The rapid ascension of Bill Pollock

Bruce Areman was waiting for the right horse to bring his long-time friend Bill Pollock into horse ownership. Now the two are having the time of their lives trying to climb to the top of the game in short order.

with DEBBIE LITTLE

Owner Bruce Areman had been waiting to find just the right horse to bring his long-time friend Bill Pollock into the harness racing business. Areman obviously chose well, since the pair, along with partner/trainer Andrew Harris, have two competing in tonight's Breeders Crown.

"[Pollock] was a fan of [harness racing] when he was younger, but never really got involved and I always said I wouldn't really do anything unless the right horse came along," Areman said. "It had to be a special horse because he only wants a really good champion-type horse, which, you know, is hard to find for sale."

On Oct. 29, 2022, Harris mentioned to Areman that 4-year-old pacer Abuckabett Hanover was in the Preferred Equine Online sale on Oct. 31.

October 29 was also Pollock's 70th birthday and when the friends went to dinner to celebrate, the idea of horse ownership came up, just not from Areman.

"Billy's wife [Karen] said to my wife out of nowhere that night, 'Why won't Bruce let Billy in the horse business?'" Areman said. "And my wife Cathy says, 'I think he's nervous. Billy needs the right kind of horse and he doesn't want to see Billy lose money.' And Billy was sitting right there and he said, 'I can afford to lose a couple of bucks if we lost a couple of bucks.'"

Bruce then explained to Bill about the Abuckabett sale and according to Bruce, from there it all happened fairly quickly. He introduced Bill to Harris and then the trio met at Bill's house for the online auction, and when it was all said and done, the hammer went down for $534,000 and they had a horse and a partnership. A little over a week later, Harris was at the Harrisburg sale purchasing three yearlings for the partnership.

Harris said Bruce had kind of warned him that at some point things might ramp up.

"[Bruce] said, '[Bill] took his business and he grew it from a very small business to one of the biggest businesses around, so, I can already tell you right now that this is going to expand fast,'" Harris said. "So, I was kind of warned after Abuckabett. But, to me, every day I wake up and I just thank God and thank Bill and Bruce for this opportunity because it's one of a kind and not a lot of people get to experience it and so I know I'm blessed."

In August of this year, Bill and his partners purchased 3-year-old pacing colt Seven Colors, and then at the Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, they bought 10 yearlings for a total of $3,550,000.

"Well, this is a unicorn situation for me," Harris said. "I've never been able to get sent to a sale and actually buy the horses that I put on my love list.

"Bill's like 'If you like them, go for them' and I've never been in that position and I can't even believe that I'm in that situation."

Bruce, 63, has been a part-owner on some overnight horses on and off since 1985. In 2018, he was a fractional owner with TheStable.ca and that's how he met Harris, who was training for them in the U.S. at the time. Harris, 39, currently has a 30-horse stable; 17 in his partnership with Bill and Bruce, including the 10 babies.

"If you want to play at the top level, you look at all the barns that play at the top level, they're all the babies guys," Harris said. "You've got to buy them as babies. You've got to roll those dice and take a shot. You can't go out and buy the best horses of every division every year. They don't come up for sale enough and when they do, you have to really overpay for them and you don't mind overpaying for one when you know what they are because if you're prepared to pay [$400,000] or $500,000 for a yearling, why wouldn't you pay [$400,000] or $500,000 for a proven horse?"

"Everyone knows that Bill spends a little bit so they try to put on extra money. I got priced on one the other night and the price was probably 40 to 50 per cent higher than it should have been. If he was 30 or 40 years old, he probably wouldn't do it this way, but, he's in his 70s and he says, 'I want to build a top stable and we need all ages,' but he also says, 'I understand the long game part of it, so we definitely need yearlings, but we also need to buy some that are racing now so that I can enjoy it now.'"

Last, but certainly not least, they added 3-year-old pacing colt El Rey to their stable on Oct. 13, a week before the Crown eliminations. El Rey won one of the three Crown elims for his division.

According to Bill and Bruce, there is a rumor that two-time NBA MVP Nikola Jokic was an underbidder for El Rey.

"They said he got out at $465,000," said Bill, who won the auction at $525,000. "My son was saying 'Dad, why don't you call him or have somebody call him and tell him you'll give him a partnership in it, so we could know the Joker.'"

"I said 'He probably wouldn't take the call. It would be his trainer or somebody who bids it and don't think you're going to meet him. You would never probably meet him.'"

Bill said he didn't go crazy buying too many horses last year because he didn't really know the business and he decided to jump in a little harder this year because his family loves it and he wants his partners to be successful.

"When your son loves it, how could you not be excited and get involved in it?" Bill said. "So that's what was the big key for me. My son and my wife really loved it. So, I jumped in. I'm a competitive guy anyway, so I want to be competitive. It's not like I'm 30 years old, 40 years old and I could put the time in, like everybody else has put in. I don't suppose I have that much time and I have a 14-year-old son [Billy] who loves it. So, I wanted to try to build something for him to get him started. He’s the future of the business as we continue.”

“As good as he is, and I can’t read trainers, so I won’t even begin to try, but as good as [Andrew Harris] is as a trainer, he’s a better person. We won that Pennsylvania Sire Stakes [at Harrah’s Philadelphia] and you know what Andrew did? He stopped here at my house in Freehold with the horse and walked the horse up my driveway for my wife and my son to see him. Can you believe that? Now who would do that? And my son was so excited to see the horse again walking around. My neighbors couldn’t believe it.”

Harris is stabled at Gaitway Farms, about 15 minutes from Freehold, NJ, where both Bill and Bruce reside. As a result, Bill, Bruce and their families often visit their horses.

Knowing how much Bill’s son Billy loves the horses, especially their 2-year-old pacing filly, Donegal Spirit, Harris bought a double-seated jog cart so Billy could go out on the track with him. Harris also made a point of stopping by to see Bill and his family in early September after winning the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship for 3-year-old colts with Seven Colors.

As far as tonight's Crown races are concerned, Bill knows he's in tough with El Rey going up against Confederate, among others, and Abuckabett, known affectionately as "Bucky," taking on Tattoo Artist. The one he considers to be his best 3-year-old colt, Seven Colors, scoped sick in Lexington and even though he's a little better now, he's not 100 per cent so he will not race him.

"It's not for me to say, 'Oh look, I got a Breeders Crown champion,'" Bill said. "No, I want Bucky to be famous. I want Seven Colors to be famous. I want people to say that's a great horse. Not that I'm not appreciative of it, but it doesn't bring anything for me. I just want [my horses] to get the notoriety of it. I know that probably sounds silly, but that's how I feel about it. I like to win blankets more than purses. Now you can't go too far in this sport if you don't win any purses, but I like the blankets better. Winning those trophies and Crowns and stuff like that is really a tribute to the horse and I do like that."

Bill grew up in Freehold and is the co-owner of family-owned Trinity Solar, the largest privately-held residential solar installation company in the nation.

"I know a little bit about harness racing just from watching it a long time ago," Bill said. "The big horse when I was younger or when I was following was Albatross. He was the big horse. He was the best horse. He even came to Freehold once and it was a big deal.

"At my stage of the game, 70 years old going to be 71, if a horse is worth $300,000, you wouldn't pay [$350,000] to have him? I mean, if I wouldn't, what am I waiting for? Now, next year, if I have a bunch of yearlings that turn out to be very good 2-year-olds, if four or five of the 10 are very good, then I'm not in a jam or I'm not in a race to try to get some other good, aged horses. Maybe I can ride it out with these.

"My son said, 'Dad if you don't get some of these yearlings to the Breeders Crown, are you going to be disappointed?' I said, 'I'll be extremely disappointed because that would either mean we don't know how to pick them or we don't know how to train them because they got the bloodline.' And, I know we know how to train them. So, I think they're going to be really good."

Forty years on, the success of the Breeders Crown is in its constant evolution

John Campbell and Moira Fanning explain why the series evolved as it has and even address why eliminations are absolutely necessary.

by Dave Briggs

Four decades in, one of the biggest points of pride for those that have put on the Breeders Crown is that the series has been in a constant state of evolution. From same-day heats and smaller numbers of Crown events at tracks throughout North America to today's all-in-one format at one track per year, one could never accuse the stewards of the much-loved year-end championship series of standing pat.

