Chris Beaver's bargain buy led him to Hambletonian joy, then heartbreak

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

by Murray Brown

The first question I asked of Chris Beaver when I spoke with him on Tuesday (Aug. 11) was "How's the horse?" The horse, of course, was Endurance, one of the three pre-race favorites in last Saturday's (Aug. 8) Hambletonian at The Meadowlands. Although I had been planning prior to the race to ask Chris to be the subject of this profile, I had reservations after the colt broke a coffin bone in the race, resulting in the end of his season and possibly his racing career.

How, after such a terrible happening, could I bother him with a request for an interview? He was bound to still be upset. How would he respond? I mulled it over and decided that the worst he could do was say no. I contacted him and he couldn't have been more gracious. "I'd love to talk about Endurance," he said. So, we talked.

Amanda Stephens

Endurance (Andrew McCarthy) winning the 2025 Kentucky Championship Series at The Red Mile.

How's the horse?

"He's actually doing as well as could be expected. He seems to be reasonably happy. He's eating well. He's due to be operated on tomorrow. (He was actually operated on by Dr. Patty Hogan on Wednesday. All went well). The operation is relatively minor. It involves a screw being inserted in the coffin bone. It should take no more than a half hour. The prognosis appears to be very good. But at this point, rather than continue racing him, if I had my druthers, I'd prefer that we find him a good place to stand at stud. But there still is some time to make that decision."

You and his entire team must have been devastated.

"We were. The first 24 hours or so I was in a daze. I've had a lot of good horses before, but Endurance is by far the best that I've ever been around. I sincerely believe that he is at least the equal of both Apex and Big Ranger. I thought that he had a good chance of winning the race. I knew that when he made the break that something was seriously wrong. He had never before made a break either in racing or even in training. He was perfect.

"I put everything I could possibly do into the colt. I was even his groom for a great deal of the time. Can you imagine that? Here I was training a stable of 35 horses and I was also helping in grooming this colt.

"I was thankful that his vet Barry Carter and his New Jersey vet Steve Dye were with me at the race. They quickly diagnosed what had happened and advised me that they believed it wasn't life threatening. That was a great relief. I'd be remiss if I didn't mention Noel Daley and his staff as well. We were stabled at Noel's place in the time leading up to the Hambletonian and we've been there since. Horsepeople are so kind. They reach out to help when that help is needed."

“If things work out, I'd like to get a little more quality and diversity. Endurance allowed me to experience life at the higher levels of the Grand Circuit. I found that I quite enjoyed it. If the future allows it, I'll still be shopping at Lexington and Harrisburg as well as in Ohio, with perhaps a little less focus on low prices.”

Dave Landry

I've always looked upon you as being much like your father Charlie, a person who isn't looking to buy the high-priced yearling. I look at you as being a guy who shops for value. Am I correct?

"That is true for the majority of the time, although, I've occasionally, but somewhat rarely, dipped my toe into the higher priced category. I believe, through the years, I've bought three $100,000 yearlings. In each case we didn't get hurt, but overall, we've done better shopping at a lower price level."

You bought Endurance at the Harrisburg sale for only $14,000, the same sale and in the same session where Apex brought $525,000. Actually, the closeness of Apex and Endurance goes further than that. Both were raised together at Hunterton Farm in Kentucky.

"That is something isn't it? But circumstances like those sometimes happen at a horse sale. When they do and I am aware of them, I try to take advantage of the situation. Why did Endurance bring only $14,000, and what drew me to him? I'll answer the second part of that question first. Anytime his maternal family is to be found at a horse sale, I'll be interested in looking at the horse. Simply put, I've done very well with the family. It's the immediate family of Triumphant Caviar, a horse I had and with which I'd done particularly well, firstly on the racetrack where he earned $796,794 and then in the stud through purchasing his yearlings. Offhand I'd guess that I've trained over 25 horses who earned $100,000 by him.

"As to, why he brought the price that he did. He was selling in the most select session of that sale. In my opinion, at the time, he was not a select session yearling. Thus, it was quite possible that he would be overlooked by people shopping in that price area. Why? His pedigree certainly warranted it. His dam had sold two previous yearlings: one brought $170,000 and the other $110,000. But neither of them did anything much on the “[Endurance] had been sick just a short time before the sale and he lacked the spit and polish that people like to see when shopping for yearlings. Lastly, his video was okay, but just okay. racetrack. The colt had been sick just a short time before the sale and he lacked the spit and polish that people like to see when shopping for yearlings. Lastly, his video was okay, but just okay. I believe that if he had been positioned in the second day of the sale, or even the third, he might have brought more, perhaps considerably more than $14,000.”

Endurance isn't the only reasonably priced yearling that you've bought and done quite well with, is he?

“As mentioned before, I like to shop for value. I look first at pedigrees. If the page in the book is acceptable, I will look further. I want at the very least, a decent individual without any serious conformation faults. I will go with minor conformation faults, of course depending on the price. I find that nicks and bruises in areas that should not harm the horse's racing career will almost always, sometimes seriously affect its price. I will look at videos. I like a good video where I can visualize what the horse will look like when hooked up to a jog cart. But I don't require a great video. Some of the better yearlings I've bought did not have great videos. I like to rank videos from one to five. I find that a three or above is acceptable, again depending on the price.”

Let's speak to some of the better basement buys you've made.

“The first one was the very first yearling I bought at public auction. Her name was Raging Samantha. I paid $9,000 for her. She earned $488,788. Then we sold her to Europe for $500,000.

“Off the top of my head, there was Beer Budget. I bought him as a weanling for all of $1,700. He earned $484,623. Then there was Custom Cantab. She cost $6,000. She earned $1,031,193. We also sold her very well.

“We bought Moonshiner Hanover for $27,000. He earned $624,162. Then of course Triumphant Caviar who brought $13,000 as a yearling, earned $796,794 and is still producing dividends in the stud. Others that come to mind are Winning Ticket. I bought him for $2,000. He earned $782,335. In his case, he might have been aided by the fact that he didn't have a video. The Mighty Hall cost $23,000. He made $497,705. Il Sogno Dream brought $40,000. He earned $1,128,533. Fraser Ridge brought $29,000. He made $522,579. Smokinmombo cost $15,000. He made $421,587 and Pure Chance cost $9,000 and earned $649,312.”

What does the future hold for you?

“I'd like to scale down somewhat. Last year at Spring Garden Ranch, we had 55 head on the go. I think I'd like to reduce that number to somewhere around the 35 we have racing today.

“If things work out, I'd like to get a little more quality and diversity. Endurance allowed me to experience life at the higher levels of the Grand Circuit. I found that I quite enjoyed it. If the future allows it, I'll still be shopping at Lexington and Harrisburg as well as in Ohio, with perhaps a little less focus on low prices.”

Bred to be something: Beauts Cabaret evokes hopes and memories

by Melissa Keith

What's in a name? In the case of Beauts Cabaret, more than meets the eye.

The 2-year-old trotter was originally called Southwind Cera. That changed after she was acquired by Steve Palermo of Etobicoke, ON; Jeffery Ruch of Innisfil, ON; and Steve Bossence of London, ON.

"My friend Steve Palermo actually named her," said Bossence, who trains the filly.

"One day I get a text and it's a screenshot showing the registration of a horse. I look at it and it says, 'Beauts Cabaret,' and at first, I go, 'What did he buy now?' Then I see the breeding and I went, 'That's that filly that he bought.'"

Bossence was touched by the gesture.

"He knew that we always called my daughter 'Beaut,'" Bossence said. "My sister and I gave her the name. Right from day one, she was always called 'Beaut.' I could probably count on one hand how many times I called her 'Stephanie.' I always just called her 'Beaut.'"

Stephanie "Beaut" Bossence shared her father's love of racing.

"She worked for me when she got out of school, for about 10 years. She was no bigger than a peanut herself," Steve Bossence said. "We had some pretty good horses [like] Armbro Continental [5, 1:52.1s; $499,061]. And then there was Southwind Califon [5, 1:54.1s; $481,335]. That was her horse. The pair of them made over half a million [Canadian]. We had another good horse that she looked after, Tacs Delight [7, 1:52.3f; $506,430]. I always tell everybody we beat San Pail with him one time. But I have to tell you... That was the day that San Pail made a break."

Although Stephanie found a career at Toyota that kept her from working in her father's barn, she was never far away. When the workday was over, Beaut would return to her saddlehorse and the retired Southwind Califon.

Beauts Cabaret (6, Louis-Philippe Roy) winning an elimination of the Pure Ivory on July 30 at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

“Ever since she was young, I kept saying to her, ‘Remember one thing: I’ll look after you when you’re young; you’ve got to look after the old boy when he’s old,’” Steve Bossence said. “And she’d say, ‘That’s the deal, Pops.’ She was a good kid, and not because she was mine. Everyone liked her. She had the biggest smile; she smiled all the time.”

Stephanie was eventually diagnosed with neuromyelitis optica (NMO), a rare autoimmune illness she kept at bay with therapeutic plasma exchange treatments.

