How asking Billy Houghton for a job changed Ernie Gaskin's life

The Indiana Horse Racing Association Hall of Famer had a memorable career both working for Houghton and after.

by Murray Brown

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

In 1974, at the age of 19, Ernie Gaskin and his best friend Steve Birchard embarked on a road trip to Florida which would determine the rest of Gaskin's life.

"We were two kids from northern Vermont who were looking, first, to escape the terribly cold winters and perhaps secondly a means to sustain ourselves in Florida which was our destination," Gaskin said.

Steve's dad was a horseman who raced at Saratoga. I had worked around the horses there, but I was nowhere near immersed in the work and culture of harness racing as I was about to be. We arrived at Pompano Park and knocked on the door of the office of the W. R. Houghton stable. We said we were looking for work. We were immediately assigned to big Dick Vaughn's branch of the huge Houghton operation.

"Back then, the stable had somewhere in the area of 200 head in training in Florida. I'm guessing that there were probably eight to 10 segments of the stable each headed by an assistant trainer.

“Billy [Haughton] always wanted his sets of 2-year-olds to finish together at the wire. He would generally group his sets so that they were what we thought of as near equal ability. We couldn’t do it with Nihilator. As soon as you would chirp to him or take him out of a hole, he’d immediately open up on the other colts in the set. He was just so darned precocious. I’ve never been around a colt, before or since, who impressed me more.”

“Of course, Bill Haughton was in charge of the entire enterprise. I don’t know how he did it, but he knew every single horse under his command. To those caretakers who think that they may have it tough today, with five, six or even as many as seven horses to take care of, I’ll let you in on a secret — you do.

“Back then, each groom had two horses. If their horse was good enough, he had only that one.

“In retrospect, what a great life we had. We were part of what I believe was the greatest collection of people and horses ever assembled. Harness racing, and more specifically Pompano Park, was flourishing. Our two horses kept us busy, but not that busy. We had plenty of time to enjoy all that winters in sunny Florida had to offer.”

Thus began your tenure with Billy Haughton, the man I believe to be the greatest all-around horseman and the most remarkable human being that I’ve ever known. Would you concur?

“Undoubtedly. Billy Haughton was not only a great horseman, perhaps the greatest ever, but in addition, was perhaps as great a people person as there ever was. He was fantastic with everyone. It mattered not if you were one of the many employees in his stable, an owner of one or many horses, or a member of the press — yes, back then we even had a press corps who covered harness racing — looking for information, Billy always had time for you. I don’t know how he managed to put it all into a 24-hour day, but he certainly did and he did it exceptionally well. I suspect that part of the reason was that whenever he had a few minutes to spare he was able to take his famous cat naps. Here he would be, appearing totally exhausted. His eyes would close and he’d doze off for 10-to-20 minutes. He’d then awake fresh as a daisy looking to do and doing whatever had to be done.”

Weren’t you with Billy for only a few years when he told you that he was going to make you a trainer?

“Yes. One day he told me that he wanted me to begin training. I was surprised. I told him that I didn’t know anything about training horses. His response was, ‘I know that. I’m going to teach you. You are going to learn while working on the job.’ I began training and kind of rose through the ranks where not only did I become one of the division heads, but I also was allowed to communicate with many owners in the stable. What a remarkable group of owners they were. People like Lou Guida, Max Hempt, Bob Key, the Froehlichs, Arnold Bachner, Dave McDuffee, Tom Walsh, Tom Murphy and numerous others immediately come to mind. They all loved Billy and he knew them all and got along with all of them.”

Probably the one horse and owner you were best known for was Nihilator and his primary owner Lou Guida. What can you tell us about Guida?

“Lou Guida was an owner whose type the sport had never before seen. He was an innovator. He brought investors with untold millions into the sport. He, together with Bob Boni, came up with the plan to buy a group of the best-bred yearlings from the first crop by Niatross. Actually, I think it was Bob’s idea which he took to Mr. Guida. Lou loved the idea. He was always receptive to something innovative. Bob had researched the group of colts by Niatross in that first crop. He suggested to Guida that they try to privately purchase a group of the best ones. He then hit the road to look at all the individuals. They ended up buying seven of them for a total of $875,000. They actually tried to buy eight. They had offered $125,000 for an eighth colt named Handsome Sum. They were turned down because the owner felt $125,000 wasn’t enough. They ended up buying that same colt at Tattersalls in the Fall for just $92,000.

“The plan was to distribute these colts to some of the top stables in the country. We were fortunate enough to land Nihilator [$3,226,263] and Pershing Square [$812,277] the two yearlings who were destined to become the two best among that group. The others were Flight Of Fire [$262,111], Port Stanley [$194,399], Cruncher [$159,593], Social Welfare [$14,018], and Wall Street Whiz [$3,488], plus the aforementioned Handsome Sum [$281,193]. That amazing crop of colts that year also included Dragons Lair, Falcon Seelster, Chairmanoftheboard and Broadway Express.”

What can you tell us about Nihilator?

“He was exceptional right from the beginning. I remember first looking at him. Man was I impressed. He was big and strong with this big ass like the washer women. He showed ability right from the get-go. You were always aware of his power just by sitting behind him. I remember Dean Hoffman doing a story for Hoof Beats magazine on the first crop by Niatross in training. He came to our stable. I remember showing him Nihilator and Pershing Square. I said something to the effect that I’d be very surprised if Nihilator didn’t turn out to become a great horse. In training, he was special from the very start.

"Billy always wanted his sets of 2-year-olds to finish together at the wire. He would generally group his sets so that they were what we thought of as near equal ability. We couldn't do it with Nihilator. As soon as you would chirp to him or take him out of a hole, he'd immediately open up on the other colts in the set. He was just so darned precocious. I've never been around a colt, before or since, who impressed me more."

You mentioned something related to John Simpson, that struck a chord with me. Simpson was a firm believer in letting 2-year-olds do what nature intended them to do. Did you know he was strongly opposed to having any vet work other than normal procedures done with 2-year-olds in training?

"Mr. Simpson had sent us a full sister to Dragons Lair to train. Her name was Sanrema Hanover. She was one of my group. One morning Billy hollered to me that John Simpson was on the line. I picked up the phone. We talked about the filly. One thing I remembered him saying was that he didn't want to tell me how to train her. That was entirely up to me. However, he said that if I felt that at any time she needed any veterinary treatment, to put her on the first truck heading to Hanover."

Am I correct that you were with the Haughton operation until 1990?

"We had lost both Billy and Peter. 'The Circus,' as we called the operation, was beginning to wind down. I had made many friends and contacts on the road during my years with the 'Green Wave.' I was approached by Howard Peterson who owned Viking Meadows Farm in Carmel, IN. He asked me to come work for him. It was probably time for a change. This would be a clean break. I'd be leaving the Haughton operation, but there would be no hard feelings. I wouldn't be taking any horses or owners with me."

Didn't you eventually go on your own?

"In 1994, I bought a piece of land called Crimson Lane Farm in Anderson, IN. It was rather unique, especially for Indiana at that time. It was to be a combination training center and stallion station. The idea of standing stallions was criticized, but thank goodness we did. The income from the horses we stood kept us in the black for years. The land area wasn't near large enough to board mares as found at most breeding farms. With the advent of pari-mutuel racing at Hoosier Park harness racing in Indiana really took off. The stable grew. We now have 20 head in training, all of which I am a full- or part-time owner."

Aren't you also involved politically in Indiana?

"I like to believe that I've played at least a small part in the institution and growth of harness racing in Indiana. In addition to owning and training a group of Indiana-bred horses each year I've also been involved in the Indiana program from before it even started. I believed, then and now, it was and is important to educate the politicians on the importance of horse racing, especially on its importance to the state's economy."

"I played a part in getting Purdue University to do an economic study on horse racing in the state. I believe that went a long way towards allowing us to become more involved with the sport. We've always aligned ourselves with all segments of the horse economy, specifically the thoroughbred and quarter horse people to present a united front when dealing with the state legislature. I also serve as an advisor to the state's racing commission."

"In another area, I've been privileged to have been accepted as a director of the Hambletonian Society. In my wildest expectations, never did I believe that this kid from rural Vermont would be seated among this sport's most august group of individuals."

Homebred Tom's Muscle providing thrill ride for Grant

by James Platz

Breeder, owner, and trainer Peggy Grant concedes that when her horses race, she's a nervous wreck. When her homebred 4-year-old Tom's Muscle captured a Kentucky Sire Stakes leg earlier this month at Oak Grove Racing & Gaming, she watched from outside the paddock. As the gelded son of Long Tom sprinted to the lead racing out of the turn, she could hear others rooting for her pupil in the race's latter stages.

"I stand outside because I get really nervous and anxious, but I could hear the people inside the paddock," Grant said. "They were yelling 'Come on, Tom! Go, Peggy, go!' Everybody was so excited and congratulated me. It means a lot. I've raised them. I've bred them. I mean, you know, it's something I'm really proud of."

Tom's Muscle and driver Ernie Hendry moved three-wide the second time around the Oak Grove backstretch and swept to the lead, managing to keep a head in front of late-charging favorite Ways N Means at the wire. The gelding picked the right time to collect his first seasonal score, claiming a 1:54.1 triumph in the $50,000 leg. The win pushed Tom's Muscle's career earnings over the $100,000 mark.

"He can motor," Grant said. "He prances. When he gets going, he's beautiful to watch. He throws that tail up and just trots his big butt off."

Tom's Muscle is a product of Grant's breeding program, which originated with Royal T Time. She purchased the Royal Troubadour mare as a yearling in 2000, and the trotter made eight starts for trainer Jack Gray, Jr. as a sophomore, winning once. The crooked-legged filly was purchased with broodmare duties in mind, and after taking a 2:08 mark, she was bred to Garland Lobell her first two seasons. The second breeding produced Royal Garland, grandam of Tom's Muscle. She would win four times and bank nearly $50,000 before retiring to broodmare duties. Currently, Grant has a trio of broodmares that consistently produces offspring that can trot.

"They all trot, every one of them trot," she said. "I've never had any issue with trotting, it's just, are they fast enough. You know how that is."

Tom's Muscle has shown he has the speed, but he's proven a handful throughout his career.

"I really had to work with him because he's huge on top of everything else, and he can be a handful," the conditioner said. "When I want to train him, he doesn't want to go the right way of the track. I've been working with him, with an outriding horse, and it's working out great. My dad always told me if they're a handful, you got a good one."

