Piecing together how the Yonkers International may play out

Handicapping the $1 million race can be tricky given its mile-and-a-quarter distance and bevy of foreign horses.

by Brett Sturman

BETWEEN THE LINES
with BRETT STURMAN

A fascinating field of 10 has once again been assembled for Saturday's (Sept. 9) $1 million Yonkers International Trot. This year will mark the seventh edition of the race since returning in 2015 – the 2020 and 2021 editions were cancelled due to the pandemic – and results in those races have been reflective of the uniqueness of the event.

With 10 horses going a mile-and-a-quarter distance over a half-mile sized track, there is a large element of unpredictability. Last year's race was won by a 20-1 longshot, Cokstile. Three editions ago, Cruzada Dela Noche won at odds of 30-1. In 2015, Papagayo won at just a shade under 10-1. On the other hand, strongly-backed Italian imports Zacon Gio in 2019 and Twister Bi in 2017 dominated in the race as the odds predicted they would.

Before diving into it to see how this year's race may play out, a word to the wise on the charted program lines for International past performances.

At extended distances beyond a mile, the charted lines don't necessarily reflect how a race was run. The traditional charted call points for a mile aren't applicable in longer distance races. For example, if you looked at the charted line for Etonnant in his most recent race at one and 13/16th miles, you'd think he had something resembling a pocket trip for most of his race. That wasn't his trip, whatsoever. The only way to really tell the trips these horses actually went is to watch the race replays. Fortunately, I've already taken the liberty of doing just that, and going from the inside post position outwards, here are my observations.

VIVID WISE AS, 4-1, ITALY

The career accolades of the 9-year-old Yankee Glide gelding are well documented. Showing programmed earnings of over $3 million lifetime, he's won close to 20 Group 1 races throughout Europe. More recently from this year, he was a game third after going a difficult trip in his Elitloppet elimination, followed by a sixth-place finish later that same day in the Elitloppet final when he rallied from far back. He came back a month later at the end of June to win at Corsa where he showed speed and demonstrated staying power to lead nearly every step at the extended mile and 5/16th distance. He comes into this race off a second-place finish in the $300,000 Group One Hugo Aberg's Memorial at Jagersro, a race that contained a couple of key horses, Hail Mary and Hierro Boko. In a steer similar to the Elitloppet final, Vivid Wise peeled off widest of all into the stretch, closing with his usual rush to secure the runner up spot. He's been remarkably consistent and will strongly warrant consideration as one of the top contenders, if not the favorite when all is said and done.

ETONNANT, 3-1, FRANCE

The 2022 Elitloppet champion was the 8-5 favorite coming out of post 7 in this race last year, and broke stride during that event amidst some confusion and debatable interference. Like Vivid Wise, he also raced in this year's Elitloppet winning his elimination while parked first over (it's far more common to overcome that trip in Europe as it is here, though it doesn't take away from how impressive the performance was). In that final, he was towed up second-over to a few lengths away turning for home when he angled off cover and promptly broke. It's hard to say what he would have done from that point had he stayed trotting. He followed up that event a few weeks later with back-to-back wins, one of those coming in the Group 2 Prix De Washington in which he responded well to pressure in both cases. I don't know if I'd consider just one race a cause for concern, but he does come off a fourth-place finish in the Prix Jean-Luc Lagardere, a race in which he was the long odds-on favorite at about 50 cents on the dollar, provided my decimal to fractional odds conversion is correct. In that race, he was put on the front around the midpoint of the race, looked like he was in trouble around the final turn when he had the race taken to him, and tired late to fourth. From an inside post this time around, he lands a fighting chance at International Trot redemption.

IT'S ACADEMIC, 7-2, US

What a run he's been having this year and he'll be much more supported this time around than he was in this race last year when he was 31-1 from post 8. He hasn't missed the board in any of his 11 starts this year and delivered another strong showing last out when he was able to fend off everyone except for the monstrous Alrajah One in the Maple Leaf Trot. He's proved versatile enough to race however he's needed to, so that'll give driver Dave Miller plenty of options depending on how the race unfolds.

FASHION FRENZIE, 20-1, CANADA

Following his win two back in the Earl Rowe Memorial Trot, Fashion Frenzie was named as Canada's entrant to the International Trot. The two-time O'Brien winner with 22 wins from 35 starts comes off a fifth-placed-fourth finish in the Maple Leaf Trot in which he faded a bit late from the pocket in a race where he was fairly well supported down to 7-1 odds. He brings down driver Louis Roy with him and the Richard Moreau trainee will be listed under the care of trainer Nancy Takter.

HIERRO BOKO S, 8-1, FINLAND

The 9-year-old Swedish gelding garnered headlines earlier this year when he became Europe's second fastest trotter ever with a 1:49.4 (or 1:50 depending on the source) win in the St. Michels in Finland. Not to take anything away from him, but he came off a trip where he sat off a battling pace, moved sweetly into contention and swept by when asked. In his next race, the Hugo Aberg's Memorial as referenced earlier with Vivid Wise As, he tracked cover third-over after being caught wide early, closed mildly but was outkicked by Vivid As. In his most recent race, he was well positioned close in the cover flow but gradually gave way to the back. It's tough to know what to expect but he belongs and could figure depending on how the race sets up for him.

GET A WISH DK, 15-1, DENMARK

Certainly accomplished over the past couple years of his career, Denmark's entrant is still in process of getting things back on track to his best form this year as a 5-year-old. Though, he's been well supported at times against top competition, he broke stride in consecutive starts almost in the exact same manner the moment each race began back in June and July, most recently in the Ulf Thoresen Grand International. He does enter off a confidence-building win in his native land and driver Bo Westergaard won here as a driver at first asking this past Tuesday.

ALDEBARAN ZEUS A, 15-1, AUSTRALIA

He's another where recent form is hard to gauge, but is highly capable when at his best. His signature win this year came back in March in the Group 1 Hammerhead at Menangle in Australia where he bested rival Just Believe. He does have a qualifying start here in the US under the eye of Nifty Norman, which came Aug. 29 when he was second to Pappardelle, who in turn is in-to-go Sunday in a Harrah's Philly open.

BENGURION JET IT, 15-1, ITALY

He won the Sweden Cup final in exhilarating fashion earlier this year in May at Solvalla, the day before the Elitloppet. The 6-year-old was also part of that record mile in July won by Hierro Boko, where he ran third, beaten about five lengths by the top pair. Most recently, from the Aby Stora, he finished second at odds of 15-1. In that race, he stayed along the inside throughout, moved up, went deep inside the passing lane and rallied there well to come on for second. Perhaps hoping for a similar journey in the International?

