Brandon Simpson pleads guilty to drug adulteration and misbranding charges

The former Rene Allard assistant was among those previously indicted by the government. It's unclear whether a new round of names is about to surface in the horse doping case.

by Bill Finley

Just as it had started to appear that the doping cases that involved more than two dozen individuals from the standardbred and thoroughbred industries were grinding to a halt, a new name surfaced Thursday, more than three years after the original indictments were released.

Former trainer and driver Brandon Simpson, who served as an assistant trainer to Rene Allard, has pled guilty to one count of drug adulteration and misbranding conspiracy for his role in a scheme to provide horses with performance-enhancing drugs.

Simpson's guilty plea raised as many questions as it answered. It was not clear why his name was not included in the original indictments that were released in March, 2020 and why, at such a later date, the government decided to press its case against Simpson. His indictment and guilty plea also raises the questions as to whether or not he will be the first of several names that are about to surface in what could be a new round of indictments and guilty pleas.

Simpson had been on the government's radar since at least mid-November 2020 when his lawyers and the government agreed on a bail package for Simpson, which included a $50,000 bond and assurances that he would have no contact with racehorses without supervision of the owner of the premises where the horses were located. From there, the case seemingly disappeared until resurfacing this week.

Simpson, 42, both trained and drove, winning 1,643 races as a driver and 375 as a trainer. He last drove in 2017 and it appears that around that time he accepted a job as an assistant to Allard.

Allard is among the bigger names caught up in the scandal and is currently serving a 27-month prison sentence after he previously plead guilty to one felony count of misbranding and altering drugs.

U.S. prosecutors said that Allard was one of a number of harness trainers who purchased illegal substances from Louis Grasso, a veterinarian, and administered the substances to their horses. Grasso was sentenced to 50 months in prison and two years of supervised release.

In a particularly troubling chapter in the Allard scandal, the Federal Bureau of Investigation intercepted a phone conversation in which two other alleged conspirators discussed the deaths of horses trained by Allard after they had been given illegal drugs. One reference caught on wiretap described the trainer's operation as the "Allard death camp."

Court documents released this week detailed Simpson's activities, which included purchasing drugs at a pharmacy in South Carolina and then shipping them to a training center located in the Southern District of New York. Simpson also, the government claims, "administered prescription drugs to racehorses under Simpson's and others' control without a valid veterinary prescription, for the purposes of enhancing the horses' race performance."

In 2010, Simpson was named the recipient of the Rising Star Award from the U.S. Harness Writers' Association Monticello-Goshen Chapter.

Growing pains for the SRF Series

With short fields in all four finals, The Meadowlands' SRF series needs a little work.

By Debbie Little

When The Meadowlands' president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural created the Standardbred Retirement Foundation (SRF) series, its purpose was twofold.

"We've had many requests for something like this," Gural said in a December press release announcing the creation of the series. "I wanted to have races that can be counted on for young horses in April before the stakes season starts and at the same time show our commitment to helping find a home for retired horses and came up with this idea. Hopefully, the horsemen will support our efforts to provide these races and at the same time help the Standardbred Retirement Foundation's cause by racing their young horses."

Horsemen did indeed support the series – composed of three $20,000 legs and a $40,000 final – for green 3-year-olds of each gait and sex.

A total of 175 entries came in and each one brought a $200 donation to the SRF, which was generously matched by The Meadowlands, resulting in a $70,000 total contribution to the SRF.

According to The Meadowlands' racing secretary, Scott Warren, the series has had pluses and minuses.

"The nominations exceeded what I thought we would get for it, but the declared entries were below what I thought we'd get for it," Warren said.

Of those 175 nominees only 45 actually dropped in the box.

The first weekend of the series – Friday (March 31) for pacing and trotting fillies and Saturday (April 1) for their male counterparts – saw the most entries with 19 females and 16 males dropping in.

Trainer Joe Holloway, who has pacing colt Sheer Terror, a $270,000 Always B Miki – Economy Terror yearling and half-brother to One Eight Hundred, competing in the final (Saturday, April 22, race six), thinks the series is a good thing for The Meadowlands and young horses.

"It's never easy to get a top horse started back up, but it's also not easy to get a young horse that's inexperienced ready to come back and race the top horses," Holloway said. "Here, you can get a few starts against the same level horses for a period of time."

Although each pacing division saw a total of 15 entrants participate throughout the series, both finals only have seven starters.

The two trotting divisions also have seven-horse finals, but it's not as unexpected since the colts and fillies only had seven and eight total series starters, respectively.

“I think the Weiss hurt [the SRF Series]. People are creatures of habit and the Weiss is free.”

~ Ron Burke

Trainer Ron Burke, who has two fillies competing in tonight's (April 21) finals, trotter Cyberspace (race four) and pacer Ultimate Loulou (race six) thinks the number of starters may have been impacted by the well-established Bobby Weiss Series for 3-year-olds at Pocono.

“I think the Weiss hurt them,” Burke said. “People are creatures of habit and the Weiss is free.”

Burke said he thinks the SRF series may have started a week too early but does like to see The Meadowlands hosting a spring series.

“That's one thing we got away from at The Meadowlands where we shouldn't have,” Burke said. “The late closer program there used to be the best. We miss the Four Leaf Clover, the Trendsetter, the White Ruffles. It was a great place to race a young horse and make money.

“Maybe they weren't going to be Niki Hill but they were still going to be good horses.”

On Saturday (April 22), 11 of The Meadowlands' 15 qualifiers are for 3-year-olds. Although all would not have met the conditions of the SRF, a bunch certainly do, so perhaps starting the series at least one week later would benefit the track moving forward.

For a little perspective, The Meadowlands scheduled four similar series for 3-year-olds in April 2019: the Walner and Wiggle It Jiggleit for male trotters and pacers, respectively, and the Shake It Cerry and Worldly Beauty for trotting and pacing fillies, respectively.

The nominations for the “Cerry” and “Beauty” – 15 and 17, respectively – were so low that the series were immediately cancelled.

