If a horse falls on the track and they don't show the replay, did it really happen?

by Bob Heyden

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

Doug McNair told us after the ninth race, the Roses Are Red final this past Saturday (June 17) at Woodbine Mohawk Park, that he went from lying on the track in the eighth race with Wheels On Fire that did not finish to just 20 minutes later talking about the fastest female mile in Canadian history, 1:47.4 with Grace Hill.

I'll have to take his word for what transpired in race 8.

After race 9, McNair took off his remaining drives.

Mark MacDonald told me the accident, "wasn't pretty. James [MacDonald] hit my back leg." Mark was driving Billy Clyde who finished sixth and was placed eighth and James drove Linedrive Hanover who finished third.

I guess so.

It was the $100,000 Mohawk Gold Cup Invitational. That I'm sure of.

What you didn't see was any replay of the accident that marred the finish of the eighth race. Abuckabett Hanover, Tattoo Artist and Linedrive Hanover finished 1-2-3, respectively.

Why no replay?

It appears – and this is not a Canadian or American thing – it's an industry-wide issue that we don't really deal with anything other than the good stuff. The last 15 years or so of standardbred racing has seen the Leave It To Beaver-ization of the sport. Would anyone like another piece of cream pie?

There were 13 races on Canada's biggest night, and 12 replays.

Ever watch a big cycling event from France? I have. Any mishap, likely a chain reaction or accident, is carefully scrutinized, replayed, dissected, you name it. It happens, and they cover it. Fully, and quite well.

Damar Hamlin from the Buffalo Bills had a cardiac event in an NFL game with the Cincinnati Bengals and the crowd and the entire sport, and then some, followed his progress and celebrated his comeback.

Last week, a player from the Boston Red Sox got hit with a line drive in the face playing the Yankees. He was hospitalized, and it was all over the news.

It happens. To pretend it doesn't is doing a monstrous disservice to the fans, the bettors, casual observers, everyone.

We just saw some of the best free-for-allers in the world, and the sport's very best drivers, scattered at the top of the stretch with several horses and drivers hitting the deck. Boom. Six, seven, eight seconds or so, and then out of view.

What happened? Was anyone hurt? Are the horses okay?

Instead of showing us anything, management decided that an announcement was okay and it was "12 minutes to race 9."

McNair drove Grace Hill to perfection and then took off his drives. What is the exact definition of okay?

It's called reporting, folks. Reporters want the full story and are trained to analyze all the facts. We don't need a hurried press release and a muted announcement that everything is good. Even if it is.

for him and he pulled through and 35 years later he drove in a Breeders Crown elim. But that accident brought on new rules for helmets and potential head injuries. Pylons came out in 1991 or so, depending on your track, for safety precautions. No more hub rails to worry about. Good idea.

The NFL began slo-motion replay in the late 1960s, the instant replay rule as of the 1986 season and have updated that today to the point of maybe too much. But they want to get it right. Good move.

How is not showing our best horses — $9.4 million in combined earnings lifetime — in the Mohawk Gold Cup, in the best interests of anyone? Can't we learn from the incident? Why 12 replays and not all 13? Because we might be turned off from the sport? It is real guys; it is a part of our sport. Drivers aren't wearing vests for style points.

To promote the sport as one that does not have risks — occasional accidents — is the height of irresponsibility. On March 23, 2003, John Campbell had a mishap in the first turn with Bonanza Alert. The sport's leading driver hurt his arm badly and missed some time. Imagine if this was flowered over and not covered.

I am not asking to promote a Joe Theisman/Lawrence Taylor-like broken leg ad nauseum. I am asking to be treated with the respect that all fans, bettors, casual observers and reporters deserve. The truth. The whole story. We do not have temporary amnesia. We saw it — it happened quickly — but we know for sure something happened out there.

We also know this is part of the sport. Forty-five of the 50 years since Secretariat's 31-length Belmont triumph, jockey Ron Turcotte has been paralyzed. Nobody wants this to happen. But we sure as heck want to see it again, and again, and collectively learn what may be done about it to prevent it from happening again. Without our heads in the sand.

Does it pay to Pace?

Supplementing to the Meadowlands Pace could be too much of an investment.

by Debbie Little

When It's My Show hit the wire first in the North America Cup on Saturday (June 17) at Woodbine Mohawk Park, a question was on many people's minds: Would the gelding be supplemented to the Meadowlands Pace?

There were even social media posts questioning why it wasn't asked in the Cup's post-race interview.

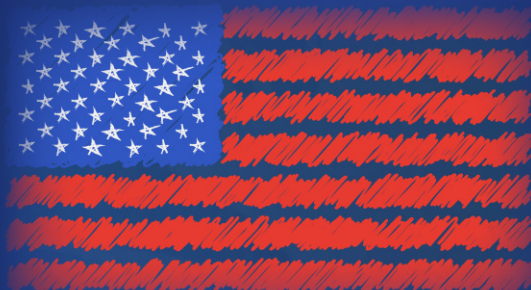

For co-owner Richard Young, that question was kicked around long before last weekend.

"Strangely enough, I've given it a lot of thought," Young said. "Well before the race, I thought I was going to win the North America Cup, and because I thought I was going to win it, the question was, 'Would I go to the Meadowlands Pace and pay that kind of money?' And it came down to, 'Did he dominate? Was he so much better that going [to the Pace] is a more or less a foregone conclusion?' And the answer to that is 'No, he was not that good.' So, I have to think about it some more.

"Confederate was closing and if there was another four or five strides, he might have gone by us and I look at that and I go, 'Okay, but we raced real tough. And [Confederate] was coming, but he made the big one move and if that's the way that horse races, he'll lose more often than he'll win. But when you go into a big race like [the Meadowlands Pace], that could be the one he wins.”

Adam Bowden's Diamond Creek Racing owns Confederate, who finished second in the Cup beaten a head. And he understands the conversation when it comes to supplementing.

“It depends if you think you can win, obviously,” Bowden said. “And I think we're talking about Richard Young; I think he loves to race and I think he loves to win big races. So, it wouldn't surprise me if he [supplemented to the Meadowlands Pace].

“We supplemented [Creatine, owned by Bowden's Big C Racing] into the Breeders Crown and paid $62,500 to do it back in 2015. He ended up winning, so it ended up making sense. If it were me, I would have a really difficult time doing it for a gelding.”

Young was under the impression that the dollar amount to supplement to the Pace would be similar to what Bowden paid to put Creatine in the Crown, but unfortunately, that amount isn't even in the ballpark of the actual ask.

“Pace conditions state the cost of a late supplement to be 20 per cent of the total money collected via nominating and sustaining payments, plus the entry fees,” Nick Salvi, The Meadowlands' director and administrator of stakes races, said via email. “That payment is due at time of declaration, which is the time that entries are normally taken for the race.”

Interest in the Pace was up this year, with 57 horses making the initial payment in February, a 36 per cent rise from last year. While those making the final payment in April was up 42 per cent, with 47 this year over 33 in 2022.

The total amount paid into the 2023 Pace was $380,375, so 20 per cent of that amount is $76,075; the entry fee for the elimination is $2,500 and for the final is $5,000 for a total cost of $83,575. Obviously, the $5,000 is only paid by a supplementing horse that reaches the final and that $83,575 does get added to the purse for the final.

“ Strangely enough, I've given it a lot of thought. Well before the race, I thought I was going to win the North America Cup, and because I thought I was going to win it, the question was, ‘Would I go to the Meadowlands Pace and pay that kind of money?’ And it came down to, ‘Did [It's My Show] dominate? Was he so much better that going [to the Pace] is a more or less a foregone conclusion?’ And the answer to that is ‘No, he was not that good.’ So, I have to think about it some more.”

