with DEBBIE LITTLE

It's been over a year since the then fledgling partnership of Bill Pollock, Bruce Areman and Andrew Harris made a splash at the 2023 Lexington Selected Yearling Sale, purchasing 10 yearlings for a total of $3,550,000; they added eight more a month later at Harrisburg to the tune of $1,818,000.

Many in their stable of around 50 have found their way to the winner's circle, but the partnership appears to be particularly proud of the job done this year by the OG of their barn, Abuckabett Hanover.

Abuckabett Hanover, winner of the William Haughton Memorial, Dayton Pacing Derby, Dave Brower Memorial, and Potomac Pace, will next be seen in the FanDuel Championships Open Pace on Saturday (Nov. 30) at The Meadowlands.

"Bucky," as they call him, is the top-ranked older male pacer in the weekly Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown Standardbred Poll and current front runner for Dan Patch divisional honors.

"You know why I'm happy if Bucky is lucky enough to win?" said Pollock, who admitted he talks about the stallion like he's a person. "He toiled behind Bulldog Hanover, Allywag Hanover, Tattoo Artist, a lot of great, great horses, and he was always in their shadow, and now this year, I feel he really broke out on his own and really did a good job."

"I'm so happy for him. I know he doesn't know he might win it, but I'm so thrilled for him. I think we have a very good shot at it. Plus, if he's successful in the FanDuel, he'll cross $2 million lifetime."

When it comes to the possibility of winning a Dan Patch Award, Harris is excited, but doesn't want to put the cart before the horse.

"It's just amazing to see the horse that started this whole thing is the one that's carrying the torch and possibly has a chance of winning Aged Pacer this year, and that would be the icing on the cake," Harris said of Abuckabett Hanover. "How many people have the first horse that they've ever bought in the business, albeit not the first year they bought it, but eventually goes out to get an Aged Pacer award? That would be pretty cool."

"I mean, they bought [Abuckabett] in late 2022 and raced him once, and then had him for two years now, and he's rocking out and doing his thing."

Pollock said he's 80 to 90 per cent sure that Bucky will race again next year.

"I mean, it's too much fun watching him race and win, and it doesn't seem to take a toll on him," Pollock said. "Andrew said [Monday] in the barn, it was like he didn't even race on Sunday [Nov. 17 in the Potomac Pace]. He's good. You know, these horses, for me, don't come along all the time. So, I want to really enjoy him, and he's fun to watch... Now, if his knees were sore, I said I wouldn't do it, but he's in such great shape, it'd be a shame for us not to enjoy him. And Andrew, I've told people this before, absolutely loves this horse more than any horse in that whole barn. He said for two-and-a-half years the first horse he jogged every morning was Abuckabett Hanover."

"You know why I'm happy if [Abuckabett Hanover] is lucky enough to win [the FanDuel]? He toiled behind Bulldog Hanover, Allywag Hanover, Tattoo Artist, a lot of great, great horses, and he was always in their shadow, and now this year, I feel he really broke out on his own and really did a good job."

~ Bill Pollock

"If they told me that Bucky has a cold and can't race in the FanDuel or it would be trouble, I would never race him. I wouldn't care if we lost the [Older] Pacer [award]. We love the animals."

Harris said he's excited to see many of their horses race in 2025.

"I'm looking forward to so many coming back next year," Harris said. "I mean, we have probably assembled the greatest team since The Avengers."

"I can't wait to see Abuckabett come back, obviously, Seven [Colors] and El Rey. We're going to have Funtime Bayama come back. Hopefully, he comes back to be great. I'm hoping that Captain Luke comes back to be good and we've got Voguish and Monserrate. Now we've got My Girl EJ, we also got Yo Tillie."

WOODBINE
MOHAWK PARK

“What I learned after the first year, if you want a great horse, you can’t buy four horses and think a great one’s going to be in those four, you’re going to have to buy more.”

~ Bill Pollock

“You know, we’ve got a couple of fillies that were really good this year, like Lily White Hanover, Treacheryinthedark, and Millie May Hanover. And then we got a few that were unraced at 2 that I’m excited to come back and see. I think Penny Benjamin is going to come back to be a really, really nice filly. We had to quit with her because she got a little bit sore on us. We’ve got a strong contingent to come back with next year and to pick one out, other than Bucky, who’s just my natural favorite, is really hard to do.”

On Monday (Nov. 18), My Girl EJ became the latest edition to their stable following a winning bid of $758,000.

According to Harris, the three partners gathered at Pollock’s house along with Pollock’s wife and son for the Preferred Equine Online sale.

Pollock said with 10 seconds remaining in the sale, the group started counting down out loud like you would on New Year’s Eve.

“And a guy put another bid in with one second, and we were all shocked,” Pollock said. “And then we bid again, and then the guy dropped out.”

As a former professional softball player, Pollock has that competitive spirit, and as a result, said he doesn’t like to go to sales because sometimes he’d think about staying in longer than he should. That competitive nature has passed down to his 15-year-old son, Billy, who is a talented soccer player.

“He wanted the horse,” Pollock said of his son and My Girl EJ. “He was telling me, now when you look at the bidding, people have a code, letters, for their bid. One guy bidding was VR59 and when we were bidding, he kept going over top of us, and my son turned to me and said, ‘Dad, I don’t know if it’s worth it, but I really want to beat VR59.’ And of course, we ended up beating VR59, so he was happy about that.”

Pollock said a lot of what he’s doing is setting up something for his son to enjoy in the future.

“His future after soccer, whatever it is, short term, long term, is going to be the barn and harness racing,” Pollock said. “He loves it.”

In buying My Girl EJ, the “Pollock Posse” have thoughts for her future beyond just racing.