The male series were well supported both through nominations and entries, with the male pacers actually needing multiple divisions in all three legs. Holloway had a colt in the Walner final, while Burke had three, including the winner. Burke also had two in the Wiggle It Jiggleit final.

These colt and gelding series were also raced at the same time as the Weiss, which began in 2012.

To be fair, only six of the 45 horses that started in a leg of the SRF left it for the Weiss.

Trainer Linda Toscano's pacing filly C Is For Cookie competed in the opening leg of the SRF before shifting over to compete in the first two legs of the Weiss – April 10 and 17 – both of which she won.

According to Toscano, choosing to race in the Weiss rather than the SRF was a decision made by the filly's owner Seth Rosenfeld (Birnam Wood Farms).

“Honestly, in her case, the owner is the breeder and she's going to be racing on the five-eighths mile tracks because she's Pennsylvania eligible and he gets roughly a 25 per cent breeder's bonus by racing in Pennsylvania. So, we just decided to shift gears and go the direction of the Weiss,” Toscano said. “I think that the SRF is a great series. I think maybe it should have been scheduled a little bit better so that it wasn't up against the Weiss, because we're always scrambling for [races for] young horses.

“But scheduling is always a problem and unfortunately to the victor goes the spoils. Somebody's going to lose on this end of it and I think the short fields on the five-eighths-mile track have a tendency to win out sometimes. But, in my case, that wasn't it. Honestly, talking to Seth – he owns her, he bred her – there was far more for him to gain to race her in Pennsylvania.”

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Joviality ready for European debut

by Thomas Hedlund

Four-year-old top trotter Joviality left trainer Marcus Melander's stable this spring and the Chapter Seven daughter is now ready to make her debut on European soil.

Trainer Sabine Kagebrandt has, together with owner Courant Stable, aimed for the $200,000 Drottningpokalen at Åby racetrack on May 6 as a first step on the horse's journey in her new home country. The elimination heats are on Åby's race card today (April 21).

Jovialty, with a record of 20-4-2 from 28 career starts, drew post three behind the gate. Erik Adielsson will be her driver.

Elimination heats for the $200,000 Kungapokalen will also be held today. There will be four heats in each division. The top three horses qualify for the final on May 6.

ETONNANT FROM POST EIGHT

Richard Westerink's Elitloppet winner Etonnant (Timoko) continues to race in his home country France before a start in this year's Elitloppet at the end of May. On Saturday (April 22), he will face well merited opponents in the $215,000 Prix de l'Atlantique at Enghien racetrack in Paris.

Some really strong horses show up at Enghien and Etonnant will have to compete at his highest level if he's going to beat his fellow competitors. Horsy Dream, also invited to the Elitloppet this year, is just one of many good trotters in the race where Etonnant will start from post eight behind the gate.

Four-year-old trotters will battle in the $125,000 Prix de Tonnac-Villeneuve the same day at Enghien and among the contenders, the Philippe Allaire-trained Just A Gigolo makes his comeback at the track. The dominant French bred hasn't started since Jan. 8 and will face tough opponents in his chase for another group victory.

GOCCIADORO CHASES BIG WIN

Alessandro Gocciadoro will send his Bengurion Jet to Seinäjoki in Finland this Saturday (April 22), where the $145,000 Seinäjoki Race over 2,100 meters is scheduled.

Bengurion Jet was strong as the runner up behind San Moteur two weeks ago and when Gocciadoro's trotter starts from post two behind the gate, the task seems interesting for the Italian horse and trainer.

The Finnish home team has its strongest ammunition in Hierro Boko, who won the $100,000 Bergsåker Winter Trot in February.

Illinois-bred Ghost Shark to test open waters

by Brett Sturman

Ghost Shark, one of Illinois' best 2-year-old male pacers from last year from a more contentious state-bred group than usual, has impressed on arrival in Pocono's Bobby Weiss Series. If all continues to go well, the stakes will be raised even higher.

Owned by Kyle Larner of Michigan and Brian Hochman of Illinois, the gelded son of Revenge Shark out of Give Up The Ghost is managed while out East by conditioner Rob Harmon. Prior to the move, the pacer has been trained throughout his career by Michigan native Tim Roach.

Last year, while racing exclusively in Illinois between Hawthorne and the Illinois State Fair races at Du Quoin and Springfield, Ghost Shark took his freshman mark of 1:51.3 with a rallying win in a Director Cup stake at Du Quoin. He concluded the season with a hard fought second place in the Incredible Finale 2-year-old final on the Night of Champions.

This year, it took just two starts for Ghost Shark to tie his mark of 1:51.3. After missing by just a head in his season's debut two weeks ago in 1:51.1, the 3-year-old gelding was never headed last week while coasting in a wire-to-wire win as the overwhelming 1-9 race favorite.

For Ghost Shark, it's always been more a matter of attitude than talent.

"You could tell from the word go that because of his stride and everything else, that he was going to be a better than average horse, let's put it that way," said Roach. "But we went through a hard time with him at first. He was very laid-back jogging and training, but when he saw the starting gate, he wanted to be very aggressive. So, we had to make some changes on him, open his bridle, put a more severe driving bit in and work with him. And [driver] Travis Seekman did a fantastic job of listening, taking our word and learning to race the horse off a helmet, because his first two races he was just blasting right out of there, you couldn't hold him. Between training and Travis, he learned to really relax in a horse race, and he's now turned into a real professional on the track. I think that's what's making him be able to carry his speed more now. He doesn't waste his energy fighting and pulling on you."

Ghost Shark was purchased out of the 2021 Illini Classic Yearling Sale for $10,000. Bred by the University of Illinois and part of the first foal crop of Revenge Shark, it's not as though Ghost Shark comes from an obscure pedigree; far from it. His third dam Ghost Of A Smile produced $400,000 earner Jennie Fanetta, who in turn produced $500,000 winner Verdad. Though for Roach and his team, there was a more direct connection.