"If you look at the evolution, we started out with heats and were going to different racetracks all over," said Hambletonian Society / Breeders Crown president and CEO John Campbell. "Now, we have it at one host track every year with eliminations. There's been a lot of fine-tuning or adjustments made throughout the years, which [former CEO] Tom [Charters] and Moira [Fanning] were a big part of those adjustments. To a certain extent, so was I because I was driving and on the Breeders Crown committee for at least 20 years."

This weekend at Harrah's Hoosier Park, the Breeders Crown will celebrate its 40th anniversary. Fanning, the chief operating officer of the Hambletonian Society / Breeders Crown, said this year's event drew the most entries, the most 3-year-old colt pace entries and the richest total purse of almost $8 million. She has been involved directly with the series for 36 of its 40 years.

“The Breeders Crown, for a stake race that takes yearling payments and publishes conditions, has been incredibly receptive and flexible to the people that want to be in it, as far as the format, the locations, the time [of year],” Fanning said. “As John mentioned, imagine that we raced 2-year-olds in heats in the Breeders Crown in the early years.”

The racing schedule was also very different 40 years ago.

“If you look at the landscape of harness racing in 1984, there were many more tracks,” Fanning said. “Every track had a Grand Circuit week and their own stakes. It was a much more crowded stakes calendar. The sire stakes programs were just nascent and minimal at best, so the Grand Circuit stakes and other races of that caliber – every track had them.

“The men and women who started the Breeders Crown had to be tremendously influential to convince Edmonton, The Meadows, Pompano, Rosecroft, Garden State Park, that they had to have a Breeders Crown race.”

She said it was fortuitous that the birth of the Crown coincided with the arrival of ESPN.

“There was a national outlet for sports on TV that we had never had before,” Fanning said. “Now, most people at that time did not have cable and the idea that they didn’t know or have ESPN seems crazy now, but it’s true. Still, it carried a legitimacy to the [Crown] events and that’s why a lot of them were on Friday nights, because that’s the time that ESPN had available.”

Fanning said one of the biggest changes in the series came in 1998 when The Meadowlands asked to scrap same-day heats for the Hambletonian in favor of eliminations the week before the final.

“That was a big concession by The Society,” Fanning said. “It was a big break with tradition. They offered, as a sweetener for that, to host the Open Breeders Crowns on that same weekend, which I think still those weekends are our highest handling weekends for both events.

“Tom was able to convince Mohawk to do that as well, so that every year we switched between Mohawk and The Meadowlands with the open events and The Meadowlands would hold them on Labor Day. Now, that stretched the definition of the year-end championship, but it fit wonderfully into the calendar and fit wonderfully into the track’s schedule and it worked out – that’s how we got [Italian star] Varenne [to race in the Breeders Crown] and had a million-dollar trot. Those maybe would not have occurred in late October, but could occur in August and September.”

The modern format of having all the Crown events at the same racetrack began in 2010 at The Downs at Mohegan Pennsylvania (Pocono Downs).

In 2014, The Meadowlands asked to split up the Crown events to have the 2-year-old finals on Friday night and the 3-year-old and open finals on Saturday.

“It was logistics and also the thought that maybe we could increase handle on two nights,” Campbell said. “I remember talking to Tom Charters about it and with 12 all on one night, some of the winners would just kind of get lost in the shuffle. We found that when we did split it up four and eight, then you could focus more on the winners and they didn’t seem to get lost in the next 10 races.

“We really thought that when we did split it that it was the pattern that maybe worked the best. As of right now, we still think that.”

As the Crown is expensive to put on and not best suited to half-mile tracks, that limits the potential field of host tracks. Currently, there are three tracks in a rotation to play host to the Breeders Crown — Hoosier Park, Woodbine Mohawk Park and The Meadowlands.

“But, we are talking to another track in a totally different jurisdiction about potentially hosting in the next couple of years,” Campbell said. “We certainly will entertain any track that wants to make a presentation or an offer to host. We’re not locked into just those three tracks. We have an open mind about any track that would want to potentially host.”

ELIMINATIONS EXPLAINED

As for the modern day challenges inherent with having Crown eliminations — short fields, often uncompetitive races, fields split into less-than-desirable numbers like this year when there were six-horse races — Campbell said there are key reasons why Crown eliminations are important and a points system for which horses race in the finals would be detrimental.

“The one thing that people have to realize is that the purses are totally funded from within the industry,” he said. “And that’s the whole spectrum of the industry, from top to bottom, whether it be owners, breeders or stallion owners. The stallion owners pay their stallions in and we have from $500 stallions to $30,000 stallions that pay in and we want to keep that all-inclusive. The same with yearlings... we have yearlings from every spectrum that pay into the Breeders Crown and, again, we want to encourage that. We’re promoting hopes and dreams and the end of that dream is the potential for a Breeders Crown victory.

“In order for us to pay the purses — and, as Moira said, we’re just under $8 million this year between eliminations and finals — we’ve been able to bump our purses up the last few years and it’s because of the support within the industry and we don’t want to do anything to jeopardize that. So, a points system at the end of the year? We’d be racing for a fraction that we race for right now, there’s no doubt in my mind. So, the funding part is huge and keeping it inclusive for all of the industry is very important. Once you do that, then we have to have eliminations.

“We have to satisfy a number of entities in here. We have to satisfy the people that are paying in and make sure they all have a chance. One of the things that we’ve done is that there will be no trailers in elimination races. There will be in the finals, but not elimination races. Then, when you go from track to track, the number that they split at is different at The Meadowlands than here at Hoosier or at Mohawk. Those splits are different and the host tracks are certainly involved in that decision.

~ John Campbell

“We realize the elimination races... will not be as competitive as the finals. It’s just the way it is and it’s the same in any race that has eliminations. It’s the difference between regular season hockey and playoff hockey.

“We’re trying to satisfy more than one entity in getting the best horses with the best opportunity into the Finals.”

That said, Campbell said even the handle on this year’s three elimination nights was decent.

“For the Thursday night eliminations they bet double what they did the Thursday before at Hoosier,” Campbell said. “On the Friday night, we were up over 25 per cent from the Friday of the 2020 eliminations. Same thing on the Saturday, we were up significantly in handle at Hoosier. So, the data supports that we know they are elimination races – it says so right at the top of the page – but there’s certainly still a segment of the betting public that will still bet on them.”

As for the decision to have Crown races right to the end of the card, making for a long night, Campbell said, “it’s mostly a host track decision. They determine when they feel that they can maximize dollars with handle, so we pretty well leave it up to the host tracks. We’ll have suggestions, but the ultimate decision comes from the host track for when they want to put those races on so they can maximize handle dollars.

Fanning added, “As handle has shifted to almost all off-track and not on-track, racetracks have to, with almost surgical precision, find the window and find the time that maximizes their handle.”

As for what the next 10 years leading up to the Breeders Crown’s 50th anniversary holds, Campbell was cautious.

“I think, to be perfectly blunt and honest, I believe if the racing jurisdictions that have casino money or appropriation from their state or province’s government... as long as we can hang onto that money and that money continues for the next 10 years, I think the Breeders Crown will flourish,” Campbell said. “I don’t see a big change in how it’s presented in the next 10 years, but it’s all predicated on us holding onto that money and keep the breeding business thriving, the yearling market thriving... those are the things that are key in the Breeders Crown moving forward.”

Looking back one final time, Fanning said she gives Charters, “a lot of credit for pivoting at key moments and keeping the races going” by not being stubborn about tradition.

“Forty years to keep something going in harness racing and not just last... but [flourish] by whatever analytic you want to use, you have to call that a success,” she said.

Who can surprise in each of the Breeders Crown races

by Brett Sturman

With the formality of last week's Breeders Crown elimination races complete, the real racing began last night (Oct. 27) with the 2-year-old divisions. Tonight (Oct. 28) features the 3-year-old and older divisions and just like on Friday, there is the expectation for a series of hotly-contested matchups. While there will be many well-backed and well deserving in-form favorites, here are possible upset candidates in each of tonight's races. Some perhaps more of a stretch than others.

RACE 8 – MARE TROT

Refined was impressive in tracking down M-M's Dream last week at 12-1 odds and I don't think it was a fluke. She offered similar odds when winning the Armbrø Flight earlier this season over Bella Bellini, and McNair has driven her to both those wins. Refined and M-M's Dream went to the half in :57.1 last week which was actually fast when compared to the baby race-like half-mile time of :59.2 from the elimination won by Jiggy Jog. For Jiggy Jog, she started the year as the undisputed best of this division, was beaten a couple of times by M-M's Dream, but now it looks like the pendulum is once again turning back.