“She knew, but she didn’t tell us what was going on,” Steve Bossence said. “She didn’t want anybody else to worry about her.”

In August 2023, Stephanie phoned to say she had a terrible headache.

“She said, ‘It’s not in the front or on my temple; it’s at the back, kind of between my ears. That was on a Sunday,’” her father said. “On the Monday, her mother took her to the hospital and she never came out. She never came home.”

Stephanie’s illness robbed her of speech and vision.

“She could always hear, but she could never talk; she never got to talk again,” said Steve Bossence, who was himself hospitalized after a truck accident at the time.

When he recovered, he visited Beaut in another hospital to confirm plans for her aging horses as winter approached.

“‘Stephanie,’ I said — it was one of the few times I called her that — ‘with Califon, I could send him to Kentucky,’” Steve Bossence said. “If you want him to go, squeeze my hand.’ Of course, she squeezes my hand. I said, ‘Now, that buddy he’s been with for a while, if you want him to stay with him, squeeze my hand.’ And she squeezes my hand. So, I said, ‘I think that you want the pair of them to go to Kentucky.’ She squeezed my hand.”

Beaut Bossence passed away on Dec. 14, 2023.

Nearly four months later, Southwind Califon’s unraced half-sister gave birth to an International Moni filly. Southwind Cera, later

“[My daughter ‘Beaut’] loved [racing] to no end. She used to take [Armbro] Continental swimming and stuff like that... She was a good worker. She was one of a kind. She loved those horses.”

— Steve Bossence

renamed Beaus Cabaret, developed into a favorite of her trainer. “She’s bred to be something, and she looks the part,” he said. “She’s a big filly; she looks like she’s about 4 years old. For the size of her, it’s amazing because she’s so light on her feet. Usually, you’re always scared of a big 2-year-old.”

Steve Bossence was only scared of Beaus Cabaret during a freak training accident.

“We were just getting ready to go out with her, and I was already in the jogger,” he said. “She wiggled out, and she never does, but something set her off. She backed up a bit and broke the crossties when she went down, and it broke her head halter... She took off and I said, ‘Oh Christ, I’ll just get her stopped outside the barn here.’ Well, I didn’t get her stopped. I didn’t know she had broken the bridle and it had fallen down to her chest. She’s got nothing on her head at all.”

The filly sprinted past paddocks at Dorchester Downs Training Centre, with her trainer a mere passenger.

“Thank God a gate was open,” he told HRU. “She went in there. When she pulled right, she’s still going along pretty good, only now she’s only going 50 miles an hour, not 100 like she was down the laneway. I just said, ‘I’ve got to get out of here.’ So, I bailed out and I heard her trotting around. I went, ‘Oh no, don’t trample me, whatever you do.’ All of a sudden, I don’t hear the noise. She went out of the paddock and now she’s going back to the barn... She destroyed everything and I ended up in the hospital for five days. I have three broken ribs out of it.”

Beaus Cabaret finished fourth in her debut qualifier, June 26 at Mohawk. On July 10, she drew away to win her second qualifier by over six lengths in 1:58.1.

“She’s got the breeding,” Steve Bossence said. “She’s got the will, which is the biggest thing. She’s got a beautiful gait, good size. She’s got a license [to win], because when you train horses like that down, they’ve got the blood to go all the way for you.”

The filly broke her maiden at Mohawk on July 20, followed up by a narrow victory in her July 30 Pure Ivory stakes elimination. Beauts Cabaret prevailed by a head despite further equipment issues.

"Right in :55 flat," Steve Bossence said. "We were having trouble steering her. I bought her a new harness, and I think the head halter was down too low on her. She was wearing a headpole on the inside and I think it was bouncing. It was hitting up against the bit and she was trying to get away from it... I think the driving bit was too tight in her mouth. It was adjusted, just not properly for her, so she was on the left line as soon as she got to the quarter pole... I can't believe she didn't make a break."

Beauts Cabaret did make a break leaving in the Aug. 7 Pure Ivory final.

"She was just keyed-up" Steve Bossence said.

His expectations remain high.

"She's eligible to everything," he said. "We've got the Peaceful Way, the Simcoe, and if she's good enough, the Bluegrass and the International, and if she's good enough, a couple of weeks after that she goes up to Ohio for the Breeders Crown."

Approaching the Grade 1 Peaceful Way eliminations on Aug. 21 at Mohawk, Beauts Cabaret was feeling good.

"She had Saturday and Sunday out in the field," Steve Bossence said on Tuesday (Aug. 11). "She's always a little fresh on Monday from having Sunday off. She jogged along nice and everything."

While Beauts Cabaret races on, her 26-year-old "uncle" Southwind Califon has an unexpected new career.

"We went to Alan Byler, a person that we got to know down in Kentucky," Steve Bossence said. "We sold him Tymal Houdini, who he was using as a stud. I told him about Califon and he said, 'Oh, just send him down, Steve. I won't even charge anything; you've been so good with me about everything. He's got a home here for life.'"

Checking in, Steve Bossence was surprised to learn that Byler considered Southwind Califon an asset to his farm, where the gelding was turned out with three mares.

"I said, 'What do you mean?'" Steve Bossence said. "[Byler] goes, 'Well, anytime I start to see his nose curling up and he's carrying on, I know one of those mares is in heat and it's a breeding day. He's never been wrong yet.'"

The veteran gelding and namesake filly of Beaut Bossence keep her memory alive.

"She loved [racing] to no end," said her father. "She used to take [Armbro] Continental swimming and stuff like that... She was a good worker. She was one of a kind. She loved those horses."

Mini-meetings come alive in Illinois

by Neil Milbert

Pari-mutuel harness racing is dead in Chicagoland but it has come alive downstate, thanks to the annual mini-harness meetings at the State Fairs in Springfield and DuQuoin.

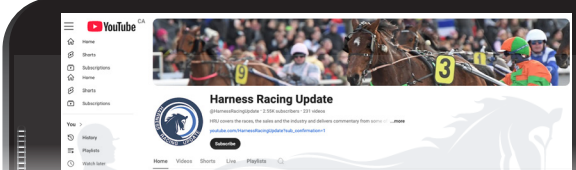

The races, under the auspices of the Illinois Department of Agriculture, are limited to Illinois-bred pacers and trotters.

They began last week on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at Springfield and will continue there on Wednesday (Aug. 19) and Aug. 20.

Then, the scene will shift to DuQuoin for races on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 and 2.

"It's survival," was the succinct assessment of the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association director, Tony Somone, as he pondered the 12-race opening day program.

The State Fair programs also will be simulcast in Illinois to bankrupt Hawthorne Race Course's 11 off-track betting parlors; Fairmount Park and Casino, the thoroughbred track that is located across the Mississippi River from St. Louis and is the state's only surviving pari-mutuel venue; and Fairmount's three OTB locations.

All 14 of the harness dates scheduled to be raced at Hawthorne in January and February were cancelled and the Nov. 6-Dec. 27 meeting was wiped out after the track that dated back to 1891 went out of business on July 19 during its thoroughbred meeting that was scheduled to run through Nov. 1.

A Delaware shell corporation, Allimac 23, in July purchased the 119-acre property in the near south Chicago suburb of Stickney for $90 million with plans to convert it into a real estate development.

Tim Carey, president of the track that had been family-owned since 1909, hoped a bidder would emerge that wanted to perpetuate harness and thoroughbred racing and activate the dormant racino license he secured in 2020, but Allimac was the only suitor.

Closing is expected to take place at the start of September.

The $90 million purchase price is significantly short of the amount that Hawthorne owes its approximately 250 creditors. Estimates of the track's indebtedness start at $138 million but some reports suggest the amount is considerably higher.

As a consequence of Hawthorne's closing, the Chicago area — which had seven flourishing racetracks — is now a pari-mutuel desert.

Epic Kronos puts on a show in Åby Stora Pris

by Thomas Hedlund

Three laps, 3,140 meters and a demanding pace made no difference to Epic Kronos.

The son of Muscle Hill delivered a spectacular performance in Saturday's (Aug. 15) $300,000 Åby Stora Pris, giving trainer Daniel Redén another major victory.

Björn Goop was aggressive from the outset and determined to reach the front. French visitor Ibiki de Houelle left quickly, but Goop kept pressing and finally cleared to the lead with Epic Kronos after a sharp :27 opening quarter.

Once on top, Epic Kronos became somewhat keen and pulled hard on Goop, normally a less-than-ideal scenario in a race stretching more than three kilometers.

It didn't matter.

Ibiki de Houelle followed comfortably in the pocket, and the leading pair opened a gap of approximately 20 meters on the rest of the field. By then, it was apparent they had stolen away from their rivals, and were simply too good to catch.

Epic Kronos shook free of Ibiki de Houelle by a couple of lengths in the stretch and completed the 3,140 meters in a 1:55.2 mile rate.

MAHARAJAH SONS FINISH 1-2 IN FINNISH TROTTING DERBY

Make Cash produced the biggest upset of Saturday's (Aug. 15)

Finnish Trotting Derby at Verno, wearing down Magnitude in the final strides of the $250,000 classic.

