I was wrong about how much post time drag impacts handle

A further conversation with John Campbell after The Meadowlands' failed experiment to reduce post time drag.

by Dave Briggs

AN ONGOING CONVERSATION WITH JOHN CAMPBELL

by DAVE BRIGGS

I was wrong about post time drag and how much it impacts handle. To be clear, that's not Hambletonian Society president and CEO John Campbell saying that. It's me, HRU editor Dave Briggs saying that.

The last time we published this column, I had a "spirited debate" with Campbell about the issue. At that time, he said my slightly tongue-in-cheek suggestion that The Meadowlands should have a race every 10 minutes would result in "handle suicide."

I thought The Meadowlands was big enough to survive at least less drag and, maybe force other tracks to reduce drag, too. I also thought the greater good was to stop lying to our customers about when post time is and to also get races off more quickly given competition from other forms of gambling where the action is constant.

In the last column, Campbell said he has consulted a number of handle experts at racetracks and they said any attempt to reduce drag has led to a reduction in handle.

"It's been tried and it's failed every time they shorten the time in between races or eliminate drag," Campbell said.

After The Meadowlands cancelled its drag-reduction experiment early when handle plunged — and major kudos to track owner Jeff Gural and COO Jason Settlemoir for at least trying — it was clear Campbell was right and I was wrong.

I should qualify that a little. I have never disputed the handle experts that said, generally speaking, that the longer the drag the better the handle. My point was there are dozens of factors that determine handle and drag is only one of them. That's still true, but clearly, drag is a huge factor in handle.

Just consider Brett Sturman's column about how when The Big M reduced drag and handle dropped, Woodbine Mohawk Park saw boosted handle. Debbie Little also tackled the subject in her column.

“It tells us that the reason that these racetrack operators drag is because you do maximize handle that way, the way that the simulcast universe works. This is the unfortunate part... This industry never seems to work together or cooperatively, not even within our industry let alone when you factor in the thoroughbreds. So, racetrack operators right now are forced to do this under the system that’s in place or they are giving up dollars and they don’t maximize handle and The Meadowlands’ experiment clearly showed that.”

~ John Campbell

Last week, I spoke to Campbell again about the subject and asked him what he learned from The Meadowlands’ experiment.

“It tells us that the reason that these racetrack operators drag is because you do maximize handle that way, the way that the simulcast universe works,” Campbell said. “This is the unfortunate part... This industry never seems to work together or cooperatively, not even within our industry let alone when you factor in the thoroughbreds. So, racetrack operators right now are forced to do this under the system that’s in place or they are giving up dollars and they don’t maximize handle and The Meadowlands’ experiment clearly showed that.”

Don’t misunderstand either of us. We agree completely that post time drag is terrible for the future of the sport for a host of reasons. We would love to see the practice ended. The Meadowlands agrees but simply can’t afford to go it alone and give up handle, especially since it relies heavily on handle for its bottom line absent a racino.

“I want to clarify again, I think [post drag] is a bad path for the future of racing, both thoroughbred and standardbred,” Campbell said.

He also has suggested that computer assisted wagering (CAW) be halted at least two minutes prior to post.

“I think there should be a consistent protocol for the CAWs of when they can’t wager past – which is another thing that if they don’t address it’s going to be a bad path for the future,” Campbell said.

There was speculation that the decline in The Big M’s handle during the experiment might reflect a restriction on CAWs that then took their business elsewhere – for example, Woodbine Mohawk Park. But Campbell said The Meadowlands did not implement a restriction on CAWs. The only substantive change was a reduction in post drag. Though, the theory is shorter drag led to a decline in CAW wagering which makes up a high percentage of total handle.

“It came down to post and the fact that the pools were smaller and the CAWs participated less,” Campbell said. “So, it was an apples-to-apples comparison, as far as the CAWs are concerned. The unfortunate part is, I know your argument was that The Meadowlands’ signal is strong enough that it will survive that, but it clearly shows that if you’re out there on an island in this simulcast universe you’re going to get potentially hurt handle wise.”

“You have to factor in the thoroughbred element because the big, big signals – Santa Anita, Churchill, Keenland and Saratoga – I don’t think they drag, but they are super signals. A lot of other tracks on the thoroughbred side do drag and I think that even if harness all got together and didn’t, I think that would be to the detriment of handle as well, until you got all those thoroughbred tracks to do the same as what you were doing.”

In the end, Campbell said the betting customers are sending a clear message.

“The public has told us and made it clear that they want bigger fields and more competitive racing and, when they get that, they respond,” Campbell said. “And we refuse to make an adjustment so we’re making sure that we do that. We’re having too many shorter fields and horses that are bet down too short on the board constantly and there’s never an adjustment or a change made in that.”

“There’s a tremendous risk of contraction if we don’t first recognize that we have an issue with what we’re presenting to the public and if we don’t address that.”

THE VIEW FROM WOODBINE MOHAWK PARK

Baby steps at breakfast

Woodbine Mohawk Park put its future stars in the spotlight on Saturday.

by Melissa Keith

A varied crowd of spectators attended Woodbine Mohawk Park's breakfast with the babies on Saturday (June 21). With a 9:30 a.m. start, the 14 qualifiers for 2-year-old male pacers and trotters attracted horse owners; a sizable group of young Amish men; trainers and caretakers stepping out from the paddock; and what appeared to be a few fans.

Burlington, ON resident Ken Wiese said he was there to watch one particular trotter.

"Lifting Legend, we're part-owners of him," Wiese said. "He's in the 10th. He won his qualifier last week, so that's a good start."

Wiese added that he was unsure about what race would be the gelding's pari-mutuel debut.

"But we have one going in the Tomkins-Geers," he said. "Blue Rare. That's next Thursday [June 27]. We'll be here for that. We belong to [Anthony MacDonald's] TheStable, we're fractional [owners]. We don't own all of the horses; we own pieces, which allows us to be involved."

Peggy Wood, Wiese's wife, sat with him at a trackside patio table.

"We like to watch them and see how they're progressing throughout the season," she told HRU. "Not just our own, but also the other [The] Stable horses as well."

She recalled the first horse on which she was a fractional owner. “Rose Run Speedster, 2016,” she said. “We’ve had a lot of fun; we’ve had a lot of success; and as Ken said, it’s been a great way to get back into horse racing.”

Wood said that Wiese had early involvement in harness racing. “His uncle was a breeder, and he’s been involved in it since his teens,” she said. “So, he was sort of involved in it that way, and then we were also part of the mentorship program back in 2009, when Tammy McNiven was running it here. We had a 2-year-old pacer, M G Home Run, who won his very first race, [an Ontario Sires Stakes] Grassroots race [on July 17, 2009 at Flamboro Downs].”

Wiese and Wood said they appreciated the pancake breakfast for the relaxed atmosphere and perfect view of the 2-year-olds on the track.

“We’ve met a lot of nice people, and we enjoy our time coming out to the track, sitting around, talking to people, going to the training center... that’s very specific for Ken, to go to the training center and watch his babies and his horses train down,” Wood said.

Curtis MacDonald’s Primetime Racing was streaming the baby races for owners and fans who couldn’t attend. HRU is one of his sponsors and streamed the races on the HRU Facebook page.

“It’s a whole new brand,” Curtis said. “We do the baby races, obviously, and we’ve expanded, so we’re doing network shows as well: North America Cup, Camluck Classic, and several throughout the summer and fall. We have five shows [coming up] here [at Mohawk]: We’re going to be here for the Maple Leaf Trot, Mohawk Million, Breeders Crown.” Primetime Racing launched with its inaugural show on March 30, 2025.

Curtis said Primetime was “very similar” to the COSA TV shows he used to produce for the Central Ontario Standardbred Association, just a new, independent brand. He laughed as he admitted he did not expect 14 baby races Saturday morning, adding that, “when you have a free breakfast, you get people that want to watch the races.” He said he tried to include specific footage for viewers watching online as well.

“For baby races, yes, paddock shots, coming off the track,” he said. “We try to get people up close to see the races.”

Mark McKelvie and Greg Blanchard hosted the Primetime show, with the former also calling the action. “Primetime Racing kind of spun off what Curtis was doing with COSA TV before,” said McKelvie, who is also the senior manager of communications for Woodbine Mohawk Park. “Obviously, we’ve had a lot of good reviews, and we wanted to find a way to keep that going... Curtis has found a way to reinvent it with Primetime Racing.”

The focus on 2-year-old qualifiers was a natural; McKelvie called them, “something that always was a big hit, because people are excited to see them, lots of owners who have been waiting months.” Saturday’s event, called the Rookie Showcase, appeared on both Facebook and YouTube. McKelvie added that major races that will be presented by Primetime on upcoming shows will also be shown on the Canadian Game Plus network.

McKelvie said he was impressed overall with the current crop of 2-year-olds qualifying at Mohawk.

“You mentioned the fact that there aren’t many breakers,” McKelvie said. “Some of these mornings, I’m upstairs, charting the races, and seven, eight years ago when I’d do it, so many [young] horses would have to go on the judges’ list, and you’d be bringing them back next week. But it just feels like the breed continues to get better and better, so that’s one thing that really catches your eye.”

Speaking about particular sires making their mark, McKelvie singled out Cattlewash.

“The Cattlewashes have been so impressive, and that’s a great addition for Ontario,” he said. “I remember at the London Classic [Sale] last year, reading pedigrees, Cattlewash was a little bit of an unknown, but I think a lot of people were optimistic that he would make an immediate impact, and it looks like that’s what it’s going to be.”

Cattlewash winners included Twin B Stanley (1:55.1); Tilthecowscomehome (1:54.3); Borderline Mobby (1:57); and the day’s fastest winner, Beau Jangles (1:53), who romped by 20 expanding lengths in qualifier 11 for driver Louis-Philippe Roy.

The first Bulldog Hanover 2-year-olds, sired during his last year of racing, from just a few breedings, were also looking good.

“Just this morning, we had one [Brindle] win here in 1:54.4,” McKelvie said. “I think he’s had three winners now in better than 1:55 across North America. I was saying earlier, it really takes just one or two of these [first crop foals] to have a really strong year. I don’t even know if that matters. I think when we get to the Lexington and Harrisburg sales later this year, some of those [second crop] Bulldogs are going to sell for very high prices. He got some great mares.”

Run To The Hills won by open lengths in 1:55.4 for Bob McClure in qualifier 7, further showcasing the emerging talent from the limited number of first-crop Bulldog Hanovers.

On the training side, McKelvie said Dr. Ian Moore looked like his stable was well-stocked for success with freshman pacers this season. Not only did Moore trainees Dad (1:55.2), Alcatraz Blue Chip (1:57.2), and the aforementioned Beau Jangles post convincing wins on Saturday morning; there was also an eye-catching filly winner who qualified Friday (June 20).