~ Richard Young

“ I have three kids, and I don’t know if I’d ever tell my wife this, but winning those big races might be better than anything else on the planet. So, I can see the allure of winning and paying to do so, especially when you think you’ve got the best horse. I never put it past anybody, nor do I question it, because a lot of people put a lot of money into the sport and you have very few opportunities to win those big races and when you have a chance, hell, go for it. It’s only money at the end of the day. You can’t take it with you when you go. ”

~ Adam Bowden

To not lose money by supplementing – based on the $700,000 estimated purse – It’s My Show would have to finish third or better, and finishing third is basically breaking even. It should be noted that the purse for the Pace final has only hit $700,000 or better twice in the previous five years. It was $700,000 in 2021 and $701,830 – bolstered by two $61,690 supplements – in 2018. Last year’s purse was just $600,000.

Obviously, if the purse for the final is below $700,000, then finishing third would also be a losing proposition.

Part of the reason It’s My Show was not made eligible to the Pace to begin with was his less than impressive 2-year-old season.

“I had a winless horse,” Young said of It’s My Show, who was zero-for-eight as a freshman prior to being gelded. “He didn’t show me any real ability to beat the best. And I thought, do I enter the horse in every race – the most expensive race being the Meadowlands Pace – that has not won a race? So, I more or less was choosy as to where I wanted to go.”

What also played into Young’s staking decisions for his winless horse was the fact that he is Canadian and had never won the North America Cup, whereas he did win the Meadowlands Pace, in 2019 with Best In Show, a half-brother to It’s My Show out of Young’s mare Put On A Show.

Young remembers talking with It’s My Show’s trainer Linda Toscano about staking prior to the horse ever putting a hoof on the track to race in 2023.

“I said [to Linda], ‘You know, I’m going to put him in the NA Cup,’ and she says, ‘Well, if you’re going to gamble on anything, I guess that’s the best one to gamble on.’”

Bowden had to make similar staking decisions for his 3-year-old pacers earlier this year and all of them are not Pace eligible, either.

“We have a gelding with [trainer Brett] Pelling named Command and we didn’t stake him to the Meadowlands Pace or the North America Cup because they’re stallion-making races and he’s a gelding,” Bowden said. “Now, most years I would have staked him to those races and raced him but we had four other colts – Cannibal, Christchurch, Combustion and Confederate – that we felt were as good or better, so why take the chance that he would beat them?”

Bowden added with a laugh: “I have three kids, and I don’t know if I’d ever tell my wife this, but winning those big races might be better than anything else on the planet. So, I can see the allure of winning and paying to do so, especially when you think you’ve got the best horse. I never put it past anybody, nor do I question it, because a lot of people put a lot of money into the sport and you have very few opportunities to win those big races and when you have a chance, hell, go for it. It’s only money at the end of the day. You can’t take it with you when you go.”

For Young, the gelding or colt situation isn’t a factor in his decision-making process.

“I’m not sure that breeding will ever enter my mind as to what I was going to do, because that horse would race next year,” Young said. “If I was offered millions of dollars, I would not take it. That horse would race next year. So, I don’t look at one race as the reason why I’m, you know, breeding or not breeding.”

Young hopes that as a gelding, It’s My Show will continue to do well this year and, in the future, perhaps one day be included in the conversation with Gallo Blue Chip or Foiled Again.

“Believe it or not, that is part of my thought process as to why I wouldn’t just jump into the Meadowlands Pace, because he has a lot of races where he could go to for a lot of money and this isn’t the end of the year and he’s not going to race anymore,” Young said. “He’s going to keep racing.”

World On Edge overcomes neglect to return to the winner's circle

by Jay Wolf

Moments after 7-year-old pacer World On Edge crossed the finish line at Miami Valley Raceway on March 23, he was greeted in the winner's circle by trainer Chris Short, who had tears in his eyes. Short was emotional not because it was a large purse or a stakes race, it was because he and his wife, Stephanie Rees, helped bring World On Edge back from the verge of death just months prior.

World On Edge's journey started at the 2017 Standardbred Horse Sale at Harrisburg. The Roll With Joe yearling was hammered down for $50,000 to the powerful partnership of Burke Racing Stable, Adriano Sorella, Joseph DiScala Jr. and J&T Silva-Purnell & Libby.

He opened his career with a win in the first leg of the New York Sire Stakes at Yonkers Raceway and finished his freshman campaign with more than $60,000 in earnings.

Brad Conrad
World On Edge scored his comeback victory on March 23, 2023 at Miami Valley Raceway, just months after being abandoned at a Kentucky Farm.

His 3-year-old season saw him hit the board in half of his 24 sophomore starts, including a win at The Meadowlands in 1:49.3.

World On Edge was placed in the mixed portion of the 2019 Harrisburg Sale. He was picked up by Jeff Cullipher and Pollack Racing for $72,000.

After limited success as a 4-year-old, World On Edge found himself in the "Harrisburg" sales for a third time: albeit this time at state fairgrounds at Timonium, MD when the COVID-19 pandemic closed the usual home of the Standardbred Horse Sales Company's auction

Short was looking to expand his stable and signed the $9,000 sales slip for Eric O'Neill's Lucky Label Stable.

"He was one of the last horses in the sale," Short said. "It was the COVID year and he sort of just fell in our lap. He had a [1]:49 mark and there was nothing wrong with this horse."

World On Edge paid quick dividends for his new connections, winning three straight and picking up checks in his first six starts for the new barn.

It was about this time when the owner and trainer had a little falling out and all of the Lucky Label Stable horses, including World On Edge, were placed with new trainers.

"The owner and I stayed friends," Short said. "I kept an eye on those horses to see how they were doing."

Short, who currently trains 16 at the Hartford Fairgrounds in Croton, OH, contacted O'Neill about World On Edge when he didn't see any entries or results for the gelded son of Roll With Joe for a period of time.

The owner said he was getting updates and reports from the trainer and that he was preparing him for a qualifier.

That qualifier never came.

*“The day before Thanksgiving, I received a call... telling me that [World On Edge] was dropped off at a [Kentucky] farm by the trainer and he looked like he was starving. trainer and he looked like he was starving,” Short said. “I took off [for Kentucky] in the morning to pick him up. On the way down, I called Eric and told him that I was bringing him home and that I was going to feed him and get him back to the races.”

The horse simply fell through the cracks and the owner was given the run-a-round by the conditioner.

“The trainer fell on hard times and couldn’t afford to feed his horse,” Short said. “It was a disgusting situation.”

World On Edge was indeed malnourished, his shoes had grown into his feet and Short was concerned that he wouldn’t survive the trailer ride back to Central Ohio.

He survived the trip and the Short Stable went immediately to work rehabbing the gelding.

“My wife and I treat our horses like they are our kids,” Short said. “[Stephanie] has a great feed program. A lot of the credit goes to her.”

World On Edge started to put the weight back on and eventually jogged slow miles on his road back to the track.

He made a successful qualifying start on March 10 at Miami Valley Raceway and an easy fifth place finish in his first pari-mutuel come-back start at MGM Northfield Park.

Chris Short
World On Edge in November 2022.

Short took World On Edge to the larger Miami Valley Raceway for his second 2023 start on March 23.

Driver Kayne Kaufman had the eventual winner sitting patiently on the rail through the first half of the race and came first up to score a two-length win in 1:55, triggering the trainer’s tears.

“That was probably the biggest win of my career,” Short said. “This is like a Disney movie.”

World On Edge has continued to improve, winning his last two starts at Eldorado Scioto Downs: a 1:52.3 score (May 29) and a 1:53.1 win (June 9).

“He shows no ill effects of what happened to him,” Short said. “He’s big, fat and healthy. It was a sad situation that ended up well.”

Have final quarter times outlived their purpose

by Brett Sturman

For some, a standard element in handicapping is assessing a horse's individual final quarter time. It's considered an important enough factor that it's part of the past performance lines in every racing program.

