Greenshoes in play as Haughton, Doherty move to Hoosier

Mark Hall / USTA

Marcus Melander and Greenshoe.

The Peter Haughton and Jim Doherty will be contested at Hoosier Park in 2023. That means offspring of Greenshoe – previously barred from racing in those stakes at The Meadowlands – will be eligible to race.

by Debbie Little

A stakes shift has given early presents to Greenshoe yearling owners.

With ownership of the Peter Haughton Memorial and Jim Doherty Memorial passing from The Meadowlands to the Hambletonian Society, the stakes have a new home at Hoosier Park and no longer fall under the Stallion Restriction Condition (SRC).

While at The Meadowlands, participation in the Haughton and Doherty, prestigious races for 2-year-old male and female trotters, respectively, were subject to the SRC, better known as "The Gural Rule."

The rule says: "This condition applies to sires and their foals conceived when the sire is 4-years-old, it does not apply to sires or their foals if the foal is conceived when the sire is 5-years-old or older."

The SRC was put in place with the hope of keeping 3-year-old colts on the track as 4-year-olds, rather than immediately going to the breeding shed.

Since Greenshoe retired after his 3-year-old campaign, his first crop, which sold well this year at Lexington and Harrisburg, would not have been eligible to the Haughton or Doherty if they remained at The Big M.

"I think we have 18 Greenshoes that are now eligible to those races, which is great news for both my owners and me," said trainer Marcus Melander. "It's really good for us. Greenshoe was an amazing horse and I think he'll be an amazing stallion."

Melander's barn includes the top three highest-priced Greenshoe colts: Vic Zelenskyy ($550,000), Lammtarra ($500,000) and Loxahatchee ($435,000).

"They looked great at the sale and we bought a lot of them and some expensive ones as well," said Melander. "So, of course, it's great news that we can race in another big race. And I'm pretty sure that all the trainers that bought a Greenshoe would all be happy about that, too."

"For me, growing up in Sweden, I always watched Hambo Day and the Peter Haughton was one of the early big races for 2-year-olds," said Melander. "It's a very prestigious race and I'm honored that we already won it this year with Kilmister."

Melander also trained Oh Well, who finished second to Kilmister, and Upstaged, who was placed fourth in the 2022 edition of the Haughton. In 2019, he trained Doherty winner Hypnotic AM.

"For me the Peter Haughton and Jim Doherty are two of the biggest races and it's a privilege to race in those races," said Melander. "And I'm very happy that we won them in the past and now we can do it in the future as well."

TOYS BRING JOY

When you're passing out toys, who better to have on hand than a receiver?

Former New York Jets wide receiver Quincy Enunwa will again be at The Meadowlands to help support the track's Toys for Tots collection drive.

"I think I first began working with the Meadowlands through a different charity event they hosted with the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) and I appreciated their commitment to giving back as well as the space they provided for the event," said Enunwa.

Since 2018, Enunwa has been part of the Big M gift-giving team and the track's chief operating officer/general manager Jason Settlemyer can't be happier to have him in their huddle.

"We are proud to host a Toys for Tots drive each holiday season," said Settlemyer. "The holiday season is about family and helping others that are less fortunate. We want to be able to make a child's Christmas just a little bit brighter."

Anyone who would like to donate a new, unwrapped toy can do so between now and Friday, Dec. 9, when a special event will take place from 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. in the track Clubhouse Lobby hosted by WPIX-11 sportscaster Justin Walters. Members of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve will be onsite with Enunwa to collect toys from fans who can take selfies or get an autograph from the pass catcher, who was a college football star at Nebraska before joining the Jets.

"My time in Nebraska helped me realize the weight of the position that I've put myself in," said Enunwa. "There are people and communities who look at people like myself as larger than life and so I've made it my goal to leave positive impacts on the people I come in contact with. Especially those whose lives have been impacted by things outside of their control."

Those that donate a toy will receive a $5 betting voucher and also have a chance to win autographed NY Jets collectables – including mini footballs and Christmas ornaments.

The toys donated on that Friday will be delivered to Harlem Grown, a charitable organization in Harlem whose mission is to inspire youth to lead healthy and ambitious lives through mentorship and hands-on education in urban farming, sustainability and nutrition.

