Gural-Taylor feud rages as star horses are back in limbo

The owner of The Meadowlands has extended the ban of Howard Taylor's horses to Taylor's mother.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN

with BRETT STURMAN

As Taylor explained it, "You can't ask partners to buy them all out, there are too many. The better ones, the expensive yearlings, I go from a quarter, a third, a half – you can sell maybe one or two to the partners, but not all, it's too many. And it's not fair to have a stranger come in and buy significant parts of horses [with] people they don't know and people who don't know them."

Meadowlands owner Jeff Gural served notice this week that the track will not accept entries for horses owned in partnership with Judy Taylor, the mother of Howard Taylor, and that her interests must be divested by June 1.

The move puts some of the best 3-year-olds back into limbo.

To briefly rewind, Gural had banned Taylor beginning December of last year as part of 33 individuals with purported ties to exhibits – in Taylor's case, the purchase of a substance called BB3 that Gural considered Epogen (EPO) – from the trials of Seth Fishman and Lisa Giannelli. Howard has since brought forth a defamation suit against Gural, and in it, states that the accusations of ordering BB3 or instructing trainers to order BB3 are false.

As a disclaimer before going further, I want to note that I've spoken with Howard Taylor socially on occasion in recent years.

That said, with the Gural banning of Taylor from The Meadowlands, it's not a simple matter of divesting Taylor's interest due to the vast number of horses that he owns. Approximately 80 per cent of those horses are owned jointly with partners.

“ I got Bob Boni, who no one is going to question his credentials, to have these horses appraised, and I wanted these horses appraised completely fairly. [That was] for the horses that would have to race at The Meadowlands for stakes and for the Breeders Crown. This wasn't a fake paper transfer. My mom has always loved to go to the track and buy horses. She has enough money to buy these on her own, a history of owning horses, she has already owned some of these, and we had a wire transfer from her account to my account for the cost of the appraisals. They're not mine, but they're still in my family, allowing me to root for them. ”

~ Howard Taylor

To bring a resolution to the situation, Taylor sold 10 of his best horses to his mother, Judy.

This is where this situation differs greatly from nearly every other similar instance in the sport where someone is banned and a fly-by-night family member or significant other appears from nowhere to take their place. Judy has been a harness racing mainstay for decades, co-owning and breeding horses in the hundreds during that time. She remains an active owner to this day.

In the case of two of the 10 horses in question – Total Stranger and Thinker Monkey – Judy was an original owner when they were bought as yearlings. She, along with Howard, were both independent owners as part of the Total Stranger partnership group when he raced at The Meadowlands all last year as a 2-year-old.

“I got Bob Boni, who no one is going to question his credentials, to have these horses appraised, and I wanted these horses appraised completely fairly,” Howard said. “[That was] for the horses that would have to race at The Meadowlands for stakes and for the Breeders Crown. This wasn't a fake paper transfer. My mom has always loved to go to the track and buy horses. She has enough money to buy these on her own, a history of owning horses, she has already owned some of these, and we had a wire transfer from her account to my account for the cost of the appraisals. They're not mine, but they're still in my family, allowing me to root for them.”

When I reached out to Gural through email asking for his perspective on Judy Taylor, he responded, “Is this a serious question?”

When I said it was, indeed, a serious question, Gural responded: “I guess like most people in the sport no one cares.”

With Gural being the sole arbiter over what constitutes an acceptable sale and rejecting Judy as a buyer, the horses in question – that also include last year's top 2-year-old filly

“ To his credit, Gural has done a tremendous service in recent years of facilitating complex, large-scale investigations in his pursuit to clean up the sport. But one of his faults remains a lack of consistency in handing out punishments. ”

- Brett Sturman

pacers My Girl EJ and the promising 3-year-old trotter Security Protected – are back to square one. There is also the issue of Howard’s 40 2-year-olds and those partnerships. How do those get staked for not only The Meadowlands-managed races, but also for all races administered by the Hambletonian Society that are run at The Meadowlands.

To his credit, Gural has done a tremendous service in recent years of facilitating complex, large-scale investigations in his pursuit to clean up the sport. But one of his faults remains a lack of consistency in handing out punishments.

One just has to look to the exclusion list issued by The Meadowlands last November to illustrate this point. From the same exhibits that Gural used as his basis for barring Taylor, other high-percentage winning trainers were included and initially barred too. But, some have already been able to resume racing again at The Meadowlands. Almost immediately, one of those trainers had an older horse win at the track that improved his lifetime best win time by four seconds.

Also, there is personal animosity between Gural and Taylor dating back to at least 2017. That appears to be one of the factors here.

After already having had the United States Trotting Association and Hambletonian Society involved to certain degrees, the situation continues to worsen. Taylor has said that because of Gural not accepting these horses in question, Judy has now been added as a plaintiff to Taylor’s current defamation complaint.

For the betterment of the sport, I call on both Taylor and Gural to find a compromise.

Old American Missile Hill best in Sweden Cup

by Thomas Hedlund

Alessandro Gocciadoro initiated the weekend meeting at Solvalla on Saturday (May 25) by winning with 5-year-old Diamond Truppo (Varenne) in the first Sweden Cup elimination. Gocciadoro hit the lead in the first turn and had everything under control all the way. Diamond Truppo won in 1:52.2 while Ideal du Rocher and Dats So Cool finished behind.

Then it was time for French star Just A Gigolo to show up again in front of Solvalla's grandstand. Philippe Allaire's trotter was the runner-up behind Barack Face in the Grand Prix de l'U.E.T. at Solvalla in October and the lust for revenge was big on the French's part.

But the elimination turned out to be a difficult task for driver Gabriele Gelormini. After a safe, easy start, Just A Gigolo had to leave three wide already in the first turn, aiming for the front position, but Missle Hill was lifted out in position first over and it was Missle Hill (Muscle Hill) that proved strongest in the stretch. Daniel Redén's horse came home in 1:51.1 and leader Click Bait held for the silver medal, ahead of a strong finishing Just A Gigolo. A spot in the final for the French star and the hope for great success still lived on.

Gocciadoro usually experiences happy days at Solvalla on this huge stakes weekend and it was no surprise that his Always Ek (Filipp Roc) was in top shape in the second elimination. The trotter delivered a performance worth a spot in every big mile race from now on. A first-over trip in a high paced race didn't disturb Always Ek and Gocciadoro's horse came home in a spectacular mile rate of 1:50.2.

Gio Cash finished second from second over, while Emoji took the last spot in the final from the pocket.

Then Diamond Truppo, Ideal du Rocher, Dats So Cool, Missle Hill, Click Bait, Just A Gigolo, Always Ek, Gio Cash and Emoji all waited for the $112,000 Sweden Cup final.

Click Bait opened quickly from post 4 in the final, but driver Per Lennartsson opted to let Gocciadoro take over with Always Ek, who came to the final as the second fastest horse ever at Solvalla. Only Bold Eagle (1:50) has trotted faster and the respect for Always Ek was obviously big from the opponents in the final.

Just A Gigolo became the bettors' first choice after his bronze medal in the elimination, but the gait wasn't great for the French star in his second heat and his break in the last turn opened it up for Missle Hill, who was served a ground saving trip in second over.

Örjan Kihlström could wait with the full attack until the top of the stretch and Missle Hill had enough speed and power to disarm Always Ek shortly before the wire.

