Return of Lexus Kody and open sophomore stakes at Big M are a welcome sight

by Brett Sturman

Mark Hall / USTA

Lexus Kody (Yannick Gingras) winning the $1 million Yonkers International Trot in 2025 en route to Trotter of the Year honors.

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

It's been a grind as usual throughout the winter and early spring at The Meadowlands, but there will be a gradual shift in the quality of racing as the Championship Meet starts tonight (May 1).

The track has done its best as it always does in cobbling together the best and most competitive fields possible with the horses that it must work with, but the higher volume of lower quality races throughout recent months has been noticeable. As has the impact to the track's handle.

Last Saturday for example, hampered by not only some lower-class conditions not befitting a Saturday night card but also a series of short fields in the New Jersey Home Grown races and overall miserable weather, The Meadowlands posted an uncustomary low $2.2 million in handle for the card.

The good news is in a much-needed turnaround, the card this Saturday looks vastly different. Gone are all the bottom-level TrackMaster-rated 68 races, and what it's been replaced with is a card that mirrors what you would expect with the start of Championship Meet Weekend.

In addition to Platinum Division New Jersey Sire Stakes races for both 3-year-old pacing divisions, the Saturday [Big M] card also features the Dexter Cup and the Lady Suffolk, as well as the return of 2025's Trotter of the Year, Lexus Kody.

In addition to Platinum Division New Jersey Sire Stakes races for both 3-year-old pacing divisions, the Saturday card also features the Dexter Cup and the Lady Suffolk, as well as the return of 2025's Trotter of the Year, Lexus Kody.

Going in the final of the JL Cruze in race 8, the race featuring Lexus Kody kicks off the second of a newly added Pick-5 which spans races 8 through 12. Unlike this exact time last year where Lexus Kody was regarded as a longer chance in the free-for-all trotting ranks, it will be the complete opposite this year.

It's hard to believe now, but last year Lexus Kody was 26-1 in the Cutler Memorial while a rival he will face on Saturday, Antognoni S, was the Cutler favorite. They'll be joined, presumably in two weeks, by last year's Cutler champion, Periculum, but first things first. Beginning with the JL Cruze against not only Antognoni S but also the return of Ari Ferrari J, can Lexus Kody set the tone for another dream season? Last year as a 7-year-old he achieved $1.3 million in earnings whereas his entire career prior was just shy of $600,000. What's also quite of interest is that, Ron Burke who trains both top trotters, has Yannick Gingras on Antognoni S and in what would be a driver change from last year, Dexter Dunn on Lexus Kody.

The $157,125 Dexter Cup at The Meadowlands is intriguing for several reasons. With the unfortunate closing of Freehold Raceway in 2024, The Meadowlands offered a rebirth of sorts for the Dexter Cup. It's a race that has long been billed as the start of the road to the Hambletonian, though for at least the past couple of decades with limited exceptions at Freehold, the race only produced fringe stakes players at best.

We Accept

There are only eight horses in the race this year as nominations were first made a couple of years ago when it wasn't known that the race would be moved to a mile track, but those horses that will contest the race tomorrow (Saturday) already appear generally better than what the race has produced of late.

Going in race 10, perhaps strategically kicking off the second Pick-4 as similar logic to race 8, the race features a number of Hambletonian-eligible horses and is led by a legitimate stakes horse in the Svanstedt-trained Magic Punk. Earning over $220,000 last year as a freshman, Magic Punk is one of those Hambletonian hopefuls and was second to eventual divisional winner Apex in the $368,950 Peter Haughton at Hoosier Park, and I believe would have been one of the favorite in the G1 Valley Victory to finish out last year but was scratched from that race. Svanstedt also sends out Nordic Dancer S, who, out of the pacing mare That Woman Hanover, is a half-sibling to last year's Hambletonian winner Nordic Catcher S.

Also in the race, Andrew Harris sends out last year's Breeders Crown finalist and Hambletonian-nominated Cambridge Hanover. Marcus Melander sends out a couple of hopefuls in Midwind Chimp and Neighver Punt, both of whom are nominated to the Hambletonian. Likewise, Ron Burke sends out Who's Blue Eyes. It's nice to see the Dexter Cup return to a higher level of quality, and next year should be even better not just in terms of quality, but also more entrants as 2027 will mark the first year since it was known at early nomination time the new placement of the race.

The same that was said for the Dexter Cup could be said for the 3-year-old trotting fillies in the Lady Suffolk. As the Dexter Cup counterpart now at The Meadowlands, this year's edition pits two Hambletonian Oaks hopefuls against one another, those being Busy Miss Lissy S and All Time Trot S, both from the barn of Svanstedt.

Having closed out last year with a win in the Goldsmith Maid here at The Meadowlands, All Time Trot S is already a Grade 1 winner. In that same race, barnmate Busy Miss Lissy S, a 1:53.3 winner last year at 2, was a close third. With this caliber of horse, for the first time in a long time, you can put both the Dexter Cup and Lady Suffolk as the first legitimate prep races on the road to this year's Hambletonian and Hambletonian Oaks.

Saturday's card also features a full field of 10 for the pacing colts in the NJSS Platinum Division with potential Meadowlands Pace contenders, and an almost full field of nine for the same level for the pacing fillies. There's plenty of reasons to be excited as the Championship Meet thankfully begins.

ADVENTURES IN HARNESS RACING

The transparency trap: harness racing's most tragic mistake

by David Mattia

Before we begin, let's get one thing straight. I'm not going to pause to define the terms or expressions used in this piece. If you're reading HRU, it's assumed you aren't a visitor passing through the gift shop. You're expected to know the language of the backstretch and the reality of the shedrow. None of the words or phrases used herein should be unknown to you. If you find yourself reaching for a dictionary to understand the basic mechanics of our trade, you've already proven the point of this article.

Furthermore, there have been a few people behind the typewriter who know next to nothing about how a horse gets raced, yet they gleefully call out cheating and malfeasance which, for the most part, doesn't exist in the sense they write about. This isn't for them. This is a conversation for those who have sweated within the walls and conducted business in the native tongue of the harness racing industry. If you're in this shed row, you should already know your way around the barn.

MY OWN PERSONAL REVELATION

Years ago, back in college, I had a date with a very smart girl. She was a vegan long before it was a fashionable thing to be. A second date seemed out of the question because she was a maximum level animal lover and the very thought of attending a horse race was antithetical to her nature. Still, I managed to convince her to go to the races with me.

In the very first race of her life, she bet a few dollars on a hunch horse that shared her mother's name. Through the stretch, her pick looked like he might get up, but he hung and wound up finishing third. My date turned to me, eyes flashing with genuine anger, and said, "The crooked driver didn't even whip him!"

In that one sentence, she killed two birds with one stone. She immediately assumed the driver was a thief and she demanded the horse be hit to satisfy her ticket. You know what they say about there being no atheists in foxholes? The actual truth is that there are no animal lovers throughout the last sixteenth-of-a-mile.

It's a reminder that people change the moment money is on the line, and the more they change, the more they remain exactly the same. I've said it a billion times. Back in the golden days of harness racing, before all this forced transparency, the fans, all 30,000 of them, already thought the races were crooked and the horses were doped up. They didn't care. They still came. They didn't want a clinical lecture on ethics. They wanted a seat at the table.

THE TRANSPARENCY FALLACY

The current push for total transparency in harness racing is a well-intentioned but silly mistake that threatens to dismantle the very industry it aims to save. By inviting the uninitiated into the "sausage making" of the backstretch, the sport is trading its essential mystique for a level of scrutiny that the average layperson is emotionally unequipped to process.

Professional animal husbandry and high-level competition involve a raw, mechanical reality that's functional and necessary, yet easily misconstrued as cruelty when viewed through a modern, sanitized lens. Instead of building trust, this exposure provides ammunition to those who don't understand the sport. It replaces the allure of the finished product on the track with an uncomfortable focus on the complexities of the shed row.

THE CARE AND TRAINING OF A STANDARD BRED RACEHORSE IS NOT CRUEL

Nothing in the education of a racehorse is designed to be cruel. From the very first day, the process is about preparation, not punishment. It's sometimes annoying or uncomfortable, but these are the essential lessons that keep a horse from drifting into those eerie outer limits where a lack of utility leads to a very dead end. Even in the wild, a stallion doesn't ask for permission to discipline a foal. He teaches it how to belong to the pack because, in nature, the unteachable don't survive.

