Richard Moreau on his appeal verdict: 'My dream is that I'll never have to talk about it again'

The trainer spoke to HRU after his 10-year suspension was reduced to five years, with two years and four months stayed. He is permitted to resume training in March of 2027.

Late in the afternoon on Wednesday (Oct. 7), trainer Richard Moreau answered his phone. The call was one of the most consequential of his career. His Ontario Horse Racing Appeal Panel (HRAP) hearing concluded on Sept. 2, over two years after the Puslinch, ON horseman was fully suspended for 10 years and fined $40,000. Moreau and driver Sylvain Filion were identically penalized after pacer Funtime Bayama's positive test for banned performance-enhancer DPO (darbepoetin alfa) on June 10, 2024.

"My lawyer called me at 5:30 yesterday [Wednesday (Oct. 7)], and I didn't expect anything," Moreau told HRU on Thursday (Oct. 8).

The length of the HRAP hearing list led Moreau to think that he would continue to wait for a decision.

"We were so far down," he said.

But he was encouraged by the words of his counsel, Jean-Marc MacKenzie.

"He said, 'You should know the ruling or the verdict before they start with Sylvain,'" Moreau said.

“It’s hard to believe you’re guilty of the worst crime and you never touch a gun. It never even crossed my mind that this was going to happen back when I was on top of the world, you know.”

— Richard Moreau

Although Filion’s HRAP hearing on the Funtime Bayama matter has yet to take place, the Panel released its decision on Moreau’s appeal on Oct. 7. The trainer’s 10-year suspension was reduced to five years, with two years and four months stayed. His fine was halved, to $20,000. He is permitted to resume training as of March 22, 2027.

“We were so far down the line that I thought I wouldn’t hear anything,” Moreau said. “I didn’t hear anything or expect anything, and then I get that phone call.”

As word spread about the decision, his supporters reached out in droves.

“Next thing you know, honestly I count a hundred messages between 6 o’clock and midnight last night [Oct. 7]...,” Moreau said. “This morning, it’s my phone that wakes me up because the messages were coming left and right, because some people were posting stuff on Facebook... I’m happy, but at the same time, surprised, because my cell phone wouldn’t stop!”

Among the congratulatory messages was one from driver Yannick Gingras, whom Moreau recalled babysitting when they were growing up in Quebec.

Moreau is still subject to restrictions set out in the original Oct. 31, 2024 HRAP decision, plus the condition that any positive tests for non-therapeutic Class I or II medications during the stayed period will mean that he must serve those two years and four months of his suspension. Even with months to go until he can get back in the jog cart, he said he was feeling “stress relief, a little bit” after learning his fate.

“You know, at the end [of the appeal hearing], I was kind of saying, one way or another, I can't wait for this to be over," he told HRU.

In his words, it all came down to "knowing your future."

"It's hard to believe you're guilty of the worst crime and you never touch a gun," said the 10-time O'Brien Trainer of the Year. "It never even crossed my mind that this was going to happen back when I was on top of the world, you know."

Moreau has always firmly denied involvement in the blood doping of Funtime Bayama, but noted that in his hearing, "the lawyer from the racing commission [Brendan van Niejenhuis] said, 'Yes, but you failed to protect the horse.'"

Funtime Bayama was stabled at Moreau's farm ahead of the 2024 North America Cup.

Time away from racing horses at Woodbine Mohawk Park and other Ontario tracks has been frustrating for the man who once led the training statistics.

"I've been to the track once in a while; I'm just not allowed in the winner's circle or the paddock," he said. "I can't walk in through [paddock] security, no. But when I walk into the grandstand, there's like 20 people asking about me. Ten, I remember their name, [but the other] 10, I am getting older and my memory is not my friend. After an hour, people ask you [about the suspension] and I feel more like going to the pub and watching the hockey game than [answering] all those questions, you know?"

Moreau turns 62 on Oct. 29. He reminisced about beating the odds just to compete at Canada's top track.

"When [Hippodrome de] Montreal shut down, not everybody could have moved to Ontario to keep doing what they were doing, so they sent me," he said. "Half my owners were Quebecers, and they gave me their best horses to try to make it... I was racing in Ottawa; in the winter, I was racing at Windsor. I was driving by Mohawk, and I said, 'Hopefully I make it one day.' I had my 10 best horses three kilometers from the track, at Ian Reid's farm; Cal Campbell and Roger Mayotte [were] at the same farm."

Coming from a non-racing background, the odds of eventually establishing his own stable were never in his favor.

"Can you believe, when I was a kid, I studied administration and finance?" Moreau said. "My father was a banker at the head office in Montreal, and I skipped school to go play hockey with the boys at the track... One day, I wait for the boys to be done, and next thing you know, the boss said, 'Richard, you're here every day, instead of every second day. I'll pay you at the end of the week.' That's how I started in the horse business, waiting for the boys to come and play hockey."

While looking forward to resuming his training career, Moreau said he would not return to the same number of horses in his barn at its peak.

"I used to run a 50-, 60-horse barn... One night, I raced 23 horses on a Saturday, [between] Mohawk and somewhere else.

“I didn’t know if I was going to sell the farm or keep the farm [after I was suspended for 10 years]. I said, ‘One day I will live in a condo apartment, face the ocean, and nobody will know my name in the building,’ you know? But if they let me go back to the track, it’s 10 minutes down the road, [horses] keep me busy, and it’s not the sideline. It’s a real job.”

— Richard Moreau

In one night... To be honest, when I shut down because I was suspended, I had 58 horses or something. I owned a third of a very cheap horse, and I don’t usually own too much, you know; an occasional claim, but that’s all. How can I say? I want to stay low profile and I don’t want a big barn. I probably have to learn to say ‘no,’ because next thing you know, it’s going to be full again.”

It will be an adjustment for Moreau, who described passing time and making a living while serving his suspension.

“The [farm] property has been rented to different trainers all along,” he said. “I just tried to keep busy all summer. What I did: cut grass, clean [the] pool, do the [training] track. Trying to find something to do lately, I was shipping horses for a transport company, left and right. It was standby; if they need me, they call me. They know I’m always available.”

Because he tended to focus on overnight horses rather than Grand Circuit and stakes performers, Canada’s Trainer of the Year from 2013 through 2022 said he did not have any major races he still wanted to win.

“I don’t want to catch attention; I just want to survive and enjoy,” he said. “Everything is already lined up [to start training horses again]; I don’t have to do much. The main thing is, don’t get my feet wet; don’t break any rules. My circle is getting narrower; people I trust, people I work with. Some of them, we don’t even need to speak because we have the same language. Back then, the employees were like my brothers and sisters.”

With his own appeal finished, will Moreau have to revisit the Funtime Bayama controversy later this month?

"Unfortunately, yes," he said grimly, confirming that he must testify in Filion's HRAP hearing. "I was ready to turn the page and never talk about it again. I have a meeting with the race commission [AGCO] on Zoom next Friday [Oct. 16], preparing for whatever's going to go on between late October and November."

The relationship between Moreau and Filion, a four-time O'Brien Driver of the Year (2012, 2013, 2015, and 2016), disintegrated completely after the Funtime Bayama scandal.

"We don't speak to each other since this happened," Moreau said. "I have voicemail or text message[s] [from Filion] from two years ago. I never replied."

While clearly relieved, Moreau is still troubled by the experience. For a time, he considered leaving the industry entirely.

"I didn't know if I was going to sell the farm or keep the farm," he said. "I said, 'One day I will live in a condo apartment, face the ocean, and nobody will know my name in the building; you know? But if they let me go back to the track, it's 10 minutes down the road, [horses] keep me busy, and it's not the sideline. It's a real job.'"

On Oct. 3, Funtime Bayama (p, 5, 1:48.2m; $443,049) won the open handicap pace at The Red Mile, his fifth win from 17 starts this season for trainer Andrew Harris, driver Dexter Dunn, and owner Punisher 11 Stable LLC of Freehold, NJ. Moreau said he hasn't followed the horse at all, or even watched much racing, in general, during his own absence from the sport.

"I know that [Funtime Bayama] was an outstanding horse, and it was nice to work with, [and] it was good for my name, because it was going for a million [in the North America Cup], and the [Filion] family, I know them for many years," he said.

With Filion's appeal hearing slated to start on Wednesday (Oct. 21), Moreau is resigned to revisiting the subject matter one more time.

"I wouldn't do that to anybody," he said. "The only reason it happened is that whoever did it figured they could get away with it, but I guess they didn't. I have nothing to prove. I just want to clear my name."

Moreau said he is ready to testify once again, this time with a better sense of his own future.

"It's going to be short and sweet and all I have to say is the truth, the truth that I swear... I don't need to make up any story," he told HRU. "Anyway, my dream is that I'll never have to talk about it again."

Freshman trotting colt Fifty And Famous drew comparisons to his champion sire Friday night (Oct. 9) as he won the $250,000 Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino. The son of the late millionaire and Breeders Crown champion sprinted home to a 2½-length victory for driver Trace Tetrick to capture the title in 1:54.3 as the narrow favorite.

"This horse has been special all year," said breeder/owner John Barnard. "He really turned the corner in the last few weeks.

Before the sire's passing earlier this year, Barnard supported Fiftydallarbill with many mares, and purchased offspring at the sales. He has had success campaigning progeny from the stallion, but Fifty And Famous has proved one of Fiftydallarbill's most talented products yet.

As a freshman, Fiftydallarbill was tabbed the second choice in his Indiana Sires Stakes Super Final, assigned post 10 and started from the second tier. He broke stride before the start, but made an incredible recovery to finish fourth. Two weeks later he stunned the field to win the 2017 Breeders Crown championship in the series' first go-round at Hoosier Park.

Like his sire, Fifty And Famous was assigned the trailing position Friday, but unlike his father, he secured the win and divisional bragging rights within the state. When the gate folded, Tetrick raced unhurried in sixth as Nectar Of The Gods and Mike Micallef pushed to the top from post 5, followed by Mendoza Mafia (Atlee Bender), rail horse Topsy In Vegas, and narrow second choice So Joyful.

After a :27.4 opening panel, Yannick Gingras pulled Topsy In Vegas and brushed to the lead, bringing with him So Joyful, who would shuffle the new leader to second before a :57.1 half. Fifty And Famous, following the two, found himself first over racing into the last turn and perfectly positioned. Rolling out of the turn (1:26), the colt outsprinted So Joyful and John De Long with a :28.3 last quarter to claim his fourth win in seven seasonal starts and improve his earnings to $193,350. Nectar Of The Gods trotted third.

"When I saw him at the top of the stretch, and coming home down the stretch, he reminded me of his father more than anything," Barnard said. "He's got all the positives of his father. And I think he picked up some of the positives of his mother, too."

Tetrick also sees the similarities between Fifty And Famous and his sire.

"All the ones I've driven so far, he's the most like his dad as any of them that I've seen," Tetrick said in a post-race interview. "He's got a good attitude, he's getting stronger-gaited as he gets older. I think he'll just be a better 3-year-old when it comes time."

Trained by Luis Quevedo, Fifty And Famous qualified for Friday's Super Final after three strong efforts in preliminary leg competition. The homebred colt kicked off his career with a win in overnight action, finishing over five lengths in front in a time of 1:57. The freshman followed that with a third-place effort in an Indiana Sires Stakes eligible event before jumping into the program's top class, racing second to divisional leader Swan Good Bi while trotting home in :26.2.

In early September, Fifty And Famous broke through for his first sires stakes score, turning away favored So Joyful by a-length-and-a-half. Controlled by Tetrick, who also piloted his sire, the 2-year-old tripped the timer in 1:55.2. After racing third in another INSS-eligible contest, Fifty And Famous collected his second victory in the top class, this time romping by six lengths in a seasonal best 1:54.1. The victory assured a spot in Friday's finale.

"The Fiftydallarbill, they've got a mind of their own," Barnard said. "They're smart horses. And the good ones are going to be very, very good."

Fifty And Famous is the third foal – and first Fiftydallarbill – from Yankee Glide mare Dance To Fame. Barnard saw her as a yearling while shopping at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale.

"I was looking at one with Kevin Kline, who ran the equine program at the University of Illinois," Barnard said. "I looked up and I saw this horse across the way quite a distance from me. And I said, 'Who is that horse?' And he started laughing. He said, 'You better get your wallet out. You're going to have to pay for that one.'"

Barnard bought Dance To Fame for $40,000, well under what he thought would be required to own her. Although she wasn't

"When I saw [Fifty And Famous in the INSS Super Final] at the top of the stretch, and coming home down the stretch, he reminded me of his father [Fiftydallarbill] more than anything. He's got all the positives of his father. And I think he picked up some of the positives of his mother [Dance To Fame], too."

stellar on the track — four wins and four second-place finishes in 32 career starts, with a 1:56.1 sophomore mark and $30,000 in earnings — the owner felt she was well-suited to be a broodmare.

"I've always loved her as a broodmare, and I've always expected good things from her," he said. "She kind of told me early that I'm going to be a broodmare. I don't particularly want to race. She's a nice horse and she's put together the right way. She's produced a really, really nice colt here."

Barnard is a big believer in keeping freshman campaigns light and placing the focus on the sophomore season. He credited both Quevedo and Tetrack for the manner in which the colt has been developed and managed this season. The owner/breeder also lamented that despite Fifty And Famous being in peak form, there may be limited opportunities going forward.

"He is really coming into his own," Barnard said. "That's kind of the way 'Fifty' did as a 2-year-old. He got better in October. He just started coming on. I'm excited about him. He's an incredible animal. I wish we had a lot more races coming up."

Ponda Crystal (Marcus Miller) to score in the first Super Final of the night in the 2-year-old filly trot.

Redice left the gate from post 3, allowing Ponda Crystal to take the lead through the first turn in :28.1 as the pair continued their reign to the halfway mark in :58.3. Fine Wine (Jay Cross) maneuvered on the outside from moving into third. Ponda Crystal remained in control of the 10-horse field as Fine Wine lingered in second at the final turn in 1:27.4. Raging with trot off the perfect trip, Redice was set to pounce when Ponda Crystal began to drift wide in the lane, opening up the way for Redice who was a three-length winner in 1:55.3. Fine Wine (Jay Cross) held for second, while Twister Sister (Tim Tetrick) rallied along the cones for third at 22-1.

The Rebuff—Fuzzy Dice filly is owned by Ervin Miller Stables Inc, Anthony Lombardi, and Stepbystep Racing. Redice made a large deposit into her lifetime earnings account to hit $303,600. Redice was bred by Kjell Anderson, Lucas Wallin, and Pieter Delis and paid $3.60 to win.

2-YEAR-OLD COLT PACE

Taking down the heavy favorite Mr Bear, Tell Me It's You was shot out of a cannon from the pocket as John De Long steered him to the winner's circle in the 2-year-old colt and gelding pace for trainer Alvin Miller.

The showdown between Tell Me It's You in post 5, with Mr Bear (Marcus Miller) to his outside in post 6. Tell Me It's You crossed over to the cones before release Mr Bear to the lead just after a quarter of :26.4. The pair cruised to the half in :55.3 before Mr Bear marched to three-quarters in 1:24.2 with Tell Me It's You bump-drafting the Miller helmet. Tell Me It's You peeled off the cover and got down to business in the lane, snatching the lead with a wicked :25.4 final stanza to smash the wire in 1:50.3 clear by two lengths. Mr Bear was untouched into second as This Captain Rocks (Yannick Gingras) rallied for third at 91-1.

