Slow second quarters are quickly becoming the norm

Exactly what is an excessively slow quarter and what is The Meadowlands doing about it?

by Debbie Little

MEADOWLANDS MATTERS
with DEBBIE LITTLE

In track announcer Ken Warkentin's words, the quarter was ":26.4, a torrid opening fraction. All out to get the lead, Always A Panther at 15-1, used hard here by Yogi Sheridan, will clear the top. Jonah yields grudgingly. Across the backstretch, Takeittotheface is third.

"As the pace really slows now, Somthngaboutmary, jammed up in fourth and he's rough-gaited. Somthngaboutmary is off-stride or rough-gaited."

The half went in :57.1 after a :30.2 second quarter.

They say slow and steady wins the race, but sometimes, too slow makes race participants unsteady.

On Friday (April 21) in a Meadowlands Amateur Drivers Club (MADC) race, Takeittotheface, the 2-1 second choice driven by Peter Kleinhans, was disqualified for interfering with Somthngaboutmary N after putting in a few bad steps approaching the half.

No one is questioning whether there was interference. However, some think we're not seeing the forest for the trees. In other words, there's a larger issue that's not being addressed.

Always A Panther (Yogi Sheridan, 15-1) left for the lead from the 10-hole.

HARNESS RACING UPDATE

Kleinhans, who finished third with Takeittotheface, was in the paddock just after the race and saw his number flashing. Shortly thereafter, he got a call from the judges.

"And I spoke with [presiding judge] Tom Salerno, who I have known for many years and I consider a very fair judge," Kleinhans said. "[Salerno] said something like, 'It's too bad that they slowed things down that much, but still your horse was the one that made the break and caused the interference, so we've got to take you down.'"

Takeittotheface was disqualified and placed 10th behind SomthngaboutmaryN, who finished 10th and was placed ninth.

"I don't know if I should have gotten taken down, but I also understand it since I was the horse who directly went off-stride and impeded the other horse. There were, sort of, some extenuating circumstances as to why my horse went off-stride, but I don't know if the judges are going to go through every possible reason for that. And given that my horse actually did go off-stride and interfere with the other horse, I don't think it was that bad a call."

Kleinhans, who's been driving since 1988, has a unique perspective when it comes to looking at races, since, in addition to being a driver, he is also a race caller and on-air racetrack analyst.

"I always try to be fair," Kleinhans said. "I try to look at it as if I were just viewing it and not being in it. And if I were viewing it, I would have had sympathy for the person in my position, but I still might have made the call for the disqualification."

"I thought they were going to fine Yogi. I thought they were going to disqualify me and fine him. I'm surprised they didn't."

In the nightly Big M program under racing and track rules courtesy of the New Jersey Racing Commission, it says: "12. Drivers must set and maintain a pace comparable to the class in which they are racing. Failure to do so by going an excessively slow quarter or any other distance that changes the normal pattern, overall timing, or general outcome of the race, or allowing his horse to go on an unrestrained break will be considered a violation of this section and the judges may impose a penalty which can be a fine, suspension or both.”

The question then becomes what is considered an excessively slow quarter?

Tony Verruso, who was driving the pocket-sitting 3-2 favorite Jonah in the aforementioned race, remembered seeing a similar incident at Freehold in January involving former amateur driver Kubi Erzene.

“He wins the race and they disqualified him for causing confusion because everyone jammed up,” Verruso said. “What’s funny is earlier that same day, in our [American Harness Drivers Club] trot race, [driver Bob] Heckkoff did it, but for whatever reason, we didn’t all bunch up, but the fractions were very similar.”

The two races Verruso is referring to both had an opening quarter time of :28.3. However, the second quarter of the amateur trot was :32.2 while the race Erzene won – a pacing event – hit the half in 1:00 for a second quarter time of :31.2.

Erzene, driving Rogue Cheddar, was placed seventh for “causing confusion to trailing horses through that :31.2 second quarter.”

“So, my point is, is it just the fractions that are the issue or the fact that maybe in certain races the horses are a little more keen and racing tighter or that, just in certain instances, the drivers are quicker to react to the fractions?” Verruso asked. “Is it the guy on top’s fault that everyone jammed up behind him? Well, to some degree, it is.”

Verruso went on to make a comparison to when he was driving Jonah – a week prior to the Kleinhans DQ – and was cutting the fractions on the front end. “If you look at [April 14] when we won, I clear the top in :26.4 and I backed it down [to :56], a good second less than Yogi did and if you look, no one jams up,” Verruso said. “It’s the perfect kind of example of what that extra second can do, or were the trailing drivers just more in tune to the fractions?”

Several drivers mentioned that slow second quarters are something that was commonplace on half-mile tracks back in the 1970s, but not something that should be seen or tolerated at The Meadowlands.

“It’s amateur hour when that s - - - t happens,” one driver said regarding the slow second quarters in non-amateur races. “I’d be embarrassed to go that slow. By the three-quarter pole, with slow middle halves, people can drop their tickets on the ground because there’s no action.”

Kleinhans remembers watching drivers such as Buddy Gilmour on a half-mile track when he was growing up.

“He would go a very fast first quarter, put a bunch of space between him and the rest of the field and then he would just absolutely slam on the brakes in the second quarter,” Kleinhans said. “And then, he’d accelerate down the backstretch the final time.”

Kleinhans remembers doing the Yonkers simulcast show within the last several years and pointed out that they take slow second quarters seriously.

Within the last month, The Big M has seen some second quarters ranging anywhere from :29.2 to :31.

From week-to-week hearing [race caller Ken] Warkentin say things like, “The pace slows, they’re getting jammed up” or “The half in :58.4, :30.3 and they’re walking into the far turn here” have become almost commonplace. Certainly, the bettors who backed that horse on the front end who challenged the rules but won the race are happy, but the majority who bet the ones that lost all chance because of possible confusion caused by the excessively slow second quarter are not.

“Eric Goodell slowed down the pace like that and they disqualified him from first and placed him last, which I’d actually never seen before,” Kleinhans said.

All agree that the breed is getting faster, so one would assume that the times should reflect that. Comparing one random Saturday night from April of 2023 with the corresponding night from 10 years ago, showed the second-quarter times to be three-fifths-of-a-second slower currently at The Meadowlands.

Within the last month, The Big M has seen some second quarters ranging anywhere from :29.2 to :31.

