2-year-old pacers have never been faster, earlier

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES

with BRETT STURMAN

In a race at Hoosier Park over the U.S. holiday weekend on July 3, a 2-year-old pacing colt named Dancingdreamer won a race for Indiana Sire Stake eligibles by over five lengths in a time of 1:50.4. The race chart was posted on X by Gabe Prewitt and I responded to the post with the comment, "Fastest 2YO mile ever before July 4th? Maybe?"

What do you think?

It wasn't long at all after the Hoosier race where maybe this early of a sub-1:51 freshman mile was more common than I first thought. That's because literally the very next day on July 4, a 2-year-old pacing filly named A Clean Deal won her Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold Series race at Woodbine Mohawk Park in the same 1:50.4 time in her second career start. And as if that wasn't enough, the next night again, on July 5, a 2-year-old colt named Beau Jangles was even faster, winning an OSS Gold Series race in 1:50.1.

So obviously, this must happen all the time, right?

Thanks to the crack research staff in the statistics department from the United States Trotting Association, from which all findings in this column are attributed, we have an answer. Prior to the events of two weeks ago, there has been only one other time in the sport's history where a mile of 1:50.4 or faster was paced prior to July 4. That race came on June 24, 2022 when the horse Life's A Puzzle won an New Jersey Sires Stakes (NJSS) race at The Meadowlands in 1:50.4. To date, that remains the fastest June mile ever paced by a 2-year-old.

The statistics become more interesting the more they are drilled into. In all, there have been 20 sub-1:51 miles paced by a 2-year-old ever in the months of June or July of their respective 2-year-old seasons. Amazingly, 14 of those 20 have taken place just since 2022, including three of the four before July 6 taking place a couple weeks ago over the course of one weekend!

For reference, the first occurrences of a July 1:50.4 or better mile was established in 2007 by Duneside Perch in the NJSS final in 1:50.2, and then one-week later Dali went 1:50.4 in the Niatross. As an aside, that set up a highly anticipated Woodrow Wilson a short time later on Aug. 3 between those two where in that race Dali and Luc Ouellette rode up on second over cover and surged from there to win in 1:50.2.

Back to the June mile established by Life's A Puzzle, 2022 proved to be a watershed year as seven of the 20

“There’s some impacts with time when training down, but there’s no positive outcome if you’re trying to put a horse into situations they shouldn’t be in timewise. You have to keep them on a trajectory going in the right direction and that entails keeping them at the right speeds where they’re well within themselves, but you can’t push them to hit certain marks where it just doesn’t mean anything yet.”

sub-1:51 miles came from that year. In one night alone at The Meadowlands on July 15 that year, winners Blue Lou, Hungry Man and Hungry Angel Boy all paced miles of 1:50.1, 1:50.1, and 1:50.2, respectively; that’s insanity. And whereas Life’s A Puzzle paced the fastest June mile ever, his soon-to-be rival and current top FFA horse to this day Voukefalas, owns the fastest 2-year-old July mile ever when he won his NJSS Final on July 22 in a time of 1:50 flat.

Voukefalas was third in his debut when essentially parked the mile, and still closed off the pace with a :26 final quarter in that June 24 mile won by Life’s A Puzzle. I asked the only trainer Voukefalas has ever known, Mike Russo, about what time means anymore, if anything, when it comes to training down 2-year-olds because of how fast they all go right away anyway.

“There’s some impacts with time when training down, but there’s no positive outcome if you’re trying to put a horse into situations they shouldn’t be in timewise,” said Russo. “You have to keep them on a trajectory going in the right direction and that entails keeping them at the right speeds where they’re well within themselves, but you can’t push them to hit certain marks where it just doesn’t mean anything yet.”

In all, there have been 20 sub-1:51 miles paced by a 2-year-old ever in the months of June or July of their respective 2-year-old seasons. Amazingly, 14 of those 20 have taken place just since 2022, including three of the four before July 6 taking place a couple weeks ago over the course of one weekend!

Russo gave the example, "If you were to write a [hypothetical] script and say I trained Voukefalas and kept records and on March 15 he was say 2:20 or 2:10 or whatever you want, so now every horse if they're going to be that good as to go hit those marks, that's going to end in disaster. Putting the miles in the horses is the big thing; I'll train a horse faster or slower depending on the horse but it's all how they feel at a certain point.

"Now, time does take on more meaning when the races are there. When Voukefalas was making his first start, he had his qualifiers and obviously I was looking forward to these races because I had such a good feeling about him, and I looked through who he was against and I honestly thought he's going to have to go in 1:52 right off the bat, that's what I figured. So, I trained him in a way I thought would put him in a position to be able to go in a 1:52 and change mile, and of course they just blasted out in 1:50.4. But he's held that form his entire career and has been one of the top pacers in his group ever since."

The analysis that began in looking at June and July sub-1:51 miles extend to parallel findings when looking at the totality of 2-year-old sub-1:50 miles in any month. To date, there have been 93 instances of 2-year-olds pacing a mile of 1:49.4 or faster. Of those 93, nearly half of them (41) have all come just in 2022, 2023 and 2024.

Miles of 1:48.4 or better? There have been 12, but none before 2018. Just last year produced six of those 12.

Lastly, and interestingly, there has never been a sub-1:51 mile paced by a 2-year-old in the month of December.

RACING INTO THE FUTURE

with BOB DUFF

Could TV docuseries hold the key to taking harness racing mainstream?

by Bob Duff

My arrival as a harness racing writer wasn't a natural progression. Our newspaper's racing writer was retiring. I'd filled in for him during his vacation time and found enjoyment covering the sport, so I asked to take over following his departure.

At the time, my technical knowledge of the sport could've been written down on the head of a pin. But what I'd learned in my brief tenure as a harness racing writer was that such knowledge wasn't mandatory in order to tell its stories. This was a sport that was rich with untapped stories waiting to be told. For someone who loved being a storyteller, this was beyond an exciting opportunity.