The Tellitlikeitis—Kitty Hoyne gelding, Tell Me It's You, is owned by Alvin Miller, Twila Harts, and Marvin Schwartz and nearly doubled his lifetime earnings to $274,350. Bred by Oakwood Farms, Tell Me It's You earned his fifth win in 10 tries while paying out $4.60 for the victory.

2-YEAR-OLD FILLY PACE

In the 2-year-old filly pace, Fitterjake driven by Scott Zeron for trainer Aaron Stutzman wired the field in another impressive display as she crushed in the lone sub-1:50 clocking on the evening.

Fitterjake was in her familiar post 1 off the wings, fighting off any opportunity of advancements as Owleo's Pride (Dexter Dunn) settled in behind the leader through the first turn in :27.2.

Fitterjake (Scott Zeron) winning the Super Final for 2-year-old pacing fillies.

Fitterjake and Owleo's Pride led the unchanged field to the halfway mark :56. The tempo quickened on the final turn, with Owleo's Pride out and at the leader's wheel as they cruised to three-quarters in 1:23.2. Fitterjake took off from there, pacing home in :26.2 and she sprinted away by 2¾ lengths on the wire in 1:49.4. Jk's Fast (John De Long) was the quickest down the stretch from fifth to steal second, while Owleo's Pride settled for third.

The Hoosier Park 2-year-old filly pace co-track holder has won six of her seven starts, totaling $292,875 in lifetime earnings. Owned and bred by James Miller the JK Endofanera—For Sharks Sake filly paid $3 for the victory.

3-YEAR-OLD FILLY TROT

Overcoming the far outside post 9, Bluebird Kazoom went wire-to-wire to take the sophomore filly trot with driver Jordan Ross aboard for trainer Henry Graber, Jr.

The complexion of the race changed quickly when 3-5 favorite Fresh Face Yankee jumped it off at the start, while Bluebird Kazoom blasted off the wings to cross over in front of Help Cum Laude (Atlee Bender) and take the fillies to the first turn in a quick :27.1. Bluebird Kazoom remained in charge at the half in :56, before For Dayze (John De Long) moved first-over and moved alongside the leader at three-quarters in 1:24.4. The two fillies slugged it out from there, with Bluebird Kazoom getting the best of it late to reach the wire 1½ lengths clear over For Dayze in 1:53. Help Cum Laude held for the show spot, ¾ lengths behind the winner.

The 3-year-old rookie daughter of Swan For All—Stella Kemp has won 12 of 15 on the year, racking up earnings of $320,350 for owners Hillside Stables, Indiana Stable, Hickory Hollow Stables, and Michael Rosenthal. The filly was bred by Delvin Miller, Kenneth Bontrager, and Daryl Miller, and paid $6.80 to win at the windows.

3-YEAR-OLD FILLY PACE

Whoomp has now served as Indiana Sire Stakes champion at ages 2 and 3, as she decimated the field of sophomore pacing fillies by open lengths for the team of John De Long and Roger Welch.

Away from post 2 as the 3-1 second choice, Whoomp and arch-rival Somemore Blue (Marcus Miller) dropped the gloves early, with Whoomp stinging Somemore Blue to the opening quarter in :26.3. Somemore Blue had things her way to the half in :55.2 before Whoomp was back out for more on the final turn, nose-to-nose with Somemore Blue as the fillies reached three-quarters as a team in 1:24.3. Whoomp quickly put away that foe at the head of the lane, moving away from the field as she went on to score by 4¾ lengths in 1:51.1. Keeps Miss Dixie (Brandon Bates) navigated traffic to be second at 162-1, with Klorox Queen (Trace Tetrick) rounding out the tri at 36-1.

A homebred for William and Patrick De Long who co-own with Jesse De Long, Whoomp has won five of 11 on the year for seasonal earnings of $392,250, having been no worse than second this year. The daughter of Rockin Image—Nightcap was won 13 of 24 lifetime, good for career earnings of $741,851.

2-YEAR-OLD COLT TROT

Fifty And Famous overcame starting from the second tier and a long overland journey en route to a score in the 2-year-old colt trot with Trace Tetrack in the sulky for trainer Luis Quevedo.

Leaving from post 10, Fifty And Famous was away sixth in the early stages while Nectar Of The Gods (Mike Micallef) charged to an early lead through an opening quarter of :27.4. So Joyful (John De Long) brushed to the lead on the backstretch, clearing just after a half of :57.1 while Tetrack squeezed off the cones to follow that move on the backstretch. Left first-over on the final turn, Fifty And Famous and So Joyful hooked up at the three-quarter pole in 1:26. Battling at the head of the lane, Fifty And Famous continued to wear down the leader before trotting clear by 2½ lengths to score in 1:54.3. So Joyful held for second, with Nectar Of The Gods finishing third.

Fifty And Famous is a John Barnard homebred son of Fiftydallarbill—Dance To Fame who has won three of his last four and four of seven on the year. The colt boasts a career bankroll of $193,350 following his Super Final score.

3-YEAR-OLD COLT TROT

In the biggest upset of the evening, Nighthawk Zette shook loose late to take a wild 3-year-old colt trot at 39-1 with trainer LeWayne Miller in the bike.

Nighthawk Zette was away fourth from post 3 as Tuggin Thomas (Trace Tetrack) quickly crossed over to take the field of 10 to the opening station in :27.2. Tuggin Thomas came under fire in the middle stages, with a parked and pressing Dan D Man Can (Atlee Bender) applying pressure through middle fractions of :55.4 and 1:24.2. Tuggin Thomas jumped it off at the head of the lane,

THANK YOU

STALLION EARLY CLOSER PARTICIPANTS

This stallion payment made on horses listed below provides their foals of 2025 the opportunity to nominate to the Meadowlands Early closers for the life of the horse by making the one-time $400 Meadowlands Early Closer Participant payment. Nomination and sustaining payments on the foals of 2025 will not begin until March 2027. If the horse was bought or sold from a sale or farm that is not a sponsor, $600 must be paid to be eligible to race at the Meadowlands.

leading LeWayne Miller to act swiftly and swing off the rail from third in line and give chase to Dan D Man Can. Despite the interference, Nighthawk Zette took flight late with a :28.4 last quarter to sweep clear by 1½ lengths in 1:54.1. Dan D Man Can was a valiant second after having not seen the cones, with Inverness Ave (Kevin Lambricht) finishing third.

After going winless in six tries at 2, Nighthawk Zette has won seven of 17 on the year while banking $215,730 in 2026. Cozette Mc Avoy bred the Swan For All—Zette Starlet who was an $8,000 Harrisburg yearling purchase for owners L&S Racing, Lyndar Stables, and Richard Freese. Nighthawk Zette paid $81 to win.

3-YEAR-OLD COLT PACE

Swiss Lights shook loose in the nick of time to win in a photo over Odds On Mr Mamba in an action-packed 3-year-old colt pace for Trace Tetrick and trainer Jeff Cullipher.

Leaving from post 4, Swiss Lights charged to an early lead before being immediately challenged by Door Dash (Yannick Gingras) who held a narrow advantage on the outside to trip the timer at the opening quarter in a hot :26.1. No sooner than Door Dash worked around Swiss Lights to clear, Odds On Mr Mamba (Pete Wrenn) charged from third to grab a short-lived lead before Dancingdreamer (Dexter Dunn) continued his overland journey and moved alongside at the half in :53.4. Wrenn released Dancingdreamer to the lead, before Door Dash was back out for more and at the leader's throat in three-quarters in 1:22.2 while Swiss Lights was buried third in line along the cones.

Dancingdreamer drifted off the cones, giving clearance to Odds On Mr Mamba who fired through to grab the lead midway through the lane before Tetrack pointed Swiss Lights to a narrow gap between the retreating Dancingdreamer and Door Dash. Squeezing through the opening, Swiss Lights was fed racetrack just in time to nail Odds On Mr Mamba by a head on the wire in 1:50.2. What Nooo Waaay (John De long) was just three-parts-of-a-length back in third at 39-1 to round out the trifecta.

Owned by trainer Jeff Cullipher and Pollack Racing, Swiss Lights has won six of 13 on the year, hitting the board in every try while banking $365,422. Merlie Schwartz bred the Rockin Image—Shes Lights Out gelding who has won nine of 22 lifetime, pushing his career bankroll to $477,498. Swiss Lights paid $7.20 to win.

AGED FINALS

In the evening's opener, On To Norway ($2.20) driven by John De Long for trainer Ron Burke did the unthinkable by winning the first $75,000 INSS Aged Horses and Geldings final after an early break left him 16 lengths behind the leader at the quarter to win in 1:52 by a head over Revin For Dallars (Jordan Ross). No stranger to the winner's circle at Hoosier Park, the Muscle Massive gelding is owned by Burke Racing Stables LLC, Frank Baldachino, Black and White Stable, and Michael Rosenthal. Bred by Bennett Farms Inc of Mi, On To Norway has racked up $1,287,131 in lifetime earnings from 38 wins.

In a dominant display in race 4, Lyin' Eyes ($7.20) piloted by Joey Putnam for trainer Joe Putnam cruised to the victory in 1:50.4 by 1¼ lengths over the favored Can'ttouchthese (John De Long). The 5-year-old Odds On Equuleus—Miswave Hanover mare has won three straight for owners J P Racing LLC, Joey Putnam, and Crazy Parrot Farm. Bred by Silver Linden Farm Lyin' Eyes accumulated $591,021 in lifetime earnings.

Closing out the finals on the card, Little Rocket Man ($8.80) driven by Kyle Wilfong for trainer Ken Rucker turned back the clock striking home late to beat out Rock Shines Again (Trace Tetrack) by a neck in 1:50.1. The double millionaire, Little Rocket Man increased his lifetime earnings to $2,129,684 and notched career victory 89 in the process. Little Rocket Man is owned by Russell Beeman and Jack Beeman. The three-time Indiana Sires Stakes champion son of Rockin Image—GT Miss Royal was bred by Victory Hill Farm Inc.

You never forget your first time at the Lexington Sale

by Debbie Little

With another successful Lexington Selected Yearling Sale in the books, HRU caught up with a few Meadowlands' horsepeople to see what they remembered about their first visit to the Fasig-Tipton sales pavilion.

Trainer Ron Burke said he remembers going to his first sale in Lexington back in the day with his dad, Mickey.

"I mean, it's probably 25 or 30 years ago at least and I was 23, 22, and we came here and we thought people at these tables [at the back of the sale ring] reserved them," Ron said. "I've literally been sitting in the same spot for 25 to 30 years.

"We used to bring our own chairs and then, like probably three or four years ago, they put tables in for us. We like this even better, because now we have electronics and stuff like that. Most of us run off iPads, not books anymore; we made the switch to the iPads a couple of years ago, so it makes it easier for us."

Members of the Burke Brigade were out in force all four days of the sale.

“I remember they used to have a sale on Sunday. We would come to buy just one horse on Sunday. It was the cheapest day, and, you know, you don’t see 30 years down the road that you’d be here trying to buy most of yours on opening day.”

— Ron Burke

“It’s exciting,” Burke said. “You know, I remember they used to have a sale on Sunday. We would come to buy just one horse on Sunday. It was the cheapest day, and, you know, you don’t see 30 years down the road that you’d be here trying to buy most of yours on opening day. So, it’s cool.”

The Burkes left Kentucky with a total of 15, including four on night one.

Between breeding and buying, the Burkes have a lot of horses.

“That’s the problem,” Ron said. “That’s how we ended up having 98 babies last year. So, the goal this year is 85, 15 per cent less.”

It remains to be seen if they’ll achieve that goal.

Trainer Sarah Svanstedt said she and her husband, Ake, were at the sale a couple of times before they officially moved to the U.S. from Sweden in 2013.

“I remember when I saw the pacers the first time,” Sarah said. “Obviously, we don’t have them in Sweden, so I said to Ake, ‘Are they selling older horses here?’ He said, ‘No, that’s the pacers, Sarah.’

“So, I was like, ‘Oh my God, are they not gorgeous?’ I mean, they are completely differently built than trotters; bigger, stronger, good looking horses.

“We were impressed with the environment here in Lexington.”

According to Sarah, the Svanstedts had seen the sale in Harrisburg, PA, before coming to Lexington.

“It was really a big difference going to the sale [in Lexington] from the perspective of seeing this environment, it’s very different.

“So, I think just for the vibes, it’s very nice to be here and people like it, too. And they dress up.”

The Svanstedts bought a total of 11 in Lexington, including Night 1 session and sales-topper Hip #79 Kountry Prince ($825,000).

Like the Svanstedts, trainer Annie Stoebe and her owners, Lynn and Philomena Curry, were enjoying the atmosphere on Night 1 in the back ring. The Currys co-own the marvelous mare Elista Hanover with Stoebe.

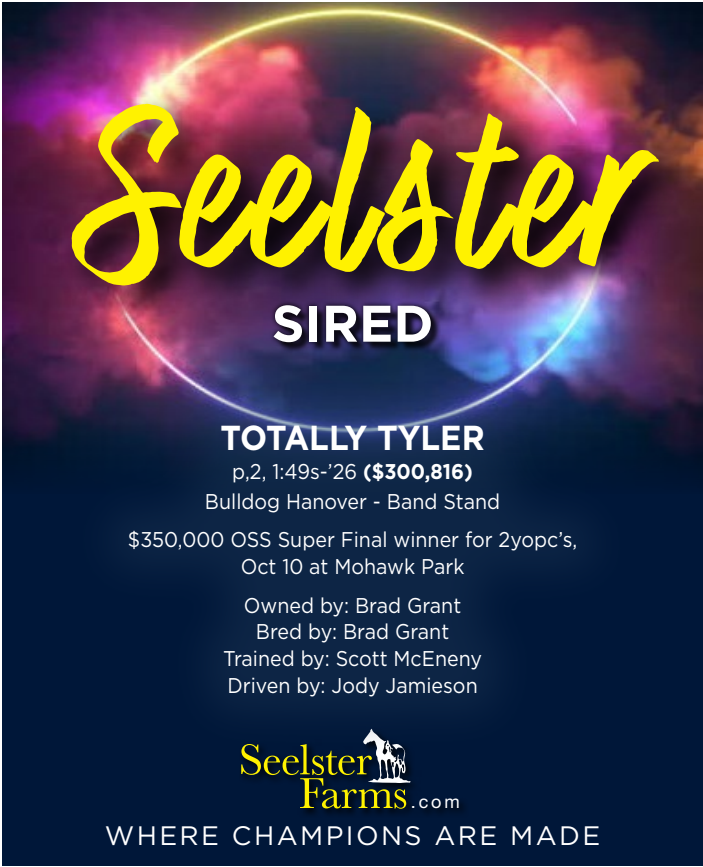

“The first time I went to the Lexington Sale, I bought Instagram Model [for Lynn Curry in 2021 for $350,000].”

This year, Stoebe said she was wearing one of her favorite outfits that she’s ever put together.

“Lexington is high fashion, I wear all designer when I’m there,” she said. “Everyone was like, ‘I had to do a double take, you’re totally channeling Lainey Wilson’ and I said, ‘Yes, that’s what I was going for.’

