Jeremy Smith and Little Rocket Man look to repeat in Battle of Lake Erie

The driver is making his return after a month off to be by the side of his ailing father.

with JAY WOLF

Jeremy Smith is back.

After a deeply personal 29-day hiatus to care for his seriously ill father, Sheridan, Jeremy's comeback this Saturday (June 7) at MGM Northfield Park for the $200,000 Battle of Lake Erie (G2) marks a compelling return to the sulky, piloting Little Rocket Man, the horse that gave him his greatest win in this very race last year.

"My dad had an aneurysm in his liver," said Jeremy, 45. "I know the timing was bad, but I had to [step away]. Not only is he my dad, but he is my best friend.

"He was in bad shape. We didn't think he was going to make it.

"I have one other addiction, other than the horses, and that is muscle cars. I've built a lot of them and my dad has always been right there with me."

Jeremy is proud to report that his father has improved, was allowed to come home and "seems to be doing well."

That gave Jeremy the chance to come back a little earlier than expected to drive the defending Battle of Lake Erie champion.

Jeremy Smith and Little Rocket Man rally to win the 2024 Battle of Lake Erie.

Last year, Jeremy and Little Rocket Man used a four-wide move around the final Northfield Park turn and posted a half-length victory to score a 20-1 upset.

“What a horse,” Jeremy said. “He’s the best horse I have ever driven. I never count him out. I often say he is an ‘extra 10 percenter’ because he always gives you that extra effort.”

The 9-year-old Rockin Image—GT Miss Royal gelding has 72 wins in 124 career starts and has earned nearly $1.8 million.

“He just loves to win and he does it with swagger,” Jeremy said.

Little Rocket Man is owned by Russell Beeman and Jack Freeman and is trained by Ken Rucker.

The defending champs have to overcome the outside post 8 (15-1 morning line) in this year’s event.

Jeremy knows all about surviving setbacks. He was involved in a pair of racing accidents last summer, the first on June 15, where he was “stoved up pretty good.” He was involved in a much more serious pile-up on Aug. 7.

The second accident resulted in a brain bleed, a concussion, a fractured vertebra and three fractured ribs. Sometime later it was discovered that Jeremy had also fractured his fibula.

“I had to wear a brace from my ankle to about half-way up my thigh,” he said. “When they took the brace off, I could barely walk, so I had to do more physical therapy.”

“My dad had an aneurysm in his liver. I know the timing was bad, but I had to [step away from racing for about a month]. Not only is he my dad, but he is my best friend. He was in bad shape. We didn’t think he was going to make it.”

~ Jeremy Smith

“ This absence [from racing for a month] has lit the fire in me again. I am very hungry. I am starving. I am ready. ”

~ Jeremy Smith

Despite missing nearly a month this year, Jeremy remains eighth among reinsmen in North America in purse earnings ($2,496,702) and 11th in wins (162).

“I will be honest, I was floored when I heard that,” Jeremy said. “That’s crazy.

“I look forward to driving regularly at Scioto Downs. I want to talk to all of my trainers and give them enough notice. If I only have five drives, that’s fine. I have been there before.”

The 39th edition of the Battle of Lake Erie headlines a 16-race, stakes filled card. The undercard features the $75,000 MGM Buckeye Distaff, featuring Ohio-bred mare pacers, and eight divisions of the second leg of the Ohio Sires Stakes (OHSS). Each OHSS division will go for $65,000.

In the Distaff, Jeremy picked up the drive behind No Foolin April, which just happens to be the last winner he drove (May 9) before his break.

“It was a cold night and she went a big mile [1:50],” Jeremy said. “She will have to step up her game Saturday, but she can rocket off the gate, so she has that going for her.

“This absence has lit the fire in me again. I am very hungry. I am starving. I am ready.”

Fallout and Tetrick look to recapture magic in Pepsi North America Cup

by Brett Sturman

From 13 career starts to date, top Pepsi North America Cup prospect Fallout has only raced twice at Woodbine Mohawk Park. But he, along with driver Tim Tetrick, made those races count last September when they swept the Metro Pace elimination and then the $1 million Metro final.

I'll make the case that now, both horse and driver return to the scene of that triumph with maybe a little something extra to prove.

Fallout remains, unquestionably, one of the top 3-year-old pacers in North America, but it seems hard to believe that he only has a single win following his victorious Metro. And that came two weeks afterwards when he crushed by 10 lengths at Lexington in an International Stallion Stake in 1:48.4, which bested his Metro win in 1:49.1. Since that time, he's raced bravely in all four subsequent starts, including throughout the Breeders Crown and then two races to kick off 2025.

“There’s always pressure to do well no matter the circumstance. It’s always been there in my career, and I’ve always tried to do well, and to do well in the big races and I’ve have had plenty of success in that thinking. There’s an equal amount of pressure no matter if you have one stakes horse or if you have 20 of them. Every time I go behind the gate, I treat them all individually but with the same overall mindset.”

~ Tim Tetrick

As Tetrick readies for Saturday’s (June 7) eliminations in which Fallout goes in race 7, he sounds confident.

“I’m super happy with [Fallout],” said Tetrick. “He hasn’t won yet this year, but you can’t knock him either time he got beat. He got beat by an older horse in his first start back who had just gone in 1:49, and then he got beat from the pocket by maybe the best 3-year-old in the country who will probably be the Cup favorite in Louprint. He’s raced well both times.”

The stakes landscape does look a little different today for Tetrick than it did just two years ago when he came to Ontario with eventual 2023 Horse of the Year, Confederate. His driving record in terms of UDRS still remains in the .350 range where it has been for many years, but his overall number of stakes commitments beyond Fallout – at least for this current time being – has been reduced.

Typical ebbs and flows of driver demand for stakes bookings aside, I was interested in knowing if Tetrick’s mentality is any different with Fallout than it was in other years given that, currently, it’s the assignment with the best stakes potential. Is there added pressure on him to make the most of what he has?

There’s an equal amount of pressure no matter if you have one stakes horse or if you have 20 of them. Every time I go behind the gate, I treat them all individually but with the same overall mindset.”

Tetrick summarized it well, “I drive my horse to the best of my ability. If I have a 50-1 chance, I’m still trying to win but I’m also trying to make money for myself and for the owners.”

To that point, a great example of that can be found from just two weeks ago in the Auger Invitational at Harrah’s Philadelphia. In that FFA stake, Tetrick put 56-1 long shot Spring Inhis Step A into play early from an outside post, worked out a pocket trip and finished second to Bythemissal, besting several other potential FFA stars for the upcoming year.

“I didn’t understand why he was that high; I thought he was a contender,” Tetrick said. “If anybody saw my comments when Heather [Vitale] interviewed me before the race I said that this horse is a sleeper and not to discount him, and he almost won.”

Back to the North America Cup, there are parallels in Fallout entering his elimination this weekend and when he came here last year for the Metro. Fallout had been racing well last year immediately prior to Mohawk with a series of 1:49-timed miles at The Red Mile but without a recent win on view to show for it and was dismissed at 7-1 in his elimination. It’s similar today with the couple of close-up seconds, and you could even include those hard-fought races in the Breeders Crown to end last year. Just as he used the Metro to make his presence known as a top freshman, Fallout is entering the Cup eliminations this weekend looking to solidify his status early in the year with another key win – one that would make him a $1 million race winner in two straight years.

Likewise, I can think of reasons why winning this year’s edition of the North America Cup would be sweet for Tetrick. He’s a two-time winner of the race, but the last one came 10 years ago with Wakizashi Hanover and the other one was two years prior to that with Captaintreacherous (sire of Fallout, trained too by Tony Alagna). By winning, Tetrick could avenge the defeat of Confederate in this race while at the same time giving silence to any of his doubters.

Tetrick will enter confidently with the horse and will do what’s always worked for him.

“All you can do is try hard and give it your best and at the end of the day hopefully it works out,” he said. “It can be a tough game sometimes. It can be hard with everything so speed-oriented these days. And you still need to have something between the shafts; it takes a good horse to win, and they’ve got to be good on that day.”

For Team Fallout, here’s hoping he’s good this Saturday and maybe even better the following one.

EUROPEAN REPORT

Oslo Grand Prix on tap on Sunday

by Thomas Hedlund

Bjerke, Oslo will play host to the prestigious $200,000 Oslo Grand Prix for older elite trotters over 2,100 meters on Sunday (June 8) and some of the most interesting horses in Europe will gather behind the gate.

Björn Goop and San Moteur's entourage opted to stay out of Elitloppet, instead aiming for Europe's big races over distances like the Oslo Grand Prix where two heats are not required.

San Moteur got post 1 behind the gate, which will be quite spectacular as stablemate, and quick opener, Betting Pacer will start from post 4. There is probably no risk that Goop will be locked inside with the probable first choice, but the road to victory will be more difficult.