100th Anniversary Hambletonian Merchandise

The Hambletonian, America's Trotting Classic, combines the history and summaries of first 75 years of the historic Hambletonian race in the original 2000 edition, with the subsequent 25 years in this Centennial Celebration volume in honor of the 100th renewal of the prestigious Hambletonian event. The photos, commentary and pageantry of the century-long sporting test fill the pages and tell the stories of the owners, trainers, drivers, breeders and caretakers that aspired to win the Standardbred sport's most coveted prize—the Hambletonian trophy. The race has been established since 1926 as an important and long-standing tradition showcasing the best in the trotting sport. ($20⁰⁰, includes free shipping)

ATLANTA, a bay filly by Chapter Seven out of the Cantab Hall mare Hemi Blue Chip blazed into racing's consciousness in the 2018 Hambletonian. She set the fastest recorded fractions to date in her elimination heat even though she finished second by a neck to Crystal Fashion.

She returned in the final heat that day in rein to Scott Zeron to become the first filly in 22 years to win the Hambletonian, going down in history next to legendary names like Continentalvictory, Duenna and Rosalind.

There have been very few Breyer Standardbred stablemates issued, most notably a trotter done for the 75th Hambletonian anniversary in 2000 and the pacer Foiled Again, the leading money winner Standardbred of all time with earnings of $7,635,588.

The full scale model of Atlanta was released by Breyer in 2024 and packaged with a reprint of Marguerite Henry's Book Born To Trot, about the 1936 Hambletonian filly winner Rosalind. The stablemate version was commissioned by the Hambletonian Society in honor of the 100th edition of the Hambletonian. ($7⁰⁰, includes free shipping)

Story of the Centennial Crown:

A Handbag for the Hambletonian 100th Anniversary

In the heart of Kentucky, where craftsmanship is a legacy and design is born of tradition, a singular creation was brought to life in celebration of a century of excellence. Introducing The Centennial Crown — an exclusive, handcrafted handbag honoring the 100th anniversary of the Hambletonian, harness racing's most revered event.

This exceptional piece is the result of over 300 hours of meticulous work by Kentucky artisans known for their mastery of fine materials and timeless design. Built from durable, premium canvas and accented with rich, deep saddle brown leather, the bag reflects both the rugged determination of the sport and the refined elegance of its legacy.

The exterior canvas is custom-dyed in a warm, earthy tone reminiscent of the Kentucky soil where champions are bred. Elegant leather accents trace the silhouette, with handles shaped for comfort and stitched for strength. On the back, a leather patch is proudly stamped with "Hambletonian 100" — a subtle yet powerful mark of authenticity and commemoration.

Inside, the bag is lined with smooth silk in a solid, elegant hue — a quiet complement to the striking exterior and a nod to understated luxury.

The Centennial Crown is more than a handbag. It is a symbol of endurance, elegance, and the artistry of Kentucky's finest designers — a tribute to the race that defined a century, and a treasure meant to last for the next.

“I’m probably not going to be able to [train] very much longer because I’m getting older. But I really, really, really get excited about this. I mean, I cry when [my homebred Tom’s Muscle] races, and hell, when he went to the test barn, I was crying and shaking. I couldn’t even get the harness off. He was prancing around and rearing up in the stall. He knew what he had done.”

~ Peggy Grant

“He’s very big, but in the barn, he minds; he doesn’t give me any trouble,” Grant said. “I graze him every day. He goes out there and munches grass, and he doesn’t want to come in. I graze him about an hour every day after he jogs, and he’s good in the barn.”

In the Kentucky Sire Stakes program Grant has a finals winner to her credit, and the trotter came from the same family. Wizard Time, a half-brother to Royal Garland, claimed the $300,000 final for freshman trotting colts in 2008, taking his 1:57.1 mark in the process. Now she has another homebred contender. He raced third and fourth in other KYSS events leading up to his win. In his six seasonal starts, he has only drawn inside of post 6 once, and that produced a victory. In Monday’s third leg, Tom’s Muscle has drawn post 5 in a six-horse field.

Grant is savoring each start with Tom’s Muscle, and his KYSS score proved both incredibly rewarding and emotionally trying.

“I’m probably not going to be able to do this very much longer because I’m getting older,” Grant said. “But I really, really, really get excited about this. I mean, I cry when he races, and hell, when he went to the test barn, I was crying and shaking. I couldn’t even get the harness off. He was prancing around and rearing up in the stall. He knew what he had done.”

Hopefully there are more thrills in store this season.

At 2, Tom’s Muscle made eight starts. While he didn’t win as a freshman, he was first or second seven times. The only time he finished off the board was when judges had to scratch him during a fair start in Grant’s hometown of Lebanon.

“He refused the gate, kept rearing up,” she said. “And we tried him three times, and he kept refusing the gate, so they had to scratch him.”

He earned $23,267 that season, and last year he broke through to earn four victories as a sophomore. Pat Curtin steered the gelding to three wins, but Hendry took over the driving duties in mid-September, sitting behind him for the final five contests of the season. He was in the bike when Tom’s Muscle took his 1:53.3 mark in early October at The Red Mile.

“Ernie has really helped me a lot with him,” Grant said. “Last year, when Tom would jog, he’d go past a horse, and he’d take off. I went to Ernie, and I asked him, ‘Can you help me?’ He agreed. I said, ‘Now, he’s a handful.’ And he said, ‘I’m not afraid.’ He has really helped him. I mean, he’s got him to where he walks. When he goes out on the track, he’ll walk.”

Despite the toned-down demeanor, Grant still has someone walk Tom’s Muscle to the track and back to the barn in the event he decides to rear up. And while Hendry has helped alter some behaviors, the trotter still insists on going the wrong way on the track. The irony is that while he is a character on the track, he is easy going when off the racing surface.

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

BDHC members sound off on future of betting

by John Berry

A recent Mane Attraction featured some thoughts of the BDHC (Broken Down Horseplayers Club) members and some comments from both sides of the fence.

The racing clientele is aging with nothing being done to replace their wagering dollars as they pass on.

Oh, it's still a viable, fun pastime and, for many, a very therapeutic and relatively inexpensive way to keep the mind active, but, with the exception of special events, "big" races and amateur events that bring new blood to the track, it's been a losing battle.

The column put some stress on the takeout at the tracks, especially on exotic wagers — some 25 per cent to 35 per cent — but there remain some stalwarts that view takeout as a trivial matter.

BDHC member Tommy Brown Eyes, a 40-year veteran of the game, probably put it best when he said, "I hardly notice the takeout when I make a wager. What matters to me is that, if my horse is, say, 7-2, I am going to get $9 and change for my $2.

"It's a challenging game... one I love and takeout means little to me."

Tommy Brown Eyes has plenty of company on that thought, evidenced by the simulcast crowds at some racinos, but others see it a bit differently, especially the bigger bettor.

Willoughby said, "If I was a $2 or $5 bettor, I wouldn't care too much about it either... but, here I am at simulcasting with my friends, I enjoy their friendship and company, and I do all of my bets here, but not through their windows here. I make my bets on the phone with my account where I get a very nice rebate on my bets.

"When you bet $20 or $50 trying to catch an exotic hit, which I do... I always go for the gusto... my rebates [10 per cent-12 per cent] make the difference of being a winner or a loser in the longer term. It's that simple."

“We’re still a spectator sport – although the sport, itself, doesn’t see it that way – and make races that aren’t very appetizing to bet. When you see a five- or six-horse field, it’s a no-go for most of us here.”

~ M.P.

Regular BDHC member Smitty has chimed in with this tidbit which, he said, could “put a nail in racing” if it grabs hold and spreads throughout the exotic wagering menu at all tracks.

“Whenever there are carryover days in New York, NYRA bumps the takeout by 9 per cent – that’s 9 per cent more than the typical high take already,” Smitty said. “Recently, I believe that there was an extra takeout of over $37,000 removed from the pool... and horseplayers’ wallets.

“Since the Pick-6 carryover was $55,000 and change and they took $37,000 of it away from the BDHC bettors, they, in effect, took over 60 per cent of the carryover away. That’s robbery!

“It’s no wonder the game is shrinking from its own greed... and at the expense of the bettor’s stupidity or unawareness.”

Our man Dixon chimed in claiming ignorance on the issue but admitted that this really doesn’t apply to him since, “I don’t play Pick-6... too expensive when spreading through that many races. Heck, even a 2x3x2x3x2x3 costs a pretty penny [actually $216].”

True, carry-overs are few and far between, but the stench from the greed does not sit well with the veteran high ticket player.

Harold The Lefty, a $2-$10 bettor, hasn’t changed a thing in 50 years and ‘dittos’ the thoughts of Tommy Brown Eyes.

“I play... I have fun... I win a race or two... I lose a bunch of ‘em... just a hobby which I really like,” Harold The Lefty said. If I win a few bucks, it’s nice... If I lose a few, so what. It’s cheaper than seeing a movie and buying $11 worth of popcorn.”

M.P. also takes the stance of Tommy Brown Eyes.

“The vast majority of the players here could care less about takeout,” M.P. said. “We are so into trying to catch a winner and don’t even think about the takeout when making a bet.

“Of course, some of us are smart enough and are limiting the number of tracks they play at to the ones with the bigger handles – the ones where you can bet $50 and not ‘hit’ the board so hard.”

When asked about which tracks are in play, he said, “well, it depends... there are more thoroughbred tracks that can support a bigger bet but, as far as harness [tracks], The Meadowlands is far and away the best.

“The beauty of The Meadowlands is that the win pools are big enough that a $100 bet won’t juggle the board much, and their other pools – not place and show – like exactas, [trifectas], [superfectas], you only try and hit it for the minimum bet so there’s still some value there. It’s all about value.

"We're still a spectator sport – although the sport, itself, doesn't see it that way – and make races that aren't very appetizing to bet. When you see a five- or six-horse field, it's a no-go for most of us here.

"You can bet Indiana [Harrah's Hoosier Park], Cleveland [Northfield Park] and The Meadows, especially on Saturday."

The problem with Harold The Lefty and M.P. is, the sport needs a million more like them, and they aren't around.