Jukka Torvinen sent Make Cash (Maharajah—Daze) three-wide with 400 meters remaining, and the Markku Nieminen trainee quickly closed on pacesetter Magnitude.

Magnitude fought gamely all the way to the wire, but Make Cash got his head in front just before the finish to score at odds of 22-1 in a 1:57.2 mile rate for 2,620 meters.

Magnitude, also a son of Maharajah, was credited with the same time in second, while Stonecapes Yoda (Southwind Frank) finished third after a pocket trip.

Favorite Ancio (Nuncio), also trained by Nieminen, made a break while leading after 300 meters but recovered remarkably well to finish fifth for Santtu Raitala.

It was the second major victory of Make Cash's career. Last season, he captured the €68,400 Finnish Breeders Crown final.

Also, on the Verno card, Massimo Hoist captured the $60,000 Finnish championship for the second consecutive year.

NUEVO STEPS UP IN CRITÉRIUM PREP

Thierry Duvaldestin entered Friday's (Aug. 14) $125,000 Prix Abel Bassigny at Enghien with three serious contenders, but it wasn't the most highly regarded member of his trio who came out on top.

Nuevo Cash (Ready Cash) was favored in the first major prep for the Critérium des 3 Ans, but struggled with his gait before making a break from fourth-over with approximately 1,000 meters remaining.

Nickel de Baille (Galius) and Mathieu Mottier controlled the early pace with previously unbeaten Nuevo (In The Money) racing first-over.

Clément Duvaldestin made his move down the backstretch, sending Nuevo aggressively after the leader. He cleared to the front and opened several lengths on the field around the final turn.

Nat King Cole (Ready Cash), who had started fourth along the rail, found his way to the outside down the backstretch and David Thomain launched his pursuit turning for home.

But Nuevo had built too big an advantage.

Although Nat King Cole and Nuevo's stablemate Net Money (In The Money) both closed strongly, Nuevo had enough left to capture the semi-classic in a 1:56 mile rate for 2,150 meters.

The victory was his fifth straight and represented a significant step up in class for a colt who had never previously competed for a purse of this magnitude.

NOCIVE DU CHOQUEL MAKES EARLY EXIT

The return of French 3-year-old filly leader Nocive du Choquel didn't go according to plan in Friday's $125,000 Prix Reine du Corta.

The heavily favored daughter of Face Time Bourbon was being maneuvered into a second-over position around the opening turn when she broke stride and was disqualified.

That left the door open for Normandie Niemen (Italiano Vero).

David Thomain sent the Philippe Allaire trainee to the lead after approximately 600 meters, and from there the outcome was never seriously in doubt.

Normandie Niemen, winner of the €150,000 Prix Roquépine at Vincennes last winter, controlled the remainder of the race and coasted home alone in a 1:57 mile rate for 2,150 meters.

MILA DES COUPERIES WINS FIVE-WAY THRILLER

The $125,000 Prix Paul Leguerney for French-bred 4-year-old fillies produced one of the most exciting finishes of Friday's Enghien card, with five horses battling for the victory deep into the stretch.

Favorite Magic Night (Helgafell) endured a brutal trip for Paul-Philippe Ploquin, racing three- and four-wide around the opening turn before continuing forward to take command.

The early exertion eventually took its toll, and the Philippe Allaire trainee began to weaken over the final 200 meters.

Marinella Vrie (Singalo) and Mathieu Mottier had surrendered the lead to Magic Night and waited patiently for room, while Alexandre Abrivard had positioned Mila des Couperies (Dragon des Racques) second-over before launching her attack with 250 meters remaining.

Suddenly, contenders were everywhere.

Marinella Vrie found room between horses and accelerated sharply, but came up a nose short as Mila des Couperies prevailed in the photo in a 1:55.1 mile rate for 2,150 meters.

MACK DE BLARY DOES IT AGAIN

Mack de Blary followed his recent Prix de Milan victory with another impressive performance, capturing Friday's $125,000 Prix Phaeton for 4-year-olds.

The son of Face Time Bourbon faced a daunting task when Théo Duvaldestin sent him three-wide with a little more than 1,000 meters remaining.

Up front, Manaslu and Yoann Lebourgeois were setting a strong pace, leaving Mack de Blary with considerable ground to make up.

He did just that.

Mack de Blary relentlessly closed the gap and took command with approximately 150 meters remaining, scoring in a 1:53.2 mile rate for 2,150 meters in the semi-classic event.

LOVINO BELLO HOLDS OFF LEARN TO FLY

Favorite Lovino Bello delivered from the front in the $125,000 Prix Louis Jariel, holding off Learn To Fly in the semi-classic for 5-year-olds.

Éric Raffin sent Lovino Bello (Village Mystic—Louvina Bella) to the lead after approximately 200 meters, while Learn To Fly settled directly behind him in the pocket.

Learn To Fly was angled out for his challenge in the stretch and briefly appeared capable of making things interesting, but Lovino Bello responded.

The favorite held his rival safely at bay by just over a length, stopping the timer in a 1:52.4 mile rate for 2,150 meters.

MENZA MAKES IT 13-FOR-13

Menza, the unbeaten son of Ready Express made Sunday's Jydk 3-årings Grand Prix at Aarhus look easy, collecting DKK 393,000 while extending his career-opening winning streak to 13.

Menza, out of Enya B.R., couldn't protect the rail initially, but Birger Jørgensen quickly moved him to the outside and regained control of the race after approximately 500 meters.

From there, it was essentially a one-horse show.

Malthe S.H. was the only rival able to stay close from the pocket, and Casper M. Nielsen angled him out for a stretch challenge, but Menza immediately responded and drew away with ease.

Menza crossed the wire in a 2:01.4 mile rate for 2,360 meters, remaining undefeated through the first 13 starts of his career.

Documenting your betting history, Part 1

by Frank Coltole

In all the decades I spent time participating in pari-mutuel wagering, I recall scores of people who told me about their most recent betting victories. I never prompted them for the information nor asked them how much money they bet and made, but somehow, they found the time in general conversations to report their success. I always responded by saying, "Good for you," but sometimes what they heard me say was, "What horse?" or "What race?" or "How did you come up with that one?" etcetera. Most of those times I remained polite by smiling and repeating, "Good for you," in an attempt to discontinue the subject for many reasons.

I was and am always ready to applaud any bettor cashing on bets even if some of the money they won included my money in the same win pool. Still, I hesitate to go any deeper into their success because I am sure the details of their stories are not documented and therefore not evaluated in their wagering process. As an example of my claim, I offer the typical conversation:

"Was it a big score?"

"Best of the week."

"So, you are ahead for the week?"

"A few bucks."

"Having a good meet, then?"

"Not bad. I needed that win, though, 'cause, you know, I was up and down like that. But I'm ahead now just a bit."

These blokes are simply sloppy about their wagering. All they have to do is keep notes and a simple in-and-out record of their bets in order to know how much they won or lost; but no, keeping track of money is nowhere near as exciting as the action of cashing a ticket or two when playing 10 a day five or more days a week. Even when I was not a professional pari-mutuel bettor, I could not help but keep records on my betting bankroll. I have recorded my wins and losses through the decades as well as kept a diary of statistics concerning my hits and misses, commenting on everything about it all. And I do not believe I ever made too many notes about anything concerning my experiences. Well once in a while I waxed poetic or comedic.

Recently while cleaning out my basement library I found three composition books from a trip to New York City in 1985 where I spent a month on personal business which included nightly wagering at Roosevelt Raceway through New York Off-Track Betting (OTB) parlors. Reviewing the pages were the likes of trotters and pacers gone from Earth some 40 years ago. Anyone reading remember Happy Pick, Lakewood Osborne, Kash Buster, Thomas Bells, and Slugger Almahurst? Every one of their foes are also recorded in the books. I am sparing you the rest of the list; a hefty lot of winners and losers.

There are also weather reports. It was a cold winter in '85 Brooklyn. On Feb. 5 I wrote, "Snow at almost blizzard proportions. But the race must go on. Yes, I brought my hardly used boots from Los Angeles to walk the winter-storm streets to bet Roosevelt Raceway harness racing. And later I wrote, "My best bet, Ladies Choice, [paced] a rotten [mile]. Shut out in a race or two [the weather did not stop the small parlor from being packed with rowdy clients]. Then Outrageous Kid won [but it was still a] losing night.

It was all documented. One night ahead $38.10. Another night cashing a $67 exacta two-and-a-half times. But the ledger report showed a loss for the week which included failures backing the likes of My Tom, Train Robber, Armbro Count N, and so on. As tired as I became from my personal business matters, I committed to keeping the books for my pari-mutuel play. Those contents included commentaries on my playing decisions and updating all of the money involved.

When I returned to Los Angeles, I filed the composition book and transferred much of the data to files on my Macintosh computer. Whether they would be helpful to me for future pari-mutuel wagering campaigns was unknown at that point; but I would have cursed myself if sometime in the future there were facts in those records that became valuable for one reason or another. Even sentimental reasons apply; like the joy of remembering races driven by Ben Webster, Russel Rash, the Filions, Merritt "Butch" Dokey and other regulars.