RACE 9 – 3-YEAR-OLD FILLY TROT

The complexion of this race changed entirely with the break of Mommamia Volo in last week's elimination. With three straight bruising wins, she would have been the likely favorite in this race if not for last week's mishap, and that role will now go to Bond. With her win in 1:52.2 last week, Bond's elimination win was nearly three full seconds quicker than fellow Svanstedt stablemate, Special Way's elimination win time. With Tetrack driving for the third time, Special Way will be the obvious alternative to Bond, though she herself will still offer a short price. For a longer chance, Railee Something at 10-1 is in a pretty decent spot from the second tier. She'll go second-time Dunn for trainer Burke and may be able to work out a cover trip and not have to be used hard early as she's been in races throughout the year, including how she raced in the Hambletonian Oaks.

RACE 10 – 3-YEAR-OLD FILLY PACE

After starting the year 0-for-11 while racing almost exclusively against the division's killers, Zanatta has now won three of her last four. It looks like she gained some confidence in the Jugette and Courageous Lady, and then used that to somehow surge in the final sixteenth of a mile last week to track down Twin B Joe Fresh; the first time she's been able to get to that rival this year. Bongiorno has her moving in the right direction and will be well positioned once again. Strong Poison continues to fire almost every race and had her elimination well in-hand on the front past a :57.3 half mile and used that to comfortably stave off Sylvia Hanover, who will be grinding into it once again as an underlay. Twin B Joe Fresh may actually offer relative value in this spot.

RACE 11 – 3-YEAR-OLD COLT TROT

At a 12-1 morning line and likely double-digit odds, Air Power jumps off the page. When right, he might actually be the fastest horse in here. Erratic for sure, he's shown more than enough flashes of brilliance and he looked like he was about to clear to the lead on that final turn in the Kentucky Futurity two races back before promptly breaking. This is a wide-open division and any of the other usual suspects throughout the season in here are all capable of winning depending on how that trip plays out. That includes Hambletonian winner Tactical Approach, who between starting from the second-tier and the Hoosier Park passing lane, may not even need to leave the inside yet again. Helpfirstedition looks like he's making good on the gamble as the lone supplement into this year's Breeders Crown. Indiana-sired champion was a powerful elimination winner last week when moving clear late of Ari Ferrari J, though that one was roughed up early following a belated leave attempt and is another square-priced threat.

RACE 12 – MARE PACE

Max Contract may not be as long of a price as some others, but her form right now is undeniable. Even that sick scratch from a month ago couldn't derail her, and she steamrolled them last week in the stretch once she tipped out from fourth at the top of the lane. She was equally impressive against lesser over this same track in September and Miller may only need to work out a smooth cover trip from the rail to set it up for her late kick. Grace Hill didn't have the incentive I suppose to keep her eight-race win streak going, which came to an end in last week's elimination when she was taken back at the start. She's been the scourge of this group all year. Kobe's Gigi was sharp in her elimination score last week but very similar to Strong Poison from two races back, may find a more pressured pace this time around. Mikala was run down last week by Max Contract but I'd say she does her best work when closing. She's already shocked earlier in the year and will get a cover trip while starting from the second tier.

RACE 13 – 3-YEAR-OLD COLT PACE

No knock whatsoever against Confederate who has proven his tremendous ability all season long and who some consider to be the greatest 3-year-old since Somebeachsomewhere, but I have a feeling that El Rey is going to be a trendy pick to pull off the shocker. It seems like ages ago, but he was last year's Governor's Cup winner hitting his best form at this exact time last year, and he looked as good as ever last week when debuting for new connections. Fresh off the half-million-dollar sale price, he delivered immediately for new trainer Andrew Harris and new driver Dexter Dunn, defeating Cannibal. He just might be good enough right now to give Confederate a race. Coach Stefanos is another who might attract some attention by virtue of his :24.2 final quarter from his elimination win last week. That win greatly flatters ISS-champion Why Not Now, who races earlier on the card in race 5.

RACE 14 – OPEN TROT

I know that recent New York form is bad, and he was also a non-factor when he took on these types in the Cashman in August, but Delayed Hanover was really decent last week at 70-1. A top Hambletonian contender from 2021, he was legitimately strong through the stretch last week when visibly moving fastest of all and backed up on paper by that :26.3 final quarter. A 20-1 programmed chance from the rail; stranger things have happened. Alrajah One is a machine. This is only his seventh start in North America over the past two years but he makes them count. Logan Park impressed last week in his wire-to-wire score turning away Southwind Tyrion, did well for himself to back up those three straight 1:50 and change miles from Woodbine Mohawk Park.

RACE 15 – OPEN PACE

In the final Breeders Crown race, the accuracy of the Hoosier morning-line oddsmaker throughout these elimination and finals races should be noted. It's unheard of these days to project out what the actual odds should be, such as Confederate being listed in the morning line last week at a correct 1-9 and Geocentric listed correctly in the program at 1-5, and on and on. It gives far more credibility to the race program than having these same horses listed at 3-1 or 5-2 in the same spot elsewhere. That said, in this race with Tattoo Artist listed at even money and Bythemissal at 3-1, I wonder if it's partially backwards. Yes, Tattoo Artist brings his seven-race win streak with him into tonight's final including a win over Bythemissal three back at Dayton, but it's a different kind of race now and I'd prefer Bythemissal, especially with the improved post position. As a longer chance, Charlie May can come rallying. Dave Miller has sprung upsets with him before and I wouldn't hold last week's first-over try against him too much.

40 facts and figures in honor of the 40th edition of the Breeders Crown

by Bob Heyden

1. Only one horse, No Pan Intended, has won both a Triple Crown and a Breeders Crown.
2. Both the trotting and pacing marks in Crown history were set in 2022: King Of The North went 1:50.3 and Bulldog Hanover went 1:46.4.
3. Diamond Creek exploded onto the Breeders Crown scene in 2015 winning with three homebreds: Pure Country, Creatine and Divine Caroline.
4. David Miller won four straight crowns in 2015 with D'One, Always B Miki, Colors A Virgin and The Bank.
5. In 2013 the top five drivers in North America swept the 12 Breeders Crown races at Pocono. Ron Pierce, Tim Tetrick and Yannick Gingras had three each, David Miller had two and Brian Sears had one.
6. Both John Campbell and Brian Sears were the driving leader in the Crown for six straight years.
7. The top seven drivers in Breeders Crown history have won 47 per cent of the races (217 out of 464).
8. Linda Toscano and Nancy Takter are tied at eight Breeders Crowns each which is No. 1 among female trainers.

9. Nine drivers are past $5 million in the Breeders Crown series. Dexter Dunn is a quarter million from joining the list.
10. Ten years ago, at Pocono, Foiled Again and Captaintreacherous got their lone Breeders Crown win.
11. Eleven of the 27 elimination winners were odds-on favorites last week.
12. Twelve of the 27 elimination winners last week were favored.
13. Thirteen years ago, Buck I St Pat and Won The West won back-to-back Crowns for Burke, giving him his first wins in the series.
14. Fourteen years ago, Muscle Hill became the last horse to win both the Hambletonian and the Breeders Crown in the same year.
15. Fifteen of the 40 Crown horses entered Friday Night are sired by horses that Tim Tetrick drove: Huntsville, Captaintreacherous, Walner, Chapter Seven, Bar Hopping and Boston Red Rocks.
16. Sixteen horses in the history of the Breeders Crown have had at least five starts in a Crown final.
17. Seventeen of the 45 drivers who have won $1 million plus in the Breeders Crown were born in the U.S.
18. Eighteen years ago, two drivers had back-to-back four-winner Breeders Crowns: Ron Pierce and Sears.
19. Nineteen years ago, the Hambletonian/Triple Crown winner Windsong's Legacy passed on the Breeders Crown.
20. Steve Elliott trained Crown winners 20 years apart in 1988 and 2008.
21. Twenty-one of the past 24 Hambletonian winners have gotten no money in the Breeders Crown 3YOCT. Of course, two were ladies, so actually it's 19 of 22.
22. It's been 22 years since Balanced Image sired both the 2YOCT (Duke Of York) and the 3YOCT (Liberty Balance). It has not happened since. This year, Tactical Landing with Karl and Tactical Approach could duplicate it.
23. Twenty-three per cent of Breeders Crown winners have been homebreds. (Defined here as the owners and breeders being one and the same).
24. Twenty-four years ago, four of the top six trainers in year-end Breeders Crown earnings had just the that lone start. It was a victory of course.
25. Bettor's Delight is 25 and once again is represented in the Crown with this his 20th crop of freshman. He would be the oldest pacing sire to win one. Speedy Crowns' Moni Maker won in 1998 when he was 29.