This was Redén's first triumph in the Sweden Cup and today (May 26) he has two strong cards to play in the main event, Elitloppet.

Always Ek finished second and Gocciadoro's second horse Diamond Truppo was third.

Missle Hill has raced in Elitloppet and was in front in the final in 2020; he ended as fifth that time. Now he has claimed another big trophy in Europe, as a 9-year-old. The mile rate over 1,640 meters was 1:51.4. The son of Muscle Hill came to Sweden after his 3-year-old season (Tony Alagna trained the horse in the U.S.) and started by winning in the $100,000 Fyraåringseliten on Elitloppet day in 2019. In 2020, he won his biggest race to date, the $200,000 Jubileumspokalen for 5-year-olds. Thereafter Missle Hill has belonged in the highest division in the Swedish V75 and even in some races in France. This was not the highest purse he has won, but emotionally, coming in front of a hometown crowd on the biggest weekend of the year, winning the Sweden Cup was something special.

DRAMA IN HARPER HANOVERS RACE

Three laps, a strong 15-horse field and an audience that really enjoys great horses, great races and drivers – which means they don't keep quiet). That was the conditions when the $193,000 Harper Hanovers Race ended Solvalla's Saturday (May 25) race card.

The race was heading for 2,500 meters, with Keep Gamble in front and favorite Izoard Vedaquais on the outside, when an accident happened far back in the field. Elitloppet driver Mats E Djuse (Hustle Rain) was thrown out of the bike, but could stand up immediately after the fall, but the race was postponed until after Solvalla's last race.

THE VIEW FROM WOODBINE MOHAWK PARK

with MELISSA KEITH

Sylvain Filion hoping for a 'Funtime' this summer

by Melissa Keith

Woodbine Mohawk Park's lightning fast pacing gelding Funtime Bayama (p, 3, 1:49.4s; $238,247) was originally registered as "Flash Bayama," but it's easy to understand the name change. The gelding has brought nothing but enjoyment so far for owner/breeder Yves Filion and his son, Funtime Bayama's regular driver Sylvain Filion.

"Very much so," said Sylvain. "He's fun. He's given us so many thrills in his early career. He's like a family pet. He was bred, born, and raised on the family farm in Lachute, Quebec."

The Woodbine Mohawk Park driver told HRU that his father, 2016 Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame inductee Yves Filion, did the preliminary work with Funtime Bayama.

"My dad and my brother [Justin Filion] broke him and took very good care of him," Sylvain said. "They took care of him over the winter in Quebec. My sister [Julie] goes and sees him at the farm pretty much every day to feed him carrots and apples and treats with my niece [Amy]."

The son of Hes Watching—Tymal Sugrbabydoll never missed the board last year, winning four of seven starts that followed his July 2 debut qualifier at Rideau Carleton Raceway. Yves was in the sulky for the Bayama Farms homebred's going-away 1:56.3 victory.

"Last year, [Yves] thought he might have something special, but you don't really know until you ask them in a race," Sylvain said. "In his first real race, he showed me."

Funtime Bayama won his first Mohawk qualifier five days after the one at Rideau Carleton, in an identical 1:56.3 clocking. This time, Sylvain drove, and Funtime Bayama had moved to the farm of 10-time O'Brien Trainer of the Year Richard Moreau for the racing season.

The 2023 Ontario Sires Stakes Gold divisional champion began his career a little later than some same-crop peers last year, but his driver explained that's simply how Yves likes to develop young horses.

Funtime Bayama and Sylvain Filion winning the SBOA final on May 11 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

“ My dad [Yves] and my brother [Justin Filion] broke [Funtime Bayama] and took very good care of him. They took care of him over the winter in Quebec. My sister [Julie] goes and sees him at the farm pretty much every day to feed him carrots and apples and treats with my niece [Amy].”

~ Sylvain Filion

“With the weather in Lachute, where the farm is, he takes his time,” Sylvain said. “He always starts them a little later.”

Funtime Bayama spent last winter at home in Quebec, and has returned to the track an even more imposing presence at age 3.

“He filled out,” said Sylvain, adding that the family horse is currently based in Puslinch, ON again. “He was already pretty tall. He’s way thicker and stronger now. He’s back under Richard Moreau’s care. He’s been doing a great job.”

Funtime Bayama won his first 2024 qualifier on April 26 at Mohawk, defeating fellow North America Cup eligibles Nijinsky, Enforcer, and Legendary Hanover in the 1:54 mile. He remains undefeated after consecutive front-end victories in the Ontario Standardbred Breeders Association (SBOA) Stakes, winning his May 4 elimination in 1:51.2 and lowering his mark to 1:49.4 in the $127,000 May 11 final.

Sylvain said it wasn’t just the wins themselves that mattered, but how Funtime Bayama was well within himself at the wire.

“[He won] pretty handy,” said the Milton, ON-based reinsman. “That’s a pretty big advantage. When you can win easily, that keeps them braver and keeps them racing longer.”

Career longevity is the objective for Funtime Bayama, rather than fast results and early retirement. That’s for two reasons, according to Sylvain.

“[First], we like our horses too much to try to impress with him,” he told HRU Friday (May 24). “It’s like they’re [Yves’] babies. It’s a family thing. We always think about the following week, the next race. That’s the way I was brought up.”

Second: Funtime Bayama is a gelding.

Sylvain Filion will become the third Filion inducted into the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame when the official ceremony is held in August.

“The dam was really excited and anxious, stuff like that,” Sylvain said. “She didn’t race because of that. He showed he was like his mother, so we gelded him. He still has little quirks. He’s almost like a thoroughbred. He’s better this year. We’ve been racing him with an open bridle. Last year he raced with a blind bridle, and he was pretty aggressive. He’s much calmer this year with an open bridle.”

Balancing calmness with the high expectations of his 3-year-old campaign will be important for Funtime Bayama, but Sylvain said there are no unreasonable expectations for the family-owned horse.

“My dad [Yves] is already [in the Canadian Hall of Fame], and my uncle Hervé. It’s cool to be inducted, the third Filion inducted; I thought you had to be very old to be in there.”

~ Sylvain Filion

“Maybe a little bit of extra pressure, but pressure keeps you on your toes,” he said. “We had so much fun last year with him.”

Funtime Bayama’s last start was the first 2024 Ontario Sires Stakes Gold leg for 3-year-old male pacers, race 9 on Saturday night (May 25) at Mohawk.

“A race is always a race,” Sylvain said. “A lot of things can happen. I’m a little bit confident, but not too much. Sometimes being the favorite, there’s a little pressure, but I wouldn’t want to drive anybody else in that race.”

Sustained to the Somebeachsomewhere Stake (June 1) and Pepsi North America Cup (eliminations on June 8) at Mohawk, Funtime Bayama is also being pointed towards other major events for 3-year-old pacers.

“He’s eligible to the Meadowlands Pace and the Breeders Crown at the end of the year,” Sylvain said. “At this point we’ll go week by week and see how he comes out of his races. We don’t want to over-race him.”

Sylvain was recently elected to the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame. He will be officially inducted on Aug. 7, 2024 at the Mississauga Convention Centre.

“My dad is already there, and my uncle Hervé,” Sylvain said, adding with a laugh, “It’s cool to be inducted, the third Filion inducted; I thought you had to be very old to be in there.”

