Free-for-all pacing series finals take center stage at Yonkers

Handicapping the Borgata Pacing Series and Blue Chip Matchmaker finals.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

Monday's (April 22) series finals at Yonkers have two different looks. Whereas the Borgata Pacing Series final shapes up to be dominated by two horses, a reasonable case can be made for most mares in the Blue Chip Matchmaker final. These two races, along with consolations for both, make up four of the five races in a $10,000 guaranteed Pick-5 beginning in race 5. Here is a proposed Pick-5 ticket, along with how I see the races shaping up.

Race 5, $0.50 Pick-5: 3-5-6 / 3-5-7 / 1-2 / 2 / 2-4 $36

RACE 5, $75,000 BLUE CHIP MATCHMAKER CONSOLATION

Kicking off the Pick-5, Racine Bell will be the one likely trying to control the race. She got things figured out in leg 3 of the series when she held off Lit De Rose who will be the favorite in the series final two races from now, and then last out there was nothing wrong with her try from post 7; now moves further inside with the class and speed edge.

Man Don't Forget Me has been a longshot throughout the series but closed well last week when moving widest of all in a race won by a good one; goes third start with Dunn aboard and is a live play. Crème Delight took a solid first-over run three back; nearly fought past the leader into the stretch and finished gamely. AVF Claire desperately needed racing room in the stretch from that same referenced Crème Delight race; eventually knifed through late to get third in a blanket photo for second; lands the rail now.

Easy To Please flushed the cover on Lit De Rose two races back in leg 4 and eventually just missed by less than a length that race. Sale El Sol hasn't been a factor yet in the series and now goes third start for Camilleri. Jive Dancing, stablemate of Sale El Sol, was a good winner against Doug's Babe who was 1-5 in leg 2, but hasn't been as strong since and now moves to post 8. Treacherous Penny seems like a longshot from post 7 but you could do worse than Toscano and Gingras.

RACE 6, $100,000 BORGATA PACING SERIES CONSOLATION

A chance to shine for many of these that are now in a more reasonable spot. Backstreet Shadow was a solid winner two back for trainer Alexander when he took charge with a first-over rush and held off all comers. Had the tables turned on him last week to a contender in the series final and is moving in the right direction after having missed the series' first leg. Alexander also sends out Pleaseletmeknow who was a winner two back but that couldn't quite do enough to catch cover last week in the series final preliminary leg.

Venturesome Arden N would be a top pick if not for the post. He was four-deep into the stretch moving widest of all when just missed by a neck to Backstreet Shadow two back, and then last out he moved strongly first-over past the leader to win by open lengths over the rest of the field; hasn't shown early speed to date.

Coming into this [Borgata] series it looked like the two horses to keep eyes on were Linedrive Hanover and Desperate Man. That's the way it started and that's what it's going to come down to.

Sumomentsomwhere A hasn't had an easy go of it this series, having been against the series top two in all of his preliminary legs. He wasn't bad two back when dead-heating for second and at least tried to give it a go last out uncovered against Desperate Man; that should count for something. Former series winners Funatthebeach N and This Is The Plan will start in posts 1 and 2, respectively. Hemsworth didn't show much interest last week when he stayed in from fourth. Leonidas who has been a factor in this series in years past is now 0 for 10 on the year and finds himself in post 8.

In contrast to the Borgata final which in my estimation is a clear two-horse race, the mares FFA final could go to anyone.

That's not to say there won't be a clear favorite as Lit De Rose is going to have that distinction, but the race could still go any number of different ways. A winner in three of her five Matchmaker legs, Lit De Rose won easily last out when put on the front and Monday's final will be her third straight race drawing the rail. She did come up short two back when she raced outside for two turns and the question is will Lachance remain aggressive once again and have her control her own destiny on the front.

Coachellabound N is another that comes off a win last week and two back missed against Mikala off a perfect 2-hole trip. Three back her 2-hole trip turned into a nightmare as she lacked room when loaded with pace and she's raced well in all her starts with Gingras as driver since leg 3. Mikala is somewhat of a wildcard. The 1:47.4 winner from last year was a little short in her first series try but rebounded since then but the outside post will make it difficult; her two series wins have come from posts 1 and 2.

I'm less sold on Tony's Mom and Doug's Babe, both who figured to be single-digit odds. Tony's Mom was just even last week and two back took pressure from mares who will be in the consolation and faded to fourth. Doug's Babe is always in the neighborhood, though her only series win thus far came when she swept in a race where the leader tired. She was one of the favorites in this series final last year. Karma Seelster looked prominent three back against a tiring leader before having to settle for third and did well to finish second to Coachellabound N last out. Incaseyou didntknow gets a driver change to Tetrick. Delitfulcatherin N put a scare into Lit De Rose as a longshot in the series opening leg.

Monday's (April 22) series finals at Yonkers have two different looks. Whereas the Borgata Pacing Series final shapes up to be dominated by two horses, a reasonable case can be made for most mares in the Blue Chip Matchmaker final.

RACE 8, $457,000 BORGATA PACING SERIES FINAL

Coming into this series it looked like the two horses to keep eyes on were Linedrive Hanover and Desperate Man. That's the way it started and that's what it's going to come down to.

Linedrive Hanover, who has previously established himself as Canada's fastest ever half-mile horse and was one of the top FFA horses in all of the sport from last season, has done nothing whatsoever to diminish his stature throughout this series. His lone loss, which one could argue came in a less than all-out effort against rival Desperate Man in leg 2. Linedrive Hanover heads into Monday's final off an easy win in leg 5 after he took the prior week off; he opened up a couple of lengths at will against Hellabalou in that race in what should be an ideal prep for the showdown against Desperate Man.

Desperate Man is another one that brings a Canadian background with him, having been that country's Horse of the Year in 2021. He had a long win streak snapped in December of last year but has come right back by not losing a single time in 2024. He took a break, sitting out of leg 5 last week and his past performance record of late speaks for itself. The prior time he and Linedrive Hanover raced, Desperate Man was the slight second choice at even money to Linedrive Hanover's odds of 4-5. I suspect with Linedrive Hanover having the post edge the odds on these two horses may be nearly identical to their first race against each other.

Elsewhere in the field, What's Stanley Got A came into the series as a longer chanced horse and has overachieved throughout all legs. A winner three back and a solid runner-up two back, he did well to easily hold for second last week in a time of 1:51.3. Coaches Corner flew from a seemingly impossible spot last week to get a well-deserved win after four consecutive second-place finishes in prior legs. Last year's winner Hellabalou was screaming for racing room in the stretch two back and then last week did his best to keep up with Linedrive Hanover to finish second well clear of the rest. Rocknroll Runa got off to a promising start in the series as did the 4-year-old Dunkin' but both will be longshots now from the outside posts. Covered Bridge went into the final last year as one of the favorites; hasn't been quite as strong this time around but has the rail to help.