“The filly, PNG Shadow, wasn’t the quickest winner yesterday, but she came home in :26.4 in a headwind... Doc’s going to have a lot of fun with them early on this summer,” McKelvie said.

Trainer Dave Menary came out to watch his 2-year-olds qualify, sitting alongside the spectators. He told HRU that getting perspective on their progress in the baby races showed him more than training them in company.

“Yeah, definitely, but we all make the same amount of money today, you know?” he said with a laugh.

He was keeping a close eye on Scorpion Seelster in baby race 13.

“He’s a very nice colt,” Menary said. “He had a Cattlewash win earlier today [Borderline Mobby, driven by James MacDonald]. These colts were kind of ahead of the pack for most of the winter, and hopefully we say that at the end of the year, too.

Merkel-trained fillies shine in pari-mutuel debuts

by James Platz

Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino played host to the third round of Indiana fair circuit competition last week. For some of the young pacers and trotters, the races held June 18, 19 and 20 served as an introduction to the Anderson, IN oval. Racing fans could see top performers return in several weeks for the opening round of Indiana Sires Stakes.

Following this week's action, owner and trainer John Merkel will take aim at the first leg with a pair of pacing fillies that excelled in their pari-mutuel debuts.

It's My Story was the first of the Merkel-trained freshmen to reach the winner's circle on Wednesday (June 18). The Best In Show—A Loskoz Bluegrass lass sat patiently in second through a :58.1 opening half before taking control and winning by 2½ lengths, stopping the clock in 1:56.2. The pacer, co-owned by Merkel, John Vorbeck and Daniel Smith, is now two-for-two in fair competition. She is from a family that the conditioner knows well.

It's My Story's grandam is the accomplished Ag-N-Au Bluegrass. For decades Merkel served as trainer for Dr. Luel Overstreet's

Bluegrass Stable, a producer of many top horses and several Indiana champions. During her career, Ag-N-Au Bluegrass finished first or second in 23 of 27 starts, banking $301,705 and capturing an Indiana Sires Stakes final as a sophomore.

Since retiring from racing duties, Ag-N-Au Bluegrass has produced winners of nearly $1.2 million, led by gelding Goldie's Legacy, a 22-time winner with $571,875 on his card. Her first foal, the Panspacificflight-sired A Loskoz Bluegrass had incredible potential, but never made it to the races. The full-sister to the filly, Au D Lox Bluegrass, took a mark of 1:49.2 and earned $377,339.

"I broke her and trained her and she was one fast filly too, but she kicked the walls the whole time and she shattered her pastern," Merkel said. "It's a shame that happened. I actually thought she was faster than Au D Lox."

While she never reached her full potential on the track, A Loskoz Bluegrass has proven productive as a broodmare. Six of her seven registered foals have started, with five winners and a pair of six-figure earners. The connections purchased It's My Story at last fall's Hoosier Classic sale for a mere $7,000. From the first crop of Bettors Delight stallion Best In Show, It's My Story was the third horse through the sale ring in the opening session, sold with the name Middle C.

"I was interested in Best In Show," Merkel said. "I watched that horse race a couple of times and I already liked him, and I know first-year stallions, people sometimes want to see how they do. I said, this filly sells early. And she's by a first-year stallion. We're going to get her bought right."

In her debut at Converse June 4, It's My Story led gate-to-wire, finishing two lengths in front for driver Jay Cross in a time of 2:02.1. Wednesday she improved by nearly six seconds in her Hoosier Park triumph, and Merkel believes he has a filly capable enough to compete in sires stakes.

"She's a nice filly," he said. "We're going to go sire stakes with her and give her a shot. I think she's sire stakes material. She's just been good from the get-go. She's always had a little lick to her. So good-gaited, super-gaited, she doesn't wear a boot or anything. I mean, just a nice filly."

Leg one of Indiana Sires Stakes action is slated for July 9. Merkel said It's My Story will not return to the fair circuit between now and the opening round. He will instead focus on preparing her for the state's top series from his home base at the Shelbyville fairgrounds. As he does, he will also prep another filly, Miss Alexis, who claimed her fair division Wednesday with a 1:59.1 effort with Cross in the bike.

“Jay thinks she’s as good as the other filly,” Merkel said. “She just didn’t have to go as much the other night. But she’s got a big motor, too. She was out of a heck of a mare. So that’s why we were interested in her. We actually thought she’d bring more than she did.”

Miss Alexis is owned by the same trio of partners as It’s My Story. She was purchased for $12,500 out of the Hoosier Classic. Sired by Capt Midnight, Miss Alexis is out of the Dragon Again mare Ginger Tree Alexis, a 30-time winner with just shy of $450,000 on her card. Merkel said that It’s My Story and Miss Alexis were the top two targets to purchase at last year’s sale.

“You know, we’re not big-time spenders, but we just try to find something we think is in our price range,” he said. “It’s unusual that when you pick a couple of horses out, you get two of your top picks bought. Usually, that doesn’t happen.”

Like It’s My Story, Miss Alexis mastered her fair debut for the connections, winning in gate-to-wire fashion. In rein to Cross, the filly claimed victory by more than three lengths at Converse. At Hoosier Park, the narrow second choice moved to the top after a :29.1 opening panel and never looked back, winning by a length and a quarter. Now, the real test comes next month.

“After Jay drove them the other night, he said they could both go forward,” Merkel said. “He said just how much more they’re going to go we don’t know yet. But they’re both real good and getting handy, so that’s a positive sign. I guess we’ll find out.”

Depending on the day, I am a groom in the barn, a shipper when we go to race, and a catch-paddock when we race five or six at The Meadowlands on Fridays and Saturdays. I wear a lot of different hats, but it is never boring.”

It never has been for Jessop.

She’s the definition of a jack-of-all-trades – skilled, adaptable, and able to shift seamlessly between roles. It’s a way of life she learned from several mentors in the racing world, especially her father, longtime trainer Paul Jessop.

It is something she learned from several horse people along the way, including her father, longtime trainer Paul Jessop.

“My dad has a 40-acre training center in Colts Neck, NJ,” Brittany said. I grew up with my mom in upstate New York, away from the horses. I worked horse sales with her. I worked for Preferred for many, many years. I got old enough to get a regular job, but we all know how it is in this industry – once it gets in your blood, you can’t get away from it.”

Not that she was trying to run from it.

Once she made the decision to fully pursue a career in harness racing, Jessop traveled extensively to build her knowledge and experience.

“I went to a farm to get my foundation miles in and worked there for two years, doing foaling and yearling prep,” Brittany said. “I moved down to New Jersey to work with my dad and learned training and racing from him. From there, I went to Rob Harmon’s barn in the winter down in Florida. I spent two years working

“One [thing I’ve learned] is that there are a lot of different ways to train a horse and the other is that you are never done learning. There is always something you can educate yourself on. I think it’s important to keep an open mind when it comes to the management of horses. My father [Paul Jessop] is 72 and he is still learning.”

with Rob before I decided to move out to Indiana. I was there for five years and worked for trainer Wilbur Eash and Joe Putnam.”

Along the way, it wasn't just people who left a lasting impression.

“Mosquito Blue Chip is the one who really made me fall in love with the sport,” Brittany said. “I was working at Blue Chip Farms at the time and my dad was training this filly – I was following her all over New York to watch her compete in the Sires Stakes. She ended up winning her Sires Stakes final at Yonkers. That is probably one of the biggest highlights of my time in the industry. That was the final thing that pushed me from working at breeding farms to want to go into racing.”

Two years ago, after a conversation with her father – now 72 – Brittany returned to New Jersey.

“It has been a lot of travel, a lot of journeying, but it's been a tremendous ride so far,” she said.

A ride, that in many ways, has only just begun.

Brittany is grateful for the experiences that brought her back home and shaped her approach to horsemanship.

“I like that I was able to work with so many trainers, where I was able to pick up so many different techniques – every trainer trains their horses differently,” she said. “It's nice to pick up different traits.

“You pick up things that you don't even realize in the moment. And when you move on to a new barn, your eyes are opened to new approaches.”

Among the many lessons learned, two stand out.

“One is that there are a lot of different ways to train a horse and the other is that you are never done learning,” Brittany said. “There is always something you can educate yourself on. I think it's important to keep an open mind when it comes to the management of horses. My father is 72 and he is still learning.”

So is Brittany, who is now collaborating with her fiancé, driver Mark Herschberger, to shape their future in racing.

“Right now, we are focusing on Mark's driving career,” she said. “We're trying to move him ahead in his driving career. Moving back to New Jersey was a big accelerator for that. At some point, we would like to take on training horses for other people – even if it was just a small barn.”

The couple is especially excited about the young pacers they've brought into their program.

“We also have Taranaki, who my dad trains and owns, with us right now,” she said. “He just put down a mile in 1:49.2. He is very special because he is a homebred for us and Mark and I own the mare [Free Fi Girl] – the first horse we have owned. My dad gifted us the mare to help us get kickstarted into owning our first horse.

“She has a yearling on the ground now and she is in foal to Miso Fast. Mark and I own those yearlings – the first horses we have owned on our own. We are eagerly anticipating the future with them.”

*“Right now? I’m not sure what I would call [my role in harness racing]. I was trying to think how I would answer that question if I was asked. ~ Brittany Jessop

Work-life balance is also a top priority for Brittany, who treasures time spent away from the racetrack.

Family and the great outdoors top the list of her interests outside the barn and racetrack.

“As much as we love horses, horse racing and the industry, we still try and make as much time as we can for family,” she said. “At the end of the day, we both feel family is the most important thing.

“I have a 10-year-old son, who will be with us throughout the summer, so we do a lot of outdoor activities with him. We like horseback riding of course, but we also just got back from Illinois, where we did a lot of fishing. We go camping and we try to find new adventures as much as we can, which is pretty easy when you have a 10-year-old who is geared up and ready for action.”

For now, Brittany is content playing a behind-the-scenes role, quietly helping keep everything running smoothly.

“I am helping out my father, so I am primarily behind-the-scenes right now,” she said. “I am part of that select group who gets to work off the track, to help make sure the show can go on.”

And in Brittany’s case, no matter the hat she’s wearing, the fit is always just right.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

Harness racing's gamble on Gordon Waterstone paid off

by Murray Brown

Gordon Waterstone has always been what he calls extremely lucky and a "player."

"I come from a whole line of gamblers," Waterstone said. "My dad loved the horses, but thoroughbreds. I had an uncle who was among the first to arrange junkets to Las Vegas. I couldn't go to the flats during the day, so I went to the harness races at night. I felt that my parents would disapprove. So, I told them I was going bowling. I eventually got found out. My dad said it was alright, he completely understood."

