Swedish driver Rikard Skoglund making the most of his time in the U.S.

by Debbie Little

When Rikard Skoglund left his home in Sweden for a three-week vacation in the U.S., he hoped to get the opportunity to drive at The Meadowlands. Winning his very first start was the cherry on top of the sundae.

"It was tremendous to get the shot, the opportunity, from [trainer] Per [Engblom] to drive a good horse in my first race at The Meadowlands," Skoglund said. "I am really happy for that and I want to thank him for it. It was really, really nice."

According to Engblom, harness racing in Sweden is a tight-knit community, and even though it's a big country, everybody knows everybody.

"Before I moved back [to the U.S.] in 2012, Rikard was just getting started and driving a little and he made a name for himself quite quickly as a young kid, so, I was well aware of him," Engblom said. "He's a good catch driver in Sweden, like really good. I think he's top-10 this year, but he's been top-five. So, he's been driving for quite a lot of the top names over there."

"In Sweden, sometimes it takes a little while to break through... So, I think he's 33 or 34, that's still considered a young driver back home, which it kind of is here, too. But it takes a while to break through and he broke through early and he's staying at it."

Skoglund piloted Bonanza to victory from the outside post.

Skoglund, 34, a native of Sundsvall, Sweden, comes from a harness racing family that dates back before the start of WWI.

Skoglund remembers being introduced to the sport at a young age by his father, Anders, who was a trainer.

"In the winter, I was sitting under a blanket, it was really cold, and I was holding the lines with him in the beginning," Rikard said. "I think the first time I was 2 or 3 years old when I went with him in the jog cart."

Despite the fact that Rikard was talented in multiple sports, there was only one that really mattered.

"I played a lot of soccer back home in Sweden, but in my family, harness racing was always No. 1," Rikard said. "If you wanted attention at the dinner table, you needed to win [with the ponies]. We had small pony horses that we raced when we were young."

According to Rikard, driving pony horses as a child helped him learn how to drive challenging horses.

"My father didn't buy the best ponies for me and my brother," Rikard said. "He'd buy difficult horses that you should learn to drive properly."

As he got older, Rikard remembers calling in sick to school just to drive horses at the racetrack.

Ake Svanstedt is from Rikard's hometown and was good friends with Rikard's father, who died in a car accident when Rikard was just 16.

"I started working for Ake a short period before I went professional," Rikard. "I started as a trainer, too, when I was 21.

"Ten years ago, you couldn't start catch driving directly. You needed to start training horses and driving your own horses. It was a different game 10 years ago."

Rikard has won races for many top trainers in Europe, including Stefan Melander, Daniel Reden and former U.S. resident Jerry Riordan.

"I first used Rikard for the obvious reason," Riordan said. "I was racing in Stockholm and I went down the list of the top drivers and Rikard was the first one available. He gave the horse a good drive so I kept him on that particular horse as he raced around Sweden and in Germany. He ended up winning the biggest international race there is in Germany, the Grosser Preis von Deutschland in Hamburg. After that, I continued using Rikard when I was in his neighborhood. He is in north central Sweden and I am in the south."

"He has very good hands and is kind to the horses. He can get one to go fast without stressing them. That's a real asset if you want your horses to stay happy and sound. He is also a knowledgeable horseman that can help you out with a problem horse. I have no doubt if he decides to move to America, he will stay busy."

Part of the reason for Rikard's current U.S. trip was to test the waters and see if, indeed, he likes the style of racing here before making a life-changing commitment.

"I was really close to doing it just before the COVID-19 pandemic," Rikard said. "I was thinking in the same terms then, I wanted to come here and try and then the pandemic came and after that,

“[Skoglund] has very good hands and is kind to the horses. He can get one to go fast without stressing them. That’s a real asset if you want your horses to stay happy and sound. He is also a knowledgeable horseman that can help you out with a problem horse. I have no doubt if he decides to move to America, he will stay busy.”