Enunwa has worked with this charity for some time because of their commitment to providing access, mentoring and knowledge to underserved communities.

"As a former professional athlete, I understand the importance of nutrition education and I appreciate the work they've been doing," said Enunwa.

PICTURE PERFECT

If a picture's worth a thousand words, the calendar being given away at The Meadowlands on Saturday, Dec. 3, is priceless.

My picks for year-end honors

by Brett Sturman

One of the great things about this particular column topic each year is all the differing opinions because of the highly subjective nature of determining which horses are award-worthy in their respective divisions. Though I'm most often right (naturally) in my own leanings, it's not always clear cut and opposing viewpoints can also be valid.

In making their decisions, I'd imagine that every U.S. Harness Writers Association voter for the Dan Patch awards has different sets of criteria used in their decision-making process, some more thoughtful and detailed than others. But what if there was a way to make the assessment process consistent and help remove different biases by having more objective statistical metrics and other supporting data.

Drawing from other sports, being able to quantify things like strength of schedule, non-conference schedule (non-sire stakes schedule) key wins, head-to-head results, quality of wins and losses and put those into ratings are all completely applicable across a lengthy harness racing season. With that in mind, here is how I see each division.

TWO-YEAR-OLD MALE PACER – STOCKADE SEELSTER

Beginning with what might be the most open division, I'd give it to Stockade Seelster on the strength of his win in the Metro final (over Save America). A winner of 8 out of 11 races this year, he stormed through Ontario Sires Stakes competition including a win in the Super Final. Having never raced outside of Canada though, I could see him being overlooked a bit by some voters. Save America put together a string of big wins in the Nassagaweya, Champlain and Metro elimination, but went 0-for-6 since that time. Ammo shocked in the Breeders Crown for what was his second win of the year; would have likely won this division with a win in last week's Governor's Cup.

PERFECT STING STANDS IN
NEW JERSEY - FEE $10,000

TWO-YEAR-OLD FEMALE PACER – SYLVIA HANOVER

Another 2-year-old who has raced exclusively at Woodbine Mohawk, her accolades against the open 2-year-old filly ranks speak for themselves. Only an unfortunate race circumstance away from a perfect record, she closed out her season with a win in the Breeders Crown following other wins in the She's A Great Lady, Champlain, and Eternal Camnation.

TWO-YEAR-OLD MALE TROTTER – VOLUME EIGHT

Another extremely tough call. Having won seven times from nine starts, the way he closed out the year with that dominating win in the Kindergarten Final followed right back up by overcoming post 9 in the Valley Victory Final (over Kilmister), has left a lasting impression. He also has an International Stallion Stake to his credit (over Winners Bet). New Jersey Sires Stakes and New Jersey Classic champion Oh Well also won the Mohawk Million which are big wins on paper; had the misfortune of breaking stride shortly after the start in the Breeders Crown. Kilmister sports a similar profile to last year's divisional winner, King Of The North. Both had early season success including wins in the Peter Haughton before tiring somewhat towards the end of the year; not sure if Kilmister has done enough to hang on.

TWO-YEAR-OLD FEMALE TROTTER – SPECIAL WAY

This one could get interesting, but Special Way has done enough to win over the late emerging and Svanstedt stablemate, Bond. Special Way has beaten top competition all season long including five straight wins over the highly talented Walner Payton, and her win in the Breeders Crown over nearly all the sports best 2-year-old trotting fillies (including over Champlain and Peaceful way champ, Righteous Resolve) was her seventh consecutive victory; deserving winner. PA-sire stake standout Bond closed out her season with wins in the Kindergarten Final and then an even more impressive one in the Goldsmith Maid; a similar route that Volume Eight took on the male's side.

THREE-YEAR-OLD MALE PACER – PEBBLE BEACH

This division has been a 3-way battle throughout much of the year but should ultimately go to Pebble Beach. His wins in signature races such as the North America Cup at the start of the season and then again in the Breeders Crown at the end of the season, combined with a win in the Tattersalls Pace give him the nod. Beach Glass did put away Pebble Beach to close out the year in the Progress Pace, but I have a feeling that the Meadowlands Pace and Cane Pace winner may fall just short. Bythemissal was in control of this division following his win in the Little Brown Jug and looked to further solidify his status following his Breeders Crown elimination win but had too much ground to make up in that final; a race that would have unquestionably gotten him there. Still, a close call all around.