Saturdays encompassed 149 of the starts with the remaining eight spread over two Friday night cards.

His 34 wins – all on Saturdays – put him in the place position, just 17 wins behind leader David Miller, and Andy has made 130 fewer starts than Miller this year.

Andy's win percentage of 21.7 leads the way amongst the 12 drivers with 100 or more starts with the next closest being Miller at 17.8. That win percentage for Andy goes up to 23 if you only include his Saturday starts.

Mr. Saturday night special

Andy McCarthy is second in the Big M standings mostly without driving on Fridays.

by Debbie Little

Driver Andy McCarthy, known as “The Thunder From Down Under,” has been taking The Meadowlands by storm on Saturday nights in 2024.

“You know, I try not to race too much over the winter break,” McCarthy said. “But the book of drives that I’ve had on Saturday nights have definitely been worthwhile turning up for.”

McCarthy chose to limit his starts during the winter to spend the majority of his Friday nights with his wife Katrina and boys Finn, 10, and Oliver, 8.

“I was there whether they liked it or not,” Andy said with a laugh. “We had a great winter. My boys, they’re just terrific boys and my wife’s unbelievable. So, every moment with them is a blessing. We’d sit home and play board games or have a movie night where the kids could stay up a little bit later because the weekend’s coming up and just getting to spend some quality time with them.

“It’s a pretty long summer and I’m absent a lot throughout the summer [during stakes season]. So, it is nice to try to relish every moment I get throughout the winter. I know everyone told me don’t blink, they’ll be asking for the car keys before you know it, and they were right, the time flies.”

Andy has started at The Meadowlands in 157 races so far this year. Fourteen Calabrese (four-for-seven) and Tony Beltrami (eight-for-30) have better win percentages than Andy, at 57.1 and 26.7, respectively.

“I don’t really pay that much attention to [win percentage], to be honest with you,” Andy said. “I just kind of go to work and try to do my job. I think most of it just comes down to the horses I’m driving. I was just fortunate enough that I’ve got some good people behind me and their horses were in the right classes and it just kind of worked out that way this year.”

Now that spring has arrived and stakes season is getting started, Andy’s Fridays at home have started to lessen, as he recently competed in the five preliminary legs of the Blue Chip Matchmaker at Yonkers Raceway.

With baby races on the horizon and more top stakes horses getting ready to qualify, Andy said there are quite a few that he’s looking forward to sitting behind this year.

“Noel [Daley’s] got a couple of trotters there that are really nice, Buy A Round and Sig Sauer,” Andy said. “They both feel like they’re coming back pretty strong. Tony [Alagna’s] got a 3-year-old pacing colt that I trained [Saturday] morning, Better Is Nice. He feels terrific.

“I’m really looking forward to this year. I think I’ve got some really, really cool horses to drive and I’m very fortunate to be able to be trusted to sit behind these animals. They’re really amazing.”

Better Is Nice, a son of Bettor’s Wish—Thatsoveryverynice, was seven-for-11 as a 2-year-old, winning both the Kentucky Sire Stakes and New Jersey Sire Stakes finals, banking $510,120.

“It’s a pretty long summer and I’m absent a lot throughout the summer [during stakes season]. So, it is nice to try to relish every moment I get throughout the winter. I know everyone told me don’t blink, they’ll be asking for the car keys before you know it, and they were right, the time flies.”

At 2, trotting filly Buy A Round (Walner—On Your Tab) never finished off the board in nine starts, winning six of them. She made $355,600 winning the NJSS final and finishing third in the Breeders Crown. Trotting colt Sig Sauer (Muscle Hill—Sigilwig) banked $279,500 at 2, going four-for-five and winning both the NJSS and NJ Classic finals.

These two trotters could have Andy hoping for Hambletonian glory again since he won America's Classic Trotting Race in 2020 with Ramona Hill, a daughter of Muscle Hill—Lock Down Lindy.

"You can't top winning that race," Andy said. "That's one of my favorite memories of being in this game full stop. It's just an unbelievable race and for a girl to do it against the boys and the way she did it; her elimination was freakishly outstanding. And her win in the final; she matched her dad's stakes record there. She went 1:50.1. It was just a very, very proud moment, not just for me, but for the mare. She was just on a different level."

According to Andy, when he came to the U.S. from Australia in 2007 to learn to be a better blacksmith, he could not have imagined being where he is today.

"Not at that stage," he said. "Obviously, you know, when I first came over The Meadowlands was, I guess you could call it, in its golden era with John Campbell and Ronnie Pierce and Cat Manzi and Mike Lachance.

"It was getting along pretty good there and it was a tough place to get into. I just kind of bided my time and it just kind of worked out, you know."

Now, 17 years later it's Andy in that spotlight.

"For me, the hardest part about this game is telling people with really good horses that you don't want to drive them because you've got another one that you think might be better," he said. "Definitely the hardest part about the business is saying no to people. And they're very good horses and it's understandable that [people] get upset. But it's all just part of the business, really.

"I'm kind of a big-picture guy. I always try to do what I think is best for me in the big picture. It might not be the right call on the night, but by the end of the year, it usually pays off and sometimes it doesn't. But, hey, that's just how it goes. That's how the cookie crumbles."

RACING INTO THE FUTURE

with BOB DUFF

Horse racing people always find a way

Harness racing has faced many challenges in the past. The latest comes in the form of a proliferation of online gambling.

by Bob Duff

Editor's note: This is the first of a regular column focusing on the intersection of harness racing and the greater gambling world.

Over the years, horse racing has been written off more often than a lobbyist's lunch. The lottery was going to do in the sport during the 1970s. Two decades later, casino gambling began to thrive and the death knell was again sounding for the equine set.

The latest boogeyman coming to get horse racing is online sports betting and online casinos. Now that you'd be able to legally bet on any sport, from anywhere, at any time, surely horse racing was doomed.

However, much like Madonna's career, there's just no stopping the people who race horses. They always find a way. And to their credit, it must be noted that some of the more innovative in the industry continue to locate methods of working with these supposed threats that are actually proving beneficial to the sport.

When casinos began to thrive, tracks countered by partnering with the casino operators to offer slot parlors on site at the track. In doing so, they were bringing an entirely new audience to the racetrack and exposing them to the sport of kings.

HORSE RACING INDUSTRY SETS PACE

In fact, it could even be argued that the racing industry was paving the way for the path now being followed by online sports betting. In the early '90s, when it was becoming apparent that live racing wasn't offering the level of action and excitement that was proving to be enticing to the younger set, the powers that be wound up solving the problem with simulcasting. Suddenly, you could go to the track and place wagers on racing from around the globe, throughout the day and watch those races live via satellite on televisions at the track.

The latest boogeyman coming to get horse racing is online sports betting and online casinos. Now that you'd be able to legally bet on any sport, from anywhere, at any time, surely horse racing was doomed.