Of course, the finances are the most important entries if pari-mutuel wagering is more than just a hobby; even then a player needs to keep accounts on spending and earning. Yet the majority of players I meet do not find keeping records imperative or valuable as contributing to becoming a successful player. Most casual players carry a loser's attitude from the start.

But playing pari-mutuels aiming for profits is more engaging and mentally beneficial than random plans for which horses to play when and how much to play; no less when not to play. More next time about how the records you keep are essential for success.

Trotting in three quarters time (a novel)

by A.J Lencroy

Chapter 1

Hooley and Marchais

Detectives Jerry Hooley and Richard Marchais watched a leaf skitter across the hood of their unmarked black Range Rover. The Rover idled near barn 6, on the backstretch of Pioneer Downs Racetrack, two miles south of Florence, KY. As they drove slowly through the stable area, dozens of horses leaned out over half-doors and watched them pass.

Hooley, the older and rounder of the duo, sat in the driver's seat and asked, "Bones, you ever investigated a racehorse?"

"Nope."

"Neither have I."

"You ever been to a racetrack?"

"Nope. There are no racetracks where I grew up."

"Where was that?"

"Fairbanks, AK. We raced dogsleds and snowmobiles, and don't call me Bones."

"C'mon, just a couple of weeks until my pension day. Bald white guys built like Ethiopian marathon runners are a tough nickname."

"How about just Rick, or Richard, or Ricardo?"

"Nah. So, what's this all about?"

"Divorce insanity."

"Murders are quieter, less friction. So why are we at a racetrack looking at a barn?"

"I caught a case last night around 7."

"What were you doing at the station at 7?"

"I left my iPad in the breakroom; I went back to get it. On the way out, a distraught woman, I'd guess early 50s, tall, red wig that should only be seen on Halloween, was screeching at LaVern, who was on duty as desk sergeant."

"LaVern? The one with the 24-year-old son who pretended to be a 15-year-old gender-fluid girl on TikTok to ramp up his following and is getting sued by a pack of enraged moms?"

"Yep, LaVern is under a lot of stress. I thought I'd help her out by easing the crazy woman out the door."

"How did that go?"

"Not bad, she calmed down," Bones said, looking at his iPad for notes as he spoke. "The woman gave me one of those hyphenated names, Martha Pettigrew-Conklin, said she was at the station to file a complaint. She claims her short-term husband, who is soon to be her ex-husband, is hiding assets, including a racehorse, and is responsible for her best friend, Frieda Slotnik, being injured and hospitalized."

Hooley shook his head slowly, "I'm telling you, people going through ugly divorces go insane. I think it's a chemical imbalance from the pituitary gland or something. Everything is drama. "Suddenly, the rusty tea kettle in the basement, something neither of them cares a hoot about, is an Egyptian relic that they cling to like a barnacle."

"A racehorse getting caught in the crossfire is a new twist."

"How do we know the accused husband is in that barn?"

"She told me his cousin is the trainer of the horse in question, and the cousins have a meeting scheduled," He glanced at his watch, "Right now."

Hooley sighed, "Okay, so we got a horse in a divorce. Put on your lanyard, let's go slow, just a friendly chat. Maybe we will learn a little about horse racing. Did you see the horses pull carts? I like that. I would never climb on the back of a horse, but I would ride behind one, but not so close. I'd move the ride back, slap on a couple more tires, let the horse pull a miniature Cadillac convertible."

"You can work on that during your retirement."

They exited the car and walked into barn 6.

Twenty minutes later, the detectives walked out of the barn and returned to the Rover. Hooley pulled the lanyard over his salt-and-pepper head and set it on the dashboard.

"Whadda ya think?"

Bones sighed, "Well, cousin number one, Peter, the horse trainer, was a deer in the headlights with only short answers. He looked a little like Tom Hanks at the beginning of that movie, where he gets marooned on an island with a beach ball."

"Castaway?"

"Yeah, that's the movie, with Wilson, the soccer ball."

Hooley looked at his notebook. "Cousin number two, his first name is Alex; the cousins have the same last name, Pettigrew. Alex is the one with the bad divorce proceedings and nifty combover. Says he is a financial planner, rambled on so fast I was afraid he would hyperventilate. His whole spiel was, 'I don't know anything, didn't see anything, my wife is a delusional maniac, and she has no ownership in any horse.'"

Bones followed up, "If you ask me, his anger directed at his wife was forced. Who uses a phrase like, 'I'd sue her red-headed ass for harassment, but I'm already up to my elbows in lawyers from the worst divorce in recorded history.'"

Hooley smiled. "Colorful."

"And he admitted he knew the injured party, Frieda; he referred to her as his wife's dingbat sidekick. Who are the other two owners of the horse?"

Hooley looked back at his notebook, "Elisson and Thwaite, out-of-staters, from Kansas."

"What the heck is a financial planner? Do they have to pass a test?"

"No idea, I know less about finances than I do about horse racing." Hooley took a pause, then added, "It was a blizzard of BS from cousin number two, but I'm not sure we have a crime here."

Bones looked at his notes, "According to the semi-hysterical, soon-to-be ex-wife of cousin number two, part of her rant was that the crime is theft and falsifying records to defraud. I'd let it slide, but we have someone in the hospital."

"Ya know, this is refreshing - horses, racing, the fall weather, and nice to get out of the city. Hey, you smell something funny?"

They sniffed like foxhounds. Bones whined, "Ah, horse shit, it's on my shoes, the floor mat, and now my hand."

"Throw everything in the trunk, maybe climb in with your hand. No, wait, over there is a hose, go spray everything off."

"Can we do that? Is a racetrack private property?"

"We're investigating. If anybody asks, flash your badge and pull out some yellow tape. Tell them you're checking the water pressure. I'll be here for backup."

Bones squished back to the Rover with the floor mat pinched between his fingers and replaced it.

Hooley started the Rover and handed the iPad to his partner.

"Let's get these names and places on the pad. You can try using your new BFF, artificial intelligence, to sort the stuff and make a report. I'll go slow."

"Hang on a second, I need to open a new file. I'll name it - Down on the horse farm."

Hooley flashed a thumbs-up, "Okay. Location, Pioneer Downs Racetrack, barn 6, two cousins, a raving redheaded wife with a hyphenated name, a racehorse named Assets Accepted, two out-of-town owners, a woman named Frieda in the hospital, and a working water faucet on the outside of barn 6.

"Got it. I'll upload our notes and contact information. Then we will see how AI generates our daily report; maybe we can get it to help with the case."

Hooley asked, "Is that legit, using artificial intelligence? Are we encouraged to use it, or is it a no-go?"

"It's a gray area. At first, they said no, stay away from artificial intelligence, but Arnold, from Vice, uses it all the time. The superintendent knows that he uses it. Hey, if we use AI, when we screw up this horse case, we've got a scapegoat."

Hooley made a face like he had a cramp. "Leave the wit to the senior officer."

"My bad, so where to now? The hospital?"

Dandy Ideal matches stakes record in Dan Patch at Hoosier

by Jacob Rheinheimer / Harrah's Hoosier Park

A day removed from being named the home of the Hambletonian beginning in 2027, Harrah's Hoosier Park played host to the $300,000 Dan Patch Stakes presented by Indiana Standardbred Breed Development where Dandy Ideal and driver Tyler Buter survived torrid opening fractions en route to a dominant 1:47.2 score for trainer Hunter Oakes.

Leaving from post 4 in the full-field of 11, Dandy Ideal found himself a third-over sixth on the first turn while Harrisburg Heist (Yannick Gingras) swept to the lead from post 9, racing inside of a pressing Bythemissal (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) to the quarter in :25.4. Bythemissal cleared before releasing the 2-1 favorite, Captain Optimistic (Dexter Dunn), to the lead, leaving Dandy Ideal first-over as the field blitzed to the halfway point in a blistering :52.3. Dandy Ideal rode the conveyor belt to the lead, moving into the final turn with Prince Hal Hanover (Todd McCarthy) now first-over and applying pressure while Dandy Ideal reached three-quarters in 1:20.1, 2½ lengths clear.

Dandy Ideal extended his lead in the stretch, marching three lengths clear midway through the lane as Captain Optimistic, Prince Hal Hanover, and Coach Stefanos (Marcus Miller) battled for minor spoils. Strong to the wire in :27.1, Dandy Ideal crossed the wire 3¼ lengths clear in 1:47.2 with Buter giving a raise of the whip on the line. Prince Hal Hanover nosed out Captain Optimistic for second after never seeing the cones, while Coach Stefanos rounded out the super at 19-1.

A winner in five of seven this year, Dandy Ideal has banked $224,750 this season for owners Susan Oakes and Alan Johnston. The world champion 4-year-old gelded son of American Ideal—OK Heavenly has won 21 of 36 lifetime, earning $1,299,007 for his career.

