On Wednesday (Aug. 7) evening, the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame held its Class of 2024 Induction Gala at the Mississauga Convention Centre, in Mississauga, ON. Thoroughbred and standardbred achievers were formally recognized, some posthumously, for their career contributions to Canadian racing.

The newest thoroughbred inductees are Glenn Todd (builder), Starship Jubilee (female horse), Patrick Husbands (jockey), Channel Maker (male horse), Dan Vella (trainer), and Richard Grubb (veteran).

On the standardbred side, Dr. Moira Gunn (builder), Sylvain Filion (driver), Ed Tracey (driver), Bee A Magician (female horse), Dr. Ian Moore (trainer), and Ross "Cowboy" Curran (veteran) were inducted.

A packed ballroom applauded after each new Hall of Fame member's short video biography was shown, and cheered after acceptance speeches from the Hall of Famers themselves, or the connections of horses and posthumous inductees. Kelly Spencer and Robert Geller co-hosted the presentation.

Chuck Curran, Ross Curran's son, accepted the first 2024 Hall of Fame ring from prominent horse owner Brad Grant, whose father Jack Grant was friends with the late horseman from Smiths Falls, ON.

"I know if my dad was here, he would have thanked the Canadian Racing Hall of Fame for this tremendous honor, recognizing his passion and dedication to the sport of harness racing," said Chuck Curran. "He truly loved harness racing and horses. I don’t remember him having a lot of hobbies. Horses were his life. He would have thanked my mom, his biggest fan, his brother Neil, and his nephew Rick for their support.”

With a career that began at age 16, Ross Curran quickly rose through the ranks to capture his first driving title at Connaught Park, in Aylmer, QC when he was just 20. Ross later became a top reinsman at Mohawk Raceway, Greenwood Raceway, Garden City Raceway, Blue Bonnets Raceway, Richelieu Park, and Rideau Carleton Raceway. His best year was 1972, and he was second in North America before his premature retirement from the sport due to declining health.

Ross’ youngest daughter, Pattie Curran, told HRU that her family had nominated him in the past, and they were pleased that he was finally being recognized.

“When I went to the nursing home, Dad would always ask me when I was taking him to the races, every single time,” Pattie said. “We went to Rideau Carleton a few times. The best memory in my mind was going to Rideau Carleton, and we paid to get in; this was when you paid to get in. [Rideau general manager] Rollie Armitage came down and said, ‘Ross Curran should never pay to get into this racetrack.’ He gave us our money back, and we went up to the dining room. He asked us where we wanted to sit. My dad said he wanted to sit at the wire. People were sitting there. [Armitage] went over and asked them, said it was Ross Curran. Everybody moved so Dad could sit where he wanted to sit.”

Sylvain Filion accepted his ring Wednesday night, joining his father Yves Filion and uncle Hervé Filion in the Canadian Hall of Fame. His achievements were chronicled in HRU after his 10,000th driving win, sitting behind pacing filly One More Bet at Woodbine Mohawk Park on Oct. 23, 2024. He is still among the leading drivers there.

The Angers, QC native was accompanied onstage by wife Dominic Pare and daughter Stella-Rose. Sylvain first thanked “three gentlemen who made sure I had an opportunity to be elected to the Hall of Fame: first, the Honorable Mr. Hector Clouthier, Jr., Mr. Ted Smith, and the deceased Mr. Brian Paquet,” and his family.

Weyburn, SK native Ed Tracey was the next standardbred honoree. Although spending much of his driving career in Alberta, Tracey gained renown traveling across North America over five decades. Tracey won more than 3,100 races and $7.5 million. Starting out driving in two- and three-heat races as a teenager in Saskatchewan, the late horseman known as “Steady Eddie” went on to success in California, St. Louis, Kentucky, and Maryland. He won the 1979 Ice Racing Championship on the Rideau Canal in Ottawa, ON and was Alberta’s 1979 Horseman of the Year.

Tracey died in 2019. A race is held at Century Downs, near Calgary, AB, every year in his memory. His wife Aldona and daughter Betty accepted his Hall of Fame ring from Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame nomination committee member Dr. Maurice Stewart.

Supporting and encouraging the breeding of Standardbred horses for more than 95 years.

Aldona recalled a special memory from the 1987 John W. Miller Memorial at Rosecroft Raceway, which her late husband won with Quille Lauxmont.

"I'd like to say that when we went down to the Miller, to the draw, and he got the outside on that half-mile track, everybody came up and told him, 'There's no way. You can't win on this track, coming from the outside,'" she said. "And as they were doing that, I was thinking to myself, not a good thing to tell him! He would promptly go out and show you how wrong you really were. Which he did."

Dr. Ian Moore joined his trainee Shadow Play (inducted in 2022) in the Hall of Fame. The horseman and veterinarian began his career in Summerside, PEI, where he grew up. He accumulated over 700 training wins and $23 million in purse earnings, despite consistently maintaining a small stable. His top horses have included Tattoo Artist, Shadow Play, Stockade Seelster, Century Farroh, State Treasurer, Percy Blue Chip, and Rockin In Heaven. He was voted 2023 O'Brien Trainer of the Year.

Moore accepted his Hall of Fame ring from wife Nancy.

"This is an amazing and very humbling honor for me, as I stand here in disbelief, trying to figure out how a small-time guy from Canada's smallest province, Prince Edward Island, can be standing here today, in what could be termed as a pinnacle of horse racing for me," said the trainer.

World champion trotting mare Bee A Magician (3, 1:51.0m; $4,055,865) was inducted for her racing achievements. The daughter of Kadabra—Beehive was previously honored as O'Brien 2-Year-Old Trotting Filly of the Year (2012); Dan Patch and O'Brien Horse of the Year, Dan Patch Trotter of the Year, Dan Patch and O'Brien 3-Year-Old Trotting Filly of the Year (2013); Dan Patch and O'Brien Older Trotting Mare of the Year (2015). She won 45 of 72 career starts.

Trained by Richard "Nifty" Norman throughout her racing days, Bee A Magician retired in 2016 as the richest-ever Canadian-sired female racehorse and richest trotter to race exclusively in North America. She is owned by Melvin Hartman of Ottawa, ON; Herb Liverman of Miami Beach, FL; and David McDuffee of Delray Beach, FL. Rick Zeron, the mare's primary Canadian driver, accepted her stall plate and award.

Spencer interviewed a tearful Zeron onstage.

"Nifty Norman... called me and asked me, 'Would you go drive this filly at Kawartha Downs?'" Zeron said. "Someone else was supposed to drive her. I was never supposed to drive Bee A Magician."

“ I know if my dad [Ross Curran] was here, he would have thanked the Canadian Racing Hall of Fame for this tremendous honor, recognizing his passion and dedication to the sport of harness racing. He truly loved harness racing and horses. I don’t remember him having a lot of hobbies. Horses were his life. ”

~ Chuck Curran

Zeron recalled the advice he got from Norman before the filly’s maiden win, in Ontario Sires Stakes Gold action: “I don’t want you to race her on top, and I don’t want you to be first-over challenging to go on top. I just want you to give her a good race and let her trot coming for home.” She was like a Porsche.”

Dr. Moira Gunn was inducted as a standardbred builder for her achievements as a pioneering reproductive veterinarian, farm manager, industry leader, and breeder. Her son Duncan Colterjohn joined Gunn on stage, as her Hall of Fame ring was presented by Dr. John Hayes.

Gunn told banquet attendees how she grew up with horses on her grandmother’s croft in rural Scotland. “One of the humble things about that farm... There was one horse, and it was a massive, shaggy Clyde, and it was the heart of the farm... I think that horse gave me my passion for horses, and it never left me,” she said, breaking into tears in mid-sentence.

She thanked Hayes for supporting her nomination, as well as her husband Marv Chantler, an extended group of friends, family, and staff. She recalled taking her son Duncan to foaling barns when he was a toddler, to wait in a stall as she helped mares and foals overnight: “Most of the time, the stall was clean!”

