It isn't just us that has problems drawing fans

by Trey Nosrac

Then, factor in bad weather that can ruin the best-laid plans. The number of people left over who regularly attend our arenas, playing fields and racetracks are shrinking.

These trends stink. As a mere lad, the racetrack grandstands vibrated with sights, sounds and smells. The entire crowd rose as the horses turned for home. There was camaraderie, quirky characters and a pleasant buzz at a sporting event. Even as children, those who got a taste of magic now attend the races or

There is understandable lament concerning miserable attendance numbers at live racing programs. It shames me when The Meadowlands offers a boffo card, and the attendance is spotty. I have some plausible deniability because I live several hundred miles away, have only been to New Jersey once and have never visited The Big M. However, I don't have total deniability because I have a racetrack 35 minutes from home and rarely physically attend.

It ain't us. It isn't the racetracks. It isn't the staff, it isn't the food, and it isn't even the sport we love. I never heard a bad word about the operation or dedication at The Meadowlands. My local track also does a fine job onsite. The problem is the era in which we live. As Yogi once said, "If the fans don't want to come, you can't stop them."

Every sport has a problem with fans not coming to the fields, stadiums, or arenas like they used to. Sporting venues, despite massive accessibility and comfort investments, are facing dwindling attendance.

Subtract the people on various sporting premises looking for an excuse to get drunk, then subtract those who show up occasionally to preen as hip and rich or those who manage to wrangle the impossible vanity tickets for the rare super contest.

Watching sports on television or streaming makes everything appear okay. Looks can be misleading, though. Good producers can make six people dressed in weird clothing and face paint look like the siege of the Bastille. Case in point, last summer, I was on television. When the show aired, it appeared to be a bit of an audience and was fast-paced. In the real world, the audience was less than 30 people. There were almost more production people than in the audience. Showbiz magic does not reflect the falling onsite attendance for sports and other entertainment venues.

Not being in the building does not mean sports fans are disappearing. They are just a different breed of fan. Many of them are statistical fans and gambling fans. The problem at the root of their remaining at home is that they prefer convivence over sociability, not to mention that watching from a device is free. Fans can engage in their sports unlike ever before in history.

Think of a phenomenal race program like the Meadowlands Pace.

Joe Smith asks himself whether he fights traffic or stays home and boots up his six-foot flatscreen in spectacular, high definition, for the livestream feed in his living room or specially designed media room. Joe Smith, who used to be in the harness racing grandstand, can pump up his surround sound, order Uber eats, and boot up his second device or screen with the racing program. Joe can fire up his third device, recline in his lazy boy massage chair, place his wagers, and do heaven knows what else while waiting for the big race.

How can a racetrack compete with that? How can you compete with home and free or a specially designed and equipped media room?

Even troglodytes like me watch sports on two devices, one for the contest and another that allows searches for player stats and visualizations. We can get live scores, follow the action on social media, and fetch related videos. Getting fans out of their massage chair, navigating to a strange place, subjecting themselves to viruses, and socializing is like asking a 14-year-old kid to join a Boy Scout troop. The activity may benefit the kid but rarely happens in 2023.

I know you know all this. We all know the empty grandstands are troubling and that new digital fans are missing a cool thing being in a crowd as the trotter pulls and moves up on the backstretch, the smell of popcorn, and slapping backs with your pals. But it is not 1967, and it is what it is.

Live attendance? A tough nut to crack. Another mountain to climb. The wintertime and overnight racing are especially dreadful. When I check in on a few racetracks via video stream in what I call the racing off-season, usually nary a soul is on those dark and windy aprons. If there were any live customers, they were inside because, at 10:30 on a winter evening, it would be hard to arrange poker games on the premises.

Perhaps we should take a cue from that TV show. Forget about grandstands. Make that territory into greenspaces. Close our symbols of emptiness or put dummies in the seats, whatever. For production purposes, herd the small group who attend the harness races together, entice a studio-type audience with gimmicks, and even pay participants to be part of the produced show. The perception of people who visit the racetrack should never be: "Where is everybody?"

Increasing live attendance at the racetrack is a game of pushing a heavy stone up a steep slope. There are always a few happy exceptions, and we should take these opportunities to grab them when possible. If you believe a night at the racetrack will have a buzz, that's the night to invite friends.

Nobody is to blame for empty grandstands, but it hurts. Putting our efforts behind new initiatives that present our sport with a digital buzz is where the smart money should go.

Sire Stakes blossom in the Garden State

by Debbie Little

It takes time for things to grow, but perhaps you have an edge when you're doing it in the Garden State.

Tonight (June 2) at The Meadowlands there are two New Jersey Sire Stakes (NJSS) finals with full 10-horse fields of 3-year-old male and female trotters each with a purse of $240,000, the same amount their pacing counterparts raced for a week ago.

Quite the turnaround when you consider the disarray that the program was in less than 10 years ago.

This rebound did not come overnight and, indeed, took a village, or at least an administration, to get it done, according to Mike Gulotta, chairman of the NJSS board of trustees.

"It's growing rather quickly thanks to the governor [of New Jersey, Phil Murphy] and the senate president [Nicholas Scutari] and the legislators and the speaker of the assembly [Craig Coughlin]," Gulotta said.

According to Gulotta – chief executive officer of Deo Volente Farms in Flemington, NJ – the statistics in what he refers to as the "one pager," put together by Al Ochsner, executive administrator for the Standardbred Breeders & Owners Association of New Jersey (SBOANJ), is all you need to see to know how well things are going.

“ There’s a renaissance going on in New Jersey... You’ve got Ecurie D, Alrajah One, Muscle Hill, Walner, Tactical Landing and Six Pack. It’s the cream of the crop. You can’t do better. And now, on the pacing side, you have Perfect Sting, who’s the first [back-to-back] 2- and 3-year-old Breeders Crown champion in 20-something years. And Lazarus is producing stakes horses. ”

Ochsner’s document states: “New Jersey Sire Stakes purses rose to almost $2.8 million in 2021. Interest in these programs is evident in the huge increase in the number of yearlings bred to New Jersey stallions who are eligible to these programs. In 2016, there were 38 yearlings nominated to the NJ Sire Stakes program. In 2021, that number soared to 605.

“In 2016, there were 1,164 total horses residing in New Jersey broodmare facilities. 209 broodmares were bred to the state’s five stallions. In 2021, these totals grew to 1,800 horses, with 727 broodmares bred. Resident stallions more than doubled to 13, and included some of the top stallions in the country.”

Numbers for 2022 are not yet available and it should be noted that the information in Ochsner’s document is based upon a report commissioned by the Standardbred Breeders and Owners of New Jersey, The New Jersey Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association, Meadowlands Racing and Entertainment, Freehold Raceway, Monmouth Park, and the New Jersey Sire Stakes program, who commissioned Econsult Solutions, Inc. to produce the report.

With many lucrative sire stakes programs across North America, how does a program on the rebound compete? Easy. With top notch stallions and good purses.

