Rematch on hold, but Cutler still setting up as an interesting battle of older trotters

Lack of earnings cut Aetos Kronos S from Meadowlands Saturday feature, but Periculum and a three-horse Burke entry will be in the spotlight.

Prior to the draw for the Arthur J. Cutler Memorial at The Meadowlands, anticipation was high to see the rematch between European trotters Antognoni S and Aetos Kronos S. Unfortunately, for the fans of the two impressive older trotters, only Antognoni S will be going postward in Saturday's (May 17) featured 10th race, because money changed everything.

Prior to the draw for the Cutler, HRU spoke with Marcus Melander, trainer of Aetos Kronos S.

"My only concern here is that it might not be enough with the earnings he made last year and this year so far to get him in the race because it's the top 11 earners," Melander said. "I'm going to put him in, and hopefully he gets in. If he doesn't get in, it is what it is. There's only so much we can do, but we'll try, at least, to put him in."

According to the stakes conditions, "The eleven (11) highest 2024-2025 combined money winners (USTA records) declared will race at a distance of one mile."

Aetos Kronos S, owned by Jeff and Michael Snyder, has been no worse than second in his three starts this year, including a victory

“I don't think we've gotten everything out of [Antognoni S] yet. There's still more there and he's learning on the fly to adapt to our racing style and stuff, but I do think he's very, very fast.”

last week in the winners-over handicap at The Meadowlands, but prior to coming to the States in late 2024, he only had three starts in Sweden.

“He actually came to me in October last year, so I had him all winter, and, because he was a stallion, he had to be in quarantine for five weeks,” Melander said. “So, he's been here all winter, but then, of course, when we started racing him, we were still having him racing with shoes, when over there he did his best races without shoes. So, you know, that's a factor that we can think about when we come to the big races.

“He's a very nice horse to be around. He loves his work and it'll be exciting even if he doesn't get in [the Cutler]. He's staked to most of the races during the year, so, hopefully, he'll get in some at some point if he doesn't race [in the Cutler].”

The presence of Antognoni S, owned by Burke Racing Stable LLC, Weaver Brussemi LLC, FAC Racing LLC and Yannick Gingras, will make the 28th edition of the Cutler worthy of watching, as he's been nothing short of sensational, winning three legs and the final of last month's John Brennan Trotting Series at Yonkers, prior to a miscue in last week's race won by Aetos Kronos S.

Regarding Antognoni S, trainer Ron Burke said he was surprised by the break, but it's no big deal, and that's when they got the gelded son of Father Patrick—Bouncing Bax last year, he did not expect him to be this good.

“No, we were looking for a horse to win through the condition races,” Burke said. “Honestly, we didn't have to make the payment [to the Cutler] until we'd already raced him a couple of times. So, we knew that he was pretty special. His first qualifier when he trotted [his last quarter in :26.1], we were like, ‘This horse is special.’

“I don't think we've gotten everything out of him yet. There's still more there and he's learning on the fly to adapt to our racing style and stuff, but I do think he's very, very fast.

“The thing is, if you go through enough horses, you will find some that are way better buys than you thought, and there'll be some that are way worse buys than you thought. Hopefully, you're good at picking them and you do a good job, and I think my guys are as good as anybody or better at picking out horses, and then we just have to make them reach their potential, but sometimes you just pick bad ones and the other thing is you pick good ones and I can't get them to reach their potential. It is what it is.”

The Burke Brigade purchased Antognoni S in 2024 and owned him for his last start in Sweden prior to being shipped to the States.

Burke said when it comes to his Cutler competition, he's not concerned.

“That's the one thing that I always say, I don't worry about anybody else's horses, I just worry about mine,” Burke said prior to the Cutler draw. “My goal was to get mine to the best of their ability and then let it fall where it may. I have too many horses of mine to worry about other people. To tell you the truth, I don't even know who's in the Cutler. I just know which three of mine are in.

In addition to Antognoni S (post 4, 4-1), Burke has Lexus Kody (post 2, 10-1) and Chapercraz (post 9, 5-1).

Even without Aetos Kronos S in the mix, there are still two entrants flying the flag of the Melander stable, the 7-2 favorite Periculum (post 5) and Oh Well (Post 10, 6-1).

Periculum, who won the 2024 Maple Leaf Trot, is coming into the Cutler off a lone winning qualifier at The Meadowlands on May 3 in 1:53.1.

"He obviously had a great year last year," Melander said of Periculum. "He's coming back well. He had that qualifier, and has been at The Meadowlands two times before that to train. I just thought he needed one qualifier and he should be ready for the Cutler. He's coming back great and it's going to be an exciting season for him."

Oh Well finished third to Periculum in his first qualifier of the season, and also finished third in his second Meadowlands qualifier on May 10.

"He's a little different type of horse," Melander said of Oh Well. "He's a little bit bigger and heavier than Periculum is, and it was the same last year. I was happy with his qualifier [on May 3], but it just felt like he needed another one to get him a little bit tighter."

"You know it's the first year we have a bunch [racing in the older ranks]. Usually, we have more younger horses, and, you know, this year we have these three older ones. We also have S I P that's staked a little bit... So, we have a bunch of older ones and a couple of 4-year-olds coming back and even a mare, Date Night Hanover, so it's the first year we have a bunch in the older division too on both sides."

When asked if he thought it was a disadvantage to have three that are this good in the same division, Burke said, "No, because I have other ones that may even be better than these three, and it doesn't matter, you don't ever have enough good horses. As soon as you say I have too many of these, one of them breaks down."

Kauffman's Vekna to take on OHSS Foes

The Enterprise gelding is on a seven-race win streak.

by Jay Wolf

When the sophomore colt trotters line up behind the gate Saturday evening (May 17) at MGM Northfield Park for the opening leg of the Ohio Sires Stakes, there will be a "new shooter" in the series, one with an interesting name, Vekna.

The Enterprise gelding is campaigned by the husband-and-wife team of Kayne (driver/trainer) and Natalie (owner/caretaker) Kauffman.

Vekna comes into his first OHSS action on a seven-race win streak that started in July 2024.

"Early on I really didn't know what kind of colt I had... when he was training down, he had breaking issues," said Kayne. "It took we a while to get the shoeing the way I wanted it. I had a lot of weight on him. The trotting hobbles have made the difference."

Vekna's freshman campaign got off to an auspicious start at the Clinton County Fair in Wilmington, OH, when he broke before the start, and spotted the leader 14 lengths at the half-mile station. The green gelding minded his manners the rest of the mile, used a final quarter of :29.4, and lost by just 1¾ lengths. "It was unreal how much ground he made up in that last half," Kayne said.

Brad Conrad

Vekna (Kayne Kauffman) winning a Buckeye Stallion Series division at the Delaware County Fairgrounds in September of 2024.

Just seven days later at their hometown Warren County Fair in Lebanon all systems were go and Vekna cruised to a 14+ length win in 2:05, with a last quarter of :28.4.

The 46-year-old Kayne decided that their next few starts would be in the Buckeye Stallion Series, sweeping the final four legs of the series.

"Actually, I didn't even stake him to the sires stakes, just the OCRA [Ohio Colt Racing Association] and the Buckeye [Stallion Series]," Kayne said. "I was so down on him during the staking time."

His freshman mark came on Juliette Day at the Delaware County Fair, a 15-length victory in 1:56 in the final preliminary BSS leg. The final start of his rookie season was supposed to be on Oct. 5 at Dayton Raceway in the $75,000 Buckeye Stallion Series final, but he had to be scratched due to an injury.

"We had an unfortunate lameness issue there at the end of the year," Kayne said. "A little bump in the road. Other than that, it was a pretty good year."

His freshman season wrapped up with a 6-1-0 record in seven starts, putting $51,122 in the bank.

Sold as Rare Prize by the Spring Haven Farm, he was originally scheduled to be Hip #57 in the 2023 Ohio Select Sale, but a foot abscess forced his withdrawal and pushed his sale to the Blooded Horse November Speed Sale.

"Natalie hasn't been able to do much with the horses since our girls were growing up," Kayne said. "We are empty nesters now and she wanted to get more involved.

"He was the only one I liked in that sale through video. I didn't want to waste a trip, so I called Senena [Esty, of Spring Haven Farm] and asked her about him and she said, 'You'll love him.'" Rare Prize was hammered down to the Kauffmans for $11,000. So, how did Rare Prize become Vekna? Was it in homage to the main antagonist in the Netflix series Stranger Things or the fictional villain in the Dungeons & Dragons fantasy role-playing game? "I am a big Cleveland Browns and Miles Garrett fan," Kayne said. "His thing is dressing up for Halloween. One year Garrett dressed as Vecna... Since our family are all Ks, we just changed the 'C' to a 'K'. So yes, after Stranger Things, but more for Miles Garrett."

In his first start of the 2025 season, the opening leg of the non-winners of $70,000 lifetime series at Eldorado Scioto Downs (May 9), Vekna was eased off the gate's wings and grabbed the lead by the three-eighths-mile mark and scored in a lifetime best 1:54.

"He had qualified well both times... we wanted to get a race in him and then see what to do next," said Kayne, who has 4,200+ driving wins and 1,100+ training wins. "It's been fun so far."

That 1:54 mile turned some heads and made Vekna the fastest offspring of Enterprise.

If he continues this form, Vekna could go from a late-blooming bargain buy to a major player in Ohio's 3-year-old trotting ranks.

"Those two colts [Lt Loverboy and Battle Hill] that went 1-2 in the Hackett [final on May 3] went big [miles] that day," Kayne said. "They went in [1]:53, so it will be hard. He will have to be on his 'A' game to take on the good colts. I feel he deserves a shot the way he raced the other day."

Vekna drew into the easier of the two $65,000 OHSS divisions. He will leave from mid-pack in post 3.

The reigning Ohio divisional champ, Lt Loverboy, and Battle Hill drew posts 1 and 2, respectively, in the second division.

"He doesn't owe us anything," Kayne said. "Whatever happens from here happens. We bought him to have some fun. He's well exceeded our expectations."

A walk through the colorful history of the Cutler Memorial

by Bob Heyden

Named for a friend of racing and noted restaurateur Arthur J. Cutler, who died in 1998, the free for all trot has carved out a unique history for itself. Let's take a look.

1998 — A one-time Amish buggy horse, B Cor Pete, made it all the way back to beat the best older trotters in Year One. Howard Parker handled the 9-year-old gelding.

