EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Solvalla will be the focus of the trotting world on Saturday (May 24) and Sunday (May 25) as the famous and prestigious Elitloppet will be contested in the Swedish capital, hopefully with sun-drenched conditions.

No other race in Europe, besides the Prix d'Amérique in Paris every winter, gets as much attention as Elitloppet and the tradition of coming to Solvalla this particular weekend is strong, from both the competitors and the audience. It's a big happening for Stockholm and for harness racing.

HRU reported last week about some new horses invited to the race and changes were made soon thereafter. Cobra Killer Gar, who would represent Italy, will not come to Solvalla, and French trotter Hooker Berry, took the Italian's place.

Last year's winner Horsy Dream and Eric Raffin.

Global Etalon, who won the Prins Daniels race in Gävle, got suspended from racing for 10 days after his win, due to veterinary notes about Global Etalon's mouth care. Small drops of blood were seen and harness racing in Sweden has lately experienced too many cases where veterinarians have scratched horses in the time between the warm-up and the race.

Hopefully this matter won't be something that spoils the party at Solvalla this weekend, but the trainers ought to be cautious. One meager drop of blood from the horse's mouth and the scratch is near.

Norway's Charron (Code Bon), trained by Geir Vegard Gundersen, got a late invitation, just like Finland's Massimo Hoist, trained by Jukka Hakkarainen.

On Sunday (May 18) night, the draw for the two elimination heats were made and Daniel Redén had the best luck of all trainers, when favorite Francesco Zet got post 2, while Don Fanucci Zet will start from post 3 in the second heat.

Notable is the fact that the winners from 2021, 2022 and 2023 – Don Fanucci Zet, Etonnant, Hohneck – are all behind the gate this year. Last year's winner Horsy Dream has probably made his last start due to an injury and there are maybe two other big names from Europe missing in Elitloppet. San Moteur and Idao de Tillard would both have painted the 2025 edition in even more appealing colors, but with that said, the field of 16 horses is great.

The entire weekend is full of great races and the program for the two racing days is massive.

For example, the $200,000 Harper Hanovers race over 3,140 meters on Saturday's card. The French armada includes It's A Dollarmaker, Inmarosa and Ibiki de Houelle. Opponents like Kentucky River, High On Pepper and Oscar L.A., make the Harper Hanovers race spectacular just by their inclusion.

Saturday's card starts with three elimination heats for the $120,000 Sweden Cup over 1,640 meters.

It's teeming with high profile trotters in the three heats, with some horses that may even have been possibilities in the biggest race on Sunday's card. Click Bait, Mister Hercules, Diamond Truppo, Devilish Hill, Double Deceiver, Dancer Brodde, Y.Not Diamant and Schampus are just some of all nice horses in Sweden Cup.

Finals in all categories are included in the V75 and on top of that it's easy to understand that it probably tickles a little bit extra in every interested harness racing person right now.

Well, if the Saturday looks good in advance, what can be said about the Sunday? For years horses showed up, put on a show and were all remembered for their respective performances. Sunday might be overwhelming for the fans, because there are super trotters pretty much in all the races on the card, with two finals of the $200,000 Breeders Course for 3-year-olds, the $100,000 4-year-old Elite for mares, $100,000 4-year-old Elite open division, two $50,000 Elitloppet eliminations, and $1,000,000 Elitloppet final.

Among the 3-year-olds, Philippe Allaire trained Ginostrabliggi, who enters the track of Solvalla undefeated after eight starts, will be especially interesting to follow. The same must be said about Redén's 4-year-old mare Allegiant, who impressed a lot in her debut on European soil last week. We can continue to namedrop horses, but the best advice is to look in Solvalla's programs for Saturday and Sunday. Let's hope that this will be a sunny party where the sport is at its best.

ELITLOPPET FIELD

Horse, age, country

ETONNANT, 11, FRANCE

French tanks that probably would have started from another post than 1. Three races this year and he was surprisingly strong as runner-up in the Criterium de Vitesse in March. Some chance at reaching the final.

FRANCESCO ZET, 7, SWEDEN

Became the first choice in last year's final, where he finished fourth. Will be the favorite to win even this year and with all his merits, he is entitled to possess that position. Most merited Elitloppet driver in Örjan Kihlström on top of that.

GO ON BOY, 9, FRANCE

Go On Boy has been there fighting, but not seriously for the win in Elitloppet. With his speed the last quarter, his chances of reaching the final are great.

MELLBY JINX, 7, SWEDEN

Daniel Wäjersten's trotter has never looked better and stronger than in his prior starts to this one. Claimed the Finlandia-ajo in nice style in early May and he might very well reach the final.

LOGAN PARK, 7, CANADA

Strong merits from North America, but very hard to compare to his opponents on Sunday. This gelding can go fast, that's proven, and driver Doug McNair got familiar with the tracks of Sweden as he represented Canada in the World Driver's Championship in 2019. A dark horse.

A FAIR DAY, 6, SWEDEN

Tries Elitloppet for the second year in a row and this 6-year-old gelding is still the "horse for the people," with a female amateur training. Possesses wild skills when the car accelerates, but post 6 can be an obstacle for the given tactics.

CHARRON, 5, NORWAY

Charron is untested in these contexts, even if he has dominated among crop-brothers in Norway, he would have needed an inside post in his hunt for the final.

ALWAYS EK, 9, ITALY

Alessandro Gocciadoro's weapon this year. Always Ek has performed well in Italy lately, but post 8 looks to be too tough for him this time. An upset if he reaches the final.

HOHNECK, 8, FRANCE

He's 8-years-old now and it's clear that Vincennes no longer is his favorite place on earth. Solvalla, that's a track he likes a lot and when Philippe Allaire's winner from 2023 drew post 1, Hohneck's chances increased.

HOOKER BERRY, 8, FRANCE

A top trotter for sure, but the form is diffuse and he was intended to race in the Sweden Cup before Cobra Killer Gar disappeared from Elitloppet. Will do his best trying to get to the final, but it seems tough.

DON FANUCCI ZET, 9, SWEDEN

The winner of Elitloppet 2021 makes his fifth consecutive start in the race and he looks to be in greater shape than ever. A French driver is entrusted behind him this year, which makes his participation a little more exotic. Can reach the final.

MELLBY KNEKT, 6, SWEDEN

The real underdog in Elitloppet 2025. With zero merits among elite trotters, and no big stakes wins, but with eight consecutive wins in a row, he enters the lion's nest and driver Magnus A. Djuse says that we will be surprised on Sunday. His ability to leave behind the gate might make him a finalist.

HUSSARD DU LANDRET, 8, FRANCE

If Hussard du Landret would have raced in Saturday's Harper Hanovers race over 3,140 meters, he probably would have been the favorite. Now, over the mile and from post 5, he needs to do all the hard work, probably three wide in two turns, and that can be too much to handle for this top horse.

BORUPS VICTORY, 7, SWEDEN

Runner-up in Elitloppet 2024 and the winner in 2025? Well, the story might turn into something like that. Borups Victory has all the ingredients required for winning Elitloppet and trainer Daniel Wäjersten has probably aimed for that one big objective this year.

THE LOCOMOTIVE, 6, AUSTRALIA

"No One Knows" by Queens Of The Stone Age, would be a fitting song to add to this contribution from Australia. Europeans know hardly anything about The Locomotive's skills on a five-eighths-mile track when he's surrounded by some of the best trotters in the world. Such a bad luck in the draw. Post 7 means that the most exotic contribution to the race needs much luck and let's hope that he gets lucky after traveling around the world for this task.

MASSIMO HOIST, 6, FINLAND

This 6-year-old colt is one of the best older trotters in Finland at the moment, but that will probably not save him from chasing as the last horse in the field, which is proven difficult if the final is the target. Post 8 destroyed all chances for Finland's hope in Elitloppet 2025.

Simplified program at Scioto Downs is a welcome change in direction

by Brett Sturman

As part of its 2025 racing season, Scioto Downs has introduced what was dubbed as a “simplified program” available on-track for all live racing cards. In a social media post that I first saw on X last week, the track posted a picture showing the differences between the simplified program and the more detailed traditional program.

The post was met with some ridicule as expected, presumably from racing purists, but I, for one, fully support a change in the structure of the harness racing program that’s been the same now for the better part of a hundred years. Times have changed, and with it should change what minimal set of data is needed to make an informed wager.

Designed specifically for new people to racing, a simplified – or an alternative program – has the ability to appeal more broadly than only beginners. Perhaps with some tweaks, it becomes the start of a new standard program altogether.

I first had my own thoughts for a similar concept months ago when out at a local bar and restaurant and one of the television monitors had computer simulated horse races known as “Derby Cash,” a popular game from the Pennsylvania State Lottery.

Being a lottery game, it’s as simple as you can get. The higher number horses reflect those with the highest chances of winning with shorter odds and the lower number horses are the ones with lesser chances of winning but with higher payouts. Every few minutes the races are run, completely realistic racing included with graphics that are better than most real race graphics and the process continues over and over as one of the more successfully state lottery games.

Brad Conrad
Eldorado Scioto Downs.

I could see the idea of a simplified program being something that's laughed at. But what's the harm and what's so bad about needed change? As Scioto is doing, it's not replacing the traditional program either but rather complementing it as a new option, so people can have the option. Far from perfect, the program had the right idea in mind.

It's not to say a harness race should be treated the same way as a lottery with no skill whatsoever in picking horses, but there is something to be said for making it easier and simpler to pick horses.

In looking at a more simplified program, it does beg the question as to the usefulness of the traditional program. For example, how relevant today are final quarter times, which still has its own section in the program? Maybe, except for new horses where it is useful to know, most other horses within the same sets of classes are all capable of the same final quarters. If the race pace is fast, then the final quarter will be slower. If the race pace is slower, then the final quarter will be faster. Is that still needed as part of a race program?

As for the Scioto beginner's program, here are some of the key features – and things that I would change about it.

For starters, there are just two race lines instead of the traditional five (or more). There're also no bubbles indicating where a horse raced on the outside. At that point, why even have race lines at all? Showing just two lines isn't showing a fair picture and removing the bubbles removes even further context. The idea should be to keep things minimal, but at the same time not show information that's actually counterproductive to selecting the proper horse. I truly think it would be better to show no race lines at all rather than showing something that's misleading. Instead, maybe just show a finishing position and a final time.