However, much like Madonna's career, there's just no stopping the people who race horses. They always find a way. And to their credit, it must be noted that some of the more innovative in the industry continue to locate methods of working with these supposed threats that are actually proving beneficial to the sport.

It's said that in any industry, you need to adapt in order to survive and horse racing is a sport that is continually reinventing itself. Long before the Internet was in vogue, OTB parlors made it possible to wager on a race without even going to the track. Telephone betting was another method developed to make it even easier to place a wager on any race. This form of wagering progressed to the point where you could open an account and access the races upon which you had action on your TV right in your own home.

Today, it's possible to wager online on horse racing in 40 of the 50 states. The best of these online horse racing betting sites also offers the opportunity to live stream the races as you are betting on them.

Instead of horse racing's power brokers seeing online sports betting as a problem and a threat to their existence, they're finding solutions that work for both industries and will serve to grow horse racing by offering access to the sport to a new audience.

WOODBINE TEAMS UP WITH BET365

While in the majority of cases, wagering on horse racing in North America remains a separate entity from the online sports betting sites, that hasn't stopped several North American racetracks from partnering with online sportsbooks.

For instance, when legal and regulated sports betting launched in Kentucky, nine of the online sportsbooks were opting to partner with racetracks. Caesars teamed up with The Red Mile, while six licenses were agreed to in conjunction with Churchill Downs, including FanDuel.

In New Jersey, FanDuel is partnered with The Meadowlands, while Caesars teams with Monmouth Park.

Ontario horse racing powerhouse Woodbine Entertainment Group opted to take a sports betting partnership to the next level. Late in 2023, they teamed up with global sports betting leader Bet365 to make wagering on horse racing available to Ontario sports bettors through Bet365's Ontario site.

Working with the provincial and federal governments, as well as the Canadian pari-mutuel agency, Woodbine and Bet365 developed the technology to make this partnership – a first for the province's online sports betting industry – a reality.

The solution they arrived at is exclusively available to Bet365's customers and gives players with accounts on Bet365's platform seamless access to pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing.

"As the sports betting sector in Ontario continues to mature, Woodbine Entertainment is poised to be a leader, and partnering with Bet365 will help us do just that," former Woodbine Entertainment CEO Jim Lawson said at the time Bet365 began its partnership with WEG.

At the Bet365 Sportsbook Ontario site, wagering is now available on racetracks from around North America, all of this access being operated by Woodbine Entertainment Group. In turn, Bet365 and Woodbine entered into a four-year marketing partnership. This agreement makes Bet365 the official online sports betting partner of Woodbine Entertainment. They are receiving exclusive branding opportunities in the sports betting category on-site at Woodbine Racetrack, in network television and simulcast broadcasts, across digital properties and virtual signage.

Instead of horse racing's power brokers seeing online sports betting as a problem and a threat to their existence, they're finding solutions that work for both industries and will serve to grow horse racing by offering access to the sport to a new audience.

America roots on Dunkin

Nick Clegg talks about how he came to own the fan-favorite gelding.

by Chris Lomon

Nick Clegg remembers the moment as if it were yesterday.

Two years ago, on April 10, to be exact, the longtime horseman put a bay gelding's nose inches from the starter car gate for a qualifying race at Northfield Downs in Ohio.

He wasn't expecting much from the pacer known as Dunkin.

"On my birthday, April 10, two years ago, I trained him in 2:39," Clegg said. "He absolutely would not go. I kept telling my wife [trainer Betty Clegg] that he wasn't much and that we didn't have anything to work with."

Nick felt the same way two months later, once again at Northfield.

"When June came along and everyone else was qualifying their babies, I didn't have any desire to qualify this guy," he said. "Betty did not come to the paddock with me; I took him to the stable at Northfield.

"He had the inside post and he kind of fell to the front. Going into the second turn, he made a speed break – he was just being childish – and I got him out of harm's way."

And then something most unexpected happened.

The immature rookie took off like a shot, much to the surprise of the man holding the reins.

"I got him going again, and he went an eighth of a mile in 12 seconds," Nick said.

Nick could hardly contain his excitement or believe what he said to his wife after the qualifier.

"I came back and told Betty, 'This is the best horse we have ever had,'" he said. "She looked at me and said, 'What?!' Eight minutes ago, I had told her I didn't want to qualify him and now I am telling her that."

Little did they know what was soon to be in store for themselves and the horse they had purchased for the modest sum of $7,000.

The genesis of their success story was borne on Nov. 10, 2021, at the Harrisburg Yearling Sale.

Nick, in search of yearlings to add to the couple's racing band, had purchased five yearlings the year prior.

“ I am a big, strong guy, and everyone jokes that I don’t feel pain or have that much emotion. When [Dunkin] won the first leg of the Borgata – I had told a couple of the drivers that he was a walkover, but you need to drive him to understand his greatness – I started crying. ”

~ Nick Clegg

He was hopeful, yet realistic about his chances of finding a diamond-in-the-rough type at the annual Harrisburg sale.

“I wanted one more from Harrisburg,” Nick said. “I told my buddy Jordan McKay that I wanted to get one from there at a good price. I think there were five Ohio-bred horses in the sale, but you don’t get them cheap at Harrisburg.

“I told Jordan that if any of them go cheap, especially this guy, Dunkin, buy him for me. I thought Dunkin would go for $30,000. I told Jordan that I could go as high as $7,500, but I would much rather go for $4,000. He laughed because they don’t go that low at that sale.”

Dunkin did. For $7,000.

“I walked into the kitchen and told Betty, ‘We bought another baby for seven grand,’” Nick said. “She put her hands on her face and started crying. We don’t have that money to buy another baby, but something felt right.”

That intuition would prove to be a bull’s-eye.

At 2, Dunkin mostly competed on the fair and Buckeye Stallion Series circuit, picking up six wins in 19 starts with $47,736 in earnings.

“He won a lot of races at the fairs as a 2-year-old,” Nick said. “He’s so big and he wore tiny hobbles. He had a terrible gait, and he was just not good. He won some races, but he wasn’t overly special.”

That opinion would soon change.

Dunkin’s first win of 2023 came at Northfield Park in the conditioned ranks on March 21, 2023. He then won his next three engagements and was on the board twice before a jump-up in class.

After some hard-luck results against salty competition, the Cleggs opted to bring Dunkin to the Paulding (OH) fair for a confidence boost.

The result was a 3 ¾-length romp in 1:59.2.

It would only get better from there.

In the later stages of his 3-year-old campaign, Dunkin reeled off 11 straight races, including a leg of the Buckeye Stallion Series and Ohio State Fair at Scioto Downs.

Dunkin was sent off at 74-1 in the $40,000 final on Oct. 15, 2022.

Nick drove him as if he was 1-9.

“In the final, Betty asked if she should just head back to the barn because he supposedly had no chance,” he said. “Have you ever had a vision where you already know what is going to happen? That’s what I had. I didn’t care what drivers or what horses were there that day; I knew he was going to win. No question about it. I told Betty she should stay here for this one.”