1999 — Kick Tail, A ridgling who was third the year before in the Hambletonian, became the first 4YO to win the Cutler for 2003 HOF inductee Berndt Lindstedt.

2000-01 — Dave Miller in his first full season at The Meadowlands in 1999, won his first major stake with Magician, the $424,000 Cashman. That carried over to 2000 and 2001 as the veteran son of Royal Prestige became the very first back-to-back Cutler winner. His career bankroll of $3,579,103 was earned for trainer Earl Cruise and "Augie" aka owner William Augenstein of NY.

2002 — Fools Goal used this race as a stepping stone to consecutive Breeders Crowns for a healthy $1,000,000 and $800,000, respectively. Jack Moiseyev drove the enigmatic son of Hambletonian winner Armbrø Goal. He banked an incredible $3,057,070 racing from 1997-2005 with a career unlike any other, with 28 career wins and 27 career breaks.

2003 — The 2003 winner Kadabra, had moved from Homer Hochstetler to Jimmy Takter for his 3YO season in 2002 when he banked $1,215,496 and was named Trotter of the Year. This gave Dave Miller three of the first six Cutler Memorials.

2004 — War Paint gave John Campbell his first of two Cutlers.

2005 — Mr Muscleman, the 2005 Trotter of the Year, won $1,364,220 as the richest 5-year-old trotter ever posted, was perhaps the most impressive Cutler winner. From Muscles Yankee's first crop, he was far off the pace and backed up and very wide in the final turn. Yet, he still managed to haul in pacesetting Sand Vic with Helluva Hush third.

2006-07 – The aforementioned Sand Vic made amends in both 2006 and 2007 with Brian Sears driving for Trond Smedshammer. These were the first two Cutlers for the all-time Cutler driving king Sears (seven).

2008 – John Campbell wins his second Cutler with Corleone Kosmos with Lanson second. Ross Croghan trained the winner.

2009 – Lucky Jim, the winner, was the best trotter not named Muscle Hill in 2009 and would be HOY runner-up to him. A 17-for-18 slate can do that. Andy Miller would later double up with Sevruga in 2013.

2010 – Arch Madness ($6.80) wins in dominant fashion. The most frequent Cutler finalist of all time, banked $4.3 million in his career and defeated heavy favorite Lucky Jim in 1:51 flat.

2011 – Slave Dream gives Sears his record fourth Cutler, while Lucky Jim breaks, and three-time defending Mare Trotter of the Year Buck I St Pat was second.

2012 – The Cutler this year was all about Mister, Mister, as Mister Herbie gamely nailed Winning Mister on the wire after a long first over grind for Jody Jamieson and Jeff Gillis in 1:51.3.

2013 – A seven-horse field, the shortest in Cutler history, produced by far the most exciting finish ever. Sevruga was the one to catch and just did hold off a three-ply assault from pocket sitting Modern Family and a pair of money makers from the prior two Hambletonians, Wishing Stone (fourth in 2011) and Guccio (second in 2012).

2014 – Ake Svanstedt debuts with Sebastian K S going a stakes record 1:50.2 after pulling the 2-hole at the five-eighths. Market Share, the last trotter to eclipse $2 in a single season in 2012, made an early miscue. This was Ron Pierce's final Cutler. After winning nine years earlier with Mr Muscleman, Pierce handled Sevruga, the defending champion, to a third-place finish.

2015 – Bee A Magician becomes the first HOY (2013) to race in, and win, the Cutler. For the second straight year, Market Share goes off-stride early. Bee A Magician made a strong backstretch move to command and safely scored over Wind Of The North.

2016 – Sam McKee's final Cutler call. It was the first of two straight for Ake Svanstedt trainee Resolve, a son of Muscle Hill. Flanagan Memory stormed home for second for Brett Miller. Resolve later added a Yonkers International Trot score.

2017 – For the first time, the race was contested at 1 1/8 miles. It was Resolve over Crazy Wow with the then fastest trotter in Meadowlands' history, JL Cruze (1:49.4 on July 11, 2015), third.

2018 – Defending HOY Hannelore Hanover wins over Will Take Charge with Crazy Wow third.

2019 – Cruzado Dela Noche for Brian Sears and Marcus Melander. The Yonkers International Trot upsetter, got the measure of pace-setting Trolley with Marcus Miller.

2020 – In a dream matchup, Atlanta edges by Manchego. In the sport's greatest rivalry of the 21st century, a 1:50.1 new stakes mark was set as Manchego was stung to a Cutler fastest opener of :25.4.

2021 – Manchego (Dexter Dunn and Nancy Takter) makes her debut at age 6 and just does get the measure of Australian-bred Majestic Player A in 1:51.1. It was a long, uncovered trip for Manchego.

2022 – Ecurie D DK also went uncovered in a stunning 1:49.1 world and stakes record, and track record equaling mile driven by Ake Svanstedt. It was a strong effort from Cuatro De Julio (Andy McCarthy) who was second best.

2023 – Sears' final drive and win. His seventh Cutler was with Venerate in 1:50.1. It's Academic was second for Dave Miller.

2024 – Jiggy Jog S did not lose a race in 2024 (six-for-six) en route to Trotter of the Year honors. She was second over and roared home for Dexter Dunn and Ake Svanstedt in 1:50 flat.

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

with ADAM HAMILTON

Tribute to Greg Sugars at Melton was heartbreaking and beautiful

by Adam Hamilton

"You'll never know the pedestal I had you on... the world stopped turning on April 26."

Those were just some of the words Australia's premier driver, James Herbertson, used during his emotion-charged tribute at the Memorial Service for champion Australian driver Greg Sugars on Monday (May 12).

Herbertson, who jetted back from a working holiday in the U.S. soon after Sugars' passing to support Sugars' wife, Jess Tubbs, added: "He was another father to me, a mentor and an idol."

The following day, Herbertson flew back to New Jersey to finish what he started in the U.S., but with so much to think about. The 24-year-old will use his time in the U.S., followed by a week or so in Stockholm and then an actual holiday in Poland to decide what his future holds.

Most felt it inevitable and sooner-rather-later that Herbertson would move to the U.S.

"To be honest, I wasn't looking at staying in Australia that much longer," he said. "But now my world has turned upside down, it will never be the same."

"Jess [Tubbs] will need a worker and a driver... we've all got lots of thinking to do."

"I'm not setting any return date. My partner, Ewa, has come back to the States with me and will stay for the trip."

Herbertson drove four of the 10 winners at Melton last Saturday and two of them were for Tubbs, Illawong Larajay and No Money No Honey.

He was one of five "formal" speakers at the 90-minute service at the Melton racetrack. It's where Sugars had driven many of his winners and enjoyed some of his biggest triumphs, including the 2022 Inter Dominion trotting final and 2023 Great Southern Star, both on champion trotter Just Believe.

This was Sugars' last time center stage at Melton and it was both heartbreaking and beautiful.

Well over 1,000 were trackside, but many thousands more watched around the world — in the U.S., New Zealand, Europe and all parts of Australia — via Harness Racing Victoria's live stream.

HRNZ

Just Believe and the late Greg Sugars.

Stuart McCormick

Groups gathered for “pop-up” events Addington (NZ), Albion Park in Brisbane, Globe Derby in Adelaide and Club Menangle in NSW to share the experience and memories during a service as much about Sugars the man as Sugars the Hall of Fame horseman.

At varying times this week, drivers in parts of Australia, New Zealand, Sweden and the U.S. have competed in black armbands to honor Sugars.

It’s a sign of the massive, and almost immediate, impact Sugars made on and off the track.

Everyone referred to that huge smile.

Showing amazing strength and composure at the most harrowing of times, Sugars’ wife, Jess Tubbs, was first to speak.

She was appreciative for all they had shared, but admitted to being angry and feeling robbed at losing her “person” so young.

Sugars was just 40 when he died in his sleep on April 26.

“2025 was supposed to be our year,” Tubbs said. “After two really hard years where we focused on work more than ourselves, we agreed things had to change.

Greg was the dreamer and I was the voice of reason, it’s why we worked so well together.

“There are no answers yet [as to how Sugars died], but hopefully we will have them in time, but now is about remembering him and how special he was.”

Tubbs and Sugars enjoyed the highest of highs with their champion trotter Just Believe, who won them 10 Group 1 races. He won majors in Australia and New Zealand and competed with huge distinction in Sweden in 2023, where he and Sugars gained an army of fans.

Just Believe retired in January as the second richest Down Under trotter of all time.

“The bond between ‘Harry’ [Just Believe’s stable name] and Greg was incredible and I truly believe he wouldn’t have reached the heights he did without Greg,” Tubbs said.

Just Believe’s managing owner Malcolm Wells, like so many others, talked of Greg’s sheer love of the horse.

“That, more than any of the success we had, is what I and the ownership group will treasure,” Wells said. “It was something to behold how much Greg loved that horse and spoke about him.

Greg and Jess took us on a journey we could only believe of.”

New Zealand’s greatest horseman of all time, Mark Purdon, traveled across to Melton.

“I had to be here,” Purdon said. “That’s the sort of impact Greg had on you.” Purdon often turned to Sugars to drive his stars when they were competing in Australia and he needed a driver.

They combined for several big wins, including the $305,000 Group 1 Australian Gold 2YO final with Mr Nickel, one of the richest wins of Sugars’ stellar career.

Another top Kiwi trainer Cran Dalgety gathered with a group of peers at New Zealand’s home of harness racing, Addington, to watch the livestream of the service on a big screen.

“What a beautiful service,” he said. “I’m not sure whether Australians know the impact Greg had over here and the respect we all had for him.”

One of Sugars’ closest friends, another Kiwi horseman Gavin Smith, was one of the formal speakers at Melton.

“We first met 18 years ago in Adelaide at the [Australasian] Young Drivers’ Championship and I knew within two minutes we could be great mates, which we turned out to be,” he said.

“I remember on the first night of the series, [racecaller] Jim Jacques introduced all the drivers to the crowd and went on this glowing spiel about Greg. We all laughed a bit and I looked over and that’s the first time I’d seen that big smile of Greg’s. I’ll never forget it.”

Another close friend, Alabar Bloodstock supremo Brett Coffey, had a similar recollection: “That smile and his childlike enthusiasm, that’s how I’ll always remember Greg.”