Among the toughest opponents, Kentucky River, Executive Ek and Önas Prince can be mentioned.

The home team put its hope on Gundersen stable's Devilish Hill and Elitloppet contender Charron.

Bjerke's race card Sunday includes many great races where the Oslo Grand Prix, obviously is the highlight of the day.

6. Charron – Geir Vegard Gundersen
7. Hades de Vandel – Robin Bakker
8. Great Skills – Daniel Wäjersten
9. Executiv Ek – Alessandro Gocciadoro
10. Önas Prince – Per Nordström

FIRST OF MIND FIRST IN ROME

Alessandro Gocciadoro's 4-year-old First Of Mind continues to collect big trophies and on Sunday (June 1) afternoon, the Face Time Bourbon son played with his opponents in the $175,000 Gran Premio Tino Triossi in Rome.

First Of Mind hit the lead and got company on the outside by stablemate Falco Killer Gar, but when Gocciadoro stepped on the gas pedal at the top of the stretch, First Of Mind left his challengers several lengths behind.

First Of Mind claimed the Italian Derby 2024 and finished second in the Orsi Mangelli later last fall. This year Gocciadoro's trotter has won the $200,000 Anact Stakes Plus+.

Sunday's victory was made in a mile rate of 1:55.4 over 1.3 miles.

SUPER SATURDAY AT VINCENNES

Vincennes opens its gates for some strong races on Saturday (June 7) and one of the most interesting horses in France at this moment, Inexess Bleu, will face Iguski Sautonne, Hooker Berry, Gaspar d'Angis and Ina du Rib, among others in the $130,000 Prix Chambon P over 2,850 meters.

The 4-year-old mares battle in the $130,000 Prix Guy le Gonidec over 2,700 meters and Sylvain Gerard Dupont trained Liberte de Choisel enters the track as undefeated at Vincennes after four attempts this year.

The boys will go the same distance as the female trotters in the $130,000 Prix Jules Thibault and it looks like Lovino Bello will be the horse to beat.

Kana de Beylev, Krack Time Atout, Kanto Avis and Kataki de Wallis are some of the trotters in the $130,000 Prix Jean le Gonidec for 5-year-olds and Sebastien Guarato's Krack Time Atout makes his comeback after seven months away from the track.

A few hiccups and a sneeze didn't dampen Clinton's season opener

by Matthew Lomon

A delayed start to the season due to ongoing grandstand renovations didn't deter the Clinton Raceway faithful from showing up in droves for the track's season-opening card on Sunday (June 1).

Unbothered by any construction-related limitations, fans of all ages proudly packed into the picturesque half-mile oval for an opening day unlike no other in recent memory.

The outpouring of support was not lost on Clinton, ON, native and raceway manager Ian Fleming.

"Opening day typically brings lots of people out and this year was no different," Fleming said. "It was great to see such an enthusiastic crowd join us, especially considering it wasn't a great day for weather, either. That speaks volumes about the character of our fans."

While the renovations are still a few weeks away from being completed, Fleming added that the project was "certainly far enough along to race safely."

Clinton's marketing manager Jessica Carnochan echoed Fleming's sentiment in a statement on the track's official website.

Clinton Raceway
The new grandstand at Clinton Raceway is nearly finished.

"It was really great to get back and welcome fans to the new facility," Carnochan said. "While it's not exactly where we'd like it to be, more things went right than wrong today."

"We want to thank the fans for their understanding and commitment to our small track, it really is going to be worth it when it's all set and ready to go."

The two-week delay to opening day — originally scheduled for May 18 — also had no adverse effect on handle.

In fact, it was the exact opposite.

Clinton collected just shy of $83,000 in total wagers on opening day ($82,899), marking an increase of nearly $20,000 over last season's first-card figure ($64,042).

The eagerly awaited return of racing, coupled with five Prospect Series races, Fleming said, supplied the jolt.

"The Prospect Series is always good for handle," he said. "You get some different faces and young horses competing, and that enthusiasm translated into a strong handle on Sunday."

Also responsible for the uptick in attendance and wagering was the first of several fundraisers coming to Clinton in 2025.

Central Huron Secondary School once again got the fundraising festivities underway, raising north of $5,000 with support from sponsors and racing fans.

"There were a lot of teachers and students from the local high school here on opening day," Fleming said. "They came out and supported us, bet a few dollars or bought a hot dog, and, we in turn, were able to weave our customers over to their silent auction and 50-50 raffle."

Jessica Carnochan / Clinton Raceway
Bouncy pony races were part of the fun on opening day.

“There’s a synergy there that you wouldn’t get if you didn’t involve groups in the community.”

Retired teacher and current Clinton race caller Tim O’Connor added another layer of levity to the already upbeat season opener when he sneezed in the middle of a call.

The spontaneous sternutation returned a ripple of laughter from the crowd, and Fleming.

“That was a funny moment,” Fleming said. “Tim, being a former teacher, was quite engaged in raising money for the high school. He knew some of the teachers in attendance so I’m sure they got a good laugh out of it.”

On the track, driver Samuel Fillion also had a day to remember, netting a hat trick.

The Mont-Joli, QC-based reinsman got the ball rolling with 4-year-old pacer Hogwash in race 2 before striking again in race 6 (Prospect Series) with Gooned Again.

Fillion completed the trifecta with even-money choice Chillinonthebeach in race 9 for his second Prospect Series score of the afternoon.

Watching Fillion and his fellow drivers race around the track was a welcomed sight for Fleming, who like the fans, horsepeople, and horseplayers, waited patiently for the return of racing.

“We had 65 horses training here all winter,” Fleming said. “There’s a lot of small breeders and trainers here in town, so it’s important that we get up and racing.”

“The 15 Sundays get the spotlight, but there’s a lot more going on behind the scenes – it isn’t just 15 days a year that people are training horses here, it’s 365.”

To advance from training to now racing has given Fleming hope that the new and improved Clinton Raceway will be fully functional for the track’s Grand Opening on July 6.

Although there’s still plenty on the to-do list, including installing the elevator, getting people back in the stands, and finishing the picnic pavilion, Fleming said the pieces are coming together.

In the near term, live racing at Clinton will take a brief one-week hiatus (June 8) with the Clinton Spring Fair rolling into town that weekend.

The action will pick back up on June 15 for the raceway’s well-received Father’s Day card.

“It’s always a big day for us,” Fleming said. “We get a lot of dads here on Father’s Day. The kids find it’s not a very complicated way of going out – some people stay for an hour; some stay for the whole afternoon. It’s a great atmosphere here on Father’s Day.”

Until then, Fleming and his team will have had time to reflect on an unconventional, yet undoubtedly successful opening day at the races.

There may have been a few hiccups, and a sneeze, along the way, but the wait was no doubt worth it.

“It was very exciting for everybody,” Fleming said. “We’ve been watching it inch along here every day and to see it finally get here meant a lot.”

“Opening day’s always a little frantic, and even more so this year, but once you get a day in, we know we have to get a little bit more done every week and keep going from there.”

“We had 65 horses training here [at Clinton Raceway] all winter. There’s a lot of small breeders and trainers here in town, so it’s important that we get up and racing. The 15 Sundays get the spotlight, but there’s a lot more going on behind the scenes – it isn’t just 15 days a year that people are training horses here, it’s 365.”

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

The problem of excellence

by John Berry

I just received a letter from my long-time friend, Joanne Young. Young is a treasure to our sport and has been an invaluable one as the Harness Racing Museum and Hall of Fame in Goshen, NY, continues as this grand museum's "glue" in protecting the past of harness racing, supporting the present and encouraging the future of, in these eyes, the greatest sport in the world.

Her letter reminded me to renew my membership in the Museum.

My days with the family go back well over a half century of moons — back to the days of her dad, Harry Sowash when Chicago racing was emerging from infancy and its teenage years.

Pointer Creed, Hajji, Yogi, Sonny G and, one of my favorites, Cotton Prince, were a few of the horses — many of them close to being teenagers themselves — that graced the Windy City racing programs under the patient and careful care of Harry Sowash.

Young takes the same care at the Museum and has been getting ready as yet another Hall of Fame week takes shape at 240 Main Street.

To gain induction to our Hall of Fame is not an easy task, and it's getting more difficult with each passing 1:46 mile, each driver winning 10,000 or more races, each trainer winning coveted stakes events, each breeder gaining new, spectacular heights in performance from their colts, fillies and, possibly, a gelding with long and extraordinary historical achievements.

That's where the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) comes into play.

I have been a member of the USHWA for over a half century.

I was elected president way back when I had red hair and have enjoyed the camaraderie of many of the top harness racing journalists in the world; yes, from countless places in North America, stretching across the ocean to Europe and south to New Zealand and Australia.

