Do top-heavy sires stakes programs need a re-boot?

Sires stakes programs were not designed to compete with open stakes, and it's hurting the business.

If you have opened a Meadowlands program recently and wondered where the young horses are, you're not alone.

One of the more talked about horses coming back this year is Admiral Hill and to watch him race you'd have to have tuned in to a Monday card at Oak Grove. There, the Admiral faced Meadowlands Pace starter Combustion, among others like Tip Top Cat. Apparently not many of you knew about it, because the win pool totalled around $3,000. The purse was a sires-staked infused $50,000.

Leaving aside the fact that when a win pool reaches barely 5 per cent of the purse it's a flashing red light indicator, there's much more to it, in my view. With it happening virtually everywhere, it's harming the economics of the sport.

Back in the 1980s and 1990s most of us will remember things were much different. At that time, the purse gaps between stakes events were clear and eminently logical.

If you had an open stakes horse – say a Meadowlands Pace or Breeders Crown horse – you were in the top echelon. To maximize your horse's earning power, you made the necessary payments. The gap between a stakes event and a state or provincial event were many multiples.

A step down from that was the sires stakes, where your colt or filly was not open stakes material. The purse gap between those events and a non-winners two or three overnight, or a 2- or 3-year-old open, were also clear and logical.

Rarely, if ever, would open pacers and fillies face sires stakes pacers and fillies. It was the staple of the system, and it allowed for different sets of breeders and yearling buyers, creating a pretty big tent. Both systems thrived.

In 2024, the hottest 4-year-old horse on the planet raced at Oak Grove with almost no one watching, while simultaneously scaring off every mom and pop trainer from entering. In 2024, fantastic horses, capable of winning our biggest events and generating excitement for the sport, will be in Kentucky racing for $400,000, or in Ontario racing for $250,000 at 1-5 odds, while smaller stables are wondering how to pay their feed bill.

In 2024, this has been turned on its ear.

The Kentucky Sires Stakes program is the most glaring example. Not only do open caliber stakes horses race for open stakes purses in a state program, they also have to race in lesser events to earn points for finals; finals that rival the purses of our best and most historical stakes races.

I understand that the Kentucky program is a unicorn and there are tier "A," "B" and "C" finals, but in my opinion it's complete overkill, because it's a system built around what's already been created in others, compounding the problem.

In Ontario, Super Finals go for $300,000, and the horse who tends to win this race wins most Gold Finals, at already inflated purses, sometimes in very short fields.

In Ohio, it's similar, with its final at even a greater purse of $400,000. In Pennsylvania, it's $252,000 for their year-end finals. In New York, $225,000.

I'm all for making money, but when state and provincial breds are not staking to open events as they once were; when the top state and provincial breds dominate every "A" level stake event and then get even more benefit in a rich final (while crowding out the smaller stables), isn't this way too much?

Harness racing has always been big tent. It's always been about the small-time owner or horseperson racing each week at a fun event; hopping in the truck and racing for $25,000 or $30,000 when racing at home meant racing for $8,500. It meant buying that $12,000 yearling, because that Dream Of Glory or Armbro Omaha colt had a shot to make money in a lucrative sires stakes program.

In bye-gone years there was an expectation your state-bred wouldn't have to race Niatross in an open sires stake. He was on the cover of Sports Illustrated, getting ready for the $1 million Meadowlands Pace, racing in front of tens of thousands of people, generating millions and millions in handle.

It all felt exactly right. And when it feels right in this game, a lot of people breed and buy horses.

Meanwhile, in 2024, the hottest 4-year-old horse on the planet raced at Oak Grove with almost no one watching, while simultaneously scaring off every mom and pop trainer from entering. In 2024, fantastic horses, capable of winning our biggest events and generating excitement for the sport, will be in Kentucky racing for $400,000, or in Ontario racing for $250,000 at 1-5 odds, while smaller stables are wondering how to pay their feed bill.

There's something very wrong with this, and in my view, revamping the various sires stakes programs is the only solution to making things right again.

Jenna MacDonell's Grand return to racing

The daughter of Hall of Fame driver Paul MacDonell has taken the reins as the raceway manager at Grand River Raceway just as the beloved Elora, ON track is set to open its new five-eighths mile oval.

by Matthew Lomon

Jenna MacDonell is primed to flourish in her new role at Grand River Raceway.

The fourth-generation horseperson, who just this week was sworn-in as the Elora, ON oval's new raceway manager, has harness racing embedded in her DNA.

"I've been in this business since before I was born," MacDonell said. "I truly love the sport and I want to see it go forward. I know how great harness racing is, and that's something I want everybody to know."

Thrust into the standardbred lifestyle before being able to walk or talk, the daughter of Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame driver Paul MacDonell openly embraced her roots from the outset.

"I've always worked in the barn since a very young age, totally willingly," Jenna said with a laugh. "I have two sisters and both of them are involved peripherally, but I've always been the one that dove headfirst into the industry."

Jenna has been around pacers and trotters for as long as she can remember.

Some, like the iconic Somebeachsomewhere – which her father drove to great acclaim – have left an indelible mark on her family's life through their exploits on the racetrack.

Others, like the modest-earning Twin B M W, have been equally impactful in her world. Owned and trained by her grandfather Blaise MacDonell, the son of Apaches Fame raced 181 times, earning just over $87,000 across 18 wins.

“I’ve been in this business since before I was born. I truly love the sport and I want to see it go forward. I know how great harness racing is, and that’s something I want everybody to know.”

For Jenna, it wasn’t what the bay gelding did on the track that made him special.

“I first met him when I was about 10,” she said. “I will never forget that horse. I saw some old friends recently and we were talking about him. There’s just something about your first one that you get involved with that you just never really forget.

“He was little, I was little, and he was quiet and calm. He’s one of the first horses that I learned how to do everything on – how to harness, bath, all of those things. He was more of a pet than a hardcore racehorse.”

Over the years, Jenna’s hands-on experience extended to the coaching wing, working under trainers to deepen her racing IQ.

Beyond the barn, the University of Guelph graduate has spent time on the operations side in various roles with Woodbine Entertainment, including customer service and as an intern in the communications department.

While each stop along the way provided invaluable insights and crucial experience, it was Jenna’s half-decade long tenure in customer service that helped align her managerial mind with her lifelong goal of moving the sport forward.

Over that time, Jenna engaged in countless one-on-one interactions with fans and horseplayers.

“I heard everything – the good, the bad, the ugly,” she said. “It’s one thing to get people through the door, but then it’s another to give them the experience that makes them want to come back. That is going to be one of my main goals: not just bringing people in but making sure they want to stay and truly see the magic that is horse racing.”

As raceway manager, Jenna will have every opportunity to share her unbridled enthusiasm with Grand River’s clientele in the hopes of transforming them into “forever” fans.

“You want to get people connected to the horses,” she said. “I understand gambling is what mainly drives the sport, but for me, personally, it’s always been about the animal and the competitiveness. I want everybody to know what a great sport it is, and how much fun and exciting it is.

“The team at Grand River has done a great job creating this beautiful facility. I want to draw people in, keep them here, and make them fans for life. That’s my goal. It always has been, wherever or whatever side of the industry I’ve been on.”

Equipped with an abundant supply of industry experience to draw from, the well-rounded Jenna can also apply the lessons she’s learned from her successful real estate career to her vision for Grand River.

“In real estate, there are two types of buyers: the analytical type of person who is really only working with dollars and cents trying to make sure the numbers make sense,” she said. “Then, there’s the families moving into a new home and it’s a very personal connection for them.”

Horse racing isn’t all that different, she said.

“It’s not just about the betting and it’s not just about horses. You want to make sure that there’s something for everybody when they come to the racetrack.

“There will be people coming that don’t really like to gamble, but that’s all right because there’s amazing competition going on. There are these beautiful animals out there doing their thing and maybe we can appeal to those people so that there’s something for everybody.

“There’s something for the kids. There’s something for animal lovers. There’s something for people who like to bet. You want to drive everybody in.”

Jenna said Grand River offers patrons, both new and established, plenty of reason – and enticing options – to want to return.

“Grand River has always been one of my favorite tracks to go to both as a horseperson and a fan,” Jenna said. “One of the things I really love about it is that small town, intimate feel. You’re up close and personal with the horses, you can see them at the side coming in and out of the paddock, and all the people running around doing what they’re supposed to be doing.”

Success, she noted, will be achieved through a team effort.

“I’ve always loved that atmosphere and I’m really looking forward to working with the team at Grand River,” she said. “They’re such forward-thinking people.”

Jenna said she feels very supported as she navigates her new position.

Notable names in the industry, including Western Fair’s director of equine programming Greg Blanchard and former GRR raceway manager Jamie Martin, have already reached out with words of encouragement.

“Once it was announced that I would be coming into this role, I can’t even tell you how overwhelming the support was from everybody around,” Jenna said. “I’ve had Jamie Martin, who I

“ I heard everything [while working in racetrack customer service] – the good, the bad, the ugly. It’s one thing to get people through the door, but then it’s another to give them the experience that makes them want to come back. That is going to be one of my main goals: not just bringing people in but making sure they want to stay and truly see the magic that is horse racing.”

worked with at Woodbine, reach out. Greg Blanchard has reached out – he’s someone I’ve also worked with at Woodbine.

“I’ve had so much support and it’s been amazing to see.”

Jenna steps into her new endeavour at an exciting time for Grand River. The half-mile raceway’s highly-anticipated transformation into a five-eighths-mile track is coming along nicely she said.