I look at it through the lens of my own upbringing. For years, I was forced out of a warm bed, made to wash, and sent to school to learn how to be a functioning member of society. I had a stable of parents, grandparents, and teachers who guided that process. It wasn't always fun and it was frequently uncomfortable, but that structured discomfort is exactly why I'm a productive adult today instead of someone lost and living in a tent on a street corner. Training a horse is simply the equine version of that same necessary preparation. We aren't breaking their spirit. We're giving them the skills they need to have a purpose and a place in the world.

THE ARMCHAIR QUARTERBACKS

You've seen it happen like clockwork. You post a photo or video of a horse rigged out for a race, and by the third or fourth comment, the experts from the armchair have arrived to derail the conversation. Usually, it's someone who claims a tangential connection to greatness. Maybe they own a retired trail horse that's Secretariat's distant cousin, and suddenly they're the moral authority on equine welfare. They see a necessary piece of equipment like a tongue tie or a headpole and immediately scream cruelty at anyone who'll listen. These are the people who've never set foot in a bustling shed row or felt the heat of a horse coming off a 1:47 mile, yet their uninformed outrage gets the most engagement. They don't understand the mechanics of the sport, but they're more than happy to use your transparency as a weapon.

Beyond the occasional winner's circle photo of a driver patting a neck or kissing a nose, the reality of racing has always lived behind high walls for a reason. Ages ago, the veterans of this sport realized a fundamental truth. The actual mechanics of getting a horse from pillar to post are almost entirely composed of bad optics. It's a raw, physical dialogue that the average spectator simply isn't equipped to translate.

Take a legend like Dan Patch. He didn't spend his life draped in rose petals. Of course he got yelled at. There were undoubtedly moments when a handler had to snap a lead shank or shake him up to get his head back in the game. It didn't hurt Dan Patch

THE INFORMATIVE TOUR OF DOOM

In the name of transparency, let’s take the public on a guided tour of the paddock to show off our rigorous safety protocols. We’ll show them exactly how we protect these equine athletes from the evildoers by highlighting our pre-race testing. We tell them to watch the veterinarian work and see how efficiently that glass vial fills with deep red blood the moment the needle is jabbed into a neck vein the horse can’t even feel.

The public isn’t marveling at the integrity of the sport. They’re horrified. All they see is a groom “restraining” a captive animal while a person in a white coat stabs it in the neck. By the time the tour is over, the takeaway isn’t that the horse’s welfare is being guarded. It’s that Count Dracula was probably a more compassionate roommate.

THE SPIT BOX

Then there’s the spit box, a place whose inner workings should be as impenetrable as Fort Knox. But in our new era of transparency, we let the public peek in. They see a horse that’s still a little damp from the race, now completely encrusted in wood shavings. To anyone who actually knows a horse, that sight is a relief. It means the athlete is relaxed enough to do what every horse loves to do, which is drop down and have a good, vigorous roll in a deep bed of clean timber. It’s the equine equivalent of a post-workout shower and a fresh set of sheets.

The transparency crowd doesn’t see a happy horse. They see a dirty horse or a sweaty horse. They see a creature that looks like a dying beaver who just lost his battle for a mate on a pile of shredded willow bark.

THE LOAD OUT

To paraphrase Jackson Browne, the show is over, the slots are all empty, and it’s time for the roadies to take the stage. In our case, the roadies are the weary grooms leading the athletes to the massive, shiny transport vehicles waiting in the shadows of the paddock. This is the Load Out.

It’s the part where we pack two or three or four high-strung athletes into a rolling silver box for the long haul home. Through the lens of our new, transparent public observer, they don’t see a safe, professional transport vehicle. They see a claustrophobic nightmare. They think it’s freezing or five hundred degrees and worry that the horses can’t lie down.

This is the trap. We’re showing them the most facile, standard parts of the business, the literal A-B-C of moving a horse from point A to point B, and they're already recoiling in horror. If the public thinks we're being inhumane just by giving a horse a ride home, imagine their reaction when we get to the actual work. We haven't even touched the heavy lifting yet and the jury has already reached a verdict. Transparency isn't clearing our name. It's just providing the footage for our own over-sensationalized funeral.

THE PAPAL CHIMNEY AND THE PRESS BOX

Publishing fines and suspensions is the most grievous offense perpetrated by the harness racing industry. Think about it. You just got through taking your tour through the paddock, the very Vatican of truth, the place where they draw the holy blood and collect the sanctified urine. You were just told that the system was faithfully designed to protect the integrity of the sport. Then the higher-ups reward that faith by publicly broadcasting every positive test and every infraction for the world to see.

The industry chooses to pump that thick, black smoke out of the chapel chimney for everyone to witness. By publishing these infractions in the open air, you aren't proving the system works. You're confirming the public's darkest suspicions. You're handing them a list of criminals and then wondering why the grandstands are empty. It's not just bad optics. It's a total surrender of the industry's dignity.

I recently read an interesting piece written within the industry by Mike Tanner, about as high profile as any insider can be. He spoke about the harness racing writers of old. It was nostalgic and poignant, but it missed a certain reality. There isn't anything truly great to write about now because the mystery is gone. In fact, since the advent of racing at The Meadowlands, a few writers have helped ruin the sport with their endless tirades about cheating and drugging. My own experience in the press box tells me a different story. I've seen plenty of writers run to the betting windows between races. How can anyone write fairly about racing when they just tore up their tickets? Of course, they're going to say bad stuff. Their transparency is usually just a by-product of a lost exacta.

THE PROFESSIONAL ILLUSION

So, how are we supposed to deal with the bad actors without dragging the entire sport through the mud? Look at how the entertainment world handles its biggest Hollywood stars. You almost never read substantiated, career-ending dirt about A-list celebrities. Anything you see is relegated to the gutter of rumor and conjecture from TMZ. These stars have an entire ecosystem of handlers, shippers, assistants, grooms, and trainers, and yet the "sausage-making" never leaks.

They understand that the brand is the only thing that matters. They use iron clad NDAs that operate with surgical precision. They ensure that internal problems stay internal, while the public only sees the red carpet and the flawless performance.

We need to stop being so transparent and start being professional. The higher-ups shouldn't be publishing a rap sheet. They should be painting a rosy picture of elite athletes and world-class care while simultaneously and quietly cutting out the rot. If a trainer is a cancer to the collective, don't hold a public execution. Just get rid of them. Deny the entries. Send them on a much-needed vacation and leave it at that. Don't say it hasn't been done before because we all know it has.

We've already signed paperwork to race, but let's be honest, those aren't real NDAs. If you signed a document with actual teeth, you wouldn't dare betray the paper it's printed on. The harness industry shouldn't be afraid to simply show someone the door. The old guard knew how to handle their own business without inviting the world to watch the dirty work. They understood that the public doesn't want the truth. They want glory.

Personally, I think the time is late and the damage may already be done. But perhaps there is some value in finally identifying exactly where the wheels came off and why it became necessary for me to write this. When I was in high school, one of my teachers, a monk, told me that when you have a drinking problem, acquiring the booze is the easy part. It's getting rid of the empties that will cause trouble. We should've been polishing the brass on the front door while we took out the trash through the back. Instead, we've spent the last decade leaving the empty bottles on the front porch for the whole neighborhood to see.

Timmy, Dixie, Wilson, and Sonny

by Bob Heyden

As we approach the first Saturday in May, we take a look back at an incredible year almost 20 years ago for Tim Tetrick, marvel at the speed of Dixie Cheer, acknowledge how the Woodrow Wilson crushed the Kentucky Derby, and say goodbye to Sonny Patterson.

TIMMY AS IN TETRICK

With many drivers dominating the news in 2026 you rarely heard Timmy Tetrick's name, but it's still early in the year.

Dave Miller just hit 15,000 career wins, and it was easy to forget Tetrick is just 211 victories back and at 44, is 17 years younger than Miller.