Also, like the Svanstedts, Stoebe had been to Harrisburg before making her first stop at the sale in Lexington.

“Lexington, it’s a whole another level,” Stoebe said. “I feel like Lexington, it’s about the experience, the dinners, the camaraderie, really nice horses, fashion, everything. Whereas, Harrisburg is show up and buy horses.”

— Annie Stoebe

“They’re completely different atmospheres. It’s apples and oranges. It’s show jumping versus rodeo. There’s a lot of pomp and circumstance about Lexington.”

Lynn Curry signed the slip this year for Hip #25 Always Juggling ($150,000), while his wife did the same for Hip #36 Elietta ($335,000).

Like Burke, most horsepeople have a spot they sit in year after year, and for trainer Marcus Melander, that’s the back ring outside the sale office.

“The first year I was here was 2014,” Melander said. “I still worked for Jimmy [Takter] and I was going to open up my own stable after the sale. So, I bought some horses, but it was like the very last day for very cheap. The first couple of days here, I just walked around, and watched all these nice horses.”

That was back before Melander had his coveted spot.

“Now, I’m in a very fortunate position to be buying a lot of horses the first couple of days here,” he said. “So, at that time in my career, you know, we could just afford a couple on the last couple of days, but it was a great experience.

“It’s very nice here compared to how the sales work in Sweden, like the arena and everything. In Sweden, it’s more maybe like Harrisburg, but it’s very nice here with all the barns and everything, so yeah, it was fun.”

Melander signed the ticket for a total of 15, but there’ll be at least two more coming his way via owner Jeffrey Snyder, who purchased Hip #4 Lake Placid ($700,000) and Hip #76 Indestructible ($600,000) on the first night of the sale.

Team Tritton, trainer Shane and driver Lauren, were sitting a little closer to the snack bar near the back ring.

“My first experience at Lexington was, day one, quite a shock,” Lauren said. “The money that gets thrown around is quite impressive, but the tremendous looking animals at this sale is one thing I do notice. There are a lot of big athletic looking horses here and it’s a prestigious sale and the farms do such a tremendous job with their horses.

Lauren said she and Shane first came to Lexington three years ago just as observers, not to buy.

“The second year we came, we bought a couple of Huntsvilles, a couple of Perfect Stings, and this year we’ve really thrown the spanner in the works and I got a couple of Chapter Sevens and Captaintreacherouses and I’m really excited to take them on board,” she said.

Lauren said the sales here are different from what she was used to back home in Australia.

“Because our foaling year was different,” she said. “It is the same now, but our foaling year was in August, so the horses were built differently. I think the ones here are more mature, bigger, and I think Australia was a little bit behind at that point and not as much money.”

Trainer/driver Joe Bongiorno has been coming to Lexington for a while, but five years ago, as part of his sister Jen Bongiorno’s stable, really stands out to him.

“The first real big year, we had an owner, this was with Jen’s stable, but Michael Cote Gagnon was a big owner of ours at the time and he’s buying a horse for me this year,” Joe said. “He’s getting back involved with us, but we bought the filly Zanatta [in 2021 for $115,000] who we did very well with.

"We also bought a filly, Bella Ciao [also 2021 for $300,000], who had a lot of residual broodmare value... she's actually selling a first foal this year, I think very early tonight [Oct. 5]. I think it's Hip #16, a very nice horse that she produced and we're hoping that she does well.

"Each year I'm getting the hang of things more and more it seems like, and just being able to get around and look at as many horses as I can look at, that are within reason and within what I'm looking for."

Bongiorno thinks some things have changed slightly over the years he's been coming to Lexington.

"I mean, it's become more and more of a trotters sale, I would say," he said. "I think you get a little bit bigger of a crowd here, but I think they spend more money here, where I think you can get a little bit more bang for your buck at Harrisburg.

"But that being said, you know, this is the place to be. Everybody loves being out here and trying to find the right one within reason."

Trainer Julie Miller and her husband/driver, Andy Miller, were also by the back ring looking for the right one to take home.

Julie was a teenager on her first visit to the sale in Lexington.

"Oh, my word, I was very young," she said. "I was probably 15 or 16. I probably stayed 10 seats back from the big players [in the main ring] and observed and said, 'Someday, I want to be them buying those nice horses.'

"The first horse I bought here was a Cambest filly. We gave $4,600 for her. We were still at Sportsman's Park at that time."

Julie said it is nice to see how things have changed since her first trip.

"The Kentucky program is just phenomenal," she said. "You feel the buzz here. I mean, this is why we do what we do. We're trying to find the next champions."

Although he doesn't have a specific spot where he sits every year, Jim Campbell remembers when you couldn't get a seat.

"I was working for Glen Garnsey and I wanted to sit inside, but back then, they were all reserved," he said. "There were so many people here back then that they were reserved for, you know, major owners and trainers, and at the Sunday sale, they weren't reserved, so it was like a big treat on the Sunday sale to go sit inside... I was in awe. I just couldn't believe it."

Even though times have changed, Campbell said it still feels special at Lexington.

"I get to sit inside now," Campbell said with a laugh. "I think they're not reserved anymore. If I'm bidding on a horse, I like to be inside. A lot of people have their preference to be out here [in the back ring], because there's action going on. It's good."

When told that the when the Burkes first came to Lexington they weren't sure if they were allowed to sit in the main ring, but now they have a spot in the back of that same ring, Campbell said with a laugh, "Well, Ronnie buys enough horses he can go sit up with the auctioneer if he wants to."

Campbell added, "A horse sale's like a horse race, you don't know what's going to happen. But the one thing, though, a good horse can come from anywhere."

BACKSTRETCH WITH GORDON

with GORDON WATERSTONE

Running on empty

by Gordon Waterstone

Well, I almost made it. I filled my gas tank a few days before things got underway for the two-week Grand Circuit meet and the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, but I had to stop to refuel on my way to The Red Mile for Saturday's (Oct. 10) closing-day race card.

I was thinking about trying to hang on for one more day, but I've been pretty much running on empty the last couple days, with my range meter showing I had about 20 miles to go.

I wrote this early Saturday morning before making my way over to The Red Mile, and as I looked out my window it was a gloomy day, with the rain beginning to fall around 11 a.m. A great week of glorious weather has turned a bit, as what's left of Hurricane Isaia has made its way to the Bluegrass. You will know exactly how things went when you read this, but temperatures weren't expected to reach only the high 60s, with rain — sometimes heavy and wind gusts of 25-30 mph — to play a role in the racing.

In a final look at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale results, 746 trotters and pacers were sold for a gross of over $60 million. That was an all-time record average of $81,230.

Congratulations to my sponsors, Steve and Cindy Stewart's Hunterton Sales Agency as they led the consignors list in gross sales as 106 yearlings sold brought $11.717 million. I'll be expecting a little bonus check soon from Steve and Cindy as I'm sure my mentions in the Backstretch column helped immensely.

With lots of people heading to Fasig-Tipton for the night's final session of the yearling sale on Thursday, I again received no dinner offers. So, while I had lunch at Drakes on my way to the afternoon races, I landed back there for dinner. And while the place was packed with people, I got lucky and a table opened up just as I walked in. I ordered off the Malone's menu and enjoyed a delicious filet with a shrimp cocktail appetizer. Rest assured Tom Charters, I was my own sponsor this night.

I didn't intend on giving away my dinner plans on Thursday but I had to as I had to mention who was sitting at a nearby table. Huddled together was a group of about 10 University of Kentucky football players, including quarterback Kenny Minchey, who was the only one I recognized.

I skipped lunch on Friday and arrived at The Red Mile about an hour before post time. With Gabe Prewitt needed to be at Harrah's Hoosier Park for duties on the FOX Sports show highlighting the Indiana Sires Stakes finals, Northfield Park announcer Kenny Livengood was enlisted to be his replacement for the day.

As usual my first stop was to see Bessie and beg for a program, and she always obliges me. As I was sitting and going through the races, Jessica Otten came in. Jessica also asked Bessie for a program. Jessica is also a native Michigander, and we talked for a few minutes.

Jessica told me recently somebody else had fetched a program for her, which she had ready when she started her handicapping analysis on the in-house simulcast show. She told me that she had handicapped the card in advance, but when she opened the new program things didn't match. The program she was looking at was from 2025. So, she quickly found her correct program and carried on as the professional she is.

I walked around the apron a little bit before making my way up to a grandstand box to watch the races. As usual, agent Nick was nearby as was Bill Bigler. John Fodera walked by and said hello, as did Jason Nielsen. Jason told me he was in search of me to say thanks for the Backstretch mention in the previous column. He invited me to have lunch in the clubhouse but I declined as I wanted to soak in the sunshine and great weather.

The first race on the card was won by the Andy McCarthy-driven, Marna Shehan-trained Captain Crujido. It was the first win of the year in 22 starts for the 4-year-old gelded son of Captain Crunch, and the 1:53.2 effort was a career best. Captain Crujido is owned by Red Mile photographer Amanda Stephens, and I checked the winner's circle to see if she handed off her camera to somebody else so she could join in the photo. Alas, she did not. After the race, Andy was congratulated by Red Mile officials for recently reaching the 4,000-win mark for his career, and interviewed by Hollywood Heyden.

After a few races I took another walk on the apron and saw Trackman Greg Coon standing with Red Mile president/CEO Joe Costa and CFO/COO Shannon Cobb. I pulled Joe aside and asked if he could definitively tell me where the new Margaritaville hotel was going to be built as I had heard a couple different locations. Joe told me the new hotel will be built attached to the outside part of the clubhouse building and extending into the parking lot toward the Round Barn. I asked Joe about the parking lot that is currently there and he said the hotel will be taking the space so the main parking lot will be expanded. Joe said the hotel won't be ready in time for next year's Breeders Crown cards, but should be done sometime in 2028.

Over the past two days I had looked around as my longtime Michigan friends Ed Burke and Wendy Janes (both longtime mutuel tellers at Hazel Park and Northville Downs) had texted they'd be in town. I never saw them, and as I got home from the track yesterday, I texted Ed that they either didn't come or went to Keeneland. Ed replied that they were indeed at The Red Mile both days, and his search for me had the same result as me looking for him. Have no clue how I could miss them.

Also, when I got home, Joe Holloway called and said that he and Danny Ray were again going to enjoy the weather and have dinner at the Merrick Inn patio. Actually, Joe's words were, "We're going there and didn't want to be chastised as you did to Brian and Jennifer Brown for not inviting you when they went there for dinner." So, I joined Joe and Danny and a lot of people had the same idea as the patio was full.

Thanks to Tetrack Racing for posting a photo on its social media pages of me talking to Tim Tetrack on Thursday at The Red Mile. I'm still trying to figure out who actually took that photo. And can anybody photoshop Razor out of there for me please? Tim and I were talking about the drivers getting from Kentucky to Indiana Friday night and I saw that they all made it in time.

Yesterday morning I asked Yannick Gingras, who captured an INSS consolation, how the trip went. He told me the flight went fast and they all got to Hoosier with about 25 minutes to spare. Yannick said they landed back in Lexington at 12:45 a.m.

"It was a smooth trip for once," Yannick told me with a laugh. "So, it wasn't too bad stress wise."

I want to stop for a sec and give a shout-out to Maddie Angus who, while driving in an amateur race last Wednesday night at Northfield Park, got bumped and then dumped backwards out of the sulky. Maddie's foot got caught in the bike and she was dragged by her horse for nearly a-quarter-of-a-mile. My agent Amy Hollar also serves as the OHHA rep at Northfield Park and she told me the outrider came to Maddie's rescue and stopped the horse (the race was declared a "no contest").

Maddie, 20, posted on her Facebook page that her injuries were minimal, suffering only scraped-up arms and a sprained ankle. And that's good news.

Because of the iffy weather, I earlier asked Red Mile director of sponsorships Emily Ratcliff if she could get me a table in the clubhouse to have lunch, and she of course said "yes." I'll have a full wrap-up of not only the race card but also the entire past two weeks, racing and yearling sale combined in the Oct. 14 HRU. I'll also fill you in on what I paid for gas, which I believe will be $3.14 a gallon as I have a dollar off a gallon with my Kroger points.

On my way home Friday from The Red Mile, I saw a couple of stations with a price of $4.09 and diesel at $6.39. I also saw a photo of $3.52 a gallon at the Wawa in Nicholasville, so if you want to drive about 30 minutes to get that bargain price you can certainly do so.

TALES FROM THE CURMUDGEON

with MURRAY BROWN

Mission impossible, pacing edition

by Murray Brown

The mission, if we choose to accept it, is to build a broodmare band from the yearling fillies on offer at the upcoming Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA.

Pick 10 fillies from each gait in order of preference. Price is not a factor.

We will begin this week with the pacing fillies and continue next week with the trotters.

The necessities in order of preference:

1. Being a sibling to a great or near great racehorse. More than one top sibling is an obvious plus.
2. Tracing to a top maternal family.
3. Depth of the pedigree, meaning that the yearling's grandam should also be a quality producer.
4. Conformation and size, two factors which at this time will be passed over, since I have not seen any of the fillies.
5. Ability and race performance of the dam is not a necessity, but certainly adds to the overall picture.
6. The sire of the filly is secondary. Obviously a more successful sire adds to the equation, but a sire perceived as being great is not necessary.
7. We are operating on the premise that we are buying a broodmare. The filly's racing potential is secondary. If she races well, great! But we are not looking for a racehorse.

PACING FILLIES

Hip #16 Amethyst Hanover — Bulldog Hanover—American Jewel—American Ideal. This filly scores on all my prerequisites. She is a sibling to three stakes winners including Odds On Platinum ($945,658). She comes from the greatest pacing family in the sport's long history, that of May Dodge and this illustrious branch of it that traces to Three Diamonds.

Note: An added bonus is that American Jewel's daughter Coronet, produced the highest priced pacer of 2026, the Bulldog Hanover colt, Hey Bulldog who brought $500,000 at last week's Lexington sale

Hip #175 Future Holds — Captaintreacherous—Trim Hanover—Camluck. Much like Hip #16, above, this filly checks all the boxes and possesses all the attributes. In human terms, this filly is the maternal aunt of Amethyst Hanover, Trim Hanover being the dam of American Jewel. I might give the former a slight edge because American Jewel is obviously younger than Trim Hanover and was better, perhaps significantly better on the racetrack.

See the note in Amethyst Hanover's pedigree where Trim Hanover's granddaughter, Coronet produced the highest priced pacer of 2026.

Hip #30 Empower Hanover — Captaintreacherous—Eloquent Grace—Well Said. A sibling to three multiple stakes winners including Ervin Hanover ($1,511,150). Great depth on both the first and second dams, Eloquent Grace herself being a stakes winning half-sister to millionaires Ginger And Fred ($1,928,158) and Fred And Ginger ($1,053,740). Her only negative to me is that she doesn't descend from May Dodge.

Hip #11 Avigonon Hanover — Captaintreacherous—Aria Hanover—Well Said. A sister to four stakes winners including Blue Diamond Eyes ($1,340,144), Fallout ($962,695), and Captain Kirk ($431,865). She is yet another descendent from pacing's greatest maternal family and from the branch that comes through Three Diamonds.