Literally, from A to Z — Sam Anzalone to Bob Zellner with hundreds in-between — many gone to the ages now, like Stan Bergstein, Lou Boudreau, Col. Dave Herman, Alan Prince, Jack Ginnetti, Lew Barasch, Murray Janoff, Don Evans, Bill Brown, Jr., George Smallsreed, Les Ford, "Weed" Rorty and many dozens of others.

Back about 30 years ago, there was a campaign for the renovation of what is today's Museum with its historical artifacts now numbering over 70,000. But, to ease the flow for those deserving recognition, instead of accepting that the roads to our Hall of Fame cannot be widened, how about a campaign to build, instead of east to west, skyward with a third floor, enabling harness racing's traffic flow of talent to become unearthed.

They constituted the heart and soul of the trotter and pacer, from the arrival of Messenger in 1788 to whoever will win this year's Hambletonian.

Every July, our sport honors the newest inductees — both human and equine — that have climbed the tallest mountain in achievement in their illustrious careers to achieve recognition in those hallowed halls at 240 Main Street.

For those of you that have never been to that historic building in Goshen, NY, well, it's something that you, quite simply, cannot miss.

When you walk the hallowed halls, I swear you'll hear the hoof beats of the incredible Dan Patch, and the iconic Greyhound, just a pair of the hundreds of exhibits.

You will hear the voices of those that have graced harness racing and, now, the Hall of Fame over its history.

It's just an incredible institution that deserves the recognition and respect in ALL of sport.

Your pulse will race at a 1:45.4 pace and the historic half-mile track and the iconic judges' stand in the infield, and it's just a "ns" away in the Museum's backyard.

For those of you that have never been to that historic building in Goshen, NY, well, it's something that you, quite simply, cannot miss. When you walk the hallowed halls, I swear you'll hear the hoof beats of the incredible Dan Patch, and the iconic Greyhound, just a pair of the hundreds of exhibits. You will hear the voices of those that have graced harness racing and, now, the Hall of Fame over its history. It's just an incredible institution that deserves the recognition and respect in ALL of sport.

Two wonderful folk from the Hall of Fame Museum of yesteryear were Phil Pines and Walt Latzko, gentlemen that loved the history and tradition of our grand sport and its centuries of history.

Now, Janet Terhune continues the tradition with her unheralded dedication to our sport.

Phil Pines and Walt Latzko shared enough stories with me over the years that I could write a book... maybe I will.

Probably the most difficult task since my first article appeared in 1964 was being a member of the Hall of Fame selection committee years back.

As I have mentioned in past articles, Main Street in Goshen, NY, needs its roads widened because there are many worthy men, women and horses that deserve recognition, but there's just not enough room for inclusion.

This year's list of possible future inclusions was, pretty much, impossible to separate as their collective contributions to our sport – no matter which side of the track on which they reside – are outstanding.

There are dozens, perhaps hundreds more, that didn't even make this year's list, and they remain miles and miles away from 240 Main Street in the fabled town of Goshen, NY.

Yes, this grand sport has drastically changed over time(s) and history.

Star Pointer's initial sub-2:00 mile in 1897, the epic 1:55 mile by Dan Patch just a few years later – subsequently not allowed into our history books – are just two examples of where history has brought us to this very day.

The 2:00 mile, today, is long forgotten (except way up north) and a 1:55 mile won't earn the owner a cup of coffee.

Could there be a solution to widen those roads to Goshen?

Probably not.

When the museum opened back in 1951, it had an amazing 2,000 artifacts.

It was William H. Cane's Good Time Stable, with a hayloft on the second floor.

Back about 30 years ago, there was a campaign for the renovation of what is today's Museum with its historical artifacts now numbering over 70,000.

But, to ease the flow for those deserving recognition, instead of accepting that the roads to our Hall of Fame cannot be widened, how about a campaign to build, instead of east to west, skyward with a third floor, enabling harness racing's traffic flow of talent to become unearthed.

Is it worth the price?

Whatever the price, it's worth it.

Brick-by-brick skyward to unleash the hoof prints and foot prints – past, present and future – of a sport we all love and cherish.

For those who say, "It can't be done," well, that's what they have said about every single invention and improvement we have seen during our lifetime.

From skyscrapers to travel, medicine to the internet, from travel by airplane across country to flights to the moon.

From the impossibility of a 2:00 mile way back when, to a driver winning 200 races in one year, to today.

Nothing is impossible, we just need the will to do it.

Rich family Gold victory was an emotional one for Todd and Mary Ratchford

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

The tears were unexpected, but Todd Ratchford said the magnitude of the moment — made possible by at least three generations of horsepeople in his family that came before him — hit him out of nowhere when he was standing in the winner's circle and Ritchie Rich was already walking back to the paddock wearing a blue Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) blanket trimmed in gold.

The next day, judging by the slight hitch in his voice, the 29-year-old driver was still emotional about being in the sulky for Thursday's (May 29) $90,000 Gold Series victory at Woodbine Mohawk Park by the 3-year-old trotting colt.

Replay here (and check out Todd's emotional reaction beginning around the 5:00 mark in his interview with Chad Rozema).

After all, it was the first career Gold start for Ratchford's 20-year-old sister, Mary Ratchford, Ritchie Rich's trainer and part-owner.

"It's about what we've all put into it," Todd said. "To see it pay off the way it did, and to have everyone there at the perfect time — my brother was there, my mom was there — it was just perfect... That was definitely the most emotional win I've had, by far."

Reached on Monday, Mary said she was still struck by the magic of it all and, particularly, her brother's reaction.

"Todd doesn't get very emotional very often," Mary said. "It shows how special that was. Todd came back to the test barn and he was loving on Ritchie, and you could really see how much he cares for that horse. And then it got to me..."

"You're going off adrenaline. You get so excited, and you get caught up in the moment. But then after the race, once you've settled, it hits you, and you're like, 'Wow, that was pretty impressive. You're a pretty special horse.' You get a little emotional, but you're just grateful overall."

MARY RATCHFORD IS NOW PERFECT IN GOLD STARTS

That Mary is batting 1.000 in Gold events, the race was the biggest purse she has ever won and the $45,000 payday pushed her past her previous career best for seasonal purse earnings before the calendar flipped to June was a lot for her to process. In just her second full year of training, Mary has earnings of $156,573 through Monday, surpassing the $151,690 her trainees earned in all of 2024.

Yet, through her meteoric rise — an ascension that mirrors that of her brother who also had his biggest career purse win in the Gold and was Canada's Future Star Award winner for 2024 — she has retained a maturity beyond her years forged by a family familiar with the harsh reality of racing horses.

"All week, we were trying to treat it as just another race," Mary said. "But, in the back of your mind, that was our first Gold. That's the highest level you can get in Ontario. So, it's pretty special. But, we're just taking it day by day. You don't want to get too ahead of yourself, but it was just excitement. I think that was the best word to describe it."

Todd said Mary is underselling it. She was more than just excited.

"She was ecstatic," he said. "She was so happy; everyone was just so happy, because going into this year, we had no real expectations for [Ritchie Rich]. Whatever he was, he was. At 2, he raced a couple times, and he showed a little bit of potential, but we never really knew until his first qualifier at 3 that we had something special."

HOW IT DROPPED INTO PLACE FOR RITCHIE RICH

Ritchie Rich, a son of Wheeling N Dealin out of Hola Lola, was bred by Cindy Graham and William Woolfrey of Warkworth, ON. The trotter is owned by Graham, her friend Carolyn Jarrell and Mary Ratchford.

It was Graham who named Ritchie Rich after the famed cartoon rich boy and then placed the trotter with the Ratchfords in thanks to the family's past success with a few of her other horses.

As Todd said, Ritchie Rich showed talent at 2, but proved to be nothing special, earning just $3,500 with a lone win in a conditioned start at Flamboro Downs. It wasn't until the trotter reached a major maturity milestone that things literally dropped into place.

"There actually was a huge difference [from 2 to 3]," Todd said. "It all started probably two and a half months ago, maybe. He was always a ridgling and had one testicle that was up... It was kind of a running joke with my mom and sister that were taking care of him, 'Is it there yet? Did it drop?' throughout the whole winter. And then one day, a couple months ago, my mom just asked Mary as a joke, 'Is there anything? Any surprises?' She looked and his testicle had dropped. They were freaking out.

"Ever since then, he just blossomed into a big, strong colt and was just full of himself and just confident in his gait. He used to have a funky way of going, just shuffly. Ever since then, he's been flawless.

"We have a homebred trotting filly that [Ritchie Rich] trained down with, and he could never, ever beat her. We always thought she was the better one. She had a couple of hiccups qualifying. It took her three times. Whereas he, at 3, was one and done, and he was ready to roll right from there. That qualifier was impressive, because he knew exactly what to do without even needing to be taught. He just had that natural instinct to know when it was time to go and time to put the metal down."

