Paul Bordogna is one of the luckiest guys in harness racing

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

New Image Media

Paul and Fay Bordogna after winning the 2021 Mohawk Million with Venerable at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Paul Bordogna considers himself to be one of the luckiest guys in all of harness racing.

Consider this: He has been involved as an owner for upwards of 50 years. He considers his overall success to be well above the norm in that he has been in the black overall. Lucky, in the sense perhaps that in addition to having financial success in the business, he has made a multitude of good friends, had good trainers, and had far more good, to perhaps great, horses than most owners have been privileged to have been associated.

Among the people, in somewhat chronological order, were his uncle Len Matarazzo, Tom D'Altrui, Jr., Steve Elliott (also a trainer and a great one at that), David Scharf, Steve Arnold, Ray Schnittker (also a trainer and quite successful), Steve Jones, and today with Dave McDuffee, Mel Hartman, and Steve Arnold.

His trainers for the vast majority of his horses, over 50 years, have been only four: Steve Elliott, Ray Schnittker, Richard “Nifty” Norman, and Brett Pelling.

His horses include five millionaires – Donato Hanover ($2,998,777), Riverboat King ($1,234,576), Venerable ($1,187,798), Totally Ruthless ($1,150,964), and Dewycolorintheline ($1,023,841) – and numerous other quality stake performers. There are very few major stakes races where Bordogna was not to be seen in the winner’s circle.

Let’s start at the beginning. How did you get into this wonderful game of ours?

“I suppose like with many of my era it began with regular visits to the two major New York area tracks Roosevelt and Yonkers Raceways. There are probably few today that will believe this, but there was once a time when harness racing was not too far behind thoroughbred racing in popularity and both combined, drew more customers than any of the major sports.

“I started going to the races and loved it. A number of years later I had the opportunity to buy into a horse partnership that Tom D’Altrui [DI Farms] was putting together. I believe the price for my piece might have been something like $3,500. The problem was that as reasonable a price as that was, I didn’t have the money. I was a teacher and sports coach earning somewhere in the area of $20,000. I mentioned the opportunity to my Uncle Len who was very successful and also a great fan of our sport. He said, ‘Go ahead and do it. I’ll back you.’ So, I did.

“The horse won one low level race at The Meadowlands and certainly wasn’t one that would encourage you to buy more. At the time, Tom was putting together ownership groups for some of the yearlings he had bred and raised. I bought into a couple over the next few years with no success at all. We had just purchased a home and my wife, Fay, was pregnant. Money was tight and the last thing I needed was another slow horse. I received a call from Tom who said he had two yearlings that he was going to sell privately into partnerships. He invited me to come to the farm and have a look. I wasn’t going to go but Fay said, ‘You love this, go on and do it.’ Tom had them priced at $100,000 and $40,000. I had no idea what I was looking at but Tom mentioned Steve Elliott took a piece of the colt priced at $40,000. I didn’t know much about yearling selection but I was smart enough to follow someone who did. That yearling was Totally Ruthless.”

What happened next?

“That colt took us on our first great ride through the Grand Circuit. The Meadowlands had opened and was flourishing. We raced there and made visits to Canada, Pompano, The Red

“ Among [Venerable’s] other wins at 2 was the Jimmy Doherty Memorial at The Meadowlands. Marvin Katz was making the trophy presentation... I told him that not only was I an owner of Venerable, but I also owned part of Brickhouse Babe who finished second and Delilah Hanover who finished third... How lucky was I to purchase interests in only three trotting fillies that year and have them finish 1-2-3? Sometimes it’s much better to be lucky than good. ”

~ Paul Bordogna

Mile, Rosecroft, and Freestate. Totally Ruthless became the [Dan Patch] 2-Year-Old [Male] Pacer of 1988 and I was hooked on buying yearlings. The next year for Totally Ruthless wasn’t quite as fortuitous. He broke a bone in the first major race in Canada and was out for his 3-year-old year.

“In the fall of 1989 there was a Big Towner filly named Sunraycer selling at the Fall Classic Sale. Steve and Tom liked her so we bought her for $13,000. She went on and earned $398,593 and we sold her after her 3-year-old year with her eventually going to Hanover.

“We had several other good ones in the ensuing years. I had more luck with Steve. He was going over to Gaitway to buzz a 2-year-old that was for sale for another owner. While there the trainer mentioned another colt was for sale. Steve took him for a quick spin and came off the track and said we should buy the colt. I had met David Scharf who was also a friend of Steve’s and had horses in the barn. We bought the colt for $60,000 and partnered with David. The colt was Riverboat King who earned over $1.2 million.

“Our next millionaire and likely the greatest horse I’ve ever owned was Donato Hanover. Up to this point all of my horses were pacers. We were at Harrisburg in November of 2005. David Scharf was interested in buying a trotting colt that he absolutely loved. He was out of a mare named D Train that David had owned. He said she had extreme speed was an absolute renegade. David wanted to buy the colt, and have him trained by Steve, but he cautioned that he wouldn’t be cheap. He could bring as much as $100,000. Did we want in? We mulled it over and decided to take the leap as did Steve Arnold. He ended up bringing $95,000 and our stable Golden Touch came in for 40 per cent. He went on to capture just about everything at 2 and 3. He earned just about three million and was partially syndicated after his [2-year-old] year based upon $6 million, $50,000 per share, with the final syndication taking place at 3 at a value of 10.2 million, $85,000 per share, to stand at Hanover.”

Author’s note: In April 2006, I was making the rounds of the various training centers. I met Steve Elliott. I had been a particular fan of Donato Hanover as a yearling, so I naturally asked Steve about him. This isn’t the exact verbiage, but its close. “If that son-of-a-bitch isn’t a top trotter, then I’m getting out of the business,” Steve said. “He’s the best horse I’ve ever trained.” “But Steve, you also trained a horse named Valley Victory,” I responded. “You heard me,” he responded.

What about after Donato?

“The next millionaire was Dewycolorintheline. We had graduated into regularly buying higher priced yearlings. Ray Schnittker was our trainer and owned part of him. He brought $110,000. He was a Dewycheatumnhowe who Ray had trained. He was one of the few high-priced yearlings by that horse who proved to be worth the money spent for them.

“The most recent millionaire was Venerable. As time went on the prices kept getting higher and higher. David McDuffee loved her and bought her for our partnership as a yearling for $210,000. She proved to be worth every penny and a lot more. She was the best 2-year-old filly of her year. She proved that in winning the Mohawk Million and beating the colts. Unfortunately, she contracted EPM [Equine Protozoal Myeloencephalitis] causing her to miss a substantial portion of her 3-year-old year which didn’t allow her to reach her full potential.

"I do have a remarkable story related to her. Among her other wins at 2 was the Jimmy Doherty Memorial at The Meadowlands. Marvin Katz was making the trophy presentation. He congratulated me on Venerable's win. I told him that not only was I an owner of Venerable, but I also owned part of Brickhouse Babe who finished second and Delilah Hanover who finished third. He looked at me as though I were crazy. How lucky was I to purchase interests in only three trotting fillies that year and have them finish 1-2-3? Sometimes it's much better to be lucky than good."

In recent years, your price points have risen to the point where last year you spent $575,000 to buy Valorous, Venerable's first foal and $350,000 to buy Day One Dandy, Delilah Hanover's first foal. I would speculate that there is no way that a school teacher can afford those prices, regardless of how successful he has been in our business.

"After eight years of teaching and coaching, I realized that there was no way I could support a family. So, at the age of 29, I went back to school for an MBA from Rutgers. I took a job at Price Waterhouse in their audit group. After three years I left and took a position with Prudential simply because I wanted to stop commuting to New York City. The group I worked in invested in real estate for large public and private pension funds. I eventually started a unique program that allowed our investors to partner with developers and invest in real estate development without taking actual construction risk. The program was, and continues to be, a huge success raising and investing over $30 billion. I'm now 77 and I've been retired for nine years. In addition to my love and investment in harness horses, I'm a big overall sports fan. Right now, I'm enjoying the New York Knicks, but I follow all of the major sports."

Which brings us to the present. How are your horse holdings now constituted?

"I have nine in total in training. There are four 3-year-olds. They are all racing, but there are no champions among them. Maybe I'm paying penance for all my previous success. If I have any hope for success this year it rests with the 2-year-olds. There are three trotters who are with Nifty Norman and two pacers who are with Brett Pelling. The time is approaching when we will know what we have - for better or worse."

Mohawk regular Tyler Borth repeats as Ontario Regional Driving Champion at London

by Melissa Keith

On Tuesday (May 5), a familiar face returned to The Raceway at Western Fair in winning style. Tyler Borth brought home his second consecutive Ontario Regional Driving Championship (ORDC) title at the track where he first gained attention. The Ingersoll, ON-based reinsman has alternated between the London, ON half-mile and Woodbine Mohawk Park since testing the waters at the big track in 2023. He continues to catch drive at other Ontario tracks, particularly as the stakes season gains momentum.