"Do the right thing"
RETIRE
RETRAIN

THREE-YEAR-OLD FEMALE PACER – TREACHEROUS DRAGON

Maybe I'm missing something here as Treacherous Dragon is nowhere to be found in the final Hambletonian Society/Breeders Crown final poll, but I think she's done enough to earn the top spot for this division. A winner of the Fan Hanover in June, she went onto sweep the Jugette (over Sea Silk), and then won the Breeders Crown (over Niki Hill). You can't fault Niki Hill whatsoever for what she's accomplished in minimal starts this year having overcome injury, but I don't see her 3 wins measuring up to the 9 of Treacherous Dragon.

THREE-YEAR-OLD MALE TROTTER – KING OF THE NORTH

In almost direct contrast to how he won his division last year, King Of The North has been resurgent at the end of this season and that should be enough to propel him into the top spot as a repeat winner. A close-but-no-cigar type throughout much of the year, he didn't even win his first race until his Breeders Crown elimination. But he followed that up with a no-doubt win in the Breeders Crown final and from there came right back days later to win the Carl Erskine at Hoosier. A win in the Matron would have put him closer to "lock" status, but that runner-up finish to close out the year to Double Deceiver shouldn't hurt him. Cool Papa Bell could have taken this with a win in the Breeders Crown where he wound up fourth; that Hambletonian win alone (plus another surprise in the New York Sires Stakes final at Tioga) likely won't be enough. Rebuff had his season end a tad early; 1:49.4 and sports fastest 3-year-old trotter will garner consideration on strength of his wins in the Kentucky Futurity and Stanley Dancer.

THREE-YEAR-OLD FEMALE TROTTER- JIGGY JOG

If there's one selection that I'm least confident about, it's probably this one. Jiggy Jog and Joviality have traded barbs with each other throughout the season, but Jiggy Jog closed it out in head-to-head competition with wins over her rival in the Kentucky Filly Futurity and then again in the Breeders Crown. It seems like ages ago now, but Joviality's earlier win against males in the Yonkers Trot may carry additional weight.

Older male pacer – Bulldog Hanover

Older female pacer – Test Of Faith

Older male trotter – Ecurie D

Older female trotter – Bella Bellini

Pacer of the year – Bulldog Hanover

Trotter of the year – Bella Bellini

Horse of the year – Bulldog Hanover

The only question with Horse of the Year is will Bulldog Hanover win it as the unanimous choice. It's never happened before for this honor and, pending a dopey dissent, Bulldog Hanover should be the first unanimous winner as recognition for one of the greatest – if not the greatest – seasons in harness racing history.

HOLLYWOOD'S HITS

with BOB HEYDEN

Dan Patch dominance

by Bob Heyden

Given the high likelihood that Bulldog Hanover will completely dominate this year's Dan Patch Awards, let's take a look at certain horses and categories that were ruled by sheer dominance.

The two who got the most votes in any single year without any dissenters were:

On The Road Again, the unanimous choice for older male pacer in 1985 and Three Diamonds, the top sophomore pacing filly of 1982.

In 1973, Sir Dalrae had an easy time of it getting 187 of the 216 votes. The interesting part was that the remaining 29 votes were divided among 14 others.

In 1982, Cam Fella won the first of two Horse of the Year titles with a dominant season 28-for-33. He got 287 votes in his 3YOCP division, six voters actually said yes for Trenton.

How would you like to win a $1,561,000 race and not get a single vote for your divisions award? It happened in the 2YOCP division in 1986. Jate Lobell got 296 votes, Redskin 12 and Cullin Hanover, the Woodrow Wilson winner, was shut out. No other 2-year-old race has ever gone for more than that since.

Eleven people actually voted against Genghis Khan for Older Pacer of the year in 1982, writing in Willow Wiper. Khan was the HOY runner-up to Cam Fella 164-48 after an epic season where he set the money record for older pacers and set and reset his own track record at Meadowlands (1:52.4 to 1:51.4). The only horse to do that since is Bulldog Hanover.