Hip #138 Suella Hanover — Stay Hungry—Santa Rosa—Western Ideal. Half-sister to multiple stakes winners Pebble Beach ($1,720,875), and Sea Bistro Hanover ($294,867). From a stakes winning sibling to the millionaires Vintage Master ($2,160,953) and Great Vintage ($1,510,226).

Hip #352 Stellar Stella — Bulldog Hanover—I'm With Her—Bettors Delight. Out of a daughter to Hall of Fame broodmare Hattie. Half-sister to Meadowlands Pace winner Beach Glass ($1,112,544). From a half-sister to Meadowlands Pace winner Holborn Hanover ($2,070,648), Hyperion Hanover ($1,187,758), and Hillbilly Hanover ($982,595).

Hip #458 Princess Hanover — Captaintreacherous—Percy Bluechip—Shadow Play. Sister to multiple stakes winner Prince Hal Hanover ($1,707,962). From multiple stakes winner Percy Bluechip ($874,267), a sister or half-sister to stakes winners Kenneth J ($1,562,007) and Arthur Blue Chip ($524,707).

Hip #211 Auguilla Hanover — Captaintreacherous—Anderosa Hanover—The Panderosa. Sister or half-sister to four stakes winners including world champion Allywag Hanover ($2,337,342), Autotune Hanover ($448,665), Armada Hanover ($388,724), and Aleppo Hanover ($204,985).

Hip #98 Mizzlolu Hanover — Sweet Lou—Mayhem Seelster—Mach Three. Although this filly's family is relatively new in terms of great performance and not what I consider a very deep one, her multiple stakes winning dam Mayhem Seelster ($300,709) has been an incredibly consistent producer of high-quality racehorses including Mirage Hanover ($950,404), Mad Max Hanover ($906,863), Milieu Hanover ($424,822), Millie May Hanover ($232,201), and Mollop Hanover ($131,832). The filly's super sire Sweet Lou brings an intriguing new dimension to her pedigree.

Hip #320 Five Spice Hanover — Stay Hungry—Francia—Art Major. This filly represents the other great branch of the May Dodge family, this one tracing to Romola. It's noted for producing high speed individuals. In recent years, the super sires Captaintreacherous and Downbytheseaside trace to Romola. This filly is a sibling to world champion and multiple stakes winner Frantic Hanover ($625,724 at 2 and 3).

MANE ATTRACTION

with JOHN BERRY

When opportunity knocks, why don't we listen?

by John Berry

When the great Super Chapter tied the track record for 4-year-old trotting horses at Dayton Raceway last Saturday night (Oct. 3) in 1:50.2, it spawned yet another Mane Attraction column pointing out some changes needed in our grand sport.

In speaking with a few of our BDHC (Broken Down Horseplayers Club) members, two sides of an argument surfaced — the first being “Who cares?” and the second being, “Again? We’ve fallen that much more behind in this world of technology?”

One BDHC member lamented, “I thought the exacta was ‘cold’ and was happy to cash a $20 exacta ticket.

“I could care less about the time of a race.

“It has no meaning to me.”

Yet one of our other BDHC purists had a different view.

He said, “How do you know it wasn’t a track record?”

“After all, 1:50.2 can mean anywhere from 1:50.200 to 1:50.399, and you’d think the owner, trainer, and breeder might want to be a record holder, instead of a co-record holder.

“A track record is a headline, and we need as many headlines as we can get.”

He has a point, and a valid one, indeed.

In the old days, harness racing was timed in quarter-seconds and, then, we became modernized and, in the early 1950s, we embraced timing races in fifths-of-a-second.

That was 75 years ago!

As we all know, this year’s Hambletonian was decided by two one-thousandths-of-a-second.

This modern technology further proves — and is just one example — of how far we are behind the times.

When I was with Pompano Park, this real technology was available — and has been — at least for the last 25 years. I used it for headlines. The industry has failed to use it.

A brief example was back in 2005 when Talk About Me, driven by Mickey McNichol, went 1:56.2.

A couple of weeks later, Railee Possible, handled by Wally Hennessey, also trotted in 1:56.2.

“I thought the exacta was ‘cold’ and was happy to cash a $20 exacta ticket. I could care less about the time of a race. It has no meaning to me.”

— One BDHC member

I checked with Eddie “the timer” at PPK and Talk About Me actually trotted in 1:55.420 and Railee Possible’s mile was clocked in 1:55.478.

One might conclude that it’s no big deal.

To me, it was a headline.

There are dozens, hundreds, maybe thousands of headlines just waiting to be unearthed, and we need every one of them. They are gold mines in my opinion.

And, as time’s fly and more records are equaled, the timing of races could not be more important to breeders, owners, potential owners, and buyers.

The horses are so fast these days and the records are being broken by fifths-of-a-second.

While Bulldog Hanover stands alone at the top of the list at 1:45.4, there are three tied at 1:46 — Allywag Hanover, Always B Miki, and Lather Up.

Doesn’t anyone have an interest on which horse is really second on the list?

Each fifth-of-a-second finds a more crowded list which could be easily defined by getting their time in 1000ths-off-a-second.

That may seem trite to many of you, but we have to start somewhere, and some time.

Heck, even thoroughbred announcers at some tracks give quarter times in hundredths-of-a-second.

It’s not rocket science.

Heck, I am 83 and still care about our grand sport and fully realize that significant change will not come during my lifetime.

Had change begun 25 years ago, it might have been different.

If we wait 25 years longer, this sport might be on the last of its four legs.

Look, I am not the only one who cares deeply. There are others that care, too.

A few names come to mind: Gordon Banks, Dana Parham, Virgil Morgan, Eric Cherry, and Dein Spriggs.

There are others, of course, but we need the minds of business people who are involved in our sport, as opposed to an attorney who is involved in our sport who keeps a close eye on a five nanogram count that might have nothing to do with a horse's performance but was arbitrarily written on the rulebooks.

Even horsemen and women involved could lend a hand with their ideas, if they aren't structured on individual pet peeves that may not be beneficial to the broader scope of luring new owners and fans into the great sport of harness racing.

How many fines are issued on a weekly basis for whipping violations?

This stiff penalties gives our sport a muddled name.

We've offered a viable suggestion to handle just the situation with whipping violations.

We have had the same saddle pads for, well, forever, and that whipping problem could be completely eradicated by lengthening saddle pads extended to the horse's rump with the extension padded with foam to eliminate the possibility of welts or striping which may be seen in today's environment.

We need a re-design of our programs with interesting stories and comps that make a $2 or $3 program worth it.

Discount coupons to neighboring businesses from restaurants to $500 discounts on a new car, a 30 per cent discount to your casino restaurant or $5 for $10 in free slot play.

Consider it a value pack to our horseplayers.

New information in the program could include printing times every eighth-of-a-mile in last performance lines: :13.2, :27.3, :41.1, :55.2, 1:10. 1:23.3, 1:37.2, 1:50.4. Maybe nightly features including stories, historical events, and winner's circle drawings.

We do nothing to bring in new fans these days.

We need a lure — like a lure of at least a $500,000 nightly-named event with a lottery like increase when not hit — to bring bettors back to harness racing.

It doesn't have to be equine related — just show bettors the money.

How about a "Great Eight" where the bettor selects seven winners and a trifecta in the eighth leg?

It could be a 50-cent based bet with a low take-out (to be determined) with minimal payouts for consecutive winners and a consolation prize for the first seven winners but not the final leg trifecta.

Can one imagine the interest when this grows to unfathomable heights?

For the ones that are already throwing cold water on this idea, well, that's exactly why our industry is losing market shares, we do not try anything new.

We also need a board of directors that are not interested in power as this sport needs a commissioner that knows how to market a sport — like in Major League Baseball, the NFL, NBA, NHL, MLS, and any other major sport.

Major League Baseball has its strike zone where a batter or catcher can challenge, and a pitch clock to speed things up.

They are continually modernizing.

You'll find new innovations in every sport.

The 24-second shot clock in the NBA.

Pro football has the new kickoff rule.

It adds interest to the games.

We need modernized, universal rules encompassing all jurisdictions, not different ones for each state.

Other topics that might be worthy of discussion: less races, more entries (mutuels have no value), too many exotic bets in a race water down the pools, re-draws eliminating horses going from post 1 to post 9, prop betting, the "fill it or kill it" proposal, eliminate the drag between races, it upsets the fans, and 24-hour world-wide coverage of harness racing around the globe,

Our sport can no longer cater to power hungry personnel that, simply, will not give up their power, even to save our, hopefully, viable industry.

Too bad.

May The Horse Be With You!

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

A bunch of Breeders Crown facts

by Bob Heyden

Fans, handicappers, tire kickers, it's Breeders Crown time and this should get you started.

1. Seven of the top 12 Crown money-winning pacing sires in history were themselves HOY, but not so much on the trotting side, where just three of the top 50 were: No. 1 (Muscle Hill), No. 5 (Chapter Seven) and No. 27 (Malabar Man).

2. Jason Bartlett not only got his first two Breeders Crowns in 2025, but also two runners-up (Coaches Corner and Dandy Ideal), all with the boys.

3. Ron Burke has won the 3YOFP four times, all with homebreds.

4. In 2021, there were a record eight photos to decide the Breeders Crowns: two noses, five heads, and a neck. In 2002 and 2012 not a single photo was required.

5. From 2014-17 Yannick Gingras won the 2YOFT.

6. Always B Miki reached eight Breeders Crown credits faster than any other stallion on either gait: 39 8-2-5.

7. George Segal and Brittany Farms have an astounding nine Breeders Crown 2-Year-Old Filly Trots to their credit including three straight from 2004-06 that they owned and bred.

8. Marcus Melander has seven Breeders Crowns. The first six were sired by Chapter Seven. Only Greenshoe's Meshuggah broke the streak in 2025.

9. Chapter Seven is the only sire in the Open Trot to have both sired a winner in this division (Gimpanzee in 2020) and won it himself (2012).

10. The 3YOCP has actually had 12 different winning drivers the last 12 editions. The most in any division without a repeater.

11. Female trainers won six of 10 Breeders Crown 3YOCPs from 2009-2019: Tracy Brainard (2009), Casie Coleman (2011 and 2014), Linda Toscano (2012), Jamie Macomber (2017), and Tahnee Camilleri (2019).

12. Unusual that the 3YO and the Older trotters have the same stakes record of 1:50.1. Could this be the year of the first sub 1:50 Breeders Crown trotting mile?

13. Triple Crown winners have had a tough go in the Breeders Crown: Glidemaster (second in 2006), Marion Marauder (unable to fend off Bar Hopping and Southwind Frank in 2016), and Windsong's Legacy (who passed on the Crown entirely in 2004 after nailing down the Triple Crown.

George Segal and Brittany Farms have an astounding nine Breeders Crown 2-Year-Old Filly Trots to their credit including three straight from 2004-06 that they owned and bred.

14. The two stakes record holders in the 2YOFP are both Burke homebreds: Loua Dipa in 1:49.1 (2025) and My Girl EJ in 1:49.2 (2023).

15. A pair of 60-1 winners in the same Crown year is unprecedented. The only time was 2025: The Last Martini at 68-1 and Meshuggah at 62-1.

16. Dr. Ian Moore broke through on the Breeders Crown stage at Hoosier Park in 2020 with Century Farroh.

17. Walner has the longest active Breeders Crown sire streak at four years.

18. Nancy Takter has won at least one Breeders Crown in eight different years with three of those multiple winning seasons.

19. The last horse older than 5 to win the Open Crown Pace was 7YO McWicked in 2018.

20. Trond Smedshammer won the 3YOFT four times including three straight from 2003-05. Nobody has done three in a row since in this division.

21. Dexter Dunn won four of his first five attempts in the Open Mare Trot.

22. The Breeders Crown surpasses 500 total Crowns in their history at Scioto.

23. Hall of Famer Ron Pierce had a stranglehold on the freshman Crown pacing colt division. He won six of 16 from 1998-2013 starting it off with history's first ever 1:50 flat 2-year-old Badlands Hanover at Colonial.

24. The top four finishers from the 2YOCP from 2025 have all won major stakes in 2026: Beau Jangles Al Papi Melillo and Brandon Blvd.

EUROPEAN REPORT

with THOMAS HEDLUND

Djuse Brothers unstoppable in Swedish Trotting Kriterium

by Thomas Hedlund

Mattias trains. Mats drives.

After setting a world record in his elimination, Nanda Devi Cut certainly hadn't taken a step backward in either development or form heading into Saturday's (Oct. 10) $600,000 Swedish Trotting Kriterium at Solvalla. And from the front, he was simply unbeatable.

Mats E. Djuse had Nanda Devi Cut (Maharajah—Himalaya Cut) perfectly under control when the gate released the field for the 2026 edition of Sweden's biggest race for 3-year-old colts and geldings. The pair reached the lead without much trouble, while one of their main rivals, Steady Spender, made a break shortly after the start.

Po Tay Toes left well from the rail, allowing Fredrik Plassen to secure the pocket with the Björn Röcklinger trainee. Röcklinger's other starter, Intro, began from post 8, and Magnus A. Djuse gradually worked his way forward to race first-over. Once Intro settled outside the leader, the race became somewhat locked up.

Favorite Kodiak Zet was taken back to third-over by Örjan Kihlström, who launched a three-wide move with one lap remaining. But that long backstretch proved too demanding for Kodiak Zet, who had nothing left to seriously challenge for a top placing in the stretch.

Instead, the finish belonged to Nanda Devi Cut, Intro, and Po Yay Toes. Neutron Star, driven by Claes Sjöström, also produced a tremendous late rally on the far outside and wasn't far from reaching the podium. However, he couldn't catch Intro (Ready Express) for third.

Po Tay Toes (Calgary Games) finished second, giving Björn Röcklinger two horses among the top three. But neither could do anything about Nanda Devi Cut. The Mattias Djuse-trained colt captured the Swedish Trotting Kriterium in a 1:56.2 mile rate for 2,640 meters.

"What a day!" Mats E. Djuse said. "It turned out even better than we could have dreamed. We were able to control the pace the entire way. Absolutely magical.

"It's overwhelming, and I'm so happy for Mattias. Right now, my head actually feels empty and confused, even though I had a good feeling going into both Kriterium races.

"Maybe it was a shame there wasn't more pressure, because now people will probably say it was a falsely run race. I would have loved to show just how good this horse really is."

For trainer Mattias, watching his younger brother guide Nanda Devi Cut to victory was an emotional moment. It was the first Swedish Trotting Kriterium victory of his training career, and finding the words afterward wasn't easy.

"We work so hard every single day, and those are the emotions that come out when you win the races you've always dreamed about," Mattias Djuse said. "It feels incredible to have won the Kriterium."

Nanda Devi Cut also delivered a special milestone for his sire, Maharajah. The Swedish superstar won the Kriterium himself in 2008, and now he has finally sired a winner of the same race. Seven previous Maharajah offspring had reached the final, with Our Pride producing the best result when finishing third. On his eighth attempt as a sire, Maharajah finally got his Kriterium winner.

ZEEBREEZE GIVES MATS E. DJUSE A SWEDISH CLASSIC DOUBLE

The $450,000 Swedish Trotting Oaks for 3-year-old fillies produced a thrilling finish at Solvalla, with Daniel Wäjersten emerging as the winning trainer. But it wasn't the filly he drove himself.

