Three myths about modern racing

Breaking out of an established belief system is difficult. But we can't solve our problems with the same level of thinking that created them.

BRUSH AND CRUSH
by DEAN TOWERS

by Dean Towers

I had a fun time watching the Circles Off podcast last week. The popular pod, focused primarily on sports betting, branched into the world of pari-mutuel horse racing for the first time, via a Rob Pizzola interview with professional horseplayer Dennis Montoro.

While watching, I was struck by just how many of the criticisms we hear from those inside the sport of horse racing differ from those outside of it. In some cases, in fact, the reality can be the polar opposite when compared to the vernacular.

Please allow me to share but three.

MYTH 1 – HORSE RACING CAN NEVER COMPETE WITH SPORTS BETTING

Yes, examining this when considering pricing (takeout) alone, it might not be a myth, but outside of that, I think it absolutely is.

Host Rob Pizzola laid this case out beautifully in a question regarding what many in Generation Z are after – lots of action and betting a little to win a lot, like we see today in sports betting with “same game parlays.”

We, as a matter of course, can bet 20 cent supers that can pay 5000-1. We can parlay six races for $24 that can yield $100,000 in a Pick-6. We can do this almost 24/7 at tracks around the entire planet.

Selling this betting game to sports bettors who have signalled it's exactly what they're after seems to be an afterthought from racing's brain trust. Montoro believes the industry is not set up correctly to market this way, and he's probably right.

Regardless, giving sports bettors the avenues, ease of access and tools they can use to enjoy this pursuit is sorely needed, in my view.

MYTH 2 – NO ONE CARES ABOUT TAKEOUT

We've all heard a horse racing executive say, “I walk the grandstand and no one is talking about the takeout.”

Selling this [horse racing] betting game to sports bettors who have signalled it's exactly what they're after seems to be an afterthought from racing's brain trust. [Dennis] Montoro believes the industry is not set up correctly to market this way, and he's probably right.

In terms of cohort analysis this is like asking people standing in line for Dave Matthews tickets if they like Dave Matthews.

Sure, the lifer in the grandstand betting four-horse tri boxes into six-horse fields doesn't care about takeout, but for people trying to beat the game (and those the sport needs to attract to survive) it's everything.

Montoro explores this several times in the podcast, and frankly at this point I don't think it's even debatable. Computer Assisted Wagering teams only exist because the takeout is too high; Montoro's betting volume is directly correlated to the takeout rate. In fact, he notes he might not even be wagering millions a year into the betting pools without a rebate.

Even if we believe Montoro is completely out to lunch, how does anyone explain the massive popularity of carryover pools, which are in its simplest terms a takeout reduction?

This myth hangs on like a sloth in a tree, but if the business could ever kill it once and for all, I think only opportunity awaits.

MYTH 3 – THERE'S TOO MUCH TIME BETWEEN RACES

This is something we hear from racing insiders (and some fans), but once again, I think it comes from speaking with the wrong people.

Rob Pizzola noted this in a comment about how (during the few times) he's visited a racetrack it's not at all boring, because it's filled with "short-burst action." At the track we can watch a race live, but immediately bet another half-dozen races before the next race goes off simply by watching a television at our table.

This is a not dissimilar experience for thousands and thousands of people betting upwards of 95 per cent of the pool volume in North America. We can bet a race virtually every few minutes while at home on our ADWs, and as a player that plays three or four tracks at a time, I find there can be too little time between races not too much. Like many of us, I will often miss a post time, or am unable to create a proper ticket because I run out of time.

Like with the takeout myth, there is some truth to it (we can take a nap between races on Kentucky Derby Day) but it mainly applies to a slice of the customer base – for example, those visiting the track for a night out. I think it's great that the employees of Bill's Plumbing and Heating are at the track, but it's important to remember that they aren't firing into the Pick-5 carryover at Monticello tomorrow.

In the end, to whatever extent this is considered a problem, it's one for the customer service people to figure out. Fixing it by changing the entire post-time landscape in a multi-billion-dollar global betting business feels misguided.

Albert Einstein famously said, "We cannot solve our problems with the same level of thinking that created them."

Revisiting this sport's long-held beliefs is not a criticism or a gripe, nor is it something we should do behind the barn, or be scared to speak of. Challenging convention can springboard new levels of thinking, and that's when problems can be solved, doors can be opened, and things can get better.

Campbell broadcasting the Cutler makes for a classic combination

Hall of Famer John Campbell will make his America's Day at the Races debut on Saturday on Fox Sports 2.

by Debbie Little

As harness racing's all-time leading money-winning driver, John Campbell knows what it's like to comment on what happened in a race.

So, it should be old hat for him to talk about the field for Saturday's (May 18) Arthur J. Cutler Memorial at The Meadowlands, a race he won in 2004 (War Paint) and 2008 (Corleone Kosmos).

But this will be anything but the norm for Campbell when you consider the only driving he'll be doing is on the Long Island Expressway, and he'll be talking in a studio at Aqueduct Racetrack.

Campbell will make his debut this weekend on America's Day at the Races on Fox Sports 2 (FS2) from 9-11 p.m. The show, featuring the Cutler, is the first of nine from The Big M this year.

Campbell will be joining New York Racing Association (NYRA) host Acacia Clement and is filling in for primary analyst Paul Verderosa, who has a wedding to go to that night.

"So, I was trying to think of who can fill in for [Verderosa]," said Eric Donovan, NYRA's senior director of TV broadcast operations. "And I got to thinking and I said, 'Well, instead of someone filling in for him, why don't we go totally outside the box and think about something different, and the friendship I've developed with John over the last couple of years just came to mind."

"Any time you can have someone like John on, you're thrilled to have that opportunity. Just the experience and knowledge that he brings of what he's been able to do on the track, but also, his current role in the industry, in the game, is quite extensive and he's a big supporter of what we do and a big promoter of the game as well. So anytime you can get him on the show, it's a plus."

~ Eric Donovan

Donovan wasn’t sure if Campbell would be available or even interested in doing the show, but he thought it was worth taking a shot.

“I talked to him a few weeks ago and I met with him at Yonkers for the Borgata, and he was happy to do it,” Donovan said. “So, with him as the all-time leading money-earning driver, who won a ton of stakes, all the big stakes you could ever want to win, his knowledge of the game, and what his role is now, I thought he would be the perfect fit for the first show of the year.”

According to Campbell, this is not his first rodeo when it comes to being on that side of the mic.

“Yeah, I’ve commentated on races in the past at different times when I was hurt or if I wasn’t in a race or something like that,” Campbell said. “So, I’ve done something similar.”

In perhaps a fortuitous circumstance, Campbell met and spoke with Clement at the Dan Patch Awards in February.

“I had not met her prior to Dan Patch, but we were at the same table in Florida and, you know, it worked out really well,” Campbell said. “I’ve certainly admired her work, the stuff that she’s done as far as Breeders Crown shows. I thought the Breeders Crown shows have been excellent. And so, we know each other at this point and I think it will go well.”

And I just want it to continue on the way we’ve been going and growing with NYRA. I think it’s national exposure that is sorely needed for our sport.”

~ John Campbell

As president/chief executive officer of the Hambletonian Society, Campbell is well aware of the racing prowess of those competing in Saturday’s Cutler. However, just as he did when he was driving, he’ll be doing his homework before they hit the track.

“Yeah, you don’t want to go on there unprepared or just not know enough about the horses to have a valid opinion,” Campbell said. “You don’t want to go out there and wing it, especially on national television. And, you know, there’s a standard that our shows have achieved already and I certainly don’t want to let that standard down in any way.”