In 1955, the first year of the Triple Crown for trotters, Scott Frost simply ruined all the suspense. He won the 3YOCT division 100-0. He won the Triple Crown and it would be eight years until Speedy Scot did the same in 1963 among trotters.

In 1961, Adios Butler won the Older Pacing division 112-1, which is especially impressive since it included the boys and girls. Countess Adios, the Cane/Messenger winner from 1960, got the other vote.

In 1998, Moni Maker won the Older Mare trotting category 220-1 and was on her way to back-to-back HOY titles, something that has not been repeated since.

Lindys Pride dominated in 1969 the way you would expect a Triple Crown winner to. He romped in his division 206-to-1.

In 1969, Overcall was a perfect 21-for-21 in the free-for-all, but when it came to the Older Pacer of the Year award, someone actually cast a vote for W W Smith.

From 1964 to 1972, three superstars dominated the proceedings and eight-of-nine HOY titles went their way. Take a look at the yearly tab in their DIVISIONS ONLY for Bret Hanover, Nevele Pride and Albatross.

1964 Bret Hanover 174 votes for him, four votes for Bewitch Hanover and three for Balenzano

1965 Bret Hanover 174 votes for him, two for Adios Vic, two for Balenzano and one for Tuxedo Hanover

1966 Bret Hanover 184 votes for him, seven for Adios Vic, three for Cardigan Bay, two for Murdock Hanover and one each for Dancing David and Speedy Play

1967 Nevele Pride 199 votes, zero for the rest

1968 Nevele Pride 200 votes for his and a lone dissenter went for Miss Morristown

1969 Nevele Pride 205 votes for the three-time HOY, one for Snow Speed

1970 Albatross with Harry Harvey 203 votes, one each for High Ideal and Springfield

1972 Albatross for Stanley Dancer 190 to one vote for Tarport Skipper

In summation, the composite reads:

Bret Hanover 532-26

Nevele Pride 604-2

Albatross 481-3

Nevele Pride's 604 vote total are the most ever career votes for any one horse in the 75-year history of the balloting.

SPEAKING OF DOMINANCE

Niatross, was the only horse to sweep his division in back-to-back years — 237-0 at age 2 in 1979 and then again in 239-0 in 1980. But, a writer named Mueller said no in the HOY ballot of 1980 preventing the greatest horse of his generation from becoming the only unanimous HOY. French Chef got that vote. Who were the horses who got votes against Niatross in his 13-for-13 HOY race of 1979? Here's the list: Hot Hitter 60, Try Scotch 24, Sonsam 9, Chiola Hanover 6, Abercrombie 4, Rambling Willie 2 and Classical Way 1.

JATE'S FATE

Twice Jate Lobell (in 1986 and 1987) ran into a buzzsaw come Pacer of the Year time. In 1986, he went 16-for-16, but Forrest Skipper also ran the table and was voted HOY (15-for-15). The next year, Jate Lobell was easily the 3YOCP, but 14-for-15 Camtastic edged him for Pacer of the Year. In two years Jate was runner-up to a pair that lost once — combined.

FIRST HANOVER

Bulldog Hanover will be this year's HOY, but who was the first "Hanover" to get HOY votes? In 1948, Demon Hanover, the Hambletonian winner, was second in the HOY race. Egan Hanover was seventh in the second year of the voting. Rodney won the title 398-to-340.

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Cory Larson on the importance of family and love of Iowa

by Chris Lomon

Family remains at the core of Cory Larson's standardbred life.

There was never a sense of obligation that he had to follow in his father's footsteps. Instead, the kid from Iowa found his own love for horses and horse racing early on.

"My dad [Brian], he's been in racing ever since I was a baby. He got involved in the sport with some neighbors of ours, the Lems family, in Canton, South Dakota. That's where my parents are from. Dad used to be a rodeo guy. He did everything with horse-drawn carriages, stuff like that, but then he found out that for him, the horse racing world was much more fun. He got into it, I grew up doing it and it's what my family did every summer. Once you feel that adrenaline, it's pretty much all you want to do."

And so that's precisely what Larson has done as a driver, trainer and owner.

His brother, Casey, eight years his senior, initially took the reins as the assistant to their father, a role that would eventually be taken on by Cory.

