Ontario breeders may force top politicians to testify about cancelling slots program

Thinking out loud about that and other recent interesting events in the industry.

by Dave Briggs

Assorted thoughts on recent industry events...

Will a group of Ontario standardbred breeders force the former premier of the province and some of his top cabinet ministers to testify in court about the cancellation of the Slots at Racetracks Program (SARP)?

A few years ago, when the breeders filed the lawsuit against the government and the Ontario Lottery and Gaming Corporation seeking $65 million in damages, many would have put the odds at 50-1 or more. But with each legal step slowly playing out in a Guelph, ON courtroom, the odds are dropping precipitously.

In early August, Ontario Superior Court Justice Michael Emery ruled former premier Dalton McGuinty, former finance minister Dwight Duncan, economist Don Drummond, former Ontario Racing Commission chair Rod Seiling and others must take the stand and explain the decision to cancel SARP with little notice and throw an industry – that once supported 35,000 full-time equivalent jobs in the province – into turmoil. The breeders, who made investment decisions after being told SARP was secure in the early days of a renewed five-year contract, felt the biggest blow when the government suddenly exercised its right to cancel SARP with one year's notice.

Naturally, the government has appealed Judge Emery's latest ruling and is doing everything it can to prevent McGuinty, Duncan et al. from testifying. But a series of seemingly-damning emails the breeders' legal team forced the government to disclose about what was discussed when regarding cancelling SARP appears to have been key in bringing us closer to the delicious possibility that the much-disliked tandem of McGuinty and Duncan will have to explain their actions on the stand.

Whether that happens, or not, the breeders, led by the Standardbred Breeders of Ontario Association (SBOA), deserve major kudos for fighting what certainly appears to be injustice and for trying to get the truth on the record about how and why SARP – a program that once delivered annual profits of $1.1 billion to the government – was scrapped.

Ontario's thoroughbred and quarter horse industries, both of which opted not to sue, are watching closely. But other jurisdictions with slots should be taking notes, as well, for the inevitable day politicians come to alter or cancel the programs in their states.

PA on suspending the horse

Pennsylvania's decision to allow for a suspension of up to 90 days for horses with Class 1, 2, or 3 positive tests or high TCO2 readings, is welcome news for a state that is trying to address a perceived integrity problem.

Is it a perfect solution? Of course not. Neither is the trainer responsibility rule. But both are necessary in a business in which the tantamount responsibility is to protect both the horses and the customers that bet on them.

Of course, for this to truly succeed, the commission will still have to work hard on improving testing protocols to try to catch up with cheaters who are normally a few steps ahead. That's not an easy task.

Yes, some say banning the horse will be a further impediment to horse ownership, but the hope is more owners will be drawn to the game if the playing field is closer to being level. Certainly, many have left because they feel they can't get a fair shake.

In the end, rather than try to tear the rule down, which is the usual course of action in this industry, I hope most participants cheer and support a rule designed to minimize the small number of their colleagues that choose to cheat and steal from them.

Despite the likelihood of legal challenges once the suspend-the-horse rule goes on the books on Oct. 1, I also hope the Pennsylvania Horse Racing Commission follows through and enforces the rule – including the reciprocal provision that it can ban horses from racing in Pennsylvania that received Class 1, 2 or 3 positives or high TCO2 readings in our jurisdictions.

Enforcement of the rules on the books is the best way to prove Pennsylvania is now taking integrity issues much more seriously than in the past.

Customers need to be at the table

Few things irritate me more than people that view the industry as only consisting of participants or tracks.

This week, while resigning from this post as horse racing advisor to Ontario Minister of Agriculture, Greg Walling wrote a letter with some recommendations (full store here). The fourth recommendation, in particular, caught my eye.

"The industry needs horsepeople in senior positions in Ontario Racing and OLG (Ontario Lottery and Gaming corporation)."

Walling is correct. Horsepeople need greater representation among all governing bodies, but he left out the all-important third leg of the industry tripod – the customers, without whom the whole game topples.

Customers also need to be in senior positions in the industry, as well, if we have any hope of hanging on to the ones we still have and hope to attract new ones.

It also should be mandatory training for all people in senior positions in the industry – including horsepeople groups – to better appreciate and try to understand the customers... and always, always, always include them in the discussion.

Outraged over lost claimers

Is it just me or is the rate of people being outraged about horses being claimed from them on the rise?

Perhaps social media just exposes that sentiment more and perhaps a lower horse population overall exacerbates the problem, but I keep seeing posts authored by ticked-off folks aghast at someone having the audacity to claim their beloved pony.

I certainly understand being emotional about losing a horse, but being angry about having your horse claimed completely confounds me.

This is a business. If you don't want to lose your beloved horse, don't drop it in a claimer, especially when there can be a perception – rightly or wrongly – that a horse well-known to be beloved by its connections can sometimes gain a racing advantage by being dropped in a claiming class where they can easily earn money without fear of being claimed. The fact that they can be claimed is the great equalizer to that behavior and in the best interest of fairness.

Pining for 2016

I know we still have a lot of big racing left in the year, but I'm really starting to miss 2016.

Sure, we were really spoiled with battles between Wiggle It Jiggle it and Always B Miki, a trotting Triple Crown winner in Marion Marauder and a talented sophomore pacing colt in Betting Line, among other stakes stars.

But, so far, 2017 has lacked pizzazz. Outside of Fear The Dragon v. Huntsville v. Downbytheseaside, there's been few truly interesting rivalries, yet. Even more glaring is the fact there's few horses that can match last year's star power, except for, maybe, Fear The Dragon or Ariana G. Even Hannelore Hanover and Marion Marauder, so far, haven't reached the heights they did a year ago.

It all adds up to be a bit of a blah racing season, so far.

Here's hoping some stars and rivalries develop in the second half of 2017.

BUZZWORTHY

Lively debate over whether Western Fair should add passing lane

by Garnet Barnsdale

The Raceway at Western Fair caused a buzz this past week simply by posting a survey on the Standardbred Canada website asking respondents if they'd like to see a passing lane at the 1/2-mile oval situated in London, ON.

The survey asks website visitors this question: The Raceway at Western Fair District does not presently have a passing lane, but is considering installing one that would span half the length of the homestretch. Would you like to see a passing lane of this length at Western Fair?

They were asked to vote, picking one of the three options below, followed by the percentage of voters who chose each option so far:

Yes, I'd like to see a passing lane of that length

38 per cent (740 votes)

No, but I'd like to see one slightly longer

30 per cent (585 votes)

No, I'm not in favor of a passing lane at all

30 per cent (580 votes)

When Raceway announcer Shannon "Sugar" Doyle shared the survey on Facebook, responses came fast and furious, both in favor and against the passing lane.

London's perennial leading driver – and the nation's leading dash winner – Bob McClure offered this comment: "I think having a passing lane would limit the flow in the race which is what's great about that track."

Driver Jody Jamieson, fresh off winning his first Canadian Pacing Derby with Sintra last weekend, saw it differently. "No matter who is driving nor where they are driving, I don't see a passing lane causing any negative affect on the handle," he said. "I appreciate all the opinions, but consider this: If almost every horse has a chance at the head of the stretch, does that not add to the excitement and betting experience of each patron/horseperson and fan? Sure, it'd be a different dynamic, but I believe it'd be for the best of the product!"

Bettor Russ Adams – who quite often acts as a guest handicapper at The Raceway – is dead-set against the installation of a passing lane. "Like the saying goes if it ain't broke, don't fix it," he said. "Western Fair is having its best five-year run ever as a racetrack. Why ruin it with a passing lane that make the races boring with way less flow? Its one of the biggest reasons why I love playing this track. You have to race aggressively and not wait to get bailed out in the passing lane."

Sugar Doyle is another that can be counted as in favor of a passing lane. "My thought is yes, racing is great at The Raceway – lots of flow with movement usually starting at the opening quarter mile," Doyle said. "A short 1/16 mile 'escape route' would be a 'last ditch effort' for a 'locked & blocked' type to 'salvage' something. I can't imagine any driver would 'wait' on a 1/16-mile lane to try for a win."

The Raceway at Western Fair's general manager, Greg Blanchard, explains why the poll was posted on the website in advance of The Raceway's winter meet. "This was something we had given consideration to this off season and the goal of a survey was to simply gain some substantial and constructive feedback," he said, noting he wasn't surprised by the differing opinions. "We figured that opinions would be mixed and that is exactly what we have seen."