A major omission in the simplified program is that the trainer is missing completely. A hill I'd be willing to die on is that in today's harness racing, the trainer is the single most important factor. If I could have one piece of information and nothing else, it would be the trainer. The simplified program has owner and driver, but not trainer, which should absolutely be added. If you had an objective horse rating, trainer rating and driver rating, with more weight given to the horse and trainer, then you'd be onto something.

Another easy item to include in the simplified program that's also underutilized in harness racing is some form of a speed rating. Many tracks already use TrackMaster ratings as a means to classify horses. You can debate the accuracy of the TrackMaster ratings, as this column has done so on multiple occasions in the past, but it is an objective measure that at least directionally has some validity. Plus, having a uniformed rating number makes things far easier than a beginner having to figure out disparities in times for horses racing at different tracks.

With those things said, I come back to the lottery example. It should be easy to pick a horse. Maybe not as easy as just blindly picking numbers – although people do that also – but rather simply making the data understandable and valuable.

In these restructured examples, I'd go so far as to say that it could lead to higher handle. Thinking of people playing multiple tracks or even looking at a race one minute before post – it's impossible to handicap a race in the traditional format in that time. But if you have a few key metrics that can be ascertained with a quick glance, maybe people would be able to wager where they wouldn't have time to before.

As acknowledged at the beginning, I could see the idea of a simplified program being something that's laughed at. But what's the harm and what's so bad about needed change? As Scioto is doing, it's not replacing the traditional program either but rather complementing it as a new option, so people can have the option. Far from perfect, the program had the right idea in mind.

If nothing else, Scioto's initiative on the simplified program should force tracks to take stock of how information in their programs can lead to the best customer experience.

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

How did the eventual Horse of the Year do on Hambletonian Day?

by Bob Heyden

The 2024 Horse of the Year, Twin B Joe Fresh, returns to the racing wars this weekend at Chester. She raced in and won the Lady Liberty last year on Hambletonian Day and will look to repeat in 2025. What about the other HOY honorees since the Hambletonian moved to NJ in 1981? Let's take a look at how they did with the brightest lights shining on them.

1981: Fan Hanover – Did not race on Hambletonian Day, but she won the Tarport Hap two nights prior. That would be her last Meadowlands appearance of 1981 becoming the first female pacer to take down the honor.

1982: Cam Fella – Did not race on Hambletonian Day, but he made up for it in 1983 in his HOY repeat season winning the U.S. Pacing Championship in 1:53.2.

1984: Fancy Crown – Won the Hambletonian Oaks the night before in three heats (1-2-1).

1985: Nihilator – Set the world race record of 1:49 3 on the Prakas 1:54.3 world record setting Hambletonian Day. They were 1-2 in the HOY balloting.

1986: Forrest Skipper – Turned the 1986 U.S. Pacing Championship into a match race by his simple presence. Falcon Seelster tried his luck, to no avail, and Forrest Skipper was on his way to HOY honors over fellow undefeated pacer Jate Lobell.

1987: Mack Lobell – Dominated in 1:54 and 1:53.3 in his record-shattering Hambletonian as he marched towards post-season honors.

1988: Mack Lobell – Did not race on Hambletonian Day with good reason, he set a new half-mile track standard, 1:56, at Saratoga less than 24 hours earlier. He lowered Nevele Pride's mark of 1:56.4 set 19 years earlier.

1989: Matt's Scooter – Went 1:50.3 in the U.S. Pacing Championship. His 30 starts in 1989 marked the last time any HOY has gone to the post that many times in their award-winning season.

1990: Beach Towel – Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

1991: Precious Bunny – Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

1992: Artsplace – Captured the U.S. Pacing Championship over a game and determined Shady Daisy. Artsplace would run the table in 1992 and be named HOY for trainer Bob McIntosh, who duplicated that in 1993.

1993: Staying Together – Won the U.S. Pacing Championship for Bob McIntosh in 1:49.1.

1994: Cam's Card Shark – Did not race on Hambletonian Day. He was instead prepping for his Aug. 13 Adios straight heat score.

1995: CR Kay Suzie – Broke in the Hambletonian elim and lost any chance. Still, her season was strong enough for the year end title.

1996: Continentalvictory – Dominated in 1:52.4 and then a world record 1:52.1 and rode that to the HOY trophy.

1997: Malabar Man – Did the same as Continentalvictory from the year before except in one less Hambletonian Day race because of a format change.

1998: Moni Maker – Won the Cashman in 1:52.4, but did not race on Hambletonian Day in 1999 due to AFib, yet still did more than enough to garner back-to-back year end awards. The last to do so. With five victories, Moni Maker is the all-time winningest Hambletonian Day horse ever.

2000: Gallo Blue Chip – Did not race on Hambletonian Day. From July 19 to Aug. 9, Gallo Blue Chip did not participate in any pari-mutuel races, however he did qualify in Canada on Aug. 9.

2001: Bunny Lake – Won the Mistletoe Shalee good for $400,000 and then bettered the Hambletonian Oaks winner Syrinx Hanover for year-end honors.

2002: Real Desire – Won the U.S. Pacing Championship in a career best 1:48.2 from post 12 and HOY honors as well.

2003: No Pan Intended – Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

2004: Rainbow Blue – Lost her only race of 2004 (20-21) making an uncharacteristic break in the Mistletoe Shalee. She was so outstanding all year that she bettered a Triple Crown winner (Windsong's Legacy) in the final ballot, 119-98.

2005: Rocknroll Hanover – Was second best on Hambletonian Day to 3YOPC track record setter American Ideal in 1:48.1, but when the votes were counted, Rocknroll Hanover was a decisive winner.

2006: Glidemaster — Set a Hambletonian mark of 1:51.1 and also captured the Triple Crown en route to a HOY season for John Campbell and Blair Burgess.

2007: Donato Hanover — Had no issue with either the voters or the best 3-year-old trotters.

2008: Somebeachsomewhere — Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

2009: Muscle Hill — Was as advertised with a record 1:50.1 Hambletonian win and a $2.4 million undefeated HOY campaign.

2010: Rock N Roll Heaven — Was edged out by a head in 1:48.2 by Rockin Image in the Oliver Wendell Holmes, but the Bruce Saunders trainee had more than enough in the bank to reap the year end hardware, just like his dad in 2005.

2011: San Pail — Not only won on Hambletonian Day in the Cashman, but he did so in a personal record time of 1:50.4. That nailed down HOY honors for the son of San Pellegrino.

2012: Chapter Seven — Very much a part of the decision for HOY was based on his 1:50.1 Cashman score, a personal best.

2013: Bee A Magician — Dominated the Oaks, went 17-17 on the year, and was a no-doubter for the top honor.

2014: JK She'salady — Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

2015: Wiggle It Jiggleit — Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

2016: Always B Miki — Had a rare stub of the hoof finishing fourth in the 2016 U.S. Pacing Championship on Hambletonian Day. But he rebounded to set a world race record of 1:46 in the Breeders Crown to be an easy choice for that year's best.

2017: Hannelore Hanover — Dominated the Steele Memorial and beat the boys during the season for HOY honors for Team Burke.

2018: McWicked — Was second to Western Joe in 2018 on Hambletonian Day in the Sam McKee Memorial, but the Casie Coleman-trainee captured all post season honors.

2019: Shartin N — Was a million-dollar earner in 2019 with a 1:46.4 female world mark set on Hambletonian Day that still stands! HOY was an easy call.

2020: Tall Dark Stranger — Won the Cane Pace in 1:48.4 and had little competition when all the year-end votes were counted.

2021: Test Of Faith — Did not race on Hambletonian Day.

2022: Bulldog Hanover — Did not race on Hambletonian Day. He actually had a 27-day break until the second Friday in August when he took down the Dan Patch at Hoosier.

2023: Confederate — Won by four plus widening lengths and wanted more in a dominating Cane Pace score. The super sophomore then breezed to HOY honors.

2024: Twin B Joe Fresh took care of business in the Lady Liberty in 1:47.3. She will try for an exact duplicate of that daily double in 2025.

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

Harness racing landscape has to change

by John Berry

With yet another harness racing facility closing its doors for BAD (certainly, not for GOOD), we, again, tapped on the brilliance of our BDHC members (Broken Down Horseplayers Club) and "Send It In Army" personnel to sort out the situation.

Once again, their wisdom – though not quite in the same arena as Harvard – provides some useful insight on the perils that lie ahead.

Most of these BDHC members are, as they say in our harness racing land, "older" but of sound mind with, still, an insatiable appetite for a sport they have loved for many decades – even one as far back as when the mobile starting gate first appeared on the scene.

HRU: I appreciate your willingness to lend us, our HRU readers, your insight and wisdom. So, to Smitty, Dixon, R. Phil, Luke S and you three that continue to prefer anonymity, let's hear your thoughts.

Smitty: "As an educator for many years, we guys up here aren't as stupid as we look coming to simulcasting to put our faith in a four-legged steed.

"We still like the camaraderie of being part of our crowd and still enjoy trying to pick a winner or two. It's great therapy for us 'oldsters'.

"The problems today stem from the entire industry, that have, pretty much, forgotten about the fan."

HRU: Well, let us interject that there are a few bright spots as the many amateur clubs bring fans to their respective tracks and spread a lot of goodwill with their charitable contributions.

Smitty: "Yeah, and to tell you the truth, I bet on some up at The Meadowlands but, still, it's an insignificant number to what we need to revive on-track attendance.

"But the old Roosevelt and Yonkers days crowds are long gone and Chicago's Sportsman's and Maywood and Washington Park are long gone, too, but this is still a spectator sport and we're forgotten."

Dixon: "Yes, I agree. But I think that is because of necessity as the casinos and sports books have moved in on the territory.

"The horsemen, I think, realize that their days are numbered – not tomorrow or the next day – but this sport could certainly dry up and shrivel away in 20 or 30 years... or certainly be just a sliver of its former self.

"I can't blame the horsemen because they have to try and win today. It's a dog-eat-dog business and the pressure to win is, I'm sure, very tough... and, you know, that's what keeps me playing because I am hoping that they all will be trying with their horses."

R. Phil: "The problem, as I see it, comes down to one thing, value! And betting is, now, the least valuable way to go."

Luke S: "Why do you say that?"

R. Phil: "Because the takeout on the pari-mutuels is outrageously high.

"There is absolutely no value in betting to win, place or show, and I'm not interested in a $3.20, 2.40 and $2.10 across the board payoff and the only value is in the [trifectas], exactas, and even many of those are short prices these days.