"In the interim, I went to school at Michigan State. After a couple of years there I decided it wasn't for me. I got a job with a paint company, but I hated the work. That's where luck first stepped in. A fellow that I knew named Frank Slisinger was an assistant to Greg Magreta, the PR director at Hazel Park. He was leaving and suggested me for the job. 'Really?' I said. 'I'd work in harness racing and actually get paid for doing it?' Naturally, I jumped at the opportunity. It was doubly fortuitous for me. I wouldn't be working at the paint company and I'd be doing something which I loved."

“I was 25 years old. I became Greg Magreta’s assistant. What did I know about publicity? Nothing or pretty close to nothing. What experience did I have? Absolutely none. But I figured if Greg was willing to take a chance on me that I’d learn while working and doing anything he wanted me to do. That was prophetic. At various times I’ve done just about everything there was to do at a harness track. It included but wasn’t limited to publicity, program director, promotion, simulcast director, mutuel manager and producing a TV show. I even made and sold a tip sheet for a couple years which would come close to landing me in hot water.”

Let’s start with that. What happened?

“It was totally innocent on my part. There were two races where I liked two horses that were pretty ‘chalk like’ in trifecta races. I liked them and bet them to win with the rest ‘all’ to finish second and third. As luck would have it, a huge underdog finished third in each race. I collected on both races at big prices, even though I really hadn’t picked the third horse. I was just lucky. I was asked by racing commission stewards why I hadn’t picked the third horse on the tip sheet, yet came up with the winning trifecta. I explained exactly what happened and was absolved of any blame.”

What can you tell us about your early days at Hazel?

"I worked as an assistant to Greg for two years. He then decided to try his hand in the race office. I suppose that I inherited his job. By then, I was probably capable of assuming the position. I had learned a whole lot of what had been previously unknown to me. Greg was a great teacher as was the entire staff at Hazel Park."

What was it about the Hazel Park experience that you cherished the most?

"If it were just one thing, it would certainly be the many friends I made among the horsemen's community. I suppose that my position at the track would generally be considered as one in track management, But I made so many friends in the backstretch. And we had a full backstretch back then. Ultimately, I think that those friends and in some cases their children and grandkids, many of whom I am still close with to this day, constitute the most enduring memories of my days at Hazel Park. It was so much fun back in those days. We raced six nights a week and we had wagering more than $1 million regularly on Friday and Saturday nights, and close to it on Mondays. And that was on 10 races nightly and all the money bet on track as simulcasting wasn't in play then."

We've spoken of the best, what was the worst experience in your years at Hazel Park?

"It undoubtedly was the horrible fire that took place in the backstretch in June 1987 resulting in the loss of 15 horses. Words cannot describe that horrific event. I shudder each time I even think of it. It was ultimately determined that the fire was caused by arson. To my knowledge the perpetrator of that atrocity was never discovered. Ironically, of all the great events held at the track through the years, none generated more publicity than that tragedy."

If you were asked to pick the single most pleasing achievement during your days there, what would that be?

"Without a doubt that would be that on two separate occasions I received the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association's Achievement Award. Other than my election as a member of the Communicators Hall of Fame, that would be the achievement of which I am most proud."

Please speak of your installation in the Communicators Hall of Fame.

"I look upon it as a validation of a career well spent. I believe I was honored because of the numerous years spent in various areas of our sport, each one related in some way to bringing my love and enjoyment of it to people, both already immersed in it and hopefully helping to bring some people outside of it into our realm."

Your work at Hazel Park wasn't your only job in harness racing was it?

"Far from it. I did publicity and promotional work at Northville Downs and for a short spell I was in the publicity department at Northfield Park. I also helped out on the publicity teams at various Breeders Crown events. I've also been privileged to occupy positions in various groups within the industry. Two of the greatest honors I've received were in receiving the Allen Finkelson Golden Pen Award from the Harness Publicists Association, pretty good for a kid who didn't know how to write, and serving a two-year term as president of USHWA, the United States Harness Writers Association."

From working at harness tracks you went on to a 23-year career as a writer at the Horseman and Fair World. How did that come about?

"In 1998 I was at the Dan Patch Awards Dinner at Dover Downs speaking with Kathy Parker. She was looking for someone to work at the Horseman and Fair World magazine at which she was the managing editor. She asked if I knew anybody who could fill the role. I responded, ‘How about me?’ We ruminated about it for a few weeks. Finally, Kathy pressed me for a decision. She needed someone to fill the post. I vacillated. My dad had passed and I was reluctant to leave my mother. Furthermore, I didn’t know anybody in Lexington, KY.

“I finally took the plunge. I moved to Lexington. I’m still here. I suppose that says something about my feeling about the city. I have made some great friendships in Lexington over the years.”

Am I correct that that one of the great memories of your time with the Horseman was the institution of the Backstretch With Gordon column which still survives, even though the magazine went out of business in 2021?

“It’s been great fun. One day in 2003, Boss Kathy – as I call her – suggested that I go out to The Red Mile and see what I might scout up in terms of a story for the magazine. I did, and I’m still doing it, even though the magazine is no more. My sponsors, Steve and Cindy Stewart, have stayed with me and when the magazine closed and I went to work for the USTA, they picked it up each year as the Grand Circuit approached Lexington. I left the USTA after a couple of years and there was still a demand for me to continue the column and after discussions with the Stewarts, we decided the best choice was to accept Dave Briggs’ offer to appear in Harness Racing Update. I do fear for its future though. There are many who are no longer stabled at The Red Mile. Some have set up their own independent training centers nearby or are planning on stabling at the new training center being built in Versailles. I wonder where my material will come from? However, for the immediate future we are set for this fall, which will be my 23rd year trolling The Red Mile backstretch.”

In addition to your love for harness racing, I believe you have an abiding interest in just about all sports, especially when Michigan teams are involved. Is that correct?

“Yes indeed. It’s a good time to be a Michigan sports fan. The Lions, Tigers, Pistons and Red Wings all have young and very competitive teams. I still bleed green for Michigan State and Big Blue keeps making mincemeat of that ‘team down south’ on an almost yearly basis.”

We began this story mentioning that you are a “player.” You enjoy, as the Brits would say “having a flutter.” What can you tell us about your somewhat regular trips to the haven of gambling in North America, Las Vegas?

“I began going to Vegas in 1986. I’ve gone annually since then, sometimes twice a year. My brother Bill now lives there so I get to visit him, and it’s not only that I enjoy the gambling, which I certainly do, but its more that I love the entire Vegas scene – the restaurants, the shows, the entire atmosphere. If it were only the gambling, you can find gambling to satisfy most just about everywhere nowadays. Actually, in my estimation, it has been the growth of so many alternate forms of wagering that has led to the loss of prominence of horse racing.”

Are the rumors true that you made the big score that most gamblers dream about, in your most recent trip to Las Vegas a couple of weeks ago?

“Let’s just say that I may have come close to having made up for all my losses through the years with that unexpected score.”

AMONG OURSELVES

with FRANK COLTOLO

Heats and a dead-heat Hambletonian met with ambivalence in the Empire State

by Frank Coltole

The first Hambletonian I witnessed live was the first time I visited The Meadowlands since reporting on the track's opening a few years back for an ill-fated New York newspaper (see here). While working for TIMES: in harness, the entire staff parked in the Pegasus Restaurant to dine and schmooze with industry figures during the sport's historic race card – and to cover the international event for the magazine.

It was two decades since I became a harness racing fan thanks to Off Track Betting (OTB) in New York City and the Stan Bergstein television show Racing From Yonkers and Roosevelt. Becoming enamored with following and wagering on harness racing in 1970s' Brooklyn were in no way lessons in the history of the sport. There was nil interest in any aspect of the sport that did not take place in Yonkers or Roosevelt. Adding The Meadowlands – where the only way to bet on racing there was to show up in person – did not inspire urges to read Jim Harrison's Care And Training Of The Trotter And Pacer. Nope.

New York City OTB harness fans were indifferent about the sport. For OTB participants harness racing was nothing more than the local means of legal gambling taking place after the thoroughbred races were over for the day; the Hambletonian meant no more to them than the results of the ninth-race triple any night at Yonkers or Roosevelt raceways.

The Meadowlands changed many harness racing bettors from the five boroughs. The two-turn track and introduction of new horsemen and nearness of the gargantuan structure, which increased the New Jersey track's attendance and handle due to the vast population of the nearby state showing up for "action," could not help but inform New Yorkers they did not have dibs on the sport.

In 1989, The Meadowlands hosted the 64th Hambletonian. I was there after a decade away from the East Coast and a plethora of experiences educating me about the history and business of standardbred racing; enough to land me a job covering it for a brand-spanking new magazine funded by major horse owners for veteran publisher David Dolezal and with contents in the hands of stalwart sports journalist Ron Reed.

In the midst of industry ilk, I had to be the most ignorant about standardbred racing's main event. I was aware of the history concerning its namesake trotter Hambletonian but on the dumb side about the race itself. Since leaving New York City I became well acquainted over the years with harness activity in California and on both coasts of Canada but next to nothing about its most prestigious event.

That day Reed gave me a crash course on Hambletonian heritage in exchange for tutoring him about productive betting. We would share prosperous evenings betting the thoroughbreds at Penn National Racecourse before his untimely death.

As journalists the weeks leading up to the race promised good copy while it offered a duel between a pair of champions: the colt Valley Victory and the filly Peace Corps. Their meeting promised a lot of great stories.

But the dynamic duel never happened. Valley Victory got sick and did not enter into the race. The press was left to focus upon Peace Corps aiming for her 18th- and 19th-straight victories. All she had to do was defeat the soph colts Valley Victory reigned over all season. Yeah, that is all she had to do.

"I think it's best we just cover the race for the magazine and forget betting the heats or the final," I said.

"I dunno," Ron said.

I could not convince him. He bet on Peace Corp in the first heat. She finished third. Then he bet on her in the next heat. She finished second.

"What the hell," Ron said as he passed wagering on the Probe and Park Avenue Joe race off. It became an insult to bettors when the two colts could not be separated at the finish line. The 64th Hambletonian delivered the only dead-heat in its history. And produced a minus pool. Those facts turned into the main story all of the trade magazines covered.

None of that mattered to the regular punters in the five New York City boroughs because OTB did not take bets from The Meadowlands. In the afternoon, the parlors were filled with their usual weekend thoroughbred bettors and the nights belonged to the pacers and trotters at Yonkers and Roosevelt and the usual suspects paced in and out with no regard to the greatness placed upon the 64th Hambletonian. Because those blokes just needed action after sundown, they would have wagered on anything that moved.