Now 33 years old, Borth is sixth in Canada by purses won this year ($991,981 Can.) and ninth by 2026 driving wins (70 wins from 572 starts, as of May 7). While facing the country's top driving colony on a regular basis at Mohawk, he has established himself as the youngest member of the current top 10. Borth is ninth by 2026 Mohawk victories to date (35 wins), just ahead of 49-year-old Jody Jamieson (29 wins) and one win behind 54-year-old Trevor Henry (36 wins), who has announced that he is scaling back his drives this season.

Returning to The Raceway, Borth steered trotters Teasin (race 2) and Royalty Girl (race 4) and pacer Writeline (race 8) to May 5 victories, securing his ORDC crown for the second time with 62 total points in the tournament. Two-time (2001 and 2011) World Driving Champion Jody Jamieson finished second, with two winning drives and 55 points. Both will take part in the 2026 National Driving Championship on Sunday (July 26) at Clinton Raceway. Reigning NDC and WDC champ James MacDonald is automatically invited to the 2027 World Driving Championships, which will be held in Canada. He did not drive in the latest ORDC tournament.

Before the final ORDC results were even posted Tuesday night, Jamieson walked up to Borth to congratulate him. The tournament runner-up told interviewer Greg Blanchard, The Raceway's director of equine programming, that "there's not much sense in doing the math" to calculate points ahead of the card's last couple of races. Jamieson drew ahead of third-place finisher Bob McClure (52 points) when he won race 11 with 8-1 longshot Summer Dancer, overcoming a dry spell earlier on the card.

"You know, I had a couple of lasts in the middle of the tournament, and usually... if you finish last in any race, it will just screw you on points towards the end," Jamieson said. "But I knew I had 40 [points]. I knew I had to beat Bob [McClure], at least... I knew I needed to have a little space between Bob and I."

He called the chance to race in the 2026 NDC "awesome," adding that he "couldn't be happier" with his late rally for second-place in the ORDC.

"At the end of the day, I'm just trying to win every race I can," Jamieson said. "Sometimes you just can't, you don't have the horsepower, and tonight was just different."

For Borth, winning his second ORDC title allows him the chance to avenge his runner-up finish behind James MacDonald in the July 5, 2024 NDC tournament at Quebec's Hippodrome 3R.

"I was off to a great start in Three Rivers, actually, and then in the last couple of races, I don't think I had a very good horse and James [MacDonald] picked me off," Borth told Blanchard. "But he's such a great driver, so to finish second to him, it wasn't that big of a deal."

~ Tyler Borth

Borth was second to MacDonald in that event, with 53 points to his rival's 66 points.

Even in the absence of MacDonald, competing against Jamieson ensured the ORDC was no cakewalk, even on home turf.

“I always looked up to Jody when I was starting driving here and even before I started driving,” Borth said. “Him and Mark MacDonald ran this place [The Raceway at Western Fair].”

Borth rose to national prominence as the O'Brien Future Star Award winner in 2014, and spoke of the significance of taking another shot at his first NDC title.

“It was a fabulous day and I love being a part of this thing, especially at this racetrack,” Borth told Blanchard in the London winner's circle. “I love this racetrack, you know that. I couldn't be happier.”

As for the upcoming NDC, the ORDC winner said his experience driving at Clinton would help his chances.

“I know that track well and I'm looking forward to it,” he said.

Fittingly, Borth won his next drive at Woodbine Mohawk Park, on Friday (May 8). He piloted Blake McIntosh-trained 3-year-old pacing filly Beentheredunethat in the morning's first qualifier, winning going away on the front end in 1:57 flat. With three consecutive years of earning over $4-million (Can.) on his resume, it's safe to say this Future Star has arrived.

HRU is providing links to publicly-available fines and suspension lists for convenience.

Readers are reminded that because a person's name appears on the list does not necessarily mean they are guilty of an offense. Many times, cases are not finalized and many of the accused are still entitled to due process.

Also, please note, for context, the first link is to the Association of Racing Commissioners International's classification system of drug penalties to give readers a sense of the difference between a Class 1 and a Class 4 positive.

RACING INTO THE FUTURE

with BOB DUFF

Is New Zealand's Next Gen program a model that U.S. horse racing should follow?

by Bob Duff

In New Zealand harness racing circles, they are describing the Next Gen program as a ground-breaking initiative. From our perspective, the real question for North American harness racing leadership is whether this is a program that they should consider breaking ground on and launching on this side of the racing world.

Harness Racing New Zealand (HRNZ) introduced Next Gen to empower trainers, owners, and syndicate managers with the power to shape the future of harness racing in the country. The program is designed to spur growth and innovation in harness racing ownership. Next Gen was created to provide owners and trainers who are new to the sport with the tools and incentives to build their business, expand their network, and achieve success stories both on and off the track.

[Harness Racing New Zealand's Next Gen program is] all about bringing fresh blood into the sport, especially the younger generation. And hasn't North American harness racing been seeking to find similar avenues to attract newcomers and young people to the sport since forever?

As the name would suggest, the program was created to help the next generation of harness racing gain a foothold in the sport. The program is a commitment to building the future of harness racing and, in fact, ensuring the sport has a future.

A WAY TO INJECT FRESH BLOOD INTO HARNESS RACING

It's all about bringing fresh blood into the sport, especially the younger generation. And hasn't North American harness racing been seeking to find similar avenues to attract newcomers and young people to the sport since forever?

New Zealand's Next Gen program factors in several elements that incentivize aspiring owners to get involved in the sport. Financial incentives offered by HRNZ encourage owners to get involved with trainers who are newer to the sport.

To qualify for Next Gen bonuses and rewards, horses must be 2-year-olds and meet the following criteria: • They must have been purchased at the NZB Standardbred National Sales. Next Gen horses must be housed in the stable of a Next Gen trainer. That is a trainer who has never won a Group 1 stakes race.

- The ownership group of the horse needs to feature at least 30 per cent of membership who are either first-time horse owners or people under the age of 40.
- The horse also needs to have been sired by a stallion in its first three New Zealand or Australian crops.

The program seeks to enable trainers to attract new owners through financial incentives. They're also able to elevate their profile, highlighting their skills and dedication to the sport by training horses eligible for exclusive bonuses.

There's more than $600,000 in bonus funds up for grabs, including a $50,000 harness million bonus. These special bonuses are awarded in each of the three harness million 2-year-old races. The $50,000 bonus is awarded to the first Next Gen horse across the finish line in each race. The funds are broken down as follows: $35,000 goes to the owner or owners of the horse. The trainer gets $10,000, and the breeder pockets $5,000.

Every Next Gen horse also gets a 2-year-old starting bonus. These funds are split among the owners ($4,000) and the trainer ($1,000).

Through the Next Gen program, owners can gain access to affordable ownership pathways and experience the thrill of competing for substantial rewards. Meanwhile, syndicate managers can market affordable and exciting ownership shares to expand their syndicates and attract new members.

WOULD NEXT GEN WORK IN NORTH AMERICAN HARNESS RACING?

Of course, the million-dollar question about New Zealand's Next Gen program is, can it work in the North American game?

In any program of this nature, where the money will come from is always the first order of business.

Finding major corporate sponsorship would also prove challenging in the current economy. Still, even with all the usual obstacles to overcome situated in front of the American industry, New Zealand's Next Gen plan certainly offers a blueprint worth exploring.

Harness Racing New Zealand is working on the Next Gen program with partners Tab New Zealand (TAB NZ) and NZB Standardbred. TAB NZ is a government agency designed to promote and maximize profits for the country's horse racing industry. They also hold a monopoly on New Zealand sports betting in partnership with American company Entain, the owners of the sportsbook BetMGM. NZB Standardbred handles all the major sales in the country.

Could the USTA find similar partners to make such a grassroots program a success in this country? Would one of the major online sports betting sites see this as an opportunity to grow a sport that owes its popularity to wagering? FanDuel, DraftKings, and BetMGM all operate advance deposit wagering sites catering to the U.S. market. Racetracks have given retail sportsbooks a home and offered online sports betting sites a required operating partnership in many states. This could be a way of forming a different sort of partnership package.

Finding major corporate sponsorship would also prove challenging in the current economy. Still, even with all the usual obstacles to overcome situated in front of the American industry, New Zealand's Next Gen plan certainly offers a blueprint worth exploring.

There's no question that it presents an intriguing concept. It addresses issues that the industry has been facing and seeking solutions to on this side of the world for many years now.