So, is a passing lane at The Raceway a done deal, considering 68 per cent of respondents have indicated they are in favor of some form of it? "We won't base our decision to try it or not try it solely on the results of this survey but we will certainly factor in the feedback and opinions that were expressed," Blanchard said. "Having said that, if the results came back as a resounding no than we likely wouldn't contemplate it."

Blanchard, who has made several positive changes to grow the business in his tenure at The Raceway, said he is happy to see that, regardless of which side of the passing lane debate people take, most agree that the product in its current state is very good. "I was encouraged to see that the general sentiment from those who commented online is that they enjoy the style of racing in London," he said. "I happen to concur and only want to try things that we feel can enhance the on-track product. If we do opt to go ahead with the passing lane, it would be for a trial period only. If it were to diminish the product in any way we wouldn't hesitate to go back to what we currently have in place."

What about the opinion some have that a passing lane would limit the flow which The Raceway is now famous for?

"I personally don't think it would change the amount of movement and flow in our races because of the distance of passing lane we're contemplating," Blanchard said. "It would begin approximately halfway down the homestretch, so waiting for the passing lane as a strategic move will be highly risky. I see it a 'last chance' option for the horse that's caught in heavy traffic late to perhaps salvage some money or to hit the board."

The effect a passing lane might have on racing flow at The Raceway remains to be seen, but the prospect of it sure caused a buzz this week in advance of the track's popular winter meet. Stay tuned.

Trainer Trends

A look at how some of the sport's top trainers are fairing compared to a year ago.

by Joe FitzGerald

Here is a look at how some of the top trainers fared by earnings through Sept. 4 of this year compared with their performance during the same period in 2016.

Dave Landry

Brian Brown is trending up in 2017.

Trending Up

Rene Allard flipped spots with Jimmy Takter. Allard is number two this year. His starts are down by 8 per cent, but his money is up by 18 per cent. He's light years behind Ron Burke, but ahead of everyone else. Levy and Franklin winner Keystone Velocity is the richest aged pacer in North America. Allard is number one at Pocono Downs and number two at Yonkers.

Brian Brown jumped from #14 in September of last year to number four. Fear The Dragon and Downbytheseaside are already responsible for $1.9 million. Brown's starts are down five per cent, his wins up 14 per cent and his money up that same $1.9 million—or 47 per cent. Brown is sporting an impressive 0.413 UTRS.

Richard Banca, the leading trainer at Yonkers Raceway, moved up from 13 to number 5. His starts and wins were about the same, but his earnings were up $1.5 million.

Gilbert Garcia-Herrera moved up four spots to number eight. The #2 at Harrah's, #3 at Pocono and #5 at Yonkers saw his money jump by 27 per cent.

Scott DiDomenico went from number 31 last year to number nine. His horses made almost 25 per cent more starts and won 29 per cent more races. DiDomenico's earnings were up more than 52 per cent. He's third at Yonkers and fifth at Harrah's. His RWJ filly Angel's Pride finished second in the Lady Maud on Saturday.

Andrew Harris made a giant leap from 41 to 10. He made twice as many starts, won 53 per cent more races and upped his money by more than 27 per cent. His precocious SBSW freshman Pedro Hanover just won the PASS final, while the Muscle Massive colt Lawmaker was second in his.

John Butenschoen is also having a terrific year, moving up 15 spots to number 11. He made 13 per cent more starts and saw his money grow by 43 per cent. Dover Dan is the PASS champion; Funknwaffles is a NYSS hotshot; Giveitgasandgo, Fine Tuned Lady and Scirocco Rob are also players.

Chris Beaver, who is all in on the Ohio Sire Stakes, moved up four spots to 14. He made 43 per cent more starts, logged 28 per cent more wins and upped his earning by more than $321,000 (17 per cent). Fraser Ridge just won a SS final. Gabbysloosechange, Sesame and Red Storm are just three of his many OHSS regulars. Beaver's UTRS went from 0.399 last September to 0.408 this year.

Ray Schnittker stepped up 17 spots to 15 on the strength of the $916,000 banked by Huntsville in 2017. The journeyman trotter Deweycolorintheline is also closing in on millionaire status.

Rob Harmon comes in at 19 after not making the top 50 last September. He had 79 wins good for $1.4 million. Kwik Talkin and Taco Tuesday are two of his.

Nifty Norman, who misses Bee A Magician, is at number 20, after failing to make the list in September, 2016.

Matias Ruiz moved up five spots to 22. His earnings were up by seven per cent.

Noel Daley went from off to 26. His Caviart Ally won a PASS Championship, while Cool Cates came in second among the 3YO filly trotters.

Julie Miller remains at six, but her money is up by 24 per cent. Miller won the lucrative Yonkers Trot with Topflight Angel. Devious Man, who won the Beal and the EBC, is the richest trotter in North America at $800,000. Met's Hall and Overdraft Volo are also on her powerful roster. Her UTRS is 0.385.

Ake Svanstedt dropped two spots to five, despite winning 16 per cent more races and upping his money by 18 per cent. He won the Hambletonian on a disqualification with Perfect Spirit, and recently took the Zweig with Yes Mickey. The latter finished second in the Yonkers Trot. Fury Road, Lucky Ava and Natalie Hanover are a few other good ones.

Holding Steady

Ron Burke is on top again. He is the leading trainer at The Meadows, Harrah's, Northfield and The Meadowlands; and he's number two at Pocono Downs and fourth at Yonkers. Burke made five per cent fewer starts, won four per cent fewer races and was short more than $2 million – or 15 per cent. In mid-September of last year, he was down $2 million from September of 2015. Between his record-breaking year in 2014 and the end of 2016 his money was down 25 per cent. His freshman Dragon Again gelding, Seeing Eye Single, won the Ohio SS final the other night. Miso Fast, Double A Mint and Filibuster Hanover are other solid younger horses. What The Hill lost the Hambletonian on a disqualification. Hannelore Hanover is number 14 on the all trotter money list, not as high as many expected. Crazy Wow has been good, as has Caviart Luca, but Rockin Ron, All Bets Off and Check Six haven't done enough to erase that $2 million gap. There isn't a Mission Brief or Southwind Frank on this year's roster. Burke's UTRS was 0.324 last September and it's 0.325 this year.

Trending Down

Jimmy Takter talked about cutting back last year and he wasn't as active at the sales as he generally is. His starts are down 20 per cent. His wins are off by 17 per cent and he's short more than $1.5 million – an eye-popping 26.6 per cent. Takter stepped up $7.8 million (41.5 per cent) between 2013 and 2014. That's when Trixton, Father Patrick and Shake It Cerry were all two-year-olds. However, in 2015 and 2016 he fell short of that by $3 million (23 per cent). His barn is still loaded with stars. His freshman filly Manchego is the richest 2YO trotter; You Know You Do won the Champlain the other night; Ariana G is a beast; Idyllic Beach and Sunfire Blue Chip are no slouches. Takter's UTRS rose from 0.357 to 0.375.

Erv Miller dropped five spots to number 12. His money was down 12 per cent from what it was last year. Supergirl Riley, Chip Walter and Geez Joe are a few of his better ones.

Richard Moreau, the leading trainer in Canada, fell three slots to 13. His earnings are off by 12 per cent.

Linda Toscano, who has only had presumptive Trotter of the Year Walner for two starts, fell eight spots to 16. She made 41 more starts but her earnings are off by 20 per cent. Her filly World Apart just won the Lady Maud, and she has plenty of promising youngsters. Come See The Show, Lima Novelty and Casual Cool are three of them.

Tony Alagna is having an off year: his number of starts is about the same, but his money is short by more than half. Racing Hill and Caprice Hill have left the building. The promising SBSW colt Stay Hungry won a split of the Champlain and the American Ideal colt Art Scene was second in the Messenger. Tony's UTRS dropped from 0.374 to 0.288.