"Casey graduated high school and moved out to New York to race, so dad needed an assistant trainer. We had a horse, Holls Park Place (a pacing daughter of Park Place), and he said, 'Well, you get to go train that one for your first couple times.' Even though the horse didn't show much – and only would go in about 2:08 – that was the most fun I ever had. I could hardly fit in the stirrups in the bike, I was going 2:10, and all I could think about was, 'This is awesome.'"

Father and son eventually bought horses together. While the first few they purchased didn't pan out on the racetrack, luck would soon come their way in the form of Boom Boom Shaboom.

A daughter of General Aidid (MN), the pacing mare delivered the Larsons several big moments right up until her final start on Sept. 15, 2018.

"She went on to be runner-up 2-year-old champion in Iowa, a 3-year-old champion in Iowa, an aged champion in Minnesota, and we raced her out at Yonkers a handful of times too."

In 91 career starts, Boom Boom Shaboom went 36-17-11 along with $132,520 in earnings. Fittingly, she won her final race, an 11-1 victory in 1:55 at Running Aces.

"She was amazing. She made that money mostly at Running Aces and the fair circuit in Iowa. She was the horse the taught me how to drive, and how to race. She could do no wrong. She would almost drive herself for you. She was laid-back and calm. For me, she was the perfect horse to learn on. It just happened that she was a really good one and taught me everything I needed to know."

Larson headed off to college soon after that thrill ride.

It was there where he met his future wife, Katie, who quickly developed her own interest in the horses and standardbred racing.

"Katie, my dad and I bought a horse together. It was her first one. The horse's name was Dakota Ole. He ended up being okay. When he was two and three, there were six or seven horses that were all the same class of horse. One week you could win and the next week you could be last. You never had any clue how it was going to go."

One sure thing was the shared joy of racing between husband and wife.

Their affinity for the sport has grown exponentially since they started working together.

"She really does love it. She trains every day with me, jogs horses, works in the barn, and has started doing her own training trips. She's hooked."

Currently, the couple has four racehorses, four broodmares and four weanlings. All live together on a 30-acre farm in Marshalltown, about an hour's drive northeast of Des Moines.

The goal is to expand the operation, albeit modestly, in the coming years.

"Now that we live in Iowa, we can have broodmares, raise our own racehorses and every year, have about six to eight horses competing. That's our hope. So far, we've been pretty fortunate with how things have gone. We're both on the same page with how we want to run the operation. Luckily, the horses that we have now have helped pay the bills, and kept things going for us."

Larson has high praise for the racing product in his home state. Two things in particular come to mind.

"The camaraderie amongst the horsepeople and the fact that we actually have good purse money are what makes racing here so good. We race every weekend. My full-time job is a farrier. I shoe horses, all the way from racehorses to barrel horses, show horses and riding horse. My wife is in the financial industry and works for a top company in Des Moines. On the weekend, we get to load up, go to the races, show up, and everyone is friends. We have a 10-month-old daughter, Eva, and everybody treats her as their own kid. At the same time, we get to go out there and race for good money. It's hard to beat that."

And it's a big reason why Larson is happy to call the Hawkeye State his home base.

While he does race his horses outside of Iowa, there is plenty, on and off the racetrack, to keep him content right where he is.

"It's been a great situation for us, both racing and as a family. My brother went to New York to race and raise a family, but they ended up coming back here. For me, it's important to be able to balance my career and my family. In Iowa, we allow that to happen. I guess you could say that it's family racing."

When they aren't at the racetrack or in the barn, the Larsons have their own personal fishing spot on their property.

It's become a go-to place for the family.

"We love it. We take our Ranger out there and our daughter loves that. We go out there together and we'll fish for about 45 minutes, maybe an hour, and just relax and have some fun."

With every fishing spot comes a fishing tale.

And Larson has one.

"I had the biggest bass on the line that I was ever going to have. Before we could get it in, and before dad could get over to help me, it broke my line. So, we'll blame it on him for moving to slow."

Thankfully, the Larson horses have shown a penchant for a solid late brush, coming up big when it counts the most.

All of it the end result of a familiar family effort.

"When you can involve your family with racing, it really is something special."

