Elitloppet-bound Logan Park (Doug McNair) winning the Woodbine Mohawk Park preferred trot on April 21.

THE VIEW FROM WOODBINE MOHAWK PARK

with MELISSA KEITH

It's fitting that the fastest Canadian-sired trotter in history will also be the first in three years to represent Canada at Elitloppet. The 2023 and 2024 O'Brien Older Male Trotter of the Year Logan Park (6, 1:49.2m; $1,553,509) set the early-season Canadian trotting record of 1:53 in his 2025 comeback race, the April 14 Woodbine Mohawk Park preferred. The gelded son of Archangel—Rite Outa The Park repeated in the April 21 preferred at his home track, equaling that 1:53 clocking, this time without Lasix, to prepare for his May 25 Swedish adventure, because Lasix is not permitted in Swedish races.

Perfetto was the most recent Canadian trotter invited to race in Elitloppet. He narrowly missed making the 2022 final, won by Etonnant, who will return in this year's edition.

A sort of homecoming in Sweden

Logan Park's part-owner Arpad Szabo nearly immigrated to Sweden as a child with his father. Now, the 82-year-old Hungarian-born Canadian will visit the Nordic country for the first time to race in the Elitlopp.

“It’s a thrill to represent Canada. I came here [from Hungary] as a kid and Canada was good to me. You get opportunities here if you work hard, so you’ve got to take chances in life, and maybe you get where you want to go... It took a long time to get there, but I guess I got my wish.”

~ Arpad Szabo

Arpad Szabo of Bradford, ON shares ownership of Logan Park with Outofthepark Stable, of Rockwood, ON and Reg Higgs, of Blenheim, ON. The 7-year-old black gelding was originally a $57,000 yearling purchase at the 2019 London Selected Sale.

“Well, I was surprised, actually,” Szabo told HRU on Friday (April 25). “I was happy just racing him in Canada and the United States. I wasn’t expecting to be taking him to Sweden. It was a pretty good year last year, so I was hoping he’d come back about the same as he was last year, so it’s an honor to take him over there. We got invited and we decided we’re going to take him.”

Logan Park is one of six trotters currently invited to compete in the 2025 Elitloppet at Solvalla Racetrack. The other horses to receive “pink tickets” so far are: The Locomotive (Australia); Go On Boy and Etonnant (France); Borups Victory and Francesco Zet (Sweden).

Szabo said he is trusting trainers Rob and Kyle Fellows with the plans for Logan Park’s first overseas start.

“For a long time, [Rob] has been training horses for me and we keep in touch very often,” Szabo said. “I have other horses with him too, you know, a couple of yearlings and a claiming horse here and there. He was the one who told me about it. I talk to Robert, Kyle, and Yolanda Fellows. I go up to their farm pretty often.”

The 82-year-old owner said he was surprised to see his horse invited to Solvalla.

“I have a partner in Alberta, Blair Corbeil... He talked about [the 2025 Elitlopp] sort of, but I never took it seriously,” Szabo said.

With the May 23-25 Elitloppet weekend less than a month away, Szabo said he had made plans for his own travel to Stockholm.

“My son [Arpad, Jr.] is going to come with me, because I don’t want to take on a trip like that by myself in the airports and stuff,” Szabo said. “I’m up in age a bit, but I’m going for sure now.”

He told HRU that Logan Park would be cheered on by a strong Canadian entourage.

“I don’t know how many, but I hear there’s maybe 20 or so,” he said.

There is a poignancy to Szabo’s upcoming first visit to Sweden.

“I never went to Sweden. I came to Canada in 1957 from Hungary,” he said. “Actually, we were going to go to Sweden to settle there, but Canada was the one that accepted us first, so I came to Canada with my father when I was 13. It was just the two of us, my father and I.

“I used to go to the races when I was 20. I’ve been going to Old Woodbine [i.e., Greenwood Raceway before it was renamed in 1963], Mohawk, and other places as a gambler, pretty well. After I retired, I decided that I was going to get into [racehorse ownership]. I have a small business, so I finally got to the point where I could afford it.”

His family business is still going as strong as Logan Park.

“We have a distributorship called Mr. Dairy and Food Distributing Ltd.,” Szabo said. “We’ve got over a thousand products. Actually, I think that we serve Woodbine and Mohawk, too. We’ve been trying and we expanded. We have over 3,000 accounts right now in Ontario.”

He has also enjoyed more than one success story in the racing industry.

“I’ve had some good horses before,” he said. “I had one named Piston Broke [p, 5, 1:48.3s; $505,788] and I had Keystone Concrete [p, 2, 1:52s; $165,011]. He won the [Ontario Sires Stakes] Gold final when he was a 3-year-old. Also, other horses like Rustler Steve [p, 5, 1:50.4s; $354,113]. He was a decent horse, too.”

Mohawk and Woodbine preferred regular Piston Broke retired in Dec. 2018, but the 16-year-old gelding remains a favorite for Szabo.

“I loved the name Piston Broke,” he said. “I really liked that horse. He raced quite a bit, got into some big races... Every horse has good luck and bad luck. Now he’s a riding horse. Rob [Fellows] found a good home for him. I love animals, so you know I’d like to keep them, but we’re too old, my wife and I, for a big horse like that.

“I used to have horses all the time on the farm here, riding horses. My wife loves riding, but she’s 76 years old now.”

The racehorse owner said he was initially drawn to Logan Park because he admired his sire, Archangel (5, 1:50m; $1,140,972).

“We’ve been buying Archangels and they usually develop late, I understand,” Szabo said. “I had another good horse, All Wrapped Up [8, 1:52.3s; $505,628], that was another Archangel. He got claimed last year. We owned him since he was a yearling, and we bought another Archangel last year, another yearling. I like that horse; we’ve bought about five of them so far. Some of them didn’t work out, but three of them were pretty good.”

Logan Park has been managed well throughout his six years on the track, noted his owner. His second consecutive O’Brien Award-winning season was no different.

“ I was happy just racing [Logan Park] in Canada and the United States. I wasn't expecting to be taking him to Sweden. It was a pretty good year last year, so I was hoping he'd come back about the same as he was last year, so it's an honor to take him over there. We got invited [to Elitloppet] and we decided we're going to take him. ”

~ Arpad Szabo

“We gave him a good rest; his last race [of 2024] was in November, so he had the winter off, he wasn't heavily raced, I don't think we over-raced him,” said Szabo, adding that he went to The Meadowlands to witness his champion trotter's Nov. 30 FanDuel Championship Open Trot victory.

“I went three times to the States for some races. That's an adventure that I took on. We also went to The Meadowlands for the Breeders Crown, but that was bad luck. We drew the 10-hole, so that didn't work out. Actually, that's the third time he went to the Breeders Crown.»

Logan Park and driver Doug McNair won his 2023 Breeders Crown Open Trot elim at Hoosier Park, but finished fourth in the final, his best Breeders Crown result to date.

Szabo said he had high hopes for Logan Park in the 2025 Breeders Crown at Mohawk.

“I'm looking forward to that one, yes, maybe even more than this one [Elitloppet],” he said, explaining that the thrill of winning at his home track was always special. “I've got four kids and 10 grandkids, so maybe some of them have free time to go with me. Quite a few people come to the races when my horses are running.”