Nick and Dunkin crossed the wire a head in front of 1-5 favorite Hesa Bully.

“After the race, when he won, to see how happy Betty was... you can’t buy that,” he said. “A million dollars can’t purchase that.”

Following the 11-race win streak, Dunkin won five of his next seven starts and was fourth in both the Ohio Sires Stakes final at Scioto Downs and the Ohio Breeders Championship at Delaware (OH).

He earned $202,208 in his 3-year-old season, putting up 21 victories in 40 starts. Those 21 triumphs earned him the title of winningest horse in North America for the year.

The little horse that once couldn’t, now could.

“He totally gets it,” Nick said. “He totally understands the sport. In his mind, he knows that he has to go around the track fast, he needs to beat other horses, and then he wants to come home and eat and be loved; there is nothing else to him. There is also the fact that he never gets tired. Never.”

Dunkin also knows when he’s bested the competition.

“He knows when he’s won,” Nick said. “He’s done it so much, so he knows what that means. When he loses, he’s pissed.”

On Jan. 3, Dunkin began his trek back to the races in a qualifier, scoring an impressive victory after getting the perfect trip.

It was a welcome change of pace for Nick.

“I never disliked him, but there wasn’t anything early on that said he was going to be even mediocre,” he said.

In this instance, Betty knows best.

“Betty loved this guy long before he became the horse that he is,” Nick said.

A horse that has become a darling of racing fans throughout the U.S. Midwest and beyond.

That popularity prompted a t-shirt collaboration between the Cleggs and Kindness Creates Studio and Boutique.

“[Dunkin] totally gets it. He totally understands the sport. In his mind, he knows that he has to go around the track fast, he needs to beat other horses, and then he wants to come home and eat and be loved; there is nothing else to him. There is also the fact that he never gets tired. Never.”

“People do love him,” Nick said. “I think people relate to the underdog story.”

A story that is not yet complete.

Dunkin has raced 11 times in 2024, winning four and finishing third on four occasions.

On March 18, he won a $67,568 leg of the Borgata Series.

For Nick, it felt like winning the Little Brown Jug.

“I am a big, strong guy, and everyone jokes that I don’t feel pain or have that much emotion,” Nick said. “When he won the first leg of the Borgata – I had told a couple of the drivers that he was a walkover, but you need to drive him to understand his greatness – I started crying.”

He did the same the next morning at the barn.

“There is no better horse, ever,” he said. “I have been around this business my whole life and I have never seen a cooler horse. He never stops eating. He has two bales of hay and water in front of him at all times because he likes to play with it all day long.

“If you walk in the barn and he’s never seen you before, he would freak out until you walked over and hugged him. If you didn’t, he would lose his mind. He is the most loving horse ever.”

For the hard-working husband and wife team, Dunkin’s journey is nothing short of stunning.

His worth to them is far more than the dollar signs or win photos.

“Back when we didn’t have a lot of money, I was shoeing horses,” Nick said. “Most blacksmiths shoe three or four a day. I had young children I needed to provide for, so when I got the opportunity to shoe for all the big barns, I would shoe 20-25 horses a day, every day.

“Betty and I do everything ourselves. What we do in a day would be hard for anyone to fathom. So, to be part of his story, to see how much he is loved by so many, and to know the heart that he has on and off the racetrack, makes it more meaningful to us.”

Nick often looks back to the day of the 2021 Harrisburg sale.

Yet it did for the Cleggs.

As of April 13th, Dunkin has 31 career wins and over $350,000 in lifetime earnings.

For the record, Betty has never uttered the words, ‘I told you so’ to her husband.

“That’s not who she is at all,” Nick said. “I say this all the time, but anyone who works as hard as Betty does deserves one Dunkin in their lifetime.

“He has been a great surprise. You could tie him to an oak tree, feed him three times a day, pet him, and he would still be a champion. For us, he always will be.”

Thayer excited to see racing fund finalized

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

The Kentucky budget bill containing funding to assist any of the state's harness racing tracks make a bid to host the Breeders Crown in the future became law last week.

State Sen. Damon Thayer, a Republican who serves as the Senate Majority Floor Leader, introduced the revenue bill amendment, which creates a reserve account of up to $900,000 for a Kentucky track that hosts an international harness racing event that distributes at least $5 million in purses and awards.

The account will receive $300,000 annually until it reaches the $900,000 threshold.

"It's something I've been thinking about for the last two or three years," Thayer said. "I was just looking for the right opportunity and timing to get it done. Nobody asked me to do it, I just believe that Kentucky should be in the Breeders Crown rotation."

"I had a couple of really good conversations with [Hambletonian Society president and CEO] John Campbell about what it would take to put us in the rotation, so I was able to work with the bill drafter to come up with what I think is a pretty good solution. It essentially sets up a perpetual funding source that renews every time the Breeders Crown comes to Kentucky, so the Hambletonian Society will know that the $900,000 licensing fee is always here in Kentucky."

Lexington's Red Mile has hosted Breeders Crown races on two occasions, including the championship's inaugural event, the 2-year-old colt-and-gelding trot won by Workaholic, on Oct. 5, 1984. Three years later, the track was the location for the Breeders Crown Mare Pace, which was won by Follow My Star.

Since 2010, all 12 Breeders Crown races have been held at a single track.

"We're just excited about the possibility to get back on that scene," said Gabe Prewitt, The Red Mile's vice president of racing.

"With everything going as well as they have in the state, with historical racing and the breeding industry and the number of mares skyrocketing, it's just exciting to direct a small portion of that to host the sport's premier event. I don't see how anyone in the state couldn't be anything but overly excited about the opportunity."

Kentucky has three pari-mutuel harness racing tracks, with The Red Mile joined by Oak Grove Racing, Gaming & Hotel and Cumberland Run.

"My colleagues received the idea well, there wasn't any opposition, and I've gotten great feedback from people in both the standardbred and thoroughbred business," Thayer said. "The thoroughbred people here understand the standardbred business; some of them are in both sides of the business. If and when we attract the Breeders Crown here, it's going to be extremely well received."

"I'm very excited. I look forward to the day that Kentucky is in the rotation to host the Breeders Crown on a regular basis."

Thayer, whose prior experience in horse racing included working for the Breeders' Cup, played an instrumental role in advancing the 2021 legislation that brought historical horse racing to Kentucky. The pari-mutuel gaming machines have generated billions of dollars in wagering and fueled the growth of the industry and purses in the state.

This was Thayer's final legislative session. The senator, who represents Kentucky's 17th Senate District, which includes southern Kenton County, and all of Grant and Scott counties, announced this past December that he would not seek re-election in 2024.

"Damon has been the staunchest ally for the entire sport of horse racing, particularly harness racing," Prewitt said. "His leadership has been instrumental in driving this industry to an entirely different level. We're going to miss him in that role. The [Breeders Crown funding] is sort of the cherry on top, in my opinion."

