Why the Dan Patch race for freshman pacing fillies might be closer than you might think

Chantilly is perfect, but Miki And Minnie also deserves consideration for divisional honors.

And Minnie, although much more traveled, having competed in Kentucky, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and on a five-eighths as well as two different mile tracks, never ventured north of the border. So, in this case, it's no factor.

Advantage: No one.

It's easy to see why Chantilly is favored to win the Dan Patch 2-Year-Old Filly Pacer of the Year award. After all, she won the She's A Great Lady, one of the top races in her division, is ranked fourth in the weekly Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown Poll, and she's undefeated.

But when doing a deeper dive into the freshman filly pacing ranks, Chantilly shouldn't be standing alone at the top. Also deserving divisional consideration should be Breeders Crown champ Miki And Minnie.

Miki And Minnie is competing in the Three Diamonds on Saturday night (Nov. 30) at The Meadowlands. Should she win it, she will have captured two of the top three races in the division.

But even if Miki And Minnie doesn't win on Fall Final Four Night, according to the stats, she still deserves to be in the Dan Patch discussion.

Here's a comparative breakdown of the two fillies, keeping in mind that both sets of connections clearly leaned more heavily on not over-racing their 2-year-olds than trying to earn year-end glory.

Head-to-head: Who won the head-to-head battle should always be given strong consideration when trying to separate divisional competitors. However, Chantilly never raced beyond the seven-eighths mile oval confines of Woodbine Mohawk Park, while Miki

Chantilly (James MacDonald) winning the She's A Great Lady final in September at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

Top races: Both fillies won one of the top three races in their division, but from a purse, prestige and strength-of-competition viewpoint, the edge has to go to the Breeders Crown over the She's A Great Lady. Advantage: Miki And Minnie.

Supporting races: Chantilly won the Ontario Sires Stakes (OSS) Super Final, a division of the Eternal Camnation, OSS Gold Mid-Season consolation and an OSS Gold leg, while Miki And Minnie won the Kentucky Championship Series final, a division of the Bluegrass as well as a leg of both the KYSS and Commonwealth series. In simplest terms, Chantilly raced in sire stakes in Ontario, while Miki And Minnie did the same in Kentucky. From a quality standpoint, I'll consider the Eternal Camnation and Bluegrass a wash, although the "Camnation" had a slightly higher purse. The OSS Gold leg and Mid-Season consolation had higher purses than the legs of the KYSS and Commonwealth, however the quality of competition in Kentucky was higher. By all that, the deciding factor comes down to the OSS Super Final and KCS final. Although both series have quality competition, Kentucky's purse was higher. But that's still marginal and it wasn't enough for me to separate them.

Advantage: No one.

Time for the mile: Chantilly went in 1:50.2 in both the She's A Great Lady and OSS Super Final, while Miki And Minnie went 1:49.4 in the KYSS Championship at The Red Mile. It should be noted that Chantilly clearly could have gone much faster than she did and was protected by driver James MacDonald, but your record is your record.

Slight Advantage: Miki And Minnie.

Record: Miki And Minnie was never off the board in 10 seasonal starts to date, 5-4-1, while Chantilly was a perfect nine-for-nine.

Big Advantage: Chantilly.

Earnings: Reflected in U.S. funds for conformity, Miki And Minnie has $671,750 ($67,175 per start) while Chantilly has $560,315 ($62,257 per start). Chantilly is done for the season, but Miki And Minnie could add more from the Three Diamonds.

Advantage: Miki And Minnie.

My friend, and fellow HRU columnist, the late Ron Gurfein, once accused me of relying too much on statistics. He said: "With two horses that close, you must step back from the numbers and review the entire season."

He's right that basic statistics — wins, losses and earnings — won't show you how easily Chantilly won her races by open lengths or what a herculean performance Miki And Minnie had in the Crown final going parked the final five-eighths.

Next year, when the United States Trotting Association comes out with their graded-stakes system, making decisions like this one should be easier. However, no system is flawless, just ask the committee that decides the college football rankings. But for now, all we have to go on is the statistics.

Both fillies are extremely deserving, so there is no bad choice to be made here.

Chantilly should, and I'm sure will, win an O'Brien Award. I also think that she will most likely win the Dan Patch, because voters will see perfection and that will be very persuasive. For the sake of those connected to Miki And Minnie, I hope at least some don't take the easy way out.

BRUSH AND CRUSH

with DEAN TOWERS

The harness racing excitement posse

Ideas from Sheriff Gural, Deputy Cherry or the Constables in the HRU feedback section each week to make the sport more exciting might seem crazy at times, but they come from a good place.

by Dean Towers

During the last decade we've heard the criticisms in harness racing over and over again.

"If you got down to the half in :58 at Roosevelt, Herve [Filion] would be moving three high swooping the field and the crowd would roar. This doesn't happen anymore."

"Wait-until-next-week harness racing is a bunch of 2-5 shots winning race after race."

"Everyone gives holes to their buddies. It makes the racing boring."

"These races all look predetermined."

Well, I'm here to report we're not the only game in town with these problems.

Chess can be traced back close to 1,500 years, with the modern version of the game being played since about the year 1700. Since that time, the players have gotten better and better, where the current World Chess Championship isn't much more than memorized sequences, resulting in "boring slogs, rather than duels of offensive wits."

Harness racing is not as much a game as it is a business. If Dexter Dunn and Yannick Gingras are bored with driving horses a certain way, they aren't going to change the framework.

Increasingly, fans have been turned off the sport, and interestingly enough so have the players.

This week the world chess championship in Singapore, despite its $2.5 million top prize, won't have the five-time world champion Magnus Carlsen participating. At a separate event, he'll be playing the number two player in the world in a brand-new chess format.

Fischer Random Chess is a speed-game that involves a unique puzzle that can't be gamed-out easily. The uncertainty has changed the game and it's enthralled both players and spectators.

"[Chess] should be more free flowing," said Carlsen. "People find it [Fischer Random Chess] fascinating that top players are almost as clueless as they are at home."

At Chess.com, 13 of the top 20 matches watched online are Fischer Random or a facsimile. If you pop on YouTube, you'll see young players plying their trade on these new forms of chess as well, some to millions of viewers.

When eyeballs are attached to something we all know the money tends to follow. This new format just attracted $12 million in venture capital for a new circuit called the Freestyle Chess Tour.

The greatest chess player of all time (along with fans and other grandmasters) was bored with the game of chess. So, they changed it.

Harness racing is not as much a game as it is a business. If Dexter Dunn and Yannick Gingras are bored with driving horses a certain way, they aren't going to change the framework. When Diamond Creek or Ron Burke invests millions in buying and selling yearlings while making thousands in stakes payments each year, they aren't going to inject randomness into the North America Cup just to make it cooler.

However, when we hear a suggestion to eliminate the giving of holes to make the racing more interesting; when we listen to an idea to handicap strong favorites with the second tier or a staggered start; when a salvo is thrown out to pay part of an overnight purse to the leader at the half; when cries are heard to blow up condition books; or a change in a rule where drivers have to declare intent is offered — the list can be sometimes endless — I think it's important to know there's a method to the madness.

No matter how silly or undoable some suggestions are, they are desperately trying to address real problems in the sport.

Stakes races that are snooze fests, overnight races with a string of 1-5 shots resulting in $12 payouts in a Pick 4, opening a program and fighting traffic for (if we're lucky) one or two betable races a night to the harness racing posse are traditional chess.