~ Jerry Riordan

I was starting to drive for the biggest trainer in Sweden. I drive a lot for him. So, I had too much to lose to try it.”

Rikard and his fiancé, Lina Bergström, welcomed their son, William, into the world in April of this year, reigniting his interest in taking a shot in the U.S.

“After [William was born], I felt like if I want to do it I need to do it right now before he will be older and starting school or something,” Rikard said. “So, if I want to make a move, it’s time to do it now.”

Rikard heads home on Dec. 17, and after the holidays, will sit down with his fiancé to discuss possible opportunities for 2024. A move to the U.S. would be a big undertaking with a house and family at home, but Rikard believes he’s up for the challenge.

“For me, I never see the problems,” Rikard said. “I always see the possibility.”

Should Rikard pull the trigger and make the move to the U.S., Engblom believes his talent will get him far.

“Obviously there’ve been a lot of successful trainers, both guys that have come when they were young, like Takter and Eriksson, and Melander, but Ake was a little bit older when he moved here and so was Nordin back in the day,” Engblom said. “So, we’ve been having a lot of successful trainers move from Sweden, but actually no one that really tried to break through as only a driver, which is a little strange, actually. But you know what, why not? Why not? I think he’s got all the tools that he needs.”

Last weekend, Rikard drove in five races – two at Harrah’s Philadelphia and three at The Meadowlands – all for Engblom. On a special Thursday card last night (Dec. 7) at The Big M, he picked up two catch drives – not for Engblom – that were both the second choice on the morning-line in their respective races.

“I’m always looking for horses that show ability to do work in the toughest parts of the mile and maintain position, at least better than their competition,” said The Meadowlands morning-line odds maker, James Witherite, about making Rikard’s horses the second choice in both races. “Take that, and then add a driver like Skoglund, who has more than proven himself against Sweden’s best and brightest, and you’ve got two major factors converging – and that can sometimes be a rarity in some of these lower-level races.”

Rikard also has four drives tonight (Dec. 8), including two for Engblom, which are both morning-line favorites.

“He’s talented and smart, very smart,” Engblom said. “He looks around and he’s like, ‘I’m in America now, I have to adjust to the American race style,’ which I think is a must if you come here as a European. It’s hard to compete on the highest level even if you come from New Zealand or Australia, like we’ve seen with Dexter [Dunn], with Andy [McCarthy], with Todd [McCarthy]. They’ve been adjusting to the American style of racing and they’ve been tremendously successful.

“So, there’s no doubt in my mind that a guy like Rikard, that’s a good driver, that’s very experienced and is adjusting to the American style of racing will do equally good.”

Rikard always dreamed of one day driving at The Meadowlands and now that it’s happened, it did not disappoint.

“I drive at Vincennes in Paris and I drive a lot and have won a lot at Solvalla in Sweden, that’s my home track, but for me, The Meadowlands has always been the greatest,” Rikard said. “Everybody is really, really nice at The Meadowlands. The trainers and the drivers and the judges, everyone is really easy to talk with and friendly, so, it feels good to be new, but it feels like I have been there before.”

Buckeyes Miller and Merriman still rolling

by Bob Heyden

David Miller will be 59 on Sunday (Dec. 10) and Aaron Merriman, 45, is en route to his ninth-straight dash-winning title. Here's a refresher on the pair who've made the Buckeye state proud.

DAVID MILLER:

- He's closing in on an $11-million season as of Dec. 6. As the clock strikes 12 on Sunday, Miller becomes the only driver at age 59 ever to do this, by a lot. Only one of John Campbell's last three full seasons (2014-16) was over $5 million. No other driver has had a $6 million or better season from age 59 on.
- Miller is No. 3 in the nation in earnings and is $18 million away from the all-time total of Campbell at $299,892,141.
- He won the first $1 million Breeders Crown with Magician in 2000.
- He drove the first and only HOY/Breeders Crown/Triple Crown winner No Pan Intended in 2003.