"But the takeout is 25 per cent, 30 per cent, 35 per cent, and that's a killer, especially when the slot takeout is 6 per cent, 7 per cent, 8 per cent, some even lower."

Luke S: "Well, once in a while, I play the slots – not often – and my $50 goes in five minutes."

R. Phil: "It's all about the churn, my friend, it's all about the churn."

"In the perfect world, if you catch a machine that does pay, say, 90 per cent, you're $100 becomes $90 after round 1, then $81, then $73 and you get, like, nine churns before you're broke, and that takes some time.

"I read that, by the way, in an HRU article!

"Let me tell ya, slots are no great investment and, if you look at the stats from Las Vegas – and I DO – it gives you the percentage payouts on slots at every casino, except the [Native Americans]."

HRU: There's a lot more competition than slot machines, gentleman, like the lottery, sports betting, on-line casinos popping up and the ability to bet from the comfort of your own home. And the lottery takeout is about 40 per cent, greater than any pari-mutuel take-out.

Anonymous #1: "Yes, but they offer something that pari-mutuels cannot do, offer a prize that can be in the $500,000,000 up to over a billion.

"I will always play a few bucks on that and know that I will never win the big one but the lure is too much to not take a shot."

HRU: Millions do.

Smitty: “Why can’t harness racing do something like that with a different host track on something like that?”

HRU: We had a column on that recently and suggested that we have a ‘perfect pick’ race. Instead of six numbers and a ‘power ball’ number, have a “lucky-pick-six” event with the kicker being the selection of the trifecta in the finale. It easily could grow to a prize that could equate to the Mega Lotto. But nobody will take the bull by the horns.

Luke S.: “So, how do we get the money to do something like this? From the tracks?”

R. Phil: “No! It’s impossible to come from the tracks, they are over-expensed as it is, especially the ones that don’t have any casinos or legislative money to prop them up.

“If, maybe, a small percentage could be generated from the yearling sales companies and the tracks that are ‘blessed’ with a casino propping up purses, maybe a small percentage could be weaseled out of them, even the ones that had a hand in destroying racing at their tracks from decoupling.

“That could be a start.”

HRU: It’s a thought anyhow, maybe a hard sell, but a thought. From a few casinos on the Vegas strip to see 2,000 casinos in 44 States these days, a lot of businesses are looking for charity and relief.

Anonymous #2: “When I started playing at Roosevelt [Raceway] and Yonkers, we were the only game in town, with win, place and show betting and the Daily Double.

“The exotic bets have diluted the pools so much that there’s not much value.

“Just take a look at the pools and you’ll see that place and show betting make up, maybe 5 per cent of the handle... maybe they should scrap place and show bets and only have Daily Double, win betting, and perfectas on some races and, when there’s no perfecta, then a superfecta.”

HRU: Maybe perfectas/exactas on fields of seven or less and trifectas with eight or more horses. Maybe a super if there are nine or 10 in there.

Anonymous #2: “Just don’t have so many that the value disappears.”

Smitty: “Personally, the entire sport and breed has changed.

“The breeders care about one thing, speed. The drivers and trainers care about making a living, and the owners care about both!

“Personally, the entire sport and breed has changed. The breeders care about one thing, speed. The drivers and trainers care about making a living, and the owners care about both! Notice something? They have left the fan out of the equation!”

~ Smitty

“Notice something? They have left the fan out of the equation!

“Hoosier does offer some value with their lower takeout on exotics, so I’ll play there, and Northfield and The Meadowlands seem to have decent pools but the others would be dead in the water without casinos.

“Meadowlands is quite remarkable without a casino, but how long can they last?

HRU: Mr. Anonymous #3, you’ve been silent so far. What have you got to say?

Anonymous #3: “You guys have said it all. The only thing I would add is that we’ve never been able to be seen as a major sport or breed.

R. Phil: “They do show a harness race sometimes.”

Anonymous #3: “Yes, they do, but we are at their mercy and they are few and far between.

“We can’t go on relying on someone else to show harness racing. We need our own channel.”

HRU: We have also brought that problem to light in our columns.

Smitty: “What about the drug problem? Nobody has brought that up.”

“When I started playing at Roosevelt [Raceway] and Yonkers, we were the only game in town, with win, place, and show betting, and the Daily Double. The exotic bets have diluted the pools so much that there’s not much value. Just take a look at the pools and you’ll see that place and show betting make up, maybe 5 per cent of the handle... maybe they should scrap place and show bets and only have Daily Double, win betting, and perfectas on some races and, when there’s no perfecta, then a superfecta.”

~ Anonymous #2

Dixon: “That is impossible to fix, plain and simple. It would cost millions and millions of dollars in equipment and personnel, so you have to assume that ‘for every termite seen, there’s a thousand more somewhere!’”

Smitty said with a laugh: “Funny thing you said that... In Chicago, we had a driver that never left the ‘wood’ and the horses he drove were known as ‘termites!’”

Anonymous #1: “That’s what you need a commissioner for, to fix all this.”

Dixon: “Well, that’ll be a cold day in hell before that ever happens!”

HRU: Let’s move on. I’d like your comments on safety and the rare accidents on our tracks in this era of speed.

Smitty: “I know that there is a reluctance to talk about this but, in my opinion, tragedy happens in all sports.

“I don’t like it any more than the next guy but, truthfully, it’s part of sport.

“There are injuries in every single sport known to mankind, all equine sports, baseball, football, auto racing, boxing, you name it, there are mishaps, injuries and fatalities.”

HRU: For the record, Owen Hart (wrestling), Hank Gathers (basketball), Bill Masterson (hockey), Dale Earnhardt (auto racing), Chuck Hughes (pro football), Pop Geers (harness racing) and many others. Including some great thoroughbred horses like Ruffian, Go For Wand and Eight Belles and, of course, sadly, tragedies in our sport.

Of course, the difference being that humankind chooses their fate while horses are summoned for their work, kind of like being drafted for the military.

We don’t like it, but we have to live with it or else all sports will die, and that’s not going to happen, especially, now, when there are millions and millions of dollars being bet on sports every day, maybe every minute

HRU: Finally, here’s the big question. On a scale of one to five — not 1-5 on a tote board — do you think harness racing can come out of the dark ages and into the future with some progressive ideas to keep us alive and, maybe, even thrive: “five” meaning we can do it and “one” meaning it’s a long shot.

Smitty: “It’s a ‘zero’ and, when the casinos get tired of giving our sport charity, decoupling will become widespread.”

Luke S.: “Sorry, one.”

Anonymous #1: “I hate to give up hope. I’ll say “two-and-a-half” as a Hail Mary.”

Anonymous #2: “If we can combine it with a billion-dollar lottery like we talked about earlier, then, yes, we have a chance, but I also think that, in a few years, we’ll be down to just a few tracks — no more than 10 — with full fields and big purses. I say ‘five.’”
Let’s hope so.

MAY THE HORSE BE WITH YOU

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Joe Malone is counting down the days until he can get his license to drive horses

by Chris Lomon

It's not just another date on the calendar for Joe Malone. It's the date – the day he turns 18, the moment he becomes eligible to apply for his driver's license, and the first step toward fulfilling a lifelong dream rooted in family, heritage, and an unwavering love for horses.

Growing up in Delmar, DE – a town famously dubbed “The Little Town Too Big for One State” – Malone was practically raised in a barn. Literally.

“I was at the barn when I was in diapers, just hanging around because I loved horses,” said the fourth-generation horseman, whose family has competed on the Delaware and Maryland circuits over the years, and on occasion, in Pennsylvania. “I started out helping my dad [Brian Malone] with the horses. I would help my dad and my grandfather [Richard Malone, Jr.] put the horses away and I learned a lot from them and my brother Declan.”

That early exposure shaped not only Joe's knowledge of horses but also his deep respect for the hard work that goes into caring for them.

“When I first sat behind a horse, I loved the feeling, and I knew I wanted to drive and train,” he said. “I also learned about the care that goes into horses and what you need to do to keep them healthy. It became more than just a hobby for me; it is something I love to do.”

It's also why Joe has had his eye on that mid-February day for a while.

"I will be 18 in 2026, which is when I can apply for my driver's license," he said. "I have been counting down the days for a long time."

Now, a little less than nine months before he blows out the candles on his 18th birthday cake, Joe has much to look forward to with his racing future.

But he isn't just waiting for the day to arrive – far from it.

Instead, Joe – whose great-grandfather Richard Malone, Sr. was also involved in harness racing – is ramping up his efforts as he prepares for the next chapter of his life.

"My connection to the horses has grown every year," Joe said. "I love being out on the track, jogging any type of horse. It is an adrenaline rush and gives you a special feeling. I am continuing to work hard and to increase my knowledge about each horse I work with."

He's putting in the work, gaining hands-on experience and learning from mentors – horse and human – at every turn.

At just 12 years old, he began working with Doyouseewhatisee, a pacing mare trained and owned by his grandfather. Bred by Winbak Farm, the daughter of We Will See–Fun Filly was a $15,000 yearling sale purchase and became Joe's first training project.

"She was a 4-year-old mare when we got her – my grandfather let me train her in time – and she was the first one I ever trained," Joe said. "I learned a lot from her, including how to time a mile correctly and how to set a bit in a horse's mouth. It was a very fun experience and I'm glad my grandfather and dad gave me an opportunity at that age."

He also learned essential care principles: hydration, nutrition, hoof care – all part of the foundation his family laid for him.

Joe is looking to put himself in the best position for success when he launches his own career.

"I would love to be a driver and train some when I turn 18; it is something I have always wanted to do," he said. "I have always wanted to drive horses. I love being out there on the track. I have driven at a couple of fairs and done alright. But I know it is something I will never get bored of and that I will do for as long as I can."

And while his passion mirrors that of his family, Joe is crafting his own identity – starting with his driving colors: red, black, and a touch of white.

"I was going to go green and black because my whole family has green, but I have always liked red and black together," he said. "I always imagined having those as my colors."

Fashion statements aside, Joe will continue to lean heavily on the teachings of those closest to him.

"I am very fortunate to have so many people supporting me, helping me every step of the way, and giving me the chance to do well," he said. "I listen to everything they share with me. That is very important for me if I want to do well in this industry."