From week-to-week hearing Warkentin say things like, “The pace slows, they’re getting jammed up” or “The half in :58.4, :30.3 and they’re walking into the far turn here” have become almost commonplace.

Certainly, the bettors who backed that horse on the front end who challenged the rules but won the race are happy, but the majority who bet the ones that lost all chance because of possible confusion caused by the excessively slow second quarter are not.

Maybe harness racing can learn something from Major League Baseball, who made rule changes this year, to speed up the game for the sake of their fans, even though it initially made some players unhappy.

“It’s such a chain reaction situation,” Kleinhans said. “It’s really just a matter of where in that chain you want to place the blame. If the judges are always going to fine you for going a slow second quarter, then you’re not going to do it. But if they’re never doing that, then it makes sense to do it.”

Note: As this story went to press, it was announced that driver Yannick Gingras was fined $300 by the New Jersey Racing Commission judges at The Meadowlands for “Failure to set and maintain a proper pace.”

Details of the infraction – for a race which took place early in April – states, in part: “[The driver] failed to set and maintain a pace comparable to the class of the race as he excessively slowed down the pace for a portion of the 2nd quarter causing confusion among the trailing horses.”

The Magic Man as a younger man.

Rick Plano: "I went to California in 1981 and early on I saw Billy out there. Great guy. He met Barbara there. I remember one night I was going for my 2,500th win in California. I pulled up alongside Billy's horse who was tiring and he told me 'Go get your 2,500th.'"

Joe Pavia Jr.: "A pretty funny guy. Drove with smarts and class on the racetrack."

Per Eriksson: "Coolest guy. Superb driver. Greatest personality."

Chris Ryder: "A really cheerful nice guy."

Murray Brown: "One like no other. At his best, the best driver these eyes have ever focused on."

Jacqueline Ingrassia: "Happy Birthday! You are right on my heels."

John Campbell: "I didn't meet him, but the first time I saw him drive he drove a filly for my father at the Syracuse Mile in the Elitist Cup. I was just a kid and will never forget it."

Mark MacDonald: "I drove with him at Mohawk at the end of his career. Great stories."

Holley Haughton Tufano (Daughter of Billy/Dotty Haughton): "He was so important to our family. A great guy."

Joe Holloway: "A great horseman and a great personality."

Mark Jordan: "I've known him since the 1980s. Great driver and a good guy also."

Ginny Whipple Berkner (Widow of George Berkner): "In 1989, he drove Hit The Bid for us in the Jug elim. We were so late catching our flight home that Billy drove the rental in his driving outfit, left the car at the airport curb and we ran to catch our flight. It was quite a sight, myself, George, Barbara and Billy all running together to catch the plane."

Kevin McDermott: "You've heard the one about Billy stopped for speeding in the New Jersey Turnpike and the policeman saw his license and asked him if he was Billy O'Donnell the driver at The Meadowlands. 'I've bet on you at The Meadowlands. You're one of the top drivers. Nice to meet you.' Billy [said] 'I got here as fast as I could.'"

"Or the one when I was with Billy stuck on the runway at Newark Airport going to Canada to race Miss Whitewater. Billy initially gives up his first-class seat to a mother so she could sit next to her daughter. He gets relocated. We're not in the same row at this point. Pretty soon he comes back and says, 'They put me right in the middle of the Iranian soccer team. I had to get out of there.' And he winds up sitting on my lap for the next four hours."

"Or the one about the trainer who asked Billy what to do with a really grabby horse who just won't stop. 'Show him the 3/4 pole. He'll stop.'"

Laurie Morningstar (Daughter of Buddy Gilmour): "Billy once told me that when he first went to Yonkers, after dad saw him drive, he told the other trainers it was okay to use him. He knew he was talented. I guess the rest was history. Dad never regretted it."

Jack Darling: "Great driver and all-around horseman. Really good guy and fun to be around. He has been a very positive influence on Ontario racing as president of COSA."

Brad Grant: "How long have I known Billy? Not as long as I would have liked. More so now since he's taken over COSA."

Bob Boni: "Back in 1985, we were time trialing Nihilator. We wanted to go at Springfield which in my opinion is the best place to time trial. But it rained all week and that was off. Then DuQuoin. Billy Haughton came up to Billy O'Donnell right before the event and handed him a slip of white paper with the anticipated splits, the numbers for the 1/8th, the 1/4, the 1/2 and the 3/4s on it. Billy O'Donnell glanced and put it in his pocket. The trial goes and Nihilator doesn't finish well, the last quarter I believe in :30.2 or something for a 1:50.4 time. Everyone is disappointed. Nihilator's feet were bothering him. The first three fractions were pretty much right there. Ken Seeber was there. Lou Guida, too. The mood after the race heading back to the paddock was not good. Then Billy told Mr. Haughton, in order to brighten everyone's spirits, that he left out the last number on the sheet; the final time for the trial."

Kim Hankins: “I was lucky enough to drive a prompter that day in the time trial. Normally, they use one, but this time we had two. I remember at the top of the stretch with Nihilator, Billy said to me, ‘Time to go Hankins.’”

Marion Larochelle (Daughter of the late Denis Larochelle): “Everyone was Billy’s friend.”

Peter Blood: “Billy and I go back to 1970 at Suffolk Downs. One of the best senses of humor of all time. Great guy, great horseman.”

Dave Mattia: “Billy gave me a lot of info for Ted Wing when he went into the Hall of Fame. I think he might be the best driver in history.”

Stephane Bouchard: “It was in 1988. I was paddocking for Pierre Touchette and Billy was driving. That is the first time I remember him. Later, I drove with him at Freehold, Yonkers and he was always laughing about something. Great sense of humor.”

Blair Burgess: “Jeez he’s old! Obviously, he’s had as dominant a run as has been seen in the game, when on top. Just by coincidence I rarely got to use him. In the rare times I had that kind of horse I went to JC [John Campbell], who was ironically third choice on Amity Chef in Freestate. I listed [Ron] Waples and O’Donnell and both went other ways. John wound up staying with Amity Chef the rest of the year [1986].

“I raced eventual [1987] Canadian Horse of the Year Frugal Gourmet. I was young and stubborn and raced Frugal Gourmet one more time, against Trevor’s [Ritchie] wishes, with Billy driving and set the track record at Pompano [in 1987]. In the winner’s circle, a typical Billy quip, ‘I don’t know how Trevor ever got this horse beat.’ With the straightest possible face. He knew the gullible youngster I was then and would take that comment straight back to Trevor.”