With Aaron Merriman adding yet another dash-winning title to his bio in 2025 it was easy to forget it was Tetrick who set the bar not yet approached since 2007 with 1,189 wins and $18,350,047. The earnings number hiked to just under $20 million in 2008.

Here's a closer look at his breakthrough season of 2007, 19 years ago:

- He led in both wins and $$ at just 26 years old at years end.
- He won his first two million $ drives – both with Southwind Lynx – capturing the Rooney and the Meadowlands Pace.
- He won in nine different states or provinces.
- He won 13 times with Southwind Tempo, his high watermark.
- He won at 19 different tracks.
- He won 24 six-figure races.
- He won an incredible 120 races for Carmine Fusco alone more than any other single trainer.
- His fewest wins in a month, 73, came in September.
- His most wins in any single month, 121, came in November.
- He won 372 races at Dover Downs alone.

“My best memories with Dixie Cheer are actually from the weeks before that race [on July 24, 1997] where he won in :24 flat. “We actually went :25 flat [in another quarter-mile dash on July 3] and then gave him a week or so off. He could leave in :26 on a half-mile track so we knew it was in him. He came back well and [owner/trainer] Jess Sebolsky and I knew what we had and decided to give him a shot.”

SPEEDY DIXIE CHEER

Dixie Cheer is still the only harness horse ever to post a :24 flat quarter. It was on July 24, 1997 so the 30th anniversary is coming up next year. I caught up with Greg Merton who was the victorious driver in that lightning quick quarter mile dash held at Vernon Downs in New York.

“My best memories with Dixie Cheer are actually from the weeks before that race where he won in :24 flat,” Merton said. “We actually went :25 flat [in another quarter-mile dash on July 3] and then gave him a week or so off. He could leave in :26 on a half-mile track so we knew it was in him. He came back well and [owner/trainer] Jess Sebolsky and I knew what we had and decided to give him a shot. This was the week we were going to come out of the shoot guns blazing. He was just unbelievable in there going :24 flat. Right after the race the starter told me he had forgotten it was a quarter mile dash or he would have gotten out of there quicker. We probably would have gone :23 and a piece. We had heard a while back that Vernon was having a series of these dashes and we decided to give it a good shot. It worked out.”

Note: The fastest quarters recorded since are :24.2 by Tune Town at Colonial (first quarter) and a finishing quarter also in :24.2 by Coach Stefanos in his 2023 Breeders Crown elimination at Hoosier Park.

WILSON OVER DERBY

Some think there is no bigger event than the Kentucky Derby in racing, and you might not believe it, but 40-45 years ago harness racing had the Wilson, the Woodrow Wilson, and from 1980-87 those purses dwarfed those of the Derby.

Here’s a comparison of the purses of the Wilson and Derby, respectively:

- 1980 – $2,011,000 to $339,400
- 1981 – $1,760,000 to $413,450

- 1982 – $1,957,500 to $550,100
- 1983 – $1,700,000 to $531,000
- 1984 – $2,161,000 to $712,400
- 1985 – $1,344,000 to $581,800
- 1986 – $1,561,000 to $784,400
- 1987 – $1,422,500 to $793,600
- Composite – $13,917,000 to $4,706,050 (a near 3-1 ratio)

SO LONG SONNY

Last week, John “Sonny” Patterson, Jr. from Dalton, GA, passed away at 81. Patterson, Jr. was a friend since the late 1980s. Two months shy of his 82nd birthday he was tending to his horses on his Georgia farm right to the end. He was his high school’s class president and he graduated from Mackenzie Business School in Tennessee. His father was a legendary figure and they both seemed to do their best work with trotters. Patterson, Jr. won 200 plus races seven straight years from 1982-88. Some of his headliners included Caramore, Jersey Blizzard, My Bill Forwood, Division Street, Whip It Wood, and Sokys Atom. He won the 1994 Breeders Crown and 1995 Hambletonian Oaks with Lookout Victory as well as the 1992 Peter Haughton with Giant Chill and the 1993 Cashman with Giant Chill. He moved to New York full time late in 1979 and stayed for the 1980s, before doing some of his best work at The Meadowlands the first half of the 1990s. Ron Gurfein teamed with Patterson, Jr. to be second in the 1991 Hambletonian with M B Felty. A quiet but confident man and most important, a gentleman.

Fast Snap is rewarding Paul Davies' patience

by Matthew Lomon

When Paul Davies and his wife Nicole closed for $24,000 on Hip #275 at the 2023 London Classic Yearling Sale, the couple, as Paul recalls, had “already bought too many.”

But there was something about the eye-catching bay trotter known as Fast Snap that spurred Paul to keep his checkbook open a little while longer.

“Me and Nicole look at all the babies together; she’s got a good eye for them,” the Arthur, ON-based trainer/driver said.

“He was going later in the sale, and I saw that he wasn’t going for a super high price, so I stepped ahead and I started bidding.”

Apparently, the couple was not on the same page at that moment.

“While that was happening, Nicole was behind me saying, ‘No. No.’” Paul said with a laugh. “But I liked him... He’s just a good-looking horse.”

Enamored by the individual, a son of Archangel—Candidcamerakosmos whose siblings enjoyed modest racing careers, Paul’s impromptu decision was shaping up as an instant hit.

“We shipped into Mohawk to train,” he said. “I was cutting the mile with him and a couple of pacers were training with me. Down the stretch, when I asked him, they couldn’t even get to me and I said to myself, ‘This is a nice horse.’”

“He was trotting great, and he wanted to do it.”

A fleet-footed Fast Snap was developing steadily during his 2-year-old year, training down to 2:06 and covering the half-mile split in one minute flat with minimal urging from Paul.

However, not long after, the budding gelding’s progress was halted by the discovery of a chip in his ankle.

Paul acted swiftly in response to the news, shutting Fast Snap down in preparation for surgery.

The successful procedure had Fast Snap on stall rest for about a month, where he recovered on time, without any complications.

Those, unfortunately, came after.

“Following his stall rest, I turned him out for a month, and I trained him back down,” Paul said. “I also had a filly who was the morning-line favorite in the [Ontario Sires Stakes] Prospect Series final at London [at The Raceway at Western Fair District],

“ [When I schooled Fast Snap in March 2025] I remember Shawn Steacy – I tipped off his back, he had a pacer – and as I was going by, he did a double take and came to me after and said, ‘What was that you had?’ I said, ‘Oh, just an unraced trotter.’” and I was going to school him that morning and race her that night, but then a virus hit the barn.

“That wrecked the entire 2-year-old year for him. I just shut him right down for another three months until the next year, his 3-year-old year.”

While not an easy pill to swallow, the sight of something special hinted at brighter days ahead.

“He showed me enough that I had no problem waiting on him,” Paul said. “Sure, it sucks when you invest all this money and time in your horses and unfortunate things happen, but he was definitely worth waiting on.”

So, began the process of bringing Fast Snap back up to racing speed – and once again, the treasured trotter left his trainer in awe.

“He trained back awesome from December 2024 on,” Paul said. “The week before he qualified at Flamboro [on March 29, 2025], I schooled him in 2:01 with a last quarter in :28, and he did it very easy.”

Paul wasn’t the only one taking notice of Fast Snap on the track.

“I remember Shawn Steacy – I tipped off his back, he had a pacer – and as I was going by, he did a double take and came to me after and said, ‘What was that you had?’ I said, ‘Oh, just an unraced trotter,’” Paul said with a laugh.

Fast Snap, with Paul in the race bike, made his professional debut on April 3, 2025, at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The strong second place showing at 84-1 set the table for a triumphant Ontario-Sired Spring Series appearance eight days later.

Flying high after the hard-earned half-length maiden victory, Paul coached Fast Snap to a third in the Spring Series final and runner-up finish to eventual OSS Gold final winner Galen Erso in the SBOA final.

Fast Snap followed his foe into Gold competition, holding his own with finishes of third, fourth, and fifth.

“ Since day one, [Fast Snap has] been my favorite horse. In the barn, he’s a sweetheart. He’s the type that if you put him on the cross ties and have to go do something and forget about him for a second, he won’t even move a foot. He doesn’t get antsy or paw... He’s one of my favorite horses... I’ve turned down way too much money for him already.”