Over the years, every person I've ever exposed to a night of harness racing couldn't wait to get another chance to go to the track. And I lost count over the years of how many writers sent grudgingly to cover a race that I'd been able to convince them that this was going to be easy.

The beauty of harness racing from the point of view of the storyteller is that every horse has a story to tell.

Make that stories to tell. The groom. The trainer. The owner. The driver. And of course, the horse. If you're sent to write about a racehorse and can't find a story, then you're just not trying.

From the point of view of someone who's written about the sport now for more than 30 years, this has always been opportunity knocking. Someone might not be able to distinguish between a trotter and a pacer, but everyone can be drawn in by a compelling storyline. And harness racing offers a never-ending wealth of tales to tell.

GOING BEHIND THE SCENES

A friend and a family member are today both intense Formula One fans. Not all that long ago, they couldn't have distinguished Max Verstappen from Max Scherzer.

The beauty of harness racing from the point of view of the storyteller is that every horse has a story to tell. Make that stories to tell. The groom. The trainer. The owner. The driver. And of course, the horse. If you're sent to write about a racehorse and can't find a story, then you're just not trying.

These are stories that harness racing needs to be delivering to a mass audience. As we've seen with other so-called niche sports, exposing that sport to people that otherwise might not give the sport a second glance is proving to be a formula for building a wider audience for those sports.

So, what happened? Both began watching the behind-the-scenes F1 docuseries on Netflix, and they got drawn into the sport until they were hooked. Further docuseries on Sunderland's soccer team and Six Nations Rugby have spawned similar growth in interest from demographics that previously might not have given those sports the time of day.

The selling point behind developing every interest is investing in the people who are the backbone of the sport. It's about pulling back the curtain to give the audience exposure and access to the drama and compelling issues behind the scenes. That's what drew people in and got them to invest their valuable time into following these sports.

Horse racing is beginning to explore this path and we're here to say keep it going.

Woodbine's Free Rein series on YouTube is providing an all-access to the "Sport of Kings" at Canada's No. 1 thoroughbred track. It's all about putting a face to the sport. Telling the back stories of jockeys, of horses, of major events.

Likewise, OLG's Unfiltered Series provided viewers with similar access to horse racing in Ontario like it has never been showcased before.

With both of these online docuseries, it's enabling viewers to put faces to the people who are behind the horse. By making that horse more than just a number in the program with past performance results, you're building an audience, giving them a rooting interest beyond the fact that they might have a wager backing that horse in a specific race.

IDEAL EXPOSURE FOR HARNESS RACING

If there's a sport that's filled with stories waiting to be told, it's harness racing. We recently were offered a wonderful cross-sport experience as Dale Hunter coached the OHL London Knights to the Memorial Cup while at the same time seeing his pacer Crack Shot compete in the $1 million North America Cup.

Truth be told, you could find a compelling story every race day simply by wandering into the backstretch and asking some questions about any horse. As the OLG noted in its release on the Unfiltered series, "the road to the winner's circle is a bumpy one filled with twists and turns that are unexpected, and that's what makes the journey so exciting. With races taking place every day there are many stories unfolding that you can experience."

These are stories that harness racing needs to be delivering to a mass audience. As we've seen with other so-called niche sports, exposing that sport to people that otherwise might not give the sport a second glance is proving to be a formula for building a wider audience for those sports.

The aforementioned horse racing docuseries are a great starting point. Now let's keep building.

The next step is to get harness racing on to a major streaming platform like Netflix or Amazon Prime. As someone who was originally drawn to the sport by its back stories, there's no telling how much it could mean to the growth of harness racing's future if it were to give people access to those stories through such mainstream exposure.

But on June 7, she was afforded the rare opportunity of a short commute to Shenandoah Downs.

That day, Herman recorded her first-ever win as a harness racing owner and trainer when her sophomore filly pacer, Caughtupinthehoney, bested six rivals in the seventh race on the afternoon card.

"I wasn't expecting my mare to break her maiden that quickly," she said. "I knew she was getting close, but I didn't think it was going to happen that day. I'm proud of her and I'm so happy to have won my first race. For it to be my horse... I don't know how to truly describe it. I guess you can say it was a moment I was waiting for and I'm so glad it happened."

Herman bought the daughter of Capitol Power as a yearling a few years ago.

The purchase, she admits, was a bit of a leap of faith.

"Caughtupinthehoney was initially called Honey Mustard," she said. "I initially bought her through Danny Meyer. I saw her advertised on Facebook as a yearling. About the same time that I saw her on Facebook, my boyfriend called me and asked if I had seen that post about her. He said, 'Don't you think it's about time you got started and bought a horse?' I wasn't sure — I didn't have my trainer's license yet — but I called up Danny to ask about the mare. He told me she had a lot of promise, but he wasn't sure about me not having my license at that point. I assured him I would get it soon, so I went ahead and bought her and brought her home with me."

From that point forward, Herman did nearly everything herself.

"I broke her to the harness and broke her with me in the cart," Herman said. "I started jogging her on my farm in the fall of 2023. I wanted to get the work started right away."

The decision to enter the standardbred world stemmed from a lifelong passion for horses and a desire to explore a new chapter in her equine career.

A graduate of The American School of Equine Dentistry, the 31-year-old didn't make the decision lightly — especially given the demands of her full-time work.

"I'm coming into this world from a different one," she said. "As an equine dentist, I see 1,800 horses a year. I travel to southern Maryland, Virginia, New Jersey, Pennsylvania — sometimes I am five or six hours from home, sometimes I'm five minutes down the road. That's my career and how I was able to get my farm."

"I have been a dentist for 10 years now. When I saw 'Honey' advertised, I realized I was ready for a new adventure. With my dentistry practice, I can't teach lessons anymore because you need to be on a schedule. With being on the road so much, it just wouldn't work. My schedule is different every day."

One constant in her life, however, is the presence of horses.

Her farm is home to several different breeds.

"I have nine horses outside of my racehorse," she said. "I grew up around horses. I'm a licensed riding instructor. I used to teach lessons to beginners and intermediates, in Western, English and barrel racing. I have also broken horses under saddle and trained horses in whatever discipline I felt suited them. I have also done trail and ranch riding.”