The stallions that currently stand in New Jersey read like a who’s who of champions on the track, and in most cases, the breeding shed.

“We’ve got four world-class stallions who breed a full book every year, because they’re the best stallions in the world,” said Mike Klau, syndicate manager for Southwind Farms in Pennington, NJ. “Muscle Hill’s been the dominant horse over the last 10 years. And now we have Walner, who looks like he’s going to dominate. Tactical Landing’s an up-and-coming sire with his first crop of 3-year-olds this year. He’s got really nice 3-year-olds and a very good crop of 2-year-olds coming up.”

Just like Gulotta, Klau wears multiple hats in New Jersey and is also chairman of the SBOANJ Breeders Committee.

Ecurie D DK is Klau’s newest recruit to his top team of trotting stallions.

“We added Ecurie D and that to me was a surprise addition because, we didn’t go out and pitch them, they came to us,” Klau said. “They wanted to stand the horse in New Jersey.”

Klau said that people have asked him why would a top trotting stallion want to come to New Jersey that already has Muscle Hill, Walner, Tactical Landing and Six Pack?

“The owners of the [Ecurie D] were adamant about standing the horse in New Jersey,” Klau said. “The Meadowlands remains the key to the state. People want to race at The Meadowlands. It’s the showcase. The handle is up; entries are up. People want to race on a mile track. And talking about the owners of Ecurie D, these are European owners and The Meadowlands is king to the Europeans.

Klau also pointed out that just because Southwind currently doesn’t have one, he’s not opposed to the right pacer joining their ranks.

“If somebody wants to bring another world-class pacer to New Jersey and they want to go to Southwind, we’d be happy to have them,” Klau said.

Klau also said that in addition to Deo Volente and Southwind, Walnridge Farm in Cream Ridge, NJ has a couple of stallions standing this year: Southwind Ozzi and Alrajah One IT. Southwind Ozzi is currently racing while Alrajah One IT is expected to return to the track at some point this season.

“Walnridge has been the place, and this is a testament to Dr. [Richard] Meirs [president/general manager at Walnridge], where people stand horses and race them,” said Klau. “Bettor’s Wish was there. Father Patrick was there.

“So, they do a great job with those horses where they can go back and forth from training to breeding. That’s kind of been their niche.”

Whereas the trotting side of the breeding ledger is strong, the pacing side has room to grow. The presence of Lazarus N resurrected New Jersey’s pacing program, but attracting more would be good for the future.

“We need more [pacing] stallions, there’s no question about it,” Klau said. “Lazarus was the first major pacing horse to come and then Perfect Sting followed. [Perfect Sting's first crop is due to hit the track in 2025].

"One of the key things for New Jersey is how it fits in with the Kentucky program, because a lot of these horses, including the trotters, especially the Walners, Tactical Landings and Muscle Hills, are dual eligible. So, they'll start their careers in New Jersey and then when The Meadowlands meet closes in August, it shifts down to the Red Mile. So that has been a great tie-in between New Jersey and Kentucky."

Much of New Jersey's renaissance can be tied to the 2019 passage of a bill which resulted in an appropriation of $20 million, divided evenly between thoroughbred racing and standardbred racing, for five fiscal years to aid purse accounts.

Those five years are up in 2023. However, according to Gulotta, who met with Gov. Murphy several weeks ago, there is a one-year appropriation in the current budget.

"We do still need to get the legislators to agree to it and we don't take anything for granted, so fingers crossed that we'll stay in the budget," Gulotta said.

The budget is supposed to be passed before July 1, so it won't be long before New Jersey knows its fate. Moving forward, Klau would like to see the appropriation written as it originally was, for a five-year span, assuring some stability to those choosing to breed in the state.

But for now, they will revel in the homegrown talent that is competing at The Big M.

On the pacing side last week, Ucandoit Blue Chip won the $240,000 NJSS 3-year-old filly final while Voukefalas destroyed the field in the colt final.

Tonight, trotting colts Oh Well, Ari Ferrari J and Air Power will fight it out, while Walner Payton will look to upset Special Way in the filly final.

"There's a renaissance going on in New Jersey," Gulotta said. "So, look at New Jersey; you've got Ecurie D, Alrajah One, Muscle Hill, Walner, Tactical Landing and Six Pack. It's the cream of the crop. You can't do better. And now, on the pacing side, you have Perfect Sting, who's the first [back-to-back] 2- and 3-year-old Breeders Crown champion in 20-something years. ## Mohawk legends recognized at Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame reception

by Melissa Keith

Harness racing symbolically returned to Woodbine Racetrack on Wednesday (May 24), although the live sport left the Etobicoke, ON track in 2018 to race year-round at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The occasion was the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame (CHRF) President's Reception, which managing director Linda Rainey called "a well-established tradition."

"Each spring, once the induction class for the year has been announced, the Hall holds a reception in the Hall of Fame to unveil the permanent display plaques of the previous year's class, and to introduce and welcome the class of the current year," Rainey said. "The reception also serves as a thank you to all those who support the CHRF."

The COVID-19 pandemic previously prevented the official unveilings of wall panels illustrating the career achievements of 2019 Hall of Fame inductees.

"This year's President's Reception fulfilled that commitment by including the unveilings of the Class of 2019, who were inducted prior to the pandemic, but had not yet had their plaques unveiled, as well as the Classes of 2020 and 2021, both of which were inducted at our 2022 Induction Gala," Rainey said.

Approximately 100 guests attended last Wednesday's event, including Hall of Fame members, their family and friends and horsepeople recently named to the Hall. Volunteers present included members of the CHRF board of directors, the standardbred and thoroughbred nomination and election committees and the planning committee, which oversees the Hall's ongoing operation. Invited representatives from industry organizations, sponsors, donors, and industry media also attended the lively afternoon presentation and social gathering.

The structured part of the reception was emceed by Woodbine Racetrack racecaller Robert Geller, who introduced the honored horses and horsepeople by year. Video presentations showing career highlights of each year's class of honorees drew appreciative murmurs during and applause afterwards.

The history of the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame dates back to 1976.

"For 20 years it was a Hall of Fame without a home," Rainey said. "On August 22, 1997, the dream of those who founded the CHRHF became a reality when the Ontario Jockey Club provided a permanent site at Woodbine Racetrack in Toronto. It should also be noted that the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame is the only national organization in Canada that represents both standardbred and thoroughbred racing."

Today, racing fans are free to visit the CHRHF in person. Rainey pointed out that because the Hall is located immediately inside the primary entrance to Woodbine, it "is accessible to visitors around the clock, and throughout the year, in part due to the building also currently housing a casino that operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week." Although live harness racing has left the building, standardbred industry legends are showcased as equals alongside their thoroughbred counterparts.

Rainey said being elected to the CHRHF holds special importance for the trainers, drivers, jockeys, owners, breeders, industry builders, and all connections of equine inductees.