It wasn't always that way, however. Looking back through programs from the 1960s and 1970s shows no reference to a last quarter time, and even well into the 1980s the last quarter time was only recorded in the program based on which tracks were including that information. Today, that final quarter metric may have outlived its usefulness.

Many years prior it may have meant something for a horse to post an exceptionally fast final last quarter or a last quarter by a horse that was superior to any other horses in a race may have indicated a superior animal. Today, that's no longer the case, as almost all horses under the right circumstances can finish their miles equally fast.

In a column written here four years ago, the late, great Dave Brower and I discussed the increasingly faster and more commonplace final quarters at The Meadowlands. That was on the heels of a weekend of racing where horses closing in :25 and change was normal, with one horse closing in :24.3. But the same can be seen across other tracks.

A perfect example to illustrate came from a race at Woodbine Mohawk Park earlier this week. The first race on Tuesday night (June 20) was a maiden race for newly-minted 2-year-old pacing fillies. In a field of seven nice enough but not anything out of the ordinarily looking fillies, here were the final quarters of each horse in the race that finished. From the top down, :25.3, :26.1, :26.2, :25.3, :26.4, and :27. The point being, if brand new fillies are pacing :25 final quarters in June (in one case still only good enough to be fourth by six lengths), is it impressive or does it even matter when aged free for all horses are pacing the same?

Obviously, the final quarter times are nothing more than a reflection of the time of the first three-quarters of the mile up to that point. In the case of the Mohawk race, the 3/4 time of the race was 1:28.1, consistent for that type of race. But when the final time of 1:54.1 was posted, track announcer Middleton said "that's... not right." At the time, I thought to myself that as far-fetched as it seemed, maybe it actually was right. And since that remains the final race time and final last quarters in the race charts as they're currently shown on Standardbred Canada, I assume those are the correct times.

The next race that night was another 2-year-old race, this one for trotters that were all making their first lifetime start. Two horses in that race trotted their final quarter in :27 and a couple others in :27 and change. The race after that one was essentially a maiden race for 3-year-olds and every horse that raced came home in :26.1 or :26.2. You get the point. From a handicapping standpoint, the final quarters aren't providing much information other than the early pace in the race was slow.

Somewhat more useful, the past performance lines in DRF Harness show not only each horse's final quarter time, but includes the individual clocking for all fractional splits. At least from that view there is a reference point. You can see the final quarter in the context of the other quarter times. In that sense, one could make the argument that no single quarter by itself is more important than another, so the question then becomes why highlight only the final quarter in all other standard program forms.

When Voukefalas qualified back this year for the first time in April, he made headlines with a :24.4 final quarter in that race. His individual 3/4 time in that race was around 1:27.4. So, while the last quarter may seem impressive on the surface, it's not unreasonable to expect a similar outcome from any other horse of that caliber. Which digressing for a moment, got me thinking. Theoretically, what's the fastest quarter mile time that a standardbred is capable of? If there was a quarter mile sprint for the fun of it on a straightaway at The Meadowlands or Woodbine Mohawk Park, could a top horse go sub-:24?

Back to the subject at hand, I used to think that maybe the final quarter times had more meaning in the lower-level non-winners of one or non-winners of two race conditions. There, some younger horses are simply faster than others, as opposed to the higher levels where in many cases horses may all be interchangeable in the fractional and final times that they can produce. But using those 2-year-old Mohawk races as examples, even that may not be the case as those final last quarters may turn out to be wildly misleading.

Perhaps it was said best by Brower from the column referenced above. For him, it was far more important what he saw with his own eyes than the reported times. No matter how the final quarter times are used in handicapping a race, if at all, it'll never be a substitute for what can be gained by what in a race physically catches the eye.

BRUSH AND CRUSH

by DEAN TOWERS

John Rallis is making waves at Woodbine Mohawk Park

by Dean Towers

John Rallis, 27, of Toronto, has been making waves at Woodbine Mohawk Park since being hired as their new paddock interviewer and on-air handicapper a couple of months ago.

He was nice enough to sit down and answer a few questions for this week's column.

How did you get involved in harness handicapping?

"My dad was the first person to introduce me to harness racing. When I was growing up, the two of us would drive up from Toronto and spend every weekend in the summertime at Mohawk Racetrack. We would always get a table in the dining room and we'd enjoy a nice pepperoni pizza and a Caesar salad. It was a ritual.

"Truthfully, I was too young to really care what was going on at the racetrack, but getting a table in the dining room and spending time with my dad meant a lot. He worked endless hours running a restaurant, so spending time at the racetrack also meant spending time with dad; and I loved it."

How long have you been playing and studying the game seriously?

"I've probably been studying the game from a wagering standpoint and playing seriously for about four years. I was always watching, but I never really honed-in on the wagering side, but I decided to dive in. I can tell you it's very challenging and frustrating, but I'm stubborn enough to think that there's hope for some to win long-term.

"It takes an immense amount of discipline – something I'm still learning – and it's all about making the right wagers. Problem is, I'm not sure many know how to decipher what is – or isn't – a good wager. It's all subjective, but it almost always isn't."

You'd never worked in television before. How has the learning curve been?

"Watching the races from my couch and interacting with a handful of friends around the industry, I was naive enough to think that doing the same, just with a camera standing in front of me, would be easy-peasy. Boy, was I ever wrong. It takes a lot of time to develop an on-air presence – something I'm still learning to this day – and I'm realizing how imperative it is showing up to work prepared each day.

"We are dealing with 90 to 100 or more horses a race card; I think it's vital to bring something to a broadcast that people can't see in a past performance program. I just try my best every night, but one thing I can pride myself in is coming to work prepared."

Your rapport with Randy Waples and Elissa Blowe appears quite genuine. Can you speak a little about them and what impact if any they've made on you?

"My rapport with Elissa and Randy is genuine because we care for one another and have the same goal in mind: To produce the best racing broadcast. More importantly, perhaps, we all try to help each other improve and grow as a team. How lucky am I to come into a broadcasting role in harness racing, with zero prior experience, and have the luxury of turning to someone like Elissa, who's been a broadcaster for 20 plus years in this industry and Randy Waples, who is a Hall of Fame driver?

"I'm in a perfect position to succeed, because of those two. We've only been together for a little over two months, but I think we've done a pretty great job so far, all things considered. We also have a strong production team behind us which puts us all in position to succeed."

A number of bettors have commented that they think you ask trainers and drivers good questions in post-race interviews. Do you believe your daily handicapping work helps in this regard?

"I think the fact I come into this game as a fan and as a handicapper definitely helps in knowing what to ask when conducting pre-race interviews. Nobody knows what a bettor wants to know better than me because I was asking the same questions internally when I was looking over the program. 'Horse X's line was terrible last week, was something wrong? Horse X is making their season debut, will they need a start? Horse X is coming off a six-week layoff with no qualifiers to show for it, is he ready?"

"I try to respectfully challenge the drivers about the kind of trip they intend on giving a horse or how aggressive they will be. I don't try to step on anybody's toes because they're a really great group of guys. I just know as a viewer what I want to hear so I try to uncover that for the people at home the best I can.

"Trainer John Pentland was great when I interviewed him prior to Cheesy Smile's first start as a 3-year-old. She was the 9-5 choice when they were on the racetrack after they paraded, and he said he had given McClure instructions to take care of her because he was preparing for the upcoming Gold the following week. Obviously, he didn't rule out the prospect of winning, but I thought that was pretty valuable."

Do you feel you learn a lot from participants during these interviews that helps you as a handicapper? Do you have any favorite interviews/interviewees so far?

"Those drivers and trainers are just really sharp and when you're spending as much time inside a paddock you learn a lot about certain horses and why they weren't at their best on that day, or even why a driver didn't do what bettors felt they should've. I've learned a lot from so many of the horsepeople individually. We tend to forget that horses aren't machines, they're flesh and blood with a mind of their own. Sometimes things don't work out the way we want them to as a bettor, and sometimes it isn't the fault of anyone.