Thayer will complete his tenure in the legislature on Dec. 31.

"It's been a great ride," Thayer said. "I never dreamt when I moved here 32 years ago and I knew five people that I would someday serve in the Senate for 22 years and be the longest-serving Republican floor leader. It's been an absolute privilege. Horse racing, next to my two children, is the greatest love of my life. Now let's see if we can get something worked out to make [the Breeders Crown] happen in a few years."

New Jersey

JL Cruze just keeps rollin' along

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

JL Cruze might be 13 years old, but he still acts like a youngster on a daily basis.

"He goes in the field every day, and he loves that," said trainer Eric Ell, who saw JL Cruze enter his stable in November 2014. "And you can't hardly get him there without him wanting to go 100 mph when you turn him loose. He just busts across there like a 2-year-old. He's been doing that ever since I've had him. That's never changed.

"He's something. He's been incredible."

JL Cruze, the 2015 Dan Patch Award winner for best older male trotter, is still winning races nine years after receiving that honor. The son of Crazyed—Topcat Hall has two victories this season, upping his career total to 65 in 223 starts. He has banked $31,650 this year, pushing his lifetime earnings to $1.92 million, and could become only the second trotter in history to make at least $100,000 in a season on nine occasions.

Melady's Monet leads the list of trotters with six-figure seasons, followed by a quartet to have done it eight times: JL Cruze, Arch Madness, Goodtimes, and Grain Of Truth.

"He just likes doing what he does; he likes going to the track and competing," Ell said about JL Cruze. "I don't know of any horses that he was butting heads with early in his career that are out there still going. I think he's the last of the Mohicans. It's amazing when you think about it.

"Father Time will catch up to him at some point, but I'll just love watching him for as long as he can go."

JL Cruze is owned by Ken Wood, Bill Dittmar, Jr., and Stephen Iaquina. The trio bought the gelding for $37,000 at the 2014 Standardbred Horse Sale Mixed Sale. The following year, they watched as he won 16 of 21 races, earned $627,456, and set numerous world records on his way to divisional honors. His victories included the Hambletonian Maturity and a 1:49.4 score in the Graduate Series final.

Last year, JL Cruze won 11 races — the second most of his career — in 33 starts. Only a dozen trotters older than 3 visited the winner's circle more times in 2023.

"He's had the same routine since I got him at 3," Ell said. "I jog the same distance every day, I don't train him a lot. I guess he likes it because he keeps plugging away."

Tonight (April 19), JL Cruze will meet eight rivals in a $12,500 conditioned trot at The Meadowlands. He will start from post 9 with driver Todd McCarthy and is the 5-1 third choice on the morning line. Four-year-old mare Instagram Model is the 5-2 favorite, leaving from post 6 with David Miller in the sulky for trainer Annie Stoebe. Duly Resolved is 7-2, leaving from post 5 with Tim Tetrick driving for Jeff Cullipher.

"He still has good gate speed if you want to use it, and he's good from behind," Ell said. "He can do it either way."

JL Cruze heads to tonight's race off a second-place finish last week at the Big M. It was his second consecutive start at The Meadowlands (he was sixth on April 5) after spending most of the past year-and-a-half competing on the five-eighths-mile ovals at Harrah's Philadelphia and Bally's Dover.

"I had to get him off that five-eighths; it was starting to get to him a little bit," Ell said. "We wanted to take him back to the big track that he loves. He raced a lot better [last week]. The first week up there, he thumped on me, which he'll do at times. We got that straightened out, I hope, and he'll be there tomorrow night trying again. He'll be knocking at the door, that's for sure."

Ell will look to keep JL Cruze racing at The Meadowlands, even though it's a trip that takes more than four hours from his Maryland base. The horse will be accompanied by his main caretaker, William Taylor, on the journeys.

"He's a big part of what [JL Cruze] does," Ell said about Taylor. "As long as [JL Cruze] is doing OK and competing at The Meadowlands, that's where he'll be."

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster programs for the Big M, click here.

Stars to shine in Big M qualifiers

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

North America Cup and Little Brown Jug winner It's My Show, Milstein Memorial winner and Jug runner-up Seven Colors, and O'Brien Award recipient Pass Line were among 84 horses entered in Saturday (April 20) morning's qualifiers at The Meadowlands.

Those three horses will be making their Q debuts, as will Governor's Cup winner Captain Luke, Kentucky and New Jersey Sire Stakes champion Better Is Nice, Bluegrass Stakes-winning male trotters Mars Hill and Smart Schooner, Pennsylvania Sire Stakes 3-year-old filly pacing champion Odds On Hail Mary, and Ontario Sire Stakes 3-year-old male pacing champion Moment Is Here.

It's My Show, trained by Linda Toscano, finished no worse than second in 13 of 16 races last year at age 3 and earned $1.07 million. The gelding's earnings were second to only Horse of the Year Confederate among all pacers in 2023.

Seven Colors, trained by Andrew Harris, was third in purses among last season's 3-year-old male pacers. He also counted the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship among his victories last year and was second to Confederate in the Cane Pace.

Pass Line hit the board in all 13 of her starts last year at age 2, winning 10. She captured the Ontario Sire Stakes Super final and was second in the Breeders Crown for trainer Ron Burke.

Captain Luke and Better Is Nice both come from the barn of trainer Tony Alagna. Better Is Nice earned $510,120 last season to lead all 2-year-old male pacers while Captain Luke earned $332,109 to rank seventh.

Others qualifying on Saturday include Nifty Norman-trained Sambuca Hanover, who won last season's Kindergarten Classic Series final for 2-year-old filly trotters, and 5-year-old male trotter Periculum, a winner on the Grand Circuit at ages 2 and 3 who spent last season competing in Sweden. He is trained by Marcus Melander.

Qualifiers begin at 10 a.m. Saturday at The Meadowlands. Visit the Big M website here for program pages for the qualifiers.

Write Me A Rose takes Graduate opener; Gias Surreal reaches $1 million

Write Me A Rose lived up to the heavy-favorite billing to win Saturday's (April 13) first leg of the Canadian Graduate Series at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Headlining a field of six for the $25,000 opening leg, Write Me A Rose brushed to the lead in the second-quarter from third and never looked back, kicking home in :26.1 to win in 1:52 for driver Doug McNair and trainer Kyle Fellows.

Write Me A Rose finished a length and a quarter better than No Control, while Speaker Of Peace was third and Nighttime Dancer fourth.

A homebred for Windermere Stable LLC, Write Me A Rose is now two-for-three this season and has career numbers of eight wins and over $400,000 in earnings.

Write Me A Rose paid $2.30 to win.

The Graduate Series continues next weekend with leg 2 for the Pace, Mare Pace and Trot divisions. Each event features three preliminary legs ahead of the finals on May 4.

Saturday night's card also saw 8-year-old pacing mare Gias Surreal pick up her 36th career victory to push over $1 million in lifetime earnings.