WHAT COULD MILLER LOOK FORWARD TO AT 59? LET'S TAKE A LOOK:

1. John Campbell won two Breeders Crowns at 59 with Shelliscape and Thinking Out Loud in 2014.
2. John Campbell won two Triple Crown races at 59, the Yonkers Trot and Kentucky Futurity, with Nuncio in 2014.
3. Mike Lachance won a Breeders Crown in 2009 with Pilgrims Taj (2YOTC) at 59. Lachance later added a Kentucky Futurity at both 62 and 63 with My MVP and Creatine, respectively.
4. Del Miller, who at 47 led in earnings in 1960 in North America at 567G, at age 59 had his filly Delmonica Hanover second to Super Bowl in the 1972 Hambletonian.
5. Stanley Dancer was the breeder of a filly named Peace Corps who was foaled the year he was 59 in 1986. By the most ironic twist of fate, Billy Haughton wound up with the fabulous filly who was, and is, the only four-time Breeders Crown winner.

Dave Landry
David Miller

6. When Billy Haughton turned 59 in 1982, he campaigned the 1981 Wilson winner McKinzie Almahurst to a solid season.
7. At 59, Roger Hammer debuted, and won, the 2005 Hambletonian with Vivid Photo, the first of eight at $1,500,000 and his one and only Hambletonian drive.
8. When Frank Ervin was 59, a colt named Bret Hanover, Hip #770, sold for a sales-topping $50,000 – to Ervin's owner Richard Downing – in 1963 and would soon go on to a three-time Horse of the Year career.

CAN MILLER KEEP IT GOING?

Ron Pierce's career was similar in some ways to Miller's. They both were late to the national scene and both won their first

A :30 OPENING QUARTER LED TO A WORLD RECORD?

It happened at least twice in major world records.

In 1971 in the Tattersalls, Albatross had a pair of 1:54.4 world sophomore records, one off a :30 opener.

In 2000, Moni Maker and Julie Krone went :30, :58, 1:26.1, and 1:54.1.

IN 1972, 192G IN ONE MONTH?

Speedy Crown did it, earning $192G in July 1972. His biggest slice came when George Morton Levy offered 50G to Howard Beissinger and Speedy Crown to take on Fresh Yankee and Une de Mai at Roosevelt. Beissinger held out until the number hit $150,000. He then stalked the great mares and came out to win for fun. “I hated to bill my owners for $19,200 as my training/driving fee that month, but I did it,” Beissinger said.

Dave Willoughby was the caretaker for Bret Hanover. At that time, the only 2YO to win the HOY title. So, it should not come as a shock that in the very first Wilson (1977), the name Dave Willoughby shows up for the Haughton entry and again in 1980, then working for Bill Popfinger.

SOME CONSOLATION

There have been two $2-million races in standardbred history. In 1980, Land Grant won the Wilson for $2,011,000 and four years later the Wilson vaulted to $2,161,000. But, the consolations, well, were quite different.

In 1980 – one consolation – $30,000.

In 1984 – four consolations totaling – $500,000 for $200G, $150G, $100G and $50G.

Half-mile specialist Coaches Corner continues winning ways at Yonkers

by James Platz

Tuesday night (Dec. 5) at Yonkers Raceway, Coaches Corner and Jason Bartlett bested a field of older horses to win the night's opener by two lengths, tripping the timer in 1:51.2. Since arriving at the East Coast track, the Always A Virgin—Caribbean Pacetry sophomore is a perfect six-for-six, with an even more impressive winning streak dating back to August on the Indiana fair circuit. His former owner and trainer, Byron Hooley, would have been hard pressed to predict the recent string of success with the challenges he presented as a 2-year-old.

"He was just a mess," Hooley said of the spring and summer of 2022. "He just didn't know how to behave himself. As a 2-year-old he was just a wreck when I would take him to the track. Actually, that's why I didn't take him to the fairs as a 2-year-old. He was just a handful."