Sugars’ sister, Kylie, who spoke on behalf of his family, talked of life growing-up in Virginia, an outer suburb of Adelaide, with their father Ross, a decorated horseman, and mother, Kerry.

“I was a tom-boy, so we were close, but always so competitive,” Kylie said. “He went to places two kids growing up in Virginia could only dream of.

“Try and all live your lives like Greg did. He lived it like he wanted and to heck with the finer details.”

Former Harness Racing NSW chief executive John Dumesny, one of the foremost Australian administrators of the modern era, also sent a touching tribute.

“Greg was a man of the highest qualities and a man who walked with the giants of our industry,” he said.

“He was one of the rarest participants in my time in the game, rare because he was able to transcend all sectors of harness racing.

“Greg’s knowledge of horses and skills were sought by participants young and old. His knowledge was freely given to those who at some point would be his competitors.

Further, his uniqueness is founded on the fact his insider knowledge was accepted by all because it had no bias attached.”

Despite his relatively young age, Sugars built a Hall of Fame record with over 4,000 wins, 71 at Group 1 level and wins in many of Down Under’s iconic races.

But what’s clear is the impact he made off the track was at least the equal, if not even greater, than his amazing deeds on it.

Hohneck to Solvalla for Elitloppet

by Thomas Hedlund

Hohneck (Royal Dream) will get a chance to repeat what he did at Solvalla in 2023, when he won Elitloppet paired with Gabriele Gelormini. Philippe Allaire's 8-year-old trotter has still not made any convincing performances in 2025, but he has raced with shoes and it's proven that Hohneck likes Solvalla's track, especially in late May.

Hohneck got his invitation to Elitloppet on Wednesday (May 14) night and trainer Allaire promised that the water he now drinks, will turn to Champagne at Solvalla.

Allaire also trains one of the most exciting horses in Europe at this moment. His 3-year-old, Ginostrabbliggi (Muscle Hill), is undefeated after eight starts and claimed win number eight in the $160,000 Gran Premio Tito Giovanardi in Modena, Italy.

Gelormini is the entrusted driver behind Ginostrabbliggi and the duo took a safe wire-to-wire-win in a mile rate of 1:58.4 over 1.3 miles.

Hohneck is ready for Elitloppet and it wouldn't be a surprise if Ginostrabbliggi joins his stablemate on the journey north next week. What an exciting sight for Elitloppet public if this will be true.

GOCCIADORO AND DJUSE A WINNING COMBINATION

Alessandro Gocciadoro sent his Diva Ek (Trixton) to the $125,000 Copenhagen Cup in Denmark on Sunday (May 11) afternoon and the combination of Gocciadoro-Djuse seems to be unstoppable in European high stakes races. But this time it was Mats E. Djuse, and not Magnus A. (who won the Lotteria in Italy with Diva Ek's older brother Always Ek), who steered the winning horse for the Italian top trainer.

Diva Ek was pushed to the lead at the first backstretch and the race's only mare bested the boys when she reached the front position. She is known for her willingness to win (20 out of 38), but her Sunday victory in Copenhagen was a small upset since she faced more merited trotters than usual. Diva Ek's mile rate was 1:53.1 over 1.3 miles and her family had some great weeks recently. Always Ek won the Lotteria in Naples, younger brother Executive Ek was runner up in the same race, and now it was time for sister Diva Ek to win a stakes race in Europe.

LAST CHANCE IN GÄVLE

A few spots remain before Elitloppet field is complete and one horse can be ready by winning Saturday's (May 17) $80,000 Prins Daniels race in Gävle, Sweden.

Ten horses, one spot, not so complicated, and by tradition, the Prins Daniels race has a tendency to become a spectacular show.

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

Unearthing some real gems from early Hambletonians, Part 2

by John Berry

Part 1 is here.

In the last Mane Attraction, we unearthed some of the gems from the first five Hambletonians remembrances of great horsemen of the past like Nat Ray, Billy Leese, Marvin Childs, Tom Berry and Walter Cox; all sadly forgotten today.

After Cox retired from active participation, he still kept an eye on the training operations for the Good Time Stable while engaging Chase Dean to handle the driving for the stable.

Back about 45 years ago, I was fortunate to catch up to Dean, approaching 90 years of age, and his remembrances about the early days of the Hambletonian were startling.

Honoring his memory, and others that provided the grand history of our sport, here is part 2 of unearthing gems from early Hambletonian events.

On Aug. 14, 1931, Calumet Butler won the sixth Hambletonian contested at Good Time Park, having won the second and third heats after finishing third in the opening heat, which was won by Keno, with his 1-3-2 heat performances earning him second money.

Keno, driven by Fred Egan (and, ironically, owned by a gent named John Berry), won the first heat in 2:04 1/4 while Calumet Butler swept the next two in 2:03 1/4 and 2:05 1/4, respectively. Keno lost the final heat by a nose! Calumet Belricka (2-4-4) earned third money while Charlotte Hanover finished fourth.

Nedda Guy, the winterbook favorite and the heavy favorite in the auction pools on race day, suffered an injury sometime during the first two heats after finishing fifth and then second and had to be withdrawn from what proved to be the final heat.

Only six had entered for this year's event — the smallest field yet — with the purse being a healthy $48,071.39, despite the ongoing depression.

Bred and owned by Calumet Farm, then a leading breeder of standardbred horses, Calumet Butler was driving by Dick McMahon and became the first maiden to win this coveted of all races.

THE UNEARTHED GEMS: Breeder/owner William M. Wright was unable to be at the race after suffering a stroke and was in a coma and "on his deathbed" in Lexington, KY, never to know that his most cherished ambition of winning the Hambletonian had been accomplished.

After the death of Wright, Calumet Butler was sold to European interests, and, eventually, the farm disposed of all of its trotting horse interests, devoting to the development of thoroughbred horses, becoming one of the few farms that had a Hambletonian winner and a Kentucky Derby winner.

Winning driver McMahon, by the way, became superintendent of Calumet Farms.

The favorite Nedda Guy, owned by William H. Cane, as the betting favorite, was subjected to so much fan objection upon her being scratched from the third heat that the horse had to be paraded in front of the crowd to prove its lameness.

The 1932 Hambletonian, worth $45,489.26, was won by The Marchioness in a four-heat marathon, with the filly taking the first heat in 2:04 1/2 and fourth heat in 2:05 1/2 - :28, after Hollyrood Dennis won the second stanza in 2:01 1/4 and Invader took the third heat in 2:04 1/4.

Becoming the third filly in this seventh Hambletonian to capture the crown, The Marchioness was driven by her trainer Will Caton for owner Mrs. Ralph Keeler.

Invader, driven by Lyman Brusie, earned second money — 2-3-1-3 in the four heats — Hollyrood Dennis was third — his four heats 7-1-6-2 — for Will Crozier.

Calumet Crusader, Brevere and Calumet Chuck also earned checks in the septet of trotters.

THE UNEARTHED GEMS: In winning the second heat in 2:01 1/4, Hollyrood Dennis, trotted the fastest mile to date in the Hambletonian; a record that held up for 15 years.

In that heat which Invader won, Brusie was seen getting a jump on the field putting The Marchioness in a box at the top of the stretch.

The finale saw Caton rating his filly to perfection, with a :28 second sprint home sealing the deal.

As for The Marchioness' trainer/driver Caton first became noted as a trainer and driver in Czarist Russia, prior to World War I and the Bolshevik Revolution.

After being forced to return to the U.S., he had much success in the early 1930s, especially with the grand trotter Protector, a multiple stakes winner, but not staked to the Hambletonian.

So, what's the catch? The Marchioness was a full sister to Protector.

For you members of the BDHC (Broken Down Horseplayers Club), The Marchioness was the heavy favorite in the auction betting pool.

In 1933, the fillies evened the score against the colts as the Peter The Brewer filly, Mary Reynolds won the eighth edition of the Hambletonian contested in Goshen, NY's Good Time Park.

Mary Reynolds became the fourth filly to win harness racing's premier event – this one worth $37,612 – the purse finally reflecting the effects of the depression beginning in late 1929 and taking "hold" in 1930.

Owned by W. N. Reynolds of tobacco fame, Mary Reynolds was driven by Ben White and won the Hambletonian title in three heats, winning the first heat in 2:03 3/4 and the third and final heat in 2:05 1/2.

Brown Berry, driven by Fred Egan, won the second heat in 2:03 3/4 and seemed on his way to victory in the final heat when he stumbled just yards from the wire and finished 11th.

He was awarded second money with Meurice third, Hollyrood Portia fourth and Prince Hall next. Poplar Hill earned the sixth and final award among the 12 original starters.

THE UNEARTHED GEMS: Brown Berry's stumble near the wire in the final allowed Mary Reynolds to sprint past for the win and stirred much controversy as Mary Reynolds was closing stoutly and left fans wondering if Brown Berry would have held on had he not stumbled, or was he just leg-weary from the endurance needed for three heats.

In any event, when Brown Berry made his infamous "$20,000 stumble," driver Egan was unseated but managed to straddle the sulky over one shaft and his knees across the other, actually saving second money under the Hambletonian placing system of 2-1-11.

One other noted GEM, was one lady in the stands, the niece of the tobacco magnate, her name Mary Reynolds, for whom the filly was named.

In 1934, the ninth edition of the Hambletonian, it took four heats for Lord Jim (by Guy Axworthy) to savor the crown.

Owned by E. L. Medford of Columbus, OH, Lord Jim was driven by Hugh M. Parshall and finished 4-1-2-1 in his four grueling heats to earn the major share of the smallest Hambletonian purse to date – $25,855.44 – as the depression still held a firm grip on the nation and as eligibility payments began three years prior.

Musclestone finished second with a 3-3-1-2 scorecard in his heats while Princess Peg was third on the strength of her 1-2-4-3 performance. Vitamine, Emily Stokes and Reynolds all earned checks in the field of eight.

THE UNEARTHED GEMS: Lord Jim was actually, inappropriately, named as the fictional character named Lord Jim was a weakling while the equine Lord Jim possessed, heart and courage in winning the grueling Hambletonian.

The winner was sired by Guy Axworthy and, at age 28, became the oldest to sire a Hambletonian winner, his mate in the breeding being Selka, she being 16 when Lord Jim was foaled.

At age 34, Parshall was the youngest driver to win the Hambletonian at that time.