Instead, Mats E. Djuse completed a remarkable classic double by guiding Zeebreeze to victory.

There was never much doubt about who would lead the Oaks early. I See Tail Lights, trained by Markus B. Svedberg, is exceptionally quick behind the gate, and with SEK 2.25 million awaiting the winner, there was every reason to use that early speed. The unbeaten Nightbird made a break in the opening battle, while Zeebreeze (Gimpanzee—Caddie Lisieux) and Mats E. Djuse were caught three-wide before eventually settling first-over on the opening backstretch.

Favorite Global Halo moved from third-over with 1,300 meters remaining, and Joakim Lövgren was able to advance into the first-over position a couple of hundred meters later. I See Tail Lights continued to lead, with Global Halo applying pressure on the outside. Approaching the final turn, Kagli Zet launched a three-wide move, but she began struggling to stay with the leading pair with 300 meters remaining.

Then came the decisive moment. Just as the field turned for home, Kagli Zet broke stride, opening a path for Zeebreeze, who had been following Global Halo. Mats E. Djuse

“What a day! It turned out even better than we could have dreamed. [Nanda Devi Cut and I] were able to control the pace the entire way. Absolutely magical. It’s overwhelming, and I’m so happy for [my brother/trainer] Mattias. Right now, my head actually feels empty and confused, even though I had a good feeling going into both Kriterium races. Maybe it was a shame there wasn’t more pressure, because now people will probably say it was a falsely run race. I would have loved to show just how good this horse really is.”

— Mats E. Djuse

immediately took advantage. Zeebreeze found room early in the stretch and set off after Global Halo, who had taken command. Global Halo fought on strongly, but despite her demanding early trip, Zeebreeze had enough left to wear down the favorite and capture the Swedish Trotting Oaks in a 1:55.3 mile rate for 2,140 meters.

“I really like this filly,” Mats E. Djuse said. “She’s easy to drive and very nice to work with, although we had a pretty tough beginning.

“Things worked out perfectly when Calle’s horse made a break. I pulled the earplugs because I thought there was far too much money on the line not to use them.”

Wäjersten, meanwhile, was far back in the field with Morning Rain and couldn’t make up ground on the leaders in the stretch. He didn’t immediately realize that his other filly had won.

“I’m extremely happy,” Wäjersten said. “Around the final turn, I could see that things were starting to work out for Zeebreeze. Then I concentrated on driving my own horse, and when I saw the cameras focusing on her after the finish, I understood that she’d won.

“She’s a filly with an outstanding pedigree.”

It was Wäjersten’s second Swedish Trotting Oaks victory. Two years ago, he drove Vivillion (Propulsion) to victory in the prestigious race.

Global Halo (Ready Cash) was gallant in defeat, finishing second, while early leader I See Tail Lights (Maharajah) held well for third.

Zeebreeze is both owned and bred by Lennart Ågren’s S R F Stable, which also holds an ownership interest in her sire, Gimpanzee.

Her dam, Caddie Lisieux (Ready Cash—Caddie Dream), was an accomplished race mare who earned more than SEK 3.7 million. Caddie Lisieux was also the heavy favorite in her Swedish Trotting Oaks elimination, but her chances disappeared with a break.

For Ågren, Saturday’s victory ended an 11-year wait.

“It’s been 11 years since we won the Swedish Trotting Oaks with Spoil Me, so this feels really good,” he said.

The pedigree makes Zeebreeze’s victory even more interesting. Her second dam, Caddie Dream (Viking Kronos—Fatima Lavec), won the Breeders Crown and finished second in the Swedish Trotting Oaks.

Caddie Dream also produced Readly Express (Ready Cash), the Prix d’Amérique winner who has become one of Europe’s leading stallions.

That makes Zeebreeze a granddaughter of Caddie Dream and a close relative of Readly Express.

And on a day when the Djuse brothers celebrated a Kriterium victory with a son of Maharajah, Mats E. Djuse added another Swedish classic to his résumé aboard a filly from one of Europe’s most distinguished trotting families.

Money management makes the pari-mutuel world go 'round, Part 3

by Frank Coltole

Part 1 is here.

Part 2 is here.

"One month early in my [pari-mutuel] betting I had a string of win bets all finishing second," said an amateur pari-mutuel bettor I knew some decades back. "So, I decided to play all the horses I bet to win also to place. I would bet more to win and a little less to place. Obviously, my bets per race increased but I felt I'd better cover my chances to win that way."

"What happened?"

"It was crazy. Most of the horses I played to win and place began to come in third or finished off the board. And if they only came in second, I hardly made back the win bet I lost."

"Then what did you do?"

"Then I just played my pick across the board."

"And?"

"And I wound up losing money trying to cover all the possible payoff angles. I guess it was always good to cash a ticket but any way I bet hardly made me anything. I'm starting to take it personally, get me?"

That is not a bettor's curse – for those apt to believe some strange forces govern the results of people wagering on anything; or worse, that some people are born with or without a blessing of luck that favors gambling pursuits and/or even others convinced luck is a mystical deity defining all moments when risk is involved.

The truth is money management is responsible for winning or losing at any pari-mutuel engagement. All the knowledge about pari-mutuel race wagering at a decent clip is bound to pave a road to the poorhouse if you cannot adhere to a proven method of what you bet and when you bet and if you bet at all. The problems to launch the best money-management system come from professional players.

First and foremost, money management (MM) demands an understanding of arithmetic. Professional bettor Barry Meadow said, "You don't need to solve calculus problems or comprehend algebraic topology. The math [skills] you need are simple concepts you probably mastered in elementary school." And he warns: "Unfortunately, while most of us used to be smarter than a fifth-grader, our knowledge may fade with disuse."

Do not fret. Most of the numerical documented demands for sustaining the potency of a betting bankroll – no less keeping it in the black – are not labor-heavy. More about that as soon as the MM system is based on a "devoted bankroll." To be exact we must define what a devoted bankroll is and is not.

- A devoted bankroll is not the amount of money that can fit in your pants' pockets. Even if that amount is carefully folded apart from your wallet's cash.
- A devoted bankroll is not a particular amount you promise yourself not to lose more than in any one wagering session.
- A devoted bankroll is not allowed to support the beverages and/or food you spend during any wagering sessions at home or an off-track betting area.
- A devoted bankroll is not off-the-cuff information. It documents all information on its use. Simple accounting is accepted but all wagering activities must be recorded and signed off by the gambler in bookkeeping fashion.
- A devoted bankroll is not any "days' worth of bets." No gambler should ever own a mindset aimed at losing less at any time; even when any one wagering session has not concluded. The aim is always making a bankroll larger and directed to each wager to accomplish the ultimate peak of action: profit.
- A devoted bankroll must exist for its sole purpose: to make the appropriate wagers (details to come) specified and or adjusted in the MM plan.
- A devoted bankroll must be designed, guarded, monitored, and carefully maintained. It must be respected and guarded and the owner must be staunch about its survival and potency when increased and/or decreased through use.

Always be aware the betting bankroll is the blood and guts of the serious – as well as the professional – pari-mutuel player.

There is no excuse for the care a bettor takes concerning a bankroll. It can be simple. And though the most data you get from its use will be instrumental for keeping you alive in the game, it will only be loyal if you treat it as the prodigious tool it is meant to be.

The other elements of MM – which I will explain as this topic continues – will demand as much emotional attention as do the mechanical elements. Used properly the care of your MM plan will expand a bettors' chances of profit and they should become joyful tasks. Make no mistake about this also: MM duties and rules will find values in the areas of your handicapping. You will grow a feeling a general control over the adventures of playing the ponies.

CHAPTER 9

Caretaker

Detectives Hooley and Marchais found Peter Pettigrew standing in the aisle of barn 6, brushing a large brown horse. The horse trainer had hooked each side of the bridle to a pair of crossties. He tossed the brush into an empty plastic bucket, crouched down, and then ran his hand down the horse's left front leg. He lifted the foot and examined the hoof with the concentration of a man about to repair a valuable clock.

Marchais took a seat on a bale of straw. Hooley remained standing in the aisle behind the horse.

"You might want to move up, even with the horse's belly, just in case he decides to kick."

Hooley moved to the side of the horse.

"Figured you guys would visit."

Hooley scratched his head. "This racetrack stuff is the craziest business we have seen for a long time. We aren't sure if this is just a messy divorce or a swindle. Let me ask you a simple question. Peter, are you a crook?"

Peter chuckled and slowly shook his head. "No... I am not a crook."

"Is your cousin a crook?"

"It shouldn't take two detectives to answer that."

"Then why in the hell did you get tangled up with him?"

Peter sighed. "I ask myself that every day. It's complicated. Families are complicated. My cousin has always been very complicated, like the human genome is complicated. But he crossed the line the first day you guys visited."

"How?"

"He badmouthed my girlfriend, Amy. She can't stand him. They had a scene. When she called me, I called him, and told him to stay away."

Hooley took his time. "Peter, I understand you don't want to get him in trouble. You don't want any trouble. We don't want any trouble. But this is my last day working in law enforcement. I'm curious. How about giving us a rundown of the past nine months?"

Using a roll of green leg-wrapping material, he began wrapping the left leg. After a pause, he spoke softly as he worked.

"Alex rolled into town about nine months ago, full of his bullshit stories. Said he was just passing through. We offered him a bed in the basement for one night. That was a big mistake."

Hooley pushed, "He's family, right?"

"Right, and our family is a car crash. Lucky for Amy and me, he quickly began seeing the red-haired woman. He spent his time setting that trap, and, like, in a week, he rented a condo. Maybe a month later, they get married."

"We know about that, but what about the horse and the horse business?"

"Alex doesn't know diddly squat about horses or horse racing. He came to the barns with me twice, and, of course, being Alex, he believed he knew everything and that he was going to buy the horse I was drooling over."

"You already had your eyes on Assets Accepted?"

He nodded. "When Alex dropped in, it was fall, the time of year that racing has yearling sales. He saw all my catalogs, worksheets, and notes."

Hooley stepped forward and stroked the side of the horse and said, "You were horse shopping."

"Yeah. I have a small stable, usually about five racehorses, ordinary racehorses, not expensive stakes horses. But once in a while I swing for the fences and buy a yearling, an unproven young horse."

"Some of that is confusing, but I get the gist."

Peter gave the horse a pat on the chest and said, "You probably won't understand this either, for those of us who play this sport, out of the hundreds of babies we consider, a buyer can get fixated on one yearling. I was attracted to this horse like steel to a magnet."

"Assets Accepted?"

"Yep. I knew this filly would be out of my price range. But for my cousin, everything is a challenge, an angle, a con, including me. That's how he rolls."

Hooley screwed up his face as if he'd bitten into a lemon. "But, well, he's Alex."

"Yeah, yeah, I know. We went round and round about the horse, and I said I would never get in a partnership with him until I saw his money. Not only did I need to see it. I would need it deposited in my account, no promissory notes, no BS. We had a bit of a scene in my front yard, and he stormed off."

"Physical?"

"No. Just yelling. The next day, he called me and said I should check my business account. I hung up and checked my phone. I was shocked, more than shocked, to see that $50,000 had been deposited into my account. I have no idea where he got that money."

"We have a good idea about the cash flow," said Hooley.

Peter finished wrapping the left leg and moved to the right leg. The horse snorted and shifted his weight.

"The money was legit. I double-checked with the bank. We went to the sale. Alex found the action at the horse auction was in his wheelhouse, the greatest thing he had ever seen. It was exciting. We had to wait for 211 yearlings to go through the sales ring because Assets Accepted was #212 to walk into the sales ring."

"And you bought the horse?"

"Yes, my maximum was $45,000, but most of us horse folks write that in invisible ink. I had a little horse auction fever. The final price was $60,000. I had $15,000, and after Alex put $50,000 into the account, we could cover the horse."

Peter paused, gathering his thoughts.

"I figured we were all set, 25 per cent for me, 76 per cent for him, but on the drive home, with the horse in my trailer, he tells me he has two other people who want to buy in. Right there, less than one hour after I do a deal with him, the deal changes. At this point, I'm thrilled with the horse, and nervous as hell to have my cousin and two mysterious people as partners."

"He didn't have the two partners going in?" asked Hooley.

"No, Alex said he had an interested person or two. He said not to worry about it. He was so confident that he would sell shares of his ownership, it's like, if Alex believes something is going to happen, it has already happened. He really is delusional."

Hooley said. "We interviewed the ladies from Topeka."

"Then you probably know I begged them not to get involved. Didn't matter. They each paid $15,000 for the horse and are paying their share of the expenses."

The horse trainer stood and stretched.

"Now, if you freeze a moment in time, say a day back in March, this should be a happy story. We have dreams of a great trotting filly. We each own one quarter of her and are hoping for a great ride with this racehorse. For Alex, it is probably a free ride. Remember, this is my cousin, Alex Pettigrew, so happy stories don't stay happy very long."

"It's not a pretty story, how he got the money," said Hooley.

"I'm guessing he grabbed the money from the woman he hustled into marriage, but I'm not sure."

"What went wrong?" asked Hooley.

"The filly got good."

Hooley waited.

"The better she got; the worse Alex got."

Ontario Sired horses more valuable than ever heading into London Classic Yearling Sale

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

New government funding for Ontario's standardbred industry and a diverse and powerful stallion lineup are two key reasons Greg Blanchard said he's bullish about this year's London Classic Yearling Sale (LCYS) to be held Oct. 13 and 14 at the J-AAR Expo Centre (formerly the Agriplex) at the Western Fair District in London, ON.

"I'm really optimistic that it's going to be a be a good sale for everybody this year," said Blanchard, the LCYS sale manager about the auction which features predominantly Ontario-sired yearlings. "That's based on what we've seen elsewhere with the other sales where the numbers seem to be strong, and that we've got a tremendous catalog. It's as deep as we've ever had here, maybe the deepest.

"Also, there is the good news [about additional government funding] that we got in Ontario earlier this summer, and more recent good news surrounding [increases for] Ontario-sired horses and the earning potential that lies ahead. I think everything's in place for what we hope is going to be a really good sale."

In June, Ontario Racing announced that the provincial government had directed $35 million in additional funding annually for the next five years to the province's horse racing industry counting all three racing breeds together.

The standardbred industry's share was more than $14 million. Of that, the vast majority is going to purses and horse improvement programs.

There is about $5 million in new money for the Standardbred Improvement Program (SIP) that conducts, among other programs, the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) that will increase to more than $17 million for 2027.

In addition to the purses in the OSS program, there will also be more than $5.5 million in restricted purses for Ontario-sired horses next year.

Counting all purses, there will be nearly $23 million restricted to Ontario-sired horses for 2027.

"Honestly, things have been flat in Ontario for the last decade since SARP [the Slots at Racetracks Program] was canceled [in 2013]," Blanchard said. "So, this [new funding] was long overdue and welcome good news for the industry. The thing I like is that the money is spread out over the overnight programs all across the province, and through the Ontario Sires Stakes as well as a lot of the new Ontario restricted events, and will bolster some existing stakes races that support the Ontario breeders. So, I think it's good news for everybody.

"I think the climate is a lot more appealing now for folks to invest in Ontario. [It was already] one of strongest provincial programs anywhere in North America, but now the overall industry has received a boost. So, you can go to the sale with a bit more confidence that you've got different ways to recoup that money with your purchase."