~ Paul Davies

The tenacious then-sophomore remained a steady weekly presence for Paul before running out of steam after a Grassroots leg that September.

“I think he just got a little tired,” Paul said. “He’s great at the farm; he’s two fingers – a kid could jog him or train him or anything – but when he goes to the track, he stresses himself out a bit. He’s a sweetheart to work with anywhere you are, but on the track on race nights, he gets himself a little worked up, so I think he just wore himself out a little bit.

“There were no lameness issues or anything. He’s a nice horse and Archangel’s are known to get better with age, so I said, ‘We have a nice horse here and he only has two wins. Let’s shut him down and bring him back.’”

The down time has since paid dividends for Fast Snap, who after a brief ramp up period to begin his 4-year-old season, has won consecutive starts at Flamboro Downs.

As a proud Paul noted, it was the right time for a change.

“When I moved him at the head of the stretch, he shot past the horses,” Paul said. “Even though they only went 1:59.3, the way he did it was pretty impressive.

“He trotted a mile in 1:52 and change last year, so you know the speed’s there. Really, this time of year, it’s getting tough at Mohawk, I thought maybe he’s just not ready to go with them yet.”

The encouraging April 16 effort earned Fast Snap a mandatory promotion next time out. Paul, however, wondered if things were moving too fast.

“The way the classes work, he had to go right up,” Paul said. “I was actually pretty nervous about making that big of a jump with him.”

A handy draw of the rail eased Paul’s worries, and a game Fast Snap laid them to rest completely.

“He was absolutely perfect to drive,” Paul said. “I had a nice hold of him, and I could have left in :27 and change if I wanted to – that’s how he felt. I didn’t want to chase him out. I wanted position, and I ended up being on the front and Travis Henry got stung with Mercurio... I asked him [Fast Snap] once coming off the last turn and he just opened up.

“You never know how a four-year-old is going to do stepping up against top class horses, and there were some very classy horses with a lot of money on their cards in that race. I was extremely impressed with how easy he did it.”

Free to compete without interruption, Fast Snap is finding his groove for the folks who went over capacity to take a chance on him.

“He’s come back great, and he looks great,” Paul said. “He’s maturing a lot right now. He’s put on a bunch of weight. His hair looks good. He’s feeling good and he wants to do it. It’s not something you can teach, it’s just something they have, and he’s got it.”

While projecting where Fast Snap might go – or any horse for that matter – is its own gamble, Paul sees parallels between his current protégé and the former star of his stable, Outlawgrabbingears.

“He came here from Alberta and ended his career with $400,000 on his card,” Paul said. “He was a top B-track horse for me here, making about $150,000 the hard way, grinding it out on the B-tracks.

“If Fast Snap can turn into something like that, I’d be more than happy. But if he plateaus at whatever he is, he’s going to be the most honest horse doing it.”

The instant connection between Paul and Fast Snap was tested in subsequent years, but neither’s faith has wavered in the face of adversity.

Weathering hardships has become their superpower, and a defining element of their still unfolding story.

“Since day one, he’s been my favorite horse,” Paul said. “In the barn, he’s a sweetheart. He’s the type that if you put him on the cross ties and have to go do something and forget about him for a second, he won’t even move a foot. He doesn’t get antsy or paw; he’s an absolute sweetheart of an animal.

“He’s one of my favorite horses... I’ve turned down way too much money for him already.”

Caretaker Elijah Merritt.

Elijah Merritt has the right mindset between the pipes and in the paddock

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

by Chris Lomon

There is a specific moment, every race night, when goaltender and groom Elijah Merritt finds himself in hockey-mindset mode.

In his world, it is not unlike the moments leading up to puck drop during the Stanley Cup playoffs, the time when nervous energy intersects with steely focus and a singular goal.

“I get nervous when I am walking one of our horses out of the paddock,” said Merritt, who has worked as a caretaker in the barn of Marc Campbell since 2019. “You get that rush of excitement that keeps growing until the race starts.”

Merritt, born and raised in Charlottetown, capital of Canada’s Prince Edward Island, first had that experience during his childhood days at the racetrack.

Every visit seemed like the first time.

“I remember sitting up in the grandstand and watching the races, watching the horses,” Merritt said. “I always wanted to be down in the barn to see the horses and once in a while, my dad would take me there and I didn’t want to leave.”

Hockey would play a key role in bringing Merritt into the standardbred world.

“I actually played hockey with [trainer, son of Marc Campbell] Landon Campbell growing up,” Merritt said. “I started spending more time at the racetrack and I just kind of stuck around after that. It was around 2019 when I started going to the track on a more consistent basis. I just enjoyed it a lot.”

Enough to lead him to work for the elder Campbell, a respected and decorated horseman with over 3,500 driving wins, 1,000 training victories, and a pair of O’Brien Award of Horsemanship trophies to his name.

Merritt fit in seamlessly from the start.

“It has been amazing,” he said. “Right now, I am looking after six horses. We are getting some more coming in, so I might have some more to care for, which would be great.”

He’d be thrilled if any of them were able to match strides with Buckhead Ridge.

The 6-year-old trotting son of Nuncio (PA) out of the Cantab Hall mare Tuonela had a remarkable 2025 campaign.

“This guy has been phenomenal since we’ve had him,” Merritt said. “He had 18 wins [from 27 starts] in 2025, and we are looking forward to hopefully even more this year. He’s easy-going and he’s easy on himself. He’s just very relaxed and he has a lot of talent.”

Which might be somewhat of an understatement for a horse whose hockey comparison could easily be all-time great Sidney Crosby.

Buckhead Ridge became the fastest trotter of all time at Charlottetown on Aug. 9, 2025, trotting a 1:55.2 mile and then matched that performance on Sept. 4.

“ I love jogging the horses. I first did it about four years ago. My first one was with a horse named Fern Hill Gusto. He ended up winning the [Atlantic] Breeders Crown out here [at Charlottetown] after I jogged him for the first time. That was great, being associated with him and seeing him win that race. ”

~ Elijah Merritt

Trained by Landon for Brady Doyle of Stratford, PEI, Buckhead Ridge has recorded $157,687 in purse earnings in 64 lifetime outings.

“All you can really say is that he is an exceptional horse, just great in every way,” Merritt said.

Buckhead Ridge and other horses under Merritt’s care have an encouraging presence and voice whenever they go postward.

Depending on the night and the race itself, he can run the gamut from vocal cheerleader to quiet encourager.

“I think I’m a little bit of everything,” he said. “When they are on the lead, I like to scream, but I do try and keep my composure. It’s the best feeling in the world when they win. I don’t think there is any way I could ever describe it.

“The best part of my job is when you put the hard work into the horses and then they go out and win. It’s a good feeling.”

Merritt believes horses know when they cross the wire first – he’s also certain to give them a pat and a kind word to remind them that they did.

“They all have different personalities, but you can tell they know when they have won,” he said. “They are proud of themselves.”

Around four years ago, Merritt strengthened his connection to the pacers and trotters under his watchful eye, including his work with a son of Stonebridge Terror, who won the $25,000 3-year-old pacing colt final on Atlantic Breeders Cup Day in 2022.

The caretaker seemed to have the magic touch.

“I love jogging the horses,” Merritt said. “I first did it about four years ago. My first one was with a horse named Fern Hill Gusto. He ended up winning the [Atlantic] Breeders Crown out here after I jogged him for the first time. That was great, being associated with him and seeing him win that race.

“I was nervous the first few times I jogged horses, but now, it’s an everyday thing and there are no nerves at all.”

Instead, it is – along with everything else associated with racing – pure joy and fulfillment.

Merritt doesn’t even need to be in his home province to feel that way.

Earlier this year, he joined the Campbells – Landon was a finalist in the Rising Star category – at the O’Brien Awards gala in London, ON, the annual ceremony that fetes Canada’s top horses and horsepeople.

Merritt also found time to enjoy the Ontario racing scene.

“We went to Mohawk for two race nights and I helped the Cullens [trainer, Jody and driver, Travis] for one of those nights, just paddocking,” Merritt said. “It was a great experience. We also went to Flamboro and Marc drove a couple. The whole trip, including going to the O’Brien Awards, was amazing.”

