called for an investment of $32 – included Art Of Revenge ($14.40 to win) in the sixth race; Funtime Bayama ($3) in the seventh; Dance Partner ($23.80) in the eighth; and Typhoon Banner ($9.80) in the ninth.

The payoff of $557 gave her fans a profit of $525.

'Typhoon' blows field away at Big M

Typhoons can produce destructive winds that exceed 150 miles per hour, and while the Joe Bongiorno trained and driven Typhoon Banner N comes nowhere near that speed at his fastest, his incredible early foot got him into perfect position Saturday night (April 4) when he won the featured $19,000 claiming handicap for a third time in his last four tries.

Departing from post 7 in the nine-horse field with horses in for a tag of no less than $40,000 and no more than $60,000, Typhoon Banner N was quick as a cat at the start, making his way to the top out of turn one and hitting the quarter in :27. Water Sports Teen, in search of a third straight score, then sprinted his way to the lead while "Typhoon" sat in the pocket as Water Sports Teen hit the half in :55.2.

As the field made its way toward the far turn, Sinbad N was now on the scene, racing first-over and providing pressure to the leader. Water Sports Teen – who reached three-quarters in 1:23.3 – did manage to shrug off Sinbad N turning into the lane, but Bongiorno had plenty of horse in the pocket, finding room mid-stretch before Typhoon Banner N sprinted home to a decisive three-quarter-length victory in 1:50.3. Southwind Gendry, the 2-1 favorite, came from the back of the pack to rally for second. Water Sports Teen held third.

"He took last week off, but he's been sharp," said Bongiorno. "I just have too many horses for the same class. It never hurts a horse to give him the week off. He got locked in on the cones in his last start [when third two weeks ago].

"[Post position] doesn't matter with this horse. They can't out leave this horse. He's probably the fastest I've ever driven off the car. We'll keep racing him hard. He loves his job showing up week after week."

A 10-year-old gelded son of Bettors Delight, Typhoon Banner N raised his lifetime stats to 32 wins from 115 starts, good for earnings of $601,055 for owners Phillip Steinberg, JB Racing, and Barbara Bongiorno Stable. He paid $9.80 after going to the gate as the 7-2 second choice.

KIARA CRUSHES: Kiara Morgan was back on The Meadowlands' talent scene for the first time in four weeks, giving her analysis of the races on the FanDuel Television (FDTV) feed, and her followers had big smiles on their faces after playing along with her in the Early 50-cent Pick-4.

Her picks were also available on X at @themeadowlands.

Morgan's $32 ticket included Art Of Revenge ($14.40 to win) in the sixth race; Funtime Bayama ($3) in the seventh; Dance Partner ($23.80) in the eighth; and Typhoon Banner N ($9.80) in the ninth.

The payoff of $557 gave her fans a profit of $525.

A LITTLE MORE: The $1 PK-8 went unhit for a third consecutive offering, upping the carryover to $61,106... Jason Bartlett was the top dog of the driving colony after racking up four wins on the night... Ron Burke topped the trainers with a pair of victories... All-source betting on the 14-race program totaled $2,667,679.