Inexess Bleu nails it late in Prix des Ducs de Normandie

by Thomas Hedlund

Saturday's (May 9) $165,000 Prix des Ducs de Normandie at Caen looked for a long time like a showdown between Koctel du Dain and Ino du Lupin, but in the final strides it was Elitloppet-bound Inexess Bleu (Vittel de Brevol) who got his nose in front for Alexandre Abrivard. Inexess Bleu moved up first-over outside leader Koctel du Dain with 1,400 meters remaining, but Abrivard elected to release Ino du Lupin into the death seat roughly 300 meters later. The decisive move came with 200 meters to go. Abrivard angled Inexess Bleu back out and the Laurent-Claude Abrivard trainee finished strongly to prevail in the final strides at odds of 9-1. The winning time was a 1:53.4 mile rate over 2,450 meters.

Ino du Lupin (Scipion du Goutier) grabbed second right on the wire, while Koctel du Dain (Boccador de Simm) held third – both timed in the same mark as the winner.

Igrec de Delland (Django Riff) finished fourth from the pocket trip, while race favorite Idao de Tillard (Severino) closed sharply from fourth-over to grab fifth.

position changes and aggressive moves throughout the race – everywhere except on the rail up front.

From the inside post, Gourmet d’Arc (Six Pack) defended the lead and Robin Bakker elected to stay there. The leader was pressured throughout by a rotating cast of challengers. First came Princessofthedawn (Maharajah), briefly replaced by Milady Josselyn (Ready Cash), before Jacqueline Zet (Googoo Gaagaa) advanced first-over.

With 1,300 meters remaining, Carl Johan Jepson made his move aboard race favorite Pure Athena (Bar Hopping), who powered up outside the leader before the final lap.

Entering the last turn, Pure Athena had already gained control of Gourmet d’Arc, who folded before the stretch. From there, the Fredrik Wallin-trained filly drew away effortlessly to score in a 1:55.3 mile rate over 2,140 meters.

Jacqueline Zet closed well for second, while Milady Josselyn finished third after a demanding three-wide trip over the final half-mile.

“You almost feel bad because she often has to race tougher trips than the others since she isn’t that quick off the gate,” said an emotional Jepson after the victory.

“When you drive young horses in nearly every start and know how much work goes into them, it affects you. She was in fantastic condition today and the connections have done a tremendous job.”

WHAT DRAMA IN THE KING'S TROPHY!

Fredrik Wallin or Daniel Redén? Carl Johan Jepson or Johan Untersteiner? It was anything but easy to tell who had actually won this year's edition of the King Gustav V Cup at Åby.

The Kungapokalen turned into a true thriller where clever driver tactics played a decisive role throughout the race.

Race favorite Wise Guy was out of contention before the gate even released the field. Örjan Kihlström was unable to keep Wise Guy trotting properly in the turn before the starting car accelerated into the stretch, and instead Olle Sting blasted to the lead early.

From an outside post, however, Jepson launched aggressively with Pure Count (Googoo Gaagaa—Allmar Surprise), and Claes Sjöström had no intention of defending the lead with Olle Sting.

Things settled down for a while — until Robert Bergh sent Barkley three-wide with 1,200 meters remaining. The move carried all the way to the front, meaning Barkley sat on the lead with one lap to go, Pure Count in the pocket, and Variegated first-over. Stablemate Blank (Gimpanzee) followed second-over.

On the final backstretch, Untersteiner tipped American-bred Blank three-wide for Redén, and the colt surged toward leader Barkley through the final turn. It even looked as if Blank had seized control when Barkley suddenly broke stride with 300 meters left.

At the same moment Blank began to struggle with his gait, forcing Untersteiner to rely on his delicate hands to keep the colt together. That opened the door for Pure Count to dive through on the inside.

What followed was a furious stretch duel between Pure Count and Blank.

Pure Count fought back along the pylons and regained the advantage — only for Blank to counter again and briefly stick his nose in front. At the wire it was virtually impossible to separate them.

Both colts were timed in a 1:53.4 mile rate over 2,140 meters. Third place went to Recycle Cash (Ready Cash), who closed strongly for Rikard N. Skoglund.

"I was absolutely certain I'd lost," Jepson said afterward. "It felt 80-20 in Johan's favor. I got the trip exactly the way I wanted it, and I was happy when Robban came with Barkley. This is a tough horse who's earned a lot of money, and it's incredibly fun to win with him. Winning both major trophies on the same day — trust me, that's not easy."

Trainer Wallin added, "I had enormous confidence in Pure Athena today, maybe not quite as much in this one, but Calle was optimistic beforehand and he's a smart driver. No, this is unbelievable. So incredibly fun."

Then La Yuca (Face Time Bourbon) delivered a breathtaking performance in the $60,000 Lovely Godiva's Memorial at Åby. The Daniel Redén-trained mare raced four-wide into the first turn and remained parked three-wide until one lap from home, when she was finally allowed to clear to the lead by Magnus A. Djuse aboard Fantastica Doda (Maharajah), who was proving difficult to rate.

La Yuca should have been softened up by that brutal opening mile, but when Örjan Kihlström asked her for more in the final turn, she exploded away from the field and turned the stretch into a one-horse show.

The victory was effortless in a mile rate of 1:55 over 2,140 meters.

"A tough first lap, a better second one, but honestly it didn't feel great after the opening mile," Kihlström said after the 300,000 kronor victory. "At least we had cover while racing three-wide, and then we were fortunate that Magnus' horse was pulling hard and he wanted a helmet to follow. Today she got to show her very best side again, and that was nice."

Trainer Redén sounded relieved afterward.

"It feels good to have her back," he said. "It turned into a very strange race. Even so, I still believed in her despite the brutal opening because I know she's a head above her generation – and today she was only facing other 5-year-olds."

FRANCESCO ZET BACK ON TOP

Francesco Zet, the superstar trained by Daniel Redén, made his long-awaited return to Swedish soil in Saturday's $300,000 final of the Paralympiatravet for the older elite – and the now 8-year-old stallion delivered a performance to remember.

Örjan Kihlström drove aggressively behind the son of Father Patrick, and the pair wrested command after just over 500 meters. The pace had already been scorching early, but once on the lead Kihlström elected to keep the tempo high.

Önas Prince (Chocolatier), trained and driven by Per Nordström, was forced to grind away first-over and never surrendered in the battle for victory. Still, Francesco Zet crossed the wire with ears pricked and plenty left in the tank, stopping the clock in a sensational 1:51.4 mile rate over 2,140 meters – just one-10th shy of the world record he himself established in Sundsvall in 2024.

"It's an incredible feeling to see him this good," Kihlström said after the victory. "There really haven't been many times throughout his career when he hasn't delivered."

Önas Prince finished second, ahead of Francesco Zet's stablemate Kentucky River (Father Patrick).

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

with ADAM HAMILTON

Trans-Tasman rivalry may be shifting towards the Kiwis

After several years of Aussie domination, up-and-coming New Zealand hopefuls look to turn the tide.

by Adam Hamilton

New Zealand is such a proud nation.

Despite having about 20 per cent of the population of its neighbor, Australia, the Kiwis have always punched well above their weight in most sports, but especially harness racing.

Through the 1980s, '90s, and early 2000s, it was almost a given New Zealand's best pacers and trotters would cross the ditch and pillage Australian riches in Victoria, New South Wales, and to a lesser extent Queensland.

They had an illustrious line of pacing greats like Christian Cullen, Chokin, Blossom Lady, Master Musician, Desperate Comment, Christopher Vance, Holmes DG, Yulestar, Il Vicolo, Monkey King, and the list goes on.

The trotting stars were just as plentiful headed by their greatest of all Lyell Creek, along with Pride Of Petite, Buster Hanover, Take A Moment, Tussle, I Can Doosit, Call Me Now, Diamond Field, and Special Force, just to name a few.

And that's just open-class stars, not to mention the likes of the all-time great youngster Courage Under Fire and so many other superstar 2- and 3-year-old pacers and trotters.

Australia was accustomed to celebrating a rare major win on its own soil.

The thought of an Aussie going to New Zealand, doing the reverse, and beating "them" was almost unthinkable.

In fact, we went 28 years from My Lightning Blue's in 1987 until Arden Rooney in 2015 between wins by an Aussie-trained pacer in the iconic New Zealand Cup.

In a similar but slightly shorter period (1993-2016) period, NZ-trained raiders won a remarkable 14 of 24 Hunter Cups, the closest equivalent to a New Zealand Cup that Australia has.

That dominance is all the Kiwi horsemen of the time knew, great names like the Purdon clan (Roy, Mark, and Barry), Tony Herlihy, Tim and Anthony Butt, Geoff Small, Maurice McKendry, Ricky May, Cran Dalgety, and Robert Cameron.

Now you can sense why the past few years have stung and really cut-deep with the Kiwi horsemen.

“We’ve seen a glimpse already with The Lazarus Effect and then Got The Chocolates beating Swayzee the past two runs in Auckland... it’s a changing of the guard really. I think there’s been a few reasons for it [the Aussie dominance]. They’ve had some freaks, Leap To Fame is as good as we’ve seen, and there’s been Just Believe and now Keayang Zahara, too.”