Jeff Bamond dropped nine spots to 18. Anndrovette was retired; Venus Delight was sold; and Krispy Apple is getting older. Mach It So, who won the Haughton, is fourth on his division earnings list. Bamond's starts are down by 43 per cent; his wins are off by 51 per cent; and his bankroll is less than half of what it was this time last year. He was number five at the close of 2015, the year he took over from PJ Fraley Anette Lorentzon, the trainer of the promising Archangel colt Guardian Angel AS, dropped from 27 to 21 with 96 wins for $1.3 million.

Jim Daley, the number four trainer at Scioto Downs, fell back 10 to number 25. His money was down by 26 per cent. Daley's Bad Girls Rule won an Ohio SS final the other night.

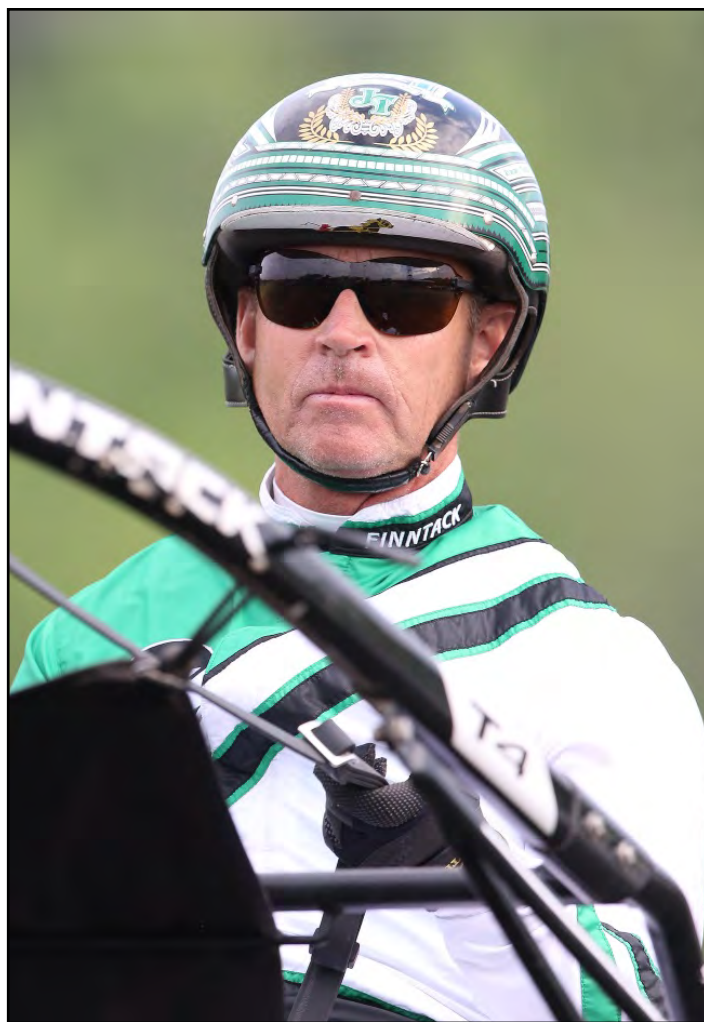

Chris Oakes dropped 27 spots to number 38. The trainer of the undefeated freshman Hitman Hill made 56 per cent fewer starts, won 62 per cent fewer races and is short 48 per cent in the earnings column.

Greg McNair dropped from 29 to 41. His money was off more than 12 per cent.

Rick Zeron was at 44 in 2016 when Shamballa had $400,000 in the bank by September. This year, not so much. He fell off the top 50.

Steve Elliott fell 19 places to 43. He made 25 per cent fewer starts, won 36 per cent fewer races and was $403,000 (30 per cent) short money wise. Rockyed Optimist has fallen off, although Boston Red Rocks is an oddity, earning more than $300,000 but having no wins.

Casie Coleman, who was at 17 last Sept. 4, is off the top 50 this year. Betting Line, who earned $1.4 million in 2016, has been retired. Reclamation project McWicked has experienced setbacks and been slow to return to his 2014 form. Also, Coleman's promising Western Ideal colt Summer Travel just scratched out of the Nassagaweya and Champlain in successive weeks.

Claus Andersen

After cutting back his stable, Jimmy Takter is trending down a little in 2017 despite still posting strong numbers.

Some others in the top 50 the first week of September, 2016, but not there this year: Tom Milici, Tony O'Sullivan, Clyde Francis, Pat Lachance, Richard Johnson, Paula Wellwood, Benoit Baillargeon, Jim Arledge, Nancy Johansson, Paul Kelley, Randy Bendis, Rich Gillock and Les Givens.

Newcomers to the top 50 not already mentioned: Heidi Rohr, Jamie Macomber, Travis Cullen, Jim Jing Jr, Norm Parker, Nick Surick, Jenny Melander, Luc Blais and Tom Fanning.

Impressive new stars in Sweden

The Svenskt Travderby and Derbystoet was held at Jägersro racetrack in Malmö, Sweden last Sunday, with Cyber Lane and Johan Untersteiner winning the main event.

by Thomas Hedlund

To be able to race in the Svenskt Travderby (Derby) in Sweden, horses have to be four-years-old and born in the country. It's a stake race where the owners have to decide early on if their horse will be one of the 12 participants on the first Sunday in September.

This year's edition was a thriller with 11 of 12 horses fighting for the victory when the field reached the home stretch.

Ten years ago, Johan Untersteiner drove Giant Diablo in Lexington for his former employer Roger Walmann when the duo set a new world record for mares (1:50.1). Three years ago, Untersteiner went out on his own and his stable, based in Halmstead, Sweden, has been growing quickly ever since. This year, the 33-year-old Swede qualified three horses for the Swedish Derby and his choice in the sulky was Cyber Lane (Raja Mirchi), who started from post one behind the gate, and trotted to victory.

The Derby offers two million Swedish crowns for the winner ($250,000), but the system in Sweden makes it possible for owners to double the prize money for horses in some races for the two-, three- and four-year-olds. The case this year was simple. Eleven out of 12 horses had the chance to double the prize money, so when Cyber Lane crossed the finish line as a winner, $500,000 was put on his account and Untersteiner could note that he accomplished something special, both as a driver and trainer.

"To win the Derby as a trainer and driver is the biggest thing that has happened to me in my career, but it's not to compare with that day in Lexington 10 years ago. When I won with Giant Diablo, everything felt so special, like another dimension in a way and I will never experience something like that again," Untersteiner said a few days after the Derby triumph.

Jeannie Karlsson/Sulkysport

In a tight battle, Monark Newman put his nose in front of Global Trustworthy for second. The winning time over the distance 1.6 miles was an approximate mile time of 1:56.2.

Derbystoet for the mares is held over the distance 2,140 meters (approximately two 5/8ths of a mile) and offers one million Swedish crowns for the winner. Same rules regarding the double prize money applies and 10 out of 12 contenders had the chance to win $250,000 dollars.

Petri Puro-trained Cash Crowe (Ready Cash) is perhaps the most capable mare among the four-year-olds in Sweden, but a break in both Stochampionatet in July and in the elimination for Derbystoet made the Sunday race more open.

This time, driver Johnny Takter could save Cash Crowe's power during the race and from the position first over she showed the fans who's the best mare in the crop. The approximate mile time of 1:55.1 is a strong confirmation that Cash Crowe has what it takes to develop to become a star even as an older trotter.

Finnish-born trainer Puro took his second victory in the race (the first with Fame Currit in 2005) and he had an explanation about the mishaps in the two previous races.

"Cash Crowe had some problems with the teeth and she is so much better to drive since we fixed that problem. She's a fantastic horse, which she showed in Derbystoet," Puro said.

Mulligan and Unique Juni took the places behind Cash Crowe.

Charlie Armstrong dead at 96

Legendary breeder and owner H. Charles Armstrong has died at the age of 96.

'Charlie' was inducted to the Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame (CHRRH) in 2015 as a builder, joining his father, Elgin, who was inducted in the inaugural class of the CHRRH in 1976.

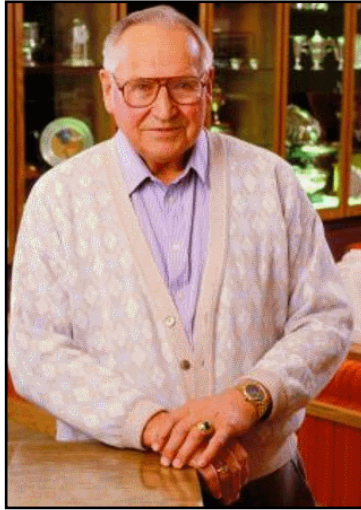

Charlie was a true icon in the Ontario and North American Horse Industry for over 60 years.

