Australia's top trotter, JUST BELIEVE, invited to the Elitloppet

Becomes only the third Australian-trained trotter to accept an invite.

By Adam Hamilton

You can see the Aussie headlines now... "When Harry met Stig." Harry, best known by his racing name Just Believe, will become just the third Australian-trained trotter to tackle the great Elitloppet at Solvalla in Stockholm, Sweden on May 28.

And Just Believe, Australia's standout trotter, will be stabled with legendary Swedish horseman Stig H. Johansson during his Elitloppet campaign.

Trainer Jess Tubbs admits she and husband Greg Sugars, who drives Just Believe, are still pinching themselves.

"It's beyond our wildest dreams... absolutely huge," Tubbs said. "Harry hasn't even been in our stable for a year and he's won the Inter Dominion, Great Southern Star and is now taking on some of the world's best trotters in one of the most famous races. Just when the news was sinking in, he'd been invited, they then said we'd be staying with Stig. That in itself is incredible. What a legend, what an icon.

"I remember saying to Greg, 'We're staying with Stig: Wow!' I can't wait to meet him. I doubt he'll know who we are, but we certainly know him. We're so grateful to stay with him and the chance to learn from him is an absolute privilege.”

Tubbs is from a trotting family. Her late father, Alan, was a trainer of note and loved his trotters. He first introduced her to the Elitloppet.

“My first memory of the race is watching Pride Of Petite [a New Zealand-trained mare] run in the Elitloppet when I was eight or nine,” she said. “I was in awe of the crowd, the atmosphere and the spectacular event it is.

“The horses are incredible to watch and the participants are truly superstars. It’s going to be pretty amazing when we get there.”

Just Believe is booked to leave Melbourne for a 60-hour plane, trailer and boat trip before he arrives at Johansson’s stables just outside Stockholm.

“We’ve got plenty of horses at home who just wouldn’t cope, but it won’t bother him,” Tubbs said. “Working out the logistics has been the daunting part, but we’ve got Andrew Kelly and his team at HRA [Harness Racing Australia], along with the Swedes, who have made it all possible. Without them it wouldn’t happen.”

Despite having one of Australia’s largest, best and blossoming stables, Tubbs said she and Sugars would both be at the Elitloppet.

“I really believe it’s something we will talk about forever and I doubt we’ll ever get the chance to do it again,” she said. “I’m just so grateful we’ve got this chance and we want to make the most of it.

“We’ve got horses racing in New Zealand at the moment and a trip to Sydney to fit in as well, but we’ll both be at Solvalla on the day for sure.”

The previous two Aussie-trained Elitlopp invitees – Sundons Gift (2009) and Maori Time (2018) – failed to make the final.

When you include New Zealand, the only Down Under trotter to qualify for the final was Pride Of Petite, who finished fourth in a heat and sixth in the final, in 1997.

“We know the enormity of the challenge, albeit we don’t know much about the actual opposition we’ll face,” Tubbs said. “Greg and I have got lots of homework to do. I’m glad I’ll be watching from the sidelines and Greg can carry the pressure of driving Harry.

“It’s hard to compare horses, but we are confident with our fella. He’s stepped-up and done everything asked of him. We have no reason to question him, so why start now.”

Just Believe’s rise to prominence has been stunning with 16 starts since being transferred to Tubbs’ care, netting 10 wins, five seconds and a third.

The best pointer to his Elitloppet prospects surely comes through his win in the Great Southern Star final at Melton on Feb. 3. Both races have qualifying heats into the final on the same race card.

“For a race like the Elitloppet, the fact he is so professional is the best thing,” Tubbs said. “On Great Southern Star night, he was looking for carrots after the heat and then not at all fussed when we geared him up for the final, which he won so well.

“He’s got electric speed when he needs it, but he’s tough, too. He doesn’t like letting other horses get past him. He’s not always flashy, but he gets the job done. If he found himself in the right position, I don’t see why he wouldn’t be competitive with those great horses he will meet.”

Tubbs and Sugars won’t be the only supporters Just Believe will have on Elitloppet Day.

“There are 27 people in the Iona Trotting Syndicate which races him and I’ve heard 14 of them are already booked for the trip,” Tubbs said. “They cheer, too. They’re loud and they start with a lap to go. Everyone will know they’re at Solvalla, that’s for sure, but it’ll be great to have them there.”

Just Believe could also stay on in Scandinavia for a couple of races after the Elitloppet.

“We’re open to that,” Tubbs said. “It’s not a part of the world we are familiar with, but if we’ve gone that far, why not have a look around?”

“We know there are some options for him afterwards and we could race him in a few different places if he’s feeling good and they’ll have us.”

So, what’s the final word from Tubbs?