Hooley is a regular on the Indiana Sired Fair Circuit, so his decision to keep Coaches Corner at Harrah's Hoosier Park Racing & Casino speaks volumes. That first season he made a dozen starts with the gelding, a private purchase as a yearling. Coaches Corner produced a single victory while hitting the board three more times.

"As a 2-year-old I was never comfortable with him," said Hooley, who campaigns horses under the name of Summit Pacing Acres. "Something would trigger him and this sucker would take off. I just had to be leery around him. I took him to Delaware and he raced second in the Standardbred. Hoosier Park just didn't fit him."

“As a 2-year-old I was never comfortable with him. Something would trigger him and this sucker would take off. I just had to be leery around him. I took him to Delaware and he raced second in the Standardbred. Hoosier Park just didn’t fit him.”

~ Byron Hooley

The struggles at Hoosier Park continued this spring for Coaches Corner. In six starts he managed a third-place placing by the judges.

“I always thought he was good enough to be at Hoosier, but things just didn’t work down there,” Hooley said. “He had drivers pick off him and he drew bad.”

Although the gelding couldn’t put it together at Hoosier Park, the trainer had made an equipment change that worked wonders. Hooley employed an open bridle on his pupil in hopes of making the pacer more manageable. The owner said his charge “grew up” and became a different horse once he moved to the fair circuit.

“All of a sudden he just settled down and realized there was nothing to be afraid of,” he said. “He grew up at the fairs and began to relax a little bit. I think he realized what his purpose was and just got better and better.”

Hooley had been apprehensive to take the pacer to the fairs at 2, but decided to give it a try this season. His son, Derek, steered the 3-year-old in many of his starts, including two immediate fair wins. Moving back to Hoosier Park for two attempts produced mixed results. Coaches Corner finished out of the money in an Indiana Sires Stakes eligible event, but returned a week later to win a fair start at the Anderson oval with Clint Coy in the bike. Beginning at Portland in early July, the gelding began an incredible streak. Over the next nine starts, Coaches Corner collected eight wins to close out his fair run, including six consecutive.

“There wasn’t anything at the fairs that could handle him,” Hooley said. “It was kind of fun winning, and Derek’s boys had a ball. We didn’t make a lot of money, but it was fun doing it. I think it set a nice foundation for him to do what he is doing now.”

Dean Gillette

“Brian was supposed to go to the sale and couldn’t get there in time. He was driving there and told me, ‘I’m not going to make it.’ I told him, ‘It’s fine, I can bid online.’ I had already set up a Proxibid account. The horse is in the ring and we’re just starting to get a hurricane down here. Our power went out as the horse is in the ring. I lost my internet connection so I couldn’t bid.”

~ Jeff Fought

During the summer, Coaches Corner established new speed marks in fair stops at Converse and Portland before claiming the $25,000 Governor’s Cup Championship. His lone defeat came in Grand Circuit action at the Indiana State fair when he finished third behind the Erv Miller entry of Coach Stefanos and Frankie Frankie on Fox Stake Day. After securing an ISA Elite division in late August, Coaches Corner was sold at the Blooded Horse Summer Sale, bringing $65,000 and topping the sale. He was purchased by Hoosiers Jeff Fought and Brian Carsey, although they almost missed out on buying the sophomore.

“Brian was supposed to go to the sale and couldn’t get there in time,” said Fought, who now lives in Florida. “He was driving there and told me, ‘I’m not going to make it.’ I told him, ‘It’s fine, I can bid online.’ I had already set up a Proxibid account. The horse is in the ring and we’re just starting to get a hurricane down here. Our power went out as the horse is in the ring. I lost my internet connection so I couldn’t bid.”

Running out of options, he called Brian Smith, the Proxibid consultant managing the sale on site.

“I had his cell phone,” Fought said. “He said, ‘I noticed you stopped bidding.’ I explained the situation. He bid the horse in for me. It just about didn’t work out.”