Throughout this time, he has represented and participated in multiple disciplines and has been integral in the shaping of Ontario's horse racing industry and horse industry. Armstrong Bros. Farm, the family-owned operation, was founded in the 1940s by Elgin and his brother, Ted, who were construction magnates. After Elgin's death, Charlie kept the Armstrong horse business strong.

Charlie's love affair with horses began when he received his first pony, Playboy, from his uncle Ted in 1930 at the age of 11. The pony had been obtained as payment for a debt and was loaded into the back seat of the family car and taken to Brampton, ON.

Charlie continued building on the success of his father Elgin, who won the 1953 Hambletonian with a young filly named Helicopter, who became the first Canadian-owned horse to win the coveted title. Helicopter's daughter, Armbro Flight, became one of North America's greatest trotting mares and the foundation mare for the Armstrong Farms breeding and racing dynasty. In 1999, Canada Post issued a commemorative stamp with her likeness to celebrate her contributions.

As chairman of Armstrong Holdings Brampton Limited, Charlie oversaw the growth of Armstrong Farms into the second largest standardbred breeding operation in North America. Over 90 per cent of the most prestigious races in North America have had 'Armbro' horses in the winner's circle. Armbro performers have won nearly every classic event in the sport, and has also bred the winners of nearly every classic event, including the Hambletonian (Armbro Goal), the Little Brown Jug (Armbro Omaha, Armbro Operative) and the Adios (Armbro Omaha, Armbro Ranger, Armbro Animate) to name a few. They produced scores of trotting and pacing champions, including Armbro Omaha, Armbro Operative, Armbro Fling, Armbro Feather, Armbro Flight, Armbro Blush, and Armbro Fern. Armstrong Bros. also enjoyed considerable success in the Breeders Crown series, ranking second in the breeding standings and second in the owner standings (through to end of 2003)

The farm was one of the most progressive and profitable standardbred operations and bred, raced and stood at stud a seemingly endless list of champions. Stallions that stood at the Inglewood, ON farm most recently included Island Fantasy, King Conch, Camotion and Dexter Nukes. Other stallions over the years included Jade Prince, Dream Of Glory, Carlsbad Cam, Armbro Emerson, Village Jiffy and Adios Pick, who was sold and went on to become the foundation sire of western Canada.

The family company was dispersed in 2005, but Charlie continued to enjoy international success, as he raised and raced standardbreds with his daughters under Village Acres Farms in Brampton, ON through 2010. They sent out a steady stream of top performers over the years, including Village Jig, Village Connection, Village Jove, Village Blues, Village Jiffy and Village Jericho.

The Canadian Horse Racing Hall of Fame and Standardbred Canada would like to extend their condolences to Charlie's wife, Lenore; daughters, Jennifer, Caroline and Nancy; and Charlie's extended family.

Sintra (Jody Jamieson) winning the Canadian Pacing Derby. The 4-year-old will contest the Jim Ewart Memorial Saturday at Scioto Downs.

Sintra riding high coming into Ewart Memorial

Trainer Dave Menary said he hopes his Canadian Pacing Derby champ can overcome post eight at Scioto Downs on Saturday night.

by Ken Weingartner / Harness Racing Communications

If trainer Dave Menary has any problem with Sintra, it's that there aren't enough days to enjoy the horse.

"He's the kind of horse I wish I could race eight days a week," Menary said. "You don't have too many bad days when you get to take him to the track."

Sintra, fresh off his win in last week's Canadian Pacing Derby, leads a group of 10 horses to Saturday's $225,000 Jim Ewart Memorial for older pacers at central Ohio's Scioto Downs. The 4-year-old gelding will start from post No. 8 with Andy McCarthy sitting in for regular driver Jody Jamieson, who will be racing at Mohawk.

The field, assembled based on career earnings, also includes millionaires McWicked, Check Six, Luck Be Withyou, Boston Red Rocks, and Keystone Velocity. Rounding out the group are Mel Mara, Let's Drink On It, Rockin Ron, and Night Pro.

Introduced in 2013, the race honors the late Jim Ewart, who was the race secretary at Scioto Downs from 1976 through 2002. Ewart, who worked as a race secretary at 18 different tracks in North America, plus Australia and New Zealand, died in 2012.

Last year's edition of the Ewart was won by Always B Miki in a track-record 1:47, which also equaled the world record for pacing on a five-eighths-mile oval.

Sintra, a son of Mach Three out of the mare Dancin Barefoot, has won eight of 13 races this year and earned $487,607. Jamieson has driven Sintra in every start but one this season. Brett Miller guided Sintra to a six-length win in a preliminary round of the Graduate Series at the Meadowlands in May.

"The horse made a great impression on Brett and I loved the result that night," Menary said. "I think he will (make a good impression on McCarthy). I wish Andy wasn't handicapped with a poor starting spot, but hopefully we finish better than where we start."

Menary owns Sintra with Brad Gray and Michael Guerriero. Gray and Denise Guerriero own Pedro Hanover, who McCarthy drove to victory in Monday's Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship for 2-year-old male pacers.

"It's cool," McCarthy said about being asked to drive Sintra. "I got lucky to pick him up. I've watched him race and he's got a heck of a lot of ability. He got a bad spot with the eight hole, but it looks like there's going to be a lot of action. We're just going to have to see how the cards fall and see where we end up."

The 31-year-old McCarthy set career highs last year with 277 wins and $4.51 million in purses. This year, he won the $242,500 Spirit of Massachusetts Stakes with JL Cruze, giving McCarthy the most lucrative open stakes victory of his career so far. He won two Pennsylvania Sire Stakes titles, with 3-year-old female pacer Caviart Ally joining Pedro Hanover, and had two second-place finishes in PASS finals.

"It's been a very good year," said McCarthy, a native of Australia who started driving in the U.S. in 2007. "It feels like it's starting to all fall into place a little bit."

Just as it has for Sintra, who gave an indication of his talent last year when he won eight of 16 starts and earned $229,346. Five of the races he lost were won by Betting Line, who was Canada's Horse of the Year.

"I don't think you can aim stupid crazy with any 4-year-old, but I've always had a lot of confidence in the horse," Menary said. "I think last year he came closer to beating Betting Line than any other 3-year-old did. He was lightly raced and I put him away in good shape. I was super excited about this year and we're living the dream right now."

"He makes us all look good. He knows when it's game time. He's not the flashiest when training, but when he goes to the gate he's ready to play. I have great partners on the horse and we've had a lot of fun. Hopefully he's got lots of good days ahead of him."

The Ewart is race 10, with a 9:30 p.m. estimated post time. The card also includes the $125,000 Jug Preview, race 7, which features multiple-stakes-winner Downbytheseaside in a field of nine. Downbytheseaside, trained by Ohio's Brian Brown, won last week's Messenger Stakes and has earned nearly $1 million this year.

Takter impressed by Swedish mare Pasithea Face

The mare will take on the boys in the first of two Maple Leaf Trot eliminations Saturday at Mohawk.

by Ken Weingartner / Harness Racing Communications

It did not take long for Jimmy Takter to fall in love with Pasithea Face.

"It was the first time I trained her," Takter said about the 5-year-old Swedish-born mare, who arrived in his stable on June 19 and two months later trotted one of the fastest miles in history by a female trotter. "She came here and she looked fantastic and she adapted very easily to my way of training.

"I drove her in her first qualifier and I thought, 'Wow, what a nice filly.' She is a fantastic horse."

Pasithea Face has won two of four races since arriving in North America, including a 1:50.4 triumph in a division of the Miss Versatility Series on Aug. 20 at Tioga Downs. At the time, it was the sixth-fastest winning mile by a trotting mare in history and only three-fifths of a second off Giant Diablo's world record.

On Friday, Pasithea Face will compete in the first of two eliminations of the Maple Leaf Trot at Mohawk Racetrack in Ontario. It will be her first try against male rivals since arriving from Europe, although the 5-2 morning-line favorite in her race is another mare, Hannelore Hanover. She finished second in last year's Maple Leaf Trot.

Pasithea Face is the 7-2 third choice and will have Tim Tetrick in the sulky.