RITCHIE RICH IS A CHARACTER

Mary said she has to be careful around Ritchie Rich because he's a stud. Sometimes, he'll try to bite, but, otherwise, he's fantastic, she said.

"When he hits the track, you can't find a better horse," Mary said. "He jogs perfectly and he's fun to be around... He's got a great personality. He just makes you smile whenever you look at him. He's always messing with something or he's chewing on something, and you just can't help but laugh at him. He just makes your day."

Ritchie Rich is now 5-2-0 in 10 career starts, with earnings of $83,750 – $80,250 earned this year while posting a 4-2-0 record in seven starts.

With each win, his confidence grows.

"Ever since he's kind of started to figure out the racing part, the confidence is really growing in him, and you can just tell when he comes back from the races and he's walking through the barn," Todd said. "He has a stall down by himself, and he has to walk past all the other horses, and he's got his chest puffed up, and he's got his neck kinked, and he's feeling so good about himself. He's like, 'Hey, look at me. I'm the man.' So, he definitely knows it and he definitely loves the attention.

"In the win picture... he just stood there. He looked around, and he was just like, 'Okay, this is what I'm supposed to do, and he just knows how to do it...' He couldn't even blow out a match after the race. So, I think there's a lot left."

Mary has the same feeling.

Watching Ritchie Rich lead the Gold field of nine through fractions of :28.2, :56.2 and 1:25.4 and then open up in the lane to record a 1:54.1 victory told her a lot about Ritchie Rich's ability.

"Todd has yet to have to ask him in any race yet," Mary said. "When he was sitting pretty on him, that was a pretty good feeling. Around the last turn, he started taking off a little bit and I thought, 'Okay Ritchie, just do your thing and we're home.'"

Back home in Caledonia, ON later that night, Mary said she went right to sleep.

"It was a long night," she said. "There were a lot of lot of ups and downs. It kind of wears you out. But the next morning, it was like, 'Did that really happen?' That's a big accomplishment. It was kind of surreal the next morning, but that night, I definitely got to sleep, but I don't think Todd did."

RICH RATCHFORD FAMILY HISTORY

Mary and Todd are, at least, part of the fourth generation of horsepeople from their family. Their great grandfather, Rabbit, invented Rabbit's Liniment, which is still used by horsepeople today. Their grandfather was horseman Gus Ratchford. Todd and Mary's mother, Jean MacDonell, is the first cousin of driver Paul MacDonell, who is enshrined in the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame.

"I think I'm probably either third or fourth generation on my mom's side, too," Todd said.

So, even though Todd excelled at hockey and played professionally in The Netherlands, Germany, Belgium, and the United Arab Emirates, a love of horses was a major part of both his and Mary's DNA.

"Between getting dragged around to Todd's hockey games and to the track, that was pretty much it," Mary said of her early life outside of school. "But I wouldn't change a thing. It was great growing up around the horses. To be able to continue that and possibly make a career out of that is very special."

Todd said a life working with horses was inevitable.

"There was no real other option," he said. "I definitely am very appreciative of everything and how my career has started, so far. It's better than I could have ever expected, for sure, because I do know how hard it is, because I've lived through it as a kid... So, when you have a little bit of success, it goes a long way."

Mary is currently training 12 and gets help in the barn from her parents, Todd and Jean, her brother Todd and even Todd's 3-year-old son, Brooks.

"I'm still young, and Todd's young, and the whole family aspect of it brings a lot of positivity," Mary said, adding that in a sport built on dreams it's important for others to see that even the smallest operation can succeed.

"It's great for our sport to see that. You can still be young, but you can still play with the big dogs. It's opened a lot of doors, and I'm excited to see what the future holds, especially with this horse."

"Most people dream about having a horse like this. It's special in every way. To all of our partners and our family, it's pretty big. I think my grandpa would be pretty proud of Todd and how far he's come and for us having a horse that is beyond words. He's really an incredible animal, and we're just so grateful to have the opportunity to have him and to be around him every day."

Todd said he hopes the Gold victory is a turning point, especially since Brooks is already showing great interest in the horses.

"I hope this leads to a bright future for, obviously, my family and my sister training horses," he said. "I hope she gets all the attention she deserves, because she works just as hard as anyone, if not harder. Hopefully, this is just the beginning."

And the riches keep on coming.

Seven Colors seeks successful Northfield return

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Seven Colors has raced only once at MGM Northfield Park during his career, but it produced a pretty good memory for his connections.

A week after being purchased by owners Bill Pollock, Bruce Areman and trainer Andrew Harris in August 2023, the then 3-year-old Seven Colors zipped around Northfield Park's half-mile oval in a world record 1:48.1 to win the Carl Milstein Memorial. The clocking remains the fastest ever by a sophomore pacer on a half-mile track.

On Saturday, Seven Colors returns to Northfield for the $200,000 Grade 2 Battle of Lake Erie, an invitational for older pacers.

Two horses have won the Milstein and later came back to capture the Battle of Lake Erie: All Bets Off and Wiggle It Jiggle It. All Bets Off won the inaugural Milstein in 2014 and the Battle in 2017 on his way to $3 million in lifetime earnings. Wiggle It Jiggle It took the Milstein in his 2015 Horse of the Year season and nabbed the Battle the following year.

Seven Colors will now try to add his name to the group, and he heads to the Battle of Lake Erie as a more mature horse than even a year ago.

"Not as much physically because he was always a big, stout horse, but he's a much more mature horse mentally," Harris said. "Last year, he didn't always let the driver do what he wanted to do. Sometimes, he was a bully in his own mind and wanted to do things his way."

"This year, it seems like he's got it figured out. He's willing to do whatever you tell him, and he seems to be happy to do it, which makes him far more useful against these types of horses. If you want to gear him up to go, he's ready to go. If you want to take him off the pace, you can take him off the pace. Last year, that wasn't always the case. Hopefully, that leads to better things for him this year."

Seven Colors, a 5-year-old son of Stay Hungry—Rainbow in the Dark, has won 11 of 45 career races and earned $1.04 million. Last season, the stallion had three victories in 19 starts, banking $324,759. His triumphs included a preliminary division of the Graduate Series at Woodbine Mohawk Park and a leg of the MGM Grand Prix Invitational Pacing Series at MGM Yonkers Raceway. He hit the board in seven of his last eight races of the campaign, including a second-place finish in the Breeders Crown Open Pace and a third in the FanDuel Open Pace championship.

"He's gotten better as he's gotten older," Harris said. "A lot of the issues he suffered last year I think were '4-year-old blues' type stuff. I think he's going to have a much more successful year this year."

Seven Colors will start the Battle of Lake Erie from post 2 with Aaron Merriman in the sulky. He enters the race off a second-place finish behind Desperate Man in the #SendItIn Invitational on May 25 at Harrah's Philadelphia and is 12-1 on the morning line. Desperate Man, who defeated Seven Colors by three-quarters-of-a-length, is the 3-1 second choice in the Battle. He leaves from post 4 with Matt Kakaley driving for Travis Alexander.

The #SendItIn was Seven Colors' second start of this season. He finished fourth, beaten two lengths, in a conditioned race won by Desperate Man on May 17 at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

"He raced fantastic both times," Harris said. "He was real good last week at Philly against a real sharp horse he's going to face again this week, but I think we're tighter and ready now."

Seven Colors is not the only Milstein winner looking to add the Battle of Lake Erie to his credits. Bythemissal, who won the 2022 Milstein and was a Dan Patch Award winner in 2023, heads to the race as the 5-2 favorite off a victory in the Joseph Auger Memorial Invitational on May 25 at Harrah's Philadelphia. The 6-year-old son of Downbytheseaside—Dismissal starts from post 6 with Chris Page driving for Ron Burke.

The nine-horse field also includes MGM Borgata Pacing Series champion Mossdale Ben N and defending Battle champ Little Rocket Man. Jaguar Spur (1988-89) and Peruvian Hanover (2002-03) are the only horses to win the Battle of Lake Erie in back-to-back seasons.

"As tough as they look on paper, I think [Seven Colors] fits with them," Harris said. "He drew good, and he gets around a half real well."

"It's literally going to be who gets the best trip. Every horse in there off their credentials could win."

Racing on Saturday at Northfield Park begins at 6 p.m. (EDT). The Battle of Lake Erie is race 11 on the card, which also includes the MGM Buckeye Distaff Invitational and eight Ohio Sires Stakes divisions for 3-year-old trotters and pacers. For the night's complete entries, click here.

Women Layer wins back-to-back in KYSS at Oak Grove

by Oak Grove Racing publicity

Virgil Morgan, Jr. trainee Women Layer took another step towards another series sweep in Kentucky Sire Stakes (KYSS) action at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming & Hotel when scoring a 1:49.2 win in hand in the lone $50,000 dash for 4-year-old pacing horses and geldings on Monday afternoon (June 2).