He left the Prince Edward Island Standardbred Horse Owners Association (PEISHOA) Awards banquet with the same feeling.

Merritt joined Marc Campbell, who took home a pair of honors, Leading Percentage Driver and Leading Dash Winner Driver, as a trophy recipient when he was named Male Groom of the Year for 2025.

Consider the honor Merritt’s version of winning the NHL’s iconic Stanley Cup.

“I truly love what I do, and it means a lot to be recognized,” he said.

Horses and hockey will no doubt play a big role in his life for years to come.

“I play baseball as well, but hockey is my top hobby, for sure,” he said. “And I definitely want to stick around in racing. I’m in school right now, but I want to own a few horses when I’m older.”

Oak Grove Trotting Derby draws 19, Trotting Oaks attracts 27

by Oak Grove Racing publicity

The inaugural editions of the $500,000 Oak Grove Trotting Derby, a 3-year-old open, and $300,000 Oak Grove Trotting Oaks, for 3-year-old fillies, lured 19 entrants and 27 entrants, respectively, for a total of six eliminations on Monday (May 4) at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming & Hotel – a day featuring over $600,000 in purses.

A unique feature for the Oak Grove Trotting Oaks and Oak Grove Trotting Derby is the addition of a “Win and You’re in” series of races composed of the top prizes for trotting 2-year-olds. Winners inside of this series earn an automatic berth into the eliminations with pre-entry and starting fees covered by the race sponsors.

For the inaugural edition of these races, the Oak Grove Trotting Derby attracted five from the Win and You’re in series: Kentucky Championship Series winner Endurance, New York Sire Stakes champion Al, Ohio Sires Stakes champion Big Ranger, Indiana Sires Stakes champion Premier Bluebird, and Breeders Crown champion Spencer Hanover. The Oak Grove Trotting Oaks lured Jim Doherty Memorial winner Atlantic Summer, Kentucky Championship Series winner Country Glide, Ohio Sires Stakes champion Setyoursightshigh, and Pennsylvania Sire Stakes champion Ginger Tree Lex.

The top three finishers from each elimination will advance to their respective finals, which serve as the highlight races on a special card scheduled for Saturday (May 16). Post positions will be assigned through an open draw, and consolations will also be offered for both the Oak Grove Trotting Derby and Oak Grove Trotting Oaks. The consolations are established to reward the highest placed finishers in the eliminations that do not make the finals for the Derby and Oaks. An open draw will be conducted to determine the starters for each consolation race. Excluded horses will be named as also eligibles to ensure full, competitive fields for fans and bettors. A minimum of six (6) starters is required for the consolations, or the race may be canceled. The Oak Grove racing secretary maintains final discretion over the establishment of these fields. More information on the stake conditions can be found on the Oak Grove Trotting Derby website.

Oak Grove will host a total of 15 races on Monday, which includes seven divisions total for the second preliminary of Kentucky Sire Stakes action for 4-year-olds. On the wagering menu, Oak Grove will offer a $12,500 guaranteed pool for the 20-cent Late Pick-5, which will cover races 6-10, and a $10,000 guaranteed pool for the $1 Pick-4, which will cover races 11-14. The Late Pick-5 also features a carryover of $2,762.96, and the Pick-4 has a carryover of $1,563.18. The Pick-5 and Pick-4 at Oak Grove feature a takeout of just 15 per cent.

The 2026 Festival of Racing at Oak Grove, offering nearly $2.75 million in purses, all leads to the main events on Saturday (May 16), a day with $1.5 million on offer with the finals for the Oak Grove Trotting Derby, Oak Grove Trotting Oaks, and the four Kentucky Sire Stakes series for 4-year-olds. Post time for that Saturday card, run alongside the 2026 Preakness Stakes, is 12:45 p.m. (CDT). A concert from country music star Jake Owen will follow the big day of racing.

Bartlett, Engblom double in MGM Borgata Series' fifth round

by Yonkers Raceway media

Huntinthelastdolar, Donegal Luther N, and Coaches Corner wrapped up the preliminaries for this year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series with wins in Monday's (April 27) three $50,000 divisions of the final leg.

Driven by Jason Bartlett, Huntinthelastdolar led through fractions of :27.3, :56.2, and 1:24.1 in the first flight and was able to hold off a first-over Mossdale Ben N (Jim Marohn, Jr.) to his outside and pocket-sitter Celtic Spirit N

(Joe Bongiorno) to his inside to the wire, defeating Mossdale Ben N by a nose in 1:51.3. Celtic Spirit N wound up third.

Per Engblom trains Huntinthelastdolar, a 6-year-old gelded son of Huntsville, for owners E Five Racing and John Fielding. Huntinthelastdolar made his 26th stop in the winner's circle from 76 trips behind the gate, has banked $1,221,968, and returned $6.56 to win as the 2-1 second choice. He keyed a $13.04 exacta and a $39.86 trifecta.

In the second split, Soho Firestone A (Colin Kelly) led to the quarter in :27.1, the half in :55.3, and the three-quarters in 1:23.3, but an outer tier led by Donegal Luther N (Jordan Stratton) made steady progress on the rim, and Soho Firestone A and Donegal Luther N went into the final bend side-by-side.

On the far turn Donegal Luther N was able to sustain his bid to go by Soho Firestone A for good, and from there, Donegal Luther N was able to hold off rallying bids by second-over Redwood Hanover (Bartlett) and third-over Sweet Beach Life, defeating the former by a neck in a 1:52 effort. Sweet Beach Life was the third-place finisher.

Donegal Luther N is an 8-year-old Bettors Creek gelding trained by Jared Bako for the ownership group of Kap Singh Racing Stable, Stephen Klunowski, and Earl Hill, Jr. He has 14 wins, nine seconds, and five thirds from 51 starts, has earned $202,380, and paid $6.40 to win as the 2-1 second choice. The exacta was $16.20 and the trifecta kicked back $36.94.

The last section saw Coaches Corner (Bartlett) win in 1:51.1. He went to the front from post 3, clicked off panels of :28, :56.1, and 1:23.2, and couldn't be caught in the lane, defeating a closing Howlenthehills (Kakaley) by a length-and-a-quarter. Pocket-sitter Aye Aye Captain N (Brent Holland) held off a charging Captain Albano (Stratton) for third.

Engblom sent out Coaches Corner, a 6-year-old gelding by Always A Virgin, for owners Jeff Fought Racing and Brian Carsey. Coaches Corner has a summary of 37-21-10 from 96 appearances, has put away $1,550,487 and returned $2.46 to win as the 1-5 favorite. He led an $11.50 exacta and a $42.82 trifecta.

Unofficially, the top eight horses in the point standings at the conclusion of this year's MGM Borgata Pacing Series prelims are:

Huntinthelastdolar (308 points)

Mossdale Ben N (300 points)

Redwood Hanover (283 points)

Soho Firestone A (262 points)

Donegal Luther N (262 points)

Captain Albano (253 points)

Howlenthehills (249 points)

Coaches Corner (233 points)

The 2026 MGM Borgata Pacing Series will end with the $200,000 (added) final and $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation on Friday (May 8). That program will also include the $200,000 (added) final and $100,000 (guaranteed) consolation of the MGM Ursula McIntyre Series for older pacing mares.

Pennsylvania

Concise sweeps her Weiss Series; American Cheese also a Weiss champion

by PHHA / Pocono

The Gimpanzee filly Concise didn't exactly make short work of her opposition, but the answer to every question she was asked in the Bobby Weiss Trotting Series for fillies was "Correct" – she won all three of the preliminaries and then the $50,000 Weiss championship on Tuesday afternoon (April 28) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

Todd McCarthy had the catch-drive behind Concise, and after letting Aviatrix Blue Chip take the field to the quarter in :27.3, the pair retook command and got a breather to a :58 half. From that point there was no relaxing, as I Take The Cake challenged the leader to a 1:25.1 three-quarters, and when that foe faded Aviatrix Blue Chip came on to try the favorite again, but she fell short by a length to the 1:54.3 lifetime best winning time posted by Concise.