And the sad reality is: In 2024, traditional chess doesn't seem to work anymore.

BETWEEN THE LINES

Previewing the FanDuel Championships and Fall Final Four at The Meadowlands

by Brett Sturman

When the 2025 standardbred racing dates approved by the New Jersey Racing Commission were made public this week, it revealed what would be a shift in the traditional fall calendar at The Meadowlands.

It's important to note that the calendar is still subject to change as several considerations are still to be determined, but in its current state there would be thoroughbred programs at The Meadowlands between September and November. This would have obvious implications to The Meadowlands' fall stakes, including the signatures stakes to be raced on Saturday (Nov. 30), the Fall Final Four stakes races for 2-year-olds (Governor's Cup, Valley Victory, Goldsmith Maid, Three Diamonds), and the four FanDuel Championship races.

If the calendar were to hold as first approved, what would happen to the 2-year-old races? The simplest answer is that they could be raced elsewhere. The Meadowlands has played host to the races consecutively every year since 2017, but prior to that the races moved between The Meadowlands and Woodbine. Records show there were even two years in 2009 and 2011 the races were conducted at Harrah's Philadelphia — one year of which was raced in September — though I somehow have no recollection of that.

It's somewhat different for the FanDuel (formerly TVG) Championships, in that going back to the inception of those races in 2013, The Meadowlands has been the only home those stakes have ever known. And unlike the Fall Final Four which could be somewhat flexible with dates, the FanDuel Championships have to come at year-end as they are the culmination of points earned in selected stakes throughout the year.

However, the speculation may all be for naught as developments continue to play out. Messaging The Meadowlands' owner Jeff Gural earlier this week, he said he is hopeful that the thoroughbreds will relinquish the fall dates to The Meadowlands where those dates would become available for standardbred use. How the schedule is ultimately finalized will remain to be seen.

As for this Saturday's races, there's the usual intrigue in the FanDuel races with 3-year-olds taking on older horses. The first instance comes in the FanDuel for mare trotters, where the top two rated 3-year-olds in the division, Allegiant and R Melina, will take on a field that includes the top three finishers from this year's Breeders Crown Older Mare Trot, led by winner Call Me Goo. There's already been a couple of columns dedicated to the divisional awards discussion, so no need to belabor, but I strongly believe that if either Allegiant or R Melina were able to win this race, then it should leave no question as to which of those should take home the hardware for their division. This should be about as good a race as one could expect for the compact field of six horses.

The other FanDuel Championship that will feature a 3-year-old is again on the mares' side, but this time on the pace. My Girl EJ with divisional honors assured and fresh off a $758,000 sale buy for new connections, will give it a go against the presumptive Horse of the Year, star mare Twin B Joe Fresh. Going first time in the barn of Andrew Harris, I'm anxious to see how My Girl EJ stacks up. I think she's going to give a good account of herself as a fresh challenger in the open mare pacing ranks. This could be a preview of a rivalry to come next year.

In the FanDuel Open Pace, all the top finishers from last month's Breeders Crown are back. Coach Stefanos keeps James MacDonald who will return from Canada following his Breeders

If the [2025] calendar were to hold as first approved, what would happen to the 2-year-old races? Messaging The Meadowlands' owner Jeff Gural earlier this week, he said he is hopeful that the thoroughbreds will relinquish the fall dates to The Meadowlands where those dates would become available for standardbred use.

Crown-winning drive and will hope to keep the late-race heroics of Coach Stefanos intact where he closed in back-to-back :25 an change final quarters to sweep his Crown elimination and final. Seven Colors returns too, and he looked for a moment that he was going to upset in the Crown at the longest of odds right before Coach Stefanos burst onto the left side of the television screen and stormed past. Abuckabett Hanover continues to show up and a win here following his win in the Potomac Pace would be an impressive way for him to cap off his season. He amazingly went off at slightly higher odds in that race at Rosecroft from post 2 than he did here in the Breeders Crown from post 8. Ruthless Hanover will try to take them as far and fast as he can from post 10.

In the FanDuel Championship for open trotters, Winner's Bet will try to go out a winner this year with a six-race winning streak should he beat all familiar foes in a reasonable field of 8; efforts resembling across the current winning streak would be good enough to dispatch this group one final time.

As for the 2-year-old races, all of those have gone straight to this weekend's finals. Miki And Minnie deserves credit as the lone 2-year-old Breeders Crown winner to race back in one of the 2-year-old Fall Final Four races. That Breeders Crown win was a well-earned one also, having raced uncovered a long way after having started from post 9. She's since qualified twice and will face a challenge to her inside from Rodeo Drive Deo who moves all the way from post 10 in the Breeders Crown to post

1 here in the Three Diamonds. After having upset Rose in the Matron at Dover, Faze becomes a contender too.

In the Valley Victory, Go Dog Go comes off the Breeders Crown where he was bet down to 6-1 against Maryland and really tried to take it to him into the stretch. He seems best of these, though Super Chapter from the outside post remains formidable, as does Monserrate who earns a shot after racing well throughout his Kindergarten series.

Luna Lovegood is out for redemption in the Goldsmith Maid after having an unfortunate early miscue when last seen here in the Breeders Crown in a race where she would have been tons the best.

In the Governor's Cup, there are questions around Captain Optimistic, who was fourth as the favorite in the Breeders Crown, followed by a vet scratch and then coming up short in his most recent start at 20 cents on the dollar. He'll have to contend with a Burke trio of Swingtown, Railroad Station and Papi's Rocket. An interesting prospect could be Fusion who ripped through the Kentucky Commonwealth series over the summer at The Red Mile where he lost just once and that was to American Son in 1:49.4. He hasn't had an actual race in two months but maybe trainer Nancy Takter knows something by putting him in this spot.

Fascinating Fall Final Four facts

by Bob Heyden

The Governor's Cup, Valley Victory, Three Diamonds and Goldsmith Maid, now known as the Fall Final Four, will be contested on Saturday (Nov. 30) at The Meadowlands. The events have been raced together since 1990. Only the Governor's Cup and Three Diamonds existed prior to that. The Governor's Cup for 2YOCP debuted at Garden State Park in 1985 with $1,357,500 on the line that Barberry Spur gobbled up despite post 12. The Three Diamonds was added in 1989 when Jim Morrill, Jr. joined the elite/big time in year one, winning that 2YOFP with Choice Yankee for breeder Charlie "King Kong" Keller of New York Yankees fame. Keller passed the following year.

Following the closing of Garden State Park in early 2001, the only home the Final Four had known, they became a bit of a traveling roadshow bouncing between The Meadowlands, Mohawk, Woodbine and Chester, before finding their current home at The Meadowlands since 2017.

CAMPBELL AND THE FINAL FOUR

It's been seven years plus now that John Campbell has been retired. Nobody made more of an impact in the Final Four than Campbell, the only driver to win each Final Four consecutively.

He took the Goldsmith Maid for 2YOFT in 2007-08 with Snow White and Up Front Annika. Snow White put the finishing touches on her still record 2YO season of $1.252 million.

Campbell all but claimed the Governor's Cup as his own from 1989-2002 winning six times, with In The Pocket (1989), Artsplace (1990), Life Sign (1992), Magical Mike (1993), Western Shooter (2001) and All American Native (2002).

Campbell captured the Valley Victory for 2YOCT consecutively with Beardmore and Diesel Don in 2003-04, respectively.