Campbell said he’ll wait to see how Saturday’s show goes before thinking about the possibility of doing anything in the future.

“I’m not a TV guy. I’d rather leave that to the professionals,” he said. “This was just a thing where Paul was unavailable and Eric asked me to fill in and so it’s not something I’m looking to pursue.”

It’s not unusual for NYRA to have horsepeople do commentary since they have used jockeys Richard Migliore and Rajiv Maragh, as well as trainer Tom Amoss, on their thoroughbred broadcasts.

LIVE COVERAGE ON FS2 FEATURING THE ARTHUR J. CUTLER MEMORIAL

Donovan said he would be more than happy to have Campbell join them on a future broadcast.

"I'd love to have him any time," Donovan said. "I know his schedule is going to be busy, and certainly for the Hambletonian and Breeders Crown I would expect that that's not an option for him, but certainly we'll leave it open for other former or even current drivers and trainers. I mean, Tom Amoss still trains horses. He's pretty active throughout the year and he's still able to do the show with us up in Saratoga. So, certainly we would consider it."

For the Meadowlands Pace (July 13) and the Hambletonian (Aug. 3) the NYRA crew will be at Saratoga, but in October when the Breeders Crown is back at The Meadowlands (Oct. 25-26, finals), Donovan's team will be based back at Aqueduct.

Donovan said, if possible, he would like to be on track and have a set at The Big M for the Crown.

"It's not finalized yet, but that's something I'd really like to do, and I think, since it's at The Meadowlands, it would be pretty easy for us to set up," Donovan said.

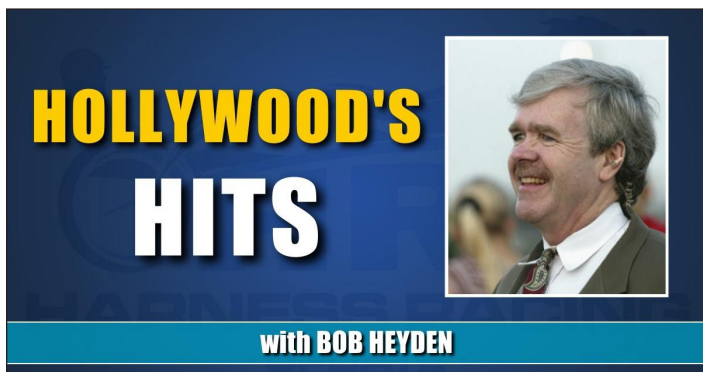

Campbell said he does hope that people will continue to watch the Fox broadcasts because it's good for the harness racing industry and he was extremely humble when asked if he thought his presence might draw in a few more viewers this weekend.

"Well, I don't know if [my presence is] going to help or not, but... I am looking forward to it and I'm excited about it and I think it will all work out quite well," Campbell said. "I just want to see [the Fox shows] continue. I think they've grown since they started and certainly the enthusiasm from the NYRA people – Eric Donovan and his folks producing them – has been excellent. And I just want it to continue on the way we've been going and growing with NYRA. I think it's national exposure that is sorely needed for our sport."

Celebrating the 26 previous editions of the Cutler Memorial with 26 fun facts

by Bob Heyden

Before they take to the track for the 27th edition of the Arthur J. Cutler Memorial on Saturday (May 18) at The Meadowlands, here are 26 fun facts about the race's first 26 editions:

1. Twice Ake Svanstedt has set the Cutler stakes mark. In 2014 with Sebastian K in 1:50.2 in Svanstedt's debut and then again in 2022 with Ecurie D (born in Denmark) in 1:49.1 which equaled The Meadowlands all-age record.
2. Svanstedt is the only trainer/driver to win the Cutler having four to his credit: the aforementioned pair and Resolve twice in 2016-17. He was the last driver or trainer to win back-to-back. Both Earl Cruise (2000-01, Magician) and Trond Smedshammer (2006-07, Sand Vic) had done it previously.
3. Muscle Hill has three Cutler credits and Hambletonian champs have sired seven of the 26 Cutler winners.
4. The last two winning sires in the Cutler were Infinitif (Ecurie D) and Love You (Venerate).
5. In 2009, Lucky Jim won the Cutler and became the first ever Meadowlands winner of 10-straight races locally (trotters).
6. The very first winner of the Cutler in 1998 was B Cor Pete, a returnee from the Amish.
7. Once, just once, a father-daughter combination each won the Cutler. Kadabra won in 2003 and Bee A Magician in 2015.
8. The 2002 Cutler Memorial runner-up was Pegasus Spur who was also the Hambletonian runner-up the year before. Oddly, Pegasus Spur never won a race at The Meadowlands but earned well over 400G locally.
9. Dave Miller's very first stakes winner in New Jersey came with Magician in the 1999 Cashman. Miller then won the Cutler back-to-back with Earl Cruise's Magician in 2000-01.

10. The fastest Cutler opening quarter was :25.4 in 2020 as Manchego was getting the lead in a race where her arch rival Atlanta would wind up besting her by a half-length in a new stakes-best 1:50.1 on July 4. That date was moved back due to COVID-19.

11. Walter "Junior" Haynes was second in 2021 to Manchego with Majestic Player A, an Australian bred. Haynes is Indiana based.

12. Speaking of Indiana, 2021 Hoosier freshman star Dover In Motion, now 5, was one of the 17 that had paid in to the Cutler as of March 15, 2024.

13. In 1997, the year Arthur Cutler passed, his Cyclone Annie won a New Jersey Sire Stakes race just prior to his passing. A year later, this horse-lover supreme had a race named in his honor which brought together the very best free for all trotters.

14. There was just a seven-horse field in 2016 Cutler, won by Resolve, but The Meadowlands track-record holder (1:49.4 from 2015) J L Cruze was one of them. Incredibly, the 13YO is still at it.

15) Females won it 4 times from 2015-2021-in the other three editions in that period of time there were no ladies entered.

16. Buck I St Pat was second in the 2011 Cutler. She was the three-time defending "Trotting Mare of the Year." She competed for Team Burke, who were also second last year with yet another Dan Patch winner It's Academic.

17. Brian Sears is a seven-time winner of the Cutler.

18. Trond Smedshammer won the Cutler back-to-back in 2006-07 with Sand Vic and was later second back-to-back with Arch Madness, who at $4.3 million was the richest ever Cutler performer. Arch Madness did capture the 2010 edition.

19. Cruzado Dela Noche, an also-ran in the 2015 Hambletonian, in 2019 had not raced since the previous November but still got it done at 8-1 for that same year's Hambletonian favorite duo of Sears/Marcus Melander (Greenshoe). That year they went 1 and 1/8th miles in the Cutler in 2:07.3.

20. Cuatro De Julio was timed in 1:49.2 a strong pace-setting second in the 2022 edition. A temperature of 86 degrees sure helped. Easily the best time for any non-Cutler winner.

21. In 2000, Fern was eighth as the very first female to tackle the boys in the Cutler.

22. Mystical Sunshine, the first female to get money in the Cutler, was fifth for Chris Ryder in 2006. She would win consecutive Breeders Crowns.

23. May I? Nobody anywhere has ever trotted faster in May than Ecurie D's 1:49.1 mile in the 2022 Cutler.

24. Sevruga in 2013 held on for Team Miller in no doubt the most thrilling finish in Cutler history. Guccio was in that photo, not unlike the year prior when he was a foot back of Market Share in the last of the $1,500,000 Hambletonians. Modern Family also right there.