“The last update that I heard this week [April 26] was that everything is on target. The final layer was going on right now, I believe. Greg [Coon] is currently on site, making sure everything’s going well. The lighting is all in and it was being tested this week. Pylons go in next week.

“Depending on the weather, we’re aiming for the track to be open for training in early May, but that’s very tentative. Then, hopefully, qualifiers in late May, but again, that’s tentative and weather-dependent to make sure everything goes smooth.”

Looking ahead to opening day (June 5), Jenna spoke about how the track extension may impact racing for both horses and horseplayers.

“I’m expecting that the larger track will probably attract some higher calibre of horses,” she said. “On the flip side, horses that maybe struggle on a half-mile track will definitely benefit from the bigger track.

“I think the new track will most likely change how horseplayers bet. With bigger tracks there can be a lot more action in the mile, more horses in play, and then more value to the horseplayer that way.”

When asked what she is most looking forward to with the changes, Jenna responded like a true driver’s daughter.

“Personally, I’m very interested to watch the drivers and observe how their strategies will change with this track,” Jenna said. “It’ll be very interesting to see them figure out the nuances of the track because each venue has its own characteristics.”

While her connection to the industry has ebbed and flowed over the years, one constant has been her unwavering passion and respect for the sport and its participants.

Jenna, just like always, will approach every day with a long-held optimistic outlook.

“I’m excited to see how it all plays out. I expect there will be challenges at some point with everybody getting accustomed to the new surface and surroundings. It’ll be a bit of an adjustment for everyone at first, but we’ll get where we need to be.”

Overachiever Emmetts Buddy keeps rolling at Woodbine Mohawk Park

The talented Manitoba-bred is proof that good horses can come from anywhere and everyone has a chance.

by Brett Sturman

Picking up close to where he left off last year, the now 5-year-old gelding Emmetts Buddy kicked off this season in April with two wins from three starts in the Woodbine Mohawk Park preferred – one of which came at first asking since December in a time of 1:50.

Emmetts Buddy became a well-known commodity on the Woodbine Mohawk Park circuit last year, and his feel-good story that saw him come from nowhere and ascend through the track's entire class ladder went so far as to see him recognized as an O'Brien finalist for Older Pacing Horse. His journey, which began in Manitoba, is next to Ontario geographically, but is much farther apart as a harness racing powerhouse.

En route to winning 12 times last year including four of those at the preferred level, Emmetts Buddy became the fastest Manitoba-sired horse ever in 1:50.2, and of course is the only one to have paced a mile in under 1:50, with a career mark that now stands at 1:49.

Emmetts Buddy is a homebred by veteran horseman Arthur Rey out of St Claude, MB, who also owns and previously trained the horse. Named for one of Rey's grandsons, I don't know if Emmetts Buddy is a result of happenstance or genius – maybe somewhere in between – but he's unquestionably the product of Rey's doing.

Sired by In The Irons, Emmetts Buddy is one of the few horses ever produced by the stallion who was owned by Rey. In the small number that the stallion produced for Rey, Emmetts Buddy is obviously the fastest, but there were a couple others that went in 1:55 in a small window between what looks to be the years 2018-20, with three including Emmetts Buddy actively still racing.

"Unfortunately, In The Irons died shortly after we had him," said Rey. "I found him dead in the pasture one morning. We were very sad and disappointed when that happened. We only had

New Image Media
Emmetts Buddy (Tyler Borth) winning at Woodbine Mohawk Park in September of 2023.

“In a way, what I really like about Emmetts Buddy is where he comes from. Our sport really is for everybody, where really everybody has a chance at it. We saw that with Desperate Man as well. We don't have to spend $200,000 for a yearling. Any one you've got can happen to be a good horse.”

him for a couple of years, and apparently, he was quite the racehorse himself.”

Indeed, In The Irons was just that. An Ontario star himself in the mid-2000s, he ended up with career earnings over $500,000 and raced into 2016.

On the dam's side, Emmetts Buddy is out of the Shark Gesture mare Logicallyinclined, a horse that Rey bought as a yearling for $4,000 and campaigned back in 2010. Logicallyinclined has had success as a producer and is also a half-sister to Physicallyinclined, an Ontario Sires Stakes performer with earnings of over $660,000 and a mark of 1:49 taken as a 3-year-old. So, the breeding on Emmetts Buddy isn't as obscure as maybe one would think.

Emmetts Buddy didn't first qualify until July of his 3-year-old year, but as Rey explains it, that is customary where he comes from.

“As a 2-year-old, I don't usually do much with them,” said Rey. “I train them down a little bit but I don't do much because of the climate and our long winters. So, I usually just train them down a little as 2-year-olds and then I will pick them back up as a 3-year-old.”

It was then that Rey first saw real potential in Emmetts Buddy. After beginning his career three-for-three while racing at the rural Miami Fair track, a month later Emmetts Buddy won the province's signature event, the Manitoba Great Western stake.

“In that race, he somehow got parked until just about the three-quarter pole when he finally took the lead and kept it, and won the race,” said Rey. “So, I thought, ‘Well, maybe this is something a bit special.’ But at the same time, he was having issues as a 3-year-old and trouble on the turns and had to have the vet treat him, and of course all we have here are half-mile tracks. Even at the bigger track [Woodbine Mohawk Park] when we first had him there his first few starts if I can recall, he broke two different times leaving into that first turn.”

In September of his 3-year-old season Emmetts Buddy was sent to the barn of Michael Kwietniowski, where he has remained and flourished since. But around the same time that he was shipped there, Rey, remarkably looking back at it now, had Emmetts Buddy up for sale.

“I had him listed on onGait,” said Rey. “I was asking $20,000 USD but I didn't get one bite, which now is lucky.”

From there, the rest is history. Trained by Kwietniowski and driven almost exclusively by the emerging Tyler Borth since last July, Emmetts Buddy has continued to mow them down at every level in his off-the-pace preference, many of which have come in dramatic fashion.

Said Rey, “Michael [Kwietniowski] says that he always gives everything he's got and he's certainly a good closer, which is probably why he's so thrilling to watch. And I really like the way that Tyler drives him. As soon as he picked him up you could see that he got along really well with him.”

In the months ahead, Rey notes that Emmetts Buddy isn't currently staked for anything, so they'll take it as it comes. If anything comes up that he fits, they would race him in it. To date, Emmetts Buddy hasn't been able to figure out the legitimate free-for-all horse Taurasi, but he's been close.

Rey continues to race horses from across the talent spectrum, which includes a recent $10,000 claim of the mare Betchuloveme out of Woodbine Mohawk Park, that Rey intends to race at The Loop, a recently opened venue at Red River Exhibition Park in Winnipeg.

The success of Emmetts Buddy is a success not only for Rey, but for harness racing.

“In a way, what I really like about Emmetts Buddy is where he comes from,” said Rey. “Our sport really is for everybody, where really everybody has a chance at it. We saw that with Desperate Man as well. We don't have to spend $200,000 for a yearling. Any one you've got can happen to be a good horse.”

The Big M is trying to get a handle on their wagers

The track has replaced its Pick-8 with a Pick-5 hoping for better returns.

by Debbie Little

Last weekend, The Meadowlands introduced a second Pick-5 to their wagering menu, replacing the Pick-8, which didn't catch on the way that they hoped it would.

The Pick-8 was introduced on Oct. 20, 2023, changing their "Sensational Seven" wagering lineup to a "Great Eight."

Although the Pick-8 was certainly well received at first — especially when there was a carryover for several weeks — according to The Big M's chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir, it never caught fire.

"You know, [the Pick-8] didn't perform terribly, it was just one of those things where we wanted to listen to our customers and we wanted to see if we could find something that was going to move the needle," Settlemoir said. "At the end of the day, what it boils down to is listening to our customers. And listen, I'm up against huge numbers from last year, particularly on the export side.

"And it seemed as though there was a, I don't want to use the word outcry, because that's not really what it was, but dialogue between our customers and management here at the racetrack. And we're listening and having an open conversation with them regarding these types of things. And I thought maybe this will make a difference where we can actually move the handle number a little bit more than what we were doing with the Pick-8."

The Meadowlands has shown over the years that they prefer to try new things rather than just take the if it ain't broke, don't fix it approach.

At the start of 2023, the East Rutherford mile oval had six major wagers: a Pick-5, Pick-6, Pick-7, Hi-5, and two Pick-4s. They added a second Hi-5 in March of last year, followed by the Pick-8 in October.

The track must be doing something right as they are coming off a career-year where they averaged $3.08 million per race card in 2023, by far the best since Jeff Gural became president/chief executive officer in 2011.

Settlemoir said he knows that trying to repeat or exceed a career year may not be possible, but impossible isn't part of his vocabulary.

"I get that and I understand that, but I'm always going to give 100 per cent in trying to do something to boost business," he said. "I don't like doing things half-assed and I enjoy listening to my customers. And I think that's partly one of the reasons for the success with our handle last year and the years before. Just simply listening to the customer and what they have to say and an additional drive from myself and the management team here at The Meadowlands that want to see those numbers increase as well.

"We may get into it and find out that it's not working, and then go back to the drawing board and make some other changes and see what we come back with then. But I thought it was worth a chance, trying to move the needle north on the handle, because I don't like resting on laurels. Never have, never will. And I always want to try to do better than what we have before. So, bigger and better is always kind of like the motto I use around the office when it comes to those types of things, bigger and better."

When asked if it was necessary to come up with an additional multi-leg wager rather than just dropping the Pick-8 and leaving the remaining bets in place as they were prior to October, Settlemoir did not necessarily think that less is more.