The favorite in the second elimination is defending champion Resolve, who is 9-5 on the morning line. The top-five finishers from each C$40,000 elimination return Sept. 16 for the C$593,000 final.

Pasithea Face, owned by Courant Inc. and trained previously by Lutfi Kolgjini, is a daughter of 2009 Horse of the Year Muscle Hill out of the French mare Jovelinotte. Courant Inc.'s Anders Strom found Pasithea Face as a yearling while looking at several other horses.

"I was in the paddock to see some yearling fillies by Muscle Hill that I was interested in on the recommendation of Thomas Moberg, primarily Princess Face and Pandora Face," Strom said via email. "One more horse caught my eyes and that was Pasithea Face, so I basically told Kolgjini I wanted to buy her in the package as well."

"It was her fantastic conformation and Muscle Hill on a brilliant French maternal line that attracted me most. I already owned her big brother Opitergium (by Pine Chip) at the time, a really strong horse that did well in Group races. I now also own a half-sister, Lovelinotte (by Toss Out), who is a broodmare with Am Bloodstock (our breeding operation). She has already started to produce nice young horses."

Pasithea Face enjoyed a strong career in Europe, winning nine of 31 starts and earning $301,199, but Strom and Kolgjini thought the mare's racing style might be better suited for North America.

"Lutfi and I discussed this at length and decided the mile tracks in the U.S. would be ideal for her, and also that she might be a good mare to breed in Kentucky for the future," said Strom, who can be followed on Twitter at @Courant_AB. "A broodmare that could show 1:50 capacity with some French outcross will obviously yield attractive offspring for the U.S. yearling market in the future."

Pasithea Face finished second in her U.S. debut, but found the winner's circle on her second try, capturing the Dr. John R. Steele Memorial on Hambletonian Day (Aug. 5) at the Meadowlands in 1:51.2. Next was her 1:50.4 victory at Tioga, where a week later she finished fourth in Emoticon Hanover's 1:50.2 mile in the Joie De Vie Stakes.

"She raced well," Takter said. "They went (1):50.2, how are you going to make up ground in that kind of mile? Those (mares) are very good. It was a tough race."

Takter expects the ladies to give the gentlemen a battle in the Maple Leaf Trot.

"I think both Hannelore and Pasithea are competitive with those horses," Takter said. "We'll see; maybe I'm wrong. I'm not going to say (Pasithea Face) is going to go out and win, but I think she will be good."

"She's a sweetheart. Kolgjini did a good job developing her. He always has his horses looking great. A horse like that makes me look good. I don't take much credit. But I'm the babysitter and I make sure she's happy."

Pasithea Face's future will be determined by how she handles the remainder of the campaign.

"We will race her the rest of the season and then listen to the horse. If she is sound, we might do another year of racing," Strom said. "There is even an option to try the big races in France with her if Jimmy Takter thinks she can do it. He should know having had Moni Maker racing the long-distance races in Paris before."

For now, Strom is simply happy to watch Pasithea Face compete in her new environment.

"She seems to enjoy racing the way races are run in the U.S.," Strom said. "Besides that, she goes along well with Tim Tetrick. I do as well. I really enjoy seeing Timmy driving my best horses over there. He is a class act."

Following are the fields in post order for the two Maple Leaf Trot eliminations, with drivers, trainers and morning line.

Dover Dan tops sophomore PASS finals

State championships at Harrah's Philadelphia also went to That's All Moni, Caviart Ally and Boogie Shuffle.

by Michael Bozich and Jerry Connors

Some of the best 3-year-old pacers and trotters on the planet competed in the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Finals on Sunday afternoon (Sept. 3) at Harrah's Philadelphia, each going for a purse of $252,000.

In the male trotting final, John Butenschoen trainee Dover Dan (Tim Tetrick) erupted off cover in the final eighth of a mile to win under confident Tim Tetrick handling in 1:53.3. The son of Andover Hall— CR Kay Suzie sat patiently as stable mate Giveitgasandgo (Corey Callahan) and Muscles Jared (Chris Lems) exchanged leads. Wagering favorite Sortie (Dave Miller) was put into play past the half, and pressed the leader beyond three-quarters. She broke in the stretch. After fractions of :27.2, :56, and 1:24.2, winner Dover Dan reeled in the speed to go on to a decisive three-length win. "I had never driven him before, but I've raced a lot against him and followed him," said Tetrick. "We got him in good position and he was rolling on the far turn – I don't think it mattered much when the last horse (Sortie, the last of three breakers which included the two favorites) broke. He was trotting good and strong, and the time (1:53.3) is a good one."

"We repeated (having won the 2TC last year with Giveitgasandgo), but you can't say this wasn't the right one or that it was an upset," trainer John Butenschoen said. "(Dover Dan) had had a lot of bad luck, with post positions and trips and the like; it went his way today."

Dover Dan is owned by Bill Wiswell, Jean Goehlen, and Eugene Schick.

That's All Moni (Tim Tetrick) winning the PASS final for three-year-old trotting fillies.

3YOFT - That's All Moni

The female trotting division was also won by driver Tim Tetrick, this time behind Jimmy Takter trainee That's All Moni. The daughter of Cantab Hall—Mom's Millionaire worked out a perfect second-over trip behind race favorite Fine Tuned Lady (Corey Callahan) to score in 1:53.3, just one-fifth of a second off the track record. Cool Cates finished second, while Fine Tuned Lady was third. "She was good early, then she was sick and had a subpar race," Takter said. "On Hambletonian Oaks elimination week, she had a temperature of 104 (she was scratched), and it took almost a week to get her back to normal. After the sickness, she needed the race last time, and today she showed that she was a good filly." That's All Moni is owned by Brittany Farms, Marvin Katz, and Al Libfeld.

3YOFP - Caviart Ally

It was upset time in the female pacing finals, as Caviart Ally (Andy McCarthy) was unrelenting on the front end en-route to a 3-length victory in 1:50.2, just one-fifth of a second off of a track record. The big favorite Agent Q (Dave Miller) settled into a hole early, but came up empty as she edged to the outside with 5/8ths to go. "She's been good for the last few months now," said driver Andy McCarthy. "She's been a little bit under the radar. But she was very strong today. It was first-time Lasix for her, as well. The challengers came, but she still stayed strong." It was McCarthy's first PASS win.

3YOCP - Boogie Shuffle

Another upset ensued in the male pacing finals as Boogie Shuffle (Scott Zeron) used the pocket-trip to win in a track record (3-year-old geldings) 1:48.2 performance. The time also equaled the fastest mile ever in PASS competition set by Wakizashi Hanover in 2015. The gelded son of Well Said—Ciela Hanover drafted behind the deliberate speed of Filibuster Hanover (Matt Kakaley) before taking aim at the 1/8th poll, finishing 1/2 of a length better.

"He was a good 2YO, and he came back well early at three, but then he started to go bad miles – in the Hempt Final, I was getting a good trip, and then all of a sudden he was close to the judges list (for time)", said driver Scott Zeron. "When he had a few more races, (trainer) Mark (Harder) didn't know what to do. He got his vet to do a deep stomach scan, and they found he had deep ulcers in his stomach. Normally with ulcers a horse is sluggish and doesn't eat, but this horse was acting fine. He just didn't have any lick at the end of his miles with his problem. After they treated him, he's come back strong – and it's a good time, with the Jug coming up."

Earlier in the day, probable race favorite Fear The Dragon scratched sick, opening the door for chief rival Huntsville to take the lions share. After tucking, Huntsville attempted to grind first-over, but labored the final quarter of a mile to finish a well-beaten third. Boogie Shuffle is owned by Fox Hollow Farms.

There were also four consolation races, each going for a purse of $50,000.

Q's Cruise was sent away from the gate strongly, reached the lead before the :26.2 opening pole, then put up middle splits of :55.4 and 1:23.2 en route to a 1 3/4-length victory over Candell in 1:51 in the $50,000 PASS consolation for three-year-old colt pacers. The Yankee Cruiser—Modern Hanover gelding was not quite ready for the big cats in the early sires events, but a third in the last sires prelim two weeks ago showed him to be a force to be reckoned with as he won here for driver Tim Tetrick and trainer/owner Jim King Jr. (the same driver/trainer team who had won this same division in the Stallion Series Championships yesterday at The Meadows with Donttellmeagain).

consolation in the PASS, then held off a late cavalry charge to by a half-length in a new mark of 1:55.1. Hot Mess Hanover came from last to be second, photoing out another late charger, Crann Tara. The victorious Cantab Hall filly now has two-thirds of her lifetime victories in her last two outings for trainer/driver Ake Svanstedt, whose Ake Svanstedt Inc. is co-owner with Little E LLC and Mal&Janet Burroughs.