“You’ve got to dream in this game and a dream has already come true by just being invited,” she said. “We’ll be representing Australia as best we can and we can’t wait to get there.”

Six Again gaining valuable experience in Landess Series

By James Platz

When Six Again and Trace Tetrick pulled away from the field to win by open lengths Friday (April 7) at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino, the sophomore pacer flashed the speed trainer Joel Smith knew he possessed, stopping the clock in an opening division of the Jerry Landess Series in 1:52.1. Smith and the connections are hoping this immature and headstrong gelding can couple that speed with the experience of competing in this series and others to develop into a sire stakes-caliber horse after missing his 2-year-old campaign.

"He's just a big, green, dumb colt right now," Smith said of his charge. "He's learning. He's definitely got a little ability, but he's got a ways to go yet."

Six Again is from the first crop of Check Six and was purchased by Smith for $35,000 at the Hoosier Classic Sale in October 2021. Bred by Conquest Acres LP, the gelding is the first foal from the American Ideal mare A Plus, a winner of just over $175,000 with a sophomore mark of 1:51. She is also a half-sister to Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final winner, Egomania. Six Again's third dam is Dan Patch, O'Brien and Nova Award winner So Fresh.

"The mare he was out of was a very nice race mare," Smith said. "She had a mark of [1]:51 and made a good amount of money. The breeding was there."

Owned by the partnership of Stanley Tarvidas, Ronald Schuler, Lynwood Romano and Paula Smith, Six Again failed to make the races last year. Smith had trained the pacer down to two minutes and was preparing to qualify when the freshman was plagued with soreness. The trainer believes Six Again's size contributed to the issues.

"I'm thinking that was probably part of his problem last year," he said. "He was just kind of immature. He just got off. The vets told me that if I liked him to turn him out. So, we turned him out."

The horseman started back with Six Again in late fall with designs on racing in Ohio before the close of 2022, but struggled to get in. The gelding didn't make his first start until the new year, lining up behind the gate on Jan. 9 at Miami Valley. He raced fourth in his pari-mutuel debut, driven by Brandon Bates. Six Again collected his first win the next time out. Piloted by Brett Miller, the 3-year-old finished half a length in front, registering a time of 1:57. Making six starts at Miami Valley before moving to Hoosier Park, Six Again collected a pair of third-place finishes and earned a check each time out. He has, however, proven difficult to manage on the track.

"He's definitely got speed," Smith said. "He's just a little hard-headed. They're having trouble sitting in a hole with him. Brett drove him a couple times and said he was just very strong. He had trouble keeping him in a hole and he ran up over horses. He doesn't want to let you drive him. He wants to go himself. A lot of that will come with experience, too."

Shifting to Hoosier Park's seven-eighths configuration, Smith believes the bigger track will play to Six Again's strengths.

"He was kind of cross firing a little bit over at Miami Valley, getting on himself a little bit," he said. "I think the bigger track is definitely his forte."

Tetrick steered the sophomore in his last Miami Valley start, a fifth-place effort where the gelding kicked home in :27.4 and paced the mile in 1:53.1. He has been on board in two Hoosier Park outings, the first a runner-up performance in a non-winners of two contest. Smith said that Six Again is learning, but the progress is slow.

"I wouldn't say quickly, no," Smith said. "He's learning. He's got gate speed. We've found out he's got that real good. He's got to learn with rigging. Trying to get him to settle a little bit. So far, I haven't hit quite the right combination yet, but he seems to be getting better."

Schuler, who is relatively new to the business, joined the 3-year-old in the winner's circle last week. Six Again is the second horse he has owned. Tonight, the gelding attempts to add his third seasonal win in the second leg of the Landess Series. He will be steered by Tetrick from post four in the night's second race. Also drawing into the event is undefeated Starlit Beachboy, also unraced at 2, starting from the outside post in the field of seven.

The Landess Series concludes April 21, and Six Again can immediately move into the Hal Dale Series (May 5, 12 and 20), setting the stage for the opening round of Indiana Sires Stakes slated for May 29. These opportunities are crucial in preparing the pacer for the ultra-competitive stakes program.

"To be a sire stakes horse, he's going to have to go a whole lot more," Smith said. "We've got a ways to go. I'm glad he's doing what he's doing. And he's doing it fairly easily. Trace was pretty much just sitting there last week when he won with him. And he said the same thing, there's some more left there."

"He doesn't get tired. I've never had him come back in blowing yet. He's got good wind. I don't think the mile will ever get too long for him. He just keeps going."

Between now and the end of May, Six Again will need to continue to improve with each start if he stands a chance to be competitive in Indiana's top program. That will require the continued diligence and patience from Smith that has brought his charge this far.

"You just have to ride it out and hope for the best," he said. "You hope they learn. You've got to keep trying things. That's the biggest part of it. Right now, he just needs experience."