Meanwhile, Yves was busy this week, proving that harness racing helps keep its participants young. Sylvain said his 77-year-old father trained Funtime Bayama’s 2-year-old half-brother Greattime Bayama (by Bettors Delight) in a mile “around 2:08” on Thursday (May 23) at Rideau Carleton.

“He’s going to a trainer in Ontario tomorrow [May 25], to Tyler Moore, Dr. [Ian] Moore’s son,” Sylvain said. “Richard [Moreau] is pretty busy. We like to try different things, have a different view. You learn more stuff by working with different people.”

Dam Tymal Sugrbabydoll, Yves’ only broodmare, is currently in foal to Leader Bayama (p, 3, 1:51.1s; $304,306). The stallion, an Artsplace half-brother to the late Goliath Bayama (p, 5, 1:48.1s; $1,503,428), is owned by Guy Corbeil of Mirabel, QC. Tymal Sugrbabydoll’s 2023 foal is Handsome Bayama, a chestnut colt by Cattlewash (p, 3, 1:46.4m; $1,314,787).

Sylvain, a four-time O’Brien Driver of the Year, surpassed 10,000 driving wins last year at Mohawk. He said he’s looking forward to attending his Hall of Fame induction with his wife and daughter, and having a strong contender for the 2024 stakes season.

“I’ll cross my fingers he stays sound and healthy, and we’ll have a Funtime of a summer,” he said, smiling at the double entendre.

Admiral Hill finds success in Kentucky Sires Stakes at Oak Grove

by James Platz

The second series of Kentucky Sires Stakes (KYSS) for 4-year-olds kicks off Monday afternoon (May 27) at Oak Grove with multiple $50,000 divisions. The connections of Admiral Hill have targeted the early series with their late fall acquisition, and the Sweet Lou—Laura Hill gelding has already produced a pair of wins over the five-eighths-mile oval. The Per Engblom trainee will attempt to earn his fourth seasonal score and continue the momentum in the day's sixth race.

Last November, Admiral Hill was offered for sale via onGait by owner and breeder Tom Hill. The gelding had earned over a quarter million dollars under the tutelage of Chris Ryder, taking a mark of 1:48.3 as a sophomore. Matt Morrison purchased the pacer for $261,000 and sent him to Engblom to condition. The conditioner said that Kentucky's lucrative program for 4-year-olds factored into the purchase.

"That is something we took into consideration when we bid on the horse, that he did have these races coming up," said Engblom. "It's just great. The Graduate and all the other races, they're nice, but they're a little cutthroat. This is a series where you can ease into it and let a horse develop. It's just a great program."

Admiral Hill began his campaign at The Meadowlands, winning the feature on April 6 with a 1:50 performance. Since shipping to the Bluegrass State, the gelding has settled in nicely through the first KYSS series at Oak Grove. Steered first by David Miller and later by Yannick Gingras, Admiral Hill claimed victory in the first two legs.

Sent off as the favorite from post 4 in the $100,000 final held May 13, Gingras fired for the lead when the wings folded, but had to settle for the pocket seat behind It's My Show after battling to a :25.4 opening panel. Turning for home, Admiral Hill had pace, but nowhere to go until late, pushing through between horses in the final strides to salvage third. Upset winner Combustion and runner-up Tip Top Cat, both with double-digit odds and open track to the outside, fired late to hit the wire together, separated by a head, in a time of 1:49.1.

"Except for a little traffic problem in the last race, we're off to a good start," Engblom said. "He hasn't disappointed yet. He's got a tremendous turn of speed. He's two fingers. When you ask him, he just turns it on right away."

A winner in three of his first four seasonal starts, the gelding has banked $75,200 for Morrison Racing Stables, and raised his career tally to just under $360,000. After the onGait purchase last November, Engblom entered Admiral Hill for a single start at The Meadowlands, winning in early December before turning him out.

"He was very uncomplicated," said Engblom, who currently leads all trainers in North America in earnings and ranks second in wins. "He's just a very nice horse to be around. He makes my life and the caretaker's life a lot easier. He was in great shape when he came. We trained him for a couple weeks, put him straight in the box and he was great right away. This winter has been very uneventful."

Although Admiral Hill is eligible to the Graduate Series, the trainer is set on keeping the pacer in Kentucky. The second KYSS series offers a trio of $50,000 legs with a $150,000 final, slated for June 25.

"We're going to stick to Oak Grove and see what happens," he said. "We did pay him into the Graduate, so we do have that choice if we want to take him up to The Meadowlands. He's not going to Mohawk for the first leg, but if we really want to take him to The Meadowlands, we can. I highly doubt it. Most likely he's going to stay at Oak Grove for now."

Engblom is managing Admiral Hill through the transitional 4-year-old season with the future in mind, and he is hoping to have a nice older pacer in years to come.

"We took the long-term approach to him," he said. "We raced him once last year and then we turned him out. Since he's a gelding, obviously we're looking beyond that too. It's a horse that we want to have for the upper conditions for years to come. That's why we chose the route that we went."

Once the Oak Grove meet concludes July 16, Engblom said Admiral Hill's schedule could include select stakes.

"There are series races at The Red Mile coming up, but we did also stake him to some open events this fall," he said. "Hopefully the Breeders Crown is a goal, but that's so, so far away, and another huge leap to take."

A lot can happen in the months between now and October. For the moment, Admiral Hill has found a home at Oak Grove and is succeeding for his connections.

Hanover's heartbeat still in rhythm ahead of 60th anniversary season

by Matthew Lomon

Plenty can change in 60 years, but Hanover Raceway's prominent position in the small southwestern Ontario town remains very much the same.

The half-mile oval first launched its pari-mutuel wagering product in 1964, and has served as Hanover's heartbeat ever since.

Locals, tourists, and racing fans alike have flocked to the raceway on 5th Street summer after summer, as standardbred racing takes center stage in the town of 7,900 for three and a half months each year.

This upcoming racing season, which kicks off Saturday (June 1), will be Hanover's 60th in operation.

Opening Day festivities will feature a packed card, which includes Ontario Sires Stakes, Prospect Series, contests, fan-favorite mini-horse races and free cake as part of their 60th Anniversary Celebration.

Ahead of the major milestone, two of the driving forces behind Hanover's continued success, Gail Murray and Scott Price, took a trip down memory lane before diving into what fans can expect in an action-filled 2024.

Few, if any, embody the spirit of harness racing at Hanover better than Murray.

The lifelong horseperson has been with the track in an official capacity for more than 35 years, where she currently holds the reins as assistant race secretary.

However, Murray's ties to Hanover extend well before her time in the race office.

Murray's father, Nelson Gadke, drove at Hanover during the track's early days. But as she recalls, the racing product was much more limited.

"Back then, we didn't have the best horses," Murray said. "It was a lot of farmers that had a couple of racehorses and maybe didn't have, as people do now, 10 or 20 to train. They had two or three."

A modest racing catalog didn't in any way dampen the enthusiasm, as Murray recalls.

"There were a lot of people in town who supported coming here," she said. "It was at a time when everybody didn't go to

“ [In the early days] there were a lot of people in town who supported coming [to Hanover Raceway]. It was at a time when everybody didn't go to Florida for their vacation or didn't go to Toronto for a Blue Jays game or anything like that ”

~ Gail Murray

Florida for their vacation or didn't go to Toronto for a Blue Jays game or anything like that.

“They would come here on a Saturday and go to the races. It was very inexpensive entertainment for the whole family.”