The veterinary innovator expressed gratitude to Dr. Glen Brown of Armstrong Brothers (Armbro) Farms for having faith in her and sharing his knowledge.

“We had a deal: Always share the driving, whether we were going to Greenwood, Mohawk, Breeders Crown, Lexington, Harrisburg...” she told the audience. “We spent a lot of time in the car.”

Gunn broke down when thanking “mentor” Bob McIntosh, the U.S. and Canadian Hall of Fame trainer who died on July 28. The room filled with applause.

“It’s quite an honor to join [Dr.] Mike [Colterjohn] in the Hall of Fame tonight,” she continued, acknowledging her late husband, inducted in 2016 as a thoroughbred builder. “So now my son comes from parents who are double Hall of Famers.”

Linda Rainey is CHRHOF managing director.

“We’ve had great feedback,” she told HRU, describing the 2024 Hall of Fame celebration. “We had people there from Alberta, Kentucky, and representatives from everywhere from British Columbia to PEI.”

Rainey said that cross-country representation was particularly strong this year. Although nominations frequently focus on Ontario horses and horsepeople.

"Supporting and encouraging the breeding of Standardbred horses for over 99 years."

"It depends on the class in every given year," she said. "Given the weight of the Ontario industry, sometimes it seems they do dominate."

Rainey added it was never too early to consider nominations for 2025.

"We will be confirming details at our board meeting in October," she said.

The CHRHO is currently conducting a unique online fundraising auction offering nine racing experiences.

"This is the first year we've done a one like this..." Rainey said. "We were so thrilled by standardbred and thoroughbred donors from across North America."

The fundraiser runs until Aug. 12.

Rainey said she was "definitely pleased" by this year's CHRHO induction night. She said highlights included "having both breeds in the room at the same time, both so well represented, which is a big deal and always exciting."

Over the 48-year history of the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame, currently located inside the Woodbine Racetrack grandstand, there is one constant. Rainey said there are always "really heartfelt and appreciative responses, which really makes us realize how much it means to the inductees that they have been included in the Hall of Fame."

Dunkin (Kyle Wilfong) posted a 20-1 upset in Friday's $300,000 Dan Patch Stakes at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

Dunkin's Dan Patch upset another Wilfong wonder

by James Platz

Stop me if you've heard this story before. Kyle Wilfong, one of the leading drivers at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino, picks up a horse to drive in the Dan Patch Stakes. He's never sat behind the horse before. They are sent off at double-digit odds in the track's signature race... and he wins a thriller. The narrative in the 2024 edition was nearly identical to that of 2023, when he steered Ponda Warrior to an improbable

“First and foremost, anybody who works as hard as [my wife] Betty deserves one Dunkin’ in their lifetime. We’ve raced 30 horses at the fairs in the last three days. A lot of them won, but I’m going to be honest with you, Dunkin’ winning [the Dan Patch] was the highlight. I had 160 congratulations within five minutes on my phone, so many that I had to delete them because my phone was running out of space.”

victory. Friday night (Aug. 9), Wilfong and Ohio-sired standout Dunkin’ scored a 20-1 upset win in the $300,000 event with a 1:49.1 performance, finishing a length ahead of the field on the strength of a late charge to the wire.

“You don’t know if you’re even going to have a drive in the Dan Patch,” Wilfong said. “For me to be able to pick a horse up like Ponda Warrior the first year, a horse I had never driven before, and be able to hop on him and have success, and the same thing this year with picking up Dunkin’ and it working out the way it did, it’s just unreal. I may not get a drive in this race again; I’m just thrilled it’s working out great now.”

Like in 2023, Wilfong found out he was listed on a Dan Patch horse via text. Last year he received notice in advance of the post draw that he would get the nod on Ponda Warrior if driver John DeLong chose to stick with Little Rocket Man. In all likelihood, the 33-year-old driver would have again sat behind last year’s winner had he dropped in the box for a title defense. But with Ponda Warrior sidelined, Wilfong was not listed on a horse when post positions were drawn last Tuesday night. Instead, Tim Tetrick was down on the Mary Jo Clegg-owned 4-year-old. When Tetrick opted not to make the trip, trainer Nick Clegg had to find an alternative.

“I just had one main objective and that was to stay pacing out of the gate. That’s where [Dunkin’] struggles. [Trainer] Nick [Clegg] said, ‘If you can keep him pacing out of the gate, you can win the Dan Patch. That’s all there is to it.’”

~ Kyle Wilfong

“We scrambled around for a driver,” Nick said of choosing a pilot. “The reason you want to hire those top guys is not because they are that much better than everybody else, it’s because the pressure doesn’t mean that much to them. Sometimes things just work out, right?”

After the driver changes were finalized for Fridays’ program, Wilfong was notified by a friend of the substitution.

“I knew nothing about it,” he said. “One of my friends texted me and said, ‘Hey, have you talked to Nick yet?’ I said, ‘Nick who?’ He said, ‘Nick Clegg. You’re driving Dunkin’ in the Dan Patch.’ I was just the lucky guy.”

Leading up to Friday’s 31st running of the Dan Patch Stakes, Wilfong and Clegg chatted via Facebook Messenger. The trainer’s instructions for his driver were simple: get away from the gate clean.

“I just had one main objective and that was to stay pacing out of the gate,” said Wilfong. “That’s where he struggles. Nick said, ‘If you can keep him pacing out of the gate, you can win the Dan Patch. That’s all there is to it.’”

Nick also said: “He gets so ready that he gets borderline pissed off if you put him in the gate, and he just goes to cantering. It’s not like he makes a mistake or makes a break. He literally just goes to cantering.”

Starting from post 2 in the field of 10, Wilfong left unhurried with Dunkin' finding a spot in fifth along the rail as Christchurch took command followed by El Ray, Buzzsaw Russ and Charlie May. Christchurch and LeWayne Miller would click off fractions of :26 and :54.3 before DeLong would pull the right line and begin his move to the front, bringing with him Charlie May and Dunkin'.

"Once we got out of the gate and all the dust settled, the fractions were good," Wilfong said. "We were third over shortly onto the backside following Buzzsaw Russ and Charlie May, who I thought were the two best horses in the race."

Buzzsaw Russ powered past the leader racing out of the last turn, and it looked as if the Indiana-sired entry would sprint away from the field. Wilfong, flipping off Charlie May's back and with a clear path to the wire, appeared to stall. Nick, watching from his home in Ohio, feared the worst.

"Halfway down the stretch, he was going backwards, what appeared going backwards, for the first time in his life," Nick said. "My first thought was, 'Oh my God, something's wrong?' I was borderline embarrassed. Eleven seconds later, it was an unbelievable feeling. I know that if you give him clear sailing, his grit and his want is unbelievable. His capabilities are like no other. He can go as fast, when he wants to, as a horse possibly can."

Trace Tetrack and favorite Coach Stefanos, sprinting home in :25.3, proved a valuable motivator for Dunkin' late in the lane.

"Once that horse started racing him on the outside, he just dug right in, he wasn't going to be passed," Wilfong said. "He may have needed a little coaxing to get by, but he sure did it."

Wilfong is now one of seven drivers to win the Dan Patch twice, and joins Montrell Teague as the only reinsmen to secure victories in their first two attempts.

Dunkin' surged ahead of a three-horse pack in the final strides to earn his ninth win of the season and 36th overall. Buzzsaw Russ and Coach Stefanos hit the wire together to dead-heat for second, with Charlie May in the photo narrowly separated from the pair in fourth. Dunkin' paid $42.00, $14.20, and $7, in the victory.