"As far as my favorite interviews, it's hard to say. I don't think I have one. I've had some fun encounters with Ben Baillargeon; he's always entertaining. As far as drivers, they're all so accommodating, it's hard to pick one. I think what I love is that I can ask them any question on camera that I could off camera and they'd be willing to answer."

Like many bettors at Woodbine-Mohawk, you enjoy the pick 5 bet, and your ticket construction is sometimes different than we're used to seeing from many public handicappers. For example, you were unafraid to throw out Sylvia Hanover a few weeks ago in her debut against older; you often single a horse you like and not worry about being beaten. Where did this style of play come from, and why do you think it's important to share it with viewers?

"One thing about me is I'm not afraid to take a stand; if they're 4-1, 15-1 or even 30-1 it doesn't really matter. When I first started wagering, I'd play pick 5 tickets for 20 cents with the sole purpose of trying to cash a winning ticket. I soon realized what I was making wasn't worth what I was investing. Not only that, I'd go four deep in a pick 5 and the horse I'd rank as an 'A' selection would end up winning. While I'd wager on said horse to win, I then began to realize why I wasn't just taking a stand and using that horse as a single, instead of adding three other horses 'defensively'."

"Most people are going to go in the same direction in most legs throughout a pick 5 sequence, but the key is to find a leg with value that'll benefit you, and try to take advantage. As for the TV tickets, they're so hard to give out because the way I play pick 5 tickets, I spread and play a few different combinations. But I don't want to give out a base ticket that I wouldn't play myself. If there's a 3-5 shot I don't like, I won't be afraid to leave it off a ticket I'm giving out for TV. My approach doesn't change for the sake of wanting to cash a ticket on-air. Lastly, no one should be scared to be wrong, because we are going to be wrong more times than we are right in this game. But when we're right, at least there will be a reward."

Do you play any other harness racetracks? If so, which do you enjoy most?

"I mostly play Mohawk and The Meadowlands. I've always enjoyed both of those products and the pools and wagering opportunities are always strong. They both have good driving colonies and good horses."

"As for other tracks, I'll dabble depending on the wagering opportunities. I love playing carryovers and I love monitoring the progression of young horses [2-year-olds especially], so I'm always keeping an eye out everywhere."

What are your hopes for 2023 in your new role, and after the thrill of the North America Cup card, what are you most looking forward to next?

"Now that I got through my first North America Cup, I feel like every broadcast from here on out becomes a lot easier from a mental standpoint. I know what's required in terms of preparation, have gotten over the jitters of doing post-race interviews on a night that big and have built confidence in how I can go about my business."

"Hopefully we can continue to grow as a team and maybe give out some winners. I've been slacking in that department lately, by the way. I'm supposed to be the handicapper and Randy Waples is kicking my ass."

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Brian Larson on the best part of a life in racing

by Chris Lomon

Brian Larson didn't need more than a couple of seconds to provide an answer to the question about what harness racing means to him.

"That would be easy," said Larson, a long-time standardbred horseman. "It all comes down to family for me. There is Cory and then there is Casey, who is the oldest of our sons. Out of all the years of racing, both of my boys have been beside me the whole time.

"As the boys grew up, they began jogging horses by themselves when they were 10. By the time they were 12, they were grooming and when they were old enough to get their licenses, they were driving. Over the years, I would always give the boys our best horses to drive. I would drive the ones they didn't like or the ones that were more trouble to handle. My wife Kim is a licensed charter and does photo finish duties here in Iowa. So, it has been a family affair for a long time."

For nearly 30 years, Brian has been a staple on the Midwest U.S. harness racing landscape, a career that has taken him to dozens of racetracks, producing a plethora of great memories.

It all began through a conversation with a familiar face in Canton, SD.

"I got started in the industry because of my neighbor, Bob Lems," Brian said. "That year, he and his brother were training around 10 horses and his brother Tim had broken his leg. I started helping Bob. I shoe horses for a living and I started working with Bob and I guess that year was the one I fell in love with the sport. The next year, I had my own horses and we've had horses ever since."

There have been a few standout horses along the way in Brian's training and driving careers.

One of them, Tap Dancin, wasn't the type of competitor typically found in his barn.

"He ended up being trotter of the year in 2007 out here in Iowa," said Larson, of the bay son of Six Alarm (IA). "He was the first and only trotter I ever trained. So, that one certainly stands out for a couple of reasons. He was a very nice horse, and he was very consistent."

Brian Larsen and family.

Boom Boom Shaboom was all of that too.

A daughter of General Aidid (MN), the pacing mare had an outstanding career, competing at various racetracks and chalking up 36 wins from 91 starts — a near 40 per cent strike rate — along with $132,520 in lifetime earnings. The bay racked up 54 top-three finishes and earned her speed badge of 1:53.3 at Running Aces in Minnesota.

The horse that was the runner-up 2-year-old champion in Iowa, a 3-year-old champion in Iowa, and aged mare champion in Minnesota, won her last start on Sept. 15, 2018.

“Cory and I, we owned her together,” Brian said. “She paid for all four years of his college when he raced her. We sent her out east and she did really well out there. She came back and she won aged mare honors in Minnesota.”

The past five years have seen a shift in the Larson operation.

While Brian officially trained his last horse in 2018, the veteran horseman does sit in the sulky every now and again. The majority of drives for their barn, however, are now given to the capable hands of Cory.

“Cory has basically taken over the horse business for us,” Brian said. “Him and I, we have 18 horses right now. We also have a band of broodmares, and we are raising our own babies, and racing them. I raise them up, break them as yearlings, and he takes over after that.”

“As the boys grew up, they began jogging horses by themselves when they were 10. By the time they were 12, they were grooming and when they were old enough to get their licenses, they were driving. Over the years, I would always give the boys our best horses to drive. I would drive the ones they didn’t like or the ones that were more trouble to handle. My wife Kim is a licensed charter and does photo finish duties here in Iowa. So, it has been a family affair for a long time.”

~ Brian Larson

Brian isn't the only Larson who has made an impact on the sport.

"It's been a godsend to have my family along with me for a lot of those years," he said. "I remember when Casey was 18, he said, 'I'm going to The Meadowlands and win the Meadowlands Pace one day.' I didn't know what to think, but when turned 18, he graduated, packed up his truck and trailer and took two of our horses to New York. He was out there for 10 years and trained for different people during that time."

One of those trainers happened to be Eddie Hart, the man who campaigned Roll With Joe to a short, but brilliant career.

The son of Cams Card Shark earned just shy of $1.8 million over 23 races, with his biggest victory coming on July 16, 2011, at The Meadowlands.

"When Casey worked with Eddie, they won the Meadowlands Pace with Roll With Joe," Brian said. "My son took care of that horse, drove him around to wherever he was racing, warmed him up... he did everything with that horse for the three years he raced. That day when he won the Meadowlands Pace, I had a tear in my eye. It made me a very proud dad. And now, Casey is an associate judge at Running Aces. So, the boys and Kim, they are all doing great and loving what they do."

The same can be said for Brian himself.

And he still has the magic touch whenever he occasionally sits in the sulky.

He recently reached a career milestone when he piloted Boom Booms Bullseye to victory at Humboldt (IA) on June 10.

And yes, the name of the pacer does have a familiar ring to it.

"I won my 100th race with the horse that is the first colt we have out of Boom Boom Shaboom," said Brian, of the horse he bred with Kim, and is trained and owned by Cory.

Quite fitting, certainly, for a man whose love of racing is all about family.

"What else can you do for a sport or a hobby where you can all get together on a weekend or other times, and you get to spend that with your family?" Brian said. "And that's what we are lucky enough to do. We all enjoy the horses, the racing, and the atmosphere at the racetrack. Just that opportunity to be together is something that means a lot to me."