Before sharing what else she's seen change over the years, Murray took a moment to honor three past race secretaries, each of whom played an integral role in Hanover's development as a highly-respected racing venue.

“In a very male-dominated sport, we had three female race secretaries, who have since all passed away,” Murray said. “There was Jean Thibaudeau, who was a member of the Walker family, Lynn Wedow, and Diane Twasnick, who was also race secretary at Elmira Raceway before moving on to Grand River.

“Looking back, I think that's an accomplishment in itself.”

Hanover has always been ahead of its time, both off and on the track.

Throughout its six-decade existence, the eight-wide racecourse has been a hotspot for superstar driving talents like Trevor Henry, Bob McClure, Doug McNair, Scott Young, Scott Zeron, and Tyler Borth, who all cut their teeth at Hanover before setting off for other tracks across North America.

And Murray, whose contributions to Hanover have been recognized with an invitational pace in her honor, was there for it all.

“I remember them as young men, and sometimes, not so well-behaved,” she said with a laugh. “But they turned out to be wonderful gentlemen and built great careers for themselves.

“A lot of horsepeople have come here and got their start, and that's one of the many wonderful things about our track.”

One of the latest graduates of Hanover's renowned development program is none other than its new general manager.

Price, who's entering his second season in the role, quickly gained a deep respect and appreciation for the horsepeople and staff that welcomed him with open arms.

“I've been around harness racing before at different tracks in Orangeville where I grew up, but not to the level that I am now,” Price said. “There's a lot to learn, a lot of language and industry-specific processes, but I found people very supportive and helpful.

“They're the type of people that, and Gail has said it to me many times, they might not have any money but if somebody needed something, they'd be the first ones there to help bail you out or help get you going again.”

That wholesome Hanover atmosphere is something Price picked up on right out of the gate.

“Within a year of being around here, I've made some great friends and I'm looking forward to meeting up with them again this year,” he said. “Everybody has been supportive of me, knowing that this was new. Gail, specifically, deserves special thanks. I don't think I'd be as far along in this industry as I am now if I didn't have Gail to help me through it. She's been nothing but a tremendous help throughout."

Price said he hopes to share the Hanover team's family-like feel with racing fans in 2024 and beyond.

"We're trying to introduce the youth to the industry," Price said. "We're having more kids-related activities, races, and other things this year to make coming to the track a family day."

Hanover's summer calendar is loaded with family-focused events, the first of which is an open house on June 22, running from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Price says fans will gain access to different areas around the track not normally accessible on race day.

"We'll be giving tours of places that you don't normally get to see on a race day, including the backstretch," he said. "You're going to get a first-hand look at what goes on behind the scenes.

"There's a lot of moving pieces on a race day that people don't realize exist and now they're going to see it all up close."

The track's 15-week program also features two fundraisers with its Christmas in July (July 27) and Back to School Day (Aug. 31) celebrations.

The former will be in support of the local Salvation Army Food Bank Drive, while the latter benefits the Saugeen Student Start-Up Program.

Other significant race days include July 13 for the Harness The Hope Women's Driving Challenge, Aug. 3 for Hanover's signature event, the Dream Of Glory final, and Aug. 24 for the Balanced Image final, OSS Grassroots Series, and Gail Murray Invitational Pace.

The victors of this year's Dream Of Glory, Harness The Hope, and Balanced Image will also receive a small piece of Hanover alongside their winnings.

"For our three major races, which now includes a women's driving challenge, we have baskets made up with local products," Murray said. "We source things that are home to Grey and Bruce County.

"We try to give them something special that's unique to us."

For Murray and Price, that something special is both a nod to those who came before them and an unwavering commitment to the next generation of racing at Hanover.

"There's a legend that's been built here that's still continuing," Price said. "We're honoring tradition while also trying to be different."

First race post for opening day is 1:30 p.m.

FINES & SUSPENSIONS

THIS WEEK'S FINES AND SUSPENSIONS

HRU is providing links to publicly-available fines and suspension lists for convenience.

Readers are reminded that because a person's name appears on the list does not necessarily mean they are guilty of an offense. Many times, cases are not finalized and many of the accused are still entitled to due process.

Also, please note, for context, the first link is to the Association of Racing Commissioners International's classification system of drug penalties to give readers a sense of the difference between a Class 1 and a Class 4 positive.

Happy Birthday Carmine Abbatiello and Scott Zeron

by Bob Heyden

Happy belated birthday to Carmine Abbatiello and Scott Zeron. Both “The Red Man” and the “The Money Man” were born on the same day – May 23 – 53 years apart. Abbatiello was born in 1936 and Zeron in 1989.

Abbatiello was the leading money-winning driver in all of North America in 1975 with $2,275,903. He did it again in 1978 with $3,344,457. He multiple driving titles, first at Monticello, then Yonkers and Roosevelt. He did try The Meadowlands when they opened in 1976, but soon headed back to New York. Thirteen times he was in the top five in earnings for the year and topped $50 million for his career. Some of his standout horses included Newt Lobell, Taurus Romeo and Big Towner, as well as Anxious Robby. His last major stake appearance came in the 1994 Meadowlands Pace handling Haunted House for trainer Robert Siegelman.

Zeron surpassed $100 million in 2023 at age 34, the same year he handled “Trotter of the Year” Tactical Approach, the leading money-winner in his division and the winner of both Triple Crown races he participated in, the Hambletonian from post 10 and the Kentucky Futurity. Zeron also captured the Jug with It’s My Show giving him three Triple Crown race wins that year. All three were for female conditioners: Nancy Takter and Linda Toscano. Zeron is the only driver with three Hambletonian wins under his belt prior to his 35th birthday, and has never driven a favorite in the Hambletonian in seven finals. In 2016, at the age of 27, he won the Triple Crown with Marion Marauder making him a full decade younger than any other driver to do so (Trond Smedshammer was 37 in 2004 with Windsong’s Legacy). Zeron remains to this day the youngest driver to ever win a Pacing Triple Crown at the tender age of 23 in 2012 capturing the Jug with Michaels Power. Zeron and John Campbell are the only two drivers ever to win nine Triple Crown events before they turned 35.

IT’S NEVER TOO EARLY FOR SOME HAMBLETONIAN NUMBERS

Saturday is 10 weeks from Hambletonian edition No. 99, and we want to throw a lot out there now in an attempt to make this year the most memorable, until the 100th of course in 2025.

1. Karl is a son of Tactical Landing who won it last year with Tactical Approach. The last and only time any sire won the Hambletonian with his first two crops, was Stars Pride in 1958 and 1959 with Emilys Pride and Diller Hanover, respectively.

2. Post 10 in the Hambletonian Oaks from 1981-2021, the first 40 editions in NJ, earned $446G in those 40 years combined, a little more than $11G per year. The last two years, post 10 has $500,000 for an average of $250,000 a pop.

3. Berndt Lindstedt won $912,257 driving in the Hambletonian from 1979-2002. From Nature Lover, 12th at DuQuoin to sixth with Likely Lad at The Meadowlands the year he turned 66.

4. “The Insiders” most certainly hasn’t been filmed at The Meadowlands in any recent years on Hambletonian Day. In each of the past eight years, posts 1, 2, and 3 have all been blanked in both the Hambletonian and the Oaks. That’s right, shut out!

5. The Hambletonian is tough to win. Yannick Gingras could be in his 14th final and Dave Miller his 21st. Likely with the two favorites Karl and T C I. Both Hall of Fame drivers.