“That’s our plans for going forward,” Pollock said. “I want to have something besides buy a horse, race, see how they do, then get the next horse. I want to develop something for my son in the future, and I’d like to be in the breeding side of it and see how that works out.”

It’s a formula that has proven successful for others, especially the Burkes.

“Look, I don’t know [the Burkes] personally, and I don’t know too much about them, other than they’re just the biggest name in harness racing,” Pollock said. “And I have the utmost respect for anybody who can handle three or four hundred horses. It’s amazing, and it’s a family business with their relatives involved. I have nothing but the highest regard for the Burkes and the Burke Racing Stable. I’m not going to even disrespect them by saying it’s a blueprint to follow. They’re so far more advanced, but it really is the roadmap of how to get involved in harness racing the way they did it. I’m really amazed at what they developed.”

"Well, what I learned after the first year, if you want a great horse, you can't buy four horses and think a great one's going to be in those four, you're going to have to buy more."

This year, according to Pollock, they had a somewhat more conservative approach to the sales. They bought 15 yearlings for $5,115,000, followed by two more at Harrisburg for $1,400,000, including Cambridge Hanover, the first million-dollar yearling in the 86-year history of the Harrisburg sale. That's a total of $11,883,000 spent at the sales in two years. They also were the underbidders on 3-year-old trotter Amazing Catch, who sold to Greg Luther for $1.85 million at this year's Harrisburg Mixed Sale. Even though Pollock, Areman and Harris spent more money than in 2023, they stuck with their process and passed on several that they wanted that went for too much.

"[At the sale in Lexington, Harris] had a number in mind, and he's historically low on his bidding," Pollock said. "[Harris said], 'We're going to assign a figure to [the yearlings],' because he's always worried about how much we're spending, and if it goes over that, we're not going to get it. That's the process. The first horse we use it on, we lose... And then another one came up, I think a relative of Voguish, that we didn't get which we wanted, which me and [my son] loved and wanted. Then I said, 'Look, I don't know if I'm going to keep going with this process, Andrew. I want some horses.' But it worked out. It worked out well. Andrew knows what he's doing."

"There are a lot of horses that we've turned down that people have called about that we thought were outrageous prices."

When asked if he ever thinks about how far they've come in such a short period of time, Pollock said, "No. You know who understands that better than anybody is my partner, Bruce. I've never done this before, so I don't know if this is moving fast, this is going slow, this is what everybody does. I don't know what everybody did or does. I know the reaction some people get."

"But, I mean, I tried to build a barn fast, like I told [Dave Little] on the set [at The Meadowlands], I said, 'Look, if I was 40, I'd do it like everybody else does, I'd try to breed them, I'd try to do everything. I've got time, but I ain't got that much time to play around here.'"

Assessing the best seasons by 4-year-old stallions

It's rare that stallion prospects race at 4, but these are the ones that have done it best in the 21st century.

by Brett Sturman

Last week's column by Debbie Little about the increasing number of horses sent off to the breeding shed following their 3-year-old season – and the arguable extent to which it impacts racing – got me thinking. How prevalent have 4-year-old stallions been in the picture of the older division over the course of this century?

Over the past 25 years for sure, and possibly all-time, the best 4-year-old season by a stallion occurred just two years ago when Bulldog Hanover had a recording-setting campaign. The first ever unanimous Horse of the Year, he broke the 1:46 speed barrier in the course of a never-ending string of devastatingly strong performances.

In looking at the trending dynamics of more of the elite 3-year-olds retiring early, Bulldog Hanover is probably a good reflection of what a top 4-year-old profile would look like. In his case, Bulldog Hanover was at the higher end of his 3-year-old division, but he wasn't the best. In Canada where he won stakes such as the Somebeachsomewhere and a North America Cup elimination, he lost O'Brien Award honors that year to NA Cup winner Desperate Man. But Bulldog Hanover showed enough promise while winning over a half million dollars and taking a mark of 1:48 at Hoosier, that it wasn't a surprise he was able to get even stronger when coming back to race at 4.

In addition to Bulldog Hanover winning the older divisional honors as a 4-year-old stallion, it's happened five other times on the pacing side since 2000. That list includes Bettor's Wish in 2020, but then you must go all the way back in 2007 to when it was won by Mister Big, preceded by Lis Mara in 2006, Art Major in 2003 and Real Desire in 2002. The trotters will show a different story, but on the pacing side one could surmise that indeed it has been rare for 4-year-old pacing stallions to excel in the older division in recent years.

Bettor's Wish was a Dan Patch winner as a 3-year-old too, when he was, incredibly, never worse than second in 19 starts while taking a mark of 1:47.4 and earning over $1.6 million. That season was only five years ago, so it's tough to say that if fast-forwarded to today, the environment has changed that dramatically where he would have been retired and not given the chance to prove himself even more as a 4-year-old.

Where things almost certainly would have been different, though, is going back to the days of Art Major, who like Bettor's Wish, was also a 3-year-old champion. And, for that matter, I would include Real Desire who, although he didn't win the division as a 3-year-old, established impeccable credentials while dueling with famed rival Bettors Delight in a sophomore season where both individually earned over $1.6 million. Placing Art Major or Real Desire in today's climate, they likely would have retired after 3 and wouldn't have had the opportunity to continue with their success on the track as 4-year-olds.

On the other hand are Mister Big and Lis Mara, two horses that got to know each other well in the older pacing ranks. As a 3-year-old, Lis Mara wasn't particularly special – certainly not to the extent of what he became at 4. In his 3-year-old season, he banked just over $175,000 as a marginal stakes player, having won a Confederation Cup elimination and was second in the Simcoe. But like Mister Big who came the very following year,

Like the pacing stallions, the current breeding market for trotters certainly gives incentive for the very best prospects to retire where they'll offer peak value as 3-year-olds. If and when exceptional 4-year-old stallions do emerge, it's more likely that they'd take on the profile of a lesser proven or lightly raced 3-year-old such as a Mister Big, Lis Mara or Chapter Seven.

he was an example of the unpredictability of 3-year-olds that will occasionally step up massively as 4-year-old stallions.