Mike Keeling: “He’s certainly a guy with a story or two. His renaissance, or second act, had a lot to do with his relationship with Bill Wellwood [Woody]. I happened to be a second trainer there at the time [circa mid-1990s]. For a 20-something kid to get to meet and work with a childhood hero was amazing. The greatest thing about Billy was that he made you feel comfortable with him immediately and you quickly lose that gobsmacked feeling. We had many an adventure and success.

“Gramola was a tremendous 2-year-old trotting filly and I was on the road at Lexington and I was on my own as Woody couldn’t be there. I warmed her up and she locked on a right line. So, I tell O’Donnell, ‘I think we need to put a Murphy blind and a headpole on.’ He was aware that equipment changes and Woody don’t usually go well. The filly wins handily and impressively. We both know that Woody is going to be watching on satellite and we try to get them off before the winner’s circle. Needless to say, Woody wasn’t fooled and O’Donnell thankfully took the brunt of the abuse. He helped me out of many a sticky situation with Woody (He wasn’t easy!).

“I once forgot my wallet on a trip to Chicago and O’Donnell got word through to Jean Wellwood [Woody’s wife] and they snuck my wallet into Woody’s travel bag and O’Donnell retrieved it for me in Chicago. Crisis averted. That was the Galt and Armbr leader set a record there and all was well. Billy is now a close friend and a mentor and I feel privileged to say that.”

Steve Katz: “Billy drove the first horse that I ever had at The Meadowlands, Dan Lynch (1985). He won. I thanked him and he said, ‘Don’t thank me, thank God.’ Years later, we sent him a 2-year-old named Berto Primo to get started baby racing in Toronto. He called me after the race and told me the colt was the ‘real deal.’ He was right. My $12,000 yearling made it to the Hambletonian.”

Dave Palone: “Terrific guy who was very instrumental and helpful when I came to The Meadowlands. He and Charlie Ginsburg helped me get started [when I was training] and he drove everything for me. Got to know him very well. His second trainer had Barberry Spur in the barn at the time. No one I would rather have dinner with and hear stories.”

“I first met him in ‘78 or ‘79 when he was racing Lionel Minbar at Yonkers. One time, Ron Waples was in a wreck and Billy ran over him with his wheel. Ronnie said, ‘I thought you had time to miss me.’ Billy answered, ‘What makes you think I was trying to miss you?’”

~ John Kopas

Bonnie Butler: “Oh yes, I remember. He was a character.”

Paul Kelley: “Back in 1998, I guaranteed him a kiss from Michelle Pfeiffer in the winner’s circle if he won the race. He took back and finished third. Happy Birthday Billy!” Note: Paul’s sister-in-law is Michelle Pfeiffer married to producer David E. Kelley, Paul’s brother.

Rick Kane: “He has been referred to as “the Magic Man” during his driving career. He is often remembered for his even more memorable quotes during interviews, which in hindsight he could be thought of as the Yogi Berra of harness racing.”

Mary Pat Rhodes: “Once he got in an accident at Garden State Park. Days later he was sitting in the drivers’ room lounge and some man asked him how he was doing. Billy said, ‘A lesser man would still be in the hospital.’”

Pat Lachance: “I used to drive Billy and my dad to Garden State Park when I was a sophomore in high school. That’s when I met him. We had long chats on the way home. Awesome guy. The Magic Man!”

John Kopas: “I first met him in ‘78 or ‘79 when he was racing Lionel Minbar at Yonkers. One time, Ron Waples was in a wreck and Billy ran over him with his wheel. Ronnie said, ‘I thought you had time to miss me.’ Billy answered, ‘What makes you think I was trying to miss you?’”

“Another time, a trainer tried to change shoes on a horse who was perfect the start before. Billy asked her about the change and the trainer said, ‘That’s what the dam wore.’ Billy said, ‘My mother wore high heels and I can’t go in them.’”

Paul Macchia: “Billy’s always 45 in my mind.”

Greg Wright: “I didn’t meet Billy until after The Meadowlands opened [1976]. I knew he was doing well in New England. Good friend and top horseman.”

Rod Allen: “Bill always wanted to carry on a conversation with you while you were going to the gate. He was also more aware what was going on than 99 per cent of us in the race. He never intentionally put you in a bad situation in a race and always looked out for others.”

Stay tuned. We hope to have a fresh batch of quotes when O’Donnell turns 100.

A heavily favored Yonkers winner that shouldn't have happened

by Brett Sturman

This past Monday, a short-priced horse won the third race at Yonkers and paid the minimum $2.10 across the board for his efforts. There's nothing noteworthy about that alone, until you look at the circumstances for how this horse in the race came to be.

The sport's co-fastest horse this year with a mark of 1:48.3, a winner of two Meadowlands opens as well as a Yonkers open just this year alone so far, Nandolo, was afforded a massive – and what I'll argue unnecessary – drop in class into a mid-level conditioned race. Perhaps a touch outmatched but generally an upper level to open-caliber horse at Yonkers, Nandolo had competed well enough throughout the FFA Borgata Pacing Series, including a loss by just a couple of lengths in the $100,000 consolation the week prior to this one.

With his card showing earnings of $15,000 through his last five starts, Nandolo was able to drop into a condition where it would have been near impossible for him to lose and the odds in that race reflected as such, where he was made the 1-20 favorite at 5 cents on the dollar. For many reasons Nandolo should have never been in this race.

To start with, Nandolo wouldn't have even qualified as the race was originally written. Being right at $15,000 earned in his last 5 starts, Nandolo wouldn't have been eligible for the condition of non-winners of $15,000 in his last 5 since he earned that right on the dot, so the condition was changed to non-winners of $15,001 in the last 5.

Of course, all the time conditions are changed by a few dollars similar to this to allow for more full fields, but it's rare when doing so would produce such an overwhelming favorite. From the perspective of the racing secretary, wouldn't writing in a 1-20 favorite go against everything that the position is trying to accomplish in terms of creating evenly-matched fields? At the absolute least, why wasn't there an added stipulation that Yonkers does throughout other races that could have been something to the effect of winners of $15,000 or more in their last 5 draws outside? That there was such a desire to adjust the condition by a dollar to fit in a horse like Nandolo into that spot is simply poor form.

Let's take it a step further. For argument's sake, what if Nandolo had met the original condition as it was first defined. Even then, there were still better options that the race secretary would have had to both maximize field size and optimize handle for the track that night.