6. Andy Miller will be 55 years 11 months old trying for his Hambletonian breakthrough this year. Roger Hammer was 59 years 5½ months in 2005 with Vivid Photo.

7. There are seven members of the $200 million driving club. Ready? Every one has finished last in the Hambletonian at least once, for a grand total of 18 times.

8. What is 4, 4, 9, 6, 4? Someone’s zip code? No, they’re Dexter Dunn’s Hambletonian finishes (2019-23) as he looks to break through in 2024.

9. If Mike Lachance, a four-time Hambletonian winning driver, gets the nostalgia bug and decides to come out of retirement and drive and win the 100th Hambletonian in 2025, he would then edge out Bi Shively as the elder statesman of all Hambletonian winning drivers at 74 years 7 months 20 days to Shively’s 74 years 4 months 12 days in 1952 with Sharp Note.

10. “Ask Marcus...” Melander that is. He’s got the second-longest streak (current) in Hambletonian history for years with consecutive checks at seven in his first seven years. Jimmy Takter holds the mark at nine-straight years (2010-18) ironically his last nine years.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

Horses have given Ellen Harvey everything and she won't betray their trust, Part 2

by Murray Brown

Part 1 is here.

We continue the story of Ellen Harvey and her family in the winter of Albatross' 2-year-old year.

Then came the stable's loss of Albatross.

"That winter, [my] dad [Harry Harvey] told [Albatross' owner Bert] James he would likely get many inquiries about buying the horse and [dad] hoped [James] would give him a chance to top the offers. James may have been too new to the sport to realize that dad could have topped the offer, which was $1.25 million, with help from Tim and/or Art Rooney, Delvin [Miller], Hugh Grant, Hanover Shoe Farm, etc., through his years managing Adios.

"Three weeks before he was to make the first start of his 3-year-old season, dad was told Albatross had been sold and would move to the Stanley Dancer stable. It was devastating. Aside from now dashed dreams, dad had a big farm, a big payroll, four children, a six-horse truck (that I once drove to basketball practice). But he couldn't do anything about it. Albatross belonged to Bert James.

"The local paper did a story on Albatross' last training trip at Arden Downs. It was nearly a full page and there was a photo of dad sitting on a bench at the side of the track, stopwatch in hand, head down. It was heartbreaking to see then and to think of now. Things were somber at home and I couldn't escape the loss at school, either.

"Mr. James still had about a dozen horses with dad, including the stakes filly Saucy Wave. The late Joe Goldstein, working for the USTA, kept calling dad over and over, asking him to talk with a writer from Sports Illustrated for a story about Albatross. Dad was never one to indulge too much with the press anyway. He certainly did not want to talk about losing Albatross.

"Dad eventually relented. He said that yes, 'it was disappointing' and yes, he wished the horse had not left. The story came out and all the James horses were quickly gone.

"Gone too, somehow was the lifetime booking to Albatross that dad had been promised. I'm inclined to think that it was something that was ignored, perhaps accidentally, perhaps purposely when Alan Leavitt had the syndication papers drawn up. We will never know for certain. Dad was not one to complain and he never, to my knowledge, said anything about the omission to either Mr. James or Leavitt.

"Dad never once saw Albatross again."

Let's move on to your life and career.

"I went to Boston College and graduate school at the University of Washington in Seattle on a fellowship. Hugh Grant established a college fund which paid for my tuition as well as that of my siblings. He and his wife Sue were very kind to our family.

"I taught special needs infants and toddlers in Boston and was most disheartened to learn I was making less than the program's secretary.

"I knew I was an above average writer and I knew harness racing. That was when North American Harness Racing Marketing Association (NAHRMA) was first established and the director, Bob Rossilli, lived near me in Reading, MA.

"When the research program I worked for ended, I started with NAHRMA full time, selling sponsorships. Later I produced and syndicated a radio show and then a TV show called The World in Harness on a precursor to CNBC. Stan Bergstein was host and it was produced at The Meadowlands. I helped triple availability of the show through syndication.

"Allen Gutterman was promoted from publicity director at The Meadowlands and I was hired to take his place. I was there for five and a half years, 1989 through 1994. It felt like 50. I never worked harder or longer before or since. There were two writers, Anne Doolin and Gen Sullivan, statistician Bob "Hollywood" Heyden, four secretaries, couriers and the TV crew.

"We raced six days a week, produced a TV show for the MSG Network every day, wrote barn notes with multiple stories and a result story every racing day. There was a high level of expectation for everything anyone did at The Meadowlands. Stories were never, ever, just a recitation of the chart or past performance lines.

"As the announcer Tom Durkin used to say, 'We're at the top of the food chain. No one eats us.' The highest level of performance was expected – and given – from everyone, all the time.

"I was also PR director for the thoroughbred meet. With Dave Johnson added to that meet, we had more announcers than needed and when Ken Warkentin joined, I asked him to shift to an educational role and develop an announcer's fantasy camp.

"Peter Kleinhans, who was then training horses at Freehold, took the class, laid over the field and soon joined us on the MSG show as a host. Peter later went to law school at the University of Michigan and when I was asked to suggest an announcer for the soon to open Hoosier Park, I brought up Peter. He called the races there, a few hundred miles from Ann Arbor, while studying law. He calls at Oak Grove, [in Kentucky] now, commuting from New York City, between gigs with his band. Peter really likes to call races."

What about your time after The Meadowlands?

"Tim O'Leary left Harness Racing Communications (HRC), the successor to NAHRMA, and I was hired in September of 1994 to take his place.

"In 1995, HRC was absorbed by the USTA and we became, as former USTA CEO Fred Noe said, 'the offshore division of the USTA.'

"I was with the USTA for 22 years. I wrote or pitched hundreds, maybe 1,000 or more, Associated Press stories, pitched and placed features in every major and scores of minor news outlets in the U.S. and many in Canada. I managed the two-year Niatross tour and either Gen Sullivan or I traveled with him and Chris Coyle of Walnridge. I won writing awards at the World Trotting Conference twice and wrote a story on Niatross that made one of the Chicken Soup for the Soul books.

"I placed a story on the birth of Peace Corps' first foal on Reuters wire service and above the fold in the Louisville Courier Journal, and suggested Julie Krone when the connections of Moni Maker said they wanted to try for the under-saddle record. Gen and I knew Julie from The Meadowlands and I publicized that ride and worked out logistics. I wrote and produced the video of that day, "Perfect Together" on YouTube.

"With the help of Ken Weingartner, HRC helped publicize, wrote and placed stories on every Hambo, Little Brown Jug, Breeders Crown and wrote maybe a million words in a newsletter that went to hundreds of media every Monday. With an assist from Andrew Cohen, I got harness racing on the CBS Sunday Morning Show. I got hundreds of requests for help from media members over those 22 years; I just got a call from a writer last week for help on two stories.

"I asked Fred Noe if I could write a curriculum for and try a few seminars for prospective new owners, as the NTRA folks were doing at the time. I continued for eight years, taught others to do them and brought in more than 150 new owners, many of whom called me with questions years later. I got to share in the happiest moments of people's lives and met some of the finest people walking the earth.

"I was involuntarily retired by the USTA at the end of 2017. I now split my time between Aiken, SC and Brownington, VT. Coincidentally, our town of fewer than 1,000 residents in Vermont is home to a small Amish community and standardbreds trot past my house all day."

