Change of scenery could breathe new life into Dexter Cup

Though the loss of Freehold Raceway is sad, one of its signature races looks to have a rebirth at The Big M.

A stake for 3-year-old trotters with rich history, the Dexter Cup has fallen on hard times over the years. But the former early-season staple on the road to the Hambletonian could be reinvigorated as the race, formerly contested at the now-departed Freehold Raceway, will now be run at The Meadows, with the 2025 edition taking place next Saturday (May 3).

In the distant past, the stake had produced top Hambletonian hopefuls year after year. The early 1990s was when the race was last at its highest. That's when the eventual 1993 Hambletonian winner, American Winner, won the race. The next year, the great Mr Lavec won the Dexter Cup and was a narrow runner-up in that year's Hambletonian to Victory Dream.

The race hasn't been completely terrible since then. Sir Pinocchio, who won last year's race, was a nice sophomore trotter. The New York Sire Stakes champion also won the Matron, a Canadian Trotting Classic elimination and earned over $640,000 last year. The winner two years ago, Khaosan Road, also won a few other fringe stakes in addition to the Dexter Cup. But since 1993,

Courtesy Hambletonian Society
American Winner (Ron Pierce, winning the 1993 Hambletonian) was the last Dexter Cup winner to go on to win the Hambletonian.

“We’re already seeing a change in the audience that’s paying into the race. The 2-year-olds that made their March payments to be eligible next year in 2026, are up over 100 per cent from last year. So, it’s going to be a much different audience of horses to draw from next year. We were definitely apprehensive as to what the 2-year-old payments in March would look like based on what we saw in February, but when they came back so high, it’s going to widen that audience for 2026.”

to look at it another way, the Pennsylvania fair circuit, as one example, has produced more Hambletonian winners than the Dexter Cup.

Other than the obvious difference with the race now moving from a half-mile track to a mile oval, the composition of the race at The Meadowlands next week will resemble the race had it been run at Freehold. But a change in its participants and how the race is viewed as a viable first stop on the road to the Hambletonian may be coming.

In assessing the number of eligibles from this year’s February and March stakes payments, Hambletonian Society president and CEO John Campbell said, “We actually saw a decline in our 3-year-old payments for February to be eligible for this year, which we were disappointed in to not have as big an audience we would have hoped for this year. The only thing we came up with as an explanation was that the audience that paid into the race for this year looked like trainers that either haven’t raced at The Meadowlands much, or they were nominating horses that they thought were more suited for a half-mile track but wanted to race early.”

The lack of entries in the 3-year-old stakes payments, as noted by Campbell, has resulted in just 10 horses remaining eligible for the May 3 race, which will be drawn early next week. And looking at the past performances of those 10 horses with a couple of them not having raced at all this year and another showing one subpar qualifier a month ago, the number of actual race entries will be even lower. This shouldn't be a reflection or indication of where the race is heading though, as the race was still to be contested at Freehold when 2-year-old payments for the crop began over a year ago, and Campbell has already noted a turnaround for the shape of the race for next year.

In comparison to this year's nominations, Campbell said, “We're already seeing a change in the audience that's paying into the race. The 2-year-olds that made their March payments to be eligible next year in 2026, are up over 100 per cent from last year. So, it's going to be a much different audience of horses to draw from next year. We were definitely apprehensive as to what the 2-year-old payments in March would look like based on what we saw in February, but when they came back so high, it's going to widen that audience for 2026.”

One could debate if the stake comes too early in the season to be a true steppingstone towards the Hambletonian, but I personally like the niche it's carved out as the start of the stakes season for 3-year-old trotters. Timing wasn't an issue in the 1990s when it was always conducted in May, and it shouldn't be one now either. The timing gives horses who have been developing at different times, and may have not yet proven to be of the quality of the ones that will be returning later in May and June, a chance to compete at higher levels at The Meadowlands earlier in the year. Plus, with the newly-minted harness racing graded system, I believe that the Dexter Cup, along with its Grade 3 designation, will be the first race next week to provide harness racing with a graded stakes winner.

Another noted change will be a new format for the Dexter Cup. In the past the race format featured eliminations and a final. At The Meadowlands, the Dexter Cup (along with the Lady Suffolk for sophomore filly trotters), will be spilt into divisions when necessary. This won't be an issue this year as with the small number of entries the race would have gone straight into a final anyway (as it did last at Freehold as well). But the fact that horses won't have to race an extra week earlier while many are still training back could be viewed as a benefit, too.

By 2027, which would be the first year all nominations from that crop would have known the race is at The Meadowlands, the Dexter Cup could look vastly different than it has for the better part of 30 years.

MEADOWLANDS MATTERS

Prolific players say qualifiers are must-see TV

by Debbie Little

Since the calendar flipped from March to April, the number of weekly qualifiers at The Meadowlands has more than doubled, going from an average of 6.6 to 13.5.

The prospect of being at The Big M on a Saturday morning at 9 a.m. — less than 10 hours after live racing wrapped up on Friday night — may not be appealing to everyone, but professional punter Les Stark, and commanding general of the #SendItIn army, Gabe Prewitt, think it's must-see TV.

"If you don't watch them, you have no way of knowing the level of fitness that the horse is coming in with," Stark said. "Once you've been around for a while and your eye is trained to know when a horse is well within himself or not, that's what you're looking for.

"You're looking to see what kind of a winter they had and how they were training back, because if you talk to trainers, they'll tell you this one's been training really good, this one's been behind, had a little problem over the winter and is a little bit behind, and you know, you have to play catch up.

"So, all these things you can see for yourself without having any inside knowledge just by kind of having an eye for it."

Since being named the vice president/general manager of racing at Harrah's Hoosier Park, Prewitt doesn't get to watch as many live qualifiers as he used to.

"But I do watch them," said Prewitt, adding with a laugh, "and, I mean, I've been dealing with the beginning of a race meet here [at Hoosier Park], so I've watched enough qualifiers to make someone sick the last few weeks as I'm handicapping Hoosier, because, with them so readily available, it's very easy to do.

"I think there's so much you can learn in a qualifier. Like a guy might crank a horse up for just the last eighth-of-a-mile, when he finally shakes loose and gets out or something. So, in the final quarter, if you're just looking at race lines, maybe it doesn't look overwhelmingly great, but you know if you saw it, that the horse was airborne, say, that final eighth-of-a-mile when he finally did turn the horse loose.

"It's like watching race replays. For every qualifier you watched, it'll give you a nugget of information, or something visually will catch your eye. It's a lot of work, but I think in this environment that we're in today, as tough as it is, as gamblers we're looking for every edge we can get, and it's just a huge tool. And the majority of the people probably don't put in the time to do it, so I think it's something that can give gamblers a huge edge if they're willing to put in the work."

Over the last couple of weeks, several stakes horses have made their seasonal qualifying debuts, including the 2024 Dan Patch 2-Year-Old Filly Pacer of the Year, Miki And Minnie.

"Well, you know, not all horses come back the way they left the year before," Stark said. "So, Miki And Minnie, while she was great at the end of last year, you don't know what kind of a winter she had, but when you watch her first qualifier [April 19] and you see how sharp she looked, it doesn't matter where she finished, she looked spectacular. Others would not be that way.

"This is a reference from very, very long ago, but a horse called Donerail, who was the 2-year-old champion [in 1994] for Stanley Dancer, when he came back at 3, he looked bad. And he qualified twice and he looked bad and eventually they ended up retiring him because he wasn't the same horse that he was at 2. So, these are things that you're looking for."

“You’re looking to see what kind of a winter they had and how they were training back, because if you talk to trainers, they’ll tell you this one’s been training really good, this one’s been behind, had a little problem over the winter and is a little bit behind, and you know, you have to play catch up. So, all these things you can see for yourself without having any inside knowledge just by kind of having an eye for it.”

~ Les Stark

Stark said there is a 100 per cent direct correlation between how a horse like Miki And Minnie qualifies and whether he’d bet her in her first pari-mutuel start of the year.

“Of course, we know about her talent from last year, so we kind of know what kind of horse we’re dealing with, but if she came back with a lackluster qualifier and she was in a race, because of her reputation, she possibly would be favored, I’d be looking to go the other way,” Stark said. “Whereas, she qualified so great [last Saturday] and she’ll probably qualify again [April 26] and they’ll let her out another notch, but this is what you’re looking for, how did they return from 2 to 3?”

“And even from a horse that’s off a month layoff, even if it’s a regular racehorse, you want to see that very thing.”

In addition to Miki And Minnie, Stark mentioned another horse that caught his eye in last week’s qualifiers.

“Mr Walner Fashion, who was a trotter from Jim Campbell’s stable, who showed a lot of speed but made a lot of breaks last year when he could have been winning races,” Stark said. “He looked sensational [last week] and if his colt overcame whatever manners or injuries that he might have had last year, I would look for him to have a big year.”

For Stark nothing beats watching the qualifiers in person.