Margaritas for hard times

by Trey Nosrac

My second frozen margarita provided enough liquid courage to approach Adam Bowden, who was dining alone in a back booth in the Nacho Average Mexican Restaurant in Mud Lick City, KY.

I met the owner of Diamond Creek Farm once, maybe a decade ago, but his memory was good. He pointed at me and asked, "Trey?"

"Guilty as charged."

We knuckle-bumped, and then he gestured to the empty chair. I took it.

He asked, "Still writing and buying yearlings?"

"Guilty again, but due to fiscal headwinds, my crimes are of a lesser degree. Enjoy your Creekside Chat podcasts, but my head throbs when you ramble about lines and crosses. Maybe you should do a 'Pedigrees for Dummies' episode, ya know, speak slowly with graphs and statistics."

He smiled, "Not a terrible idea."

A plump young waitress ambled over. She had a red flower threaded into her black hair and a white badge pinned on her pocket with the name Rosita. I contemplated a third margarita but mumbled, "No Mas." Then I got down to business. "What are you all going to do if the frigging sport spits the bit?"

He cocked his head. "You know something I don't know?"

"I don't know squat, but the industry is down to a few states, and my pipedreams of racing a trotter below the Mason Dixon line ain't happening."

He dipped a nacho and said, "For a writer, you use a lot of slang."

"Yeah, my vocabulary is like, er, um, whatever. I couldn't get hired until somebody invented Grammarly."

I grabbed the edge of his table to ward off a spasm of beverage whiplash and asked my question of the day, "Do you horse-breeder people have a secret plan if the casinos get decoupled and the state funding goes up in flames?”

“Secret plan? Like what?”

“Like going private.”

“Not following?”

“I’m a customer, not a whale, just a minnow. But let me tell you what I don’t need.” I counted on my fingers, “I don’t care about winter racing, claiming racing, older horses racing, commercial racetracks, grand circuit racing, and several other parts of the sport.”

“You are a local stakes racing guy.”

“Yes. Overnight racing is another species. All I want is to buy a yearling and have a chance that my yearling has some success.

I want that yearling to race at ages 2, 3, and maybe 4, from May through October. Nothing else matters to me.”

Adam scratched his head, “Have you researched privatization?”

I nodded, “Extensively, 15 minutes ago, between margaritas, using my phone. Let me read our conversation when I asked about a private racing program.”

I read from my phone:

Creating a private racing program is an ambitious but feasible idea. Let’s look at the Pennsylvania state racing program as a reference to give you a sense of the numbers involved. The Pennsylvania Sire Stakes program is one of standardbred racehorses’ most prominent state-based programs. The program offers substantial purses, funded through slot machine revenue and other sources. To establish a similar purse structure, you would need to consider the following factors...

A graphic with a dark blue background and a white diagonal banner. The banner contains the word "SUPPORT" in large, bold, blue letters. Below the banner, the words "YOUR LOCAL HARNESS TRACK" are written in large, bold, white letters. At the bottom, the hashtag "#BETONHARNESS" is written in large, bold, blue letters, followed by the logo for the Ohio Horse Racing Update (OHRO), which features a horse and the text "OHRO HARNESS RACING UPDATE".

“All I want is to buy a yearling and have a chance that my yearling has some success. I want that yearling to race at ages 2, 3, and maybe 4, from May through October. Nothing else matters to me.”

~ Trey

“Blah, blah, blah. I’ll skip the details.”

In summary, while creating a private racing program is feasible, it requires planning, collaboration, and funding. The number of horses needed would depend on the number of races and the average field size, but a rough estimate would be around 500 horses annually for a program with 50 races per year.

Adam asked, “And you think breeding farms should operate the entire program?”

“At least have some plans for a big pivot if the racing scene gets ugly. You people could create a world of your own. Here’s some follow-up. I asked if a private racing program could exist without factoring in state boundaries and if a collaboration of farms or a non-racing state could set up a private racing program. If the harness racing program is without gambling, can the sport regulate itself?”

I handed him my phone and let him read the reply.

“A private racing program without gambling could regulate itself to streamline the project.”

I went for my big finish, “You are a big-picture guy. Set up a Plan B. Maybe you use it or don’t, but if stuff hits the fan, you can do whatever you want - be agile, be fun, and make an excellent product specifically for your customers. You raise the horses, market the yearlings, run the races, and even help repurpose horses after the 4-year-old season. Be like a private country club in golf. Rock the world, man!”

Adam returned my phone and asked, “Exactly how many margaritas have you had?”

“Dos. When I reach Tres, I’ll give you more madness and my car keys.”

Ontario SIRE STAKES REPORT

Monalishi returns to winning form, powers to victory in OSS Gold Series for sophomore trotting fillies

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

O'Brien Award winner Monalishi posted her first Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Series victory of the year, taking the $140,000 Leg 2 event for sophomore trotting fillies on Friday (June 20) at Woodbine Mohawk Park in 1:52.3.

James MacDonald piloted the daughter of Green Manalishi S—Pretty Phylly G into third out of post 4 in the early going as Exquisite Taste (JR Plante) took the early lead through the opening fraction of :27.2, followed sharply by Leg 1 Gold Series winner Sprite Seelster (Tyler Borth) who left well out of the 10-hole.

Near the :56 half, Borth made his move with Sprite Seelster and MacDonald followed his cover to the front. Monalishi, the 9-5 favorite, led from there, hitting the three-quarters in 1:24.4 and opening up in the lane to win by 2¼ lengths. Exquisite Taste was second and Sprite Seelster third. Roxie Seelster and Foxy Amee picked up the final two checks, respectively.

Replay here.

"Ideally, [Monalishi's] best trip isn't on the front, but just the way the race sets up," MacDonald told Woodbine broadcaster John Rallis. "You have to kind of take what the race gives you, and JR got away well, and got in between Tyler and I. I thought [Monalishi was] the best horse in the race when she's right and I wanted to give her the best shot to win.

"Around the last turn, she swelled up. And I would say that was probably as good an effort as I've ever seen her have, other than maybe [last year's] Peaceful Way. That night she was unbelievable, but this is a good sign heading into the middle of her season, and hopefully she has a big year.

"There's nothing better than driving great horses. This is what we grind all winter for to sit behind these great ones, and just a lucky guy gets to sit behind quite a few of them."

Monalishi is trained and owned, in part, by Blake MacIntosh who shares her ownership with Tim Klemencic of Trenton, ON.

MacIntosh said he was disappointed with Monalishi's first few starts this year. She was second in the $136,513 SBOA final on May 17 and fifth in her first $140,000 Gold Series event on May 26.

"We pulled her blood after her last start and everything was a little low, and she just wasn't sharp," MacIntosh said. "So, we worked on that all for the last couple weeks. I brought her [to Woodbine Mohawk Park] on Tuesday and trained her a big back half in like :55 and I knew she was back to herself. I just hoped she'd prove it tonight. She did, obviously."

The mile of 1:52.3, one-fifth-of-a-second off her lifetime best.

Monalishi, bred by Shmuel Farhi of London, ON, increased her lifetime bankroll to $685,879 and her seasonal account to $123,063. She is now 2-1-0 in four starts in 2025 and 8-3-0 in 14 career outings. The Ontario-sired trotter was a $28,000 purchase from the 2023 Standardbred Horse Sales Company's yearling auction in Harrisburg, PA and was named Canada's 2-Year-Old Trotting Filly of the Year at the O'Brien Awards.

New York SIRE STAKES REPORT

Favorites romp in New York Sire Stakes at Yonkers

by Yonkers Raceway media

The New York Sire Stakes circuit was at MGM Yonkers Raceway for the first time in 2025 on Thursday (June 19) with the first leg of action for 2-year-old colt and gelding pacers.

In the first $77,300 split Quickaway (Yannick Gingras) pressed on two-wide to the lead past the :28.2 quarter and after a 58 second half-mile station and a 1:27.2 three-quarters, he drew off in a :28.1 final panel to win by 6¼ lengths in 1:55.3. Killing Joke (Braxten Boyd) was second and Lakewood Nick (Jason Bartlett) came in third.

Quickaway, an American Ideal—Logan's Girl colt bred by Winbak Farm, won in his pari-mutuel debut for trainer Blake Macintosh and owners Ozzie Mackay and Gilles Landry. He paid $2.50 to win as the favorite and led an $11.20 exacta and a $31 trifecta.

Casper The Ghost (Ray Schnittker) cut the quarter in :28.3 in the other $77,300 flight and then yielded to a pocket-popping Ideal Rebel (Tyler Buter) beyond that marker. Ideal Rebel would go on to hit the half in :58.3 but Fragment (Bartlett) attacked first-over out of third after the half and went by Ideal Rebel to take command after three-quarters went on the board in 1:26.4. It was all Fragment to the finish as he scored by four lengths in 1:55.1 with Hunt Off The Press (Scott Zeron) up for second and Casper The Ghost third.

During the race, a two-horse accident occurred near three-quarters as Unmatched Wisdom (Jordan Stratton) fell and Knoxville (Mark MacDonald), who was following his cover, couldn't avoid him. Both horses got up and returned to the paddock. Stratton was able to continue driving on the card but MacDonald booked off the remainder of his drives.

Per Engblom trains Fragment, a colt by Huntsville and out of the Rocknroll Hanover mare The Show Returns, for owners Engblom Stable LLC. and Douglas Sipple. Fragment, bred by Steve Stewart, Black Creek Farm, Michael Robinson and South Mountain Stables, won at first asking and returned $3.80 to win as the favorite. He keyed a $9 exacta and a $35.80 trifecta.

Winning two $20,000 Excelsior Series contests were:

- Ghost Hunt (a Huntsville—Gray Ghost colt, paid $10.40 to win) in 1:59.1 for driver MacDonald, trainer Schnittker and co-owners/breeders Schnittker, David Pepin and Flintlock Farm Inc.

- Aggieville (a Huntsville—Certified Ideal gelding bred by Kiefer Elite Bldstock LLC., Martin Michalik and Jose Bisono paid $4.70 to win) in 1:57.3 for driver Buter, trainer Jenny Melander and owner Exceed Stables LLC.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday/Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Daley, Drennan lead the way at Magical Acres qualifiers

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Noel Daley sent out five winners and Nik Drennan had three as Magical Acres held its first of two sessions of qualifiers for 2-year-olds Thursday morning (June 19). The training center hosted a total of 11 races for the freshmen.

Daley won with pacing colts Callmebigpapi (Papi Rob Hanover—Dancethenightaway) and Signal Caller (Captaintreacherous—Square Dancer), trotting colt Highball Hanover (Bar Hopping—Hall Of A Dream), pacing filly Caviart Amore Mio (Captaintreacherous—Caviart Ally), and trotting filly Carve (Captain Corey—Alpine).