Yet another BDHC punter said, "They have so many different exotic bets with high takeouts and the pools are stretched very thin and, in some cases, even a $20 win or, even, an exacta bet can have a big effect on the next flash of the board when the board updates the odds and probable payoffs."

That was evidenced during this conversation when his $20 win bet played a role in knocking his horse's odds from 5-1 down to 9-5.

"See what I mean?" he said.

On the other side of the coin, rebates can be very lucrative with one punter saying, "If you have a decent volume player, the rebate might be as high as 13 per cent. It all depends on the takeout so, if a track offers an exotic bet with a luring 12 per cent takeout, then the rebate might be only 2 per cent or so."

On the sophisticated side of the ledger, the modernization of sports betting may influence horse racing (note: horse racing, not the pari-mutuel form).

The future looks to modernize with "AI" forms of betting such as robotic betting and quantitative strategies.

According to Symphony Solutions, a program may be at hand and programmed to place bets automatically based on quantitative analysis which, in turn, is based on data which provides the framework and strategies while the robotic betting would provide the automation to execute those strategies in an efficient manner.

Much of this, of course, is way above the brain power of this Mane Attraction author, whose limit is hardly above a 20 cent superfecta, 2,4,5 with 2,4,5 with 2,4,5 with ALL!

Yup, all that action for $7.20.

Memorable Camluck Classic capped off successful season at Western Fair

by Matthew Lomon

A memorable finish to the $150,000 Camluck Classic proved a fitting climax, as The Raceway at Western Fair District closed the curtains on its 2024-25 live harness racing season on Friday (May 30).

The main event on the half-mile oval's dozen-race card saw favorite Brue Hanover relegated from first to third due to a pylon infraction, while stablemate, and fellow Dave Menary trainee, Ervin Hanover was elevated from second to first.

The suspenseful conclusion had even the most seasoned standardbred lifers in awe.

"If you run a race long enough, you're going to have years where something like that happens," said Greg Blanchard, director of equine programming at Western Fair. "It's certainly a tough call for the judges, but it added a whole other element of drama and excitement to the race."

Camluck night, itself, which also featured four $40,000 London Classic Sales Series finals and three Ontario Sires Stakes Grassroots legs, was a smashing success across the board.

Overall handle reached $792,579 – an increase of nearly $55,000 over last year's season finale – and entries for the quartet of London Classic contests, Blanchard noted, were up 31 per cent year-over-year in the series' first showing under its rebranded title (previously known as City of London Series).

The banner day was achieved all while contending with a fickle forecast.

"It was beautiful during the day, and we had a really strong crowd on track," Blanchard said. "It was an electric atmosphere for the first couple races, and then, unfortunately, Mother Nature decided not to cooperate. The crowd thinned out slightly after that, but nonetheless, we still had an excellent on-track crowd."

Racing action at The Raceway at Western Fair District on Camluck Classic night.

“We were quite happy with the night overall, and I think if the weather stayed as nice as it started, it was probably going to be one of those home run-type nights.”

Despite the weather-related interruptions — a common theme this past season — Western Fair still knocked it out of the park on the final race night of its spring meet.

The strong finish provided a timely jolt for The Raceway, as it contended with lost race dates due to inclement weather and a softening of the overall handle.

According to Blanchard, total handle was down about 15 per cent in 2024-25 after consecutive years of growth.

“I would say that was in line with what we’ve seen throughout most of the industry,” he said. “It wasn’t just specific to us, and it had been a pretty good run of a few years where our handle kept trending upwards, but this year we lost a little bit in that regard.”

One of the factors responsible for the dip was the cancellation of nine race dates, which Blanchard said, “seemed to come in pretty rapid succession.”

While racing primarily during the winter has its benefits, for example, less competition, the trade-off is the chaos that is Ontario winters.

“[Those cancellations] directly hurts horsepeople who have their horses ready to race those weeks, and it hurts from the wagering standpoint as well,” Blanchard said. “It’s tough to build momentum at a time of year when we’re one of the prime standardbred products in North America, so it’s a bit of a double whammy.

“It’s frustrating for everybody — management, horsepeople, fans — but we have to battle through that and make the best of it because it’s going to happen from time to time when you’re a winter track, and this year was one of the worst I can remember from that regard.”

There were, however, plenty of blue-sky moments to speak of — two shining examples being on-track attendance and wagering.

Both metrics enjoyed meaningful increases on the year, especially throughout the final month of the meet, with on-site handle climbing between 15 and 20 per cent compared to last season.

Attendance also experienced visible growth on major event nights.

“Over the course of the year, attendance was noticeably up, particularly on big nights,” Blanchard said. “Even on Friday nights during the season, our dining room was quite busy most weeks, so we had a good year on the food and beverage side as well, which certainly helps. awareness, and support fundraiser, the Holiday Driver's Challenge in support of the local Toys for Tots chapter, Boxing Day at The Raceway, a timeless fan-favorite, and a fresh addition to the calendar in Derby Day at The Raceway.

For the second consecutive year, Western Fair held live racing on the same day as the Kentucky Derby (May 3).

The track out of London, ON, normally doesn't race on Saturdays, but after a smashing debut last year, reinstituting Derby Day was a no-brainer.

"The last couple of years we had a really nice crowd coming out to watch the Derby," Blanchard said. "It's more of a family-oriented day, too."

"We do a lot of fun stuff like Wiener Dog races, mini horse races, some live entertainment and food trucks on the patio. It's a day where everybody's a race fan for a day, so we thought to showcase our live product again on Saturday and we saw a nice bump again this year."

Heading into the 126-day off-season on a high note, Blanchard and his peers are focused on the next waves of upgrades coming to Western Fair when the 2025-26 campaign kicks off on Oct. 3.

Last year's major addition, a brand-new video board situated on a hydraulic lift for seamless vertical movement, was unveiled in May.

The two big-ticket items on this off-season's to-do list — new grandstand seating and a revamped starting gate vehicle — are also devoted to improving an already exhilarating on-track experience.

The starting gate project carries a special local connection, as it is being developed in a unique partnership with engineering students from the University of Western Ontario.

It is currently in the building phase.

"They helped come up with a design concept and put the plans together," Blanchard said. "We're also teaming up with a local mechanic, and we've acquired the vehicle, now we're building the entire starting gate structure to go on that. We look forward to unveiling that when we come back in the fall."

With more to be announced in the coming months, the folks at Western Fair remain steadfast in their commitment to delivering a first-rate product year after year.

"It's a long season, and it's nice to have a break, but we're busy planning and getting ready for an even bigger and better 2025-26 season," Blanchard said.

Alina Macleod rarely takes breaks, but when she does, they usually involve horses.

Her days – and often her nights – are filled with caring for her beloved standardbreds.

So, whenever there is an opportunity to speak of them, Macleod will always, quite happily, make time to have that conversation.

And on this morning, she didn't hesitate to make time for one – even while loading grain pellets for a next day delivery.

"I'm happy to talk now," Macleod said in a text message.

Horses have always been a happy part of Macleod's life – from her childhood in British Columbia to her current home in Alberta.

"My parents were involved in racing in the 1980s and my grandfather bred and raised horses," Macleod said. "My grandfather passed away when I was 6 months old, so my parents got out of the sport for a while. When I was 12, my parents reconnected with some old friends and brought me to the races – I have been hooked ever since then.”

Before she reached her teens, working with horses had already changed Macleod's life.

Hours spent in the stalls and paddock were a true labor of love.

“Being around the horses, putting all your energy and focus into them and then getting that two-minute adrenaline rush on the track is just an amazing feeling,” Macleod said. “It really does stay with you.”

As have the horses who have come into her life.

“I adore them in every way,” Macleod said. “There is something so special when you work closely with them.”

Macleod's horse racing journey includes working under the tutelage of British Columbia trainer and driver Randy Rutledge after she finished school.

That experience gave Macleod an opportunity to see a different side of the standardbred world.

“I was at Randy's farm and got to be around the mares and foals, seeing that aspect of racing, from the start of their lives until they make it to the races for the first time,” Macleod said. “It was a very eye-opening time for me.”

As was her tenure as program coordinator for Greener Pastures. Founded in 2003, the non-profit organization, based in British Columbia, finds long-term forever homes for retired racehorses.

The volunteer-run organization houses horses at a foster farm in Mission, a city found in the Lower Mainland of the province.

“I was at Greener Pastures for eight years – it was so rewarding,” Macleod said. “We had so many special horses who came to us and we were able to find loving homes for them.”

In 2012, Macleod switched gears and entered the training ranks.

She notched her first win courtesy of Red Star Renegade when the son of Village Jiffy (BC)—C L Hallie recorded a 1¼-length victory in 1:59 at Fraser Downs, a five-eighths-mile track in Surrey, BC.

“Just a great moment,” she said. “That first win is always the one that stays with you.”

There have been more treasured moments and memorable horses over the years.

Jakara, a bay daughter of JK Royal Flush (AB)—Daylon Ara, gave Macleod her first victory in Alberta, the win coming last February at Century Downs.

“We found out in the spring that she has a birth defect in her heart, so I retired her, and she is with us now,” she said. “We bred her to Custard The Dragon and she had a healthy colt last week.”

“I bought Cenalta Wizard for $1,000 and he won his first start for me,” Macleod said. “We also have Vintage Lass, who finished second in a 3-year-old fillies stakes race at Fraser this past November. We’re very fortunate to have had some nice horses with us along the way.”

Currently, Macleod – who has 68 career training wins – and her husband, Cody Easton, have three horses in their racing stable.

It’s a small operation – and Macleod is just as humble as her numbers suggest.

"As long as I get to be around the horses in some way, I am truly happy," she said. "I love seeing them develop, finding those diamond-in-the-rough types you can work with to bring out the best in them – it is a great feeling to work together with the horses."

So, it should then come as no surprise that Macleod and her mother have five retired racehorses of their own, who peacefully reside on a farm in Red Deer, a city in central Alberta that Alina and Easton call home.

The 20-acre property is her happy place.

"We love everything about it," Macleod said. "There are 22 stalls in the barn, there is an indoor arena, an Equi-Ciser, 20 paddocks, and four big fields that are already fenced. And it is so nice for the horses – they can relax and just enjoy life."

Then there is their family-owned and operated EastMac Feeds, a horse feed company that serves Central Alberta and beyond.