Trained by Nik Drennan for his Drennan Stable LLC, Joseph Davino, and Brad Shackman, Concise was the only four-time winner among all the divisions of the Weiss, taking three prelims and then the championship. Her four Weiss starts is her total output for the year, and she has won five of six lifetime trips to the gate.

In a $20,000 Weiss consolation for the trotting fillies, the E L Titan miss B Eyelash also proved worthy of being backed as the favorite, posting a lifetime mark of 1:56.3 in winning for driver Braxten Boyd, trainer Jenny Melander, and Exceed Stables LLC. B Eyelash won by 3½ lengths while coming home in :57.2.

The pacing fillies also raced their $50,000 Weiss championship on the Tuesday card, with no entrant having two preliminary wins but six of the eight having won one prelim round. Posting her second Weiss success at the optimal moment was the American Ideal filly American Cheese, who posted a swift 1:51.1 lifetime best while winning as the second choice.

Curtis Salonick

Concise (Todd McCarthy) winning the $50,000 championship of the Bobby Weiss Trotting Series for fillies on Tuesday at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

Like his filly, driver Scott Zeron showed good Weiss timing as American Cheese was his only drive at Pocono on Tuesday. He worked out a 2-hole trip with fractions of :27, :56.2, and 1:23.2 behind Vanna By The River, then headed to the Pocono Pike and beat out the pacesetter by a half-length, with favored Sicerto another half-length back. Jared Bako conditions the winner, now three-for-five this season for Blue Chip Bloodstock Inc. and Philip Steinberg.

Tyler Buter, top Pocono driver in 2025 and again so far in 2026, won the last race to take Tuesday's honors with three, including two sent out by the day's only doubling trainer, John Butenschoen. Also visiting Victory Lane twice were sulkysitters Boyd, McCarthy, and George Napolitano, Jr.

Thoroughbred racing's most famous race, the Kentucky Derby, will be preceded this Saturday (May 2) by a 1 p.m. card of live standardbred racing at Pocono. Free program pages for Pocono are or will be available at www.phha.org.

DILLY HANOVER ASSERTS HIMSELF IN WEISS TROT FINALE

Dilly Hanover won the $50,000 Bobby Weiss Series championship for 3-year-old male trotters on Monday (April 27) by 2¼ lengths over Confident Volo in a career-best 1:54.2 at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania. Nose Jammer finished third, pictured out for second at 49-1.

Dilly Hanover, trained by Emily Bost and driven by Braxten Boyd, captured three of his four starts in the Weiss Series. Unraced as a 2-year-old, Dilly Hanover has won four of five races overall this season and earned $50,850 for owners Bost, R K 4 Racing, and Bruce Potter. The gelding, a son of International Moni—Dornello, was bred by Hanover Shoe Farms.

Captain Vodka, who started from post 7 and led the field through fractions of :27.2, :56.3, and 1:24.3, faced first-over pressure from Dilly Hanover from the half and briefly relinquished the lead on the backstretch before battling back on the inside. The two raced side by side on the final turn before Captain Vodka, the race's 5-2 third choice, went off-stride entering the stretch.

Dilly Hanover, the slight 8-5 favorite over Confident Volo, who had won all three of his Weiss preliminaries, paid $5.20 to win.

The $20,000 Weiss consolation went to the Walner gelding King Of The Wind by open lengths in 1:57. Three early miscuers, including the favorite, aided King Of The Wind, who brushed to command off the first turn and was not threatened home. Absent from the first Weiss prelim, a winner in the second, and a breaker in the last prelim, King Of The Wind was back on his game Monday for driver Anthony Napolitano, red-hot trainer Joe Bongiorno, and El Dorado Stables.

Drivers with multiple wins on the card were Napolitano with four, Boyd with three, and George Napolitano, Jr. with two. Lou Pena was the only trainer to win twice, with both success stories driven by "ANap."

TWIN B THRILLER SOLID IN SLOP TO WIN WEISS FINAL

The last two weeks at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, the far turn has been the biggest foe for the 3-year-old Always B Miki sophomore gelding Twin B Thriller. Last week, he suffered broken equipment nearing the stretch, then would go on to make an equipment break; in Saturday's (April 25) $50,000 championship of the Bobby Weiss Pacing Series, his smoothness of gait on that curve might not have won him any points, but his grit and speed earned him $25,000 as he won the finale in 1:52.1 on a dank day and sloppy track.

Ooglesaurus and Twin B Thriller had won in each of the first two Weiss prelims; last week Ooglesaurus took off while Twin B Thriller had his misfortune. In the championship, Ooglesaurus, starting just inside of his fellow double winner, was the favorite, and after making the early lead kept his opponent outside to a :27.2 quarter. His big foe having been cleared (although not without a couple of fumbly steps), Twin B Thriller kept going right down the road for driver George Napolitano, Jr., putting up mid-splits of :56.3 and 1:23.4.

Twin B Thriller kept it together on the far bend and paced strongly to the wire; Barrow, starting from the rail and having pushed the other two early, came up the Pocono Pike to get second, three-parts-of-a-length behind the winner and two lengths ahead of Ooglesaurus. Twin B Thriller, three-of-four this year and seven-of-10 lifetime, went to the barn of Dennis A. Laterza for the 2026 campaign after an off-season purchase by Ginko Stable Inc. and Latz A Luck Stable.

In the $20,000 Weiss consolation, the Bettor's Wish colt Vizcaya was moved to the lead near the quarter and posted identical halves of :56.3 to take a new mark of 1:53.1 handily. Anibal Borjas drove the winner for trainer Tony Alagna, whose Alagna Racing LLC shares ownership with Joseph Giaramita and Ronald Ostrow.

Two-time winners among the horsemen on the card were drivers Jason Bartlett, Tyler Buter, and George Napolitano. Of the pair of conditioners who won twice: both of Ron Burke's were driven by Tyler Buter and both of Enrico Robinson's were handled by Bartlett.

Virginia SIRE STAKES REPORT

Seminole Breeze edges favored Kalispel in Virginia Sire Stakes weekend action at Shenandoah Downs

by Darrell Wood / Shenandoah Downs

Lisa Martin and Kathy Schoeffel's Seminole Breeze captured Saturday's (April 25) $100,000 Virginia Sire Stakes 3-year-old colt trot at Shenandoah Downs and turned the tables on 2025's 2-year-old champ Kalispel, as the pair reversed finishing order as sophomores.

Corey Braden drove the son of Shibboleth Hanver to a half-length victory over Bob McKim's heavily favored Kalispel in a full eight-horse field. The favorite led all the way until mid-stretch, authoring quarter panels of :30, 1:00.4, and 1:31.1 while maintaining a cushion of 1½ lengths throughout. Seminole Breeze, a Stacey McLenaghan trainee who was second in one of two elimination divisions a week ago, came on late to nip Kalispel at the wire in 2:00.4. Eleven of the winner's 12 career starts have come at the Woodstock oval.

The impressive Kalispel entered the stake with six career wins in eight starts – all at Shenandoah – and just fell short of wiring the field in start nine. Billy Carter was in the sulky for the son of Gregory Pecs. Tremaine Harding's Harding Boy, an elimination division winner, took third.

JML Racing's KNL Neely Girl was best in the $100,000 3-year-old filly trot final as reinsman/owner Jesse Leinbach piloted the daughter of Snow King to a 2:05.4 finish. Leinbach, who registered just his second career win in the sulky, led his charge to a neck victory over first leg prep winner Jet Joanna.

"It's crazy," said Leinbach, who also owns the winner. "It feels surreal like it's not even real. This is why we're in it. We work hard at it every day. God blessed us with a win today."

KNL Neely Girl won a Virginia Sire Stakes prep division as a 2-year-old last year, which gave Leinbach his first ever driving win. Cliff Green trains the winner. Sierra Seidner's Jet Joanna was second and Tracy Bradshaw's Bottaboom finished third.

Pacing finals were won respectively by Jason Walters' Fools Journey in the filly division and by Debbie Warnick and Corey Braden's Morton J in the colt/gelding division.

The former wired the field in 2:01.2 as a 1-9 heavy choice with Justin Walters aboard. The Journeyman filly won her prep by 4¼ lengths a week prior. Debbie Warnick's Dancing Joyce was second and Tremaine Harding and Cornelius Martin's Can't Stop Bopping took third.