“Just the angle of which you can focus on the back of the pack through your binoculars if you’d like to, you’re not kind of locked into whatever the feed is showing, and, of course, it’s showing it from a distance and, with bad eyes, it’s hard for me to see the things that I can see when I’m there live,” he said.

Prewitt said he’d love to be able to watch qualifiers in person, but that’s not realistic, and at this point in time, he hasn’t even seen the recent ones at The Meadowlands yet.

“Unfortunately, I missed [the qualifiers at The Meadowlands], but that’s typical in my playbook,” Prewitt said with a laugh. “I’m a guy where half the time I don’t even know I’ll be in my office.

I don’t even catch them all at Hoosier live. I’m a big replay guy. But before I am going to be investing, those will be reviewed.

“In qualifiers, there’s no obligation [for the horses] to do anything. There are guys that just want to get them around there and teach them to race. So, you want them to finish with confidence, so to speak, if they’re sitting far back, but you never really know what their motivations may be, so that’s why, visually, you just want to watch those.

“A thing with 2-year-olds that I really watch for, and it really helps when you’re there in person even more, you can kind of watch a horse’s manners when they’re just coming on the track. Is it a hot horse that’s a little erratic, maybe giving a driver some problems? I’ve caught several of those being at Breakfast With the Babies over the years, and played against them even though their qualifiers looked fine. I sort of note the negatives just as much as I note the positives.”

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

New stars discovered

by John Berry

Few of us have ever heard of Hipparchus, known for discovering the first nova, meaning new star.

In today's world of amazement, astronomers have something called gravitational lensing to discover 44 new stars in a distant galaxy.

New stars are continually being discovered in harness racing as well, as the youth that have chosen our sport as their vocation begin to make their mark on our racetracks.

Back a bit more than 50 years ago, I used to have lunch with Dave Magee — before he was famous — at a cafeteria across from Maywood Park.

Hard working, classy, respectful, talented, I knew, even back 50 years ago, Magee would be Hall of Fame worthy.

Fast forward 30 years or so — late 2004 — and here I was at Pompano Park catching a qualifier or two and saw a 16-year-old make a sharp pari-mutuel like quarter-move to the top with a horse and win in 1:55.1, :56.4.

The kid's name was Matt Kakaley and by just looking at the way he handled that horse, I had that feeling that he, with the same credentials as Dave Magee, would, someday be highly regarded in our sport.

Since the days of O G's Charlene, Kakaley is closing in on 7,000 wins with almost $120,000,000 in purse earnings for the owners and trainers that have benefitted from those same "Dave Magee traits."

Just a few years ago at The Pomp, gents like Marvin Luna, Braxton Boyd and Brett Beckwith spent the infancy of their years in the sport right in South Florida, all building credentials worthy of note and all being in their early 20s, something our sport has sorely needed over the years.

For me, the search for youth always continues, watching for youngsters to carry the torch for our sport for decades to come.

Two young men have caught my eye these days — Zyler Maxwell and Jesse Barnard, both drivers in their teens — both winners in their respective USHDC amateur events at Oak Grove Racing and Gaming in recent weeks.

Zyler Maxwell, now 18, got his first drive — and win — in Philadelphia — not PA, but MS — yes, in an afternoon fair at Mississippi's version of Philadelphia, population about 7,000.

The 16-year-old won with the sophomore filly Rockin Ella Mae in 2:01 from the second tier, and compiled a .322 batting average in his 29 starts that year.

In 2023, he won 19 of 49 starts, had a UDRS of .531 leading up to his best year in 2024 with 21 wins and $126,353 in bounty for his owners.

This year, thus far, he has five wins and is now just one win away from a milestone 50th win.

In a recent interview, Maxwell spoke about his entree into harness racing.

"Before I started in harness racing, nobody in the family raced horses," he said. "As a young kid, I always wanted a horse but, in reality, 'team roping' was the only thing I had in mind. One day in 2017, my mom mentioned to a friend, Jeffery Hunt, that I liked to ride horses, I was 11 [years old] at the time and arrangements were made for me to ride horses.

"The next day, we went to Mr. Julius Beck's barn and there was a guy jogging a horse.

For me, the search for youth always continues, watching for youngsters to carry the torch for our sport for decades to come.

I was very confused because all I had been accustomed to was seeing riding and roping videos and had never seen anything like a horse jogging before. They had a yearling filly there and Mr. Hunt said I could care for her, like clean her stall, feed her and brush her. I knew nothing about young horses, especially standardbred horses, in general.

"A couple of days later, they had a couple of older studs that were training to race and they let me jog for the first time. Rockin Snowman and Cruising With Koby were the two horses and 'Rockin' won a race at the [Philadelphia] fair in 2:06 and, you know who was also in the race? Jeremy Bobbitt, who is doing great for himself today.

"Cruising With Koby also won a race at the fair in 2:04 and something [2:04.2] and didn't make much money [$1,454], but, after getting the thrill of jogging those two, I was hooked and knew what I wanted to do for the rest of my life."

Jesse Barnard, 19, comes from "the other side of the road" in a number of ways.

"Foaled" in Montreal, QC, his family is heavily involved in racing with his mom and dad stabling at The Meadows — his mom, by the way, a member of the iconic Turcotte family.

“I get to the barn as the sun comes up – maybe a little before that – take care of all the horses and then get the jogging done and then go back and make sure all of our horses are safe and sound. On race days, we’re at the track all day – and sometimes into the night – but I wouldn’t have it any other way.”

~ Jesse Barnard

“My dad, Robert Barnard, has been in the business ‘forever’ [USTA records show 2000] and they are my biggest influences and a guy I work for Rob Laffoon, too,” Jesse said. “They taught me – and continue to teach me – all the many things that make a great horseman and, one day, I hope to be in that category.

“Another horsemen that I look up to is my uncle, Mel Turcotte, who taught me to always stay humble, win or lose. I consider my family to be really good horsepeople that have the ability to figure out problem horses. They work hard and have taught me well. To be successful in this business, you really have to work hard and I am so willing to do that.

“I get to the barn as the sun comes up – maybe a little before that – take care of all the horses and then get the jogging done and then go back and make sure all of our horses are safe and sound. On race days, we’re at the track all day – and sometimes into the night – but I wouldn’t have it any other way.

“My career as a trainer/driver – yes, I train some – began last year and my first win was at the Butler [PA] County Fair with a filly I owned named Dig Deep. She won in 2:01 with a last half in :59 and, to make it even more special, I had a second-tier post, so it was extra special.”

HRU then asked if Jesse had an idol in the sport.

“Absolutely,” he said, “My idol is Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. because of kind, professional demeanor. He gives his horses every opportunity to win and do its best. I am hoping, someday, to have a large stable of my own and be a good enough driver that, if someone is looking for a catch driver, they would put me down to drive, just like last week in the amateur race at Oak Grove.

“That was quite a thrill for me, Mr. Oke allowed me to drive his horse and he went a big mile to get his first win of the year. He really dug in for me when it counted. Going to the gate, I remembered some advice from Ronnie [Wrenn] and Aaron [Merriman] and they taught me, ‘If you have a horse that can leave, leave with authority!’”

Harness racing needs 1,000 more teenagers like Maxwell and Barnard, you know, the ones still below drinking age, like Kyle Swift, Carson Conrad, William Carter, Colton Noble, Wyatt Long and Wyatt Farmer, to carry the torch forward and preserve and add to the great history of our grand sport.

On top of that, we need countless carbon copies of Ellen Taylor, who does such outstanding work on behalf of our sport with the Harness Horse Youth Foundation with programs, educational initiatives, workshops and scholarships literally fostering the next generations of participants in our sport, whether they be drivers, trainers, farriers, caretakers and, equally important, fans.

Time stops for no one as we continue to search for stars in our harness racing galaxy.

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

With 100 days until Hambletonian 100, let's look back 100 years at the lead up to the first Hambletonian

by Bob Heyden

Thursday (April 24), marked exactly 100 days until the 100th Hambletonian on Aug. 2.

But if you go back two days to Tuesday (April 22), and go back a century, you are 100 years to the day from an article written in the Horseman Review, the No. 1 harness racing periodical of the day.

It was 495 days from the very first edition of the Hambletonian on Aug. 30, 1926. It's simply amazing how with that much time between the article and the actual first Hambletonian, how right on it the editorial staff (no byline) was on what was about-to-be harness racing's signature race.

The following are from two different accounts meshed together concerning the upcoming debut of the initial (1926) Hambletonian.

"For a long time, it has been felt that we needed, in connection with colt racing, an event in keeping with the trend of the times, one that would be truly representative of the sport in a major way and so, stimulated by this idea, a coterie of well-known breeders and owners evolved the Hambletonian Stake. The thoroughbred turf has received a large impetus from the large purses provided for running horses but, until the advent of the Hambletonian, our pastime offered no fixture for either aged or young trotters that compared in value to those given in the rival field of sport."