26. George Brennan's average win price in his six Crown wins is $26.60.

27. It's been 27 years since Peter Wrenn's last Breeders Crown win in 1996 with Personal Banner in the 3YOFT denying Moni Maker her 20th straight win.

28. Twenty-eight years ago (1995) was the only time a different driver won ever Crown.

29. Twenty-nine years ago, Immortality became the lone $2.10 winner in Breeders Crown history at the time.

30. Hanover Shoe Farms and Brittany Farms are tied as the top Crown breeders with 30 wins each.

31. Thirty-one years ago, half of the Breeders Crown winners paid $2.60 or less. Are we looking at that again in 2023?

32. Thirty-two of the 120 Crown horses are PA-bred.

33. It's been 33 years since Paul MacDonell lit up the board with Bays Fella for a group of golfing buddies.

34. Dexter Dunn and Scott Zeron are both 34. The last time a driver won three straight Breeders Crowns, he was also 34, Tim Tetrick (2016) with Huntsville, Walner and Bar Hopping.

35. Brian Sears, David Miller and Ron Pierce all won their first Crown at 35. They have since won a combined 95 of them.

36. Thirty-six years ago, Mack Lobell won the Breeders Crown by the biggest ever margin, 12 3/4 lengths.

37. Thirty-seven years ago, the 2-year-old earnings record was set by Redskin at $1,407,263 and has not been touched since. If TCI wins, he will eclipse that mark.

38. Thirty-eight years ago, Prakas became the first horse to win both the Hambletonian and the Breeders Crown and he did so with two different drivers.

39. The Breeders Crown kicked off in 1984, 39 years back.

40. Of the drivers in the 40th edition of the Crown listed on the morning-line favorite, only Yannick Gingras and Tim Tetrick are actually in their 40s.

Sylvain Filion: 10,000 driving wins and one “Monster”

by Melissa Keth

While several Woodbine Mohawk Park drivers will take part in the 2023 Breeders Crown finals at Harrah's Hoosier Park, the winningest of them all will be driving at his home track in Campbellville, ON. Sylvain Filion reached his 10,000th victory Monday (Oct. 23) in race 1 at WMP, with 2-year-old pacing filly One More Bet (p, 2, 1:52s; $38,133), trained by Jean Tourigny and owned by Les Ecuries Morel Inc, Mirabel, QC.

“We got over it early!” said Filion, remarking on the milestone win Thursday (Oct. 26.).

While he wasn't counting down himself, he said his friends were watching closely.

“So, I knew Monday night I was only missing one, going to the track, and I kind of knew I had a good shot in the first race,” he said. “It wasn't really a surprise, but it was good to have it done early.”

He told HRU he began his driving career in 1987.

“At Three Rivers [now Hippodrome 3R in Quebec]...,” he said. “I had my first driving win in Rideau Carleton, in Ottawa, with Supreme Jade [p, 8, TT1:53.1m; $413,015], my dad's horse.”

Sylvain's father is Yves Filion, brother of the late Hervé Filion. Although Hervé died in 2017, his record of 15,183 driving wins remains No. 3 in North American history.

“I didn't feel any pressure being Hervé's nephew, you know,” said Sylvain. “It might have opened doors, actually. So, I didn't really mind at all.”

Sylvain Filion has surpassed 10,000 career wins.

“I was lucky throughout my life. I didn’t have too many accidents. I never really got hurt, so that’s one of the reasons I was able to reach 10,000... I am cautious, but you need some luck, too. I was very fortunate.”

~ Sylvain Filion

Being a Filion helped Sylvain get started in the industry, but only because he took initiative himself. “Paying attention, yeah,” he said. “They weren’t really good at giving out advice, but I had my eyes open, and I saw a lot of things that they would do, just small things that they would do, that would separate them from the others. Not really secrets, but I mean that they would study the program really good, and try to know every horse in the race, because you never know when you’re going to race against them again, or you’re even going to drive one of those horses. So, it’s good to know every horse in the race.”

That interest in understanding each horse as an individual has stoked his lifelong fascination with the sport. Now 54 years old, Sylvain said he continues driving for the same reasons he began.

“The passion, and the connection with the horses,” he said. “There’s no two same horses; when you sit behind them, they’re all different. That’s what I like. You’ve got to learn their habits, and it’s a fun time being behind different horses.”

Sylvain said the best race of his career was the 2001 Breeders Crown Open Pace, won with Goliath Bayama (p, 5, 1:48.1s; $1,503,428).

“You got it right on; that’s my favorite horse of all time,” he said. “That’s the horse that gave me the biggest thrills ever... The horse was racing good, and the owners wanted to try him [at The Meadowlands]. I was really happy with their decision. My dad owned half of the horse, and I know he’s got a lot of faith in me, so I was sure I would keep the drive.”

He said the stallion known as “The Monster from Montreal” passed away two years ago.

“My dad sold his part of him, so Serge Godin [of Determination, Montreal, QC] owned him,” Sylvain said. “He was at the farm at Guy Corbeil’s in Quebec, a real good home.”

After Goliath Bayama’s Breeders Crown, Sylvain’s second-favorite race was another from the “Monster.” “When I finished second with Goliath Bayama in the [1999] North America Cup, to The Panderosa, it was my first big race, and I was ‘mic’d up,’ and I ended up second, which I was pretty happy about,” he said. “He was born and raised on the [Bayama] farm. I was really proud of him.”

Rebeka Bayama (p, 5, 1:48.3m; $722,363) also stands out as a Breeders Crown memory for Filion.

“She was kind of related to Goliath Bayama,” he said. “She was a Leader Bayama, and Leader Bayama was a brother to Goliath.”

A regular top-class Mohawk/Woodbine pacing mare in 2011-2012, she finished third to 2012 Breeders Crown Mare Pace champion Anndrovette and runner-up Drop The Ball in the Woodbine Racetrack final.

This season’s standout horse for the Filion family is Funtime Bayama (p, 2, 1:50.1s; $182,767), the Canadian and WMP record-holder for 2-year-old pacing geldings. The homebred won five straight WMP stakes races for trainer Richard Moreau, with Sylvain in the sulky, before finishing third as the 1-9 beaten favorite in his Ontario Sires Stakes Gold Super Final Oct. 13 at Mohawk.

Funtime Bayama “ended up sick after that race,” Filion said. “Because he’s a big horse, my dad only lightly staked him. Right after the race, we put him away, so hopefully next year, we expect big things from him. Next year, if he comes back healthy and sound and everything, I think we've got a good prospect for the bigger races."

The gelding is currently turned out at Yves' farm in Quebec. He's just the latest successful Bayama-bred.

"It started a long time ago," said Sylvain. "It started with my grandfather. Then he gave the name to my dad's business, and my dad kept it on. Now he's cut down pretty much [due to age]. He only has two broodmares, and he's going with seven or eight [racing] right now."

Another Filion is currently helping Yves at the farm.

"Justin, that's my brother, he's 50," said Sylvain. "He didn't work with the horses all these years. He just came back... and he's working with my dad. He's driving a few in Ottawa [at Rideau Carleton] right now. He's doing good. He loves the horses."

Sylvain lives in Milton, ON, close to Woodbine Mohawk Park, where he primarily drives today.

"Thirteen minutes away; pretty convenient," he said.

When the Quebec racing industry collapsed, he made the decision to permanently relocate.

"In 1999, I came to Toronto for a couple years, and I made great connections," he said. "So, I thought I could come back, and with the help of Richard Moreau, I thought I could maybe do well... I was able to make connections, guys like [WMP trainer] Gregg McNair, so that helped my decision to come back here."