Six times the richest driver ever, took down the Three Diamonds. The first three were for trainer Bruce Nickells: Miss Easy (1990), Immortality (1992), and Freedoms Friend (1993). He then spread out his later scores with freshman filly stars Glendale Kim for trainer Bob McIntosh in 1994, Arts Virtue for his brother Jim Campbell in 1999 and finally A And G'sconfusion for trainer Mark Capone in 2008.

THREE DIAMONDS

Bettors Delight got his sireing career more or less underway with first crop standout freshman Darlin's Delight in 2005. she catapulted to a $2.9 million career with the Three Diamonds on her early resume.

In 1994, CR Kay Suzie dominated in the Goldsmith Maid, and a year later everyone took notice as she captured HOY honors.

GOLDSMITH MAID

Dream Of Joy gets the "best timing" award for her 1999 championship 2YOFT season. She won just three times, but chose carefully, with that trio being the Goldsmith Maid, the Jim Doherty, and the Breeders Crown. If that wasn't enough, she never raced again plagued by back issues for trainer Per Eriksson.

Syrinx Hanover took the 2000 Goldsmith Maid and then ran the table at 3 and was HOY runner-up to fellow sophomore filly phenom Bunny Lake.

VALLEY VICTORY

On the 2YOCT side, Wesgate Crown easily won divisional honors in 1993 with a Valley Victory score sealing the deal. But at 3, he was winless in 21 tries. No problem he said as he went on to a $2.5 million career, making him the lone trotter ever to top $2.5 million lifetime without winning a race at 3.

Donerail was the outstanding freshman trotter of 1994 taking down honors and the Valley Victory to cap it off. But he never improved on his 1:55.4 2YO mark and retired the July prior to the 1995 Hambletonian won by Tagliabue. Donerail became maybe the sports best broodmare sire. Not bad for a colt who never once took a step outside the State of New Jersey.

Allison Hollow, the 1996 Valley Victory winner, would probably be completely anonymous had he not defeated a trotting colt that year by the name of Malabar Man.

Chip Chip Hooray was not on anyone's radar late in the 2001 season until he took the Valley Victory for Chuck Sylvester. Nine months later he would win Sylvester his fourth and last Hambletonian.

Maybe Pinkman is the oddest Valley Victory champ, winning it in upset fashion in Canada in 2014 just a couple of weeks before he was cataloged to be sold at Harrisburg. He was obviously taken out. He went on at 3 to be the Hambletonian winner for Brian Sears and Jimmy Takter and still to this day is the richest single season horse ever trained by Takter at $1.9 million.

GOVERNOR'S CUP

Twenty-seven years before his Hall of Fame election year, Chris Ryder got the ball rolling in big time freshman stakes winning the Governor's Cup with Sealed N Delivered (1997) for over $590G.

Tony Alagna has taken the last two Governor's Cups and three overall, putting him on the doorstep of Bob McIntosh who holds the record with four.

Hats off to Scott Zeron who has won the Governor's Cup four times – 2014, 2017, 2018, and 2022 – all before turning 35. He did that this year in May.

The stakes record of 1:49.1 has now held for 14 years. It was set in 2010 by Big Jim at Woodbine.

In those early Governor's Cups, being named Bill was a plus. Not only did Bill O'Donnell win them both in 1985-86, but a pair of Hall of Fame Williams were second. William Buddy Gilmour was 6-1 and second in 1985 with Towners Big Guy and then, William Popfinger was second in 1986 to Redskin driving the longest shot in the field, maiden Cue Light at 70-1.

THE DOWN UNDER DIARY

with ADAM HAMILTON

Deni Roberts understands the gravity of having two drives in the Inter Dominion

by Adam Hamilton

Deni Roberts remembers the first time she felt the buzz of the Inter Dominion.

Roberts was a young girl competing in the pony trotting races when she arrived at Gloucester Park with her mother, trainer Sonia Zucciatti, and immediately something was different.

The crowd was huge, the track was buzzing like the young and impressionable Roberts had never seen it.

That memory has been stirred this week as the now 29-year-old Roberts prepares to drive in her "real" Inter Dominion series at Newcastle on the complete other side of the country to her Western Australian base near Perth.

"I'm from a harness racing family in that mum trained horses and so did my uncle [Aaron Skalecki]," she said. "Like so many of us kids in WA, I found my way into the pony trots early. I was only 8 when I started.

"I was taught all about the Inter Dominion, how it was the biggest thing in the sport [Down Under] and all the history behind it.

"I'm just old enough to really remember the end of Im Themightyquinn's career and how big a role he played in the Inter Dominion [winning three finals in 2011, '12 and '13]. To think I'm going to be part of it myself now is such a buzz."

It's a buzz when brewed quickly.

Roberts, stable driver for the hugely successful Team Bond operation (husband and wife Greg and Skye Bond), only found out two weeks ago she would be contesting the iconic series for the first time.

"It wasn't on the radar at all, really," Greg Bond said. "We did nominate the horses [Minstrel and Tenzing Bromac], but more just to keep options open. I'm glad we did.

"When Leap To Fame was taken out with his issues and then we heard Swayzee [dual New Zealand Cup winner] wouldn't be running either, we quickly made the call to give it a crack with our two and booked their flights."

Fittingly, it marks a return to the state (New South Wales) where Roberts eventually chose harness racing as her career path.

"I'd done the pony trots, but graduated school and took six months off to live in Sydney and work in restaurants as an 18-year-old," Roberts said. "I didn't know what I wanted to do. After the six months, I was missing home and horses. I went back, worked with mum and then got a job with Bob Fowler's Allwood Park and that was that."

Roberts' rise to driving stardom, which has earned her the nickname "Duchess Deni," was a long way off back then.

"Yes, I had seven years at Allwood Park, but it's a breeding farm, so most of my time was really nurturing and educating the young horses," she said. "I didn't take the traditional path of going straight into a stable, but I'm grateful for that. I got to really learn about horses. I was with them from the start of their lives until they became racehorses."

Word was spreading about Roberts' talent and Team Bond's then stable foreman and lead driver, Ryan Warwick approached her with a job offer one day at the races.

"I actually turned it down," Roberts said. "It was great to get the offer, but Bob [Fowler] had horses with [trainer] Peter Anderson and I'd just started doing some work for him with the race horses and wanted to give it a go.

"It wasn't quite what I hoped, so when Ryan [Warwick] came to me again six months later, I snapped it up and that's when I started working for Greg and Skye. It'll be five years ago next May."

Despite her potential, Roberts had to really earn her stripes.

"I sure did and that's fair," she said. "I might have been fourth or fifth stringer as far as drives went in the stable when I started. I wasn't even the top junior driver, they had Bailey McDonough working for them and he was a junior, too. Then there was Ryan and Dylan [Egerton-Green] as well. I was thankful for any drives I got in that line-up."

Roberts looks back on the John Higgins Memorial final at Gloucester Park on July 23, 2021 as her fork as the defining moment of her career.

"There's obviously been bigger wins since, but that was the race that gave me confidence and belief in myself and I'm sure others, too," she said. "It changed everything and the opportunities grew a lot because of it.

"I won the heat on the horse; he drew 1 in the final and Ryan [Warwick] was suspended so they left me on. He drew [barrier] one and I thought he'd just lead and win... but everything changed when I got crossed at the start.

"I didn't panic. I waited and made my run a lap and bit out and got up to win by a head.

"It was the first time I really felt I could do this; I could drive against the best and win good races. It gave me so much confidence."