In a separate article:

"We recognize this as the period in which things must be measured upon a large scale in order to attract attention, and that was the very idea which prompted the introduction of the Hambletonian in 1924. Our futurity fixtures for colt trotters were ample to cover the period in which they were originated, but along came the great war and, as a result of the tremendous expense attached to it and the advance of prices of everything in the way of luxuries and commodities, we had to set up a new standard of values. Expenses of all sorts connected with breeding and racing horses increased and, if something is not done to offset these extra charges, we would be automatically facing big deficits on breeding and campaigning. The game is not an easy one to play, and love of the sport alone is the incentive of most of its devotees." Remember, that by mid-April 1925, the motions and efforts were already looking at the second Hambletonian in 1927.

"The introduction of the Hambletonian Stake not only gave harness racing valuable and much needed publicity, but viewed from a purely commercial standpoint, it has proved of inestimable value to our breeding and racing interests. In designing its conditions, the Hambletonian Society kept in mind the important fact that our breeders, large and small, had to be looked after for they are the source of supply and constitute the very backbone of our affairs. It was for this reason the nominal charge of $10 was made as the entry fee, the future payments being so arranged that the owners of the yearlings would not be required to invest largely in their future prospects until they had an opportunity to ascertain something definite as to the capability of their candidates."

"For a long time, it has been felt that we needed, in connection with colt racing, an event in keeping with the trend of the times, one that would be truly representative of the sport in a major way and so, stimulated by this idea, a coterie of well-known breeders and owners evolved the Hambletonian Stake."

“There is no guesswork or speculation about the business side of the Hambletonian Stake for, with two payments yet to be made in the inaugural event, we have on hand more money than was paid out in 1924 for 3-year-old trotters in the Kentucky Futurity, The Review, The Stallion, The Horseman, Matron, and American Horse Breeder Futurities combined!”

Continuing on:

“The gentlemen who have given their time and thought to the event deserve the cooperation and commendation of every lover of the trotting horse and it behooves breeders, owners and drivers and all elements connected to our pastime to constitute themselves agents for the outstanding stake eventing our field of sports.”

$5,000 was set aside as a reward to the breeders.

“The Hambletonian Stake is so great an asset and means so much to us that we should make it a personal matter to see that its merits are called to the attention of every owner and breeder of a yearling.” So great an asset 495 days out? Wow!

In conclusion:

“There is no guesswork or speculation about the business side of the Hambletonian Stake for, with two payments yet to be made in the inaugural event, we have on hand more money than was paid out in 1924 for 3-year-old trotters in the Kentucky Futurity,

The Review, The Stallion, The Horseman, Matron, and American Horse Breeder Futurities combined!”

And lastly:

“From all reasoning, the second Hambletonian should attract more entries than did the first one, for our anticipation has been more than realized in every way. We thought that $50,000 could be raised but now it appears a certainty that No. 1 will be worth over $60,000 [actually $73,451]. Every owner figures his yearling or yearlings are at least on a par with those owned by other parties, and, this being the case, it would be practically useless to hold on caring for them and arranging to have them broken if they were not considered good enough to enter the Hambletonian at the nominal cost of $10 on May 1.”

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Kelly Clifford has racked up plenty of miles and heart horses on her harness racing journey

by Chris Lomon

Kelly Clifford has mapped out a most interesting harness racing career.

That one day she would work with horses was never much of a longshot for the well-spoken woman from Dixmont, ME.

In fact, a fondness for all things equine was evident early on in her life.

"I have always loved horses, ever since I was a little girl," Clifford said. "I loved reading about them, loved being around them – just everything. My original goal in life was to be a thoroughbred jockey. I thought that was the coolest thing in the world, but as I got older, I knew that wasn't feasible."

Standardbred racing wasn't originally on her radar – but she eventually discovered it.

"As far as harness racing, I didn't come from a background in the industry," she said. "My parents, on both sides, are dairy farmers. But I would follow along by reading the newspaper back when they printed the results. I would glance through those and see who the people and horses were who were winning – so I followed along in that way."

"Eventually, I met a couple of people who were involved and paid a little more attention."

Clifford paid a lot more attention when she moved across the street from Bangor Raceway just under 20 years ago.

The bright lights, sights and sounds seemed to beckon her to cross the road.

"I was able to walk over and go watch the races," said Clifford, who started a full-time role at the University of Maine in the athletics department as an equipment manager in 2004. Three years later, she began taking classes in the school's equine studies department.

"The following year, I ended up meeting Sonia Bartlett, [driver] Jason's mother," Clifford said. "She said, 'Why don't you come out and help us one night at the races and see if you like it?' That was all it took. I was hooked. It was in my blood."

Clifford, who had once dreamed of getting a leg up on thoroughbreds, was now harnessing her love of horses into the sport of pacers and trotters.

And she loved every minute of it.

Developing bonds with standardbreds came naturally to her.

"The University of Maine also owned a racehorse named Pembroke White Out, who was based in the Val Grondin barn, and I helped out with her paddocking and such for a few years," Clifford said. "In 2011, I became a racehorse owner on Robby's Cameo with my best friend Michael DeRuntz."

Heart horses have been plentiful for Clifford.

"I could give you a handful, really," she said with a laugh.

Liberation, a bay mare bred by Arlene and Jules Siegel, is one of them.

"She was with the Bartletts when I first started out, a 3-year-old filly at the time," she said. "There was something where we just clicked. She was a spicy little wench, but I loved her.

"A couple of years later, she had finished her racing career with them and Sonia called me up. She knew I loved her and wanted to know if I wanted her. I wasn't sure if I was in a position to take her, but I said, 'Absolutely!'

"They ended up giving her to me. She raced for me for about a year and a half, and then I retired her. She's now living in Hopkinsville (KY), with Tyler Shehan. She is living the life of the queen bee down there. I have taken her all over the country, from Pennsylvania to New York, to Kentucky. She has kind of gone everywhere with me. The only reason she is there is because it just isn't feasible for me to have her here with me. But she is doing great, and that is the most important thing.

"Sonia teases me all the time. She will say, 'Man, she lucked out getting you.'"

Lacy Asset, who had one start as a trotter and 94 as a pacer, came into Clifford's life on campus in 2008.

Along with her studies and equipment manager responsibilities, Clifford was also a member of the university's drill team.

"I was still at the University of Maine, and since I worked there, I was able to take classes for free," Clifford said. "The university has a farm with dairy cows and horses – all standardbreds. People from the racetrack would donate their horses to the program so that we could help retrain and rehome them.

"Some of the horses were rideable enough to be on the university's drill team, so I was able to get involved with that program. The goal was always to get these horses and then adopt them out. A lot of the people who take the course fall in love with the horses and end up buying them."

Just like Clifford.

"The horse I was assigned, Lacy Asset, we kind of learned to ride together," she said. "I rode her on the drill team. She was such a wonderful mare. When I left Maine, I ended up buying her. So, I had Lacy and Libby with me in Pennsylvania."

They would soon have company.

Clifford found an immediate connection with For Now, a 2008 Lexington Yearling Sale graduate.

For Now, a bay son of Western Terror—Magic Moments, has also earned heart horse distinction for Clifford.

"When I got Liberation, I needed a trainer," she said. "I was at UMaine, and I was helping out Val Grondin and Heath Campbell with paddocks and other stuff, while I was working. [Trainer] Shawn Thayer also needed me to paddock, so he put me in charge of For Now. At the time, he was one of the top horses in Maine."

Bred by Perfect World Enterprises, the bay gelding would win 45 races in 123 starts, accompanied by $143,998 in career earnings.

"I fell in love with him and we just got along perfectly," Clifford said. "He was such a good boy, so nice to be around. I ended up leaving Maine at the beginning of 2014. I had been working with Shawn at the time – just in the mornings, and then on to my full-time job at the university.

"When I decided to leave Maine and go on to the next chapter of my career, which was a foaling intern at Diamond Creek Farm in Pennsylvania, For Now stayed behind. He was still racing under Shawn's name. In June or July of that year, I got a call from the owner saying that they were going to put him in the Ohio Mixed Sale. But they knew I loved him and asked if I wanted him."

She offered up a familiar reply.

"Again, I said, 'Absolutely!' and that's how I got him.

"I kept him for several months, but economics forced me to let him go. I sold him and entered him in Full Circle just in case."

A few years after she sold For Now, Clifford found out the horse was in a difficult situation, thanks to Full Circle.

She leapt into action.

"Some people I knew told me where he was, and I rescued him out," she said. "He is back with me and is also living in Kentucky.

“For whatever reason, I don’t like to settle down in one place for a long time. I like the experience of being able to see different places and go to different tracks. I have a checklist of tracks I have been to and that I want to see. It’s always nice when you can check a new one off.”

~ Kelly Clifford

He is a riding horse for Wranglers Riding Stable at Land Between the Lakes. He does guided trail rides, so he is enjoying a great life. If he ever comes up lame or sore, he will come back to me.”