And to think it all started with a neighborly chat almost 30 years ago.

"I'm definitely grateful that I had that conversation with Bob," Brian said. "It ended up being something that changed my life and my family's life."

Joviality splendid in Prix Diana Zet

by Thomas Hedlund

Courant Stable's homebred Joviality (Chapter Seven) made her fourth appearance on Swedish soil when the $75,000 Prix Diana Zet for 4-year-old mares was on Wednesday (June 21) night. The Sabine Kagebrant-trained trotter impressed as she danced without shoes around Solvalla's track.

She had post 8 behind the gate in a preparation race ahead of bigger objectives later on this summer. That meant Joviality's connections could race her without shoes for the first time and it worked well.

A tough battle between O'Mara Zon and Queen Belina in the hunt for the lead opened up the path to victory for Joviality, who kept up her pace first over, some lengths behind the leader O'Mara Zon. Joviality started to put pressure on the leader at the backstretch and when the field turned for home, she took advantage of the race. Erik Adielsson let Joviality sprint to an outstanding win in a strong mile rate of 1:54.1 over 1.3 miles.

Next up for Joviality will most probably be the elimination for the Stochampionatet over 1.6 miles in mid-July.

The $111,000 Prix Ready Express for 4-year-olds ended with an upset winner in Staro Mack Crowe (Bold Eagle) with Rikard N Skoglund in the bike. The duo left third over for position and were first over in the middle of the race. That's when Skoglund knew what he had in his reins. The leader became easy prey in the stretch and Staro Mack Crowe, trained by Katja Melko, looked splendid as he hit the wire in a mile rate of 1:55 over 1.3 miles.

DANISH DYNAMITE TO YONKERS

The first invitation to $1 million Yonkers International was announced on Wednesday (June 21) and Denmark will send Get A Wish (Wishing Stone), trained and (probably) driven by Bo Westergaard.

Get A Wish belonged in the top of the 4-year-old crop in Denmark last year and claimed the home country's biggest race, The Derby during the fall. He has made 30 starts so far in his career, 12 have ended with a victory.

ELITLOPPET WINNER AT VINCENNES

Vincennes offers a strong race card Sunday (June 25), with high purses in basically all nine races and Philippe Allaire's winner of this year's Elitloppet, Hohneck, will race again in his home country France. Hohneck will be one of the contenders in the $215,000 Prix Rene Balliere over 1.3 miles and he will face the winter queen Ampia Mede Sm, who won her comeback at Vincennes two weeks ago. However, title defender Vivid Wise As will not enter the race due to problems with the export certificate from the Italian harness racing association.

Engblom hopes for 'Trendy' result in Graduate

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

When it comes to his style on the racetrack, Trendy Teen is with it.

A 4-year-old gelding, Trendy Teen has jumped up to Grand Circuit action this season and held his own in the first two rounds of the Graduate Pacing Series, putting himself in position to reach the July 8 final with another strong performance this Saturday (June 24) at The Meadowlands.

Last week at The Big M, the Per Engblom-trainee faced some traffic trouble in the stretch but finished third in his Graduate division, which was won by Stonebridge Helios in 1:47: the fastest mile of the season by a 4-year-old.

On June 3 at Woodbine Mohawk Park, Trendy Teen was fourth in his Graduate division, beaten by less than two lengths as he came his final quarter in :26.

"He's been good," Engblom said. "We really liked him last year, but we thought it might be a stretch for him to compete at this level. It turns out it was not a stretch. He's proved to us that he belongs there. The last start, he paced [1]:48 flat and [driver Jason Bartlett] had to check him pretty hard in the stretch. If he doesn't have that, he probably paces [1]:47-and-a-piece. He's earned his way."

Trendy Teen, owned by Morrison Racing Stables, has been in Engblom's barn for 11 months. Last season, the son of Always B Miki—Posey Tina made 12 starts for Engblom, all in conditioned races, and posted seven wins while never finishing worse than second.

Ken Weingartner / USTA
Trendy Teen.

He hit the board in his first five starts this year, winning one. After failing to advance from his May 14 elimination to the final of the Charles Juravinski Memorial Cup at Flamboro Downs, he tackled the Grand Circuit in the Graduate Series.

"He can take air, but he's a little horse, not very impressive to look at," Engblom said. "But his mindset is great. He's very handy in a race, never wastes any energy."

The final preliminary round of the Graduate Series, which is restricted to 4-year-olds, is Saturday. Trendy Teen will enter the night tied for seventh in points in the series as he looks to advance to the 10-horse final.

Trendy Teen is in the second of two $50,000 Graduate divisions and will start from post 3 with driver Brian Sears. He is 9-2 on the morning line.

The nine-horse field includes series points-leader Dreamfair Arnie B, second-place Captain Cowboy, sixth-place Energetic Hanover, co-seventh I Did It Myway, and ninth-place Rocks Shining Star. Dreamfair Arnie B, who starts from post 7 with Todd McCarthy driving for trainer Brett Pelling, is the 2-1 favorite.

"If [Trendy Teen] can do something similar to what he did last week, I think we can get enough points to make the final," Engblom said. "It's always tough in that class. It's supposed to be. But I think he belongs."

The Graduate Series will be Trendy Teen's only Grand Circuit action of the year, but with continued development, he might get more opportunities in the future.

"We just staked him to the 4-year-old races," Engblom said. "We'll try to build him up during the year and hopefully next year he can take a step up to the free-for-allers."

The first division of the Graduate features last week's two winners, Stonebridge Helios and Mad Max Hanover. Those two horses and rival Coldcreekqueso are in the top five in the standings. The first division also includes the horses in spots 10 through 12: Pleaseletmeknow, Early Action and Birthday.

Stonebridge Helios, who starts from post 7 with Dexter Dunn driving for Ake Svanstedt, is the 7-5 favorite. Mad Max Hanover, leaving from post 5 with Tim Tetrick in the sulky for Jake Leamon, is 8-5.

Saturday's card also features one $75,000 division of the Graduate Trotting Series and the $40,000 third leg of the Miss Versatility Series for older female trotters.

With Graduate trotting leader Jiggy Jog S sitting out this week, Cool Papa Bell is the 3-1 favorite in the final preliminary round. In the Miss Versatility, which has six preliminary events, 2022 Hambletonian Oaks winner Fashion Schooner is the 5-2 choice.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. Free TrackMaster programs for the Big M can be found here.

Bond, Heaven Hanover PA Sire Stakes winners at Pocono

by PHHA / Pocono

This looks like an extraordinary year for 3-year-old trotting fillies (following on the heels of Joviality S vs. Jiggy Jog S last season), and many misses who will be racing on the Hambletonian Day card – in the Oaks or elsewhere – were on display Sunday night (June 18) at Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania, with the top-level races two $70,649 second prelim divisions of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes for this group.

One filly who may be mulling her options in just over a month is the Southwind Frank filly Bond, who ran her record to two-for-two this year and 9-for-11 lifetime while taking a new mark of 1:51.4, a fifth off the Pocono divisional track record. Trainer/driver Åke Svanstedt got the fleet filly to the top around main rival Railee Something by the eighth, was able to set fractions to her liking – :27, :56.2, 1:24.3 – then when Railee Something started to make rallying noises behind her, Bond quickened her ground-covering, keeping her main rival a length behind her to the finish.

Oh, did we mention she still had the earplugs in when she came back to the winner's circle?

Åke Svanstedt Inc. co-owns the winner with Little E LLC and L. Berg Inc. It will be interesting when Bond meets up with her heralded stablemate Special Way sometime, likely soon: and whether colts are in her/their eventual future.