As for Musclestone, he won his heat in the fastest time of the event – 2:02 3/4 – and became a European champion and won the Prix d'Amérique in 1935 and 1937.

Finally, the 1935 Hambletonian was won by the immortal Greyhound, the first gelding to win harness racing's signature event.

Held at Goshen, NY's Good Time Park, E. J. Baker's Guy Abby gelding Greyhound, trained and driven by Sep Palin, won in straight heats.

Facing eight rivals, it was reported that many in the field were bad actors while Greyhound was calm and perfectly mannered.

At odds of 1-3 in the betting pools, Greyhound was dead last early but started churning away on the backside to win going away.

At age 34 [in 1934], [Hugh] Parshall was the youngest driver to win the Hambletonian at that time.

Wardell Worthy was second with Pedro Tipton third, Lawrence Hanover fourth and Tilly Tonka and Silver King also earning checks.

THE UNEARTHED GEMS: Bred by Almahurst Farm by Henry Knight, Greyhound was described as "Sep Palin's masterpiece."

The times of his straight heat wins were 2:02 1/4 and 2:02 3/4, a new record for this now historic race, with Greyhound earning $18,804 in this Hambletonian.

Greyhound was a $900 yearling purchase at the Indianapolis Speed Sale (the sale average was only $410) and Greyhound went on to set too many records to continue this Mane Attraction.

Keith MacDonald Legge gets his power from harness racing

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

by Chris Lomon

For Keith MacDonald Legge, a deep connection to horse racing has always been par for the course for the avid golfer.

"This is a lifelong thing for me," said Legge, who hails from Truro, NS – a town steeped in standardbred racing history and known as the Hub of the province. "Once you're hooked, you're hooked – and I definitely am."

The driver and trainer's association with pacers and trotters can be traced back to his pre-teen years.

Soon, regular visits to the stables became the norm.

"I ended up getting involved in racing through Emmons MacKay, a well-known horseman around Truro Raceway and the Maritimes," Legge said. "His wife – she passed away a few years ago – was my babysitter. Once I was old enough, around 7, Emmons would start taking me around to the barn. I was hooked right from the start."

Legge had an ideal mentor in MacKay.

With over 500 training wins and more than 2,200 driving victories, MacKay took the aspiring young horseman under his wing, always willing to answer Legge's questions.

And there were many of them.

"Emmons taught me everything I know, from the ground up," Legge said. "I went out and learned some more things from other horsepeople at Truro."

Legge eventually headed west to Ontario.

He would work for several people – trainer Colin Johnson, Corey Johnson, Sean and Mark Steacy – over his two years in Canada's most populous province, each opportunity further sparking his interest in the industry.

Legge then made the decision to return to Nova Scotia, but with a different game plan in mind.

"I went back to get an education, so that I could pursue a full-time job, get a pension – all that good stuff," he said. "My mom convinced me that was the path I should take."

That journey brought him to Nova Scotia Community College (NSCC) in 2017, where his involvement in horse racing would take a temporary backseat.

Despite the demands of school, Legge always found time to keep on top of the sport.

Eventually, he found himself back in familiar surroundings.

“There will always be one in the barn for me – I know I will always own at least one horse for the rest of my life. This August, it will be eight years since I started with Nova Scotia Power in my full-time job as a powerline technician. The horses, I guess, could be seen as a hobby, but the horses are much more than that for me – I’d be lost without them and racing.”

~ Keith MacDonald Legge

“I took a one-year NSCC course to become a Powerline Technician,” he said. “I watched races, checked out all the racing news, and stayed in touch with what was going on. In the second year of my apprenticeship, I was transferred to Sydney [NS] and I was hanging out at Northside Downs with Max Sehl, Wayne and Adam Merner. That kind of got me back into it.”

When he was transferred back to Truro, Legge met up with longtime friends and horsepeople, Eddie Harvey and Kathy MacLean.

“Kathy asked me to take care of a horse for her and here I am, five years later, with a couple horses of my own and back in the game again,” Legge said.

It is exactly where he wants to be.

Legge, who won his first race as a trainer in 2022, can’t imagine a time when he won’t be involved in the racing world.

“There will always be one in the barn for me – I know I will always own at least one horse for the rest of my life,” he said. “This August, it will be eight years since I started with Nova Scotia Power in my full-time job as a powerline technician. The horses, I guess, could be seen as a hobby, but the horses are much more than that for me – I’d be lost without them and racing.”

In 2023, Legge joined the driving ranks and won 10 races in 65 starts, including his first victory with Paul Langille trainee Preceptor on July 30, 2023. Legge also won 10 races last year.

Although he is a neophyte compared to some of his contemporaries, there have already been some memorable highlights to speak of.

“The first horse I owned part of – her name is Mach Raiser – ended up setting the track record [in 2013] at Northside Downs when she went 1:55.4,” he said. “I owned her with Wayne Merner, and she was amazing. I remember being in the paddock and Wayne said to me, ‘They are going to have to go 1:55 to beat her.’ She still holds the track record to this day.

“Star Collector is another one who comes to mind. I owned him with Eddie [Harvey] and Kathy [MacLean]. He was a classy old guy, and we ended up getting him a new lifetime mark. I actually drove him in my first amateur race, so he holds a special place for me.”

Legge can say the same for most of the horses he has worked with over the years.

Much like his time at NSCC, he has enjoyed an education, this one of the equine variety, through standardbred racing.

“They teach you so much,” he said. “Horses have taught me the value of hard work, responsibility, and staying grounded. They are like having a kid – they eat before you do, and if they aren’t happy and healthy, neither are you.

“When I get to the barn at 5:30 in the morning, I become myself again and I let the outside world stay there.”

Beyond his full-time job and horse racing life, Legge enjoys any time spent on the links.

While he doesn’t have any plans on joining the PGA Tour, a round of golf is always a good day spent.

“I lead a pretty busy life away from work and the barn,” Legge said. “I golf as much as I can in the summer. The golf courses here in Nova Scotia and the Maritimes are beautiful. I also play hockey in the winter, so I keep active.”

Mornings and evenings include opening his laptop and checking out the latest horse racing news from across North America, along with tuning in to catch some racing action.

As Legge said, once you’re hooked, you’re hooked.

“Horse racing means so much to me,” Legge said. “When I look back at what brought me to this point, I just feel grateful. Wherever life has taken me, I have never lost touch with the horses and the industry. I don’t expect that to ever change.”

Racehorse Health and Safety Act introduced; would repeal and replace HISA

by USTA communications department

On Thursday (May 15), Rep. Clay Higgins (LA-03), Rep. Don Davis (NC-01), and Sen. Tom Cotton (R-AR) introduced the Racehorse Health and Safety Act (RHSA), a bipartisan, bicameral effort to deliver a constitutional solution to safety regulation in the horse racing industry.

The legislation is backed by industry organizations representing tens of thousands of horsemen and is endorsed by the United States Trotting Association (USTA), National Horsemen's Benevolent & Protective Association (HBPA), the North American Association of Racetrack Veterinarians (NAARV), and others.

The RHSA would establish an interstate compact to develop nationwide rules governing scientific medication control and racetrack safety for horse racing. The RHSA would replace the Horseracing Integrity and Safety Act of 2020 (HISA), which has been found unconstitutional by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals and awaits a decision on whether the Supreme Court will take up the case.

"Government should be a partner to Americans, not a predator. While the federal government initially passed HISA with the intention of bringing uniformity to the horse racing industry, it proved to be a well-intentioned disaster that plagued the industry with confusion and disruption. The Racehorse Health and Safety Act is a solution to the problem. It is rooted in science and draws from industry experts. It is of horsemen, by horsemen, and for horsemen. This legislation protects horses and horsemen while reasserting state sovereignty and pushing back against federal oppression," said Rep. Clay Higgins.

"Congress must prioritize the establishment of equitable and consistent standards within the horse racing industry. In pursuit of this, we are supporting legislation that promotes improved safety regulations through a thoughtful and pragmatic framework," said Rep. Don Davis.

Sen. Tom Cotton said, "The RHSA will provide horse owners and racetracks flexibility, while also bringing safe and effective regulation to the horseracing industry."

The RHSA establishes the Racehorse Health and Safety Organization (RHSO), with a board of directors appointed by the state racing commissions. Five board members will be appointed by the racing commissions in the states with the most racing days, and four members will be appointed by racing commissions in the remaining states.

The RHSO Board will establish three scientific medication control committees, one for each racing breed: thoroughbreds, standardbreds, and quarter horses. Committee members will be selected by industry associations and the board. The RHSO board will also establish one racetrack safety committee comprised of board- and industry-appointed members that will recommend breed-specific rules to the board. The board will have the final say on all rules adopted, but it must justify its decisions with scientific evidence.

Further, the RHSO will be granted the power to investigate rule violations, but the state racing commission of each participating state will retain enforcement power unless it requests the RHSO to assist with enforcement.

Finally, the RHSO will be funded through annual fees from the participating state racing commissions, which will be specific to each breed. Because enforcement will be returned to state racing commissions, the RHSA will drastically reduce the fees placed on horsemen.

States will have two years to decide whether to participate in the compact, but only participating states will be allowed to export simulcast signals for interstate, offsite betting. The RHSA would repeal HISA in its entirety.

In addition to being found unconstitutional twice by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, HISA proved ineffective in other ways.

In 2024, HISA's enforcement arm came under fire for punishing innocent owners and trainers for miniscule amounts of substances in a horse that have no effect on its performance or health. Over 1,000 horsemen signed a petition by the National HBPA to the Federal Trade Commission to require HISA to establish no-effect thresholds, which would ensure that respected horsemen do not have their reputations and careers ruined over incidental exposures to everyday substances.

"The RHSA is a commonsense bill that is beneficial for both harness racing and standardbreds," Russell Williams, president of the USTA, said. "It achieves the goal of rule uniformity while respecting the unique characteristics of different racing breeds. Above all, it embraces the principle that the welfare of the horse must always come first. The USTA is proud to endorse this important legislation."

"As a veterinarian, I believe the Racehorse Health and Safety Act is a critical step toward ensuring a scientifically sound and constitutionally valid regulatory framework for horse racing," Doug Daniels, DVM and president of the National HBPA, said. "We must prioritize equine health and welfare through veterinary, evidence-based research into medication control and racetrack safety standards. The RHSA will provide the industry with the stability it needs. It is our responsibility – as horsemen, veterinarians, and racing commissions – to collaborate in protecting both the integrity of the sport and the welfare of our human and equine athletes."