“ I was at the barn when I was in diapers, just hanging around because I loved horses. I started out helping my dad [Brian Malone] with the horses. I would help my dad and my grandfather [Richard Malone, Jr.] put the horses away and I learned a lot from them and my brother Declan.”

~ Joe Malone

It has been said a lot, but if you listen, you can always pick up something new."

Just like when he has working in the barn of trainer Scott Warnick, who is based at Shenandoah Downs.

Joe began working for Warnick – his wife Debbie is executive director of the Virginia Harness Horse Association – last fall at Shenandoah and is back again with him this spring at the oval in Woodstock, VA.

"I started paddocking for Scott – my brother Declan introduced me to him – last year," Joe said. "I started working in the winter for Scott, which was great, too. The more people you learn from, the better off you are."

His enthusiasm extends beyond the barn. Whether he's paddocking, jogging horses, or just being around the sport, Joe is all in.

"I will be at the track, paddocking horses for my family or for Scott, which I enjoy a lot," Joe said. "I just really like being around the horses and feeling the rush that comes with racing."

And when he's there, his thoughts often drift toward what lies ahead.

Yes, there will be birthday presents. But for Joe, the biggest gift of all will be stepping onto the track as a licensed driver – the proverbial icing on the cake.

"I can't wait for Feb. 16," he said. "I'm always thinking about it and doing everything I can to prepare for that day. Being able to get out there and drive like the other guys; it's going to be an amazing day."

Divine karma led Memorial Cup-bound London Knights' coach Dale Hunter to own star horse Crack Shot

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

A few days after Ontario-sired Crack Shot stormed to victory on May 17 at Woodbine Mohawk Park in the $126,912 SBOA final for sophomore pacing colts, and just hours before leaving with his team for the Memorial Cup in Rimouski, QC, London Knights coach Dale Hunter was marveling about the power of karma and how he came to have the good fortune to own a piece of such a talented horse.

It was his father's dying wish.

Dale has owned bits and pieces of mostly modest standardbreds for much of his adult life but has never had a horse with the talent of Crack Shot.

"We would always buy horses for $20,000, $30,000, in that range," Hunter said. "But before my dad passed away, he said, 'I left you a lot of money, go buy a decent horse.'"

That horse was Crack Shot, a royally-bred son of Bettors Delight out of Beautyonthebeach that sold for $205,000 (U.S.) at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale exactly 21 days after Dick Hunter died on Sept. 12, 2023 at the age of 87.

Beautyonthebeach earned over $540,000 on the track and she is out of a mare, Precious Beauty, who earned more than $800,000 herself. Beyond Beautyonthebeach, Precious Beauty also produced 2020 U.S. Horse of the Year Tall Dark Stranger, an Ontario-sired superstar and Pepsi North America Cup winner, who earned over $2 million at the races before moving on to a stallion career.

Crack Shot won both the $300,000 Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Super Final and $75,000 OSS Grassroots championship as a 2-year-old in 2024. He was the first horse to ever accomplish that feat. He is currently ranked fifth in the Road to the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup to be contested on June 14 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

That Dale Hunter ended up owning a piece of Crack Shot with the colt's trainer, Gregg McNair of Guelph, ON, Frank Brundle of Orangeville, ON, and George Kerr of Gowanstown, ON, is a lifetime in the making.

While Dick was the patriarch of a Canadian hockey dynasty raised in Petrolia, ON — all four of his sons played Major Junior A hockey and three of them, including Dale, played in the NHL — he was also a lifetime lover of horses.

Often, a few standardbreds owned by friends were turned out at the Hunter family farm. Most weekends in the summer, Dick took the family to the races at Dresden Raceway.

"That was our big outing," Dale said.

Dale said he can only imagine how proud Dick is to see the Knights – co-owned by Dale's brother Mark – win their second-straight Ontario Hockey League (OHL) championship, followed just two days later by Crack Shot's lifetime best 1:51 victory at Woodbine Mohawk Park at the hands of driver Doug McNair.

"It was awesome," Dale said. "We have a very good team, and now we get to go to the Memorial Cup. Then for Crack Shot to win like that, I was [at Woodbine Mohawk Park] with some friends and it worked out really well. I can't be happier."

"Dicky will be smiling down watching Crack Shot race right now, absolutely."

Crack Shot, bred by Jim Avritt, Sr., is now a perfect two-for-two in 2025 and sports a record of 7-0-1 in 10 career starts with lifetime earnings of $313,781.

In 1,407 NHL games over 19 seasons between 1980 and 1999 with the Quebec Nordiques, Washington Capitals and Colorado Avalanche, Dale scored 323 goals, had 697 assists, 1,020 points and 3,565 penalty minutes, which still ranks second all-time behind only Dave Williams' 3,971 minutes. Dale is the only player in league history to have more than 1,000 points and over 3,000 penalty minutes.

As coach of the Knights, Dale has won five OHL titles and led the team to the Memorial Cup championship that determines the national junior champion in both 2005 and 2016. He is only the second coach in Canadian Hockey League (CHL) history to have more than 1,000 wins to his credit.

The Memorial Cup opens tonight with Western Hockey League champions Medicine Hat playing the host team from Rimouski. The Knights begin play on Saturday night against the Quebec league champions from Moncton.

On the track, Dale has a serious shot to win Canada's richest race for sophomore pacers. But Dale said whether Crack Shot will be entered in the $1 million race is up to Gregg McNair.

"He's the trainer / coach," Dale said. "I leave it up to him."

In the meantime, Dale said he's just enjoying the ride. He said what he loves about horses is the same thing he loves about hockey.

"It's the thrill of victory," he said. "It's like playing hockey, or coaching hockey, you don't know what's going to happen. That's what makes hockey and horse racing and sports in general something you want to watch and be a part of."

In both sports, divine karma can play a significant role. When the two intertwine, well, you don't bet against that.

R Melina to make season's debut in Miss Versatility

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

R Melina is the type of horse that is difficult to evaluate from appearance alone. But after leading all 3-year-old female trotters in earnings last season, and ranking as the division's co-fastest performer, it is clear there is more to her than meets the eye.

"She's a hard horse to judge," trainer John Butenschoen said. "She's not imposing to look at. When you sit behind her, until you really ask her to go, there is nothing that stands out. You don't sit behind her and think she's a powerhouse or a brute like some other horses that I've had.

"But it's what she does when she faces competition. She's one that's always there. You ask her to do something, and she does it. She keeps going and she doesn't get tired. When she's in a race and somebody comes at her or she goes at somebody, she takes off. She just can do it. She kind of tricks you a little bit that way."

Last year, R Melina hit the board in 14 of 18 races, winning eight and earning $817,469 for Butenschoen and owners M And L of Delaware and Armitage Farm. She won the Kentucky Filly Futurity in 1:50.1, equaling the fastest mile of the season for a sophomore female trotter, and also counted the New York Sire Stakes championship, a division of the Delvin Miller Memorial, and a Hambletonian Oaks elimination among her triumphs.

In addition, the daughter of Chapter Seven—Goodtogo Hanover finished second in the Breeders Crown, Matron Stakes and Empire Breeders Classic, and was third in the Elegance Stakes.

"She showed up every week," Butenschoen said. "The thing that I like about 'Melina' is she's raced on every sized racetrack, any kind of racetrack, and she can do it. It's kind of fun to have one like that."

R Melina went off-stride in three of her off-the-board finishes last season, including the season-ending FanDuel Mare Trot championship against older rivals in late November at The Meadowlands, but the trainer said he shared in the responsibility.

"I think I messed up a couple starts by having her over-rigged because she could kind of be aggressive," Butenschoen said. "We just had to tinker around."

"I take a little bit of blame for her last start when she made a mistake at The Meadowlands. We had good results when I pulled her shoes in the Kentucky [Filly] Futurity and then the Breeders Crown. I tried the same against the aged mares, but that track was a little different track later in the year. She warmed up good, but the temperature dropped and the track kind of froze up a little bit. It was a judgement call that I made. In hindsight, I was kicking myself a little bit."

R Melina returns to The Meadowlands on Saturday (May 24) for her first start as a 4-year-old. She will meet nine rivals in the $40,000 opening leg of the Miss Versatility Series for older female trotters. The field includes 2024 FanDuel winner Nelsonbriteagle NO, millionaire M-M's Dream, and multiple stakes-winner Elista Hanover, also making her 4-year-old debut.

Butenschoen gave R Melina two qualifiers ahead of Saturday's race. She won the first in 1:56.3 at Mohegan Pennsylvania's Pocono Downs on May 7 and the most recent on May 17 at The Meadowlands in 1:52.4 with a :26.4 last quarter.

"She seems really good," Butenschoen said. "You kind of always hold your breath coming back because you just don't know how much the 3-year-old year took out of them, and are they bigger and strong enough to go against the older ones?"

"But so far, she's had two nice qualifiers. At Pocono, we got the right kind of mile into her that we wanted to see and then [driver] Todd [McCarthy] was able to keep her in a hole and sprint her off cover the other day in a pretty nice mile. All things considered, she's on schedule and acting as good as she did last year. Fingers crossed."

In addition to the Miss Versatility, The Meadowlands on Saturday will host the New Jersey Sire Stakes championships for 3-year-old male and female pacers, plus the first-round divisions of the NJSS for 3-year-old male and female trotters.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster past performances for The Big M, visit the track's website here.

Ryder looking forward to ‘Fresh’ start

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Twin B Joe Fresh, the 2024 Dan Patch Horse of the Year, will return to the races Sunday (May 25) for her 2025 debut when she meets seven rivals in the $100,000 Grade 3 Betsy Ross Invitational for older female pacers at Harrah's Philadelphia.

Last year, Twin B Joe Fresh won the Betsy Ross by 6¾ lengths in a stakes- and track-record 1:48.2 for driver Dexter Dunn and trainer Chris Ryder. Overall last season, the daughter of Roll With Joe—Fresh Breeze finished no worse than second in all 13 of her races, winning 11 and earning $895,562 to lead all older pacers in money.

She captured eight of the nine most lucrative races for pacing mares, including the Breeders Crown Mare Pace, Dayton Distaff Derby, Roses Are Red, Milton, FanDuel Mare Championship, Lady Liberty, and Dorothy Haughton Memorial.

Dating back to November 2023, Twin B Joe Fresh has won 12 consecutive stakes or invitational finals. Only two of those victories were by less than a length.