“ There’s obviously been bigger wins since [the John Higgins Memorial final at Gloucester Park], but that was the race that gave me confidence and belief in myself and I’m sure others, too. It changed everything and the opportunities grew a lot because of it. ”

~ Deni Roberts

It planted the seed for what happened in February, last year. Warwick decided to go his own way, and Greg and Skye threw their faith behind Roberts to become stable foreman and number one driver.

"It's a great example of how challenging someone can take them to another level," Greg said.

But Roberts admits the first three months in the "big gig" were daunting.

"I put too much pressure on myself," she said. "It wasn't just the driving, but having to manage people for the first time in my life as well.

“It’s been pinch yourself stuff [winning three Group 1 races this month], that’s for sure. And now I roll into my first Inter Dominion with two lovely drives, including Minstrel, who gave me that biggest win of my career in the WA Cup.”

~ Deni Roberts

“It was about three months before I got into the groove and then things started to take off because we had such a great team of horses.”

Roberts recently topped 700 career wins and is locked in a titanic tussle with champion Gary Hall, Jr. for the top WA driver with a month of the 2024 season remaining.

She drove her first Group 1 winner just six months after taking the big gig on the Team Bond-trained Vegas Strip in the Golden Slipper on Sept. 29, last year.

Roberts rocketed that Group 1 tally to five with three wins at the highest level this month alone. It started with Christopher Dance’s WA Derby win on Nov. 1, followed with Minstrel’s WA Cup win a week later and continued when the Canadian-owned Aardiebytheseaside won last Friday night’s WA Mares’ Classic.

“It’s been pinch yourself stuff, that’s for sure,” she said. “And now I roll into my first Inter Dominion with two lovely drives, including Minstrel, who gave me that biggest win of my career in the WA Cup.

“He can win it. He can win the Inter Dominion final. He’s never raced better and his work last Saturday was just sensational. He’ll love the four races in two weeks and the big track at Menangle [1,400 meters] will be ideal for him come final time.

“Don’t see Tenzing Bromac short either. He’s an underdog with a chance. You’ve never seen the best of him yet, but he goes toe-for-toe at home with Minstrel. I think he’ll really stamp himself in this series.”

The Inter Dominion moves from Newcastle tonight (Nov. 29) to Bathurst for the second round of qualifying heats next Wednesday (Dec. 4).

Then it’s back to Sydney’s home of harness racing, Menangle, for the last round of heats on Dec. 7 and the pacing and trotting finals on Dec. 14.

Remarkably given the success of females in Australia, Roberts will be trying to become just the second female to drive an Inter Dominion pacing final.

Natalie Rasmussen is the other and she boasts five finals, four with the great Blacks A Fake (2006, ’07, ’08 and 2010) and a fifth aboard Ultimate Sniper in 2019.

SUPERSTAR FEMALES OF HARNESS RACING

with VICTORIA M. HOWARD

Did Diana Kramer save 'Wilbur' and 'Kid,' or was it the other way around?

by Victoria Howard

Born and raised in Woodbury, NJ, Diana Kramer still resides in the Jersey Blue State. After graduating from high school Kramer needed a job so the 18-year-old went to a local farm looking for work. That was over 22 years ago. It didn't take long for her to discover that working with horses was what she wanted to do with the rest of her life.

Although she had not been born into the business her family always owned riding horses, so she had some experience working with horses. But back in the 80s, Kramer's mother had dabbled in grooming standardbreds for Mark and Kathy Schwartz and her grandfather loved and followed harness racing.

Kramer's grandmother, that she calls mommom, has always been her No. 1 fan.

"My mommom has been my biggest supporter ever since I was a child," Kramer said. "She took me to shows, meetings, babysat my children, she even took me to Tom and Linda's that first day where I met and fell in love with Willie Slick, a 17.2 hand son of the great Niatross. I thought to myself, 'This is going to be my horse someday,' and four years later when he got injured and was retired from racing, he became mine. Unfortunately, he has since gone to horse heaven."

After Kramer discovered how much she enjoyed working with standardbreds, she worked for some of the best trainers in the business, such as, Thomas Lail, Jr., Jimmy and Nancy Takter, Jonas Czernyson, Bernie Noren, Jan Johnson (Continental Farms), Richard Silverman, Casie Coleman, Annette Lorentzen, Marcus Melander, Robert Cleary, Izzy Estrada, Bruce Nickells, and Alex Goldin. Presently she works for Goldin, rubbing and riding.

"I've worked for a lot of Scandinavian trainers because when you are employed by them you could rub and ride, and that's what I love to do best," Kramer said. "Throughout the 20-plus years I have been involved in the sport, I've been blessed to have worked with some of the best trainers and learned a lot from each one and took it with me. But I'm especially grateful to Tom Lail and Linda Mobray for having faith in me and giving me my start."

Looking back on her career so far, Kramer mentioned several horses that have made an impact on her, including two of her own, Kid Did It and Wilbur's Z Tam.

"As far as the equine who taught me the most about horses and the horseman's way of life was a quarter horse mare I had growing up named Ranchers Lil Imp.

"But I want to say that the two horses I presently own – Wilbur and Kid – saved me, I didn't save them. They are the reason I get up every day and work hard. They may not have won a Breeders Crown or earned a million dollars but to me they are champions and until the day that I die, they will be with me."

“Today, I still eat, sleep, breathe horses and harness racing, and have never been happier. Of course, there are many setbacks and heartaches that come along in the business, so you have to be a die-hard to survive.”

~ Diana Kramer

“The fastest horse I ever took care of was Net Ten Eom for Richard Silverman; he is now standing Down Under. But my biggest thrill was winning with my horse ‘Kid’ [Kid Did It] when he won his second lifetime start at Freehold or his win at Yonkers. He was my first winning horse.

“As far as ‘Wilbur’ [Wilbur’s Z Tam] I never got a win, but was second in a photo, which was just as thrilling as a win to me. He is now happily retired at 15 years old.

“Poor Kid had many naysayers who called him ‘hamburger’ and said he would never be a racehorse, but he proved them wrong for now he has four parimutuel wins and two fair wins. I’m hoping to drive him in the fairs this year as well as qualifying him.

“This year Kid attended the Halloween Parade at Freehold acting as an advocate trying to save Freehold Raceway, along with several others from the track.”

Kramer said things haven’t changed much for her over the years.

“Today, I still eat, sleep, breathe horses and harness racing, and have never been happier,” she said. “Of course, there are many setbacks and heartaches that come along in the business, so you have to be a die-hard to survive.

“I just finished studying for my driver/trainer license and plan on making my debut in a qualifier with my horse Kid next year after he gets done enjoying his vacation. I always said I wanted to get my driver/trainer license but never got around to it, but Kid gave me that extra push.

Kramer keeps her horses at a private farm and her employers stable at Taylor Gower’s. Both are located in Cream Ridge, NJ.

“When we race it is usually at The Meadowlands but occasionally race at Shenandoah Downs,” Kramer said. “I absolutely love the breed and what they do on and off the racetrack. Every year I try hard to make it to the Standardbred Nationals where I ride regularly.

“My goal is to do what Brielle Roman and Molly D’Agostino do, retrain and rehome standardbreds when their career as a racehorse is over. There are so many wonderful people who care about the horse once their racing career has ended, and I give them all so much credit.

“As far as the one female I look up to in the business it would have to be the late, great Bea Farber. That woman is a legend who paved the way for all the other women in the sport. Bea was way ahead of her time, and I’d love to see what she would be doing if she were alive today.”