Leaving from post 7, driver Todd McCarthy floated forward with Women Layer and found cover to follow while parked into a :25.4 first quarter. Better Is Nice (driven by Andy McCarthy) grabbed the lead but soon yielded to first-over Lou Hill (Dexter Dunn) while Women Layer advanced and soon brushed to grab the lead into a :53.3 half. Once on the point, Todd McCarthy coasted for a slight breather to three-quarters in 1:21.4 before shutting the door and kicking away under wraps to a 2¾-length win over Better Is Nice. Lou Hill tired in third while Steely Knife (Yannick Gingras) gave chase in fourth.

Women Layer, a gelding by Sweet Lou, remains unbeaten from five starts this season. He won his 17th race from 26 starts and has now earned $536,079 for owners Let It Ride Stables Inc., Douglas Overhiser, Jeff Fought Racing, and Larry Wills. He paid $2.88 to win.

Bath Bomb (Andy McCarthy) rebounded early in the card to score a 1:50.1 win in the lone $50,000 KYSS division for 4-year-old pacing mares. McCarthy fired towards the top and secured a pocket seat to 4-5 favorite Asweetbeachhere (Todd McCarthy) heading to a :26 first quarter. He followed the chalk to a :54 half and through most of the backstretch before launching off the pegs when Fearless Bettor (Brett MacDonald) started charging forward on the rim. Bath Bomb locked eyes with Asweetbeachhere after three-quarters in 1:21.4 and easily put away her rival spinning for home. She then held off Fearless Bettor in the stretch to notch a neck victory while Peace Talks (Dunn) snagged third, another three lengths behind, and Asweetbeachhere tired to fourth.

A daughter of Lather Up trained by Per Engblom, Bath Bomb has now won eight races from 21 starts and earned $250,360 for owner Morrison Racing Stables. She paid $5.02 to win.

Tom's Muscle (Ernie Hendry) landed an 8-1 upset in the first of two $50,000 KYSS divisions for 4-year-old trotting horses and geldings with a 1:54.1 effort. Hendry found cover to follow after a :27.1 first quarter when Hung Over (Dunn) pulled off the pylons to attack new leader Pisces Rising (Gingras), who cleared command from even-money favorite Ways N Means (Andy McCarthy) moving to the second turn. Hung Over progressed on the rim and matched strides with Pisces Rising to three-quarters in 1:25.4 while Hendry lifted Tom's Muscle three wide and built momentum for the stretch drive. Tom's Muscle took the lead as Hung Over lost ground and Ways N Means waited for room from the pocket. Hendry built a two-length cushion off the bottom corner and held just a wide enough advantage to hold off the late charge of Ways N Means by a head while Hung Over gave chase in third and Show Me (Pat Curtin) finished fourth.

Peggy Grant owns and trains Tom's Muscle, a gelded homebred by Long Tom. He won his fifth race from 30 starts, has now earned $109,710 and paid $19.42 to win.

Splendid (Tony Hall) also scored an upset in the other $50,000 KYSS split for 4-year-old trotting horses & geldings, winning in 1:52.4. Hall procured a pocket trip to Ordained (Gingras) after a :26.3 first quarter and coasted along while 6-5 favorite Convoy Hall (Todd McCarthy) attempted to push first over on the rim. The chalk floundered in his push through middle fractions of :55.4 and 1:24 while Splendid swelled from the pocket. Once Convoy Hall levelled off spinning for home, Hall angled outside and slid by Ordained to notch an 11-1 win by 1½ lengths. Ordained held second while Pennteller Hanover (MacDonald) kicked from last for third and Convoy Hall settled for fourth.

Todd Rooney trains Splendid, a stallion by Father Patrick, for his Rooney Racing and co-owner Trotting For Bourbon. He won his 11th race from 29 starts and has now banked $237,451. He paid $24.58 to win.

Woman Of Passion (Todd McCarthy) scored a repeat win in the lone $50,000 KYSS split for 4-year-old trotting mares. After getting strung to a :26.2 first quarter, McCarthy backed the tempo through middle fractions of :56.1 and 1:24.1. Pizzelle (Andy McCarthy) advanced first over as the race slowed and tried to mount a challenge on the pacesetter turning for home, but Todd McCarthy kept his charge to task to register a 1½-length win in 1:52.4. Danger (Robert Taylor) sat a pocket trip for second while Pizzelle settled for third and Black Velvet As (Hall) rallied from a shuffle to last for fourth.

Carter Pinske trains Woman Of Passion, a homebred daughter of Walner, for owner Al Libfeld. She won her 15th race from 29 starts, has now earned $464,499 and paid $2.56 to win.

New York SIRE STAKES REPORT

Dune Buggy takes NYSS victory at Buffalo Raceway

by Brian J. Mazurek / Buffalo Raceway

Dune Buggy ($2.90) made an early move just past the opening quarter pole and that maneuver proved to be the winning one as he scored a head victory over a stubborn Oogleville in the $119,700 New York Sire Stakes for the sophomore colt and gelding pacers at Buffalo Raceway on a gorgeous Wednesday afternoon (June 4).

Oogleville, Red Blooded and Idealofaday had a skirmish for supremacy on the point in the early going. With Dune Buggy nestled into fourth place right before the first quarter pole, driver Jason Bartlett tipped him to the outside and quickly took over command.

With fractions of :56.4 and 1:25.1 in the books over the fast track, Dune Buggy was kept on task through the long homestretch. Oogleville (Kevin Cummings) made a desperate attempt at the pace-setter in the passing lane but just came up a head short. Ima Perfect Choice (Joseph Chindano, Jr.) rallied for third place.

Owned by D. Hamm, Glenn Phillips and the Devita Racing Stable, the 3-year-old gelded Dune Buggy (Huntsville—Dune In Red) collected $59,850 for the victory. With three wins on the ledger in 2025, Dune Buggy now has $119,945 in prize money on the year and $124,565 lifetime. He is trained by Nicholas Devita who had a pair of conditioning wins on the card.

There were a pair of $20,000 Excelsior Series events for the sophomore male pacers and Baleville Bomber produced a “bomb” in the first division with a $68.50 victory in a lifetime best of 1:56.3 over the fast track, beating Mr. Huggins by a head.

It appeared down the stretch that it was going to be a battle between Mr. Huggins (Jason Bartlett) and EZ Spree (James McNeight, Jr.) but Baleville Bomber (Kevin Cummings) was in high gear in the lightning lane and zoomed on by to collect the upset victory. Mr. Huggins held on for second place with EZ Spree taking show spot honors.

The 3-year-old gelded Baleville Bomber (Huntsville—Actress Hanover) is owned by D. Hamm, Glenn Phillips and the Devita Racing Stable and is trained by Devita. The win was his second in six starts, producing $16,400 in earnings on the year and $21,945 in his career.

The second bracket was true to form as Southpaw ($2.20) easily wired the field and beat Alabama Lucky (Mark MacDonald) by a length in 1:55.3 while Baby Squash (Kevin Cummings) took third.

Easily holding pylon position from the start, Southpaw (Jimmy Whittemore) reached the lead and notched fractions of :29.3, :58.1 and 1:27.3. In the lane, Southpaw had plenty of breathing room to play with and had enough to hold back the late rushing Alabama Lucky.

#BETONHARNESS

OUR FUTURE DEPENDS ON IT!

Owned and trained by Whittemore, the 3-year-old gelded Southpaw (American Ideal—Love You Bye) has now scored two victories in six attempts, putting $24,900 in the bank on the campaign and $111,200 lifetime.

Kevin Cummings completed the afternoon of racing with four wins while Kyle Swift and Denny Bucceri registered a pair. Lester Mullet had two training triumphs.

Racing will continue this afternoon (June 6) at 2:30 p.m. with a 13-race card slated.

MONTICELLO RACEWAY PLAYS HOST TO FIRST 2025 NEW YORK SIRE STAKES

On Monday (June 2), Monticello Raceway played host to its first New York Sire Stakes of the 2025 season for 3-year-old colt trotters. Tyler Buter walked away with a driving double, taking the lone $119,700 NYSS event with BJM's Lil Man and an Excelsior dash aboard Habanero Blues.

BJM's Lil Man (Devious Man—Vixen) went 1:55.4 and paid $3.50. After winning an Excelsior Stakes in his last start at Vernon Downs, this week BJM's Lil Man moved up in class with no issue to score the wire-to-wire win for Buter. After taking the lead past the opening panel from Happy Jack B (Ake Svanstedt) BJM's Lil Man set fractions of :28.1, :58, and 1:26.3, came home in :29.1 for the win over Seven Layer (Niko Karna) followed by Seismic Step (Jordan Stratton). Trained by John Berger for owner Joe Meaney of Crestwood, NY, the homebred was bred by Donald W. Lapage of New York, extended his winning streak to three.