Though standardbreds are a relatively new addition to her barn, she’s embraced them wholeheartedly.

“I did work for [trainer] Belinda Hughes for a time, and I also worked at Rosecroft in the detention barn,” Herman said. “That was from 2016 and 2022, doing all the pre- and post-race blood draws. So, before jumping in with the journey of my own racehorse, I was already around the sport.”

Now, she’s fully immersed in it – and far from done.

Currently, she’s already preparing a pair of horses for their racing debuts.

“I have a mare of Bad Mistress, who is a 5-year-old, that I came across at a rescue last year,” she said. “She was injured as a 2-year-old and the rescue was looking to find her a good home. When I was there doing teeth, I said, ‘Who is this pretty horse?’ She was never broken with a cart. I showed so much interest that they asked if I wanted to take her. I said no that day, but they convinced me I should. I took her on as a broodmare prospect.”

Those plans changed once the bay arrived at Herman’s farm.

“I thought I’d try breaking her with the cart and see what came out of it,” she said. “So, that’s what I did and started training her. She ran off on me a couple of times, so I got to experience that, but things got better and better. She is training down now to 2:16 and I’m hoping to get her qualified at Ocean Downs in the next couple of weeks, so she will be my second one racing.”

She also has high hopes for another promising youngster with a platinum pedigree.

“I have a mare, Majorsspeciallady, who I bought, in foal, to Tall Dark Stranger, from Hanover Shoe Farms in December,” Herman said. “She foaled a filly. Her barn name is Journey. I don’t have a registered name for her yet. My future plan for her is the Breeders Crown. The reason I say that is her mother was second in the [2017] Breeders Crown and her father, of course, is a Breeders Crown champ. I know it is big shoes to fill, but goals are goals.

“I also bred Majorsspeciallady to Rustys For Real, a Maryland stallion, so that will be my Maryland stakes horse in 2028. I have a Captain Corey filly, out of Pattys Diamond. She’s a trotter. I don’t know her plans yet, but I am just letting her grow.”

Every experience has been a learning process – and a rewarding one.

“You definitely learn more patience,” she said. “In dentistry, you work with so many different horse personalities. It’s the same with racehorses. You have to be adaptable and patient. That’s been one of the biggest lessons.”

And that is hardly a complaint.

“I just like the connection with horses. Racehorses, in general, standardbred or thoroughbred, I never knew what went into the care of these horses until I started. I have so much respect for them. You see them in such a different light. I’m grateful for that.”

~ Katie Herman

For Herman, the chance to expand her association with horses has been more rewarding than she had anticipated.

“I just like the connection with horses,” she said. “Racehorses, in general, standardbred or thoroughbred, I never knew what went into the care of these horses until I started. I have so much respect for them. You see them in such a different light. I’m grateful for that.”

She thinks about that often while traveling – whether it is a few minutes away or several hours down the highway.

Those trips typically feature a trifecta of music, phone conversations, and at times, no sound at all.

“I have Pandora playing,” she said. “Jelly Roll is my go-to artist. Any kind of country – Luke Combs, Luke Bryant – and I am also a die-hard rock fan. I like listening to KISS, Aerosmith – all the old timers.

“My family will call and so will my boyfriend. Believe it or not, I like a lot of peace when I am driving. I’m talking to clients all day, so it’s nice to have some quiet time in my truck.”

Wherever she goes – whether measured in steps or miles – one thing remains constant.

“Every day is a different one, and revolves around the same thing, that being my horses and other people’s horses,” she said. “That’s a good feeling.”

Kathryn Cochrane excels equally caring for humans and equines

by Matthew Lomon

Between her days in the barn and nights in the nursing home, Kathryn Cochrane spends most of her waking hours taking care of others.

The health care and harness racing professional has made a career — or two — out of her enduring passion for the game she first fell in love with under her parents' watch.

"I started out as a groom helping my mom and stepdad, who worked for Paul Fraleigh, and my dad who trained a large stable of his own," said Cochrane, who has moonlighted in the health care industry for the last 12 years.

"During high school, I started working for Wayne Preszcator and continued with him off and on for about nine or 10 years."

Cochrane's groom days also saw her sharpen her skill set under a quartet of Ontario standardbred stalwarts in Mark Horner, Scott McNiven, John Pentland, and Carl Jamieson.

"They all have very different training styles, and types of horses in their barn," she said. "I was able to gather tricks and learn new things from each and every one of them to then use down the road with my own horses."

"I've been lucky enough to have friends who are good, well-established trainers that I've been able to go to for help or advice over the years."

Cochrane, after studying the craft up close, obtained her trainer's license in 2010 while working with Steven Besterd, whom she's co-owned several horses with.

It didn't take long for the Ilderton, ON-based conditioner to translate those years of lessons into a winner.

In just her fourth career start as a trainer, Cochrane coached bay trotter Windsong Georgio to a resounding six-length score, in which the son of Southwind Lustre—Balanced Maddie led every step of the way.

"Georgie had a very special personality," she said, adding with a laugh, "He was a small little maiden trotter, who like most trotters had his quirks and would make breaks — lots of breaks, which was extremely frustrating."

"Your first win is definitely a special one, and one you never forget, especially with a barn favorite."

Today, Cochrane has five racing, and one yearling filly coming in the fall.

While her whole contingent is admittedly spoiled — carrots, apples, bananas, and black licorice are among their favorite snacks — it is one who's no longer here that Cochrane will always hold dear.

"Betonbritt is definitely one of my all-time favorites," she said. "We had to put her down a few weeks ago from what we thought was colic but turned out to be metastatic lymphoma.

"She was an absolute sweetheart who left everything she had on the track every single start. She had a short racing career, only 14 starts, but eight of those were wins and four were seconds. She was never a sound mare; she was so big and heavy, but she loved to win."

Though a difficult loss, Betonbritt's short but deeply impactful time with Cochrane changed the lens through which she saw the game.