He credited Logan Park's steady climb to the Mohawk preferred and the Grand Circuit to the horse and his trainers.

“He was a good horse when he was a 2- and 3-year-old, but he used to break quite a bit,” Szabo said. “That was his problem. So, after he settled down, he really matured... I don't interfere with his training. He does a good job... I've been selling milk my whole life and I know how to do that, but I don't know about horses, so I let the horsepeople do the horse job.”

Doug McNair is another part of the winning equation for Logan Park.

“The driver is going with him [to Sweden], Doug McNair,” Szabo said. “He's been driving him quite a while now, and he's used to the horse and always does a good job with it. I've been watching him since he started driving, and I've always liked his style.”

Elitloppet will be the biggest race of Logan Park's career so far. Szabo said he knows it won't be easy for foreign horses to take on the powerful European trotters on their terms.

“We have to put him on a plane, and then have a changeover at Brussels or somewhere in Belgium, and then put him on a ship,” he said. “It's not easy on a horse, I'd imagine, so we're going to take him a couple of weeks before the races. Most of the horses are going to be on home ground, I think, so it's not going to be an easy race, but I think that we've got a good chance... He raced without Lasix when he was a younger horse, so I hope he does good without it.”

Canadian fans will have one more chance to wish Logan Park luck before his trip to Sweden.

“We're going to give him one more [prep] race, that's where it stands right now,” said the owner. “Not this Monday [April 28], but next Monday [May 5], they're going to give him a race [at Mohawk], and they're probably going [to Europe] on the 8th or 10th, to give him a couple of weeks [before the Elitloppet].”

Szabo's care for his horses extends beyond their racing years.

“He's at the top of his game and he's a gelding, so a racehorse is a racehorse, right?” he said. “That's why they breed them, to race, and then after the racing, it's time to get a good home for him, because that's where I really get upset; when these horses don't find a good home after retirement. I always loved animals since I was a kid. It was always my dream to own some racehorses, and finally I got a good one.”

Now the founder of Mr. Dairy and Food Distributing Ltd. and his top horse can celebrate the moment together while carrying the hopes of Canadian harness racing on May 25.

“It's a thrill to represent Canada,” Szabo said. “I came here as a kid and Canada was good to me. You get opportunities here if you work hard, so you've got to take chances in life, and maybe you get where you want to go... It took a long time to get there, but I guess I got my wish.”

Logan Park has brought his owner to the pinnacle of international trotting, with a beautifully appropriate bonus: The former milkman will finally get to visit the nation that almost became his home in 1957. “Maybe I'll see the country a little bit,” he said. “I imagine Sweden is a beautiful country.”

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

Jesse Belore's Princeton Farms is getting better all the time

by Murray Brown

There are those that decry the dearth of youth among those today involved with breeding standardbred horses in particular and harness racing in general.

In Canada, most specifically Ontario, one of several exceptions to that perception is Jesse Belore and his relatively new Princeton Farms.

Belore, not quite 40, now heads an enterprise that numbers in excess of 50 generally young broodmares, whose yearlings, in what Belore describes as a watershed year, are poised to tackle the yearling waters in the select sales markets of Lexington, Harrisburg and London.

When asked to explain the rapid growth of his breeding enterprise Belore cited several factors, including, but not necessarily entirely, a strong agricultural background, hard work and perhaps most importantly working with and benefitting from the experience and knowledge of those in several facets of the industry.

Let's begin at the beginning. How did you find yourself in this business of breeding and raising horses commercially?

"I do have somewhat of a background in harness racing. Both my father and grandfather were judges at Ontario racetracks for many years. I spent a good part of my youth around horses, shedrows, and grandstands. But speaking realistically, my background in agriculture was probably more of an impetus to getting us where we are than anything else.

"Before becoming a farmer, my experience in this life was varied.

Among other pursuits I've been a gold miner in the Yukon and an English teacher in Asia.

"Our main farm is Carl Jamieson's former training center in Princeton, ON, thus of course, the name.

"I grew up on a ginseng farm. For those that might question what ginseng does or is, ginseng is a health foods product mostly popular in Asia. Ironically, over 80 per cent of the world's production is found in southwestern Ontario. It's generally grown here and exported to Asia.

"We were growing and raising ginseng here in Princeton. As a byproduct to our ginseng farming we boarded a few mares with John Lamers, a dear friend who I sometimes look upon as a sort of adoptive grandfather.

"As time progressed, our horse population grew to the point where we owned several broodmares ourselves. Then calamity struck. Unknown to us, our partner in the ginseng farm drained our bank account of all its money. Four hundred and sixty-seven thousand dollars instantly disappeared.

"Obviously, we were in dire straits. We had bills to pay, stud fees coming due and all the myriad of expenses involved in running a business. Enter Adriano Sorella and others. We had some horses on the farm for Adriano and had developed a relationship with him. We spoke with him and instituted a long-range plan. Today Adriano is a trusted partner and friend. We own some 17 broodmares together. We are always looking to increase our involvement. Without his backing and instituting a big push to acquire quality when things were looking very bleak, there's a good chance we would not be where we are today.

We had some stud fees coming due for Diamond Creek Farm. We told them of our situation. We worked out a plan to delay payment of those. Eventually we escaped the situation we found ourselves in.

"In just three words [my vision for Princeton Farms is], 'To get better.' It's a long-range view but I want us to be the best, not only in Ontario, but among the best anywhere. I realize that this will take time and money, probably a lot of both. I think we are on the right path."

~ Jesse Belore

We also received great help along the way, especially from David Heffering at Tara Hills Farm. Other noted Ontario Breeders such as Pat Woods from Winbak Farm and Ann Straatman of Seelster were a great help.

"All those helped us enormously, together with our partners, clients and our amazing staff headed by our farm manager Amber Lawson and her assistant Evelyn Harms. In all of harness racing, I doubt that there are two more dedicated people than those two young ladies. The most important cog in our operation is undoubtedly my wife Katie without who's help and great guidance this effort would have come to naught."

You said that a great deal of the credit for the rapid growth of Princeton Farms is due to the help and sound advice you've received within the industry. Can you talk a little about that?

"There have been several who have helped us. Two that come to mind immediately are Dr. J [Bridgette Jablonsky] and Tammy McNiven.

"Dr. J has been an incredible resource. She has been invaluable in terms of our herd management. When she started helping us, roughly half or even more of our mares didn't belong on a quality breeding farm's roster. We became involved in an aggressive culling program.

"She helps us with our bookings and stallion acquisitions. She has also been of great help in determining the exercise program for our yearlings. Our yearlings muscle tone and development are in some great part credited to her.

"Tammy McNiven's family's Twinbrook Farms is just up the road from us. Their yearlings always looked great. Ours didn't look nearly as good. She came over and we explored our feed program. Upon her advice, we upgraded both the hay and grain which we feed. There's a saying that what you get out is largely dependent upon what you put in. In this instance, that is the proof in the pudding.

"There was a time when our yearlings suffered in looks in comparison to those of most of the major market breeders. Today, without bragging, I believe they compare positively with those of anybody."

You have been somewhat outspoken about what you view as the state of the industry, specifically in Ontario. What can you tell us about that?