"Kyle and his partners bought him out of the sale, but we raised his mother, Give Up The Ghost," said Roach. "And then we sold his mother through a sale, and she ended up at the University of Illinois and in their broodmare program and so seeing this colt then out of Give Up The Ghost, there was that drawing to him."

Standing for a mere $1,500, Revenge Shark has done quite well for himself in the early going. Best known from racing

"We'll bring Ghost Shark back after the Weiss to give him a rest and then I'll run him up to Ontario for the Somebeachsomewhere and North America Cup that we've staked him up to and we'll see how that goes for us. I know they're lofty goals, but he's obviously the best horse that we've ever had. He's got a long way to go with those other types of horses, but he's got some talent and we want to see where it takes us."

for his desperately close win in a blanket finish in the 2015 Messenger Stakes, he produced 12 starters from 16 foals in his first crop as a sire. From that first 2-year-old crop of last year, seven of those won, including, of course, Ghost Shark.

“They’ve done exceptionally well for the limited crop that he had,” said Roach. “They’ve raced pretty well out there, and in fact, we’ve bought another Revenge Shark this year. The two that I have are very well gaited, with a really want-to attitude with them both. I just think that he’s thrown some toughness, they’re a little bit more rugged, a throwback, maybe because Revenge Shark is a Cam’s Card Shark which is getting a little bit older. There might be part of that throwback breeding in him.”

Now 3, Ghost Shark has grown, and perhaps so have expectations for him.

“He’s a bit taller now and I let his hobbles out two inches from last year,” said Roach. “But just his whole attitude. He grew up in his head, too. When we were training him back down, one day me and my daughter were going up the backstretch and she was kind of riding beside me with him, and unlike last year, he just sat there calmly until she called on him and then he took off. And that’s when I said that this horse has really changed into a professional. He’s really nice: he’s the best horse that I’ve ever trained. And not that I’ve trained a lot of great ones or anything, but he’s by far the best I’ve ever had.”

As the horse of a lifetime for Roach and owners, Ghost Shark will have the opportunity to test his limits even further.

“The plan was when he went out there to Pocono that he would probably come back after the Weiss and have a little bit of rest, because we don’t want to over race him,” said Roach. “Illinois isn’t starting their Night of Champions races until September and his money won’t be out there until October, so we want to race him enough but not too much between now and then. We actually staked him to a couple of the big races in Canada. We’ll bring Ghost Shark back after the Weiss to give him a rest and then I’ll run him up to Ontario for the Somebeachsomewhere and North America Cup that we’ve staked him up to and we’ll see how that goes for us. I know they’re lofty goals, but he’s obviously the best horse that we’ve ever had. He’s got a long way to go with those other types of horses, but he’s got some talent and we want to see where it takes us.”

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Alyssa Cummings continues to nurse her love of harness racing

by Chris Lomon

Alyssa Cummings has somehow come up with a way to keep her love of horses rolling along at a steady pace.

The demands of her full-time role, that of registered nurse, require an unyielding dedication in putting others first: a calm demeanor, steady hand, long hours and no shortage of stressful situations.

Yet, despite all of the challenges that come with the territory, Cummings somehow always finds time for a long-time passion.

“I’ve basically been in the standardbred business since I was born,” Cummings said. “My parents, Todd and Tammy, both drove and trained. Mom is still training. I was probably around 6 or 7 when I started in the barn with the horses. I’ve been a groom most of my life and occasionally I’ll jog and rarely, I’ll train. These days, I help out when I’m not at my full-time job. I work as a groom and lately, I have been jogging because we have so many horses.”

Alyssa is also a horse owner.

Currently, she owns a pair of racehorses: Fomor with her brother Kyle and Candy’s Desire with her parents.

“I technically own three, but one that Kyle and I have together, Lucky King, we decided we wanted to give him a good home and we were able to find him one,” she said. “We’ll look for another one.”

Ain’t No Stoppin’, a now 17-year-old son of Dream Away who was a private purchase, gave the siblings one of their biggest highlights to date.

On April 5, 2019, the pacer, trained by Tammy, eked out a neck victory at 11-1 at Buffalo Raceway.

“In Kyle’s first year of driving, we bought Ain’t No Stoppin’ together,” Alyssa said. “I wasn’t able to be in the winner’s circle for Kyle’s first win because I was in nursing school and living in Pennsylvania, but I was able to make it when he won that night. I think that will always be one of my favorite memories.”

Since making the move to Western New York, Alyssa has been afforded more time to spend with her family and at the racetrack.

~ Alyssa Cummings

Despite the hectic nature of her nursing career, she has been able to find a balance between life at the hospital and life with the horses.

What’s the secret to finding the energy for both?

“Minimal sleep and lots of coffee,” she said jokingly. “I’m definitely all-in when it comes to the horses and the racing. From a young age, it’s always been a dream for Kyle and I to own horses together and race together. We’ve always been very close and when Kyle decided he was going to do this full-time, I decided I was going to be all-in with him.

“I keep track of all his stats and I try to keep him on his toes. I’m sure I annoy the crap out of him. I’m living the dream I guess you could say. We’ve always loved the sport and the horses since we were both very young.”

Alyssa is equally grateful for the support of other family members.

“My mom and dad, they taught me everything and if I ever need advice, I will ask my grandma Cindy – my mom’s mom who has been around horses a long time – or my parents,” Alyssa said. “My whole family has helped me get to where I am today.”

And where she wants to be is anywhere the horses are.

Even on the days when she’s exhausted, mentally and physically, Alyssa finds the energy to lend a helping hand in her mother’s barn.

“I’ll go to the barn in the morning and will stay for about three or four hours, helping out however I can,” Alyssa said. “I’ll come home, take a shower, take a nap and then go to work. When I get off work on Tuesdays, I come home, change, go to the barn and help for a little while and then do it all over again. On Wednesday, which is a race day, I’ll come home, shower, sleep and since it’s 2:30 post, I’ll wake up at noon, then head to the races to help and watch. If I do my three-in-a-row nights, I’m usually pretty spent. I think when I go to the barn on the days off, my body is like, ‘Wait, we’re supposed to be up now.’ Sometimes it makes it a little hard to fall asleep.”