"Learning what I did about that mare who had cancer — she raced just six weeks before we found out — has made me see things way differently," she said.

Before Betonbritt, Cochrane said she'd get frustrated if she felt her races left too much on the table.

Now, she's uber diligent in her approach and relies heavily on her gut if she suspects even the slightest deviance from their norm.

"Unfortunately, they can't tell us what's wrong," she said.

Despite the tough experience, the 2024 campaign proved to be a banner year for Cochrane across the board.

With Betonbritt's spirit in tow, Cochrane led her pupils to 15 wins, 17 seconds, and 15 thirds for $94,283 in prize money — each representing a personal best in that category.

The catalyst for the standout season, Brittle, did not race.

Instead, the bay pacer whom Cochrane and Besterd purchased in 2018, provided the winning formula as a mare.

Brittle has foaled two Betterthancheddar fillies in the late Betonbritt and Sweet Cheeseus, a Control The Moment filly in Billysbestgirl — the yearling Cochrane is expecting this fall — and is currently back in foal to Betterthancheddar.

Also in the mix for Cochrane is All The Cheddar, another Betterthancheddar gelding whom she owns with Besterd.

"He is one of the most aggravating horses in the barn," she said with a chuckle. "He constantly paws and tries to bite still at the age of 6, but he is a sweetheart on the track and always tries every single week."

Sweet Cheeseus, Brittle's first foal who Cochrane has conditioned since November 2022, is cut from the same cloth.

"She's a handful in the barn," Cochrane said. "She bites and kicks on a regular basis and you can't turn your back on her for a second. But she tries every week, so it makes it a bit easier to put up with her antics.”

Across 68 starts, the pacing mare has collected over $76,300 with 14 wins, six seconds and 13 thirds.

The bold but dedicated competitor has offered Cochrane both hope and the blueprint for her next project, Sweet Cheeseus’ sister, Billysbestgirl.

“I’m pretty excited about my yearling filly since this is the first one out of Brittle that I own half of,” she said. “So far, she is a spitting image of her sister, attitude and all.”

The year that was had tested Cochrane in every way, but she passed each challenge with flying colors en route to her most memorable season yet.

“Last year was very special for me,” she said. “Most of the horses I had been training were cheaper claimers. I’ve been very blessed to have three Betterthancheddar homebreds, who are all very different in the barn but give everything they have every week on the track.”

As for her hopes for the remainder of 2025, the lifelong horsewoman just wants her horses to be themselves.

“As long as they try, and pick up some checks along the way, that’s really all I can ask for.”

Top mares looking for glory in Stochampionatet

by Thomas Hedlund

It's called the Derby for mares, even if the real Derby for mares is held at Jägersro in early September. Axevalla's $480,000 Stochampionatet, over 2,640 meters, is considered the most prestigious event for 4-year-old Swedish-bred mares and on Sunday (July 20) afternoon, 12 well merited trotters will gather behind the car, hunting the big trophy waiting in Axevalla's winner's circle.

Group 1 winners Screen Time Limit (won E3 final 2024), S.G.Empress (won E3 final 2024), Panthere d'Inverne (won Drottningpokalen in May this year) and La Yuca (won Breeders Crown 2024) will share the position of favorite and the race looks to be worth seeing.

REDÉN IN THE BIKE IN FINNISH TOP RACE

Mikkeli in Finland traditionally hosts a mile race, the $150,000 St Michel-Ajo, on Sunday (July 20) and as the event collides with the big day at Axevalla, Sweden, some interesting choices for drivers must be made. For instance, Daniel Redén's qualities as a reinsman are various, and the Swedish top trainer has won several high staked races throughout his career. But seeing him in the bike behind some of his top trotters today is a rarity. On Sunday, Redén will sit behind American-bred Sweden Cup winner Double Deceiver, who most certainly will be one of the favorites to win the St Michel-Ajo.

Galen Erso and Sprite Seelster win OSS Gold events for sophomore trotters at Grand River Raceway

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

Galen Erso and Sprite Seelster were the respective winners of Wednesday's (July 16) Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Leg 3 Gold Series events for sophomore trotters at Grand River Raceway. Both trotters were sired by Green Manalishi S.

Galen Erso won the lone $140,000 final for colts and Sprite Seelster took the single $140,000 final for fillies.

The boys were up first in race 4. The event attracted a field of seven.

Lookatmegoamigo (Louis-Philippe Roy), Fast Snap (Chris Christoforou), Galen Erso (Doug McNair) and P L Spencer (Bob McClure) all pushed off the gate with authority and led the field, in that order, through fractions of :27 and :56.4. That's when McNair put Galen Erso into gear with McClure following his lead with P L Spencer. Those two led in that order through the 1:24.3 three-quarters and then the battle was on in the stretch.

Ultimately, Galen Erso (7-1) prevailed by a neck over P L Spencer, the 3-5 favorite, in 1:54.1, with Lmc Wagon Wheel (Tyler Borth) swooping up to snatch third place away from Lookatmegoamigo. Fast Snap was fifth.

It was the fourth lifetime Gold win for Galen Erso, who was a three-time Gold champ in 2024, but finished fifth and ninth in his two previous Gold tries this year, respectively.

The win improved Galen Erso to 3-1-0 in seven 2025 starts and 6-3-1 in 14 career outings and upped his seasonal bankroll to $164,606 and his lifetime haul to $365,274.

The son of Green Manalishi S out of Wygant Princess was bred by Marcus Melander of New Jersey, is owned by Brad Grant of Milton, ON and is trained by Gregg McNair.

A field of eight contested the Gold event for sophomore fillies, which went as race 7 on the card.

Sprite Seelster (Tyler Borth) winning the $140,000 OSS Gold event for 3-year-old trotting fillies on Wednesday (July 16) at Grand River Raceway.

Exquisite Taste (Roy), followed by Lil Sweet (Doug McNair), Sprite Seelster (Borth) and Roxie Hart (Travis Cullen) led the field to the :26.3 half. As the field passed the grandstand for the first time, Borth had Sprite Seelster out and rolling. He controlled the race from there through the :56 half and the 1:24.4 three-quarters and defeated Exquisite Taste by a half-length in 1:54. Stormont Beautiful (McClure) flew home to get third, followed by Roxie Hart and Lil Sweet.