~ Mark Jones

Now it is the Aussies who have been dominating, on both sides of the ditch.

It really started with the mighty stayer Swayzee and his epic 2023 NZ Cup win. He humbled the Kiwi buzz pacer and favorite of the time, Akuta, in what proved a defining changing of the guard.

It sounded a warning bell to the Kiwis, but also inspired the Aussies to think the tide was turning.

And it did.

By the time Swayzee returned to successfully defend his crown in 2024, things looked very different.

A batch of Aussie trotters, headed by champion Just Believe, had gone to Cambridge seven months early (April 2024) and dished it to the Kiwis by filling the top four placings in the country’s richest trotting race, the $600,000 TAB Trot.

Just Believe returned to win New Zealand’s most iconic trotting feature, the Group 1 Dominion, on the same day Swayzee won his second New Zealand Cup.

Three days later, the Kiwis got their first glimpse of Australia’s new trotting “queen” Keayang Zahara, when she romped home by half the straight in a rich trotting slot race.

Leap To Fame has won the past two $1 million slot races at Cambridge in April, 2025 and again last month.

Arcee Phoenix (2025) and Keayang Zahara (last month) have since followed Just Believe to win the TAB Trot.

Last November, Kingman beat Leap To Fame for an Aussie quinella in the New Zealand Cup, Leap To Fame returned to win the Group 1 New Zealand free-for-all three days later and Tracy The Jet gave Australia another win, in the rich 3-year-old trotting slot race (The Ascent), which Keayang Zahara won the year before.

There was a feeling the tide had turned for good and this was a new normal, but the quietly seething Kiwis had other plans.

Brewing in the background was a brigade of young stars ready to restore some pride.

The Lazarus Effect zoomed through the grade and is now a serious open class star, as shown by his win in the recent Group 1 Taylor Mile.

Everything we saw through an epic 3-year-old rivalry last season between Got The Chocolates and Marketplace said they were a bit special.

They have confirmed that in just a few runs this season, especially Got The Chocolates’ past two stunning Group 1 wins over The Lazarus Effect and Swayzee at Auckland’s Alexandra Park.

Marketplace oozes speed, class and excitement and he’s looked slick winning both runs this campaign.

And then there is 3-year-old Jumal, who made it 10 wins from just 12 starts when he cruised to victory in last Friday’s (May 1) Group 1 Northern Derby in Auckland.

He is untapped.

The question is how long before these Kiwi stars start to really take on Australia’s best.

“We’ve seen a glimpse already with The Lazarus Effect and then Got The Chocolates beating Swayzee the past three runs in Auckland ... it’s a changing of the guard really,” top Kiwi horseman Mark Jones said.

“I think there’s been a few reasons for it [the Aussie dominance]. They’ve had some freaks, Leap To Fame is as good as we’ve seen, and there’s been Just Believe and now Keayang Zahara, too.

“But, more generally, I think the Aussie racing is harder and it conditions the horses better. The racing is Menangle and even more so Albion Park, is so competitive.

“That’s why the great rivalry between Marketplace and Got The Chocolates last season was so good and important for them both. They both thrived on it and are much better for it.”

Got The Chocolates trainer/driver John Dunn, who is the brother of Dexter Dunn, and son of Robert Dunn who trained and drove the great Master Musician in the Kiwi golden era, agrees with Jones’ take.

“It tough second half of the [last] year, but he’s bounced out of it a better horse and it looks like Marketplace has, too,” he said.

John is aware of the expectation on this new batch of Kiwi stars.

HRNZ/Race Images NZ
Got The Chocolates (John Dunn) winning the Roy Purdon Memorial at Auckland's Alexandra
Park on May 1.

“Far out, we’re not used to this,” he said. “The Aussie dominance has been incredible for the past two or three years with horses like Leap To Fame, who is the best I’ve ever seen, Just Believe, Swayzee, and now Keayang Zahara.

“It used to be us Kiwis going over there and winning all their big races, but this is a lovely crop of [NZ] horses and ‘Larry’ [Leap To Fame] is getting a bit older.”

But John is still happy to wait before he takes on Leap To Fame or tries an Aussie raid for the first time.

“We won’t be going to Queensland,” he said. “The plan has always been to have this easy start to his 4-year-old season, have another break and target the New Zealand Cup [in November].

“If we meet Larry then, he’ll be almost 8, we’ll have had another six months seasoning and it’ll be on our home patch [Addington]. Then we’ll be willing to travel with him next year.”

Jones thinks Got The Chocolates is the pick of this exciting Kiwi crop.

“There’s just so many things to love about him, the way he carries himself, his gait, the fact he’s now showing the speed to match his strength,” he said.

“I’m in awe of how well he’s come back. He’s starting to do things only very special horses can.

“Marketplace has the brilliance and could maybe beat him for high speed and Jumal... well he might be the fastest of the lot for sheer speed.

“The rivalry between the Aussies and the Kiwis has been such a big part of my career and it’s shaping like we’re in for another great few years.”

We might get an early taste of it in Queensland in July.

Marketplace is increasingly likely to tackle the $350,000 Group 1 Rising Sun at Albion Park on July 4.

Jumal has a chance to go, too. If he went, he would also chase the Group 1 Queensland Derby two weeks later.

For so many, the greatest moments of Down Under harness racing have been built around the Tran-Tasman (Australia/New Zealand) rivalry.

Everything says the next couple of years will add another memorable chapter.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Embracing consistency has brought Steven Rybka far

by Chris Lomon

While every day at the barn brings something new, Steven Rybka fashions the same signature look.

It is a longshot, perhaps even more than 99-1 odds, that the New York horseman starts his morning with any trace of trepidation as to where he's heading.

"The best part [of my job] is going to the barn every day," Rybka said. "I get up happy every morning, and I never miss a day. I love it. If it's raining, if it's cold – it doesn't matter. Going to the barn is the best feeling. I enjoy it.

"I suppose the tough part could be the same thing, working every day, but it never feels like that. I honestly feel like I am never working. I love racing and I love the horses."

For the son of the late Darren Rybka – the respected horseman passed away on Jan. 22, 2021, after losing his fight to COVID-19 – serenity, sense of purpose, and fulfillment are found in the stable.

It has always been that way for the younger Rybka, who launched his training and driving careers in 2017.

His first success in the sulky came in 2018 when he partnered Rockintheniteaway to victory at Monticello on Jan. 3.

Steven, who also trained the daughter of Rocknroll Hanover, guided the bay mare, sent on her way at 28-1, to a 2¼-length score in 2:02.

His first training triumph, in June of 2017, was a much different story.

Although Cruzing Hill crossed the wire second in the third dash at Saratoga Harness, a disqualification of the winner elevated the bay son of If I Can Dream to first.

While it wasn't a Hollywood script-like moment, Steven certainly felt as though it were.

"It was an exciting moment," he said. "You're happy to win any time. For me, every win is awesome."

Just like another unusual victory, one that came with a daughter of Betting Line who would eventually go on to the barn of Ron Burke.

Steven had a 50-50 chance of winning on that day, nearly four years ago, at Historic Track in Goshen, NY.

Vibrance, who sold for $17,000 at the 2021 Harrisburg Yearling Sale, met one rival in the non-betting event in the second race.

“One of my favorite wins of all time came at Goshen on July 4 [in 2022],” he said. “It was a two-horse race in the Landmark with a filly, Vibrance, we bought out of Harrisburg. It was an amazing day. There was a big crowd and everyone was cheering. We made good money with her. She was a lot of fun to drive. We ended up selling her to Run Burke.”

The pacer’s top-notch talents matched strides with a big personality.

“She was a little bit of an attitude horse,” Steven said. “She liked to kick and she had her quirks, but she had speed. You pulled her and she could brush. We brushed a couple fields at Saratoga and opened right up on them. You love when they have that fire in them.”

Unstoppable Hall certainly does.

Steven’s adoration for the daughter of American Ideal is unmistakable.

And just like Vibrance, Unstoppable Hall has a measure of spirit, charm, and sass.

“If you get a filly with an attitude, they can make a great race mare,” Steven said. “Unstoppable Hall, who I recently bought back, I had her for five years before. She’s one that has this attitude in the barn, but she’s a good mare. She’s my queen. I love her. She has won a lot of races for me. Any time I needed a win, she would win two or three in a row. I have to give her a shout out because she’s my girl.”

Steven also has high praise for the others in his barn, those who are currently competing and some who are on the road to making their debuts.

Off to a strong start – he is on pace to have a career-best training campaign – Steven would like to grow his operation, albeit methodically.

“I have five horses racing and four babies,” he said. “I have a group of guys that buy one each year at Harrisburg and we have fun doing it. I just want to keep doing well every year, staying consistent and building the stable little by little. I usually have six or seven, but I’d like to have around 12 or 15.”

“My goal this year is to have my best one yet. It’s started well and I’m happy with how things have gone.”