Habanero Blues (EL Titan—Habanero Honey) went 1:58.1 and returned $6.60 after enjoying a pocket journey throughout as Low Inside (Dan Daley) set the tempo. Turning for home Habanero Blues was able to slide up the passing lane to get the advantage of Low Inside who was on top at every beam, Logo (Brett Beckwith) got up for third. For the Travis Alexander trainee, owned by Fiddlers Creek Stable of Naples, FL, it was his second consecutive win on the year.

After finishing second five times this year John Stark, Jr. and Doctor Strange (12-1) finally got the win and took the final heat of the $20,000 Excelsior Stakes with a score over the favorite Big City Elwood (Ridge Warren) and Security Code S (Stratton) in 1:58.2. The son of Met's Hall—Flotus ($26.40), also trained and partially owned by Stark, Jr., got his first seasonal win and a new lifetime record.

The next New York Sire Stakes event is slated for June 23, for 2-year-old trotting fillies with a 12:10 post.

Eliminations drawn for 42nd Pepsi North America Cup

Woodbine Mohawk Park is set to play host to three $50,000 eliminations for the 42nd Pepsi North America Cup (G1) this Saturday evening (June 7).

A total of 23 3-year-old pacers were entered in this year's Cup, leading to three elimination races to determine the field of 10 for the $1 million final. The top-three finishers from each elimination, plus one fourth-place finisher drawn by lot, will advance to the big dance on Saturday (June 14).

Cup-winning trainers Tony Alagna and Ron Burke lead the way with three entrants each. Alagna's trio includes Metro Pace winner Fallout, while Burke's top charge is Breeders Crown winner Louprint.

Anthony Beaton, who won last year's Cup with Nijinsky, will send out Lite Up The World, while two-time Cup winner Nancy Takter has entered Captain Optimistic. Brian Brown and Carl Jamieson also have starters to give past Cup-winning trainers 10 of the 23 entrants.

The winners of each elimination will draw for posts 2 through 6 in the rich final.

Here's a breakdown of each elimination.

Elimination 1 (Race 4)

Captain Optimistic and Swingtown headline the first of three North America Cup eliminations.

The Takter trained Captain Optimistic is one-for-two at Woodbine Mohawk Park, finishing third in last year's Metro Pace. The son of Captaintreacherous finished off a seven-for-11 rookie season with a dominant victory in the Governor's Cup in November. He finished second in his lone start this season, a Pennsylvania Sires Stakes division on May 25.

Just like Captain Optimistic, Swingtown is returning to Mohawk Park after racing in last year's Metro. The Burke trainee suffered his first career loss at the Campbellville oval in the Metro elimination before finishing fourth in the final. The son of Downbytheseaside put up strong performances down the stretch of his rookie season, winning a Breeders Crown elimination and finishing second in the Governor's Cup.

Here is the field for the first North America Cup elimination:

Post – Horse – Driver – Trainer

1. Captain Hurley – Travis Cullen – Jodie Cullen
2. Bourbon County – Trevor Henry – Paul Reid
3. Joel And The Jets – Doug McNair – Dr. Ian Moore
4. Fast Choice – Doug McNair – Jared Bako
5. Avanti – Yannick Gingras – Melissa Essig
6. Knockout Round – Andrew McCarthy – Tony Alagna
7. Captain Optimistic – Dexter Dunn – Nancy Takter
8. Swingtown – Yannick Gingras – Ron Burke

Elimination 2 (Race 7)

Metro Pace winner Fallout returns to the scene of his biggest victory in Saturday's second Cup elimination.

The Alagna trained Fallout won the $1 million Metro in 1:49.1 as part of a rookie season that saw him post four wins and nine on the board finishes from 11 starts. The son of Captaintreacherous has finished second in both of his starts this season leading up to the Cup.

Ontario Sires Stakes star Crack Shot is one of the top local hopefuls for this year's race. The Gregg McNair trainee won last year's OSS Super Final and Grassroots final before starting this season with a win in the SBOA Stakes.

The Burke barn is also represented in the second split by Sippinonsearoc, who will be making his Mohawk debut. The son of Downbytheseaside was last year's Ohio Sires Stakes champion and finished second in the Breeders Crown final.

The field for the second North America Cup elimination is:

Post – Horse – Driver – Trainer

1. Mad River – Yannick Gingras – Per Engblom
2. Sterling Choice – Billy Davis – Blake MacIntosh
3. Papis Pistol – Andy Miller – Sam De Pinto
4. Lite Up The World – James MacDonald – Anthony Beaton
5. Crack Shot – Doug McNair – Gregg McNair
6. Sippinonsearoc – Yannick Gingras – Ron Burke
7. Fallout – Tim Tetrick – Tony Alagna
8. Madden Oaks – Braxten Boyd – Cameron Capone

Elimination 3 (Race 9)

Louprint, the top ranked Cup contender, will line up in the third and final Cup elimination.

A son of Sweet Lou, Louprint won the Dan Patch Award last season as the top 2-year-old colt pacer. The Burke trainee won seven of 10 starts, posting major wins in the Breeders Crown final and Kentucky Sires Stakes final.

Louprint is a perfect three-for-three this season entering the Cup eliminations.

Prince Hal Hanover is another notable in the final Cup split. The Dr. Ian Moore trainee won a division of the Somebeachsomewhere Stakes last Saturday and is two-for-three this season.

New York Sires Stakes champion Courts On Fire is also among the starters in the third elimination.

The field for the third North America Cup elimination is:

Post – Horse – Driver – Trainer

1. Prince Hal Hanover – David Miller – Dr. Ian Moore
2. Making History – Brett Beckwith – Tony Alagna
3. Dandy Ideal – Jason Bartlett – Hunter Oakes
4. Th Kay C Crunch – Jody Jamieson – Carl Jamieson
5. Courts On Fire – Doug McNair – Blake MacIntosh
6. Louprint – Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. – Ron Burke
7. Pants On Fire – Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. – Brian Brown

Bythemissal and Desperate Man lead Battle of Lake Erie field

The 39th edition of the "War on the Shore," the $200,000 (Grade 2) Battle of Lake Erie at MGM Northfield Park, drew the who's who in the sport of harness racing, with nine of the sport's top older pacers taking center stage on Saturday (June 7).

"Top to bottom, this is one of the greatest fields to race in Northfield Park's long standing stakes event," said director of racing Dave Bianconi. "It is truly a wide-open field, with all nine horses well deserving of an invitation."

With over $2.4 million in career earnings, Bythemissal returns to the "Home of the Flying Turns" a racetrack where he has had a lot of success throughout his career.

With victories in some of the sport's top races including the Carl Milstein Memorial, Little Brown Jug and Breeders Crown, the nation's leading trainer Ron Burke is looking forward to trying to add the Battle of Lake Erie to Bythemissal's resume.

"Missal' has won just about everything there is to win at Northfield Park, but this race has eluded him," said Burke. "In the Auger last week, he really had to work hard to fight off Spring Inhis Step A and Mossdale Ben N, he showed he has the heart of a champion."

After a lightly raced 5-year-old campaign in 2024, the Burke trainee is yet to miss the board in 2025, with a third-place finish in the $100,000 Pacey Mindlin Memorial at Miami Valley Gaming and victories against open company at Scioto Downs and the $100,000 Joe Auger Memorial at Harrah's Philadelphia.

While the connections of Bythemissal are looking forward to Saturday, they know he will have a tall task in front of him.

"The Battle historically is one of the toughest races of the year, this year is no different," said Burke. "It is a loaded field, with some of the sports best, it's going to be tough to win."

In 2024, nothing went Desperate Man's way, and that included the Battle of Lake Erie. Desperate Man made a miscue in the first turn causing him to go off-stride, but the talented son sired by Shadow Play dug in late making up a lot of ground finishing third only beaten by three-quarters-of-a-length.

Desperate Man rebounded nicely to finish the year with victories in the $100,000 Robert J. Kane Memorial at Batavia Downs Gaming and the $250,000 Aria Invitational at Yonkers Raceway.

The talented field also features the $516,000 MGM Borgata Pacing Series champion Mossdale Ben N, who earned a spot in the field with a victory in the Grade 1 event at Yonkers Raceway.

Mossdale Ben N took a couple weeks off following that performance and followed it up with a third-place effort in the $100,000 Joe Auger Memorial at Harrah's Philadelphia.

"I would've liked to be a little closer in the Auger," said trainer Peter Tritton. "I wasn't expecting much out of him in that race, but I was very happy with how it ended up."

Tritton, who won the 2018 Battle of Lake Erie with Bit Of A Legend N, would love to win the storied event once again.