It was the second Gold triumph of the year for the daughter of Green Manalishi S out of Speak Of The Devil bred by Seelster Farms, owned by Elite Equine LLC of St. Thomas, ON and her driver, Borth, of Ingersoll, ON and trained by Katie McNeil.

The win improved Sprite Seelster to 3-2-2 in seven starts this year and 4-3-2 in 14 lifetime outings. Her bankroll improved to $192,001 in 2025 and $240,348 lifetime.

Sprite Seelster was sold as a yearling for $40,000 at the 2023 London Classic Yearling Sale.

New York SIRE STAKES REPORT

AI breaks Buffalo track record in NYSS win

by Brian J. Mazurek for Buffalo Raceway

AI ($2.90) broke a long-standing Buffalo Raceway track record for 2-year-old trotting colts on a muggy Wednesday afternoon (July 16) with a hard-fought half-length victory over Titans Mischief in the $106,400 New York Sire Stakes for the freshman sidewinders.

Covering the mile in a lifetime best of 1:58.1 over the fast track, AI crushed the old standard of 1:58.3 established on July 13, 2016 by Money MacIntosh (Andy Miller). Earlier this season at Saratoga Raceway on June 22, AI completed the mile in 1:58.3.

The victory for AI also kept him undefeated in his young career with all three decisions coming in the NYSS.

Titans Mischief (Matt Kakaley) did a lot of the heavy lifting in the race, stomping out fractions of :30.1, 1:00.2 and 1:30.1. But AI (Yannick Gingras) stayed glued to the pocket behind Titans Mischief and made his winning move, turning for home.

It looked like a match was developing between the two, but AI shifted into another gear in mid-stretch and rolled past Titans Mischief thanks to a 28 final stanza. Angry Pete (John Stark, Jr.) took the show position.

Trained by Ron Burke and owned by the Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brussemi, Hatfield Stables and Knox Services, AI (Chapter Seven—Image Of Bee) has now produced $117,750 in winnings in just three career efforts.

In the $20,000 Excelsior Series race, DW's Cha-Ching ($8.90) inherited the early lead due to breaking horses and never looked back in registering a 9½-length victory over stablemate Goog Eyes in 2:01. Dress Shoes finished in third.

It was a matter of survival in the early going as the heavily favored June From Dunoon tried to step out to the front but broke stride around the first turn along with Stinger and Herecomesdasheriff. DW's Cha-Ching (Phil Fluet) got an early jump on the field by the quarter pole in :30.2 and took full advantage of it.

Goog Eyes (Jim Morrill, Jr.) did manage to get alongside DW's Cha-Ching just before the half-mile station but lost contact after that and had to hold back the eventual challenge from Dress Shoes (Drew Monti) for second place honors.

Owned by Donald LaPage and conditioned by Fluet, it was the first win in two tries for the 2-year-old colt DW's Cha-Ching (Devious Man—Yankee doodle candy). The victory was worth $10,000 and increased the bankroll for DW's Cha-Ching to $12,400 in his brief career.

The final weekend of live racing at Buffalo Raceway begins this afternoon (July 18) with a 12-race card set for 2:30 p.m. There's a $799 carryover in the Pick 5 which begins in the second race. Action will then continue on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. with the season concluding with a special Sunday edition beginning at noon.

Better Tak'em tops INSS at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Jacob Rheinheimer / Harrah's Hoosier Park

It was a good night at the office for trainer Henry Graber, Jr. as his trainees once again swept the trifecta in the lone $95,500 division of the fourth leg of Indiana Sire Stakes for 3-year-old trotting fillies on Wednesday (July 16) at Harrah's Hoosier Park with Better Tak'em prevailing.

Leaving from post 5 as the 2-1 second choice with Jordan Ross serving as pilot, Better Tak'em left alertly, racing to the outside of leader Swan Jewel (Marcus Miller) through an opening quarter of :28. Better Tak'em cleared on the backstretch before tapping the brakes to the halfway point in :57.2. Better Tak'em took pressure on the final turn from Martz Seven (Atlee Bender) who towed 8-5 favorite, Miracle Maven (John De Long) into contention second-over at three-quarters in 1:27.1.

Better Tak'em turned away Martz Seven at the top of the lane and was soon faced with her two stablemates, Miracle Maven and Classical Jane (Trace Tetrack) moving within striking distance on the wide side. Trotting home in :28.1, Better Tak'em reached the wire first 1¼-lengths clear of Miracle Maven in 1:55.2 with Classical Jane finishing third, two-lengths back of the winner.

Henry Graber, Jr. also co-owns the winning daughter of Don't Let'em—Barmaid along with Indiana Stables. Better Tak'em has won two of four on the season, going over six-figures in seasonal earnings. Better Tak'em has now won half of her 12 lifetime starts, banking $227,145 in career earnings while only failing to hit the board once in her career.

Once a week, throughout the Mohawk racing season, Woodbine will profile a horse who has had a life-changing impact on one of their closest connections.

What was it like forming a connection with this horse in the race bike?

"Well, it's a funny story. Mark MacDonald was driving the horse – Mark and I are great friends – but he also had a horse for Rich Griffiths, Tigerama, in the same race. It was the [2004] Spring Pacing Championship final, which used to be a free-for-all open pace that went way before real free-for-alls started racing.

"Anyway, Mark qualified the two of them for the final and he decided to drive Tigerama who looked like the better horse. As it turned out, I was just driving there – Mark and I used to carpool from Flamboro periodically as we were both cutting our teeth there – but Mark's career had really taken off, and I was still kind of on his coattails.

"When he couldn't drive Primetime Bobcat for the Montini team, he mentioned to put me down on the horse and that I would get along well with him. So, they put me on him, and didn't I win the final of the series with him. I don't even know how fast it went but I'll tell you, it was the moment that changed things for me.