As a 3-year-old Mister Big won just three times from 16 starts, earning over $275,000 with a mark of 1:49.2. Though, towards the end of that season, he was clearly trending in the right direction when he won his Breeders Crown elimination, was second in the final trained that year by Tim Pinske, and then continued to excel from there as he went to Virgil Morgan.

Interestingly, the converse can be found with the trotters. On that side, more of the 4-year-old stallion champions have come relatively recently. That list includes Winner's Bet – who hasn't yet formally won this year's award but is a lock to do so when it's formally announced – Gimpanzee from 2020, Six Pack from 2019, Marion Marauder in 2017, Chapter Seven in 2012, and Rotation back from 2003.

The best 4-year-old season from that list was Chapter Seven who amassed over $1 million in just 10 starts, winning eight times and being second in the other two. Chapter Seven used that season to further establish himself following a 3-year-old season in which he was lightly raced with only 10 starts also. He has gone onto be one of the most prolific trotting sires in the breed.

Though he didn't win the Dan Patch as a 3-year-old, Gimpanzee certainly had established high enough credentials in battling it out with Greenshoe and still earning over $1 million as a sophomore where he could have retired with substantial breeding value if it was elected for him to do so. But he continued to race as a 4-year-old, where he came less than $20,000 shy of another million-dollar season and taking a trotting mark of 1:50.

Jeff Gural referenced his horse, Six Pack, in that column last week as an example of continuing to race a top stallion prospect as a 4-year-old. And he's right. Six Pack proved to be exceptionally fast as a 3-year-old, being a Kentucky Futurity winner in a world record time of 1:49.1. And then as a 4-year-old, Six Pack continued to bolster his credentials by grinding out back-to-back divisional awards in a gritty campaign.

Like the pacing stallions, the current breeding market for trotters certainly gives incentive for the very best prospects to retire where they'll offer peak value as 3-year-olds. If and when exceptional 4-year-old stallions do emerge, it's more likely that they'd take on the profile of a lesser proven or lightly raced 3-year-old such as a Mister Big, Lis Mara or Chapter Seven. The odds of seeing stellar 3-year-olds like Art Major, Real Desire or, even more recently, Bettor's Wish, continue to race the following season with an immediate breeding opportunity on the table does seem greatly diminished, as lesser foreseen horses will need to step up and fill the void.

Four horses have qualified for the 2025 Prix d'Amérique

by Thomas Hedlund

Sunday's (Nov. 17) $125,000 Prix de Bretagne was the first B-race before the Prix d'Amérique and the 2,700 meter event turned into a sparkling show where two brave combatants fought side by side in Vincennes' home stretch.

Björn Goop opted for optimistic tactics behind his San Moteur and after all the mandatory changes of positions at Vincennes, Goop let Hussard du Landret pass him by and the title defender, driven by Yoann Lebourgeois, controlled the field in front with a little less than a mile to go.

San Moteur found racing room at the top of the stretch and then the battle began for real. Hussard du Landret on the inside, San Moteur on his outside and the outcome was uncertain all the way to the wire since both horses, at times, had the advantage down the stretch.

By a nose, Benoit Robin's Hussard du Landret (Bird Parker) held San Moteur behind and the well merited French trotter is ready for another edition of the Prix d'Amérique. Hussard du Landret won in a mile rate of 1:54.4 over 1.6 miles.

Replay here.

San Moteur will join Hussard du Landret at Vincennes for the Prix D'Amérique at the end of January and behind the two top horses, Hooker Berry and Just Love You followed as third and fourth, respectively. This means that the first four trotters are set for the 2025 Prix d'Amérique.

Sébastien Guarato trained Frank Gio (Face Time Bourbon) was superior to his opponents when the 3-year-old colts met up in $125,000 Prix Pierre Plazen over 2,700 meters.

After a third over trip, driver Matthieu Abrivard attacked three-wide in Vincennes' uphill part before he landed outside of leader Luciano Menuet and later, at the top of the stretch, disarmed the latter and sprinted to a safe win in a mile rate of 1:57.2 over 1.6 miles. Replay here.

Scoop DYGA

Hussard Du Landret (10, Yoann Lebourgeois) edged San Moteur by a nose on Sunday in the Prix De Bretagne at Vincennes in Paris. The victory qualified Hussard Du Landret for the 2025 Prix d'Amérique.

Jean-Michel Bazire sat behind Liza Josselyn (Ready Cash—Belina Josselyn) in the $125,000 Prix Guy Deloison for 3-year-old fillies and the Nicolas Bazire trained filly impressed a lot. Jean-Michel left his position in fifth over a mile into the race and Liza Josselyn had to do the heavy work three-wide before she got within close contact of leader Lunabella d'Omaha before the last turn.

Liza Josselyn easily stepped away from her opponents and won in a mile rate of 1:58 over 1.6 miles.

FOGGY WINNERS IN TURIN

The racetrack in Turin had to alter the race card on Sunday (Nov. 17). Due to heavy fog, the colt division of the $220,000 Anact Stakes Plus for 2-year-olds had to be postponed to Monday (Nov. 18), but the fillies managed to reach the wire in their event and the winner Giovaz (Maharajah) took a safe win paired with Antonio Di Nardo. Giovaz took over the lead with a kilometer to go and the Gennaro Casillo trained filly was outstanding as she hit the wire in 2:00.2.