But it did work out. Fought and Carsey acquired their target, and Coaches Corner has exceeded expectations, reeling off seven-straight since entering Per Engblom’s barn. Six of the wins have come at Yonkers. The other, which produced his 1:50.3 mark, was secured at Harrah’s Philadelphia.

“We knew he was a nice horse,” Fought said. “We paid the premium for him because of the conditions that he fits. But the plan from the start was to send him straight to Yonkers. He’s shown in Indiana how good he was on a half. Our plan was to see how far he would go in the conditions and he has 100 per cent exceeded our expectations.”

Coaches Corner has banked $110,146 this season, with $63,200 added since he changed hands.

Beginning with his victory at Portland, the gelding has reached the winner’s circle in 15 of 16 starts. His current winning streak, which began Aug. 16, is nine races. His 18 seasonal wins place him in a tie for second for total wins in North America by a horse regardless of category. Only Dunkin’, also a sophomore pacer, has more with 21 scores. Fought and Carsey felt Coaches Corner would be a good fit for Yonkers, but even they have been surprised by how he has moved up the condition ladder.

“We felt like he would stroll through the six-win category,” Fought said. “From five wins on up he’s been with older, upper-condition horses. We thought we would be okay up through the middle conditions and then you have to see what you have from there. These last three wins he’s been beyond what we thought he was going to be.”

Saddled with post 8 Tuesday night, Coaches Corner and Bartlett overcame the outside position to, once again, claim victory. This time he did so by racing third through a :55 opening half before moving first up and putting away leader Birthday by 2 lengths.

“He’s had a few that have impressed me, but that one there way more than any,” Fought said. “He didn’t have the lead and he showed that he’s not a one-trick pony. He had to come first up against them and work awful hard from the 8-hole. When he came first up and went by a pretty good horse and did it impressively, it was an eye opener.”

Hooley no longer owns the horse, but he, his son, and grandsons still cheer for the gelding. It doesn’t hurt that Fought roomed with Derek in college and is a long-time family friend.

“He’s become a family horse,” he said of Coaches Corner. “We all follow him. Right now, he’s at the top of his game. He’s been fun to watch.”

GRASSROOTS PERSPECTIVE

with CHRIS LOMON

Niko Karna is a harness racing lifer

by Chris Lomon

Niko Karna's connection to horses started before he was even welcomed into the world.

He was perhaps destined to have a life in horse racing, although what and when that would be were questions that remained to be answered in his early childhood years.

"It all started before I was born," Karna said. "My dad had bought me a pony. So, my first gift after being born was a horse. I remember being around 4 or 5 and driving the pony around myself. The pony liked to kick, so we had to make a different type of race bike. I can still remember those days. As time went on, I never really wanted to do anything else with my life, other than to work with the horses."

Growing up in Kitee, a town of just over 9,500 people located in Eastern Finland and part of the North Karelia region, Karna deepened his bond with horses, and became a student of standardbred racing, embracing every opportunity to learn more about the sport and its stars.

Even at a young age, he dreamt of what it would be like to work in the industry.

"I had hopes and dreams of having a career in racing," Karna said. "I would tell my mom that one day I would either go to the United States or Italy when I grew up so that I could work with horses. She never believed me until it happened."

In 2018, Karna left his native Finland in pursuit of his long-held goals, arriving in the U.S. when he was 23.

"My friend told me we should go to the States and try it out there, to look for work and see what we could find," Karna said. "We felt that we could find work and we were lucky enough that it happened. I ended up getting my visa and then another visa. I went home for a couple of months, came back, and I never left."

Niko Karna in

Karna, who started the driving side of his harness life the year he came to the U.S., quickly found work in the barn of a fellow European, namely, Swedish-born conditioner Lucas Wallin.

Working with the rising star horseman proved to be a fruitful experience. Just as it did when he worked for Jim Campbell, another respected trainer.

Currently, he is part of Noel Daley's team.