Preparing for the 2026 season to be his most memorable to date didn’t start with warm thoughts, so to speak.

“It was a cold winter, so that was tough, but I worked hard and picked up some new horses,” he said. “It’s going well. I have a couple new ones who are doing well, and I have my horse, Night Hunter, who I own myself – I like him a lot. He’s pretty solid and has started the year off well. Staying consistent has always been the key for me.”

So, too, has been a willingness to heed the helpful words of other horsepeople.

Advice continues to be plentiful – and appreciated.

“The best part [of my job] is going to the barn every day. I get up happy every morning, and I never miss a day. I love it. If it’s raining, if it’s cold – it doesn’t matter... I suppose the tough part could be the same thing, working every day, but it never feels like that. I honestly feel like I am never working. I love racing and I love the horses.”

~ Steven Rybka

“I am happy to take it,” he said. “I’m not afraid to ask questions. I think learning early on not to get too high or too low was important for me and I never forgot it. If you have a bad race or a bad run, don’t get hung up on it. That’s going to happen. So, I think that’s where I latched on to being consistent. If you get upset, you can’t carry it over to the barn. Let it go.”

Steven has not forgotten the encouraging guidance of his late father.

“My dad, I miss him every day,” Steven said. “He used to give me a lot of great advice. He always told me to be aggressive when I’m driving. My buddy James McAssey is always helping me out, too. If I ever have a question about a horse, he will give me his honest opinion.”

And then there is Dave Stratton.

“There are so many people in this sport who work hard behind the scenes,” Steven said. “Dave Stratton does great blacksmith work for me. He is almost like a second dad to me.”

Whether it’s in the race bike or watching the action from the rail, Steven is led by a steady hand and optimistic outlook.

He is content where he finds himself, on and off the racetrack.

“I live in Ballston Spa, which is about 15 minutes away from Saratoga,” he said. “It’s the best. The summertime is great, with the thoroughbred track, great restaurants, and lots of things to do. I just got into golf, and I’ve been going out with my buddies. You have the lake – my wife’s family has a lake house

*“ I have five horses racing and four babies. I have a group of guys that buy one each year at Harrisburg and we have fun doing it. on Sacandaga Lake – which is where we just got married. We’ll go out on the boat. There are so many things to do. It’s buzzing in the summer.

“I also like playing sports. I still play basketball once a week. I like going to the gym, too. I enjoy watching the New York Knicks, too. I try to catch as many of their games as I can.”

Steven is also a fan of podcasts.

“I listen to a lot of podcasts,” he said. “I do a bunch of UFC podcasts because I love the sport. I don’t do political ones anymore because that will make you crazy.”

Racing and horses are his ultimate happy place.

“I am having a lot of fun right now and I truly enjoy it,” he said. “I try to carry myself the right way and be respectful of everyone. I get along well with everybody and do things the right way. If you do that, things will work out the way you want them to.”

Success, for Steven, is the direct result of a team effort.

He’s grateful for many people’s contributions, many of whom rarely step close to the spotlight.

“So many people go unnoticed, but what they do plays such a big part in your success,” he said. “I am grateful for the owners, breeders, blacksmiths, grooms, vets, and everyone who cares for the sport and the horses.”

Just another reason that same signature look greets the barn every morning.

Our Triple Crown and other numbers

by Bob Heyden

We are right smack in the middle of thoroughbreds' Triple Crown season following a thrilling Derby. Our own Triple Crowns can only hope to be near this exciting, especially in light of recent trends.

Here's a look:

1. A different colt has won each of the last 20 Pacing Triple Crown races. Only Stay Hungry (2018) has doubled up in nearly a decade. He won the Messenger and Cane Pace.
2. Wait, that was no fluke? Prior to Stay Hungry there were 21 different names next to the Jug, Cane, and Messenger trophies going all the way back to 2010. HOY Rock N Roll Heaven (2010) doubled up last just prior to Stay Hungry.
3. Has it really been 23 years since No Pan Intended won the very last Pacing Triple Crown in 2003?
4. The last three Hambletonian winners to also win the Yonkers Trot were the last three Triple Crown winners: Windsong's Legacy (2004, at Hawthorne due to construction), Glidemaster (2006) and Marion Marauder (2016).
5. Three consecutive Hambletonian and Kentucky Futurity winners from 2007-09 passed on the Yonkers Trot and a realistic Triple Crown opportunity: Donato Hanover, Deweycheatumhowe, and Muscle Hill.
6. The 2020 Messenger was canceled during COVID-19.
7. The last Pacing Triple Crown winner to also capture the Meadowlands Pace was Ralph Hanover in 1983. Since then, Western Dreamer was third in 1997, Blissful Hall was seventh in 1999, and No Pan Intended was fourth in 2003.
8. Cam Fella won the 1982 Cane and thus supplemented to and won the Messenger. But in those days, there was not a way to supplement to the Jug so he missed that party.
9. The Cane Pace is into its second decade at The Meadowlands but it's clearly part of the Hambletonian "undercard."
10. Finally, Seattle Slew and Affirmed did race against each other in 1978; Triple Crown winners in the same race. But we have to go back six decades when we actually had three Triple Crown winners 1-2-3 in the HOY balloting: Bret Hanover, Speedy Scot, and Ayres.

BY THE NUMBERS

- What do 14 3-7-1 and $1,065,282 mean? They are the combined 2025 records of both the Hambletonian winner Nordic Catcher S (5 3-1-0) and runner-up Maryland 9 0-6-1 on the season. Seventy per cent of their year's take came on that one day. Nordic Catcher S did not race after the Hambletonian, with just five starts highlighted by an elimination win and then an all-time Hambletonian best 1:50 flat.
- This may be the best Su Mac Lad stat ever. He retired on 9/30/65 with a trotting industry best $885,095 at age 11. But he had not raced for six figures until that year, when he was third in the United Nations Trot with $100,000 on the table.
- Marcus Melander's three division winners, Apex (2YOCT), Setyoursightshigh (2YOFT), and Super Chapter (3YOCT) in 2025 also led their age group in earnings. He doesn't turn 34 until July 1.
- Scott Zeron turns 37 this month and is the youngest to win three Hambletonians by age 34 and the youngest to win any Pacing Triple Crown race, as he was just 23 in 2012 when he won with Michael's Power in the Jug. He needed the fastest Jug opener ever, :25.2, to hold safely over a fella you probably heard of, Sweet Lou. Just 23 and driving a horse by a sire who was then 25, Camluck.

AMONG OURSELVES

with FRANK COLTOLO

A passive beginning and romantic attraction create a harness racing fanatic

by Frank Coltole

“We have met the enemy and he is us,” said Walt Kelly’s comic-strip character Pogo. It is a phrase adapted from an American Naval Commander in the War of 1812. Pogo’s version became a popular one over the ages. I figure it is because it recognizes a deep flaw in the human behavior of challenges: mankind’s tendency to create its own problems.

I began to realize over time that I awoke the winner, the hero, the loser, and the villain, in my heart and mind from the moment I learned anything true about loving and betting pari-mutuel horse racing.

My introduction to the hero and villain in me came from an unknown source; an unexplained endearment of the actions themselves in the scenarios of horse racing. Moreover, was the particular kind of horse racing. “The horses with the carts behind them,” some ragged Brooklyn fella said to me. Yes. Those. The ones under the lights on evenings that dismiss rain and sleet and snow.

Are the terms of endearment ever listed when someone is attracted to anyone or anyplace or anything? For me the connection was not just unknown; it held no immediate reason to be explained; as well as it had nothing to do with spending money or for that matter gambling with money. That made it romantic and attractive and entertaining. And opened to incite my good and bad sides.

At first, I was passive; an observer enjoying the color and the sounds and the visual action of harness racing. It presented ingredients that appealed to me more than did thoroughbred racing. Standardbreds appeared internally in tune with their human partners; their drivers were not limited to a certain size or weight like thoroughbred jockeys who I thought for all due purposes were going along for the ride as opposed to being a horse’s powerful pathfinder.

Such an equal partnership of man and beast was needed to maneuver over a mile of dirt with a different measure of accuracy than man on a beast’s back while racing; because the standardbreds were bigger and stronger than the gallopers and were in greater danger of collision than the usual stampeding runners. I saw the standardbreds as super equines; rustic, durable, stalwarts, Paladins.

That is how I saw it.

And that is the way I liked it.

“They’re old-timers’ horses,” said a Brooklyn bettor who “played the ponies” and defended the runners with undocumented allegiance. “Them buggied nags are steered by old-timers with shaky hands that ain’t all so honest. It ain’t natural for a horse to race fast as it can with that much influence.”

“Oh yeah? Well, that buggy driver is not just the rider; he is also the pathfinder. A driver’s calculation of steering a mile is meticulous; his miscalculation could result in severe injury and death of man and/or beast. Strength over speed, I say. A standardbred driver could always beat a jockey in arm-wrestling match.”