"We'd like to keep it in the family," Tritton said with a laugh, referring to his son Shane and daughter-in-law Lauren winning the 2023 edition with Lochinvar Art A.

"It would be amazing to win again, Bit Of A Legend N won from post 5, the draw fits Mossdale Ben N very well."

Little Rocket Man will try to do what only Jaguar Spur (1988, 1989) and Peruvian Hanover (2002, 2003) have done and that is win the Battle of Lake Erie in back-to-back seasons.

While defending Battle of Lake Erie champion Little Rocket Man drew post 8 in this year's event, he has proven his ability to win from the outside. He came from out of the clouds in 2024, with a four-wide sweeping move around the final turn storming home to win by a half-length in 1:52.4.

Also competing in Saturday's Battle of Lake Erie is local favorite and earner of over $769,000 Dunkin', Breeders Crown and Little Brown Jug runner-up Seven Colors, Pennsylvania-based speedster Ken Hanover, $1.3 million earner Chase H Hanover, and New Zealand import Helium N.

The Battle of Lake Erie program will have several great wagering opportunities including a $25,000 estimated Pick-4 pool beginning in Race 11 and a $20,000 estimated Super High-5 in Race 13, the MGM Buckeye Distaff.

Lady Luck's Clubhouse will also be open on Saturday and will offer a buffet for $27.95. Reservations can be made by calling 330-467-4101.

Post time on Saturday is 6 p.m.

Burke duo headlines
$75,000 MGM Buckeye
Distaff at MGM
Northfield Park

The stacked undercard for Saturday's (June 7) $200,000 Grade 2 Battle of Lake Erie is highlighted by the $75,000 MGM Buckeye Distaff at MGM Northfield Park.

The invitational for Ohio sired mares, 4-year-olds and up, showcases some of the top talent the Buckeye State has to offer.

The nation's leading trainer, Ron Burke, will pack a one-two punch in the undercard feature with Fearless Ginger and Naked On A Hill, both taking a swing at the top prize.

Fearless Ginger earned $53,860 in her freshman campaign, all without a victory. She hit the board in every start as a 2-year-old with the lone exception being the $300,000 Ohio Sires Stakes championship.

Returning to the races at 3, Fearless Ginger broke her maiden in a $15,000 leg of the Almahurst at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

Things started to go her way at the end of her 3-year-old season; after making a break in the $100,000 (Grade 3) Courageous Lady at Northfield Park, she shipped to Dayton finishing second, beaten a nose in the $75,000 Buckeye Stallion Series championship.

The daughter of Fear The Dragon just kept getting better through the winter stepping up to face open company at Dayton. Since taking time off in March, she has reeled off three open victories.

"It's taken her some time to get rolling, we're really happy with how she is progressing," said Burke.

Burke will also send out Naked On A Hill in the MGM Buckeye Distaff.

An earner of just shy of $375,000, the 4-year-old by Nob Hill High was a Buckeye Stallion Series champion at 2, and while she had some success against Sires Stakes company at 3, she finished seventh in the $300,000 Ohio Sires Stakes championship.

On Saturday, she gets post relief after two straight outside draws at Scioto Downs.

"She should be better this week with an improved post draw," said Burke. "She has been a little off her game as of late, a change in scenery should do her some good."

Also competing in Saturday's $75,000 MGM Buckeye Distaff is 2024 Ohio Sires Stakes champion My Red Sea, Beautiful Seaside, 2023 Ohio Sires Stakes champion Tarapasta, No Foolin April, defending MGM Buckeye Distaff winner Racing For Three, Hey Hey Mama, and Do It Like Bobbi.

The Battle of Lake Erie program will have several great wagering opportunities including a $25,000 estimated Pick-4 pool beginning in race 11 and a $20,000 estimated Super High-5 in race 13, the MGM Buckeye Distaff.

Lady Luck's Clubhouse will also be open on Saturday and will offer a buffet for $27.95. Reservations can be made by calling 330-467-4101.

Post time on Saturday is 6 p.m.

Bob Nadeau keeps winning at 87

Cumberland Raceway fans were reminded that age is only a number on Saturday (May 31) as 87-year-old Bob Nadeau made his way to the winner's circle once again at the iconic Southern Maine oval.

Nadeau, driving his own mare Azariya, left little to chance as he left swiftly in the opener. Grabbing the lead in a $4,000 leg of the Moosehead Pacing Series, the 5-year-old daughter of Lazarus N set opening fractions of :29.3 and 1:01.3.

Down the backstretch and heading to the three-quarter pole CBF Bantam (2-1, Bruce Ranger) had pulled the pocket and was challenging for the lead, poking a head in front for a brief spell. Following a 1:31 third panel, Nadeau summoned his mare's second gear and she responded with a closing kick to add a few lengths of separation between the pair and the rest of the field.

Down the lane, everyone's favorite octogenarian urged his mare to keep rolling as she hit the timer in 2:02.3, scoring by two lengths. Also owned and trained by Nadeau the mare paid $5.80 to win.

Nadeau has been driving horses since the mid-1970s and has captured 171 victories in six decades of participation. Last year Nadeau had six wins in 28 starts and enjoyed a 0.238 UDRS, primarily while campaigning fan favorite Putnams Storm and Azariya.

A concrete salesman by trade, he said that he still does 20 pull ups every day, reminding us all that you are only as old as you feel.

Replays can be found on our website: firsttrackscumberland.com on the Live Racing / Video Replays tab.

Racing resumes today (June 6) at Cumberland.

First Track's Cumberland spring/summer meet will continue throughout the spring and early summer months with regular racing on Friday and Saturday each weekend. First post is slated for 3:15 p.m. (EDT) during the extended pari-mutuel meeting, which runs through Aug. 2.

Leading Big M driver Beckwith hoping to make history

For the last two years, Brett Beckwith has been one of a handful of drivers under the age of 30 to perform consistently at The Meadowlands. These "Young Guns" took advantage of the opportunity created by Big M regular "A-list" pilots taking vacations for part of or all of December, January, February and March.

The 22-year-old Beckwith, the 2024 Dan Patch Rising Star Award winner who finished third in the national driver dash-win race with 608 victories during the year, has seen things go exceedingly well during 2025 at The Big M.

His 79 wins currently have him sitting atop the driver standings at the mile oval, and Beckwith has opted to stay at The Big M rather than constantly spin on the Plainridge/Saratoga wheel, the routine that brought him great success during 2023-24.

"Things were and are going really well," said Beckwith, "and I was getting a good amount of drives and I kind of realized, if there was any chance of advancing my career to the next level, which is obviously what everyone wants, the only way that would happen is staying at The Meadowlands, where all of the top guys race, because when you race against the top guys and you race for the top trainers, you get much more noticed."

Beckwith, whose biggest career win to date came in a $160,000 Massachusetts Sire Stakes final last year with his dad Mark's trainee, O'er The Ramparts, is looking to fry some bigger fish this season with Making History.

The 3-year-old son of American History—Mystery Game is in one of three eliminations for the C$1-million North America Cup on Saturday (June 7) night and is being pointed toward the $700,000 (est.) Meadowlands Pace.

"If you had asked me a year ago if I was going to be flying to Canada to race in the North America Cup, I would have laughed," said Beckwith. "The main connection with Making History was the ownership group, led by Myron Bell, were at my grandfather's [Jerry Silverman] funeral and Myron told my dad and my Uncle Richie [Silverman] that he was going to give me a 2-year-old to drive."

Making History made quite a splash when he won his career debut in a New Jersey Sire Stakes leg on May 3, gunning down 2-5 favorite Manolete at the wire. Since then, the horse finished third in leg 2 of the sire stakes before another third-place finish in the $225,000 final.

"I qualified him twice at 2 and then he was turned out," said Beckwith. "He's come back at 3 and been pretty solid. Everything's been good. The race he won, that was his first lifetime start. To do that is unbelievably impressive, passing a pretty nice horse at the end of it."

Award winner, leading driver at The Meadowlands, a live Grand Circuit horse to drive; the trajectory of Beckwith's career is clearly going in the right direction.

"It's always great to win a lot of races and make the money I was making at 20 and 21 years of age, but once you get the wins and driving titles, your next step is to make more with less starts," said Beckwith. "When you get a little bit of a taste of driving good horses, it makes you want to continue to drive the good ones."

A little old-fashioned hard work never hurts, either.

"Luckily, my career has gone the way it has at an unbelievably fast pace," said Beckwith, who still does plenty of driving at other tracks, just not on Fridays and Saturdays when The Meadowlands races. "The one thing I will give myself credit for is there are very few people who end up outworking me. You can have as much talent as you want, but you are going to get nowhere with no work ethic."

There are still 50 race cards left on the 2025 calendar at The Meadowlands, but Beckwith, with a 21-winner lead on the current runner-up in the driver standings, Jason Bartlett, is the favorite to wear the Big M crown at season's end.