The Bettor's Delight—Fresh Idea filly Bettor's Up quarter-moved from third, then sprinted home in :55 to finish off a 1:52.1 victory in the three-year-old pacing fillies PASS competition, three lengths to the good of Way Bettor. Winless since taking the Fan Hanover final at Mohawk in mid-June, Bettor's Up recaptured her winning ways here while raising her bankroll to $467,966 for driver Brett Miller, trainer Scott McEneny, and owners Bradley Grant, Teresa Davidson, and Michelle McEneny.

Shake It Off Lindy yielded to favored Two AM off the first turn and enjoyed the pocket trip behind him, then moved to the inside under driver Scott Zeron's direction and ran down the leader in a :56.1 back half to win the sophomore colt trot PASS consolation event in 1:54.1. The victorious son of Crazyed—Nashville Lindy took a new mark with the 3/4-length victory and raised his bankroll to $151,542 for trainer Frank M. Antonacci and K R Breeding LLC, whose colt has now won two in a row.

Freshmen put on a show in PASS finals at Pocono

State championships at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono went to Rainbow Room, Manchego, Pedro Hanover and Fashionwoodchooper.

by Jerry Connors for PHHA / Pocono

Three front-end favorites joined with a $78.20 closer to take the four Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Championships on a Labor Day Monday twilight card at The Downs at Mohegan Sun Pocono. Here are recaps of each Championship and their divisional consolation event:

2YOFP – Rainbow Room

Pacesetting Rainbow Room had archrival Come See The Show look her right in the eye nearing the $\frac{3}{4}$ pole of her \$252,000 Championship, and the outside horse of the two brilliantly-bred fillies even got a short brief lead, but Rainbow Room shook off her uncovered opponent and went on to a $1\frac{1}{2}$ length victory over pocket-sitting Scuola Hanover, with Come See The Show falling back in the stretch.

David Miller hustled the Somebeachsomewhere—Rainbow Blue daughter of Horses of the Year to the lead early, with Come See The Show tucking fourth. The latter filly moved uncovered past the $\frac{3}{8}$ to challenge, and down the backstretch the, well, “Show” was on until late on the far turn, where Rainbow Room asserted herself. Asked if he thought his filly would have enough to hold off the bold challenger, Miller in response paused just a second (which you will do with a \$550,000 yearling putting you under the gun), then said, “I knew I still had a lot of horse,” and he was proven correct.

The winner is now five for six lifetime, including three PA Sire Stake legs and now the Championship, putting her earnings at $211,199 for trainer Joe Holloway and owners Crawford Farms Racing, Val D’Or Farms, and Ted Gewertz.

Alexa’s Power, a royally-bred daughter of Somebeachsomewhere out of the millionaire mare Michelle’s Power, looks like she could be a major factor in the later stakes action after lowering her mark to 1:53.4 in winning her $50,000 consolation for driver Scott Zeron, trainer Jim Campbell, and owner/breeder Jeffrey Snyder. Alexa’s Power started to bloom a bit late for the PaSS, as her two photo losses were not enough to get her into the Championship, but she now sports a lifetime record of 5-3-2-0 and gives every indication that she is coming into her prime now.

2YOFT – Manchego

“My main job was just to stay in the sulky behind her.”

So (modestly) said driver Yannick Gingras after guiding the undefeated Muscle Hill—Secret Magic filly Manchego to her sixth straight victory, a win in her $252,000 Sire Stakes Championship that stopped the clock in 1:54.2, tying the stake record of Wild Honey, and lowering her own season’s record (set at Pocono) by two-fifths of a second.

Gingras did not rush Manchego away, settling in third early, then moved her in front of the stands and went up to the lead easily despite some stretch headwind. The filly appeared to draw off at will the last $\frac{3}{8}$, stepping home in :56.1 despite not having raced since her win in the Doherty Final 30 days before. Her margin at the wire was $4\frac{1}{4}$ lengths over Hey Blondie, who gapped second-over then found a higher gear late and was along by $\frac{3}{4}$ length for second over Tiffany’s Flash, first to the lead and saving ground thereafter.

Manchego now has a bankroll of $335,898 after only a half-dozen starts for trainer Jimmy Takter and the ownership of Black Horse Racing, John Fielding and Herb Liverman. And that earnings pile only figures to grow larger, with the many season’s-end stakes looming just ahead.

Since we gave Gingras the first word, we’ll let him have the last one – a scary one for her competition:

“She had two more gears left in her.”

The Donato Hanover—Streak filly Follow Streak overcame

a first-over journey to break her maiden in the $50,000 consolation, crossing the wire in 1:56.3 for driver Andy Miller, trainer Julie Miller, and the ownership of the Millers' Andy Miller Stable Inc. and Lawrence Dumain. Four horses were involved in a duel the last half of the stretch, but Follow Streak proved most photogenic by a nose over Megadolce – who was a nose ahead of third-place favorite Bill's Lady, who was a nose ahead of fourth-place Air Quotes Hanover.

2YOCP – Pedro Hanover

Pedro Hanover, who had developed a reputation as a big closer in his five pari-mutuel starts, switched tactics in his $252,000 Championship, partially necessitated by his drawing post seven, grinded to the lead at the 3/8, opened up a bit on a turn, then was put under a drive to withstand a charging late group to win his final in 1:51, equaling his personal best.

Driver Andrew McCarthy, who had broken his "PA Sire Stakes maiden" just the previous day with sophomore Caviart Ally, quickly graduated from "nw2" standings – but he knew he wasn't likely to do it from his outer starting berth. "You can't get away seventh in this field," he said afterward. So he guided Pedro Hanover to gradually advance on the first turn, "and then, when the speed had slowed a little, I went for the top," following that :26.2 opener with grabbing the lead 3/8 and going middle fractions of :55 and 1:22.4. The son of Somebeachsomewhere—Paula's Best opened up a bit turning into the stretch, but McCarthy kept the horse to urging, withstanding the closer Hayden Hanover by a length; Wes Hanover parlayed an inside trip to a third, just a neck behind Hayden Hanover.

Andrew Harris, who has had charge of the horse for two months after he got his early lessons in Canada, is the trainer of Pedro Hanover, who now sports two PA Sire Stakes prelim wins and a championship, a win in a division of the Nassagaweya, and earnings of $229,404 for owners Brad Gray and Denise Guerriero.

Curtis Salonick

Fashionwoodchopper (David Miller) winning the PASS championship for rookie trotting colts.

In this group's $50,000 consolation, Closing Statement made a big brush into a stretch headwind to control the pace before the half, opened a large lead down the back, and stayed clear through the lane in taking a new speed badge of 1:51.4. The son of Somebeachsomewhere—Ideal Newton, a winner early in the Sires prelims but unable to follow up on that success, was victorious in this consolation for driver David Miller, trainer Joe Holloway, and the ownership of Val D'Or Farms, Rojan Stables, and Ted Gewertz.

2YOCT – Fashionwoodchopper

This is "prime time" for Jules Siegel.

The squire of Fashion Farms LLC is on the ballot for election to the Hall of Fame, with results to be announced within the month, and he is the owner of $78.20 PA Sire Stakes freshman trotting colt champ Fashionwoodchopper – and still feels the thrill of victory like a first-time owner, excited as a teenager in the winner's circle.

David Miller, driving his second PA Sire Stakes champion of the night, got away "disadvantageously" in seventh with the son of Muscle Hill—Impressive Kemp, "but it just worked out for us," Miller said afterwards, as "we were able to go up second-over" behind Toast Of Lindy as that one speed-grinded uncovered to challenge the pacesetter Scirocco Rob, getting closer and closer from the 5/8 onwards.