Todd McCarthy drove Callmebigpapi and Andrew McCarthy drove the remaining four Daley winners.

Caviart Amore Mio, whose mom earned nearly $2 million in her career and was a 2019 O'Brien Award winner, was Daley's fastest performer. The Caviart Farms homebred stopped the clock in 1:59, which was the day's second-quickest clocking.

Carve had the fastest time among trotters, with a 2:00.2 score. The filly, bred and owned by Diamond Creek Farm, is from the family of 2002 Dan Patch Award winner Pizza Dolce, which includes 2022 Trotter of the Year Bella Bellini and 2023 Dan Patch Award winner Bond.

Signal Caller won in 1:59.4, Callmebigpapi in 2:00.1, and Highball Hanover in 2:01.

Drennan's wins came with pacing colt Cobain (Perfect Sting—Must Read) and pacing fillies Infallible (Perfect Sting—Industrial Hemp) and Napalm (Perfect Sting—Fiery Beauty). David Miller was in the sulky for all three winners.

Infallible, purchased for $90,000 at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, had the morning's fastest time, with a 1:57.4 spin around Magical Acres' five-eighths-mile oval. The filly is from the family of Hall of Fame racehorse/broodmare Delinquent Account and Hall of Fame broodmare Arterra.

Napalm's family includes Hall of Fame broodmare Precious Beauty. She was purchased for $35,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. Joseph Davino, Patrick O'Brien, and Brad Shackman share ownership of Napalm, who was timed in 2:00.2. The same trio also owns Infallible, along with Anthony Perretti Farm.

Cobain, purchased for $42,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale, is from the family of 2009 Pacer of the Year Well Said. He is owned by Scott McKenzie, Drennan Stable, and Shackman. He won in 1:59.4.

Rounding out Thursday's 2-year-old winners were trotting colt Captain Vodka (Captain Corey—Agro Dolce) in 2:02.2 for driver Miller and trainer Nifty Norman, and trotting fillies Islandgirl Hanover (Captain Corey—Island Lily) in 2:04.2 for trainer/driver Trond Smedshammer and Southwind Chaska (Tactical Landing—Southwind Chai) in 2:03 for trainer/driver Jim Oscarsson.

Captain Vodka's second dam is Bella Dolce, the mom of Bella Bellini. He was purchased for $60,000 at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale and is owned by Melvin Hartman, Philip Steinberg, and Rojan Stables.

The second session of 2-year-old qualifiers at Magical Acres is scheduled for June 26.

USTA findings and conclusions in the matters of Jenkins, Wagner, McLenaghan, Mulkern, Wisher, Jr.

by USTA communications department

On May 30, 2025, the United States Trotting Association (USTA), following an investigation by the Standardbred Racing Investigative Fund (SRIF), sanctioned John, Pamela, and Kelsey Wagner for fraudulently transferring registered standardbreds to Kelsey to avoid the consequences of John's suspension by state racing officials after seven horses he trained tested positive for prohibited substances. SRIF uncovered additional misconduct in connection with the Wagners' fraudulent transfers, and the USTA has entered rulings imposing sanctions against those involved.

FINDINGS:

On Feb. 6, 2025, Kelsey Wagner transferred 11 registered standardbred racehorses to her aunt, Connie Jenkins, doing business as "Lucky Lilly Belle Stable." All 11 horses had previously been transferred to Kelsey from Pamela or John Wagner in 2024. Jenkins became a USTA member in January 2025 and created Lucky Lilly Belle Stable in February 2025. These and other circumstances surrounding the Wagner family caused racing officials to question the legitimacy of the transfers.

In April 2025, Rosecroft Raceway began requesting documentation to verify ownership for certain entries, including specifically horses eligible for the Maryland Sire Stakes. Jenkins intended to race her horses in these stakes and submitted records to officials at Rosecroft to substantiate the legitimacy of her ownership. Jenkins' trainer and driver, Stacey McLenaghan and Corey Braden, also produced records to Rosecroft. McLenaghan and Braden are close associates of John Wagner and maintain a training facility near the Wagner farm.

The records Jenkins provided track officials included an invoice for the 11 horses she acquired from Kelsey Wagner, charging $45,500 for the initial transfer and a balance of $50,100 due after the horses qualified. McLenaghan and Braden provided training bills for the horses, and copies of checks were produced. Jenkins also gave racing officials what purported to be a bank record for a Wells Fargo account in the name of Lucky Lilly Belle Stable ("Wells Fargo Summary" or "Summary"), intended to corroborate the invoices and payment records given to track officials. After receiving these documents, Rosecroft allowed Jenkins' horses to compete.

SRIF undertook its own investigation. In response to record requests, SRIF received deficient productions from Jenkins, McLenaghan, and Braden consisting largely of the same records they produced to Rosecroft. SRIF persisted, and after repeated requests and notification of a possible suspension of their USTA membership for non-compliance, SRIF received unredacted bank statements, payment information, and communications. These records confirmed that Jenkins and McLenaghan provided manipulated records to Rosecroft and SRIF/the USTA pertaining to the payment for the horses Jenkins purchased and the training arrangement between Jenkins and McLenaghan/Braden. Most notable was that the Wells Fargo Summary produced by Jenkins was a fabrication containing false information.

On April 15, 2025, it was announced that to qualify for Maryland Sire Stakes, Rosecroft was requiring documentation to verify ownership of any horses acquired since Jan. 1, 2024. Evidence obtained by SRIF established that the following day, April 16, 2025, McLenaghan emailed backdated February and March training bills to Jenkins, which were paid the following day with backdated checks written from the Lucky Lilly Belle Stable account. Braden picked up those checks at the Wagner farm after getting a call from John that they were ready and deposited them on April 17 and 18, 2025.

The Wells Fargo Summary falsely indicated one of these checks was deposited on an earlier date and contained numerous other inaccuracies, including that several other deposits occurred earlier than they did. According to the Summary and a check produced by Jenkins for the $45,500 payment to Kelsey, this payment occurred in late January 2025, but authentic bank statements for the Lucky Lilly Belle account obtained by SRIF showed the account was not opened until February 2025. The Summary contained other inaccuracies, such as overstating the total deposits into the account. The (false) figures on the document did not even add up correctly, being off by $500. Although created to appear like an official bank record, the erroneous entries and irregular layout of the Wells Fargo Summary clearly established that it was not an authentic document.

When McLenaghan was first asked whether the invoices to Jenkins for training services were created after Rosecroft demanded records on April 15, 2025, she denied this, and indicated she believed the February invoice was sent sometime in March and that the dates and timing reflected in these records were unrelated to the Rosecroft issue. In a subsequent interview held after SRIF obtained records and communications inconsistent with her initial statement, McLenaghan acknowledged that she lied in her initial interview.

McLenaghan admitted that once Rosecroft announced on April 15 that it was requiring records to race in the Sire Stakes, she emailed Pam Wagner for Jenkins' contact information and on April 16, emailed backdated training invoices to Jenkins.

McLenaghan and Braden further explained that other than a conversation between Jenkins, Braden, and John Wagner in which Jenkins agreed to a training and driving arrangement with McLenaghan and Braden, neither of them ever spoke to Connie Jenkins. They also explained that the initial financial arrangement was not to bill Jenkins for boarding and training costs, but that McLenaghan and Braden would get 30 per cent and Jenkins 70 per cent of the purse winnings Jenkins would be entitled to as an owner of the horses (this was in addition to the 5 per cent share of purses they would receive for training and driving the horses, respectively). Once officials at Rosecroft began scrutinizing ownership of Sire Stakes horses, they switched to billing for the per-day cost of boarding and training. This change was only discussed by Braden with John Wagner and never with Jenkins.

When asked about the misrepresentation in the Wells Fargo Summary, Jenkins explained that Pam Wagner created the document and misrepresented the underlying financial activity, and that they created and submitted the Summary "in a moment of panic, given the pressure and confusion surrounding the investigation." Jenkins stated the Summary was intended to more accurately reflect the timeline of the events in question and not to deceive. Contrary to Jenkins' explanation, however, record evidence and the statements of McLenaghan and Braden established that the Wells Fargo Summary sought to corroborate a timeline of events that never occurred.

Regarding communications, Jenkins only produced the April 16 emails from McLenaghan that accompanied the invoices and one other short email with McLenaghan, and claimed she had no other written communications with anyone else about the horses, including the Wagners. She stated that McLenaghan would call her with updates on how her horses were training and other matters. That was not true according to McLenaghan's statement that she never once spoke with Jenkins.

Jenkins' resistance to providing SRIF with authentic and complete records and information, production of manipulated financial records, incredible explanations concerning these records and the events at issue, absence of communication with the trainers and caretakers of her horses, refusal to participate in an interview with SRIF's investigator, and other issues caused SRIF to question the source of funds used to purchase the eleven horses from Kelsey Wagner and the legitimacy of Jenkins' ownership. These concerns were elevated after SRIF discovered that John Wagner was using a previously undisclosed bank account in connection with the horses transferred to Kelsey and for which SRIF did not receive records. When records were demanded from that account, John canceled his USTA membership in response to notice from the USTA that he would be indefinitely suspended for not providing them.

Jenkins gave SRIF a bank record documenting the initial transfer of over $100,000 into the Lucky Lilly Belle account from another account in her name, which she stated was the source of funds used to purchase the horses from Kelsey. SRIF requested records from this other account to confirm that the transferred funds did not originally come from someone other than Jenkins. Jenkins resisted producing these records, and SRIF narrowed their request in recognition of Jenkins' protest. Despite this attempt at accommodation, Jenkins did not produce the bank records from this account and on June 5, 2025, the USTA indefinitely suspended her membership.

An additional investigation associated with the Wagners concerned Ashley Mulkern, who worked in various capacities for the Wagners. SRIF investigated the transfer of two horses to Mulkern in early 2025. One was transferred from Kelsey Wagner, without payment, in January 2025. The other was purchased on Feb. 14, 2025, for $6,400 using John Wagner's account at an online auction. Although John was the winning bidder, ownership of the horse was transferred directly to Mulkern from the prior owner on Feb. 18, 2025.

Mulkern informed SRIF that her parents gave her $7,000 cash to purchase the horse and that she used John Wagner's online auction account because she did not have one of her own. Initially, Mulkern claimed she lacked financial records for the transaction because she paid the prior owner in cash for the horse and her parents would not provide SRIF with their bank records related to the money they gifted her. Mulkern's response to SRIF's record request was deficient in other respects and as a result, after repeated notice and continued non-compliance, on May 22, 2025, the USTA indefinitely suspended her USTA membership.