Time with the pacers and trotters is often quite therapeutic, Alyssa said.

“I feel like I’m able to do my nursing job better because of the horses,” she said. “It’s hard to deal with people in different situations every day, so I feel like they make it much more bearable for me.”

So, too, does the opportunity to partake in some of her favorite pastimes, including a pair of outdoor pursuits, one on the greens, the other on the water.

With warmer weather now the norm, Alyssa is getting into the swing of things on the golf course and riding the waves with her kayak.

“Now that it’s getting to be that nicer weather I’m getting outside more,” she said. “It’s going to mean more jam-packed days, but golfing and kayaking are things I like to do to have some fun. I go out with family and friends on the weekends too, which is nice, just to be able to hang out with everyone. I make time to do everything I can.”

Alyssa is also looking to add more horses to her stable.

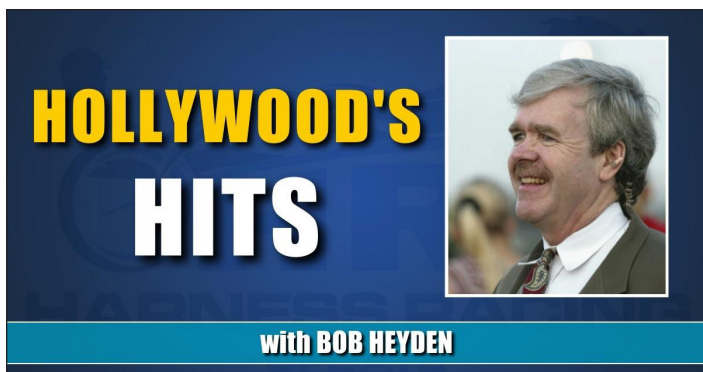

Teaming with her family to win a stakes race is a goal, but whether it happens or not, she’s simply enjoying the opportunity to be part of a world she continues to have a great affinity for.

“I would like to get some more horses,” she said. “It’s what everyone dreams of, to get a really nice one. We’ll see if we can get there, but I’m happy with where I’m at. To get to go to the big dances and do that with Kyle and my family, that would be the big dream.”

Odds are Alyssa will somehow find the time to chase that dream.

“Usually, I try to not be scheduled to work on race days so that I can be at the barn around the horses,” she said. “I’m always happy there.”

The roots of the Borgata pay homage to George Morton Levy

by Bob Heyden

It has only been called the Borgata for a few seasons. The Yonkers Raceway series originally was the Levy, named for Hall of Famer George Morton Levy. Let's take a look at the man whose name used to grace the series:

- George Morton Levy was born in 1888 in Seafield, Long Island and died at 89 in 1977.
- He opened his first law office in 1912.
- In 1940, he became the founder and president of Roosevelt Raceway as nighttime racing came to the sport.
- Some of the initial problems Levy encountered with opening a new track was funding, caused by WWII and transportation issues. There was a rail strike when Roosevelt opened.
- Year one was 106 nights. A crowd of 14,189 made it to opening night and wagered $451,286. Glenda Hanover was the highest payout that night, returning $53.50. There was a minimum of $8,000 per night in purse distribution, with $9,249 on opening night and there were 800 horses stabled on the grounds.
- After using a motorized barrier from 1940 to 1946, Levy and his associates invested their own money to further the development of Steve Phillips' mobile starting gate that debuted at Roosevelt in May 1946. It helped revolutionize the sport.
- In 1959, Levy introduced the world to the Roosevelt International. It even made the cover of Sports Illustrated.
- In 1965, Levy debuted an entirely new tote system, one which cycled every 80 seconds to show actual win and place payoffs.
- In 1967, Levy was inducted into the Hall of Fame in Goshen, his 268th time being honored in his life. "But I would have to rank this one as the best," he said.

- On Nov. 4, 1978, Sirota Anderson and Norman Dauplaise won the inaugural $200,000 George Morton Levy Pacing series.
- The first driver to win it back-to-back was Buddy Gilmour in 1984 with Caramore and 1985 with On The Road Again.
- The race was not contested from 1997 to 2006.
- In 2007, Mickey Burke won it with Maltese Artist. Two years later, his son Ron would send out the very first horse to repeat in the race, Foiled Again (2009 and 2010).

• Maybe the best way to remember Levy – often referred to as “the father of night time harness racing” – is to list some of the quotes of the era about this unique man:

“He only has tomorrow in his thinking.”

“A, yes, gambler. A courageous inventor.”

“Nobly patriarchal, with a full flow of white hair and a jaunty bounce to his hurried gait.”

“A sparkling man absorbed in his own creation.”

Finally, his trusted long-time assistant Virginia Heaphy said, “He never iffed and biffed. If something happened, he would go on to the next project. He would go on to correct the situation.”

HIGH FIVE

Let's dig into a couple of impressive "fivers," five accomplishments bunched together that are way up there on anyone's all-time list.

- The top five drivers in North America entering the final 10 days of April have never led before at year's end:

1. Jason Bartlett
2. Matt Kakaley
3. Jordan Stratton
4. Aaron Merriman
5. Trace Tetrick

- John Campbell won five races on May 24, 1979 at The Meadowlands. He was the first driver to win five and also capture his first $100G event on the same night in the $108,000 Oliver Wendell Holmes with Merry Isle.

- Tim Tetrick won five of his first 10 Meadowlands Pace drives.

- Jimmy Takter and Yannick Gingras took the Hambletonian Oaks five straight years from 2014-2018:

2014 – Lifetime Pursuit ($22.00)

2015 – Wild Honey ($4.60)

2016 – All The Time ($9.20)

2017 – Ariana G ($2.40)

2018 – Manchego ($4.40)

Only retirement stopped Takter from possibly extending it.