JIGGY JOG S, 8-1, SWEDEN

Though racing technically for Sweden, as that's where she was born, all of her career accolades have come while racing here in the US. The only mare in the field, she looked like an absolute machine in her first four starts this year before coming up just short to M-M's Dream in each of her last two. Ake Svanstedt has already won this race as a trainer with Resolve and who better than Dexter Dunn to navigate her throughout what could be a challenging trip. My pick.

VENERATE, 12-1, US

Maybe a tougher call here as he's just one-for-four to start off the year, but he's obviously a top-class horse and driver Brian Sears worked magic in this race a few years ago. This one broke when beaten last out in the Maple Leaf Trot coming after a first over push, but on the other hand he just missed by a nose to It's Academic in the Cashman on Hambletonian Day.

Picks: Jiggy Jog S, Vivid Wise As, It's Academic

Alford returns to America to drive Aldebaran Zeus in International Trot

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Seven years ago, Chris Alford had the opportunity to participate in several races during Little Brown Jug Week at the Delaware County Fairgrounds while in the US on holiday.

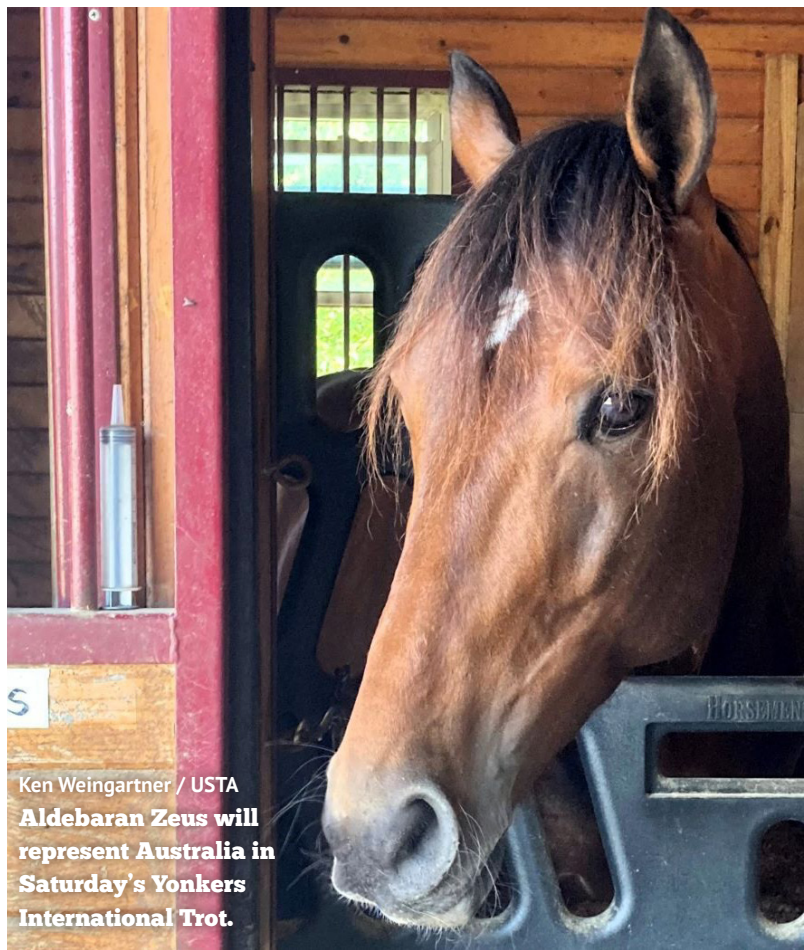

The renowned Australian driver's return to the States this week is all business.

Alford, who is approaching 8,000 lifetime victories and is the winningest driver in Australian history, will get in the sulky behind Aussie-bred Aldebaran Zeus in Saturday's (Sept. 9) $1 million MGM Yonkers International Trot at MGM Yonkers Raceway. Aldebaran Zeus drew post 7 in the 10-horse field that will go the distance of 1-1/4 miles.

"It's probably a little bit tricky," Alford said about the 6-year-old stallion's starting spot. "I'll have to take a look at the form of all the other horses to know their gate speed and all that. Once I get into all that, I'll know a bit more.

"But (Aldebaran Zeus) is pretty versatile and can get off the gate pretty well. He's raced on a half-mile track back in Victoria. He's handy. The track won't be a problem, I don't think."

France's Etonnant, who made a break in last year's International Trot and finished eighth, drew post 2 for Saturday's race and is the 3-1 morning-line favorite. Anthony Barrier will drive the 9-year-old stallion for trainer Richard Westerink.

Ken Weingartner / USTA
Aldebaran Zeus will represent Australia in Saturday's Yonkers International Trot.

It's Academic, who with Venerate will represent the U.S., will start from post 3 with David Miller in the sulky for trainer Ron Burke. It's Academic finished third from post eight in last year's International Trot and is the 7-2 second choice on the morning line this year.

Italy's Vivid Wise As, a 9-year-old stallion who has earned more than $3 million in U.S. dollars lifetime, will leave from post 1 and is 4-1 for driver Matthieu Abrivard and trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro.

Alford arrived in the U.S. earlier this week to prepare Aldebaran Zeus for the International Trot with trainer Brent Lilley. Aldebaran Zeus is a multiple Group 1 winner Down Under with 18 lifetime victories in 48 races. He has hit the board an additional 16 times and earned $298,503 in U.S. dollars.

"He's got real good speed, which is the main thing, I think," Alford said about the son of Muscle Hill—Zoia Boko. "He can sort of race anywhere, though he does seem to run his best races when he's somewhere up near the lead."

Earlier this year, Aldebaran Zeus defeated Just Believe, who was invited to represent Australia in this past May's Elitloppet in Sweden, in the Group 1 Hammerhead Mile at Menangle. That victory gives Alford confidence Aldebaran Zeus can step up on the international stage as well.

"I'm pretty sure he'll acquit himself well," Alford said. "Whether he can win, we'll need a lot of luck, but I'm sure he's good enough to be very competitive."

The 55-year-old Alford, who has captured the Australian Driving Premiership on 14 occasions, is looking forward to the opportunity as he prepares to drive in the U.S. for the second time. In 2016, he had a best finish of third among three drives at the Delaware County Fairgrounds. The drives were arranged through his friendships with drivers such as Yannick Gingras, Tim Tetrick, and Brett Miller.

"I was here for holiday when the Jug was on," Alford said. "They said to bring my stuff and they would see if they could get me a couple of drives. It was super. The experience was great. It was a bit of fun there."

As for the chance to participate in the International Trot, Alford said, "It probably won't really sink in until we get to Saturday, but it's exciting. When you get to see horses from all around the world, it makes it even better."