He isn't driving at Hoosier Park on Breeders Crown weekend, instead joking that he appreciated the absence of top WMP drivers James MacDonald, Doug McNair, Louis-Philippe Roy, and Bob McClure.

"It makes my job easier," Sylvain said with a laugh.

While still in demand as a driver, Sylvain said he's more focused on his home track at this point in his career.

"I decided to cut down on traveling," he said. "At my age, I like going to Mohawk, but going to other tracks, it's almost like a pain in the ass."

The 1999 World Driving Championship winner was also a four-time Driver of the Year (2012, 2013, 2015, and 2016) at Canada's O'Brien Awards.

Relocating from Quebec and avoiding injury helped with Sylvain's rise to the top.

"I was lucky throughout my life," he said. "I didn't have too many accidents. I never really got hurt, so that's one of the reasons I was able to reach 10,000... I am cautious, but you need some luck, too. I was very fortunate."

While he's visited Hippodrome 3R in the recent past, Sylvain said making a living as a horseman there is difficult, with just one pari-mutuel track in his home province.

"It's tough," he said. "It's really political. If they don't get a track in Montreal, I can't see the business growing."

Even so, the family's love of the standardbred sport continues into the next generation with Sylvain's 10-year-old daughter, Stella-Rose.

"She loves the races," he said with pride. "She was really happy that I reached 10,000 wins. She made me a short video. It was unbelievable."

Pursuing Hervé's record of 15,183 driving wins isn't Sylvain's next goal.

"I would have to live until I'm 100 to do that!" he said with a laugh. "You know what, I'll keep driving here at Mohawk and try to win as many races as I can, and try to stay healthy and avoid wrecks."

A last hurrah for Jujubee

by John Sacco for the Breeders Crown

Jujubee, the 2021 Breeders Crown 3-year-old colt trotting champion and Dan Patch Trotter of the Year, will stand stud next year at Ivy Lane Farm in Goshen, IN, for a fee of $4,000.

But before retiring to the stallion barn, the brown son of stallion Creatine, from the Cantab Hall mare La Cantera, will lead the post parade tonight (Oct. 28) at Harrah's Hoosier Park for the 11th race – the $672,000 3-Year-Old Colt Trot final.

Jujubee, owned by Jon Erdner, and trained by The Meadows-based Greg Wright, Jr., was plagued by injuries and a chronic problem with his feet the past two years and never reached his expected heights as an older trotter.

“People kind of forgot about him the way the last two years have gone,” Wright said. “He was the talk of the trotting world as a 3-year-old. This will give people a chance to see how beautiful he is. He'll like being under the lights one more time. It's a nice farewell.”

Jujubee won 14 races in 2021, finishing no worse than second in 17 of 18 races. His victories included the Breeders Crown for 3-year-old male trotters, Kentucky Futurity, Pennsylvania Sire Stakes final and Phil Langley Memorial.

Adam Ström
Jujubee and trainer Greg Wright, Jr. after winning the Breeders Crown for sophomore trotting colts in 2021 at The Meadowlands.

Though not Hambletonian eligible, he won the Muscle Hill on Hambletonian Day at The Meadowlands in 1:49.4, the fastest trotting mile of the day on a star-studded card that featured victories by names like Manchego, Atlanta, Bella Bellini and Hambletonian winner Captain Corey.

The colt also won the Kentucky Futurity in 1:49.3.

Jujubee was stalled in pursuit of greatness as an older horse. However, he had his moments as a 4- and 5-year-old performer.

Erdner believed Jujubee would flourish as he aged. He once called Jujubee “the horse of a lifetime.”

He finally decided to retire the horse after a rough trip Sept. 9 at Eldorado Scioto Downs. Jujubee concluded his career with 18 wins in 38 starts (.474 winning percentage). He finished in the money 28 times (.737 in the money) and had lifetime earnings of $1.22 million.

“It was time,” Erdner said. “This seems like the best fit for [Jujubee]. I wanted to play the hand out [racing] but he just had too many injuries to overcome.”

Erdner worked with Robert Boni, owner and president of Northwood Bloodstock and well-known standardbred expert, to find Jujubee the right place.

“I trust [Boni] and felt like he had Jujubee's best interest and best place for [breeding] success,” Erdner said.

Boni lamented Jujubee's injuries and pitfalls of the last two years but said “make no mistake, [Jujubee] had a great 3-year-old season.

“Unfortunately, issues stopped him from showing himself [the last two years]. This is a great program he is moving into and it gives him a chance for success.”

The owner said he had a couple $1 million offers for the horse after the big 3-year-old season. Some industry sources say he even passed on a $2.5 million sale offer.

Erdner said depending on Jujubee's success as a sire, he still could be syndicated.

Jujubee's performances were all over the board this season, as extreme as finishing 10th at the Crawford Farms Open Trot at The Meadowlands early this season to winning the $21,200 open handicap trot (July 29) at The Meadows in 1:51.1; the fastest mile trotted in the track's 60-year history.

“He's been such a true champion,” Wright said. “He's the only 3-year-old trotting colt to post two sub-1:50 miles.

“Training him is the thrill of a lifetime. I hope he passes his power and speed to his offspring and is a good sire. I hope one day I get to train one of his babies.”

Boni added that Jujubee becomes the first Breeders Crown champion and Trotter of the Year to stand in Indiana.

“This is a great opportunity for Jon, Indiana, and the horse men in that prominent jurisdiction,” Boni said.

Enjoying the ride with Twin B Joe Fresh

by Ken Weingartner
/ USTA
media relations manager

From her earliest days in trainer Chris Ryder's stable, female pacer Twin B Joe Fresh was eye-catching.

"When she came in the barn, she was absolutely spectacular looking. From day one," said Peter Trebotica, Ryder's longtime assistant and a co-owner of Twin B Joe Fresh. "Strong, big, beautiful. She looked the part.

"I told them when we were going 2:50 miles [preparing for her 2-year-old season] that this is a special horse. I told people she's in a league of her own."

Since her racing career began, the filly has done more than look the part — she's acted it. Twin B Joe Fresh has hit the board in 23 of 24 lifetime starts, winning 17 and finishing second on five occasions. Purchased for $65,000 at the 2021 Standardbred Horse Sale, the daughter of Roll With Joe—Fresh Breeze has earned $1.28 million in purses.

On Saturday (Oct. 28), she will meet nine rivals in the $600,000 Breeders Crown final for 3-year-old female pacers at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

"You have to pinch yourself a little bit, really," Ryder said. "We loved her at the sale; we loved her when we got her home. She always had plenty of go. She's been pretty much trouble-free. It's been terrific. She's a good girl. Her record speaks for itself."

Ryder and Trebotica own Twin B Joe Fresh with driver Dexter Dunn and Barry Spak. Ryder went to the 2021 Standardbred Horse Sale looking to buy a yearling for the group to replace a 3-year-old it sold a month prior to the auction.

As Hip #630, Twin B Joe Fresh was late in the sale.

"I missed on some horses, but I knew she was coming up, so I didn't push myself on the others because she was about the last one that I liked," Ryder said, adding with a laugh. "So, when she came in, I kind of had to buy her. You've got to believe in fate a little bit."

As a 2-year-old, Twin B Joe Fresh won in 1:48.4 to tie Test Of Faith for history's second-fastest mile by a rookie female pacer. Her career victories include two Kentucky Sire Stakes Championship Series finals, one New York Sire Stakes final, and a half-dozen Grand Circuit triumphs, led by this year's James M. Lynch Memorial.

After guiding Twin B Joe Fresh to victory in the Lynch, Dunn said, "It's always different when you own them, especially with Chris and Pete and the team. It's very special."

Trebotica, who has owned only a handful of horses over the years, also is enjoying the experience with his wife, Barbara, and son, Brad.

"It's a big part of our lives at the moment," Trebotica said. "I've been with her every day of her life, me and my wife. When she's in the barn, we're there. We want to be there. She's special. My biggest thrill is just being around her every day."

Twin B Joe Fresh was not eligible to the Breeders Crown at age 2. Last week, she finished second by a nose to Zanatta in one of two Breeders Crown eliminations. She will start the final from post 7 and is 3-1 on the morning line, the third choice behind elimination winner Strong Poison, at 2-1, and returning Crown champion Sylvia Hanover, at 5-2.

"This is the biggest race of her career," said Trebotica, who has worked with Ryder for 23 years. "She can [race] any way you want, and she's got an engine on her you wouldn't believe. She's just powerful. And she wants to do it. She has a big heart."