The only caveat is where Clifford would be should she receive the call.

Not quite a sojourner or a wayfarer, nor peripatetic, perhaps itinerant is the best way to define the horsewoman who is always up for a new horse-related adventure.

There have been plenty.

In 2016, Clifford left Diamond Creek and went to Florida for the winter with Val Grondin and Heath Campbell to help break babies. She took a break from racing one year later, but was still heavily involved with horses, mostly with a therapeutic riding program in Pennsylvania. In 2018, she was back in the barn, working for trainer George Ducharme in New York, and Florida in the winter, until the end of 2021.

Clifford moved to Kentucky in 2022, to work for Diamond Creek as a farm manger. During that summer, she worked under trainer Nancy Takter with the Diamond Creek racehorses she had, including 15-time winner Cannibal, a son of Sweet Lou—No More Losses, who had $785,040 in purse earnings over 27 lifetime starts.

In August of 2022, she reunited with a familiar face.

“I was working for George [Ducharme] in Florida and this horse, Life Is A Feast, landed in my stall as a 2-year-old,” she said. “We instantly clicked. I looked at him and he looked back to me, and we bonded right away. It sounds silly, but that’s how it was.”

The son of Royalty For Life—Luau Hanover was a joy to be around, but tough to get a handle on as a racehorse.

“He was very difficult to break, so George had to work hard on him,” Clifford said. “Howard Parker was working there then, and he took him under his wing. He ended up winning the Mass Sires Stakes and set a track record at the time. He turned into something special, and I doted on him. He was also Ontario eligible, so he ended up going there to race in some Grassroots events and came back to me as a 3-year-old at the end of the year. From there, he went back to Ontario, and raced elsewhere, but I always kept track of him because I wanted to see him do well. I also wanted people to know that if he needed a home, I was available.”

As it would turn out, Life Is A Feast would require a home.

Enter Clifford.

“Three years ago, I was in Kentucky, working on that breeding farm, and also helping out Nancy Takter at The Red Mile,” Clifford said. “Through the owner he had then, Triple S Equine, I learned that he had posted a roster for a sale that was upcoming. I read the breeding, and I knew that it was Life Is A Feast. I was in Kentucky, and I wanted to buy him. The day the auction came, a man named Tommy Riley agreed to help me, and when the horse came in the ring, I was bidding over the phone.”

Clifford’s bid was the winning one.

“I gave him time off and put him back in training eventually,” she said. “He ended up winning his first two starts for me the following year — which was two years ago — at Plainridge, and his second win we got him his lifetime mark. We have had some ups and downs, but I have got him qualified at Saratoga and we will get him ready for Plainridge.”

In 2023, Clifford went back to the Sunshine State and the Val Grondin and Heath Campbell stable.

She had a new role when she arrived.

“I had my new trainer’s license,” Clifford said. “Val and Heath were a big help in helping me get Life Is A Feast to the races. Heath was my regular driver and jogger for him. I have been blessed with great people like Val and Heath. I was with them until this winter and then I went to Ohio to work for Mike Hitchcock and race my horse.”

Currently, Clifford is in a New York state of mind, working with Mitch Cushing, and getting Life Is A Feast ready for the 2025 Plainridge racing season – opening day was April 14.

And that suits Clifford perfectly.

“For whatever reason, I don’t like to settle down in one place for a long time,” she said. “I like the experience of being able to see different places and go to different tracks. I have a checklist of tracks I have been to and that I want to see. It’s always nice when you can check a new one off.”

Briggs part of Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame's 2025 class

by Chris Lomon for Ontario Racing

Dave Briggs, one of horse racing's most respected and decorated writers, has been named as one of the distinguished inductees to the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame in 2025.

Briggs, selected in the communicator category, has covered horse racing with integrity and unwavering commitment for over 30 years and in doing so earned rightful status as a well-respected figure and proud supporter of the sport.

The latest honor, in what is a lengthy list of accolades and acknowledgment of his contributions to the industry, is a meaningful one for the Port Stanley, ON resident.

"It's surreal and mind-numbing and humbling all at once," said Briggs. "At a time when many of us have a heightened sense of what it means to be Canadian, I am deeply honored. All I ever wanted to do was articulate how much the people in this sport love their horses and the game. That it led to this is truly wild and unexpected."

But no doubt deserving for the man inducted into the Communicators Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY, by the U.S. Harness Writers Association (USHWA) in 2018.

Briggs, who worked for The Canadian Sportsman for 19 years before it ceased publication in 2013, currently serves as the editor of Harness Racing Update and communications and content specialist for Ontario Racing.

Over the years, Briggs has won nearly 30 national and international awards, including a record 12 USHWA John Hervey Awards and four Standardbred Canada O'Brien Media Excellence Awards.

He was named the Tom White Media Award winner for 2023 by the Little Brown Jug and the Delaware County Fair. He also has earned two World Trotting Conference Media Awards, an Ontario Equestrian Publication Award, and a Dan Patch Media Award.

The former editor of Canadian Thoroughbred also has won two Sovereign Awards.

Briggs will continue to spotlight the sport and its horsepeople through his roles at Ontario Racing and HRU.

"My entire career has been built on a passion for Ontario horse racing and the nearly 23,000 people that work in the industry in the province," he said when he joined Ontario Racing in February. "I'm looking forward to helping promote all that makes Ontario one of the greatest horse racing jurisdictions in the world."

Gordon Thain, executive director, Ontario Racing, lauded Briggs for his impact on the industry.

"Congratulations to Dave, his wife Laura, and their children, on what is a fitting acknowledgment of his outstanding service to our great sport," said Thain. "On behalf of everyone at Ontario Racing, we thank you for all that you do for our equine athletes and devoted horsepeople."

Briggs joins the following in the 2025 Class of inductees to be formally inducted on Aug. 6:

Game changers: Dealin With Dewey

by Matthew Lomon for Woodbine communications

Once a week, throughout the Mohawk racing season, Woodbine will profile a horse who had a life-changing impact on one of their closest connections in 2024.

Leading off the series, trainer Sara Baillargeon, and her family's homebred trotter, Dealin With Dewey.

"I looked after his mother, and I was there when he was born, so he will forever hold a special place in my heart," said Baillargeon of her beloved 7-year-old bay.

Dealin With Dewey (ON) Bio

Foaled: June 15, 2018

Sire: Wheeling N Dealin

Dam: Rockin With Dewey

Wins-seconds-thirds: 19-21-13

Earnings: $346,533

Trainer: Sara Baillargeon

Owner: Sara Baillargeon

Breeder: Benoit Baillargeon

What were your first impressions of Dealin With Dewey?

"Even now as a 7-year-old, I am reminded daily of how much 'mother' is in him. She was opinionated in the barn, and a handful on the track. As a youngster, he was very similar. He had a couple setbacks during his 3-year-old and 4-year-old campaigns, and during those times, he showed me he inherited her grit as well.

"I am thankful to have had my father's help in developing him; I couldn't have done it alone. He still has his quirks, but he's calmer now. He's very much a routine-oriented horse, and he's got to have a buddy. He's very dependent on a friend – I might have to invest in a pony someday when I retire him."

How would you describe his personality?

"He's awesome. He's always in a good mood. I mentioned his routine, he likes to stick to that. Every morning, he recognizes my car, and he nickers when the barn door opens. If you keep him happy, he looks after you.

"He loves being outside, and as I said previously, he has to have a best friend at all times. He gets very attached."

What do you remember from the first win you had together?

"Our first win together was his first start of his 3-year-old season. I was only his groom at the time, though. As his trainer, it was at Mohawk with Louis [-Philippe Roy]. He went back-to-back after that win, which made that stretch extra special.

"Louis has probably driven him the most, but we've been lucky to team up repeatedly with Uncle Mario [Baillargeon], Sylvain [Filion], Jason [Ryan], and Aaron [Byron] over the years. Each of them knows how protective I am of Cooper [Dealin With Dewey's barn name]."

Three words to describe him?

"Happy. Determined. Social."

How has he changed your life?

"He has made a lasting impact on me. I can rely on him to fit my lifestyle. He tries every start, and at the end of the year, he has covered his expenses, and he's always looked after his best friend.

"In the last year, he's taught me how to manage him differently. He had a well-deserved winter vacation and didn't start racing until April. Then in August, he gave me a 1:51.3 win at Mohawk. That was a very emotional night for me.

"He also enabled my boyfriend and I to try out the meet at Saratoga in the fall. He's provided me with plenty of exciting opportunities."

Greg Grismore scores 8,000th career victory

Northfield Park regular Greg Grismore continued to climb the win ranks on Tuesday (April 22) earning his 8,000th career driving win aboard Disgruntled Carl in the nightcap at MGM Northfield Park.

Grismore, who grew up in Pandora, OH, starting in the business as a young teenager working with his father Mark. He has driven at many racetracks throughout his illustrious career including stints at tracks on the East Coast.