"To be a sire stakes horse, he's going to have to go a whole lot more. We've got a ways to go. I'm glad he's doing what he's doing. And he's doing it fairly easily. Trace was pretty much just sitting there last week when he won with him. And he said the same thing, there's some more left there."

to relax. That's the thing right now. Sit in a hole and relax. That's what he hasn't got."

In last week's opening round of the Landess Series, Six Again was sent off as the favorite and didn't require a hole in his $9,000 split. Sent to the lead from post five, the sophomore was able to relax and proceeded to wire the field, winning by 9 1/4 lengths while blazing home in :26.3.

"I like him so far," Smith said. "He's kind of impressing me a little bit. The last quarter is what I like. He came home very strong and was well in hand doing it. We're trying different things

Jim Lawson stepping down as CEO of Woodbine Entertainment this fall

Editor's note: Earlier this week we received this letter from Jim Lawson, chief executive officer of Woodbine Entertainment. Here is what he wrote in its entirety.

Dear friends and colleagues,

I have been highly fortunate to have been involved in horse racing for most of my life and while I don't anticipate that will change, I want to share with you that I will be stepping down as CEO of Woodbine Entertainment this fall.

Professionally, I have been CEO or chair of the board of directors for more than a decade and it's time to hand over the reins to someone else. On a personal level, I am at a point in my life where I want to spend a lot more time with my growing family. On Thursday, April 6, our daughter Brodie welcomed a healthy baby boy named Hugh Lawson Moore, our second grandchild. My wife Sue and I very much look forward to spending more time with each other, our kids and our grandchildren.

As someone who grew up in racing and always had a great affinity for horses and horse people, my love for this tremendous sport and respect for the hard-working women and men connected to it has never wavered and has only grown stronger. Although I am relinquishing my position as CEO, I anticipate maintaining a senior role within the organization while continuing to have a strong association with Woodbine's world-class horse racing. I will also continue to be involved as a part-owner and executive member of the CFL's Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

When I took the reins of CEO over eight years ago, it was a position that came with great responsibility to ensure that horse racing in Ontario didn't simply survive but would thrive for decades to come. I have cherished working with our board, our people and the horse community and together, we have accomplished much more than I ever thought possible.

There have been a multitude of changes and advancements, both to the racing industry and to the Woodbine property itself. We moved our standardbred racing to Woodbine Mohawk Park on a year-round basis and established it as the number one standardbred racetrack in North America and we installed both the Tapeta main track and Inner Turf course at Woodbine. We have become the leading technology racetrack operator in North America through our multi-faceted top-of-class platforms, including our simulcasts, HPIbet and DarkHorse Bets. We have also continued our industry-leading commitment to equine and horse people safety. Proudly, we have advanced our reputation and stature as the model for other racetracks to pattern themselves after.

Despite the enormous constraints and challenges associated throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, Woodbine worked diligently and thoughtfully to protect our employees and horse people while working with various levels of government to safely run live racing. We took immediate action at the outset of the pandemic, establishing committees and a thorough set of protocols to ensure the well-being of everyone associated with our racing programs. Although we were unable to have fans at Woodbine and Mohawk Park, we were still able to put on a fantastic Queen's Plate event in 2020, a testament to the hard work and team effort displayed by people throughout the industry during very difficult times.

In 2018-19, we led the negotiation and consummated a historic funding agreement with the Ontario Government, which allots up to $105 million annually to horse racing industry stakeholders over a 19-year period. The funding is utilized to sustain horse breeding and racing, including purse management, operational expenses and capital improvements.

Certainly, a proud personal highlight has been the establishment of a strong workplace culture at Woodbine Entertainment. Every day, we operate in alignment with a set of values and beliefs which collectively guide us. These core values allow us to achieve our strategic goals and initiatives, while challenging us to raise the bar of excellence for Canada's horse racing industry. Leadership and Professional Development Days help to inspire and grow our leaders with events that feature a wide range of notable business and thought leaders who share their heartening stories. To witness the evolution of a vibrant and caring workplace has been tremendously rewarding.

Through my father, Mel, I grew up at Woodbine, accompanying him to the races as a young child. I never dreamt I would end up working in this industry. As all of us experience, there are crossroads in life that result in decisions being made that ultimately take one down a new and different path. For me, this path has been an incredibly satisfying journey; I feel blessed to have come to know the hard-working and passionate people who are united by their love of horses and horse racing.

During my 15 years of holding formal positions with Woodbine, our community has been resilient in overcoming multiple challenges and we are extremely well-positioned for the future. I leave knowing our industry is healthy and headed in the right direction. The time is right for me to step down as CEO and allow the independent succession committee of the board of directors to find the person to lead Woodbine forward.