"Induction to the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame honors an individual's complete body of work throughout the duration of a career," Rainey said. "It is the highest honor available to acknowledge the significant contribution of the people and horses who have excelled in racing throughout the sport's over 250-years on Canadian soil. It is not unusual for a newly named inductee to tell us Hall of Fame induction has been a long-time hope and how much it means to join those who preceded them as members of the CHRHF."

Long-time WMP driver Chris Christoforou who drove at Woodbine Racetrack but is presently based at Woodbine Mohawk Park, is among the class of 2023 inductees.

Fellow WMP driver Paul MacDonell was also at the President's Reception and said he was "a little bit" surprised to make the list as a 2020 CHRHF inductee.

"I thought about it one day, but it just seemed to come along a little quicker... It was nice to get that recognition, though, it really was," MacDonell said. "We had to go through quite a few people to get to that, so I'm pretty proud."

He said his career-defining victory as a driver took place at Mohawk on June 14, 2008.

"My biggest accomplishment, I think, was [winning] the North America Cup, with 'Beach' [CHRHF 2009 inductee Somebeachsomewhere]," MacDonell said. "It's the biggest race in Canada: in North America, for that matter. So, to get that one was pretty cool."

He said he was still awaiting word from owner/trainer Brent McGrath about 2022 O'Brien Award finalist Beach Glass' return.

"The dream's not over," MacDonell said. "We're hoping for good things to come."

The now-4-year-old pacer, Beach Glass, is awaiting a 2023 comeback after complications from a past surgery. On June 4, 2022, MacDonell piloted the Somebeachsomewhere—Im With Her colt to a second-place finish in the Woodbine Mohawk Park stake named for Beach Glass' late sire. MacDonell also qualified Beach Glass at WMP last Nov. 11, prior to Beach Glass' subsequent victories for U.S.-based catch driver Yannick Gingras in a Progress Pace elimination and final at Dover Downs.

Like Somebeachsomewhere, Bulldog Hanover was readily voted into the Hall of Fame upon retirement from the racetrack. Trainer Jack Darling was voted into the Hall as a member of the Class of 2022, alongside Bulldog Hanover's sire Shadow Play. Darling proudly represented Bulldog Hanover (Class of 2023) at the President's Reception, noting that he had recently visited the stallion at Seelster Farms. He said the world champion looked happy, and joked that he may have even recognized him.

Rainey said that induction of a first-time nominee is not inevitable, but rather singles out the sport's most highly-visible stars.

"Being voted into the CHRHF the first time a horse or person appears on the ballot as a finalist has happened a number of times over the Hall's history and is most often a reflection of truly exceptional accomplishments achieved by an individual," Rainey said.

President's Reception attendees browsed the wall panels dedicated to past and present-day champions, speaking with many of the most recent CHRHF inductees and those being formally inducted at the upcoming 2023 ceremony. The 2023 Induction Gala is scheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 9 at the Mississauga Convention Centre.

"There are some incredible synergies amongst the list of 16 people and horses who are part of the CHRHF Classes of 2022 and 2023, including trainer Jack Darling, and the amazing Bulldog Hanover, as well as thoroughbred fan favorite Pink Lloyd and the jockey who piloted him to his biggest wins, Eurico Rosa Da Silva," Rainey said.

A complete list of honorees, plus ticket and sponsorship information can be found on the CHRHF website: www.canadianhorseracinghalloffame.com.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Tyler Wiseman was born to be in horse racing

by Chris Lomon

Although she wasn't aware of it at the time, Tyler Wiseman was already well on her way to a life in the standardbred industry before she took her first breath.

Certainly, the fact horses and racing were ingrained in her DNA played a major role in how her career path would eventually play out, but that was far from the only factor that led her to the racetrack and barn.

"I'm fourth generation on my dad's side and third generation on my mom's side," said Wiseman, the daughter of the late Steve Wiseman and Kathie Plested. "My mom had me and not even six hours later, I was in the barn. So, I guess you can literally say I grew up in the barn."

There was an impediment, albeit an important one, that kept her from spending more time with the horses.

"Sadly, I was forced to go to school, even though I wanted to be at the barn," Tyler said with a laugh. "Every day after school, I would go to the barn and spend my weekends helping my mom and dad race. It's been a huge impact in my life and honestly, I wouldn't change any bit of it."

Although she can't remember the day, month or year, there was a moment when Tyler knew she was destined to follow in her parents' racing footsteps.

For some in the sport, that moment could be when they are witness to an inspiring performance, an unforgettable mile or finding an instant connection to a horse.

Instead, it was a dramatic event during a race that struck a chord.

"I couldn't tell you the exact year, but there was an accident at Cal-Expo," Tyler said. "Luckily, my dad was not in it. But I was in the grandstand with one of my childhood best friends, and I remember growing up that all of the kids I knew wanted to be drivers and trainers, but in that exact moment, when I saw it, I knew I wanted to be an outrider. I love training and grooming horses, but I always wanted to be the one to save the day and help people when they were in need."

She would realize that dream, going on to handle outrider duties at Cal-Expo and Running Aces, while also working as a groom in various barns.

Currently, she works for trainer Candace Brandstatter.

"I'm a groom, but I also ship and paddock when we're racing," Tyler said. "When my boss can't make it to the barn, I'm training, I'm jogging, so I help run the show. I do everything that needs to be done. Right now, we have seven horses in the barn."

“ I’m the type of person who goes for the horses that other people might not go for. I like the mean ones, the ones who might have a few issues, or the lower-level horses... those ones end up being my favorites because they’ve been through the most. Every horse has a story, but sometimes, those horses don’t get the same spotlight. ”

Seven horses, each with an identity of their own.

“There are a few that are tough to deal with and there’s one or two where you wish there were seven of them,” she said.

And then there is Pedigree Blue Chip.

The bay son of American Ideal—Grace K, once trained by her later father, had a somewhat modest racing career, winning 16 of 115 races to go along with $73,577 in purse earnings.

“After my dad passed away [the long-time horseman succumbed to cancer in March 2021], my mom Kathie owned part of the horse and so did Donald and Barbara Amstine,” Tyler said. “They gave the horse to me. They said I could race him, keep him as a riding horse or a pet. Whatever I wanted to do was up to me. Before I got him, he had a really tough time. He was involved in an accident and hurt his shoulder. I just loved him. Whether he raced again or not, I loved him. He was a tiny horse, but he had an attitude where he thought he was the biggest horse in the world.”

There were occasions when Pedigree Blue Chip raced like he was.

“I ended up racing him and he won three times, but after another injury, he just wasn’t the same and I needed to do the right thing for him,” Tyler said. “I found him a home and the little kids love on him and he’s become a pet to them. He helped me in my darkest times, and I would spend all day in the barn with him, just making sure he felt good. He didn’t have to go out on the track and try as hard as he did, but that’s what he did. I always wanted to do what was best for him.”