Following her suspension, Mulkern directed SRIF to the seller to confirm her description of the transaction. The seller told SRIF's investigator that he received a $6,400 check (not cash) as payment for the horse. The seller also said that a few days earlier, he got a call from Mulkern in which she advised him he may be contacted by SRIF and asked him to tell SRIF's investigator that she paid cash for the horse, which was false. The seller told SRIF the truth, however, saying that there was no way he would lie on behalf of Mulkern and jeopardize his USTA membership.

SRIF thereafter instructed Mulkern to provide a copy of the check used to purchase the horse. In response, Mulkern provided a cashier's check issued to the seller from a bank account controlled by John Wagner, with the memo line indicating it was from Mulkern. Mulkern ultimately submitted to an interview with SRIF in which she explained the background of the transaction and admitted she lied when she told SRIF she paid cash for the horse and that she asked the seller to lie about the source of funds because she was worried about problems that may arise because of John Wagner's involvement. Notwithstanding the lie Mulkern told SRIF regarding the cash payment, SRIF believes the transfer of the horse to Mulkern was legitimate.

SRIF's investigation also included Adrian Wisher, Jr., who worked with the Wagners and was a trainer and driver-of-record for horses affiliated with the Wagners and Ashley Mulkern. SRIF requested information and records concerning Wisher's work with Wagner-affiliated horses and individuals and inquired into Wisher's acquisition of a horse previously owned by someone who, like John Wagner, received a 360-day suspension from the Maryland Racing Commission after horses he trained tested positive for prohibited substances. Wisher's record production was deficient and on May 22, 2025, the USTA indefinitely suspended his membership.

CONCLUSIONS:

CONNIE JENKINS

Currently, Connie Jenkins' USTA membership is indefinitely suspended for violating USTA Rule § 26.16 because she refused to provide bank records that were necessary to confirm the legitimacy of her acquisition of the eleven Standardbred racehorses she purportedly purchased from the Wagners. Jenkins' refusal to provide these records undermines the integrity of the industry by calling into the question the legitimacy of the registration of the horses in question. Jenkins' USTA membership will remain suspended indefinitely. If she wishes to address her suspension in the future or avail herself of any USTA membership privileges, Jenkins will have to satisfy her obligation to produce the records in question. If that occurs, the investigation will be reopened, and the USTA will take any additional action it deems appropriate.

Independent of her indefinite suspension for failing to provide records under Rule 26.16, Jenkins violated USTA Rule § 20.06 governing fraudulent misconduct as this Rule applied at the time in question by producing false, fabricated, and manipulated financial records to racing officials and the USTA to allow her horses to run in the Maryland Sire Stakes at Rosecroft Raceway and mislead the USTA and others in their investigations. She engaged in deceptive and fraudulent conduct affecting the outcome of a race and otherwise injurious to the sport. She violated USTA Rule § 20.07 governing conspiracy as this Rule applied at the time in question by agreeing with Pamela Wagner to submit the false and fraudulent document to track officials and by taking acts to carry out this agreement/conspiracy.

At the time the underlying conduct was committed, US Trotting's maximum fine for rule violations was $5,000. Jenkins will receive a fine of $5,000 for violating USTA Rules §§ 20.06 and 20.07, for a total fine of $10,000.

PAMELA WAGNER

For her involvement in the Wagner bearding conspiracy, Pamela Wagner received a total fine of $435,000 and her USTA membership was suspended indefinitely. Pamela Wagner also fabricated a false bank statement with her sister, Connie Jenkins, to deceive track officials into allowing Jenkins' horses to run in the Maryland Sire Stakes. That scheme was successful. Pamela Wagner violated USTA Rules §§ 20.06 and 20.07 and will receive an additional fine of $5,000 for each offense, which is the maximum fine allowed under the rules in effect at the time she committed the misconduct in question, for a total fine of $10,000.

STACEY MCLENAGHAN

Stacey McLenaghan admitted she lied to SRIF's investigator when initially asked whether records submitted to Rosecroft Raceway were backdated and otherwise presented to address track officials' demand for proof regarding the ownership of horses entered in the Maryland Sire Stakes. In so doing, she violated USTA Rule 20.06 governing fraudulent misconduct by a member. For this offense, McLenaghan will receive a fine in the amount of $5,000.

ASHLEY MULKERN

Ashley Mulkern admitted she lied to SRIF in connection with her acquisition of a registered Standardbred because she was trying to avoid SRIF/the USTA learning that the purchase was linked to John Wagner. Mulkern later solicited a fellow USTA member to also lie to SRIF about the transaction, which he refused to do. In so doing, she violated USTA Rule 20.06 governing fraudulent misconduct by a member. For this offense, Mulkern will receive a "time served" suspension from today's date back to May 22, 2025, when she was indefinitely suspended for noncompliance with USTA Rule 26.16. Because Mulkern has come into compliance with SRIF's record and information request, her indefinite suspension under USTA Rule 26.16 is hereby terminated. No fine will be imposed.

ADRIAN WISHER, JR.

Adrian Wisher, Jr., failed to produce records and information as requested by SRIF and on May 22, 2025, the USTA indefinitely suspended his membership under USTA Rule 26.16. Because of deficiencies in Wisher's record production, SRIF and the USTA could not reach a definitive conclusion on his actions connected to the Wagners. For example, Wisher never produced complete, unredacted bank statements, which left SRIF unable to reconcile his financial activities in relation to the conduct under investigation. Despite Wisher's lack of compliance, SRIF has completed its investigation. Therefore, the USTA will hereby terminate Wisher's indefinite suspension and impose a 15-day suspension under USTA Rule 26.16 to commence on today's date.

Connie Jenkins, Pamela Wagner, Stacey McLenaghan, Ashley Mulkern, and Adrian Wisher are entitled to appeal these rulings to the executive committee of the United States Trotting Association board of directors by stating their intention to appeal, in writing, to the executive vice president within 30 days from the date of these rulings.

In addition, because Connie Jenkins and Pamela Wagner remain indefinitely suspended, they are "person[s] not in good standing" under USTA Rule 4.130. Horses and USTA members associated with Connie Jenkins and Pamela Wagner are subject to the applicable restrictions under USTA Rules 20.15, 20.17, 22.05, 22.06, and 26.12. To ensure compliance with the USTA's rules and bylaws, the USTA advises its members to consult with officials at the USTA before participating in transactions or engaging in business activities involving registered standardbreds with Connie Jenkins or Pamela Wagner.

It is so ordered.

Game changers: Cosington

by Matthew Lomon / Woodbine communications

Once a week, throughout the Mohawk racing season, Woodbine will profile a horse who has had a life-changing impact on one of their closest connections.

This week, driver Carter Gimblett and Cosington, the bay trotter who inspired his love for the game from an early age.

While the fourth-year reinsman was too young to have ever raced the bay trotter his father Todd and grandfather John purchased more than two decades ago, Cosington's impact on a wide-eyed toddler resonated more profoundly than any triumph on the track ever could.

Cosington

Foaled: March 9, 1999

Sire: Malabar Man

Dam: Classical Speed

Wins-Seconds-Thirds: 20-12-16

Earnings: $471,708

Trainer: Dave Menary

Owner: Todd Gimblett

Breeder: Armstrong Bros.

When did you realize Cosington was going to be a special horse for you?

"This is a horse that my father and grandfather bought back when I was only 2 years old. At that time, I didn't know much about horse racing other than it was horses – but Cosington's the one that, anytime my dad would take me into the barn, I'd always find myself hanging around with. He's the first horse that I got attached to.

"He was one that gave my family their first chance at racing on the Grand Circuit and racing at the top level, even at Mohawk back then. He was just a really, really nice horse to be around."

What race of his was most meaningful to you and why?

"There were a bunch. He won a race at The Meadowlands in the Horse and Groom Series [Feb. 29, 2004]. That one was pretty special to them. And then, getting to compete in races like the Breeders Crown, the Nat Ray, they had another series back in the day called The Horsemen's Trotting Series. He raced very well in that series, too. There were a number of them.

New Image Media
Cosington (Trevor Ritchie) winning at Woodbine in January of 2008.

"My father and grandfather bought him out of the Harrisburg Mixed Sale and gave him to Dave Menary to train – he trained him all throughout that year. It was through an owner's perspective, but he was their first really good horse."

Talk about his personality on and off the track.

"Off the track, he's the nicest horse you'd ever meet. He wouldn't hurt a fly. When I was young, I could walk right in the stall with him, and he wouldn't have a care in the world. All around, he was just a great horse to be around.

"Now, this comes from back when I was younger, but when he used to go to the track, it was game on. He knew it was time to race and he'd get pretty fired up and ready to go.

"He got claimed off them a couple of years later, but at the end of his career, my father bought him back and retired him. He just lived out the rest of his life as a pet for us, and he was an amazing horse. He's since passed away, but he's the horse that kind of started everything, and meant the world to me.

"He always had the biggest heart on him, and he just wanted to please."

Three words to describe him?

"Gentle. Kind. Willing."

How has he changed your life?

"He pretty much was the main reason why I'm as involved in harness racing as I am today. There's a lot of great things that I could say about him, but there's only so much you can say, right?

"I trace everything that I've done – even to the point where I wanted to become a driver and train – all back to him."

Twisted Destiny, Odds On No Limit win MGM Grand Messenger Stakes elims

Twisted Destiny and driver Dexter Dunn made good on a second-over trip to capture the first of two $25,000 eliminations for the MGM Grand Messenger Stakes at MGM Yonkers Raceway on Friday night (June 20). The Bettor's Wish-sired colt was a winner for the fourth time in five starts as a sophomore this year, pacing a 1:53 mile.

Action was fast and furious on the opening bend as just four of the eight horses would reach the final, and longshot Snack Attack and driver Joe Bongiorno raced three-wide on the opening bend to secure the lead coming off that turn. Scott Zeron, driving Manolete, allowed Bongiorno to clear and then marched up to gain control before the :27.3 opening quarter was reached.

Jordan Stratton also left the gate with purpose with Fast Choice, the 9-5 favorite, and waited for the smoke to clear before taking over the top spot into the second turn. Stratton applied the brakes with Fast Choice, and the recent third-place finisher in the North America Cup waltzed to the half in 57 seconds flat but gained company when Yannick Gingras pulled Jon I Love Dat to the outside and made a bold move to engage the leader.

Dunn had Twisted Destiny on the move as well, and he reached cover moving on the third turn while tracked intently by Dandy Ideal with Jason Bartlett in the bike. Fast Choice and Jon I Love Dat were on even-terms while sprinting through three-quarters in 1:24.4, but Dunn was comfortable in second-over position with the Chris Ryder-trained Twisted Destiny on the bit and ready to go. Dunn called on his charge and got an instant response, moving past the leaders in early stretch and safely holding Dandy Ideal at bay under mild encouragement. Manolete and Zeron found clearance to the inside and paced strongly to finish third with Fast Choice fading to fourth but reaching the final.