25. Three geldings, likely the three best of the 21st century, were all factors in the Cutler with approximately $11.5 million in combined earnings: Mr Muscleman, Magician and Arch Madness.

26. The first Swedes to show the way in the Cutler were Berndt Lindstedt and Jan Johnson in 1999 taking edition No. 2 with Kick Tail.

Stakes season ramps up as big names come out to play

by Brett Sturman

Spanning today (May 17) through Sunday, the harness racing landscape is full of returning notables and signature races as stakes season continues to ramp up. Here is a preview of how I see things starting to take form in what promises to be the start of many rivalries throughout the season.

Things get underway this afternoon at The Meadows where two of the best 2-year-old fillies from last year make their return to the races, divisional champion Geocentric and Breeders Crown champion My Girl EJ race in separate splits of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes (PASS).

Geocentric goes in race 8, the first of three consecutive PASS events on the card and those return qualifiers over at Hoosier look sharp on paper. Qualifying twice for trainer Brian Brown, the most recent one from last week included a :25.3 final quarter in a final time of 1:51.4.

Untouchable for most of last year's freshman season, she was used hard through an unsustainable half-mile time of :54 flat in the Breeders Crown and gave way in her only defeat of the year; anxious to see how she kicks off her 3-year-old campaign. In the same race, it'll be interesting to see how hard Geocentric gets pushed by Miraculous Deo, another filly making her first start of the year off two return qualifiers. This one for trainer Noel Daley, overachieved in the Three Diamonds to close out last year and it's worth noting that she outkicked pocket sitting My Girl EJ in that most recent qualifier at The Meadowslands. Good race coming right out of the gate for these.

Speaking of My Girl EJ, she's in the race immediately following the one from above and is another that begins what hopes to be a prosperous season. A monstrous 1:49.2 winner from last year's Breeders Crown, there wasn't anything wrong with either of her two return qualifiers, the most recent of which came over a track rated 'good' at The Meadowslands when she kicked home in :26.2. Sarasota Hanover was another one that showed talent last year prepped three times for her return for the connections of Toscano and Zeron. She may try to protect her post edge a bit over the favorite as a long season for these starts now.

Just as the divisional and Breeders Crown champion fillies return today in Pennsylvania, it's almost an identical return for the colts on Saturday (May 18). There, both Captain Albano and Gem Quality make their first and second starts of the year, respectively, in PASS competition at Pocono.

Like Geocentric, Captain Albano lost in his Breeders Crown but did enough throughout the rest of his 2-year-old season to win a Dan Patch and now returns off two qualifiers at The Meadowlands. He does draw into a relatively salty PASS division and may be at a slight disadvantage in that all other rivals in this race have had at least one start under their belt this year. That includes Booming Economy who won a PASS race two weeks ago in his first start since last year's Governor's Cup final, as well as Ivy Park, who won first-out on the year and paid nearly $20 as a rare Takter overlay. It's Saturday Night looked like he was well on his way to a win last out in a PASS race at The Meadows when he broke after ripping out of the pocket on a sloppy-rated track, it's back to Dunn now.

Of course, Dunn is also on Gem Quality a few races later and that duo followed last year's Breeders Crown upset win with a comfortable return last week in a PA All Stars division. He steps up from that race and could see a test from Number Cruncher who makes his third start back on the year and comes off a lifetime best 1:50.3 win at The Meadowlands. Timeisonmyside tried to take similar competition all the way two back and tired late in the off going; gets another shot at Gem Quality to whom he finished second last out.

Things get underway this afternoon (May 17) at The Meadows where two of the best 2-year-old fillies from last year make their return to the races, divisional champion Geocentric and Breeders Crown champion My Girl EJ race in separate splits of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes.

Shifting to Canada, though not a stakes race, tonight's preferred at Woodbine Mohawk Park features older pacing fillies who could be battling it out for divisional supremacy as the year goes on. Freshman and sophomore champion Sylvia Hanover makes her debut as a 4-year-old, having last raced while winning the Breeders Crown in October. She'll get an early taste for the older mare competition that includes a couple of the best ones from last year, Silver Label and Prohibition Legal, both of whom returned last week and have a start under their belt.

In New Jersey, all eyes will be on races 10 and 11 at The Meadowlands on Saturday evening, as that's where we'll see Karl in another leg of the New Jersey Sires Stakes, followed by the Cutler Memorial.

Just wondering as an obvious hypothetical, what if things were switched up a bit and they threw Karl instead in the Cutler – could he win? Karl could potentially race against the Cutler types at the end of the season in the TVG, but I wonder right now at this point in the year if he could win that race. Another question to consider is that if Karl continues to win in the fashion he did in return last week, what impact could that have on the number of Hambletonian starters this year?

There are many familiar names coming together for the $145,150 Cutler, including last year's older female trotting champion, Jiggy Jog S. One of the three powerful entrants from Svanstedt – any of which could win – she's well accustomed to racing against male rivals. Having not been worse than second in any race last year, she raced well in that return qualifier to steadily close late from the pocket against Winners Bet with a last quarter sprint in :26.1. Barn mate Southwind Tyrion made a late season push for divisional honors last year and was a little further back in that same qualifier; had no shot to close into the slow pace. Asteroid completes the entries from Svanstedt and maybe didn't turn out as strong as it was thought he'd be last year, though only had six limited starts.

An intriguing horse in the race is Periculum whose trainer Melander campaigned here as a 2- and 3-year-old, and was a Hambletonian finalist in 2022. Having raced in Sweden last year with limited success, he returned here at The Meadowlands with a fast qualifier in April and then absolutely jogged last out at Pocono; he may be up to the task. Dover In Motion, Hillextotic and Venerate have all been here before but I'd rate as longer chances; same goes for Delayed Hanover.

The signature race for 4-year-old pacers at Flamboro Downs takes place on Sunday (May 19), and the $263,000 Charles

In New Jersey, all eyes will be on races 10 and 11 at The Meadowlands on Saturday evening, as that's where we'll see Karl in another leg of the New Jersey Sires Stakes, followed by the Cutler Memorial.

Juravinski Memorial Cup has produced some good winners in recent years. This year's final is full of the top-caliber sophomores from last year, and my pick in a wide-open event would lean towards Seven Colors.

Perhaps an easy pick because he drew the rail, Seven Colors recovered well from an early break in his elimination to even make the final, and credit to driver Henry for not panicking when he was down at least 10 lengths at the start. He was well bet that night having gone off as the slight 3-2 second choice off a 6-1 morning line and I still remember his 1:48 mile over Northfield last year; picks up Dunn to boot.

All Class is one of two Engblom trainees and he was impressive in pushing past Ervin Hanover in their elimination last week in a multiple move effort. Those two horses had the race to themselves late and credit to Ervin Hanover for nearly sustaining through fast fractions after blasting early; post 8 for him now is brutal though. No Control was the winner of the other elimination, having put away a longshot leader while racing first over and not allowing anyone from the back to get within a few lengths at the end. The mid-pack post will give Roy some options. Coach Stefanos couldn't quicken once he lost the cover of No Control as the 3-5 favorite and had to settle for third. Both Huntinthelastdolar and Dupree Hanover were moving forward late while wide in that same elimination.

PERSPECTIVE

Cole Olsen answered the call to get his first driving win

by Chris Lomon

The story behind Cole Olsen's first career driving win is right out of a Hollywood script.

It is by no means a stretch to say the then 17-year-old reinsman felt like he had hit the jackpot on Sept. 3, 2020 at Shenandoah Downs.