In the latter, Morton J faced a lone competitor – Artzinapowerhouse – and in identical front stepping fashion as last week, opened up by seven lengths at the quarter and never looked back. The Strong Player gelding crossed in 1:57.2 in dominating form. Braden drove for trainer Scott Warnick. Michael Viars and Pam Horton's Artzina colt took second for trainer Stacy Laviolette.

Shenandoah Downs continues its spring meet Kentucky Derby weekend with cards scheduled Saturday (May 2) and Sunday (May 3) at 1:05 p.m.

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Loua Dipa, PA Sire Stakes kick off 2026 campaigns at Philly

Some of the brightest stars in the Pennsylvania-sired firmament will be shining at Harrah's Philadelphia today (May 1), as the 2026 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes (PASS) and Pennsylvania Stallion Series programs make their 2026 statewide debuts, with over $200,000 in purses ready for the two divisions of Sire Stakes and five sections of Stallion Series on a 15-race program starting at 12:25.

The Sire Stakes races are slotted as races 7 and 10, and the most attention will likely be concentrated on the latter division, as it marks the return to the races of Loua Dipa. The daughter of Sweet Lou was champion of her division in 2025 and posted the fastest time ever by a freshman filly, 1:48 at Lexington. Also, a winner in both her elim and final of the Breeders Crown and successful in the She's A Great Lady, Loua Dipa has qualified in 1:55.1 and then went an official workout for the judges in 1:54.4, both at The Meadows, the home base of trainer Ron Burke. Ron Wrenn, Jr. will be headed eastward to guide Loua Dipa from post 5 in a field of seven for the ubiquitous Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver Brusceci LLC.

The seventh race division figures to be the more competitive of the two PASS races. Say Goodnight, a daughter of Papi Rob Hanover, is best remembered locally for her pulling a $135.60 shocker here at Philly in her $300,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship last September; she'll start from post 4 for driver Tyler Buter and trainer Nick Devita, a hot combo at Pocono in recent weeks. Starting from post 2 will be the Sweet Lou miss Topville Lucky, who will be making her first start of the year after ending her 2025 with five straight victories, including two Lexington Grand Circuit wins and a triumph in the championship race of Kentucky's highest-ranked stakes series.

The Stallion Series often produces horses who develop into Sire Stakes-caliber horses during the season, and today's group has already shown flashes of promise. Among them they have wins in the Pennsylvania All-Stars, the Liberty Bell, the Simpson, the Commonwealth championship in Kentucky, an NJ Standardbred Development Fund success, and a Grand Circuit win in Delaware (OH).

In summary, Harrah's Philly will be racing today (May 1) at 12:25, the big Sire Stakes card, and then 12:40 starts for races on Saturday the 2nd and Sunday the 3rd. Free Philly program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

USTA executive committee expands to 21 members

On Wednesday (April 29), U.S. Trotting Association president Russell Williams announced the members of the organization’s expanded executive committee. The committee, which previously consisted of 16 members, added five in accordance with an amendment passed during the annual meeting in March.

The executive committee is a select group of USTA directors entrusted with making timely decisions between full board meetings and addressing issues that may arise within the sport. The committee typically convenes several times throughout the year to ensure continuity in governance and the efficient management of Association affairs.

The five additions were for three new membership directors and two track directors.

The new members are: Kim Crawford (District 8), Don Marean (District 9), Dan Bittle (District 11), and track directors Chris Antonacci (District 6) and Joe Morris (District 2).

In addition, Dr. Andy Roberts has replaced Jim Miller, who stepped down as treasurer.

“Each district now has a membership representative on the executive committee,” said USTA president Russell Williams. “The increase from four to six track directors ensures equitable representation for the tracks on the committee as well.”

In March, the USTA board of directors approved an amendment to article 9.01(a)(5) regarding the composition of the executive committee. The updated bylaw language is as follows:

“One membership director from each of Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12; six pari-mutuel directors selected at large; and such other directors as the president may appoint. All members of the executive committee shall be appointed by the president at each annual meeting of the full board of directors.”

Josias Santos wins in first-ever charted line

Josias Santos, a 48-year-old native of Brazil, must be thinking, “Harness racing – what an easy game. Where has it been all my life?”

Santos, in his first charted line of any kind ever, drove Long Shot Buckets from post 4 in the first qualifier at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania on Wednesday morning (April 29); he was wearing the colors of Simon Allard, who coincidentally was driving a horse starting just inside Santos. Santos sent his horse to the lead, yielded to pacing rival Boots to sit in the pocket, then came again to reclaim the lead down the backstretch. Boots came back a little late, but Long Shot Buckets and Santos fended him off under mild urging by three-quarters-of-a-length in 1:54.3, giving the rookie quite a memorable debut. Deborah Daguet trains Long Shot Buckets for G.R.J. Partners LLC.

The fact that Santos is a native of Brazil is also interesting: Santos is the Brazilian football (soccer) club that the most famous footballer ever – Pele – played for in the Brazilian league, and they were the world champion club twice in Pele’s heyday. This Santos followed in the tradition in his debut.

Pocono’s leading driver in 2025 and so far in 2026, Tyler Buter, won three times during the morning session. Fastest pacer was Congressional, who won in 1:53 for driver Brad Irvine and trainer Laura Shock; quickest trotter was Sainthood (Buter) in 1:56.2. And there was even a dead-heat in the last qualifier between Ideal Beauty Queen (Braxten Boyd) and Threecurtaincalls (Allard, not Josias Santos – we looked – and trained by Daguet) in 1:54.4.

Pocono’s qualifiers can be viewed at www.ppha.org.

Grand River Raceway welcomes Christine Fairhall into Raceway manager role ahead of 2026 season

Grand River Raceway (GRR) is proud to announce Christine Fairhall's transition into her new role as Raceway manager.

She stepped into this role in preparation of the 2026 harness racing season at GRR. Fairhall transitions into this new role at GRR after Jenna MacDonell, exited the role this past month.

Harness racing has been a prominent part of life for Fairhall, rooted in a strong family legacy. Her grandfather, Keith Waples, laid the foundation for a multi-generational connection to the sport that continues to this day.

Raised at racetracks in Orangeville, Elmira, and Hanover, Fairhall was immersed in the racing world from an early age. Her mother worked as a photo-finish camera operator for the Ontario Sire Stakes (OSS), her father trained and raced in Ontario and Quebec, all while raising their family. It was only natural that Fairhall's first job would also be in the industry.

Over the past 32 years, Fairhall has developed a comprehensive understanding of racetrack operations, primarily on the grandstand side. Her work experience includes concessions, trophy creation, timing, photo-finish (dating back to the era of film development), new player event organizing, as well as pari-mutuel and tote/race day operations. This diverse background has given her a deep appreciation for the collaboration and precision required to deliver a successful race day experience.

For more than a decade, Fairhall has been a valued member of the GRR team. In her new role, she is focused on supporting her colleagues and contributing to the continued growth and success of the raceway.

"Harness racing has always been a passion of mine," said Fairhall, Raceway manager at GRR. "I've been fortunate to have been involved with so many aspects of the industry alongside incredible family and team members over the years. I'm excited to step into this role, continue learning from our team, and help build on the strong foundation we have here at Grand River Raceway as we head into the 2026 season."

GRR looks forward to the experience and enthusiasm Fairhall brings to her new position as preparations ramp up for another exciting season of live harness racing.

GRR's racing season begins on Wednesday (June 3, 2026), with a post time of 6:20 p.m. They invite the community to come out for free family-friendly fun, and/or for dinner and drinks while enjoying live racing. Learn more at grandriverraceway.com.

Jessica Otten joins Scioto Downs team

Jessica Otten is joining the Eldorado Scioto Downs team for the 2026 racing season. Otten has been working on updating the TV graphics for the track and will be seen on air conducting paddock interviews, providing race analysis, and creating additional content for social media and the simulcast show. She has also been busy setting up on-track promotions to make the guest experience better at the track.

"I'm very excited to join the team at Scioto Downs," said Otten. "I've watched my sister [Jenna] be part of a group that values collaboration, positivity, and shares a passion for racing. I'm grateful for the opportunity to contribute and grow within such a strong environment."