The mysteries surrounding how the race might play out with 10 horses competing over the half-mile oval at Yonkers adds intrigue.

"That's the thing," Alford said. "You don't really know the horses or the drivers and their styles and what they do. You wouldn't expect it to be just a normal Yonkers race with drivers just in single file. I think they'll be one out all the way and moves will be coming because it's a mile and a quarter. I think it'll be a last-man-standing thing."

The MGM Yonkers International Trot will go as race 7 on the 11-race program, which also includes the $250,000 Bob Miecuca Invitational Trot and $250,000 Aria Invitational Pace, as well as eight New York Sire Stakes championships.

Racing begins at 12:15 p.m. Saturday at Yonkers. For free Yonkers programs, visit the Standardbred Owners Association of New York website here.

Gural's vision has helped expand harness racing's TV exposure

This weekend, Fox Sports 2 will feature racing from The Meadowlands tonight and cover the Ohio Sire Stakes Night of Champions from Scioto Downs on Saturday.

by Debbie Little

For only the second time, harness racing will be featured on Fox Sports 2 (FS2) on back-to-back nights. What makes this weekend's shows unique is for the first time they are originating from two different tracks.

The Meadowlands will kick off the broadcast doubleheader tonight (Sept. 8). On Saturday (Sept. 9), Scioto Downs will make their FS2 debut.

According to the New York Racing Association's (NYRA) senior director of TV broadcast operations Eric Donovan, a weekend like this would not have been possible without their existing rapport with The Meadowlands president/chief executive officer Jeff Gural.

"If we didn't have that first year [2021] with The Meadowlands, I don't think there's Breeders Crown coverage last year [at Woodbine Mohawk Park]," said Donovan. "I don't think there's the general appeal to the industry and then reaching across to the Caesar's properties and then the Little Brown Jug, and possibly something at Red Mile, too.

"So, yeah, I mean, it all started with that relationship with The Meadowlands and we're very, very appreciative of all the support we've gotten from Jeff and his team, and, I hope we've been able to deliver for him."

Gural had felt for a long time that harness racing belonged on national TV more than just once a year and in 2021 his relationship with NYRA produced a two-hour Meadowlands Pace show on FS2 (detailed here in HRU).

Following the success of that inaugural broadcast, the next month there was a Hambletonian "look in" on FS2 and then three-and-a-half hours of Breeders Crown coverage on Saturday (Oct. 30).

It wasn't until last year with the Crown from Woodbine Mohawk Park, that the broadcast expanded outside the border of The Meadowlands, opening up a slew of possibilities to NYRA and the rest of industry.

This year, the broadcast offerings broadened even further adding the Dan Patch from Hoosier Park in August to the eight shows — plus a cut-in on Hambletonian Day — already on the schedule with The Meadowlands.

"Well, we had the deal in place with The Meadowlands for select dates with major stakes action," Donovan said. "So, that was already in place when we started to have the conversation with the folks at Caesar's. And one of their properties is Scioto and one of the events they really wanted to focus on was Night of Champions [on Sept. 9].

"So, it was all part of the deal with Caesar's to have the two nights at Hoosier. We already did the Dan Patch and we're doing Sept. 22nd and then Joe Morris really wanted to do the Sept. 9 at Scioto."

Part of the attraction of the Ohio Sire Stakes Night of Champions three-hour (8-11 p.m.) broadcast for Donovan is Tom Durkin.

The legendary announcer, who called both at The Meadowlands and NYRA, owns a 2-year-old trotter that's competing in the sire stakes at Scioto and according to Donovan is expected to be a big favorite.

"It all started with that relationship with The Meadowlands and we're very, very appreciative of all the support we've gotten from Jeff [Gural] and his team, and, I hope we've been able to deliver for him."

~ Eric Donovan

"I think he's planning to be out there and I'm trying to get him to do a little something here before the race as well," Donovan said. "So, it should be really cool. I wanted to try to get something that we could run on Friday's show to promote his horse running on Saturday and it's not the biggest race, but it's still a really cool story."

Durkin is a notable figure to both breeds and therefore a perfect person to tie the broadcasts together since both standardbred and thoroughbred races will be shown.

It will be a long weekend for The Meadowlands' Jessica Otten, who will again be the main TV talent on both broadcasts.

Through these Fox broadcasts, Otten has become the face of harness racing to a thoroughbred-centric viewing audience and although she is so grateful for the opportunities these shows have given her, she had no idea it would progress so far so fast.

"I think in 2021 when we did the Meadowlands Pace show, I kind of just thought it was a one-time thing," Otten said. "And then that year we had the Breeders Crown here [at The Meadowlands] and they asked me to do it again; I think it was on that Saturday. And then after that, in 2022, when they started talking about doing more shows, I thought it was cool but I had no idea that they would want me to be the person who kind of heads it, I guess you could say. And then, of course, Gabe [Prewitt] is with me on the big days."

"So, I had no idea it was going to take off like that and then this year has just been phenomenal for them to be able to work with other race tracks as well. I'm very grateful that it is me that they want, because it's kind of cool for those thoroughbred-centric people to see a familiar face."

Otten also pointed out that none of this would be possible without the support and encouragement she has received from Gural and The Meadowlands chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyre, and, of course, the faith that they all, including NYRA, have in her. Especially since she initially almost passed on being a part of it.

"It's funny to think that on my first show in 2021, I actually didn't want to do it," Otten said. "I actually declined being on it. The person that they were going to have on it couldn't come. And so, then I stepped in and did it."

"I want to thank Jeff and Jason for allowing me to do this. And then, obviously, I want to thank Fox and NYRA for trusting a young female for the role because we all know that that's not today's world. For them to trust me without really having any idea of my background and knowledge, that's pretty cool and I'm very appreciative of that as well."

There will also be back-to-back broadcasts from different tracks on Thursday (Sept. 21) from Delaware, OH, for the Little Brown Jug and then the next night at Hoosier Park. So, again, Otten will be racking up the frequent-flyer miles.

"The travel isn't what really bothers me; I've been doing that for a long time because of, you know, racing horses, getting up early, getting home late," Otten said with a laugh.

It's a pretty good bet that if she wasn't doing the Fox broadcasts this weekend, she would be home in Michigan helping her dad with horses competing in the Michigan Sire Stakes Finals at Northville Downs tonight.

Since 2021, the national TV exposure for harness racing on Fox has increased exponentially going from two shows that first year, to eight last year and at least 12 this year with the possibility of a few more.