- Finally, in a three-year span (1984-1986), Bill O'Donnell won five million-dollar races with five favorites:

1984 – Woodrow Wilson – Nihilator ($2,161,000)

1985 – Meadowlands Pace – Nihilator ($1,018,000)

1985 – Governor's Cup – Barberry Spur ($1,357,500)

1985 – Hambletonian – Prakas ($1,272,000)

1986 – Governor's Cup – Redskin ($1,513,500)

Note: Never again did the Governor's Cup go for a million. Nihilator set the track record in both the Wilson and the Pace. Prakas set the Hambletonian record of 1:54.3 the same hour Nihilator lowered the world race mark to 1:49.3 and Redskin still owns the $1.4 million freshman single season money mark.

Twelve races were drawn in total for Monday's program and the MGM Borgata Pacing Series final will go as the ninth dash. To her inside are multi-leg winners Amazing Dream N (Gingras/Linda Toscano) and Racine Bell (Jason Bartlett/Dave Dewhurst) and another double-leg victor Lucky Artist A (Braxten Boyd/Ricky Bucci) is to her outside. Also, in the field is defending champion Drama Act, who won two preliminary rounds herself for Brennan and Burke and will depart from post six.

The full group of pacing mares will line up behind the gate as follows with listed driver and trainer:

- 1 – Amazing Dream N – Yannick Gingras – Linda Toscano
- 2 – Racine Bell – Jason Bartlett – Dave Dewhurst
- 3 – Dougs Babe A – Dexter Dunn – Nifty Norman

New Jersey

Stars to shine on Saturday in New Jersey Breeders Maturity at Big M

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Some of harness racing's top 3-year-olds of last season – Treacherous Dragon, Niki Hill, Bythemissal, Fashion Schooner and Pretender – will begin their 4-year-old campaigns Saturday (April 22) in the first of two weekends of New Jersey Breeders Maturity races for pacers and trotters at The Meadowlands.

Treacherous Dragon, who received the Dan Patch Award for best sophomore female pacer in 2022 and Niki Hill, who brought home the trophy at age 2 in 2021, headline the night's action in the $15,000 preliminary leg of the Maturity for 4-year-old pacing mares (the final is April 29). Niki Hill is the 4-5 morning-line favorite in the six-horse field, with Treacherous Dragon the even-money second choice.

Niki Hill, trained by Chris Ryder and driven by Dexter Dunn, qualified twice in preparation for her start Saturday. She finished second by a nose to Treacherous Dragon on April 7 and won last week by 2-1/2 lengths over Boudoir Hanover in 1:52 with a :25.3 last quarter-mile.

“She’s her usual self – very good,” Ryder said. “The driver is happy, the trainer is happy, the groom is happy. She’s a little bigger [than last year]. She’s always had size, but she’s looking like a 4-year-old. She’s right on 17 hands, so that’s a bit of size for a standardbred. She’s doing real well.”

Niki Hill was limited to seven races last year after cutting an ankle in her first start of the season. She returned to action in mid-September and finished no worse than second in her remaining six starts, winning three. She won the Bluegrass, Glen Garnsey and Matron stakes and was runner-up in the Breeders Crown and TVG Series championship, where she faced older foes to close out the campaign.

In the TVG, Niki Hill started from post eight at The Meadowlands and finished second between winner Grace Hill, who the previous month captured the Breeders Crown Mare Pace and Test Of Faith, who was the 2021 U.S. Horse of the Year.

“I know [Niki Hill] didn’t win, but I thought she was terrific,” Ryder said about the Tom Hill-owned daughter of Always B Miki – Road Bet, who has won 12 of 17 career starts and earned

Claus Andersen

Treacherous Dragon (Scott Zeron, winning the Breeders Crown at Woodbine Mohawk Park in October of 2022) returns to the races at age 4 on Saturday at The Meadowlands.

$1.31 million. “How does a 3-year-old win that race from post eight? The draw was against us. But I was thrilled with her. I thought it was a terrific race with three terrific horses, top of the line.”

Treacherous Dragon, trained by Nancy Takter and driven by Scott Zeron, enters Saturday’s start with one qualifier, her victory over Niki Hill on April 7 in 1:53.1 with a :26.2 final quarter.

Last year, Treacherous Dragon led all 3-year-old female pacers in purses with $717,835. She won nine of 15 starts, including the Fan Hanover Stakes, Breeders Crown and Jugette.

“She had a long season last year, so I didn’t really want to rush her back,” Takter said. “This is a really good steppingstone for the races ahead. She qualified super, so I’m very happy with how she’s coming into it. She might need this race on Saturday. I didn’t want to qualify her two weeks in a row and then race her two weeks in a row. I try to avoid going four weeks in a row with my horses at all costs because it is a long season.”

As for any changes in Treacherous Dragon, a daughter of Captaintreacherous—My Little Dragon owned by Hot Lead Farm, Takter said, “She filled out a little bit and grew up a little bit. But she’s a very classy mare and she didn’t need to change much.”

For her career, Treacherous Dragon has won 13 of 25 races and earned $1.01 million.

Takter also will send out Sweet Treasure in the Maturity for female pacers. Also owned by Hot Lead, the daughter of Sweet Lou—Shes Some Treasure, will have Josert Fonseca in the sulky as she makes her fourth start of the season. She heads into Saturday off a 1:50.4 win in a conditioned race April 8 at The Meadowlands.

Unraced at age 2, Sweet Treasure won three of 13 starts last year and earned $184,834. She finished second in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship and Shady Daisy and was third in the Jugette.

“She’s super-fast, she’s just a little special at times,” Takter said. “She’s got all the ability in the world if we can keep her under control. I have to give everybody on my team a lot of credit. They’ve done a really good job with her and she’s settled down into a nice horse. If she can stay that way, she could potentially have a big year ahead of her.

“She has good speed, a good set of lungs and is good gaited. It’s just that she’s her own worst enemy at times.”

The remaining three Maturity events will be conducted as non-betting races. The races for male pacers and trotters will be prior to Saturday’s regular 6:20 p.m. (EDT) card. Those first of those two dashes will begin at 5 p.m. The third non-bettor, for mare trotters will be contested after race five.