(New Image Media)

"I really think that after that win, I had won stakes races before, but after I won that final with Primetime Bobcat, people took notice that I wasn't just Mark MacDonald's buddy from Flamboro, I was someone who could get the job done, too.

"Primetime Bobcat and Mark MacDonald taught me a lot about driving horses in this harness game."

What race of his was most meaningful to you and why?

"The Spring Championship was obviously big, but I did win with him in 1:47.2 in May of that year. That was the track record at Woodbine – he might have retired with the track record, actually. It was also a Canadian record at the time, and the fastest mile ever by more than a second.

"He was a really special horse for those connections. I'm not even sure what he made lifetime, but I know he was 8 or 9 years old when I raced him in that series, and he just became a better horse.

"He missed some time racing before he came back and became a free-for-aller, but that was the biggest race that I won with him. Although, I won some opens with him and I raced him in some big races. We didn't quite get the job done in the other big races, but he was my first real free-for-aller type horse."

You've driven plenty of standout horses over your career. What in particular made Primetime Bobcat special?

"I'm an aggressive driver and I like to have them forwardly placed more often than not. He was the type of horse where you could leave with him and sit with him. Lots of times in those days I didn't have horses that I could leave and sit with and then they'd still have pace finishing.

"This horse was one of, obviously not the first one, but one of the ones that sticks out to me that I could leave in :25 and a piece with, follow him along to a half in :53 or :54, and then when he got loose in the stretch, he'd throw a :26 or a :27 at them in the final quarter, which, was kind of unheard of.

"It was unheard of for me as a driver to drive a horse that could do that, so that's what made him special."

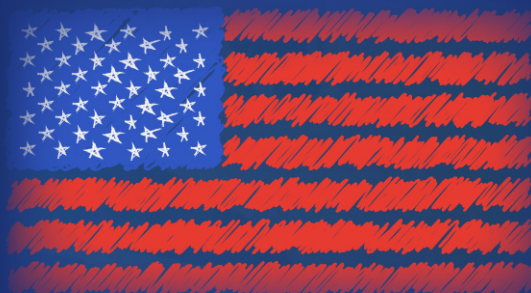

Three words to describe him?

"Sleek. Iron tough."

How has he changed your life?

"He sure did help launch my driving career. I was already driving by then obviously, but he helped me a lot by letting people see that I can drive any type of horse. I'll always remember my time with him."

Capone reflects on unconventional Big M Pace win

His horse didn't cross the finish line first, but that was OK with trainer Cam Capone, whose Madden Oaks was placed first after Prince Hal Hanover was disqualified and placed second in Saturday (July 12) night's $656,000 Meadowlands Pace for 3-year-olds at The Meadowlands.

"Going into the race, I thought the only horse that could beat me was Prince Hal Hanover," said the 26-year-old conditioner. "It's too bad Todd [McCarthy, driving Prince Hal Hanover] didn't give everybody a fair run. I think we were going by, but I think sometimes, you never really know."

As the judges looked at the stretch drive time and time again after the conclusion of the 49th edition of The Big M's signature event with Madden Oaks trying to squeeze through inside of Prince Hal Hanover, the longer they examined the tape, the more the feeling in the crowd was that there was likely to be a disqualification. The fans were somewhat accustomed to that type of result, as there was also a DQ just four years ago in the 2021 Pace, when Charlie May was taken down and Lawless Shadow put up.

"Braxten [Boyd, driving Madden Oaks] and I both knew there was interference," said Capone. "My horse actually caught his right hind leg on Todd's wheel disc, and that's when my horse put in three or four bad steps."

It wasn't the way Capone wanted to win. He thought he had the best horse. He may have. But we'll never know for sure if he was in the Meadowlands Pace.

"Once you come off the turn, as a driver, you are supposed to pick your lane," said Capone. "You can adjust your lane, but once you are committed to your lane, you have to stay where you are. Todd was three-wide into the stretch, [but nearing the wire] Braxten had to check our horse."

"Once Todd picked his lane, he drove Braxten down. There was enough room for Braxten to get through, but then Todd threw his bike underneath us. That's when the interference became a real thing. Todd went into Braxten's path. I think where we really got him, is when his bike went into our path, that's when they said he's coming down for sure."

"It's not the way you want to win it, but I'll take it. It's one of those things. You'd rather win it the right way, but when you're not capable of winning it the right way, you'll take it."

With the victory, Madden Oaks lifted his lifetime stats to five wins from 11 starts, good for earnings of $525,567 for owners Samir Tawil, Paul Kautz, Alexander Henn and Nathan Fullmer. The son of Huntsville—Hard Eight has never failed to hit the board.

In the Pace, Madden Oaks paid $15.20 as the 6-1 fifth choice despite starting out as the morning-line favorite at 5-2. Prince Hal Hanover was sent off as the 9-5 public choice for trainer Dr. Ian Moore, whose Lawless Shadow was put up four years before seeing his horse come down this time around.

For Capone, the trip in the Pace was ideal.

"Once Todd made the lead, giving us a 2-hole trip, I thought I was going to win this thing," said Capone. "It was a good situation to be in. It was a good race. My horse came out of it good. Now, he gets a two-week vacation."

What lies ahead for Madden Oaks?

"The [Aug. 2] Cane Pace at The Meadowlands is next," said Capone. "He's got the New York Sire Stakes, the Empire Breeders, the New Jersey Classic, if we want to do that, then, the Bluegrass, Tattersalls, Breeders Crown, Matron and Progress. There'll be no Little Brown Jug. He's too big for a half-mile track. We were invited to the Milstein, but it's not his style of racing."

BIG M STILL FOXY: Just because the Meadowlands Pace is over, that doesn't mean the national television coverage of harness racing stops.

For a fifth consecutive year, the TV teams at the New York Racing Association (NYRA) and The Meadowlands are combining forces to bring high-caliber harness racing stakes events to a coast-to-coast audience over the networks of FOX Sports as part of NYRA's "America's Day at the Races" telecasts.