It has been an honour to work with all of you. I am grateful for your support, your dedication, and your unwavering commitment to our great sport. I have had the great privilege to meet and work alongside many talented people, enjoyed innumerable experiences and made lifelong friends.

Although this announcement marks a shift in my career journey, my passion and love for my Woodbine family and community will not change.

It's been an amazing ride. Thank you all.

Sincerely, Jim

Considering comments as part of the handicapping puzzle

by Brett Sturman

Popularized in 2022 in its partnership with The Meadowlands to provide driver and trainer commentary in advance of races, the website Inside Harness has become a go-to for many handicappers looking for firsthand insights from race participants into the weekend races. The site also offers commentary for other harness tracks as well, though it's participants from The Meadowlands that provide far and away the greatest amount of content.

From my perspective, the effectiveness of the comments comes down to how handicappers choose to incorporate them into all other more traditional handicapping factors. Like anything else with handicapping, there isn't a single be-all end-all trick to being able to pick winners. More information is better and there's absolutely a place for the commentary that Inside Harness aggregates from drivers and trainers that can complement the handicapping process. I think of it similar to how professional athletes are asked at press conferences how they may be preparing for an upcoming game and how bettors can incorporate that information.

The most useful comments are those that give the handicapper information that they wouldn't have known otherwise. For example, comments of lesser value are anything that I could tell for myself by looking at a program or watching a race replay. I know for myself if a horse is stepping up, has drawn bad, or has been racing sharp or poor lately. And frankly, in those matters, I'd trust what I can see with my own eyes more than someone else's opinion. On the other hand, comments that indicate how a horse had trained in the week leading up to the race, or if a horse was later found to be sick after a poor prior performance, those are the types of insights that can be extra beneficial.

Sometimes, the way you see a race shape up, or even how a driver or trainer sees the race shape up, may be different than how that race unfolds. In races where best laid plans and initial strategy are often changed on the fly once it begins, it should be understood that the race direction implied by comments aren't set in stone. A fascinating example of the relationship of how comments fit into the context of the race came from The Meadowlands on April 1.

In a N/W 2 race, Ants Marching was one of three Nancy Takter trainees in the race. A 1:52.2 winning 2-year-old from last year, he had closed out that season with respectable tries in the Kindergarten Final and in a Governor's Cup elimination. He qualified back nicely to be second in a qualifier won by a talented older horse, Red Right Hand. Last Saturday marked his first start back on the year; always a tricky proposition to determine how a horse will be raced in that situation.

On Inside Harness, Takter's comment was: "Nice colt unfortunate he drew bad as he will not be blasted off the gate. Have to hope for a flow to develop."

The way that the race played out was anything but. Ants Marching was driven by Takter assistant trainer Josert Fonseca, who had also driven Ants Marching throughout last year. Ants Marching was pushed from the gate, pressed onward for the lead as there was no hole available into the first turn and eventually cleared to the lead right by the quarter mile mark. He won by a comfortable-enough one and a quarter length margin as part of his wire-to-wire win.

The most useful comments are those that give the handicapper information that they wouldn't have known otherwise...I know for myself if a horse is stepping up, has drawn bad, or has been racing sharp or poor lately...On the other hand, comments that indicate how a horse had trained in the week leading up to the race, or if a horse was later found to be sick after a poor prior performance, those are the types of insights that can be extra beneficial.

In response to Twitter chatter on the race, Takter replied: "That was the plan, but he was a little fired up warming up in the rain and I told Josert not to fight him if he wanted to leave." Takter also added, though more relevant to other Meadowlands policies: "Now mind you had he been allowed to tuck into a hole he would've probably been given one as he would've been a good horse to follow."

I have no problem with any of this. Nothing is automatic, especially when it comes to race strategy that could be driven based on how a horse warms up, scores down and feels on the gate, as well as what's going on with all the other horses in the race. In this case, even though Ants Marching had drawn badly, he really was the class of the field. Despite making his first start since last fall, he was sent off as the co-8-5 favorite, so regardless of race strategy, bettors correctly surmised that this horse would figure into the race.

Perhaps the answer lies in the commentary from everyone being more driven to reporting on the horse, more-so than race strategy. As seen, race strategy is subject to change and it's not really in the best interest of the connections to divulge race strategy to start with.

To that point, there have been plenty of instances where introspective comments have led to high paying winners.

As examples, this past winter, trainer Joseph King said that his horse Amador had a good week and had been training good. He said this for back-to-back starts and Amador paid $76.60 and $101.40 in those consecutive starts. Last year Travis Alexander wrote a comment on the horse High Baller who won and paid $77.80, where he said: "Not the class I entered by here we are. Hoping for the best." This comment is helpful because often I wonder what a horse is even doing in a certain class. In this case, the horse could have very well been sharp and was placed there by the race secretary, rather than the trainer electing to place him by himself in a race perceived to be over his head.