Bythemissal, who hit the board in all 16 of his starts last year, winning 13, is one of two horses in the $12,500 Maturity for 4-year-old male pacers. Yannick Gingras will drive the son of Downbytheseaside—Dismissal for trainer Ron Burke. The gelding’s wins last season included the Little Brown Jug and Adios as he banked $1.16 million.

Pretender, another horse from the Takter Stable, is in the $12,500 Maturity for 4-year-old male trotters with driver Andy McCarthy. The son of Muscle Hill—Maven won four of 15 races last season, including the New Jersey Sire Stakes championship and New Jersey Classic and earned $573,525. He was second in the Canadian Trotting Classic and Earl Beal Jr. Memorial.

Fashion Schooner, the 2022 Hambletonian Oaks winner, returns in the three-horse $12,500 Maturity for 4-year-old female trotters. Tim Tetrick will drive the daughter of Walner—Broadway Schooner for trainer Jim Campbell. She won eight of 13 races last season and banked $684,937.

Armstead Cole quickest in final Brennan Series round at Yonkers

Armstead Cole's 1:54.4 mile was the fastest in four $25,000 divisions of the final preliminary leg of the John Brennan Trotting Series on Wednesday night (April 19) at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Driven by Jason Bartlett, Armstead Cole moved from the pocket to the point past the :28.1 opening quarter and following middle-half splits of :57.4 and 1:26, the 4-year-old gelding by Johnny William closed in :28.4 to defeat What Should I Goo (Joe Bongiorno) by 2 1/4 lengths. Armstead Cole, who paid $2.20 to win as the 1-9 favorite, competes for owner/trainer Jeff Cullipher and co-owner Pollack Racing LLC. Armstead Cole picked up lifetime win number 10 and has now pocketed $147,848.

In the second split owner/trainer Ricky Bucci's PL Oscar (George Brennan) yielded to sit in the two-hole behind Outside The Fire (Scott Zeron) after a :28.2 quarter and would track him through the :57.4 half and 1:26.1 three-quarters. In the lane P L Oscar rallied up the inside to wrestle the top spot away from Outside The Fire and then held off a charging Primadonna Deo (Jordan Stratton) by a neck in 1:55.4. P L Oscar, a 5-year-old gelded son of Archangel, returned $12.60 to win as a 5-1 offering and made his 12th appearance in the winner's circle. He also raised his career earnings to $176,945.

Pappardelle (Bongiorno) won for the second straight time in the series in the third division. He posted fractions of :28.4, :58.2 and 1:27.1, then opened up in a :27.4 final kicker to defeat Spicy Nugget (Yannick Gingras) by 3 1/2 lengths in 1:55 flat. Jenn Bongiorno trains Pappardelle, a 4-year-old Wishing Stone gelding, for owners The Delaware Group, Joe Sbrocco, JB Racing and JAF Racing LLC. Pappardelle paid $2.20 to win as the 1-9 choice, posted the 10th victory of his racing career and has now banked $159,457.

Rounding out Wednesday night's winners in the Brennan Series was Swan Flyer (Gingras). He worked his way up on the outside from post six and got by Torrone (Brent Holland) nearing the :28.4 quarter. From there, Gingras and Swan Flyer backed down the tempo to :58.3 at the half and 1:27.3 at the three-quarters before coming home in :28.3 to better Torrone by three-quarters of a length in a 1:56.1 mile. Gingras also co-owns Swan Flyer, an Edwin Gannon Jr.-trained 4-year-old Swan For All gelding, with partners Fac Racing LLC. and Joe Di Scala Jr. Swan Flyer, who returned $5.60 to win as the 9-5 second choice, now has a record of 9-7-6 from 32 starts and has put away $153,997.

The John Brennan Trotting Series is for 3-year-olds and older who were non-winners of six pari-mutuel races or $150,000 through Feb. 1, 2023, with winners over $250,000 as of that date not eligible. The series concludes Wednesday (April 26) with a $100,000 final and a $35,000 consolation.

The biggest card on the harness racing calendar so far in 2023 will take place on Monday night (April 24) at MGM Yonkers Raceway as the $511,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series and $328,000 Blue Chip Matchmaker Series finals take place.

On the undercard, there will be two MGM Borgata Pacing Series consolations worth $100,000 and $50,000 (races six and seven) and a $75,000 Blue Chip Matchmaker Series consolation (race five).

Also, continuing through May 18, the Pick 5 pool on Thursdays at MGM Yonkers Raceway will be seeded with $10,000 and also have a guaranteed pool of $25,000. This initiative is being offered in partnership with the Standardbred Owners Association of New York as part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time at 7 p.m. (EDT).

Big M reaps rewards of treating customers right

When a ferocious thunderstorm descended on The Meadowlands on Saturday (April 15) night just after the first race, things looked gloomy for the track's streak of consecutive nights where the handle exceeded $3 million.

After all, patrons would have to wait 35 minutes for action to resume on a night when The Big M was far from the only option bettors had. In addition, only five of the 14 races on the program sported full 10-horse fields, while there were four that had eight betting interests or less.

Regardless, the Big M faithful pushed $3.1 million through the windows, keeping the track's percentage of $3-million handles on Fridays and Saturdays during 2023 at 100, with 29 successes in as many tries.

At this point a year ago, the $3-million barrier had been busted but six times.

“Our fans and our horsemen have come through for us time and again during what’s been a special year for us at The Meadowlands,” said track chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. “Our crew got the track back in shape to resume the races in as timely a fashion as possible and it’s their efforts that permitted us to get back on track after what was an ugly storm.”

Much has been made about how big business has been at The Big M this year and while 14 races – many with full 10-horse fields – have been the biggest reason why, other factors also play a part.

Large payouts always get people interested in what’s going on at the track and interest was sky-high on March 25 when the 20-cent Pick-6 returned $55,165 after a carryover had motivated players to create a total pool of almost $64,000.