Seemingly done for the day, Olsen had shed his driving colors and was ready to head home just before the final race on the card.

And then came a request from driver/trainer William Carter.

"Billy was hurt the race before and needed someone to drive his horse in the last," said Olsen.

The Maryland-based Olsen had arrived at the Virginia track with seven qualifying starts at Ocean Downs.

His goal was to have at least a handful of drives over the three-day meet to hit 12, which would be enough for him to receive a provisional license when he turned 18 the next month.

Olsen would achieve that goal with a little icing on the cake.

In rein to LL Jackpot, a pacing daughter of Philos Hanover—Wygant Rose who had gone nearly four years without a win, Olsen, who had warmed up the bay mare in the past, lined up behind the starter car for the four-horse dash.

Third at the quarter and rolling before the half, the pair found themselves embroiled in a tete-a-tete with a stubborn rival down the lane.

Another hopeful came calling late as the trio crossed the wire inches apart.

"It was so tight, and I didn't know if I had won," said Olsen.

But he had, by a nose.

"My father [trainer Darren Olsen] and grandfather were there," Cole said. "It just felt so huge to get my first driving win. I hadn't been driving long at all. I had just started that summer qualifying some horses, so to get that win, especially with how things unfolded, was a great feeling."

Cole's good fortunes did not end there.

He's recorded nearly 70 driving wins since then and 15 more as a trainer.

His best year, win-wise, was 2022, when he posted 27 victories. The following year, he recorded a career-best $207,892 in earnings.

“The more you are out there [driving], the more you are going to learn. I have also been getting more horses and better horses to drive. I think the combination of all that has led to more success each year. When the horses are racing well, it leads to confidence in the race bike... When you are at ease, you tend to drive better.”

~ Cole Olsen

“The more you are out there, the more you are going to learn,” Cole said. “I have also been getting more horses and better horses to drive. I think the combination of all that has led to more success each year.

“When the horses are racing well, it leads to confidence in the race bike. You aren’t on edge. You are out there just driving horses in a very relaxed and confident way. When you are at ease, you tend to drive better.”

A finance major at Maryland’s Salisbury University, Cole, who recently completed his junior year, isn’t just committed to his studies in the classroom.

Now 21, he’s very much a student of horse racing too.

“Mainly, I want to make the right decisions,” Cole said. “If I feel I didn’t drive to the best of my abilities, I like to watch the replays and see what I could have done differently. That helps me going forward because if I find myself in a similar situation again, I’ll know how to approach it.”

Are there any similarities between school and standardbreds?

“The biggest one would be that you have to put your mind into both for you to succeed,” Cole said. “You can’t go through the motions and expect to do well in either.”

One of the biggest lessons Cole has taken away from his time in the sulky is the ability to adapt and call an audible at certain times during a race.

“You can have a mindset, a plan of what you want to do, but ultimately, when that gate folds, anything can happen,” he said.

“Your plans can change instantly. Not everything goes to plan. Usually, it doesn’t, so you have to make adjustments on the fly.

“You also need to drive each horse as an individual. The goal is to always give each horse the trip that it needs to succeed.”

As for goals, there is a particular track Cole would jump at the chance to compete at.

“I’d love to get a chance to drive at The Meadowlands,” he said. “We have raced there once before, but it was for the amateur races. I think it would be an awesome experience and I would love to win a race there.”

Cole, who lists Tim Tetrick, Dexter Dunn, and Yannick Gingras as his favorite drivers, would also appreciate the opportunity to get back to Dover Downs.

One of his most memorable highlights came at the Delaware oval.

The victory came with Black Hope, a trotting son of Bar Hopping—Blacksirenpedia, trained and owned by his father.

“Earlier this year, I won an open handicap trot at Dover with Black Hope,” Cole said. “It was my first time driving there. He’s won the open for us twice and I’d like to get him back there and do it again. We got him last fall and he’s been sensational for us. He’s a great horse to drive.”

As is Volley Ball Beach.

Also trained and owned by Darren, the 8-year-old son of Somebeachsomewhere—Alladorable came to the barn in March 2021.

The bay, who has 34 wins and nearly $275,000 in purse earnings, has been as consistent as they come for father and son.

“My barn favorite would be Volley Ball Beach, who we have had for a few years,” Cole said. “I’ve won countless times with him, and he’s been great to us from the moment we got him.”

Having those successes with his father is deeply meaningful for Cole.

“There is nobody else I’d rather do this with and have by my side,” he said. “He’s been a huge supporter of mine every step of the way.

“We have a couple of new horses, and I would like to get them to the winner’s circle a few times this year.”

And if the call ever comes, the one asking him to step in and take the reins with little notice, Cole will be ready to answer the call.

It’s a scenario he’s quite familiar with.

“That first win will always stay with me,” Cole said. “It was a unique moment. I’m just happy it worked out well for everyone.”

The power of a horseplayer's least-common denominator, Part 1

by Frank Cotolo

The members of my so-called league of gentleman handicappers comprised a think tank of knowledge documented in a huge library of theories built from the laws of probability. Each book was a jewel of expertise featuring diagrams for success.

However...

The entirety of their published texts left me inundated.

Then somewhere along the line I realized each one of the talented logicians praised the values of the others' calculations (the type of respect intellectuals are known to present) but individually each gentleman rarely approached their personal pari-mutuel wagering activity outside of their own frameworks.

This left me – one of their strongest enthusiasts – with a dire problem: What elements did all of their methods have in common? How could I sensationalize upon such elements without passing an entrance exam for admission to Harvard?

The solution did not come quickly. I needed time to evaluate the guts of it all and discover a common denominator to apply sophisticated math to my comic-by-comparison means of playing pari-mutuels and feel confident I could legally take money from other players.

I ruminated while keeping busy with my writing career.

When I was not on the road with the Wolfman or in recording or broadcast studios or on TV and movie sets with him, I sat in my Hollywood apartment pounding my IBM electric typewriter keys smoking cigarettes and weed and drinking pots of strong expensive dark coffee. Any risk of busting brain cells (not that I could do that kind of math) did not stop me from adding another activity when the Los Alamitos harness meet opened. After all of the thoroughbred academia injected into my noggin' I yearned to be ambling at the track in the company of harness racing's west coast characters.

I brought my weary muscles and healthy betting bankroll to a fresh Los Al harness meet. My mind and body felt most comfortable playing harness racing but this time my mind was asked to work harder on the challenge of finding the common denominator; this was a do-or-die task. It demanded cooperation between my brain and brawn. Lifestyle was on the line. Was I to survive the intensity of the new academics for financial success while jeopardizing my lucrative career in the entertainment business (no less any form of social life)? The main question narrowed to this: Would I discover how to do something I was incapable of doing? And at the same time disassemble my career?

It was a gamble.

Armed with the human mechanics of youth, I marched up and down the Los Al apron for as many night harness programs as I could fit into a seven-day-a-week work schedule without total body collapse.

The mainstay Los Al driver and trainer characters remained pertinent to my usual betting efforts. I loved them all more than any thoroughbred jockeys. A few of them would unknowingly play major roles in my common-denominator enlightenment.

So would Barry Meadow.

Of all the league's gentlemen handicappers I would see more of Barry Meadow because he was still the harness guy (later he would switch to playing only thoroughbreds due to the miserable state of harness racing in California). He was always in his clubhouse box or at the betting windows at Los Al. I visited him only now and again because I respected the fact that he was there every evening working at making a living; the last thing he needed was a visitor as talented as I in the art of distraction. And I was not even the worse of that kind. A racetrack is lousy with distractors.