Fashionwoodchopper swung three-wide headstretch, but looked like he was going to lose his momentum as he lugged in a little early in the lane. But trainer Jim Campbell knew enough about his colt to equip him with a sliding gaiting pole to get him back straight, Miller used it, and after that the driver never had to lift a line as the colt won in 1:57.1 by a length over the unlucky Lawmaker, who had the lead, yielded it to Scirocco Rob, and then was shuffled some as the pacesetter tired; Lawmaker won the photo for second over Toast Of Lindy, who put in an excellent grinding effort.

Fashionwoodchopper had not raced since Aug. 12 – but that was a Sire Stakes victory. Campbell had him ready, Miller gave him a great trip – and Siegel was the happiest man in Wilkes-Barre PA in his walk to the winner's circle.

Met's Hall sat a pocket trip behind his "Orange Crush" stablemate Max's Beast, then pulled out early stretch, went right on by, and won coasting in 1:56.1 in his $50,000 trotting colt consolation. The Cantab Hall–Met's Inn colt is now three-for-five careerwise, including a win in his only Sire Stakes start (he chose to take "the Houghton route," then had a small vacation before this start), and he gave the Andy Miller Stable Inc. a consolation double, this winner in partnership with the increasingly-famous Stroy Inc. of New Jersey and Moscow.

Strong handle at World Driving Championship

Bettors made history, as wagering totals on the 2017 World Driving Championship (WDC), presented by Standardbred Canada, far exceeded expectations and broke a number of longstanding betting records.

In total, $2,769,194 was bet over the five full WDC racing cards held at Century Downs, Mohawk Racetrack, Georgian Downs, Hippodrome 3R and Red Shores Casino at Charlottetown Driving Park, between Aug. 12 and 18.

Breaking down the total, $1,988,355 was bet on the full cards throughout North America, plus $515,926 wagered in Australia, and $264,913 in New Zealand.

"We set out to use the WDC to get Canada's tracks out into the international market and our many great partners, including the tracks, Woodbine Entertainment, Trackmaster, and a number of global contacts, helped make that happen," said Darryl Kaplan, Standardbred Canada's manager of Industry Communications. "Four of the five tracks hosting WDC races had never been simulcast outside of North America, so it was a very important goal for us.

"What we found was a significant appetite for the Canadian product, and as a result, wagering figures were well above expectation," said Kaplan. "We were originally told that Sky Racing 1 in Australia would not simulcast any harness racing on Saturday mornings (local time), but they made a rare exception, and more than $200,000 was bet in Australia and New Zealand on the final WDC leg from Charlottetown, alone.

"At the World Trotting Conference, this success was hailed as a very clear indication that when countries work together, and produce products that appeal to an international market, the opportunities are limitless, even for our smaller tracks. This was something that all of us can build upon," said Kaplan.

The following is the leg by leg breakdown of WDC wagering:

In leg one, at Century Downs, $200,553 was wagered globally on the 10-race program. It was the highest handle ever recorded at Century Downs on a single card of racing. The previous highest handle generated on racing at Century Downs was $144,854 on July 1, 2016.

Of that total, $105,868 was wagered throughout North America, representing a 47 per cent increase over the week previous. When you add in the $56,164 bet in Australia and the $38,521 in New Zealand for the five races they carried, the total handle nearly doubled.

Leg two at Mohawk saw a total wagering tally of $1,725,252. The North American portion of the handle was $1,504,849, representing a 21 per cent increase over the handle the previous Monday night. It also marked the highest weekday handle (Monday to Thursday) at Mohawk during the month of August. In Australia, $159,540 was bet on the Mohawk card, while New Zealand handled $60,863 over the six races taken in that country.

Leg three moved to Georgian Downs where total handle was $289,167. The amount bet throughout North America was $134,381, which was a 69 per cent increase over the total Georgian Downs handle from the previous week. The additional betting from Australia ($110,137) and New Zealand ($44,649 for five races) represented total international wagering of $154,786, which actually exceeded the North American handle, on its own.

The program was the highest Georgian Downs single card handle since Xtreme Horsepower, on Aug. 9, 2008, when $313,457 was bet.

The fourth WDC leg took place at Hippodrome 3R, where a shortened eight-race program saw a total handle of $163,188. That figure included $69,693 from Australia (six races), and $35,611 from New Zealand (four races). Overall, the eight-race card had a per race handle of $20,399. That was the highest average per race handle at Hippodrome 3R since December 28, 1999.

The fifth and final leg at Red Shores Casino at Charlottetown Driving Park, in Prince Edward Island, saw a massive total handle of $391,031. That represented a record for most money wagered in the history of Atlantic Canada on a single card of racing.

The card, which took place the Friday night before the Gold Cup & Saucer, saw a North American handle alone of $185,373, which was the highest ever for a non-Gold Cup & Saucer night. It was also a 115 per cent increase over the same evening card held the previous year.

With $205,661 bet internationally ($120,392 from Australia and $85,269 from New Zealand), the handle easily broke all records.

In Australia and New Zealand, World Driving Championship wagering was done into separate betting pools and via fixed odds wagering. To facilitate familiarity in the product overseas, Sky Racing's Greg Hayes was part of the broadcast team for all five legs.

Illini Classic up 106 per cent

The 2017 Illini Classic Yearling Sale, held on Labor Day (Sept. 4) at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield, saw the average sale price increase by 106 per cent compared to 2016. This year's average price was $9,087 compared to $4,402 a year ago.

Several factors drove buyer enthusiasm to the highest level in recent years. Both state and county fair purses were enhanced by monies made available from the recent passage of the State of Illinois budget, Hawthorne Race Course's commitment to harness racing with a signed contract for 2018 and a request for winter dates, and the participation of several new, prominent buyers including Anthony MacDonald's The Stable Canada. Supply was also limited with only 232 Illinois conceived and foaled yearlings possibly available.

The top-selling yearling, Hip32, Fox Valley Jazzman, sold for $47,000. A Pizzazzed—Yankee Victory OM full brother to current Illinois 2-year-old leading trotter Vic's Pizza 2,1:57.2 ($53,455) was purchased by agent Mike Brink from Fox Valley Standardbreds.

The second-highest seller, at $32,000, also from Dr. Ken and Pat Walker's Fox Valley Standardbreds as agent for Phillips and Leinberger, was Hip 85A, Holden Steady. The Yankee Skyscraper—Im All A Roan half brother to 5-year-old pacer Rockin Ron p,1:47.2s ($871,857), who finished second in the Canadian Pacing Derby on Sept. 2, was purchased by Anthony MacDonald for his The Stable Canada.

The top-selling filly for $25,000 was Hip 48, Cassi Lane, a Cassis—Celebrity Charter half-sister to Delaware Standardbred Race Fund champion No More Games. The filly was purchased by prominent Illinois owners Jim Baffia and Bill Wright from the Fair Meadow Farm consignment.

Meadowlands introduces Pick 10 Survivor wager

The Meadowlands Racetrack is pleased to introduce the Pick 10 Survivor wager. This first-of-its-kind wager will debut when the New Jersey harness track opens its Fall/Winter Meet on Saturday, Nov. 4.

The Pick 10 Survivor requires the selection of the winner in the first 10 races on the program. The unique twist in the wager is ticket holders that correctly select the winner of Race 1 will advance to Race 2 while those tickets that fail to pick the Race 1 winner will be eliminated. Then, all live tickets after Race 2 will advance to Race 3 while those that failed to pick the Race 2 winner will be eliminated. This continues until there is only one correct ticket ("The Survivor") or all 10 races have been completed.

The lone surviving ticket will win the entire pool minus the wager's 15-per cent takeout. If there are multiple tickets that survive through all 10 legs or are the last surviving tickets eliminated at the same time, they will split the net pool. The wager will carry a 20-cent minimum and begin each night on the first race. There is no carryover associated with the wager. The Meadowlands is partnering with the USTA's Strategic Wagering Program to guarantee the wagering pool at $10,000.

"We think it is imperative for our industry to innovate and create new ways to wager on our product for our core customers," said Jason Settlemoir, Meadowlands GM/COO. "We believe the horseplayers will love the fact that the winner takes down the entire pool each night. The Pick 10 Survivor is the result of lots of hard work and dedication from both our staff at the Meadowlands and our partners at Sportech and I would like to thank everyone who has helped get us to this position."