"If I told you it didn't cross my mind, I'd be lying," said Beckwith. "It's crazy to think that I could be the top dog at The Meadowlands. It's so meaningful. There's probably not a single guy who has won the driving title there that hasn't gone on to be unbelievably successful."

TreadXperts and Toyo Tires announced as Breeders Crown presenting sponsors

Woodbine Entertainment and the Hambletonian Society are pleased to announce TreadXperts and Toyo Tires as the presenting sponsors of the 2025 Breeders Crown at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The 2025 Breeders Crown, presented by TreadXperts and Toyo Tires, will take place on Oct. 24 and Oct. 25 and features the very best in harness racing competing across 12 championship races.

More than $7 million (USD) will be up for grabs across the Breeders Crown weekend.

TreadXperts and Toyo Tires serve as leading experts in the tire industry, including a network of TreadXpert and authorized Toyo dealers across Ontario.

“The Breeders Crown sets the benchmark for excellence in harness racing, and we’re proud to help deliver that same standard on the road,” said Lyssa da Costa, director of marketing and brand development for Tire Discounter Group and TreadXperts. “Developed in partnership with Tire Discounter Group, the TreadXperts group of professional elite dealers equips the independent dealers with focused marketing support and access to premium tire and wheel products, including the proven performance of Toyo Tires. Partnering with the Breeders Crown reflects our shared commitment to performance, safety, and community.”

The 2025 Breeders Crown, presented by TreadXperts and Toyo Tires, will be the first held at Woodbine Mohawk Park since 2022. Woodbine has hosted more Crown races (164) than any other racetrack operator in the 42-year history of the series.

“Woodbine Entertainment has been an outstanding host track partner for the Breeders Crown series since its inception in 1984,” said John Campbell, president/chief executive officer of the Hambletonian Society which owns and administers the Breeders Crown series. “Woodbine sets a very high bar in hospitality and top-level racing and has staged some of the most iconic Crown events. We welcome TreadXperts and Toyo Tires into the Crown championship sponsor family.”

More information on the 2025 Breeders Crown, presented by TreadXperts and Toyo Tires, will be unveiled over the coming weeks.

Babies get off to a quick start at Pocono

Two-year-olds took to the track en masse for the first baby races of the 2025 season at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania. Ten fields of freshmen were carded: three divisions for males at each gait, and two for females.

Fastest of the babies was a pacing filly, Tall Dark Tequila, a Tall Dark Stranger miss out of Tequila Monday (who won just shy of $1M in her racing career), and thus a half-sister to Thirsty Thursday, a winner of $271,300 last year at 2. Tall Dark Tequila followed a move in front of the stands by Moana Hanover and was able to get to second, then came again in the stretch to defeat the leader by three-parts-of-a-length in 1:57.2 – :57.4 – :28.3 for driver Tyler Buter and trainer Hunter Oakes, a hot pair at the pari-mutuels, and the ownership of Flying A Racing Stable and Chuck Pompey.

Also getting a spot in the 2:00 book in her first race was another Buter/Oakes/Flying A Racing Stable production, the Papi Rob Hanover—OK Heavenly filly Imagine Heaven, who came from fifth at the half to win in 1:59, her own back numbers in :56.2 – :27; “Flying A” co-owns this one with Lucky Strike and Charles Oakes.

Two more sub-2:00 miles were rung up by pacing males in their first competition. The faster was the gelding Aurum Blue Chip (American Ideal—Triumphantbluechip, with Dan Patch Award-winning millionaire, Fire Start Hanover not far back in his pedigree), who came home in :57.1 to win in 1:59 for driver Scott Zeron and trainer Jared Bako, the latter co-owner with Blue Chip Bloodstock Inc. Also, the Huntsville—Certified Ideal colt Aggieville won in 1:59.2 – :28.1 for driver Buter and trainer Jenny Melander.

Trotting honors fell to Money Mayfield, giving sire Greenshoe one of three wins during the early races. A gelding out of Casaubon and thus a full brother to Shes A Shoe In, a $190G winner last year at 2, Money Mayfield won in 2:01 – :29.2 for driver/trainer Ray Schnittker, who is also co-owner with MA3 Racing Stable.

Honors in the trotting filly ranks went to a daughter of Greenshoe’s former stablemate Gimpanzee, Kerstin (dam Exploding Alice FI), who sat in the pocket then rushed home in :29.2 to post a 2:01.1 time for driver Buter, trainer Per Engblom, and the partnership of Engblom Stable LLC, R A W Equine Inc., Daniel Sarafian, and Evan Katz.

As you may have surmised, Buter, the leading driver at Pocono in the betting races, continued his mastery on the baby card with four successes. Trainer Bako, who sent out 13 first-timers, won with three of them (and added a success in a qualifier for older horses).

Trainers are looking to have their precocious babies ready for the stakes season in Pennsylvania. The Fair Sire Stakes season begins on June 25 at Butler; there is a Pennsylvania All-Stars event here at Pocono on June 30; and the Sire Stakes and Stallion Series commence at the pari-mutuels on July 2 at The Meadows. The baby races and qualifiers are available for viewing at www.phha.org.

Desperate Man seeks to avenge losses in Battle of Lake Erie

Sometimes it's better to be lucky than good, in Desperate Man's case, luck never came his way. On Saturday (June 7), the husband-and-wife team of Travis and Alaina Alexander are hoping luck is finally on their side in the $200,000 Grade 2 Battle of Lake Erie at MGM Northfield Park.

Based off Desperate Man's earnings in 2024 of $486,840, you would think he had a fantastic season. From a statistical standpoint you would be correct, however, some of the trips that Desperate Man ended up with were less than ideal, that was until the $250,000 Aria Invitational at Yonkers Raceway.

"2024 was rough on him, he never seemed to be able to get a clean trip, we're just thankful that he was on his game at the end of the year," said trainer Travis Alexander. "If something could go wrong it did, but he always showed up ready to race."

The trouble with his 6-year-old season began in the Battle of Lake Erie. Desperate Man was on his toes entering the first turn, and made a break, completely changing the landscape of the race. Driver Matt Kakaley was able to gather the gelding, getting him back into the race and flew home to finish a strong third.

"That was such an incredible mile," said Travis. "What he did that night was nothing short of spectacular."

In the $100,000 Robert J. Kane Memorial at Batavia Downs Gaming, entering the far turn a first-over Buzzsaw Russ made a miscue in front of Desperate Man stopping the gelding in his tracks, but the heart of a champion shined brightly again that night.

While Desperate Man lost ground after the incident, Kakaley gathered the son of Shadow Play, and the pair would go on to win easily in 1:51.3.

Finally, things went Desperate Man's way over a sloppy track at Yonkers Raceway on International Trot Day. Kakaley wasted no time putting him on the lead and the pair never looked back.

"He showed signs of his old self in the Aria, we couldn't have been prouder of him," said Alaina.

Following a win in the second leg of the MGM Grand Prix at Yonkers Raceway, his connections decided to shut him down for the year. When he came back for his 7-year-old season, he continued to be a force to be reckoned with.

He quickly scored two victories in the last two legs of the MGM Borgata Pacing Series, making him one of the favorites to win the $516,000 Grade 1 Final, however, the antics continued with Desperate Man as he made a break entering the backstretch for the final time.

"This is something he has just done his entire life, he's just so big and his gait is so long, sometimes he gets jammed up and touches somewhere," said Travis.

While he wasn't invited to the $100,000 Joe Auger Memorial at Harrah's Philadelphia, he did race on the undercard in the $50,000 Send It In, defeating Seven Colors in 1:49.3.

The Alexanders have taken all the stress of Desperate Man in stride, as they know more so than anyone how fast life can change. In February, Travis broke his shoulder in three places and his leg, requiring him to be wheelchair bound and sidelined.

Thankfully, he healed quickly, but the incident gave the Alexanders a whole new outlook on life.

"We're thankful that he is back full-time now, and while he is doing way more than he should be, he [Travis] can't help it," Alaina said with a laugh. "His first day back in the jog cart wasn't easy, but eventually he said I'm just training everyone, so we went with it."

As for their star Desperate Man or "Slick" as they know him in the barn, the husband-and-wife team couldn't be prouder of their champion.

“He is such a gentle giant who loves to eat, sleep and is a total professional all the time, you couldn’t ask for a better horse to be around,” said Travis.

The Battle of Lake Erie program will have several great wagering opportunities including a $25,000 estimated Pick-4 pool beginning in race 11 and a $20,000 estimated Super High-5 in race 13, the MGM Buckeye Distaff.

Lady Luck’s Clubhouse will also be open on Saturday and will offer a buffet for $27.95. Reservations can be made by calling 330-467-4101.

Post time on Saturday is 6 p.m.