"First and foremost, anybody who works as hard as Betty deserves one Dunkin' in their lifetime," Nick said of his partner in the husband-wife team. "We've raced 30 horses at the fairs in the last three days. A lot of them won, but I'm going to be honest with you, Dunkin' winning that race was the highlight. A $7,000 yearling purchase at Harrisburg, Dunkin's Dan Patch victory pushed his career bankroll over the $600,000 mark, with $353,000 accumulated this season while racing out of the Scott Di Domenico barn at Yonkers. The winning time is nearly two seconds better than his previous mark. The gelded son of Pet Rock—Skinny Dip was bred by Stonegate Standardbred Farms in New Jersey. Dunkin' began his career on the Ohio fair circuit. Now he has a Grand Circuit win under his belt, and an invitation to come back to Hoosier Park in the fall for the Harrah's Hoosier Park Pacing Derby.

"It's all him," Nick said. "It wouldn't matter if Scotty D had him or you had him and tied him to an oak tree in your back yard and hand fed him three times a day, Dunkin' would be a champion, it's just who he is. I'd love to take credit that I bought him for $7,000 as a baby and I turned him into this. Dude, Dunkin's just a champion, period."

TALES FROM THE CURMUDEON

with MURRAY BROWN

It's not Jim, it's not Jimmy, it's James

James MacDonald on being part of one of PEI's great racing families.

by Murray Brown

James is the youngest – trailing Lloyd, Bobby, Anthony, Mark and Curtis – of the Prince Edward Island MacDonald brothers in age.

"My parents finally got a good one," said the baby brother with a laugh. "So, they stopped with me."

James, at the age of 38, is the number one driver in Canada and one of the leaders in all of North America. Unlike his older driving brothers Anthony and Mark who were horse obsessed for as long as he could recall, it wasn't until he was 18 that James showed any significant interest in harness racing.

“[When you drive] there is always the possibility of an accident. You need to be very careful while you are out there, but while doing so, you cannot be afraid. There is an old gambler’s saying, ‘Scared money never wins.’ That also applies to driving horses.”

~ James MacDonald

“There were a few sports that I much preferred to the horses,” James said. “When I was 18, I went to work for Anthony. He worked me very hard, but over time I learned to love racing and most of all the wonderful creatures that I was destined to make my way in life with.

“I started driving and after a little bit started to have some success. I’ve always been a go with the flow type and generally have taken what life has handed me. I suppose I mostly brought this trait to my driving horses.

“With me, the problem, if you would call it a problem, was to maybe take it too easy with them – to wait on the horses rather than to drive them all hell bent. This has probably proven to be one of my best assets as a driver – especially as a driver of young horses. You can often categorize drivers into two camps, the power drivers and the finesse ones. It’s the ones who are between those extremes that are usually the best.

“The most glaring example of this is the man who I believe to be the greatest to ever sit behind a horse – John Campbell. In almost all instances, he just took what the race gave him and drove the horse according to its strengths. I can say I’ve tried to model my driving around that style and philosophy. I think any success that I’ve had in driving horses is due to my belief in the horse itself, determining how I am going to drive it, rather than any particular driving style.”

It was on the morning of Industry Day at Grand River Racetrack and just two days after the Hambletonian, where James steered Legendary Hanover to a resounding victory in the Cane Pace at The Meadowlands that he and this author engaged in conversation.

Let's begin with your name. Most people named James, often go with the colloquial Jim or Jimmy. You prefer the perhaps more formal James.

"I was named James. When growing up my brothers would often tease me by calling me Jim or Jimmy. I grew not to like it and asked to be called by my actual name which has since followed me all my life."

Let's speak of Saturday's races and Legendary Hanover. He won in the track and stakes record time of 1.46.2. It appeared to these eyes that there might have been a little extra gas in the tank so to speak. Would you agree?

"There probably was. The question might be, how much? I think at this stage of his career, I'd prefer not to know. It's still fairly early, both in the racing season and the colt's career. I do know that he was in tip top condition for the race. For that, all credit needs to go to Tony Beaton and his team and before them to Casie Coleman and her Florida team. They've done a fantastic job with him. My main job as I see it, is to take it one step further by not messing up their accomplishments with him. They've given me the great privilege of driving one of the best 3-year-olds of this season and who knows how good he can end up being. In the meantime, my preference would be to take it one race at a time and go where the horse decides he wants to take us. His next start is in the Hempt Memorial at Pocono Downs on Aug. 17."

Your career appears to be on a continual upward trajectory. As this is written, you have 3,761 lifetime wins and your drives have earned $55,820,580 (computed in U.S. dollars). Looking at the year-to-year statistics there was a huge jump between 2020 and 2021. In 2020, your drives earned $3,262,284. In 2021, they earned $6,094,979 - almost double!

"That was the time when COVID was at its worst. I suppose that it could be said that my career benefitted from COVID. Racing was almost shut down here in Canada in 2021. I packed up my whip, my helmet and colors and in effect moved to the States.

“I lived with my brother Mark in Goshen [NY] and began racing at The Meadowlands, Yonkers, Pocono and Chester. It was a really good experience and I got to meet a lot of new people and some big players in the sport. It almost certainly has benefitted me in terms of getting drives from the American people who have sent their horses to race in Canada. It certainly helped my career, but it wasn’t without its negatives. I had to leave my girlfriend at the time and now wife Paige and also my son Griffin for a whole lot longer than I was comfortable with.”

You have moved from being a mostly local driver in Ontario to one who successfully races all over North America. Do you have any favorite places at which to race?

“I suppose the short and smart answer would be the place where I get the best horses to drive. That said, there are many places that I enjoy. A place like Lexington has so much history and is a treat to race at. This past Saturday at The Meadowlands was indescribable. Not only did Legendary Hanover win the Cane Pace, but to race in the Hambletonian and be part of such an amazing day of racing was a pleasure. Especially thrilling was my brother Mark's win in the $220,000 Sam McKee Memorial with Rocknroll Runa.

"I also love racing at the Jug in Delaware, OH, where I hope Legendary Hanover takes me this year. I suppose if I had to come up with just one place, that place and time, where I guess most Maritimers would say is their favorite, would be Old Home Week in Charlottetown. It's a place like no other. The only place comparable in the States would be Delaware, OH, during Jug week. It's so hard to describe. The racing takes over the whole area entirely. All I can say is that every true harness racing fan needs to experience it. If you haven't been there, you haven't really experienced harness racing in its entirety and at its best. We won't be able to be there for the Gold Cup and Saucer this year, but my wife, my son and I will be spending a few days there the week before. I can't wait."

You've hit the track hard a few times yourself. Your brother Mark has had a few very serious accidents while driving. Does fear play any part in driving horses?

"There is always the possibility of an accident. You need to be very careful while you are out there, but while doing so, you cannot be afraid. There is an old gambler's saying, 'Scared money never wins.' That also applies to driving horses.

"My brother Mark has been seriously hurt several times. I've broken a leg and a collarbone. It's a danger that is always there. But you cannot dwell on it. You need to be as careful as you can, but you cannot let fear overcome you. If it does, you don't belong on the racetrack."

Speaking about Mark, how about him? He had two drives at The Meadowlands over Hambletonian weekend. In the first he won the Muscle Hill with Victor Laszlo on Friday. He then came back and won the McKee Memorial on Saturday. I doubt that anyone else has ever done that. Are there any drivers that you've tried to pattern yourself after?

"Not really. I mostly try to be myself. But having said that, I think I've learned a great deal by watching and racing with other drivers – my brothers Mark and Anthony, John Campbell, Brian Sears, Tim Tetrick, Jody Jamieson, Yannick Gingras and numerous others. I've watched them and I like to think I've learned from them all."

Are there any lessons you would pass on to a younger generation of drivers?

"There are many. Here are a couple:

1. Learn by watching and asking. You are never too old or too young to increase your knowledge.
2. In most cases, especially when driving a young horse, it's important to know who you're driving for and how they want their horses raced. When a horse is just starting out, most trainers and good horsemen would prefer to have their horses raced conservatively and finishing strong. Take what the race gives you. "In more cases than not, the end result will be better not only with where you finish in the race, but certainly for the long-term benefit of the horse."