Three weeks later, that seasonal-best payout was bettered when the 20-cent Pick-5 came back $63,836 on April 15.

“We think that to have a successful racetrack,” said Settlemoir, “the fair treatment of the horseplayer must be part of the business equation.”

Part of the equation has been dropping takeouts on wagers. If you don’t give the player a fair shake, he or she will find another track (or form of gaming) that will.

The 50-cent Pick-4, 20-cent Pick-5, 20-cent Pick-6, 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 and 10-cent Pentafecta (or, Hi-5, if you prefer) have seen their rake drop significantly through the years and, not surprisingly, are big-time popular with Big M fans.

Those wagers at one time had 25 per cent takeouts, but now, after a 40 per cent drop, have a takeout of just 15 per cent. These bets drive the machine at The Big M, especially the Pick-4, which is offered two times on every card and last weekend, took in a total of over $400,000 in action. The Pick-4 races – the sixth and 10th – routinely see $300,000 in total action because of the popular puzzles.

These are the seven opportunities The Big M offers nightly to the bettor that offer both a low minimum wager as well as a low 15 percent takeout. In addition, the two Pick-4s offer a guaranteed pool of $50,000.

The list:

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 3: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7
- Race 6: Early 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 7: Early 10-cent Hi-5
- Race 8: 20-cent Pick-6
- Race 10: Late 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 14: Late 10-cent Hi-5

In addition, the 10-cent Superfecta and $1 Pick-3 have seen their takeouts lowered 20 per cent, from 25 down to 20 per cent.

The Meadowlands sports a betting menu with tasty wagers with takeouts that are among the lowest for these plays in North America.

Low takeouts? Great. Low minimums? Also, great.

The low minimums were put in place to keep players in action longer. The more they get to play, the better the chance the bettor hits something.

Let’s say a bettor plays a 20-cent Pick-5 ticket “1,2/1,2/1,2/1,2,3.” They’ve made 48 bets on the P5 but have spent just $9.60. If they called out the same ticket at a track with a P5 that had a $1 minimum, they’d have to fork over $48.

Another move The Big M made several years ago with the bettor in mind, was to drop jackpot wagers.

“We concluded that having a great wagering opportunity on mandatory payout nights was not worth continuing the jackpot wager,” said Settlemoir of the scenario where the pool was paid to the winner only if he or she held the lone ticket with the correct selections. “The reason being that the actual takeout was so egregious, we felt compelled to act to protect the horseplayers from a lottery-type takeout.

“The Jackpot Hi-5 was replaced by a non-jackpot Hi-5 that is offered with a real 15 per cent takeout. Since then, a growing number of tracks have followed our lead. Based on our first-quarter handle – being up over $26 million as compared to last year – we can easily assume that the horseplayers’ response to our initiatives – such as free programs on our website – have been extremely well received.”

SBOANJ and TROPAC to host a fundraiser for Assembly Speaker Coughlin at Rutgers

The Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association of New Jersey and TrotPAC are cohosting a fundraiser brunch for Assembly Speaker Craig Coughlin on May 8. The event will take place at Rutgers' Equine Exercise Physiology Lab on College Farm Road beginning at 11 a.m.

Assembly Speaker Coughlin has been vital to the state appropriation approval for the horse racing industry.

This event will give the Rutgers Equine Science program the opportunity to showcase what they do and have the Speaker participate in an interactive demo highlighting scientific equipment used at the Lab. The Speaker will also be on hand for attendees to express their views on how important the state appropriation is to the harness racing industry.

We urge all horsepeople to help support him. Your attendance and financial help are of the utmost importance to the success of our industry and future appropriation.

Excitement brewing for the Camluck Classic

One of Canada's biggest racing events, the $150,000 Camluck Classic presented by Seelster Farms, is set to take place on Friday (May 26) at The Raceway at Western Fair District.

The track's signature race is just part of a powerful program which also features the $50,000 Forest City Pace for mares, a quartet of $40,000 (estimated) City of London Series finals, Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots divisions for 3-year-old pacing fillies and the new London Classic Yearling Sale Preferred Trot.

Jimmy Freight captured the 2022 edition with a tour de force for driver Louis Philippe Roy in 1:50.2 and is hopeful to be back in defense of his title. The Raceway team is busy scouting potential starters for this year's event and will have a close eye on the $511,000 Borgata Series final this Monday (April 24) at Yonkers Raceway while other budding local stars like Saulsbrook Victor and Nautical Hanover have been strutting their stuff just down the highway at Woodbine Mohawk Park of late and are also on The Raceway's radar.

“The Camluck Classic has become one of the most important early races for older pacers and continues to draw many of the sport's best each year,” said director of equine programming Greg Blanchard. “We strive to put together one of the strongest half-mile programs you'll see anywhere in North America along with a fun night of entertainment. The team here is really looking forward to this night.”

The Raceway is also teaming up with the London Brewing Co. to offer a brand-new promotion this year.

Bulldog Brew is a specially-made summer Lager that pays homage to the great Bulldog Hanover who recently retired to stud at Seelster Farms as the sport's fastest all-time pacer. The specially-labelled beer will be available on track on Camluck Classic night with $1 from each can sold going to support the Ontario Standardbred Adoption Society.

The artwork for the special label was created by Western Fair District's graphic designer Jake MacDonald and the photo was taken by Woodbine Entertainment's award-winning photographer Clive Cohen.

“Bulldog Brew is something we are excited to unveil and we think it will be a hit with fans,” said manager of equine programming Amy O'Toole. “Bulldog Hanover rallied the entire industry with what he accomplished on the track this past year and it's amazing to have him standing locally at Seelster Farms. We wanted to commemorate him in a fun and unique way.”

More details on this year's Camluck Classic event, along with updates on who has received invites, will be available at www.camluckclassic.ca. First post for the May 26th program will be 6:30 p.m. and COSA TV will be on hand with live coverage beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Driver Ingraham makes career start number 53,000 at Shenandoah Downs

Even though driver David Ingraham did not cross the wire first in Saturday's (April 15) first race conditioned trot at Shenandoah Downs, he did return to the winner's circle to get his picture taken. The 61-year-old reinsman had just made career start number 53,000 in that race aboard Arthur Lisi's Rocky Bomber and even though he finished fourth, was recognized afterwards for the milestone accomplishment.