Despite a full field of eight horses, the race with Nandolo had the third lowest win pool that night. The only two races that had lower win pools were two separate five-horse races. One of those races was a non-winners of $30,001 L5 condition, a race that came immediately before the Nandolo race. If you were a race secretary trying to create races that would collectively generate as much handle as possible, why wouldn't Nandolo go into that race instead? It's a race where, depending on post position, Nandolo would have been favored and could have won. And in doing so, you'd be taking a five-horse field to a more reasonable number of six, while at the same time opening up another race to be entirely more competitive. As it was, the total win pool between those two races was about $18,500. In the hypothetical but easily doable condition just described, the total win pools would have been over $30,000. Yet another option would have been to use Nandolo to complete the first race of that same night, which went to post with only seven horses in a non-winners of $20,000 L5 race. It's the race that he should have gone into based on paper and would have been favored in that race as well.

With rare exception, I do think that if a horse meets a condition on the merits, then they should be able to race there. But again, it then comes back to being able to write conditions that produce evenly matched fields. At The Meadowlands for example, it's written that even if certain earnings conditions are met, that a horse still cannot race if he had been racing in a superior class prior. A similar condition would have prevented an open-type horse racing against horses with non-winners of $5,000 and non-winners of $7,500 lines.

Better judgement needs to be used, especially on smaller-sized tracks that already produce a high percentage of shorter-priced winners. Obviously, the goal is at the same time to produce full fields and competitive fields. This leads to less predictable racing, higher payouts and certainly an increased volume in wagering.

Some heavy favorites are largely unavoidable. In series or stakes races, or in a maiden or a non-winners of 2 races there isn't much that can be done but seeing a 1-20 favorite in a mid-level conditioned race on a Monday indicates that something has gone wrong. In creating full and competitive fields, it not only benefits horseplayers but it also benefits horsepeople as well. For the connections of all horses other than Nandolo from the race in question, what would have been a purse of $21,000 to race for, amounted to $10,500 after half of it had essentially been gifted away.

To be fair, this is far from the first instance throughout the industry of egregiously adjusting a condition to allow what subsequently becomes a heavily favored horse to enter a race, but it doesn't make the practice of it right. The overriding goal must be to put forth the highest possible quality product.

Lotteria in Naples painted in yellow

by Thomas Hedlund

Alessandro Gocciadoro dominated the big $725,000 Gran Premio della Lotteria in Naples, Italy, on Monday afternoon (May 1).

Gocciadoro had the favorite Vivid Wise As in the first elimination, but the Yankee Glide son had to capitulate after a first over trip when leader Usain Töll was too hard to beat.

The second elimination was won by the Fabrice Souloy trained Capital Mail, driven by Gabriele Gelormini and the third winner in the elimination heats was Gocciadoro's Vernissage Grif (Varenne).

In the final, Capital Mail was sent to the lead after 400 meters, with Usain Töll in the pocket and that left Vernissage Grif in the tough position outside the leader. Vernissage Grif looked strong on the outside and had power to hold second over trotter Bleff Dipa behind him in the stretch.

The 9-year-old Varenne son won in a stake's record 1:52 and the yellow-suited Gocciadoro claimed the trophy in Naples for the second year in a row, with the same horse.

Elitloppet invitee Vivid Wise As got a tough three-wide trip in the final and finished seventh.

SET FOR FINLANDIA-AJO

Finland's most prestigious race for the elite, the $240,000 Finlandia-ajo, is scheduled at Verno racetrack on Sunday afternoon (May 7).

A 10-horse strong field will battle for a ticket to the Elitloppet as the winner will receive an invitation to Solvalla later this month. Don Fanucci Zet, who is already bound for the Elitloppet, drew post 10, while quick starters like Stoletshow and Shackhills Twister will begin from post four and one, respectively.

SAN MOTEUR FAVORITE IN PARALYMPIATRAVET'S FINAL

Björn Goop-trained San Moteur was scratched before the start in one of the elimination races ahead of the $290,000 Paralympiatravet, but the rules say that he can get a wild card entry for the final from Åby and that's what happened. San Moteur got a wild card and will enter Åby racetrack as the heavy favorite in Saturday's race (May 6). The Paralympiatravet final is a top-class race over 1.3 miles and behind the probable favorite, interesting horses such as Jimmy Ferro B.R. and Mister Hercules chase for big money.

The same race card includes two group 1 races for 4-year-old trotters. The $195,000 Kungapokalen for colts and geldings and the $195,000 Drottningpokalen for mares are both very interesting races where the fans' curiosity regarding Joviality will be answered. Joviality impressed a lot in her elimination at Åby two weeks ago and Courant Stable's 4-year-old will be the horse to beat.

Trainer Domenic Longobardi quit his day job thanks to George Ducharme

by Chris Lomon

Domenic Longobardi doesn't take any offense when you chide him about quitting his day job.

As a third-generation horseman, the 24-year-old from Franklin, MA, has had a long association with standardbred racing.

But it wasn't until last year when Longobardi made the decision to close one chapter of his career and embark on a new one.

"I've had two horses training for the last four or five years and I was working full-time," Longobardi said. "But I gave up my full-time job last year and got my trainer's license. I did landscaping full-time and it was the time to either make it or break it, to make racing a career or put my focus elsewhere.

Longobardi already has highlights to share, courtesy of a trifecta of horses who have provided memorable wins for the young horseman.

Southern Swan, a 14-year-old son of Blissful Hall, delivered a special moment before he even took to the racetrack for Longobardi.

The bay pacer, now with 273 lifetime starts and nearly $200,000 on his dance card, was somewhat of a distraction for a then high school student.

"He has always been a special horse for me," Longobardi said. "I claimed him the day I graduated high school. I went to the track, put in the check and I was sitting in the auditorium, watching on my phone to see if I got him with Shane and Amy Taggart. That was in 2017 when I was a senior in high school. He's a special one to me."

As is another pacer, this one a 5-year-old son of Always B Miki, bred in Illinois by John Legacher.

An original $22,000 purchase at the 2019 Harrisburg Sale, Miki U So Fine has been all that and more over a career that's yielded just over $144,000 in purse earnings.

"He is another who comes to mind," Longobardi said. "I bought him and he just climbed up the ladder and has become a really special horse for me."

And then there is Rooster Bennett.