The next broadcast will be Hambletonian Day (Aug. 2), when the 100th edition of the $1-million Hambletonian can be seen in the New York-Metropolitan area on FOX 5 New York. There will be coverage of "America's Trotting Classic" throughout the day, before the big event is televised live. The show will feature racing from Saratoga Race Course.

Here is the schedule for the remaining FOX Sports shows, with the event(s) that will be featured and the time the show will be broadcast. Which FOX network the show can be found on – Fox 5 New York (locally), FS1 or FS2 – will be determined:

Gio Cash joins the $1,000,000 MGM Yonkers International Trot field

Always hard at work, Yonkers Raceway's European talent scout Klaus Koch wasted no time in extending a second invitation to the Grade One $1,000,000 MGM Yonkers International Trot following a sparkling performance by Gio Cash in Sweden. The 6-year-old, who is coming off the fastest mile of his career, will be representing Germany for the Sept. 13 event at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

"When you have a horse that is able to compete in big races and you have an opportunity to race, you take it," said Gio Cash's driver/trainer Daniel Wäjersten. "To be able to race in big races and drive good horses is what I dreamed about when I was 10 years old. It feels really good to have the opportunity."

Not only was Gio Cash's latest victory in the Arjängs Stora Sprinter on July 12 the fastest of his career, but the 1:08.5 time (1:50.1 mile rate) crushed the previous track record by more than a second. He faced intense pressure throughout the 1,640-meter race and ultimately bested the classy 2021 Elitlopp winner Don Fanucci Zet by a narrow margin. The victory by Gio Cash was also his second straight over his rival as he defeated him at 2,140 meters on June 14.

"This is a horse that has been racing at the top level as a 2-, 3- and 4-year-old, then he had some problems as a 5-year-old," said Wäjersten on Gio Cash's recent form spree. "Now he is back in good shape. He has always been a talented horse."

Gio Cash, a career winner of 15 races in 28 starts and $617,767, came to the Wäjersten barn for his 2025 campaign and is already closing in on the best season ever. The trainer admitted that he really didn't change anything on the son of Victor Gio to revive him.

"He's a super horse," said Wäjersten. "We just made him the same level as he was when he was young."

A question with any international horse arriving at Yonkers Raceway is how they will handle the tighter turns of the half-mile track (800 meters). Wäjersten revealed that both of his horse's recent wins came over a 1,000-meter surface with tight turns that can be a bit difficult for some horses. He also added that Gio Cash has a very smooth gait that makes it easy for him to trot over any track.

For the 35-year-old Wäjersten, the trip will be his first to New York, though he has been to the now defunct Pompano Park and The Red Mile on previous occasions. It will be a special experience for him as well as the ownership group of Carpe Diem Stable.

"I'm looking forward to the race and the experience for all the owners and the groom," said Wäjersten.

Gio Cash will have one more start in Sweden prior to shipping to the United States about a week ahead of the MGM Yonkers International Trot. He joins the previously announced Hohnneck as the first two starters for the $1,000,000 event. Additional invitees will be announced in the coming weeks.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday-Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time each night at 6:45 p.m. (EDT).

Little Expensive wins open trot; Oak Grove wraps record-breaking meet Little Expensive shipped west from his home-base on the East Coast and fired down the road to a 1:53 win in the $40,000 open trot on closing day, Tuesday (July 15) of a record-breaking meeting at Oak Grove Racing, Gaming & Hotel.

Leaving from post 5, driver Andy Miller hustled Little Expensive forward in a four-wide charge to the first turn. He cleared the lead from the three-wide path after a :26.1 first quarter to pocket DP Freedoms Chrome (driven by Tony Hall) moving past the grandstand for the first time. Railee Something (Joey Putnam), the 4-5 favorite, had to pull back from her four-wide bid to race fourth, but she soon angled outside to attack first up on the rim passing a :55.3 half.

Railee Something marched towards Little Expensive up the backstretch, though she leveled in her bid without even reaching the tempo-setter's wheel. Little Expensive clocked three-quarters in 1:23.3 and held his ground through the turn and down the stretch as closers swooped in from both flanks. Amigo Volo (David Miller) slid through an inside seam for second, beaten three-quarters-of-a-lengths, while Oh Look Magic (Devon Sharps) rallied down the wide side of the track for third and DP Freedoms Chrome gave chase in fourth.

Julie Miller trains Little Expensive, a 5-year-old gelding by Muscle Hill, for owners Andy Miller Stable Inc., Jean Goehlen and VIP Internet Stable LLC. He won his sixth race from 15 starts this season and his 13th from 48 starts in his career, good for $287,416 in earnings. He paid $7.42 to win.

Pioneer As (Tony Hall) sat a perfect pocket trip off fast early fractions before making a three-wide pounce in the last turn and staving off a late rally from Empire Builder (Jeremy Bobbitt) to win the $24,000 Chad Stubbs Memorial open 2 trot in 1:54.2. The 6-year-old daughter of Devious Man collected her 17th victory from 70 starts and added to an account now worth $551,800 for owner/breeder ACL Stuteri AB. Her win came in the middle of a training hat trick on the afternoon for trainer Anette Lorentzon, who won in the first race of the day with D'wood (Tony Hall, 1:56.4 winning mile; $8.56 to win) and late in the day with Justasiam As (Tony Hall, 1:54.4; $2.40).

Lil Joe Iii (Matt Krueger) upset in the final race of the meet, the $17,000 Freddie Patton, Sr. Memorial, at odds of 21-1 when collaring 2-5 favorite Fox Valley Langley (Jeremy Bobbitt) from a first over grind in the closing strides of a 1:53.1 mile. Oak Grove honored the lives of Stubbs and Patton, Sr., two pivotal members of the Kentucky racing community who passed away this year, with a moment of silence during the racing card.

Erv Miller handily secured another training title at Oak Grove. His two victories on the day widened his lead of 35 victories to end the meet while Tony Dinges finished second with 24 wins. Ron Burke finished third with 21 wins while Wayne Oke and Carter Pinske tied for fourth with 20 wins each.