The examples could go on. Nicole DiCostanzo left a comment last year on Magnolia Volo that said "Took some getting to know here. Unfortunate break last week, due to an off track. Made some changes." After providing comments that spoke to a growing familiarity with the horse and further changes made, Magnolia Volo went out and paid $54.70 to win. Just last month trainer Juan Cano said in regard to Sd Watch Me Now "Been a project but if he can stay flat tonight, he has a good chance." Sd Watch Me Now did stay flat and paid over $33 in doing so.

Like anything else in handicapping, sometimes the angles work and sometimes they don't. But any additional information to arm the handicapper, especially information that comes firsthand that you'd never have access to otherwise, is certainly a positive. It's just a matter as to how each handicapper elects to use that information which determines its success.

Vivid Wise As up to the task of winning the Gran Premio Costa Azzurra

by Thomas Hedlund

Alessandro Gocciadoro-trained Vivid Wise As (Yankee Glide) started from post one behind the gate when the $160,000 Gran Premio Costa Azzurra was held in Turin on Monday (April 10) afternoon and the post position didn't mean that the race's first choice went to the front. Instead, Vivid Wise As found a position fourth on the inside while stablemate Zacon Gio hit the lead after a quarter of a mile.

Gocciadoro sat in the bike behind the leader and on the duo's outside Capital Mail tried to put some pressure on Zacon Gio. Vivid Wise As' way to victory was solved in the last turn when driver Matthieu Abrivard could leave the inside position and send his horse to full attack in the turn.

Zacon Gio and Capital Mail battled in front and the latter disarmed the leader with 50 meters to go, but then Vivid Wise As showed up and finished quickly for the win in 1:54.2.

Vivid Wise As has this year claimed two big titles in Europe. In the Criterium de Vitesse on March 12, he had to attack from behind and the distinctive front runner showed that he can beat the best horses in Europe even from other positions.

MILLIONDOLLARRHYME TO PARALYMPIATRAVET

The Fredrik B. Larsson-trained Milliondollarrhyme (Ready Cash) has been a big factor in the business for many years now and when an elimination to the Paralympiatravet was held at Solvalla racetrack on Sunday (April 9) afternoon, he showed regenerated form from his younger days.

Larsson sent his horse to the lead in the 1.3 miles long race and had to defend himself when outside trotter Missle Hill tried for the front position at the first back stretch.

Milliondollarrhyme controlled the race all the way towards the wire and held on by a head when Mellby Jinx finished quickly in the stretch.

The 9-year-old Milliondollarrhyme is well-merited and can look back at three entries in the Elitloppet at Solvalla for his career. Now he's ready for the big final of the Paralympiatravet at Åby on May 6.

The mile rate for the son of Ready Cash was 1:55.2.

On Monday's (April 10) race card at Halmstad racetrack in Sweden, Per Nordström's 6-year-old Önas Prince (Chocolatier) showed that he will be ready for another try in the Elitloppet. Önas Prince made a break in the last turn in last year's final of the Elitloppet and it seems like Nordström has succeeded in putting his horse in even better shape this season. The first-over win in 1:51.4 proved that Önas Prince will be a great card to play when the Elitloppet happens. He hasn't received a ticket for the race yet, but he will most probably be invited by Solvalla very soon.

AMONG OURSELVES

with FRANK COTOLO

The enduring eloquence of Stan Bergstein, Part 1

by Frank CotoLO

In New York City, circa 1960s, nighttime horse racing belonged to “The Trotters.” I was in my teens when I heard about The Trotters. Uncles and other elders around the neighborhoods mentioned them. At first, I thought they were one of the street gangs, like “The Phantoms,” a Brooklyn group of delinquents that were also nocturnal. When I asked around about The Trotters, I received sloppy definitions. “They’re horses racing at night,” and “Those’re the ones where guys sit in carts tied to them and people bet on their races” and “Harness races, you bet on them at racetracks Yonkers or Roosevelt” and “It’s long drives to get to harness racetracks; they ain’t even in New York City.” Right. They were in Yonkers and Roosevelt.

No one ever mentioned “The Pacers” but I learned The Trotters shared nighttime horse racing with them and The Phantoms had nothing to do with either.

It was all in passing, so to speak. After all, none of my friends cared about The Trotters or The Pacers or any recreational wagering at racetracks far away. Our interests were artistic and commercial. By 1967, our Rock ‘n Roll band was popular and working before we graduated high school and then we were thinking about college: if only to earn 4-F military exemption status which was more valuable to us than any college degree.