Kramer said that since she has worked with so many special horses, it was hard for her to pick a favorite, but one did stand out a little from the others.

“Ranchers Lil Imp is at the top of the list because she is the one who taught me a lot about a horse’s personality, quirks, funny ways, and how they think.

“But I want to say that the two horses I presently own — Wilbur and Kid — saved me, I didn’t save them. They are the reason I get up every day and work hard. They may not have won a Breeders Crown or earned a million dollars but to me they are champions and until the day that I die, they will be with me. I hope that Kid will help me with my next chapter, learning how to drive in a race. But regardless, I owe these two horses everything and feel so blessed to have them.”

Pennsylvania

Pocono title in hand, Kakaley drives on

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

After closing out his third consecutive driving title at Mohegan Pennsylvania's Pocono Downs last week, Matt Kakaley can still add to his list of accomplishments before his 2024 campaign comes to an end next month.

Kakaley has already set a career high for purse earnings this year, with $9.55 million, but has his eyes on the $10-million mark as he will continue driving at MGM Yonkers Raceway through mid-December. In addition, the 36-year-old Pennsylvania resident is 32 victories from establishing a career best for wins.

"It's been a great year," Kakaley said. "It's a lot of work, I can tell you that. I'm probably going to hit close to 3,000 starts again; that's quite a few. There are a lot of doubleheaders and a lot of going up and down the road. But I'm really happy, and I'm thankful, for sure."

Kakaley posted 280 wins this season at Pocono and finished ahead of runner-up George Napolitano, Jr. by 15 victories. Kakaley has won four driving titles at Pocono in his career, first in 2011 and now his three in a row.

"It feels good," said Kakaley, who joined Napolitano as the only drivers to capture at least three consecutive titles at Pocono since 1993. "I think this is my 15th year at Pocono, and to get on a little bit of a roll and win it a few years in a row is special. I live close to here; it's my home. It's definitely a goal of mine every year.

"Once you get a taste of it, you want to keep going."

One of Kakaley's top moments this season came at Pocono when Sweet Beach Life won the Pennsylvania Sire Stakes championship for 3-year-old male pacers from post 8 at odds of 49-1. But his success wasn't limited to the northeast Pennsylvania oval as he captured the New York Sire Stakes championship for sophomore male pacers with Howlenthedhills, also from post 8, and Aria Invitational Pace with Desperate Man at Yonkers.

The victories at Yonkers were on Sept. 7, followed two days later by Sweet Beach Life's win.

"That stretch of days was probably the highlight of the year," Kakaley said. "I've had some good horses that I got to drive."

Other top wins for Kakaley this year have included the Paul Revere Pace at Plainridge Park and a division of the Empire Breeders Classic at Tioga Downs with Howlenthedhills and the Robert J. Kane Memorial Invitational at Batavia Downs with Desperate Man.

Kakaley entered Tuesday (Nov. 26) fifth in wins among North American drivers, with 530. He ranked sixth in purses, less than $79,000 behind Scott Zeron in fourth. He has topped 500 victories and $9 million in purses for three consecutive years.

"To get to $10 million this year was my goal," Kakaley said. "It's going to be close. We'll see what happens."

Kakaley is fourth in the driver standings at Yonkers, which will continue racing this year through Dec. 20. Following the meet, Kakaley will begin about a month respite from the daily grind.

"You just adapt and get used to it," Kakaley said about his hectic schedule. "But getting toward the end, it's been a long year and a lot of miles. I'll just recharge the batteries until Yonkers starts back [in 2025] and spend time with the family, which I don't get to do a lot during the summer. It will be good to have a little break."

Captain Albano goes out a winner in Progress Pace

by James Witherite, editor, Hoof Beats magazine

Little Brown Jug and Matron champion Captain Albano crossed the million-dollar threshold of his sophomore campaign with a decisive 1:49.1 score over Pepsi North America Cup winner Nijinsky in the $267,960 Progress Pace final, for 3-year-old male pacers, on Wednesday (Nov. 27) at Bally's Dover.

Captain Albano, widest of three leavers at race's outset, was rated in the two-path by driver Todd McCarthy as Captain Luke (driven by Scott Zeron) drilled a :25.1 first-quarter sprint with Nijinsky (Louis-Philippe Roy) in the pocket. Captain Albano pushed to the fore with a circuit to go and controlled middle splits of :54 and 1:21.4. After shrugging off a first-over challenge from Breeders Crown winner Mirage Hanover (Dexter Dunn), who advanced from fourth to offer mild pressure upon entering the far turn, Captain Albano sprinted away from the field at the eighth pole and won comfortably by 2¼ lengths. Nijinsky rallied up the open stretch to nab Captain Luke for second.

Noel Daley trains Captain Albano, who concludes his racing career with $1,564,253 earned from 19 wins, three second-place finishes and three third-place finishes in 27 starts for Patricia Stable, L.A. Express Stable, Sjoblom Racing and Michael Dolan. The Captaintreacherous—Angelou colt will now embark on his breeding career at Blue Chip Farms in New York.

Sent off the 3-5 favorite, Captain Albano paid $3.40 to win.

Fotowon
Captain Albano (Todd McCarthy) won the Progress Pace in 1:49.1 on Wednesday at Bally's Dover to surpass $1 million on the year. It was the final race of the pacer's career. He now will stand stud at Blue Chip Farms in New York in 2025.

LITTLE MISS PEYTON COMPLETES DSBF SWEEP

Donna Messick's homebred Little Miss Peyton scored her eighth consecutive win and second Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund series championship with a 1:55 win in the $110,000 Ramona Hubbard Memorial, for 2-year-old pacing fillies, held earlier on the card at Bally's Dover.

In line to Corey Callahan, the Papa Ray—Armbo Cashmere filly waited for stablemate Bella Artiste (driven by Jim Morand) to clear from post 7 at the end of a :27.1 first quarter before making her move to the front. Once in control, Little Miss Peyton rated middle splits of :57 and 1:25.3, turned aside a first-over challenge from Mornin Merle (Pat Berry), and evaded Bella Artiste by 1½ lengths, giving trainer Les Givens a sweep of the exacta. Tilted Crown (Russell Foster) saved third after saving ground behind the front flight.

Little Miss Peyton, now an eight-time winner from 10 starts with $169,062 in the bank, paid $2.40 to win as the 1-5 favorite.

The $20,000 DSBF consolation for rookie pacing fillies saw One Hot Shark and driver Jason Green sustain a mid-race brush from fifth to overpower 1-5 favorite Im Won Last Wiser and win by 2¾ lengths in 1:57. James Stuart owns and trains the Classic Card Shark—Fire One Up filly.

Delaware SIRE STAKES REPORT

Melvin G completes DSBF sweep

by the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund

After winning his six previous starts by a combined 26 lengths, Melvin G withstood the toughest test of his rookie stakes campaign in the form of Legend Of Rock, whom he held off by a half-length to win Tuesday's (Nov. 26) $110,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund championship for 2-year-old male trotters at Bally's Dover and complete a series sweep.