Bond (Åke Svanstedt) set a new lifetime mark of 1:51.4 while

Tim Tetrick, completing a 13-6-3-2 day in Eastern Pennsylvania (four wins at Philly, two here in four drives), teamed with trainer Marcus Melander, no stranger to the rarified air of top stakes competition, to win the other Sire Stakes division with favored Heaven Hanover in a new mark of 1:52.4.

Angelpedia led the field past the quarter in :27.1, yielded to Heart Of Fire in front of the stands then retook the lead just past the :56.2 half. Tetrick moved the winner first-over and was in gear by the 1:24.3 three-quarters, steadily wearing down Angelpedia for a half-length decision and a "Heaven-Angel" exacta. Heaven Hanover, the PA Stallion Series champion of 2022, also looks to have a bright future for the ownership of S R F Stable, Rick Wahlstedt, Heights Stable, and AMG Stable Inc.

The Sire Stakes yielded no repeat winner from the first leg, and in fact it took until the last race of Sunday's card for the PA stakes to produce a two-time winner, in the form of the Andover Hall miss Lillehammer Hall, who lowered her mark to 1:55.3 in one of three $20,000 Stallion Series divisions. Mike Wilder sent Lillehammer Hall uncovered and the filly proved equal to the grinding challenge while remaining undefeated in five 2023 starts (after failing to hit the board in six outings at 2) for trainer Todd Rooney and owner Kimberly Farmer.

Tim Tetrick's other Pocono win came in the fastest StS cut behind the Southwind Frank distaff Lie In Wait, whose name described her tactics as she rallied late to reduce her life best to 1:54.3 for Runthetable Stables and trainer Jim Campbell (who won the Hambletonian and the Oaks last year). Also earning a new speed badge was the International Moni filly Lady Lira, who took control from the pole and kept the lead to the wire in 1:55.1 for driver Matt Kakaley, trainer Robert Baggitt Jr., and owner Mark Mullen.

Crysta's Legacy repeats in the Buckeye Stallion Series

by Cheyenne Christman

Out of the five previous leg winners Crysta's Legacy was the only repeater out of the four divisions of the Buckeye Stallion Series for 3-year-old filly trotters at Northfield Park on June 18, as she took to the front and never looked back in the final division. Ronnie Wrenn Jr. had the assignment for Brian J. Miller as she crossed the wire in 1:55.4. The Long Tom filly made it her third win of the season, hitting the board four out of seven starts and bankrolling $34,950 so far this season.

The fastest division, however, was the first division of the Buckeye Stallion Series for 3-year-old filly trotters with Cornstar taking the front and making the fractions, winning the mile in 1:54.1. Driver Chris Lems and trainer Scott Cox paired up for the victory. Out of five starts, the 3-year-old daughter of Coraggioso has won three of them for owner Vickie Jennings bankrolling $19,250 during the 2023 season so far.

The fourth leg of the Buckeye Stallion Series for 3-year-old filly trotters will be July 14 at Scioto Downs.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Jason Bartlett and Huntsville rule the day at Monticello Raceway

by Shawn Wiles / Monticello Raceway

The New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) kicked off its 2023 season at Monticello Raceway on Monday afternoon (June 19) with the 3-year-old pacing fillies taking center stage. The nine-race card featured three divisions of sire stakes, with each split worth $38,533, and three heats of the Excelsior Series, racing for $20,000 per division.

For decades, Wally Hennessey ruled the New York Sire Stakes circuit before handing the baton to Jim Morrill, Jr., who enjoyed much success during his reign. The new torch bearer is now Jason Bartlett. Last year, he was the leading NYSS driver, with purses earning $758,036. Bartlett, coming out of the gate slowly this year with limited drives, made up for lost time Monday, driving three winners at Monticello, where he has always enjoyed much success.

The first heat of sire stakes action saw five horses go to post. The co-favorite, Kissin Joe (post 1), was the first away from the gate. She was on top by four at the opening panel of :28 and at the half in :57.3, she was up by three. B On The Hunt (Jordan Stratton) was the first to move down the backside, with Kissin Joe still showing the way at 1:26.2. As they turned for home, Kissin Joe (Mark Macdonald) were still the leader. Sitting in the garden spot throughout the mile was Secret Garden. She scooted through in the passing lane to just barely nip the pacesetter at the wire in 1:55 and paid $7.80 to win. B On The Hunt finished third. It was the first seasonal win for Secret Garden, a daughter of Huntsville for trainer Noel Daley. She is owned by Morrison Racing Stables of Indiana, PA and was driven to the win by Jason Bartlett, for the first of his three winners on the day.

Turn On The Charm, the 9-5 betting favorite, was a wire-to-wire winner in her heat for driver Marcus Miller. Starting from the rail, she made the front end with ease. The opening stanza was a pedestrian :29.3 and the halfway point was a leisurely :58.4. At this point, having enough of soft fractions, Jack Pelling, driving the favorite Southwind Bella, pulled the right line and got underway. Down the backside, they were pacing in tandem with Southwind Bella on the outside, next panel in 1:27.3. In a spirited stretch drive, last quarter in :27.2, Turn on the Charm prevailed by a neck over Southwind Bella in 1:55 and $5.80. It was her third consecutive win in Sire Stakes competition. Bruce Clark trains the offspring of Huntsville. She was driven by Marcus Miller for owners Megan Rose Beauchamp and John Coffey. Rock My Socks (Bartlett) was third.

Earthwindfire was a winner last season at the Mighty M in the sire stakes ranks as a 2-year-old. Monday, the 1-5 favorite barely broke a sweat getting the lead from Tru Blue Hanover (Bartlett). Once on top, she was never threatened and coasted home a two-length winner over True Blue Hanover in 1:55.2 and paid $2.10. She is owned by the same connections of former Horse of the Year Test Of Faith. Owned by MP Segal and Kentuckiana Racing, the daughter of American Ideal is trained by Brett Pelling. She has now won sire stakes in back-to-back starts. Dame was third.

In Excelsior action, Rec Time (Bartlett) scored a four-length victory in 1:54.3 and paid $2.10 for trainer Deborah Daguet for the co-fastest mile of the day, his first seasonal win. No Cigar Tony (Bartlett) went wire-to-wire to hold off a fast-closing Lady Jericho in 1:55.3. The winner was trained by Scott Blackler. In the final dash of the day, Celia B Money went as far and fast as she could for driver Mark Macdonald. At the three-quarter pole, she was in front by six, passing that station in 1:25.4, and just barely held off Team Colors (Pelling) in 1:54.3. Chikfromfrenchlick finished third.

Huntsville ruled the day with five winners on the card, with American Ideal having one winner.

DSBF stakes contested at Harrington

by Matt Sparacino / Harrington Raceway

Four $20,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders Fund (DSBF) divisions for 3-year-olds were contested in an abbreviated card at Harrington Raceway on Wednesday (June 21).

Due to inclement weather, the card was canceled after five races.

Male divisional winners included Kodack Black ($2.10, Montrell Teague), a Kodak Lindy gelding who was a dominant 1:59.2 winner for owners George Teague, David Collins and Lakiya Teachey. Kodack Black is trained by Clyde Francis and recorded his eighth career win over Hespeakshescores and I Got It Made. The second colt and gelding division went to Paleface ($2.80, Ross Shand) for owner Shirley Shand. The Anders Bluestone gelding was a wire-to-wire winner in 2:02.3 on the sloppy racetrack over Reddy Fox and Perfect Twenty for trainer/driver Shand.

Jeff Clark's She Is Strong ($3, Art Stafford Jr.) was a 2:00.3 winner in the first of two filly divisions. A daughter of Anders Bluestone, the seven-time winner was a wire-to-wire winner for her trainer/driver over Lilmisswontbewrong and Starlight Lounge. In the 2nd filly division, James Craparotta and Pat Berry Racing's Miss Daburg ($2.60, Berry) scored an open-length score over Gold Rate and Royal Flirt in 2:02.3. The Anders Bluestone filly dominated the field of six for her 6th lifetime win for trainer Traci Berry.