The 1:47.2 clocking matched the stakes record, established by Sweet Lou in 2014 and matched by Lather Up in 2019. It also matched the track record for older pacing geldings at Harrah's Hoosier Park, joining Castle Flight and Little Rocket Man.

A race prior to the Dan Patch, open mare pacers waged war in the inaugural $100,000 Grade 3 Rockin Nola Stakes where Three Times Bettor cruised as the 1-2 favorite with Dunn in the sulky for Brett Pelling.

Leaving from the outside post 7, Three Times Bettor left alertly, racing to the outside of the pace-setting Rodeo Drive Deo (Gingras) to the opening quarter in :26.4. Three Times Bettor cleared on the backstretch, tapping the brakes once assuming control to the half in :55. Applying some pressure to the throttle

Dean Gillette

Dandy Ideal (Tyler Buter) winning the $300,000 Grade 1 Dan Patch on Friday at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

Dean Gillette

Three Time Bettor (Dexter Dunn) winning the $100,000 Grade 3 Rockin Nola Stake.

on the far turn, the field raced single file with Three Times Bettor beginning to string things out on the front-end at three-quarters in 1:22.3.

Three Times Bettor opened up by two lengths at the head of the lane, with Rodeo Drive Deo chasing in second while The Last Martini (Doug McNair) took a bad step and lost momentum, trying to gear up from third. Sprinting through the wire in :26.3, Three Times Bettor finished a measured three-parts-of-a-length clear over Rodeo Drive Deo in 1:49.1. Can'ttouchthese (John De Long) got up for third, with Champagne Room (Wrenn, Jr.) finishing fourth.

Three Times Bettor has won eight of 10 in 2026, pushing her seasonal earnings to $298,500 with the score. The 4-year-old daughter of Bettors Delight—Three Times A Lady has won 17 of 17 lifetime, banking $472,314 in her career for owner Thaddeus Wier.

Dunn also took home the $50,000 Gregg Haston Memorial Invitational, rallying late with Captain Arturovico to nail Lou Hill in 1:49 for trainer Ron Burke.

Leaving from post 9, Captain Arturovico settled into the sixth position early while Odds On Outlier (Pete Wrenn) rocketed to the point with a :25.2 sizzling opening panel. The 2-5 favorite, Lou Hill (Gingras) brushed to the lead from third, taking the field of nine to the halfway point in :53.4. Captain Arturovico flushed the cover of Funtime Bayama (Wrenn, Jr.) on the final turn, racing second-over while Lou Hill brought the field to three-quarters in 1:22.

Lou Hill got separation turning for home, before Captain Arturovico moved off cover and took aim at the leader. Sprinting home in :26.1, Captain Arturovico nailed Lou Hill on the wire, winning by a head in 1:49. Leave It To Leo (De Long) rallied for third at 61-1, with Funtime Bayama closing out the superfecta.

The victorious Captaintreacherous—Tilikum 4-year-old gelding has won six of 15 on the year, racking up $229,010 in seasonal earnings. Owned by Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brussemi, Larry Karr, and Phil Collura, Captain Arturovico has banked $569,319 lifetime following his 18th career victory.

Indiana wins bid to play host to the Hambletonian, bringing one of racing's premier events to the Hoosier State

by Indiana Horse Racing Commission

Indiana has been selected to host one of the most prestigious events in harness racing, bringing the world-renowned Hambletonian to the Hoosier State for a three-year commitment beginning in 2027.

The Hambletonian Society's selection of Indiana represents a major sporting and economic development win for the state and further strengthens Indiana's reputation as a premier destination for major national and international sporting events.

The Hambletonian will be held at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino in Anderson, providing Indiana an international platform to showcase one of the strongest standardbred racing and breeding programs in North America.

Often regarded as the Super Bowl of harness racing, the Hambletonian is one of the most recognizable and historic events in the sport. The race attracts the top 3-year-old trotters in North America and draws owners, breeders, trainers, drivers, and racing fans from across the United States and around the world.

"Indiana has proven that we know how to compete for and host major sporting events, and bringing the Hambletonian to the Hoosier State is another tremendous win for Indiana," said Governor Mike Braun. "This selection reflects not only the strength of Indiana's horse racing and breeding industry, but what we can accomplish when our state, communities, and private-sector partners work together. We look forward to welcoming the Hambletonian, its competitors, and racing fans from around the world to Indiana and once again show what Hoosier hospitality is all about."

Indiana's successful pursuit of the Hambletonian was the result of a collaborative effort involving the Indiana Standardbred Association, Indiana Sports Corp, Madison County Visitors & Tourism Bureau, Indiana Horse Racing Commission, Caesars Entertainment, and Harrah's Hoosier Park, bringing together Indiana's racing industry, sports leadership, tourism community, and state government to compete for the event.

Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino in Anderson will serve as the host venue for the Hambletonian. One of the country's premier standardbred racing facilities, Hoosier Park has previously hosted multiple Breeders Crowns and is recognized throughout the industry for its racing surface, facilities, and racing program.

Tom Reeg, CEO of Caesars Entertainment, said bringing the Hambletonian to Indiana and a Caesars property represents an opportunity to build an exceptional racing and entertainment experience around one of the sport's most important events.

"Caesars Entertainment and Harrah's Hoosier Park are proud to partner with the State of Indiana, the Hambletonian Society, and Indiana's horsemen to bring this iconic race to the Hoosier State," said Reeg. "Indiana has built an outstanding racing program, and Hoosier Park has the facilities, people and experience necessary to deliver a world-class event. We look forward to investing in an experience worthy of the Hambletonian name while attracting visitors to Indiana and showcasing everything this state and its racing industry have to offer.”

The selection marks an important new chapter in the history of the Hambletonian while recognizing Indiana’s decades-long investment in standardbred racing and breeding.

Indiana has built one of the strongest standardbred programs in North America. The impact extends far beyond race day, supporting breeders, farms, trainers, veterinarians, feed suppliers, equipment dealers, and thousands of jobs and businesses throughout Indiana, particularly in the state’s rural communities.

A Purdue University study found Indiana’s horse racing industry generates approximately $2 billion in annual economic impact, demonstrating that racing represents a significant component of Indiana’s agricultural and rural economy.

“This is a historic moment for Indiana standardbred racing and a tremendous win for our entire state,” said John DeLong, president of the Indiana Standardbred Association. “For decades, Indiana horsemen, breeders and farm owners have invested their time, resources and livelihoods into building one of the best standardbred programs in the country. The Hambletonian coming to Indiana validates that investment and gives us an extraordinary opportunity to showcase our horses, our farms, our people, and our entire industry to the world.”

DeLong also credited the partnership that came together to pursue the event.

“Winning an event of this magnitude takes a team effort,” DeLong said. “The partnership between the Indiana Standardbred Association, Indiana Sports Corp, Madison County, the Indiana Horse Racing Commission, Caesars Entertainment, Harrah’s Hoosier Park, and our state leaders demonstrates what Indiana can accomplish when we work together. Everyone recognized what bringing the Hambletonian to Indiana could mean, not only for horse racing, but for tourism, agriculture, and our state’s reputation as a destination for major sporting events.”

The Hambletonian is expected to generate significant tourism and economic activity in Anderson, Madison County and throughout Central Indiana while providing a national and international platform for IN’s racing, breeding, and agricultural industries.

“Bringing the Hambletonian to Indiana is the culmination of years of investment and partnership across our racing industry,” said Mike Smith, executive director of the Indiana Horse Racing Commission. “Indiana has developed a racing and breeding program that is respected throughout North America. Hosting an event of this stature allows us to showcase that success while introducing an entirely new audience to Indiana racing.”

Additional details surrounding the first Hambletonian in Indiana, including the race date, event schedule, purse structure, sponsorships and related activities, will be announced in the coming months.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Starstruck Dreamer sets 1:48.4f world record for 2YOs at Philly

by PHHA / Harrah's Philadelphia

Starstruck Dreamer, a 2-year-old pacing colt by Hall of Famer Captaintreacherous out of double O'Brien Award winner Scarlett Hanover, became the fastest freshman on a five-eighths-mile track in the sport's history when he won the single $129,892 division of the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes at Harrah's Philadelphia on Friday afternoon (Aug. 14) in 1:48.4.

The clocking beats out the 1:49.1 previous world mark, set right at Philly last year by Frantic Hanover in his Sire Stakes championship. It is also the second sub-1:50f win for this horse, his third in three Sire Stakes prelims, and his fourth in an undefeated career. He is also the fastest 2-year-old anywhere, on any size track, in North America in 2026.

Starstruck Dreamer went out strongly to get the lead, but so did Atomix Hanover, and driver Todd McCarthy decided to let that rival go by in a :26.1 opener then move off the first bend to regain the lead. That mission was soon accomplished, and then the timer flashed :54.2 and 1:21.3 at the middle poles, with Starstruck Dreamer increasing his margin step by step past the latter marker.