Grismore won his first race in 1987 and to date, 2007 was his winningest season with just over $5 million in earnings.

On Tuesday, Grismore left alertly with favorite Disgruntled Carl, but had to duel with Bars Open (David Lake) through much of the initial turn, but Grismore repelled the challenge finally clearing through a :28.1 opening quarter.

At the half in :58.3, Sierras Spirit (Tyler Angus) began a first-over attack on Disgruntled Carl, with Bazillionaire (Aaron Merriman) riding second over cover into the clubhouse turn for the final time.

Angus and Sierras Spirit continued to apply pressure to Disgruntled Carl, but at three-quarters in 1:27.4, Grismore stepped on the gas and Disgruntled Carl took off around the final turn.

Through the stretch, Sierras Spirit and Bazillionaire both took a shot at Disgruntled Carl, but he proved to be too good winning by 1¼ lengths in 1:58.1.

Grismore's biggest victories include wins in the Cleveland Classic (Won The West, 2007) and the Jugette (Good News Lady, 2008).

Meadowlands and partners donate to Myers family

The Meadowlands is proud to announce that the Hunter Myers Memorial Race raised over $41,000 on Saturday (March 29).

The Meadowlands thanks the fans and bettors who wagered in the dedicated race. It also thanks partners, the SBOA of NJ, Day

At The Track, US Off-Track, Red Rock, and Lien Games for their donations, and of course, Meadowlands chairman Jeff Gural for matching the revenue and donations.

"I recognize that, unlike my job, there is clearly an element of risk in being a driver," said Gural. "And while I did not know Hunter, I am glad our industry stepped up to be there for his family."

Woodbine Mohawk Park donated directly to the Hunter Myers GoFundMe.

"The passing of Hunter Myers is a devastating tragedy for his family, friends, and the entire racing community," said Jason Settlemyer, chief operating officer/general manager of The Meadowlands. "We are thankful that we all could come together and support Hunter's family during this difficult time."

The Meadowlands continues to extend its heartfelt condolences and prayers to Hunter Myers' family and friends, including his fiancée, Chloe, and son, Hayden.

Meadowlands continues road to zero drag

The Meadowlands continues to work towards eliminating the post-time drag each live race night.

The remaining schedule:

- Tonight (April 25) – 3-minute drag
- Saturday (April 26) – 2-minute drag

From now on, the TV broadcast will also show a graphic detailing the off time for the next race before displaying the race payouts.

There will be no drag for the opening of the 2025 Championship Meet on Friday (May 2). When the countdown clock hits zero, the horses will be called to the gate.

"We have decided to eliminate the 7-minute drag designed to accommodate our online customers," said Meadowlands chairman Jeff Gural. "We value our in-person and online customers, so we agreed to provide the expected time the horses will go to the gate for the next race. We hope this works, as criticism of the 7-minute drag is almost universal, and we need to maintain our off-track handle for this to work."

The Meadowlands is also working on removing the CAWs (computer-assisted wagering groups) from betting in the win pools after 2 minutes to post.

"We continue to work with the NJRC and BetMakers to make this happen," said Jason Settlemaier, the track's chief operating officer/general manager. "We have encountered some bumps in the road regarding the CAW project, but we hope both the commission and our tote provider can get this in place for our Championship Meet.

"We want our customers to know we hear them and are listening to their suggestions. We hope we can count on their continued support at the wagering windows, as so far, removing one minute each live race night to get to zero has had a negative impact on the export handle."

Desperate Man fastest in fourth round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series

Desperate Man, who was third in last year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series final as the favorite, lacked a win in the 2025 edition of the event coming into Monday's (April 21) fourth leg at MGM Yonkers Raceway, but changed his fortunes with a commanding 1:51 performance in the third of four $50,000 divisions. Apart from Desperate Man, it was the "Stratton Show" as both driver Jordan and trainer Cory had doubles.

Driven by Matt Kakaley, Desperate Man floated out from post 5 and drove on two-wide past a :27.2 quarter to wrestle control away from even-money favorite Verdun (Pat Lachance). After he got to the engine, Desperate Man clicked off the half in 55 seconds and the three-quarters in 1:22.4, then came home in :28.1 to hold off Verdun for the victory by a length and a quarter. Huntinthelastdolar (Jason Bartlett) finished third.

A 7-year-old Shadow Play gelding, Desperate Man is trained by Travis Alexander and is owned by Kathy Cecchin. This was his 28th career victory, he has now banked $1,525,774 and he paid $6.80 to win as the 2-1 second choice. The exacta was $17.60 and the trifecta $38.80.

Cory Stratton's first victor was Chase H Hanover in Monday's opening flight. Chase H Hanover, driven by Anthony Napolitano, got into a second-over past the half behind a parked-out Hellabalou (Yannick Gingras) but was sent three-wide on the third turn to take up the first-over position against pace-setter Binge On Yankee (Scott Zeron) before the 1:23.2 three-quarters.

Binge On Yankee, who had already given Hellabalou the cold shoulder through an opening-half of :26.2 and :54.4, was able to gamely fend off Chase H Hanover as well, but Chase H Hanover wouldn't go away through the lane and wore down Binge On Yankee late in the mile, defeating him by a neck in a time of 1:52. Churchviewfrankl IR (Brent Holland) tracked cover after he got away at the back of the pack and took third.

Chase H Hanover is a 7-year-old gelded son of Captaintreacherous trained by Stratton for owners El Dorado Stables and Robert Weinstein. Chase H Hanover is now a 33-time winner in his career, has pocketed $1,145,766 and returned $8.70 to win as the 3-1 third choice. He was atop an $87.50 exacta and a $285 trifecta.

Jordan Stratton got on the board in the second split with Mossdale Ben N, who grabbed his third victory in the series with a 1:51.2 effort from first-up. Why Not Now (Kakaley) carved out panels of :26.1, :55.2 and 1:23.2, but Mossdale Ben N, who vacated the pylons from fourth before the half, made steady progress on the rim and then went by Why Not Now on the final bend. From there, Mossdale Ben N had no issues, downing a second-over Himself N (Bartlett) by a length and three-quarters. Charlie May (Ron Cushing), who got shuffled behind Why Not Now after he got passed, was able to tip off the cones late on the final bend and ended up third.

Now with 15 tallies overall and a 7-1-0 record from eight tries in the U.S., Mossdale Ben N, a 7-year-old gelding by A Rocknroll Dance, has earned $244,019. Trained by Peter Tritton for owner PJT Investments Inc., Mossdale Ben N paid $2.20 to win as the 1-9 choice and fronted a $9.10 exacta and a $22.20 trifecta.

Last, but certainly not least, the Stratton Brothers would join forces with For Once Inmy Life, who improved to three-for-three in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series this year with a hard-earned 1:52.2 triumph in the final grouping. For Once Inmy Life left from post 3 but was challenged through the :26.4 quarter by a two-wide Typhoon Banner N (Joe Bongiorno). After Typhoon Banner N cleared, Stratton immediately re-moved, and he had For Once Inmy Life on the lead on the way to the :56.1 half.

Coaches Corner (Bartlett), who was after his third straight victory in the series, came to call first-over out of fourth as the field headed to three-quarters in 1:24.3, but For Once Inmy Life was resolute and wouldn't be overtaken, fending off a game Coaches Corner by a neck. 48-1 shot Finvarra A (Gingras) tracked the live cover from Coaches Corner from second-over and turned that into a third-place result.

For Once Inmy Life, a 5-year-old gelding by Downbytheseaside, was sent out by Cory Stratton for owner Winters Racing Stable. For Once Inmy Life now has a summary of 14-9-9 from 51 outings, has banked $466,615 and returned $5.50 to win as the 8-5 second choice. He led a $13.60 exacta and a $144.50 trifecta.

The MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims conclude Monday (April 28), with the $200,000 (added) final and $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation on Friday (May 9) where they will be joined by the $200,000 (added) final and $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Pacing Series.

FINAL MATCHMAKER PRELIMS SET: The last chance to earn points in this year's Blue Chip Matchmaker Series happens in tonight's (April 25) final leg, and there will be three $50,000 divisions. Aardie B Miki, who started the series three-for-three and then took last week off, starts from the pole position in the second section (race 5). She faces the likes of two-leg winner Walkin On Sunshine (post 6).

PICK 5 GUARANTEED POOL BOOSTED ON MONDAYS AND FRIDAYS: Continuing for every Monday and Friday card during the legs of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series and Blue Chip Matchmaker Series, MGM Yonkers Raceway, in conjunction with the SOA of NY, will offer a $20,000 guaranteed Pick 5 pool in race 5.

The guaranteed Pick 5 pool on Mondays is also a part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Big M 'guns' have to decide where to fire

Every winter, there are a handful of young drivers who make an impact at The Meadowlands, as most of the A-list pilots who won the Meadowlands Paces, Hambletonians, Breeders Crowns and Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championship events take a well-deserved rest after a hectic six months of Grand Circuit grind.