“You know, [the Pick-8] didn't perform terribly, it was just one of those things where we wanted to listen to our customers and we wanted to see if we could find something that was going to move the needle. At the end of the day, what it boils down to is listening to our customers.”

~ Jason Settlemoir

“If there are things that look plausible to bet on for me, then I will. I’m not good at picking out the best $4,000 claimer that has all bad lines. I’m not good at that. I’m better at finding young horses that maybe have potential and they’re not [odds of] 4-5. That’s what I’m looking for.”

~ Les Stark

“You know, I’ve never heard a customer tell me that we have too many wagering opportunities,” Settlemoir said. “I think that you could get to a point where there’s too much going on in a race as far as the different types of wagers and then you just dilute the other pools. So, that’s one thing that we do keep a very close eye on.”

Les Stark, a major player at The Meadowlands, enjoys multi-leg wagers, but the Pick-8 was not his cup of tea.

“I may have bet it once when the carryover was quite big,” Stark said of the discontinued Pick-8. “Other than that, I never even considered it.”

Stark said he does not object to The Meadowlands adding the additional Pick-5 and removing something that he would never bet, “as long as it doesn’t bastardize the pools and make them smaller to the point where you don’t want to play them.”

His example was the handful of Pick-3s at The Big M.

“Most of them, especially on a Friday night, won’t have pools that are large enough to consider, for me at least, wagering in,” Stark said. “So, I like the Pick-5. I’d only worry that the second one would take money out of the first one and that they would both be smaller than when the only Pick-5 stood by itself.

“I’d like to see them try to card better races to make the product more appealing. They’re bending over backwards to figure stuff out because their product is poor at this point.”

Stark said if some of the name horses that are starting to qualify eventually race at The Meadowlands, it will improve their product quite a bit. However, just the fact that it’s the Championship Meet is not enough to get his attention.

“If there are things that look plausible to bet on for me, then I will,” Stark said. “I’m not good at picking out the best $4,000 claimer that has all bad lines. I’m not good at that. I’m better at finding young horses that maybe have potential and they’re not [odds of] 4-5. That’s what I’m looking for.”

Just as the Pick-8 was for the last six months, according to Settlemoir, the Late Pick-5 is now on the clock, so to speak.

“That’s what we do with everything,” Settlemoir said. “We try just about everything that we can and some things are successful, some things aren’t, and some things lay in the middle and we’ll see where this comes in at.

“I’m hoping that it attracts more eyes and I think we’ll certainly see it handle more than what the Pick-8 did. But, you know, those are the types of things we have to watch and if it works, great, we’ll keep doing it, and if it doesn’t, we’ll go back to the drawing board. That’s one of the things that Jeff [Gural] has always wanted to continue to do, was try different ideas and try different things and listen to the customer. And those are the things that we do.”

Connecting the Kentucky Derby with harness racing

by Bob Heyden

On the weekend of the 150th Kentucky Derby, here are 15 fun facts connecting the “Sport of Kings” and “America’s First Pastime.”

1. It was 1875 when Aristides won the first Kentucky Derby. That same year, The Red Mile began racing, but it was another 18 years until the standardbred Triple Crown would get underway.
2. More than half of the Kentucky Derbies as of 1902 were won by African-American riders. In 1993 Milton Smith sent out American Winner becoming the first African American to capture the Hambletonian.
3. In 1886, the bookmakers went on strike at the Derby. From 1957 through 1974, the first 17 years the Hambletonian was held in DuQuoin, there was no pari-mutuel wagering.
4. Regret was the lone filly in the 1915 Derby and won it. Atlanta was the lone filly in the 2018 Hambletonian and won it.
5. In 1997, George Steinbrenner became the first owner to have a Derby horse and a Meadowlands Pace finalist in the same year. Concerto was ninth in the Derby, while the Joe Holloway trained Rods Deal also did not get a check in the Pace.
6. In 1914 Donerail won the Derby and paid a record $184.90. In harness racing – in the 21st century – four Hambletonian winners were out of Donerail dams: Donato Hanover (out of D Train), Broad Bahn (Madonorail), Royalty For Life (Bourbon N Grits), and Marion Marauder (Spellbound Hanover).

7. Jockey John Velasquez will compete in his 18th consecutive Kentucky Derby this year with Fierceness. This summer, driver Tim Tetrick is set to duplicate that, twice. He’s been in the last 17 finals of both the Meadowlands Pace and the Hambletonian.

8. There was no grandstand at the Derby until 1895, the same year the Twin Spires were introduced. The Meadowlands introduced a new grandstand in November 2013 and for the first time the 2014 Hambletonian was held there.

9. The stall gate was first used in the Derby in 1930, as was the photo finish camera. The Phillips mobile starting gate was introduced in 1946.

10. Calumet Butler won the 1931 Hambletonian for a farm that bred nine Kentucky Derby winners. Known standardbred breeder Bill Solomon – the Pin Oak Lane Farm – also won the Kentucky Derby in 1992 either Lil E Tee.

11. John Velasquez, now 52, finished last with his first three Derby mounts. Today he is at $484 million and No. 1 all-time! Billy Haughton did zero damage in the Hambletonian from 1949-74 from 25 to 50 years old, then he won it five times in the next nine years.

12. In 2022, the Kentucky Derby went to 80-1 shot Rich Strike and the Hambletonian three months later to Cool Papa Bell at 52-1.

13. Allen Jerkens, the “Giant Killer,” who was the 1973 thoroughbred Trainer of the Year during Secretariat’s year, made it to the Hall of Fame before ever having a Kentucky Derby starter. Harness Hall of Famer Billy Haughton never drove a Kentucky Futurity winner but did win every other Triple Crown event.

14. The 1943-44 Kentucky Derbies were often referred to as the “Street Car Derby,” because of wartime restrictions about driving to the event with the emphasis on public transportation. Soldiers were welcomed. In 1945 Germany surrendered on May 8 and the Derby was then contested a month later. On the standardbred side, the Kentucky Futurity was paused from 1942-45.

15. For arguments sake, let’s assume that either T C I or Karl dominates the 2024 Hambletonian and becomes an easy choice for HOY. This is the 99th edition of the Hambletonian. Who won the 99th edition of the Kentucky Derby? Secretariat in 1973.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Jayne Weller's love of harness racing deepened as she got older

by Chris Lomon

Jayne Weller's literal view of harness racing is not what it once was.

As a fifth-generation horse person, Weller's connection to the standardbred world dates back to the days before she took her first steps.

"I would always hang out in the barn with my aunt and my uncle," Weller said. "So, I remember them taking me to Raceway Park in Toledo [Ohio].

"On race days, since I was so young, I would always get stuck sitting on the little concrete partition between the paddock and the grandstand. My aunt would normally be in the paddock with the horses and my uncle would stay out with me. So, my aunt and I could have a conversation between the partition."

Not the ideal scenario, but there were plenty of other opportunities and moments for Weller to be side-by-side with her aunt and uncle.

She even had her own playroom, so to speak, on the way to and from the races.

"A lot of those early days would be sitting in the barns and watching my aunt and uncle work with the horses," Weller said. "I had my spot in the back of their truck with all my toys."

When Weller hit her teens, there was a friendly face who always gave her a friendly reminder that she would soon be able to cross the fence to the paddock.

She always appreciated those interactions.

"I'd always go and talk to the security guy there because they also had a little grandstand right outside of the paddock,"

Weller said. "He'd always joke around with me, 'A couple more years, a couple more years.'"

And then the day finally came, the one where she could walk freely through the paddock.

It was a moment she had thought about more and more as her 16th birthday drew closer.

"The day I finally got my groom's license, I couldn't remember my numbers," she said. "So, I had to pull my little card out. I can remember the first time I ever had to sign in and go into the paddock.