Marvin Luna held onto the driving title, which he nearly clenched in 2024 with a furious closing gambit before finishing second to Atlee Bender. This time around, Luna clung to the title with 43 victories as Bender worked to cut a six-win deficit on the closing-day card, but Bender hit a driving grand slam to cement his spot in second with 41 wins. Joey Putnam finished third in the driver's standings with 36 wins while Todd McCarthy and Marcus Miller tied for fourth with 27 wins.

Oak Grove set record handle numbers in its 2025 season. The southern Kentucky track continues to post year-over-year gains in betting with the 2025 meeting handling $11.3 million from 37 race days, an increase from the $9.8 million handled from 35 race days in 2024 — a roughly 15 per cent increase year over year. Handle in 2025 has increased just over 60 per cent from 2023, which saw $7 million in handle — all a continued increase from when Oak Grove held its first meet in 2020 and handled just $1.2 million with just 14 race days.

Racing will return to Oak Grove in 2026. Please visit oakgrovinggaming.com for more information.

Ready For Moni geldings win two of four BSS divisions

Ready For Moni geldings won two of the four $20,000 divisions of the opening leg of the Buckeye Stallion Series for freshmen colt trotters on Wednesday (July 16) at the Crawford County Fair in Bucyrus, OH.

Hidden Brook Monty (Ronnie Gillespie), a Ready For Moni gelding out of Little Flower, posted the fastest time among the four divisions, tripping the wire in 2:01.2 to win the second division. After leaving from post 6 in the seven-horse field, the Dalton Walls trainee led the entire way in :30.2, 1:01, and 1:31.2 and finished two lengths clear of second-place Longtimecomin (Drew Neill) for his first career win in just his second start. Lil's Super Tom (Crist Hershberger) was third. Hidden Brook Monty is owned by Walls, Aaron Chandler, James Mason II, and Adam Friedland.

Ready Made (Sandy Beatty), a Ready For Moni gelding out of Pearl Axe It, won the fourth division in what was his first career start. The Dustin Arledge trainee left from the far outside and was third as Dublins Sidney (Gillespie) led at the :32 quarter and 1:05 half. Ready Made trailed the leader by five lengths at the halfway mark but moved first over and into second place at the 1:36.2 three-quarters. He continued closing the gap down the stretch and edged Dublins Sidney by a half-length at the line as they both finished in 2:06.2. Mile Range (Luke Hanners) was third. Ready Made is owned by Arledge and Jim Winske.

Trainer Justin Hall drove Long To B Withu to victory in the first division in a lifetime-best 2:02.2. The Long Tom gelding settled into the pocket off the gate as Mogul Maverick (Neill) led the field through the first three calls in :31.2, 1:01.4, and 1:32.2. Hall took Long To B Withu to the outside just past the three-quarter mark and maneuvered past an off-stride Mogul Maverick up the track around the final turn en route to the victory. Ready For Sunshine (Gillespie) was over a length back in second, and Buy Me A Boat (Chris Beaver) was third. Long To B Withu has hit the board in all three seasonal starts with two wins and one second. He is owned by Mitchell Standardbreds Inc. and Golden Gaits USO.

Eckert Hill Brady (Neill) took the third division in a lifetime-best 2:04.1, as Daniel My Brother (Crist Hershberger) was second with Rudedude L (Hank LeVan) in third. The Rosy Weaver trainee left from the far outside and was fifth at the :30.4 quarter. Eckert Hill Brady moved second over as Daniel My Brother continued to lead past the 1:03.1 half and 1:34.3 three-quarters. The In Range gelding moved outside of Heza Fearles Peter (Ryan Stahl) and into second place just past the three-quarter mark. He drew alongside Daniel My Brother around the final turn and charged in front to win by almost two lengths. Eckert Hill Brady is now three-for-three this season. He is owned by Weaver, Roger Huston, and Kabby D LLC.

The 2025 Buckeye Stallion Series continues on Saturday (July 19) with the opening leg for freshman colt pacers at MGM Northfield Park. The second leg for 2-year-old colt trotters is scheduled for July 24 at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

Late Vic Hayter memory honored at 10th annual trot on July 20 at Clinton Raceway

Years after the passing of Vic Hayter, his son Greg Hayter remains dedicated to keeping his father's legacy alive. This Sunday (July 20), marks the 10th running of the $12,000 Vic Hayter Memorial Invitational Trot at Clinton Raceway – an event Greg describes as a heartfelt tribute and a way of giving back.

"I'm committed to this because, in my heart, I don't want his memory to fade," said Greg. "He was larger than life – everyone knew him. I understand that, as time goes on and the people who knew him pass away, his memory may fade for many. But in my own way, I want to honor who he was. Going to Clinton Raceway was something he genuinely loved. You can host a golf tournament or a poker night in someone's name, but that wasn't who he was. This race is him."

Vic Hayter, who passed away from cancer in February 2016 at the age of 77, was well-known for his hotel ventures – most notably The Arden Park Hotel and Festival Inn in Stratford, ON, (now the Best Western Plus The Arden Park Hotel). Though his hotel business demanded much of his time, Hayter maintained a deep connection to horse racing, owning standardbreds for nearly four decades and regularly attending Clinton Raceway.

Clinton Raceway general manager Ian Fleming praised the Hayter family's ongoing involvement, noting that they not only organize the Vic Hayter Memorial but also provide meals for all horsepeople in the backstretch and have donated funds to boost the purses on the days card by 10 per cent.

"Hayter Day is one of the highlights of the year for horsepeople," said Fleming. "It's truly centered around them."

Greg added, "It's our way of showing appreciation."

This year's event also features Clinton Raceway's popular wiener dog races, with 17 dachshunds competing in two heats and a final. After the races, a pork BBQ dinner will be served, with tickets priced at $25. The day also serves as a fundraiser for Adopt-a-Pet Pet Rescue and Out of the Ashes Big Animal Rescue.

Gates open at noon with a post time of 1:30 p.m. for the 10-race afternoon card.