Trained by Don Lindsey, Gias Surreal entered Saturday's card just less than $7,000 away from $1 million. The 8-year-old showed her back class, coming first up and then digging in down the lane to prevail in a tight photo for driver Bob McClure. The victory in the $24,000 event was the first of the season for the successful mare.

Gias Surreal, who has raced in the sport's biggest races for pacing mares, is owned by James Graham, Edward Peron and Lee Winters.

Those competing are advised that all horses in the MGM Borgata final and its consolation and the Blue Chip Matchmaker final have to report for retention by noon (EDT) on Monday (April 22, 2024). There will be no exceptions. Any horse which shows up late will be scratched. All horses that make the final of either race must race in that race.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is also pleased to announce the Empire Terrace Dining Room will be open for a la carte dining on April 22. Dining service is available from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. (EDT), and the bar is open from 6:30 to 11:30 p.m. (EDT). Call 914-457-2627 for reservations or details.

On Wednesday night (April 17) with the National Hockey League regular season wrapping up and the playoffs on the horizon, it's only fitting that driver Yannick Gingras netted a hat trick in round 2 of the John Brennan Trotting Series at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Gingras and Sea Can started off the five $25,000 divisions by winning the opener in 1:55.4. The lone non-repeater in the series, Sea Can is a 5-year-old Muscle Mass gelding trained by Ron Burke for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC. and Weaver Brussemi LLC., and he paid $2.70 to win as the 1-5 choice.

Burke and Gingras struck again later on the program when Warrawee Yang took command before the quarter and never looked back on his way to a 1:56.3 victory. Also owned by Burke Racing Stable LLC. and Weaver Brussemi LLC., Warrawee Yang, who is now on a six-race win streak, is a 4-year-old son of Trixton and returned $2.20 to win as the 1-9 choice.

Tachyon gave Gingras his third Brennan Series score when he took the fourth section in 1:55.2. Ricky Bucci trains Tachyon, a 5-year-old gelding by Muscle Hill for owner Flatland Racing. Tachyon paid $3.40 to win as the 3-5 favorite.

Resolve To Win ($14.00 to win) was sent off at 6-1 in the second split but led throughout from post 7 and stopped the clock in 1:57. Tyler Buter drove the 4-year-old Resolve gelding for trainer Jeff Cullipher and owner Pollack Racing.

In the final flight, 5-year-old Royalty For Life gelding Royalty Beer romped on the front-end in 1:55.3 for trainer/driver Pat Lachance and owner Jean-Francois Maguire. Royalty Beer paid $3.70 to win as the 4-5 choice.

The John Brennan Trotting Series, which has one more prelim prior to the $55,000-added final on May 2, is named in honor of the longtime SOA of NY horsemen's representative who passed away from complications of COVID-19 in March 2020. The series is for 3-year-olds and older who were non-winners of six pari-mutuel races or $200,000 through Feb. 1, 2024, with winners over $250,000 as of that date not eligible.

When Brett Beckwith steered Side Piece ($5.40) to victory in a new lifetime mark of 1:50.2 in the featured $20,000 fillies and mares winners-over pace at Plainridge Park on Tuesday afternoon (April 16), he registered the 1,000th win of his young career in his typical front-end style.

The Janie Kellogg owned and Jackie Greene trained mare took the lead past the quarter and held off a fast-closing Arizona (Bruce Ranger) in the shadow of the wire.

After the race, the happy Beckwith said: "I'm very grateful for all the opportunities I've been given and for being able to drive so many good horses. I just want to keep working hard and improving week to week to be the best driver I can be every time I go behind the gate."

Beckwith got off to a fast start in 2024 and is currently second for dash wins among all drivers in North America with 198, and is quickly closing in on perennial dash leader Aaron Merriman. He is only 16 wins behind Merriman after this last win and, with 133 less starts.

Beckwith is also the fifth leading percentage driver in North America, boasting a gaudy .349 UDRS. Beckwith has banked just under $1.4 million in purses so far in 2024 and is on course to break all his personal single season numbers this year.

The 21-year-old Beckwith is also the leading dash driver at two current meets. First at Saratoga Raceway with 115 wins and a UDRS of .420 and after two days, also at Plainridge Park with six wins and a UDRS of .567.

Trotters shine in series finals at Harrah's Hoosier Park

Trotters were in the spotlight Wednesday (April 17) at Harrah's Hoosier Park, with a trio of $20,000 series finals highlighting the 14-race card. In a week chalked full of series finale action, finals for the Mya Tri, Cardinal, and Chad E. Carlton Trotting Series kicked the festivities off.

The Mya Tri for filly and mare trotters that were non-winners of one or $8,500 lifetime served as the evening's sixth race on the card, where Ponda Aesthetic pulled off the 25-1 shocker. Leaving from post 3 in the field of 10, driver Jordan Ross settled Ponda Aesthetic into the pocket as 6-5 favorite E V Cocoa and Joey Putnam found the front through an opening quarter of :28.1. Putnam continued to lead to the halfway point in :58 while Brandon Bates sent Swanthing Else on her way first-over into third at three-quarters in 1:27.2. Ponda Aesthetic spotted E V Cocoa three-lengths turning for home, before beginning her furious rally up the passing lane. Charging home in :28, Ponda Aesthetic timed the move to perfection to nail a game E V Cocoa on the wire by a half-length in 1:56. Swanthing Else held on for third to round out the trifecta.

The victory was the first in the career for Ponda Aesthetic who is trained by Mike Hollenback who co-owns along with Alvin Miller. The 3-year-old daughter of Skyway Torpedo—Ackbro Ms Perfect has now banked $17,934 for her career, and was one of two victories on the night for the Ross/Hollenback combo.

The counterpart for the males were next where A Blue Million delivered as the 3-5 favorite in The Cardinal final. Leaving from post 3, driver Mike Peterson wasted no time getting A Blue Million to the lead, hustling through a first-quarter of :28. Peterson had things his way to the half in :57.4 before leading to three-quarters in 1:28.3 as Bob Lee Bell and Marvin Luna stalked for the pocket. As the trotters turned for home, A Blue Million shifted gears in the stretch, motoring home in :26.3 to open up by 3-1/2 lengths in 1:55.1. Bob Lee Bell finished second, with Hudson Swan and John De Long finishing third.

A Blue Million is now perfect through four starts in 2024, the Leander Schwartz trainee is a nine-time winner for his career. Owned by Jeffrey and Stephen Stoll, the 3-year-old gelded son of Swan In A Million—IPO Blue Chip has racked up a career bankroll of $42,264.