Twin B Joe Fresh heads to the Betsy Ross off victories in three qualifiers at The Meadowlands. She won over a surface labeled “good” in 1:53 on April 26, in 1:51.3 (last quarter in :26) on May 2, and in 1:51 (middle half in :53.4) on May 10.

“She qualified well, and Dexter is happy with her,” Ryder said. “It’s hard to get ready to race without any overnights, but that’s the reality of it. Last year, I put her in against the boys at [Philly] and she was all right, but I didn’t really want to do that again.

“Like I’ve said before, we’re trying to do what we did last year, take it one week at a time. She’s nice and strong and doing really well. We’re anxious to get racing. It seems like a long time since we've raced. Soon enough, we'll be there."

Lisa Photo

The most recent horse to be voted Dan Patch Horse of the Year in consecutive years was the Hall of Fame trotting mare Moni Maker, in 1998 and 1999.

Twin B Joe Fresh is the eighth Horse of the Year recipient to return for at least one more season of racing since 2012. Five of the previous seven are Hall of Famers: Bee A Magician, Wiggle It Jiggle It, Hannelore Hanover, McWicked, and Shartin N (elected this year). All but one of the seven earned better than $360,000 in the season after their Horse of the Year campaign, led by Wiggle It Jiggle It ($1.71 million), McWicked ($1.03 million) and Test Of Faith ($820,043). Each of those three received divisional honors in the U.S. or Canada.

For her career, Twin B Joe Fresh has finished outside the top three only twice in 40 races, winning 30 and finishing second on seven occasions. She has earned $2.33 million.

"She's done a great job," said Ryder, who owns Twin B Joe Fresh with Dunn, Peter Trebotica, and Barry Spak. "I know it's a lot to ask her to do it again, but why not? I think it's the best thing to do with her. You're always a little bit anxious, but everyone has got a lot of faith in her, including us. It's going to be fun to watch her."

Noted Dunn after Twin B Joe Fresh was named Horse of the Year in February, "Hopefully, she comes back great and races great again. I'm looking forward to it. In my mind, everything she does now is a bonus, she's done everything that's been asked of her. For me, it's not pressure, it's more like just enjoy it. This is probably the ride of a lifetime."

Twin B Joe Fresh will leave from post 5 in Sunday's Betsy Ross. Among her foes will be My Girl EJ, who was the 2024 Dan Patch Award winner for best 3-year-old female pacer and is making her seasonal debut, and recent Grade 1 Blue Chip Matchmaker Series winner Aardie B Miki N.

Sunday's card at Harrah's Philadelphia also features the $100,000 Joseph Auger Memorial Invitational for older male pacers and $100,000 Maxie Lee Memorial Invitational for older trotters. Both are also Grade 3 events.

The Auger Memorial field includes 2024 Dan Patch Award winner Abuckabett Hanover, 2023 Dan Patch Award winner Bythemissal, two-time defending race winner Ruthless Hanover, and recent Grade 1 MGM Borgata Pacing Series winner Mossdale Ben N.

The Lee Memorial field includes millionaires Amigo Volo and Aetos Kronos S, last week's Arthur J. Cutler Memorial third-place finisher Antognoni S, and multiple-stakes-winner Sir Pinocchio.

Racing begins at 12:40 p.m. (EDT) at Harrah's Philadelphia. For free TrackMaster past performances for Harrah's Philadelphia, visit the Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association website here.

Saunders eyes another 'A' effort from Manolete in NJSS final

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Manolete is the type of horse who always strives to deliver a top effort, and trainer Bruce Saunders is expecting nothing less when the colt gets behind the starting gate for Saturday's (May 24) $225,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes championship for 3-year-old male pacers at The Meadowlands.

Ranked No. 7 in Dave Little's Road to the Meadowlands Pace Top 10, Manolete has finished no worse than second in 13 of 16 career races, winning six and earning $250,993. In his two NJSS preliminary starts this season, he missed by a nose on May 3 and posted a career-best 1:50.3 victory on May 10 at The Big M.

In Saturday's final, Manolete will leave from post 1 with driver Scott Zeron. He is the 3-1 second choice on the morning line behind Noel Daley's Smooth Dream at 2-1.

"Manolete is going into the race in good shape," said Saunders, who trains the son of Cattlewash—Glancewithme for owners M And L of Delaware and M & M Harness Racing. "The week off did him good. He always brings his 'A' game, so we're all looking forward to it.

"He's just a terrific horse. He loves his job, loves his life. I think that's part of the reason he shows up. His caretaker [Doreen Dailey] pampers him like a pet, and he responds."

Last year, Manolete had five wins and five seconds in 12 races. He won both of his NJSS prelims and finished second by a head against McCusker in the final. In his next start, he was second to Captain Optimistic in the New Jersey Classic.

Two of Manolete's victories in 2024 were on the Grand Circuit, including a division of the Kindergarten Classic Series. He was second to Papis Pistol in the Kindergarten final.

This year, Manolete was sixth against older horses in his seasonal debut, then second to Smooth Dream in the Home Grown Pace prior to his NJSS starts.

"He's not going to win every race," Saunders said. "He's not going to be 1-2-3 every race. But I know for a fact he'll show up and do his very best. That's the kind of horse he is."

Saunders said last year that Manolete might have been the smartest 2-year-old he ever trained.

"That hasn't changed," Saunders said. "He's really intelligent. From day one, he knew exactly what to do."

"He's a little bit more of a man this year as opposed to a boy. He doesn't do anything stupid, but he doesn't mind expressing himself or hollering at the girls. He makes sure they know he's there. But once he gets his gear on, he forgets all that and is focused on his job."

Manolete's stakes list, aside from the Meadowlands Pace, includes the MGM Grand Messenger at MGM Yonkers Raceway, Tompkins-Geers and Cane Pace at The Big M, and Matron and Progress Pace at Bally's Dover.

"We chose to stay close to home," Saunders said. "There is plenty of money here if we are good enough to get it. I think we did the right thing for our horse."

Manolete and Smooth Dream both head into Saturday's NJSS final off wins. Smooth Dream, who will leave from post 8 with driver Todd McCarthy, is undefeated in four races this season. Making History, who nipped Manolete in the event's first round, is the 4-1 third choice from post 3 with Brett Beckwith in the sulky for trainer Tony Alagna.

"Noel's horse was — and maybe still is — the best of the group, and there are several other horses that are viable in this event," Saunders said. "Making History, when it became a brush race, used his quick speed to brush past us [in the first round]. I don't think it's going to be a brush race this time, I think there is going to be continuous action because there are so many horses with speed that are on the outside."

"It's going to be an interesting race. With the rail, Scott only has to look to his right side to see what's going on and make his decision. We have a lot of confidence in Scott. He's familiar with our horse and, to a certain extent, he'll determine how fast the fractions are based on what he's got in his mind, or how fast we push off the gate as well. But our guy will be ready."

In Saturday's $225,000 NJSS final for 3-year-old female pacers, defending series champion Reckless Abandon is the 9-5 morning line favorite. She won her second-round start in the event by a head over Worklifebalance after finishing second by a head against Beach Babe in the first round. Reckless Abandon will leave from post 6 with Todd McCarthy driving for trainer Brett Pelling.

Saturday's Big M card also includes first-round NJSS action for 3-year-old male and female trotters, plus the first leg of the Miss Versatility Series for older female trotters.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster past performances for The Big M, visit the track's website here.

Calicojack Hanover captures Juravinski Memorial Cup

Calicojack Hanover pocketed the loot in the $247,500 Charles Juravinski Memorial Cup for 4-year-old pacers, Canada's first-ever graded stakes race, with Louis-Philippe Roy aboard for trainer Luc Blais on Sunday (May 18) at Flamboro Downs.

Formerly known as the Confederation Cup, the Grand Circuit stakes was renamed in 2022 to honor the late Charles Juravinski, the track's co-founder and Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame inductee. Flamboro's signature race is a Grade 2 stakes and is the first graded stakes event to be held in Canadian harness racing under the new North American grading system introduced this year.

Calicojack Hanover posted back-to-back 1:50.2 career-best victories at Flamboro, upsetting as the longest shot on the board in his elimination a week ago and returning to top the nine finalists as the heavily backed 6-5 favorite during the Victoria Day weekend.

Leaving from post 4, Roy had Calicojack Hanover in the mix through a contested :26.3 opening panel, clearing Lous World (Bob McClure) into the backstretch before Howlenth hills (Travis Cullen) took over at the quarter pole.

Calicojack Hanover continued to follow Howlenth hills in the pocket through a half in :54.3 and three-quarters in 1:22.4 while an early first-over move by Storm Shadow (Tyler Borth) with not enough progress prompted the other elimination upsetter, Captain Fear Not (Jody Jamieson), to go three-wide down the backside the final time.

Still clear on top, Howlenth hills looked poised for victory with a three-across battle for second-place brewing behind him. But as the outer flow began to diminish around the final turn, Calicojack Hanover set sail out of the pocket and wore down Howlenth hills through the stretch, with Lous World shooting through inside that pair to take third. Captain Fear Not finished back in fourth while early trailer, and 31-1 longshot, Timeisonmyside (James MacDonald) was fifth and survived a judges inquiry after being forced inside two pylons by a tiring Storm Shadow.

A $2 win ticket on Calicojack Hanover paid $4.40.

With his seventh and biggest career win from 24 starts, the Captaintreacherous—Charisma Hanover stallion boosted his bankroll to $334,931 for owner Determination of Montreal, QC.

Roy also won the mares companion event, the $50,000 Margaret Juravinski Memorial Invitational Pace, with the Dr. Ian Moore-trained Odds On Platinum.

The popular Moore trainee pocketed outside leaver Grit N Grace (Jamieson) while 7-2 second choice Blue Pacific (Doug McNair) broke stride behind that pair through a :27.1 opening quarter. Odds On Platinum led the rest of the way through middle splits of :56.1 and 1:25.1 to score in 1:53 flat, with 33-1 Grit N Grace chasing 1¼ lengths behind and 51-1 longshot One More Bet (J.R. Plante) following four lengths back in third.

After a pair of top three finishes while facing preferred distaffers in her first two starts of the season at Woodbine Mohawk Park, the Ontario Sires Stakes graduate was sent postward as the 1-5 odds-on favorite and paid $2.60 to win. The millionaire daughter of Bettors Delight out of former world champion American Jewel is owned by Let It Ride Stables and Odds On Racing.