"I don't know that I would have envisioned it being this many shows," Donovan said. "I mean, I certainly think we thought maybe we could expand a little bit and cover some of the bigger events. I didn't know that we would go to so many different properties and do the things we've done."

Thinking about what they've already done this year and what's possible for the future, Otten said: "I just think it's a good opportunity for not just The Meadowlands but the sport as a whole."

REPORT

Daley duo look to add New Jersey Classic titles to resumes

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Noel Daley liked Buy A Round from the moment he began training the female trotter, particularly because she reminded him of past stable star Cedar Dove. The 2-year-old filly has done little to change Daley's opinion since the beginning of her campaign, winning three of four races, including the New Jersey Sire Stakes championship a month ago.

Tonight (Sept. 8) at The Meadowlands, Buy A Round will be one of four NJSS champs looking to add a New Jersey Classic final to their list of accomplishments. Daley also trains one of the other three, 2-year-old male trotter Sig Sauer. The remaining two are 2-year-old female pacer Pulp Fiction and 3-year-old male trotter Air Power.

New Jersey Sire Stakes champs also will be in action in Saturday's (Sept. 9) two New Jersey Classic finals, 3-year-old male pacer Voukefalas and 3-year-old female pacer Ucandoit Blue Chip.

The NJC finals for trotters go for purses of $275,000 while the pacers race for $150,000.

The NJC, sponsored by The Meadowlands and Standardbred Breeders & Owners Association of New Jersey, is for New Jersey-sired horses and horses eligible to the New Jersey Standardbred Development Fund stakes.

Buy A Round is a daughter of Walner—On Your Tab owned by breeder Fred Hertrich III. Last week at the Big M, she won her NJC elimination from post 9 by 1-1/2 lengths over Walcango in 1:54.3. She starts the final from post 3 with Andy McCarthy in the sulky and is the 3-1 morning-line favorite.

"From day one, she reminded me of Cedar Dove, and I knew I had a good one real early with her," Daley said, referring to his 2011 Dan Patch Award winner. "She's a little natural. She's as good a going trotter as I've ever had. She's all business."

Daley also will send out Miss I La, who finished second to Sunkist Beauty in the other elimination for rookie filly trotters. Miss I La (Walner—Southwind Venus) has raced four times, with two seconds and a third in her three most recent outings. She has been within three-quarters of a length of the winner in all three.

"I trained her down with Buy A Round and loved them both," Daley said. "Miss I La got sick and had a few little issues along the way, but she will be much improved from that race last week. She was a little aggressive the other day. If she settles down and trips out, she can be right there. She's not going to out-muscle them right now, but it wouldn't shock me at all if she won."

Miss I La will start from post 4 with driver Scott Zeron and is 10-1.

Sig Sauer (Andrew McCarthy) is undefeated in three races and is the 2-1 favorite in the New Jersey Classic for 2-year-old male trotters.

Buy A Round (McCarthy) is in tonight's New Jersey Sires Stakes championship for 2-year-old trotting fillies.

Sunkist Beauty (Six Pack—Orange Bigi) is the 7-2 second choice after her 1:54.1 score last week. She will leave from post 1 with trainer/driver Ake Svanstedt.

Sig Sauer, undefeated in three races, is the 2-1 favorite among the 2-year-old male trotters. He won his elimination in 1:55.4, finishing a neck ahead of Southwind Metric. He leaves from post 1 tonight with McCarthy in the bike.

"He's always been very nice," Daley said. "He's a very strong horse. He's got a lot of power to him. I don't think we've seen anywhere near the best of him yet. He's got a lot more to give, I think."

Daley trains the son of Muscle Hill—Sigilwig for owners Patricia Stable, Joe Sbrocco & JAF Racing, Allister Stables, and Caviart Farms. He was purchased for $200,000 at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

"For us, it was a lot of money; we don't usually go in those numbers," Daley said. "I don't want to over-race him. I think he'll be a better 3-year-old. I don't want him to have more than about eight starts. If everything goes to plan, which it never does, we'll take him to Kentucky for two and then the Breeders Crown for two and that's probably it."

In the final for 2-year-old female pacers, Daley-trained Miraculous Deo will take on a field that includes 2-1 favorite Pulp Fiction, who is undefeated in four starts for trainer Michael Hall. Miraculous Deo, who finished second in her elimination, starts from post 7 with driver Brian Sears and is 5-1. She has hit the board in five of six races, winning one.

"If she happened to trip out, she's good enough to win it," Daley said about Deo Volente Farms' homebred daughter of Stay Hungry—Worldly Beauty. "I think she'll go with all of those."

In the final for freshmen male pacers, Daley will send out longshot Avellino for breeder/owner Anthony Monica. The gelding, a son of Lazarus N—Raise Your Glass, has one win in three starts. He will leave from post 7 with driver McCarthy.

"Realistically, we're just looking for a piece," Daley said. "We liked him early, then the first time I qualified him, he lost the plot. But he's heading in the right direction now."

Newsroom (Always B Miki—Well Hello There) is the 3-5 favorite in the race. He is four-for-four for trainer Joe Holloway and driver David Miller and will start from post 5.

In the remaining NJC finals tonight, Air Power (Muscle Hill—Beyond Blue) is 9-2 on the morning line in the race for 3-year-old male trotters, third choice behind 2-1 favorite Oh Well (Muscle Hill—Fine Tuned Lady) and Celebrity Bambino (Muscle Hill—Celebrity Ruth) at 5-2. Secret Volo (Walner—Secret Serenity) gets the 5-2 nod among 3-year-old female trotters.

Marcus Melander trains Air Power, Oh Well, and Secret Volo. Ron Burke trains Celebrity Bambino.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EDT) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster programs for the Big M, click here.

First Illinois harness racing pari-mutuel meet of the year opens Saturday at Hawthorne

by Neil Milbert

As the calendar year is entering the homestretch, harness horses in Illinois are leaving the starting gate.

The gate will begin rolling for the state's only extended pari-mutuel meeting Saturday night (Sept. 9) at 7:10 CDT at Hawthorne Race Course.

Opening night will bring out Illinois racing's three superstars — the 9-year-old trotting mare Anna's Lucky Star, the 8-year-old gelding pacer Fox Valley Gemini and the 6-year-old male pacer He'zzz A Wise Sky.

Anna's Lucky Star, who will compete in an $11,000 open trot, has won her last two starts — her only pari-mutuel outing in nine races this year — giving her a 140-race career composite of 60 wins, 26 places and 13 shows for a bankroll of $646,360.