After tasting defeat for the first time this season last week at Miami Valley, Upnaway Blue Chip returned to the winner's circle with a win in the Chad E. Carlton Trotting Series final for non-winners of two trotters. Driver Trace Tetrick was aggressive from the outset, clearing to the lead from post 3 before the opening-turn and laying down a :28.1 first-quarter. The 1-9 favorite received respect on the backstretch where he led to the half in :57.4 before Customer Support and Robert Taylor ranged up first-over to three-quarters in 1:27.3. Upnaway Blue Chip responded to the pressure from Customer Support, however faced an upset bid from Kanita and Atlee Bender at 30-1 up the passing lane. Upnaway Blue Chip dug deep under Tetrick urging in the lane, trotting home in :27.4 to hold sway by a half-length on the line in 1:55.2 over Kanita. Customer Support held for the third position.

Trained by Patrizio Ancora, Upnaway Blue Chip has been a winner in five of six outings in 2024. Owned by Rebecca Uppal-Ancora, the 4-year-old gelded son of Chapter Seven—Noreaster Bluechip pushed his lifetime earnings to $45,225.

Four of the five winners in Tuesday (April 16) afternoon's $20,000 second prelim divisions of the Bobby Weiss Trotting Series for sophomore fillies at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania were repeat winners from last week. In five $17,500 third and final prelim cuts of the Game Of Claims Trotting Series for $30,000 base-tagged horses, driver Simon Allard and trainer Mark Akins teamed for three winners, including a pair of prelim sweepers; but only one of those horses will be coming back for them in next Tuesday's series championship.

Team Orange Crush, driver Andy Miller and trainer/wife Julie, sent out two of the misses winning in the Weiss. One of them was the Walner filly Tove Palema, who tied for fastest Weiss cut of the day while setting a new mark of 1:54.3 for Andy Miller Stable Inc., Patrick Hoopes, and Mortgage Boys Stable; husband and wife also combined on the one non-repeater, the Muscle Hill filly Bikini Model, who broke in the first leg but today was on perfect behavior to put up a new mark of 1:55.1 for Frederick Hertrich III.

Two more Weiss double winners were guided by another Miller, but of the Ohio not Illinois variety; Hall of Famer David Miller. The International Moni distaff Elista Hanover turned in a 1:54.3 mile, a lifetime best, to tie for fastest Weiss time for trainer Annie Stoebe, co-owner with R. Lynn and Philomena Curry; just a tick behind in earning a new speed badge was the Tactical Landing filly Tactical Lori, now three-for-three in 2024 for trainer Nifty Norman and the ownership of Melvin Hartman and Enzed Racing Stable Inc.

Also perfect after three seasonal starts and two Weiss races is Kinesiology, who gave sire Walner a second credit when she won in 1:54.4 for driver Todd McCarthy, trainer Ron Burke, and Burke Racing Stable LLC, Beasty LLC, Lawrence Karr, and J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby.

In the Game Of Claims, the one horse earning his way through for Allard/Akins was Kinnder Thinktwice, who was an easy third-time winner in 1:54.1. Fight Song, who was claimed out of a 1:53.1 divisional speed mark last week, won Tuesday in 1:54.3, but he was the only horse claimed out of the day's GOC events and will change barns for the final as he seeks a fourth straight victory. And Chief Rocco, fastest of Tuesday's GOC winners in 1:53.2, missed the first leg of the series, and the rules of the Game Of Claims state that a finalist must start in all three legs.

Other winners among the claiming trotters were successful in the series for the first time: Keystone Apache (1:56.1, the driving success allowing David Miller to tie Allard for the day's sulky honors) and Jula Magician, a 1:55.2 winner for driver Ridge Warren but another horse absent from the first leg and thus not a finalist.

On Monday (April 15), Blackhawk Zette and Victor Laszlo took their second Bobby Weiss Trotting Series victories in $20,000 round two action for sophomore males. In six $9,000 final prelim rounds of action among Game Of Claims Series pacers carrying a $15,000 base claiming tag, no one was able to post wins in all three legs leading up to next Monday's $17,500 championship.

Blackhawk Zette trotted the fastest mile in his section of Weiss action so far, reducing his mark to 1:54.2 with his own last quarter in :28.1 for driver Matt Kakaley, trainer Robert Baggitt, Jr., and owner J L Sadowsky LLC. The solid-closing son of Cantab Hall has now won all three of his 2024 starts.

Also sporting that same three-for-three seasonal tally is the Chapter Seven colt Victor Laszlo, who was home first in 1:55.4 on Monday. Mark MacDonald again handled driving duties for trainer Ray Schnittker and the partnership of Schnittker Arnold, Paul Bordogna, Ted Gewertz, and Arden Homestead Stable.

The Bar Hopping gelding Usain Hanover, who missed less than a length to Victor Laszlo in the first leg, took a new mark of 1:54.4 - :28.2 in another section for driver Dexter Dunn, trainer Nifty Norman, and Enzed Racing Stable Inc. In the other Weiss cut, the Chapter Seven gelding Mighty Deo weaved through traffic from last to take a maiden mark of 1:57 for driver Justin Huckabone and trainer Mark Harder, the latter also co-owner with Dean Lockhart and Deena Rachel Frost.

Though there were no sweepers in the Game Of Claims, four horses stamped themselves as prime contenders by notching two wins in the three prelim rounds. Fastest of the GOC pacers on Monday was Buckeye Emery, opening the card while taking his second straight in a lifetime best 1:53.1 with Anthony Napolitano guiding.

Team Mac foiled a My Mind Is Madeup sweep in a 1:53.3 mile for driver Jim Pantaleano (tops on the day with a trio of sulky successes), with both pacers entering their championship off of two wins and a second; and both going to the finale for new barns. Lous Sassin and Fredneck were both claimed last week, and it was Lous Sassin (Simon Allard) who won here in 1:53.4 after the barn changes, ending a bid for a sweep for Fredneck, who also will again be changing handlers.

Seal O'Neill missed the first leg of the series, but he's been unstoppable since in this class, as Dexter Dunn guided him to victory in 1:54.3 as the fourth double winner.

The other two sections were won by pacers who were just happy to revisit Victory Lane. It had been 680 days since Tray Surreal had returned to the photographer after the race, as he did here after a 1:53.2 triumph while handled by Ridge Warren; Royhill's absence had been 575 days before Jim Pantaleano got him home first in 1:54. But the crowd wasn't caught unaware; both horses were their race's favorites.

Racing at The Downs resumes on Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m., with sophomore pacers going for $20,000 a division in their final Weiss Series action before their finals seven days afterwards: there will be four sections of males and three of females bidding to ensure themselves a spot in their rich championship payday. Free Pocono programs are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Meadowlands standard is pure gold

According to the Merriam-Webster dictionary website, a “gold standard” is something set up as an example against which others of the same type are compared.

And if one compares the seemingly endless string of nights when betting exceeds $3 million at The Meadowlands, every other track in North America comes up short against the industry’s handle leader.

“We are proud to have wagered over $3 million on 25 occasions this year from 29 total race cards,” said Big M chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemoir. “We are fortunate to have a race office staff that puts together events that bettors like to wager on, and horsemen who support our entry box week after week. Without them, I don’t think we’d be able to put up the numbers we do.”