"The North American Association of Racetrack Veterinarians fully supports the Racehorse Health and Safety Act," said Dr. Nicholas Meittinis, president of the NAARV. "The Horseracing Integrity and Safety Authority is a deeply flawed institution – one that not only harms the industry but also restricts veterinarians from providing the best possible care to their equine athletes."

With the Grand Circuit underway and first-time graded stakes scheduled in harness racing, the effort will continue to encourage other congressional leaders and stakeholders to step up to the starting gate alongside Reps. Higgins and Davis, and Sen. Cotton and race to support an industry in urgent need.

#betontario to support Ontario horse racing jobs and breed development programs

A decline in Home Market Area wagering has led to decreased funding for critical programs such as the Thoroughbred Improvement Program and the Ontario Sires Stakes. The best way to support the sector is to bet on live racing in Ontario from Ontario.

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

The popularity of “Buy Canadian” programs as a response to U.S. threats on Canada’s sovereignty has been extended to Ontario’s horse racing industry in a campaign called Bet Ontario (#betontario).

Ontario Racing is encouraging those that choose to bet on horse racing to consider the critical importance of wagering on the races conducted in Ontario. Betting on Ontario races in Ontario is essential for supporting some 30,000 jobs in the province connected to the horse racing sector, which translates into about 23,000 full-time equivalent jobs.

Simply put, the Ontario horse racing industry keeps the most money from bets made in Ontario on live races being conducted in the province (and please always bet responsibly).

It’s known as Home Market Area (HMA) wagering and it is the primary source of funding for critical horse breeding programs.

That part is worth repeating. The amount of money in Ontario breed-development programs such as standardbred racing’s Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) and breeder rewards and bonus programs for thoroughbreds is directly tied to HMA betting. In fact, HMA wagering is, by far, the largest source of funding for those programs.

HMA wagering is defined as: Any wager on horse racing made while the person betting is physically located in Ontario. That includes wagers made at one of 15 Ontario racetracks, a long list of off-track betting locations, and via online platforms such as HPIbet and bet365.

That means bets made in Ontario on live racing happening outside of Ontario count as HMA wagering, too, but the Ontario horse racing industry receives a lower percentage of the proceeds because it shares the money with the out-of-province host track.

Even the platform used to make the bets matters. Since the Woodbine Entertainment Group (WEG) owns and operates HPIbet, more of the proceeds from wagers made via that platform stay in the Ontario horse racing industry.

Woodbine operates like a not-for-profit company. Any profit it generates is invested back into the horse racing industry.

WHY THIS MATTERS: ONTARIO HMA WAGERING IS DECLINING

Over the last two fiscal years, HMA wagering has declined 12.6 per cent, with a 6.5 per cent decline from $733 million to $686 million in the last fiscal year.

That has already led to a decrease in funding for programs under the Horse Improvement Program (HIP) managed by Ontario Racing. HIP supports the breeding and racing of thoroughbreds, standardbreds, and quarter horses.

HMA wagering provides about 60 per cent of total HIP funding. In fiscal year (FY) 2025, the amount of HIP funding from HMA wagering was just over $20.6 million (unaudited). Due to the decrease in HMA betting, the amount of HIP funding from that source is budgeted to be $19.35 million at the end of the current FY2026.

Andrew Gaughan, the independent chair of Ontario Racing, said the launch of online casino and sports betting platforms in the province in April of 2022 has had a negative impact on betting on horse racing. Ontario is now home to more than 50 legal online gambling operators offering more than 80 different sites. Through the first three years of operation, those online gambling sites have, collectively, generated more than $7 billion in revenue.

"HMA wagering is under competitive siege from the advent and proliferation of advertising and aggressive player marketing from well-funded and deeply capitalized licensed digital gaming operators in Ontario and this decline in HMA wagering in the last two years amounts to an annualized loss of about $11-12 million of horse racing industry income," Gaughan said. "It means we have had to trim about $3 million annually from the respective HIP programs and budgets in addition to the industry income loss."

Critical programs under HIP include: the Standardbred Improvement Program (SIP) that funds the OSS, the Thoroughbred Improvement Program (TIP), the Quarter Horse Racing Industry Development Program (QHRIDP) and lucrative breeder awards programs for all three breeds.

It's a vicious circle. A decrease in purses or breeder awards makes it even more difficult to attract horse owners and for Ontario breeders to survive financially. That could lead to fewer horses being produced in the province, which, in turn, lowers the field size for races. Lower field size typically leads to lower betting handle, which perpetuates the problem.

The good news is, if HMA wagering goes up in 2025, those programs will receive increased funding.

That's where Bet Ontario comes in.

HOW YOU CAN SUPPORT THE ONTARIO RACING INDUSTRY

Beyond betting on the Ontario product while located in the province, Ontario Racing is also asking anyone interested in supporting horse racing to spread the word about the importance of Bet Ontario.

We're using the hashtag #betontario on our social media platforms and encouraging anyone interested in promoting Ontario horse racing to do the same when posting about the industry. The hashtag goes beyond referring to betting on horse racing. It signifies an all-encompassing support for the industry.

Ontario Racing is also planning an extended educational campaign to better inform the industry about the importance of HMA wagering.

In the meantime, consider bringing new people to the track. Getting close to the horses is the best way to create new fans.

Short of that, wagering while watching at home is still an easy and exciting option. For example, Ignite World Racing on Sportsnet has approximately 30 broadcasts a year of major live Thoroughbred races from around the world, including six from Woodbine.

Meanwhile, HPIbet customers can watch all the races while they wager.

In the end, it's a little more difficult to slap one of those "Canadian product" stickers on some 10,000 Ontario horses connected to racing, but Bet Ontario is a "Made in Ontario," "Buy Local" suggestion for Ontarians wishing to support their own world-class horse racing industry.

Mohawk game changers: Siddall

by Matthew Lomon / Woodbine communications

Once a week, throughout the Mohawk racing season, Woodbine will profile a horse who has had a life-changing impact on one of their closest connections.

This week, trainer Amanda Riley, who finds herself in the middle of a career year across the board, and Siddall.

Riley originally claimed the brown pacer in the spring of 2011 before losing him briefly to another claim one year later.

The Roseneath, ON-based conditioner bought him back for good less than a month after, making the sixth and final claim on Siddall in May of 2012.

Siddall Bio

Foaled: April 29, 2003

Sire: Real Artist

Dam: Law Road

Wins-Seconds-Thirds: 40-21-16

Earnings: $268,191

Trainer: Thomas Riley

Owner: Amanda Riley

Breeder: Jack T. Campbell

This horse was obviously very special to you. What was it in particular that made him special on and off the track for you?

"The circumstances around it all were really extraordinary. I paid $1,000 for him, and he was lame, and I didn't think I was ever going to get to race him. One simple injection from the vet turned him right around. He won nine races in a row for me.

"I was actually pregnant with my first son when I bought him. It was the scariness of becoming first time parents, and the expenses of it all. Then we got this horse — I just wanted a horse to race — and he was a cheap claimer, but the thrill of racing him and knowing that he was going to try his guts out every time we took him to the track was well worth it. And nine times out of 10 he would win.

"I only raced him every other week. I only raced him in back-to-back weeks maybe once or twice. I raced him one on, and then I would give him a week off because I wanted to take care of him. He was all heart, so I took care of him, and he clearly took care of me."

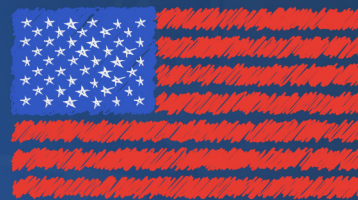

Is there a race that stands out as most memorable for you and why?

"I remember he won on Harness the Hope night. That was cool because there was a big crowd, we got to raise money for a great cause, and I won a cooler. But there were so many outstanding moments.

"My first start with him, Aaron Byron drove him and going down the backside at Kawartha, he was buried at the back. He was locked in on the rail going down the backside on a five-eighths-mile track, and I'm thinking, 'Oh my god, I'm not going to get a check.' Then he weaved through traffic and opened up on them, and I thought, 'Okay, this horse is something.'" He ended up winning by three-and-a-half, and Aaron told me that if I didn't move him up, he was going to claim him off me.

"That's why I think he's so special. There were so many standout moments. Actually, James MacDonald drove him quite a bit for me and that's when James was getting his start at Kawartha. I believe James was driving our whole stable at the time. That makes it cool now because James is, well, James, and he was part of the story."

Talk about his character and personality away from racing?

"He was a piece of work. His stifles were the issue, so I had to stay at his front end, and he would bite you. It's actually kind of a funny story because he would stick his tongue out for you, and you could play with it and hang on to it. So, whenever the kids wanted to have their picture taken with him, I'd get him to stick his tongue out, and I could hang on to it, because I knew if he's going to bite me, it's not going to be worth it for him."

Three words to describe him?

"Heart. Gritty. Handsome."

How has he changed your life?

"The last time I raced him, I had just spent a whole bunch of money on vet work the week before, and he raced poorly. The judges even called me up to ask what was up because he was three, four and five wide the whole mile. I thought that was his way of trying to tell me that he's done. So, I found him a home.

"He turned into this beautiful riding horse, but the woman I gave him to didn't have the time for him anymore, so I took him back. This was three years ago. I kept him, and I couldn't have him outside at our place because he was a stud for so many years.

"I ended up putting him into the adoption society, and they found him a home, and the woman [Kristyna Rae] that took him, loved him. She took phenomenal care of him. I kept in touch with her throughout the years. Unfortunately, she had to put him down last fall.

"When I got him, I never lost touch with him. I have every single win picture of him. I have memorabilia. I have his brow band. He was just one of those horses that you'll never forget.

"He wasn't always sunshine and rainbows, because he was hard to deal with, and I dealt with him when I was pregnant, but he was good to me. I was the only one that ever raced him because he was my pet.

"But when I went into labor and had my son, I had to stay home. I remember I was watching him on our laptop, and he goes out and wins. My entire family was in the winner's circle, Tommy's [Thomas Riley] entire family was in the winner's circle, and here I am sitting at home with this newborn baby bawling my eyes out because my pregnancy emotions were going nuts, and also because he won, and I was sad that I wasn't there.