Scioto's director of racing, Jason Roth said, "It is great having Jessica join the team. Her experience in the industry both on and off air will help us immensely. She has worked big events in the past and will be a huge part of making us successful with the 2026 Breeders Crown."

The 2026 Eldorado Scioto Downs racing season kicks off on Thursday (May 7). Post time will be 5:15 p.m. each race day, with a Tuesday-Saturday schedule. Special race days will be held on Memorial Day and Labor Day, with that Monday card taking place of the normal Tuesday.

Starting the week of Aug. 2, the track will move to a four day per week schedule, racing Tuesdays and Thursdays-Saturdays. Closing week there will be racing on Wednesday as Scioto has worked with the Ohio Harness Horse Breeders to not host racing on Sept. 18 to accommodate horsemen attending the Ohio Selected Yearling Sale.

Scioto will then open for two action-packed weekends as the Breeders Crown comes to the south Columbus oval. Elimination races will be held on Oct. 16-17, with finals hosted Oct. 23-24. Tickets are now on sale via Open Table; more details about the Breeders Crown at Scioto can be found on this page of the Scioto Downs website.

Other big races on tap for the 2026 season at Scioto include:

- July 4 – The $150,000 Next Generation events for 2-year-old Ohio-sired horses
- July 18 – the Moni Maker and Nadia Lobell for 3-year-old fillies; the Cleopatra and #SendItIn invitationals for older pacers
- July 30-Aug. 1 – State Fair races for 2- and 3-year-old Ohio-sired horses
- Sept. 12 – Ohio Super Night (Sires Stakes championships); Jim Ewart and Charlie Hill Memorials for older horses

New starter Toscano to start tonight at Big M

After a two-year hiatus from the game he'd been a part of for decades, Andy Toscano is back. Effective tonight (May 1), he will be the man facing the field in the car with the wings as the new starter at The Meadowlands.

"I retired from Yonkers two years ago; I was in the starter car there for 22 years," said Toscano, 66, who was once a trainer and driver at Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways. "I have worked at Tioga, Monticello, Goshen, and Saratoga. They kind of put me where they needed me, but my home track was Yonkers."

Now, Toscano's home venue will be the mile oval that stands in the shadows of the New York City skyline.

"I told [track chief operating officer/general manager] Jason [Settlemoir] I would help him out whenever I could," said Toscano. "I like Jason, and I look forward to being at The Meadowlands, where they have a lot of good people."

But Toscano stressed that the man he's replacing isn't gone for good.

"Between the both of us, we can get it done," said Toscano, who was referring to the likelihood of long-time Big M starter Moe LaFountaine filling in now and again.

"I'm taking advantage of this opportunity, but not necessarily looking to stay for 10 years," said Toscano with a laugh.

"I started the races at The Meadowlands for nine years," said LaFountaine, who has left to become an associate judge at Harrah's Philadelphia. "I met Jason Settlemoir at Tioga in 2007 when I was a Michigan horseman, and Michigan was dying. In 2014 or '15, I pursued getting my starter's license. There are not many licensed starters working today. It's a low number. We're in kind of a bind for starters."

LaFountaine loved starting races, but he so rarely was able to spend time with his wife, working evenings at The Big M as well as Maryland's Rosecroft Raceway and Ocean Downs.

Thus, he's heading to Philly to sit on the same judges stand as his spouse, Jennifer, who is already an associate judge at the five-eighths-mile track.

"I'm looking forward to a new set of challenges," said LaFountaine, 58, who is also an associate judge. "I have had my judging license since 2022. I have worked in Delaware, Maryland, and Pennsylvania filling in.

"Jennifer works afternoons at Philly, and my jobs were all at night. We only had one afternoon a week together. This is the way we are getting on the same schedule. We wanted to better our lives as a couple."

But while he looks ahead to his new gig as an associate judge, he'll always look back fondly on what he used to do. And hopes to still do it. Every now and then.

"If Andy needs me on a Saturday, I'm there," said LaFountaine.

Settlemoir had nothing but good things to say about his starters, both past and present.

"Moe and his wife, Jennifer, are like family to me," Settlemoir said. "We will miss Moe and wish him the best in his new position in Pennsylvania and I will lay odds that we haven't seen the last of Moe and Jennifer at The Meadowlands. On behalf of [track chairman/chief executive officer] Jeff Gural, we thank Moe for all of his years of service at The Big M.

"Andy is a breath of fresh air and I look forward to getting to know him better. As everyone knows, I like riding in the back of the gate with the starter. It is definitely, as I have said over and over, the best seat in the house and I have always said that when I retire, I would like to either start races or judge them. We wish Andy the best and look forward to him showcasing his years of experience in the starter car here at The Meadowlands."

'Saba' rocks in Big M feature

Leading Meadowlands trainer Per Engblom made a few changes to Saba Rock's equipment and defending Dan Patch Driver of the Year Jason Bartlett took care of the rest, guiding the 4-year-old gelding powerfully past eight foes in the Saturday night (April 25) feature at The Big M, a $22,500 high-end conditioned pace.

“Per made a few changes on him because he was running in,” Bartlett said. “I couldn’t control him the way I wanted to. He bounced back [from a second-place finish on April 11] well.”

Wish You Well displayed explosive early energy from post 6 at the start as Saba Rock had to race wide into the first turn. Wish You Well reached the quarter on the point in :27.1 as Saba Rock took back to fourth and the duo were in the same positions as Wish You Well hit the half in :55.4.

Then it was time to rock.

Bartlett angled Saba Rock off the rail just after the half and swiftly made his way toward the leader on the rim uncovered heading into the far turn. Wish You Well had a slight edge at three-quarters, which went in 1:24, but displaying big-time momentum, Saba Rock opened up two lengths when they turned for home before reporting home an easy-as-you-please 2½-length winner in 1:51.2. Captain Crusader A rallied with a rush for second with Voukefalas grabbing the show dough.

“He’s a very fast horse who we expect a lot of good things from this year,” said Bartlett.

A product of Rockin Image—Nightcap, Saba Rock won his ninth race from just 23 career attempts. Owned by Jeff Fought Racing, Brian Carsey, and Adam Friedland, he returned $4.80 to his backers as the 7-5 favorite.

BOOKIE J WINS AGAIN: Bookie J put up a flawless performance tracking down leader Thisbeestings Deo through a powerhouse stretch drive to take the second of two $30,000 divisions of the New Jersey Home Grown for 3-year-old colts and geldings on the pace by 4¼ widening lengths.

Trainer Chris Ryder has high hopes — maybe Meadowlands Pace hopes — for the gelded son of Perfect Sting—Skyy, who won the 2025 Kindergarten final.

“Well, I wouldn’t tell you that at the moment, but he’s got plenty more,” Ryder said. “He’s got more gears to him. You know, he’s strong and he’s a tall horse. He’s gotten stronger from 2 to 3 and I think he’s pretty serious.”

The Dexter Dunn-driven Bookie J stayed perfect in two starts this year after stopping the clock in 1:52 over a sloppy track with a -2 variant to up his lifetime stats to six wins from 13 tries, good for earnings of $230,868. He paid $2.40 to win as the 1-5 favorite.

HOME GROWN WINNERS: There were three other $30,000 divisions of the New Jersey Home Grown for pacers contested on the card. Those winners were:

- Race 3 (3-year-old colts and geldings) — Azrael Blue Chip (colt by Perfect Sting—Bathsheba), driven by Andy McCarthy, trained by Besim Odza, winning time 1:53, returning $3.20 to win as the 3-5 favorite
- Race 5 (3-year-old fillies) — Sunny Station (Perfect Sting—Sandy’s Beach), Todd McCarthy, Brett Pelling, 1:53.3, $3.60 as the 4-5 favorite

- Race 11 (3-year-old fillies) — Darlin’s Angel (Captaintreacherous—Darlin’s Delight), Lauren Tritton, Juan Cano, 1:54, $5 as the 3-2 second choice

A LITTLE MORE: Bartlett won five times on the card to top the driver colony... Engblom took three walks down victory lane to pace the trainers. His 2026 Big M victory total now stands at 34... All-source handle on the 14-race program totaled $2,284,701.