As well, I thought beyond argument, the drama and the conflict of each standardbred race was a moment-by-moment thing. No matter the class of the horse or the stack of the purse money to be won it was exciting. And nothing stopped it. Not the falling snow or the pouring rain.

By the time such romantic elements pleased me in ways that produce dopamine-like euphoria it was harness racing affecting me most of all the sports I could enjoy as a passive observer; including the thoroughbreds racing or the dogs racing or the autos racing; or baseball or football or hockey or soccer, et al. And the more harness racing I watched the more I embraced the sheer entertainment they provided.

I did not question or search for the forces igniting my enthusiasm. Nor did I realize that this courtship could become deeper if I began to accurately measure and compare the abilities of each standardbred in each race in order to wager upon them. Win or place or show? Daily Double or Exacta? Triples? How much and how often?

The very action of wagering is what moves most people to horse racing. The common man was a gambler in many ways and bought “action” somehow if it was legal or not. Without the proper training action without knowledge brought out the enemy in oneself. A person needs the knowledge to beat the enemy within. To stay ahead of the game. To profit from the knowledge.

All right, I said to myself. Meet the enemy. Handicap harness races for money.

A true tale of a trainer's travail

by Trey Nosrac

Once upon a time, Trey found himself without a job. Nothing personal, just business.

The accountants calculated that they could hire two rookies for my salary. They made me an offer I couldn't refuse. Well, technically, I could have refused since I was tenured and several years from retirement. The surprise offer had attractions and would free up my schedule for playing golf and tennis, visiting shady pool halls, operating a baseball business, wagering at my local harness racetrack, and enthusiastically exploring additional rabbit holes.

I took the buyout. Then I made a big mistake.

Alert readers may note the harness racing reference in a previous paragraph. As a casual harness racing fan, I jogged horses for an elderly trainer on weekends. How I ended up in the jog cart was a long, twisted tale that would require a comic novel to tell.

Suffice to say, I was a backstretch novice, uninformed, and inexperienced. Working with horses on Saturdays was interesting, educational, and fun, except for the winters when my hands froze into the shape of the letter C.

Trey often shows remarkable confidence for no apparent reason, and occasionally jumps into the deep end of a pool without water wings. On a fine fall afternoon shortly after my career turn, I decided to become a horse trainer, a decision that proved to be very bad on many levels.

With advice from a slightly tipsy trainer, I bought an inexpensive filly trotter at a lower-tier sale; a trotter was mandatory because I could never master the mystifying task of attaching hobbles to a horse. Renting a stall was doable. Borrowing equipment, purchasing feed and straw, and finding a veteran trainer willing to break the horse as I walked alongside holding a third line went reasonably well.

On my third day as a horse trainer, during the 45-minute drive to the racetrack, I had an epiphany and retired from my career as a horse trainer.

There were several reasons. I would need to get licensed. Injuries to both the filly and humans were more than long shots. On the first day, the filly mashed my little toe, and on day two, she bit my right shoulder. But the main reason for my abbreviated career was the realization I would need to tend to this filly every day. At some level, this responsibility must have occurred to me earlier, but in my enthusiasm, I glossed over this detail.

This amount of crushing responsibility would cramp my style and could not be borne.

On day three of my career as a horse trainer, wary of the surprisingly strong teeth, I haltered the filly and limped to an adjacent barn for a chat with a real trainer. Then I opened my checkbook, wrote several checks, and handed over some paperwork. For the second time that year, I took early retirement. I was off the racetrack premises and on the first fairway of Sleepy Hollow Golf Course at noon. I believe I still hold the Olympic record for the shortest career as a harness horse trainer.

To complete the story of this filly, and every horse is a story, when I handed over the reins to the professional trainer, I retained a 50 per cent ownership. Remaining an owner allowed me to continue making regular payments and occasionally drive out for a hearty racetrack kitchen breakfast and to jog the filly.

Did the filly make it to the races? No.

Did I squander my money? Not really, the entire episode was an adventure.

Would I ever try a similar horse training adventure? Yes, with a caveat.

I love that word - caveat (n.) “warning, hint of caution,” 1550s, from Latin, literally “let him beware,” third-person singular present subjunctive of cavere “to beware, take heed, watch, guard against.”

My caveat is that I would share the training by inventing a “Fractional Trainership” category. Here is a rough outline of this brilliant concept for participating in the training part of harness horse racing. Put together a group of three physically fit, slightly foolish, fun-loving partners and one real horse trainer. The trainer would be on-site and act as a supervisor/mentor. Every member of the quartet would be responsible for training one week per month. One week each month is enough for me.

What could go wrong?

by Caroline Vazquez

This flashy Sweet Lou filly out of In Or Out arrived in March at Diamond Creek Farm. The filly is the second foal out of the Captaintreacherous mare, who is a full-sister to Captain Video ($173,735) and Let's Misbehave ($118,740). In Or Out also has a Confederate colt that is a yearling this year.

Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy) winning the Grade 2 $478,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series on Friday at Yonkers.

Captain Albano conquers in MGM Borgata Pacing Series final

by Yonkers Raceway media

Captain Albano had to work to get to the front, but once he got there, he never relinquished control, winning Friday night's (May 8) Grade 2 $478,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series final at MGM Yonkers Raceway over the mile and a quarter distance in 2:21.4 for driver Todd McCarthy and trainer Noel Daley.

Donegal Luther N (Yannick Gingras) hustled out from post 3 and was able to get around post 1 starter and favorite Coaches

Corner (Jason Bartlett) past the start. Meanwhile, McCarthy floated away with Captain Albano and wound up on the rim, remaining in that position past the :28.4 quarter that was cut by Donegal Luther N. After that station, Captain Albano was still two-wide as Donegal Luther N was fired-up on the front-end, but Captain Albano did clear passing the :56.4 half as Gingras was finally able to coax Donegal Luther N into releasing him.

The key to Captain Albano's eventual victory was likely the :29.1 third quarter that McCarthy was able to rate after Captain Albano forged his way to the front, and that left him plenty of steam to deal with a first-over challenge from Coaches Corner as Donegal Luther N began to back away from the pocket. Captain Albano would get separation on the others going to the 1:53.4 mile marker, kept clear around the final bend, and although both a second-over Huntinthelastdolar (Dexter Dunn) and Coaches Corner made gains in the lane, it wasn't enough as Captain Albano hit the wire a length in front of Huntinthelastdolar. Coaches Corner, Mossdale Ben N (Jim Marohn, Jr.), and Redwood Hanover (Tim Tetrick) completed the top five.

"Once Coaches Corner got crossed over there early, I figured if I could just kind of make my way there steady, I'd probably end up on top," McCarthy remarked about his strategy. "It took a little longer than I hoped. Donegal Luther N was racing a little aggressive early, and it just took Yannick a second to get him settled down. Once we straightened in the backstretch, I asked my horse to go on and he paced right around. He definitely showed his guts tonight.

"I managed to get a little breather once I found the top. Once they came, I kind of wanted to step on the gas. I don't like them to get too close to him. He gave me a really good feel down the backstretch, and I felt like I still had a lot of horse under me. It's just a real credit to Noel and the team and what they've been able to do with him throughout this series."

Daley trains Captain Albano, a 5-year-old Captaintreachorous—Angelou stallion, for owners Patricia Stables LLC., L. A. Express Stable LLC., Sjoblom Racing Inc., and Michael Dolan. He has a summary of 29-8-4 from 51 appearances, has pocketed $2,4710,323, and paid $5.24 to win as the 8-5 second choice. He was atop a $45.18 exacta and a $93.12 trifecta.

"It just shows his class; it just comes down to that," McCarthy added. "He's got that high speed and he's got those guts. He's a well put together horse and he gets around any size track. I'm just lucky I'm the one that gets to drive him."

In the $100,000 consolation, Sweet Beach Life (Matt Kakaley) made it to the front early despite starting from the outside post 8, cut fractions of :29.3, :58.1, and 1:27.2, and went on to defeat pocket-sitter Celtic Spirit N (Joe Bongiorno) by a length and three-quarters in 2:21.4. Aye Aye Captain N (Brent Holland) collected third.

Travis Alexander sent out Sweet Beach Life, a 5-year-old gelding by Sweet Lou—Life Is A Beach, for owner A Sweet Beach Life Stable. He has 14 wins, 11 seconds, and a seven thirds from 53 outings, has banked $608,280, and returned $9.72 to win. He led a $38.94 exacta and a $130.12 trifecta.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday/Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time at 6:45 p.m. (EDT) except on Saturday when it is 3:30 p.m. (EDT).