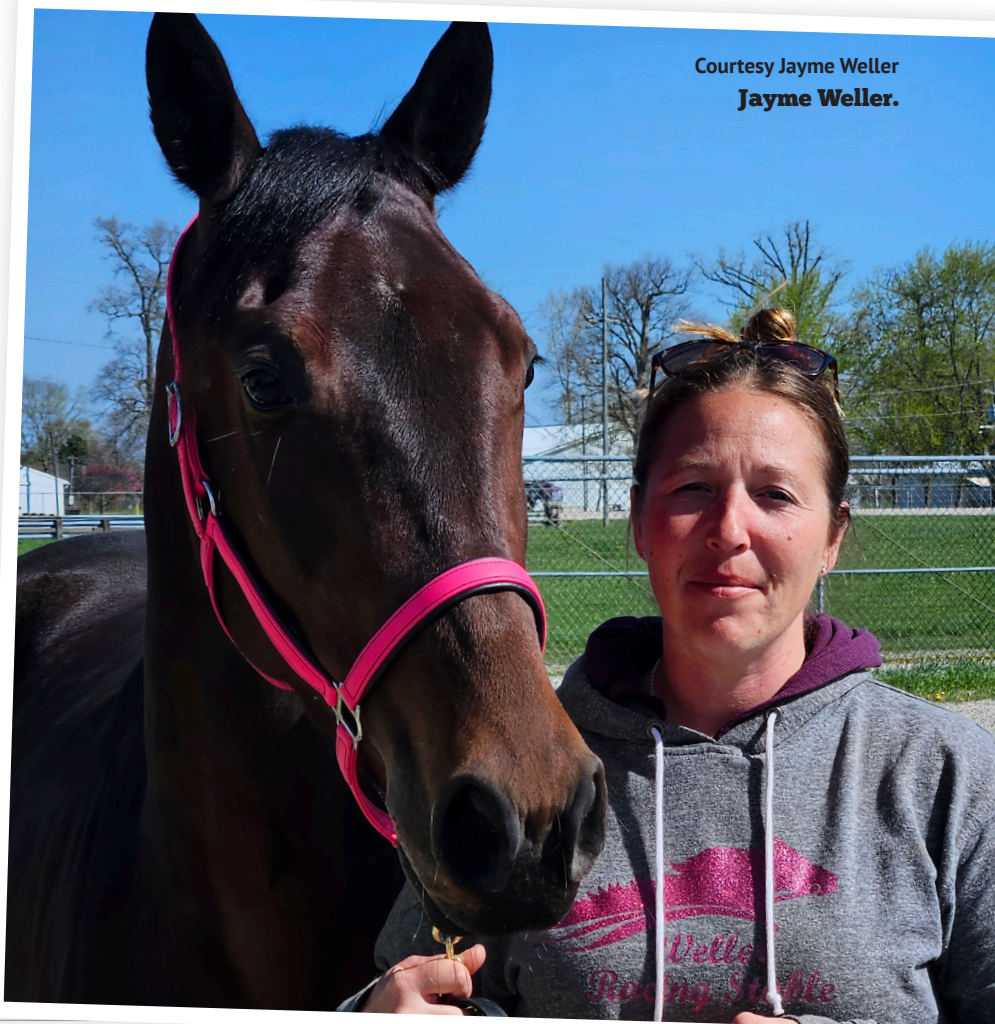

"It was a whole new world. I'd been around the fair tracks because of my family, so I'd always been actively involved. But the first time going into the paddock at a pari-mutuel track, that's one thing I'll never forget."

Weller felt an instant bond with the horses and horsepeople.

Following in the racing footsteps of her grandparents, Jay and June (Dillman) Weller, her father, Jay Weller, her aunt, Jayne Weller, and cousin Pam Weller, a charter at the fair races, seemed like a 1-9 slam dunk.

But it wasn't the case; at least for a time.

"I honestly never really had [the racing bug] until later on in my life," Jayne said. "It was always there, and it was always available to me, so it was part of my life for such a long time.

Courtesy Jayne Weller
Jayne Weller.

“My family is very old school. I think, technically, I’m like a fifth-generation horseperson, as my great-grandpa used to do farrier work. So, I’ve always been taught there’s the right way, there’s the wrong way. There’s my dad’s way, there’s my aunt’s way, and then there’s finding my own way.”

~ Jayme Weller

“I moved away from home when I was 21. I went down and I started working for the USTA [United States Trotting Association], which I did for 13 years.”

Midway through her time at the USTA, Jayme experienced a first; something that would eventually change her career path.

“Probably about my sixth or seventh year there, I went into partnership on a horse with my dad,” she said. “It was a great feeling to have a horse and to watch it race.”

Eight years ago, Jayme made her own purchase.

The racing bug had finally got her.

“I had around $2,500 to $3,000 saved up,” she said. “I ended up buying a horse by the name of Talkaboutaqueen for $2,500.”

A modest price tag didn’t prevent the daughter of Oaks Enforcer—Trouble Talk from finding success on the racetrack.

The pacing mare did it all under the watchful eye of Jayme.

“This is the first time that I really started conditioning on my own,” she said. “My dad was always there to help me. He took care of her during the week, and I would come up on the weekends.

“She was my first for everything. She was the first one I really went an actual training mile with and who I conditioned from being a yearling into [an older] horse.”

Trainer and Talkaboutaqueen proved to be a winning duo.

“She raced until she was 8 and then I retired her,” Jayme said. “She gave me my first fair win, my first parimutuel win, she was part of my first training double. I won an Ohio Sires Stakes with her.”

Jayme, who receives a helping hand from her sister Courtney at the barn on the weekends, is enjoying everything associated with the training life.

She is equally grateful for all the advice and support from her family.

“My family is very old school,” Jayme said. “I think, technically, I’m like a fifth-generation horseperson, as my great-grandpa used to do farrier work. So, I’ve always been taught there’s the right way, there’s the wrong way. There’s my dad’s way, there’s my aunt’s way, and then there’s finding my own way.

“A good feed program is always going to be the base, a good conditioning program, but one of the things I guess they’ve always taught me is to take it slow, not to rush things, and to let the horse tell you when they’re ready. You’re going to get a lot more longevity out of those than if you push them to fit into cookie-cutter training.”

That recipe for success continues to serve Jayme well.

Currently, she has five horses racing and 12 in training.

It’s no surprise that her trainees display the same work ethic as Jayme.

“I can’t say I necessarily gauge success all on money, but more on the performance of the horse from where they start, and where they finish and how much they’ve grown in between,” she said. “I put in an honest effort every day, every minute, every hour. I might not have the highest-class horses, but for the stock that is available for my budget, they give their all every race.”

Jayme also tends to other horses at her breeding farm, which is home to broodmares, sucklings and weanlings.

It’s a busy life, but a fruitful one for her.

When she isn’t overseeing her horses, at the barn or on the farm, she devotes a majority of her free time to her 15-year-old son.

“He is very interested in baseball,” Jayme said. “He’s got Stage 3 kidney disease, so we’ve been working through it for about five or six years. When I have the time, playing catch, playing baseball with him, and trying to be a parent at the same time while managing a stable; you find a way to make sure everything is taken care of.”

In one year, Jayme and her son can add a new shared interest to their list.

His view of racing, like his mother’s once was, will soon change.

“So, he’s got one more year before he can come to the paddock,” Jayme said. “He’s been to the fairs, but he’s got one more year until he can really be licensed as a groom, and he can be in the paddock too.”

Jayme is certain he’ll like what he sees.

After all, she knows just how it feels.

AMONG OURSELVES

with FRANK COTOLO

The extraordinary league of gentleman handicappers, Part 2

by Frank Cotolo

In 1988, a contingent of my so-called league of gentleman handicappers sat in a single row across the clubhouse grandstand at Hollywood Park. The setting was casual and the gathering social, but I hardly felt I belonged in the company of such professorial caliber. But I was not uncomfortable since these were my contemporaries. I knew some better than others but we all knew of one another in one way or another.

It was the first day in May and the horse racing world focused upon the $786,000 Kentucky Derby and this special community of California handicappers thought the local Los Angeles racetrack the perfect place to experience the event via simulcasting over the racetrack's jumbotron.

Most of the talk for the Derby concerned a filly named Winning Colors.

"Actually, she is a roan," said one member of the group.

"Grey with white on the face? That's not a roan, is it?" said another.

"She was registered a roan," said yet another.

"Goes to show you what some people know about horses."

"Color and sex don't define anything, really," said one more.

"Neither does registration," said the third in the row.

And each spoke matters of opinions.

"She'll be the second filly to win in our lifetime."

"Genuine Risk."

"I had that one back then. When was back then?"

"It was 1980."

"And eight years later?"

"Now? Winning Colors should take this."

They all shook their heads.

"But is she the bet?"

Then the topic of the Derby ended. They were far more concentrated upon the local racing program because these magnificent craftsmen of pari-mutuel strategies and practices knew valuable wagers would be presented in bulk on the local dirt and turf from horses never to make national headlines and those steeds would contribute to their betting bankrolls. That made the Kentucky Derby a sideshow.

In attendance that day was Dick Mitchell whom I became acquainted with by Mark Cramer. Mitchell taught courses on Microcomputers at L.A. City College. He was a pioneer advocating the use of a personal computer to "beat the races." His book – A Winning Thoroughbred Strategy (1984, Cynthia Publishing Company, CA) – is bathed in handicapping and betting methods. A bean counter like me was forced to reduce most of the contents to the least common denominators.

It was important at that point for me to accept the wisdom of betting arithmetic from the likes of Mitchell and the other gentlemen thoroughbred players because the pari-mutuel system was blind to breeds. There is a great difference between racehorses that gallop and racehorses that pace or trot but knowledge of both breeds can only make a handicapper better when betting on either. As Mitchell wrote, "The beauty of the approach is that the truth of mathematics is absolute."

Too many horse-players plead loyalty to one breed or another without sound evidence of supremacy. Pari-mutuel wagering mathematics do not lean in favor of any host game. Sometimes no horses are even involved. Pari-mutuel betting was used for dog racing and even for the human sport of jai alai. But you would never know that in an argument about which game is more of a challenge or more regal than the other. Such arguments are moot. Although there is no damage being loyal to one betting competition or another there is much gained by understanding how to wager in general in order to be successful.

In Mitchell’s book he included a condensed version of his computer program, “The Positive Expectation Handicapper.” Some of it read like this:

10 B$=CHR$(7) 20 DIM CL (20), CW (20), ES (20), FR (20), LS (20), NH$(20) . . . and my attention span posted 404. Mitchell laughed. He pointed me to the text that James Quinn wrote about Mitchell’s book: “... the concept of mathematical expectation is explained in clear, pedestrian style.”

I did not know Quinn as well as I knew the others but after I attended a seminar that he gave at City College about common betting peculiarities, there was no doubt in my mind; even if I only qualified to be the court jester for the league of gentleman handicappers I would don the motley outfit complete with cap and bells.

Quinn’s many books address a host of approaches to pari-mutuel participation. Smart ways to win money are handled with aplomb for casual recreational play and deep-diving profit-bombing with a five-digit-and-up bankroll. He addressed the math and the art of handicapping and betting for on-track and off-track activity. And at his seminar he proved he not only understood but could relate to any portrait of a horseplayer.