SUPERSTAR FEMALES OF HARNESS RACING

with VICTORIA M. HOWARD

Molly D'Agostino is giving standardbreds a new career the 'ride' way

by Victoria Howard

Molly D'Agostino is grateful that her uncle Lon Rosenfeld visited a harness track some 50 years ago and never left, paving the way for his family's interest in the sport.

Molly's parents, Laura and Joe D'Agostino would watch the races on the backstretch at Vernon Downs, toting Molly along. It didn't take long for the wide-eyed girl to fall madly in love with the majestic animals.

In middle school she got her first grooming job working for trainer Whitney Bell, which made her love and admiration for the horse only intensify.

While attending high school, Molly worked for various trainers, learning something different from each one. Molly is not just a pretty face, for after graduating from law school, she became a licensed attorney in New York where she currently practices

“When I was campaigning our show team around show rings across the country and beating thoroughbreds, quarter horses, and warmbloods, I kept getting asked from top showing stables, ‘What breed is that and how can I get one?’ With my connections to the racetrack it only made sense to combine my two passions to create a one-of-a-kind direct-off-track adoption program.”

supporting major non-profit organizations across the U.S., while running MMXX Standardbreds.

“When I moved from New York to Connecticut in 2018, there were no racehorse tracks,” Molly said. “I missed harness racing terribly. My family owned a trotter named Fox Valley Photog who was not much on the track, but I loved him. In 2020, I retired ‘Fox Valley’ who was 14 years young and 308 races deep. I built him a barn in CT to retire.”

Molly really missed being around the horses and decided to do some trail riding and broke Fox Valley Photog to ride.

“My neighbors who are heavily into traditional horse showing couldn’t believe he was a standardbred racehorse and convinced me to train him for showing,” she said. “With their guidance we did, and Fox Valley Photog became a superstar in the ring!”

“Last year he was Horse of the Year with SPHO [Standardbred Pleasure Horse Organization], basically, the number one pointed standardbred under saddle in the United States. This year in June he showed in Tulsa, OK, for the PTHA World Championships and got four top 10 finishes in the world under saddle, which is a huge feat for a standardbred. Every other competitor in our classes at Worlds were quarter horses.”

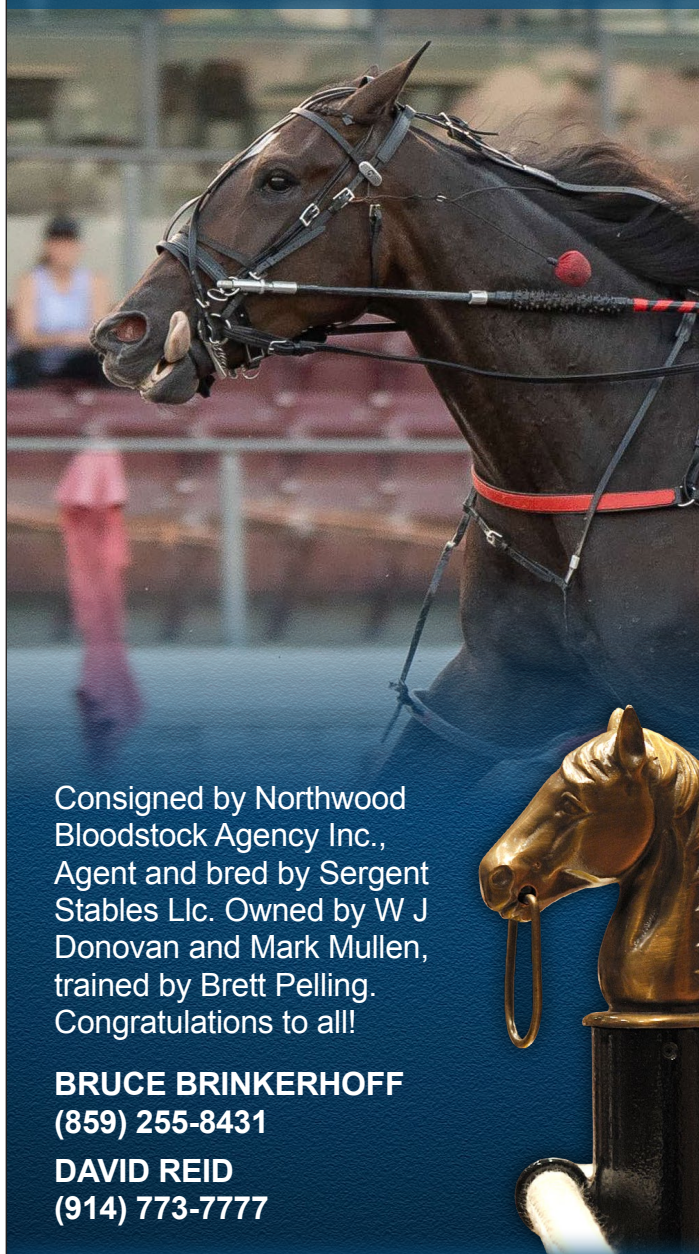

In 2021, Molly started an all-standardbred show team (MMXX Standardbreds) with Fox Valley Photo leading.

"There have been many horses who have come to join our team, including current leading horse for 2024 'Horse of the Year' and Breeders Crown pacer Go Daddy Go; Breeders Crown winner Split The House, the great Atlanta's full brother, Monticello, and many more. And I'm proud to say that we have several kill pen rescues on our show team, too.

"Because of the success of the show team, we launched an adoption program in 2023 to help my friends on the track place their horses in safe riding homes."

In addition to her show horses, Molly does still have racehorses at Vernon Downs under the care of trainer Dave Dewhurst.

"My show team is stabled in Connecticut at Angel & Anchor Farm," she said. "My stable star on the track right now is Makadushin N Cheez, an open trotter in New York. My stable star in the ring is Breeders Crown pacer Go Daddy Go."

Although Molly loves all of her horses, there's no question that one stands a little above the rest.

"My favorite horse in the whole world is Fox Valley Photog," she said. "He was definitely not the fastest and was very sub-par in his 300-plus starts on the track, but under saddle, he has paved the way for 140 plus of his brothers and sisters to find homes that promise them a safe, secure future as a riding or show horse. 'Foxy' is the love of my life, and I will never be able to repay him for all he has done for me and this breed."

“Standardbreds are very easy to transition into riding because all the ‘buttons’ are there for a safe ride: start, stop, woah, go, left, right, etc. What they don’t understand is what ‘leg’ means. The good foundation for restarting a standardbred is to teach them to move off and understand leg cues. The only way you are able to do this is repetition.”

Molly got the idea for MMXX Standardbreds when she was competing and kept getting asked about her horses.

"When I was campaigning our show team around show rings across the country and beating thoroughbreds, quarter horses, and warmbloods, I kept getting asked from top showing stables, 'What breed is that and how can I get one?'" she said. "With my connections to the racetrack it only made sense to combine my two passions to create a one-of-a-kind direct-off-track adoption program.

"MMXX Standardbreds is an all-standardbred show team and adoption program. We have facilitated 140 adoptions since we started, helping racing owners and trainers place horses that no longer are competitive on the track or have since retired.

"We also have a full team of people that make it happen. On the show team side, my husband Jay, is our newest second trainer and my board members, Jessica Rivard and Dana Ziter, also help with the show team. Our logistics coordinators are Alex Rhodes and Justine Albin and we have several volunteer riders, Liesl Dalpe, Emma Lewis and Grace Glasko and others.

"On the adoption side we have had several volunteers help us move the adoption program forward, among them are Ellen Harvey, Laura Rosenfeld, Nichole Phelps, who are all angels sent from above for our standardbreds."

According to Molly, her show team has been very successful in the ring because of the training methods they use.