Starstruck Hanover was still filling his hoppers as he streaked through the stretch; McCarthy if anything looked to have a bit of a hold on him. But the winner still won by 5¾ lengths over Eastie Boy, with Atomix Hanover staying on for third behind the powerhouse victor, trained by Noel Daley for Steve Wienick Racing LLC, Pryde Stables Inc., Jfoderatritchicanamerica, and Hyatt Holdings Inc.

Starstruck Hanover has three PASS wins; archrival Shiloh Hanover, absent for this leg, has two in as many races. They might meet in the final prelim Friday (Aug. 21) at The Meadows, but they definitely should clash in their $300,000 Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship at Pocono on Labor Day Monday.

There were also five $20,000 sections of Pennsylvania Stallion Series races, all of which resulted in new marks for the winners. Philly's leading driver Tim Tetrack captured two of them with sons of Stay Hungry, the faster being with the colt Hungry Marco

Grace Zimmers

Starstruck Dreamer (Todd McCarthy) set a 1:48.4 world record for freshmen on a five-eighths mile track while winning the lone Pennsylvania Sire Stakes division for 2-year-old pacing colts on Friday at Harrah's Philadelphia.

(dam Always Giggling) in 1:52 for trainer Jamie Sullivan and owners David Hamm, Glenn Phillips, and Frank Chick. This win came in the first half of the Late Double, the second half of which was captured by Hungry Marco's three-quarters (by Papi Rob Hanover) sister Gigglingonthebeach, a 1:50.1 winner.

The other of the Tetrack/Stay Hungry duo was with the gelding Scorecard Hounddog (dam Heythere Lisamarie), who broke his maiden in 1:52.2 for trainer Vernon Beachy and owners Green Acres LLC and Mike Klimas.

Fastest Stallion Series winner was another maiden breaker, the Heston Blue Chip—Counterparty Risk colt Current Events, home in 1:51.3 for driver Mark Herschberger, trainer Travis Alexander, and owners Let It Ride Stables Inc., and Alexander Racing Stable LLC.

The Captaintreacherous—Certified Ideal gelding Celtic Wave won his second straight Stallion Series prelim when he flew home from far back in :25.4 to post a 1:51.4 clocking for driver Corey Callahan and trainer John Berger, the latter co-owner with Kiefer Elite Bloodstock LLC and Theresa Donnelly. (Tom Collins was a double StS winner in the first two prelims, but he could not sustain a first-over bid in the Hungry Marco race in his quest for three straight.)

Also, a Stallion Series winner was the Captain Crunch—Ideal Lifestyle A colt Crunchstyle, who won by the biggest margin in his group, 3½ lengths, with an engine 1:52.2 success for driver Troy Beyer, trainer Juan Cano, and the partnership of Cano Racing Stable LLC and Ernie Davis LLC.

Tetrack's two StS successes brought his win total to three on the day, tops among sulkysitters at Philly Friday; Simon Allard and Mark Herschberger had two victories. Doubling conditioners included Mark Akins (both driven by Allard), Cano, and Daley.

Today's 12:40 card at Philly has its three features among the last four on the 14-race program: one for developing horses and two for the fast-class set. Free Philly program pages are or will be available at www.phha.org.

Ontario SIRE STAKES REPORT

Freshman trotting colt Unstable Genius sets 1:53 OSS record, remains unbeaten

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

Unstable Genius set a 1:53 Ontario Sires Stakes record for 2-year-old trotting colts while winning the lone $150,000 Ontario Sires Stakes Gold leg 3 event for his division on Friday (Aug. 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

The gelded son of Muscle Mass out of Pretty Crafty is now a perfect three-for-three in his career, all three wins coming in $150,000 OSS Gold events to push his career earnings to $225,000.

The mile was nearly a full second faster than the previous OSS record of 1:53.4 set by You Got It Kemp in 2024 at Mohawk.

Unstable Genius' trainer, Dave Menary, told Woodbine broadcaster John Rallis, "I've been pretty excited about [Unstable Genius] for a long time. You know, prior to qualifying, he kind of gave me the woo! I haven't had that in a while, and he hasn't let us down yet. So, I'm hoping things keep going the right direction."

Sent off as the 1-5 favorite in the field of seven, James MacDonald eased Unstable Genius off the gate and sat gapped out in third through the early going as Kountry Cantab (Trevor Henry) led the field to the :27 quarter-mile pole, followed by Grand Manalishi (Tyler Jones). MacDonald had Unstable Genius out and moving up the backstretch, reaching the front before the :55.4 half-mile station. It was Unstable Genius, followed by Kountry Cantab and Grand Manalishi through the 1:25 three-quarters and then Unstable Genius pulled away in the stretch to win by four lengths over late-closing Three Six Zero (Jody Jamieson).

Kountry Cantab was third, followed by Tuff Gong (Louis-Philippe Roy) and Grand Manalishi.

Unstable Genius paid $2.70.

Watch the race replay here.

The record mile came despite the fact Unstable Genius has been off three weeks.

"I thought being off three weeks, he might be a little bit short by our standards," Menary said. "Maybe not short for a 2-year-old trotter, but it worked out, and [MacDonald] said he's never been better... We've raced him very easy so far, and, hopefully, he's got good things ahead of him."

Menary said he's aiming to enter Unstable Genius in next weekend's eliminations for the William Wellwood Memorial.

In previous Gold Series action in the division, Unstable Genius won leg 1 on July 6 and also, leg 2 on July 24. Both races were held at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

A $140,000 yearling purchase at the 2025 London Classic Yearling Sale, Unstable Genius was bred by Ashley and Dean Wilson, and is owned by Pollack Racing LLC of Venetia, PA.

Rebel Moon (James MacDonald) equaled the 1:53.4 OSS record for 2-year-old trotting fillies while winning the second of two $100,000 Gold Leg 3 divisions on Friday (Aug. 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

REBEL MOON EQUALS OSS RECORD, VERILY TAKES OTHER GOLD DIVISION FOR 2-YEAR-OLD TROTTING FILLIES

Rebel Moon equaled the 1:53.4 Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) record and Verily won the other Gold leg 3 division for 2-year-old trotting fillies on Friday (Aug. 14) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

In the second division (race 7), Rebel Moon, sent off as the 2-5 favorite in the field of seven, posted her second lifetime Gold victory on the heels of a victory one week prior in the $168,000 Pure Ivory final at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

In the Gold, James MacDonald converted a perfect pocket trip behind 22-1 shot Simea (Trevor Henry) — fractions of :27.4, :55.4, and 1:24.1 — into a three-quarter-length score over Major Contender (Jody Jamieson). That gave Carl Jamieson trainees the top two spots.

“Carl always has them ready and does a good job,” MacDonald told Woodbine broadcaster John Rallis. “I think we’re three to three together this year. He might be thinking about a permanent driver change. I don’t know.”

Simea held on for third, followed by Northern Song (Bob McClure) and Jyn Erso (Louis-Philippe Roy).

Rebel Moon is now 4-0-0 in six career starts for owners Sarah Anthon of Fergus, ON and Ellen Ott of Buffalo, NY. The daughter of Muscle Mass out of Kiss An Angel was bred by Jeff Gillis and now sports earnings of $186,150.

“She’s just a beautiful filly,” MacDonald said. “She’s got a beautiful gait, and she likes to go by horses, so that’s always a good quality in a racehorse. Last week we kind of went soft fractions, and then Jody and I sprinted down the lane and [Rebel Moon] got the better of them and was really trotting hard through the wire. This week it was completely different. We were rolling along... but it was a little more of a slugfest tonight. I’m glad she held on.”

The 1:53.4 mile tied Rebel Moon with Bee A Magician (2012), Lil Sweet (2024), and Bingo Night (2025) for the fastest OSS mile in history for a 2-year-old trotting filly.

Rebel Moon paid $2.80.

Watch the race replay here.

In the first division (race 3), Verily (Roy), sent off as the even-money favorite in the field of eight, made a late charge in the lane to defeat Queen Of Bs (James MacDonald) by two lengths in a career-best 1:54.1.

Song From Heaven (Tyler Borth) tried to go wire-to-wire, posting fractions of :26.4, :56.4, and 1:26.1 with both Treasure King (Jody Jamieson) and Queen Of Bs in close pursuit. Roy had Verily positioned fourth throughout, but got the filly in gear coming home. She passed three horses and trotted home in :27.2 to win.

“She knows her business too well, kind of,” Roy said. “When you tip her off a helmet, she wants to go pretty fast. When I had to move her there in the last turn, she kind of wanted to go too fast, and that’s why tonight I was keeping on the helmet the longest I could. Once I was in the stretch, it’s easier for them to stay trotting. So, when I tipped her, she was all business and went by.”

Song From Heaven was third. Treasure King was fourth and Cold Breeze (Travis Henry) grabbed the final check.

It was the second OSS Gold victory for the daughter of Muscle Mass out of Yen trained by Meg Crone, owned by Bill Donovan of Florida and bred by Overseas Farms of Cambridge, ON.

Verily now has a record of 2-0-0 in three starts and earnings of $84,350.

The filly paid $4.30 to win.