TARAPASTA TOPPLES FAVORITES IN MGM URSULA MCINTYRE SERIES FINAL

Tarapasta looked hopelessly boxed in coming into the homestretch, but Matt Kakaley was able to find a seam at the head of the stretch, and the 6-year-old Downbytheseaside—Pasta Blue Chip mare kicked into overdrive to capture Friday's (May 8) $456,000 Grade 2 MGM Ursula McIntyre Series final at MGM Yonkers Raceway at a stunning 25-1. Tarapasta, trained by Travis Alexander for owner Greg Luther Racing LLC., completed the mile and a quarter distance in 2:23, winning by a length over Coastal Babe N, with 1-10 favorite Louies Girl N settling for third.

Mike Lizzi

Tarapasta (Matt Kakaley) winning the $456,000 Grade 2 MGM Ursula McIntyre Series final.

Kakaley had Tarapasta energized early, leaving strongly ahead of Louies Girl N on the opening bend. Coastal Babe N, with Yannick Gingras, left hard and needed nearly the first quarter before supplanting Tarapasta in a :28.2 opening fraction. Jason Bartlett wanted no part of a 3-hole, and he moved Louies Girl N on the second turn, assuming control at the half in :56.4. After Louies Girl N had the top, she cut three-quarters in 1:25.2 and was put to some pressure when Millwood Bliss N moved without cover on the backstretch for the final time. Still, Louies Girl N looked to have control of the race past the mile marker in 1:54 and entering the final turn with Coastal Babe N locked along the pylons and Tarapasta sitting third without room. When Seaside Diva, with Scott Zeron, struggled to keep with Millwood Bliss N coming into the stretch, Kakaley seized the opportunity and quickly angled Tarapasta wide. The rest was history as Tarapasta overpowered a struggling Louies Girl N and won going away. Tick A Loch A rallied wide for the fourth spot. Tarapasta returned $52.72 to win and keyed a $169.94 exacta and a $340.78 trifecta. "Travis has done a superb job with her," said Kakaley. "She's been super. I've been along for the ride." In the $100,000 McIntyre consolation, favored Walkin On Sunshine and driver Scott Zeron were up in the final strides for the victory in 2:23.3 for the added distance. A 6-year-old by Always A Virgin—Hatsoff Hanover, Walkin On Sunshine just nailed second choice Bath Bomb with Andrew McCarthy driving. Zeron had Walkin On Sunshine away quickly from post 5 and out-sprinted Bath Bomb into the opening turn. Following a soft :29.1 opening quarter, McCarthy moved Bath Bomb to the front. Once in control Bath Bomb stayed in front through a half in :58.1 and three-quarters in 1:27.3. With Turn The Page N and Ron Cushing beginning an outer flow at that point, followed by Rocket Deo, Bath Bomb picked up the pace noticeably with a 28 second fourth quarter, reaching the mile in 1:55.3 and making it a virtual two-mare race. Zeron tipped Walkin On Sunshine from the pocket late on the final turn and needed a solid drive to narrow the gap and eventually overtake a determined Bath Bomb. Rocket Deo and Todd McCarthy rallied late for the third spot, with Fearless Ginger fourth across the wire. Walkin On Sunshine is owned by Maynard Miller, Daniel Lehman, and Michael Yoder and is trained by Brett Pelling. As the favorite, Walkin On Sunshine returned $3.86 to win and keyed a $7.36 exacta and a $41 trifecta. Walkin On Sunshine won for the 30th time in her racing career and pushed her lifetime earnings above $705,000.

CHARLES OLIVEIRA'S TEAM VICTORIOUS IN EXHIBITION CHALLENGE AT YONKERS

Ultimate Fighting Championship star Charles Oliveira has driven at MGM Yonkers Raceway twice and has been victorious on both occasions after he posted a 1:57.1 win with "Bronx Miracle" in the Oliveira v. Tetrick Team Challenge exhibition race on Friday night (May 8).

After defeating Tim Tetrick in a match race back in 2021, Oliveira returned to Yonkers on Friday to captain a team that also included Pat Lachance, Yannick Gingras, and Dan Dube against a team with Tetrick, Jordan Stratton, Jason Bartlett, and Lauren Tritton.

Oliveira, who was second in a pari-mutuel race at Pocono on Tuesday, got away in the pocket behind Bartlett in tonight's event and then moved to the lead past the :29.4 quarter-mile marker. From there, Oliveira and Bronx Miracle kept the lead through the half in 1:00 and three-quarters in 1:28 before they closed in :29.1 to win over Bartlett and Stratton.

"I'm so happy; I don't have the words to explain how happy I am," Oliveira said via translator to the United States Trotting Association's Wendy Ross. "I have to say thank you to everyone. I love horses and I love to be here."

When also interviewed by Ross, Tetrick added, "Any time you can get a champion in the business of harness racing it's special, and [Oliveira] represents himself so well."

Following the race, donations and check presentations were made to charities. The Standardbred Owners Association of New York gave $5,000 to Oliveira's Instituto Charles do Bronx in Brazil and the Tunnels to Towers Foundation received $2,500 from the American Harness Drivers Club.

Pennsylvania Sire Stakes action returned to Hollywood Casino at The Meadows Friday afternoon (May 8) with two $49,000 divisions of the Hickory Smoke and three Stallion Series divisions, all for the 3-year-old colt and gelding trotters.

The first division of the PASS saw Captain Vodka and Ridge Warren take advantage of a swift opening half of :56 on their way to a lifetime-best 1:54.3 victory. Sitting third through the early going, Warren moved the Captain Corey gelding past the five-eighths pole, cleared at the head of the stretch, and held off a late-charging Greenarrow Hanover. Captain Vodka is trained by Robert Baggitt, Jr., who shares ownership with J L Sodowsky LLC and Christine Baggitt.

Warren scored again in the second PASS division, this time using a :28.2 last quarter to guide Fineline Hanover to a career-best effort of 1:53.2. Racing an unhurried fifth for the first three-quarters, Warren confidently moved the gelded son of Captain Corey three-wide halfway through the final turn and from there trotted to a career-best and fastest division win of the day. Ron Coyne, Jr. trains Fineline Hanover, now two-for-three in 2026, for owners Ron Coyne Stables, Blaire Corbeil, Mike McAllister, and Larry & Gregg Stables.

Harlem Hanover and driver Dave Palone took the overland route in winning the day's fastest Stallion Series division. Sitting fourth at the half and unable to flush cover, Palone raced the Bar Hopping colt first-over through a :56.3 back half to pick up the 1:54.3 victory for owners Susan Daugherty and Perry Wilson, along with trainer William Daugherty, Jr.

The Palone/Daugherty, Jr. connection would strike again in the second Stallion Series division, this time with Glenlivet getting the honors. Landing third from post 1, Palone used the cover of Emmett Hanover to the head of the stretch and from there trotted off to a two-length, 1:54.4 victory for owner Susan Daugherty. The clocking was a lifetime-best win for the son of Bar Hopping.

Palone completed the Stallion Series hat trick by guiding Captain Nathan to a wire-to-wire 1:54.4 victory in his division. Leaving from post 6, Palone sent the Captain Corey 3-year-old to the front and took advantage of favorable fractions to hold off Credible Control in a last-quarter sprint to the wire. Captain Nathan, trained and owned by Jessica Hayter and co-owned by Edward Hayter, used a :28.1 last quarter to remain unbeaten in his 3-year-old campaign.

For the day, Palone led all drivers with five wins, while trainers Bill Bercury, Dougherty, Jr., and Brandon Presto each had two winners.

Hollywood Casino at The Meadows returns with live racing next Thursday (May 14) - Saturday (May 16) with a 12:45 p.m. post time.

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

OHHA provides update on May 8 accident at Scioto Downs

The Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association provides the following update on the status of the drivers and horses involved in the accident at Eldorado Scioto Downs on Friday night (May 8).

Kayne Kauffman suffered a fractured heel. Aaron Merriman suffered five broken ribs, a shattered scapula, and a partially collapsed lung. He is being kept in the hospital for further observation. David Miller suffered a compound fracture of the ankle and is having surgery. Tyler Smith and Trevor Smith were evaluated at the hospital and released without any major injuries.

All the horses involved in the accident are okay.

Additional updates will be provided on the OHHA Facebook page as they become available.

Big M needs horsemen cooperation

With the current environment sporting skies that are anything but sunny, management at The Meadowlands is hoping to get a jolt of good energy from their horsemen.

"Our handle is down considerably this year, and while we are trying to get casino gaming in the fall, we need our trainers and drivers to help us raise our visibility right now to increase the betting," said Meadowlands' chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir.

"At The Meadowlands, we provide many opportunities for the better-known trainers and drivers to go for big money on race cards that we offer on Meadowlands Pace Night and Hambletonian Day, not to mention Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night."

Settlemoir explained that currently, many of The Big M's leading money-earning drivers from 2025 have been driving at a higher frequency on Saturdays, but would like them to be there on Fridays as well.

The Meadowlands races weekly on Fridays and Saturdays, with a post time of 6:35 p.m.

"[Track chairman/chief executive officer] Jeff Gural and I are asking our trainers to list these drivers to participate on the Friday programs, as well as the Saturday cards, and would appreciate that those drivers honor those commitments," said Settlemoir.