"Standardbreds are very easy to transition into riding because all the 'buttons' are there for a safe ride: start, stop, woah, go, left, right, etc.," Molly said. "What they don't understand is what 'leg' means. The good foundation for restarting a standardbred is to teach them to move off and understand leg cues. The only way you are able to do this is repetition.

"I have been very fortunate to have several great horsewomen in the show ring provide guidance because when I started, I knew nothing about showing."

MMXX Standardbreds is a non-profit organization.

"The only support we receive are from industry sponsors and individual donations," Molly said. "Despite the endless requests we have made to the USTA or STA, we have not received any support, which has been disheartening. But we thank our many sponsors who help us do what we do, especially our premier sponsor, Bluestone Farms. Bluestone stepped up to ensure we're able to continue the adoption program during show season.

INTERIOR:

A hotel banquet room. Over the entrance doorway, a large white banner with red block letters reads 30TH REUNION, RANDALL FALLS HIGH SCHOOL – GO WARTHOGS!!! Two males. Both men are tall and fit. One man, Peter, is wearing an expensive black suit with a large wristwatch, his black hair combed back, showing flecks of white. The other man has long hair in a ponytail and is wearing a Hawaiian shirt, blue with green palm leaves. The background to their conversation is the Journey song “Don’t Stop Believing.” Murmuring and clinking glasses. They point at each other from 10 feet away, walk toward each other, give high fives and an awkward man hug, and then step back.

PETER

Yeah, then I moved my folks and my sister to California. I see the racetrack is still chugging along. Are you still a devotee?

TREY

Yeah, I never shook the bug. Mainly, I bet on the iPad these days. Occasionally, I buy into a piece of a yearling.

PETER

You know the problem in your sport?

TREY

THE problem. You might be simplifying, but go ahead, enlighten me.

PETER

There aren't enough villains. People can't get all fired up about rooting against nothing. You can't hate a horse. Rule number one in show business is you need a protagonist and antagonist.

TREY

I know, being against someone or something gets the juices flowing. Do you ever listen to political talk on the radio? They constantly use two words - us and them. They only use the word WE to reinforce membership in our tribe.

PETER

Division sells. The internet and AI have sent division into warp speed and unfathomed depths.

TREY

I can't argue.

PETER

Being against something is essential in sports. What's your favorite baseball team?

TREY

Tampa Bay Devil Rays.

PETER

You're happy when they win, but I bet you're just as happy, maybe happier when teams in the division lose.

TREY

No doubt. Take the Yankees, our division rivals. I hate the deep-pocketed bastards.

The emotions work in other sports. Who is your favorite golfer?

TREY

I like Rory, the guy from England. I can't believe he doesn't win more.

PETER

Every time you watch or bet on a golf tournament, Rory is your positive emotion guy, BUT every player in the field, in some respects, is now your enemy. You have emotions going both ways.

TREY

Sort of like politics?

PETER

Sure. What we see in our ridiculous clown of a candidate isn't nearly as important as thinking the other guy is hysterically awful.

TREY

So, what about horse racing? Do you have a theory? Do you have any applicable solutions?

PETER

Hating the people who race the horses is silly because humans are too tiny of a factor in racing.

TREY

So, if we ain't got a foe, horse racing is toast?

PETER

I'm sure this isn't new, but maybe selecting stables of horses at the beginning of the year, making a league with different teams for a defined amount of time. Focus the customers' attention.

TREY

Like the Ohio Stampede of the Ohio Valley Harness League.

PETER

Yeah, something like that. Make the number of teams manageable, probably six teams. People make serious wagers at the beginning of the racing season, say $500 for the entire season. Your Stampede only need to beat the other teams in the league to win attention-getting money. The psychology goes back to your engagement with the Tampa Bay Rays. You cheer on your team and against the other teams in the league, but you always have action and someone to root against.

TREY

I like the concept, but $500 is a touch steep.

The money needs to be meaningful, or the psychology doesn't work. The customer needs to feel pain or danger. Keeping track of a manageable number of teams all with some relevance, would make the internet a friend of horse racing.

TREY

I would play. I would join a league to cheer for, but who will promote and operate the leagues, the tooth fairy?

PETER

No tooth fairies. Your sport needs entrepreneurs or operators with a vision and who see a way to make money. They take a small cut for running a league, and in the wild new world of online wagering, I have no doubt sharp league operators will find new revenue streams. Similar to Hollywood projects, the league would need investors and a plan.

TREY

When you think about it, setting up a league wouldn't require much upfront investment, and the people running the racing league would just be piggybacking off the sport. It could be one of those - win, win, win deals.

(Takes a drink from his beer bottle).

You got me jazzed up a bit, and I must admit that rooting for and against would take me deeper into the sport and might bring in some newbies. Emotionally, 99 per cent of the races or horses don't mean diddly to me. A league like that would be a carve-out, say, six teams with four horses. I would spend my season paying uber attention to the ups and downs of a couple dozen horses. Weekly charts can be updated to see how my team is doing against my foes. Emotional investment is the goal, like following a ball team with serious smack talk.

PETER

Having a foe is in our DNA, some tribal survival deal. Cheering against a foe gets our juices flowing. Sports are no exception, even though cheering against someone or something often doesn't make sense. I mean, is your hatred against the Yankees reasonable? If you lived in New York, you would be cheering for the Yankees.

TREY

Whoa, whoa, now you are just talking crazy.

Drama before Sweden's richest race

There was plenty of action off the track before Saturday's $1,050,000 Åby World Grand Prix, but, in the end, the race was uneventful.

by Thomas Hedlund

There was drama in the days and hours before Åby racetrack's Saturday (Aug. 10) $1,050,000 Åby World Grand Prix. On Friday (Aug. 9) morning, it was announced that French top driver Eric Raffin had been hit in the face by a horse and he would not be coming to Åby. So, the new driver behind race favorite Horsy Dream was the horse's trainer Pierre Belloche.

Horsy Dream (Pierre Belloche) won Saturday's $1,050,000 Åby World Grand Prix at Åby Racetrack in a mile rate of 1:55.4 over 3,140 metres.

Later on Friday night, contender Oracle Tile was scratched from Åby World Grand Prix, due to a small violation of medication rules. Trainer Kristian Malmin had used a hoof product called Hoof Hardener, which is banned within 96 hours before a race in Sweden. Bad luck and nothing big in terms of a violation, but still, it meant no race for the Norwegian-trained trotter this time.

Nine of the best trotters in the world were supposed to gather behind the gate on Saturday afternoon. Francesco Zet, San Moteur and Horsy Dream are all superstars in the business and a race including these three horses is a dream. However, hours before the race, the track's veterinarian scratched Alessandro Gocciadoro's Banderas Bi because of a wound on one of the Italian horse's hoofs. The veterinarian surely did his job correctly, but at the same time, one can't help but think that the Olympic Games, with restrictive actions connected to a horse's well-being, played a role when the decision was made to leave Banderas Bi out of the race.

Adam Ström/stalltz.se

Horsy Dream's connections cashed a $600,000 check with the victory.

Swedish media showed footage of Banderas Bi's left front hoof, where a flap, not big, was seen. It will be interesting to see if this case is precedent-setting for future cases involving vets. It is correct to scratch a horse with a wound like this, but, at the same time, there are lots of horses competing with similar wounds — or even in worse shape — where the veterinarians never act at all.

That left eight horses chasing the biggest purse ever offered to a trotter in Sweden. While there was considerable drama before the race, there was none during it.

Belloche did everything right as he sent his Elitloppet winner Horsy Dream (Scipion du Goutier) to the lead after the first turn. Surprisingly, High On Pepper challenged Francesco Zet for the front shortly after the start and, surprisingly again, Örjan Kihlström never really tried to defend the front position, but opted for a position third on the inside when Horsy Dream came to the lead.

Thereafter, the field lined up and the leader controlled the pace. That meant the middle part of the 3,140-meter race pretty much disappeared. Cold blooded trotters run faster than the Åby World Grand Prix-field did at some points. Horsy Dream had lots of powers and speed to use during the remaining kilometer.