The pacer is a perfect example of what type of horse Tyler feels the most connection to.

“I’m the type of person who goes for the horses that other people might not go for,” she said. “I like the mean ones, the ones who might have a few issues, or the lower-level horses... those ones end up being my favorites because they’ve been through the most. Every horse has a story, but sometimes, those horses don’t get the same spotlight.”

Tyler is by no means a seeker of attention, content and fulfilled to spend her hours behind the scenes, working hand in hoof with her band of horses.

In her high school years, there were occasions, more often than not, when she passed on the party life to be with the horses.

And she doesn’t regret it for a moment.

“In high school, instead of going to parties, I would go to the barn first,” she said. “I would make sure all the horses were set, everything was cleaned up and then I would go to do something. I had to work early the next day, so half the time, I didn’t end up going. My mom, who has 12 horses at Running Aces this year, she works her butt off, so I think I get that trait from her.”

Home, for Tyler, has and always will be wherever the horses are.

When she’s not at the barn, she’ll be on horseback, finding a new trail or sauntering down a familiar path.

And every now and again, she’ll join Brandstatter for an evening, not a long night, out on the town.

“On an occasional night, but it’s very rare, Candace and I will go out to dinner and hang out, and just have a girls’ night,” Tyler said. “My go-to thing after I work in the barn is to go riding. Usually, that’s what I do every day. If we’re racing at Monticello, I’ll be done around five and I head home to ride. I live 10 minutes away from Monticello, so I can go any time I want.”

It’s just how she envisioned her horse racing life to be.

“When I was seven, I knew being in horse racing was what I wanted to do forever, whether I was in the barn or on the track,” she said. “I started around 12. I was tall enough and big enough where the horses couldn’t bowl me over. From the age of 12, I was getting the horses ready for my mom. And now, here I am.”

Fouever Boy not a 'kid' anymore

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Tim Twaddle saw steady improvement from Fouever Boy throughout the horse's first two seasons of racing, and the trainer hopes that trend continues in 2023 as his 4-year-old stallion works toward facing the sport's top older pacers later in the campaign.

Fouever Boy, a multiple Grand Circuit winner and 2022 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes champion, has earned $842,888 in his career for owners Twaddle and Micki Rae Stables. The horse already has a big win this season, capturing the $193,880 Charles Juravinski Memorial Cup for 4-year-old male pacers May 21 at Flamboro Downs.

On Saturday, he will look to make it back-to-back victories when he meets seven foes in the first of two $66,500 divisions of the Graduate Series for 4-year-old pacers at Woodbine Mohawk Park. Fouever Boy, who will have Trevor Henry in the sulky, has morning-line odds of 3-1, third choice behind Stonebridge Helios at 2-1 and Energetic Hanover at 5-2.

"At 2 and 3, he just seemed to be learning and developing with every start," Twaddle said about Fouever Boy. "He just seemed to be getting a little better all the time. I think this year he'll continue that trend, which he's going to have to do because it's going to be tough.

"It's never easy for a 4-year-old to transition against aged horses. I wish there were more 4-year-old events, but it is what it is. He's going to have to face some really tough company when he hits those open events. I hope he can handle himself with that group because we'd like to participate."

Fouever Boy, a son of Sweet Lou—Macharoundtheclock, has hit the board in 18 of 39 career races. In addition to the Juravinski and PASS championship, his lifetime wins include divisions of the 2022 Simcoe Stakes and 2021 Arden Downs and an elimination of the 2022 Little Brown Jug. He finished second in the Jug final.

He also was second in the 2021 Matron Stakes and third in the 2022 Progress Pace and 2021 Metro Pace and PASS final.

"He's a special horse to us for so many reasons," Twaddle said. "We love him. He's just been great to have in the barn. He's very easy to train. He doesn't get excited. He's a very happy horse."

Twaddle has seen subtle changes in Fouever Boy from age 3 to 4.

"He's a little bit bigger version of himself and he's a little more aggressive, I think," Twaddle said. "He was never a great big horse, so it's hard to say he's really grown up, but he's filled out. He really is a nice-looking horse. He's a solid horse. He had a cute little baby face, but he's more of a stallion-looking horse now. You can tell he's not a little kid anymore.

"He doesn't want to be bothered too much. He does his own thing. But when my daughter is around, he's like a marshmallow with her"

Fouever Boy, a $50,000 yearling purchase under the name Punch The Clock at the 2020 Standardbred Horse Sale, will compete against 4-year-olds until the completion of the Graduate Series. Legs 2 and 3 of the series will be held at The Meadowlands on June 16 and June 24, respectively, ahead of the final on July 8 at The Big M.

If all goes well, he then will hit the open ranks. He is eligible to many of the division's top stakes including the William R. Haughton Memorial, Joe Gerrity, Sam McKee Memorial, Canadian Pacing Derby, Jim Ewart Memorial, Dayton Pacing Derby, and Breeders Crown.

"I don't want to get ahead of myself, but I'm excited about it," Twaddle said.

The second division of the Graduate for pacers finds Ron Burke-trained Birthday the 2-1 morning-line favorite in a field of seven. Birthday, who will start from post 5 with driver David Miller, won an elimination of the Juravinski and was seventh-placed-sixth in the final.

Saturday's Mohawk card also includes the $99,750 Graduate Series opener for 4-year-old trotters, where millionaire mare Jiggy Jog S is the 7-5 morning-line choice. She is the only female starter in the six-horse field. Dexter Dunn will drive for trainer Ake Svanstedt, leaving from post 2.

Three divisions of the Somebeachsomewhere Stakes for 3-year-old male pacers also are on tap on the road to the upcoming Pepsi North America Cup.

Racing begins at 7 p.m. (EDT) at Woodbine Mohawk Park. For free past performances, visit the track's website here.

Gutnick hopes to enjoy Dire Straits

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Dire Straits has found himself in some difficult spots at times, but it has done nothing to diminish owner Richard Gutnick's opinion of his homebred trotter. After all, Gutnick is well aware that in racing there is no such thing as money for nothing.

A multiple state-bred stakes-winner last year, Dire Straits is one of nine Hambletonian-eligible horses in tonight's (June 2) $240,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes championship for 3-year-old male trotters at The Meadowlands. The colt, with David Miller driving for trainer Mattias Melander, will start from post 9 in the field of 10.

Post 9 is the least favorable starting spot at The Big M this season, producing 27 winners in 391 races (6.9 per cent). Last year, Dire Straits also reached the NJSS final, where he started from another unfavorable position – post 10.

"His bad luck with draws in big races continues," said Gutnick, who also saw Dire Straits stuck with post 10 in the 2022 Breeders Crown final at Woodbine Mohawk Park. "Hopefully, the law of averages will work out and at some point, he starts drawing well in finals.

"I loved him last year, if only he could have drawn some better posts. I think he's got terrific potential. He's my Hambo hopeful. I don't mind if people don't believe he's as good as I do. I love his quickness and he's got an attitude about him. I like horses with attitude."