"All of them have helped me a lot," Karna said. "You learn so much every day you walk into a barn. That was a very important part of my development, to keep my eyes and ears open, to watch what they were doing. The foundation was that hard work creates success. That's what stood out for me. You can always take what you learn from others and put it into what you do."

Those lessons learned helped him in every facet of his racing repertoire, including the race bike.

Karna earned his first driving win in his second start, the victory coming on Nov. 2, 2018, in the ninth race at Freehold.

In rein to Wallin trainee Blenheim, the 8-5 choice in the $3,200 trot dash, Karna and the bay son of Yankee Glide got away in second before the duo struck the front.

On top by 2 ½ lengths at the stretch call, the pair crossed the wire the easiest of winners, 10 lengths ahead of their nearest rival.

"He was my favorite horse, and he still is my favorite horse," Karna said. "I took care of him when I first came here, and I developed a bond with him. He became a very nice racehorse. So, to get that first win here with him was very special."

Karna was, to say the least, emphatic in the victory.

"I celebrated like I had won the Hambletonian," he said with a laugh. "It was a dream come true, so I didn't care that I was so excited. It was just being in the moment and having that feeling come over you."

This year, Karna is having a career year in the sulky, while also contributing to Daley's success.

Despite having a personal-best season driving, sitting behind pacers and trotters isn't the top priority when he looks at his racing future.

"You never know how the year will unfold," Karna said. "I am happy that it has been a good year, but my ultimate goal is on the training side. I always thought I would be a catch driver, but that has shifted towards becoming a trainer. I've been leaning towards that way for a while. But I am very appreciative to all the owners and trainers for giving me the opportunity. I was able to drive in a sires stakes in New York and I was able to win two races at The Meadowlands, which I had always dreamed about too. So, to have those chances were very nice. I am grateful."

Karna is also very focused on the here and now.

"I try to take things from a day-to-day outlook," Karna said. "When I look ahead, I feel that at some stage I will be training on my own. It will happen when it is right, but I will continue to stay

“It all started before I was born. My dad had bought me a pony. So, my first gift after being born was a horse. I remember being around 4 or 5 and driving the pony around myself. The pony liked to kick, so we had to make a different type of race bike. I can still remember those days. As time went on, I never really wanted to do anything else with my life, other than to work with the horses.”

in the present for now. I am not in a rush. I like to work with the horses and help them improve and be the best they can be."

Outside of racing, the 28-year-old doesn't have any particular hobbies or interests.

His preferred way to relax is sitting down to a nice dinner with friends.

"I like to go out and have something nice to eat, to hang out with my friends," he said. "A couple of years ago, I found out I really like to do [car] simulators. It takes my thoughts away from the horses for a little while and gives me a chance to unwind and relax. Racing is very demanding, so when you get an opportunity to step away from it for a little bit, it is good for you."

For Karna, life in racing is a bona fide dream come true.

"Working with Noel has been great," Karna said. "We have a guy from Ireland, and a couple of Finnish grooms; it's a pretty international place. I am very happy with the way things are and I am very excited for whatever is in store for me."

Bazire's victory streak broken in Paris

by Thomas Hedlund

Jean-Michel Bazire has dominated the final of $160,000 Grand National du Trot for the past seven years, but in Sunday's (Dec. 3) final, another participant proved best after a tough first over trip.

Gaspar d'Angis (Quaro), trained by Jean-Michel Baudouin and driven by Eric Raffin, had claimed six elimination races in the GNT-series races distributed all over France during the season. In the final, the 7-year-old gelding Gaspar d'Angis claimed this well-deserved triumph in a mile rate of 1:57.2 over 1.7 miles.

Geldings are allowed to race in the GNT series, unlike most of the other group races at Vincennes during the winter. The preparation races before the Prix d'Amérique for example, are closed for geldings and on Sunday (Dec. 10) it's time for chapter two in the hunt for spots in the 2024 Prix d'Amérique.

The $125,000 Prix du Bourbonnais over 2,850 meters looks to be a spectacular race with a lot of well-merited trotters – among them, Elitloppet winners Etonnant and Hohneck.