Harrah's Hoosier Park hosts the eight finals for 3-year-olds and older horses tonight. Racing begins at 6 p.m. (EDT).

John Stefanos and 'The Coach' reach the pinnacle in Breeders Crown

by Rich Fisher for the Breeders Crown

In John Stefanos' mind, he has reached the Cooperstown of harness racing.

As a travel baseball coach in Illinois for six years, Stefanos guided his Under-12 squad through a 104-team national tournament into the Sweet 16 held in Cooperstown, NY.

As a standardbred owner his equine namesake, Coach Stefanos, has reached the Breeders Crown final for 3-year-old male pacers tonight (Oct. 28) at Harrah's Hoosier Park.

"Dreams Park in Cooperstown is the Breeders Crown of travel baseball," said Stefanos, whose team made it there in 2017. "This is the pinnacle. My wife and I will be there before the race. We might be coming in hot, but we'll be there."

The couple has a busy day. Stefanos no longer coaches baseball but is still the defensive backs coach for Marist High School outside of Chicago. The afternoon of the Crown the couple will drive to Evanston, IL, to watch the football game between Maryland and Northwestern, where Marist graduate Deuce McGuire plays offensive tackle. From there, they will rush to Anderson, IN, to watch Coach Stefanos try to continue his incredible run.

The horse was purchased by Ken Duffy, whose twin boys played with Stefanos' son on his Orland Park Warriors. In tribute to Stefanos' coaching, Duffy named the colt after him and brought Stefanos on board as a part owner along with D & M Trading II LLC.

Coach Stefanos did not cost a fortune but he has produced a pretty penny. In 24 career starts the horse has hit the board 21 times, has 12 wins and earned $625,920.

"He's been a great horse to have," trainer Erv Miller said. "He does everything he's supposed to do all the time. He's easy to jog, easy to train, he really hasn't had much of a problem anywhere along the way. He's had a really good year. There's nothing hard about him. He does it all."

Stefanos likens "The Coach," as he likes to call him, to his Warriors baseball team. Unlike most travel teams, which bring in players from multiple towns and states, Orland Park's team was filled with all local players.

"We said we were going to stick with 11 kids just from our town," Stefanos said. "No one in this community has ever advanced that far. Rarely has anyone in Illinois done that."

Much like the Warriors, little was initially expected from Coach Stefanos.

"We didn't pay a lot for the horse, we didn't have huge expectations, we just thought this was going to be fun," Stefanos said. "He goes out there, he wins, then he wins again. Then we bring the kids [from the Warriors] last year and he wins. You're like 'Wait a minute here!' All of a sudden, he's the 2-year-old Horse of the Year in Indiana. I told everybody this is like a bad movie. You have a horse named after a coach and now it's one of the top horses in the country. You want to pinch yourself. How did we get so fortunate to be in this situation?"

No matter how bad the movie, it has played to packed houses of former Warrior baseball players. Stefanos said that fraternity houses from the University of Alabama to Ole Miss; and from Ohio State to the University of Iowa tune into the Coach's races.

"It's been incredible," Stefanos said. "What a horse. It's like a community now. It's amazing how many people follow the Coach. It's awesome."

Coach Stefanos will face his toughest competition yet in the Breeders Crown, but Miller feels he is ready.

"One reason we put him in is that he had been supplemented for $10,000 in February," the trainer said. "It's hard to let that $10,000 go and he was about on the top of his game. I just said that they spent that money then, we thought that much of him, let's take a shot at it."

In 13 starts this season Coach Stefanos has collected six wins, six seconds and $380,865. On Oct. 21 he won his Breeders Crown elimination with a furious finish. The gelded son of Tellitlikeitis out of Watch N Be Watched paced in 1:50.3 and went :24.2 in the final quarter with Trace Tetrack in the sulky.

"That was his best performance and it's what we needed to go into the Breeders Crown [final]," Miller said. "If we have a little luck and he comes back to that this week, we'll have a shot at it. He was stellar. I don't know what the world record is for a last quarter, but it can't be much faster than that. I know :24.2 is not seen very often."

Stefanos said he had no great illusions of what the horse could do. In baseball parlance, he just wanted to make solid contact and hope it turns into a base hit.

"We see who's in these races and you've got these billion-dollar horses, so it's like, let's just qualify," he said. "The way he ran that race, coming from fifth and the way he finished was amazing. The phones were blowing up. It was awesome. So, we're obviously super pumped up."

"He's got incredible competition [in the final], Confederate, he's like Secretariat out there. We're right behind him. But hey, that's why they play the game. We're super excited."

Confederate won his elim while being driven by Tim Tetrack, so yet another Tetrack family showdown will be on display. Stefanos is anxious to see how it plays out.

"I feel like we've got a good post," he said. "The 5 hole right next to Confederate at 4. There's just plenty of good horses in there. I would never count the Coach out. He's a gamer. In the two years he has never not been in the mix. So just be in the mix."

"It's a longshot. Obviously, you've got these incredible horses he's going up against. If Trace can get that perfect trip out of him, hey, anything can happen. We're excited. This horse is a warrior. Just like our baseball team was the Warriors, this horse is also a warrior."

Stefanos recalled a time in Cooperstown when the team was pitted against former Major Leaguer Andy Pettitte's highly ranked squad. They brought a bunch of baseballs for Pettitte to sign, figuring he would be in a good mood after winning the contest. But the Warriors got a game-winning homer in extra innings and the baseballs were hidden away without any autograph seeking.

It was suggested that Stefanos bring some harness racing gear for the top drivers to sign after the race, and then hope he won't want to approach them afterward if his horse wins.

"That's a good point," he said with a laugh. "It would be great to relive that."

Heather Vitale to host Diamond Creek winner's lounge on Breeders Crown TV

Since 2019 Diamond Creek Farm has sponsored a unique winner's lounge experience and champagne celebration for the connections of the horses who win a Breeder Crown championship.

This year's events, worth $7.2 million are held at Harrah's Hoosier Park. The four freshmen races were held on Friday (Oct. 27), while tonight (Oct. 28) Hoosier Park will host the eight 3-year-old and older events (races 8-15).

Award-winning harness racing personality Heather Vitale, one of the most recognizable faces in harness racing, will be conducting interviews in the Diamond Creek winner's lounge, where connections of the horses are invited to re-watch their race and enjoy a celebratory champagne toast. Vitale will interview the connections live on the Breeders Crown COSA TV broadcast.

Diamond Creek's Adam Bowden sought to extend the thrill of victory with the winner's lounge concept and the "lounge" immediately became an instant tradition and VIP experience at Breeders Crown host tracks. The Diamond Creek mission has always been one of providing superior service and experience for breeders and buyers, something they have extended past the winner's circle with the winner's lounge.

Vitale is currently the host of two popular television shows: Post Time, a weekly show on a CBS affiliate that has aired continuously for over 20 years covering racing at Harrington Raceway, Dover Downs and Ocean Downs, and PA Harness Week, which airs on NBC Sports Philadelphia, covering harness racing happenings at Harrah's Philadelphia and Pocono Downs. In addition to her weekly local productions, Vitale has been the on-air talent for some of the biggest races in our sport (including the Little Brown Jug, the Breeders Crown and the Meadowlands Pace) and on national channels like ESPN2, CBS Sports Network and MAV-TV.

Her social media skills have sent her around the world, including Ireland, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and France to cover harness racing. But her popular and widely viewed Facebook Live broadcasts have also brought fans a behind-the-scene look from the International Trot, the Hambletonian and even Shenandoah Downs. She is a two-time Sam McKee Broadcasters Award winner, an USHWAn of the Year, and a recipient of the Harness Horse International Media Award.

The show, hosted by Greg Blanchard, Mark McKelvie and Rick Uppal airs Saturday (Oct. 28) from 8:30 p.m. to 12 a.m. (EDT)

Gaspar de Brion in great shape

by Thomas Hedlund

Matthieu Abrivard's Gaspar de Brion (Singalo) conquered some well-merited trotters in the $105,000 Grand Prix Anjou-Maine in his start prior to Wednesday's $190,000 Grand Prix du Sud-Ouest in Toulouse, France.