Race secretary Scott Warren and his staff have come up with creative ways to card competitive races, despite several tracks in close proximity to The Big M opening up in recent weeks and siphoning off some of the horse flesh.

Last weekend, there were two TrackMaster Series finals on Friday which were won by Just A Rocket Man (at the modest TM 71 level) and Paige Perfect (73.5), respectively, each of whom completed three-race sweeps of their respective series. The TM71 race had a purse of $12,500 while the 73.5 went for $14,000. Both purses were considerably more than what horses of that caliber would normally compete for.

On Saturday, Jack’s Shadow N put on a powerhouse performance in the Play Meadowlands Series final – which carried a purse of $20,000 – with a lifetime-best-equaling 1:50.1 win.

These are the type of events that will, in the hopes of Meadowlands’ management, keep the track’s handle train in motion until The Big M’s unmatched-in-the-sport Championship Meet begins on Kentucky Derby Day (Saturday, May 4).

“To maintain the type of consistency we have from a business perspective is something we are extremely pleased with,” said Settlemoir. “Our fan base continues to support us, and we appreciate that very much. That’s why we try our best to give them the best product we possibly can every Friday and Saturday.”

Handle during April has cleared the $3-million hurdle on each of the four race cards contested thus far, with a high of $3.25 million on April 12 and a low of $3.1 million on April 5.

Competitive series offering bigger purses than what horsemen are accustomed to is part of The Meadowlands’ template for success. Another part of the $3-million equation can be attributed to the Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club events, which lately, has seen four dashes – three on Fridays, one on Saturdays – during the weekend.

“The sport of harness racing has rural American roots,” said Settlemoir. “Perhaps nothing personifies the humble spirit of our sport more than the MADC. Numbers don’t lie. Currently, the MADC are the most popular races in our sport. It’s truly amazing.”

The handle on these races back those words up. The total wagering on MADC events for the weekend of April 5-6 was $939,437, an average per race of $234,859. Last weekend, the total swelled to an incredible $1,204,198, an average of $301,049. For context, on a given night with the usual 14 races, an average of $300,000 per race would result in a total wager of $4.2 million.

Given the consistent total betting, it’s no surprise how steady action has been in the track’s popular multi-leg wagers.

During the month, the 20-cent Pick-5 has seen a low of $65,705 and a high of $91,734, and has averaged $79,585. The Early 50-cent Pick-4 – as low as $73,100 and as high as $103,885 – is averaging $84,201, while the Late P4 is averaging $87,452 with a low of $76,847 and a high of $105,714.

BIG HITS FOR LESS THAN TWO BITS: Need some proof that Big M players can make a score while wagering as little as 20 cents?

Last Friday’s 20-cent Pick-5 returned $10,804 while the 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 paid out $8,126.

Saturday’s big hits came in the Pick 7 ($4,334), 20-cent Pick-8 ($3,062) and 20-cent Pick-6 ($2,249).

‘THUNDER’ IN THE SULKY: Live racing, as usual, will take place this weekend tonight (April 19) and Saturday (April 20) with a first-race post time of 6:20 p.m.

On Saturday, Andy McCarthy, aka The Thunder from Down Under, will be Dave Little’s guest on the track’s pregame show In the Sulky segment. The pregame show kicks off at 5:45 p.m.

FREE PROGRAMS EVERY NIGHT: Past performances for every race of every Meadowlands card are available free of charge. All one has to do is go to playmeadowlands.com to access the information.

Muse La Rouge wins second straight in Ruby Cook Memorial at The Meadows

Muse La Rouge won a three-ply battle for the early lead, then hung tough late to capture her second straight in Wednesday’s (April 17) $12,500 second leg of the Ruby Cook Memorial Pace for 3-year-old fillies at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows.

Always Sassy and Sonadora refused to concede the front to the 1-5 favorite, who eschewed a seat and persevered to the point for Dave Palone. The daughter of Captaintreacherous—Modern Muse held off a quartet of late challengers to triumph in a career-best 1:53.3, three-quarters-of-a-length better than the rallying Birdie Said. Sonadora finished third.

Michael Hitchcock trains Muse La Rouge for William Hartt.

Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. and Palone each collected three wins on the 13-race card.

First Turn Stable returns for 2024 season

Back on track for its ninth season in 2024, Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino is proud to announce the return of First Turn Stable, a fractional ownership opportunity, for the 2024 live harness racing season.

The first of its kind in the state of Indiana, First Turn Stable was designed to provide fans an easy and affordable way to experience the excitement of horse ownership and educate for future ownership endeavors. Harrah's Hoosier Park will begin taking new membership sign-ups throughout the early portion of the 2024 season which kicked off on March 22.

First Turn Stable gives racing fans a chance to learn about horse ownership first-hand. The fractional ownership program, established in 2016, gives harness racing fans hands-on ownership experience for a one-time $250 buy-in.

First Turn Stable will welcome a new trainer for the 2024 racing season with Patrizio Ancora taking the reins. While Ancora may be a relatively new name to the Indiana circuit, he has decades of racing experience to his credit. After getting his start as a trainer and driver in Italy, Ancora made the move to the United States where he worked for a number of years as a second trainer for one of the top racing operations in North America, Lindy Farms. Since starting his own stable in 2021, Ancora enters 2024 off of a personal best season in his young training career in 2023. Ancora batted at .205 on the year in 2023, notching 10 wins in 108 starts as a trainer, nearly doubled from the 57 starts made in 2022. Ancora is already well on pace towards another career year, batting at .493 in 2024, already visiting the winner's circle 12 times in 32 starts this season. The Ancora stable is headlined by Upnaway Blue Chip, a 4-year-old gelded son of Chapter Seven—Noreaster Bluechip having won four of his first five starts since joining the Ancora stable, banking $35,225 already for his 4-year-old campaign. Ancora will look to make the first claim of the season for First Turn Stable in the coming weeks and get their 2024 campaign underway.

The program provides interactive social media pages, weekly e-mail updates and monthly financials that will be shared with members to provide a transparent and behind-the-scenes look into the real cost of owning a racehorse. Members can also enjoy scheduled group visits to the Patrizio Ancora stable located on property at Harrah's Hoosier Park to visit, receive updates and meet the stable's horses.

At the end of the racing season, the horse's winnings and costs will be calculated and any profit will be split amongst the group's owners. If the season results in a financial loss, Harrah's Hoosier Park will offset the figure to bring the season to a breakeven for the participants. Guests must be Indiana residents and at least 18 years of age to participate in First Turn Stable.

For more information on First Turn Stable membership, guests are encouraged to reach out to Taylor Owen at Towen@caesars.com or at 765-609-4620. Guests can also check out the First Turn Stable Facebook Page for updates as soon as they have their first horse for 2024. For more information on the 2024 live racing season, guests are encouraged to visit www.harrahshoosierpark.com.