Despite his draws in last year's NJSS and Breeders Crown finals, Dire Straits still earned paychecks in those races. In fact, the colt brought home money in nine of his 10 starts during the campaign, totaling $195,700. He posted victories in one preliminary division of the New Jersey Sire Stakes and two prelims of the Kentucky Championship Series.

This season, Dire Straits debuted with a third-place finish in the first round of the NJSS. He was fifth in the second leg, on May 20, over a sloppy surface.

"I think [his performance last time] was because it was an off track," said Gutnick, who owns Dire Straits with Tom Pontone and Gary Cocco. "Mattias told me his feet were sticking a little bit. I'm hoping he's much better this week."

Melander, the younger brother of trainer Marcus Melander, was pleased with the way Dire Straits returned from his offseason respite.

“He’s really grown, filled out nicely during the winter,” the 26-year-old Melander said. “He just looks more like a horse now. That’s what I love about him, he looks tremendous. He’s always had speed, I’ve always known that, and he feels like a stronger horse this year. It feels like he’s stepped up a little bit.

“I’ve been happy with him so far. It’s a long season. We’re going to aim for the Hambo, of course, that’s the main goal. It’s going to be fun. Hopefully, he can continue to get better and better.”

Last year, Dire Straits led at the opening quarter in only two of his 10 starts. This season, he’s been in that position in both races.

“I think David wanted to try him out a little bit and take him forward,” Melander said. “He’s been stretching him. Now with post 9, we’ve got to do that. I think he’s going to be much better now after those first two starts, but we’ve got to hope for some racing luck.”

Dire Straits is a son of Muscle Hill out of Southwind Cocoa, who at age 2 in 2012 was a New Jersey Sire Stakes champion for Gutnick. A year later, she finished third from post 9 at Pocono in the Breeders Crown final behind eventual Horse of the Year Bee A Magician and Frau Blucher.

“She was a good horse,” Gutnick said. “I loved her as a yearling and got her for $6,000 [under the name Southwind Mirror at the Lexington Selected Sale]. She did very well for us.”

Gutnick, who in 2012 had Market Share win the Hambletonian and Chapter Seven receive Horse of the Year, said he hoped Dire Straits could be Melander’s “claim to fame as a trainer.” Melander briefly trained Gutnick’s trotter Hatikvah in 2021. Dire Straits is the only horse currently in Melander’s name as a conditioner.

“When I saw [Dire Straits] as a yearling, I watched him in the field for about half an hour, and I loved him,” Gutnick said. “I told [Melander] I wanted this horse to be in his name.”

Gutnick also noted he did not name Dire Straits after the band of the same name.

“Whenever I name a horse with a negative name, like Chapter Seven, bankruptcy, it seems like it does great,” Gutnick said with a laugh. “Even though this was not a Chapter Seven offspring, I’ve always liked the name Dire Straits. Everybody thinks it’s because of the band, but it wasn’t.”

Nonetheless, Gutnick will hope Dire Straits can rock and roll for his stable.

Marcus Melander has three horses in the NJSS final for the boys, including defending champion Oh Well, the 2-1 morning-line favorite, and this season’s fastest 3-year-old trotter, Air Power, who is 3-1. Tony Alagna-trained Ari Ferrari J, the lone non-Hambletonian eligible in the race, is the 5-2 second choice.

In the $240,000 NJSS championship for sophomore female trotters, returning Dan Patch Award-winner Special Way is the 2-5 morning-line favorite. She is 2-for-2 this season for trainer Ake Svanstedt.

Keg Stand matches track record in Kentucky Sire Stakes final

Driver Yannick Gingras masterfully rated the mile with 7-5 favorite Keg Stand, who scored a measured victory by a neck in the $150,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes Final for 4-year-old trotting horses and geldings: one of four $150,000 finals contested on Monday (May 29) at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming and Hotel.

Leaving from post 6, Keg Stand cleared to command past a :26.2 first quarter as Golden Wall As (driven by Tony Hall) strung him out through the first turn. Gingras snagged a breather to a :55.2 half and accelerated up the backside while Longshot (Chris Lems) came calling along the rim with Jaqen H'ghar (Peter Wrenn) in tow.

Keg Stand clocked three-quarters in 1:23.1 and cut the corner for home to cling to victory in a 1:51.1 mile while holding off a furious charge from Jaqen H'ghar. Iwon't Backdown As (Todd McCarthy) motored off a pylon trip to take third and Golden Wall As settled for fourth.

A stallion by the late Bar Hopping—Palm Beach Bi, Keg Stand matched the all-age trotting record of 1:51.1 set in June 2022 by Cuatro De Julio. He collected his ninth win from 28 tries and has now banked $494,926 for owners Black Horse Racing, Christina Takter and John Fielding. Nancy Takter trains the $4.74 winner.

A surprise sprung from the $150,000 final for 4-year-old trotting mares when 1-2 favorite Yanaba (John MacDonald) took off the speed and then broke stride twice through the mile. Pioneer As (Tony Hall) took advantage of the opportunity and lively cover to land a 14-1 upset in a 1:52.3 mile.

Saint Antoine (Yannick Gingras) hustled to the point with Adore Me (Andy Miller) settling into the pocket towards a :27.1 first quarter while Hall sat Pioneer As in sixth, about eight lengths from the lead. The field stayed in order through a :56.3 half, but Saint Antoine soon came under pressure.

Eternal Lee (Andy McCarthy) marched out of third with Pioneer As on her back and swooped to the lead after three-quarters in 1:24.1 to open a 1-1/2-length advantage to the top of the stretch. Though, she trotted for the finish evenly while Pioneer

As came steaming to her outside to grab command late. Adore Me shook free from a shuffled pocket and hit her best stride nearing the finish but missed the win by a head with Eternal Lee holding third and Disclosure (Peter Wrenn) closing for fourth.

Pioneer As paid $31.26 in her upset victory, which also was her sixth win from 33 tries and padded her bankroll now worth $257,678. Anette Lorentzon conditions the daughter of Devious Man—Provide As for owner-breeder ACL Stuteri AB.

Tony Alagna swept the finals for pacing 4-year-olds, first scoring a 1:50.2 win with Boudoir Hanover (Todd McCarthy) in the $150,000 final for pacing mares.

McCarthy wasted little time to put Boudoir Hanover on the point and seized control from Ainthesamewithoutu (Tony Hall) past a :26.2 first quarter. She faced no pressure to a :55 half, which readied her for the first-over push from stablemate Queen Of Success (Andy McCarthy) as the field charged towards three-quarters in 1:22.4.

Boudoir Hanover spun for home and responded to McCarthy's encouragement to draw away by 1-1/4 lengths to secure the victory. Queen Of Success regained her momentum in the straightaway to take second from fast-closing Idealinfun (Yannick Gingras) with Ainthesamewithoutu settling for fourth.