I do not recall the first time I went to Yonkers or Roosevelt, but I remember seeing my first harness race on WOR-TV, in black and white, with hosts Stan Bergstein and Spencer Ross. It was also the first time I heard George Benson’s instrumental, “Breezin’” which was the theme of the program. To this day when I hear it, nothing, but that TV show comes to mind..

The show was produced by the New York City Off-Track Betting (OTB) Corporation, which began operating in 1971, offering betting on horse races during the day for thoroughbreds and at night for The Trotters (and The Pacers).

OTBs appearance on the urban landscape had a number of cultural affects. It naturally attracted veteran horseplayers; mostly men forced to borrow time from their full-time jobs and full-time families to get to the track. Every neighborhood had an OTB parlor or two. The vets were happy; OTB parlors were within walking distance of their homes and that saved the expenses – gas, parking, admission, food – of going to the track.

Michael Cipriani
and Spencer Ross on NYC OTB's "Racing
From Yonkers."

[On] that OTB show, [Stan] Bergstein explained the differences between The Trotters and The Pacers and that the carts they pulled were called sulkies and the men sitting on the sulkies were called drivers and not jockeys and every other basic element of the sport. In essence, the author of my harness racing affinity became the information that came from Bergstein; his authoritative presentations on the “Racing From Roosevelt” (et al Yonkers) TV show compelled me to visit my local OTB parlor and make the betting plunge.

However, legal horse-race betting in neighborhoods ended the relationship vets had with illegal bookies. Before OTB illegal bookies handled all off-track wagers. Suddenly, they did not anymore. And that was not the worst thing to happen to the illegal monopoly; the worse thing was OTB created new bettors and many prospective customers who never gambled illegally.

Getting back to that OTB show, Bergstein explained the differences between The Trotters and The Pacers and that the carts they pulled were called sulkies and the men sitting on the sulkies were called drivers and not jockeys and every other basic element of the sport. In essence, the author of my harness racing affinity became the information that came from Bergstein; his authoritative presentations on the “Racing From Roosevelt” (et al Yonkers) TV show compelled me to visit my local OTB parlor and make the betting plunge.

I was a busy fellow coming out of college. I married (and during my honeymoon I watched Bergstein’s show) and juggled my income sources. I started a mail-order joke-writing business for disc jockeys with a college/musician friend and I was a musician for an organization serving musical entertainment for wedding receptions throughout the five boroughs. And, thanks to Bergstein, I imbibed harness racing knowledge leading me to cashing bets while learning more about the sport. I read zero books about handicapping or betting and I gave up expecting any education from anyone but Bergstein.

Though there was no way to imagine my itinerant Brooklyn-based lifestyle in the 1970s could pave even a convoluted trail to Delaware, OH, it was two decades later on Little Brown Jug Day when Bergstein interviewed me on TV and I told him the mighty favorite Western Hanover would not win the historic event. I reminded Bergstein my prediction was the product of his teachings.

“What did I say?” Bergstein said.

“You said, ‘Never love a horse.’”

MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims to conclude Monday

by Yonkers Raceway

Preliminary round action in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series ends on Monday (April 17) at MGM Yonkers Raceway with three $50,000 divisions of the fifth leg.

After taking round four off, Lochinvar Art A (post one, Lauren Tritton) is back in Monday's first grouping (race three). The 8-year-old Modern Art stallion has two wins and a second in the series thus far.

The second split (race six) looks like it could be a preview of the final as new co-track record holder Backstreet Shadow (post seven, Matt Kakaley) faces leg winner Jimmy Freight (post one, Scott Zeron) and a pair of double-leg winners in Funatthebeach N (post four, Jordan Stratton) and Idealsomemagic A (post six, George Brennan).

Last, but certainly not least, race eight's third division has five horses – Hellabalou (post one, Yannick Gingras), Tattoo Artist (post two, Dexter Dunn), Covered Bridge (post four, Tyler Buter), Leonidas A (post five, Austin Siegelman) and Hemsworth N (post seven, Kakaley) – who have visited the winner's circle at some point during the 2023 edition of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series.

Once Monday's MGM Borgata Pacing Series tilts are finished, attention will shift towards the $200,000-added final estimated to boost the purse to $500,000 on April 24. That card will also include the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series final and consolation events for both races.

MGM Yonkers Raceway will also offer the MGM Borgata Pacing Series champion a win-and-you're-in opportunity to both the $200,000 Battle of Lake Erie at MGM Northfield Park on June 10 and the $200,000 MGM Aria Pace at Yonkers on MGM Yonkers International Trot Day (Sep. 23).

Also, continuing through this month, the Pick 5 pool on Thursdays at MGM Yonkers Raceway will be seeded with $10,000 and also have a guaranteed pool of $25,000. This initiative is being offered in partnership with the Standardbred Owners Association of New York as part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

Tonight's (April 14) 11-race program features three $40,000 splits of the final preliminary leg of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for pacing mares.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time at 7 p.m. (EDT).