The Survivor Wager was first presented to Meadowlands chairman Jeff Gural by longtime horseplayer Eric Cherry. It took more than three years of development and testing in partnership with Sportech to finalize the wager. Once this piece of the puzzle was completed, it was sent to the New Jersey Racing Commission for approval.

Michele Fischer, Sportech's Vice President Sales and Business Development for the Americas, said, "As the tote technology provider for The Meadowlands, Sportech is pleased to help bring the new exotic Pick 10 Survivor wager to New Jersey. The Pick 10 Survivor demonstrates that both The Meadowlands and Sportech are player-centric and seek to maximize player satisfaction by catering to the demand for engaging and rewarding bets."

The Meadowlands will be the only track in North America that will offer this wager. It is scheduled to be available for horseplayers on all Advance Deposit Wagering platforms and brick-and-mortar racetrack and simulcast facilities.

Advance Jug wagering now open

Wagering on the first of two Little Brown Jug future wagering pools started Thursday and continues through 11 p.m. Sunday (Sept. 10) at racetracks and Internet sites throughout North America and Europe.

Downbytheseaside has been installed at the 3-1 morning line favorite. The bay son of Somebeachsomewhere—Sprig Hanover has won eight starts this season and has banked more than $1.5 million lifetime. Downbytheseaside is owned by Country Club Acres, Joe Sbrocco, Richard Lombardo and Diamond Creek Racing.

Downbytheseaside won the $500,000 Messenger Stake, the $300,000 Art Rooney Pace Final and the $300,000 Carl Milstein Memorial. The colt is undefeated (six-for-six) in races on a half-mile track and he established a two-year-old world record last year at Delaware in the Standardbred.

The 7-2 second choice is the stablemate, Fear The Dragon. The Dragon Again – Armbro Cinnamon colt has won $1,263,201 for Bruce Trogon's Emerald Highlands Farm. Fear The Dragon has won the $730,000 North America Cup Final, $500,000 Max Hempt Memorial Final and the $400,000 Adios Final. He was scratched 'sick' from his last scheduled start, the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes Final.

Both Downbytheseaside and Fear The Dragon are trained by Delaware, OH-based conditioner Brian Brown.

A team of harness racing analysts and handicappers have selected a group of 14 colts and geldings. The horses in each of the pools are listed in alphabetical order. The mutuel field consists of the remaining horses eligible to the 72nd edition of the pacing classic.

The minimum future wager is $1 and all future wagers are win wagering only. The winner of each pool will be determined by the official first-place finisher in the 2017 Little Brown Jug presented by the Ohio Harness Horseman's Association to be raced Thursday afternoon, Sept. 21.

The record payout for the LBJ Future Wager is P Forty Seven (2005 – Pool #1) at $377.80.

The second future pool will be from Sunday, Sept. 17 through Wednesday, Sept. 20.

Past performance lines for the Little Brown Jug Future Wagering event will be available free of charge on the Little Brown Jug website, www.littlebrownjug.com.

New Vocations Jug auction

The annual charity auction to benefit New Vocations Racehorse Adoption Program and the Delaware County Fair will be held Wednesday Sept. 20 in conjunction with the Pre-Jug Party immediately following the Jugette. Over 100 items and services will be offered in a silent auction via mobile bidding followed by a live auction of 10 premier items at 7:30 p.m. For the first time, people will be able to view the items in advance and bid remotely from their mobile devices. To see the items and register to bid, visit: www.weddoauctions.net/prejugparty. New items will be added daily up to the event.

Featured offerings include a South African Photo Safari, Antigua Vacation, Louisiana Swamp Adventure, John Deere Lawn Tractor, Spyder race bike of choice, Barbie & Ken (real live Miniature paint filly and colt) and a set of New Nitro wheels. These items along with harnesses, jewelry, tickets to sporting events, home accessories, professional services and autographed colors donated by David Miller and Corey Callahan are all up for grabs at this exciting fundraising event.

Come to the party or just support these two great organizations! Table sponsors and item donations are still being sought. All major contributors receive invitations. FMI contact Dot Morgan (937) 947-4020 dot@horseadoption.com or Winnie Morgan Nemeth (734) 320-7918 winnie@horseadoption.com.

New Vocations is the largest racehorse adoption program in the country. It was founded in 1992 to offer retiring standardbreds and thoroughbreds a safe-haven, rehabilitation, and vocational training prior to placement in carefully screened and monitored homes. New Vocations accepts horses from racetracks and farms throughout the eastern United States at locations in Ohio, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and New York. Horses are equipped with new skills and placed with experienced, caring individuals where "once again, each can be a star." Over 6,500 retired racehorses have found new homes and careers through the efforts of New Vocations.

The Delaware County Agricultural Society has run its annual fair since 1834. The organization promotes agriculture through the operation of the fairgrounds and the many events held there throughout the year. The Delaware County Agricultural Society is celebrating its 72nd year conducting the greatest pacing race in the sport, The Little Brown Jug. The Fairgrounds is home to a thriving community of harness horses and maintains one of the fastest racetracks in the world. The Delaware County Agricultural Society promotes harness racing and its lore to thousands of fans and strives to maintain the history while promoting the future of our sport.

USTA does not support Horse Racing Integrity Act

Editor's Note: Following is a statement from the U.S. Trotting Association expressing its opposition to the Horse Racing Integrity Act of 2017

While the United States Trotting Association (USTA) strongly supports breed-specific, uniform medication rules for horse racing, the USTA, which has had no input into the preparation of the bill, opposes the Horse Racing Integrity Act of 2017 (H.R.2651) for a number of reasons.

Two of the primary objections to the proposed legislation are the elimination of race-day medications, specifically furosemide (Lasix), and the lack of separate, uniform regulations governing the use of therapeutic medications for the different breeds.

In March 2012, the USTA announced its official position on furosemide stating, "The U.S. Trotting Association believes that the most humane way to address this problem (Exercised-Induced Pulmonary Hemorrhage) is through the continued approval of the race-day administration of furosemide under controlled conditions and by a licensed veterinarian."

"After a year of considering all the issues concerning the race-day administration of furosemide, commonly known as Salix or Lasix, the U.S. Trotting Association believes the determining factor should be the welfare of the horse," said then USTA President Phil Langley in making the announcement at that time.

The American Association of Equine Practitioners also endorses the use of race-day Lasix "based on the overwhelming body of international scientific and clinical evidence."

The USTA has long been an advocate for separate rules for the different breeds in the use of therapeutic medications.

"As the Association of Racing Commissioners International has recently agreed and the USTA has advocated all along, the differences in the racing breeds and their business models, particularly the frequency that the horses race, requires there to be separate rules for each breed in the use of therapeutic medications," said USTA President Russell Williams. "A 'one-size-fits-all' approach, which is what H.R.2651 appears to advocate, isn't right, isn't fair, doesn't promote equine health, and won't work."

Further, the USTA has concerns about the makeup of the proposed federal board of the Horseracing Anti-Doping and Medication Control Authority (HAMCA) created by the legislation.

"The proposed board members will have no experience with or understanding of the horse racing industry or the welfare of the horses," said Williams. "It seeks to replace the current state regulatory system where uniformity largely exists and is made up of regulators with extensive experience and knowledge of horse racing."

"Also, it is a significant concern to the USTA that this legislation would designate the Federal Trade Commission as the ultimate regulatory authority, bypassing agencies like the Department of Agriculture and the Food and Drug Administration that have experience with animal welfare issues."

In addition, the proposed legislation would create a regulatory commission that could mandate significant additional expenses to the horse racing industry.

"There is no stipulation for federal funding in the legislation as there is for the United States Anti-Doping Agency in its testing of human athletes, which would give HAMCA a blank check to impose new costs to racetracks and horsemen with minimal oversight or accountability," added Williams.

The USTA joins the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association and Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (the two major, national organizations representing Thoroughbred owners, breeders and trainers); Harness Horsemen International (the international organization that represents Standardbred owners, breeders and trainers in the U.S. and Canada); Association of Racing Commissioners International (the national organization representing independent state racing commissions); the American Association of Equine Practitioners and North American Association of Racetrack Veterinarians (the two principal organizations representing the equine veterinary community); and the American Quarter Horse Association as well as numerous other racing and breeding organizations in opposing the proposed Horse Racing Integrity Act of 2017 (H.R. 2651).