Boudoir Hanover has now won 12 races from 31 starts and banked $999,338 for owners Riverview Racing LLC, Alagna Racing LLC, Caviart Farms and D. Plouffe and S. Head. The daughter of Captaintreacheraus—Bedroomconfessions paid $2.54 to win.

Her barnmate, I Did It Myway (Andy McCarthy) also delivered as the public choice in the $150,000 final for pacing horses and geldings with a coast-to-coast effort in 1:49.1.

I Did It Myway beat All Or Nothing (Dave Palone) to the first-turn punch and notched a :26.2 first quarter to begin the speed game. McCarthy kept the Tony Alagna pupil plugging along through a :54.2 half and three-quarters in 1:22 while All Or Nothing readied to pull the pocket moving towards the top of the stretch.

However, All Or Nothing could not muster an ample challenge to I Did It Myway, who held his ground on the lead through the lane and to the finish while withstanding a late bid from stablemate Taurasi (Todd McCarthy) by a quarter length. All Or Nothing held third and American Classic (Andy Miller) took fourth.

I Did It Myway has entered millionaire's row with the win, having now banked $1,018,403 while bagging his 15th victory from 33 starts. The son of Captaintreacheraus—Flyme To The Moon races for owners Country Club Acres, Joe Sbrocco, Don Latore and Alagna And Fodera Racing. He paid $3.06 to win.

Following the stakes action, the co-featured $28,000 open trot went to gate as part of the 13-race card Monday. Sweet Mr Pinetucky (Peter Wrenn) took the lead and faced little pressure from his peers to tab a 1:53.2 tally and pay $12.56 to win in the mild upset over 1-2 favorite It's A Herbie (Verlin Yoder). Lester Raber trains Sweet Mr Pinetucky, a 9-year-old gelding by Pinetucky—Sweet Stockings, for himself and co-owner Floyd Raber.

Racing returns to Oak Grove on Sunday (June 4). Please note that the race card slated for Tuesday (June 6) has been cancelled and shifted to the tail end of the meet on Monday (July 10). Oak Grove will operate on a Sunday-Monday schedule next week.

First-race post time at Oak Grove is 3 p.m. CDT (4 p.m. EDT).

Ghostly Casper breaks maiden in OSS Gold season opener

Ghostly Casper opened the 2023 Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold season by winning the first of two $101,300 divisions for 3-year-old trotting colts as the road to the $2.4 million Ontario Sires Stakes Super Finals began Monday (May 29) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The son of Resolve—Cool Creek Breeze prevailed over 1-9 favorite Hasty Bid in an exciting stretch duel for his first career win. He now has just under $270,000 on his card and a record of 1-6-4 from 15 starts.

“I always had lots of faith in this horse,” said trainer Ben Baillargeon. “He’s a really nice horse. Last year he didn’t win but had some huge miles. This year he didn’t get bigger, but he got more muscular and stronger. He’s just a nice horse.”

James MacDonald took Hasty Bid to the early lead and rated the field through the first half mile in :58.2, and second panel breather of :30.9.

Midway through the third quarter Sylvain Filion moved Ghostly Casper first up and he proved game the rest of the way, closing in :26.4 to stop the clock at 1:54.1. He paid $24.70 for the win.

Baillargeon owns the colt with Teresa Davidson, Santo Vena, and Nunzio Vena. He had two equipment changes prior to the start, a shoeing change and the removal of trotting hoppers.

“He’s a much better trotter without [hoppers],” Baillargeon said. “I think that’s why he ran last time. When they started to go around the 1:53 range he didn’t have enough room to stretch out. Then last week we trained him here he was great, so going for $100,000 I said ‘Nope, let’s go without them.’”

Hasty Bid’s second place finish pushed the son of My MVP—Sunshinenlollipops over $215,000 in earnings and the Paige Austin trainee now has five on the board finishes in six OSS starts. MacDonald and Austin co-own the colt.

Rounding out the podium was Kyle Fellows trainee Dowedealinandwhy. Jody Jamieson piloted the Wheeling N Dealin—Gaelic Princess colt to the third-place finish. He’s made over $145,000 from 10 starts, with all of his cheques coming in the OSS.

The second OSS division of the evening was in race 6, where Tuscan Prince, also rebounding from a break in his prior start, prevailed by a length over Osceola.

Dws Point Man with Sylvain Filion driving battled Passarino and Jody Jamieson for the early lead before Filion’s charge went off stride and Passarino led the field through an opening panel of :26.3.

Louis-Phillippe Roy and Tuscan Prince were content to slide into fifth early on after leaving from post 2.

“I saw Dws Point Man was leaving pretty hard and I know he’s a really quick little horse,” Roy said. “So, I didn’t want to engage with him too early and I tried to trip [Tuscan Prince]. He ended up having to come first over in the last turn, but I don’t think it was a big effort from him. He was very fresh when I moved him, and he kept trotting to the wire.”

Serge Godin’s Determination Stable owns Tuscan Prince and Luc Blais trains the Kadabra—Tosca gelding. The win was his fourth career in the OSS and fifth overall, good for over $180,000 in earnings from 13 starts. He paid $4.80 for the win.

Doug McNair piloted Osceola to the second-place finish. His father Gregg conditions the horse for co-owners Willow Oak Ranch and Paul R Hawman. The Muscle Mass—Armbro Exquisite colt now has 2 wins and a runner-up in three starts this year, all against stakes company helping push his total earnings over $280,000.

Oh Look Magic edged out What An Angel for third place. Bax Stable, Glengate Farms, and the Cavalier Stable own the Looklikeeachpndale—Miami Magic gelding who now has seven on the board finishes in 13 career starts. Chris Christoforou drove.

Vivians Dream coasts in NYSS at Buffalo Raceway

It was like a paid public workout for Vivians Dream ($2.10) in her $57,000 division of the New York Sire Stakes for 3-year-old filly pacers on Wednesday afternoon (May 31) at Buffalo Raceway as she toyed with the field in notching a 1-1/4 length win over Dame in a dialed down 1:54.2 over the fast track.

In her career debut last season in the New York Sire Stakes at Buffalo Raceway, Vivians Dream was the talk of the town as she posted the victory and crushed the 2-year-old filly pacing track record in doing so. But there wasn’t much fanfare after her first 3-year-old start as Vivians Dream was strong, steady and workman-like.

Driver Jim Morrill Jr. said of victory aboard Vivians Dream: "It wasn't me. Barring any bad luck, she couldn't lose unless something freaky happened."

Fortunately, nothing did.

The toughest task Morrill Jr. had along the way with Vivians Dream was pulling her out from second to the lead approaching the first panel. With respectable fractions of :27.4, :56.4 and 1:26.0, Vivians Dream got a little mild pressure from the pocket-sitting Dame and the first-over Windsum Tiara. But in the stretch, Morrill Jr. never moved a muscle and let Vivians Dream do her thing.