Sir Pinocchio ready to put nose on the gate in Dexter

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Stakes success at Freehold Raceway is a bit of a tradition for the family of Sir Pinocchio, who will look to leave his own mark at the central New Jersey half-mile oval when he competes in Saturday's (May 4) $134,900 Dexter Cup for 3-year-old male trotters.

Sir Pinocchio's second dam, Oh Oh Its Magic, won a division of the Lady Suffolk at Freehold in 2007. Ten years later, Oh Oh Its Magic's fourth foal, Lord Cromwell, captured the Dexter Cup in a still standing stakes-record 1:55 and gave driver John Campbell the final Grand Circuit victory of his Hall of Fame career.

Those two horses, who combined to earn more than $932,000 in their careers, were bred and owned by Carolyn Atherton and her husband, Irv, as is Sir Pinocchio.

Sir Pinocchio, a son of Met's Hall–Lady Cromwell, was a New York Sire Stakes Excelsior Series champion last year. He has hit the board in six of eight lifetime starts, winning three and earning $56,427. He will start Saturday's Dexter Cup, the first Grand Circuit event of the season for sophomore male trotters, from post 6 with Jason Bartlett driving for trainer Ed Hart. He is the co-second choice on the morning line at 4-1.

In his only start this year, Sir Pinocchio won a conditioned race from post 7 at MGM Yonkers Raceway on April 17. The gelding was victorious by 1½ lengths in 1:57.4.

"It's going to be exciting," said Irv Atherton. "We have high hopes for the young man. He won handily at Yonkers, so we'll see what happens. Carolyn is very excited; she can't wait to see him race. We can only hope for the best."

Sir Pinocchio went off-stride in three races last year, but also displayed talent, such as when he won the Excelsior final from post 8 at Batavia Downs in 1:59 at odds of 9-1.

"He was good as gold that night," said trainer Hart. "He showed flashes of being a very nice horse last year. He made a couple odd breaks last year; it's just a matter of attention with him. Basically, he just had to mature.

"He's a big, good-looking, nice horse to be around. I thought he was very good at Yonkers [on April 17]. He left and got a little roughed up in the first turn, Jason had to steady him, and then he came back and had good trot. It was a good mile for him. We'll start from here and see what happens."

Mike Lizzi

Sir Pinocchio (Jason Bartlett) winning at Yonkers.

Sir Pinocchio's mother is a full sister to Lord Cromwell, who also was trained by Hart. The conditioner said Sir Pinocchio and Lord Cromwell share little in common, at least physically.

"They are opposites," Hart said. "Lord Cromwell was a poor standing, small horse that just had a ton of heart. [Sir Pinocchio] is a big good-looking horse. But he seems to also have a lot of heart."

Sir Pinocchio is not eligible to August's Hambletonian but is staked to several other major Grand Circuit races for 3-year-old male trotters, including the Yonkers Trot, Canadian Trotting Classic, and Matron.

"We can only keep our fingers crossed that he stays healthy," Atherton said. "We've got the right trainer and the right driver, so everything is good."

The Athertons, who have been involved in harness racing for four decades, have cut back on breeding, which makes watching Sir Pinocchio all the more meaningful.

"We're just getting a little too old for this," Irv said with a laugh.

"We've had a few horses that have done well. We have no complaints. It's special."

Sir Pinocchio's seven rivals in the Dexter Cup include Blackhawk Zette, who is 5-for-5 this year for trainer Robert Baggitt, Jr. and owner J L Sadowsky after winning the Bobby Weiss Series final on Monday at Mohegan Pennsylvania's Pocono Downs. The colt is this season's richest 3-year-old trotter, with $62,000. He will start from post 7 with Matt Kakaley in the sulky and is the 9-5 favorite.

Last year's New York Sire Stakes champion, Chaplind, will start from post 2 with Yannick Gingras driving for trainer Trond Smedhammer and owner Purple Haze Stables. The colt is 4-1.

Chaplind is one of four horses that will be making his sophomore debut in the Dexter, along with Stockholm Hanover, Inflation, and Thinker Monkey. Thinker Monkey, a full brother to 2020 Trotter of the Year Gimpanzee, is the lone Dexter participant eligible to the $1 million Hambletonian.

Completing the field are Jakey Jumpup and Casanova Hall.

Saturday's card at Freehold also includes two divisions of the Lady Suffolk for 3-year-old female trotters. Racing begins at 12:30 p.m. (EDT). For the day's complete entries, click here.

Another round of stars set for Q debuts at Big M

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Dan Patch Award winners Captain Albano and Jiggy Jog S, O'Brien Award winner T C I, and Breeders Crown champs Southwind Tyrion and My Girl EJ will make their first appearances of the year when The Meadowlands hosts 15 qualifiers beginning at 9 a.m. (EDT) Friday.

Jiggy Jog S and Southwind Tyrion are from the stable of Ake Svanstedt, who was voted 2023 Trainer of the Year by the U.S. Harness Writers Association.

Jiggy Jog S, a 5-year-old female trotter who earned $1.03 million in 2023, was no worse than second in any of her 11 races, winning eight, last season. Her victories included the Breeders Crown, Dayton Oaks and Graduate Series final, where she defeated male rivals. She was second in the MGM Yonkers International.

Southwind Tyrion, a 6-year-old male trotter, finished last season's campaign with victories in the Breeders Crown and FanDuel Open Trot championship. In 2020, he became the fastest 2-year-old male trotter in history with a 1:51.1 win, then battled issues the next two seasons, missing his 3-year-old campaign and racing only six times at 4. Last year, he won five of 12 starts and earned $655,816.

Captain Albano, last season's fastest 2-year-old male pacer, with a mark of 1:49.2, won seven of nine races for trainer Noel Daley. The colt was a Pennsylvania Sire Stakes champion in addition to winning Bluegrass and International Stallion divisions.

T C I won 10 of 12 races last year and led all 2-year-old trotters with $1.23 million in purses. He became the first freshman male trotter to surpass the million-dollar mark (later joined by Karl) and fell only $13,776 shy of Snow White's record $1.25 million for a 2-year-old trotter set in 2007. The Ron Burke trainee received the O'Brien Award for best 2-year-old male trotter to compete in Canada, where he went 3-for-3 and was its season's fastest 2-year-old colt trotter, with a mark of 1:54.1.

My Girl EJ, a filly trained by Burke, was last season's fastest 2-year-old pacer (1:49.1) as well as richest freshman pacer ($698,397). She hit the board in 12 of 13 races, winning five.

Wilfong records 2,000th career driving win

Off of a banner year in 2023, driver Kyle Wilfong broke through yet again in 2024, earning his 2,000th career driving victory on Saturday (April 27) at Harrah's Hoosier Park. Entering the Saturday card just one shy of the milestone, Wilfong steered Late Nite Hawk to victory for his father, Brett Wilfong.

Leaving from post 3, Kyle was on a mission from the outset, hustling Late Nite Hawk to the lead in the field of open 2/open 3 trotters through a first-quarter of :28.3. Late Nite Hawk had things his way to the halfway point in :57 before Kyle looked for separation entering the far turn. Southwind Cherry and Tyler Smith were the first to engage Late Nite Hawk, reaching the leader's wheel at three-quarters in 1:25.2 as Late Nite Hawk looked to counter and quicken under Kyle's urging. In the stretch, Southwind Cherry made a menacing move, however, Late Nite Hawk would not be denied, rebuffing the pressure with a :27.4 final quarter to secure the victory in 1:53.1.

The 33-year-old Illinois native had a career year in 2023, racking up $3.5 million in earnings while steering 197 horses to victory, highlighted by winning the $300,000 Dan Patch Stakes aboard Ponda Warrior for trainer Jay Hochstetler in 1:48.1. The Kyle/Hochstetler combo proved to be a potent duo for much of the 2023 season, as Kyle also piloted Ponda Title for the entirety of a season which saw her bank $483,420 capped off by a victory in the Indiana Sire Stakes Super Final. Kyle completed the 2023 racing season at Harrah's Hoosier Park third in the driver standings behind only Trace Tetrick and John De Long. For his career, Kyle racked up over $18.5 million in career earnings in 16,218 career drives.

He carried the momentum of 2023 into 2024 where he currently finds himself atop the driver standings at Harrah's Hoosier Park. Kyle has driven 32 winners through the young racing season, 22-year-old Marvin Luna is in second with 30 with John De Long rounding out the podium with 26.

Harrah's Hoosier Park will also have an early post time on Saturday (May 4) on Kentucky Derby day, with a 12-race card kicking-off at 4:00 p.m. to go along with a host of derby festivities and promotions.

For more information on the 2024 live racing season at Harrah's Hoosier Park, guests are encouraged to visit www.harrahshoosierpark.com.

Weiss finals contested at Pocono

The International Moni sophomore filly Elista Hanover, racing in third-over position down the backstretch and still sixth at the stretch call, found her best strides late to easily win the $50,000 Bobby Weiss Trotting Series Championship at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania Tuesday afternoon (April 30), with her new mark of 1:53.1 also equaling the fastest trotting mile of the season at the mountain track.

Elista Hanover, starting from post 4 for driver David Miller, saw several of her rivals argue contentiously throughout fractions of :27.2, :56.1, and 1:24.2, then utilized a potent late kick to draw off to a 3-length decision over Tove Palema, who caught much of the worst of the early battle from her starting spot of post 8. Elista Hanover had won in the first two prelims of the Weiss then took last week off, but she certainly showed her "A" game Tuesday for trainer Annie Stoebe, co-owner with R. Lynn and Philomena Curry.