"I have a terrible memory, but I can tell you more about that horse and everything that we went through than any other horse or event in my actual life. We've had a lot of nice horses and made some money with a lot of them. All of them have cool stories, too, but he's the standout."

Meadowlands to reinstate post time drag

Beginning with this weekend's (May 16 and 17) live racing, The Meadowlands will revert back to the formula of sending the horses onto the track at 0 minutes to post and going to the gate approximately seven minutes later.

Heeding customer complaints regarding the practice of "dragging" post time out, as is the new normal at virtually all tracks, and going off at "0" resulted in a sharp decline in export handle. Among the lessons learned was that our CAW customers could not adjust, resulting in a large percentage of the lost handle.

This experiment also reinforced the fact we will need a significant marketing budget to accomplish our goal of getting young people to become customers.

Should we succeed in getting a casino, we would use those revenues to properly market the on-track experience, in turn raising the on-track handle.

Miki And Minnie scores in seasonal bow at Pocono

Miki And Minnie, Dan Patch Award winner for the baby freshman fillies last year, made her 2025 debut Monday afternoon (May 12) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania in one of four $30,000 Pennsylvania All-Stars divisions, and she couldn't have been more impressive in a 1:51 victory.

In the second All-Stars division, the eighth race on the card, trainer Noel Daley earned his 3,000th trip to the winner's circle with Westwinds who won by a nose.

Trained by Chris Ryder for owners Craig Henderson, Robert Mondillo, and Lawrence Minowitz (the "Min" in Miki And Minnie; sire Always B Miki is of course the "Miki"), the filly had to start on the outside of the eight-horse field, and driver Dexter Dunn made his way gradually frontward, racing behind the cover of Pilar Hanover as that one got to the top at the :27.1 quarter, then moving right along to take over the racetrack and post a half time of :55.3 and a three-quarters of 1:22.4, with uncovered challenger Always Ana Hanover, the second choice behind the 1-20 favorite, tucking in the pocket nearing the far turn.

Through the stretch Dunn gave the filly the gentlest of reminders to stay to task, and that was enough to have her pace strongly through the wire $3\frac{1}{4}$ lengths ahead of Always Ana Hanover. After having finished her freshman campaign with a bang by winning the Breeders Crown and Three Diamonds, Miki And Minnie has now opened her sophomore racing with a win, boosting her lifetime earnings to \$849,086.

Dunn won a second All-Stars race, putting a new mark of 1:51.1 on the Sweet Lou filly My Sweet Lily after a nerveless drive. In second-over position after fractions of :26.1 and :55.1, Dunn and My Sweet Lily, the second choice, were double-blindswitched as favored Rodeo Drive Deo came three-wide from third-over down the back, with Gigglingonthebeach on her bumper. But Dunn simply backed out his filly into the outer flow, went wide in the lane, and caught Rodeo Drive Deo by a length as the only non-favorite to take a stake. The New Jersey Classic final winner last year won in her second start of this year for trainer Nancy Takter and owners Marvin and Lynn Katz and Caviart Farms.

The fastest All-Stars sector went to the Papi Rob Hanover filly Asphalt, who reduced her mark to 1:50.3. Tim Tetrick sent the filly frontward after a :27.2 quarter, went by the next two poles under control in :55.2 and 1:23.2, then sprinted home in :27 for an easy three length win for trainer Brett Pelling and owner Margaret Dey.

In her win clinching Daley's 3,000 milestone victory, Westwinds, a Captaintreacherous filly, lowered her lifetime mark winning in 1:51.2 for driver Andrew McCarthy, and owners Milton Leeman, Stambaugh Keith Stable, Joe Sbrocco, and Wingfield Brothers LLC. Westwinds bided her time third as Karma passed the first two timer stations in :27.1 and :56.2, then moved uncovered to challenge the pacesetter down the back and past the 1:23.2 three-quarters. There wasn't much between the pair in the action home, with Westwinds proving herself more photogenic this day by the smallest of margins.

Tyler Buter and George Napolitano, Jr., 1-2 in the Pocono seasonal standings for sulkysitters, finished 1-2 in the Monday drivers tally: Buter won four races on the day (and has won 21 times in the last six cards at Pocono), and Napolitano reported home first three times. The only ones having a hotter Monday were the supporters of well-regarded horses: 10 favorites and four second choices were victorious.

The summer schedule being used at Pocono now is Saturday at 1 p.m., Sunday at 6 p.m., and Monday and Tuesday at 1 p.m. Louprint, the champion colt, will be in town on Saturday (May 17) to help inaugurate the local Pennsylvania Sire Stakes / Stallion Series action for the year. Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Dunn hoping to break through in major Big M stakes

He's been by far the most successful driver in harness racing over the last half-dozen years. During 2024, he won a record six Breeders Crown finals before going on to be named the Dan Patch Driver of the Year Award winner for a fifth time in the last six years.

But there are still two big stakes wins missing from Dexter Dunn's resume.

This season, the 35-year-old New Zealand native has a good chance of checking the box next to both the Meadowlands Pace and Hambletonian.

"I've had my chances before, they are not easy races to win," said Dunn, whose money earnings were a career-best $16 million during 2024. "You're always trying to win those races. It's the pinnacle of the sport, but I've got some nice ones coming along this year."

One of those nice ones is Captain Optimistic, a Nancy Takter trainee who currently sits second in the Big M's "Road to the Meadowlands Pace" Top 10 poll. Last year, the son of Captaintreacherous—Cinamony won seven of 11 starts and banked $454,830, with his biggest win coming in his final start of the year, in the $382,200 Governor's Cup for 2-year-old male pacers at The Meadowlands.

"He had a good season last year," said Dunn. "But he could do things a little bit wrong. He's a bit of a quirky horse but he seems to have matured since last year. [He had some steering problems] but it seems like the issues have been corrected. I think it might have been more being immature than anything else. The ability is there. Hopefully, he can put it all together this year."

It's anybody's guess what Captain Optimistic's odds might be if he made it to the $700,000 (est.) Pace on July 12, but there is no question who the public choice will be in the $1-million Hambletonian on Aug. 2 if all goes smoothly. Were there a future wager on the 100th edition of "America's Trotting Classic," Maryland might be 4-5 or less.

"Maryland had an amazing year during 2024," said Dunn of the son of Chapter Seven—Crucial. "He was always giving me a great feel from day one and carried it on through the season.

"[This year] he's really filled out a lot. I trained him here [Saturday] morning and went a nice trip around the track. He felt really good."

The Marcus Melander student won six of nine starts a year ago after finishing the season with five consecutive stakes victories: the $425,500 William Wellwood Memorial, $390,000 Peter Haughton Memorial, $740,000 Mohawk Million, $700,000 Breeders Crown and $173,300 Kindergarten. His seasonal earnings of $1,227,695 were tops in the sport, and made Maryland the first 2-year-old trotting colt to lead the game in earnings in more than seven decades.

"I think he was always special," said Dunn. "He made a break [at The Meadowlands] early in the year [on July 5] but then he just sort of had to put it together. He always had the speed and the ability and the strength. With 2-year-old trotters, it takes time to get them good. He really did step up his game and really got better as the season went on.

"He's obviously going to have a bit of weight on his shoulders [this year] but I'm sure he can handle it. The 3-year-old trotters, it's hard battles out there, so he's going to have to bring his 'A' game."

HUGE HI-5 POOL LOOMS: There were no winning tickets sold on the 14th race Hi-5 (or Pentafecta, if you prefer) last Saturday (May 10) night, creating a carryover of $11,399 for tonight's (May 16) 14th dash.

Hi-5 carryovers are uncommon and a total pool of $40,000 or more is expected. In the event $30,000 of "new money" were wagered, that would create a surplus of over $6,000 for players to shoot for, creating a "negative takeout", where winning tickets are exchanged for more money than what was bet.

GIWNER AND RALLIS RETURN: Check out the live "Racing from The Meadowlands" pregame show every Friday and Saturday when track announcer Ken Warkentin opens up the mic with a scene set and program changes.

Tonight, Warkentin will then throw to the Sam McKee Memorial Broadcast Set, where The Big M's Dave Little and Jessica Otten will provide news, notes, selections and a look at the night's featured races. In addition, the Big M's "A"-team will take a look at Little's "Road to the Meadowlands Pace" Top 10.

Derick Giwner, the Editor at DRF Harness, will sit alongside Little on Saturday night providing his insights as Otten will provide commentary to a national television audience on Fox Sports 2 (FS2).

After spending last weekend at Scioto Downs, frequent flyer John Rallis will be back at The Meadowlands this weekend handling interviews from the back paddock as well as providing commentary and selections on the FanDuel Television (FDTV) feed.

CHECK OUT FOX: For a fifth consecutive year, the TV teams at the New York Racing Association (NYRA) and The Meadowlands will combine forces to bring high-caliber harness racing stakes events to a national television audience over the networks of FOX Sports as part of NYRA's "America's Day at the Races" telecasts.

The first of eight scheduled shows will be broadcast on Saturday (May 17), when The Big M showcases the best older trotters in North America in the $158,000 Arthur J. Cutler Memorial. In addition to coverage from the East Rutherford oval, races from Indiana's Hoosier Park will also be featured.

The Meadowlands' Otten and Hoosier Park's Gabe Prewitt will provide analysis from their respective venues.

Here is the schedule for the FOX Sports shows, with the event(s) that will be featured and the time the show will be broadcast. Which FOX network the show can be found on – Fox 5 New York (locally), FS1 or FS2 – will be determined:

- May 17 – Cutler Memorial, 8-11 p.m., FS2
- June 28 – Perfect Sting, Brower Memorial, Crawford Farms, Six Pack, 8-11 p.m., TBA
- July 5 – Stan Bergstein Graduate finals; Meadowlands Pace eliminations, 8-11 p.m., TBA
- July 12 – Meadowlands Pace Night (multiple stakes), 8-11 p.m., TBA
- Aug. 2 – Hambletonian Day (multiple stakes), 1-7 p.m., TBA
- Sept. 5 – New Jersey Classic Series finals, 8-11 p.m., TBA
- Nov. 1 – Kindergarten finals, 8-11 p.m., TBA
- Nov. 15 – Fall Final Four, 8-11 p.m., TBA

GET YOUR PENCILS READY: The fifth edition of the 2025 Meadowlands Monthly Handicapping Contest takes place on tonight (May 16), and for visitors to The Big M, playing the contest is something they should consider even if they have not participated in competitions like this before.