The Juravinski undercard included three $25,000 Ontario Sires Stakes divisions to launch the 2025 Grassroots Series with 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings in the spotlight.

Sent postward as the 1-9 bettors' choice, Manforce (Muscle Mass—Wishimaywishimight) scored a maiden-breaking victory in the first division with a 1:58.3 front-end effort in rein to Jamieson for trainer Susie Kerwood and owner M And L Of Delaware.

Jayport Cash pulled off a 31-1 stunner in his first career win with a late rally up the passing lane to prevail over 1-5 favorite Go Blue in 1:58.4. McClure drove the Trixton—Jayportcashforlife colt, who is trained by Joshua McKibbin and owned by M&s Racing Stable and Paul Badder.

A two-time Grassroots winner as a freshman, First Class Rule topped the third division of sophomore trotters, turning back 6-5 favored Mass Speed (Roy) and holding off 3-2 second choice Sound N Vision (Daryl Thiessen) by a neck at the end of the 1:58.3 mile in rein to Todd Ratchford. Matt Bax trains the Muscle Mass—Ruling Class colt for owners Bax Stable, Glengate Farms, Gaelic Stable and Ronald Van Noort.

A replay of the live stream from Flamboro's Sunday card is available below. The Juravinski Memorial Cup was the evening's 10th race.

Pennsylvania Sire Stakes date change announced

There will be a change of date for the second leg of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes and Stallion Series for 3-year-old trotting colts at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania – originally scheduled for Saturday (June 7), it will now be held a day later, during an evening card at Pocono on Sunday (June 8).

This Sire Stakes / Stallion Series event was scheduled for Saturday (June 7), but so is the first Sire Stakes / Stallion Series leg for 3-year-old pacing fillies at The Meadows. To give maximum opportunity to stables having horses at this high level, the Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association (PHHA), in conjunction with the Pennsylvania State Horse Racing Commission's Bureau of Standardbred Racing (the official overseeing body of these programs), the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association (MSOA), and the racetracks and racing offices involved thought it best to move the sophomore colt trotters back one day, to a scheduled card when Pocono would be normally presenting a 6 p.m. program.

If there are any further questions, please contact the Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission's standardbred bureau, or the racing offices or horsemen's association at either of the racetracks involved.

Chapolier has 11 in a row at Pocono

Chapolier, a trotting gelding by Chapter Seven, continued a streak rarely seen in standardbred racing – he won his 11th race in a row, tops among all North American trotters, and all of the wins at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, by taking the $16,000 claiming handicap trot feature in 1:53.3 Tuesday afternoon (May 20).

Chapolier has had an outer draw in most of his wins, now being entered for the track's highest claiming price for trotters of $30,000, and he has devised several trips from which he could retain his streak. Tyler Buter took him through one of the harder ones – tuck early, then go first-over, but Chapolier went frontward after early numbers of :27.1 and :56, had reached the leader by the 1:24.3 three-quarters, then trotted right on by late on the turn and drew away easily – his 4¾-length margin was the biggest in the “Streak of 11.”

And, of course, Chapolier was claimed again – the ninth time he has gone to a new home during this streak, with $258,000 changing hands via the claiming box. Trainer Hunter Oakes and owner PT Stable thus have an empty stall – but they have done all right by the horse, being his sponsorship in four wins during the streak, earning $32,000 in purses with him, and picking up another $5,000 as he elevated in price. One of the few players in the high-price claiming wars at Pocono not previously associated with Chapolier, Lou's Auto, have the new ownership of the horse, who has made $86,000 during this string.

Pocono is currently racing on a schedule of Saturday – Monday – Tuesday at 1 p.m. and Sunday at 6 p.m. Free Pocono program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Dates to circle plentiful on Big M stakes calendar

There are many factors that make The Meadowlands the No. 1 harness track in the world, but one of the biggest reasons are the big nights that permeate the calendar every year, ones that both harness fans and horsemen look forward to in a big way.

In fact, there are already two circle-worthy calendar dates in the rear-view mirror. The first was May 3, when the Dexter Cup marked the beginning of the Championship Meet, and the second was May 17, when Periculum won a thrilling edition of the Arthur J. Cutler Memorial. There are many big dates still to come as the stakes season continues to heat up at the mile oval as the summer draws ever closer.

This Saturday (May 24), there are a pair of $225,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes finals for 3-year-olds on the pace. Then, in three weeks, on Saturday (June 13), there will be two more NJSS finals for $240,000 (est.), this time for sophomore trotters.

The action then approaches top speed on Saturday (June 28), with the $150,000 Perfect Sting, $175,000 Dave Brower Memorial, $175,000 Crawford Farms and $150,000 Six Pack. All purses are estimated.

One week later, on July 5, in addition to eliminations for the Meadowlands Pace, the Stan Bergstein Graduate finals for 4-year-olds highlight the program. There are a pair of $250,000 (est.) dashes, one for pacers and one for trotters.

The biggest evening in the sport is on July 12, when Meadowlands Pace Night will be the center of the harness racing universe. The list of stakes events that night is long and packed with Grand Circuit punch (all purses are estimated):

- $700,000 Meadowlands Pace
- $175,000 Jerry Silverman Memorial
- $250,000 Stanley Dancer Memorial
- $225,000 Del Miller Memorial
- $275,000 William Haughton Memorial
- $175,000 Dorothy Haughton Memorial
- $400,000 Hambletonian Maturity

Hambletonian weekend kicks off on Aug. 1, with a pair of $240,000 (est.) New Jersey Sire Stakes finals for 2-year-olds on the pace, before the biggest card in the sport begins approximately 12 hours after the Friday program is complete.

The 100th edition of the $1-million Hambletonian tops the Aug. 2 card, which is the only program during 2025 at The Meadowlands that will be contested during the day. Post time is noon, and the stakes action might be the only thing hotter than the temperature that day.

The Hambletonian card has the following major events (with estimated purses):

- $1,000,000 Hambletonian
- $500,000 Hambletonian Oaks
- $260,000 Cane Pace
- $100,000 Shady Daisy
- $300,000 John Cashman Memorial
- $150,000 Dr. John Steele Memorial
- $275,000 Sam McKee Memorial
- $175,000 Lady Liberty
- $240,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes (2YOCGT)
- $240,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes (2YOFT)

Hambletonian Day marks the end of the Championship Meet, but the stakes train keeps on rolling during the Big M's Fall Meet.

The New Jersey Classic Series is the marquee event on Sept. 5. There will be a total of eight finals with $1.7-million in estimated purses up for grabs, as 2- and 3-year-old trotters will square off for $1.1 million in purses while the same age groups on the pace will go for $600,000.

The Kindergarten finals will have four $125,000 (gtd.) races for 2-year-olds on both the pace and trot on Nov. 1 before the final big night of racing of the year in the sport takes place.

Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night takes place on Nov. 15 with $2.65 million in estimated purses up for grabs.

The FF4 is for 2-year-olds, while the FDC are for older horses.

These are the stakes races that night:

- $400,000 Governor's Cup
- $400,000 Three Diamonds
- $400,000 Valley Victory
- $400,000 Goldsmith Maid
- $350,000 FanDuel Open Pace
- $350,000 FanDuel Open Trot
- $175,000 FanDuel Mare Pace
- $175,000 FanDuel Mare Trot

The first of eight scheduled shows took place Saturday (May 17), when The Big M showcased the best older trotters in North America in the $158,000 Arthur J. Cutler Memorial. Also featured were races from Indiana's Hoosier Park.

Hambletonian hopefuls in Pocono Stakes action

Three-year-old trotting males continued on the path towards New Jersey on the first Saturday in August as they contested three $30,000 divisions of a Pennsylvania All-Stars event on Sunday evening (May 18) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

The fastest winner, the Greenhoe gelding Lefties Righties, took a lifetime mark of 1:53.3. He had speed early in the mile, taking the lead before the :28.1 quarter, then sat in the pocket as Hey Porter carried on to the top and posted mid-splits of :57 and 1:25.1, with favored Meshuggah moving uncovered from fourth late in the backstretch. Hey Porter carried the field into the stretch but immediately came under pressure to both sides, and a quick burst in the Pocono Pike from Lefties Righties propelled him to a neck decision over the steady grind of the chalk, with Hey Porter third. Braxten Boyd had the drive for trainer Jenny Melander and the partnership of Chuck Sylvester, Charles Stansley, Lenavitt Investments LLC and John Licausi.

Favored Frank Leahy moved from the pocket after a :28 first panel, made the lead, retained it through fractions of :57.2 and 1:25.4, then finished powerfully to reduce his speed badge to 1:54. The Southwind Frank colt left the opposition five lengths behind while driven by Yannick Gingras for trainer Ron Burke, a six-time winner here on the Saturday card and in possession of almost double the wins of his nearest local rival, and owners Ben Mondello LLC and FAC Racing LLC.

Give Me A Yankee was far back early off fractions of :28.3, :58.2, and 1:26.1, but he wound up in an excellent cover flow for driver Simon Allard and got past favored Green Mel for a 2¼ length score while reducing his mark to 1:55. Give Me A Yankee has had trotting hobbles in his last four starts, with two wins and two breaks – but this win suggests he is coming around nicely (his own last half in :55.3) for trainer Mark Akins and A 1 Racing, which consist of Akins and Allard.

Rawtn Tale, Angelatyourfeet score in pacing finals at Hoosier

The week of racing concluded at Harrah's Hoosier Park on Saturday (May 17) with a pair of $25,000 Pacing Series finals highlighting the 12-race card, with Rawtn Tale and Angelatyourfeet each scoring mild upset victories.

The Hal Dale for Indiana Sired male pacers who were non-winners of two (3-year-olds three) or $25,000 as of March 15 saw Rawtn Tale and driver Mike Oosting leave from the rail as the 9-2 second choice.

Rawtn Tale and Oosting secured the pocket trip early in the mile as 1-5 favorite Book The Fight (driven by Marvin Luna) grabbed early command of the field of eight and led to the quarter in :26.4. Oosting popped the pocket with Rawtn Tale on the backstretch, assuming command from the favorite before reaching the half in :55.2. Class Factor (John De Long) wheeled first-over from third to start the outer-flow on the first turn, as Rawtn Tale raced with a 1½ length lead to three-quarters in 1:24.4.