San Moteur, the second choice behind the French super trotter, tried an attack up the backstretch, but became tired during his attempt and lost his gait considerably in the stretch.

Horsy Dream was at home when the field turned for home. Even though Francesco Zet delivered an impressive finish, he had no real chance to surpass the French winner.

High On Pepper held strongly as third and the summary of this big event is that races rarely go as expected.

Nevertheless, Horsy Dream is right now the best trotter in Europe and this time the victory paid him $600,000, the biggest check ever for a trotter in Sweden.

The mile rate over 3,140 meters was 1:55.4.

Replay here.

Earlier on the card, 4-year-olds chased the $60,000 in Ragnar Thorngrens Minne and a very impressive Devilish Hill (Muscle Hill) once again showed that he is Norway's most interesting trotter at the moment. The American-bred (Thomas Dillon) horse hit the lead and controlled the race from that position as he won in a strong mile rate of 1:53.3 over 1.3 miles. An American-bred was runner up as well. Crown was second ahead of Underground Artist.

then a final where the two best horses met. And the new thing, besides the short distance, was that the horses had to stay in a particular line throughout the heats. A contender that started outside, had the opportunity to change for an inside finish after 500 meters, and vice versa. The whole idea was inspired by skating events. And it all went well. Eight trotters became two for the final where $25,000 waited for the winner and it was the durable Beartime (Pastor Stephen) who proved to adapt to the different conditions best.

LOOKING FORWARD TO WEDNESDAY

Solvalla's Wednesday (Aug. 14) race card includes some really good trotters from Europe. The main event, the $300,000 Margareta Wallenius-Kleberg Pokal for 5-year-olds, will be the night's big race.

Formerly named the Jubileumspokalen, this race has seen some of the best horses in the world entering the winner's circle, like Readly Express, San Moteur and Francesco Zet.

This year, it might look like the big names are missing from the event, but still, there are 10 strong contenders that will chase glory at Solvalla.

During the same night, the $200,000 European Championship for mares is held and title defender Great Skills will be the probable favorite, even if some really great opponents are in the program.

Both races run over 2,140 meters and the entire night contains great races for different categories of horses.

JUST A GIGOLO BEST IN ARGENTAN

The $130,000 Criterium de Vitesse de Basse de Normandie mile race in Argentan was held on Saturday (Aug. 10) afternoon and trainer Philippe Allaire had great chances to capture the trophy in Hohneck and Just A Gigolo. Hohneck was seen in front early into the race, but before the last turn, Eric The Eel swept to the front and made the way easier for Just A Gigolo (Boccador de Simm) and David Thomain. Hohneck got his chance to get back in the race for real, but Just A Gigolo held off his stablemate by a half-length in 1:53.3.

Sabonis' eighth-straight win comes in Carl Milstein Memorial

by Dave Briggs

Sabonis stormed to a 1:50.3 victory in Saturday's (Aug. 10) $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial invitational 3-year-old pace at MGM Northfield Park.

It was the eighth straight win for the son of Tellitlikeitis—Gypsy Bellevue driven to victory by Joey Putnam for trainer Aaron Stutzman.

"The horse was awesome," Putnam said to Gabe Prewitt in the winner's circle. "So it's just phenomenal."

It was the first race away from Harrah's Hoosier Park for Sabonis, but Putnam said he wasn't concerned about Northfield's half-mile track.

"He trains on a half and Hoosier, you know, the bottom turns are tight," Putnam said. "I wasn't too uncertain coming in the race, as far as getting around the track."

Sabonis was sitting fifth when Timeisonmyside (Anthony MacDonald) led the field to the quarter in :25.4.

"When I saw the quarter, I said, 'Okay,'" Putnam said. "And then going to the half, we were a little bit back, but then up the back side, I kicked him into gear, and I saw the half pop up [in :54.1] and I thought maybe we'd be okay. Going into the bottom turn, I thought, 'You know, we might get there.'"

Sabonis finished 1½ lengths in front of Timeisonmyside with even-money favorite Wish You Well third.

The victory improved Sabonis to 11-1-0 in 12 starts in 2024 and 12-1-1 in 14 lifetime outings. The $150,000 payday upped the pacer's bankroll to $327,450 lifetime.

Sabonis was bred by Karl Miller of Ligonier, IN and is owned by Pat Miller of Slaughters, KY. He was purchased for just $9,000 as a yearling at the 2022 Midwest Mixed Sale.

The winner paid $6.

ODDS ON PLATINUM WINS COURAGEOUS LADY

Favorite Odds On Platinum won the $100,000 Courageous Lady 3-year-old pacing filly invitational in 1:51.2 on Saturday at Northfield Park.

David Miller drove the daughter of Bettors Delight—American Jewel to victory for freshly-minted Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame inductee Dr. Ian Moore.

Odds On Platinum defeated Gone Coastal by 4¾ lengths. Soft Shot was third.

The splits were: :26.3, :55.2 and 1:23.

The victory improved Odds On Platinum to 4-1-2 in 10 starts in 2024 and 6-7-3 in 21 career starts.

Bred by Hanover Shoe Farms, Odds On Platinum is owned by Let It Ride Stables Inc. and Odds On Racing.

Originally sold under the name Amethyst Hanover, Odds On Platinum was purchased for $110,00 at the 2022 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA.

BURKE COMMANDER IN CHIEF AT NORTHFIELD

Ron Burke used the power of his office as the top trainer in harness racing history to claim both the Tom Aldrich President's Trot and Myron Charna President's Pace on Saturday at Northfield Park.

It's Academic powered clear of the field in the stretch to score a second-consecutive victory in the $100,000 Aldrich, while Act Fast barely held on to win the $100,000 Charna.

Miller left for the lead with It's Academic from post 2 before yielding to Black Magic (Scott Zeron) coming out of the first turn.

After a quarter in :27.4, Miller moved It's Academic back to the front before hitting the half in :56.3.

The team of Miller and It's Academic extended their advantage to 1¾ lengths as they passed three-quarters in 1:25 before hitting the wire 6½ lengths ahead of Black Magic in 1:52.4. Guido Di was third.

It's Academic, a 7-year-old son of Uncle Peter—Annapolis, is owned by Brad Grant and now has 32 lifetime victories from 88 starts, good for earnings of $2,494,333.

Bred by GBW Breeding Farms Inc, It's Academic sold for $50,000 at the 2018 Ohio Selected Jug Sale.

As the 1-9 favorite in the Aldrich, an Ohio sired 4 and up invitational trot, he paid $2.10 to win.

In the Charna, after getting caught three-wide in the first turn, driver Ronnie Wrenn, Jr. moved Act Fast to the lead approaching the quarter that went in an eye-popping :26.

Wrenn and Act Fast kept at least a length advantage passing the half in :55 and three-quarters in 1:22.2.

Pocket-sitter Racing Rampage (Matt Kakaley) dove into the passing lane to challenge Act Fast but came up a nose short in 1:50.2. Quick Trick got up for third.

Both Act Fast and Racing Rampage were sent off at 7-5, with the latter ending up as the slight favorite.

Act Fast, a 4-year-old gelded son of Downbytheseaside—Act Like A Diva, has now banked $535,624 lifetime for owners Burke Racing Stable LLC, Knox Services Inc, Rich Lombardo Racing LLC, and Beasty LLC and now has 13 wins from 49 career starts.

Bred by Frederick Hertrich III, Act Fast was a $125,000 purchase at the 2021 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

Act Fast paid $4.80 to win in the Charna, an Ohio-sired 4 and up invitational pace.

Royal Mission breaks maiden in NYSS at Saratoga

by Dan Leary / U.S. Trotting Association

Royal Mission, a 2-year-old filly by Chapter Seven out of the RC Royalty mare Swinging Royalty, scored her first career victory on Friday evening (Aug. 9) at Saratoga.