"That is somewhat true. I hate when people rationalize what they are doing by saying, 'That is the way it has always been done.' I'm a firm believer in that most things can generally be improved upon, even if sometimes only by a little bit.

"It's no secret that the lifeblood of the Ontario racing industry is at Mohawk. Our smaller B tracks such as Clinton, Grand River and London do a terrific job of promotion with the limited means they possess. The tracks owned by Great Canadian Gaming conversely do a terrible job. Actually, based on their inaction with regard to racing, it seems as though they wished they didn't have racing at all.

"I look upon Mohawk as being somewhere betwixt and between.

"In terms of their inhouse wagering program, they are second to none. However, regarding them reaching out and attempting to develop new fans of the sport, in my opinion, they often miss hitting the ball.

"I'll give you an example. Last summer, we had a Princeton Farms graduate racing at Mohawk. We wanted to see it race. I loaded up my wife Katie and the kids and off to Mohawk we went. We got there and the place was jammed. We couldn't get a parking spot. We finally got one and had to walk some distance to get into the track. What was going on? They were having a free fireworks night. There were thousands of people there to enjoy the spectacle of free fireworks. What an opportunity this is to develop some new fans of harness racing, I thought to myself. What was done? To the best of my knowledge: nothing!

"Instead of having a booth or two offering information on the sport, including how to become an owner and how to otherwise participate in it, there was zero, absolutely nothing.

"Another area in which I believe we can improve is in our nightly racing offering. We have the money here in Ontario. I think the way we distribute it could be improved upon. I'm not saying that my thoughts represent a panacea for racing. Do I believe that if they are adopted, things will improve? Not necessarily. But sitting still and resting on our laurels isn't in our best interest. At least, I don't believe it is."

What is your vision for Princeton Farms?

"In just three words, 'To get better.' It's a long-range view but I want us to be the best, not only in Ontario, but among the best anywhere. I realize that this will take time and money, probably a lot of both. I think we are on the right path. To say that I am consumed with what I do would not be an understatement. My wife, who is my greatest supporter, and my two young kids, are first in my priorities, but the farm, harness racing in general, and just about everything else, are next. I believe a bright future lays ahead."

MIDWEST CHRONICLES

with JAMES PLATZ

Homebred Rawtn Tale bounces back to take Landess title

by James Platz

Last season, Rawtn Tale failed to reach the winner's circle in nine freshman attempts. A new year has yielded better results for the homebred. Now a sophomore, the Tellitlikeitis—Raw Diamond gelding is two-for-three. He captured the $20,000 Jerry Landess Series final in his latest effort, a narrow 1:51.1 score Friday evening (April 25) at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino, taking a new mark over a surface rated sloppy due to rain.

"I just always thought he had some guts," said trainer Michael Johnson. "He's not 100 per cent sound this year, but he's better."

At 2, Rawtn Tale battled soundness issues which kept him out of the winner's circle. Hugh and Susan Lacey, owners and breeders of the sophomore, were aggressive in pointing him to Indiana Sires Stakes action last season. The gelding competed in five legs, earning a check twice. He qualified for the $50,000 consolation but never saw the starting gate, scratching out to end the campaign.

"The owners just wanted to race him in the sire stakes," Johnson said. "If I could have raced him and in the sire stakes eligible, I think I could have got a record on him. He probably could have won a race or two, but we thought he was good enough to just try the big boys and he had some soundness issues."

Foaled in Joplin, MO, Rawtn Tale's family has ties to the Hoosier State. His grandam, Lake Hills Lisa A, was bred and owned by Indiana resident Kenneth Spurlock. The Sportsmaster mare raced for nine seasons, making 263 starts and accumulating at least one victory each season, finishing with 45 wins. Later acquired by the Laceys, Lake Hills Lisa A produced eight foals. Of that octet, five were winners.

Always A Virgin filly Raw Diamond was the mare's last foal. On the racetrack, she claimed three victories and took a 1:54.2 sophomore mark. As a broodmare, she has four foals of her own of racing age, all winners. Ray Hanna is the longtime conditioner for the Lacey family, but Johnson has taken over racing duties in recent years.

"I've been racing at Hoosier for them for four or five years now," Johnson said. "Ray is getting old. He was tired of running up and down the road. I don't live too far from him, so I just got lucky. He gets them ready, and then I just race."

Dean Gillette

Rawtn Tale (7, Mike Oosting) winning the Jerry Landess Series final on Friday at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

Johnson has campaigned each of Raw Diamond's offspring, and he says that Rawtn Tale is far and away the best that the mare has produced. Late Odds, an Odds On Equuleus gelding, was the first foal and most successful of the group with four wins and a mark of 1:51.3. Lisa Rocks and Raw Sugar, both Rockin Image mares, each reached the winner's circle.

"This is the best colt we've had," he said of the owner's breeding program. "He's had some okay racehorses, but nothing quite this nice."

Hanna dropped the gelding in a qualifier at Springfield in late March that Rawtn Tale won handily in 1:54.4. Tabbed the favorite in his opening round division of the Landess Series, the pacer and driver Mike Oosting led the field to the quarter and remained in front all the way to the wire, keeping a nose ahead of Handsome Character in a time of 1:53.3. Rawtn Tale dashed home in :26.2 to break his maiden. In the second leg, he finished third, this time with a :27.1 last quarter.

"He won his first start on the front end and then in the second leg he had the rail and a two hole trip and finished third," said Johnson. "I just thought he finished a little flat. He scoped okay, so I was kind of concerned that maybe he wasn't quite as good as we thought, but he sure showed up [in the final]."

Drawing post seven in the nine-horse field, Oosting forwardly placed the 3-year-old, settling in third after the quarter. That's where the pair, sent off at 15-1 odds, would remain until the stretch. In the lane, Rawtn Tale kicked home in :26.1 and held off the late challenge of Book The Flight by a neck. He returned $32.20-$14.60-$5.80.

"The first couple starts he's still been on the right line a little," said Johnson. "That kind of hinders him finishing. Tonight, Mike said he was a little better. He was pretty straight."

The winning time shaved more than two seconds off Rawtn Tale's seasonal and lifetime mark. It also proved to the connections that the pacer has yet to reach the bottom, especially while still battling some lingering soundness issues.

"I wasn't sure what to expect after last week," Johnson said. "They pushed the pace a little more tonight. They got down to the [:55] half a little more on the sloppy track. I think that gets the others tired. It worked out. He had some racing luck."

Rawtn Tale is once again being pointed toward Indiana Sires Stakes, with the opening round kicking off next month. Johnson believes the homebred can be competitive.

"That's the game plan," he said. "He may not be the best, but he'll be there."

on Friday at Gloucester Park.

The Halls win one for the home team with Mister Smartee

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

with ADAM HAMILTON

Gary Hall, Sr. and Jr. become first locals to win the Group 1 Nullarbor.

by Adam Hamilton

Pride has been restored.

And it took Western Australia's iconic harness racing family to do it.

After interstate raiders dominated the first two running's of Australia's richest Group 1 harness race – the $1.25 million Nullarbor – Gary Hall, Sr. and son Gary, Jr. got the locals on the board with Mister Smartee's minor upset win at Gloucester Park on Friday night (April 25).