Savage Cindy sets track record in NYSS race at Vernon

by John Horne for Vernon Downs

Savage Cindy (Leon Bailey) captured the $121,800 leg of the New York Sire Stakes (NYSS) for sophomore pacing fillies at Vernon Downs on Friday (Aug. 14).

Surreal Spirit (Jeff Gregory) was first to the quarter in a sizzling :25. Two Twenty Swift (Chris Long) then grabbed the top spot, but the lead was short lived as Savage Cindy ($10.76) made her move heading to the backstretch. Odds On Monetary (Matt Kakaley) made a bid for the front as Savage Cindy led to the half in :53. The two fillies battled around the final turn, as Savage Cindy shook loose to three quarters in 1:20.3.

As they reached the stretch second place finisher Odds On Monetary came back at the leader but Savage Cindy dug in and won in a personal best and a track record for sophomore fillies of 1:49.3. Surreal Spirit finished third.

Savage Cindy is a filly by Huntsville, owned by Scarlett Stables and trained by Cory Stratton. It was her third win this season and fifth career victory.

Bailey drove three winners on the card.

HUNTING GLORY, COOPERSTOWN BOY POST NYSS VICTORIES AT YONKERS

Hunting Glory and Cooperstown Boy won the pair of New York Sire Stakes divisions for 3-year-old male pacers on Thursday night (August 13) at MGM Yonkers Raceway in similar fashion, rallying by the favorite in the stretch from the pocket.

In the first $82,500 grouping, Knoxville (driven by Tyler Buter) was in front through fractions of :27, :55.2, and 1:23.1 with Hunting Glory (Ridge Warren) in the 2-hole. Warren angled Hunting Glory off the pylons on the last turn, and after a battle through the lane, Hunting Glory got up late to score by a half-length in 1:52. Knoxville had to settle for second, followed by Fearless Partners (Jordan Stratton), Hunt Off The Press (Doug McNair) and Hard To Forget (Colin Kelly).

Fotowon

Savage Cindy (Leon Bailey) winning her New York Sire Stakes event for 3-year-old pacing fillies on Friday at Vernon Downs.

A Huntsville gelding, Hunting Glory is trained by Robert Cleary for owner Royal Wire Products Inc. Hunting Glory, who was bred by Southwind Farms, has three wins, four seconds, and two thirds from 12 starts, has earned $204,334 and paid $12.42 to win as the 5-1 fourth choice. He keyed a $21.12 exacta and a $55.54 trifecta.

All eyes were on MGM Grand Messenger Stakes champion Fragment (Yannick Gingras) in the other $81,000 split, and he moved up two-wide to take the lead away from Unmatched Wisdom (Leon Bailey) past the :27.3 quarter. Fragment then backed down the tempo to :56.3 to the half before he picked back up to 1:24.3 at three-quarters as Unmatched Wisdom vacated the pocket but immediately began to back away, allowing Cooperstown Boy (McNair), who had been sitting third, to advance into the pocket.

Cooperstown Boy stalked Fragment all the way around the far turn, and then McNair fired him to the outside for the drive to the finish. Fragment had the jump and dug in, but Cooperstown Boy was able to vault past the 1-9 favorite late, defeating him by a head in 1:52.2. Unmatched Wisdom wound up third over Twin B Manhunt (Joe Bongiorno).

Another gelding by Huntsville, Cooperstown Boy was sent out by Jared Bako for owner NY Seb Inc. Unraced as a 2-year-old and bred by Jeff McFadden and Jeff Roberts, Cooperstown Boy has a summary of 3-2-0 from seven outings, has put away $98,025 and returned $38.18 to win as the 18-1 second choice. He led a $38.16 exacta and trifecta wagering was not offered.

Two $20,000 New York Excelsior Series events on the program were won by Magic Journey (by American Ideal and bred by owners The Ok Corral and Dr. Andrew Roberts, paid $21.72 to win) in 1:51.3 for driver Tyler Buter and trainer Rob Harmon, and Johnny Wiggles (by Huntsville and bred by James Crawford IV, paid $5.30 to win) in 1:54.2 for co-owner/driver Doug McNair, co-owner John Stamatis, and trainer Jared Bako.

MGM Yonkers Raceway is currently operating on a Monday/Tuesday and Thursday through Saturday live racing schedule with post time at 6:45 p.m. (EDT) except on Saturday when it is 3:30 p.m. (EDT).

Maine SIRE STAKES REPORT

No Small Wonder is tops at Topsham

by Chris Tully for Maine Sire Stakes

Maine's 2-year-old filly pacers made their annual visit to the Topsham Fair on Thursday (August 13) with freshmen pacing sensation No Small Wonder taking her fourth stakes win in a row.

A pair of $14,983 Maine Sire Stakes events went postward on the pleasant summer afternoon, with one dash before the card, and the second carded as the opener on the 10-race program.

When the wings of the starting gate folded driver Kevin Switzer, Jr. pointed the division leader, No Small Wonder, right out to the front from her pylon position with little fanfare. They reached the opening panel in :30.3 with Siri (Heath Campbell) sitting a loose pocket with Bettor's Treasure (McGwire Sowers) in third.

They passed the stands the first time with No Small Wonder leading the way and setting a 1:01.2 half-mile mark. Around the five-eighths Feel The Fury (Andy Harrington) had caught the pack despite an earlier miscue and was gaining ground first over. Switzer, Jr. fired up his charge past the 1:31.4 third station and began to gain some separation from the rest of the field.

With no threats in sight No Small Wonder was given free rein to pace down to the wire on cruise control, tripping the timer in 2:00.4 to win by 3¾ lengths.

Trained by Kevin Switzer, Sr. for owners KDK Standardbreds, Kathleen Mofield, and Anthony Sivik, Jr., it was the fourth consecutive victory for No Small Wonder. Bred in Maine by Luke and Patricia Varnum, the daughter of State Treasurer is undefeated thus far in her inaugural season and has earned $31,022.

Siri finished second; Bettor's Treasure was third.

In the second $14,983 division, which was on the pari-mutuel card, the public's second choice, Showfaith Showdown (2-1, Nick Graffam) got out for an early lead from post 3. They reached the opening panel in :32 with Lillian G (9-2, Dakota Niles) in the pocket and Wine For The Lady (8-5, Aaron Hall) sitting third.

Just past the 1:04.3 midway point Kevin Switzer, Jr. driving Bad Bunny T was able to flush the cover of Wine For The Lady as the field passed the paddock turn for the second time. At the 1:35 third stanza Wine For The Lady had collared the pacesetter Showfaith Showdown and the two battled around the final turn and through the head of the Topsham Fair stretch. Down to the wire it was a champagne toast for Wine For The Lady as she prevailed by 2½ lengths in 2:04, a new lifetime best.

Trained by Marc Tardif for owner/breeder Leighton Property, the daughter of State Treasurer now has two wins in four seasonal outings. She returned $5.20 for the victory.

Lillian G hung on for third.

This week's harness racing action moves north to Skowhegan and kicks off on Tuesday (Aug. 18) with the 3-year-old colt and gelding pacers, followed on Wednesday (Aug. 19) by the sophomore distaff pacers.

HARNESS RACING PRESS RELEASES, NOTES & ANNOUNCEMENTS

Merritt 'Butch' Dokey, 87, dies

Michigan Hall of Fame driver/trainer Merritt "Butch" Dokey, 87, of Plymouth, MI, passed away Wednesday (Aug. 12).

Born on May 15, 1939, in Kalamazoo, MI, Dokey began his racing career as a quarter horse jockey. After growing tired of battling to maintain his weight, the 5-foot-6, 130-pound Dokey turned to standardbreds in the mid-1960s when he went to work for the Joe Marsh, Jr. stable in Chicago.

Dokey, who eventually went out on his own and enjoyed success with prominent owner Bert James, got his first driving win in 1967. Over the course of his career, he captured driving titles at Hazel Park and Wolverine Raceway and was a top driver on the Roosevelt-Yonkers circuit in the 1970s, winning dash crowns at both tracks.

In 1974, Dokey was the regular driver of Huff N Puff, who was voted the sport's best older female pacer. The following year, he cracked the top 20 in purses, with $849,575.

Dokey's best season came in 1976 when he ranked No. 2 nationally in purses, with $1.89 million, and was No. 5 in wins, with 272. It was the first of 12 consecutive million-dollar seasons for Dokey, who began to cut back on driving in the late 1980s. At the end of that decade, he ranked 28th in history in purses, with $20.7 million, and 47th in wins, with 3,122.

He continued driving regularly for the next 16 years, averaging 380 starts per season from 1990 to 2005. He finished his career with 3,878 wins and $24 million in purses.

In addition to Huff N Puff, other top horses for Dokey were stakes winners such as Don't Dally, Jambo Belle, Isle Of Maui, Luanne's Jewel, and Social Scandal.

Dokey was inducted into the Michigan Harness Horsemen's Association Hall of Fame in 2005. His sons Kevin and Mike have also been involved in harness racing as drivers and trainers.