Since the start of 2025, four of The Big M's "Young Guns" — drivers under the age of 30 — have excelled, becoming part of the culture that is The Big M experience, but now, like every year when spring is sprung, it's time for these pilots to make decisions as to what to do next, as work for them becomes increasingly scarce with the drivers' room getting more and more crowded.

The driver with the toughest call to make is Brett Beckwith. The 2024 Dan Patch Rising Star Award winner has made a number of eyebrows rise with his success at the East Rutherford, NJ, mile oval, as the 22-year-old is currently atop the driver standings with 60 victories.

"If you were to have asked me a year ago, I would've said I'm going to go where I can get the most work, but as it's going right now, it wouldn't make much sense to leave," said Beckwith. "If I want to advance my career to the next level, then I have to take the chance and stay at The Meadowlands throughout the year. At that point, you need a little luck and the right opportunities. Plus, I have a very strong work ethic and drive to be my best, so that never hurts."

Braxten Boyd, whose 27 wins are good for a tie for fifth in the standings, is sure of what he has to do. Tonight's (April 25) card may be the last Big M fans will see of Boyd for a while.

"I actually have already made the decision to leave," said the 25-year-old. "I get lots of work at Tioga. It's a business. Usually, I have a better chance at making more money driving there and it's an hour closer to my home. With the top drivers back at The Meadowlands, I'll stay at Pocono and Tioga for as many races as I can and try to follow the New York Sire Stakes as much as possible."

Mark Herschberger, who didn't turn 30 until two weeks ago, has been the biggest surprise. For the most part unknown until a solid 2024 at Freehold, he currently sits fourth in The Big M standings with 29 winner's circle visits.

"Ideally, I'd love to stay at The Meadowlands through the summer, although that may not be an option with the Grand Circuit drivers returning," said Herschberger. "Right now, I'm driving seven days a week at four different tracks — Pocono, Yonkers, Chester and The Meadowlands. I'm hoping that, perhaps, when the big drivers take off for Sire Stakes, with the amount of travel they do, I'll still have a foot in the door at some of these tracks and be able to pick up some live mounts.

"I've prioritized The Meadowlands and Yonkers since they are closest to my home and where I'd like to really focus my drives. Freehold closing was a significant blow to the power I sit behind, so for now, I'm just waiting to see what tracks I get the nicest drives at and I'll take it from there."

Johnathan Ahle, a regular at Rosecroft and the leading pilot at the Maryland track in 2024, is currently tied for the fifth spot in The Big M standings with Boyd.

"Chester is now open, so I'll be over there," said the 28-year-old Ahle. "As far as The Meadowlands goes, opportunities will start slimming down.

"I was usually at Freehold on Saturdays. It was another day of racing and another paycheck and it's nice to fill an afternoon. As far as the weekends coming up, I have no real plan set up. I'll take it as it goes. There'll be some possibilities at Pocono, and, who knows, maybe a New York track. Once the stakes season starts, a lot of the bigger drivers are always moving around, so I'll try to hit'em where they ain't."

HERBERTSON IN THE SULKY: James Herbertson, a 25-year-old standout driver in his native Australia, will be Dave Little's "In the Sulky" guest when the interview segment is conducted Saturday night at approximately 5:50 p.m.

Herbertson is spending a few weeks in the United States to have a look around and see what things could be in the event he was to consider relocating down the road.

The pilot hasn't had many drives, but one he does have is a good one from the Ron Burke barn. Last week, he drove track-record holder (for an older gelding) Lexus Kody to a second-place finish in the featured trot and will drive the horse again in tonight's marquee event.

GLASER TOP 'CAPPER: Robert Glaser ended Saturday (April 19) night with a bankroll of $798.65 to win the fourth leg of the 2025 Meadowlands Monthly Handicapping Contest. He and second-place finisher Jim Bohnczyk ($650.80) have now earned spots in the $10,000 end-of-the-year competition that will have only 20 players.

11 IS HEAVEN: Big M TV host Little and track announcer Ken Warkentin were red hot when it came to handicapping the horses last weekend. For the 28 races that took place April 18 and 19, Little and Warkentin both correctly selected 11 winners.

In addition, Little tabbed six Exactas and concluded Saturday's program with an ice cold "Little's Late Double," which returned $23.

Heather Wilder appointed to Hall of Fame screening committee

Heather Wilder, best known for her work with Altmeyer Wilder Racing and as president of the Keystone Chapter of the United States Harness Writers Association, has been appointed to a six-year term on the screening committee for harness racing's Hall of Fame. The committee meets annually to determine what people will reach the final ballot to try to achieve the sport's ultimate honor, membership in the Hall of Fame.

Wilder was named to the committee following the passing of USHWA chairman of the board, Barry Lefkowitz, by Michael Carter, the current president of USHWA.

"Heather brings a wealth of harness racing knowledge to the committee," said Carter. "Heather's work in multiple areas of the sport made her a solid candidate for the committee. She is someone who will bring an informed voice to the important discussions."

Chapters of USHWA nominate candidates for the Hall in late spring, and all nominated candidates go before the screening committee, which meets on the traditional Hall of Fame weekend in early July. This is when Wilder will be seated on the committee.

Wilder, along with her family, husband Mike, daughters and fellow members of USHWA Scarlett and Lauren, and parents Dan and Ruth Altmeyer, have spent nearly a decade building their brand, Altmeyer Wilder Racing. Their brand has over 6,400 followers on Facebook and promotes harness racing with a family feel each day.

Wilder is a widely respected horsewoman, and is active in many other parts of the harness racing industry. Wilder is globally known for her work with organizing the Vincent Delaney Memorial Tour and working on-air during the event held in Ireland.

In North America, Wilder's on-air talent shines through in her work with Two's In Training for Harness Racing Update, work with the Ontario Sire Stakes, and wrangling interviews for the Little Brown Jug each year.

Wilder is also known for her work on the Dan Patch Awards red carpet interviewing some of the sport's award winners.

Wilder's volunteer work also shines bright with her serving as a Pacing for the Cure board member, and with her commitment to the USHWA organization each year, both in her local and national chapters.

Kim Rinker named chairperson of the board of U.S. Harness Writers Association

Kim Rinker, the former chairperson of the board of the United States Harness Writers Association, has been voted unanimously by the directors of the organization to complete the term of the late Barry Lefkowitz.

After reviewing the bylaws that state the chairperson of the board shall be the most immediate past president of the Association, Rinker was consulted about filling the role for the final year and she more than willingly obliged.

Following a vote of the directors, Rinker began her role as chairperson of the board on April 1, 2025.

"I am extremely thankful that Kim was willing to take on the final year of Barry's term and I believe her expertise will help lead future officers in running the organization," said USHWA president Michael Carter. "While no one can replace Barry and he leaves a lasting legacy, I am excited to work with Kim on the board of officers. She has a wealth of knowledge of both the sport and the USHWA organization."

Shenandoah Downs to kick off its '10 Years of Racing in Woodstock' Spring Meet this weekend

Shenandoah Downs ushers in its 10th year of pari-mutuel harness racing in Woodstock, VA with a pair of nine-race cards this weekend on Saturday (April 26) and Sunday (April 27), highlighted by the final day's finale, a $9,000 winners over pace with a full field of eight. Each card includes two trotting events and seven pacing events. Post time both days is 1:05 p.m.

The seven-week spring meet continues every weekend through June 8 and will be followed by a four-day non-wagering Fair meet during the Shenandoah County Fair from Aug. 27-30 and the traditional Shenandoah Downs fall pari-mutuel meet from Sept. 13 – Oct. 26.

The entry and draw schedule changes slightly this meet. The entry box for both weekend days will close Wednesday at 9 a.m. and racing secretary Karen Fagliarone will conduct a double draw that day.

The Virginia Racing Commission updated an important rule for the meet earlier this week. Trainers must have their non-Lasix horses in their assigned stall no later than two hours to post time of their respective race, instead of the five-hour time frame which had previously been noted. Lasix must be administered four hours before the horse's race however.

The schedule for the Virginia Breeder's Fund Championship Series has been tweaked this year. In past years, prep and championship races in the 2 and 3-year-old pace and trot divisions had been held on closing day of the fall meet. This year, 3-year-old competition will be held closing weekend of the spring meet – trotters on June 7 and pacers on June 8 – while 2-year-old championships remain on closing weekend of the fall meet – trotters on Oct. 25 and pacers on Oct. 26.

The Mountain Racing Series, open to Virginia-Certified 4- and 5-year-olds who compete in $25,000 divisions based on sex and gait, will be held the weekend of May 31 and June 1. The first ever round of Virginia Sire Stake races – eliminations and finals for 2-year-olds – will take place in the fall.

Shenandoah Downs' simulcast signal is available to wager via all major ADW outlets and many tracks/OTBs around the country. Free TrackMaster programs and tip sheets are available at shenandoahdowns.com.