Turning for home, Rawtn Tale and Book The Fight began to separate from the remainder of the field, with Book The Fight vacating the pocket and setting the stage for a stretch duel. The two slugged it out in the stretch, with Rawtn Tale digging in with a :27.1 last quarter to hold Book The Fight at bay by a neck in 1:52. Derek's Rocket (LeWayne Miller) closed to be third, five lengths behind the top duo.

Trained by Michael Johnson, Rawtn Tale has won four of six and is yet to miss the board in 2025 after a winless 2-year-old campaign. A homebred gelded son of Tellitlikeitis—Raw Diamond for Hugh and Susan Lacey has banked $37,700 in 2025 and now over $55,000 for his career.

In the filly counterpart, Angelatyourfeet and Jordan Ross utilized a different path to victory as the duo overcame the outside post 8 and closed from the clouds to score in the Go On BB final at 9-2.

Angelatyourfeet left the gate in eighth on the first turn as Blessed Beginning (Marcus Miller) raced out to an early lead to the quarter in :27.1. The pace slowed on the backstretch, with 2-5 favorite Odds On Alexandria (Pete Wrenn) moved to the top from the pocket before reaching the half in :57.2. Be True To Me (Kyle Wilfong) powered alongside the leader at 34-1 first-over on the final turn as Angelatyourfeet moved third-over with 4½ lengths to make up at three-quarters in 1:26.

At the top of the lane, a three across battle broke out with Be True To Me and Odds On Alexandria continuing to battle with Blessed Beginning finding room on the cones to join the slugfest. Still with 4½ lengths to make up on the lead trio at the eighth pole, Angelatyourfeet uncorked a wicked :26.3 rally to rush to the top in the final strides and reach the wire a quarter-of-a-length in front in 1:53.2. With only three-parts-of-a-length separating the superfecta, Be True To Me finished second, Odds On Alexandria third, and Blessed Beginning crossed the wire in fourth.

Angelatyourfeet is trained by Henry Graber, Jr. for owners Eleven Star Stables, Michael Rosenthal, Backroad Stable and Frank Baldachino. The 3-year-old rookie daughter of Freaky Feet Pete—Jump Jive And Jam has won three of five and is yet to miss the board while banking $27,940.

Baldachino was also co-owner of the race's namesake, Go On BB, who was Indiana's first million-dollar earner. This marked the first time he had co-owned the winner of this series.

Ohio Sires Stakes returns to MGM Northfield Park

There was a lot to look forward to on Saturday (May 17), as Ohio Sires Stakes action returned to MGM Northfield Park.

The "Home of the Flying Turns" played host to a pair of divisions for 3-year-old colt and gelding trotters and pacers.

Vekna (driven by Kayne Kauffman) kicked the evening off with a game victory in the first of two $65,000 divisions for trotters, but the path to victory wasn't necessarily an easy one.

What A Buckeye (Dan Noble) left hard as the wings sprung, with Rose Run Alex (Chris Page) defending pylon position entering the first turn. Kauffman tried to put Vekna into play early, but seeing the hot tempo up front, he elected to save ground.

What A Buckeye cleared the lead entering the backstretch, and got to the quarter in a testing :28.2. Noble pumped the breaks in the second panel, getting to the half in :58.3. Entering the backstretch, Vekna was guided to the outside and the sprint was on as What A Buckeye got to three-quarters in 1:27.3, feeling the daunting presence of Vekna breathing down his neck.

The pair dueled through much of the final quarter mile, with Vekna wearing down What A Buckeye for a half-length score in 1:56.3.

Owned by Natalie Kauffman, the son of Enterprise—Rare Book picked up right where he left off as a freshman, pushing his career earnings to $91,122.

The $65,000 second division for trotters featured another great battle as Battle Hill (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) scored an impressive one length victory over rival Scrappys Love (Noble).

Leaving alertly down the center of the racetrack, Battle Hill and Scrappys Love dueled into the first turn. When Wrenn asked Battle Hill to go on, he responded, forcing Scrappys Love into the pocket entering the backstretch.

Battle Hill led the single file field through an opening quarter of :28.2, then through a modest half-mile of :58.2.

Entering the clubhouse turn for the final time, race favorite LT Loverboy (Brett Miller) and Whats Shakin (Ronnie Gillespie), began a bid for the lead. Heading onto the backstretch, Battle Hill continued to put up all the numbers arriving at three-quarters in 1:27.2.

Through the final turn, Whats Shakin continued to loom large on the outside, with LT Loverboy, who appeared one paced, now chomping at the bit turning for home.

Battle Hill kicked clear through the stretch under confident handling, winning by a diminishing length in 1:56.3.

Owned by William Hartt, Battle Hill is trained by local trainer Matthew Burkholder. The seventh victory of his career pushed his lifetime earnings to $235,750.

The pacing glamour boys were up next on the program with Ron Burke trainee Fear The Hate rolling to a big victory in 1:52.4.

Fear The Hate (Page) wasted no time making the lead, dueling with Up Again (Noble) onto the backstretch. When Up Again made a break up the backstretch, Fear The Hate capitalized, arriving at the quarter in :27.4.

Twin B High Tide began to make a bid for the lead approaching the half in :57.3, but Page who got the breather he wanted in the second panel, showed no signs of slowing down.

Through the stretch Pants On Fire (Wrenn, Jr.) tried to chase down Fear The Hate, but was outmatched as Fear The Hate scored by 1½ lengths.

Owned by Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Bruscelli, Knox Services and Beastly LLC, the 3-year-old by Fear The Dragon pushed his career earnings to $70,750.

In the final $65,000 division for sophomore pacers, Rick Wink made short work of his competition, winning easily as the heavy favorite.

Downbythewater (Wrenn, Jr.), parked through much of a :27.4 first quarter, gave way to Rick Wink (Page) through the stretch for the first time.

At the half in :57.4, Rick Wink appeared to have things his own way, opening up on his competition. Through the stretch, Rick Wink kicked clear winning by 1½ lengths in 1:53.

The 3-year-old by Battle of Lake Erie champion Bit Of A Legend N pushed his career earnings to $308,250 for owners Burke Racing Stable, R A S Racing, Knox Services, J&T Silva-Purnell & Libby.

Standardbred stars abound on Philly's "Super Sunday"

This Sunday afternoon (May 25) Harrah's Philadelphia will be proud to present as good a card of racing as has been seen in North America so far in 2025, with $661,766 in purses to be contested during the track's annual marquee "Super Sunday" program, featuring 16 star-studded races beginning at 12:40 p.m.

Following is a brief overview of the three centerpiece $100,000 invitational races for the most talented established performers in the sport, along with third preliminary round action of Pennsylvania Sire Stakes / Stallion Series racing for the "glamour division," the 3-year-old pacing males, and other top races on the talent-packed Super Sunday card:

$100,000 BETSY ROSS INVITATIONAL PACE for mares (race 13): The 5-year-old mare Twin B Joe Fresh, the 2024 Dan Patch award winner as Horse of the Year, will be making her 2025 debut in the Betsy Ross, starting from post 5 in an eight-horse field for driver Dexter Dunn and trainer Chris Ryder. Twin B Joe Fresh, a career double millionaire, is also the defending champion in the Betsy Ross, having covered the mile in a stakes record 1:48.2 in capturing last year's event, as she has prepped sharply for this season with three winning qualifiers.

Starting just to the right of Twin B Joe Fresh is another Dan Patch Award winner from last year, My Girl EJ. This mare was last year's 3-year-old pacing filly Dan Patch Award winner, and Sunday she will step up to face more seasoned opposition for trainer Andrew Harris and driver Todd McCarthy. "EJ" already has a 1:50.2 winning qualifier this season, and last year as a sophomore she finished a good second to Twin B Joe Fresh in the season-ending FanDuel pace for females.

$100,000 JOSEPH AUGER MEMORIAL INVITATIONAL PACE (race 12): Ruthless Hanover became the fastest pacer ever over a five-eighths-mile track when he toured the Philly oval in 1:46.3 while winning the 2023 Auger, then came back last year to take his second straight victory in the race, in 1:47.2. He has won two qualifiers locally in preparation for this, his seasonal debut, the faster of the two in 1:51. But the pacer, driven by George Napolitano, Jr. (atop the Philly standings) for trainer Tom Cancelliere, will have to deal with the difficult outside post 8 if he is to three-peat.

Besides the bad post, there is also the obstacle of Abuckabett Hanover, 2024 Dan Patch award winner for older pacing horses and the winner in his last two starts of that year, the Potomac and the FanDuel, with Ruthless Hanover second both times. Like Twin B Joe Fresh, a lifetime double millionaire, Abuckabett Hanover will also be going to the gate for the first time in the current campaign, starting from post 3 for driver Dexter Dunn and trainer Andrew Harris.

$100,000 MAXIE LEE MEMORIAL INVITATIONAL TROT (race 11): The two trotters to beat on paper in the Lee have drawn post 1 and 2, and both are Swedish imports. Innermost is Antognoni S, an eight-time winner already in 2025 and the Brennan Trotting Series champion, coming off of a third as the favorite in the Cutler Trot after being hard-used to get the lead and set the pace. Antognoni S, named after a football (soccer) star in Italy, goes postward for trainer Ron Burke and driver Yannick Gingras.

Alongside him will be Aetos Kronos S, a recent arrival from Europe who has earned $1.4 million and who started in last year's prestigious Prix D'Amérique. Aetos Kronos S showed he fits in with the very best American trotters competing when he ripped off a 1:51.3 clocking at The Meadowlands in only his third start on these shores. Dexter Dunn will have the driving assignment for trainer Marcus Melander.

PENNSYLVANIA SIRE STAKES AND STALLION SERIES (3-year-old pacing males): $261,766 will be raced for by the best of the Keystone-sired sophomores, with three divisions of Sire Stakes and seven Stallion Series sections in the penultimate leg of the two programs' preliminaries.

The Sire Stakes will go in races 5, 7, and 10, and the most attention will likely go to the latest of the three because it contains Louprint, Dan Patch award winner at 2 and the only double winner in the two Sire Stakes legs to date. Louprint has post 3 for driver Ron Wrenn, Jr. and trainer Ron Burke. This 10th race will also be the opening leg of a Pick 4 wager with a $10,000 guaranteed pool, with the three invitationals following right along behind rounding out the vertical wager.

Among the other promising horses in the Sire Stakes races Sunday are Go Go Grasshopper, Twisted Destiny, and Wedlock Blue Chip, each of whom has a Sire Stakes leg to his credit.