Hall of Famer Jim Bullock said his Glengate Farms of Erin, ON will sell 10 yearlings in London this year via the Preferred Equine consignment.

"I've taken Ontario horses to both Lexington and Harrisburg over the years, and then also sold some in London, and I found that I wasn't getting particularly well paid in either Lexington or Harrisburg for the Ontario-bred, and they were being bought by people from Ontario," Bullock said. "Then, when you get to London, people would say, 'He took his good ones to Lexington or his good ones to Harrisburg.'"

"The one thing that I've experienced in both Lexington, but particularly Harrisburg, is you can breed to whoever you want as a stallion, but if you have what I describe as an Ontario pedigree for the mare, it's very difficult to get your pricing. The Americans tend to discount it.

"I had a strong sale last year in London. So, this year, I just put all my Ontario [yearlings] in London, and I jokingly said to Greg when he called me looking for a quote, I said, 'I'm a little slow. It took me 24 or 25 years to figure out that I should just be selling the Ontario ones in London.'"

Bullock said he's selling seven on the first day of the sale and three on the second.

"Every breeder will tell you this, but I think I've got the strongest group I've had for a number of years in London," Bullock said. "So, I'm hopeful that the sale does well."

He then joked that he'll be happy to take the average price from the recently-concluded Lexington Selected Yearling Sale – a record $81,320 U.S. – for his 10 selling London.

He's particularly optimistic that Hip #55 North Lite, a King Of The North brother to O'Brien Award winner Strobe Lite, will sell well.

"And, I've got three really nice Green Manalishi colts that have got decent pedigrees," Bullock said. "We don't get a lot of people visiting the farm ahead of time to see the horses, but enough that after you've had a dozen people there, you can kind of figure out which ones people are interested in. So, I think the Green Manalishis will do well for me."

Some 280 yearlings will be sold at the LCYS over two days – about 145 on Tuesday and about 130 on Wednesday. Both sales sessions begin at noon.

Blanchard said he likes that there is a diverse lineup of veteran, proven stallions such as Bettors Delight, Archangel, Big Jim, Green Manalishi S, and Muscle Mass, as well as exciting new stallions such as Bulldog Hanover, Cattlewash, King Of The North, Beach Glass, and Lawless Shadow.

"You look at the stallion roster in Ontario and its depth," Blanchard said. "We're competing with some of the best jurisdictions in North America now, and these sires are capable of producing horses that can win the biggest races in the sport."

Blanchard said the sale roster is much easier to navigate thanks to a new LCYS website.

"We have a new person in-house in our marketing team who did that for us, and we think did a fantastic job," Blanchard said. "We've gotten a lot of tremendous feedback about that as well. We also worked to improve the process for getting information to the EquineLine app. We've taken some positive steps forward in that as more and more people have migrated to that rather than the hard copy catalog. We made some cosmetic changes."

As for other changes, Blanchard said the auction block will be different compared to previous years.

"We took the elevation out of the sales ring portion this year and went with a new base and matting and mulch," Blanchard said. "It gives it a cosmetic enhancement, but we think from a safety standpoint, it will be better as well. Horses don't have to go up the ramp and onto the elevated platform, and it'll be much quieter and we think you know easier for the horses to navigate when they're coming in and out of the ring."

Most importantly, Blanchard said there's a positive buzz heading into the sale.

"There's a lot more optimism," Blanchard said. "I see that at the racetrack on race nights, and talking to horsepeople. I think that will translate. [The additional government funding] was tremendously welcome news, long overdue. I feel good for horsepeople and people in the industry that have invested. For myself and our raceway team, we were happy to hear that news, and it's positively impacting our overnight race program already. We're seeing it."

Melander sweeps with surprises in International Stallion Stakes filly trots

by Ray Cotolo for The Red Mile

Trainer Marcus Melander swept the pair of $139,000 Grade 3 International Stallion Stakes divisions for 2-year-old trotting fillies — sponsored by Midland Acres — on Friday (Oct. 9) at The Red Mile with two longer-priced propositions in maidens A Tale Of Kemp and Sweetest Of All.

A Tale Of Kemp ripped from off the speed to stun at odds of 31-1 with a 1:52.4 effort to win the first split for freshman trotting fillies.

Driver Todd McCarthy hustled A Tale Of Kemp out of post 6 and towards the top but yielded as Patty's Girl (driven by Tim Tetrick) and 1-9 favorite Birr Castle (Scott Zeron) loomed up the rim to a :28 first quarter. Patty's Girl took a brief lead before letting Birr Castle clear, and the odds-on chalk strode comfortably to a :55.2 half before slowing for a breather to the last turn. Caught Speeding (Yannick Gingras) tipped out of fourth to the last turn and blitzed onto equal terms with Birr Castle passing three-quarters in 1:24.2. Birr Castle reengaged and repelled Caught Speeding in the stretch but clasped to a precarious lead in the final sixteenth. Patty's Girl shook free from the pocket and surged to a short-lived lead as McCarthy soared from off the pylons and down the center of the track to collar her rivals late for a neck victory. Birr Castle held third and Just Dior Her (Andy McCarthy) took fourth.

"She was pretty keen going to the gate, so I was just hoping once we got out of there, she'd settle for me and we did,"

Todd McCarthy said after the race. "We were able to get a pretty good trip. Last week we were kind of boxed in there, [but that] probably did us a favor for this week — she was pretty confident there once she got daylight."

A filly by Walner, out of the E L Titan mare Speed Titan, A Tale Of Kemp competes for owners Kemppi Stables Oy, Suojalampi Stables, Sjoebloom Racing, and A Tale Of Kemp Stable. She broke her maiden in the 10th start of her career, has now earned $121,520 and paid $64.58 to win.

Sweetest Of All (Joe Bongiorno) towered over her peers a few races later to sweep by for a 1:52.4 win going away in the other International Stallion Stakes dash for freshman trotting fillies.

Bongiorno took back from the pylon draw and landed into fifth while Mine Mine Mine (Dexter Dunn) and Agano (Mattias Melander) pushed outside for the lead to a :29 first quarter. Agano cleared Mine Mine Mine to the backstretch and then stretched out Beauts Cabaret (Yannick Gingras) as Gingras marched up the rim to finally get to the pylons and to the lead past a :55.3 half. As the tempo slowed to the last turn, Mine Mine Mine angled out of third and pressed uncovered towards Beauts Cabaret all while Bongiorno situated Sweetest Of All into a third-over seat coming to three-quarters in 1:24.2. Mine Mine Mine ground past Beauts Cabaret turning for home as Bongiorno fanned Sweetest Of All to the center of the track, and she gathered steam to hit the lead entering the final eighth. Sweetest Of All spurted clear for a 2-1/4-length win over Two To The North (Todd McCarthy), rallying from near last for second, while Mine Mine Mine held third and Putitondad'stab (Scott Zeron) closed from last for fourth.

Breaking her maiden with the victory in the ninth start of her career, Sweetest Of All has now earned $103,300 for owner Vestmarka Ab. She paid $14.82 to win.

Blazin Lou (Todd McCarthy) winning his $104,000 Grade 3 International Stallion Stakes division for 2-year-old pacing males on Friday at The Red Mile.

BLAZIN LOU LARGE IN INTERNATIONAL STALLION STAKES

Bluegrass division winner Blazin Lou turned away another Bluegrass winner in 1-5 favorite Rumble And Sway to romp in a 1:49.1 lifetime best and win the second of two $104,000 Grade 3 International Stallion Stakes divisions for 2-year-old pacing males on Friday (Oct. 9) at The Red Mile.

Driver Todd McCarthy charged Blazin Lou from the outermost draw and brushed past early leader Rumble And Sway (driven by Tim Tetrick) to take command past a :27.2 first quarter. Blazin Lou cruised up the backstretch towards a :55.1 half and remained on the muscle through the last turn, clocking three-quarters in 1:22.2 while gaining separation on Rumble And Sway. McCarthy kept the Tony Dinges trainee to task in the lane as he widened his advantage to then cross the line 3½ lengths better than Rumble And Sway, chasing in second. Grandline Station (Joe Bongiorno) stayed on from a first-over push in the last turn for third and Jidoo Bythesea (Andy Miller) saved ground for fourth.

"I've been pretty confident in him all along," Tony Dinges said after the race. "He hasn't had the best of luck the last few weeks, but I knew it was in there."

Rick Berks owns Blazin Lou, a colt by Sweet Lou out of Rocknroll Hanover mare Beautiful Lady. The colt, bound for the Breeders Crown eliminations Friday (Oct. 16) at Scioto Downs, has now won four races from 10 starts and banked $157,050.

"I knew when he got to the half that we were probably in good shape," Berks said. "Tony's been telling me all year he's a super horse. He's just coming into his own now."

Sent off as the second choice in the betting, Blazin Lou paid $9.90 to win.

Ron Burke trainee Stonebridge Blitz affirmed his maiden-breaking win in a Grade 3 Bluegrass division last week with an assertive 1:49.4 effort to take the other International Stallion Stakes division for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings.

Leaving from post 4, driver Yannick Gingras floated Stonebridge Blitz towards a seat in fourth rounding the first turn but decided to press forward after early leader Hungry Marco (Scott Zeron) nearing a :27 first quarter. Stonebridge Blitz seized the lead but yielded command once stablemate Ocean Party (Dexter Dunn) sprung out of third and looped to the front through a :53.2 half. Gingras kept a firm hold on Stonebridge Blitz circling the final turn as the gelding muscled out of the pocket to draw alongside Ocean Party to three-quarters in 1:21.3. Stonebridge Blitz maintained authority over the weary through the lane to notch a two-length victory with Ocean Party finishing second, Reflector (Todd McCarthy) closing for third, and Fairway To Heaven (Andy McCarthy) splitting rivals late for fourth.

Stonebridge Blitz has now won two races from 10 starts and earned $165,692 for owners Burke Racing Stable, Larry Karr, Mark Rosenthal, and Frank Baldachino. The gelding by Tall Dark Stranger, out of Sweet Lou mare and former Burke trainee Shouldabeenatd, paid $6 to win.

The first division of the International Stallion Stakes for 2-year-old pacing colts and geldings was sponsored by the Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown and the second division was sponsored by the Captaintreacherous Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farms.

Al Papi takes Tattersalls; Ron Burke breaches $400-million plateau

by Ray Cotolo for The Red Mile

Trainer Ron Burke eclipsed an historic milestone when his trainee Al Papi stormed from off the speed to win the $365,000 Grade 2 Tattersalls Pace on closing day Saturday (Oct. 10) at The Red Mile, pushing the conditioner past the $400-million mark in career earnings.

Driver Yannick Gingras got away sixth with Al Papi out of post 2 as stablemate Ubrute (driven by Jason Bartlett) barreled out of post 9 to grab the lead from Sea Bistro Hanover (Todd McCarthy) past a :27.3 first quarter. Melillo (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.), another Burke trainee, soon angled off the cones from fourth in the backstretch, prompting McCarthy to vacate the pocket with Sea Bistro Hanover while forcing Melillo three wide.

Sea Bistro Hanover looped to a brief lead and relinquished command to Melillo passing a :54.1 half while Sweet Lovin

Lou (Scott Zeron) cruised uncovered on the rim to the last turn with Al Papi perched on his cover. Sweet Lovin Lou reeled in Melillo spinning by three-quarters in 1:21.3 to take a narrow lead as Gingras launched Al Papi outside and gathered the strongest momentum late. Al Papi dashed to the front and pulled clear in the closing strides to post a 1:50.2 win over a track rated “good” with Sweet Lovin Lou taking second, beaten 2½ lengths. Melillo held third and Show Me Your Ace (Dexter Dunn) took fourth.

“Once they were going a little bit crazy to the half, Yannick was right in the right spot,” Burke said after the race. “Really, this colt’s game might be better off those trips and it’s never worked out that way for him, so we’re really happy for him.”

Al Papi, a 3-year-old homebred colt for Burke Racing Stable, J&T Silva-Purnel & Libby, Larry Karr, and Weaver Brusceci, has now won five races from 15 starts this season and nine races from 26 starts in his career, banking $1,349,785 in earnings. The son of Papi Rob Hanover, out of Yankee Cruiser mare and Burke graduate Baron Remy, helped thrust the trainer past $400 million in career earnings with the win, the most earned by any trainer in harness racing history.

“I’m very proud of it; it’s very hard,” said Burke, who has led all trainers in seasonal earnings for 18 of the last 25 years. “It takes a lot of us; it takes a lot of years. I used to think [$]500 [million] was a slam dunk, but now I’m thinking that’s five more years at this pace and I don’t know. It’s a lot.”

Sent off as the third choice in the betting, Al Papi paid $8.18 to win.

HOPE HILL PREVAILS IN GLEN GARNSEY MEMORIAL

After nailing an upset on Miss Jum Jabber in a Grade 3 Bluegrass Stakes division last week, Hope Hill upped the score with a 1:51.1 victory in the $212,000 Grade 2 Glen Garnsey Memorial — sponsored by Diamond Creek Farm — on Saturday (Oct. 10) at The Red Mile.

Leaving from post 2, driver Dexter Dunn landed into third as longshot Barbuda Belle (driven by Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) lunged for the front with stablemate I'm A Lou Lou (Tim Tetrick) in pursuit. Once I'm A Lou Lou took over the lead, Dunn abandoned his seat at the pylons and brushed for the top through a :28.3 first quarter while odds-on favorite Miss Jum Jabber (Andy McCarthy) tracked from fourth. Hope Hill upped the tempo on the backstretch as the field split into two packs past a :56.2 half, at which point McCarthy began to march Miss Jum Jabber up the rim to challenge for the lead. Miss Jum Jabber drew alongside Hope Hill to three-quarters in 1:23.4 but Hope Hill stayed resilient under pressure all through the stretch and turned away Miss Jum Jabber in a :26.2 sprint to win by three-quarters-of-a-length. Barbuda Belle took third and Graceland Hill (Jason Bartlett) sat a ground-saving trip for fourth.

"Last year she turned out to be a really good filly," said Tom Hill, owner/breeder of Hope Hill, after the race. "Over the winter she strengthened up and she just got better and better. I was looking forward to this race because last week she won from behind and so she got a good trip. She won from the front today, so there were no excuses today."

Petter Engblom trains Hope Hill, a seven-time winner from 14 starts this season and an 11-time winner from 23 starts in her career with $505,432 in purses. The 3-year-old filly by Papi Rob Hanover, out of the Bettors Delight mare Ruth Hill, paid $7.26 to win.

PRINCE HAL HANOVER, TWIN B JOE FRESH SCORE IN ALLERAGE FARMS

Stalwart pacing vets Prince Hal Hanover and Twin B Joe Fresh clinched victories in their respective Grade 3 Allerage Farms divisions on an increasingly rainy afternoon at The Red Mile on Saturday (Oct. 10).

Prince Hal Hanover pounced from the mud off a pocket ride to clinch a 1:49 victory in the $145,000 Allerage Open Pace, sponsored by Jeff and Paula Gural.