Failing favorites, a hit with Big M faithful

The thoroughbred game has always been somewhere chalk-haters go and try to cash big tickets. In fact, old-time horse players will tell you that for many years Saratoga Racecourse was known as the “Graveyard of Favorites.”

Well, it's time to stand aside Saratoga and, for that matter, every other thoroughbred track, as The Meadowlands has the lowest percentage of winning favorites of any track currently racing in North America, regardless of breed.

“One reason The Meadowlands is so popular is that we offer a mile track with a vastly different style of racing,” said track chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. “That style makes for less predictable outcomes, producing more upsets and considerably larger payouts, such as the $55,000 return two weeks ago in our 20-cent Pick-6.

“This dynamic results in the biggest pools in the sport, creating world-wide interest in New Jersey racing every weekend.”

A key barometer is a low percentage of winning favorites. For instance, sitting atop the beaten chalk board during the winter was Turfway Park, whose public choices clicked at a mere 30 percent at the meet that concluded April 1, which led to the biggest average payouts in horse racing.

Now that Turfway is dark, you won't find a track that sees favorites fail more than they do at the oval located at the top of the N.J. Turnpike, whether you're talking “runners” or “trotters.”

The Meadowlands currently has the lowest percentage of winning favorites in North America, followed by some of the greatest tracks in the world.

The current percentage of successful public choices at Aqueduct, Gulfstream and Oaklawn is 35, followed by Santa Anita (37) and Keeneland (38).

The Big M's 34 per cent is miniscule in harness racing, as the median percentage of winning favorites in the sulky sport is 44.

Lately, things at The Meadowlands have been especially non-chalky, as the last seven race cards have seen favorites go 30-for-98 (30 per cent).

While 2023 has been an exceptional year for business at The Big M, management knows challenges lie ahead.

“As we move into spring,” Settlemoir said, “The Meadowlands and New Jersey horsemen can certainly be proud of the numbers they put up during the first quarter of 2023. Handle was up more than $26 million, and heading into this weekend, the streak of consecutive nighttime programs that have seen wagering go over $3 million stands at 27.

“But now, there are considerably more options available for the consumer that wants to wager. MLB is underway and the NHL and NBA playoffs begin this week. Every track – both thoroughbred and standardbred – will find it more difficult to offer full fields now as more tracks open for racing as the weather heats up. That's why it was incredibly encouraging that we extended our $3-million streak to 27 last Saturday (April 8), despite not offering so much as one full 10-horse field on the entire program.”

MGM Northfield Park prevails in Driver's Challenge

The Northfield/Pompano Driver's Challenge concluded on Wednesday (April 12) at MGM Northfield Park, with the home team easing away to victory after another successful night. While Team Pompano scored five victories on Wednesday, it was too much to overcome as Team Northfield prevailed 248-170.

"It was a great challenge, but we had to defend our house," said Northfield team captain Aaron Merriman.

Chris Lems was one of the hometown team's top performers, earning two victories throughout the challenge races with Over Six and Favorite Aunt. Captain Aaron Merriman had a consistent evening after not winning a race on Tuesday night, scoring his first victory of the competition with Tom Hall trainee Mickey in the fourth race of the evening.

David Miller led all eight drivers in trips to the winner's circle throughout the competition with four victories. On Wednesday, he used some of the same tactics he did on Tuesday, winning in come-from-behind fashion with longshot Bettor's Choice in 1:55.4. He would win four races later with Vague Traces.

While Team Northfield pulled off the victory, each team scored eight wins in the competition.

Below are the final two-day totals of each driver:

Team Pompano

Joseph Chindano Jr. – 37 Points

Wally Hennessey – 44 Points

David Miller – 56 Points

John MacDonald – 33 Points

Team Northfield

Ronnie Wrenn Jr. – 76 Points

Chris Lems – 49 Points

Aaron Merriman – 66 Points

Billy Davis Jr. – 57 Points

Both teams represented charities that took home prize money following the competition. Representing Team Pompano was the Standardbred Transition Alliance, who took home $1,000, while the Cleveland American Cancer Society represented by MGM Northfield Park took home $2,000.

Pompano team captain Wally Hennessey was thrilled with the competition and expressed interest in doing it again.

"We'd love to get together again with these guys in another competition," Hennessey said.

Director of racing Dave Bianconi expressed his gratitude for the competition.

"It was a fun competition and a great way to shake off the winter," Bianconi said. "We'd especially like to thank Gabe Prewitt for thinking of the idea and coming up to fill in as our interim announcer for the past few months."