Abrivard gave his horse a ground saving trip on the inside, while the strong Jean-Michel Bazire duo of Elie de Beaufour and Hooker Berry surrounded him. Elie de Beaufour in front controlled the race and seemed to be home stretch free as the field turned for home, but Jean-Michel Bazire's trotter left an open stretch as he winged out in the two wide path and pocket sitter Gaspar de Brion could sprint and bested the leader on the inside.

The mile rate over 1.6 miles was 1:59.2.

DERBY WINNER TO MILAN

The classic 3-year-old race the $310,000 Orsi Mangelli is traditionally held in Milan, Italy on Nov. 1 and it looks like Italy's dominant trainer Alessandro Gocciadoro will have an interesting day at work.

There are never any guarantees that a trainer wins a race just because the number of his participants is big, but when the Orsi Mangellis is raced on Wednesday, Gocciadoro will have in total seven horses in two elimination heats.

Fresh Derby winner Expo Wise As (Ready Cash) will be the probable favorite to win the Orsi Mangelli over 1,600 meters and Gocciadoro has chosen to drive the horse himself. Five horses from each elimination will enter the final the same afternoon.

Alessandro Gocciadoro's Expo Wise As will try to post another big win in Milan on Wednesday.

From Italy with love: Warrawee Michelle wins 2yoft Breeders Crown for international connections

quotes by James Platz / race details by Ray Cotolo for the Breeders Crown

The long trip from Italy to Indiana was worth it for the father-son team behind Santandrea Inc.

Warrawee Michelle, the 2-year-old trotting filly they own in partnership, and just the second filly they have purchased in the U.S., won the $700,000 Breeders Crown 2-Year-Old Filly Trot at Harrah's Hoosier Park on Friday night (Oct. 27) in 1:53.4.

"It's three years now that we've started to have some horses in the U.S.," said Pietro Eigenmann, who shares Santandrea with his father, Piero. "We started buying fillies at the auction and we also started to sell yearlings at the auction. So, we sell and buy. In Italy, we have a breeding farm. We just buy fillies because we have a breeding farm."

Santandrea owns Warrawee Michelle with the filly's trainer and driver, Ake Svanstedt and the Young Guns stable that includes Jeff Gural, owner of The Meadowlands.

"It's a thrill," Gural said. "This is really the biggest race I've won, purse-wise. I'm glad they keep raising the purse, which I actually thought was a bad idea until tonight."

As for how he came to be part of the Warrawee Michelle's ownership — along with his fellow Young Guns Richard Doolittle, Art Geiger and David Stolz — Gural said, "Basically, Ake goes and buys a bunch of horses and then he sends me a list of which ones he bought and then he tells me how much is available and then I try to figure out which ones I want to buy... and sometimes you guess right."

"Ake is on a roll, I hope people recognize what an unbelievable trainer he is."

Svanstedt wound Warrawee Michelle off the pegs in the straightaway to collar her tempo-setting stablemate and held off a swarm of late pursuers to win the freshman trotting filly final.

Starting from post 4, Svanstedt settled Warrawee Michelle into a gap from third while her stablemate Senorita Palema raced keenly on the point to a :27.3 first quarter with Sugar Instead sitting the pocket. Senorita Palema managed to slow the tempo to a :57.2 half and the field began to bunch to the far turn, prompting Svanstedt to make his attack.

Warrawee Michelle motored first over through the final turn and loomed to match strides with Senorita Palema past three-quarters in 1:25.2. Senorita Palema folded into the eighth pole, leaving Warrawee Michelle to the lead as late bursts of speed came from Soiree Hanover and Buy A Round down the center of the track. The pair kept gaining to the beam, but Warrawee Michelle maintained the advantage to the finish by a head. Soiree Hanover finished second with Buy A Round taking third and Drawn Impression in fourth.

"She loves to fight, and she doesn't give up until I tell her we're done, then she's done," Svanstedt said. "I had a good position, and the speed was okay in the race, but she's a great horse and can leave fast. She's strong both mentally and physically."

Collecting her fourth win from nine starts, Warrawee Michelle has now banked $478,125. The Warrawee Farm-bred daughter of Walner—Sound Check was a $200,000 yearling purchase from the 2022 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale. Sent off as the 3-2 favorite, she paid $5 to win.

The victory by Warrawee Michelle gave Svanstedt back-to-back victories in the 2-Year-Old Filly Trot, which he won last year with eventual Dan Patch divisional winner Special Way. He is the first trainer to win this event in back-to-back years since Jimmy Takter's three-peat in 2015 through 2017. Svanstedt is the first driver to win in back-to-back years since Yannick Gingras' four straight wins from 2014 through 2017.

Ryder not surprised by Gem Quality's 23-1 2yocp Crown upset, or the 1:50 track record quotes by James Platz / race details by Frank Cotoledo for the Breeders Crown Gem Quality pulled off a 23-1 upset in Friday's (Oct. 27) $700,000 Breeders Crown final for freshman male pacers at Harrah's Hoosier Park. But his trainer, Chris Ryder, was not among those stunned by Gem Quality's arrival in the winner's circle or the fact he set a 1:50 track record for his age, gender and gait.

"It's a little bit of a surprise, but the horse has always been very, very quick," Ryder said. "A couple of the other races I didn't have him 100 per cent, but tonight I knew he was the best that he's been. It just worked."

Two strong moves helped Gem Quality and driver Dexter Dunn glide down the stretch to win. The homebred was full of pace throughout.

After a recall caused by Newsroom, Dunn took Gem Quality directly to the top when the starting gate guided the field of 10 into battle. Also leaving aggressively was Legendary Hanover (James MacDonald) shooting for the lead from post 9 and giving Gem Quality good cover while cutting the first quarter in :26.

Public-choice Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy) lifted from the inside to scoot by the top two and earn his public support with a firm lead through a :54.2 half. Gem Quality rolled comfortably in third as Newsroom (David Miller) muscled to the outside with his best stride, though he did not have much to offer by the 1:23 three-quarters.

The group chasing Captain Albano had no chance of gaining over the pacing speed put into gear by Gem Quality. Needing no urging, the Captain Crunch—Twinkle colt took Dunn for an easy ride, passing Captain Albano with Storm Shadow finding room to finish third as Nuclear (Any Miller) found a clear late path to take the fourth spot.

The margin of victory was 1-1/4 lengths.

It was Ryder's sixth Breeders Crown and the first with a male student. He said Gem Quality "pulled up a bit [in his elim] at the wire, so we gave him an easy week and he came in fresh."

The trip, according to Dunn, looked good from the start.

"We used him a little at the gate, but I was happy where we were at the quarter [with cover]." He said his colt "exploded" in the stretch.

Gem Quality paid $48.60 to win.

Let It Ride Stables, Bottom Line Racing, Brad Grant, and Enviro Stables own the track-record-breaker, who won his fourth race in eight starts and has earned $438,940 in his first racing season.

Burke homebreds upset Geocentric, finish 1-2-3 in Crown for rookie pacing fillies won by My Girl EJ

quotes by James Platz / race details by Ray Cotolo for the Breeders Crown

Part-owner Mark Weaver said winning a Breeders Crown with homebred My Girl EJ was a “whole other level. We owned and bred her full brother, Lou’s Pearlman, who won the Jug. I would say that was about as good as it gets, but this may beat that. [Our homebreds] were 1-2-3. You couldn’t ask for more, that’s as good as it gets.

“We had four homebreds in this race, so there’s some luck, but I think first of all we’re breeding to Sweet Lou, who is a great stallion. All Bets Off is another great stallion and we owned him, so we have access to breed to him. Yeah, there’s some luck involved, but we have good mares that raced for us and we know the kind of heart they have and then breed them to our stallions and raise them right, get good drivers and trainers and then it all happens.”

Driver Dexter Dunn, who won seven races on the card, worked a pocket ride with My Girl EJ behind undefeated Geocentric and roared from the pocket when straightening for home to cross the line a wrapped-up winner in a stakes- and track-record 1:49.2 mile in the $700,000 Breeders Crown 2-Year-Old Filly Pace on Friday night (Oct. 27) at Harrah’s Hoosier Park.

My Girl EJ ripped out of post 8 and crossed to the lead before a :27 first quarter with stablemate Pass Line in the pocket. Geocentric, the 2-5 favorite, raced third and soon swung off the pegs to brush toward the lead in a stiff second quarter. By the half in :54, Geocentric rolled through the final turn with My Girl EJ swelling and raring to kick off the helmet.