As important as my challenge became, I was aware racetracks were no places to learn the courteous expressions of regard. Even though Barry was a wizard at absorbing rapid numbers changing in the win and place and show pools and values of exacta combinations demanding he play or pass I kept to myself a lot. Others thought nothing of cavorting with anyone they knew or did not know.

For instance...

There was one regular fellow moving from apron to boxes and through the clubhouse and maybe even skipping around the parking lot who touted specific combinations without requests to do so.

“Two six, nothing else,” he shouted before a race. “Three five, that’s all” before another race and “Seven one,” and on and on he sent his messages that no player I knew ever received as valuable.

And there were always the lonesome players in need of conversations about handicapping efforts with anyone else.

“Who do you like?” one fellow said to me.

“The six.”

“Me too.” And his explanation followed, testing your patience.

Or the kinds searching for conflict.

“Who do you like?”

“The nine.”

“Whatta you nuts? That horse stinks and so’s his driver...”

Venerate looks to repeat in Cutler Memorial

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Three horses have repeated as the winner of the Arthur J. Cutler Memorial in its 26-year history. Venerate will look to become the fourth when he meets seven rivals in Saturday's (May 18) $145,150 edition of the Grand Circuit event for older trotters at The Meadowlands.

Venerate, a 6-year-old stallion who was a Dan Patch Award winner in 2020, got his season underway last week with a third-place finish in an $18,000 conditioned trot at The Big M. He was timed in 1:52.1 with a :27.3 last quarter over a track labeled sloppy.

"He raced OK; he needed the race," trainer Marcus Melander said. "He finished up good and hopefully that race will move him forward a lot. I think he'll be all right."

Venerate won last year's Cutler Memorial in a career-best 1:50.1. The triumph gave Melander his second victory in the race. Melander, Ake Svanstedt, and Ron Burke will combine to send out six of Saturday's eight Cutler participants; the trio has won eight of the past 10 editions of the race.

A son of Love You—Peaceful Kemp, Venerate, will start from post 6 with driver Scott Zeron and is the 7-2 morning-line second choice. Returning Dan Patch Award winner Jiggy Jog S, the lone mare in the field, is the 2-1 favorite.

Venerate will try to join Resolve (2016-17), Sand Vic (2006-07) and Magician (2000-01) as a repeat winner of the Cutler.

"We know when he's good that he can go with them," Melander said about Venerate taking on the top horses in the division. "I'm excited to see him."

Last year, Venerate won the Cutler and followed that performance with second-place finishes behind It's Academic in the Crawford Farms Open and John Cashman Memorial. He made a break in his next start, the Maple Leaf Trot, and never regained his form.

"It just felt like we got on the wrong page with him after Canada and never got him back," Melander said.

Venerate did stallion duty during the winter, with frozen semen sent to breeders overseas. He returned to training in early February.

Venerate (Brian Sears) winning the 2023 Cutler.

“He’s been training good ever since,” Melander said.

For his career, Venerate has won 12 of 41 races and earned $1.12 million. He is owned by Courant Inc., Holly Lane Stud East LTD, Kemppi Stables Oy Inc., and Venerate Partners.

Melander also will send 5-year-old stallion Periculum into the Cutler. Periculum raced overseas last season but was a multiple Grand Circuit winner at ages 2 and 3 in North America. He earned $308,733 as a sophomore, when his mark of 1:50.3 tied for fourth fastest among 3-year-old male trotters.

Periculum, owned by Brixton Medical Inc. and Holly Lane Stud East, won a $12,500 conditioned trot at Mohegan Pennsylvania’s Pocono Downs on May 7 in his seasonal debut. The son of Muscle Hill—Amour Heiress will start Saturday from post 3 with Mattias Melander in the sulky and is 10-1 on the morning line.

“He’s a little bit of an outsider in his first race against these horses here, but we know he has potential,” Marcus said. “He had the speed as a 3-year-old. I think he’s fast enough to go against these horses. It will be interesting to see how he races against them now.”

Jiggy Jog S, who received last year’s Dan Patch Award for best older female trotter, will make her seasonal debut in the Cutler Memorial. Last year, she finished no worse than second in all 11 of her races, winning eight and earning $1.03 million. For her career, the daughter of Walner—Hot Mess Hanover has hit the board in 30 of 35 starts, winning 18 and banking $2.16 million.

A mare has won the Cutler four times in the past nine years. Those champions were Bee A Magician in 2015, Hannelore Hanover in 2018, Atlanta in 2020, and Manchego in 2021.

Jiggy Jog S is one of three Svanstedt horses in the Cutler, along with Southwind Tyrion (4-1) and Asteroid (10-1). Those two 6-year-olds also are making their seasonal debuts. Southwind Tyrion was a Breeders Crown winner in 2023.

Svanstedt, the 2023 Trainer of the Year, has won the Cutler four times since arriving in the U.S. from Sweden and launching his stable in 2014.

The Cutler Memorial will air on Fox Sports 2 as part of a 9-11 p.m. (EDT) broadcast on the network.

In addition to the Cutler, Karl, the early favorite for the 99th edition of the Hambletonian, will be in the spotlight as the team at Fox will not only air his New Jersey Sire Stakes race on the show, but also begin to chronicle the Nancy Takter trainee’s road to the $1 million Hambletonian, which takes place on Aug. 3.

Karl is the 1-5 morning-line favorite in his $30,000 division of the NJSS, the second of three second-round splits for 3-year-old male trotters. There also will be three $30,000 second-round divisions of NJSS action for sophomore female trotters.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster programs for The Big M, click here.

McCarthy enjoys milestone ahead of Captain Albano's return

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Time has seemed to pass quickly for Todd McCarthy since his arrival in the U.S. in the late summer of 2020, but he's certainly made the most of it. He has been a Rising Star Award recipient, captured a Hambletonian, North America Cup and Breeders Crown, sat behind at least one Dan Patch Award winner every season, and, just this past weekend, notched his 1,000th victory in North America.

"It's been a bit of a whirlwind of three-and-a-half years now, it's been so much," said McCarthy, a 31-year-old native of Australia. "It's been everything I hoped for, but beyond anything I would have expected. I feel like it's gone really fast, but I think anytime you're having fun, time does fly by."

McCarthy, who according to Harness Racing New South Wales won 1,109 races in Australia, got his 1,000th triumph here Saturday (May 11) with Endofstory at The Meadowlands.

"To be honest, it snuck up on me," McCarthy said. "I had no idea I was even close to it until the race before when someone mentioned it to me. It was pretty cool. It was a thrill."

This weekend, McCarthy will be reunited with one of his Dan Patch Award winners, Captain Albano. The colt makes his seasonal debut in the second of four Pennsylvania Sire Stakes divisions for 3-year-old male pacers Saturday (May 18) at Mohegan Pennsylvania's Pocono Downs.

Captain Albano is the No. 1-ranked horse in TROT Magazine's Pepsi North America Cup spring book as well as No. 1 in Meadowlands analyst Dave Little's Road to the Meadowlands Pace.

Last season, the son of Captaintreacherous—Angelou finished no worse than second in nine races, winning seven. His victories included the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship and four races on the Grand Circuit. He finished second in the Breeders Crown.

"He was such a classy horse as a 2-year-old, so mature for his age," McCarthy said. "He was pretty versatile as well. He can cut a mile if he's got to, he's great off a helmet, and he's quick off the gate. I think that's a complete package when a horse can do basically all three of those things."