The Marcus Melander-trained freshman got perfect Brett Beckwith piloting in the $148,500 featured New York Sire Stakes race on Friday as the meet's leading driver powered the 6-5 second-choice in the wagering up to take over the lead approaching the half-mile pole.

Royal Mission clicked off a half in :59.2 while the favored My Debt Collector and reinsman Tyler Buter got going from the "back of the pack" in the four-horse feature for freshman fillies. Royal Mission rattled off three quarters in 1:28.1 and was met with the challenge of the favorite in the final furlong before holding the 1-2 public choice off en route to securing her first career victory.

Royal Mission stopped the timer in 1:58.1 for a victory, which more than doubled the lifetime earnings of the Melander trainee who now has four starts under her belt and $133,890 for her career.

Royal Mission is owned by Jeffrey Snyder of New York, NY. My Debt Collector finished second while Calculus Risk (Wally Hennessey) earned the show spot in the rich race for the freshmen.

Also on the card were two $20,000 divisions of the Excelsior Series also for freshman filly trotters.

Inn Of The Stars (Chapter Seven—Met's Inn) took the first split for trainer John Butenschoen and driver Buter. Bay Pond Racing Stable owns the 1-5 favorite who won by 1½ lengths over Going To Vegas (Hennessey) with Dw's Lady Diva (Jason Bartlett) in third.

The Samuel Smith trainee KJ Title (Billy Dobson) took the second dash by a nose as a 34-1 upsetter over Paya La Diva (Bartlett) and Morning Angel (Beckwith), respectively. The daughter of E L Titan—Aren't I Hanover is owned and bred by Scott Woogen.

Beckwith piloted four winners on the Friday card to extend his lead in the local driver standings.

KAKALEY AND ALEXANDER CLEAN UP IN NEW YORK SIRE STAKES AT YONKERS

Driver Matt Kakaley and trainer Travis Alexander joined forces with Howlenthedhills and Huntingforchrome to win both New York Sire Stakes divisions for 3-year-old male pacers that headlined Thursday's (Aug. 8) program at MGM Yonkers Raceway.

In the first $82,500 section, which was contested over a track rated sloppy and two seconds off, Texas Holdem (Brent Holland) was the early leader, but he would be overtaken by Vandiemmen Bluechip (Braxten Boyd) before the :27.1 opening quarter, and then Vandiemmen Bluechip released a brushing Howlenthedhills to the point on the second turn.

Howlenthedhills would sail through a :56 second half and a 1:24.2 three-quarters from there, and a 28.2 final panel got him to the wire ¾ lengths ahead of Bruce's Vo N Coke (Jason Bartlett) in a 1:52.4 mile. Texas Holdem crossed the wire in third but was deemed to have committed a pylon violation past three-quarters and was demoted to fourth behind Taranaki (Tyler Buter).

The runner-up in the MGM Grand Messenger Stakes final at Yonkers back in June, Howlenthedhills is an American Ideal gelding who was bred by Crawford Farms and is owned by Symmetry Stables LLC. This was his ninth win from 18 career outings, he has earned $346,481 and he paid $2.10 to win as the 1-9 favorite. The exacta was worth $5.70 and the trifecta kicked back $14.80.

Boston Rocks (Bartlett) went to the engine from post 5 in the other $84,000 flight and left Seen Here (Buter) parked out through stations of :27.2, :56.1 and 1:25.2. Huntingforchrome and Kakaley watched that duel ahead of them from the pocket, and when Seen Here tired on the final bend, Kakaley had room to tip Huntingforchrome off the inside in the stretch. Once Huntingforchrome had space, he had plenty of pace to go with it and rallied past Boston Rocks, defeating him by a neck in a 1:54.1 effort. Ameritric (Scott Zeron) was the third-place finisher.

Another Crawford Farms-bred, Huntingforchrome, a gelded son of Huntsville, is owned by Ny Seb Inc. Huntingforchrome has compiled a record of 7-2-2 from 24 lifetime starts, he has put away $300,202 and he returned $3 to win as the 1-2 choice. Huntingforchrome keyed a $4.70 exacta and a $17.80 trifecta.

There were also two $20,000 New York Excelsior "A" Series splits for sophomore pacing colts and geldings on the card, and they were won by:

— Jones Hanover (by Huntsville and bred by Hanover Shoe Farms Inc., paid $11.00 to win) in 1:54.4 for driver Jim Marohn, Jr., trainer Mike Deters and owners Old Block Stables Inc., Kenneth Klein and Stephen Demeter.

— Pop It (by Huntsville and bred by Kathryn and M.K. Weed, paid $3.80 to win) in 1:54.4 for driver Brent Holland, trainer Ray Schnittker and owners Schnittker Arnold, Country Club Acres Inc., Joe Sbrocco and Ted Gewertz.

New York Sire Stakes action returns to MGM Yonkers Raceway next Thursday (Aug. 15) as 3-year-old filly pacers will be in town to compete in their final leg of the regular season.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday/Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time at 7 p.m. (EDT), though the track will be live next Wednesday (Aug. 14) as well.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Sweet Gal equals stakes record 1:49 in Meadows PASS

by Evan Pattak for the Meadows Standardbred Owners Association

Sweet Gal blazed to victory in 1:49, matching the stakes record, in Friday's (Aug. 9) Pennsylvania Sires Stake at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows. Rocket Deo took the other division in the event, known as the Romola Hanover, for 3-year-old filly pacers, giving Andrew McCarthy and trainer Brett Pelling a stake sweep.

Dandy's Mercy got the jump on Sweet Gal down the backside, but the daughter of Sweet Lou—Beach Gal threw down a :27.3 final quarter to defeat Dandy's Mercy by a half-length, with Canigetalouplop third. The time matched the mark established by Blue Diamond Eyes in 2021.

"I was hoping I could get out in the last turn," McCarthy said. "I needed an exit plan. She's been unfortunate with some bad draws against some of the best fillies in the country, but she can definitely go with them."

Bill Donovan and Mark Mullen own Sweet Gal, who lifted her career earnings to $169,297.

Rocket Deo appeared comfortably ahead at the three-quarters, but attacking first over was none other than My Girl EJ, who two weeks ago became the fastest female ever at The Meadows by capturing the Quinton Patterson Adioo Volo in 1:48.4. Could Rocket Deo hold off the champion? She could and she did, defeating My Girl EJ by 1½ lengths in 1:49.1. Lou Lou completed the ticket.

"It worked out were I kind of got a cheap second quarter [:28.4]," McCarthy said of the daughter of Captaintreacherous—Rocklamation. "I figured it would be a little bit of a horse race from there. I figured she'd give me a mile like that, but I still have a lot of respect for My Girl EJ."

Morrison Racing Stables and John Fielding campaign Rocket Deo, who vaulted over $200,000 in lifetime earnings.

The Romola Hanover headlined a blockbuster Friday card that also featured three other stakes. Here are highlights from those events:

PASS 3-YEAR-OLD COLT AND GELDING PACE

Security Protected erased the bad taste from his disappointing Hambletonian final, where he broke stride early and finished last, by notching a 6½-length win in 1:52.4. Greenspan and Breezy Hall rounded out the ticket in the event known as the Super Bowl.

Security Protected got a break when Supernova Hanover made a stand-still break on top, but winning driver Scott Zeron said his colt was primed to win even without the unexpected gift.

"I was in a great position with some fast fractions," Zeron said. "He's a high-quality horse. I think it would have been a great race down the lane."

Marcus Melander trains the son of Father Patrick—Thatsnotmyname, who vaulted over $500,000 in career earnings, for Brad Grant and Order By Stable Ab.

In the other division of the Super Bowl, Blackhawk Zette prevailed in 1:53.3 for Matt Kakaley, trainer Bob Baggitt, Jr. and owner JL Sadowski LLC. The son of Cantab Hall—Zette Starlet soared over $200,000 in lifetime earnings. He's finished in the money in all 11 outings this year.