"Having the drivers that our fan base is more familiar with figures to improve handle. With the casino situation still up in the air, we need all of our horsemen to cooperate and help the cause. If everybody gets on the same page, The Meadowlands can flourish while giving these horsemen the opportunity to make a great living at what remains the best facility in the sport."

CHECK YOUR CALENDAR: The Big M announced earlier this week that a pair of Saturday cards – June 13 and June 27 – will be canceled due to World Cup soccer matches that take place those days at New York New Jersey Stadium (aka MetLife Stadium).

To make up those dates, the mile oval will race on Thursday (June 11), and Thursday (July 2).

All schedule changes are subject to New Jersey Racing Commission approval, which is pending.

Tyler George reaches 2,000 training wins

Leading trainer Tyler George reached a milestone victory to kick off Thursday's (May 7) program, reaching career victory 2,000 with Keayang Taco A driven by Trace Tetrick in the opener.

Leaving from post 2 as the 2-5 wagering favorite, Keayang Taco A settled into third while Gallant Attribute (Travis Seekman) took command through a :26.2 first quarter. Tetrick brushed Keayang Taco A to the top on the backstretch, reaching the half in :55.2 before pacing to three-quarters in 1:24.1. Remaining strong on the front end, Keayang Taco A would fend off a host of challengers in the stretch to reach the wire first clear by 1¾ lengths in 1:52.

George has been the leading trainer at Harrah's Hoosier Park each of the last six seasons, setting a single season record for most training victories at the track in 2025 with 165. The 41-year-old conditioner had a career best year in 2025, winning 201 races across the Midwest and banking $2.8 million in seasonal earnings. George currently sits atop the trainer standings in 2026 at Harrah's Hoosier Park, with 29 victories in 80 starts for the meet.

For more information on the 2026 racing season at Harrah's Hoosier Park, guests are encouraged to visit www.harrahshoosierpark.com.

Little Brown Jug/Jugette condition change

The Little Brown Jug Society has announced changes to the conditions of the Little Brown Jug No. 83 and Jugette No. 58, the stakes for foals of 2025 to be raced in 2028, which will take yearling payments on May 15, 2026.

Post positions for the second heat will be determined by an open draw outside of the elimination winners, who will draw for post positions 1 through 4 (for positions 1 through 5, if three eliminations are held).

The following language was added to Little Brown Jug No. 83 and Jugette No. 58, which was approved with May yearling payments:

If one elimination heat is held, the elimination winner will draw for positions 1 through 3 and an open draw for the remaining posts. If two eliminations are held, the two elimination winners will draw for positions 1 through 4 and an open draw for the remaining posts. If three eliminations are held, the three elimination winners will draw for positions 1 through 5 and an open draw for the remaining posts.

"The changes are designed to enhance the competitiveness and wagering appeal of the second heat while preserving meaningful incentives for elimination heat performance," said Tom Wright, president of the Little Brown Jug Society. "Winning an elimination still carries meaningful strategic value, but the new system should be more balanced and transparent."

Owners are reminded that the yearling nomination payments for the Delaware (OH) Grand Circuit events for foals of 2025 (to be raced in 2028) are due May 15. Also due are the nomination payments for the Standardbreds (2-year-old events) for foals of 2025 and to be raced in 2027.

The nomination fees are as follows:

Little Brown Jug – Grade 1 (No. 83) – $50

Jugette – Grade 1 (No. 58) – $50

Old Oaken Bucket – Grade 3 (No. 76) – $25

Bucketette – Grade 3 (No. 76) – $25

Standardbreds – (No. 88) – $25

Thanks to the support of the Ohio Harness Horseman's Association, all foals registered by May 15, 2026 by an Ohio registered stallion, will have their yearling nomination paid to the Little Brown Jug (No. 83), Jugette (No. 58), Old Oaken Bucket (No. 76), and Bucketette (No. 76). The foal's owner will be responsible for all future payments. Foals not registered by the May 15 date can be made eligible by Aug. 15, 2026 by paying the Late Nomination Fee.

For current stakes conditions and future payment amounts, please visit www.ustrotting.com.

Make checks payable to the Delaware County Fair and mail to Tom Wright, P.O. Box 1560, Powell, OH 43065.

Running Aces adds Frank Drucker to handicapping team for 2026

Running Aces is getting set to open its 19th season of live harness racing on Sunday (May 17) and racing fans and horseplayers will be treated to a familiar name in the industry who will join the racing analyst team at the Minnesota oval.

Frank Drucker, who is well known in the sport of harness racing for his 25 years as the on-air personality at New York's famed Yonkers Raceway, will join track announcer Darin Gagne and track handicapper Steve Lake to help provide fans with insight into the nightly racing action with handicapping selections.

Running Aces will be taking the concept of the "Tip Sheet" to a new level, offering Drucker's nightly selections in the form of a tip sheet available at the track program stands for free. Drucker's selections will also be displayed on the racing broadcast before each race.

Drucker started going to the racetrack with his parents at the age of 12 and fell in love with the game, one of his first jobs was covering horse racing as a copy editor and writer for the New York Post. He worked on a TV program covering the summer and fall stakes races at Yonkers in the mid-1990s and eventually became the on-air personality and racing analyst for the historic hilltop oval and remained in that position until the COVID pandemic. Since 2020 Drucker has been keeping busy with freelance work.

Drucker's handicapping approach leans heavily toward trying to find value and beat the expected post-time favorites and said the following of this strategy "the goal is to catch three to four value priced winners a night that more than cover the ones we miss."

2026 Running Aces wagering lineup:

Running Aces will once again offer 50-cent trifectas, $1 exactas and 10-cent superfectas each race, while the multi-race offerings will include 50-cent Pick-3 and Pick-4 wagers, a 50-cent late Daily Double, an industry unique 20-cent Place Pick-All and a nightly 20-cent Jackpot Pick-5.

Guaranteed Pick-4 and free program pages:

As part of the USTA's Strategic Wagering Program, Running Aces will again be offering a $3,000 guarantee for the 50-cent late Pick-4 wager each racing night, and as part of that program, free TrackMaster past performance pages will once again be available on the USTA website.

Racing resources:

The Running Aces website (www.RunAces.com) offers a myriad of information for racing fans and horseplayers, including tips on how to wager, standings and statistics and other handicapping tools including nightly expert picks. The live racing schedule and list of nightly and weekly promotions as well as general information are also readily available on the site under the "live racing" tab.

'Diablo' scores at Big M as Ahle sweeps co-features

Frattina Diablo S and Create Escape emerged victorious in the Friday night (May 8) co-features at The Meadowlands in a pair of $20,000 high-end conditioned trotting events for 3-year-olds with Hambletonian and Hambletonian Oaks dreams.

In the split for fillies, the Tony Alagna-trained Frattina Diablo S, sent to the gate as the 4-5 favorite, sat a 3-hole down the backside before making her way towards leader Caviart Queen Emma, who set the pace at the quarter and half in :28.3 and :57.3, respectively.

"Frattina" was surging on the outside in second as the "Queen" clicked three-quarters in 1:25.4, but through the stretch, Frattina Diablo S, a daughter of Captain Corey—Lindy Strong, trotted away from her foes, hitting the wire 3¼-lengths clear of second-place finisher Che Bella in a lifetime-best 1:53.2. Chant was third.

"We were very high on her last year and [owner] Steve Stewart and I decided to stop after Lexington to give her extra time to grow up since she was such a big filly last year at 2 and she came in Jan. 1 a different animal," said winning trainer Tony Alagna. "We have high hopes for her."

Driven by Johnathan Ahle, Frattina Diablo S returned $3.80 after winning for the second time in seven lifetime tries.

Ahle completed a driving sweep of the marquee events after guiding Create Escape to victory lane for trainer Ake Svanstedt in the division for colts and geldings. The colt by Gimpanzee—Final Countdown completed the mile in 1:55.

Practical Man, the 7-5 favorite, was gunning for a second straight score, but after going parked for the first seven-sixteenths-of-a-mile before clearing the lead, he didn't have it in the stretch, failing to hit the board, finishing fourth.

Create Escape vacated the pocket with an eighth-of-a-mile to trot and eased his way to a confident score, holding off the late-charging Sevenato by a half-length. Read The Room was third.

"He qualified well last week and felt good the whole way," said Ahle.

After going off as the 3-1 third choice, Create Escape paid $8.80 to win.

A LITTLE MORE: Ahle led the driver colony with three wins on the night while Svanstedt's double paced the trainers... Jeremy Morrison recorded his first-ever driving win at The Meadowlands after guiding Classic Pickle to the winner's circle in race 8. His significant other, Annie Stoebe, trains the 3-year-old by Tactical Landing—Classic Martine, who paid $15.80 after completing the mile in 1:55.1... All-source betting on the 14-race card totaled $2,497,536.