Captain Albano, trained by Noel Daley, will start Saturday from post 4 in a field of seven and is the 5-2 morning-line favorite. He heads to the race off two qualifiers at The Meadowlands; he finished sixth in the first before winning the second in 1:52.3 with a :25.3 last quarter.

"That first qualifier, I just made sure to keep him out of the speed," McCarthy said. "We wanted to keep him way off the pace. It might have worried a couple people when they looked at the line, but the horse himself was fine. The next one, Noel said I could go a little bit more with him, let him sprint home a little more. He finished up really strong."

"I've been really pleased with the way he's come back. I got to go and train him a couple times on his way back. He's grown a little and he's filled out a lot. He's looking really good. He's definitely one I've been looking forward to all winter. You only hope he comes back good, stays healthy and happy, and we can have a bit of fun with him this year."

Tenacious Hanover, who finished second in a PASS division May 4 at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows, is the 5-2 favorite in Saturday's opening sire stakes split. Rush In, a PASS winner on May 4, is the 2-1 choice in the third while Gem Quality gets the 5-2 nod in the fourth after his season-debut victory in a division of the Pennsylvania All-Stars last week at Pocono Downs.

Racing begins at 1 p.m. (EDT) at Pocono Downs. For free race programs, visit the Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association website here.

Karl crushes in seasonal debut at Big M

Karl took his first step toward a possible Hambletonian trophy with an easy win in his first start of 2024 Saturday night (May 11) at The Meadowlands, a 1:53.2 walk in the park in one of nine $30,000 divisions of the New Jersey Sire Stakes for 3-year-olds.

There were six leg 1 splits for trotters and three leg 2 dashes for pacers.

In the first of three colt and gelding trots, the son of Tactical Landing—Avalicious was unhurried in the early going by driver Yannick Gingras, sitting fourth past the quarter and half as Robinhood rolled by those stations in :28 and :57.3, respectively.

Gingras moved Karl to the outside at the half and with a burst of speed was less than a length behind Robinhood at three-quarters, which was timed in 1:26.2. By the time they made it to the top of the stretch, Karl was already clear by 2¾ lengths before extending that edge to 6¾ at the finish. Southwind Metric was second with Pick Pocket third.

“He sat in [the 4-hole] well,” said Gingras. “He was on the bit a little, but comfortable. When I asked, he did what he does. He was ready to go. I wanted to race him from behind if I could but I could have done anything. I had my mind set on racing from behind. It’s really impressive the way he looked.”

Trained by Nancy Takter, who is looking for a second-consecutive Hambletonian win after Tactical Approach’s score a year ago, Karl returned $2.10 to his backers as the 1-20 favorite. He now has 10 wins from just 11 lifetime starts, good for earnings of $1,056,977.

“I was very happy with Karl tonight,” said Takter. “He’s such a professional. Nothing fazes him. He hit the wheel on the race bike a couple of times in the last turn but stayed at it. A larger UFO race bike has already been ordered that will accommodate his large stride. He did everything right tonight and barely broke a sweat doing it.”

THE GREAT EIGHT: The other eight winners of the NJSS dashes were:

- Race 2 – 3YOFT: French Champagne (Muscle Hill—French Café); winning time 1:54.2; driver Ake Svanstedt; trainer Svanstedt; paid $8.60 to win as the 3-1 third choice.

- Race 3 – 3YOCT: Caballero (Tactical Landing—S J’s Minolta); 1:54.1; Trond Smedshammer; Smedshammer; $36.20 as the 17-1 fourth choice.

- Race 5 – 3YOCT: Benny J (Walner—Anywhere With You); 1:53; Andy McCarthy; Tony Alagna; $3.60 as the 4-5 favorite.

- Race 6 – 3YOFT: Buy A Round (Walner—On Your Tab); 1:55.1; Andy McCarthy; Noel Daley; $3.20 as the 3-5 favorite.

- Race 7 – 3YOFT: Spy Coast (Walner—Zeppole); 1:53.3; Gingras; Ron Burke; $3 as the 1-2 favorite.

- Race 9 – 3YOCT: Arbitrage Hanover (Bettor’s Wish—Ana Hanover); 1:51; Todd McCarthy; Brett Pelling; $7.40 as the 5-2 second choice.

- Race 10 – 3YOCT: Endofstory (Lazarus N—Olivette Hanover); 1:50.4; Todd McCarthy; Doug Dilloian Jr.; $3.60 as the 4-5 favorite.

- Race 14 – 3YOFT: Odds On Steno (Bettor’s Wish—Odds On St Lucie); 1:50.4; Andy McCarthy; Alagna; $2.20 as the 1-9 favorite.

McCARTHY BROTHERS SUPER ON SATURDAYS: It was another big Saturday for the dynamic driving brother duo of Andy and Todd McCarthy, as one week after each recorded four Saturday scores, they combined for seven victories this time, with Andy taking four and Todd three.

Todd passed a major milestone by winning his 1,000th career race after guiding Endofstory to victory in the 10th race.

“It’s honestly been a dream come true,” said Todd. “It’s a pretty special moment for me. It’s hard to find one moment that stands out. I’ve had some nice horses. Winning the [2022] Hambletonian [with Cool Papa Bell] was surreal.”

A LITTLE MORE: Showing no ill effects of the foot injury that kept him sidelined for two months, Oakwood Ardan IR returned to the races with a sparkling 1:49 lifetime-best effort in the second leg of the TrackMaster Series for horses with a rating of 89.5 or less. “I was confident as he qualified really well last week,” said trainer Robert Cleary. Coaches Corner displayed explosive late pace to take the overnight feature, the $31,500 open handicap for pacers, in a lifetime-best 1:49.3. “We were a little concerned with his three-week layoff,” said driver Jason Bartlett. “But he showed he can go with the caliber horses they have here.” Betting was predictably brisk, as $3,490,240 was pushed through the windows on the 14-race card.

Sophomores shine in SBOA Finals

Big time performances were the theme of the night in Saturday’s (May 11) SBOA Stakes finals at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

All four SBOA finals for Ontario sired 3-year-olds were held under cool and rainy conditions at the Campbellville oval.

Top Pepsi North America Cup eligible Funtime Bayama ($2.80) made a statement with a 1:49.4 score in the $127,000 SBOA Colt Pace final.

Funtime Bayama and driver Sylvain Filion rushed to the lead from fourth in the second-quarter, hitting the half in :53.4. After catching a :29.2 breather, the son of Hes Watching sprinted home and away from rivals to win in a career-best 1:49.4.

Unrivaled Hanover was second, beat $3\frac{1}{4}$ lengths. Storm Shadow and Do Better completed the top-four.

“At the half we were rolling pretty good,” said Filion. “When I saw the timer, I said ‘Oh, we were rolling tonight.’ That’s why down the lane I just kept his attention a bit and he just took off.”

Funtime Bayama is owned Bayama Farms and trained by Richard Moreau. He’s now two-for-two to start 2024 and has six wins from nine career starts, earning $322,270.

Murray Brethour trained Griff ($19) showed his determination to win the $124,000 SBOA Colt Trot in 1:53.3.

Driven by James MacDonald, Griff showed gate speed to launch out and land in the 2-hole behind Convoy Hall. Those two trotters would go 1-2 throughout, posting clips of :26.4, :56.1 and 1:25.

After gapping the leader, a bit in the turn, Griff dug in and mowed down Convoy Hall to win by a half-length in a career-best 1:53.3. Willowtime was third, while Elegant Resolve was fourth.