The 3-year-old son of So Surreal delivered Longobardi his biggest win to date, a victory that came in less-than-ideal conditions.

Not even a torrential downpour could dampen the pacer's happy connections, including long-time trainer George Ducharme.

"The horse that really stands above all of them for me is Rooster Bennett, who was born and who we raised at our farm," Longobardi said. "I worked with him a ton and he taught me a lot. My aunt, Nancy Longobardi and I each went in half with him. So, it was extra special when he won a Massachusetts Sires Stakes last year with Yannick Gingras in the bike. That day he won, it was a monsoon, but they were able to win. We ended up getting soaked, but it was definitely the best moment of my career. It wasn't raining when they went out on the track, but by the time the race got underway, it was just teeming out there. I was nervous, but we got it done. It wasn't close, but I was still really nervous."

By the end of 2022, Longobardi had racked up 10 wins, 26 top-three finishes and $99,625 in earnings from 53 starts.

Not a bad start for a first official training year.

"My grandfather trained horses in the 1960s and '70s and my dad, Domenic, [an executive at Plainridge Park Casino] and aunt — they had a big barn during the Foxboro days — they've been part of racing for a long time," Longobardi said. "I was at the barn before I could walk and I grew up at the [family] farm. I still train the horses on the same track my grandfather did that on."

“As I got older, I didn't have any interest in the horses in middle school, but George [Ducharme], one of my family's good friends, he was in the Hambletonian in 2013, so we went as a family. He won the Hambletonian with Royalty For Life and I was in the winner's circle. It was just a crazy experience and ever since then, I was hooked.”

~ Domenic Longobardi

It was 10 years ago when Longobardi experienced a life-altering moment, one that eventually led him to his standardbred full-time role.

“As I got older, I didn’t have any interest in the horses in middle school, but George [Ducharme], one of my family’s good friends, he was in the Hambletonian in 2013, so we went as a family,” Longobardi said. “He won the Hambletonian with Royalty For Life and I was in the winner’s circle. It was just a crazy experience and ever since then, I was hooked.”

Longobardi added, with a laugh, “My dad always blames George for getting me into the business.”

After a strong first year out of the gate, he’s looking to push things forward.

Part of the plan is to add more horses to the racing side of the operation.

“My aunt and I do this together,” he said. “I have two racehorses now, but I’d like to make it four. She also has two as well and we also have a bunch of broodmares that we foal out for other people. For the Massachusetts Sires Stakes, they have to be born here. That’s what we do in the wintertime. All of what we do, I really enjoy it.”

Having success certainly helps too.

But Longobardi isn’t the type to rest on his laurels.

“I’ve accomplished more than I ever dreamt I would have, but I’d like to have four or five horses and keep doing what I’m doing,”

he said. “I want to try to learn something every day. I’m young, so I want to keep learning. I’d like to have a Massachusetts stakes horse and a higher-caliber stakes horse to race elsewhere.”

Time for pursuits outside of racing is at a premium.

One goal is the hope of scoring a few goals while playing his favorite sport.

“I played hockey in high school and I really enjoyed it,” he said. “I don’t currently play, but I’d like to join a beer league soon, maybe this year. Otherwise, I spend time with my family, my girlfriend and other friends who aren’t involved in racing. It’s nice to be a normal member of society every once in a while.”

It’s also nice when there are no regrets about the career change you made.

Working with the standardbreds continues to be a source of happiness and fulfillment for Longobardi.

“It’s a full circle thing,” he said. “I like to get out of bed every day and come to the farm. It couldn’t have gone any better so far. I was nervous about making that leap, but last year was amazing. It really was a dream come true. This career has been everything I ever could have asked for. It’s really been awesome.”

Espresso gets nod as Dexter favorite

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Julie Miller is hoping to enjoy a strong Espresso on Saturday (May 6) at Freehold Raceway.

Espresso, a two-time Grand Circuit winner and Kentucky Commonwealth Series champion last year, is the 2-1 morning-line favorite in Saturday's $137,775 Dexter Cup for 3-year-old male trotters at Freehold's half-mile oval. The Hambletonian-eligible gelding, who is making his seasonal debut, will start from post two with Andy Miller in the sulky.

Last season, Espresso was no worse than second in 10 of 11 races, winning six, and earned $243,400. In addition to the Commonwealth title, his victories included divisions of the Bluegrass and International Stallion stakes, all during a five-race win streak in the fall.

"He really rounded into form when we had him at the Red Mile," said Miller, who trains Espresso for the Andy Miller Stable, Louis "Andy" Willinger, Mortgage Boys Stable and L Berg Inc. "He had luck on his side and things worked out. The owners had a great season and they were tickled pink. We were very happy with him."

Espresso, a Brittany Farms-bred son of Chapter Seven—Biscotti, was purchased for $45,000 at the 2021 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

"When we saw him at Brittany Farms, he was kind of my diamond in the rough," Miller said. "He was a little small, but he was correct. He's bred well, he's dual eligible [New York and Kentucky]. I thought I kind of got a steal."

"Training down, he was a little challenging. We had to add [trotting] hobbles and change his shoes a couple times. But when he decided to put it all together, he gave us some thrills."

Espresso enters Saturday's race with three qualifiers under his belt. He finished third in a group mixed with pacers on March 31 at Freehold and fourth in his two most recent outings, both at The Meadowlands, on April 7 and April 22.

"The qualifiers haven't been spectacular, but we've made adjustments to his equipment and training regimen and hopefully he'll bounce back to his 2-year-old form," Miller said.

Miller will also send out Met Your Request in the Dexter. The gelding will be driven by her son, Tyler, and leaves from post six in the seven-horse field. He is 15-1 on the morning line.

The son of Met's Hall—Quest Blue Chip was a winner on the Grand Circuit last year and has won four of 11 career races. He is 1-for-1 this season and has $65,626 in lifetime purses for the Andy Miller Stable and Carol Huffman.

"His first start was a nice tightener for the Dexter," Miller said. "Both of my horses have qualified at Freehold, so they've been around the track. Obviously, you need some luck on a half-mile racetrack when you draw the outside. So, we're hoping for some good luck."

Amanda Stephens

Espresso (Andy Miller) winning at the Red Mile.

The Dexter Cup is the first Grand Circuit event of the season for 3-year-old male trotters. One other horse in the field, Designer Drink, is eligible to the $1 million Hambletonian Stakes on Aug. 5 at The Meadowlands.