Owned by Let It Ride Stables, Alberg Racing and Enviro Stables, Twisted Destiny returned $6.40 to win and keyed a $33.60 exacta and $120.50 trifecta. Let It Ride Stables, Docs Farm and Mr. Dana Parham bred Twisted Destiny, a son of the top race mare Tug River Princess, a daughter of Badlands Hanover.

Odds On No Limit (Matt Kakaley) and Papi's Rocket (Yannick Gingras) blasted out of the gate from posts 6 and 8, respectively, with the latter hitting the front and the former landing in the pocket in the second $25,000 MGM Grand Messenger elimination. Behind that pair, Dunn took World Of Wishes to the pylons and settled in third, ahead of 2-5 favorite Thirsty Thursday.

Papi's Rocket cut fractions of :28.2 and :56.4 before seeing much competition. Tyler Buter moved Thirsty Thursday out at the half with Holt Hanover on his back and Meltdown Monte third-over. Papi's Rocket kept up the hot clip, pacing a 28 second flat third quarter and easily keeping the favorite at a distance.

On the final turn the top two separated from the rest of the field, with Odds On No Limit, a 6-1 shot, and Kakaley proving the best in 1:52.4. Papi's Rocket was well-clear in second, with World Of Wishes winning the photo for third as Banderas and Jordan Stratton weaved through traffic and crossed the wire with crisp pace.

Odds On No Limit, a son of Sweet Lou, is trained by Travis Alexander, whose stable has sent out three of the last four winners of this event, with Sweet Beach Life winning last year's edition. Kakaley won the Messenger in 2021 and 2022 with the Alexander trainees American Courage and Pleaseletmeknow, respectively.

Odds On No Limit is out of the Captaintreacherous-sired Odds On Clearwater and was bred by Odds On Nourrir. Odds On Racing and UFO2 share ownership. Odds On No Limit returned $15.40 to win and keyed a $100.50 exacta and $800 trifecta.

The Grade 2 $200,000 MGM Grand Messenger Stakes final, the Grade 2 $300,000 MGM Yonkers Trot final, and their companion filly races — the Grade 3 Park MGM Pace and Grade 3 New York New York Mile — are scheduled to take place on June 27. No eliminations were required for the MGM Yonkers Trot as the five entrants — Chat Room, Happy Jack B, Hard Seven, Super Chapter and Variegated — advanced straight to the final.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday/Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

3-year-old filly pacers in Buckeye Stallion Series action

Catch The Fire fillies took two of the five divisions of Buckeye Stallion Series action Friday (June 20) at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

Prolific Fire took the first race, first division of the evenings 16-race card in hot fashion – coming three-wide from last at the three-quarter pole to win in 1:51.2. Austin Hanners eased Prolific Fire off the gate from post 8 and sat chilly until the last quarter when she made her move going into the last turn. Midway through the last turn Prolific Fire was four-wide and used the momentum to slingshot to the lead and win by a half-length over Trunk Bay Hanover (Brett Miller); Angel in Paradise (Justin Irvine) was third. Prolific Fire was a $20,000 Ohio Selected Yearling Sale purchase who has now made $155,875 lifetime in 15 starts. Todd Luther trains the filly for Greg Luther Racing.

The other Catch The Fire winning filly was Survivin Fire, driven by Dan Noble for trainer Mike Hitchcock. Survivin Fire got the perfect 2-hole trip and came up the inside to win by a half-length over Odds On Collateral (Peter Wrenn); Seaside Lover (Chris Page) was third. Owned by William Hartt, Survivin Fire was a $24,000 purchase at the Buckeye Classic Yearling Sale and has now earned $56,400 in 18 lifetime starts.

Two other divisions went a speedy 1:51.2, with Bubbles Out (Page) and Romeo's Juliet (Miller), both homebreds, winning their respective races.

Bubbles Out got parked leaving from post 6, settled in third mid-way through the first turn and made a move to the front before the half. Leading the rest of the mile, Bubbles Out won by a length and three-quarters over a fast-closing Lorna Dune (Miller) and Sea Her Rule (Trevor Smith). The Trish Foulk trainee did not start at two, but in nine starts so far this season, Bubbles Out has earned $52,720. Foulk Stables owns and bred the Downbytheseaside filly.

Romeo's Juliet, by Rodeo Romeo, took the third division by a half-length over Maddie's Delite (Aaron Merriman) and Seaside Wishes (Kayne Kauffman). Leaving from post 5 to get away fourth, Romeo's Juliet came first up at the half and powered her way on the outside to win. Steve Bauder trains Rodeo's Juliet, owned and bred by Oompa's Farm and Robert Mondillo, who now has two wins in 12 lifetime starts and $23,920 in earnings.

The last division went to Judge Me Again who won by two lengths in 1:51.3. Smith eased the Western Vintage filly off the gate from post 2 to settle in fifth. Sitting in until the top of the stretch, Judge Me Again found room late to come up the passing lane and get the victory for trainer Chris Beaver who co-owns the filly with Jim Burnett, Leo Fleming and Tim Homan. A $24,000 purchase at the Buckeye Classic sale, Judge Me Again now has $34,962 earned in 16 lifetime starts.

KNAPPENBERGER FINAL TO OHOH OH IM ON FIRE: Ohohoh Im On Fire made it three-for-three in the Jerry Knappenger series at Eldorado Scioto Downs, winning the $30,000 final on Thursday (June 19) in 1:51.4.

Leaving from post 2, Austin Hanners got Ohohoh Im On Fire straight to the top and never looked back – setting fractions of :26.2, :55.3 and 1:24.1. The Todd Luther trainee posted a :27.3 last quarter to win by a neck over Southern Rockfest (Luke Hanners); Spiritshappyending (Brett Miller) was third.

Ohohoh Im On Fire did not start at 2 but now has four wins in nine starts this season with $50,250 in earnings. The Catch The Fire colt, who was a $45,000 purchase at the 2023 Ohio Selected Yearling Sale, is owned by Greg Luther Racing.

Four divisions of the Buckeye Stallion Series for 3-year-old trotting fillies were also held on Scioto's Thursday card. There were four different drivers, four different trainers taking the $20,000 splits with each winner sired by a different stallion.

Youthful Kemp (Aaron Merriman) took the first division in 1:54.3. Leaving from post 9, the What The Hill filly got away sixth at the :27.2 opening quarter and came first up through the :56.2 half. By the 1:24.4 third-quarter Youthful Kemp made the top and coasted home to win by three lengths over pocket-sitter Sweet Rose' (Chris Lems); Iwillmakeuproud AS (Dan Noble) was third. Youthful Kemp, a $25,000 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale purchase, now has three wins in 12 lifetime starts for owner Robert Beachy and trainer Bill Rhoades.

Brink Street (Chris Page) got away eighth in the second division through the :28 opening quarter and :55.4 half. Going three-wide at the 1:25.3 third quarter, Brink Street made up huge ground to win by a length over Travel Nurse (Brett Miller); Spiritual Faith (Emanuel Miller) got up for third. Brink Street was a $40,000 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale purchase who has now made $75,610 in 13 lifetime starts. The Long Tom Filly is trained by Ron Burke for Burke Racing, Hatfield Stables, Weaver Brussemi and Knox Services.

In The End (Noble) was a gate-to-wire winner when she took the third division in 1:55 for breeder/owner/trainer Anette Lorentzon. The Lionhunter filly now has four straight victories after posting fractions of :28, :57 and 1:25.3 to win comfortably by seven lengths over Wild Child Annie (Justin Irvine); Mona Lisa Hill (Lems) was third.

The final division was won by Pelican Hanover (Kurt Sugg) in 1:54.4. The Uncle Peter filly floated off the gate from post 6 and made the front by the first turn. Leading through the :28.3 quarter, Sugg let Dublins Dragonfly (Miller) briefly take the lead coming under the wire for the first time but quickly took over by the :57.2 half. Fervor (Tyler Smith) made a hot bid going to the 1:26.2 third quarter but Pelican Hanover held her off to win by 2¾ lengths over Dublins Dragonfly; Fervor was third. Pelican Hanover, a $20,000 Harrisburg purchase, is owned by Cool Cat Racing and Bob Troyer. Miles Wollam trains the four-time winner in 13 lifetime starts.

The 90-day 2025 Eldorado Scioto Downs race meet runs through Sept. 13. Races are held Tuesday-Saturday with a 5:45 p.m. first post. A special 3:15 p.m. post time will be on the 4th of July and 6:45 p.m. on Sept. 12 to help accommodate horsemen attending the Ohio Selected Yearling Sale. More information about racing at Scioto can be found on the Eldorado Scioto Downs website.

R Dutchess wire-to-wire in Big M feature

R Dutchess rebounded from a neck loss in her seasonal debut one week ago with a wire-to-wire score in the Friday night (June 20) feature at The Meadowlands, a $17,500 high-end conditioned trot.

The 3-year-old daughter of Father Patrick—The Ice Dutchess was permitted to cut sleepy fractions of :29.3, :58.3 and 1:26.3 racing on the front end after an alert getaway from post 6 in the seven-horse field, which left plenty in the tank for the stretch drive as the John Butenschoen trainee sprinted her final quarter in :26.2 to record a somewhat nerve-racking head win over a fast-closing, pocket-sitting Voguish. Greenma was third. The time for the mile was 1:53.

“She did what we asked her to do,” said winning driver Tim Tetrick. “There was no pressure tonight. We are just trying to get her ready for the big events. We put her on the front and did what we had to do.

“These are building blocks for bigger races. It was a good effort and she held on. She’s one of the better fillies out there. She’s got high speed. Hopefully, on Hambo Day [in the Hambletonian Oaks], she sets up and she’s good and we have a good shot at it.”

R Dutchess won for the fourth time in 14 lifetime tries while lifting her lifetime earnings to $185,060. She returned $2.40 to win as the 1-5 favorite.

KERN COLLECTS FIRST PLACE: Del Kern and Gary Scogna both hit big early — by having winning tickets on the 20-cent Pick-5 — and held on by a considerable margin to take first- and second-place, respectively, in the sixth edition of the 2025 Meadowlands Monthly Handicapping Contest, which goes for cash prizes totaling $1,000.

Kern finished the night with a bankroll of 1,902.42, which earned him the first prize of $500, while Scogna tallied $1,342.42, to take home $250.

The duo have now earned entry into the year-end invitational contest, which takes place on Dec. 13. That competition will be limited to 22 players vying for $10,000 in cash prizes. Scogna is in good shape, as he’s now earned two entries into the year-end competition.