There were no anxious moments in the homestretch as Vivians Dream completed the mile in 1:54.2, well off the track mark of 1:52.2 established last year by Gotthegreenlight. Dame (Marcus Miller) held on for second with Windsum Tiara (Kevin Cummings) finishing in third. Owned by Forrest Bartlett and conditioned by Kevin Lare, Vivians Dream (American Ideal—Sports Chic) put $28,500 in the bank in her initial try of 2023. She has now won eight of 14 career starts and jacked her career earnings to $468,270.

Turn On The Charm ($6.00) turned on the jets in the final quarter mile and collected the victory in the $58,100 first division of the New York Sire Stakes for the 3-year-old filly pacers. She rolled past B On The Hunt (Cummings) and the even money favorite Rock My Socks (John MacDonald) by 1-1/4 lengths in 1:54.2.

Rock My Socks battled with B On The Hunt and Bama Breeze for early command and finally took the top in a snappy :27.2. With a :56.3 opening half on the board, Turn On The Charm (Miller) followed first over American Starlight to the three-quarter mile marker before tipping off cover.

Now three-wide and winging, Turn On The Charm steadily pushed her way to the lead in the lane and marched home for the win, leaving B On The Hunt and Rock My Socks behind for second and third place honors respectively. A :28.3 final quarter proved to be enough for Turn On The Charm to earn the trip to the winner's circle.

"I didn't get away quite as close as I wanted to because the three inside horses were racing pretty hard," Miller said. "I then followed some cover and she exploded."

Co-owned by Megan Beauchamp and John Coffey, Turn On The Charm (Huntsville—Charming Hill) is trained by Bruce Clarke. It was the second score in three attempts this year for Turn On The Charm, now a winner of $40,300 on the year and $101,265 in her career.

In the lone $20,000 Excelsior Series race, Lady Jericho (Joseph Chindano Jr.) didn't disappoint as the heavy favorite as she wired the field in 1:57.2. She beat Beantown (Miller) by 1-1/2 lengths while Cherry Valley (Macdonald) saw her four-race win streak come to an end with a third-place finish.

Lady Jericho ($2.20) took control off the starting gate and protected her pylon position in hitting the opening quarter in :29.1. After splits of :59.3 and 1:29.3, Lady Jericho found company on the outside going around the final turn as Cherry Valley got even terms. But a final panel of :27.4 produced by Lady Jericho eliminated the hopes of Bean Babe and Cherry Valley.

Owned by Jennifer Safford and trained by John Berger, it was the third victory in four tries in 2023 for Lady Jericho (Dude's The Man—Taylorlane Diva). The win upped her seasonal earnings to $20,380 and $43,880 for her career.

Morrill Jr., Buffalo Raceway's runaway leader in the driver's standings, added six more to his win column during the afternoon while Cummings and Chindano Jr. had doubles. Samuel Smith had three training victories and Russell Bratt and Andrew Torre had two each.

Racing will continue today (June 2) at 2:30 p.m. with an 11-race card scheduled.

Grand Circuit returns Saturday to Mohawk Park

The first "Super Saturday" of the stakes season is set for this weekend at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The Somebeachsomewhere, Graduate Series and Miss Versatility are all carded to take place on Saturday's (June 3) 11-race card. A total of seven Grand Circuit stakes divisions will be contested.

SOMEBEACHSOMEWHERE

The road to this year's Pepsi North America Cup makes a stop Saturday for the Somebeachsomewhere Stakes. A total of 23

3-year-old pacers were dropped in the box, splitting into three divisions.

The first $75,000 division will feature a battle of a top U.S. "Cup" contender against some local standouts.

Pennsylvania Sires Stakes (PASS) star Fulton (post 6, Dexter Dunn) is the 9-5 morning-line choice. The Linda Toscano trainee captured last year's PASS Championship and has started this season with back-to-back wins in sires stakes action to improve to eight for 11 overall.

Waving the local flag is the near-perfect No Control (post 2, Tyler Jones), who will have many local supporters rooting him on in his Grand Circuit debut. The Tan Micallef trainee is six for seven, swept the Ontario Spring Series and recently posted a career-best 1:50.3 victory.

The first division goes as race 3.

The second $75,000 split is a deep and competitive contest.

Tony Alagna trainee El Rey (post 2, Scott Zeron) will make his Mohawk Park debut. Last year's Governor's Cup winner finished second in his season debut on May 20 at The Meadowlands.

Mitchell York student Annapolis Hanover (post 6, David Miller) also ships to Ontario for the first-time. The gelded pacer has never missed the top-three in 16 career starts, including nine trips to the winner's circle. He was most recently second in a Pennsylvania Sires Stakes division on May 28.

The Virgil Morgan Jr. trained Bamboozler (post 3, Dexter Dunn) is also a top contender in the second split. The gelded pacer has a win and two seconds in three starts this season, all in PASS action.

SBOA Stakes Final winner Write Me A Rose (post 8, Sylvain Filion) will look to keep the momentum rolling for trainer Kyle Fellows. The talented sophomore has started his season with three wins in four starts after winning three of nine as a rookie.

The second division is carded as race 7.

The third $75,000 division features two of the top-rated local contenders for the NA Cup.

O'Brien and Dan Patch Award winner, Stockade Seelster (post 4, Jody Jamieson) will be looking to bounce back after being defeated by a nose in the SBOA Stakes Final on May 20. The Dr. Ian Moore trainee won eight of 11 starts last season, including the Metro Pace and OSS Super Final.

Fresh off a career-best effort, Bob McIntosh trainee Moment Is Here (post 5, James MacDonald) looms as a major player. The gelded son of All Bets Off—Breathatacular posted an eye-catching 1:49 national season's mark last Saturday at Mohawk. The four-time winner captured an OSS Gold division last season and raced in the Metro Pace.

The third and final Somebeachsomewhere division is carded as race 9.

GRADUATE SERIES

Woodbine Mohawk Park is playing host to the first leg of this year's Graduate Series for 4-year-olds.

The Graduate Pace event attracted 15 entrants for two $66,500 divisions, while the Graduate Trot will feature a field of six competing for $99,750.

The first Graduate Pace division will see the season debut of former Ontario Sires Stakes star Stonebridge Helios (post 2, Dexter Dunn). The winner of over half a million now competes for trainer Ake Svanstedt and returns to his old stomping grounds off a pair of qualifying efforts.

The opening split is headlined by Juravinski Memorial Cup winner Fouever Boy (post 4, Trevor Henry). The Tim Twaddle trainee capitalized off a two-hole trip to win the $262,000 event at Flamboro on May 21, boosting his career numbers to six wins and over $900,000 earned.

The second Graduate Pace division includes recent Ontario Graduate Series winner, Cold Creek Queso (post 3, Sylvain Filion). The Murray Brethour trainee will be looking to bounce back from an eighth-place finish in the Juravinski Memorial. Last year's OSS Super Final winner holds a mark of 1:48.2.