Bulldog Hanover retirement ceremony set for Saturday at Woodbine Mohawk Park

Woodbine Entertainment and Ontario Racing have announced a retirement ceremony for Bulldog Hanover, the world's fastest standardbred, will be held this Saturday (Dec. 3) at Woodbine Mohawk Park.

As part of Saturday's festivities, racing fans will have the great opportunity to take a photo with Bulldog Hanover starting at 6 p.m. Fans will also receive their photo with a magnetic frame as a gift.

Later in the evening, Bulldog Hanover will take to the Woodbine Mohawk Park racing surface one last time, parading for the fans then returning to the winner's circle for a special retirement ceremony.

The retirement ceremony will include a special winner's circle presentation and interviews with Team Bulldog Hanover. Woodbine has also prepared a highlight video of Bulldog Hanover's accomplishments that will be shown during the ceremony.

Fans on-site Saturday will be able to enjoy a one-night return of the "Bulldog Bulleit", the signature cocktail of this year's Breeders Crown. The special cocktail named for Bulldog Hanover consists of bulleit bourbon, fall spice syrup, apple cider and is garnished with a cinnamon stick and orange zest.

A special program featuring Bulldog Hanover will also be available on Saturday, along with Bulldog Hanover merchandise.

King Of The North to stand at Tara Hills Stud

True to his name, 2021 Dan Patch Two-Year-Old Trotting Colt of the Year and Breeders Crown champion, King Of The North

(3,1:50.3 | $1,166,854), will head north of the border as the heir apparent to the trotting stallion throne.

After much deliberation, Kountry Lane Standardbreds are delighted to announce that the richest son of siring sensation, Walner, will stand at Tara Hills Stud in Port Perry, ON, for stud duties in 2023.

King Of The North will lead the charge of an exciting new generation of trotting genetics, ticking all the boxes expected of any world-class stallion with the pedigree, race resume, and striking good looks to match.

Few, if any, trotting stallions can lay claim to being a world champion, by a world champion, and out of a world champion like King Of The North.

Walner's impact on the studbook has been nothing short of remarkable, with his first two crops taking the trotting world by storm.

The magnificent son of Chapter Seven wasted no time in knocking his own sire off his perch, leading the money list for 2YO Trotters with his debut crop in 2021 with world champion juveniles such as Venerable (2,1:52 | $1,153,514), King Of The North, and millionaire Jiggy Jog S (2,1:52.2; 3,1:50 | $1,122,718).

Walner further asserted his dominant arrival by once again leading the money list for 2 & 3YO Trotters. Incredibly, with 78 fewer starters and only 1/5th of the foals on the ground, Walner currently sits in third place on the All-Age money list behind the great Muscle Hill, with less than $100,000 in earnings separating them (as of 30 Nov).

King Of The North's dam is the world champion Donato Hanover mare, Check Me Out (4, 1:51.2 | $1,903,795), who was both the Dan Patch and O'Brien Award-winning filly at age 2 and 3, setting world records for her age and sex along the way.

Check Me Out's grand dam is the millionaire-earning world champion and 1997 3YO filly of the year, No Nonsense Woman, showcasing the great depth to the maternal family King Of The North inherits, something every great stallion requires.

On the track, King Of The North led all two-year-old colt trotters in earnings in 2021, with $578,915. He won six of his ten starts for trainer Ray Schnittker and driver Mark MacDonald and took a record of 1:52.4.

His triumphs included the $505,600 William Wellwood Memorial, $293,450 Peter Haughton Memorial, and $200,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes final, enough to see him crowned as the 2021 2YO Trotting Colt of the Year.

King Of The North has won three of his last four starts this season before retiring to stallion duty, including the 2022 $591,300 Breeders Crown, where he took his lifetime mark of 1:50.3. That was the fastest mile ever by a three-year-old trotter in the history of the Breeders Crown, it was also the fastest Canadian mile ever by a colt and a Woodbine Mohawk Park track record.

He also has won the $200,000 Carl Erskine Memorial at Hoosier Park and his Breeders Crown elimination division, leaving King Of The North as the leading contender for three-year-old trotting colt of the year honors.

King Of The North stands his debut season at stud for a fee of $12,000 (U.S.).

Pending fertility tests, a decision will be made for public shareholder opportunities in this once-in-a-lifetime stallion prospect.