Sent off the 1-20 favorite for a seventh consecutive start, Melvin G and driver Jim Morand left from post 7 and worked to clear Yale (driven by Art Stafford, Jr.) just upon entering the first turn. The E L Platinum—Jersey Punk gelding was in complete control well before the end of a :28.1 first quarter, and he coasted unopposed through middle splits of :58.1 and 1:28.2 before facing a stern first-over challenge from 27-1 shot Legend Of Rock (Corey Callahan), who began his ascent from fourth with three-eighths of the mile remaining. Legend Of Rock worked into level terms with Melvin G off the home turn but was rebuffed in mid-stretch as Melvin G responded to secure victory in 1:57.4. Legend Of Rock maintained second; Yale was a one-paced third from the pocket, another three-quarters-of-a-length back.

Les Givens trains Melvin G, who now has won seven of 10 starts and earned $162,437 for the partnership of Nanticoke Racing and breeder Legacy Racing of Delaware. He paid $2.10 to win.

The $20,000 DSBF consolation for 2-year-old trotters went to Blue Collar Boy, who defeated Burly by 5¼ lengths in 2:00.4 and returned $2.20 as the 1-9 favorite. Tim Tetrick drove the Anders Bluestone—Willow Mill Anna gelding for trainer Dylan Davis, who shares ownership with Shannon Stafford and Michael West.

LADY BURG PRESSES, PREVAILS IN DSBF TROT FINAL

Thanks to patient early handling from driver Pat Berry, Lady Burg sustained an uncovered grind through the middle half to put away Song Master and had enough left to withstand late pressure from Kat's Fancy to win Monday's (Nov. 25) $110,000 Marv Bachrad Memorial at Bally's Dover, sealing top honors in the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) series for 2-year-old trotting fillies.

Lady Burg was unhurried at race's outset, settling second-over on the opening turn behind 30-1 long shot Song Master (driven by Carlo Polisenio), who vaulted to the lead from post 7 and cleared Royal Toni (Kim Vincent) for control at the end of a :28.2 first quarter. Uncovered with a lap to go, Lady Burg advanced on the outside to engage the pacesetter through a :57.4 half before pushing to the lead midway up the backstretch. After doing away with Song Master, the E L Platinum—Comical Dream filly faced immediate pressure from eventual runner-up Kat's Fancy (Cody Polisenio), who made a mild bid past three-quarters in 1:28.3. Lady Burg rebuffed Kat's Fancy's challenge by 1½ lengths, winning in a lifetime best 2:00. Indiana Star (Tony Morgan) rallied mildly for third.

Lady Burg, who competes as a homebred for J. Craparotta a P. Berry Racing and is trained by Traci Berry, has now won four of her seven career starts and banked $94,150. As the even-money favorite, she paid $4.20 to win.

Heather Reese-Marshall delivers champions

In the last few years Heather Reese-Marshall has put her hands on so many harness racing champions, that it is hard to believe that she is just one person.

The “hands-on” general manager of Crawford Farms, Reese-Marshall enjoyed a grand slam of over-achievers this season. Not only did she help deliver and raise Hambletonian champion Karl and Kentucky Futurity winner Sig Sauer, but she also had a hand in the health and well-being of New York Sire Stakes champions Howlenthedhills and The Last Martini.

Despite all of the pressure to bring these high-powered yearlings to the auction ring, she is always pleasant and professional, and never gets rattled. The late Hall of Fame Communicator Dave Brower used to call her “The General” for her sharp standardbred acumen and unflappable demeanor.

Perhaps flying under the radar in her role raising these champions, Reese-Marshall will be in the spotlight as the recipient of the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA) Monticello-Goshen Chapter’s John Gilmour Good ‘Gal’ Award at their 65th annual awards banquet, presented by the New York Sire Stakes, in Campbell Hall, NY, on Sunday (Dec. 8, 2024).

Chris Tully
Heather Reese-Marshall with Rockalicious.

Born in Rome, NY, about 20 minutes from Vernon Downs, the 36-year-old dynamo is a third-generation horseperson on both sides of her family. Both of her grandfathers raced harness horses, as did her father. In fact, her mother met her father at Vernon Downs when she came down from Canada with horses for Maurice Brooks.

While Reese-Marshall’s first job was riding polo ponies, she used to paddock horses at Vernon while still in high school. After that, she attended Morrisville College for a semester. During Christmas break she landed a job at Crawford Farms, which at the time was managed by the late Jim Crawford, Sr. Fifteen years later she is still working with the Crawford family and is an invaluable part of the team.

“I still clean stalls almost every day,” she said with a chuckle. “Most people would say and think that’s crazy. But it’s such a mindless thing, I find it relaxing.”

Reese-Marshall is truly hands-on with all aspects of the farm, because if she is not foaling or breeding mares, she is raising and sale prepping the babies.

“I even get some of the racehorses back during their vacations,” she said. “That’s probably the best part for me, I truly get to see them from start to finish.”

When asked about the most rewarding part of her job at Crawford Farms, she said without hesitation, “To watch horses like Karl, Sig Sauer and Ramona Hill is a dream come true. To know I was there when they were born, and watched them walk across the sale stage, and then to go on to win races like the Hambo and the Breeders Crown... it’s what we all work so hard for every day.”

So, what is a day in the life of Reese-Marshall like? Of course, that depends upon the season.

“During breeding season my husband [Chad] and I foal out every mare,” she said. “So, the day sometimes starts [or ends] in the middle of the night. But a usual day would be feeding, treating sick horses or healing wounds, scheduling which horses come in, stay in or get turned out. Then its palpating mares, ordering semen, cleaning stalls, working with the vet, checking over new foals, bringing horses in, feeding again. Of course, we breed mares on specific days of the week too.

“If we are lucky, sometimes we actually get to sleep. And then we do it all over again the next day.”

Reese-Marshall quipped, “Yearling Season is a bit more structured, since there is actually a designated time for sleeping. Basically, we feed in the morning, horses are turned out for the day, or brought in from being out all night. They go on the exercise wheel, and then are groomed and/or bathed. Then we feed dinner to the yearlings, and feed everything that lives outside. We finish the day by turning out the ones scheduled for overnight turnout.”

While raising champion racehorses is a lot of hard work, getting that opportunity is something Reese-Marshall is very grateful for.

"If it wasn't for the Crawfords, I wouldn't be where I am now," she said. "They took a risk hiring someone so young with absolutely no management experience. They've provided me with the horse flesh to be able to put out the champions we have."

The feeling is mutual, said farm owner Michelle Crawford, "Heather is my everything!

"She has made such a significant impact on our success at Crawford Farms over the last 15 years. I am so proud of her. Heather came to the farm filled with bright ideas and huge ambition that has progressed today into developing Hambletonian winners and Dan Patch champions. Her knowledge of breeding, foaling, yearling prep, and just overall horse health and care is second to none. She doesn't know the end of a day and is irreplaceable to me and is a main reason we are the New York Breeder of the Year! We couldn't do it without her."

The "Good Gal" credits her husband, Chad, with providing the support system she needs to keep up her torrid pace.

"He's there for just about every foaling, no matter how little sleep he's gotten," she said. "It's a running joke around the farm about how he's out here building stalls for horses he doesn't even like. Whether I need a reminder to maybe stop and take a nap, or 'Hey, you can't live on coffee and Mountain Dew for six months of the year.' Or sometimes it's just a much-needed kick in the butt when I've had a rough week... he is always there."

In closing, we asked what advice she would give to aspiring horsewomen and farm managers who look up to her, and she stated unequivocally, "Be prepared to work hard. You have to earn your respect in this business. Nothing just gets handed over for free. Be open minded, no matter what it's about. You can learn something new every day. Being kind and respectful gets you a long way"

'Bucky' a good 'Bett' On FF4, FDC Night at Big M

Just 48 hours after Thanksgiving, The Meadowlands will serve up one last stakes-laden 2024 feast on Saturday (Nov. 30), when $2,572,400 in purses will be doled out on Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night.