The Graduate Pace divisions are carded as races 6 and 8.

The Graduate Trot event stars the season-debuting Jiggy Jog S (post 2, Dexter Dunn). The Svanstedt trainee is the lone mare in the field of six and is making her first start since capturing the Breeders Crown last October at Mohawk.

The group of six also includes last year's Canadian Trotting Classic winner, Slay (post 5, Joe Bongiorno) for trainer Tony Alagna.

The Graduate Trot will go as race 2.

MISS VERSATILITY

The second leg of the Miss Versatility Series for mare trotters will also take place Saturday at Mohawk Park with a field of seven battling for a purse of $53,200.

Local star Adare Castle (post 7, James MacDonald) will get her first taste of Grand Circuit action for 2023. The Mark Etsell trainee swept the Ontario Graduate Series with four wins and most recently finished third in a free-for-all event.

An 18-time winner, Adare Castle has earned $1.2 million on the racetrack.

Raised By Lindy, who won last year's Elegantimage, is also part of the field.

The Miss Versatility is carded as race 4.

Dunks and dachshunds ring in summer at The Big M

With Memorial Day having served as the unofficial start to summer, it's time for the fun at The Meadowlands to heat up in a big way.

This weekend will feature several popular promotions, while almost 1,800 miles away, a friend of harness racing will be the best player competing in the NBA finals, which tipped off last night, Thursday (June 1).

Big M regulars will be rooting for Jokic. Not just because he is a great player, but because he is a big-time harness racing aficionado.

Two autumns ago, Jokic spent some time with his friends, Hall of Fame driver Tim Tetrick and his wife Ashley, and came to The Big M at night after spending the afternoon with Tim at Gaitway Farms.

"I wanted to get to know the sport here in the U.S., so I texted Tim about two months ago," said Jokic, a standardbred owner in his native Serbia, at the time. "This experience has been great."

Maybe, but not quite as great as winning an NBA championship, which would be the first for Denver and Jokic.

On Saturday, maybe Jokic will want to relax and have some fun before Sunday's Game 2, and the fun will be full throttle at The Big M Saturday (June 3) night when a huge crowd will be on hand at the mile oval for "Wiener Dog Derby Night".

The event is free to attend but the fun is priceless.

Sixty pre-registered dachshunds will be competing for the $500 grand prize in between the live harness races that begin at 6:20 p.m.

There are eight qualifying heats with the top canine from each advancing to the final. Each canine heat winner will receive a special chew toy while the canine owner will receive a $100 voucher. The first qualifying heat is at 6:35 p.m.

The Wiener Dog Derby final will take place on the racetrack after race eight at approximately 9:45 p.m. The winning hound will receive a chew toy prize pack in addition to the cash prize for his or her owners.

The Derby takes place in the racetrack's Backyard and admission and parking are free.

HORSEPLAY GIVEAWAY: Would you like to win a car?

Then come to The Meadowlands every live racing night for the "Horseplay Car Giveaway", where the grand prize is a 2023 Toyota Camry.

Patrons will toss small rubber horses into a moving car along the fence at the track after the replay of race six, and those whose horses make it into the vehicle have a chance to drive it home. The winner will be announced on Friday, Aug. 4.

For every horse that makes it into the Horseplay car, Meadowlands Racing & Entertainment will donate $5 to a designated monthly charity.

The May recipient was Helping Horseshoe, June's is Spectrum 360 while the July/August donation will go to HOPES. An additional $5 for every horse that makes it into the car will also be donated to the Purple Haze Standardbred Adoption Program by The Meadowlands.

For complete information and giveaway rules, go to here.

'MASTERMINDS' TO BATTLE: The late Dave Brower was the winner of the first 'Battle of the Masterminds' last year after compiling a total bankroll of $11,565. For his victory, CBH Care, the charity he was playing for, received $1,000.

This year, Gabe Prewitt will take Brower's spot in the Masterminds lineup and will play for the same charity as the popular Brower did.

Prewitt will take on Jessica Otten (playing for New Vocations), Dave Little (Standardbred Retirement Foundation), Ken Warkentin (Harness Horse Youth Foundation) and Edison Hatter (Purple Haze Standardbred Adoption Program) in the contest which gets underway today (June 2) and concludes Friday, Aug. 4.

While the handicappers battle it out, Meadowlands fans get a chance to win the nightly cash prize and have a chance to grab the $10,000 grand prize on Hambletonian Day, Saturday, Aug. 5.

The rules:

- Each race night the five handicappers are given $500 in “mythical battle money”
- Their mythical wagers must be on races 4 through 9 each night. Each handicapper will wager all $500
- The battle money wins and losses are tracked with results posted as soon as possible following race 10
- Every night on-track there will be five drawing barrels. Each one with a corresponding Battle of the Meadowlands Masterminds name assigned. Fans can complete the entry form and deposit the slip in the barrel of their chosen handicapper prior to race four each night
- Entry forms are available in the live racing program and at the Players Club Desk
- After race 10 each live race night, an entry from the winning handicapper barrel will be selected to win a $200 betting voucher
- On Hambletonian Day, the winning Battle handicapper is announced
- At the end of the Battle, the winning handicapper will receive $1,000 for their selected charity; second will receive $500 and third through fifth place $250
- All 19 winners from the 10-week-long Battle are eligible for the $10,000 grand prize. Ten names will be selected during the Final Drawing. The first through fifth names receive $200 betting vouchers; sixth name receives a $250 betting voucher; seventh name receives a $300 betting voucher; eighth name receives a $400 voucher; ninth name receives a $500 voucher; and the final name drawn (10th name) wins the $10,000. The remaining nine names will receive $100 betting vouchers

Full contest rules can be found at playmeadowlands.com/wp-content/uploads/2023/05/2023-Battle-of-Masterminds.pdf.

THE PAST MASTERS LIVE: On Saturday, June 17, come on up to the roof at The Meadowlands and check out the classic rock sounds of The Past Masters. The show begins at 5:30 p.m. and the party goes all night long. Meadowlands’ track photographer Mike Lisa plays drums for this popular band that always backs the place.

THE RACES KEEP ON COMING: Live racing at The Meadowlands will take place every Friday and Saturday for the next 10 consecutive weeks. Post time is 6:20 p.m., except for the last day of the meeting, Hambletonian Day, Saturday, Aug. 5, when the first race heads to the gate at noon.

DON'T PAY: Free past performances for every race of every Meadowlands card are available by going to playmeadowlands.com.

THE SENSATIONAL SEVEN: These are the seven wagers The Big M offers nightly to the bettor that offer both a low minimum wager as well as a low 15 percent takeout. In addition, the two Pick-4s offer a guaranteed pool of $50,000.

The list:

- Race 1: 20-cent Pick-5
- Race 3: 20-cent Survivor Pick-7
- Race 6: Early 50-cent Pick-4 ($50,000 guaranteed pool)
- Race 7: Early 10-cent Hi-5