The 75-year-old Hall, Sr. labeled it one of his best and most satisfying wins through a storied career.

It's a huge call given the Hall of Famer has won 13 WA Pacing Cups (WA's most prestigious race), 10 Fremantle Cups and also three Inter Dominion pacing finals.

"This sits right up there with the best wins," Hall, Sr. said. "The build-up to the race was enormous, for so many weeks. It felt like a real us [Western Australia] against [the interstate horses] battle.

"Don't get me wrong, I loved the banter between Jason [Grimson, trainer of Swayzee] and our crew, but it definitely fires you up. For all the success I've had, this is now WA's biggest race and I didn't want to retire without getting one on my CV. I haven't got a lot of time left. To be the first WA trainer to do it is special, too."

Hall, Jr. said sharing the moment with his father certainly took the win to another level.

"Oh, hell yes," Hall, Jr. said. "For all he's achieved, to team up with him and add a Nullarbor, which has grown into something great really quickly, is awesome. I know what [my dad] means about the pride thing, too. We're a proud bunch over here, quite parochial, and it's certainly stung that interstate horses have come and won the Nullarbor both times so far.

"It's something I've stewed on and it really brewed this week. I thought, we've just got to win it, whether it's us or Minstrel, we've just got to beat those eastern staters."

As has become customary with Team Hall, it was a combination of superb training and a glorious drive.

Less than two weeks ago, Hall, Jr. worried if Mister Smartee would peak in time for the biggest race of his career.

“[Winning the Nullarbor with Mister Smartee] sits right up there with the best wins [of my career]. The build-up to the race was enormous, for so many weeks. It felt like a real us [Western Australia] against [the interstate horses] battle.”

~ Gary Hall, Jr.

“I was a bit disappointed with his first up run and felt we’d left him out [spelling] a week or two too long,” he said. “That’s where dad came into play. It really was only when I worked him during the week, I said to dad he felt spot on.”

“I was relieved as much as anything because I think so much of the horse and knew it would be a brutally hard run race.”

Hall, Sr. revealed he had to convince Hall, Jr. to “back him in” and race Mister Smartee the week before.

“Yeah, I just knew the horse needed a ‘maintenance’ run as much as anything else,” Hall, Sr. said. “Junior’ wasn’t so keen, but the run definitely brought him on.”

Then came Hall, Jr.’s drive to land Mister Smartee in the perfect stalking position behind the two big guns and favorites [Minstrel and Swayzee] as they went to war through the middle stages.

Swayzee’s driver Cam Hart, knowing he had to try and grind Minstrel into submission, scorched through a 27.8 second split from the 1,200 meters to 800 meters and went :28.4 again for the next 400 meters.

“They were absolutely flying,” Hall, Jr. said. “The race mapped exactly as I hoped, but our guy still had to be good enough to follow that pace, come three wide and run them down.”

Mister Smartee powered home to win by 2.1 meters over emerging former Kiwi pacer Gee Heza Sport with Minstrel a close third and Swayzee fighting on bravely in fourth, just 2.8 meters from the winner.

The mile rate was a blistering 1:54.4 for the long 2,536-meter trip, just 0.4 seconds off the track record.

Hall, Sr. was moved to declare Mister Smartee second only to his former champion and three-time Inter Dominion winner Im Themightyquinn as the best horse he has trained.

“I love this horse and he’s still getting better,” he said. “I got more and more confident by the day we could win it. I said going into it, ‘Quinny’ couldn’t beat this horse in a race if Mister Smartee led.”

Hall, Sr. admitted he now has some serious thinking to do with the Brisbane Inter Dominion starting on July 5.

“I said going into this race that he’d have to win it for me to seriously consider Brisbane... I have to now,” he said. “It’s just such a long trip to get from Perth to Brisbane and then to take on Leap To Fame.”

“I’ve got to weigh-up whether we go or stay home and focus on the WA Pacing Cup at the end of the year and wait until next year before we start taking him on the road for the big races.”

Mister Smartee’s 22 starts have netted 17 wins, two seconds and now $1,090,770 in prize money.

The great thing for fans is that most of the stars from the Nullarbor will clash again next Friday night in the $300,000 Group 1 Fremantle Cup at Gloucester Park.

The stretch to a grueling 2,936 meters will certainly suit Swayzee, who lost no admirers with his close-up fourth given the work he did in the Nullarbor.

with MATTHEW LOMON

Hiawatha looking to build on 2024 success

by Matthew Lomon

For Jim Henderson, owner and operator of Hiawatha Horse Park, the start of a new harness racing season is an opportunity to build on the previous one.

The five-eighths-mile track will kick off its 2025 campaign on Saturday (May 3), with its first of 21 scheduled race dates – the same total as 2024.

Hiawatha's incoming meet will run every Saturday through Sept. 20, with a standard 6:30 p.m. post time.

Ahead of his 35th campaign at the helm of the Sarnia, ON, oval, Henderson previews where things stand in advance of opening day as well as what to look forward to this year.

Horsepeople and Hiawatha staff have started to trickle in according to Henderson, who based on early interactions with members of both groups, said he feels optimistic leading up to the big day.

The head of Hiawatha is particularly eager for the return of the Ontario Sires Stakes program, which will be back twice with the OSS Grassroots Series (Aug. 17 and Sept. 7), and four times with the Prospect Series (July 6, July 27, Aug. 3, and Aug. 17) for up-and-coming horses.

"This program is very important for the industry," Henderson said. "It really gives somebody that's coming up a chance and a place to take their Grassroots horses or their Prospect horses, and hopefully, watch them improve and move up to the next stage."

Hiawatha has long held a special place in OSS lore.

In 1989, 15 years after the program was established, Hiawatha, in just its second year of operation, became "Home of the fastest OSS mile ever."

The time of 1:53.2 achieved by Mystery Fund and driver Bill Gale for recently passed trainer Bob McIntosh remains uncontested, and so too does Hiawatha's role in one of the Series' most memorable moments.

Last season, the Horse Park continued its proud tradition when it hosted the final stop of the OSS 50th Anniversary celebration tour – an 11-race card, highlighted by three $20,000 Grassroots divisions for 2-year-old filly trotters – on Sept. 5.

Also returning to Hiawatha in 2025 is the fan-favorite loonie/toonie nights. On the first Saturday of every month during the racing season (five total), programs and pop are $1 each and hot dogs are $2.

The first loonie/toonie day of the season lands on opening day, which happens to line up with the most popular day in North American thoroughbred racing, the Kentucky Derby, and routinely forms one of the busiest days on Hiawatha's calendar.

"On Kentucky Derby Day, a lot of younger people show up as a group of 50 or 60," Henderson said. "Young people from the local college are here all the time, but they get all dressed up and come every year for the Derby."

With the annual influx of fresh faces, comes an opportunity to introduce new fans to Hiawatha's harness racing product.

For Henderson, theme nights are no doubt an important part of the equation, but so too is using the 165-acre venue's appeal as a universal entertainment and recreation center.

"We have beach volleyball, the driving range, motorcycle training course, fitness center, casino and live horse racing," he said. "I think between it all, there's more of a draw for people to come out."

"It's quite the commitment, but our customers like it, and that's what matters."