One horse looking to close out a season in which he hopes to walk away with divisional honors is Abuckabett Hanover, a veteran 6-year-old who is the likely favorite in the FanDuel Open Pace.

During 2024, "Bucky" has put together quite the resume, winning the Potomac Pace, Dayton Derby, William Haughton Memorial and Dave Brower Memorial.

"You know why I'm happy if Bucky is lucky enough to win?" co-owner Bill Pollock told Debbie Little in a recent edition of Harness Racing Update. "He toiled behind Bulldog Hanover, Allywag Hanover, Tattoo Artist, a lot of great, great horses, and he was always in their shadow, and now this year, I feel he really broke out on his own and really did a good job.

"I'm so happy for him. I know he doesn't know he might win it, but I'm so thrilled for him. I think we have a very good shot at it. Plus, if he's successful in the FanDuel, he'll cross $2 million lifetime."

Pollock, along with partners Bruce Areman and trainer Andrew Harris, have been on a buying spree in an effort to build a championship-caliber barn.

Pollock plunked down over $5 million purchasing 18 yearlings at the 2023 sales at Lexington and Harrisburg. Over the last two years, they've spent almost $12 million in stocking Harris' stable, which includes a then-record online purchase of $534,000 for Abuckabett Hanover in 2022, before they topped that mark with a $758,000 purchase several weeks ago of two-time Breeders Crown champion My Girl EJ.

No longer having to go up against horses like Bulldog Hanover and Allywag Hanover, Abuckabett Hanover hopes to be the bully on the playground when he faces some other top-flight competitors Saturday night.

Ruthless Hanover, the winner of the Joseph Auger Memorial earlier this year at Harrah's Philadelphia, and Coach Stefanos, who won the Breeders Crown in eye-popping last-to-first fashion, are two of the horses who are looking to take Bucky down.

A SLICE OF HISTORY: The FanDuel Open Pace is an event that historically has featured some of the biggest stars in the game.

From the moment it burst onto the scene in 2013, the FanDuel Open Pace was an instant hit. Modeled after thoroughbred racing's Breeders' Cup Classic, it pits 3-year-olds who care to face older foes to see if any of the star sophomores can take on more seasoned horses and continue to excel. The Open Pace immediately stamped itself as one of the biggest events in harness racing. It also tried to accomplish something very important. The Open races gave owners a reason to keep racing's greatest stars on the track for the fans, which has helped racing grow.

Here's a look at a decade's worth of stars:

- 2013 – Billed as a battle between 9-year-old fan favorite Foiled Again and 3-year-old star Captaintreacherous, it would be "Foiled" emerging victorious in 1:49.2 for driver Yannick Gingras and trainer Ron Burke. Foiled Again would go on to become the richest standardbred of all time, with a bank account of $7,635,588.
- 2014 and 2015 – Burke was at it again after 5-year-old Sweet Lou (2014, 1:48) and 6-year-old Bettor's Edge (2015, 1:50) upped the trainer's win streak in the event to three. Sweet Lou was piloted by Ron Pierce; Bettor's Edge was handled by Matt Kakaley, who just walked away with his third consecutive driver title at Pocono Downs.

- 2016 and 2017 – Dave Miller, the second leading money-earning driver in history, went back-to-back, scoring with 5-year-old Always B Miki (2016, 1:48.2) for Jimmy Takter and 7-year-old Mach It So (2017, 1:49.2) for Jeff Bamond.
- 2018 – 7-year-old McWicked capped off a season in which he was voted the Dan Patch Horse of the Year after winning in 1:48 for driver Brian Sears and trainer Casie Coleman. The first six editions of the FD Open Pace had not seen any winner under the age of 5, but that was about to change.
- 2019 – Always A Prince became the first of four consecutive 4-year-olds to win the race. Gingras and Tyler George teamed up for the victory in 1:48.2.
- 2020 – The great Bettor's Wish scored for Dexter Dunn and Chris Ryder in 1:48.1.
- 2021 – One of the best older pacers of this generation, Allywag Hanover won for Todd McCarthy and Brett Pelling in 1:48.1. Two years later, in 2023, he would become the only horse to win this dash twice, as then, at age 6, he stopped the clock in 1:49.1 for the same driver-trainer combo.
- 2022 – In between Allywag's two wins came a stakes-record performance of 1:47.3 by the marvelous Bulldog Hanover. The fastest horse in standardbred history by virtue of a 1:45.4 clocking at The Big M, won the 2022 edition in the final start of his illustrious career for Dunn and Jack Darling.

DOUBLING UP: Gingras, Miller, Dunn and McCarthy all have two wins apiece to sit atop the drivers list in the FD Open Pace.

Burke has three wins to lead the trainers. Pelling is next with two.

GETTING OLDER, GETTING BETTER: Four-year-olds have four wins in the event while 5-, 6- and 7-year-olds all have two each. One 9-year-old has also emerged victorious.

No 3-year-old has ever won the FanDuel Open Pace. Three have tried and come up short. They are Captaintreacherous, who finished sixth in 2013; Bettor's Wish, second in 2019; and Confederate, eighth in 2023.

THE STARS WILL COME OUT: The Meadowlands is known for its big-event programs, and with the Breeders Crown added to the mix this year, The Big M has already played host to Meadowlands Pace Night, Hambletonian Day and the Crown.

The last of the "Fab 2024" takes place on Saturday (Nov. 30), on Fall Final Four/FanDuel Championships Night.

Here are the eight major events that will take place:

- $382,200 Governor's Cup (2YOCP)
- $338,200 Three Diamonds (2YOFP)
- $447,000 Valley Victory (2YOCT)
- $455,000 Goldsmith Maid (2YOFT)
- $325,000 FanDuel Open Pace

- $325,000 FanDuel Open Trot
- $150,000 FanDuel Open Mare Pace
- $150,000 FanDuel Open Mare Trot

CAN 'FRESH' FINISH ON WINNING NOTE? The leading horse in the race for Horse of the Year, Twin B Joe Fresh, will look to up her seasonal stats to 11 wins from 13 starts in the FanDuel Open Mare Pace.

A year ago, the Chris Ryder trainee became the first 3-year-old in history to win this event, and now that Ryder has announced that the daughter of Roll With Joe—Fresh Breeze will race in 2025, a win Saturday puts her in line to possibly record a natural hat trick in this dash next year.

SEASON'S GREETINGS: "At this time of year, on behalf of Jeff and Paula Gural, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of our owners, horsemen and employees for all of their dedication to the sport of harness racing and The Meadowlands," said track chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemoir. "And, of course, we want to wish a Happy Thanksgiving to our faithful fans. Without them, and their loyalty to us and our product, we would not be the No. 1 harness track in the world. We are grateful to have them."

Several 2024 retirement ceremonies this Saturday at The Meadowlands

Harness racing's biggest stars will battle on the track on Saturday (Nov. 30), in the 2024 FanDuel Championships and Fall Final Four finals at The Meadowlands.

Recently, retirement ceremonies have become the norm on this night of racing at The Meadowlands, and this year is no different.