The boys' Monday battle ended with another winner from the front position. Undefeated (five of five) Ginostrabliggi (Muscle Hill) was sent to the lead in the first turn and Gabriele Gelormini could sit quite comfortably behind Philippe Allaire's horse and Ginostrabliggi danced away to an easy 1:59.3 win.

His older brother Callmethebreze (Trixtion), bred in Italy and owned and trained by Allaire, also had some successful moments in his native country before he showed great potential in the rest of Europe.

Saturday's (Nov. 16) $165,000 Gran Premio Tino Triossi for 4-year-olds in Rome became a show signed by Alessandro Gocciadoro and Executiv Ek (Face Time Bourbon). Executiv Ek hit the lead in the first turn and the race was over. Gocciadoro's trotter came home in a mile rate of 1:56.4 over 1.3 miles.

Björn Goop tabbed for Ladbrokes Ultimate Driver Challenge

by Adam Hamilton

Never doubt the power of social media.

It's the main reason champion Swede Björn Goop is the latest driver to secure a slot in the hugely exciting and inaugural Ladbrokes Ultimate Driver Challenge at Albion Park, Brisbane in February.

"I read about it on 'X' [Twitter] and thought it sounded really exciting," Goop said. "I wanted to be part of it. At first, I had talks here [in Sweden] about getting a slot in the series, but when that fell through, I just rang the club [Racing Queensland] and asked to speak to whoever was running it."

"I told him how keen I was and got the details. He said he'd call me back and he did, not long after, saying one of the slot owners wanted me to drive in his slot."

That was well-known Aussie owner Scott Whitton through his Tumby Park Racing business.

"The guy from the club hooked us up and it all came together from there," Goop said.

Whitton added: "I'd heard the North American drivers were queuing-up to be part of it, but I felt the series could do with a European driver, too. Björn was a really good option, especially knowing he was so keen to be part of it."

"This is a fantastic concept and I'm always going to support innovation. If I can help it succeed by thinking a bit outside the square with the driver for my slot, then I'm all for it."

Goop, 49, is harness racing royalty with a Swedish record 8,000-plus wins and joins North American-based megastars Yannick Gingras and Dexter Dunn to give the series stunning firepower.

Hearing Gingras and Dunn would compete was another drawcard for Goop.

"I read about [The Ultimate Driver Challenge] on 'X' [Twitter] and thought it sounded really exciting. I wanted to be part of it. At first, I had talks here [in Sweden] about getting a slot in the series, but when that fell through, I just rang the club [Racing Queensland] and asked to speak to whoever was running it."

"Those two guys, Yannick and Dexter, I drive against them a lot in the U.S. and here [in Europe], they're sort of like my friends," he said. "It'll be great to go up against them again. But I know you've got some great drivers down there [in Australia], too."

"I'm really excited about it. I see it as an adventure, but a big challenge as well. It's just great to see a club trying something new and different like this. I can't wait to be part of it."

"I'm looking into racing schedules now, but I'm hoping to fly out [of Stockholm] the Sunday before it so I can get most of the week in Brisbane."

Goop has only been to Australia once and even then, just Victoria when he finished third in the 2007 World Driving Championship, held jointly between Victoria and New Zealand.

"It was such a great experience and I met so many wonderful people," he said. "But I remember it was so cold in Victoria and New Zealand."

"I hear it'll be very different in Brisbane in February. You've got to remember; I'll be leaving snow in Sweden at that time of year."

Racing Queensland senior racing manager David Brick said, "We're thrilled to have Björn in the series. He's a rock star in Sweden, has driven more winners there than anyone else and it's really important to add European interest to this event."

Goop focused on driving for the first part of his career, but added training "about 15 years ago" and now has a team anywhere between 150 to 170 in work between Sweden and France.

His greatest wins have been two Elitloppets with the mighty Timoko in 2014 and 2017, along with three wins in the Prix D'Amérique (in 2018 with Readly Express and 2020-21 with Face Time Bourbon).

"I've driven some great, great horses, absolute champions," he said. "The three who stand out would be Bold Eagle, Timoko and Face Time Bourbon. They were all absolute champions in their own right, but so very different as horses."

"I'd heard the North American drivers were queuing-up to be part of [The Ultimate Driver Challenge], but I felt the series could do with a European driver, too. Björn was a really good option, especially knowing he was so keen to be part of it."

2019 World Driving
Championship in Sweden.

"Timoko was the most intelligent and he's so special for giving me those two [Elitloppet] wins. When he turned on, he was amazing. Bold Eagle was so incredibly fast, but nervous. And Face Time Bourbon was a monster. It was such an incredible ride with him all the way through from a young horse to the biggest races."

Goop is also looking forward to seeing the Aussie trotters, buoyed by what he saw from Just Believe during his three-race Swedish campaign in the middle of last year.

"Oh, I saw him alright," he said. "He made an extremely good impression. The way he improved with each of his races over here. And to see him go back and become an even better horse. It was like he lifted for the trip; he was improved by racing the good horses over here."

"We've seen a few horses come from Down Under and go the other way, but it's been great to see him go home and grow for his time in Sweden."

Goop is the eighth confirmed of the 10 drivers in the series. The others are: Gingras, Dunn, NZ's Carter Dalgety, WA's Gary Hall, Jr, NSW's Brad Hewitt and Queensland pair Nathan Dawson and Angus Garrard.

The Ultimate Driver Challenge consists of 20 races – 10 races each night – at Albion Park on Feb. 20 and 21.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

A Google search kick-started a successful career for trainer Shanisty Andres

by Chris Lomon

While the odds have not always been in her favor, Shanisty Andres has found a way to beat them.