“He’s great gaited and I said if we’re going for money we’ve got to give him a shot,” said MacDonald. “He got out of there good on the right foot and the rest was just lucky. He was struggling a bit in the last turn and when we straightened up, he dug right back in. He showed some guts. Good effort from him for sure”

A gelded son of Muscle Mass, Griff was making his season debut Saturday and has now won four of eight starts and earned $285,200 for owners Jeff and Lori Thomson, Brethour and Kyle Northover.

Its A Love Thing ($5.60) got up the inside late to win the $141,500 SBOA Filly Pace final in 1:49.4 for driver James MacDonald and trainer Dave Menary.

Pass Line, who was the slight favorite over the winner, followed several movers in the second-quarter up to the lead, reaching the half in :54.4. Its A Love Thing sat buried in the 2-hole swinging for home and loaded with pace.

Its A Love Thing would find the inside lane late and got up to edge her stablemate by a length in 1:49.4, pacing a :26.1 final-quarter.

“I knew if I could get some daylight somewhere she was probably going to give me a good run,” said MacDonald. “She’s had a lot of bad trips in her life and overcame pretty much all of them. When she gets a good one, she makes no mistakes.”

Sorcha Seelster finished third, while Odds On Platinum was fourth.

A daughter of Bettors Delight, Its A Love Thing was a hard-closing second in her elimination. She now has seven wins from 14 starts and over $600,000 earned for owners Eric Good, Thomas Biederman, Josh Green and Rich Lombardo Racing.

Susie Kerwood trained R Liza ($7.50) was able to edge heavy favorite Willys Home Run in the $138,400 SBOA Filly Trot final.

Willys Home Run rocketed out to set fractions of :26.3, :56.1 and 1:25. R Liza and driver Jody Jamieson looped from third to second going to three-quarters, tucked in behind the leader and popped up to muscle by for a victory of a head in a career-best 1:53.1.

“This mare was so good last week,” said Jamieson. “I stayed in quite a long time last week and when I did get out, she wanted out, she was like a caged animal and just trotted so hard. She did the same thing today and she beat a great champion, not by much, but we beat her. That’s all that matters.”

P L Rainbow Dash was third, while Sue Anne was fourth.

A daughter of Muscle Mass, R Liza is now two-for-two to start her season and has a career record of five wins from 10 starts and close to $200,000 earned for owners M And L of Delaware and Alabama Harness Associates.

3-year-olds pacing colts in the PA All-Stars spotlight

Last year’s Breeders Crown champion Gem Quality made a successful 2024 debut on Saturday afternoon at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, winning one of four $30,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania All-Stars event for 3-year-old pacing males.

The son of Captain Crunch, whose “Crowning” achievement was accomplished in 1:50 at Hoosier Park, ironically produced the slowest winning time in the All-Stars, 1:53, but the early fractions were relatively dawdling (:27.3, :57.1, and 1:25.2), and he covered his own last half in :55, moving uncovered past the five-eighths to gain a short advantage by the head of the stretch. That lead expanded to $1\frac{3}{4}$ lengths at the wire, with Timeisonmyside, who made a first-turn break, making up a lot of ground for the deuce behind the Chris Ryder trainee, who was driven by Dexter Dunn for Let It Ride Stables Inc., Odds On Racing, Brad Grant, and Enviro Stables LTD.

The other three All-Stars sections each went in 1:51.3, with Sweet Lou gaining two siring credits. Women Layer gave driver Todd McCarthy North American win No. 998, heading down the road in :26.4, :56.1, and 1:23.4, then equaling his mark while a length to the good of Southwind Celsius. The Brett Pelling-conditioned gelding is undefeated in four sophomore starts for Howard Taylor, Order By Stable, Judith Taylor, and Jerry Silva.

Sweet Lou is also the sire of Solid Character, who moved from the pocket on the far turn after Copperfield had laid down splits of :26.4, :55.2, and 1:23.1. then had his task made much easier when that rival lost stride. The gelding won by 5 lengths over Target Acquired while reducing his lifetime mark for trainer Ron Burke and owners Burke Racing Stable LLC, Robert Jackson, Timothy Sullivan, and Tom Wilson.

Ivy Park also lowered his lifetime record in his seasonal debut, with the Captaintreacherous colt moving out before the :28 quarter and brushing to command, then putting up mid-fractions of :56.2 and 1:23.3. Ivy Park was kept to business late as Armada Hanover made up a ton of stretch ground while weaving for clearance, only to be a neck shy of the victorious Nancy Takter-trained sophomore, owned by Black Horse Racing, John Fielding, Joe Sbrocco, and Nancy Takter & JAF Racing.

Many of these “glamour division” horses will be back at Pocono in seven days’ time to contest Pennsylvania Sire Stakes and Stallion Series races.

Chief Rocco authored the fastest trotting mile of the year to date at the mountain oval when he won a $17,000 contest in 1:52.4. The Walner gelding made the most of getting in off the “also eligible list,” setting a new life mark for driver Simon Allard and trainer/owner Mark Akins.

Combustion clinches Kentucky Sires Stakes upset

A power-packed section of $100,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes (KYSS) finals for 4-year-olds came to a dramatic curtain fall with a closing-stride success by 19-1 shot Combustion in a bare-knuckle 1:49.1 mile on Monday (May 13) at Oak Grove.

Combustion (driven by Todd McCarthy) took back as a speedy scene played up front between It’s My Show (Scott Zeron) and Admiral Hill (Yannick Gingras) while they darted 4 lengths clear of El Rey (David Miller) to a :25.4 first quarter. Gingras eventually obliged and wrangled Admiral Hill into the seat behind It’s My Show as he grabbed a breather to a :54.3 half before having to engage for the war up the backstretch.

Blue Lou (Dexter Dunn) rushed off the pegs to attack It’s My Show with Tip Top Cat (Andy Miller) sitting second over and Combustion still biding his time in the back. It’s My Show clung to a diminishing lead to a scorching 1:21.2 three-quarters and stayed on the ropes as the siege intensified for home. Blue Lou grabbed a narrow lead as Tip Top Cat came charging off cover and Combustion, building his momentum through the turn, burst late onto the scene down the center of the track. Combustion came firing with just enough fervor to slide a head in front of Tip Top Cat at the beam while Admiral Hill shook free from a bottled trip for third and Blue Lou settled for fourth.

A son of Captaintreacherous, Combustion collected his 10th win from 28 tries and has now earned $468,815. Doug Dilloian, Jr.

trains the $40.88 winner, who won in a lifetime best, for owners David Linker, Brian Loman and Robert Venable.

Strong Poison (Yannick Gingras) scored the easiest of victories to open the card with a 1:49.2 stroll in the $100,000 KYSS final for 4-year-old pacing mares.

Leaving from the pylon post, Strong Poison settled into third by a :26 first quarter uncorked by Zanatta launching from the outermost post for the front. Gingras then circled Strong Poison towards the lead and had the race sealed for delivery. Past a :54.3 half and three-quarters in 1:21.2, Strong Poison glided over the ground to a 3¾-length victory under wraps over 6-5 favorite Always B Naughty (Andy McCarthy) coming from second over for second. Hungry For Love (Scott Zeron) saved ground and bagged third while Keep My Secret (Tony Hall) levelled off from a first-over push for fourth.

Virgil Morgan, Jr. trains Strong Poison, a daughter of Always B Miki, for owners Let It Ride Stables Inc. and Odds On Racing. She collected her 10th win from 29 starts, has now earned $885,475 and paid $5.34 to win.