"You don't think of that kind of number until it actually happens," said Ingraham, who is competing at Shenandoah Downs for the first time this spring. "You have to compete for a long time and be lucky enough to not get hurt too much over the years. When I started racing back home, Maine had a 'Mister 2,000 Club' so I initially had hoped to get to that level at some point."

Ingraham was born and raised in Maine where he competed full time until 1989 when he went south to Florida, got a place and started racing there, though he still spent part of the year in Maine. He has also raced in New York and at Colonial Downs. His biggest career score came in the 1995 Cane Pace at Yonkers aboard upset winner Mattgilla Gorilla who was sent off at 26-1. Ingraham has amassed over $31 million in purse earnings from 7,789 wins, 7,831 runner-up finishes and 7,694 thirds.

Four horses made it a perfect three-for-three this past weekend, three weeks into the meet and with four to go. Terrys Watching, Thaneeya, Double Parked and Buzzer all stayed undefeated.

Todd Warren drove trotter Terrys Watching to a wire-to-wire outing for the second straight week. The 3-year-old Charlie De Vie's time of 2:00.1 was the fastest of the trio by a full second. Shortly after his win, the track was downgraded from fast to sloppy as rain swept in. Betsy Brown trains for owner James Brown.

Lomangino Standardbreds' Thaneeya held off fast closing Jackie's Express in Sunday's third race to complete a coast-to-coast trip. Warren directed the effort, tripping the timer in 1:55.4 on a warm and muggy afternoon. The 7-year-old daughter of McArdle equaled her seasonal best for trainer Lewis Nunes.

The Todd Warren owned Double Parked took his third straight courtesy of a thrilling finish where the 6-year-old Sagebrush mare was a nose better than American Sombrero in 1:56.4. Rain did not deter the winner from completing her third consecutive trip in front at all points of call.

Stacy McLenaghan's Buzzer became the first horse to win from post eight this meet when he prevailed by two over Boogiewoogiebeavis in a $5,500 conditioned pace once rain had cleared on Saturday. The 3-year-old Heston Blue Chip colt crossed in 1:57.3, same clocking as in his first spring race two weeks prior. Corey Braden was in the sulky and helped trigger a rare 8-8 winning daily double combination with Everyrosehasathorn in the following race.

Fastest mile of the meet was authored Sunday (April 23) by Cole Olsen's Volley Ball Beach whose 1:53.1 winning time was one tick better than Hulou's 1:53.2 mark a week ago. The 7-year-old Somebeachsomewhere horse hit initial quarter panels of :27, :57.1 and 1:23.4 before crossing three-quarters of a length better than runner-up Hoosier Shark. The victory pushed Volley Ball Beach's bankroll over the $230,000 mark.

Finally, Shantae Gant's Vulcan Hanover set a new life mark in Sunday's $10,000 open trot. The 6-year-old Donato Hanover gelding took the lead from a breaking Tequila N Roses past the half then powered home to a dominating 10-plus length triumph in 1:55.4 with Billy Carter in the bike. Vulcan Hanover, perhaps a "horse for the course," is 10-for-15 in pari-mutuel starts at Shenandoah Downs.

The Woodstock oval's two biggest races of the spring season are on tap this Saturday April 22. The $25,000 Blue Ridge open pace and $25,000 Alleghany open trot will be contested. More details are at shenandoahdowns.com.

Tom Rankin supports youth contests and hosts a farm open house

The Bill Galvin Racing Alliance (BGRA) is pleased to announce that prominent standardbred breeder and owner, Tom Rankin, will be supporting four contests with a standardbred horse theme for Ontario elementary school students in 2023.

The BGRA's four contests include the Youth Literary Derby, a renewal of the original event in 2018, an Art Derby, Photo Derby and Video Derby. Cash prizes will be awarded to the top three in each of the contest divisions.

/HARNESSRACINGUPDATE

In 2018, Rankin sponsored the prize money for the Youth Literary Derby and hosted an open house at his St. Catharines standardbred farm, which was attended by over 300 visitors including the mayor of St. Catharines.

“Tom has again generously offered to sponsor the prize money for these Youth Contests,” said Karen Hauver, a volunteer director of the BGRA. “We sincerely appreciate Tom’s commitment and involvement and we’re extremely excited that he’s willing to host another open house.”

On Saturday (May 13), Tom Rankin will once again open the gates to his farm and welcome the public to stop by to meet his broodmares and foals in conjunction with the Youth Literary Derby and Youth Art Derby.

The open house event is intended to introduce youth to the foals and mares and inspire their content for the Youth Literary Derby and Youth Art Derby, which are open to Ontario elementary school children in grades 3 to 8 with junior and senior divisions. Entries for these two contests will close on June 27, 2023.

“I was very happy to hear about the creation of the Bill Galvin Racing Alliance and their programs for 2023,” said Rankin who feels that the Youth Literary Derby and Art Derby are great ways to introduce harness racing to a wider audience. “Bill was a great friend of mine and a huge promoter of the standardbred industry. The contest is great for education in terms of encouraging literacy and the arts.

“It gives kids the chance to be creative and who knows, there might be a budding poet, writer or artist out there.”

The Photo Derby and Video Derby will take place over the summer months with entries closing on Aug. 31. Students and their parents will be encouraged to visit family friendly events at Ontario racetracks for inspiration for the theme which is standardbred horses.

Complete rules and details for all four contests can be found on the BGRA website.

Tom Rankin’s Horse Farm Open House

Children and their families are invited to visit the farm and see the foals on Saturday (May 13) from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 1490 St. Paul St. West in St. Catharines. Please register no later than May 10 by contacting Rankin Construction at 905-684-1111 during business hours from Monday to Friday.