Altus Hanover, Golden Compass sweep Weiss prelims

Trainer Lou Pena and the Todd's Auto stable of Todd Cerenza came to Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania on Tuesday afternoon (April 22) with newly-acquired trotters Altus Hanover and Golden Compass, each horse looking to complete a sweep of the Game Of Claims Series' three preliminary rounds.

The horses accomplished their mission – but Pena and Cerenza left Pocono without either horse, as both were claimed out of their $17,000 races for a $30,000 claiming price.

Altus Hanover, driven by Anthony Napolitano won the fastest GOC split – indeed, he posted the fastest trotting mile of the year at Pocono, 1:52.3, in edging out Macmorris Hanover, driven by his brother George, by a neck. Macmorris Hanover (who was claimed out of all three legs, where he had a win and two seconds) drew just inside “Altus” and forced his main rival in behind him through splits of :27, :56.3, and 1:24.2, but Altus Hanover came out of the hole a little bit fresher and won the photo decision while also setting a lifetime mark.

“Anthony Nap” also had the seat behind Golden Compass, another horse claimed out of all three legs, and they surmounted post 7 on the engine to win by 2¼ lengths in 1:54. So, Joe’s Auto / Pena made $5,000 on this week’s upgrade in claiming price, plus today’s $8,500 winners share of the purse, thus profiting $13,500 minus expenses on each horse in a week’s time. But neither horse will be going in their name next Monday (April 28) in the $35,000 Game Of Claims championship.

In My Dreams, who was unclaimed in all three legs, had a chance to join in the Prelim Sweepers Club, but after going first-over and providing good cover to 2025 debutant Max, he could not hold that one safe in a 1:54.3 battle to the wire. Max, who won by a length, was driven by George Napolitano, Jr. for red-hot trainer Nicholas Devita and the Queen Of Hearts Stable.

Winning his second straight start in GOC competition was Do It Again IT, an Italian-bred who went uncovered and then bettered 85-1 shot Beach Dreamzzz by a neck to take a new mark of 1:54.2 for driver Tyler Buter, trainer Hunter Oakes, and the partnership of Flying A Racing Stable and H O Racing Inc. But Do It Again IT won’t be in the final because GOC rules require starting in all three prelims, and the foreign-bred did not go in the first leg.

And if a horse coming off two wins but not getting to the championship seems hard, imagine the feelings of Chapolier, who is undefeated in seven starts this season at Pocono. But he had worked his way to success (despite the outermost draw in his last three outings) while in for prices from $25,000 to $30,000, and since the first two prelims went for a lower base price, Chapolier’s connections – trainer Dean Eckley, co-owner with William Hartt – kept him out of the first two legs, thus making him championship-ineligible.

Chapolier picked up a 1:54.3 win Tuesday by a half-length over Cantkeepmiascret, with Napolitano, Jr. matching the two series wins on the day of his brother Anthony (who drove Cantkeepmiascret, and who topped all drivers Monday with four total successes). And Chapolier was claimed as well – for the fifth time at the meet, with $138,000 in checks exchanged on him alone. (Eckley / Hartt made $16,500 in purses since taking the horse two races back.)

The final GOC winner was Wabanaki, who greatly helped his chances of making the final (after 5-2 finishes) by quarter-moving then holding off Gabby’s Wild Child by a neck while lowering his mark to 1:55 for driver Braxten Boyd, trainer Per Engblom, and VIP Internet Stable LLC.

Racing resumes at 1 p.m. at Pocono on Saturday (April 26), with four $20,000 divisions of the third and final prelim of the Bobby Weiss Series for sophomore pacing fillies, containing three double winners in the Weiss to date – but only two could emerge as sweepers, since one prelim matches two “doubblers.” A solid $25,000 fast-class pace also adds to the Saturday Pocono program. Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

KARINCHAK VICTORIOUS IN WEISS SERIES FINALE: Flanked virtually the entire stretch by strong members of Team Orange Crush, the Chapter Seven colt Karinchak persevered strongly on the lead to win Monday’s (April 21) $50,000 championship of the Bobby Weiss Trotting Series for sophomore males in 1:53.2, equaling the fastest trotting mile of the year at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

Three-time defending Pocono driving champ Matt Kakaley got away third with Karinchak as Te Quiero Lindy (Tyler Miller) used the rail to his advantage and grabbed the early lead, with his uncoupled stablemate and favorite Green Mel (Andy Miller) settling in fourth. Kakaley, perhaps sensing that a likely last half scenario could be going first-over with the chalk on his back, roused his colt before a :27.3 quarter, making the lead heading towards the second turn and a :55.4 half.

It was Green Mel who was left to first-over duties from that positioning, and he advanced a position to the 1:24 three-quarters, then dropped inside when Te Quiero Lindy vacated the 2-hole to get in gear for the homeward battle. With Green Mel threatening inside him and Te Quiero Lindy still a major force outside him, Karinchak dug in for the victory, taking a new mark by a half-length over Green Mel, with that one’s barnmate another length back in third.

Karinchak was the only Weiss double prelim winner in this section after suffering interference in the first leg and then posting consecutive triumphs before his big win in the final. Ray Schnittker trains the talented 3-year-old, and he also co-owns him with Ted Gewertz, Arden Homestead Stable, and Steven Arnold.

There were also three $20,000 divisions of the third and final prelim of the Weiss sector for sophomore filly trotters. The only distaff to sweep all three prelims was the Six Pack miss Halfadozen, with driver Dan Dube using a familiar tactic, slowing the half then turning on the afterburners, and, again, the pattern worked, as Halfadozen came home in :56.4 to win by 8¼ lengths in 1:56.3. Dube co-owns the Pierre Paradis-trained filly with Jean Claude Dessureault.

While Halfadozen could name her victory margin, the other two divisions needed the photo-finish camera. The Orange Crush Millers won the fastest Weiss filly division with the Bar Hopping distaff Santa Cristina, who set the pace and withstood favored Admiring, a double Weiss prelim winner, by a nose, earning a new speed badge of 1:54.4. Tyler Miller guided the winner for trainer/mother Julie Miller and Willow Oak Racing LLC.

In the other Weiss cut, the Tactical Landing miss R Jezzy (ironically, bred by Andy Miller, but not the one of the orange variety) overcame the overland route to catch favored Gilda Bi by a neck in 1:55.1 for trainer John Butenschoen and lessees M and L Delaware / Armitage Farm.

R Jezzy was driven by Tyler Buter, who notched a six-bagger on the card to widen his advantage at the top of the Pocono standings to double digits. Robert Cleary and meet leader Ron Burke each sent out three winners on the program – and Buter drove all three of Cleary's charges, and two of Burke's.

CHARGE ME UP WINS $50,000 WEISS CHAMPIONSHIP: Coming into the richest race of the young season at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, the $50,000 championship of the Bobby Weiss Pacing Series for 3-year-old males, five of the eight entrants had won two of their three Weiss preliminaries. Yet winning the championship was the only horse who waited until the final prelim before getting a series success – the Heston Blue Chip colt Charge Me Up, who got the job done in a lifetime best 1:51.3.

Excluding a trot, the average clocking of a Saturday (April 19) Pocono race would have looked like this: :27, :56.2, 1:23.3, 1:52, the wind on the warm day reflected in the fractions' pattern. So, the feature certainly went true to form, as splits of :26.4, :55.4, and 1:22.4 were put up by second choice Ooglesville, with Charge Me Up (favored from the rail despite not winning until the final prelim) right behind him in the pocket and the rest of the field, a couple of whom had trouble early, not in the main action the last three-eighths. The winner pulled out near the head of the stretch and outfooted the pacesetter to tally by 3¼ lengths.

The Weiss championship was the richest race in a giant afternoon for Charge Me Up's connections – driver Tim Tetrack, trainer Nicholas Devita, and owners David Hamm and Glenn Phillips. Not only did they win the Weiss championship for males, they also won the group's consolation, and in the same time of 1:51.3. The Huntsville gelding Dune Buggy came from seventh under patented Tetrack second-over handling, winning by two lengths in breaking his maiden for the same sponsorship as Charge Me Up, with Devita Racing Stable Inc. sharing in this one's ownership.

And the afternoon's riches didn't stop there for the Team, as there were four $20,000 second preliminary divisions of the parallel Weiss Series for fillies, and the Cattlewash filly Albright became one of three misses to win her second straight in this Weiss grouping, just missing her mark with a 1:53.1 pacesetting clocking for the Charge Me Up gang. Tetrack would have a fourth stakes triumph (he won five races on the day overall) when he got the In The Arsenal filly Defamation to break her maiden in 1:55 for trainer Jeffrey Smith and owners Joseph and Steven Williams.

The other double Weiss winners among the distaff set, both establishing new marks, included the fastest winner, the front-ending Strutsville, who won by a nose over big favorite Allegra Hanover in 1:52 for driver Ridge Warren, trainer Ron Coyne, Jr., and owners Nancy Retzlaff and Douglas Stout while giving Huntsville the only stakes siring double, and Sweet Odds, a Sweet Lou filly who was a pocket rocket in 1:53.1 for driver Jason Bartlett, trainer Per Engblom, and Morrison Racing Stables.