Designer Drink, trained by Symon Spicer, was a winner in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes series last year and finished third in the final. The son of Bar Hopping—Designable, who will make his seasonal debut in the Dexter, has won two of eight races and earned $99,473 for owner Keystone Stable.

Starting from post five Saturday with Andy McCarthy in the sulky, Designer Drink is 9-2 on the morning line. He enters the Dexter with three qualifiers to his credit. He went off stride at Freehold on April 14, followed by a third and a fourth on April 18 (at Harrah's Philadelphia) and April 29 (at The Meadowlands).

"He made a break in the first turn at Freehold, but he was a little grabby," Spicer said. "So, we took him back to Philly and he qualified fine. We're confident he's going to get around the half [at Freehold]."

"This will be his first start on Lasix. We figured he was bleeding at the end of his 2-year-old season, that's why we quit with him. He bled a little bit in a qualifier, so we're working on that. We'll see how Lasix helps him. I'm hoping it helps him a lot."

Designer Drink's best win time, 1:55 set at The Meadows, was one of last season's fastest on a five-eighths-mile track by a 2-year-old trotter.

"He's very versatile," Spicer said. "He can leave, he can take back; he can do whatever you want."

The 4-1 second choice in the Dexter is Candy Bomber, who will start from post four with driver Todd McCarthy.

Candy Bomber, trained by Ron Coyne Jr., finished second in a division of the Simpson Memorial last year and earned $20,421 in nine starts. The son of Tactical Landing—Candy Lane heads to the Dexter off a 1:57.3 win in a conditioned race at Harrah's Philadelphia on April 30. He is owned by Ron Coyne Stables, Blair Corbeil, Mike McAllister and Edward Pachuta.

Saturday's card at Freehold also features two divisions of the Lady Suffolk Stakes for 3-year-old female trotters.

Ake Svanstedt-trained and driven Emira Mil, an import from Italy who was stakes-placed last season, is the 2-1 morning-line favorite in the first division, which goes for a purse of $27,725. Canterbury Hanover, a winner in the New York Sire Stakes last year, is the 2-1 choice in the second group, which goes for $28,725. She is making her debut for trainer/driver Jeff Gregory after racing for trainer Marcus Melander in 2022.

Both fillies are eligible to the $500,000 Hambletonian Oaks on Aug. 5 at The Meadowlands.

Racing begins at 12:30 p.m. (EDT) at Freehold. For Saturday's complete entries, click here.

Bernie ready to hit the road for Mindlin Memorial

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

For nearly three years, a weekend at Bernie's has meant a trip to MGM Northfield Park. On Saturday (May 6), that will change.

Bernie will leave his home at Northfield for the first time since trainer Jessica Millner and Pod Stable purchased the pacer in June 2020 when he competes in the $100,000 Pacey "The Wizard" Mindlin Memorial Invitational at Miami Valley Raceway. Mindlin was Miami Valley's on-air handicapper until his death at age 81 in March.

A son of Big Jim—Matilda, Bernie worked his way through the condition classes at Northfield to become a mainstay in the track's open. Since arriving at the northern Ohio half-mile oval, the 7-year-old gelding has hit the board in 82 of 116 races, winning 36 and finishing second 31 times. He has earned more than $470,000.

Earlier this season, Bernie won in a career-best 1:49.3 at Northfield. The time is tied for this year's fastest mile on a half-mile track.

"It was exciting to get the invitation," Millner said. "It's nice to know people are thinking of him. It's a tough race, they're definitely not giving away the money, but I think he can handle himself in there. He's a pretty gritty little fella."

"This will be the first time I'll take him to a bigger racetrack, the first time away from Northfield. It's exciting all the way around. Hopefully, we do OK."

Bernie began his career in Canada but caught Millner's eye because of his size.

"He's stocky, which is something I love about him," Millner said. "He looks like he's built for a half-mile track. We liked the way he was racing in Canada and he still fit [some lower conditions]. It's always nice to be able to try them out in those classes and then go up the ranks from there."

Millner liked Bernie enough to buy the pacer during the height of the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, even as racing was on hold.

“We were a little hesitant, but it paid off,” Millner said. “He’s probably the best horse I’ve ever trained. He’s small but he has a lot of fight. I just have to maintain him; he does all of the work himself. Obviously, he’s proven himself on the racetrack.

“Around the barn, he’s a lovable horse, a pleasure to be around. He’s a very gentle horse. He’ll lay down and I’ll go in and lay down with him. He’s one of my favorites.”

Bernie will start Saturday’s Mindlin Memorial from post two with Kurt Sugg in the sulky. He is 15-1 on the morning line in a field of nine. The 5-2 favorite is Ruthless Hanover, a 6-year-old gelding who brings a six-race win streak to the event for driver George Napolitano Jr. and trainer Tom Cancelliere.

The field also includes Idealsomemagic A (3-1), who won three times in the MGM Borgata Pacing Series and was sixth in the final; Let It Ride N (7-2), who recently had a five-race win streak in the open handicap at Miami Valley; Lou’s Pearlman (9-2), the 2021 Little Brown Jug champion; and This Is The Plan (6-1), who just topped $3 million in lifetime purses.

“I’m excited,” Millner said. “Nervous and excited. I get anxious every time [Bernie] races. But he seems to be in one of his best forms right now. He’s having a good year.

“Almost every time he goes to post he surprises me. The [1:49.3] mile, I always thought he had it in him, but I didn’t know if we were going to get it. He can race from anywhere on the racetrack.

You can take him back and race him from off the pace and he’s got a shot, or you can put him on the front end. He’s a very versatile horse.”

Millner, a 31-year-old native of Fort Lauderdale, FL, grew up in a racing family and spent a good bit of time during the early part of her childhood at Pompano Park. She also lived in Canada and upstate New York, where she met her husband, D.J. Millner, while on the Buffalo-Batavia circuit. She has been in Ohio for about a dozen years.

“I took a break [from racing] for a little while and went to school and I have my nursing license,” Millner said. “But every time I try to get out, the horses drag me back in. I love horses. It’s been part of me since I was born. It’s something I love to do. I have five retired Standardbreds at home. I don’t ever see myself being without horses.”

Millner’s stable averages around 25 horses. She got her first training win in 2012 and topped 800 lifetime victories earlier this season. Last year, she topped 100 triumphs (109) and $1 million in purses, both for the first time.