Author's Note: If you are a harness racing fan you owe it to yourself to watch "Perfect Together: Moni Maker and Julie Krone" on YouTube. It is available in two parts. Part one is here. Part two is here. I watched it once again. After nearly a quarter of a century, it still brought tears to my eyes.

Since leaving the USTA you have been a strong proponent of re-instituting the requirement of freeze branding our standardbreds.

"Yes, I have. The plan to chip only was brought up in a staff meeting when I was still employed there, I countered with what I thought was an important consideration – visible identity enables those looking for our horses in the slaughter pipeline to find and extract them. No one – not the USTA, not any track or any member – is compelled to spend a cent or do anything about it, but there are people who want to get them out of that pipeline.

"I'd done it myself many times; I explained that they're a brown horse in a sea of brown horses crammed into a pen, kicking, striking and biting each other. Not a place to elbow your way in with a scanner. The lack of visible ID would undermine the efforts of and create an unnecessary risk for people trying to help our horses.

"Years ago, I heard Russell Williams say, 'We can make a living with these horses because we teach them to trust us.' He said words to the effect that we owe them a decent life and a decent death because we taught them we'd do them no harm when we ask them to belie their instinct to flee when frightened.

"I took his words to heart. I hoped, in the years prior to 2019, when the USTA dropped branding as part of registration, that they'd think better of that decision. They didn't.

"I'm the fifth generation of my family to make a living with horses. Everything I have is derived from a horse who trusted a human to do them no harm. I wasn't going to betray that trust.

"By 2021, I was no longer on USTA staff, hope was no longer a plan and I didn't see anyone pushing back against the lack of visible ID. I worked for months with many others who shared my position, to convey to USTA directors that their constituents want horses to have the benefit of both forms of ID as part of registration.

“ Years ago, I heard Russell Williams say, ‘We can make a living with these horses because we teach them to trust us.’ He said words to the effect that we owe them a decent life and a decent death because we taught them we’d do them no harm when we ask them to belie their instinct to flee when frightened. I took his words to heart. I hoped, in the years prior to 2019, when the USTA dropped branding as part of registration, that they’d think better of that decision. They didn’t. ”

~ Ellen Harvey

"The rule changes we put forth were accepted at about half the district meetings, all conducted via zoom. I was on every call, usually with my rule change co-sponsors, Keith Gisser and Trish Soulsby.

"The path to the annual meeting in 2022 and the meeting itself was unpleasant, about as unpleasant as Little Big Horn was for Custer.

"I continue to advocate for standardbreds. I'm the only non-vet on The Foundation for The Horse's advisory group on horses at risk. I've conducted four workshops on horse care for the plain community in Lancaster County, PA and edited graphics on horse care for publications catering to those who drive our horses after they leave the track. I've made friends there with many outstanding horsemen working to advance the care our horses need to do their new jobs.

"Every few days I get a call, text, email from someone asking me for help with a standardbred in peril. I do what I can, I always will. I owe it to them."

The Diary of Bridgette M was unique content for a harness racing column. I appreciate HRU offering the format for me to present the story, and thanks to those of you who read along. Also, thanks to those of you who touched base. You may be interested in learning that while the series' characters, horses, facilities, and situations are fictitious, they represent real people and events. Many words are verbatim from people in the horse racing and addiction worlds.

There are no silver bullets in addiction treatment. Recovering is a complex journey with a happy ending never assured. However, a pair of scientific research studies in the past decade using equine-assisted therapy compared to traditional therapies reported positive results that indicate treatment along the lines in The Diary of Bridgette M. has a place in the battle against addiction.

The weekly format for presenting the story in single episodes was clunky for our fast-paced entertainment world. However, a little trivia – although you may not realize it – you've probably read a book or watched a movie based on a book initially published as a weekly or monthly series: The Picture of Dorian Gray, A Farewell to Arms, All Quiet on The Western Front, Bonfires of the Vanities, Sex and the City, In Cold Blood, etc.

There are no silver bullets in addiction treatment. Recovering is a complex journey with a happy ending never assured. However, a pair of scientific research studies in the past decade using equine-assisted therapy compared to traditional therapies reported positive results that indicate treatment along the lines in The Diary of Bridgette M. has a place in the battle against addiction.

Still, reading stories in individual installments over a long period can be cumbersome. A disjointed presentation makes it challenging to follow storylines or characters. Therefore, we condensed the 20 parts into one file, allowing binge reading. A single file should make the story more accessible for anyone new or referred. An outstanding feature of HRU and current technology is that columns are easily archived. At the end of this recap, you can find a single file placed in the Breaking Stride archives here under the heading: The Diary of Bridgette M., The Complete Story.

The condensed file will linger on the HRU site as a free tool. Should you, or anyone you know, be fighting the sobriety battle, all you need to do is click on a single link, and it will be available. Should a single person find a kernel of hope, interest, recovery, or a business model in the unusual tale, that will be gratifying.

Under consideration for next winter is a sequel that takes the main characters and slips them into the world of breeding farms, racehorse retirement, and philanthropy.

Cheers,
Trey

P.S. Next week, Breaking Stride will be breaking into show biz.

Bythemissal set for return in Auger

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

A year ago, at this time, Bythemissal was sidelined by illness, leaving the future of his campaign in doubt. But after missing nearly two months – and racing only once upon his return before the calendar turned to August – the pacer put all uncertainty to rest. He won his division of the Sam McKee Memorial in a career-best 1:47.1 on Hambletonian Day at The Meadowlands, launching a season-ending march to Dan Patch Award honors.

This weekend, the 5-year-old gelding will begin his quest to become only the seventh older male pacer in 60 years to repeat as a Dan Patch Award winner when he competes in today's (May 26) $100,000 Joseph Auger Memorial Invitational at Harrah's Philadelphia. Bythemissal heads to the race having hit the board in 31 of 33 career races, winning 25 and earning $2.15 million.

"This is the best horse I have trained since Sweet Lou," trainer Ron Burke said earlier this year after Bythemissal was named Ohio's Horse of the Year for the second consecutive time. "As a 3-year-old, he was outstanding. As a 4-year-old, he was great. I honestly think as a 5-year-old he'll be the best horse in America. This is a great horse."

Bythemissal won 11 of 16 races last year, including the Breeders Crown Open Pace, Aria Invitational, Allerage Farms Open Pace, Potomac Pace Invitational, and aforementioned McKee. He finished second in the Canadian Pacing Derby and FanDuel Open Pace Championship, missing by a neck in both.

"He got really sick at the beginning of the year, so at that point we didn't even know if he was going to race, or what the situation was going to be," said Yannick Gingras, Bythemissal's regular driver. "To be able to come back and have that kind of year, it was hard not to be impressed. There's definitely no complaints there."

Bythemissal will enter today's start off two qualifiers at The Meadowlands. He finished third in the first one, when he was timed in 1:50.2 with a :26 last quarter. He won the most recent, on May 10, in 1:51.1 with a :26.3 last quarter over a track labeled 'good.'

"I was really happy with both of his qualifiers," Gingras said. "The first one, I was trying not to go too fast and just get him around the track; try to keep the mile under control. They were going pretty fast up front, so I wasn't trying to keep up with that pace. Last time, I thought he was really good. He followed a good horse [Allywag Hanover], and it was exactly what we were looking for him to do, to finish strong. We were happy with that."