Rebuff to stand at Victory Hill Farm

The owners of Muscle Hill's fastest son, Rebuff 2,1:52.2; 3,1:49.4 ($962,490), are excited to announce that he will stand his first season at stud in 2023 in Indiana at Victory Hill Farm. The fastest 3-year-old trotter to ever stand in Indiana, his fee has been set at $7,500.

At 2, he won the Breeders Crown (elimination and Final) and International Stallion Stake taking his 2-year-old record of 1:52.2. He concluded his freshman season with earnings of $444,095.

He was the fastest 3-year-old trotter in 2022 with his 1:49.4 career record taken in the Stanley Dancer Memorial at the Meadowlands that was also a stakes and track record. His other victories included the $430,000 Kentucky Futurity, Hambletonian elimination, Reynolds Memorial and a Kentucky Sire Stakes leg. He added $518,395 in 3-year-old earnings for a career bankroll of $962,490.

In making the announcement, Mitchel Skolnick said standing Rebuff in Indiana will further strengthen the state's already strong breeding program.

"Cane Run Farm, Northwood Bloodstock and Bluestone Farms successful negotiations with the owners of Rebuff brings to Indiana a stallion that will position Indiana's Standardbred breeding program to be among the finest in North America and internationally."

Rebuff's trainer throughout his racing career, Lucas Wallin, said he fell in love with him the first time he saw him as a yearling.

"From day one he was a natural, with a powerful gait, great acceleration and an ambitious attitude. From the beginning in our sets he was always a very competitive colt that simply wanted to race, and now I can't wait for the day when I will train his colts and fillies."

Driver Tim Tetrack agrees with that assessment.

"Rebuff was a super talented colt at two and three with an effortless gait and scary speed. He was super to drive with a great attitude – the complete package."

Jeff King, owner of Victory Hill Farm with his wife Maria, awaits Rebuff's arrival with much anticipation.

"As the fastest son of the incomparable Muscle Hill and with all his great accomplishments, Rebuff will be positioned to significantly advance the Indiana breeding industry and beyond, something Victory Hill Farms remains committed to.

"Since the initial announcement the inquiries and requests for bookings has been outstanding."

Principle owner Kjell Andersen said he is looking forward to Rebuff's career as a stallion.

"Rebuff has been a joy to watch and his winning the Breeders Crown at the Meadowlands was more exciting than I ever could have imagined. Now we are just as excited as he enters the stud and what he will bring to the Indiana program.

"I think the sky is the limit."

For more information or to secure a booking contact Victory Hill Farm at (260) 463-2442. Frozen semen will be available to European breeders.

Temporal Hanover to stand in Indiana

The Hoosier State will rejoice in the knowledge that Temporal Hanover, the second-richest son of world champion trotting stallion, Walner, will stand his debut stud season in Indiana in 2023.

There was huge interest shown from studs across the country for the Marcus Melander-trained grand circuit performer. With plenty of options, the owner of Kountry Lane Standardbreds is thrilled to confirm the near millionaire-earning colt will assume the next chapter of his promising career at Premier Acres in Middlebury, Indiana.

Temporal Hanover is well-placed to take advantage of the growing and lucrative Indiana Sires Stakes program and has the race credentials, pedigree, and perfectly packaged physique to immediately impact the studbook.

As the first son of boom sire Walner to assume stud duties in the United States, Temporal Hanover will be sure to attract huge interest from trotting breeders looking to upgrade their bloodlines.

Walner's impact on the studbook has been nothing short of remarkable, with his first two crops taking the trotting world by storm.

The magnificent son of Chapter Seven wasted no time in knocking his own sire off his perch, leading the money list for 2YO Trotters with his debut crop in 2021 with world champion juveniles such as Venerable (2,1:52 | $1,153,514), King Of The North, and millionaire Jiggy Jog S (2,1:52.2; 3,1:50 | $1,122,718).

Walner further asserted his dominant arrival by once again leading the money list for 2 & 3YO Trotters. Incredibly, with 78 fewer starters and only 1/5th of the foals on the ground, Walner currently sits in third place on the All-Age money list behind the great Muscle Hill, with less than $100,000 in earnings separating them (as of 30 Nov).