A LITTLE MORE: Johnathan Ahle and Vinny Ginsburg led the driver colony with two winners each... Louisville GB rallied from third-over to take the $17,500 pacing feature for fillies and mares for driver Andy McCarthy and trainer Robert Cleary in 1:50.2 as the 2-1 public choice... All-source handle on the 14-race program totaled $2,591,954.

Miller brings home four stake winners

Marcus Miller made a triumphant return to his old “home” track by driving four winning horses at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Friday’s (June 20) Violet and Cardinal stakes for Illinois bred 3-year-old pacers and trotters.

The 36-year-old Miller grew up in nearby Sherman, IL and spent a good portion of his early driving years competing at the Springfield facility before heading out to the east coast.

Miller won with Kays In Charge, Louise’s Legacy, Fox Valley Jasmine, and Dialogue.

The much-anticipated duel between the top-rated pair of state-bred sophomore trotting fillies turned out to be a convincing victory for Kays In Charge, nicely handled by Miller, over the third-place finisher Lous My Number (Casey Leonard) in the second Violet split.

Both fillies, along with the runner-up Gypsy Rose Lou (Curt Grummel), left hard with last year’s champion Lous My Number making the top and Kays In Charge taking the winning pocket trip. The Tom Simmons trained Kays In Charge motored past in the stretch while taking a new lifetime mark of 1:56.3 for owner Marty Engel of Northbrook, IL.

What A Legacy, driven by her trainer Mike Brink, showed what she can do with a flat mile, and powered her way to a comfortable win in the first division of the Violet for ICF 3-year-old trotting fillies.

The daughter of Lou’s Legacy raced first over to the front-stepping Almost Home (Miller) and still easily zipped past in the lane. Lous Avalon (Wyatt Avenatti) came on for second in the 1:57.2 mile.

The $47,747 divisions of the Cardinal trots were next, and Miller was back in the winner’s circle after guiding last season’s freshman champ Louise’s Legacy to his sixth consecutive triumph in the first split. The pacesetter One Trip Chip (Archie Buford) took the bridesmaid role.

The Tom Simmons trained Frontier Macho (Leonard) was all-out to remain unbeaten in 2025, holding off the late rushes of Sunburnt Silverado (Miller) and DJ’s Midnight (Mike Cox).

An early move from sixth to first put Frontier Macho in command where he was well rated to his fourth straight win, this one in 1:57.4, a new mark for the son of Class Included.

A trio of $33,341 divisions of the Violet pace followed Driver Wyatt Avenatti hustled Fox Valley Starlet out from the 7-slot with a :27.2 first panel and the Rob Rittorf trainee has no trouble going wire-to-wire in 1:53.3, a career fastest mile. Robintino (Miller) came on strong in the late going to grab second.

Miller used a backside move for his pacer to grind his way to the front with Fox Valley Jamine where the Erv Miller trained filly had more than enough in the tank to put away the second Violet split with a 1:55.4 clocking. I Love My Captain (Travis Seekman) was second best over a late-closing Jezibell Mooss (Juan Franco).

Defending filly titleholder Thebeautifulthings made her first start of the year against Illinois bred an easy victory for driver Kyle Husted, despite being used a couple of times.

The Amy Husted trained filly had been racing in Canada against the best open company distaffers in North America in the Fan Hanover. Under a hold at the end of a 1:55 mile. Thebeautifulthings was four-plus lengths the best Friday.

Three $331,165 groupings of the Cardinal pace for colts and geldings concluded the 10-race program.

Marcus perfectly rated Dialogue to his 1:52.3 mile and ended Battlin Bob's (Seekman) three race winning streak in the first division, Miller used the rail to get command and Dialogue, from the barn of trainer Kimberley Roth, sped to a :27.1 first panel and paced a :27 flat last quarter to seal the one-length victory.

Leonard gave Dandy's Freedom an up-close journey and the Terry Leonard trained gelding responded with a 1:54 flat victory in the second Cardinal division, more than a full second off the homebred's previous fastest mile.

As expected, the 2024 Illinois Horse of the Year Cash Money Twenty drew off to give Casey a driving triple for the day in the third heat. The 1:53.1 mile was the Mike Brink trainee's 13th win in 14 trips to the starting gate.

Breakfast With The Babies week three

Breakfast With The Babies, sponsored by Fashion Farms, got underway over a fast surface at The Meadowlands at 9 on a bright, sunny Friday morning (June 20), departing from the Saturday tradition. The temperature was a comfortable 75f but a considerable breeze, bordering on gusty wind was in their faces through the homestretch. Joe Romanelli called the action.

The day began with colt pacers and Tony Alagna sent out a winner with his first freshman foray of the season in Drink To That (Todd McCarthy). The Tall Dark Stranger—Tall Drink Hanover stood "tall" in the stretch, charging by on his own in a :28 sprint to end the 1:56.1 mile. Be Sting (Dave Miller/Joe Holloway) was a grinding first over to be a solid second under some Miller stretch rousing.

Drink To That is largely a Marvin Katz, Riverview Racing (Myron and Stephanie Bell), Tony Alagna homebred who passed through the Lexington sale for $47,000 with Alagna not retaining an interest.

Waldon Fashion (Todd McCarthy/Jim Campbell) was super impressive in her second Meadowlands win. Taken back to third in the early going, McCarthy slid the filly out late in turn two, engaged the leader and marched on by resolutely under no encouragement in 1:58.2, home in 28 seconds with Naachtun (Dexter Dunn/Marcus Melander) following along in second. The Walner filly from Broadway Donna is a Fashion Farms homebred.

The Courant, Inc (Anders Strom) homebred Next Big Think (Dunn/Melander) flashed good foot through the stretch, emerging from the pocket to flash by the leader and rolled on through the wire, ending the 1:57.3 mile with a 28 second close into the wind. R Holly (Scott Zeron/Linda Toscano) closed it up nicely late to be second. Next Big Think is a Greenshoe daughter of Iteration, a multiple stakes winning sister to Gimpanzee.

Nearly a million and a half dollars' worth of filly trotters teed it up in race 4 with the modestly priced $60,000 (LEX) Gimpanzee lass Ygritte (Dunn/Melander) setting all the fractions and holding off the stretch close of the great Manchego's little sister Patrona (Yannick Gingras/Nancy Takter) in 1:59. / :29.2. SRF Stable and Erik Good own Ygritte, bred by Ab Svensk Reklamfinans.

Ake Svanstedt drove the Wishing Stone colt Magic Punk to 1:59.1 win in race 5. Settling in second early on though moderate fractions then tipping off the leader as they turned for home, Magic Punk went by easily then held off the serious late charge of It Could Be Worse (Zeron/Toscano) with a :28.2 final panel. Magic Punk, Inc owns the Swedish bred colt.

It sure looked like Svanstedt was well on his way to another when he put Lion Hearted on the lead from the word go and was cruising mid-stretch when suddenly Onassis (Gingras/Takter) had him in his sights and went by through the :28.4 end to the 2:02.2 mile. Also of note, was the solid close from Miguel (Jimmy Takter/Nancy Takter) the Propulsion half to last year's Hambletonian winner Karl. Onassis is a $130,000 (LEX) Greenshoe from Sherry's Lady, owned by Michael Cote Gagnon's One Legend Racing, Joe Sbrocco and John Fodera as JAF Racing. Coyote Wynd Farm is the breeder.

Sarah Svanstedt had nary an anxious moment with Mr Penner in the seventh, putting the Captain Corey colt on the lead from the word go, continued through comfortable numbers then set him down for the drive to hold off Trumptactical (Josert Fonseca/Nancy Takter) through the :28.3 end to the 1:59.3 effort. A $200,000 (LEX) yearling, Mr Penner is owned by breeders Ake Svanstedt, Inc, Jeff Gural as Little E, LLC, along with Tristan Sjoberg as Knutsson Trotting, INC.

Nuance (Mattias Melander/Marcus Melander) was a solid 2:02 winner, emerging from a pocket ride to track down stablemate Noble Encore (Dunn) and repel the close of Bailey's Breeze (Zeron/Toscano) through the 29 second end of the mile. This daughter of Greenshoe—Hillarmbro was a $310,000 Hanover bred yearling purchased at Harrisburg by Courant, INC.

Zeron drove Nightcap Mearas S to a sharp 1:59.2 for trainer Lucas Wallin in the ninth. Content to follow Iberia IT through consistent fractions, Zeron tipped the Walner filly to the outside off the second turn, ground by the leader then held sway over Kate (Ake Svanstedt) through the :29.4 final quarter. Snogarps Gard, INC is the owner and breeder of the winner.

Pacers came along in the 10th and Bookie J (Dunn/Chris Ryder) was a 1:58 winner from just off the pace. Following the lead of Prime Hanover, then Caviart Cadet, Bookie J fanned for the drive and powered by through the 28 second final split. Caviart Cadet (Todd McCarthy/Alagna) held second with a closing Treacherous (Zeron/Alagna) rolling in third. Kenny Jacobs owns the winner, from the first crop of Perfect Sting, he was a $50,000 (LEX) Yankeeland Partners bred yearling.

Todd McCarthy steered Up In Place, a son of Lather Up, to a sharp 1:57.1 win for Alagna in the eleventh race. Third in the early going a Watchfire (Andy McCarthy/Alagna) set steady fractions, Up In Place accelerated quickly when shown racetrack and roared by through the :28.1 end well in hand. John Barnard owns the homebred winner.

Svanstedt Stable sent out a pacer to win race 12 when Snackcident (Dunn) set all the fractions and fought off the stretch challenge of Caviart Madrid (Gingras/Takter) in 1:56.4. The Papi Rob Hanover filly was a $50,000 (HBG) yearling, bred by Hanover and owned by the trainer in partnership with Roger Johan Jansson.

JK Fierce Lady won at first asking today for Dunn, right to the top at a :30 beat then a nice 28 second sprint home to score over Wave Dancer (Zeron/Toscano) in 1:57.2. Nancy Takter trains the Captaintreacherous homebred, first foal of world champion JK First Lady for Alan and Ronald Katz racing as 3 Brothers Stables.

The freshman finale on the day was all Lochinvar Matilda and Lauren Tritton from go to whoa in 1:56.4. Right to the front and on a strong lead throughout, Matilda was way the best and the rest of the girls couldn't catch up through the :28.1 final stanza. Lou'sbodaciousgirl (Zeron/Toscano) came the closest with a late rally to get second. Shane Tritton trains, he and Lauren own as Team Tritton and paid $35,000 (LEX) for the Captaintreacherous filly from breeders Spring Haven Farm and Douglas Millard.