"Business has really picked up so that is making for busy times, but we are completely fine with that," Macleod said. "We are very lucky where we live because we can head any direction to a lot of racetracks and farms. Cody is still in B.C., but the plan is for him to come and be here full-time in the next little bit. For now, I have some friends helping me out."

Macleod also has a kindred spirit in her 5-year-old son, whose fondness for all things horses is already evident.

It is very much an instance of like mother, like son.

"He keeps me busy, for sure," she said. "We have a horse, Red Star Governor, who my mother and I both groomed at different points during his racing days. I have had him for the last 12 years and my son loves to ride him."

"You can see how excited he is to watch the horses races, too. He gets right into it."

Not unlike his mother.

On May 21 at Century Downs, Macleod might not have been seen by many – but she was certainly heard when Hurrikane Ferrigno, a son of Sweet Lou – A List Hanover, who she trains and co-owns with Easton, began to open up down the lane in the evening's eighth race.

"I went and watched from another barn, far, far away from the paddock so no one could hear me," she said. "When he won, I didn't realize how far away I was from the van to take me to the winner's circle."

Cue some more vocals.

"I ended up yelling, 'Stop the car!'" she said. "It was very funny, but I ended up making it back for the winner's circle for the photos."

For Macleod, moments like that – spontaneous, joyful, and horse-filled – are exactly what she lives for.

SUPERSTAR FEMALES OF HARNESS RACING

with VICTORIA M. HOWARD

Craigslist led Alexandra Sarkine to harness racing

by Victoria Howard

When considering the question what, if anything, can be done to revive harness racing, one answer is to entice fresh young blood, such as this week's Superstar Female, Alexandra Sarkine.

"I was born and raised in Indianapolis, IN, and although I was not brought up in the business, my grandfather was very good friends with the owners of the great Abercrombie," Sarkine said. "Like many other 18-year-olds, I didn't know what I was going to do with my life after graduating from high school. "One day I looked on Craigslist and found a job working with horses. Originally, I thought the job was with thoroughbreds, but discovered they were standardbreds. I started working for trainer Mike Hollenback when I was 18. He actually began the transition to being a race secretary last year, and since then I took over the stable as my own.

"I had spent 10 years in that barn and knew that the end game was to one day take it over. All the long hours and blood, sweat and, yes, tears over the years finally paid off."

Hollenback taught Sarkine how to train and drive, and they even co-owned horses together.

"I also give credit to Alvin Miller and Larry Pointdexter for having faith in me and giving me my first qualifiers and fair drives. Between Mike and Larry, they are the ones responsible in helping me get my 'P' license."

At first, conditioning standardbreds was all new to Sarkine, until she trained a horse named Lima Showoff (aka Snooze) for the first time and she was hooked.

"But it didn't take long after getting my feet wet that I went all in," she said. "Today, I train 12 horses at Taylor Made Farm located not far from Hoosier Park. I race mainly at Hoosier but occasionally ship to tracks in Ohio and Kentucky. Personally, I own two pacing fillies: a 3-year-old named Fashionably Late and a 2-year-old named Beautiful Mistake."

Sarkine said her fastest horse is probably Ponda Aesthetic who recently finished second at Hoosier in 1:54.

"I'm very thankful for my mentors and everyone who gave me an opportunity and believed in me. It truly means more than they will ever know. To be that 18-year-old girl who found this job on Craigslist with no experience or idea of the business and today be training and driving is unreal. I'm very blessed, indeed."

~ Alexandra Sarkine

“I take the job and business very seriously and know that hard work is an absolute must in this game. If you don’t give it your all and grind through, the horses will let you know. The grind never stops for some days are great while others are downright tortuous. But I’ve learned that it’s the love of the horses and the sport that keeps us going.”

“That was by far the most thrilling time since I started training,” she said. “I’m hoping she can soon finish first and get a new lifetime mark.

“But the most exciting time was when I was at The Meadowlands this year participating in the Ladies Pace. I had just gone through a tough time and my life had changed quickly. My girlfriends encouraged me to participate in the race and I can say it was the most pivotal moment in my career. It was only my second pari-mutuel race as a driver, and I finished third.

“That opened my eyes to what I could actually do if I tried and believed in myself. Ever since the Ladies Pace I’ve been riding a wave and have gotten more opportunities to drive.”

It’s no surprise that Sarkine said her all-time favorite horse is the aforementioned Lima Showoff.

“Snooze is now retired and is my show horse,” she said. “Snooze is that ‘once in a lifetime’ horse.

“I remember the time I was paddocking him and had to leave him for a minute. Security had to page me because Snooze threw a fit every time I left him. Although he wasn’t the fastest horse, he has proven to love his new career as a jumper. I can honestly say Snooze is my soulmate and I’m forever thankful to own him.”

Sarkine said she is happy with how her stable of horses are doing so far in 2025.

“My girl Ponda Aesthetic had back-to-back wins in the slop at Hoosier last month, and Macarena Winx won a conditioned pace, wire-to-wire with Jordan Ross in the bike.

“It’s times like this that make all the long days’ worth it. I love my ponies so much and am so thankful for these blessings.”

Sarkine said she considers herself to be a newbie when it comes to buying and breeding horses, but loves what she does.

“I have only raised one horse so far,” she said. “I prefer to buy, but if Beautiful Mistake turns out to be good enough, she will be my future broodmare. It’s one of my dreams.

“I take the job and business very seriously and know that hard work is an absolute must in this game. If you don’t give it your all and grind through, the horses will let you know. The grind never stops for some days are great while others are downright tortuous. But I’ve learned that it’s the love of the horses and the sport that keeps us going.”

Sarkine said the key to becoming successful in the sport combines hard work and play.

“Like I said, once you go in, you’re in,” she said. “It’s pushing through the hard times and the long days and being rewarded by watching your horse succeed and prevail. Success is the ultimate reward, but never forget to have fun doing it.”

Harness Racing has always been known as a man’s sport, but in the last decade, women such as Linda Toscano, Nancy Takter, Melanie Wrenn, and others, have not only stepped up to the plate but are now hitting home runs out of the park.

When asked if there is a woman that Sarkine looks up to, she said, “I know these women are all superstars, but I would have to say I admire Melanie Wrenn the most. I’ve known her for several years and she has always been so encouraging and humble. I think it’s important for the women in the business to remember that it is a male dominated sport, and we should encourage and support each other.”

Sarkine said that harness racing has afforded her a favorable combination of circumstances.

“I’m very thankful for my mentors and everyone who gave me an opportunity and believed in me,” she said. “It truly means more than they will ever know. To be that 18-year-old girl who found this job on Craigslist with no experience or idea of the business and today be training and driving is unreal. I’m very blessed, indeed.”

Ride Above, a harness racing movie

by Trey Nosrac

My all-time favorite magazine job was writing quirky previews of films scheduled to screen at the Cleveland International Film Festival. Getting the columns to the public was not a simple process. About a month before the annual 10-day festival, a list with a couple hundred foreign movies and a synopsis of each would arrive in the mail. Like a kid in a candy shop, always on the lookout for foreign films about baseball, horses, or horse racing, I would choose six movies to review and mail the list back.

In a few days, formatted and coded DVDs of the films would arrive. It was very James Bond-ish. I would watch the films, write reviews, mail the movies back to the festival, and send my reviews to the magazine. The editor would edit and schedule the layout and graphics. The magazine went out to subscribers before the films appeared at the festival. The timing was critical. Too early, people would forget. Too late, the movie would be gone and unavailable to the public.

Twenty years ago, one of the first previews published in the magazine was titled Zafir, a horse film from Norway. I don't remember much about the movie, but the horse was massive, and I referred to him as "The Dinosaur." I dropped silly tidbits such as, "His hooves were bigger than pie tins, the subtitles required a speed reader, and Norse people seemed suspiciously happy." What fun.

Before I get to a new harness horse racing movie for your consideration, take a moment to consider how the world has shifted in the 20 years since that little Norwegian film preview.

- Movie theaters are disappearing like the Norwegian ice caps.
- DVDs are gathering dust in closets.
- The magazine that ran these reviews has been out of business for 15 years.
- The methods of making movies have changed dramatically.
- The distribution of films is in turmoil.

- The jobs of most magazine editors, writers, photographers, and film reviewers no longer exist.

- Mailing paperwork back and forth is quaint.

Imagine how unintelligible the following sentence would sound to someone seated next to you at one of those film festivals before the Internet:

"The algorithms of my server feed learned that I enjoy movies and harness horse racing because a Facebook post and video popped up on my iPad with a clip from a streaming company, so I clicked."

Well, that is what happened.

The job of a movie reviewer has been DOGED for a long time. Today, you can Google or use AI to pull up hundreds of crowdsourced reviews. You can find a trailer. You can investigate a film company, the performers, and the producer. Time is almost irrelevant.

I want to share a harness racing movie with you in 2025. Instead of writing a review, my new position is Movie Alert Person (MAP). You take control after a quick nudge and a few descriptions.

The name of the film is Ride Above. Set in France on the spectacular Normandy Coast and based on a children's book, the film is about two hours long. If you enjoy harness horse racing, you will not go more than a few minutes without seeing magnificent trotters in barns, training sessions, qualifiers, births, or races. The sport is integral to the movie. The acting and filming are excellent.

A movie alert from someone like Moi can do more than place the production on your radar. It can guide you through access to the movie, which can sometimes be expensive and tricky. For Ride Above, it was neither. I merely googled Angel Films and searched around, just as you probably have done a thousand times.

I found the site interesting. The family-oriented streaming company is somewhat interactive, which is a neat concept. Visitors must join the Angel Guild (a membership) for around a $100 annually to watch their movies. However, since I was only interested in Ride Above, I had the option of a one-month membership for $12, $3 less than I paid for a ticket to watch Willy Wonka. I also have access to several additional Angel films for a month. Of course, if you join for a month, you must remember to renew or cancel.

My MAP alert work is complete for this harness racing film. I like the new gig. It is no longer up to the reviewer to rate the movie from A to F, from one to 10, or even good or bad. The movie alert job does not require the writer to worry about spoiling the plot. You get the nudge, and it's all up to you.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Hidalgo and Conversano take NJSS finals at Big M

by Dave Little / Meadowlands media relations

Hidalgo and Conversano both made the lead early in their respective $225,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes finals for 3-year-old trotters at The Meadowlands Friday night (June 13) and were more than good enough to make those early advantages hold up to the finish line in impressive efforts.