This year, a retirement video has been compiled for those who announced their retirements, including:

- Legendary Hanover – 2024 Meadowlands Pace and Cane Pace
- Captain Albano – 2023 Dan Patch Award and 2024 Little Brown Jug
- Sig Sauer – 2024 Kentucky Futurity and Breeders Crown
- Winner's Bet – 2024 Graduate and Breeders Crown
- T C I – 2023 O'Brien Award
- Karl – 99th Hambletonian and 2023 Dan Patch Award

Karl will also be on site on Saturday for one last visit to the winner's circle for his driver, Yannick Gingras, trainer Nancy Takter, and owners Christina and Nancy Takter, Black Horse Racing, Crawford Farms Racing, and Bender Sweden.

Seven-year-old It's Academic will be honored in The Meadowlands winner's circle following his final start in the FanDuel Championships Open Trot. It's Academic, the 2023 Dan Patch winner with over $2.7 million in earnings has wins in the John Cashman Memorial, Crawford Farms, Spirit of Massachusetts (twice), Tom Aldrich (twice including a world record), and Caesars Trotting Classic.

Allywag Hanover etched his name in history as one of the sport's top free-for-all pacers, and The Meadowlands will honor him and his connections – Allywag Partners, Brett Pelling, Todd McCarthy, and caretaker Terry Buchanan. On the board in 49 of 78 career starts, with 28 wins, he banked $2.3 million and won a 2021 Dan Patch Award. "Allywag" won the FanDuel Championship (formerly TVG) twice, once in 2021 and again in 2023 over Bythemissal.

Deadline to register stallions for the Virginia Harness Horse Association's Sired Stakes Program is Dec. 1

The Virginia Harness Horse Association (VHHA)'s deadline to register stallions for the Virginia Sired Stakes 2025 breeding season is Dec. 1. Now three years old, the Sired Stakes initiative complements the VHHA's Breeder's Fund Race program and Certified Residency program, in an effort to keep standardbred racing in the Commonwealth moving forward.

Sired Stakes races will be run at Shenandoah Downs based on age, sex and gait. Elimination races will feature a $6,000 purse and finals will go for $60,000. Yearling payments of $25 per horse are due May 15 of its yearling year. Two- and 3-year-old sustaining payments of $100 per horse are due March 15 and May 15 each year. Declaration payments of $100 per horse are due when the horse is dropped in the box for an elimination race.

Sired foals are also eligible to compete in the Virginia Breeder's Fund races during the same years. Those races feature $8,000 eliminations and $80,000 finals. When combined, sired foals can race for $154,000 plus added money as freshmen and sophomores.

In addition, 15 per cent Sired Stakes bonus payments will be awarded to both the stallion owner and breeder based on purse amounts won from respective eliminations and finals. The first slate of Sired Stakes races will be contested at Shenandoah Downs next fall for 2-year-olds, from the 2023 foal crop.

A complete list of stallions will be available after Dec. 1 at www.vhha.net. For details on bringing a stallion to Virginia or any of the incentive programs, contact Debbie Warnick at 443-463-0917.

Campbell crowned in MacDonald Memorial Driving Challenge

Marc Campbell tripled up to capture the annual Paul MacDonald Memorial Driving Challenge during Horse Person's Day, presented by the P.E.I. Standardbred Horse Owner's Association, on a rescheduled Sunday (Nov. 24) afternoon card at Red Shores Racetrack and Casino at the Charlottetown Driving Park.

Originally slated for Saturday, the 13-dash card was held on Sunday afternoon with Campbell winning three races to garner 64 points and win the MacDonald Memorial trophy for the second straight year. David Dowling was second with 57 points while Gilles Barrieau was third with 54 points in the eight-race competition. Brady Sweet rounded out the top four with 51 points followed by fifth-place Corey MacPherson (48 points), sixth-place Adam Merner (45 points), seventh-place Jason Hughes (39 points) and eighth-place Steven Shepherd (37 points).

The competition saw Barrieau sprint to the early lead winning Leg 1 with Blue Monk (2:00.2) for trainer Jay Noye, followed by a victory in Leg 2 with Joe King (2:02.3) from the Kyle Wilkie stable. Dowling notched a win in Leg 3 with his own Unbridled Fury (2:00.2) then Campbell came from last with Sharky (2:00.3) to win in Leg 4 for John McGuirk. Dowling scored again as a trainer/driver in leg 5 with Two Points (1:59.4) in a front-end mission then Campbell cruised home with Macho Phil (1:59.2) for trainer Landon Campbell in Leg 6.

Woodmere Heather M (2:00) put driver MacPherson in the winner's circle in the challenge as the Jennifer Doyle trainee won her 17th race of the season in Leg 7. The final leg had Campbell coming back for more with Tradition (1:58.2) rallying up to win for trainer Gordie Hennessey.

Campbell also won an overnight dash with Rockin Novel (2:02) for trainer Roy Reynolds for win number four of the day.

New Legacy prevailed in the top trot of the day for a $3,300 purse in 2:01.2 for trainer Doyle, driver Dowling and owner Danny Birt. Curadh (driven by Ryan Desroche) was second best ahead of Whole Nother (Merner).

FSBOA Stallion Stakes at Sunshine Meadows

The Florida Standardbred Breeders and Owners Association (FSBOA) stakes season continued on Saturday (Nov. 23) over the Sunshine Meadows Equestrian Village neatly honed mile oval with the Stallion Stakes finals and over $70,000 in purses up for grabs.

The seven-race program featured 2-year-olds and 3-year-olds and had five rare walkovers along with several other interesting milestones achieved.

Amante Standardbreds led the owner parade with four trips to the winner's circle – two of those walkovers – and Wally Hennessey was in the sulky for all four of those events.

Amateur drivers Joe Pennacchio and Dein Spriggs also garnered some headlines with "Joe P" in the bike for two walkover events, vaulting his lifetime earnings over the $1,000,000 mark since his first appearance in 1995, winning the C. K. G. Billings event at Delaware, OH, with the aptly named Fox Valley Trump.

His walkover wins on this day were with Prairie Kitten in the Stallion Stakes final for 3-year-old filly pacers and Prairie

Achiever in the event for sophomore male pacers.

Spriggs was handling the lines in Prairie Puma's walkover while keeping his perfect record at Sunshine Meadows intact, now four-for-four.

Here's a summary of the Stallion Stakes action:

3-Year-Old Filly Pace ($10,000, walkover): Prairie Kitten handled by Joe Pennacchio for trainer Laurie Poulin, who co-owns with Fred Morosini and Patricia Fritz.

2-Year-Old Filly Trot ($10,350): Sunshine Jet driven by Wally Hennessey for trainer Tony Dinges and owner Amante Standardbreds.

2-Year-Old Filly Pace ($10,000, walkover): Prairie Puma driven by Dein Spriggs who co-owns with trainer Tony Dinges.

3-Year-Old Male Pace ($10,000, walkover): Prairie Achiever driven by Joe Pennacchio for trainer Laurie Poulin, who co-owns with Fred Morosini and Patricia Fritz.

2-Year-Old Colt Trot ($10,350): Delray Jet driven by Wally Hennessey for trainer Nick Coblenz and owner Amante Standardbreds.

3-Year-Old Filly Trot ($10,000, walkover): Bellarina Jet driven by Wally Hennessey for trainer Tony Dinges and owner Amante Standardbreds.

3-Year-Old Male Trot ($10,000, walkover): Okeechobee Jet driven by Wally Hennessey for trainer Tony Dinges and owners Amante Standardbreds.

Racing concludes Nov. 30 at Sunshine Meadows with post time set for 11 a.m.