She doesn't come from a horse racing background, her early experiences in the sport didn't exactly instill confidence, and she even left the standardbred world for a time, albeit briefly.

Although it doesn't sound like the foundation for a successful standardbred racing career, for Andres, it turned out to be just that.

Her introduction to racing was anything but traditional.

It was, of all things, a Google search that kick-started it all.

Around five years ago, the Alberta-born Andres went online and searched "Jobs with horses."

The internet expedition would lead her to the racetrack in her home province and eventually to the barn of trainer Dave Kelly.

Starting as a caretaker, Andres was given the chance to sit in the sulky one morning.

"The first horse I jogged, HF Thegreatpumpkin, was a runaway," said Andres, a former gymnast, who coached the sport prior to making the leap to horses. "The first horse I trained on the track, I was supposed to go :30, but I went in :20 and I was heartbroken. But I learned and then I got it. The encouragement and understanding certainly helped a lot."

Andres added, with a laugh, "Going off my first few experiences, I didn't think I'd be here."

But here she is.

Since 2022, Andres has been training standardbreds, her nomadic experiences taking her across Western Canada and into the U.S.

"I had become friends with [owner] Tammy Murschell," Andres said. "Her father, Bill Collins, was a trainer and raced her horses."

When Collins passed away in December of 2021 in California where he was training a horse called Marlons Magic, Murschell asked if Andres would be interested in taking over the reins.

She wasn't sure.

Courtesy Shanisty Andres
Shanisty Andres.

"When Bill passed away, Marlons Magic was still racing," Andres said. "Tammy said she needed someone to train her horse. In retrospect, she didn't need me, someone would have stepped up to do it, but in that moment, it was a bigger thing. I felt connected to the horse through Bill."

Fittingly, it was Marlons Magic, a son of Betterthancheddar, who gave Andres her first official training win, the milestone coming on April 1, 2022, at Cal-Expo.

Nine days later, the bay gelding was back in the winner's circle at the same distance and same racetrack.

"What was really cool was that the races were a mile and a half," Andres said. "The best part was that he wasn't done. Luke Plano, who drove him for that first win, said he could have gone all day. This horse was never super-fast, and his last quarters weren't anything wild, but he was an endurance type."

So, too, is Andres.

Now, two years since that first win, she is enjoying a career-best year.

As of Nov. 15, she has 25 wins, 47 top three finishes and $134,385 in purse earnings.

Not that she would know any of those numbers or just how impressive they are.

Call it the inner gymnast in herself.

"I was a gymnast at a very young age, so expectations in life are already set high, where you are very hard on yourself, and you are supposed to be the best at everything you do," she said.

"So, I don't set goals for myself. I especially don't look at my training stats because that can be disheartening after a bad week, which can knock you down and discourage you from going forward."

Her band of horses are a different story.

"I do set individual goals for my horses," Andres said. "Lifetime marks are a goal of mine, but sometimes it's as simple as improving a final last quarter from the week before. I try not to look at the numbers too much. At times, they can hit you pretty hard."

Sting as it may, Andres has learned to roll with the punches over the years, including a brief period away from the barns.

It didn't take long for her to come back.

"My aunt got me a job line locating [determining the location of buried utilities, such as pipes and cables] and with the hours I was getting, I realized I could make more money doing stalls. I missed the horses, and I hated the job I was at. Once you are in the industry, you are in the industry."

"I came back and cleaned stalls for trainers Dave Kelly and Kelly Hoerd – I was doing 70 stalls a day. And now, here I am, as a trainer."

A happy one at that.

As for favorite horses, Andres pointed to a pair of pacers, Cease Fire, a 4-year-old pacing son of Vertical Horizon, and Daisy Corvette, a 5-year-old pacing daughter of Mystician, who top her list.

"I would say Cease Fire is my favorite," she said. "I know everyone would expect me to say Daisy Corvette – she is just a nice horse and has everything going for her. Whereas Cease Fire has everything against him. I have fallen in love with this guy, unfortunately, for me. With this industry, you can't really have pets, but that is what he is for me. He's struck a chord."

It wasn't always that way between the two.

Their first encounter was anything but love at first sight.

"When I was working for Dave Kelly, who had just bought him at the yearling sale, I did not like this horse," Andres said. "We had a big training day, and I always turn them out before they would train. We had him out in the paddock and he was the last one to go. Dave wanted him harnessed for when he came in and went to the paddock, I couldn't catch him. I ended up doing join-up. I chased him all around the paddock and it took an hour to get him."

So much for making a good first impression.

"Dave came in off the track and started laughing," Andres said. "He said, 'I guess I don't have to train him now.' So, that was my first experience with Cease Fire."

"I found out that Dave was looking to streamline some of his stock, but I didn't have any money. I was training three horses for [owner] Tammy at the time. Dave asked if I wanted to lease him, and I said yes."

Their connection is stronger than ever.

"He is still the same horse in a lot of ways," she said. "He still has this switch, and he just flips it. He's hot and he's on his tippy toes."

"I did some fiddling with his equipment and then slowly built trust with him. Robby Scrannage drove him for me at Fraser Downs and he took him out to the track one day for training. Robby felt like he was in trouble, so I said steer him towards me. As soon as the horse saw me, Robby said he felt him gear down as soon as he saw me."

She added, "I have worked with a lot of other people's horses and sometimes you love them more than they love you, but this is very much a mutual relationship."

As is Andres' relationship with racing.

During a memorable year, looking back on the many successes is not an option for Andres, who also points to Crazy I M, now retired, as another beloved horse she trained and co-owned with Murschell.

There is, however, much to look forward to for the horsewoman who started out her standardbred journey as a groom in a handful of barns in Alberta.