Fox Valley Gemini and He'zzz A Wise Sky will renew their rivalry in an $11,000 open pace. He'zzz A Wise Sky has done all of his racing this year in pari-mutuel outings, making 12 starts and relegating Fox Valley Gemini to second-place finishes in the last two. Those were the only two pari-mutuel races this year for Fox Valley Gemini, a six-time winner in 2023, whose claim to fame is being the only horse in history to be victorious in Hawthorne's main event, the Night of Champions, for six consecutive years.

Fox Valley Gemini has a 115-race career record of 59-25-11 and earnings of $724,519, while He's A Wise Sky has a 90-race record of 41-22-11 and earnings of $595,395.

On opening night there will be 13 races with 115 starters and 13 horses on the also-eligible list.

In the weeks that follow there will be racing Friday, Saturday and Sunday through Dec. 31 for a total of 49 programs.

"Nothing has been finalized but we're hoping we can go into January and February for six or seven more weeks," said Marty Engel, president of the Illinois Harness Horsemen's Association (IHHA). "And then as early as possible in June go back to Springfield and DuQuoin before reopening at Hawthorne in September or October of 2024.

"There wasn't pari-mutuel racing this past summer, but at least we had race dates and purse money to keep the horsemen going. It's difficult when there's no income for a long stretch of time.

"Nothing has been finalized but we're hoping we can go into January and February for six or seven more weeks. And then as early as possible in June go back to Springfield and DuQuoin before reopening at Hawthorne in September or October of 2024."

~ Marty Engel

There aren't as many owners as there used to be. Now, many of the owners are trainers and they don't have any income unless they're racing."

The races were funded from Hawthorne's purse account.

Tim Norman, the Illinois Department of Agriculture bureau chief who oversees the harness and thoroughbred breeding programs, is a strong supporter of filling the Chicago schedule void by racing during the summer at the State Fairgrounds in Springfield (173 miles from Hawthorne and DuQuoin (276 miles away).

According to Norman, "We're also looking the possibility of conducting pari-mutuel racing at the Fairgrounds during those summer months, certainly at Springfield, but probably not at DuQuoin because of the intra-structure it takes."

The scheduling dilemma was created by Arlington International Racecourse's corporate owner, Churchill Downs, Inc. (CDI), when it sold the palatial thoroughbred track for demolition and redevelopment after the 2021 meeting to eliminate racing and possible racino competition for a nearby casino in which it acquired a majority interest two years earlier.

When CDI wiped Arlington off the racing map dual-purpose Hawthorne was left as the only racetrack standing in the Chicago metropolitan area, creating an even more acute problem for thoroughbred horsemen, whose only other Illinois option is a significantly lower quality meeting at Fairmount Park, across the Mississippi River from St. Louis.

Forced to time-share to survive the IHHA, in 2022 the Illinois Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association (ITHA) and Hawthorne divided the calendar into four segments and held split meetings. The standardbreds raced an aggregate total of 75 nights from Jan. 7-March 20 and from July 2-Sept. 11 and the thoroughbreds raced a combined total of 76 days from April 2-June 25 and from Sept. 23-Dec. 31.

This year, the parties agreed to a different arrangement with the thoroughbreds racing continuously from March 5-Sept. 4, a total of 68 days, and the harness horses competing on the track for the four-month meeting that is beginning this weekend and conceivably could continue into February.

"We're expecting a slight decrease in purses," Engel said. "With this conservative approach we're hoping we can go into January and February without another purse cut."

"We anticipate a good meeting. I think fans (of harness racing in the Chicago area) are anxious to come back."

Kyle Wilfong, the leading driver at both the winter and summer meetings in 2022, will be returning "mainly on Sunday nights."

"I'm driving at Hoosier from Tuesday through Saturday," said the son of trainer Brett Wilfong, who moved his racing headquarters to a farm in Indiana because of the uncertainty of the Illinois situation. "I've picked up some nice accounts here."

Kyle's wife, Amy, assists his father and is a successful trainer in her own right. She will be in charge of the horses at Hawthorne.

"We'll ship in a few horses to race occasionally," Kyle said. "We've put in for five stalls, mainly to be able to ship in and ship out."

Amy Husted, the wife of driver Kyle Husted, will be back after taking her first trainer title at the second 2022 meeting and so will Terry Leonard, who captured his fourth Hawthorne championship in five years at the first meeting, and his son, Casey Leonard, the perennial driving champion at the track before being dethroned by Wilfong last year.

Casey topped the standings at both the summer races at Springfield and at the State Fair pari-mutuel meeting at DuQuoin as did trainer Erv Miller, owner Doug Overhiser and breeder Fox Valley Standardbreds

Also excelling during the summer at Springfield was the runner-up to him in the driver standings, Cordarius Stewart.

"Cordarius is doing really well," Norman said. "He has hooked up with Erv Miller, and that's a big plus for him."

Engel is in agreement, saying: "Cordarius is an up-and-coming superstar; he had an awesome summer."

In addition to the twice weekly summer series of 14 programs at Springfield (with an average of 13.5 races per card) there were three programs at DuQuoin.

They were followed by the annual pari-mutuel meetings at the Springfield State Fair (Aug. 10, 11, 12, 16 and 17) and the DuQuoin State Fair (Aug. 28, 29 and 30).

However, Mother Nature curtailed the State Fair competition at Springfield.

"Four of the five days were rained out," said Engel. In contrast, "all of the races at DuQuoin went without a hitch."

Because of the cancellations at Springfield, Hawthorne has picked up most of the races that are qualifiers for the marquee event in Illinois racing, the Night of Champions for Illinois-breds on Oct. 14.

To accommodate the makeup races, Hawthorne has scheduled 18 races for Sunday and will begin the program at 4:30 p.m., 2 hours 40 minutes earlier than the normal starting time.

The card will have 134 contestants and purses will range from $17,250 to $41,000 in the Governor J.B. Pritzger, a race for 3-year-old colt and gelding pacers.

While Hawthorne's thoroughbred meeting went according to plan, the planned $300 million transformation of the historic track into a racino as permitted by a massive Illinois gaming expansion bill in 2019 continues to proceed at a snail's pace in the aftermath of preliminary demolition work at the track, starting in 2019.

A portion of the casino gambling gross revenue would be added to purses and IHHA executive director Tony Somone envisions a windfall of as much as $12 million, increasing the purse account to the neighborhood of $19 million.

However, while Hawthorne is in a virtual holding pattern, other newly-legalized casinos are seizing the opportunity by putting up temporary facilities prior to construction of a permanent location. A Medinah Temple temporary casino location in downtown Chicago, only about a half-hour from Hawthorne, is scheduled to open this Saturday, increasing the number of casinos in Illinois to 15.

Horsepeople fear that by the time the Hawthorne racino gets up and running the other new casinos will have carved out customer markets, thereby significantly diminishing its share of the potential revenue and purse money.