Brad Conrad

Bythemissal will leave from post 8 in the Auger Memorial and is the 3-1 morning-line second choice. Post 8 is the least favorable starting position at Harrah's Philadelphia, with a 7.1-win percentage.

Desperate Man, who has won five of six races this season, is the 9-5 favorite from post 1. The field also includes Ruthless Hanover, who won last year's Auger with a world-record performance, leaving from post 5. Bythemissal is the only starter in the race making his seasonal debut.

"He's going there to race, but post 8 makes it tough," Gingras said. "That's a group of horses I have respect for, they're nice horses, so showing up against them, he's at a little bit of a disadvantage having not raced yet this year. But I think he's the most talented of the group, so it's kind of an equalizer."

Bythemissal, whose wins at age 3 included the Little Brown Jug and Adios, will try to join the following horses to receive the Dan Patch Award for best older male pacer in consecutive seasons since 1963: McWicked (2018-19), Foiled Again (2011-13), Won The West (2009-10), Mister Big (2007-08), Red Bow Tie (1998-99), and Rambling Willie (1975-77).

Burke trained Foiled Again and Won The West.

Bythemissal, a son of Downbytheseaside—Dismissal, is owned by Burke Racing Stable, Eric Good, Rich Lombardo Racing, and Weaver Brussemi.

The Auger is one of three $100,000 Grand Circuit races on this afternoon's card at Philly, along with the Maxie Lee Memorial Invitational for older trotters and the Betsy Ross Invitational for older female pacers.

Gingras will drive Hillexotic in the Maxie Lee. The tandem won last year's race with a world-record effort and will leave today from post 2. Hillexotic, coming off a sixth-place finish in the Cutler Memorial on May 18 at The Meadowlands, is 9-2 on the morning line.

"I was disappointed with his last race; hopefully, he bounces back," Gingras said. "The five-eighths-mile track [like Philly] is really his cup of tea. That's an equalizer for him. I was at the farm Thursday morning, and he trained really, really good. He was strong. Maybe it was just one of those races you throw out. We'll see how he is."

Cutler Memorial third-place finisher Dover In Motion is the 2-1 favorite in the Maxie Lee.

In the Betsy Ross, Gingras will drive Sweet Amira, a newcomer to the Burke Stable who is making her seasonal debut. She will leave from post 8 and is 7-1. Always B Naughty is the 2-1 favorite followed by Twin B Joe Fresh at 5-2.

Racing begins at 12:40 p.m. (EDT) at Harrah's Philadelphia. For free TrackMaster programs for Philly, visit the Pennsylvania Harness Horsemen's Association website here.

Heerz Popeye takes Knappenberger final

The first of the Eldorado Scioto Downs mini-series finals, the Jerry Knappenberger, was held Thursday (May 23). Heerz Popeye and Cameron McCown took the $30,000 non-winners of one pari-mutuel event in 1:53.1.

Race favorite, Magic By The Sea with Jeremy Smith up, set opening fractions of :26.1 and :54.3. Cruiser With Class (Brady Galliers) pulled first up as the field was going under the line for the first time. By the 1:23.2 third-quarter, Cruiser With Class was challenging pocket-sitter Ball Of Terror (Austin Hanners) with Heerz Popeye coming three-wide from the back of the pack.

By the top of the stretch, Magic By The Sea, Cruiser With Class and Heerz Popeye were three-wide across the track. Heerz Popeye prevailed, winning by a length over Cruiser With Class. Ball Of Terror came up the passing lane to finish third.

Jessica McCown trains Heerz Popeye, a gelded son of Bit Of A Legend N out of the CoasttoCoast Yankee mare Elm Grove Inarush, for owners HeerztheStock Inc. and Annie Wilfer-Kaehr. Last year at 2, Heerz Popeye had two wins in 15 starts, mostly on the Ohio fair circuit. With the win on Thursday, Heerz Popeye has boosted his lifetime earnings to $41,098.

Jerry Knappenberger was the long-time general manager of the Ohio Harness Horsemen's Association and was elected to the Ohio Harness Racing Hall of Fame in 2015. Knappenberger passed away in 2019 at the age of 76.

Cam McCown ended up winning three races on the night, as did leading driver Jeremy Smith.

Field takes shape for $150,000 Camluck Classic invitational

All but one of the eight starters have been confirmed for this year's $150,000 Camluck Classic, presented by Seelster Farms, which is slated for Friday (May 31) at The Raceway at Western Fair District.

Canadian half-mile track record holder Linedrive Hanover and two-time Borgata Series champion Hellabalou will headline the star-studded field in this year's edition. Linedrive Hanover set the 1:49 national mark when he captured the 2022 Charles Juravinski Memorial Cup at Flamboro Downs and he owns a career record of 1:47 taken last season at Woodbine Mohawk Park. Hellabalou, who hails from the powerful Ron Burke Stable, won his second Borgata title on April 22 with a 1:50.2 victory, bumping his career bankroll to well over $1.4 million.

Local stars Whichwaytothebeach and Poseidon Seelster are both returning to the Camluck Classic in sharp form while newcomer Dragononthebeach, who has turned heads as a new recruit to the David Menary Stable, will make his debut in London's signature race. Also competing for the first time is New York invader Rocknroll Runa A who was a 13-time winner in 2023 and a two-time winner in Borgata Series action this year. Former O'Brien Award winning driver Mark MacDonald will return to Ontario to pilot the half-mile specialist.

Competing for the third time will be the classy $1.77 million winner American History who is a Breeders Crown champion and owner of a speedy 1:47 record taken at The Meadowlands. The veteran charged home in :25.1 in his most recent outing and was individually timed in 1:49.4 The final starter in this year's field will be announced this weekend.

"We are so pleased to attract world class horses of this caliber to London, it's a big treat for the local racing fans," said The Raceway's director of equine programming Greg Blanchard. "Putting the obvious talent aside, this is also a very competitive, well-balanced group. We certainly appreciate the connections who have supported the race by bringing these amazing animals here."

The Camluck Classic post-position draw will take place Monday evening (May 27) and air on the Raceway's pre-game show at 5:30 p.m.

Some of the sport's top pacing mares will also be in the spotlight in the $50,000 Forest City Pace which is headlined by Canada's Pacing Queen and defending champion So Much More. The 8-year-old mare boasts an incredible resume that includes 71 wins, more than $1.6 million in earnings and multiple O'Brien Award trophies. Other confirmed starters include Margaret Juravinski Memorial winner Talk Curdy To Me, last year's third-place finisher Gias Surreal and top local mare Cheesy Smile.

The stacked undercard will also feature the return of the Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots divisions for 3-year-old colt pacers, a quartet of City of London Series finals, the London Classic Yearling Sale Trot and, new this year, the Bulldog Hanover Preferred Pace. In total, more than $400,000 in purses will be up for grabs.

First post for the program will be 5:50 p.m. and the Camluck Classic has been moved up in the program this year, to be carded as race 10.

The Top Of The Fair dining room is sold out but fans on-track will be able to enjoy the action on the first level which will be open that evening and at The Raceway Lounge on the second floor. Outside, the 'Party On The Patio' features live entertainment with local artists Connor Morand and Kristen Renee, food trucks, local craft beers (including the specialty Bulldog Brew and Camluck Classic Lager) and much more. The OSS team will be on site celebrating their 50th anniversary with giveaways and contests. Fans will also have a chance to get a limited-edition Bulldog Hanover ball cap and Camluck Classic t-shirts.