The monthly challenge offers $1,000 in cash prizes.

If a track visitor is someone that doesn't mind risking $100 during the course of a race card, then the contest is for them, as that $100 that gets them into the contest is not an entry fee, but money that buys one a 'betting card'. If they hit big that night, they keep every penny of that green. In addition, if they finish in the top four, they walk away with that additional prize money, and, if in the top two, collect not only prize money but also earn a spot in the end-of-the-year competition that offers cash prizes totaling $10,000.

Contest format:

- Contestants must be on-site to participate
- Contestants must buy a $100 betting card to participate
- Contestants must bet a minimum of five Meadowlands races

- There is no minimum or maximum bet per race
- Contestants can play any wager(s) on The Meadowlands live wagering menu
- Contestants keep all pari-mutuel winnings
- Contestants can enter as many times as they wish
- The top two finishers earn spots in the $10,000 end-of-the-year contest

Remaining contest schedule:

- Tonight (May 16)
- Friday (June 20)
- July 18
- Aug. 30
- Oct. 25
- Nov. 21
- The $10,000 invitation-only final is on Dec. 13

Players that have qualified for the December contest are Nick Montemurro and Gary Scogna (the top two finishers from January); Michael Grasso and Montemurro (February); Sean Loeb and Joe Barre (March); and Robert Glaser and Jim Bohnarczyk (April).

Complete contest rules and regulations can be found here.

To participate, players must be 18 years of age or older to wager on racing. If you or someone you know has a gambling problem, please get help at 1-800-GAMBLER.

Bath Bomb, Women Layer Sweep KYSS at Oak Grove

Favorites Bath Bomb and Women Layer successfully scored sweeps of the Kentucky Sire Stakes (KYSS) series with wins in their respective $100,000 finals on the Sunday (May 11) card at Oak Grove, which featured four $100,000 KYSS finals for 4-year-olds.

Bath Bomb (driven by Andy McCarthy) opened the 13-race card with a powerful 1:49.4 lifetime-best win as the 1-4 chalk in the final for 4-year-old pacing mares. McCarthy circled the favorite to the point after a :26 first quarter set by Asweetbeachhere (Todd McCarthy) and carried her speed through the remainder. She clocked a :54.3 half and 1:23 three-quarters and held firm in a final-quarter sprint to stave off the pocket pop of Asweetbeachhere by a half-length while Peace Talks (Dexter Dunn) gave chase and settled for third. Capytreach (Peter Wrenn) finished seven lengths farther back in fourth.

A daughter of Lather Up, Bath Bomb won her seventh race from 19 starts and has now earned $219,360 for owner Morrison Racing Stables. Per Engblom trains the $2.66 winner.

Later in the card, Women Layer (Todd McCarthy) persevered from post 8 to clock a virtually pillar-to-post win in the final for 4-year-old pacing males. Women Layer crossed to the point through a :26.1 first quarter to pocket stablemate Lou Hill (Dexter Dunn), who followed intently from the pocket through middle fractions of :54.1 and 1:21.3. Women Layer drifted off the bottom corner but maintained his advantage upon straightening, even while Lou Hill mustered a rally in late stretch, to win by a length in 1:49.2, a lifetime best. Better Is Nice (Andy McCarthy) gave chase in third and Copperfield (Marcus Miller) closed for fourth.

Virgil Morgan, Jr. trains Women Layer, a gelding by Sweet Lou, for owners Let It Ride Stables, Douglas Overhiser, Jeff Fought Racing and Larry Wills. He won his 15th race from 24 starts, has now earned $486,079 and paid $4.10 to win.

Woman Of Passion (Todd McCarthy), denied a series sweep by a neck loss in the first preliminary, crushed her competition in the final for 4-year-old trotting mares with a 1:53.4 romp. McCarthy grabbed the top with Woman Of Passion past a :27 first quarter and coasted through a :56.4 half and 1:25.1 three-quarters while Spy Coast (Dexter Dunn) attempted an attack from first-over. But Woman Of Passion gradually drew away through the final turn and sailed through the stretch to win by 5¼ lengths while Black Velvet As (Tony Hall) rallied from second over for second. Spy Coast settled for third and Pisco Sour (Andy McCarthy) completed the superfecta.

Carter Pinske trains Woman Of Passion, a homebred daughter of Walner for Al Libfeld. She won her 13th race from 27 starts, has now earned $414,499 and paid $2.92 to win.

Ways N Means (Andy McCarthy) pulled the lone upset of the four KYSS finals with an 8-1 victory in the final for 4-year-old trotting males. McCarthy elected to climb into the action first up, settling in sixth through a :27.1 first quarter while 9-5 second choice Bargain (Dexter Dunn) swooped forward to the lead. Bargain took over control to a :56.4 half as Ways N Means inched along the rim to the backside and drew to within a length of the lead nearing three-quarters in 1:26. Once drawing to equal terms with Bargain, Ways N Means zipped forward and scooted away in the stretch drive to register a 2¼-length win in 1:53.4 chased by Ordained (Trace Tetrick), who followed the winner's cover for second. Bargain faded to third and Mister Dad (Todd McCarthy) took fourth.

A gelding by Muscle Mass trained by Paula Wellwood, Ways N Means won his seventh race from 28 starts and has now earned $239,328 for owners Dreamvill Stable and Harbor Racing Stable LLC. He returned $18.40 to win.

Blais trainees sweep Saturday's SBOA Stakes eliminations

A pair of Luc Blais trainees swept the $25,000 SBOA Stakes eliminations for the 3-year-old open trot division at Woodbine Mohawk Park on an action-packed Saturday (May 10).

Louis-Philippe Roy drove the Determination-owned Day and Lookatmegoamigo to victories in their respective eliminations, with the top five finishers from each race also advancing to the divisional stakes final scheduled for Saturday (May 17).

Day lowered his lifetime mark to 1:54.1 in his season's debut, trotting home in :26.4 off final-turn cover to prevail by less than a length over fellow closer Galen Erso (Doug McNair), Cousin Halifax (Travis Cullen) and Artful Dodger (James MacDonald). Fast Snap (Paul Davies) edged out two others for the last spot in the final, including 3-2 favorite Rising Interest (Tyler Borth), who was parked through most of a :57.1 half before landing on top as the race's third leader through three-quarters in 1:26.3 then giving it up as he drifted across the track down the stretch.

Day, a smart homebred son of Wheeling N Dealin out of Ontario Sires Stakes divisional champion On A Sunny Day, was a Grassroots winner during his six-start rookie season.

Sent postward as the 8-1 fourth choice, Day returned $18 for the mild upset.

Making his second seasonal start, Lookatmegoamigo also took a new career mark of 1:54.2 as he completed the sweep of the eliminations for his stable. Roy looped the early :28.4 leader then found himself back in the pocket when 6-5 favorite Getthegreen (James MacDonald) took over for middle splits of :57.2 and 1:26.1, but Lookatmegoamigo collared that rival in deep stretch to win by three-quarters of a length. Chicago Hall (Jody Jamieson) advanced from the backfield to finish third, three lengths back, while first-quarter leader Call Me Parker (Tyler Borth) finished fourth and Flanagan Sunshine (Phil Hudon) completed the top five in the field with one breaker and a scratch.

A multiple stakes-placed and six-figure earning 2-year-old, the talented but "tricky" Muscle Mass—Lady Bling colt has now won two of his 12 career starts.

Lookatmegoamigo returned $10.50 to win as the 4-1 third choice.

MONALISHI WINS IN SBOA ELIMINATIONS: O'Brien Award-winning trotting filly Monalishi made a successful sophomore debut during the first set of SBOA Stakes eliminations on Friday (May 9) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Three-year-old trotting fillies faced off in a pair of $25,000 eliminations with Monalishi and Green Glider headlining their respective fields in matching 1:54.3 miles. The top five finishers from each elimination will move on to their divisional stakes final on Saturday (May 17).

Parked through a :28.2 opening quarter, driver James MacDonald moved 1-9 favorite Monalishi in front just past three-eighths and set middle splits of :57 and 1:27 with her lead expanding to four lengths when early leader Bright Green (Louis-Philippe Roy) broke stride in the pocket on the final turn. The reigning divisional champion kept well ahead of her pursuers as she kicked home in :27.2 to seal the deal with the earplugs still in. Sprite Seelster (Tyler Borth) finished second, gaining ground late but still 1¾ lengths behind the 1:54.3 winner, while Roxie Hart (Trevor Henry) closed for third. Nightingale (Chris Christoforou) and Not Passable (Jody Jamieson) rounded out the top five.

Trainer Blake MacIntosh and Tim Klemencic co-own the Green Manalishi S—Pretty Phylly G filly, who won six of 10 starts during her award-winning rookie season, including the Peaceful Way Stakes, and earned $562,811.

Primed for her sophomore campaign with three qualifying miles and a newfound calm demeanor, Monalishi was sent postward as the 1-9 overwhelming favorite and paid $2.20 to win.

In the other elimination, Green Glider swooped the group at odds of 6-1, bursting onto the scene in deep stretch with a :27 final-quarter sprint from the backfield in rein to Trevor Henry. After trailing the field of seven through opening panels of :27.1 and :57, Henry had Green Glider in play third-over while the field headed to three-quarters in 1:26.3. As 3-5 favorite Lil Sweet (Doug McNair), last year's Ontario Sires Stakes Super Final champ, wore down pacesetter Incantation (Garrett Rooney) in the stretch, Green Glider was cut loose and swept to victory in 1:54.3 by 1½ lengths with Exquisite Taste (Roy) closing to her inside and Lil Sweet following in third. Tellers Choice (Tyler Jones) and Stormont Beautiful (Bob McClure) also advanced to the final.

Scott McEneny trains the Green Manalishi S—Magical Glider filly, an Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots consolation winner at 2 who has shown marked development in a pair of sophomore starts after wintering in Florida. She earned her third career win and has now banked $54,508 from 10 starts for owner Andrea Lea Racingstables Inc.

Green Glider returned $14.60 for the mild upset.

Captain Fear Not, Calicojack Hanover win Juravinski eliminations

Two $35,000 eliminations for the 2025 Charles Juravinski Memorial Cup headlined the Sunday (May 11) card at Flamboro Downs, with Captain Fear Not and Calicojack Hanover delivering upsets to punch their tickets to next week's $247,500 final.