The 1:53.1 local trotting standard for 2024 had first been posted by Fight Song on April 9, and then was equaled by the very same trotter in the second race of Tuesday afternoon, with Anthony Napolitano bottoming out the field with the Kadabra gelding as he won his fourth race in his last five starts. Deborah Daguet trains the speedy diamond gaiter for the partnership of Donald Mac Rae and Daguet Racing LLC.

A $20,000 Weiss consolation event was won by the Walner filly Sister Diane, coming up the Pocono Pike to break her maiden with a 1:56.4 tally for trainer Åke Svanstedt and the ownership of Stable Why Not and Åke Svanstedt Inc. Sister Diane was driven by Andy Miller, top pilot on the day with three winners; his other two success stories are trained by his wife Julie.

The Cantab Hall colt Blackhawk Zette completed a clean sweep of the Bobby Weiss Trotting Series for trotting males on Monday (April 29) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, capturing the $50,000 Championship while equaling his lifetime best of 1:54.2.

Four Sixes left strongly from post 7, just outside Blackhawk Zette, and quickly claimed the top; driver Matt Kakaley kept "Zette" gaining ground until wresting command past a :28 opener. The winner kept the lead through middle splits of :57.1 and 1:26.1, holding off the first-over bid of co-prelim sweeper Victor Laszlo, then was in hand holding off the pocket sitter by 1¼ lengths, with Victor Laszlo that same distance behind the second-place finisher. Blackhawk Zette is now undefeated in five 2024 trips behind the gate for trainer Robert Baggitt, Jr. and owner J L Sadowsky LLC.

In this Weiss group's $20,000 consolation, the Greenshoe colt Lammtarra moved out from the pocket behind the very fast pace (:27.1, :55.1, 1:24) set by All Too Well and passed that rival by 2½ lengths to break his maiden in 1:54.1. The $500,000 yearling, whose dam Dream Child has also produced You Ato Dream and Ari Ferrari J, was driven by Mattias Melander for trainer/brother Marcus and the ownership of Courant Inc.

The stretch drive of the $50,000 Bobby Weiss Series Championship for three-year-old pacing fillies on Saturday (April 27) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania came down to two battlers unbeaten in the prelims, with Whassup Hanover edging Beautiful Roz by a nose in 1:53. In the companion event for males, 14-1 shot Reggie The Fourth kicked home 2½ lengths to the good in 1:50.4, joining the distaff champ in taking a new lifetime mark.

The Captaintreacherous filly Whassup Hanover, who won in the first two prelims and then took off last week, was second choice to Beautiful Roz, a prelim sweeper over the three legs. "Whassup" and driver Jason Bartlett (North American leader among money-winning drivers) sat third as "Roz" put up early fractions of :27, :56.4, and 1:25.1, racing up uncovered from before the third station the rest of the way. The fight to the finish through the :27.4 last quarter was a classic, with Whassup Hanover proving a shade more photogenic for trainer Eric Ell, also co-owner with Lisa Ell.

The $20,000 Weiss consolation for the fillies went to the Betting Line filly Showboat Hanover, the Pennsylvania Fair Sire Stakes champion of 2023 and continuing her form in 2024 while lowering her record to 1:51.4 for trainer/driver Todd Schadel, also co-owner with Christine Schadel and Caitlin Solt.

Pocono's top driver Matt Kakaley sent the Huntsville gelding Reggie The Fourth away like a shot to grab the racetrack early in the Championship for males, then yielded to favored Captain Caveman and sat in the garden spot during splits of :26.2, :55.2, and 1:22.3. Reggie The Fourth darted out of the hole when clearance materialized late on the far turn, and through the lane the issue was never in doubt for the Travis Alexander trainee, who is owned by Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC.

The Captaintreacherous colt Port Royal Hanover picked an opportune time to break his maiden, being directed to the top in front of the stands by driver Marcus Miller and then keeping 2-holer Dream Bird a half-length away at the 1:51.2 finish for trainer Erv Miller and owner Douglas Overhiser.

There will be no live racing at Pocono this Kentucky Derby Saturday, but the day afterward Sunday racing returns to the Pocono program, with a first post of 6 p.m. This program will also mark the return of the stakes program for Pennsylvania-sired horses, as there will be three $30,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania All-Stars event for 3-year-old pacing fillies. Free Pocono programs are available at www.phha.org.

Breeders Maturity finals contested at Big M

There were four $30,000 New Jersey Breeders Maturity finals for 4-year-olds contested on Saturday night (April 27), with the first three conducted as non-betting events before the parimutuel card.

In the mare trot, Tactical Mounds (Tactical Landing—Mounds) won a walkover (a one-horse race) in 1:55.2 for driver Scott Zeron and trainer Megan Scran.

Bestfriend Volo (Walner—Bank Of Newport) took the horse and gelding trot in 1:51.3 for Dexter Dunn and Nancy Takter before Lisa Lane (Lazarus N—Special Kay Deo) hit the winner's circle in the mare pace in 1:51.1 for Patrick Ryder and Chris Ryder.

On the betting card, 2023 New Jersey Classic winner Voukefalas (Lazarus N—Inittowinafortune) emerged victorious as the 2-5 favorite in the horse and gelding pace, gunning down leader Handlelikeaporsche at the wire in 1:50.4 after an explosive final quarter of :25 for Jordan Stratton and Michael Russo.

A LOT OF LITTLE: It was a big night for followers of Dave Little, as the veteran member of the Big M's TV crew selected eight winners on top, including his best bet and value play.

In addition, Little pegged the Late Pick-4 and had the winning payout of $80.95 five times to cash in for $404.75. One race later, "Little's Late Double" rolled in, paying $85.40, but Little played a $6 ticket, creating a return of $256.20.

A LITTLE MORE: Dunn, Dave Miller, Yannick Gingras and Andy McCarthy tied for the top of the nightly driver leaderboard with two winners apiece. Per Engblom led the trainers with a pair of victories. All-source handle totaled $3,012,800 on the 14-race card, the 27th time from 33 programs that wagering has gone past the $3-million mark this year. Racing resumes tonight at 6:20 p.m.

Crone hands out top marks to Canadian Graduate Series hopefuls

Trainer Meg Crone has two chances at making the grade when the Canadian Graduate Series finals take center stage at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Saturday (May 4).

Off to a stellar start in 2024, Crone is hoping to keep her stable's winning ways going this weekend at the Milton oval.

The lifetime winner of 433 races will be represented by Passarino in the Canadian Graduate Series Trot final.

A son of Looklikeeachpndale—Perfect Prelude, the bay gelding is set to square off against five rivals in the race for Canadian-sired 4-year-olds.

“He seems to be getting a little stronger and a little sharper each week,” said Crone. “His biggest thing is that he is always able to leave the gate and put himself into a good position. He is tough down the lane too.”

Owned by Seawind Amgs Stbs 2005 Inc (New Brunswick) and T M Racing (Alberta), Passarino arrives at the final off a gutsy second in the third leg of the Graduate on April 26.

Sent off at 14-1, Passarino held a nose advantage at the stretch call and dug in gamely to secure the runner-up spot, trotting the final quarter in a lively :26.3.

Sporting a lifetime mark of 4-9-3 from 35 starts, Passarino, who was bred by Seawind Amgs Stbs 2005 Inc, has rhymed off 11 consecutive top-four finishes.

In nine starts this year, he is 2-3-1, along with $46,110 in purse earnings.

“Before he came to us, I watched a lot of his races, and I hadn’t realized just how gutsy he is,” Crone said. “In his race last week, he dug in and kept fighting on.”

Passarino earned his speed badge of 1:53.4 on March 21 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, courtesy of a 2 ¼-length score as the 1-5 choice.

Crone is pleased with what she has seen leading up to the $81,500 final.

“He gets a little sharper each week,” she said. “He shows each up race, better and stronger.”

There won’t be much time – less than 30 minutes – before Crone watches Powder Play line up behind the starter car for the Canadian Graduate Series Pace final for 4-year-old mares.

The daughter of Sportswriter—Laurels Lea heads into the final riding a two-race win streak, both victories coming in Graduate legs.

Powder Play followed up a head victory on April 19 with a 1¼-length triumph one week later.

The bay mare has reached the podium in six-straight starts, a streak that includes three wins and a pair of seconds.

“She surprises me every time she races,” said Crone praising her mare. “She tries so hard. She can leave, she can come off the pace; she’s very versatile.”

Bred by Ray Compari and owned by Robert Woodburn, Powder Play was a $45,000 purchase at the 2021 Harrisburg Yearling Sale.

After a trio of qualifiers spread over June and July of 2022, she debuted with a second at Georgian Downs on Aug. 13 of that year.

Two races later, this time at Woodbine Mohawk Park, Powder Play notched her first win, by a head, in 1:54.4.

In 40 career starts, she has compiled a mark of 12-9-3, accompanied by $171,005 in purse earnings.

Her lifetime-best 1:51 came on Jan. 5, in her first start of 2024.

“She just gets better and better,” said Crone. “She’s amazing.”

Jody Jamieson, who will be in the sulky Saturday night, agrees.

“Her determination is what impresses me the most,” said the driver who is closing in on 8,700 career wins. “She doesn’t like to lose at all.”

The series, which made its debut last year as the Ontario Graduate, before Woodbine opted to open it to Canadian-sired 4-year-olds in 2024, consists of three $25,000 preliminary legs and $75,000 added finals.

Seven 4-year-old pacers will vie for the $80,000 top prize in Saturday’s other Graduate final, carded as the eighth race on the evening’s 12-race offering.

First post is 7:15 p.m.