Kildare King looks to reign in Charlie Hill

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Foot issues hindered Kildare King as a young horse, but since turning age 4 last year, the trotter's performances have been predominantly majestic.

The winner of two of 22 races at ages 2 and 3, Kildare King has hit the board 25 times in his past 31 starts, with 16 victories and seven second-place finishes. He has a career-best win time of 1:50.1, which he recorded in capturing the Corbin Maturity Series by a half-length over Venerate last October at Lexington's Red Mile.

He also has been a track-record performer at Eldorado Scioto Downs, where on Saturday (Sept. 9) he will face nine rivals in the $250,000 Charlie Hill Memorial for older trotters. Kildare King will start from post 5 with Tim Tetrack listed to drive for trainer Chris Beaver.

Kildare King has hit the board in 13 consecutive races at Scioto since August 2022, with seven wins and five seconds.

"For the last couple years, he's raced good just about everywhere I've raced him," Beaver said. "He was talented from day one. He won his first qualifier on a half [at the Delaware County Fairgrounds] as a 2-year-old in [1]:59[.4] but then got an abscess in a hind foot and it messed up his entire 2-year-old year.

"At 3, he was still having problems with sore feet, and he would make breaks late in the race. But at the end of his 3-year-old year, he did start to come on and put some good miles together. The last couple years as an aged horse, he's won a lot of races."

Kildare King, a son of Trixton—Exclusivity owned by breeder Robert Goodman, has earned nearly $400,000 since the start of his 4-year-old season. This year, the gelding has won five of 13 races while adding five seconds and a third.

"He's been racing good," Beaver said. "He didn't race good at Plainridge [finishing sixth in the Spirit of Massachusetts], but I just think it didn't work out for him that day.

"He's very high speed and he doesn't really get tired. But that's true of all the good open trotters. There are a lot of them now in Ohio, so he's racing good horses every week. But you like any horse that doesn't get tired. That's one good thing about him."

Brad Conrad

Kildare King (Aaron Merriman) will face nine rivals in Saturday's $250,000 Charlie Hill Memorial at Scioto Downs.

The field for the Charlie Hill also includes 2022 Hambletonian champion Cool Papa Bell and 2021 Trotter of the Year Jujube. Refined is the lone mare in the 10-horse group. Her wins this season include the Armbro Flight Stakes.

Completing the lineup are Smoking Jet, Pretender, It's A Herbie, Incommunicado, Lovedbythemasess, and Kings County.

"I think it's a field of horses he should be competitive with," Beaver said about Kildare King, whose fastest win time at Scioto is 1:51.4 (which he's done twice).

In addition to the Charlie Hill, Scioto hosts the $260,000 Jim Ewart Memorial for older male pacers and a full slate of Ohio Sire Stakes championships and consolations. The Ewart's 10-horse field includes Canadian Pacing Derby winner Tattoo Artist as well as Charlie May, the event's defending champion who is on the verge of $2 million in lifetime purses, and 2022 Meadowlands Pace champ Beach Glass, who is making his seasonal debut.

Racing begins at 5 p.m. (EDT) Saturday at Scioto Downs. The Hill and Ewart are races 13 and 14, respectively, on the 18-race card. For complete entries, click here.

"B" is for Borth

Canada's leading driver by wins turns his focus to the big track.

by Melissa Keith

To become a top "B" Ontario track driver is no small achievement. To take that success and run with it, catch driving at Woodbine Mohawk Park, is even more ambitious. For Tyler Borth, Canada's leading 2023 driver by wins this year (303 as of Sept. 6), prioritizing Mohawk this fall is a calculated risk, one that could build upon his reputation as current king of the "B" tracks.

Saturday night (Sept. 2) at Woodbine Mohawk Park, Borth won the first race of the star-studded card in a 5-1 upset with Emmetts Buddy (p,4,1:49.0s; $113,022). He bookended the night with a race 12 victory driving 8-1 winner H P Momentum (p,4,1:48.4s; $126,051). In between, racing analysts Randy Waples and Elissa Blowe praised his ability, with the latter commenting, "In the next few years, you're going to see him driving in some of the big races."

"Obviously, both are really nice horses," Borth said, turning attention back to Emmetts Buddy and H P Momentum. "I didn't know if they could win the races or not, but the way that the races set up allowed them to get it done in fast miles. Emmetts Buddy, my fastest win with him was 1:49 the week before. He went 1:49.2 [Saturday]. Then H P Momentum tied my fastest mile again. It's funny: I was coming down the lane with H P Momentum and I saw like :46, :47, :48 [on the teletimer]," enroute to a 1:49 victory.

He did not drive in the Maple Leaf Trot, Canadian Pacing Derby, free-for-all pace, or Simcoe Stake divisions for 3-year-old trotters, but admired the victories of Alrajah One IT, Tattoo Artist, Warrawee Vital, Climb the Pole, and Gaines Hanover from the sidelines. "All nice horses," he said. "Not what I'm used to driving my whole career, that's for sure."

Borth began driving professionally in 2012 at The Raceway at Western Fair in London, ON. His career started much earlier.

"My mother [Karen Sparling] actually had horses where I jogged my first horse, at Putnam Training Centre. I think I was 8 years old, The horse's name was Matty Long Legs. He was only about a $5,000 claimer... I was also always there with my dad [William Borth]. He has a farm just outside of a little town called Thamesford... Now, I still train out of my dad's farm."

Pursuing a driving career was always a possibility, although not the only one.

Melissa Keith

Tyler Borth in the Woodbine Mohawk Park paddock in June.

“Now that I’m getting drives at Mohawk, if I continue to get drives at Mohawk, I will stay at Mohawk. On the off days, the days that Mohawk’s not racing, just London’s racing, I’ll be driving at London, because it’s only 20 minutes from my house.”

~ Tyler Borth

“I liked training them too,” Tyler said. “I remember when I was in high school, one manufacturing teacher... knew my dad and knew a bit about the business. All the other kids would go to work, and me and him would sit at the front desk and we’d watch horse replays... I still see him to this day.”

After his family and that teacher, Mr. Britton, Tyler’s biggest influence has been his home track. “My first qualifying drive was at Western Fair. My first drive was at Western Fair. My first win was at Western Fair,” he said, recalling his Feb. 10, 2012 victory with trotter Region Hall [5,1:59.3h; $62,291]. “My dad trained, and he had the 7-hole. I went right to the front and hung on by a nose.”

Tyler shared the 2022 driving title at The Raceway with Travis Henry (both with 144 seasonal wins), but said he wasn’t sure how much he would be there for the upcoming meet, which begins Monday, Oct. 2.