How that increase in traffic translates to greater handle, and live handle specifically, is still a work in progress.

"[The OSS] program [at Hiawatha] is very important for the industry. It really gives somebody that's coming up a chance and a place to take their Grassroots horses or their Prospect horses, and hopefully, watch them improve and move up to the next stage."

~ Jim Henderson

“I think we need to get back to having stabling at [Hiawatha]. Horsepeople could come here and stable for the summer, maybe get back to two days a week, race for three or four months, and go from here to the next track, stable there, and develop more of a circuit type system.”

~ Jim Henderson

“Our problem a little bit with our live handle is that it [live racing coverage] is not being broadcast, and we’re not sending it out there with an alliance group,” Henderson said. “It’s just on the internet, so it is only broadcast there.

“Another thing that impacts us is we also show all the tracks – Gulfstream, Meadowlands, Woodbine, Mohawk – at the same time our product is on. We don’t just try to show our own. We show everything. So, if they bet $10,000 on Mohawk one night, $4,000 and $5,000 somewhere else, it takes away from our live product.”

Henderson added, however, that it’s a necessary trade-off.

“It’s something you have to give the customer,” he said. “You have to give the customer what they want; all the different products.”

Henderson and Co. were able to offset some of last year’s hallowed handle thanks to an infusion from bettors south of the border.

After Northville Downs, the last operational racetrack in the state of Michigan ceased its live harness racing product on Feb. 3, 2024, Hiawatha experienced a noticeable uptick in horseplayers hailing from the Wolverine State.

While it’s not a total fix to the track’s live handle hitch, Henderson said the number of American visitors to Hiawatha is “getting bigger every day.”

“Now that we have both bridges open, and as long as there’s not a big delay with trucks and stuff slowing things down, we really noticed the amount of people coming was a lot more,” Henderson said. “Delays really affected our overall with the bigger bettors. They’re not going to sit in line on the bridge for two hours to get here.”

As for any major changes coming to the facility in 2025, Henderson said there might be few minor upgrades here and there, but all the major additions were made before the 2024 season.

This included a new tote board, LED lighting, high-definition cameras, and a remodelling of the kitchen and paddock.

Although, Henderson did share what he hopes to see come to Hiawatha in the near future.

“I think we need to get back to having stabling at the facility,” Henderson said. “Horsepeople could come here and stable for the summer, maybe get back to two days a week, race for three or four months, and go from here to the next track, stable there, and develop more of a circuit type system.”

Henderson views the stabling solution as a means of cutting down costs for horsepeople, ensuring more horses are on-hand for race days, and re-emphasizing that down-home feel.

Hiawatha’s overseer also mentioned that his team has received several calls from Michigan horsepeople regarding stabling opportunities.

“They were deciding whether to go to Ohio, and some went to Ohio, but they were already heading back to Michigan,” he said. “Many of them said that their horses aren’t quite good enough to race in the big races, so they’re racing for $4,000 or $5,000 and by the time they drive from Saginaw all the way to Ohio and let somebody else train and stable their horses and pay the bills, it’s not a fun hobby anymore.”

Henderson said the idea to re-introduce stabling at Hiawatha came from Central Ontario Standardbred Association president and Canadian and U.S. Hall of Famer, Bill O’Donnell.

While no concrete plans or next steps in place, Henderson says Hiawatha is certainly capable of accommodating a potential large-scale move.

“At one time, we had 250 horses,” he said. “My paddock holds 140 horses, and there’s two barns with 100 stalls behind it. I could refurbish and open them back up again. It wouldn’t be too hard to do. We’d need new hot water tanks, some lighting and some general maintenance, but that’s it.

“We’d have to hire some more people to maintain the track weekly, which is a good thing too, because then you’d have more jobs, and more opportunities for people to work consistently.”

In the interim, Henderson and his team at Hiawatha remain focused on delivering yet another season to remember.

“We’re excited to get going again and show a good racing product,” he said. “The track looks very good, which we take pride in keeping to a high standard. The same goes for our facility.

“We enjoy what we do.”

Kentucky River flows to victory to qualify for Paralympiatravet

by Thomas Hedlund

San Moteur was the big favorite in Romme's $30,000 qualification race ahead of the Paralympiatravet Sunday (Apr. 20), but Björn Goop's star trotter got his chances spoiled when the field headed into the last turn. At that point San Moteur was far back in the field with several lengths to make up on the leader Phoenix Photo.

At the same time, behind San Moteur, Kentucky River sat with even more meters to make up, but in the end, the Father Patrick son had, via a furious finish, disarmed all of the horses in front of him. An impressive performance that led to a spot in next week's final at Åby.

Åby's sport's general Jon Walter Pedersen is given the opportunity to invite horses to the $300,000 Paralympiatravet, and Pedersen has found some really interesting shots that will make this year's edition of the big 1.3-mile race very strong.

Kentucky River, A Fair Day, Castor The Star and Saturday's (April 26) winner Ture L.A. (Maharajah) have all qualified by winning qualification races. Speaking of Ture L.A., trainer Maria Törnqvist announced immediately after the race that her 8-year-old gelding will face the very elite next Saturday. Ture L.A. has belonged in all divisions included in the Swedish V75 and Saturday's race in Örebro, over the mile, was his first in gold division and he showed that even an 8-year-old gelding can develop and become an elite trotter in Sweden.

Title defender Önas Prince got his mandatory ticket early this spring and Pedersen has also collected French trotters Inmarosa and Gaspar d'Angis, Swedish horses Working Class Hero, Borups Victory and San Moteur. The two last mentioned are, as we all know, some of the best horses in Europe and the complete field for the Paralympiatravet is just superb.

The same day, Saturday (May 3), Åby plays host to finals in the $200,000 King's and Queen's Pokal for 4-year-olds and some other great events and this particular race day counts as the big kickoff of the European "Grand Circuit" season.

Sunday (May 4) offers high class events in two different parts of the continent. The $200,000 Finlandia-ajo is scheduled in Helsinki while the $715,000 Gran Premio della Lotteria is held in Naples, Italy.

NEW INVITATION TO ELITLOPPET

Horse number eight invited to Elitloppet 2025 was announced on Saturday (April 26) and the pink ticket went to a horse not very known for the big public. Timo Nurmos trained Mellby Knekt (Mellby Viking) is a 6-year-old gelding with 12 wins in 18 starts and has never been close to competing among the trotters he will face at Solvalla in late May. Mellby Knekt was invited on the occasion of his last performance at Solvalla, when he won in 1:52 after a first over trip. An exciting contribution to the race.

Performance artists

by Trey Nosrac

Over-the-top people mesmerize us because they do what we only dream of doing or would never dream of doing. Quiet reflection and somber face-to-face discussions are rare these days. People don't ask for attention. They take it and fight hard to keep it, sometimes gently but more and more, with a touch of menace.

Playing this attention game for our creaky sport seems impossible, but if it is possible, last night, I encountered the type of person who could fit the casting call.

Trey occasionally mingles with an artsy crowd. The energy of poets, actors, singers, writers, artists, and directors can be fascinating. Tonight, a group of 50 characters assembled in the bowels of a 100-year-old downtown church, used by the Cleveland Playhouse to perform, display, and discuss various works in progress.