Big M's Championship Meet kicks off Derby Day

Things are starting to heat up at The Meadowlands, and what better way to kick off the 14-week Championship Meet on Saturday (May 4) than with the top simulcast event in all of horse racing serving as a prelude to the beginning of the harness stakes season with the opening leg of New Jersey Sire Stakes action.

The Championship Meet runs through Saturday (Aug. 3), Hambletonian Day.

The Kentucky Derby takes center stage Saturday and Meadowlands regulars, semi-regulars and three-times-a-year not-so-regulars are sure to be on hand to watch and wager on the "Run for the Roses".

The Saturday action will be non-stop as the first two races on the Meadowlands card will be contested before The Derby, with the remaining Big M dozen dashes to take place after the "Greatest Two Minutes in Sports".

"This Saturday at The Meadowlands will be a call to post for those who have been waiting for the temperatures to rise and celebrate life on an action-filled afternoon and evening..." said Big M chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. "The building has been full of energy lately. The racing at The Meadowlands has been great, and the Rangers and Knicks are on a terrific roll, so it's an exciting time for everyone in the metropolitan area."

The New Jersey Sire Stakes for 3-year-old pacers kicks off on Saturday with three $30,000 dashes, two for colts and geldings and one for fillies.

Better Is Nice is the marquee performer. The son of Bettor's Wish—Thatsoveryverynice is a Tony Alagna trainee who earned over $500,000 a year ago. He'll depart from post 8 in the seventh race event for males with Andy McCarthy doing the driving.

"We're looking forward to his first [parimutuel] start on Saturday," said Alagna. "I think he can go with the best colts when he's on his game."

CAN YOU SURVIVE THE HEAT? The Meadowlands Summer Survival Challenge, powered by 123Racing, kicks off today (May 3). Cash prizes and Meadowlands swag are up for grabs in this free online contest.

The game covers the Meadowlands Championship Meet and will conclude on Saturday (Aug. 3).

The winner is determined by the highest total bankroll at the end of the Challenge based on a $2 "across-the-board" wager (win, place and show) on selections for three designated races on each program.

However, to continue in the game, entrants have to "survive" by finishing in-the-money (first through third) with at least one of their selections each day. Failing to do so or not making selections knocks the player out of the game. To aid in the player's survival, a "lucky horseshoe" is given. The lucky horseshoe is a "free pass" given to all Challenge participants that allows the player to survive if he does not make selections for a race card or if all three of his selections fail to hit the board.

What the players are shooting for:

- The grand prize is $750 plus a Breeders Crown Night at the Races package
- The second-place prize is $500 plus Meadowlands swag
- The third-place prize is $250 plus Meadowlands swag
- Most Winners selected: $200 plus Meadowlands swag
- Highest monthly bankroll (May, June, July): $100 plus Meadowlands swag

The free contest is open to legal residents of the United States and Canada who are 18 years of age or older, and all selections must be made through the format provided on the Survival Challenge website page (go here.) No selections will be accepted by phone, fax, e-mail or any other means. TrackMaster Platinum past performances for the three designated races will be provided through the game board.

The deadline for selections each day is 30 minutes before the 6:20 p.m. post time for the first race; 11:30 a.m. on Saturday (Aug. 3). After 30 minutes to post, all selections are final.

To login or to register as a first-time player, go here.

DOUBLE THE ACTION: The Meadowlands' appetizing betting menu got a little tastier last week with the addition of a second 20-cent Pick-5, to join the pair of 50-cent Pick-4s already on the bill of fare.

There are eight wagers nightly that offer a chance for players to make a big hit while betting into big pools that offer a low takeout of just 15 per cent. The lineup of the track's "Great Eight":

- Races 1-5: Early 20-cent Pick-5
- Races 2-8: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 (mandatory payout nightly)
- Races 4-9: 20-cent Pick-6
- Races 6-9: Early 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 7: 20-cent Pentafecta (Hi-5)
- Races 8-12: Late 20-cent Pick-5
- Races 10-13: Late 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 11: 20-cent Pentafecta (Hi-5)

Last Saturday (April 27), the new "Double Dynamic Duo" accounted for over 10 per cent of the evening's $3-million total handle, as the Early Pick-4 ($98,434), Late Pick-4 ($98,445), Early Pick-5 ($84,863) and Late Pick-5 ($42,053) took in a total of $323,795.

THE SKED: Live racing takes place every Friday and Saturday with a first-race post time of 6:20 p.m.

Join The Meadowlands' "A"-team of Dave Little and Jessica Otten for the live "Racing from The Meadowlands" pregame show tonight at 5:45 p.m.

On Saturday, Otten will conduct interviews from the back paddock while Little welcomes DRF Harness editor Derick Giwner to the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set.

A LOT OF LITTLE: Last Saturday was a big night for Little's followers, as the veteran member of the Big M's TV crew selected eight winners on top, including his best bet and value play.

In addition, Little pegged the Late Pick-4 and had the winning payout of $80.95 five times to cash in for $404.75. On race later, "Little's Late Double" rolled in, paying $85.40, but Little played a $6 ticket, creating a return of $256.20.

FREE PROGRAMS EVERY NIGHT: Past performances for every race of every Meadowlands card are available free of charge. All one has to do is go to playmeadowlands.com to access the information.

"X" MARKS THE SPOT: Everything Meadowlands is available by going on X (formerly known as Twitter). You can check in with the Big M team for early changes, racing information and staff selections by going to @themeadowlands or #playbigm.

Stay in touch with The Big M team of Otten (@JessicaOtten1), Little (@DaveLittleBigM) and Ken Warkentin (@kenvoiceover).

WITHERITE'S RACE REVIEWS: Race reviews and selections by The Meadowlands' morning-line odds maker and program analyst James Witherite are available 48 hours before a given race card. To access, simply go to playmeadowlands.com, go to the "handicapping" tab, then click "race reviews."

Stakes season begins with SBOA eliminations

The stakes season for Ontario sired 3-year-olds launches this weekend with the SBOA Stakes eliminations at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The SBOA Stakes will see eliminations contested in three of the four divisions tonight (May 3) and Saturday (May 4). The SBOA for 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings did not require eliminations (nine entered).

The top-five finishers in all this weekend's eliminations will advance to the finals on Saturday (May 11).

Last season's top performers Pass Line and Its A Love Thing have drawn away from each other as part of 19 entered 3-year-old pacing fillies.

Pass Line will headline tonight's first pacing filly elimination, starting from post 3 with driver James MacDonald. The daughter of All Bets Off captured last year's OSS Super Final before finishing runner-up in the Breeders Crown. Friday will be her season debut after racking up over $600,000 in earnings as a rookie.

Dave Menary once again will train Pass Line north of the border for Ron Burke.

The Menary stable will then send out their star Its A Love Thing from post 5 in the $25,000 second elimination. The daughter of Bettors Delight will make her seasonal debut after winning six of 12 and earning over $560,000 last year. She notably won last season's Shes A Great Lady with driver James MacDonald, who again will do the driving.

A filly that will have close eyes on her in the second elimination is Coco Jo Jo. The Anthony Beaton trainee rallied from last with a blazing :25.1 final-quarter to win a non-winners of two event last Friday at Mohawk. Tyler Borth will drive the Betterthancheddar filly from post 3.

The SBOA Filly Pace eliminations go as races 6 and 8 tonight.

The SBOA Filly Trot will also have two eliminations tonight, as 15 sophomores were entered in the event.

O'Brien Award winner Willys Home Run makes her season debut in the first division, leaving from post 2 with James MacDonald. The Kyle Fellows trainee won six of 10 and never finished outside the top-three last season, earning over $500,000. The Archangel filly won the OSS Super Final in dominant fashion to complete her 2-year-old season.

Champlain division winner Valuable Miss is the slight morning-line favorite in the second elimination. The Kyle Bossence trainee was second in last year's Super Final to finish off a two win and near $200,000 earned season. Sylvain Filion will drive the My Mvp filly for the first time, leaving from post 3.

The SBOA Filly Trot eliminations are carded as races 1 and 3 tonight.

Saturday night will see the SBOA Colt Pace eliminations contested.

A total of 12 sophomore pacing colts and geldings were entered to set up two six-horse eliminations. Despite the short fields, the eliminations should provide a pair of entertaining clashes.

Multiple OSS Gold winner and Nassagaweya division winner Funtime Bayama is the 8-5 morning-line favorite from post 2 in the first split. The Richard Moreau trainee and driver Sylvain Filion teamed to win four of seven starts last year, earning nearly $250,000.

Storm Shadow, who captured last year's OSS Super Final, will also compete in the first elimination for trainer Dr. Ian Moore and driver Bob McClure. The Bettors Delight colt leaves from post 5 in his seasonal debut and notably was third in last year's Breeders Crown after winning an elimination.

Battle of Waterloo winner Do Better will go from post 6 with driver James MacDonald. The Bob McIntosh trainee won his seasonal debut last Saturday in 1:51.3 after winning five of 11 and earning over $220,000 last season.

The $25,000 second elimination is led by two-time OSS Gold winner Chain Gang. The Nick Gallucci trainee won three of eight starts and earned over $150,000 last season. James MacDonald will steer the Bettors Delight colt from post 5.

The 9-5 morning-line favorite in the second split is Bob McIntosh trainee Always A Thrill. The Bettors Delight gelding is two-for-two to start the season, which includes a sharp 1:50.2 victory on April 20 at Mohawk. Bob McClure will drive the sophomore from post 2.

The SBOA Colt Pace eliminations are carded as races 1 and 3 on Saturday.