BGRA Youth Contest entries due by Aug. 31

The Bill Galvin Racing Alliance would like to remind Ontario students that their stories, poems, sketches, and drawings for the Youth Literary Derby and Youth Art Derby are due by Monday, Aug. 31.

The Youth Literary Derby is for students in Grades 3-8, with junior (Grades 3-5) and intermediate (Grades 6-8) divisions. Students can write a poem or short story with a standardbred theme.

The Youth Art Derby, for Grades 3-12, has junior (Grades 3-5), intermediate (Grades 6-8) and senior divisions (Grades 9-12). Entries for the Art Derby should be a drawing, sketch or painting with a standardbred theme.

Division winners will receive a $250 prize, with $150 going to second, and $100 to third. The prize money is generously sponsored by Tom Rankin of St. Catharines, ON. Finalists over the age of 12 will also receive Horse Behaviour and Safety courses, courtesy of Equine Guelph.

Finalists will be invited to Woodbine Mohawk Park for an awards night where they will participate in behind-the-scenes activities, enjoy a meal and receive their awards.

For full contest rules, please visit the Contests tab at bgracingalliance.ca.

FEEDBACK!

SPONSORED BY PREFERRED EQUINE

An open letter to the harness racing industry: We need to put the fun back into racing

Harness racing has its issues. We all know that. But why we continue to act as though we need to squeeze every possible minute out of every possible racing day is beyond me.

We have somehow managed to remove almost every ounce of fun that is left in this business.

Our limited workforce – whether it is racetrack staff, trainers, drivers, grooms, caretakers, judges, veterinarians or everyone else who keeps this sport operating – is tired. People are overworked. Horses and horsemen are constantly moving from one place to another. Tracks compete against each other for horses, bettors, and attention instead of working together to create a stronger overall product.

But I don't want this to simply be another letter complaining about everything that is wrong with harness racing. We have enough of those.

We need solutions.

I believe we need to start by recognizing that everyday racing and major-event racing are two completely different products, and we should stop treating them the same way.

Everyday racing should be built for gambling.

Our racetracks need to work together to create a coordinated racing product that is easy and exciting to wager on.

Imagine one exceptionally well-designed platform where harness racing is presented continuously throughout the day. Tracks coordinate their post times so that instead of three races going off simultaneously followed by 15 minutes of nothing, there is consistently another race approaching post.

Race. Bet. Race. Bet. Race. Bet.

It should have the pace and simplicity of being in a casino.

Someone sitting in a doctor's waiting room should be able to open their phone, see that a race goes off in two minutes, handicap it quickly, place a wager, watch the race and move on with their day.

On ordinary racing days, we don't necessarily need thousands of people sitting in grandstands.

We need gamblers. We need wagers. We need liquidity in our pools.

Make the product fast, convenient, understandable, and entertaining.

Our major racing days should be the complete opposite.

When we have our biggest events, the industry should protect them.

Those days should feel important.

Instead of every racetrack fighting for the same horses, bettors, and attention, we should give our major events room to breathe.

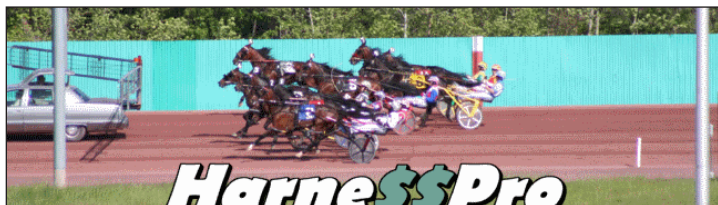

We should create weekends and events people actually want to attend – not simply another 15-race card that takes five or six hours to complete.

Think about what Formula 1 has accomplished. Think about the Super Bowl. The competition itself matters, but people want to attend because the event matters.

Harness racing needs that feeling again.

The Hambletonian, Little Brown Jug, Meadowlands Pace, North America Cup, Breeders Crown, and our other premier events should be experiences.

Great racing. Great food. Music. Entertainment. Owners bringing friends. Families attending. Sponsors entertaining customers.

People dressing up. Social media content everywhere. A reason to stay after your horse races rather than immediately getting in the car and driving to the next racetrack.

Those are the days when we need fans.

Because those are the days that sell the dream.

And selling that dream may be more important to the future of harness racing than almost anything else we do.

We need people to want to own racehorses.

Ultimately, someone has to go to the yearling sales and raise their hand.

That is what drives this entire industry.

Breeders need buyers. Buyers need trainers. Trainers employ people. Horses fill races. Races generate wagering. Wagering supports purses. The entire ecosystem begins with someone believing that owning a racehorse might be worth doing.

And let's be realistic about something.

Most owners aren't getting rich doing this.

In fact, many of the people capable of investing significant money in racehorses already have money. They didn't enter harness racing because they needed another investment account.

They came because they wanted something money normally can't buy.

They wanted the chance to own something great.

They wanted to stand beside the track with their heart pounding while their horse turned for home.

They wanted to win a big race.

They wanted their family and friends there.

They wanted the picture.

They wanted the trophy.

They wanted the phone calls and congratulations.

They wanted the thrill.

That emotion is our greatest product, and somehow, we have stopped selling it.

Instead, we have created a system where everyone is exhausted, everyone is rushing somewhere else, racing overlaps racing, major events compete against ordinary cards, and even the people spending enormous amounts of money in this business sometimes wonder whether they're actually having any fun.

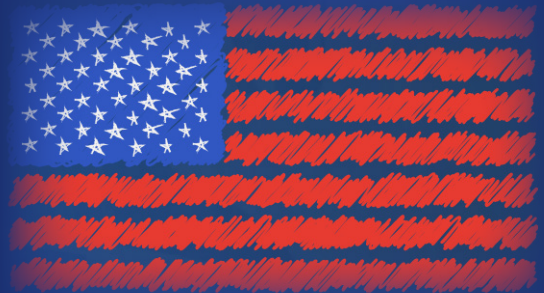

That has to change.

We don't necessarily need more racing. We need better racing.

Coordinate everyday racing nationally and build it specifically as a gambling product.

Create technology that makes harness racing incredibly easy to wager on.

Coordinate post times.
Shorten unnecessary downtime.
Stop cannibalizing each other's wagering pools.
Then identify our premier events and protect them.
Make those days special.
Make people want to attend.
Make owners want to invite 10 friends.
Make someone watching think: "I want to own one of those horses someday."
Because if we can create gamblers during the week and dreamers on the weekends, we might actually start growing this sport again.
Harness racing has an incredible product. We have tremendous athletes, unbelievable horses, passionate owners, hardworking people, and generations of history.
What we're missing isn't effort.
Everyone is already working themselves to death.
What we're missing is coordination, presentation and fun.
It's time to stop asking how much more racing we can squeeze out of this industry and start asking how much more value we can create from the racing we already have.

Murray Brown on the Hambletonian moving to Indiana

I've just read your lead story in HRU's Friday edition. I, like you, was somewhat shocked and personally disappointed when I heard that the Hambletonian was leaving The Meadowlands for its new home in Indiana.

The Meadowlands, both before his tenure and since its tenancy under Jeff Gural could not have been in more capable and caring hands. The entire industry owes it great thanks for the fantastic job it has done.

I thought and certainly hoped that the race would remain where it has become the center of harness racing for over four-and-a-half decades.

When the race left DuQuoin to come east, my feelings were similar to what they are now. We were losing a great part of harness racing and its great traditions.

The Hayes family and DuQuoin had done a marvelous job in making it our sport's greatest treasure.

But, to quote Bob Dylan "The times there were a changing." While DuQuoin had peaked with attendees numbering in the area of about 10,000 or thereabouts, The Meadowlands held promises of crowds of 30,000 and offered the media rich New York/New Jersey environment to help grow our sport. Those expectations were met and the race thrived.

However as time went on, those crowds dwindled, to the point where today, the attendance was likely in the 10,000 range or even less. The media exposure had all but disappeared. Was it the fault of the stewards of the race? Most definitely not. They did the best they could while facing insurmountable odds and previously unknown competition.

The feeling from my place in the industry was that the race was slowly shrinking and getting, for lack of a better term: stale. Its future and that of harness racing in New Jersey was becoming more and more murky.

The feeling was that Mr. Gural wanted the race, but didn't really have his previous enthusiasm for it. If he really wanted it, wouldn't he have exercised his option to renew his tenancy? Because Gural did not renew his option, the Hambletonian Society was forced to open the race to bidding.

I've been told from highly reputable sources that there were two highly superior bids from Indiana and WEG in addition to that of The Meadowlands.

From all that I've heard, Mr. Gural did not appear openly enthusiastic to continue as the race's guardian. That may or may not be the case. Indiana on the other hand was hugely so, gathering support from all segments within and outside of the industry, including strong support from the Governor of the state.

Whatever the Society decided was bound to have been met with a degree of disappointment. Those 26 leaders of our industry, who are the Society's directors, voted to do what they felt was best for the race and its future.

We owe it to them and the good folks in Indiana to give our support to which will undoubtedly become a most successful undertaking.

Murray Brown