Women Layer struts at Oak Grove in Sire Stakes score

Virgil Morgan, Jr. trainee Women Layer delivered all faith of his 2-5 promise in the second of two $50,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes (KYSS) divisions for 4-year-old pacing horses and geldings at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming and Hotel on Monday (April 21), stopping the clock in 1:50.4 to win by open lengths.

Driver Todd McCarthy circled Women Layer to the fore out of third after stablemate Lou Hill (driven by Dexter Dunn) cut a :26.3 quarter. Once on the point, Women Layer sailed around the track to post a :54.4 half and 1:22.4 three-quarters before pulling away while wrapped up to cross the beam 4¾ lengths better than Lou Hill in second. Steely Knife (Trace Tetrack) emerged from the backfield for third while Copperfield (Andy McCarthy) broke stride when rallying off the pylons and settled for fourth.

Winning his 13th race from 22 starts, Women Layer has now banked $411,079 and competes for owners Let It Ride Stables Inc., Douglas Overhiser, Jeff Fought Racing and Larry Wills. The gelding by Sweet Lou paid $2.70 to win.

Better Is Nice (Andy McCarthy) scored as the 3-5 chalk in the other KYSS division for 4-year-old pacing horses and geldings, powering first over to win in 1:52.1. Andy McCarthy floated away fourth while Total Stranger (Todd McCarthy) moved to carve the mile with a first-half clip of :27.2 and :56. While the tempo stayed steady to the backside, Better Is Nice was moved forward and ranged to press Total Stranger to three-quarters in 1:24 and eventually overthrew the pacesetter in the lane to grab the win by a length. Swaggy Cal (Jeremy Indof) swung off a pocket ride to rally for second while Total Stranger settled for third and Courtship (Marcus Miller) gave chase in fourth.

A stallion by Bettor's Wish with now $1,059,933 in the coffers for Alagna Racing LLC, Pryde Stables Inc. and Birnam Wood Farms, Better Is Nice made his 13th visit to the winner's circle from 30 starts. Tony Alagna trains the $3.52 winner.

Spy Coast (Jeremy Indof) uncorked a successful blitz in the lone $50,000 KYSS dash for 4-year-old trotting mares to down 3-2 favorite Woman Of Passion (Todd McCarthy) in a 1:54.1 mile. Indof mounted his charge out of third after Woman Of Passion set a sensible tempo of :27.4 and :56.4 on the lead. Spy Coast quickly rolled to match strides with Woman Of Passion moving to three-quarters in 1:25.1 and remained at her throat all through the far turn and the stretch drive. The Ron Burke trainee eventually overpowered the debuting chalk to slide a neck in front at the beam while Black Velvet As (Tony Hall) rallied for third and R Liza (Dexter Dunn) gave chase from a pocket ride for fourth.

Registering her ninth win from 32 starts, Spy Coast has now earned $269,827. The daughter of Walner returned $6 to win.

Bargain (Dexter Dunn) made a smooth first-over brush to crush the $50,000 KYSS division for 4-year-old trotting horses and geldings. Dunn activated his charge from fourth after a :27.3 and :56.3 tempo set by Ordained (Trace Tetrick) and easily strode forward on the rim to challenge towards three-quarters in 1:25.3. With the leader on fumes, Bargain scooted by and held firm to the line to notch a 1¾ length win over 2-1 favorite Convoy Hall (David Miller), who followed his cover for second. Ways N Means (Marvin Luna) shook free from a pocket trip for third while Tom's Muscle (Ernie Hendry) closed for fourth.

Nancy Takter trains Bargain, a gelding by Chapter Seven, for herself and co-owners Christina Takter & Anderberg, JAF Racing, Joe Sbrocco and R A W Equine Inc. The gelding won his sixth race from 27 starts, has now earned $378,086 and paid $6.60 to win.

Bath Bomb (Andy McCarthy) ripped off a pocket ride to better 2-5 favorite Asweetbeachhere (Todd McCarthy) in the lane and win the $50,000 KYSS split for 4-year-old pacing mares in 1:50.4. Asweetbeachhere set fractions of :27, :55.2 and 1:23.2 while Bath Bomb stalked all the way around waiting to strike in the stretch drive. The top pair peeled well clear of the competition in their sprint to the finish with Bath Bomb getting the better of Asweetbeachhere by three-quarters-of-a-length. Peace Talks (Dexter Dunn) emerged from the second tier to finish third, another six lengths behind, with Defining Moment (Trace Tetrick) fourth.

Per Engblom conditions Bath Bomb, a daughter of Lather Up, for owner Morrison Racing Stables. She won her fifth race from 17 starts, has now earned $144,360 and paid $11.52 to win.

Zeron tops at Pocono Wednesday qualifiers

Scott Zeron emerged as the star of the Wednesday morning (April 23) qualifying session at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania with four victorious drives, winning the fastest mile of the day and also with three sophomores trained by Jared Bako.

The quickest clocking came in the very first qualifier and was produced by Zeron and No Trespassing, a Sweet Lou sophomore gelding and a 1:51.1 winner at 2 at Pocono. Here the Deborah Daguet trainee No Trespassing pounced from the pocket to tally in 1:52.3 over Stonebridge Wizard, a Bako pupil who won the Battle of Waterloo at 2.

Zeron/Bako triumphed with the Huntsville filly The Last Martini, who went wire-to-wire in 1:53.2; the fast distaff earned over a half-million at 2, finishing 1-2 in her two Breeders Crown events and also winning her New York Sire Stakes championship.

The Tactical Landing gelding Top Floor Tactics, who only had one start as a baby, was ready to live up to his name, the 3-year-old winning from the 2-hole in 1:56.3 for Zeron/Bako. That pairing's third win came with the Dancin Lou filly Th Cha Cha Cha, a 1:57.4 winner.

Also impressive were the Papi Rob Hanover gelding Waterfront, a Pennsylvania Stallion Series winner at 2 and also a 1:53.2 winner Wednesday for driver Jason Bartlett and trainer Hunter Oakes, and the Pace Del Rio gelding Eugenio RL IT, unable to stay on the trot in two previous American starts but a parked-the-mile 1:55.3 winner here for driver Matt Kakaley and trainer Travis Alexander.

Its Saturday Night, Gem Quality dead heat at Big M

After a cutthroat stretch battle, there was no clear-cut winner of the Saturday night (April 19) feature at The Meadowlands, as Gem Quality and Its Saturday Night finished in a dead heat for win in the $20,000 high-end conditioned pace.

Its Saturday Night grabbed the lead at the three-eighths and led the field past the half in :56.3 as 4-5 favorite Gem Quality, making his first start of 2025, sat in the 3-hole. As the field started to move onto the far turn, Dexter Dunn activated Gem Quality and gradually made up ground on the leader racing uncovered on the rim as Its Saturday Night, the 5-2 second choice, hit three-quarters in 1:24.1.

Then, the battle was on.

Dave Miller continued to get pace from Its Saturday Night the length of the stretch as Gem Quality inched closer nearing the wire. Very late, Zeppole Hanover was moving well along the inside after a pocket trip and looked for an 8-1 surprise, but he would finish a head behind the top two as a final surge by Gem Quality earned him a shared winner's circle photo. The time for the mile was 1:50.3.

"He had only one qualifier coming into tonight but it was a good qualifier," said Dunn of Gem Quality, who is trained by Chris Ryder. "He was good in the straight there. Some pretty good horses hit the line together. I knew it was going to be a pretty good last quarter. My horse really knuckled down."

Gem Quality, a 4-year-old son of Captain Crunch—Twinkle, recorded his eighth lifetime win in 25 tries while lifting his lifetime earnings to just short of $660,000. He paid $2.20 to win.

"I thought it was an excellent effort," said Nifty Norman of his trainee, Its Saturday Night. "He's not really a front-end horse. I think he's only won one other race on the lead in his life. He really improved off his run from last week [when a close second in his seasonal debut]."

A 4-year-old gelded son of Always B Miki—Night Music, Its Saturday Night paid $2.80 after winning for the sixth time in 28 lifetime tries. His earnings are now almost $280,000.

GLASER TOP 'CAPPER: Robert Glaser ended the night with a bankroll of $798.65 to win the fourth leg of the Meadowlands Monthly Handicapping Contest. He and second-place finisher Jim Bohnarczyk ($650.80) have now earned spots in the $10,000 end-of-the-year competition that will have only 20 players. The next edition of the monthly $1,000 test is on Friday (May 16).

A LITTLE MORE: Brett Beckwith won four times on the program to pad his lead atop The Big M driver standings. The 22-year-old pilot now has 60 wins this year... Jason Bartlett guided three to victory lane and is second in the standings with 49 victories... All-source handle on the 14-race program totaled $2,503,606.