Prewitt, who announced races at Pompano prior to its closing, was happy to see "Team Pomp" back together again.

"We had an absolute blast over the last couple of days and were proud to represent Pompano again for a great cause," Prewitt said. "Thanks so much to the staff and horsemen at MGM for supporting the challenge; I hope we get to do it again at some point."

Live racing resumes on Saturday (April 15) evening at 6 p.m. with a carryover in the Pick-5 of $5,964; it will feature a $30,000 estimated pool.

MGM Northfield Park currently races on Saturday, Sunday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. For more information on live racing and promotions, visit www.northfieldpark.com.

Hoolie N Hector is lone John Brennan Series repeater

Hoolie N Hector was the only horse able to improve to two-for-two in this year's John Brennan Trotting Series at MGM Yonkers Raceway after Wednesday night's (April 12) second preliminary round.

Driven by Braxten Boyd in the night's first of five $25,000 divisions, Hoolie N Hector took early command from post six, led through fractions of :28, :58 and 1:26.2 and closed in :28.4 to win by three-quarters-of-a-length for trainer Andrew Adamczyk and owner/breeder Joseph Meaney. Hoolie N Hector, a 5-year-old Muscles Yankee gelding — now a 13-time winner in his career — paid $2.30 to win as the 1-9 favorite.

Unevergonnagethis (Jordan Stratton), a 4-year-old gelding by Muscle Mass, improved from second last week to first on Wednesday by winning the next grouping in 1:55.4. He cleared C You Again DK (Scott Zeron) for the top spot beyond the :27.4 opening quarter and never looked back from there, prevailing by a half-length in 1:55.4 for owner/trainer Jeff Gillis. Unevergonnagethis, the 2-1 second choice, returned $6.10 to win and made his fifth appearance in the winner's circle.

Cantstop Yankee (Tyler Buter) rebounded after tiring on the lead and then breaking a week ago to win the third split from first-over in 1:55.3, just getting by leader Share The Wealth (Matt Kakaley) in the final strides. The victor, a 4-year-old Whataworkout gelding, is trained by Deborah Daguet for owner/breeder Kapildeo Singh and now has a career record of 7-2-2 from 26 starts. Dispatched at 16-1, he paid $35.40 to win.

Pappardelle (Joe Bongiorno), a 4-year-old gelding by Wishing Stone, hit the front beyond the :28.2 quarter in the fourth division, kept command through middle-half stations of :57.4 and 1:26.3 and drew away to a 3 1/4 length triumph in 1:54.4. Jenn Bongiorno trains Pappardelle, who returned $6.90 to win as the 2-1 second choice, for owners The Delaware Group, Joe Sbrocco, JB Racing, and JAF Racing LLC. Pappardelle posted the ninth victory of his racing career.

The 4-year-old Johnny William gelding Armstead Cole (Jason Bartlett) raced in the pocket behind P L Oscar (Buter) through a :28 quarter, :57.2 half and 1:26 three-quarters in the final Brennan Series showdown, tipped out on the final turn and got up through the stretch drive to take a two-length decision in 1:55 for co-owner/trainer Jeff Cullipher and co-owner Pollack Racing LLC. Armstead Cole paid $2.50 to win as the 1-5 choice and picked up lifetime win number nine.

The John Brennan Trotting Series is for 3-year-olds and older who were non-winners of six pari-mutuel races or $150,000 through Feb. 1, 2023, with winners over $250,000 as of that date not eligible. The series features one more preliminary leg on April 19 before a $79,000 final and a $35,000 consolation April 26.

Stakes racing resumes at MGM Yonkers Raceway tonight (April 14) with an 11-race program with three $40,000 splits of the final leg of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series for pacing mares. The MGM Borgata Pacing Series will then continue Monday, April 17 with a trio of $50,000 divisions of the last round.

Also, continuing through this month, the Pick 5 pool on Thursdays at MGM Yonkers Raceway will be seeded with $10,000 and also have a guaranteed pool of $25,000. This initiative is being offered in partnership with the Standardbred Owners Association of New York as part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time at 7 p.m. (EDT).

For the last 38 years, the Ohio Breeder's Championships, raced during the Grand Circuit meet at the Delaware County Fair, have become an important series on the Ohio racing calendar.

In 2022, nearly $1,000,000 was distributed in the OBCs thanks to the support of the Ohio Harness Horseman's Association.

The stallion subscription fee of one half of the stud fee charged for the year of conception (2021), minimum of $300. Stallions must have registered with the Ohio State Racing Commission and must have stood in Ohio the entire breeding season of the year the colt or filly was conceived.

For additional information, please refer to the nomination form on LittleBrownJug.com.

Conditions for nominating yearlings will be published in the USTA Stakes & Futurities Nomination Book on ustrotting.com.