Dunn gave My Girl EJ her head by three-quarters in 1:22.2 and stormed clear into the lane as Geocentric tired through the field. Pass Line gave futile pursuit to her stablemate to secure second, beaten by three lengths, with 49-1 shot Camerican slipping through off a pylon trip to take third and Its A Love Thing finishing fourth.

"We had to use her from a wide draw, but she's been in such great form and her elimination last week was super," said Dunn, who won this event for the third time after winning back-to-back years in 2020 with Fire Start Hanover and in 2021 with Niki Hill.

"I thought in that race we wanted to be following Timmy [Tetrack with Geocentric], so that was my game plan and we got the job done. I didn't know if I could beat her, because Geocentric has been so awesome this year, but I knew I had a chance the way [my horse] has been racing. That's the way horse racing goes, you know? You get the right horse on the right night, and she turns up, and she certainly turned up tonight."

Tetrack said, "there wasn't much respect for [Geocentric] tonight... I left out of there, had them where I wanted them, figured I let Yannick [Gingras driving Pass Line] and Dex go. I had to go :26.3 to get back to the front, :54 flat to the half, pretty big half... I bet eight pacers wouldn't go a half in :54 tomorrow. [Geocentric] got tired.

"Again, we went :27, half :57 and they went :29.3 the second quarter... sitting fourth and you're still too far out of it.

"Racing anymore just sucks. You go fast, go slow and then faster we go again."

The 1:49.2 mark from My Girl EJ lowered the stakes record for this division set nearly 10 years ago by JK She'salady, who won the 2014 renewal at The Meadowlands in 1:50.2. My Girl EJ also gave trainer Ron Burke his third victory in the 2-Year-Old Filly Pace, which he won in 2017 with Youaremycandygirl and in 2018 with Warrawee Ubeaut. Burke also bred My Girl EJ with Weaver Brussemi and Elizabeth Novak.

"They're not only our mares, but the first two [finishers] were our sires," said Burke, who conditioned Breeders Crown winner Sweet Lou from 2011 to 2014 and double millionaire All Bets Off. "It's been a great run with these guys. Geocentric is a great horse, I love her, but I've said all along I'd never trade my filly for anybody. She's as good as anything. She's going to be an even better filly when she gets onto smaller tracks next year. She's a top, top horse."

Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brussemi and Elizabeth Novak share ownership of My Girl EJ with Howard Taylor. The daughter of Sweet Lou—Lucy's Pearl, a full sister to Burke millionaire Lou's Pearlman, won her fourth race from 11 starts and has accrued $599,097 in earnings. Sent off as the 7-2 second choice, she paid $9.40 to win.

Karl wins the battle with T C I, sets 1:51.4 track and stakes record in Crown final for 2-year-old trotting colts quotes by James Platz / race details by Frank Coto for the Breeders Crown

Michelle Crawford said breeding a Breeders Crown winner might just be better than winning one as an owner.

On Friday (Oct. 27) at Harrah's Hoosier Park, Karl, the 2-year-old trotting colt Crawford Farms LLC bred, won the Crown final over rival T C I with a track- and stakes-record 1:51.4 performance.

"When [Karl] came out, [farm manager] Heather [Reese] and I just loved him," Crawford said. "He grew up right in my backyard and I was able to see him every day. We don't usually take a lot of the colts, but we took a little piece.

"He is out of the mare Avalicious, who is named for my daughter that's older now. So, to have something like this hit is just fabulous and so much fun."

Karl was sold for $135,000 at the 2022 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale to Christina and Nancy Takter, Barry Guariglia's Black Horse Racing and Bender Sweden Inc., with Crawford buying back in.

Guariglia is famous for owning trotting mare Manchego, who was conditioned by Karl's trainer, Nancy Takter.

"I've never had a stud, so hopefully [Karl] will be the first one," Guariglia said. "It's just great. Being in a race like this, with a horse like that, is awesome. He couldn't have been any better tonight. [T C I] is a great horse, but it was no competition tonight, quite frankly, but it happens that way sometimes."

Crawford said she couldn't breathe during the race even though Karl "looked fabulous" when he warmed up.

Dean Gillette

Karl (Yannick Gingras) won the Breeders Crown final for 2-year-old trotting colts on Friday at Harrah's Hoosier Park with a 1:51.4 track- and stakes-record performance.

"I know they were working on some shoeing changes between the Red Mile and the clay track... I was very confident in talking to her that he was very prepared... We're just so happy that we've had this ownership group to share it with as well."

Karl, a son of Tactical Landing driven by Yannick Gingras, settled in fourth following the start. Security Protected got control leaving quickly, followed by second-choice T C I, who then rushed to gain the top as the :26.4 first panel was recorded.

Gingras moved Karl to the front in a :56.1 half and reached three-quarters in 1:25.

T C I chased Karl to make it look like a two-trotter race down the lane, but victory was never in doubt for Karl as he drew away to win by three lengths. The previous stakes record, 1:52.4, was set by On A Streak at Hoosier in 2020.

T C I's driver David Miller said, "[Karl] was just really good tonight and hats off to him. That's a pretty good mile."

The record-setter gave trainer Nancy the ninth Breeders Crown winner of her career. T C I held for second over Security Protected, with Private Access fourth.

Karl paid $3.40 to win as the 3-5 favorite.

With the sterling win, Karl's earnings expanded to $709,760. He has won seven of eight starts, with his only setback coming by a nose to T C I on Oct. 6 at Red Mile.

Gingras was aglow by the performance.

"He was fine in the hole, but first off, all the credit goes to Nancy," he said of the trainer. "The horse I had last week wasn't the same horse I had tonight. She changed the shoes, the bit [and] a bunch of things on the horse. She gambled and it paid off. She sent me a video of him yesterday and he looked tremendous."

Gingras knew he was flying behind Karl.

"He's so fast. He has so many gears," he said. "I think he's the best horse I've ever sat behind. He has so much ability. I was high on him in the beginning of the year; he's the best 2-year-old I have ever driven."

Gingras said he looks forward to resuming the rivalry between Karl and T C I next year.

"Both trainers are great trainers," he said about Takter and Ron Burke, who conditions T C I. "His horses come back fast and strong every year. He has shown that for 12 years in a row, so I know [T C I] will come back fine and the battle will be on."

Shenandoah Downs closing weekend highlighted by the $802,200 Virginia Breeder's Championships

Shenandoah Downs will usher out its seven-week fall harness racing season today and Sunday (Oct. 28 and 29) with a pair of 14-race programs, headlined by Sunday's $802,200 Virginia Breeder's Championships, the richest card in Virginia harness racing history.

Eight divisional championships will be contested between 2- and 3-year-old pacers and trotters of both sexes with purses ranging from $84,000 to $92,400. Freshman finals will kick the card off in races 1-4 and sophomore clashes will close it out in races 11-14. In between are four Virginia Breeder's aged races with $20,000 purses, and the traditional Sunday features; a $10,000 open handicap pace and trot. A series of $8,000 prep and elimination races in the 2- and 3-year-old classes have taken place over the last four weeks.

Sunday food and beverage specials include $1 hot dogs and $2 canned beer.

Today's card pays tribute to Halloween with a "Trunk or Treat" celebration for kids who come dressed in costume. They can collect candy in a safe and fun environment between 1:30-2:30 p.m. and can enter a costume contest at 2 p.m. Two inflatable obstacle courses and a petting zoo will be available for the young set to enjoy all afternoon. Equine author Amber Sawyer will also be on site reading excerpts from her children's book Love to Race and will lead children in horseshoe decorating.

Four divisions of the meet long U.S. Harness Drivers Club competition will be contested Saturday and close out the series. A trophy will be presented to the leading points earning reinsman after the final race. All participating drivers have donated their share of driver earnings from the series to various non-profits, who will receive checks in a series of presentations throughout the afternoon. Those include the Harness Racing Museum & Hall of Fame, the American Cancer Society's Shenandoah Valley Chapter, Shenandoah area Future Farmers of America organizations, and local 4H chapters. The Virginia Equine Alliance will also present checks to the Saddle Creek Standardbred Retirement Farm in nearby Palmyra this afternoon and to the Standardbred Retirement Foundation on Sunday.

More details on all events are at shenandoahdowns.com.