“That was a very nice accomplishment,” Millner said. “I’ve always strived for [100 wins] and it was nice to finally do it. I had a good stable of horses and everything fell into place.”

Racing begins at noon on Saturday at Miami Valley Raceway. For Saturday’s complete entries, click here.

Ontario Graduate and Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payout headline Saturday at Mohawk

The finals of the inaugural Ontario Sired Graduate Series and a Jackpot Hi-5 mandatory payout hold top billing for Saturday's (May 6) 12-race card at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The three Ontario Graduate finals, all going for a purse of over $80,000, each feature a star standout. Cold Creek Queso, Adare Castle and Silver Label sit as the horses to beat in Saturday's finals.

The $81,500 Ontario Graduate final for 4-year-old pacers is a seven-horse contest with all eyes on Cold Creek Queso (post three, Sylvain Filion). The Murray Brethour trainee swept legs one and two prior to taking a rest for leg three, which was captured by Camara Moment.

Cold Creek Queso captured last season's Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Super Final and sports career numbers of nine wins, $310,064 earned and a mark of 1:48.3.

O'Brien Award winner Adare Castle (post four, James MacDonald) has come out strong to begin her 4-year-old campaign. The Mark Etsell trainee is three for three and will look for the sweep of the Graduate Trot in Saturday's $83,500 series final.

A compact group of six 4-year-old trotters will clash, with mares Adare Castle and Mischevious Rose (post two, Louis-Philippe Roy) part of the group. Those two mares finished one-two in last week's third leg.

Adare Castle is a 17-time winner with $1.1 million earned and a mark of 1:52.4.

The $84,500 Ontario Graduate final for pacing mares will feature a full field of 10 lining up.

O'Brien Award winner Silver Label (post three, James MacDonald) comes in off victories in legs two and three. The Nick Gallucci trainee has 14 wins, $866,864 earned and a mark of 1:50.2 to her name.

The Ontario Graduate Series finals are carded as Race 1 (Open Trot), Race 4 (Mares Pace) and Race 6 (Open Pace).

Saturday evening's 12-race card will be capped off by a mandatory payout for the Jackpot Hi-5. The carryover is $271,267.52 and the total pool is expected to exceed $1 million.

The Jackpot Hi-5 requires horseplayers to select the top-five finishers in order. The wager carries a $0.20 minimum and 15 per cent takeout.

Post time is 7 p.m.

Kaddari, 'Cookie,' 'Snowman' and 'Tricked' win Weiss finals

Kaddari, who started her career with wins in the last two prelims of the Bobby Weiss Series for 3-year-old trotting fillies, added the $50,000 Weiss championship to her rapidly-growing resume on Tuesday afternoon (May 2) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania. The $375,000 yearling stopped the timer in 1:56 on a cool day with a strong stretch headwind.

Mattias Melander got away second with Kaddari before moving the Walner filly nearing the :28 quarter to clear A Good Chardonnay and keep Quite Fast parked in the two-wide lane through fractions of :57 and 1:26.1. Into the wind, driver Melander asked his filly for more and she responded to finish 2-1/2 lengths clear of runner-up Over Board, who circled five-wide in the stretch and passed many horses.

Kaddari is trained by Mattias' brother, Marcus Melander and is owned by Courant Inc.

The $20,000 Weiss Consolation went to I'm Amused, who lowered her lifetime mark to 1:57. Simon Allard popped the pocket with the sophomore Muscle Hill filly up the backstretch and opened a big lead that could not be threatened through the stretch. Deborah Daguette trains I'm Amused for D Racing Stable Inc., Kapildeo Singh and Earl Hill Jr.

C Is For Cookie was the only competitor in the Bobby Weiss Series for 3-year-olds who won all three of her preliminary races and on Monday afternoon (May 1) the daughter of Betting Line racked up the "Grand Slam" by impressively winning the final of the pacing misses section. The time was 1:52.4 over a track which had just been rerated to "sloppy."

Scott Zeron got C Is For Cookie away second from the rail behind Square Deal, who took the field to the quarter in :27, then moved the willing filly to the lead and put up mid-splits of :55.3 and 1:24. When challengers tried to gain menacing positions nearing the stretch, C Is For Cookie yet again just turned on a higher gear effortlessly, winning by 2-1/2 lengths over 70-1 Caris for trainer Linda Toscano and Birnam Wood Farms.

In the $20,000 Weiss Consolation, the Stay Hungry filly Lodestar remained undefeated after four career starts with a front-end success in 1:54. Lodestar only had one previous start this year, a Weiss prelim win, so she did not qualify for the final, but the filly looked very good here while winning for driver Marcus Miller, trainer Juan Cano and Hot Lead Farms.

Snowman Hanover showed last Sunday (April 23) he appreciated his reintroduction to trotting hobbles with a victory in the Bobby Weiss Series final prelim for his sophomore male group and in Sunday's (April 30) $50,000 Weiss championship he again was victorious, taking his field coast-to-coast in 1:58 over a sloppy track during a rainy night.

Mark MacDonald got the Bar Hopping gelding to the lead before the :28.3 quarter, then backed off the half to :59.4. Bestfriend Volo, the favorite who had won both of his Weiss prelims, moved out to go after the leader through both sides of the 1:29.1 three-quarters, but Snowman Hanover dug in gamely and held off the chalk by a half-length. The Ray Schnittker trainee is owned by the partnership of Schnittker Bordogna, Arden Homestead Stable, Steven Arnold and Ted Gewertz and he helped driver MacDonald to lead the local colony on the night with three successes.

The $50,000 Bobby Weiss Series Championship for 3-year-old pacing colts, second choice I Was Tricked worked out the pocket trip behind the previously-unbeaten favorite, All Class, then went to the lead in the stretch and held off a pair of longshots to lower his mark to 1:50.4.

Braxten Boyd, as hot as any driver at Pocono recently and up to fifth in the local win standings, shot the Huntsville gelding away from the gate, making the lead in a :26.2 opening quarter, then sat content behind the brushing favorite, who took over going under the wire the first time and put up middle splits of :54.3 and 1:22.2.

The hard usage, stiff fractions and backstretch headwind took their toll on All Class in the stretch, with I Was Tricked able to pace by the pacesetter fairly easily, with second-over Nopewasntme ducking inside the winner to grab second at 70-1, three-quarters of a length back. Joemikiyoursofine came up the inside at 50-1 for third; All Class had to settle for fourth.