Green Pastures shattered Team Six' stake record of 1:54.3 with his five-length win in 1:53.2 for Dexter Dunn, trainer Per Engblom and owners VIP Internet Stable, Engblom Stable, R A W Equine and Marco Greico. Thaler Hanover and Going Green finished second and third, respectively.

The son of Greenshoe—Southwind Angelica had only two wins in 13 prior starts this year, and Engblom thinks he knows why.

"He's been his own worst enemy so far in his career," Engblom said. "He was scared of everything, very immature. But his last few races, he's put everything together. I always knew he was a fast horse, and he's beginning to show it."

Activation took the stake's other division in 1:55.3 for Hunter Myers and trainer Melanie O'Donnell, who owns the Father Patrick—Repentance gelding with Corey Hendricks and Andy Rickert.

Live racing at The Meadows resumes Wednesday (Aug. 14), first post 12:45 p.m.

DIVINE THING, COUNTRY VICTORY SHINE IN MEADOWS PASS

Divine Thing moved smartly first over, picked up a bit of late cover and roared through the lane to score in Thursday's (Aug. 8) Pennsylvania Sires Stake at Hollywood Casino at The Meadows.

Country Victory took the other division in the event for freshman filly trotters known as the Delmonica Hanover.

Divine Thing was moving nicely after David Miller sent her first up from fourth. Then, Ms Prada appeared to get the jump on her, vacating the pocket near the final turn. Neither Divine Thing nor Miller was at all perturbed.

"When I moved her, I wanted to take a run at the leader," Miller said. "When Ms Prada edged out, that was fine. We got a little cover. The trip really was good for her. She's improved over the last couple starts. Hopefully she can keep this form and make a little money this summer."

The daughter of Greenshoe—A Thing Goin On downed Ms Prada by 1½ lengths in 1:54.3 — two ticks off Sister Sledge's stake record — while Payback Moni earned show. Divine Thing now has banked $95,099 for trainer Steve Carter and owners Jay Mossbarger, Brent Hopper and Kyle Gray.

Parked the entire opening panel, Country Victory still had plenty in the tank. The daughter of International Moni—Kristins Victory shrugged off the uncovered challenge of Princess Jackie — who was seeking to extend her career unbeaten streak to four — and prevailed by 3½ lengths in 1:55. Goodgirl Bi It and Princess Jackie rounded out the ticket.

"We got a little breather the second quarter, so we kind of cooled out a little bit," said winning driver Yannick Gingras. "They told me she'd be a little lazy, and that was spot on. But every time I asked her, she gave me a little bit more."

Melvin Schmucker conditions Country Victory for Yacht Club 140 LLC.

PA STALLION SERIES 2-YEAR-OLD FILLY TROT

Tiktok Hanover, Saints Preserve Us, Sangria Joy and Bay Breeze Hanover each won a division of Thursday's sub-feature. Tim Tetrick enjoyed a stake double behind Saints Preserve Us and Bay Breeze Hanover.

Tiktok Hanover created content perfect for social media. Down the backside, she moved first over from fifth for Aaron Merriman and gobbled up the field, triumphing in 1:57.4. Favorite Timely Blessing was a length back in second, with Greenhorn third.

"I'm sure she's better following a helmet," Merriman said. "She probably never made the lead that early. She was well in hand."

Bruce Schadel owns and trains the daughter of Bar Hopping—Tangent.

Wilfong repeats, Dunkin' delivers 20-1 upset in $300,000 Dan Patch Stakes

A year after pulling the 17-1 shocker aboard Ponda Warrior in the 2023 edition of Harrah's Hoosier Park's premier pacing event, driver Kyle Wilfong drove Dunkin' to victory in the final strides to score the 20-1 upset in the $300,000 Dan Patch Stakes presented by Indiana Standardbred Breed Development.

"The last thing Nick [Clegg] told me is if you get him out of the gate, you're going to win the Dan Patch," said Wilfong, "He knew what he was talking about."

Leaving from post 2 in the accomplished field of 10, Wilfong settled Dunkin' into the fifth position as the pacers barreled into the first turn, with a revved-up Christchurch (driven by LeWayne Miller) storming to the front through a first quarter of :26. The pacers kept their cards close to the vest on the backstretch, with Wilfong tepidly tipping from fifth as Christchurch sped into the headwind to reach the half in :54.3. The outer flow developed entering the final turn as Buzzsaw Russ (John De Long) stormed to the lead first-over at three-quarters in 1:22.2 with Charlie May (Brett Miller) on his back and Dunkin' poised to strike from third-over.

Turning for home, Buzzsaw Russ looked to have given the field the slip, scampering away by four lengths at the eighth pole with Dunkin' and a host of challengers yet to find their best stride in pursuit. With the strides of Buzzsaw Russ shortening on the lead and pressured to his outside with a surging Coach Stefanos (Trace Tetrick), Dunkin' found more in the tank to sprint home in :26 between the local horses to emerge a length clear on the line in 1:49.1. Buzzsaw Russ and Coach Stefanos would dead-heat for the place spot, while Charlie May held for fourth to complete the superfecta.

"Turning for home I thought I was sitting pretty," Wilfong said. "I was following two good horses and knew I had plenty of horse left. He's a horse that has won a lot of races and deserved to be in the Dan Patch, he speaks for himself."

Returning $42 to win, Dunkin' is trained by Scott Di Domenico for owner Betty Jo Clegg. The 1:49.1 clocking was a lifetime best for Dunkin', shaving nearly two seconds off of his previous mark of 1:50.4 in his first start ever on a track greater than five-eighths of a mile. The victory was the ninth of the season and 36th in the career for the 4-year-old gelded son of Pet Rock—Skinny Dip. Bred by Stonegate Standardbred Farms, Dunkin', the $7,000 bargain yearling purchase now sports a career bankroll of $603,022. With the victory, Dunkin' receives an automatic nomination to the $175,000 est. Harrah's Hoosier Park Pacing Derby slated for Friday (Sept. 20).

Wilfong joins Yannick Gingras (2017-18) as the only driver to go back-to-back in the Dan Patch Stakes and is unbeaten in two starts in Harrah's Hoosier Park's signature pacing event. The win was one of two on the card for Wilfong who sits third in the driver standings for the 2024 racing season.

Sun Stakes Saturday Aug. 17; draw this Monday

Pocono Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania would like to remind horsemen in charge of top 3-year-olds and/or invitational horses of its $2M+ Sun Stakes Saturday, to be held on Saturday (Aug. 17), and which will be drawn tomorrow (Aug. 12).

The Earl Beal Memorial for 3-year-old trotting colts and the Max C. Hempt Memorial for their pacing contemporaries will carry a purse of $300,000 for its top division, with $200,000 and $100,000 consolation events also to be raced if filling. Fillies in the Delmonica Hanover for trotters and James Lynch Memorial for pacers will be racing for bounties of $250,000 - $125,000 - $75,000 in the three levels of their competition (no starting fee in $75,000 consolations). If a consolation race does not fill or if a horse entered fails to be one of the top 24 money earners in 2024, all nominating and sustaining payments will be refunded provided, however, the horse meets the current qualifying standards for the race meeting.

Horses will be put into the various divisions of their races based upon purse money earned in 2024, which the top eight money winners going for the top purse, the eight next-highest money-winners for the second-highest purses, and the third eight going for the other level of purse. The complete conditions for the Sun Stakes event can be found in the "Horsemen" section of the U.S. Trotting Association's website, under "Stakes Conditions." The condition sheet for the big Saturday card can also be found in the USTA's Horsemen's section.

The Sun Stakes Saturday super card will be buttressed by the $100,000 Sebastian K S invitational trot and the $100,000 Always B Miki invitational pace. All horsemen with a top-level free-for-allers should contact Pocono director of racing Rick Kane at 570-831-2228, and can answer any other questions you may have about the day's racing.