"My slogan, as a trainer, is, 'I want my horses to race as fast as they can as comfortably as they can,'" Andres said. "It's all about moving forward for me."

The next chapter of her racing career will see her head back to Cal-Expo.

"One year, I packed all my stuff up, took my dog, and headed to California by myself; I am not that kind of person," she said. "But I am glad I did."

She views her decision to become a trainer in much the same regard.

"I didn't want to be a female in the industry with a man doing everything for me," Andres said. "If I was going to be a trainer, I wanted to do it all – I'm not shoeing or driving – but I had to be all in."

The trainer, once reluctant to take the reins, has lived up to those very words and beat the odds along the way.

Abuckabett Hanover prevails in Potomac Pace

by Rosecroft Raceway

Three weeks after a disappointing seventh-place finish to Coach Stefanos in the Breeders Crown Open Pace, Abuckabett Hanover pounced from the pocket to collar Ruthless Hanover for a 1:47.4 victory in the $125,000 Potomac Pace Invitational on Sunday (Nov. 17) at Rosecroft Raceway.

Dexter Dunn pushed Abuckabett Hanover forward up the inside to secure the pocket behind Ruthless Hanover (driven by George Napolitano, Jr.), who vaulted from the extreme outside to control splits of :25.4 and :54.1. Up the backstretch, Voukefalas (Jordan Stratton) began a gradual first-over ascent and briefly overtook Charlie May (Dan Noble) before challenging Abuckabett Hanover for second past three-quarters in 1:20.3.

Off the home turn, Ruthless Hanover tried to sprint clear of his six rivals, but as Voukefalas faded in the breeze, Dunn had room to angle Abuckabett Hanover off the pegs and take aim at the pacesetter. The 6-year-old Betting Line—All Tucked Up entire responded in kind and chased down an all-out Ruthless Hanover to win by three-quarters-of-a-length. Charlie May was a ground-saving third.

“It was a perfect trip for him; he got off the gate pretty good and followed the right horse,” said Dunn. “Coming off the last turn, I got him on the bit before I pulled him, and he sprinted home good. He had to fight for the win. He’s been racing great all year.”

Bythemissal, who was sent off the 4-5 favorite, was eased with a lap to go after bleeding early in the race.

Trainer Andrew Harris co-owns Abuckabett Hanover, who now has won 21 races and earned $1,900,526 in his career, with William Pollock and Bruce Areman. As the 7-2 second choice, Abuckabett Hanover paid $9.60 to win.

SIRE STAKES REPORT

Givens trainees double in DSBF filly prelims

by Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund

Trainer Les Givens captured two of Wednesday's (Nov. 20) three $20,000 second-round Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund splits for 2-year-old pacing fillies at Bally's Dover, as odds-on favorites Little Miss Peyton and Bella Artiste posted repeat victories in their respective events.

In the first split, Little Miss Peyton and driver Corey Callahan seized control from Tilted Crown (driven by Russell Foster) just past a :28 first quarter, rated middle splits of :57.3 and 1:27, and then held off that rival by a neck to score in 1:55.2. Sweet Samsara (David Rearic) finished third.

Little Miss Peyton, a Papa Ray—Armbro Cashmere filly, competes as a homebred for Donna Messick. The seven-time winner paid $2.10 to win.

The second section saw Bella Artiste and driver Jim Morand seat Valentina Station (Eddie Dennis) into the pocket through a :27.4 first quarter, coast through middle splits of :58.2 and 1:27.4, and evade her pocket foe by 1¾ lengths to win in 1:56.3. Mornin Merle (Pat Berry) was a one-paced third after stalking the top pair throughout the mile.

Bella Artiste, a daughter of Badlands Hanover—Arts Bid, has now won five times in her career for Nanticoke Racing, Arthur Feeney and Chad Tate. She paid $2.60 to win.

Immaculate Inning gave trainer Jim King, Jr. a DSBF win, sustaining a mid-race brush in line to Tim Tetrick to overtake early pacesetter Banana Cabana (Tony Morgan) and win by 1¾ lengths in a lifetime best 1:57.1. Cake Pop (Jason Thompson) stayed on for third after stalking closely.

Jo Ann Looney-King owns and bred Immaculate Inning, a Roddy's Bags Again—End To End Hanover filly who won for the second time in her career and paid $2.80.

In addition to second-round winners Little Miss Peyton, Bella Artiste and Valentina Station, the following fillies qualify for the $110,000 DSBF series final, to be held on Nov. 27: Immaculate Inning, Tilted Crown, Banana Cabana, Mornin Merle and Sweet Samsara.

MELVIN G ROMPS TO SIXTH STRAIGHT WIN IN DSBF PRELIM

Legacy Racing of Delaware and Nanticoke Racing's Melvin G rolled to his sixth consecutive victory on Tuesday (Nov. 19) at Bally's Dover, leaving his five rivals well behind en route to a 1:57.2 score in the faster of two $20,000 second-round divisions of the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund series for 2-year-old male trotters.

With two horses breaking stride before the start, Melvin G and driver Jim Morand only had three rivals to contend with at race's outset, and they pushed through at the pegs to seat Perfect Surprise (Pat Berry) in the pocket through a :29 first quarter. After rating a :58.4 half, Melvin G began to pull away from the others, extending his margin to 2½ lengths at three-quarters in 1:28 before passing the winning post five-lengths clear of the late-gaining Legend Of Rock (Corey Callahan) while geared down. Perfect Surprise faded to third.

Les Givens trains Melvin G, an E L Platinum—Jersey Punk gelding whose sixth win from nine starts pushed him over $100,000 in lifetime earnings. He paid $2.10 to win as the 1-20 favorite.

The first division saw second-time starter Yale and trainer/driver Art Stafford, Jr. narrowly hold off Chex Check for a 1:58.4 win.