Bestfriend Volo (Dexter Dunn) lasted on the lead in the $100,000 KYSS final for 4-year-old trotting males with a 1:52.2 effort as the 3-5 favorite.

Dunn got rolling with Bestfriend Volo after a :26.4 first quarter catalyzed by Sparks Fly (Atlee Bender) insisting on taking the point from Show Me A Million (Lewayne Miller). Once Sparks Fly settled, Dunn spurred for the engine and planted onto the lead by a :56 half before accelerating up the backside to three-quarters in 1:23.1. Despite the torrid third quarter, Bestfriend Volo had a first-over challenger looming in Once In A Lifetime (Todd McCarthy), but the leader had just enough in reserve to wade off the late march and post a half-length win at the beam. French Wine (Andy Miller) came from off the speed to take third and Show Me A Million held fourth.

Winning his 10th race from 18 starts, Bestfriend Volo has now banked $241,370 for owner-trainer Nancy Takter as well as co-owners Christina Takter, 3 Brothers Stables and Deja Blu. The gelded son of Walner paid $3.38 to win.

Mambacita (Dexter Dunn) scored the lone series sweep of the KYSS events for 4-year-olds with a 1:52.4 victory in the mare trot.

A four-wide charge spun through the first turn and levelled through a :26.4 first quarter as Mambacita moved methodically towards the lead. Dunn managed to clear the lead moving past the stands and snuck a breather to a :56.1 half to brace her for the main challenge up the backstretch.

Railee Something (Andy McCarthy) sat fourth after taking back but came with another charge moving to three-quarters and continued clawing into the leader past that station timed in 1:24.2. Mambacita rounded for home with the inside advantage and successfully held her ground to rebuff a game Railee Something to the finish by three-quarter lengths while Cessna Pride (Todd McCarthy) closed for third and Picaboo Lady (Yannick Gingras) took fourth.

Tony Alagna trains Mambacita, a daughter of Tactical Landing who has now won 14 times from 34 starts and earned $899,418, for owners Crawford Farms Racing, Alagna Racing LLC and Pryde Stables Inc. She paid $2.68 to win.

Dan Patch winner Geocentric kicks off soph campaign in PASS at The Meadows

Dan Patch Award winner Geocentric kicks off her sophomore campaign in today's (May 17) $140,422 Pennsylvania Sires Stake for 3-year-old filly pacers, known as the Adios Betty, at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows. The program also features an $80,000 PA Stallion Series event for sophomore filly pacers. First post is 12:45 p.m.

Geocentric will be heavily scrutinized this year after her nearly perfect season at 2 when she banked $552,551, took a mark of 1:49.3 and won nine of 10 starts, including sires stakes championships in Pennsylvania and Kentucky. Yet her drive for perfection came up short in the Breeders Crown final when she led at the three-quarters but faded to seventh.

Brian Brown, who trains the daughter of Sweet Lou—Geometry for Milton Leeman, Alan Keith, Jim Stambaugh and Joe Sbrocco, said he didn't make any radical changes after the Breeders Crown disappointment, although he has removed her shadow roll. (He'll have one with him today, just in case).

"She paced her second quarter that day in :26.2; you don't usually see that in second quarters," Brown said. "Plus, she tied up a little bit. It just was a bad day for her.

"Knock on wood, she's been really good so far this year; no problems yet. She probably grew some, and she's maybe a little racier, though that wasn't a problem last year. And she seems even smarter. When it's time to go, she knows what to do."

What does Brown expect from Geocentric's seasonal debut?

"We're driving three hours to get there, so of course we want to win," he said. "But we don't want to pay a big price for it. We want a nice, easy race for her, and we'll get what we get."

If she accomplishes this year as much as she achieved at 2, Geocentric could be a legitimate Horse of the Year candidate. Should the year unfold that way, Brown said it's unlikely he would race her against males to enhance her credentials.

"The only way I'd do it, is if she were fantastic and the boys were less than fantastic," Brown said.

Geocentric goes from the rail in race 8 with Tim Tetrick aboard.

Another filly to watch today is Whassup Hanover (race 10, post 4, Tetrick). The daughter of Captaintreacherous—Well What's New may lack the glam of Geocentric, but what a work ethic! She's already made nine starts this year – almost unheard of for a potentially top filly at this point in the season – and she's won seven of them, including the $50,000 final of the Bobby Weiss series at Pocono. Trainer Eric Ell, who owns Whassup Hanover with wife Lisa, said he wanted that tough regimen for a reason.

"She was ready to make the races at 2," Ell said, "But, she came in heat and just got sour. So, we turned her out and let her grow.

This year, I wanted to see what kind of mare she might be and if she could go with the sires stakes horses.

"She's very eager, and she's a game little mare. If you pull her, there aren't many she won't pass."

If she's to do any damage this year, the $17,000 yearling acquisition will do it in the Keystone State, as she has no other engagements of note.

Foiled Again birthday party at Shenandoah benefits five charities

Shenandoah Downs and the United States Harness Drivers Club (USHDC) teamed up to make a harness racing Saturday (May 11) a memorable one as no less than five charitable organizations were honored in a 20th birthday bash honoring the iconic Foiled Again, making a special appearance at the "Downs" to an enthusiastic crowd.

While Eugene Robinson was the driving star in the USHDC event with his own Crush Hanover (Russell Hanover), he insisted that his efforts on the track this day should play second fiddle to the quintet of charities that benefited by the teamwork of Shenandoah Downs and the USHDC.

The five charitable organizations that received donations this day were Response, Inc., Shenandoah County Pregnancy Center, Shenandoah County 4H Dominican Republic Club, Elegius Mini Equine Sanctuary and the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame.

Response, Inc., provides help to survivors of traumatic violence while the County Pregnancy Center provides complete and accurate information enabling informed decisions for family matters.

The 4H Club members learn about culture and develop cross-cultural skills and learn about tropical ecosystems while conducting day camp for local children.

The final two awards were made to the Elegies Mini Horse Sanctuary that promotes, protects, rehabilitates and provides aid for miniature horses, ponies and donkeys and harness racing's grand Hall of Fame and Museum in Goshen, NY.

In a joint statement from Shenandoah Downs' Dee Lineweaver and Tom Eichas, treasurer of the USHDC, these two were thankful for the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of local citizens saying, "This is exactly what harness racing and amateur clubs can do in improving lives covering all arenas of life today. "The USHDC members donate all of the driving earnings from their races for charitable distribution and the impact on our communities cannot be adequately described. It's just fantastic!"

The USHDC has donated over $320,000 to worthy charitable causes since its inception as the generosity of the members donate all earnings from USHDC races for charitable distribution.

Meadowlands to offer trot NW 2 short series

The Meadowlands will offer a short overnight series for 3-year-old trotters with separate colt and filly divisions that are non winners of two (NJ sired three) pari-mutuel races or $30,000 lifetime (winners of more than $75,000 life ineligible) with New Jersey sired preferred (date preference over non-NJ sired) and eligible for the 25 per cent NJ bonus in these races.

There will be $20,000 legs on Friday (May 31) and Friday (June 7) with a $40,000 final going on Friday (June 14). There is no payment required, simply enter the race as you would for an overnight.

These races are designed to provide starts for the less accomplished prospects from New Jersey and other regional programs for evaluation toward their future. It is the hope of the racetrack that they will fill a void for both the connections and make for competitive races of decent field size for the horse player.

Any questions should be sent to director of racing Scott Warren at swarren@playmeadowlands.com.