Driving home, I reflected on the stranger next to me this evening.

He boldly extended a hand with long, thin fingers and introduced himself. Startled, I didn't catch his name. He was tall and in his mid-20s, his long dark hair parted in the center. Despite frigid temperatures outside, he wore black and yellow pajama pants, high-topped black and red tennis shoes, a well-worn white tee shirt, and a denim coat with beads.

My new acquaintance spoke rapidly, emotively, nonstop, precisely, and jumped from subject to subject. To my mind, he was brilliant. Although he considered himself a writer, he took to the stage later and performed an unrehearsed scene from someone's screenplay. His confidence and acting chops were dazzling.

Pajama pants had an effortless charisma that drew attention and kept attention as he riffed on theater, Shakespeare, and politics. Now, why is this anecdote in a horse racing column?

Can you think of one character we have in harness horse racing that is brash, fearless, theatrical, bombastic, and perhaps intimidating to the point that we love or hate them, but they command that attention must be paid?

In our game, we have people who announce the races and prognosticate. We have bright, thoughtful people. We have solid writers. We have superb presentations like Creekside Chats and a few podcasts. We have hosts of wonderful people. We have plenty of things, but we do not have outrageous characters. We have not produced attention-demanding maniacs because nobody will pay for nonstop, hyper, performative, provocative characters.

In today's world, people find footholds in niches and niches of niches. Any stray performance artists have an untapped, albeit tiny niche audience, ripe for filling with our ancient, creaky sport. People in the content creation business are on the lookout for unmined territory. They know a few thousand clicks can be profitable, and a few hundred thousand clicks can be gold.

Let us return to Pajama pants. He shared some dreams/plans during our few hours together. In his mind was a Murder Mystery Dinner Theater Show that he would take to wealthy party hosts looking for unusual entertainment; writing a play titled Guildenstern and Rosencrantz are NOT Dead that uses the Shakespearean characters correctly; and hosting a podcast for struggling artists.

Projects and ideas from people in the arts are more plentiful than losing trifecta tickets. These daring doers in the theatrical business make people in our harness racing community look risk-averse. Pajama pants fired me up. I would join the audience for any of his dreams and ventures. I hope he hits a home run. But I especially like that he seemed to have a twinge of business in his pleasure pursuits.

With podcasts, substacks, and other self-produced money-making communication gambits, there should be a place for a breakout niche show for our horse racing people. Better still, this landing site for our trotting and pacing enthusiasts is the base, and new people find us a unique diversion.

The success of "catching on" in the viral world usually depends on the lead horse. A wildly entertaining host can draw a crowd to the niche of Georgian chants.

A brilliant harness racing horse expert who speaks in a monotone using statistics and data is not going far. An entertainer might have a future because our host will have gambling and conflict as a few of his subjects. He (or she) can say that they will always predict winners and have the answers to all of our problems in the sport. They have the inside scoop, overpromise, and do whatever it takes to build an audience.

Our sport could use a site where a few lifers are the base and new visitors stick. Let's find a few folks ready to pull on pajama pants, buy audio equipment, and draw a crowd.

Harness racing rocked by death of Greg Sugars

The harness racing world is shocked and devastated following news of the tragic passing of decorated horseman Greg Sugars.

News of Sugars' passing emerged on Saturday afternoon via the Instagram account of Larajay Farm, run by Sugars and his wife Jess Tubbs.

"With an absolutely shattered heart that doesn't want to believe it's possibly true, I need to share the news that Greg passed away in his sleep last night," the post read. "Greg had excitedly driven our team to NSW yesterday with none of us possibly predicting this was in our future.

"His beloved son [dog] Harvey doesn't yet understand that dad won't be home to take him to Puppy School Graduation on Tuesday. We are heartbroken and very much still processing everything so some time and space will be appreciated."

Harness Racing Victoria cancelled Saturday night's Melton meeting.

Sugars was in NSW at the time of his death with stable runners Fighter Command, Rakero Rebel and Dichotomy, to race at Menangle on Saturday night.

Sugars, son of highly decorated former SA trainer Ross Sugars, was one of the stars of Australian harness racing.

It was only in January this year that Sugars and Tubbs called time on the remarkable career of their once-in-a-lifetime global trotting superstar Just Believe.

The champion square-gaiter won 38 races during his career banking almost $2 million in prize money where he competed in three countries and two hemispheres.

He enjoyed huge success in New Zealand last year with wins in the TAB Trot, Rowe Cup and Dominion.

Sugars drove 4,028 winners, including 64 at Group 1 level.

Cal Expo board votes to end harness racing lease agreement

The California Exposition and State Fair board has voted to accept the staff recommendation to exercise the option to terminate the lease agreement with Watch and Wager, LLC, officially bringing harness racing operations at Cal Expo to a close at the end of this current season on May 2, 2025.

The decision to end harness racing operations was not made lightly. Despite longstanding efforts to support and sustain the sport at Cal Expo, the costs of operating and maintaining the facility continue to rise, while the changing landscape for live horse racing in Northern California grows more uncertain. At the height of harness racing at Cal Expo, there were 94 race days. During this current season, the number has dwindled to 39.

"This was an incredibly difficult decision," said Tom Martinez, chief executive officer of Cal Expo. "Harness racing has been a cherished part of our history, and we are grateful to the passionate community that has supported it over the years. However, it is our responsibility to ensure Cal Expo remains viable and can continue serving the people of California."

From August 2012 through 2017, Cal Expo entered into a revenue-generating agreement with Watch and Wager, LLC, to operate harness racing during the fall and winter months. That partnership was extended several times, most recently through May 2030. While the collaboration reflected a strong mutual commitment to sustaining the sport, the board ultimately determined that ending the agreement is in the best interest of Cal Expo's future.

As Cal Expo closes this chapter, the staff and board are focused on identifying future opportunities that align with Cal Expo's mission to serve the people of California, support community engagement, and foster economic growth.

Blue Chip Matchmaker Series prelims come to a close

Aardie B Miki N, driven by Jason Bartlett, stamped herself as the likely prohibitive choice in the final of the Blue Chip Matchmaker Series following another impressive victory in Friday's (April 25) fifth and concluding preliminary leg at MGM Yonkers Raceway. The 5-year-old daughter of Always B Miki won her fourth straight race in North America, posting a 1:53.1 mile in the second of three $50,000 divisions.

Bartlett started from the pole position and allowed Silk Cloud A (Jordan Stratton) to clear on the opening bend. Scott Zeron pressed strongly, taking over off the first turn with Walkin On Sunshine, with Bartlett wasting little time getting off the pylons and rushing up to get the front past the :27.2 opening quarter.

Once in control, the 1-20 favored Aardie B Miki N cut soft fractions of :56.3 and 1:25.2 with High Flyin' Filly and Yannick Gingras offering token pressure. On the final turn Bartlett shook up the Per Engblom-trained mare, and she responded in kind, keeping a safe distance to the wire ahead of Walkin On Sunshine as Silk Cloud A also advanced late for the show spot.

Owned by M T Stables of Ontario, Aardie B Miki N boosted her North American earnings to $100K on the season and returned but $2.10 to win while leading an equally short exacta of $4.90 and $8.70 trifecta payouts.