Unraced at two, I Was Tricked won his last two Weiss preliminaries and now is four-for-six lifetime for trainer Nicholas Devita and the ownership of Devita Racing Stable, David Hamm, Christopher Giaccio and Glenn Phillips.

The Stay Hungry gelding Hunters Hero picked an opportune time to break his maiden while winning the $20,000 Weiss Consolation, sitting a fine two-hole trip then rallying along the inside to hold off Simply Fast by a neck in 1:52.3. Matt Kakaley drove the Travis Alexander trainee for Fiddler's Creek Stables Inc.

The Downs will not present a live program this Saturday (May 6), Kentucky Derby Day. Racing at Pocono returns on Sunday (May 7) at 6 p.m. with four $30,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania

All-Stars event for 3-year-old pacing fillies, a group which will include recent Weiss Series champion C Is For Cookie.

Program pages for all Pocono races are or will be available on the PHHA website.

Ruthless Hanover gets early nod in $100,000 Pace Baby Pace at Miami Valley

The $100,000 Pace Baby Pace Free-For-All By Invitation at Miami Valley Raceway has been drawn and Ruthless Hanover has been named the lukewarm morning line favorite.

The Saturday (May 6) feature race field has won a combined 238 races and earned $7,595,543 in purses. Seven of the nine horses have sub-1:50 race records while four have won faster than 1:48.

Ruthless Hanover (George Napolitano Jr.) drew the No. 4 post position and will open at odds of 5-2. He has won his only two starts this season in opens at Harrah's Philadelphia.

Idealsomemagic A (Trace Tetrick) is a close 3-1 on the morning line having won eight races already this year, including three preliminary legs of the prestigious MGM Borgata Series at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

Local favorite Let It Ride N (Dan Noble) is 7-2 on the merits of seven wins at Miami Valley in 2023, including five opens in a row in March and April.

Lou's Pearlman (Chris Page), the 2021 Little Brown Jug winner, will open at 9-2 on the heels of a 1:50 win in a $24,500 open at The Meadowlands last Saturday (April 29).

This Is The Plan (Ronnie Wrenn Jr.), a $3 million winner, should get plenty of consideration off a win in the final Borgata preliminary and fourth place finish after cutting the mile in the $511,000 final.

Little Rocket Man (John DeLong), a prolific winner of 42 out of 78 lifetime starts, drew the outside post position and is listed at 8-1.

Chase H Hanover (Tony Hall) is 10-1 from the rail, Hemsworth N (Brett Miller), winner of the Borgata consolation, is 12-1 and Bernie (Kurt Sugg), who has finished one-two in Northfield Park's open his last seven outings, is 15-1.

The race is a memorial tribute to Pacey "The Wizard" Mindlin, Miami Valley's on-air handicapper until his death at age 81 in March.

The final race card of the Miami Valley season will start at noon on Saturday. It includes eight $55,000 divisions of first leg action in the Ohio Sires Stakes.

Estimated post time for the Pace Baby Pace Invitational is 4 p.m.

Plenty going on during Derby weekend at Big M

The Meadowlands won't merely offer the best harness racing anywhere tonight (May 5) and Saturday night (May 6), because that wouldn't be enough given the enormity of the weekend.

The Big M will offer a pair of 14-race programs that will get underway at 6:20 p.m. The Saturday night program will offer three divisions of leg one of the New Jersey Sire Stakes for 3-year-old pacers of each sex as well as the opening leg of the Miss Versatility series for mare trotters, starring Bella Bellini.

In addition, it will also offer the biggest horse racing simulcast event of the calendar year, as famed racetrack Churchill Downs will host the 149th edition of The Kentucky Derby on Saturday and local fans will be able to watch and wager on the "Run for the Roses" at one of the best simulcast destinations in all of racing.

The Derby – which will have 20 horses in the starting gate – has a post time of 6:57 p.m. and will be contested between races two and three on the live harness card. Forte is the 3-1 morning-line favorite from post position 15 for jockey Irad Ortiz Jr. The Todd Pletcher trainee has won six-of-seven lifetime starts.

"In terms of business, The Meadowlands is having one of their greatest years in recent memory," said track chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemoir. "The Kentucky Derby will be the headliner during an incredible weekend at The Big M. Along with our live racing, we have put together an extensive menu of entertainment options. With the warmer weather on the way, we are determined to make The Meadowlands one of the most fun places to be this spring and summer."

CAN YOU SURVIVE? Tonight (May 5), The Big M's "Summer Meet Survival Challenge," powered by 123Racing, will begin with cash prizes and seats in the World Harness Handicapping Championship up for grabs in the competition that is online only but free to participate in.

The game covers the entirety of the "Championship Meet," which concludes on Saturday, Aug. 5.

For complete details and to enter, go to www.survival-challenge.com/.

BIG M GOES NATIONAL: Last Saturday (April 29), The Meadowlands joined forces with the TV team at the New York Racing Association (NYRA) to show harness racing to a national audience that is normally accustomed to watching the thoroughbred game. The show was the first of eight that will be telecast on the networks of Fox Sports between now and the end of the year.

"We wanted to have a vehicle where people who would normally just be exposed to thoroughbred races would have a chance to see our races as well," said Settlemoir. "Teaming up with the TV crew at the NYRA has provided us a chance to show our races to an audience that we hope will take to our product. We feel that last year's exposure on these Fox Network shows has helped us, at least in small part, to have what has so far been a tremendous year of business at The Meadowlands."

The remaining schedule for when Meadowlands' races will be shown on either FS1 or FS2 is as follows:

- Friday, May 19 (9-11:30 p.m.)
- Saturday, May 20 (8-11 p.m.; featuring the Arthur J. Cutler Memorial FFA Trot)
- Saturday, July 1 (9-11 p.m.; Crawford Farms and Six Pack FFA Trots, Dave Brower Memorial and Perfect Sting FFA Paces)
- Saturday, July 8 (9-11 p.m.; Meadowlands Pace eliminations, Graduate finals)
- Saturday, July 15 (10 p.m.-midnight; Meadowlands Pace, William Haughton Memorial, Hambletonian Maturity plus other stakes for total purses of $2.5 million)
- Saturday, Aug. 5 (1-5 p.m. and 6-7 p.m.; Hambletonian, Hambletonian Oaks plus other stakes for total purses of $3.5 million)
- Friday, Sept. 8 (9-11 p.m.; New Jersey Classic Series finals)