Twelve top 4-year-old pacers squared off for a spot in Flamboro's signature event, formerly known as the Confederation Cup. The race was renamed in 2022 to honor the late Charles Juravinski, the track's co-founder and Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Famer. The top four finishers from each elimination will advance to the final, along with one fifth-place finisher drawn by lot.

In the first elimination, Sweet Beach Life (James MacDonald) showed early speed and led through a :27 opening quarter before yielding to Arbitrage Hanover (Tyler Borth), who led through a :55 half. Captain Fear Not and driver Jody Jamieson launched a first-over bid from third, with even-money favorite Clever Cody (Louis-Philippe Roy) picking up cover through three-quarters in 1:23.1. Captain Fear Not surged in the stretch to open up by 2¼ lengths and score in a new lifetime mark of 1:51.1, returning $33.70 to win. Clever Cody finished second, with Lous World (Bob McClure) rounding out the top three. Chain Gang (Trevor Henry) was fourth and Sweet Beach Life took fifth place.

Captain Fear Not, a 4-year-old gelded son of Captain Crunch out of Mikayla Rose, is trained by Paul Reid for Kathe Troy of Campbellville, ON. The win was his fifth lifetime and first of 2025, boosting his seasonal earnings to $20,380 and career bankroll to $181,212.

The second elimination proved even faster. Calicojack Hanover and driver Roy blasted off the gate, but Captain Luke (Scott Zeron) took command before yielding to 7-5 favorite Howlenthedhills (Travis Cullen). Fractions of :26.2 and :54.4 set the stage for a big stretch duel. Calicojack Hanover came first over with Timeisonmyside (MacDonald) tracking his cover through three-quarters in 1:22.4. In the lane, Calicojack Hanover dug in to outbattle the favorite and win in a career-best 1:50.2 by 1¼ lengths, returning $15.20. Howlenthedhills held second while Captain Luke was third. Timeisonmyside was fourth and Storm Shadow (McClure) took fifth.

A 4-year-old son of Captaintreacherous out of Charisma Hanover, Calicojack Hanover is trained by Luc Blais for Determination of Montreal, QC. The victory was his first of 2025 and sixth overall, pushing his career earnings to $211,181.

The field for the 2025 Charles Juravinski Memorial Cup was drawn after the elims on Sunday and is as follows:

Post — Horse — Listed Driver — Trainer

1. Storm Shadow — Bob McClure — Dr. Ian Moore
2. Lous World — Bob McClure — Garry Merner
3. Captain Fear Not — Jody Jamieson — Paul Reid
4. Calicojack Hanover — Louis-Philippe Roy — Luc Blais
5. Howlenthedhills — Travis Cullen — Travis Alexander
6. Chain Gang — Trevor Henry — Nick Gallucci
7. Captain Luke — Scott Zeron — Andrew Harris
8. Timeisonmyside — James MacDonald — Harry Poulton
9. Clever Cody — Louis-Philippe Roy — Dr. Ian Moore
- AE1. Sweet Beach Life — James MacDonald — Travis Alexander
- AE2. Arbitrage Hanover — Tyler Borth — Kyle Fellows

Steve Wetzel, 2021 'Own a Horse for a Day' contest winner, is now leading trainer at Shenandoah Downs

Former VHHA "Own a Horse for a Day" promotional contest winner and local resident Steve Wetzel — now an actual harness owner and trainer — won four races at Shenandoah Downs over the weekend to soar to the top of the trainer standings.

Wetzel entered the weekend with four wins and followed up with a pair each day. On Saturday (May 10), he connected with Rocket Mac (1:54.2) and Sea Of Life, who triggered the fastest mile of the weekend, a 1:53.3 effort in the $10,000 featured winners over pace. On Sunday (May 11), he prevailed with Defriended (1:59.1) and D'Applesweet (1:56). After six race days, his win total stands at eight.

Wetzel was a cattle farmer in 2021 when he entered an "Own a Horse for a Day" promotion during a harness racing card at the Shenandoah County Fair. His name was drawn that day and he returned to participate in the contest race itself during Shenandoah Downs' opening weekend program two weeks later. Wetzel's contest horse finished first, good for a $2,000 payday, and from that point, he was all in on harness racing.

Wetzel purchased a farm within several miles of the track in Woodstock, learned about the sport in the coming months, began acquiring horses and even got his trainer's license. And now, he is leading trainer at his home track.

Bryon Dunning sits next with six wins including a pair he recorded over the weekend with Amna and Bettor Be Oscar A. Conditioners Tracy Bradshaw and Oscar Johnson both had three-win weekends to move into a tie for third place in the standings. The former scored with Choices Honor, Joan Deer, and Mr Big Check while the latter reached the winner's circle with Rock Of Angels, Rocket Party, and K J Messenger.

Twenty-two-year-old reinsman Christian Myers chocked up his first ever driving triple Saturday when he directed Rock Of Angels, Rocket Mac and Joan Deer to victory. He followed with a win aboard Rocket Party on Sunday and pulled into a third-place tie with his brother, 21-year-old Lucas Myers — who had a pair over the weekend — with six wins apiece. William Carter leads the way with nine wins and Fern Paquet, Jr. is second with seven.

Shenandoah Downs continues its spring season with cards this coming Saturday (May 17) at 3:05 p.m. and Sunday (May 18) at 1:05 p.m. The seven-week campaign continues through June 7. Details are at shenandoahdowns.com.

Louprint, Twisted Destiny at Pocono on Saturday

The Pennsylvania Sire Stakes and Stallion Series start their 2025 series of races at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania on Saturday afternoon (May 17), as $260,566 will be contested by the sport's "glamour division," the 3-year-old pacing males.

In the first of three divisions of the second preliminary of the Sire Stakes (race 5), last year's Dan Patch Award-winning freshman Louprint will be looking for his second straight 2025 victory after the son of Sweet Lou opened his season with a 1:49.3 sloppy track victory in a Sire Stakes contest at The Meadows two weeks ago. Ron Wrenn, Jr. will be driving Louprint, a winner of $758,499, from post 3 for trainer Ron Burke and the ownership of Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver Brussemi LLC, Phil Collura, and Lawrence Karr.

The major danger to the defending champion will be starting just inside him, the Bettor's Wish colt Twisted Destiny, who churned through the off going in 1:49.1 in another Sire Stakes division after returning with a 1:51.2 win at Philly. Dexter Dunn, Dan Patch Driver of the Year in five of the last six seasons, will guide Twisted Destiny, winner of his last six starts over 2024-25, for trainer Chris Ryder and the partnership of Let It Ride Stables Inc., Alberg Racing LLC, and Enviro Stables LTD.

The third Meadows Sire Stakes winner, Go Go Grasshopper (1:50 in his seasonal bow), headlines the race 10 division, with trainer Joe Bongiorno set to drive from post 2 for Let It Ride Stables Inc., Odds On Racing, and JB Racing. The "Grasshopper," another son of Sweet Lou, is flanked by Pennsylvania All-Stars winners, Lous Starr in post 1 and Railroad Station (who was second to Twisted Destiny in the first PASS leg) in post 3.

The other Sires cut (race 8) has no seasonal Pennsylvania stakes winners, although all six entrants have made the Superfecta in state stakes, and the rail horse, Papi's Rocket (last year's Sire Stakes champion) has come back with seconds in both Sire Stakes and All-Stars competition.

The second prelim of the Stallion Series competition also should be quite competitive, with the entrants accounting for four first round PA StS sections and the three All-Stars divisions that did not go to Sire Stakes entrants. In this respect, the seventh race may prove the highest-octane, with two Stallion Series winners and an All-Stars winner.

The Saturday card also includes a $25,000 pace for the fast-class veterans as part of a great 16-race card, which begins at 1 p.m. Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Sophomore fillies kick off Ohio Sires Stakes

Two Ohio freshman divisional winners will start the defense of their titles in the Ohio Sires Stakes opening leg tonight (May 16) at Eldorado Scioto Downs. Mocha Hill, the 2024 2-Year-Old Filly Trotter of the Year, will make her second seasonal appearance, while Odds On Hialeah, the previous Two-Year-Old Filly Pacer of the Year, will make her first start of the year.

There will be two $65,000 divisions each for filly trotters and pacers.

Mocha Hill and seven of her rivals will highlight the first filly trot division in race 1. Trained by Ron Burke, the daughter of What The Hill will look to redeem herself after a break in the James K. Hackett Memorial final. As the 4-1 third choice, Mocha Hill will leave from the seventh post position with Chris Page in the bike.

The 2-1 favorite, Mega Money, will leave directly inside Mocha Hill from post 6. The daughter of Triumphant Caviar is three-for-three this season with earnings of $49,750 and a mark of 1:55.2. Aaron Merriman will drive for Chris Beaver.

Another Triumphant Caviar filly trained by Beaver will aim to take the second division of sophomore trotters. Triumph Over You is the 2-1 favorite on the morning line. She has scored a first-, second-, and third-place finish in four seasonal starts, earning $28,152. Dan Noble will pilot Triumph Over You from post 4.

The 3-1 second choice is Rose Run Allison. This will be the second seasonal start for the daughter of Long Tom. Her previous effort earned her a fourth-place finish in the Hackett Memorial final. The Burke trainee will leave from post 3 with Page in the bike.

Seven 3-year-old filly pacers will go behind the gate with Odds On Hialeah as the 6-5 early favorite in the first division. It will be the first start of the year for Odds On Hialeah. Brett Miller will guide the daughter of Lather Up from post 7. She is trained by Virgil Morgan, Jr.

Rose Run Aimee will challenge from post 5 as the 3-1 second choice. The daughter of Racing Hill won her sole start of the year in 1:51.3. Noble will drive for James Ehrtam.

The Word Is Out is the 8-5 favorite in the second division. The Well Said filly won the Hackett Memorial final in 1:52.4, earning $38,750 seasonally under Burke's conditioning. Page will guide The Word Is Out from post 3.

Morgan will send Odds On Chesapeake to the gate as the 9-5 second choice. The daughter of Downbytheseaside clocked a qualifying time in 1:51.1 and proceeded to win her next start with lengths to spare. Noble will leave with Odds On Chesapeake from the second post position.

Today's first race post time at Eldorado Scioto Downs is 5:45 p.m.