Temporal Hanover's is out of the unraced Cantab Hall mare, Think Twice, who is a half-sister to the 2006 USA Harness Horse of the Year, Glidemaster (1:51.1 | $1,968,023) as well as stakes-winning Muscle Hill colt, Canepa Hanover (1:51.1 | $320,239).

The dam of Think Twice, Cressida Hanover (Mr Lavec) is a half-sister to Cynara Hanover (Super Bowl), grand dam of dual hemisphere champion and Elitloppet winning stallion, Nuncio (Andover Hall).

With a deep maternal pedigree full of champion trotters, it is little wonder Temporal Hanover was one of the best juvenile trotters in his crop that included the likes of King Of The North, Jiggy Jog S and Cool Papa Bell.

As a 2-year-old, Temporal Hanover started 12 times with five wins, the fastest a 1:53.2 victory. He won a $75,000 Kentucky Sire Stakes leg, the $48,599 Champlain Stakes, two $25,000 New Jersey Sire Stakes legs at The Meadowlands and his $23,700 elimination division of the William Wellwood. He was second in the $200,000 NJSS Final.

In 2022, Temporal Hanover had four wins, six seconds and one third place finish in 13 starts. He was victorious in the $310,000 Zweig Memorial and the $300,000 Earle Beal, Jr. Memorial.

He was also second in the $430,000 Kentucky Futurity, the $275,000 NJ Classic, the $240,000 NJSS Final, the $125,000 Stanley Dancer, the $118,500 Bluegrass Stakes, the $100,000 Hambletonian elimination and was third in the $1 million Hambletonian Final.

Temporal Hanover's stud fee will be $8,500. For more information go to Premier Acres website by clicking here.

Pending fertility tests, a decision will be made for public shareholder opportunities in this once-in-a-lifetime stallion prospect. For more information, contact Dennis Bontrager at 260-585-4927.

All-source handle averaged a not-too-shabby $2,110,835 during November of 2018, but business has improved every year since, as 2019 saw an average of $2,390,320, $2,510,807 in '20, $2,534,332 in '21, before this year's $2,757,205.

The last live racing night of the month was the best in terms of handle, when $3,398,962 was put in play on the brilliant 14-race program that made up "Fall Final Four/TVG Championships Night" on Saturday (Nov. 26).

"The industry has seen enormous progress since the horse racing bill was passed in 2019," said track chief operating officer and general manager Jason Settlemyer. "Everyone in the industry owes a resounding thank you to Gov. Phil Murphy and the members of the New Jersey State Legislature.

"At The Meadowlands, we have the biggest pools and low take outs. Combine that with competitive racing featuring 10-horse fields, that leads to bigger payouts, which is what our fan base craves. Last weekend, just 10 favorites scored from 28 races. The price of many things are going up these days, but a win bet still costs just $2, the same as when we opened the doors at The Big M in 1976."

The fans came out in droves on Saturday, and why not? The Fall Final Four saw the best 2-year-olds in the sport go at it, while the TVG events brought out the game's greatest aged stars, including a pair of fan favorites – Atlanta and Bulldog Hanover – who called it a career.

THIN DIMES, FAT PAYOFFS: The Meadowlands always offers its faithful opportunities to hit big despite bets that have small base wagers.

On Friday (Nov. 25), the eighth-race 20-cent Pick-6 returned $6,101; third-race 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 paid $5,883; third-race 10-cent Superfecta paid $3,475; and 12th-race 10-cent Hi-5 paid off $5,471.

On Saturday (Nov. 26), the eighth-race 20-cent Survivor Pick-7 paid $5,432 and seventh-race 10-cent Superfecta returned $1,100.

Harness racing's biggest pools are at The Meadowlands, and that was on display last weekend when Friday's 20-cent Pick-6, with the help of a double carryover, had a total pool of $139,648. The 50-cent Pick-4s took in plenty of green on Saturday, when $135,275 and $106,590 were pushed through the windows on the first and second Pick-4s, respectively.

Meadowlands fans say 'yes' to November

November continues to bring good returns to both Meadowlands' regulars and management, as for a fourth consecutive year, business has shown gains at the No. 1 harness facility on the planet during the 11th month on the calendar.