Todd McCarthy guided Talk Curdy To Me to victory, coming overland for the final half-mile and wearing down pace-setter Coachellabound N on her way to a 1:54.1 clocking. Trained by Jeff Cullipher, Talk Curdy To Me was a winner for the first time in the series, having finished second and third in two other legs.

Coachellabound N and Brent Holland charged out with Cheryl's Shadow and Talk Curdy To Me on the opening bend. Holland gained control off the first turn, with both Cheryl's Shadow and Talk Curdy To Me retreating into spots along the pylons. Coachellabound N had control through a 28 second first quarter and slowed the half to :57.2 before McCarthy was flushed out with Talk Curdy To Me at the half, followed by 7-5 favorite Cheryl's Shadow second-over and Beautiful Seaside third-over.

The pace picked up on the backstretch with Talk Curdy To Me eating into the leader's margin but still on the outside through a 1:25.2 three-quarters. On the final turn, Talk Curdy To Me, a 5-year-old mare by Betterthancheddar, kicked into gear and overpowered the leader. The challenge from the favorite never quite came, with Talk Curdy To Me completing a :28.4 final quarter and Cheryl's Shadow barely holding down the place spot ahead of Beautiful Seaside.

Owned by Pollack Racing LLC., Talk Curdy To Me paid $12.80 to win and led an exacta worth $37.80 and a triple that paid $131.

Rocket Deo gave Bartlett his second Blue Chip Matchmaker victory of the evening when she captured the final division in 1:52.2, going virtually wire-to-wire in the process. Trained by Brett Pelling, who will have two mares in the final, Rocket Deo was a winner for the third straight time in the series.

Seaside Diva and Yannick Gingras moved to the front on the first turn but were quickly under attack by the 2-5 favorite Rocket Deo, who took control off the opening bend. Rocket Deo hit the quarter in :27.3 and was still going strong at the half in 56-seconds flat. Ron Cushing pulled Turn The Page N off the third turn to challenge but wasn't able to make up much ground as Rocket Deo paced to three-quarters in 1:24.1 and appeared to have the field at her mercy.

On the final turn it looked to be a two-mare race with Seaside Diva gaining clearance into the lane, but Bartlett called on his 4-year-old daughter of Captaintreacherous, and she responded with a solid :28.1 final fraction and a clear win. Seaside Diva held on late for second with Turn The Page N third.

Owned by Morrison Racing Stables and John Fielding, Rocket Deo returned $2.80 to win and keyed a $11.80 exacta and $19.80 triple payoff.

Unofficially, the eight mares who have advanced to the $490,000 Blue Chip Matchmaker Series final are:

Rocket Deo (312 points)

Walkin On Sunshine (300 points)

Aardie B Miki N (300 points)

Silk Cloud A (274 points)

Turn The Page N (224 points)

Seaside Diva (221 points)

Beautiful Seaside (217 points)

Talk Curdy To Me (217 points)

The Blue Chip Matchmaker Series final and the $516,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series final, both of which will take place on Friday (May 9), will be the first two Grade 1 harness racing events in North America under the graded stakes system that begins this year.

PICK 5 CARRYOVER AND GUARANTEED POOL ON MONDAY, ALONG WITH FINAL BORGATA PRELIMS: Three $50,000 splits of the last round of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series will take place on Monday (April 28). The top 15 horses currently in the standings are all set for action as spots for the final are up for grabs.

Additionally, Monday's card will have an $11,043.59 carryover and a $25,000 guaranteed pool in the Pick 5 sequence that starts in race 5 as there were no tickets that had five-of-five on Friday night.

The guarantee in the Pick 5 is being offered as part of the United States Trotting Association's Strategic Wagering Program. Free past performances for the Pick 5, courtesy of TrackMaster, are available at handicapping.ustrotting.com. The Pick 5, which begins in race 5 and has a $1 minimum, has a takeout rate of 20 per cent.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday through Friday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Pair of Sunday evening carryovers at Rideau Carleton Raceway

Live racing will now be offered every Wednesday evening (6 p.m. Eastern) and Sunday evening (6:30 p.m. Eastern) until the last week of November at Rideau Carleton Raceway, in Gloucester, ON.

The first Wednesday card, on April 23, produced five double-digit winners from 10 races, resulting in carryovers in the Pick 5 ($884.35) and Super High 5 ($2,092.60) for today (April 27). The takeout rate for both wagers is 15 per cent.

I Ama Rocket, Canada's fastest pacer on a five-eighths-mile track so far this season, headlines today's preferred handicap pace, the race 4 feature on the 10-race card.

Bettors can watch and wager on the 2025 Kentucky Oaks and Derby on May 2 and 3 in the trackside simulcast lounge, with the regular Saturday night handicapping contest jackpot now approaching $1,000. The contest is free to play for on-track simulcast patrons.

Outside The Fire wins again at Big M

Outside The Fire once again worked out a close-to-the-action trip, and for a second straight week that enabled the Jeff Cullipher trainee to cop another Friday night (April 25) feature at The Meadowlands in the $25,000 winners-over trot.

It was the toughest test yet for the 6-year-old gelded son of Cantab Hall—Light The Flame, facing the likes of 1-2 favorite Aetos Kronos S as well as the Ron Burke 1-2 punch of Chapercraz and track-record holder (for an older gelding) Lexus Kody.

It was an early four-horse scrum around the first turn with Aetos Kronos S, Outside The Fire, Chapercraz and Lexus Kody all vying for early position. Not surprisingly, Lexus Kody, being driven by Australian visitor James Herbertson, grabbed the top before the three-eighths and went on to lead the field past the half in :57.3 after Aetos Kronos S had the point at the quarter in :28.

Outside The Fire, the 2-1 second choice, vacated the 3-hole at the five-eighths and made his way toward the leader, getting to within three-quarters-of-a-length of Lexus Kody at three-quarters, which went in 1:26.

The stretch drive was a thriller, with Lexus Kody straining to hold on, Outside The Fire on the outside continuing to inch closer, and Aetos Kronos S crying out for room in the pocket. With a sixteenth to go, Outside The Fire collared the leader as Aetos Kronos S found room at the rail but 'Fire' had enough momentum to record a safe neck win over Aetos Kronos S. Lexus Kody went off-stride nearing the wire, but after the judges had a look, was able to hold on to the show spot.

"Soft fractions again, and we got away third," said winning driver Johnathan Ahle. "I knew it was going to be a sprint home. But [Outside The Fire] has been sharp, so it worked out."

Outside The Fire, who has now won three of his last four and four of his last six, raised his lifetime stats to 26 victories from 85 starts, good for earnings of $386,318 for owners Pollack Racing LLC. He paid $6.80 to win.

A LITTLE MORE: Leading driver Brett Beckwith and Mark Herschberger, currently fourth in The Big M standings, had three winners apiece to top the driver colony. Beckwith now has 63 victories for the year and Herschberger 32... Herbertson got his first Big M win in the 14th race with 16-1 outsider Select Friday... All-source handle on the 14-race card totaled $1,874,074.

Bangor Raceway launches 142nd Opening Day

Harness racing excitement returns to venerable Bass Park today (April 27) as they kick off their 142nd season, offering a total of $45,900 in purse money to be dispersed over an ultra-competitive 10-race program.