After finishing third to Melvin G on debut last week, Yale sustained a two-wide push through the first turn to work clear of Wolfpack Cheddar (Callahan) past a :28.4 first quarter before yielding for the pocket with a circuit to go. The E L Platinum—Press Corp colt pulled the pocket past three-quarters in 1:29, reeled in Wolfpack Cheddar, and evaded a late push from Chex Check (Tony Morgan) up the open stretch to win in 1:58.4. Bucky Highway (Berry) rallied to finish third over the engulfed Wolfpack Cheddar.

Yale, who paid $6 to win as the 2-1 second choice, competes as a homebred for Stacy Johnson-Stafford.

In addition to Melvin G, Yale, and first-round winner Wolfpack Cheddar, the following horses have qualified for the $110,000 DSBF series final, to be held Nov. 26: Chex Check, Bucky Highway, Legend Of Rock, Delaware Exactly and Perfect Suprise.

FAVORITES FALL IN DSBF FILLY TROTS

Kat's Fancy and Indiana Star posted upsets in their respective $20,000 second-round preliminary Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund events for 2-year-old trotting fillies on Monday (Nov. 18) at Bally's Dover.

In the first division, Jane Dunavant's homebred Kat's Fancy made every call a winning one en route to a lifetime-best 1:59.4 performance. Driver Cody Polisenno launched the Dusty Winner—Koala Kat filly forward from the outside post 6 to vie for the lead alongside Royal Toni (driven by Kim Vincent). The pair sprinted away from 3-5 favorite Lady Burg (Pat Berry) on the first turn before that rival broke stride, and Kat's Fancy pushed clear of Royal Toni midway on the first turn.

Kat's Fancy controlled splits of :28.4, :58.4 and 1:29.1 before kicking clear of Royal Toni a sixteenth from home and winning by a widening $3\frac{3}{4}$ lengths under the mildest of encouragement. Saints Design (Corey Callahan) rallied mildly to finish third, $21\frac{1}{2}$ lengths in arrears, over Behind The Gate, who gapped the top pair up the backstretch and weakened significantly.

Carlo Polisenno trains Kat's Fancy, who now has won three of her eight career starts and banked $34,800. She paid $5.80 to win as the 9-5 second choice.

The second division saw 1-2 public choice Song Master (Cody Polisenno) turn aside an early challenge from Holly Lou (Allan Davis) and blaze through early fractions of :27.3 and :57 before starting to noticeably decelerate up the backstretch. After a :31.3 third quarter, Song Master gave way to pocket rival Indiana Star (Tony Morgan), who dove to the open stretch and evaded Holly Lou by $2\frac{1}{4}$ lengths in a 2:01.2 victory. Buttoncandy (Ross Wolfenden) finished third over the fading Song Master.

John Wagenhoffer trains Indiana Star, an E L Platinum—Miss Indiana filly who competes as a homebred for Beaver Creek Farm Ltd. She paid $16.60 to win in her maiden-breaking victory.

In addition to first-round winners Lady Burg and Song Master and second-round winners Kat's Fancy and Indiana Star, the following fillies will also advance to the $110,000 DSBF series final, to be held next Monday (Nov. 25): Holly Lou, Royal Toni, Marino Bluestone and Buttoncandy.

My Girl EJ tops monster Preferred Equine Online Mixed Sale

Promoted as a “monster sale,” Preferred Equine Online (PEO)’s Mixed Sale held Monday (Nov. 18) did not disappoint. Numerous records (price, gross, number of entries, registered bidders, number of bids) were set, attracting viewers from around the globe.

Selling as a partnership dissolution, two-time Breeders Crown champion filly My Girl EJ p, 3, 1:48.1-’24 ($1,458,040) led the way, selling for $758,000 to Andrew Harris, agent for William Pollock, Bruce Areman and Harris. Previously owned by trainer Ron Burke with breeders Burke Racing Stable, Weaver Brusceci and Elizabeth Novak, the 3-year-old daughter of Sweet Lou is a multiple Grand Circuit stakes winner and set the 1:49.1 all-age female world record on a half-mile track when she won the elimination heat of the Jugette at the Delaware County Fair and recently captured her second Breeders Crown title at The Meadowlands.

Pollock, Areman and Harris held the previous sales price record on PEO’s sales site when they purchased Abuckabett Hanover in the fall of 2022 for $534,000. Since then, he has been a multiple stakes winner, increasing his career earnings to more than $1,800,000, with his latest win on the eve of Monday’s sale when he captured the Potomac Pace for free-for-allers at Rosecroft Raceway.

My Girl EJ’s dam, Lucy’s Pearl, sold in foal to Sweet Lou for $356,000 to Greg Luther. The stakes-winning mare is also the dam of millionaire and Little Brown Jug champion Lou’s Pearlman as well as $100,000+ winners Loukes Perry and Lousain Bolt, all by Sweet Lou. Greg Luther also purchased the weanling Sweet Lou colt Lounado for $250,000, while BWB Racing purchased her yearling Sweet Lou colt Generationalwealth for $140,000.

A pair of Ontario trotting stars also sold for six figures as broodmare prospects. Two-time O’Brien Award winner Adare Castle 4, 1:52s ($1,100,021) was purchased by 30 Plus Stable of Ontario for $228,000, and recently retired two-time O’Brien Award finalist HP Mama B 4, 1:51.4s ($692,011) sold to Armitage Farm of Kentucky for $150,000.

A share in trotting sensation Walner led that category, selling for $314,000 to Ecurie Jean Pierre Barjon of France. Shares of Captaintreacherous and Sweet Lou rounded out the group, selling for $86,000, $85,000 and $83,000 respectively.