Hold My Wine ($5.60, Montrell Teague) and Killer Stripes ($2.10, Art Stafford Jr.) each won their respective $20,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders Fund elimination for 3-year-old pacing fillies Tuesday (June 20) at Harrington Raceway.

Owned by George and Tina Dennis, a Badlands Hanover filly, Hold My Wine stalked pacesetter Misty Coast throughout before surging by in the stretch in 1:54.3 for trainer Joe Columbo. Misty Coast was second with Kims Secret Search third. It was the fifth win of the season for Hold My Wine; all have come at Harrington.

The second split went to heavily favored Killer Stripes for owners Andrew Stafford, Thomas Ireland and Bonnie Benson, who was a dominant 1:57.3 winner over Chatty Kathleen and Direct Mist. The Badlands Hanover filly improved to five-for-five in her career for trainer and co-owner Stafford.

Tony Morgan won five races, while Montrell Teague had three wins on the card.

Round two of Delaware Standardbred Breeders Fund (DSBF)

action for 3-year-old male pacers headlined the Monday (June 19) program at Harrington Raceway with a trio of $20,000 divisions being contested.

Night Terror ($2.20, Allan Davis) took the first division in 1:54.2, holding off a late charge by Cards A Flyin, who was second. Sweetest Swing was third. It was the sixth win in seven seasonal starts for Night Terror (Badlands Hanover), who completed a sweep of his preliminaries for trainer and co-owner Steve LeBlanc.

Donna Messick and Jo Ann Looney-King's Delightinthisglory ($17.20, Ross Wolfenden) sprang an upset in the second division with a 1:55.1 triumph over the heavily favored Notte's Mist. Double Bags was third. Ajayi set a brisk pace early while Delightinthisglory tracked him down on the final turn and surged by before holding off the 1-9 favorite Notte's Mist, who rallied late. A son of Roddy's Bags Again, the Jim King Jr.-trainee recorded his first win of the season.

The final split paired two first-round winners, Gaitway Guy and Bad Boy Too, in the field of six. Bad Boy Too left hard from post six and set the fractions through three-quarters while Gaitway Guy mounted a first-over charge and wore down the leader in deep stretch to complete a sweep of his preliminaries. Bad Boy Too held second with Badlands Casino third.

Gaitway Guy ($2.40, Corey Callahan), owned by GTY Stable, notched his ninth career win for trainer Jeff Smith in 1:54.1. The son of Delmarvalous was undefeated at 2 in seven starts.

Live racing will continue on a Monday through Wednesday

Switzer Jr. gets win number 3,000 at Cumberland

On a track listed as 'good,' the Maine faithful waited patiently in inclement weather for one of their favorite sons, Kevin Switzer Jr., to snag his 3,000th lifetime victory. It finally arrived in race 7 at First Tracks Cumberland on Saturday (June 17), where his sister, Candace Brandstatter harnessed the horse El Jacko N and provided the well-known New England driver with his career benchmark.

Friends and a large, enthusiastic extended family swarmed the winner's circle to help the 35-year-old third generation horseman celebrate the momentous occasion.

Following the festivities, Switzer Jr. shared his excitement with track photographer Stephanie Gray.

"I am very happy to reach this milestone at my home track, with my sister's horse," Switzer said. "Having my family, friends and colleagues here in the rain makes it much more special for me.

"Thank you to First Tracks [Cumberland] for the recognition today and leading up to today. I am very grateful to do what I love, in the place that I grew up."

El Jacko N, the 11-year-old New Zealand-bred son of Elsu, was the 9-5 favorite and paid $2.60 to win. Owned by P T Stable and trained by Brandstatter, it was the 34th win of his career, and second in a row at Cumberland.

Racing resumes today (June 23) at First Tracks Cumberland.

Live harness racing continues at Cumberland throughout the spring and early summer months with regular racing on Friday and Saturday each weekend. First post is slated for 3:15 p.m. (EDT) during the extended pari-mutuel meeting, which runs through Aug. 5.

MGM Yonkers Trot elims set, MGM Grand Messenger goes right to the final

Eliminations for the MGM Yonkers Trot – the first leg of the Trotting Triple Crown – and Park MGM Pace will take place tonight (June 23) at MGM Yonkers Raceway. The MGM Grand Messenger Stakes – the opening leg of the Pacing Triple Crown – and the New York New York Mile for 3-year-old filly trotters didn't require eliminations and will go straight to their respective finals on June 30.

The opening elimination of the MGM Yonkers Trot (race 6) includes Crown (post 3, Brian Sears driving for trainer Marcus Melander), who is coming off a win in the New York Sire Stakes at Tioga Downs and Up Your Deo (post 4, Ake Svanstedt drives/trains), a recent winner of a New Jersey Sire Stakes prelim at The Meadowlands. Father Stosh (post 2, Jason Bartlett, Brian Roland) also owns a sire stakes win in Pennsylvania at The Meadows on June 3.

Svanstedt also has Kierkegaard K (post 1) in the second elimination (race 7), who is fresh off a track record-equaling victory in his Empire Breeders Classic elimination at Vernon Downs on June 16.

The top four finishers in each MGM Yonkers Trot elimination will advance to the final on the 30th of June.

Earthwindfire (post 1, Tim Tetrick, Brett Pelling) and Turn On The Charm (post 2, Marcus Miller, Bruce Clarke) both won New York Sire Stakes divisions on Monday (June 19) at Monticello and will have a quick turnaround to compete in their respective Park MGM Pace eliminations (races 1 and 2) for sophomore pacing fillies.

Earthwindfire will meet the likes of New Jersey Sire Stakes prelim winner Alexa's Fantasy (post 5, Jason Bartlett, Nik Drennan), and Turn On The Charm will duel with New Jersey Sire Stakes champion Ucandoit Blue Chip (post 1, Scott Zeron, Linda Toscano) and Fan Hanover Stakes finalist Vivians Dream (post 3, Brian Sears, Kevin Lare).

Just like the MGM Yonkers Trot, the first four finishers from each elimination will secure spots in the final.

As far as the MGM Grand Messenger Stakes for 3-year-old male pacers, 10 horses entered, and as allowed in the stakes conditions that state, "The racing office reserves the right to split the horses entered into two elimination races, or race the final as one dash at a one-mile or longer distance," the final will take place with all the horses that dropped into the box at the distance of a mile and a sixteenth.

The finalists (in alphabetical order) will therefore be:

Annapolis Hanover
Bamboozler
Captain Batboy

Team Teague major force among Philly freshmen

Three of the five 2-year-old pacing fillies who won during Tuesday (June 20) qualifiers at Harrah's Philadelphia were very closely linked: driver Montrell Teague, trainer Clyde Francis, owner George Teague Jr., and first-crop sire Lather Up.

The fastest of the trio of triumphant Team Teague horses, Kamala, has another family link: his dam, Mozzi Minaj, is a full sister to the immortal Wiggle It Jiggle It. Kamala went wire-to-wire in 1:56.3, with back fractions of :57.2, :28.1. The other two fillies in the Team Teague winning arsenal were The Future Is Here (dam Future Destiny, 1:57.1) and Itsonlyupfromhere (dam Enniskerry, 1:57.2).

These three were joined in the Lather Up winner's column by the gelding Hundred Dollar Man (dam What The Girl), who won in 1:55 in his first charted line last week and then here came from far back to win in 2:00.1, :57, :27.1 for owner/trainer/George's sister/Montrell's aunt Brenda Teague.

On the pacing male side, the Huntsville—Gigi Deo gelding Hunt Or Be Hunted tied as fastest 2-year-old of the day with a 1:56.3 triumph, an engine score with :56.4, :28 back numbers for driver Andrew McCarthy, trainer Jamie Sullivan, and owner Frank Chick.