The SBOA Colt Trot did not require eliminations. Below is the field of nine for the final on May 11:

Convoy Hall

Elegant Resolve

Griff

Masstercraft

Mrstery Deal

Salem Seelster

Soar Higher

What About Elmo

Willowtime

The purses for the SBOA Finals on May 11 are as follows:

SBOA Filly Pace – $141,500

SBOA Filly Trot – $137,500

SBOA Colt Pace – $127,000

SBOA Colt Trot – $124,000

Saturday's card will also feature three Canadian Graduate Series finals as part of a 12-race program.

Free past performance programs are available for all cards of live racing at Woodbine MohawkPark.com

Tonight's post time is 7:10 p.m., while Saturday's start time is pushed back to 7:15 p.m. due to the Kentucky Derby.

Mark McKelvie / Woodbine communications

A multiple stakes victress last year in Minnesota while winning 9 of her 15 starts, the bay miss finished a solid second off a long layoff in the March 24 Sire Stakes and then came back three weeks ago to edge out Made Of Mischief for her first local trophy.

The daughter of Wind Me Up is out of the Mach Three mare Bearded Lady and looms large no matter how things shake out early.

Made Of Mischief accounted for the March 24 Sire Stakes clash and then lost a heartbreaker to Gotubytheshorthairs in that last April 12 big-money match-up.

The dark-hued daughter of Vlos is owned and was bred by Lanae Hernandez, takes her lessons from Bob Johnson and will once again have the services of Luke Plano.

Completing the field are Hot N Fancy, who will have Vod Farias guiding; Wild Blue Wonder with Nick Roland; Stevies Girl, who has the services of Mooney Svendsen and Cenalta Token, who leaves from the outside slot with Jake Cutting.

Polar Storm and Bin A Mystery put on quite a show in the most recent Sire Stakes for the 4-year-old males and get a rematch in the other $50,000 event.

Polar Storm is a homebred son of Wind Me Up who competes for Alan and Cheryl Sandbulte with Nick Roland driving and training.

He did the perfect track-and-attack to prevail by a head over Bin A Mystery in that last gathering for this group and it was the 17th win from 57 career trips to the post and put him at the $147,000 mark in earnings with a 1:53 mark that was set here in February.

Bin A Mystery was a bit unlucky when shuffled in that last stakes match-up and came up a neck short for owner Mark Anderson and driver/trainer James Kennedy.

He was very strong winning the previous two Sire Stakes and will be looking for revenge. Taking them on are Lilbabyblue with Brett Erickson and Dougsmoneybusiness with Jake Cutting doing the honors.

Mark Ratzky / Cal Expo harness

Cal Expo brings down curtain Friday

A pair of $50,000 Championship events for the 4-year-old pacers will highlight tonight's closing-night program at Cal Expo.

Watch and Wager LLC will present 13 races with first post set for 6 p.m. and there will be mandatory payouts in all wagers.

Looking at the Championship contest for the 4-year-old distaffers, Gotubytheshorthairs and Made Of Mischief finished 1-2 in the most recent stakes with only a nose separating them.

Gotubytheshorthairs was on the right end of that photo for owner/breeder Mark Anderson, trainer Gordie Graham and pilot James Kennedy.

Cutting, Plano earn Cal Expo titles

Congratulations go out to Jake Cutting and Luke Plano, the leading driver and trainer, respectively, at the Cal Expo meet that ends this week with tonight's (May 3) program.

Cutting is celebrating his first driving crown, while Plano has won several titles in the sulky but is making his first appearance at the top of the trainer standings in Sacramento.

Cutting is a 23-year-old who scored the first win of his career in 2020 up in Canada. He got off to a fast start at this meet and never looked back, holding a 14-length advantage going into the final card.

“I came into this meet with a lot of confidence, but I can’t say I had any expectations,” Cutting said. “My dad [Darryl] had some real nice horses and I want to thank all the trainers that gave me an opportunity.”

One of the highlights for Jake was the pacer Kamara, who captured three-straight opens to establish himself as one of the top performers at this stand.

Plano has won countless driving titles here at Cal Expo, but in the last few years has put more emphasis on his own barn and has had an outstanding meet with his trainees.

“In the past I would have less than 10 horses of my own here, but this year I had between 15 and 20 and along with my owners, we tried to come up with a nice balance,” Plano said. “It was gratifying that so many did well. Ain’t She Special was particularly satisfying because early in the meet she had some issues that we had to straighten out, but after that she was super, and we were very proud of that 1:51 and change victory in the open in March

“Handsome Harvey, Jack Rabbit Slims and Bombay Hanover also raced strong here, and I was very happy with the development of Powderhouse and Hunky Dory, who were both non-winners of one when the meet started.”

New season, new challenges for Pascal Berube

This Sunday (May 5) is opening day for the 2024 harness racing season at the Hippodrome 3R (H3R) in Trois-Rivieres, QC. And no one is more excited for the start of the season than four-time defending driving champion Pascal Berube.

Berube led all drivers last season at H3R with 81 wins, 24 wins ahead of rival Stephane Brosseau. The prior year Berube rewrote the record books at H3R with 102 wins, the first driver ever to win more than 100 races in a single season at H3R.

And already in 2024, Berube is the second leading driver at Rideau Carleton Raceway with 14 wins. Between the two tracks he keeps himself pretty busy as a sought-after catch driver.

“Being on the road to a new season is always exciting,” Berube said. “I hope to have a great season once again. I’m not putting pressure on myself because having already been the leading driver four times. It surprises me when I look back on it and I’m very proud and happy about it.

“I am currently having a great start to the season at Rideau Carleton. The trainers give me good horses and make the work easier. I like this place too, it’s always nice to drive on a bigger [five-eighths] track. Trois-Rivieres is a nice half mile but a [five-eighths] is fun too.”

So far, the winter season has not taken its toll on the race surface at H3R. The track has been able to hold three qualifying sessions in preparation for opening day Sunday.

“For the moment the track is not yet at its full level,” Berube said. “But there has been action on it since last November, so I think it is only a matter of a week or so before it will be very beautiful to race over.”

This year the Hippodrome 3R has a full menu of racing events and stakes races, the richest season since 2019 before the pandemic.

In date order major events include Sunday (June 2) when H3R hosts the Quebec / Eastern Ontario Regional Driving Championship to help decide who will represent Canada in the World Driving Championship in New Zealand next year.

But, for the first time in the event’s 17-year history, the 2024 National Driving Championship final will be held at H3R on Friday (July 6).

Then on Sunday (Aug. 18), H3R hosts the return of the $200,000 Prix d’Ete for 4-year-old pacers. The race had been absent at the track since 2019, but returns this year with a host of top-class horses already nominated including It’s My Show, Stockade Seelster, Voukefalas, El Rey, Moment Is Here and Ervin Hanover.

The richest day of horse racing in all of Quebec will be the tracks Super Sunday on Sept. 8 when all eight of the Quebec Sire Stakes finals for 2- and 3-year-olds will be held. It is the richest day of racing in the province with more than $500,000 in purses. The Quebec series takes place throughout the summer months with three legs in each division before the finals.

The stakes season concludes with a big bang on Sunday (Oct. 6) featuring the return of the $120,000 Brian Paquet Memorial Invitational Pacing events for older horses and mares plus the Lucien Bombardier Pace for 2-year-old fillies.

“The National Driving Championship will be very exciting again,” Berube said. “I’m still super proud of having finished third in Edmonton. To think I was two places away from representing Canada.

“I admit that it would be the dream of a lifetime to have the chance to wear the colors of the country. As for the Prix d’Ete, I can’t wait to see because it’s always impressive to see the horses that we idealize on TV during their 3-year-old season and who the following year come here to us in Trois-Rivieres.”

The Hippodrome 3R gets underway with a noon post time on Sunday. Friday twilight racing begins on June 7 at 4:00 p.m. For more information, visit www.hippodrome3r.ca.

“I’m looking forward to Sunday,” Berube said. “I wish myself to have fun and once again enjoy the chance to do what I love.”

Red Shores launches new race season

Red Shores Charlottetown is thrilled to announce the start of the 2024-25 racing season on Saturday (May 4), at 6 p.m. Atlantic Time / 5 p.m. Eastern Time.

The last season concluded with a staggering 39.2 per cent surge in total wagering on Red Shores, reflecting the growing popularity and appeal of Prince Edward Island racing. There were an additional 196 more races run last year due to a significant increase in horse population. This phenomenal growth underscores the dedication and passion of our loyal horseplayers, supporters and Industry.

This year Red Shores will be increasing the guarantee on the Isle Pick-5 pool and continuing the two classic Hi-5 pools with 100 per cent carryovers on each card. The Pick-4, Isle Pick-5, and Hi-5 pools have an industry low 15 per cent takeout.

Lee Drake, manager of racing and broadcast for Red Shores Charlottetown, expressed his enthusiasm, saying, "We are so pleased that in the partnership with our horsepeople, our efforts to make Red Shores racing attractive to horseplayers are continuing to resonate. We know how fortunate we are to have such support and we couldn't be more thankful. We are so excited about getting started with the new race meet and look forward to a great year."

Since the pre-pandemic 2019-20 season, wagering on Red Shores racing has skyrocketed by an astonishing 282 per cent, showcasing the outstanding support from fans and horsepeople.

Red Shores Charlottetown will continue on Thursdays and Saturdays at 6 p.m. Atlantic Time / 5 p.m. Eastern Time. Additionally, Red Shores Summerside will open its doors on Monday (May 20), with a post time of 1 p.m. Atlantic Time / noon Eastern Time.

For more information and updates, visit RedShores.ca and join us in celebrating the thrilling sport of horse racing at Red Shores Charlottetown.