“Well, that’s the thing: Now that I’m getting drives at Mohawk, if I continue to get drives at Mohawk, I will stay at Mohawk. On the off days, the days that Mohawk’s not racing, just London’s racing, I’ll be driving at London, because it’s only 20 minutes from my house.”

Tyler’s mastery at the “B” tracks was evident on Sept. 3 at Clinton Raceway, when he captured both the Charity Drivers’ Challenge and 2023 driving title (44 seasonal wins) on the final day of the meet.

“I’ve always loved Clinton,” he said. “It’s a good atmosphere. They do a good job, obviously, with [general manager] Ian Fleming. They do a lot for the people. It’s just a long day for me, because [afterwards] I have to go to Georgian [Downs, Innisfil, ON], and the drive from Clinton to Georgian makes for a long summer, but I was having some luck, so it makes it a little easier.”

The decision to focus on Mohawk was not an easy one for the 30-year-old reinsman, who gives considerable credit to the track that shaped his early career.

“I got off to a really good start this year because I think I won like 150 races at London from January to May. It’s what put me on top... I won most of my [recent] races at Hanover, Clinton, Georgian the odd time. But I’m getting my fair share of wins at Mohawk, too – more than I thought I would be getting, being new there.”

Tyler’s first driving win at Mohawk was on Jan. 26, 2023, with Cutting Class (p,5,1:52.0f; $76,260), his only drive on the card.

“I’ve got to give thanks to Shane Barrington for that, because I drove a little bit for him on the ‘B’ tracks,” Tyler said. Barrington trained the gelding, who won a second consecutive race for Tyler on Feb. 2, before being claimed.

When Barrington initially suggested Tyler try out the big track, the driver said he was skeptical.

“I was like, ‘Yeah, yeah, yeah.’ People say that, but how am I going to do that, right? Shane was like, ‘Trust me, you drive a horse well. You should come try and drive here, make a nice living for yourself. You’re just as good as the guys down here. Once you get down here, you’ll get the hang of it.’ So I’ve got to thank him for that, because he obviously gave me my first win there, but it was also him putting it in my ear.”

Tyler continues to pick up catch drives at Mohawk. “I think the word about me is pretty good,” he said. “I don’t think that too many people would say that I’m an a-hole! The general consensus is that I’m a nice guy, so I’m happy with that.”

Competing with the top drivers in the country has been a learning curve.

“I always felt that the regular drivers that drive there would do a better job than me... I feel like if they come to London and drive against me, I feel like I’d do as good a job as them, because I know London, I know the horses. Now that I have quite a few starts [at Mohawk], I really feel like I’m getting the hang of it, but it definitely took a little while, because it is a lot different.”

The WMP drivers’ colony has been welcoming to Tyler. “They’ve been really good to me,” he said. “I think once you win a couple races and you start driving, and they see that you drive fairly smart for the most part, they respect you. I think they respect me, too, because I’ve been putting a lot of races in... I’ve been driving for 12 years. I’ve been driving everywhere. I have driven a lot of horses.”

Dancin Champion skips, Allegiant soars to the winner's circle at Red Mile

by Kimberly French for Red Mile

Dancin Champion (David Miller) took full advantage of a miscue by leader Ivy Park in mid-stretch to spring a mild upset at 7-1 in the $80,000 fourth round leg of the Kentucky Championship Series for 2-year-old male pacers on Tuesday (Sept. 5) at Red Mile. Allegiant (Scott Zeron) collected her second consecutive victory in the division for freshman filly trotters.

The 15-race card also featured two $30,000 fourth round legs of the Kentucky Commonwealth Series and five $15,000 fourth round legs of the Kentucky Goldenrod Series.

Dancin Champion and Miller left sharply from post position 2 and tracked Ivy Park (Yannick Gingras) as that rival paced directly to the lead. The 1-9 favorite Better Is Nice (Andrew McCarthy) settled in third.

The top three remained in that order for the majority of the mile as Ivy Park established fractions of :28.4, :56.3 and 1:24.1. As the horses came out of the final turn Dancin Champion and Better Is Nice launched their bids for the wire. Ivy Park remained on top but became rough-gaited in the middle of the stretch and went off stride.

Dancin Champion took control and repelled the advance of Better Of Nice to collect the first win of his career in 1:51.2 by three-quarters of a length. Tua Many Captains (Andy Miller) was third.

Trained by Ron Burke, Dancin Champion is a son of Sweet Lou—Dancewiththebest. The colt scored his first win in his sixth start at odds of 7-1. His record now stands at 6 1-2-1 and he has earned $94,531.

Dancin Champion is owned by Burke Racing Stable, Knox Services, Weaver BrusceMI and J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby. A $90,000 purchase at last year's Lexington Selected Yearling sale, Dancin Champion was bred by Anvil And Lace Farm. His older half-brother is world champion and three-time Ohio Older Pacer of the Year, Dancin Yankee (Yankee Cruiser, $2 million).

Allegiant and Zeron employed gate to wire tactics to capture the filly's second consecutive race in the Championship event for 2-year-old filly trotters. The daughter of Tactical Approach—Too Good For You proved to be too good for this field of six with a 1:52.2 mile.

The even-money favorite set fractions of :28.4, :56.4 and 1:24.2 while never seriously threatened. Volcanic Blue Chip (Ake Svanstedt) was a length and half back in second. Special Talent (Dexter Dunn) was third.

Trained by Vernon Beachy, Allegiant is owned by Ryan Smith, who purchased her for $50,000 at last year's Standardbred Horse Sale. She possesses a resume of 8 5-1-0 and has banked $183,400. The final time was a new lifetime mark.

Allegiant's dam has produced nine foals that have made more than $100,000, including this filly, from 15 foals.

Allegiant paid $4.24 to win.

FRENCH CHAMPAGNE REMAINS UNDEFEATED IN COMMONWEALTH SERIES

Pop the cork for French Champagne (Svanstedt) as the daughter of Muscle Hill—French Café remained a perfect four-for-four with a triumph in 1:53 in the $30,000 fourth round leg of this series for 2-year-old trotting fillies.

Trained by her driver, French Champagne competes as a homebred for Marvin Katz and Al Libfeld. She has earned $60,000 in purse money and is the first foal out of her dam, who amassed $228,331 on the racetrack. French Café's dam is 2008 Hambletonian Oaks winner Creamy Mimi (Conway Hall, $927,169).

French Champagne paid $2.88 to her supporters as the public's choice.

Rockinpoppin (Tony Hall) paid a healthy $61.18 for his 1:50.3 victory in the division for freshman male pacers. The son of Pet Rock—Noseitall is conditioned by Jeff Smith.