“Obviously, it was a strong sale led by numerous headliners in multiple categories, but to see the confidence from a wide range of buyers reflects Preferred Equine’s brand of representing the best,” said PEO’s David Reid. “Our state-of-the-art platform offers the latest technology while offering transparency and full customer service. Our entire team works hard to deliver, and to have a day like today brings satisfaction to all connections, buyers and sellers alike.”

Preferred Equine Online continues to accept entries to the next online sale to be held on Monday (Dec. 2).

For the best and biggest action, head to The Meadowlands

It’s no secret that when it comes to betting on standardbred races, The Meadowlands is far and away the industry leader. With an average nightly handle of $2.966 million through the first 75 race cards of 2024, no track is even close.

The reasons why The Big M does so well with fans both on- and off-track are numerous, and they combine to give the mile oval the most attractive wagering product in the sulky sport. In addition, when the sun goes down, The Big M is the North American betting leader at night, regardless of breed.

Big fields might be the biggest factor in lubricating The Meadowlands' well-oiled parimutuel machine. The mile oval can accommodate 10 horses behind its gate, and this weekend there will be no shortage of long fields, which are more likely to create the big payouts that Big M players crave.

On Friday (Nov. 22), there are 136 horses scheduled to compete on the program, good for an average of 9.71 betting interests per race. On Saturday (Nov. 23), the numbers are diminished, but only slightly, as 127 horses are slated to race, an average of 9.07.

Overall, during the weekend, the average field size will be 9.39, a number unmatched at any harness venue.

"We are extremely appreciative of our horsemen for always supporting the entry box here at The Meadowlands," said track chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. "Big fields plus big pools equal opportunity for horseplayers to make a score."

The Meadowlands' signature wager is the Pick-4, a popular puzzler with a 50-cent minimum that has a guaranteed pool of $50,000. It's offered twice every night, on races 6 through 9 and 10 through 13.

The Meadowlands wagering menu offers the little guy a shot at making a score throughout the evening. Just like the Pick-4, these wagers have a player friendly low 15 per cent takeout.

The Pick-5 wager opens up the program every night as it's offered on races 1 through 5 and has a minimum investment of 20 cents.

The low minimum allows everyone to get right into the action without depleting their bankrolls.

For those who like to play more aggressively, let's say a $1 ticket, the average pool of $54,676 allows one to do that. The average $1 payout is just shy of $3,000 at the Fall Meeting.

Next up is the Survivor Pick-7, which is offered on races 3 through 9.

The P7 also has a 20-cent minimum, but unlike some multi-bet wagers offered elsewhere, this one has a mandatory payout every night.

The Fall Meet average return is $4,795 for 20 cents, and the Early Pick-4 can also be used to hedge your Pick-7 wager.

Last weekend's Survivor payouts were strong, despite many short-priced horses taking walks down victory lane. On Friday, the Survivor returned $6,410 despite a sequence that saw five of the winners go off at odds of 2-1 or less. The other two winners weren't exactly big longshots, as both scored at 7-1.

The Saturday Survivor started with a 7-2 chance before none of the final six winners won and paid off at odds greater than 5-2. That payout was $1,042.

The Pick-6 kicks off the second half of the 14-race program nightly. The 20-cent wager starts in race 8 and concludes in race 13. The Late Pick-4 can also be used to hedge your Pick-6.

A payout of $6,407 and a pool of $18,535 is what the Pick-6 has been averaging at the Fall Meet.

The 10-cent Pentafecta is offered every night on the finale. The ultimate "get out bet" is exactly that, and the 10-cent minimum allows everyone a chance to get even for the night. If you are ahead going into the 14th dash, hitting the Hi-5 is your culmination of a great night.

During the meet, the bet has averaged a payout of $932.41.

The Meadowlands also offers 10-cent Superfectas on 10 races per night. With the large field sizes offered, lightning could strike at any time. The low minimums allow you to play all night long, increasing your chances to make a score.

THE HORNET TAKES FIVE: Last Saturday, Yannick Gingras, aka The Green Hornet, stung the competition to the tune of five winners on the night, with one coming before the betting card, and the other four during the wagering races, including one stretch where the 45-year-old Hall of Famer won the sixth, seventh and eighth races to record a natural hat trick.

THE STARS WILL COME OUT: The Meadowlands is known for its big-event programs, and with the Breeders Crown added to the mix this year, The Big M has already played host to Meadowlands Pace Night, Hambletonian Day and the Crown.

The last of the "Fab 2024" takes place on Saturday (Nov. 30), on Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night.

Here are the eight major events that will take place that evening (with estimated purses that total $2.65 million):

- $400,000 Governor's Cup (2YOC&GP)
- $400,000 Three Diamonds (2YOFP)
- $400,000 Valley Victory (2YOC>)
- $400,000 Goldsmith Maid (2YOFT)
- $350,000 FanDuel Open Pace
- $350,000 FanDuel Open Trot
- $175,000 FanDuel Open Mare Pace
- $175,000 FanDuel Open Mare Trot

GIVE TO A GREAT CAUSE: It's time for the annual Toys for Tots drive at The Meadowlands.

Beginning Friday, Nov. 29, all are welcome to donate new, unwrapped toys for kids in need every day until Friday (Dec. 13), when the United States Marines Toys for Tots reception takes place.

SEE THE PAST MASTERS: Come and see a great classic rock and roll show as The Past Masters perform live in Trackside on Saturday (Dec. 7).

Come enjoy live music, horse racing and food and drink specials.

The music begins at 7 p.m. and the show is free to attend.

The practice of raising money and donating funds to Historic Track and the Hall of Fame began in the mid-1970s with Monticello Raceway publicity icon John Manzi, and has continued ever since.