Hidalgo (Muscle Hill—Brooklyn) won the division for colts and geldings after claiming the lead at the quarter in :27.1 and going down the road from there.

It was exactly what driver Yannick Gingras did not have in mind.

"It was the last place I wanted to be," said Gingras. "He's been there before and got beat. I really wanted to get away in the 2- or 3-hole. At the end of the day, he dug in and got the job done."

After reaching the half in :56.3 and three-quarters in 1:25, Hidalgo had to deal with a three-pronged attack from Travolta Hanover, Top Gun Hanover and Onajetplane but was able to hold sway after trotting his final quarter in :27.4 to complete a one-length win over Onajetplane and Top Gun Hanover in 1:52.4. Even-money favorite Mr Walner Fashion went off-stride approaching the top of the stretch and finished eighth before being disqualified and placed 10th.

After opening the season with a pair of starts where he went off-stride, trainer Ron Burke added the trotting hobbles, which have enabled Hidalgo to mind his manners, but Gingras didn't rile his horse up in the final preliminary a week ago in a loss to Mr Walner Fashion because of his breaking issues. Or so it seemed.

"It's not the whip," said Gingras. "It's really just holding him together. But I think that comes with maturity. Tonight, he dug in, but I still like him off a helmet. He's a big, strong horse. It's between the ears that sometimes gets to him."

Hidalgo now has five wins from 16 lifetime tries and earnings of $332,350 for owners Brixton Medical Inc and Hatfield Stables. He returned $11 to win as the 9-2 third choice in the betting.

Conversano continued her superb campaign for trainer Juan Cano, as after brushing to the lead after the quarter, the Andy McCarthy-driven lass was an easy winner in the split for fillies.

"I knew I had a nice horse going into the Garden State [her second start, and win, of 2025]," said Cano. "She was nice at 2 but she wasn't mature, she needed time."

Well, her time has come.

In what was the most wide-open race of the 14 on the program on paper, Conversano tore her opponents to shreds, blasting down the pike after making it to the half in :56.2 and three-quarters in 1:25.2.

From there, driver McCarthy coaxed a final quarter of :27.1 out of the daughter of Muscle Hill—Celebrity Ruth on the way to a one-length win over a pocket-sitting Torrisi. Even-money favorite What A Bid Hanover, caught in a traffic jam that looked like the Lincoln Tunnel at 5 p.m., rallied for third after swinging four-wide from 10th with a quarter to go.

Conversano completed the mile in 1:52.3 and paid $9.40 as the 7-2 second choice on the tote board. She's now won six of 13 career outings and earned $206,125 for her owners Hot Lead Farm.

"She's happy every day," said Cano, who couldn't help but think about the first Saturday in August. "She trains on the front end at home and always fights back. The dream all along has been the Hambletonian Oaks. She needed to mature and she has done that at 3."

GRADUATION SEASON: On the undercard were three divisions of the second leg of the Graduate Series for 4-year-olds. Two of the dashes were for trotters and went for $50,000 each while the lone pace went for $75,000.

Sir Pinocchio flaunted his class in the first trotting split, grabbing the point before the half after racing third to the quarter. He then opened up a 2½-length lead at three-quarters on the way to a

Private Access (Muscle Hill—Open Access) followed up his leg 1 Graduate score at Woodbine Mohawk Park with a flawless performance in the other trot. The Luc Blais trainee made it to the point at the half in :56.3 and held sway to the wire a safe neck ahead of a fast-closing Date Night Hanover in 1:52.2.

Driven by Louis-Philippe Roy, Private Access returned $5.20 to win as the 8-5 second choice, and now has five wins in 24 lifetime tries while raising his career earnings to $430,606. Highland Kismet, the 7-5 public choice, made a break before the quarter and finished last in the field of seven.

Captain Albano, the Dan Patch 3-Year-Old Male Pacer of 2024, made a triumphant return to the races, winning the pacing division in 1:49.2. The Noel Daley trainee found himself in the 2-hole behind Funtime Bayama down the backside, but when the leader bore out off the far turn while tiring, 'Albano' cruised to an easy three-quarter-length score. Early leader Calicojack Hanover was second.

Driven by Todd McCarthy, Captain Albano (Captaintreacherous—Angelou) registered his 20th lifetime win in just 28 tries, and upped his lifetime earnings to just over $1.6 million. He paid $5.20 to win as the 8-5 favorite.

A LITTLE MORE: Todd McCarthy led the driver colony with three wins on the night... Noel Daley paced the trainers with a pair of jaunts down victory lane... All-source handle on the 14-race card totaled $3,129,595.

Indiana SIRE STAKES REPORT

Deal The Odds, Chandler Bing repeat in Indiana Sire Stakes

by Jacob Rheinheimer / Harrah's Hoosier Park

The second leg of Indiana Sire Stakes for 3-year-old pacing colts delivered the same results as the first, with Deal The Odds and Chandler Bing each claiming victory on Friday (June 13) at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

Deal The Odds was sent away from the rail as the 3-5 favorite in the $49,000 first division with Joey Putnam in the bike. Putnam floated away from the gate in fourth while Book The Fight (Marvin Luna) quickly assumed command of the field of seven through an opening quarter of :27.3. Book The Fight continued to lead unchallenged to the half in :56.4, but began to spin his wheels on the far turn under Luna urging when the pace quickened, allowing Avanti (John De Long) to move around him to the lead at three-quarters in 1:24.4 and a revved-up Deal The Odds now at his wheel in second.

Avanti proved to be game on the lead in the stretch before Deal The Odds wore him down with a relentless :26.3 final quarter to power clear by 1½ lengths on the line in 1:51.3. Book The Fight rallied once more following his final turn struggles to snag third from Rawtn Tale (Mike Oosting).

Trained by Joe Putnam for owners J P Racing, Michael Lee and Crazy Parrot Farm, Deal The Odds has two wins and a second through three outings in 2025. Bred by Silver Linden Farms, the colt by Odds On Equuleus out of the He's Watching mare, Sono Bello, is a five-time winner for his career with lifetime earnings of $125,420.

While being sent off as the 3-1 second choice in the $49,500 division, the reigning Sire Stakes champion Chandler Bing asserted himself in a career best with regular pilot Jay Cross aboard.

Leaving from post 6 in the scratched down field of seven, Chandler Bing secured a seat in fourth early while 12-1 shot Special Pete (LeWayne Miller) grabbed the early lead through a quarter of :27.1. Action picked up on the backstretch, with Cross giving his marching orders before being sent three-deep on the way to the lead around both Special Pete and The Family Man (Marcus Miller) to the half in :56.1. Chandler Bing continued to roll on the final turn, carrying a length-and-a-half lead to three-quarters in 1:23.1 over The Family Man.

Chandler Bing remained solid in the stretch, steamrolling home in :26.4 to cruise by 1¼ lengths over The Family Man in 1:50. Special Pete held sway for third, there was a dead-heat for fourth between Aye Aye Capt Russ (Marvin Luna) and Rockin Mudslinger (Jordan Ross).

Trained and co-owned by Alvin Miller along with Twila Harts, Chandler Bing has won two of four to start his sophomore campaign. The Glen Yoder bred gelded son of Tellitlikeitis—Northern Beauty is now seven for 13 lifetime with $270,165 in career earnings.

Driver Kyle Wilfong remained red-hot on the week, scoring five driving victories on the night to lead all drivers.

EIGHT STRAIGHT FOR ON TO NORWAY AT HARRAH'S HOOSIER PARK: Round 2 of Indiana Sire Stakes for 3-year-old trotting colts served as the Thursday (June 12) feature at Harrah's Hoosier Park, with a pair of $49,500 divisions seeing On To Norway extend his win streak to eight, and Operator pull off a mild upset in a career best.

In the first division, On To Norway was sent away from the rail as the 1-5 favorite with regular pilot John De Long in the bike. De Long took the 2-hole tuck on the first turn while Mehelplingyou (Jordan Ross) cut the quarter in :28.3 as the 7-1 third choice. De Long moved the favorite to the top on the backstretch, leading to the half in :57.2 before extending his lead to 2½ lengths at three-quarters in 1:26.

Extending the win streak was never in doubt in the lane, with On To Norway and a motionless De Long cruising home in :27.2 to reach the wire three lengths clear in 1:53.2. Mehelplingyou held sway for second, with Bluebird Ladychuck (Dan Shetler) edging out Tarzan (Marcus Miller) for the show spot.

Ron Burke trains On To Norway who has now won eight of nine on the year and 11 of 17 lifetime. Bred by Bennet Farms Inc of MI, the gelded son of Muscle Massive—One Class Act went over $100,000 in seasonal earnings with the victory and boasts a career bankroll of $124,962 for owners Burke Racing Stable, Frank Baldachino, Black And White Stable and Michael Rosenthal.

In the second division, Operator would convert a pocket trip to pull a mild 5-1 upset of On To Norway's stablemate, Starlitfrankenstein, for the driver-and-trainer combination of Kyle Wilfong and Jay Hochstetler.

Leaving from the rail, Operator and Wilfong cruised to an early lead through an opening quarter of :28.1 with Trace Tetrick and the 1-9 Starlitfrankenstein sitting the pocket. Starlitfrankenstein moved to the top just beyond the quarter, trotting to a comfortable half-mile clocking of :57.1 with Operator now in the pocket. The lead duo began to separate from the field on the way to three-quarters, as Starlitfrankenstein led an anxious Operator to that station in 1:25.4.

Wilfong fed Operator racetrack, and the sprint was on in the lane as Operator and Starlitfrankenstein continued to exchange blows in the stretch. Powering home in :26.4, Operator wore down Starlitfrankenstein in deep-stretch to score by three-quarters-of-a-length in a career best clocking of 1:52.4. Ponda Rocky (Atlee Bender) finished third, three lengths behind the winner.

Operator has won two of three during his 3-year-old campaign, and five of 13 in his career. Bred by Christopher Nissley, the gelded son of You Know You Do—Crazyasclassic sports lifetime earnings of $123,755 for owners Connie and Homer Hochstetler, Robert Buddig, and Allen Schwartz.

The win was one of four on the night for Wilfong to lead all drivers, and second of the evening for Hochstetler to lead the training category.