A filly was fastest freshman of the day on the trotting gait, with the first-crop sire Greenshoe and Hollywood Hill producing Green Fee, who rushed to the lead down the back and won in 2:01, :58.3, :29 for driver Yannick Gingras, trainer Nancy Takter, and the partnership of Christina Takter, Michael Falk, and Suleyman Yuksel Stable Inc.

The What The Hill—Oh Maybelline colt Deville Hill made a move at the quarter, rushed to the lead, then stepped home in :28.2 to complete a 2:02 mile to best his contemporaries' winning times on the day. Dexter Dunn drove for trainer Paul Stafford and owner Thomas Ceraso Jr.

The qualifiers can be seen on the PHHA's website, www.phha.org. Remember that drivers are not necessarily wearing their colors in these non-purse races.

Promising babies strut their stuff at Pocono

Prominent Pocono barns produced sweeps in the action for each sex of 2-year-old pacers during the Wednesday (June 21) early session at The Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania.

Travis Alexander sent out the three winners in the colt division, the fastest of whom was the Huntsville—Apple Delight colt Avenger Force, who went wire-to-wire in 1:55.3, with back fractions of :56.4, :27. Matt Kakaley drove the colt for Fiddler's Creek Stables LLC. Jim Pantaleano drove the other two winners for the barn: the American Ideal—Arielle Lynn colt Howlenthedhills, home in 1:55.4, and the Huntsville—Queen Of Darkness colt Vampire Blue Chip, a winner in 1:56.4.

On the pacing filly side, driver Marcus Miller, trainer/father Erv Miller, and owner Douglas Overhiser had a sweep of the two cuts. The faster was the Sweet Lou—Some Fancy Filly miss Asweetbeachhere, who made an early move and dashed home first in 1:55, :56.4, :27.2; Overhiser shares with David Prushnok the other Miller winner, the Stay Hungry—Mother Of Art distaff Shezahungrygigi, winning her second straight start, here in 1:56.2.

D. R. Ackerman owns, trains, and drives the fastest trotting male winner, Mr Grant, an altered son of Tactical Landing—Flos Conch Shack, who recorded his second win, here in 1:59, :57.3, :28.1. Driver Matt Kakaley and trainer Jenny Melander were the brain trust behind the two other winners in this section: Going Green (Greenshoe—Majestic Lexi, 2:00.1) and Nottingham (E L Titan—Lady Marian, 2:01).

Trainer/driver Todd Schadel, also co-owner with Jim Simpson, got the morning session off with the second straight winning charted line for the International Moni—Janderson filly Jakarta Hanover, here going wire-to-wire in 1:58.3, :58.2, :28.3. The other baby winning on the day was her contemporary Sweet Secret (Six Pack—Getinonthesecret, 2:03.3).

As we noted in the Philly freshman report yesterday, this will likely be the last of the morning session 2-year-old reports, as overnight races are filling daily, the PA fair stakes season begins Saturday, and the pari-mutuel stakes a week after that. We will be reading about many quality 2-year-olds in the upcoming weeks.

Pocono qualifiers can be seen on the PHHA's website, www.phha.org. We remind you that drivers may not be wearing their colors driving in these non-purse sessions.

Repeat winners highlight Gaitway qualifiers

Qualifying was just as good the second time around for five of Monday's 2-year-olds in action at Gaitway Farm as Blue Pacific, Sweet Gal, Rochester Flash, Swiftly Lazar and T C I repeated as winners in their second tries around the training center's one-mile oval.

Sweet Gal, Rochester Flash, Swiftly Lazar and T C I were among eight rookie winners for trainer Ron Burke. They were joined by Lou Lou, Bettor Stay Hungry, Norma Pearl and Crowbar Girl.

The morning's remaining 2-year-old winners were the aforementioned Blue Pacific, trained by Joe Holloway, $475,000 yearling purchase Valentina Richie for trainer Julie Miller, and Stockholm Hanover for trainer Karen Garland. Valentina Richie and Stockholm Hanover were the only first-time starters among today's winners.

Sweet Gal, a female pacer who won in 1:57.1 on June 5 at Gaitway, was the fastest performer among the 2-year-olds, winning by 12-1/2 lengths in 1:54.4 with Yannick Gingras in the sulky. Gingras drove six of Burke's winners.

Owned by Bill Donovan and Mark Mullen, Sweet Gal (Sweet Lou—Beach Gal) was bred by Sergeant Stables and sold for $125,000 at the Lexington Selected Sale. She is a full sister to 2022 Breeders Crown colt champion Ammo as well as a half-sister to Grand Circuit-winner Always A Miki.

Blue Pacific was second fastest among the filly pacers, winning in 1:55.3 with David Miller driving for Holloway. She was a 1:56.1 winner on June 5. Owned by Val D'Or Farms, Blue Pacific (Sweet Lou—Miss Jones) was purchased under the name Sweet And Lou for $53,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. She was bred by Fair Winds Farm.

Lou Lou, who was a second-place finisher behind Blue Pacific on June 5, won by seven lengths in 1:59.4. Lou Lou (Sweet Lou—Sassa Hanover) is owned by Burke Racing Stable, Phil Collura, Larry Karr, and Frank Baldachino. She was bred by Burke Racing, The Panhellenic Stable Corp., Weaver Brussemi, and Karr. Her dam was a multiple Grand Circuit winner and million-dollar earner for her breeders.

Male pacers Swiftly Lazar and Bettor Stay Hungry both won in 1:55.3 while Rochester Flash was just one-fifth of a second slower.

Swiftly Lazar (Sweet Lou—Cam Swiftly), who won in 1:57.3 on June 5, is owned by Burke Racing Stable, Frank Baldachino, Phil Collura, and J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby. He was bred by Concord Stud Farm, Birnam Wood Farms, and Julie Meirs and purchased for $45,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. He is a half-brother to Grand Circuit-winner Naughtytilltheend.

Bettor Stay Hungry (Stay Hungry—Venus Delight) was a third-place finisher two weeks ago. He is owned by breeder Brad Grant. His dam was a Dan Patch Award winner and his full sister, My Hungry Girl, has picked up wins on the Pennsylvania stakes circuit. His family also includes Dan Patch Award-recipient Keystone Velocity.

Rochester Flash (Stay Hungry—Double Creme) won his Q debut on June 5 in 1:59.3. He is owned by Burke Racing, Knox Services Inc., J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby, and Grant. He was bred by Stephen Dey III and purchased under the name Last Supper for $80,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. His siblings include stakes-winners OK Commander, Double A Mint, and OK Boromir.

Valentina Richie (Tactical Landing—Solveig) was the fastest winner in the three qualifiers for freshman female trotters, stopping the timer in 1:58.4 with driver Andy Miller.

She was purchased under the name Linnea G for $475,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale and is owned by Jason Allen, Patrick Hoopes, and Julie Meirs. She was bred by Christina Takter and Solveig's Breeders. Her dam was a Dan Patch Award winner on the track and inducted into the Hall of Fame as a broodmare. She is a half-sister to 2014 Trotter of the Year Shake It Cerry.

Crowbar Girl (Chapter Seven—Miss Trixton) won in 1:59.3 after finishing third on June 5. She is owned by Burke Racing, William Switala, James Martin, and Weaver Brussemi. She was bred by Order By Stable AB and purchased for $70,000 at the Standardbred Horse Sale. Her family includes millionaire Possess The Magic and Grand Circuit winner Secret Magic, the dam of multiple Dan Patch Award winner Manchego.

Second on June 5, Norma Pearl (Father Patrick—Celebrity Obsession) won today in 2:00.3 for owners Burke Racing, Knox Services, Karr, and J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby. She was bred by Timber Ridge Stable and Midland Acres. She was purchased for $85,000 at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale and her siblings include Grand Circuit winner Celebrity Ruth.