Driver Todd McCarthy fired Prince Hal Hanover for the front out of post 6 alongside even-money favorite Ken Hanover (driven by Tim Tetrick) and yielded control to that rival moving for a :27.2 first quarter. Ken Hanover coasted over the "off" going in the backstretch to light a :53.3 half and continued on a full-throttled lead through the turn to three-quarters in 1:20.3. Prince Hal Hanover angled from the covered trip to attack the tiring leader in the lane and surged to the top and kept digging to the finish to win by a head as Coaches Corner (Andy McCarthy) rallied from a first-up bid for second. Captain Arturovico (Dexter Dunn) flew from last for third and 70-1 shot Admiral Hill (Joe Bongiorno) came from mid-pack off a pylon trip for fourth.

"He's just a super horse," Todd McCarthy said after the race. "He gives it all he's got and that was just a great performance today on this track. We were following the right one and we had open daylight down the lane. It's tricky conditions today — it's obviously pretty heavy rain and really windy, so it can be tough for a lot of horses to go forward in that. But he's just so hearty, this guy. He just does it every time. It felt like a pretty long stretch today, but he's all class."

Dr. Ian Moore trains Prince Hal Hanover for owner Prince Hal Hanover Stable. The 4-year-old son of Captaintreacherous — out of the Shadows Play stakes-winning mare Percy Bluechip — won for the sixth time from 17 starts this season and for the 16th time from 48 starts in his career, amassing $1,780,462 in earnings. He paid $6.26 to win.

Twin B Joe Fresh (Dexter Dunn) thrusted from last to first with a charted :52 back half to score back-to-back victories in the $67,000 Allerage Mare Pace, winning this edition in 1:49.4.

Dunn eased to last in the quintet after Champagne Room (Ronnie Wrenn, Jr.) bolted for the front to her outside leaving the gate. Champagne Room crossed over to lead through the first turn and pocketed pylon-starter Louies Girl N (Jason Bartlett), but Bartlett swiftly circled Louies Girl N back towards the top nearing a :28.3 first quarter. Twin B Joe Fresh remained last on the backstretch as the tempo stayed tepid to a :56.4 half, though Dunn initiated a bid at the top of the far turn and rushed forward to press Louies Girl N to three-quarters in 1:24. Louies Girl N caved to the challenge spinning for home and Twin B Joe Fresh motored for the finish to keep her competition behind for a length victory. Champagne Room snatched second from Louies Girl N in third while The Last Martini (Scott Zeron) gave chase in fourth.

"[Chris Ryder] just said to me going onto the track he didn't want too hard of a run for her today," Dunn said after the race. "But she's so versatile, so [with] the short field I still had all the faith in her. She was fantastic — that was a huge back half she put up, and just the way she did it and the way she felt was extremely pleasing. That probably was her last Red Mile start. That's a good way for her to leave this fantastic track."

Chris Ryder trains Twin B Joe Fresh and co-owns the 6-year-old Roll With Joe mare, out of Captaintreacherous mare Fresh Breeze, with Dunn, Peter Trebotica, and Barry Spak. She has won five races from 12 starts this season and 41 races from 61 starts in her career, accruing $3,279,920 in earnings.

"She does what she does, and she never ceases to amaze us, really," Ryder said. "She showed it today. She's just been wonderful. We're going to race through the Breeders Crown and [FanDuel Championships], and we'll see how it goes. She's done enough; she's done a lot [but] nothing's set in stone."

Twin B Joe Fresh paid $2.22 to win.

EMMAS MYSTERY CCL SWIFTEST IN BLUEGRASS FILLY TROTS

Emmas Mystery CCL bolted from a ground-saving trip to a lifetime-best 1:51.4 victory in the first of three divisions — a race sponsored by the Harness Horse Youth Foundation's 50th anniversary — of the $255,349 Grade 3 Bluegrass Stakes for sophomore trotting fillies on Saturday (Oct. 10) at The Red Mile.

Leaving from the pylon post, Emmas Mystery CCL eased into fifth while a three-wide battle ensued for the lead to a :28.1 first quarter. Leading Lady (Yannick Gingras) pushed from between horses to take the lead from Whatarace Hanover (Todd McCarthy) before Lauren's Chapter (Niko Karna) brushed from the three-wide path to the lead heading to a :55.2 half. Southwind Chaska (Tim Tetrick) began floating off the pylons from fourth moving for the final turn and flushed Whatarace Hanover, which prompted Gingras to pull Leading Lady from the pocket and left a gap for Emmas Mystery CCL to shoot through at the inside.

Leading Lady looped by Lauren's Chapter while Whatarace Hanover pressed first-over to three-quarters in 1:23.4, but Andy McCarthy found clearance to fan Emmas Mystery CCL from the cones to the center of the track straightening for home. Emmas Mystery CCL gathered strong momentum for the finish and swept by tiring Leading Lady late to win under wraps by 1½ lengths. Whatarace Hanover grabbed second from Leading Lady and Southwind Chaska finished fourth.

Noel Daley trains Emmas Mystery CCL for owner Winning Key Inc. The filly by Muscle Hill — out of stakes-winning Donato Hanover mare Mistery Woman — won her second race from 11 starts this season and her sixth race from 20 starts in her career, good for $331,435 in earnings. She paid $15.14 to win.

Pylon-starter Godusa (Jason Bartlett) cut the corner in a seven-wide charge to the finish to land the spoils in the second Bluegrass dash — sponsored by the Tactical Landing and Karl Syndicates — in a 1:54.1 mile.

Bartlett situated Godusa into third as Naked And Famous (Todd McCarthy) battled Sparks (Yannick Gingras) for the lead to a :28.3 first quarter. Sparks cleared command into the backstretch but McCarthy swung Naked And Famous out of the pocket and slid back to the lead while the tempo remained steady to a :57.1 half.

Crossover (Dexter Dunn) launched an uncovered bid out of fifth to the far turn and ground forward as Sparks crept out of the pocket passing three-quarters in 1:25.2. The field swarmed Naked And Famous as she tired and drifted into the stretch, giving Bartlett racetrack to dart Godusa through and snatch the lead. Godusa held firmly in the stampede to the finish to win by a half-length over 38-1 shot All Time Trot S (Ake Svanstedt), who weaved from a ground-saving trip to take second. R Ro (Andy Miller) recovered from a break at the start to rally from last and widest on the track for third while Decreed (Tim Tetrick) found an opening through a wall of horses to take fourth.

"She's been racing well in Ohio all year and really raced well here in Kentucky," winning trainer Nancy Takter said after the race. "She's maybe just a step below the absolute best fillies, but she raced super in the Kentucky [Championship Series] final and she's definitely on the upswing."

A filly by Ready For Moni out of Trixton mare Behold The Dream, Godusa has now won three races from 12 starts this season and five races from 20 starts in her career, earning $269,242 for owners E Five Racing and John Fielding.

Kentucky Filly Futurity consolation winner Isabella Bi (Ake Svanstedt) returned for another Red Mile victory with a front-stepping 1:52.2 win in the final division of the Bluegrass, sponsored by the Greenshoe Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farms.

Svanstedt sent Isabella Bi forward out of post 7 and took control from Joyofmylife As (Tony Hall) heading for a :29 first quarter. Isabella Bi accelerated on the backstretch to a :56.1 half and maintained her speed to three-quarters in 1:24 on the way to a snug 1¾-length victory. Joyofmylife As gave pursuit for second with Jailbird Jog (Anthony MacDonald) kicking from well back for third and La Mancha (Dexter Dunn) sitting a pylon trip for fourth.

Isabella Bi competes for owners Ake Svanstedt, Joe Sbrocco & JAF Racing, Little E LLC, and Mr. Lars Olsson. The filly by Tactical Landing, out of the Ready Cash mare Call Me Bi IT, has now won three races from 12 starts this season and four races from 19 starts in her career, earning $220,956. She paid $4.84 to win.

MAGIC PUNK, NEIGHVER PUNT VICTORIOUS IN BLUEGRASS COLT TROTS; DUNN, MELANDER WIN RED MILE TITLES

Ake Svanstedt trainee Magic Punk and Marcus Melander pupil Neighver Punt both returned from defeat in the $575,000 Grade 1 Kentucky Futurity last week to win in their respective $114,000 divisions of the Grade 3 Bluegrass Stakes for 3-year-old trotting males on Saturday afternoon (Oct. 10) at The Red Mile.

Magic Punk plugged first-over through the last turn and slid to the front late for a 1:52 victory in the first Bluegrass division, sponsored by the Captain Corey Syndicate and Hanover Shoe Farms.

It Could Be Worse (driven by Tim Tetrick) broke stride behind the gate, leaving Requiem (Andy McCarthy) to hustle out of post 5 for an uncontested lead to a tepid :28 first quarter while Magic Punk (Todd McCarthy) planted into fifth. The field strolled single file up the backside to a :55.4 half but broke rank once Magic Punk edged outside for an attack to the final turn. Magic Punk marched up the rim to match strides with Requiem by three-quarters in 1:24.1 before disposing of that rival in the lane and coasting to the finish a winner by 1¼ lengths. Seven Grand (Ake Svanstedt) rallied from a pocket trip for second with Lindy Living (Dexter Dunn) kicking from second-over for third and Lucchese (Joe Bongiorno) shook off the pylons through traffic to snag fourth.

"He had a good today," said Sarah Svanstedt of Team Svanstedt. "He has been a little bit tricky this season. When you have him on the happy days, he's doing what he's doing today. So, I'm very happy."

Rebounding from a break in stride when leaving the gate in the Kentucky Futurity, Magic Punk collected his fourth win from 13 starts this season and his eighth victory from 21 starts in his career, accruing $521,454 for owner Magic Punk Inc. The colt by Wishing Stone, out of the Explosive Matter mare I D Entity NO, paid $4.96 to win.

Neighver Punt (Dexter Dunn) mounted a similar uncovered push up the rim with Neighver Punt to take the other Bluegrass division for sophomore trotting colts – sponsored by Wiesman Farms – in a 1:52.4 mile.

Dunn settled Neighver Punt into third while Untouchable As (Tony Hall) crossed over from the outermost draw in the septet to lead the field by a :28.1 first quarter. Neighver Punt began his challenge just after a :56.1 half and loomed outside through the turn before spurting by Untouchable As after three-quarters in 1:24.4. Neighver Punt powered through the stretch while keeping a late bid from 98-1 shot Alpha Blue Chip (Scott Zeron) at bay to win by a half-length. Untouchable As held third over pocket-sitter Maga Hill (Yannick Gingras) in fourth.

"He actually raced really well last week," Marcus Melander said about Neighver Punt's fifth-place finish in the Kentucky Futurity. "He's been racing good all year – maybe just slightly under the best, best ones, but he's always right there and he raced great today again."

Courant Inc owns Neighver Punt, a now four-time winner from 13 starts this season and a five-time winner from 22 starts in his career with $327,235 banked. The colt by Bar Hopping, out of the Donato Hanover mare Twice Is Right, returned $4.94 to win.

During the closing day card, The Red Mile honored the 2026 season's leading driver Dunn and leading trainer Melander. Dunn led all drivers in wins with 88 victories and nearly $3 million in purses while Andy McCarthy finished second in the standings with 53 wins and Tim Tetrick tied for third alongside Todd McCarthy with 47 wins.

"It feels great," said Dunn, who also currently leads all drivers nationally in purse earnings this season. "I absolutely love racing here. It's a bittersweet day, this day, because it's our last day for the year. But I had great support down here and drove some great horses. I've been very lucky."

Melander topped the training ranks with 46 victories and over $2.1 million in purses. Carter Pinske finished second among trainers with 32 victories with Brett Pelling third at 28 wins.

"This season's been great, obviously," said Melander, currently second nationally in purse earnings behind Ron Burke. "We invested in our farm here three years ago and we race a lot here. It's a great program and perfect track, so I'm very happy about [this title]. Hopefully we can continue here these last couple of weeks."

Five Ontario Sires Stakes records smashed on tremendous Super Final night at Woodbine Mohawk Park

by Dave Briggs / Ontario Racing

Five Ontario Sires Stakes records were smashed and memorable victories were tallied one after the other in the $2.8 million Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Super Final card on a beautiful, but chilly Saturday night (Oct. 10) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Eight straight $350,000 Super Finals concluded in race 9 with Redland Rocket Man (Jody Jamieson) setting a 1:48 OSS record while winning gate-to-wire and defeating 2025 Canadian and U.S. Horse of the Year Beau Jangles by 1¼ lengths in the sophomore pacing colts' division.

The win was the fifth straight for Redland Rocket Man and pushed the son of Bulldog Hanover—Granny Hanover over $1 million lifetime to $1,121,420. Redland Rocket Man improved his record to 8-3-3 in 27 starts with the triumph.

The victory also gave trainer and part-owner John Pentland a Super Final double with offspring sired by Bulldog Hanover. Three races earlier, Pentland's 2-year-old pacing filly Jersey Bulldog set a jaw-dropping 1:48.1 Canadian, OSS, and track record that was just one-fifth-of-a-second slower than the sophomore male pacers.

Redland Rocket Man, bred by Redland Farms of Bible Hill, NS and foaled in Prince Edward Island, was a $30,000 U.S. purchase at the 2024 Standardbred Horse Sales Company yearling sale in Harrisburg, PA by Pentland of Dorchester, ON, Murray Cox of Rockwood, ON, and Gary Volpe of St. Thomas, ON.

The pacer was sent off at even money and paid $4.10.

Odds On Bullfrog (Travis Henry) was third, followed by Borderline Bobby (Louis-Philippe Roy), and Windor (Travis Cullen).

RACE 8 – CANT TURN YOU DOWN SETS OSS RECORD IN SOPHOMORE FILLY PACE, WINS NINTH STRAIGHT

A week after winning her $100,000 OSS Grassroots championship to qualify for the $350,000 Super Final for 3-year-old pacing fillies, Cant Turn You Down posted a stirring victory in the latter with a 1:48.3 OSS record for 26-year-old trainer, breeder, and co-owner Zach Carroll of Shedden, ON.

Cant Turn You Down pulled away in the stretch to win by three over Daya (Jody Jamieson).

It was the ninth straight victory for Cant Turn You Down, a daughter of Cattlewash out of Amulet Seelster driven by Bob McClure and co-owned by Sean Downey of Strathroy, ON.

Cant Turn You Down now sports earnings of $323,400 and has a record of 10-1-0 in 11 career starts.

Pownal Bay Bobbi (Louis-Philippe Roy) was third, followed by Jen Tilly (Mark MacDonald), and A Clean Deal (Doug McNair).

Sent off at 2-1, Cant Turn You Down paid $6.60 to win.

Maine SIRE STAKES REPORT

Hayden takes 10th Maine trot at Fryeburg

by Chris Tully for Maine Sire Stakes

The final leg of the Maine Sire Stakes for 3-year-old trotters went postward at the famous Fryeburg Fair on Friday (Oct. 9) with two $16,000-plus divisions of the high stepping action.

The only $17,711 pari-mutuel race for sophomore trotters was captured by divisional star Hayden who protected her position at the top of her class with another wire-to-wire romp with trainer/driver Gary Hall in the sulky.

Scoring from the outermost post 7 the daughter of Cantab Fashion made every call a winning one to secure the victory by $3\frac{3}{4}$ lengths in 2:03.1. A winner of 10 races this season she has earned \$131,596 lifetime for owner/breeder Stephen Hall.