Among the Stallion Series races, Odds On Outlier was the only double winner in the first two StS prelims. He's among the entrants in race 15, starting from post 5 for driver Peter Wrenn and trainer Melanie Wrenn.

THE OTHER HIGH-CLASS RACES on SUPER SUNDAY: There will be a $50,000 invitational pace, the #senditin, in race 8 on the card, and a $25,000 open pace in race 14. An open trot for $25,000 is slotted for race 3. Thus, all 16 races on the "Super Sunday card" will be invitationals, opens, or Sire Stakes/Stallion Series contests – quality from top to bottom.

10-1 Pelican Hanover impressive in BSS for 3-year-old filly trotters

At 10-1, Pelican Hanover not only won in a lifetime-best but produced a mild upset on Tuesday (May 20) as MGM Northfield Park hosted five divisions of the first leg of 3-year-old filly trotters in the Buckeye Stallion Series, each with a $20,000 purse.

Pelican Hanover (driven by Kurt Sugg) won the second division in 1:57.4 over the 9-5 favorite Iwillmakeuproud As (Dan Noble) and Freedom Hill (Anthony MacDonald). Leaving from post 5, the Miles Wollam-trained filly settled in fifth as Iwillmakeuproud As led the field. Pelican Hanover moved first up as the field crossed the halfway mark in :58.4 and was second at the 1:28.3 three-quarters before a late surge powered her to her first seasonal victory.

Pelican Hanover was one of two Uncle Peter fillies to win a BSS race on Tuesday, as Up took the third division in 2:00 for her first victory of 2025. Driver Tyler Angus had Up in the pocket behind leader I Bee Cream (MacDonald) as the field crossed each of the first three calls in :27.4, :57.4, and 1:27.3. The field tightened entering the final stretch as the even-money betting favorite Up, trained by Matthew Burkholder, moved three wide and passed Sudsnritz (Tyler Smith) and I Bee Cream for the win. Tankfullaluck (Crist Hershberger) rallied to take second while Sudsnritz finished third.

Burkholder also trained the winner of the fourth division, Sweet Rose' (Aaron Merriman). Sweet Rose' posted fractions of :29.1, :59.2, and 1:28.2, winning by a length in 1:59.1 over Jailhouse Pearl (Tyler Smith) and Pretty Lil Penny (Trevor Smith). The Marseille filly has won all three starts in 2025.

In the first division, heavy 1-9 favorite In The End (Noble) won by over two lengths in 1:58.2 ahead of Aunt Lilly (MacDonald) and Peterbuttercupcake (Justin Irvine). The Anette Lorentzon trainee by Lionhunter led the field at all three calls in :28.2, :59, and 1:28.2 en route to scoring her second win in three starts this season.

Wild As You (Tyler Smith) wrapped up the BSS races on Tuesday with a win in the fifth division. Trained by Chris Beaver, the Muscle Up The Goal filly led wire-to-wire, setting fractions of :28.4, :59.4, and 1:28.3 before crossing the finish in 1:58.4. Countn On Cc (Sugg) rallied for second over Deetz Lighting (Austin Hanners). Wild As You has hit the board in all five starts in 2025 with two wins and $26,500 in earnings.

The 2025 Buckeye Stallion Series continues today and Saturday (May 23-24) with the opening legs for 3-year-old colt trotters and 3-year-old colt pacers at Eldorado Scioto Downs. Today's 16-race card will feature six divisions of colt trotters, and Saturday's 16-race card includes eight divisions of colt pacers. Post time for both days is 5:52 p.m.

DAN NOBLE LEADS THE WAY AS 2025 BUCKEYE STALLION SERIES KICKS OFF AT NORTHFIELD: Driver Dan Noble found plenty of success Sunday (May 18) as MGM Northfield Park hosted the first Buckeye Stallion Series races of the year featuring six divisions of 3-year-old filly pacers, each with a $20,000 purse. Noble-driven entries hit the board in five of the six races, including one victory.

Noble drove the favored Four Carat Rock to victory in 1:55.4 in the fourth Buckeye Stallion Series race of the evening. Trained by Ben Davis, Four Carat Rock covered the opening quarter-mile in :28 and the half in :57.4. The filly hit the three-quarter mark in 1:26.2 and held off a late charge from longshot Our Honor Defend (Case Bateson) to win by three-quarters-of-a-length. Sunonmybuns (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) finished third. Four Carat Rock has hit the board in four of five starts in 2025 with two wins and two second-place finishes. The filly, by Rockin Amadeus, has five wins in 17 lifetime starts and $49,387 in earnings.

Noble also notched four runner-up finishes Sunday, driving Mandys Rottenapple, Sectionline Flame, Spinal Cracker, and Burning Sole to second place in their respective races.

The favored Bubbles Out (Chris Page) opened Sunday's Buckeye Stallion Series slate with a victory over Noble's longshot Mandys Rottenapple in 1:53.1. Bubbles Out completed the first quarter in :27.4 and pulled away to hold the lead the rest of the way, hitting the half in :56.4 and three-quarters in 1:24.4. Seven Sisters (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) finished third. Trained by Trish Foulk, the Downbytheseaside filly has three wins in six starts this season and $27,720 in earnings.

Pink Jammies (Justin Irvine) took the victory in a lifetime-best 1:56.1 as the favorite in the second division over Sectionline Flame (Noble) and second choice Trunk Bay Hanover (Austin Hanners). She led at :27.3, :57.3, and 1:26.2 en route to the victory. Sectionline Flame posed a strong challenge over the final quarter, but Pink Jammies held on to win by a neck. The daughter of Fear The Dragon has now hit the board in her three starts this season, including two victories. Trained by Rosy Weaver, Pink Jammies has 11 wins in 22 lifetime starts with $104,700 in earnings.

Driver Cameron McCown guided 4-1 second choice Guard The Fire to the win in 1:55.2 in the third division. My Hare Legend (Irvine), the 2024 Buckeye Stallion Series 2-year-old filly pacing champion, entered as the favorite and led after the first three calls in :28.2, :58, and 1:26.3. Guard The Fire rallied from fifth after the first quarter-mile to trail by just a nose at the three-quarter pole. The Catch The Fire filly pulled away to win by 4½ lengths over longshot Spinal Cracker (Noble) and My Hare Legend. The win marked the first in two starts this season for the Brian Brown-trained filly, increasing her lifetime win total to four and earnings to $48,360 in 12 starts.

Making her fourth start of the season Sunday, the 9-1 fourth choice Maddie's Delite (Merriman) won the fifth division in 1:54 over Lorna Dune (Page) and third choice Survivin Fire (Brett Miller). Putting her speed on display, the favored Anna Loves Bananas (Noble) led at the opening quarter in :26.2 and at the half-mile mark in :55. Survivin Fire caught Anna Loves Bananas at the three-quarter mark in 1:24, and Maddie's Delite made it three wide from third place and sped away down the stretch for the three-and-a-quarter-length victory. Trained by Steve Carter, the Lather Up filly has 14 wins and $103,749 in earnings in 19 lifetime starts.

Another Carter trainee, Euphoria Rising (Miller) capped Sunday's BSS slate with a win in the sixth division in 1:54.2 as the favorite over Burning Sole (Noble) and second choice Foxy Seaside (Anthony MacDonald). Euphoria Rising led at every call with times of :28.1, :54.6, and 1:25.4 en route to the three-length victory. The battle down the stretch was for second, as Burning Sole came from fourth to edge Foxy Seaside at the wire. Euphoria Rising, by Domethatagain, has now hit the board in five of eight starts this season with two wins and $24,325 in earnings.

Open house at Tom Rankin's farm

The journey to the racetrack begins at the breeding farm and for standardbred owner/breeder Tom Rankin, the entire breeding process fuels his passion for harness racing.

Rankin will share his love of the horses on Saturday (May 31) as he and his staff host an annual open house event at his St. Catharines based breeding farm, in cooperation with the Bill Galvin Racing Alliance (BGRA). Guests can stop by between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. and meet the mares and foals and talk to Rankin about any of his horses. For any students attending, the horses may provide inspiration to enter one of two contests that the BGRA is organizing thanks to Rankin's generous sponsorship of the prize money.

Students in grades 3 through 8 can write a poem or story about anything standardbred related for the Youth Literary Derby, and students in grades 3 through 12 can draw or sketch a picture of anything standardbred related for the Youth Art Derby. More information on the contests is available at bgracingalliance.ca and will also be available at the open house.

"Behind every champion trotter and pacer is the careful planning, dedication, and expertise of a standardbred breeding farm," Rankin said. "I'm fortunate enough to have a first-class team that have become experts at foaling and weaning."

From conception to birth takes roughly 11 months for most horses. Breeding season is from mid-February to early July. Foals are weaned sometime between 4 and 6 months, and start their training lessons as yearlings, in the fall just before they turn 2. There are several public horse sales in Ontario for yearlings. Racehorses share a universal birthday of Jan. 1, despite what month they are born in, and can race in their 2-year-old season.

At the Rankin farm, there are seven broodmares with foals at their sides, including Keep The Spirit, the dam of Run Director, who won an O'Brien Award (national harness racing award) at the age of 3, had lifetime earnings of $680,000 and now stands stud. The other mares with foals include Saundra, Miss Adam T, Absolut Seelster, Miss Expo, Miss Congeniality, World Class Izzy, and the infamous Royal Witch is due any day.

Adding to the fun, the Rankins will also be holding a "Name the Foal" contest. Anyone who suggests a name that the Rankins choose for one of their foals will receive a $100 cash prize.

Often operating quietly behind the scenes, breeding farms form the backbone of Canada's harness racing industry, producing the next generation of elite athletes that fuel sales rings, racetracks and dreams.

"Breeding decisions made today shape the future of the sport," Rankin said. "It takes knowledge, patience, and passion to raise a foal into a racehorse, and that all starts here on the farm."

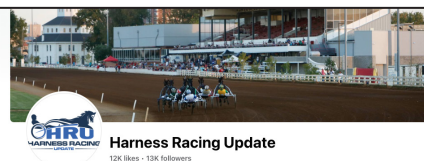

Families and horse lovers are invited to visit the farm, located at 1490 St. Paul St. West in St. Catharines, ON, on Saturday (May 31) from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to register by May 28 by calling Rankin Construction at 905-684-1111 during business hours (Monday to Friday).