Owned by James Everhart and his breeder, Kathy Smith, the gelding collected his second win from five starts. He has earned $24,300 and his final time was a new lifetime mark.

ARSON SCORCHES IN GOLDENROD SERIES

McClure wins back-to-back OSS Golds at Woodbine Mohawk Park

by Kara Martin for Ontario Racing communications

Griff won the fourth race on Tuesday night (Sept. 5) at Woodbine Mohawk Park, a $103,100 Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Gold division for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings.

Bob McClure kept Griff (Muscle Mass) off the pace set by leader Elegant Resolve (Resolve) out of post 8 through fractions of :27.2, :57.1, and 1:26, and sat at the back of the field.

Myretirementdream (IL Sogno Dream) driven by Jody Jamieson challenged James MacDonald and Elegant Resolve at the three-quarter pole to move to the lead.

Then in deep stretch, Griff came flying to rally from behind and cross the wire first in a time of 1:54.4.

"He raced really good, and he dropped a lot of time. I was pretty impressed with him tonight," said McClure.

For his first OSS Gold win, Griff collected $51,550 in earnings for co-owners Jeffrey and Lori Thomson, Murray Brethour, and Kyle Northover.

Tonight's win made for the colt's biggest cheque and has made $60,050 over the course of his career.

"He felt great the whole way," said McClure. "The big problem he was having was to stay trotting early. Murray's done a good job changing a few things, and it's a big confidence booster for him."

Griff's upset Gold win paid $25.50.

The second-place finish for Myretirementdream collected $23,713 for owner Eli Wagler and now has over $100,000 in OSS earnings this year.

Elegant Resolve, trained by Matthew Bax, finished in third and has collected $75,195 in OSS earnings this year for co-owners Bax Stable, Gaelic Stable, Don Allensen, and Happy Trails Stables.

The second division of the night for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings was race 7 on the card, and Willowtime (Looklikeeachpndale) driven by McClure came away with the win crossing the wire at 1:54.2.

A successful night for McClure with back-to-back OSS wins on the night.

Willowtime has collected $103,550 in OSS earnings in his last two starts for co-owner Mark Etsell, Terry Devos, and Peter Porter.

The Looklikeeachpndale colt paid $8.10 for his Gold win.

Favorite Soar Higher (Resolve) driven by MacDonald finished in second while What About Elmo (IL Sogno Dream) piloted by Tyler Jones rounded out the podium.

Skyway Paige, Somebody Special capture ISS tests at Harrah's Hoosier Park

by Emily Ratcliff / Harrah's Hoosier Park

Two-year-old trotting fillies were back in the spotlight at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino on Wednesday (Sept. 6) as they squared off in round five of Indiana Sires Stakes action. Two $66,000 divisions were sent postward on the evening's 14-race card.

Skyway Paige and driver LeWayne Miller continued their winning ways in the opening division after they went gate to wire to score in 1:56. Using a :27.2 closing kick, Skyway Paige trotted home strongly to hold off Truly Unbelievable and Kyle Husted and the heavily-favored Ponda Title and Kyle Wilfong. Sent off as the betting public's second choice, Skyway Paige returned $5.00 for the victory.

Trained by Susan Miller, the daughter of Swan For All—Prismatica has now won three-of-eight lifetime starts and earned $106,545 in lifetime purse earnings. Skyway Paige is owned in partnership by Hoosier Stbd Fm, R. Raber, L&S Racing and A. Swartzentruber.

In the second division, Somebody Special and Trace Tetrack utilized similar tactics to get the job done in 1:55.3. Somebody Special left alertly and dug in gamely late in the lane to hold off Agent of Fortune and Robert Taylor on the outside and Starlit Dora and Michael Oosting on the inside. Somebody Special got the victory by a neck and established a new lifetime best in the process.

Trained by Erv Miller, Somebody Special has now won four-of-five lifetime starts. The homebred daughter of Swan For All—Lima Simplicity is owned by Ervin Miller Stable and Geis Enterprise and has now earned $81,860.

SIRES STAKES

Maine's glamour boys back at Bangor

by Chris Tully for the Maine Sire Stakes

Maine's 3-year-old pacing colts and geldings got away from the fairgrounds and invaded historic Bass Park in Bangor on Wednesday (Sept. 6) for two $14,000-plus divisions of the Sire Stakes. When the dust settled, it was the Tardif Taskforce that came away with the lion's share of the hardware after sweeping both events – but not without significant effort.

The first $14,692 split witnessed a real dog fight with some aerial maneuvers that would cause even the most seasoned veteran to take pause.

As the wings folded driver Walter Case Jr. moved Facemaskrequired to the front from post three. At the :29 first quarter stablemate Luke McGook and Kevin Switzer Jr. were out and applying early pressure. Both hail from the Mark and Peggy Tardif stable.

By the :59.4 half-mile marker Luke McGook, who was trying to redeem his only loss of the season last week at Windsor, had advanced to within a head of the pacesetter Facemaskrequired. Second over was Mattucci who was following the live cover of Luke McGook.

When the field reached the 1:29.3 third stanza Luke McGook had poked a nose in front and Mattucci was three-deep right alongside the new leader with Facemaskrequired fighting for his life on the inside, back just a head off the outside duelers.

At the head of the stretch it looked like a two-horse race with the parked aggressors gaining a half-length advantage. But Mattucci faded and Facemaskrequired kicked into another gear and fought back the challenge of stable mate Luke McGook to prevail by a neck in 1:59.3.

Twice The Ice (Andy Harrington) finished third, giving the Tardif Taskforce a sweep of the top three positions.

Owned and trained by Marc Tardif, Facemaskrequired broke his maiden in grand fashion, and gave the son of Deuce Seelster a big boost of confidence. He was bred by KDK Standardbreds.

In the second $14,917 division, which was raced on the wagering card, Walter Case Jr. drove So Rock N' Roll to his second consecutive stakes win for trainer Marc Tardif.

Using the wire-to-wire route, the son of Western Maverick provided both his driver, Case Jr., and his trainer, Tardif, a clean sweep of the afternoon's two stakes races. Owned by Leighton Property and bred by Lesley Leighton, it was a 1:58.1 score for the five-time seasonal winner.

So Rock N' Roll paid $2.60 to win. Two Towns Over finished second; Rockaroundsam (Switzer Jr.-Tardif) was third.

After a short break, the Maine Sire Stakes returns to Bangor with the freshmen pacing fillies on Saturday (Sept. 16) before transitioning over to the Farmington Fair the following afternoon for four days of Pine Tree State harness racing.