MIRACLE MAVEN TOPS GRABER, JR. TRIFECTA IN INSS AT HOOSIER: Indiana Sire Stakes action returned to Harrah's Hoosier Park on Wednesday (June 11) with a lone $96,000 division of the second leg for sophomore trotting fillies. Trainer Henry Graber, Jr. completed a clean sweep of the trifecta as Miracle Maven nosed out her stablemate, Better Tak'em to score in 1:54.2.

Sent off as the 2-5 favorite with regular pilot John De Long in the bike, Miracle Maven floated into the pocket from post 2 as Swan Jewel (Marcus Miller) trotted to an early lead through an opening quarter of :27.4. De Long moved Miracle Maven to the top on the backstretch, leading to the half in :57 while her stablemates Classical Jane (Trace Tetrick) and Better Tak'em (Jordan Ross) started the outer flow from midpack. Miracle Maven opened up a 2½ length lead on the final turn, reaching three-quarters in 1:25.2 with Classical Jane moving into third on the outside and Better Tak'em following her cover from fifth.

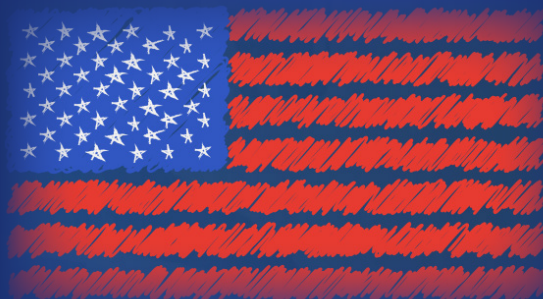

Turning for home, Miracle Maven's lead swelled to four lengths at the eighth pole before her strides began to shorten and Better Tak'em began to do her best work. Better Tak'em closed steadily with a :27.4 final stanza but could not reel in her stablemate as Miracle Maven reached the wire a head in front. Classical Jane held sway for third, two lengths behind her stablemates while Sweetasmoni (Kyle Wilfong) concluded the super at 41-1 out of the Ken Rucker barn.

Miracle Maven has now won two of three to start her 3-year-old season, and seven of 12 lifetime while only missing the board once in her career. Bred by Noah Wickey, the daughter of Don't Let'em—Bad Babysitter has banked $224,920 lifetime for owners Hillside Stables, Frank Baldachino, Beastly LLC and Eleven Star Stables.

Instant classic: Louprint wins Pepsi North America Cup thriller

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

Louprint dug down deep to best a game Madden Oaks in an enthralling 42nd edition of the $1 million Pepsi North America Cup on Saturday night (June 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The premier Canadian event for 3-year-old pacers delivered yet another captivating chapter in its storied history, played out in front of an appreciative crowd on a picture-perfect evening at the Milton, ON oval.

Madden Oaks, at 53-1, rocketed off post 10 to secure the lead over fellow outsider Swingtown, while Joel And The Jets settled into third, followed by Louprint, with Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. at the controls.

After carving out an opening quarter in :26, Madden Oaks yielded the lead to slight 9-5 choice Louprint, who stormed to the front just ahead of a half in :53.1, with Madden Oaks in second, Dandy Ideal in third and Swingtown fourth.

Louprint, fresh off his North America Cup elimination score last Saturday, reached three quarters in a blistering 1:19.1, as a host of rivals picked up the pace and their pursuit of the leader.

Midway down the lane, Madden Oaks found room along the pylons and started to cut into Louprint's advantage with each stride.

The final 50 yards to the wire was sporting drama at its finest.

After Madden Oaks appeared to put a nose in front, Louprint fought back to eke out a head score in a stakes, track record and Canadian record of 1:47.1. Fast Choice was third and Captain Optimistic finished fourth.

"What a dream come true to get the job done," said Wrenn. "He's a special horse. I didn't give him a great trip, but you know, he's a terrific horse – he raced really well.

"He's a terrific horse, and he showed it tonight. It wasn't ideal to go that fast to the third quarter. But you know, that's the card I was dealt."

The son of Sweet Lou – Rockin Racer once again came up aces.

Claus Andersen

It was the second Pepsi North America Cup win for Ron Burke as a trainer, but his first as the breeder of the winner.

Louprint's epic victory proved popular.

It was the fifth win in as many starts in 2025 for the brown colt, who arrived at the North America Cup final off a game head triumph in his Cup elimination race, a 1:49.1 mile carved out last Saturday at Mohawk.

"I knew he was good, and he was ready to go," said trainer Ron Burke, who won the 2014 North America Cup with JK Endofanera. "And you know, Ronnie was worried that he had raced him too hard. But you know, when you think you have the best colt, you put him on the front at some point and let them come get him. I'm awful proud of him. He raced hard. But you know, I have all the faith in the world in this colt.

"I never lost faith. I thought he was a winner from the top of the lane down, like he just digs. He knows how to win. If you look at his career, if he's in the front, he's very hard to get around."

Louprint won the Dan Patch Award last season as the top 2-year-old colt pacer. He won seven of his 10 starts, notching victories in the Breeders Crown and Kentucky Sires Stakes final.

Owned by Burke Racing Stable, Weaver BrusceMI, Phil Collura and Larry Karr, the homebred is 12-2-1 from 15 career starts, along with over $1.6 million in purse earnings.

"He's a great horse," Burke said. "He's actually an improvement, I think, on his sire, which I didn't think I would ever say."

Louprint paid $5.80 for the win.

Twin B Joe Fresh (Dexter Dunn) dominated the Roses Are Red final on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Twin B Joe Fresh flaunts in Roses Are Red repeat

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine communications

The Roll With Joe—Fresh Breeze mare Twin B Joe Fresh cruised to command with a mid-race move and easily maintained her throne atop the older pacing mare division to score her second straight victory in the $287,000 Roses Are Red, a Grade 1 stake, on Saturday night (June 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Driver Dexter Dunn eased Twin B Joe Fresh from the gate while Sylvia Hanover hustled for the lead to a :26.2 first quarter. Sylvia Hanover pocketed pylon-starter My Girl EJ to take control moving for the backstretch but soon faced pressure with Aardie B Miki N angling first up out of third to brush for the front. Dunn followed that brush and soon assumed the lead with Twin B Joe Fresh past a :55.1 half before coasting around the final turn.

My Girl EJ moved to push first over in a sprint to three-quarters, timed in 1:22.1, while Twin B Joe Fresh spun for home and motored away from her peers by the eighth pole. Twin B Joe Fresh crossed the beam geared down in a 1:48.4 mile to win by 3½ lengths. Sylvia Hanover found a seam at the inside to finish second with Aardie B Miki N holding third and Soft Spot rallying from near last for fourth.

“She felt fantastic,” Dunn said after the race. “It was a good mile by her – she didn’t feel like she was going that fast; she was doing it so easy. She’s just special. She had the plugs in still and was floating along there. Aardie B Miki was breathing down my neck pretty good turning for home and I thought we might have a battle, but this girl can quicken as good as any of them and when she let down, she put separation on them. My daughter Mila’s at home on the couch sick, so I hope this makes her feel better.”

Now 5 years old and on the heels of a campaign which earned her divisional honors on both sides of the border and Horse of the Year honors in the U.S., Twin B Joe Fresh stayed undefeated from two starts this season – her last win coming in the $100,000 Betsy Ross Invitational three weeks ago, and with a single 1:50.2 qualifier at The Meadowlands coming into the Roses Are Red final on Saturday night.

"She is what she is... she's not hard to get ready," trainer Chris Ryder said after the race. "She's such a beautiful mare – you push a button, she's away. We're very blessed."

Dunn said, "She's gotten bigger every year and better every year. She's done it again this year. So [it's] a special ride."

Ryder and Dunn share ownership of Twin B Joe Fresh with Peter Trebotica and Barry Spak. The mare has now won 32 races from 42 starts and earned $2,898,709 in her career.

With her dominance against her cohort, Ryder humored pitting Twin B Joe Fresh against the boys but said after her win in the Roses Are Red that he wasn't "adamant" about pursuing the challenge.

"Everybody keeps asking me, so obviously we have it in the back of our minds," Ryder said. "It's a possibility, but it has to suit her. We'll just see if it works out, but I'm not adamant about doing it at all, no."

Sent off as the 1-9 favorite, Twin B Joe Fresh paid $2.30 to win.

Dial Square S clinches Armbro Flight victory

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine communications

Dial Square S soared off a second-over ride to land a measured blow against pylon-skimming stablemate Call Me Goo, foiling her chances at a repeat win in the Grade 2 $210,000 Armbro Flight final on Saturday night (June 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Driver James MacDonald floated Dial Square S off the wings from post 5 and planted into fifth as M-M's Dream pushed from the pylon draw for the lead to pocket Call Me Goo into a :26.4 first quarter. M-M's Dream rolled unchallenged up the backstretch to a :56 half and gathered speed into the turn while Drawn Impression angled first over out of fourth with Dial Square S on her tail.

Drawn Impression (driven by Louis-Philippe Roy) loomed to press M-M's Dream at three-quarters in 1:24.2, but MacDonald promptly sent Dial Square S off a helmet upon straightening and thrust to the fore in a matter of strides. Dial Square S muscled down the last eighth under wraps while staving off a late charge from Call Me Goo, who sprinted through a gap at the inside, to win by a half-length in a 1:51.4 mile. Willys Home Run kicked from third over for third and Bravo Angel S finished fourth.

"She was just perfect; two fingers to drive," said MacDonald, who acquired the drive on the Ake Svanstedt trainee despite qualifying for the Armbro Flight final with longshot elimination winner Willys Home Run. "Ake said, in her first start, she got a little hot and then last week she was great to drive. They've done a great job with her because she was an absolute dream tonight.

"I was just [wanting] to go forward a bit and see how the race looks. It looked pretty early like Ake and Yannick [Gingras driving M-M's Dream] got away well and Louis was kind of floating for position – I was hoping I could get him in front of me. Sometimes it never works out, but today it did."

Brue Hanover (Yannick Gingras) held off Nijinsky in deep stretch to win the $100,000 Mohawk Gold Cup on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Brue Hanover strikes gold in Mohawk Gold Cup

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

Brue Hanover was a brute force at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Saturday evening (June 14), hanging tough to win the $100,000 Mohawk Gold Cup Invitational Pace (G3).

With Yannick Gingras at the controls, the 5-year-old son of Stay Hungry out of the Art Major mare Blind Ambition was powered to the front at the outset, followed by mutuel choice Nijinsky, Abuckabett Hanover and Ervin Hanover into the first turn.