"The Camluck Classic event is a great way to kick off summer in London and we look forward to welcoming everyone that night," said Amy O'Toole, manager of equine programming. "We will offer a tremendous race card with plenty of great wagering opportunities plus lots of food and beverage offerings and fabulous entertainment too. There is something for everyone that night."

The wagering menu on Camluck Classic night will feature a pair of $15,000 guaranteed-pool Pick-5's, two $7,500 guaranteed-pool Pick-4's and an additional Super Hi-5 wager on the Camluck Classic; all are low 15 per cent takeout wagers. HPIBet will offer special cashback promotions as well to those wagering on the program.

For those who can't make it to the track, announcer Sugar Doyle and guest analyst Mike Pribozie will take simulcast fans through the full card which will be available in HD on The Raceway's YouTube channel. COSA TV will be on hand with a live five-race broadcast. Mark McKelvie, Robert Reid, Jr. and Jaimi MacDonald will host the show which will air on the COSA TV Facebook and YouTube channels beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Periculum rallies to take Big M feature

Racing over a track that saw horses go wire-to-wire for five straight races starting in the second, backers of Periculum could not have been all that happy in the early stages of the Friday night (May 24) feature at The Meadowlands, an $18,000 high-end conditioned event for trotters.

After all, the 8-5 favorite was sitting last in the field of six as 17-10 second choice Betterinpinehurst was racing on the point, sailing past the quarter in :27.3 and half in :55.4.

Delayed Hanover was now put in play and went up after the leader using effective, steady trot, and as he cut into the leader's edge, Periculum was in perfect position to pounce, getting a live tow second-over.

At three-quarters, which went in 1:24, a tired Betterinpinehurst clung to a narrow advantage over Delayed Hanover, who grabbed the top at the head of the lane, but Periculum tipped off his cover a short time later and sailed past that foe on the way to an easy 4¼-length score in 1:51.1 using a final quarter of :27 to do it. Delayed Hanover finished second with Purple Lord third.

"He's a fast horse," said winning driver Mattias Melander of Periculum, who is trained by his brother Marcus. "He did everything I could ask for today. The final quarter, that's the best part of his game. It was my fault last week [when he broke in the Cutler]. I moved him too fast. He should be good the rest of the year."

A 5-year-old by Muscle Hill—Amour Heiress, Periculum returned $5.20 to his backers, and in the process, lifted his lifetime numbers to seven wins from 36 starts, good for earnings of $476,013 for owners Brixton Medical Inc and Holly Lane Stud East Ltd.

FAST FILLY: The Linda Toscano-trained Sarasota Hanover (Stay Hungry—Surfside Sexy) rocked the clock in the sixth race conditioned event for fillies and mares, going wire-to-wire in a scintillating 1:48.1. The time was just one-fifth-of-a-second off the track 3-year-old filly pacing record of 1:48, established by Tall Drink Hanover in 2019.

"I have always loved this filly," said Toscano. "She's big and strong, great-gaited with a ton of talent. I made a few changes in her routine and bridle this week and it looks like we have her on track now."

Sarasota Hanover was driven by Scott Zeron, who led the driver colony with four winners on the night, and paid $3.80 as the 4-5 favorite.

A LITTLE MORE: Jenn Bongiorno, Frank Calcagni and Travis Kolaczynski led the trainer colony with two winners apiece. All-source handle totaled $2,691,514 on the 14-race program, which represented an increase of 19 per cent over the corresponding card from a year ago, when $2.25 million was pushed through the windows. The 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 continues to be a great play at The Big M. Those with winning tickets on a formful sequence that saw winner's odds of 1-1, 9-5, 7-5, 8-5, 4-5, 2-1 and 2-1 collected $1,544.98.

Canada's oldest standardbred stake continues on Sunday

A phenomenal weekend of P.E.I. harness racing will be capped off this afternoon (May 26) with the P.E.I. Colt Stakes for 3-year-old pacers at Red Shores at the Summerside Raceway.

The 14-dash card is entirely comprised of P.E.I. Colt Stakes Gold and Grassroots divisions with separate splits for 3-year-old pacing colts and fillies.

Merigo Magic headlines his $18,200 Gold division for sophomore colts in race 12. Owned by Mike May, Herman McQuaid, Derrick Cameron and Ian Walker, the son of Tobago Cays is unbeaten so far this season. His wins include a 1:55.3 victory last week in line to Adam Merner where he sat last and came home in :26.4 while weaving through the field for victory from the Melissa Rennie barn. His main foes today include Check Your Chip (to be driven by Myles Heffernan, Sr.) and Pauls Crown (Marc Campbell).

The other $18,200 Gold colt split is in race 8 as Howmac General gets top billing from the Earl Watts barn for driver David Dowling and owners Windemere Farms, Hollis Newson, Jerry Mackinnon and Debbie Denney. The son of Malicious has a pair of seconds so far in 2024 and faces five rivals including Good Omen (Paul Langille) and Little Leroy (Corey MacPherson).

In 3-year-old pacing filly P.E.I. Colt Stakes Gold action, Goodmorning Nova has rail control in her $18,400 split in race 10. Mark Bradley is aboard for trainer Ashley Gamester and owners Jason Williams and Melissa Banks. The Arthur Blue Chip lass was second in the Atlantic Sires Stakes last week at Truro Raceway in Nova Scotia. Other favorites include Dusty Lane Dixie (Gilles Barrieau) and High Roller (Merner).

The final Gold division is in race 14 as Fern Hill Indigo will try to remain undefeated in 2024 from post 2. Brodie MacPhee is in the seat behind the daughter of Malicious for trainer Tom Weatherbie and owner Next Generation Stable of Stratford. 2023 champion Chip Of Evil (MacPherson) leaves from post 3 fresh off a qualifier while Rollwithitdarling (Campbell) is a top play from post 1.

Spanzaaaano sets Plainridge track record in Bunker Hill Trot

(Editor's note: We missed getting this one in last week)

The track record for 3-year-old trotting geldings at Plainridge Park was re-written on Thursday afternoon (May 16) after Spanzaaaano (Coraggioso—Grace N Charlie) put on a sparkling gate-to-wire performance to claim victory in the $100,000 Bunker Hill Trot.

North America's leading dash driver, Aaron Merriman, sent Spanzaaaano to the front and seated the field in a :27.2 quarter. Once in control, Merriman slammed on the brakes with a :30.1 second panel and basically won the race there. Spanzaaaano then sped to the three-quarter pole in :27.4 as Show Me (Andy Miller), on the pegs and French Kronos (Mattias Melander), in the breeze, chased closest from behind. Spanzaaaano circled the final turn and hit the stretch in full flight and then bolted to the line on top by 2½ lengths, winning in 1:53.2.

The time was a new lifetime mark for Spanzaaaano and also replaced the old track record of 1:53.3 set by Khaosan Road exactly one year ago in this race. The stake's record is 1:53 set by the colt Jonas K S in 2022.

It was the first win in only the second start of the year for Spanzaaaano ($4.80) and it pushed the 2023 Ohio Sire Stake star's lifetime earnings to $322,150. Spanzaaaano is owned by his trainer Chris Beaver, in partnership with Spaaaartners, Bill Manes and Leo Fleming.

Racing resumes at Plainridge Park on Monday (May 20) with post time at 4 p.m.