Post time for today's matinee is slated for 12:10 p.m. (EDT).

Bangor Raceway's 2025 purse structure will enjoy a solid 10 per cent increase over last season's offerings as the historic track bids to build upon a strong 2024 season which generated the largest daily betting average in its 142-year history. This upward trend in handle, combined with continued solid results from Bangor's Hollywood Casino (which fuels a large part of the purse pool for the entire state of Maine) will enable a daily average purse in the $50,000 range during the 2025 meeting.

New grandstand furniture coupled with a revamped food and beverage service (provided by neighboring Cross Insurance Center) will augment the on-track experience while a brand new, state-of-the-art, high definition simulcast capability will ensure a crystal-clear viewing experience for the off-track customers as the Bangor Raceway product continues to expand its reach to additional national and international audiences alike.

Former Freehold race secretary, Karen Fagliarone, will be responsible for putting together top-notch cards at both Bangor Raceway and Shenandoah Downs this season after recently accepting the chief race office assignments at both tracks. Working remotely, she finds ample cause to be excited about the prospects for the racing program at both venues.

"I thought that when Freehold came to a close and I accepted these remote jobs the one thing I'd miss the most was the socialization," Fagliarone said. "To my surprise, I've met some incredible, kind people that share the same passion for the industry that I do. Each of the two tracks have very different benefits and struggles but I'm confident that I have the experience and knowledge to help improve our product and create competitive, full fields. I'm lucky to have gotten this opportunity and I'm looking forward to a successful season."

On the racing side of the equation, Drew Campbell, last season's leading driver, will be back in action and raring to defend his top-stick status. Combined with the talents of Walter Case, Jr., David Ingraham, Kevin Switzerland, Jr., Heath Campbell, Kevin Switzer, Jr., Aaron Hall, and upstart, McGwire Sowers, the driving colony should prove deeply competitive indeed.

Drew Campbell may well get the early call as he teams with 5-2 morning-line favorite, Urika Blue Chip, in the first race of the season, a $4,300 mid-level classified event. Trained by Mark Harris, Bangor's third leading conditioner in 2024, the 5-year-old son of Bettors Delight will score from post 4 while trying to build upon last week's fast closing second place finish at First Tracks Cumberland as he makes his second start of the 2025 season.

Chief to contend may be Captain Who, who will be handled by driver Nick Graffam for trainer Russell Lanpher III from post 5. Making his third start of the season today, the veteran campaigner has rallied strongly into top-three placings in each of his prior two First Track Cumberland starts.

A wild card in the opener may well be Fade To Gold who will battle the boys today from the rail. Piloted by McGwire Sowers for trainer Autumn Robinson (whose stable appears to have solid shots with multiple entries on the card), the mare will need to overcome rather dull form in recent appearances but does boast a Monticello victory earlier this year.

Other notable events on today's program include a $4,800 Maine Amateur Driving Club division as Maine's popular amateur driving series expands its presence into Queen City competition. In addition, two $4,600 splits of the Spring Into Action Series for classified fillies and mares will see the lasses do battle through two preliminary legs with the top eight point earners squaring off in a $6,000 final on May 11.

Live harness racing will be showcased at Bangor Raceway on Wednesday afternoons with a 3 p.m. post time, with the popular Sunday matinees going to post at 12:10 p.m.

For those not able to come to the track, wagering and live video for Bangor Raceway, as well as hundreds of harness and thoroughbred racetracks across the world, is available on Hollywood Races at www.hollywoodraces.com.

For complete information regarding live racing, simulcast wagering, gaming, dining, and hotel accommodations at Bangor's Hollywood Casino and Raceway, please visit the website at www.hollywoodcasinobangor.com.

Red Shores launches 2025 racing season with new betting features and lower takeouts

Red Shores Racetrack and Casino is thrilled to welcome fans and horseplayers back to the historic Charlottetown Driving Park on Saturday (May 3) at 6 p.m. (AT) / 5 p.m. (ET) while Red Shores Summerside Raceway kicks off on Monday (May 19) at 1 p.m. (AT) / noon (ET).

The popular $2,000 guaranteed Isle Pick 5 wager returns to start each program and the track will now also offer a $1,000 guarantee on the Pick 4 on the final four races of every program. Both pools, along with the two Classic Hi5s offered on each card, carry 100 per cent carryovers if there are no winning tickets – giving fans more reasons to stay in the action until the very last race.

In a continued effort to return more value to bettors, Red Shores is also reducing the takeout rate for some of the most popular pools. The Win pool takeout will be reduced by 1.3 per cent, while the Exacta pool sees a 1 per cent reduction. These changes are part of a broader strategy to deliver even more competitive wagering opportunities for players. The track already offers an industry-favorable 15 per cent takeout on the Pick 4, Pick 5, and Classic Hi5 wagers.

“We’re excited to get the 2025 season underway,” said David MacKenzie, general manager. “The previously announced purse increases by the PEI Harness Racing Industry Association have further strengthened interest from horsepeople this year, and we’re proud to continue evolving the product for fans and bettors alike.”

The excitement doesn’t stop at the wagering windows. Lee Drake, manager of racing and broadcast reports that the off season included several new investments and marketing initiatives for customers.

“We have expanded our track promotions for fans, we will unveil a brand-new graphics package for the broadcast, and a new paddock camera has been installed to give fans an up-close look at the horses and connections before each race,” Drake said. “Even the starting gate truck has a new look.”

Every live racing program will be available in high definition at your favorite betting shop, internet wagering platform, and streamed everywhere on YouTube live.

Summerside Raceway will open its season with a special afternoon program on the Canadian holiday of Monday (May 19) starting at 1 p.m. (AT) / noon (ET). Racing will move to the popular Tuesday evening programs starting in June.

Major stakes highlights of the 2025 season include:

- Cecil Ladner Memorial (Charlottetown) – June 7
- Governor’s Plate Night (Summerside) – July 19
- Wilbur and Pauline MacDonald Memorial (Charlottetown) – Aug. 2
- Gold Cup and Saucer trials (Charlottetown) – Aug. 9
- Gold Cup and Saucer consolation (Charlottetown) – Aug. 15
- Gold Cup and Saucer final (Charlottetown) – Aug. 16

Also returning is the popular All-Star Handicapping Challenge in July, and the Gold Cup and Saucer VIP Package Draw for players on HPIbet and 1/ST Bet.

Curtain falls on Cal Expo meet Friday

Friday (May 2), will be the final night of this Cal Expo harness meet, with mandatory payouts in all wagers and a quartet of big-money events.

The best Diamond Horse Alliance pacers on the grounds will do battle in the $30,000 Alan Horowitz, while the trotting crown will be on the line in the $12,500 Stan Bergstein.

There will also be a pair of $50,000 California Sire Stakes for the 4-year-old pacers highlighting the getaway program.

The sensational Overthemoonforyou, who comes into this week having won 13 of her 14 starts and the meet, will attempt a clean sweep of the big money events for the pacing mares.

Meanwhile, Celebrity Status has been dominating his peers among the males and will be looking to add another trophy to the case.

It promises to be an outstanding evening of trotting and pacing.