Pacing comfortably on top through an opening panel in :26 and a half in :54.4, Brue Hanover then braced for the challenge of Ervin Hanover, who ratcheted up the outside pressure through three quarters in 1:21.4.

Straightening for the drive to the wire, Gingras called upon Brue Hanover for his best and the Dave Menary trainee responded, as a locked-in Nijinsky looked for a seam to take aim at the leader.

At the wire, Brue Hanover was a half-length winner in a career-best 1:47.4. Nijinsky, last year's Pepsi North America Cup winner, settled for second. Abuckabett Hanover was third and Ervin Hanover fourth.

"He feels great," said Gingras, of the pacer who is now 11-0-1 from 14 engagements in 2025. "He's definitely in career form, that's for sure. He drove great, but he was always a willing horse.

"Top of the stretch, I knew Nijinsky had pace behind me. So, I was hugging the rail pretty good, you know, make sure that he wasn't going to get through."

A huge group greeted Brue Hanover in the winner's circle.

Owned by Burke Racing Stable LLC and Weaver Bruscelli LLC, the well-travelled bay gelding is now 29-9-12 from 79 starts, accompanied by over $590,000 in career purse earnings.

"He's handled everything we've thrown at him," Menary said praising his charge. "I'm proud of the horse and he's a special animal. He's just so brave. We made a few equipment changes along the way. He's just a class act to be driven this hard this many weeks in a row."

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms Inc., Brue Hanover was a $42,000 purchase (Hip #179) at the 2021 Lexington Select Yearling Sale.

He paid $6.80 for tonight's win.

Record books: Emoticon Legacy puts punctuation mark on Goodtimes score

by Chris Lomon / Woodbine communications

Emoticon Legacy came up with another flawless performance, this time in record-setting fashion in the $227,000 Goodtimes Stakes (Grade 2) on Saturday evening (June 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Sent on his way as the 1-2 choice in the Goodtimes, Emoticon Legacy arrived at his latest engagement off an authoritative 1¾-length victory in his elimination – and 3-year-old debut – last week at the Milton oval.

He took things up a notch in the final.

Landing On Time, second choice on the tote board, landed on the front end early, while Blank, who challenged for early bragging rights into the first turn, broke stride, leaving Louis-Philippe Roy little choice but to march onwards.

It was Landing On Time who took his rivals through an opening quarter in :26.4, but Roy pressed on and powered Emoticon Legacy to the lead soon after.

Emoticon Legacy reached the half in :55.1 and was still calling the shots through three quarters in 1:23, as the Luc Blais pupil looked primed to draw away from his pursuers down the lane.

The bay colt shrugged off mid-stretch challenges from Gap Kronos S and Landing On Time and went on to stop the teletimer in a track and Canadian record 1:50.2, nearly two seconds faster than his previous speed badge of 1:52.1. Gap Kronos S was second, ¾ lengths back. Landing On Time was third and LMC Wagon Wheel was fourth.

“I didn’t necessarily want to race him on the on the lead again, but leaving the gate and going in the first turn, I thought it was like the best option for me, because otherwise I was going to have to come first up on the other best two that I thought were in the race," said Roy. "I was a little bit worried, to be honest, but the horse just proved he's a different animal."

Owned and bred by Determination, the Walner colt out of the O'Brien Award winning-mare Emoticon Hanover took four of his seven rookie races, including a division of the Champlain Stakes, earning $220,637. He was fourth in the William Wellwood Memorial and fifth in the Mohawk Million.

On Saturday evening at Mohawk, he showcased his talents with another top-shelf triumph.

"Well, this year he's a different horse," said Blais. "Last year, he was a little bit anxious, and didn't know how to control his emotion, I think. But this year, I think we know him. He's more easy. I started differently with him, and it's worked out.

"I know he's got lots of speed, but he just needs to control his emotion."

Emoticon Legacy, now 6-0-0 from nine starts, rolled into last week's elimination off four qualifiers, including a 1:54.3 mile on June 2, paid $3 for his Goodtimes victory.

The race presentation was made by John Bax, who campaigned world champion and Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame inductee Goodtimes to a 50-win career and over $2.2 million in lifetime earnings.

Miki And Minnie (Dexter Dunn) winning the $390,000 Fan Hanover final on Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Miki And Minnie mighty in Fan Hanover

by Ray Cotolo for Woodbine communications

Though an early scratch of morning-line favorite Chantilly took some steam from the Grade 1 $390,000 Fan Hanover final, Miki And Minnie nonetheless had to throw up her dukes to grab the gold with a 1:48.3 effort as the 1-9 chalk on Saturday night (June 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Driver Dexter Dunn found a seat in fourth with Miki And Minnie while Wickedpace uncorked a :25.4 first quarter. Wickedpace opened a sizeable advantage before she slowed into the backstretch and Cant See Me launched a first-over attack approaching a :54 half. Dunn angled off the pylons with Miki And Minnie to try and track the brush from Cant See Me, but once the latter cleared into the turn Dunn opted to grind first up on the rim through the turn.

Miki And Minnie ranged forward coming to three-quarters in 1:21.1 and hit top gear straightening for home to overhaul Cant See Me. She led the sprint for the beam as Rodeo Drive Deo launched a furious charge from the backfield at the center of the track and The Last Martini skidded up a seam at the pylons. The two fired after Miki And Minnie, but the favorite perked up when company came and held firm to win by a three-quarters-of-a-length over Rodeo Drive Deo and The Last Martini, respectively. Wickedpace gave chase in fourth.

"I was really happy where I got away, the speed was on enough," Dunn said after the race. "We moved up around the last turn and then she felt fantastic. She's just all class. She knuckled right back down to it [when Rodeo Drive Deo challenged late], and then she was pricking her ears at the line. She's a bit like that. She's a proper racehorse; she knows her job."

"It's great to win these races, but it's really so much better with Dexter," Chris Ryder said after the race. "I saw him grow up as a little fellow and been great friends with him and the mum and dad for most my lifetime. He's like a second son. It's terrific."

Super Chapter was simply super in EBC at Vernon

Vernon Downs played host to the Empire Breeders Classic (EBC) for both sophomore trotting fillies as well as 3-year-old trotting colts and geldings on Friday (June 13).

Super Chapter (Scott Zeron) dominates the $87,250 EBC first division for sophomore colts and geldings.

Super Chapter ($2.80) grabbed the lead and led to the quarter in :26.4. He slowed things down with a :29.2 second quarter and maintained the lead to the half in :56.1. Maryland (Dexter Dunn) came chasing first-over going around the final turn. Super Chapter was first to three-quarters in 1:24.3.

Super Chapter let out another gear and just flew down the stretch with an impressive :26.1 last quarter to win in a sparkling lifetime best of 1:50.4, just one-fifth-of-a-second off the track record. Maryland had to settle for second. Hard Seven (Todd McCarthy) finished third.

Super Chapter is a 3-year-old colt by Chapter Seven. He is trained by Marcus Melander for owners Jeff Snyder, and Arthur Pronti. He is now two-for-two as a sophomore. He owns seven career victories.

Chat Room (Tyler Buter) was the longshot winner in the $88,500 second division for colts and geldings.

Chat Room ($27.80) was first to the quarter in :28. Variegated (Dunn) took over the lead going down the backstretch and led to the half in :56. BJM's Lil Man (Matt Kakaley) came first-up to challenge going around the final turn, but Variegated turned him away and led to three-quarters in 1:24.4.

Chat Room waited patiently in the pocket until they reached the stretch, where he popped the pocket and blew right on by equaling his lifetime best of 1:52.3. Variegated had to settle for second. Monserrate (David Miller) was third best.

Chat Room is a 3-year-old gelding by Chapter Seven. He is trained by John Butenschoen for owners James Crawford IV, David Miller, Charles Rowe, and Lawrence Means and it was his second win this season and his fifth career victory.

Pink Bomb (Dunn) captured the $87,750 first division of the EBC's for 3-year-old fillies.

Chapvious (Jason Bartlett) led to the first quarter in :28, while Pink Bomb ($8.70) made her move first-up going down the backside and was first to the half in :57.2. Sonmar Pond (Brett Beckwith) was first to make a move going around the final turn, but Pink Bomb continued in command leading to three-quarters in 1:26.3.

As they made the turn for home second place finisher My Debt Collector (Buter) came flying late but was too late as Pink Bomb won in a lifetime best of 1:54.1. Chapvious was third best.

Pink Bomb is a 3-year-old filly by Chapter Seven, owned by Crawford Farms Racing, and Heather Marshall while trained by John Butenschoen. It was her fourth win of the season and the fifth win of her career.

EL Nightwish (Dunn) took the $89,000 second division for the fillies.

Pink Chou Chou (Miller) took the early lead but Seventh Gen (Jeff Gregory) grabbed control just before getting to the quarter first in :27.1. She used a :30 second quarter to be first to the half in :57.1. EL Nightwish ($6.70) made her move going around the last turn, but Seventh Gen had a short lead to three-quarters in 1:25.3.

As they entered the stretch, EL Nightwish forged to the lead and won easily in a lifetime best of 1:52.4. Seventh Gen had to settle for second, and Devious Babe (Tyler Miller) finished third.

EL Nightwish is a 3-year-old filly by Chapter Seven, owned by Emp Invest Oy and trained by Lucas Wallin. She is four-for-four in 2025.

Vernon also played host to two divisions of the New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) for 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

American Son (Dunn) took the NYSS $59,100 first division.

The 3-year-old colt by Chapter Seven took the lead just before the half and won easily in 1:50. Red Blooded (Buter) finished second and Holt Hanover was third best.

American Son, who paid $2.30 to win, is owned by Henderson Farms and trained by Chris Ryder. It was his first win this season and his fifth career trip to the winner's circle.

Courts On Fire (Beckwith) captured the $59,100 NYSS second division.

Courts On Fire ($4.30) took the early lead but then followed third place finisher Thirsty Thursday (Buter) all around the track until Courts On Fire went on by in the stretch to win in a lifetime best of 1:50. Dune Buggy (Jason Bartlett) came up to finish second best.

Courts On Fire is a 3-year-old by Courtly Choice, owned by Hutt Racing Stable, Tim Klemencic, and trainer Blake Macintosh. It was his second win of the season and he now owns four career victories.