Hayden returned $3 as the 1-2 favorite. Roseapple Ave (Wally Watson) finished second; I Think I Can (John Nason) was third.

In an early, $16,783 non-wagering event for 3-year-old colt and gelding trotters, it was Gus's Workout who led every step of the way to score in 2:01.2.

Driven by Heath Campbell for trainer Valerie Grondin and owner/breeder Lynn-Marie Plouffe, the son of Whataworkout grabbed his fifth win of the season, increasing his career total to $123,823.

Trottingfortreasure (Ron Cushing) finished second; Wilder N Idy (Mark Athearn) was third.

The series concludes with the $320,000-plus Sophomore finals, which take place at Bangor Raceway on the following Saturday (Oct. 17).

GRACEOFSPADES HANDS SNOWONTHEPINES HER FIRST DEFEAT

Maine's previously unbeaten 3-year-old pacing filly Snowonthepines finally tasted defeat on Thursday (Oct. 8), at the Fryeburg Fair, falling from grace by a whisker to Graceofspades.

It happened on an otherwise normal fair racing day in the first $17,209 division for sophomore distaff pacers, held before the regular card.

Snowonthepines, with her 20-race win streak on the line, was sent to the top in the traditional manner by regular pilot Kevin Switzer, Jr. Posting moderate early fractions of :30 and 1:01.4, the daughter of Dude's The Man had Ekorus (Joey Mosher) in the pocket behind her with Graceofspades and Dave Ingraham sitting in third.

Moving into the 1:33 third panel Ingraham sent the daughter of Western Maverick first over and had sprinted up right alongside the pacesetter, and as the pair turned for home, they were eye-to-eye, and wheel-to-wheel.

The battle ensued down the length of the stretch with Graceofspades posting a faster :28.1 final quarter to prevail by a nose in 2:01.2 over Snowonthepines.

Bred, owned, and trained by Fred Ward, Jr. and Sharon Ward, it was the filly's first lifetime victory, and a new lifetime best time badge. A full sister to former Maine champion Gwestyounggrace p, 1:52f, ($285,734), it was her 24th lifetime start, where she has been second or third 13 times.

Ekorus finished third.

In the second \$17,209 non-betting division it was a wire-to-wire romp by Just Delightful who won by $8\frac{3}{4}$ lengths in 1:58.2.

Driven and co-owned by Ron Cushing for trainer Heidi Cushing and partners S. Downey and A. & J. Romanelli, the daughter of Western Maverick grabbed her fourth win of the season. She was bred in Maine by Lynn-Marie Plouffe.

Dudelookslikeafly (Aaron Hall) finished second; Perfectly Lovely (Switzer, Jr.) was third.

Looking ahead, the Maine Sire Stakes concludes at Fryeburg with the 3-year-old trotters on Friday (Oct. 9). The series culminates with the $320,000-plus Sophomore finals, which take place at Bangor Raceway on the following Saturday (Oct. 17).

Kountry Plunge and Cowboy Candy set track records in Big Apple finals at Vernon Vernon Downs played host to four $250,000 Big Apple finals at Vernon Downs on Friday (Oct. 9).

Kountry Plunge (Brian Sears) captured the Big Apple Trot final for 2-year-old fillies.

Jason Bartlett aggressively sent Secret Lover to the front from post 6, clicking off a sharp opening quarter of 27.2 seconds. Moving down the backstretch, Sears tipped Kountry Plunge to the outside using an effortless brush, and she cleared to the lead before the half-mile pole, getting to the half in :57.1. She cruised to three quarters in 1:26.

As they made the turn for home Kountry Plunge left the others in her dust winning in a track record time for freshmen fillies in 1:53.2. Seven Thirds (Matt Kakaley) was second best, and Wavy Xavie (Jeff Gregory) finished third.

Kountry Plunge is a filly by Chapter Seven—Plunge Blue Chip, trained by Åke Svanstedt for owners OBM Stable, Svanstedt & Midnight Sun, Bender Sweden Inc, and Ecurie Diocles Ab, and is now seven-for-seven on the season.

Gio's Hope (Jason Bartlett) took the Big Apple final for male trotters: Jordan Stratton fired aggressively from post 6 with Archon, sizzling through a sharp opening quarter of :27.2. However, Ocean Storm (Brett Beckwith) was not content to sit in the pocket. The heavy 3-5 favorite, moved to the front, pressing forward to take command before the field reached a rated half-mile in 57 seconds flat. Gio's Hope ($6.22) came flying around the final turn as he went eyeball-to-eyeball with a stubborn Ocean Storm at the three-quarter beam in 1:25.1.

As they made the turn for home, Gio's Hope dug deep on the rim, grinding past third-place finisher Ocean Storm at the top of the stretch to take a narrow lead. Just as Gio's Hope cleared, second-place finisher Archon (Jordan Stratton) came all out after the lead, but Gio's Hope refused to be denied winning in a lifetime best of 1:53.1.

Gio's Hope, a colt by Chapter Seven—Southwind Hope, picked up the victory for trainer Marcus Melander and owners Brixton Medical Inc and Hatfield Stables. It was his fifth career win.

Cowboy Candy (Jason Bartlett) dominated the Big Apple Pace final for fillies: Carly Shay went straight to the front from post 5, blasting through an opening quarter in 27.2 seconds. Too Pink To Pass (Lauren Tritton) secured the early pocket spot, while the 4-5 favorite, Cowboy Candy ($3.86) sat patiently in fourth. Carly Shay led to the half in :54. Cowboy Candy made her move heading around the final turn, and she was first to three quarters in 1:21.2.

As they made the turn for home, Cowboy Candy opened up daylight, pacing away from the field in hand. She crossed the wire in a blazing 1:49.2 smashing the track record for freshmen filly pacers. Annie O (Jeff Gregory) came up to finish second, with Huntsville Honey (Tyler Buter) third best.

Cowboy Candy is a filly by So Surreal—Caviart Elena. She is owned by Chain Lightning Stables and trained by Aaron Lambert. It was her eighth win in 10 career starts.

Global Choice (Brian Sears) wins thrilling Big Apple final for male pacers: Leon Bailey sent Its News To Me flying from post 8 to seize the lead through a blazing :25.4 opening quarter. Rowdy Station (Brett Beckwith) settled directly behind him in the pocket. Bailey tapped the brakes slightly in the second quarter, leading the field through a 55 half-mile. Rose Run Cowboy (Jason Bartlett) came first-up to challenge heading around the final turn, as Its News To Me led to three quarters in 1:22.4.

As they reached the stretch, Global Choice ($2.76) came charging like a freight train battling second-place finisher Its News To Me all the way down the stretch. He got up in time to win in a lifetime best of 1:50.2. Rowdy Station finished third.

Global Choice, a colt by Courtly Choice—Peak Of Chic, is owned by Gino Toscani and trained by Gary Merner, Jr. It was his third career win.

Leon Bailey drove five winners on the 14-race card.

Ecurie D DK to stand at Seelster Farms in 2027

The Ecurie D Syndicate is pleased to announce that two-time world champion and 2022 Dan Patch Award winner, Ecurie D DK, 1:49.1 ($1,516,807.00 U.S.) and sire of this year's world champion 2-year-old colt trotter, Lifetime Dreamer, 1:51.1m, $170,500.00 U.S., will stand the 2027 breeding season and beyond at Seelster Farms, in Lucan, ON, for an advertised service fee of $7,500.00 CA.

For the past four seasons, Ecurie D DK stood at Southwind Farm, in New Jersey, alongside three of the finest trotting stallions in the sport. He now gets his own unique opportunity to move to one of the most prestigious farms in Ontario where he will have the ability to create his own path toward success in the rich Ontario Sires Stakes program.

Kevin Greenfield, syndicate manager for the Ecurie D Syndicate, commented, "I am thrilled that Ecurie D will be able to continue his stallion career at such a well-respected and prominent breeding farm in Ontario at Seelster Farms. He will now have the best opportunity going forward to get the number of mares he needs to become a top producing trotting stallion both in Ontario and North America. He has proven already from a very limited small first crop that he can sire a world champion and grand circuit level trotters. I have no doubt that the change in jurisdiction to Ontario will allow him now to reach his full potential. Seelster Farms will breed some of their best trotting mares to support him."

Ann Straatman, president of Seelster Farms, agrees: "We are thrilled to be able to add a trotting stallion of such high caliber as Ecurie D DK to our stallion roster. I feel that fully supported, he will likely become a leading trotting sire not only in Ontario but also on the Grand Circuit as well."

For booking information, contact Seelster Farms : Ph: 519-227-4294; fax: 519-227-1355; email: ann.straatman@seelsterfarms.com.

Farris Speed tops record $2.1-million Atlantic Classic Yearling Sale

A six-figure pacing filly led the way as the 2026 Atlantic Classic Yearling Sale established a new benchmark Friday afternoon (Oct. 9) at the Crapaud Exhibition Grounds, generating more than $2.1 million in yearling sales.

Farris Speed, a daughter of Keystone Velocity, commanded a sale-topping bid of $105,000 from Josh MacDonald to headline an afternoon that saw 144 yearlings sell for a combined $2,126,500 and an average of $14,767.36. From the first Atlantic crop of Keystone Velocity.

The gross surpassed the previous sale record of $1.937 million established in 2025, while the average climbed approximately 12.6 per cent from last year's $13,119.

The sale featured a catalog of 156 yearlings representing seven jurisdictions, with 12 withdrawals leaving 144 horses sold. Yearlings from the first crops of Beach Glass, Carbine, Lawless Shadow, and Twin B Tuffenuff were among those offered.

Consigned by Speed Breeding as Hip #108, Farris Speed is a daughter of Keystone Velocity out of the mare Ramalama and was the highest-priced pacing filly of the sale.

Saulsbrook Daisy was the second-highest-priced pacing filly, selling for $63,000 to Ken Hardie and Glenn Hardie. The Cattlewash filly out of Nectar was offered by Saulsbrook Stable Inc. as Hip #92.

Another Keystone Velocity daughter, Nicki M Speed, attracted a $41,000 bid from Tim Dickieson. The filly out of Eyre Hostess N was consigned by Speed Breeding as Hip #53.

Glorilla Speed, from the first crop of Carbine and out of My Tallia Ideal, brought $33,000 from East Ridge Holdings.

Woodmere Farms had a pair of Twin B Tuffenuff fillies generate considerable interest, with Woodmere Osaka, out of Letmedowneasy, purchased for $31,000 by Nikway Farms and Woodmere Rybakina, out of Arc Light, selling for $30,000 to Carl Stratford and Marc Campbell.

The pacing colt division was headed by Hutson Speed, another Keystone Velocity yearling, who sold for $49,000 to Dan Ross. The colt out of Betty Hill was offered as Hip #17 by Speed Breeding.

Svensational was next among the pacing colts, with Hal Bevan going to $43,000 to secure the Tobago Cays son out of D Gs Elsa. The colt was offered by Robin Burke as Hip #49.

Two pacing colts reached $42,000, including Howmac Majesty, a son of Malicious out of Royaltywestho, purchased by Windemere Farms, Mike Currie, Ryan MacLeod, and Harris Johnson. The colt was consigned by Howmac Farms Ltd.

Black Sedan matched that price when Pat Morris purchased the Twin B Tuffenuff colt out of Unspoken Promise from the Andrew Bustard consignment.

Home Grown Hero was the highest-priced pacing gelding, selling for $43,000 to Jack Quinn, Mike Currie, and Windemere Farms. The Malicious gelding out of Our Girl Annie was consigned by Blaine Thibeau.

Other notable pacing colt purchases included Chasin Treasure, a Shanghai Phil son out of Twin B Seen, purchased for $36,000 by Reg MacPherson from the Faith Gavin consignment. Honored Beach, a first-crop Beach Glass colt out of Top Honors, brought $34,000 from J D Racing Inc, and Dunsan Farms.

The trotting division also produced considerable interest, led by Cardi B Speed, who commanded $54,000 from William MacDonald.

Selling as Hip #136, the My MVP filly out of Stunning Look was consigned by Speed Breeding, acting as agent for Whiskeyontherocks Racing. Cardi B Speed was the highest-priced trotter of the sale and the leading trotting filly.

The purchase came just days after her maternal sibling Stunning Speed established a new Charlottetown Driving Park track record for 2-year-old trotting colts and geldings with a 1:57.3

victory in the Atlantic Breeders Crown championship. Stunning Speed was a $29,000 Atlantic Classic purchase in 2025.

Ovechkin Speed led the trotting colts with a $36,000 purchase price. Shaun MacIsaac and Norman Clarey secured the Muscle Through It son out of Kristins Victory from the Speed Breeding consignment as Hip #74.

Howmac Launcher was the second-highest-priced trotting filly, bringing $31,000 from Blayne White. The daughter of E L Rocket out of Glidetowin was consigned by Howmac Farms Ltd.

Summer Daze, another E L Rocket filly out of Day Dream, sold for $29,000 to Gordon MacLean from the William Andrew consignment.

Hes Ahoppin Rocket, an E L Rocket gelding out of Hop Up, attracted a $26,000 bid from Valley Grove Enterprises, Wade Silliker, Mary Clare MacDonald, and Donnie Arsenault. Mr Hughie Ridge, an E L Rocket colt out of R Rocket Rachel, also brought $26,000 when purchased by Jackie Heffernan.

"We are extremely pleased with the results of this year's Atlantic Classic Yearling Sale," said Nicholas Oakes, sale chair. "To see the level of interest in our Atlantic-bred yearlings, including a six-figure sale topper, is a tremendous vote of confidence in the quality of horses being raised in this region. Our breeders continue to invest in quality bloodlines and the buyers are responding. We are grateful to our consignors, purchasers, sponsors, and volunteers who make this event possible each year, and we look forward to watching these young horses develop into the next generation of Atlantic racing stars."

Complete sale results, pedigrees and additional information are available at Atlantic-Classic.com.

Batavia Downs adjusts upcoming post times

Horsemen and racing fans alike should be advised that, due to a lighting issue requiring necessary repairs, Batavia Downs will be temporarily moving back the daily post time.

On Wednesday (Oct. 14), post time will be at 3 p.m., with the clubhouse opening at 2:30 p.m.

On Monday (Oct. 11), the special holiday matinee card that was originally scheduled for 12:15 p.m., will remain at 12:15 p.m. There is no adjustment to the starting time of the Monday matinee program.

This temporary change on Wednesday will allow our crews the proper time to complete the repairs while the track continues to conduct the scheduled live racing programs in a safe manner and without interruption.

Upon completion of the needed work, post time will revert back to 5 p.m. for the remainder of the meet.

Horse racing green space as an antidote to huge data centers

While I was flying a drone at the Adios, and noticing all of the great green space and rolling hills, I was wondering why the industry isn't using this fact to its advantage. AI is here and hard charging. Good or bad, it seems like many people are not keen on these gigantic data centers. Our harness industry (and horse racing in general) offers a great balance and counter punch to these power-hungry, land-stripping megaplexes that are popping up all over the country. It seems like good messaging would be to have state, local and federal governments step up efforts to protect harness racing along with the great green space it occupies. What person would not get behind these beautiful animals and scenic fields versus the eyesore of these tech spaces?

It could be a great win for the harness racing industry and someone should get this bandwagon rolling.

I made a picture to illustrate the point.