Track records fall at Scioto

Two track records fell at Eldorado Scioto Downs on Friday (June 13).

Prince Of Honor has become the fastest trotter in the history of Scioto winning in 1:50.2, a fifth of a second faster than Homicide Hunter's mile in 2018.

Refined (Aaron Merriman) set the early tempo in the $26,000 open trot, tripping the beam in :26.1, :55.1 and 1:22.2 as the field hit three-quarters. Chris Page took Prince Of Honor up the outside to just get by, winning by a neck. Refined was second while New Swan In Town (Tyler Smith) got up for third.

Prince Of Honor is a 5-year-old gelded son of Walner who now has 17 wins in 56 lifetime starts and $473,619 in earnings. The Ron Burke trainee is owned by Burke Racing and Weaver Brussemi.

Just three races later, Rose Run Aimee and Dan Noble took the $30,000 Steve McCoy final in 1:49.4, tying the track record for 3-year-old pacing fillies. Fresh off a second-place finish in Ohio Sires Stakes action at Northfield, Rose Run Aimee left sharply from post 7 and led at every call. Fractions of :26.4, :55.1 and 1:23 left enough in the tank to come home in :26.4 to win by 4¼ lengths. Finishing second was pocket sitter Tameudown (Austin Hanners) and Rylee Too (Page) was third.

Rose Run Aimee, by Racing Hill out of the Western Terror mare Private Performance, is owned by Dr. Jill Dentel, William Rufenacht, Gene Roth and Jeff Bankey. The James Ehram trainee is now three-for-five on the season with $83,211 in lifetime earnings.

The 90-day 2025 Eldorado Scioto Downs race meet runs through Sept. 13. Races are held Tuesday-Saturday with a 5:45 p.m. first post. Special holiday first posts will be 4 p.m. on June 19, 3:15 p.m. on Thursday (July 4) and 6:45 p.m. on Sept. 12 to help accommodate horsemen attending the Ohio Selected Yearling Sale. FanDuel named presenting sponsor of 100th Hambletonian at The Meadowlands

The $1-million Hambletonian, America's premier trotting race, will celebrate its 100th edition on Aug. 2, at The Meadowlands in East Rutherford, NJ. FanDuel, the largest advance-deposit wagering (ADW) platform in the United States, will serve as the presenting sponsor for the milestone event.

The 100th Hambletonian, presented by FanDuel, will headline a stakes-loaded race card and be nationally televised on FOX Sports and CBS Sports Network.

First contested in 1926, the Hambletonian was created by the Hambletonian Society to promote the standardbred trotting breed. Over the past century, it has endured through rain delays, economic shifts, venue changes, world wars and a global pandemic to consistently crown the champion trotter of the year.

FanDuel, a dominant force in New Jersey's sports-wagering landscape, owns and operates FanDuel TV, a channel synonymous with delivering racing excellence for the past quarter century, and the FanDuel Sportsbook at The Meadowlands – the top-performing sportsbook in North America.

"It's only fitting that the track's two biggest partners team up for the 100th anniversary of the Hambletonian," said Meadowlands chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyer. "New Jersey's No. 1 sportsbook partnering with the world's No. 1 trotting race is a match made in wagering heaven."

The Hambletonian has been hosted by The Meadowlands since 1981, the longest-running venue for the sought-after event. New Jersey is also a pioneer state for sports wagering, with a victorious 2018 legislative battle ending the ban on sports betting, opening a new frontier for the Meadowlands Racing and Gaming/FanDuel partnership, both the premier organizations in their respective brands.

"We are proud to be able to celebrate the 100th edition of the Hambletonian with The Meadowlands and FanDuel," said Hambletonian Society president/chief executive officer John Campbell. "The Hambletonian has only grown in purse, prestige and stature since the move to The Meadowlands in 1981, and this will be the biggest event to date."

Hambletonian Day at The Meadowlands is consistently the highest-handling event in harness racing, generating more than $107 million in single-day wagering since 2010. This year's 100th celebration will feature a Hambletonian Homecoming Party, autograph sessions by alumni and today's racetrack stars, appearances by past Hambletonian winners, a commemorative book, memorabilia displays and much more.

FanDuel will be the presenting sponsor of the Hambletonian Winter Book Favorites, the FanDuel Road to the Hambletonian and the 100th Hambletonian broadcast on CBS Sports Network.

Breakfast With The Babies part deux

Breakfast With The Babies, sponsored by Fashion Farms, got underway at The Meadowlands at 9 this morning on a wet fast track that turned sloppy with intermittent rain, temps in the mid-60s and no wind of consequence. Joe Romanelli called the action.

Trotting fillies opened the card and Days Away (Dexter Dunn) left to the front, led at every pole facing no pressure and won under her own power, ending the 1:59.3 mile with a :27.4 quarter. Spring Kiss (Scott Zeron/Marcus Melander) rode along behind the winner and held second easily.

This Muscle Hill filly from 2007 Hambletonian Oaks winner Danae, thus a full sibling to the great European star Propulsion and multiple stakes winner Dream Together, is a homebred owned by Fredericka Caldwell and Bluestone Farm, Per Engblom trains.

Race 2 saw Spycatcher (Todd McCarthy) take over as the field passed the 1:02 half and hold sway over a closing Broadway Star (Ake Svanstedt) with an impressive :28.2 final quarter for the 2:00.1 win. Nancy Takter trains the homebred Father Patrick colt for Brittany Farms.

Ardonne (Zeron) split rivals with an impressive late burst through the :27.2 end to a 1:57.4 mile over Zephyr Kemp (Mattias Melander/Marcus Melander) for trainer Megan Scan and owner Philip Steinberg in the third. The Tactical Landing colt, a $57,000 (LEX) yearling, sat comfortably in third through the early stages then kicked hard when a seam developed in the final sixteenth. Kevin Greenfield is the breeder.

Impeccable Hanover (Yannick Gingras) inherited the lead in early stretch when the leader broke and marched on to a 2:00.4 win in race 4. Glam (Ake Svanstedt) made a mild gain very late and was second. The winner, a Greenshoe filly bred by Hanover, was a $40,000 Harrisburg buy for trainer Per Engblom and the Racing Team of America.

Race 5 matched a pair of big-ticket NJ sired colts with the $385,000 (LEX) Muscle Hill colt Rambo Hanover (Svanstedt) prevailing with something left today over the $300,000 (LEX) Walner colt American Power (Dunn/Melander) who came uncovered and finished going forward in 2:01 ending with a :27.4 stretch scrum. Both colts looked the part and will likely meet up in the NJSS program next month. Svanstedt shares ownership of the Hanover bred with Brochart Stable, Inc. and Al Libfeld.

Another big money battle, this time Walner vs Walner, came in the sixth as Svanstedt took his time grinding to the front with I'm Kronos S ($310,000 LEX) then clipped along at a :30 beat until engaged by the $525,000 (LEX) purchase Apex (Dunn/Melander). They traded blows right to the wire with I'm Kronos S prevailing as Apex was digging in 1:59.3 / :27.4. The winner was bred in Sweden by Winger Lion Breeding and now races for Part Of Dream, Inc and Bruni Racing Team, Inc.

Svanstedt drove Pub Party, a homebred Walner filly for Marvin and Lynn Katz and Sam Goldband, to a handy 1:58.3 win in the seventh. Svanstedt was content to ride the rail as Julia Princess (Dunn/Melander) cut the fractions then fanned his filly wide for the drive and she went by with authority through the :28.4 final quarter.

With the track now having deteriorated to sloppy, Sheza Single Lady (Gingras/Takter) was a very game winner in race 8. The Walner filly led throughout then had to dig deep to hold off a pair of closing Captain Corey fillies, stablemate Caviart Gemma (McCarthy) and Ellie Hanover (Svanstedt), ending the 1:59.4 mile with a :29 final panel. Caviart Farms, Patrick Hoopes and Herb Liverman gave $95,000 (LEX) for Sheza Single Lady to breeders Jay and Jacob Mossbarger.

The Stratton brothers, trainer Cory and driver Jordan, combined with the Devious Man filly Overalls to win the ninth race in 2:01.1. Jordan left to the lead with Overalls, she rolled along comfortably and when he asked, she responded with a :29 end to hold off the close of Shoppin For Gucci (McCarthy/Annie Stoebe) with something left. A $25,000 (GOSHEN) yearling buy from breeder Mark Wamp, Our Three Sons Stable and VIP Internet Stable share ownership with the trainer as Stratton Stable.

A single pacing race was won by the colt HurrikanelouixIII (Gingras/John McDermott) a Sweet Lou homebred owned by Jonathan Klee Racing, Justin Bolasci and Hurricane Racing, LLC. Gingras moved the colt to the lead by the 1:02.3 half then took off with a :56.1 end to the 1:58.4 mile. Carolina (McCarthy/Engblom) a filly came along nicely for second.

Nursing Home Association of PEI partners with Red Shores Charlottetown

The Nursing Home Association of PEI is pleased to have entered a creative affiliation with Red Shores at the Charlottetown Driving Park to mark National Long Term Care Day 2025.

This partnership will enable residents in PEI Long Term Care homes, who are lifelong enthusiasts of harness racing, to have enjoyable visits to the racetrack during live race presentations. Red Shores will make it easier for residents to enjoy harness racing, by offering seating based on the physical abilities and preferences of the residents. Further, Red Shores staff will welcome residents through providing refreshments, public acknowledgement of their attendance, and personalized visits from Red Shores staff.

Darlene Oakes, executive director of NHAPEI, said the residents are looking forward to the experience. "Some of our residents are lifelong fans of harness racing, and experience a loss of this activity, so we are grateful to Red Shores for their help and enthusiasm in creating these adventures for them," Oakes said.

The Nursing Home Association of PEI values person centered care and strives to ensure that residents experience joy filled activities that are meaningful to them.

For more information, please contact Darlene Oakes, executive director NHAPEI, at info@nhapei.com or 902-303-1450.

This week's fines and suspensions

HRU is providing links to publicly-available fines and suspension lists for convenience.

Readers are reminded that because a person's name appears on the list does not necessarily mean they are guilty of an offense. Many times, cases are not finalized and many of the accused are still entitled to due process.

Also, please note, for context, the first link is to the Association of Racing Commissioners International's classification system of drug penalties to give readers a sense of the difference between a Class 1 and a Class 4 positive.