NEW WINS FOR GOCCIADORO?

Big races are happening this weekend in Italy. Today (Dec. 8), champion trotter Vivid Wise As will be the probable favorite in the $105,000 Gran Premio Duomo in Florence.

French trainer and driver Matthieu Abrivard will steer Alessandro Gocciadoro's top trotter from post 3 behind the gate and only six opponents will face him.

Gocciadoro seems to have a pretty good chance to claim the title in Sunday's (Dec.10) $105,000 Gran Premio Royal Mares in Naples, where the dominant trainer has five out of eight competitors.

The 2-year-olds will race for $190,000 in two divisions of the Gran Premio Allevamento Masaf in Naples the same day. Fourteen fillies showed interest in the prestigious race while 15 boys will try their luck in the colts' division.

Great Scot: Inglis gets first U.S. win

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Scotland's Ryan Inglis got his first driving win in North America last week at The Meadowlands, the first of what he hopes will be many on this side of the pond in the months ahead. The 23-year-old will begin trying to add to his victory total this week when he returns to the Big M for races on Thursday and Saturday.

Inglis, who visited the U.S. for several weeks earlier this year and drove once at The Meadowlands in an amateur race, finishing fourth, is back now for an extended stay in the States. He will be helping in the barn of trainer Linda Toscano and looking to take advantage of any driving opportunities that come his way.

© James Lisa

A third-generation horseman, Inglis has been a multiple recipient of the Young Driver of the Year Award from the Scottish Harness Racing Club and has also been honored for his driving prowess by the British Harness Racing Club earlier this year.

"At the end of the day, I want to drive, but this is a hard place to start and try to break into the driving circuit," Inglis said. "I just need as much help as possible, to be honest. I showed last week that I'm capable enough. I've won stacks of races back home; I'm more than confident in my ability to drive horses. You just need someone to take a chance, and hopefully I can show it."

Inglis decided now was the time to give driving in the U.S. a shot. A season in the U.K. runs from May through mid-October, with racing taking place Saturdays and Sundays.

"The racing back home is like a hobby," Inglis said. "I can't make a living driving there or be involved in the sport like I want on a fulltime basis. I decided to give up a year back home and give it a go. I'm young enough and Linda was really keen for me to come back, which was another factor."

Last week, Inglis won with P L Portia in a Meadowlands Amateur Driving Club race, using a gate-to-wire performance to score in 1:54.4. The 4-year-old female pacer, trained by Justin Sodano, had not led at the first quarter in any of her previous 28 races this season.

"The race worked out completely different from what me and Justin thought and what we spoke about," Inglis said. "We thought we would be somewhere near the back because she hasn't really shown a lot of gate speed in the past. But when I was lining up behind the car, she felt unbelievable. So, it was like a split-second decision to leave with her. It paid off."

"She raced great, and up the straight she dug in for me. She's one of the smallest horses I've ever driven, but she's got the heart of a lion. She's so tough."

And what was Inglis thinking as he made his way toward the finish line with P L Portia?

"When you're in the moment, you don't really think of [winning] too much, you're just driving to finishing," Inglis said, adding with a laugh, "But I do remember thinking: Please don't get caught."

On his way to the winner's circle, though, Inglis had time to savor the experience.

"It was a surreal moment," Inglis said. "I come from a very small village in Scotland, and just to be driving at the biggest and best track in the world, is one thing. To actually win a race there, to get it done, it's a moment that leaves you at a loss for words. It was some feeling. It was unbelievable."

Inglis and P L Portia returned to The Meadowlands yesterday (Dec. 7) for a TrackMaster Series preliminary, and Inglis will drive another Sodano trainee, Make It Big, in a claiming handicap on Saturday (Dec. 9) at the Big M.

Racing begins at 6:20 p.m. (EST) at The Meadowlands. For free TrackMaster programs for the Big M, click here.

Ohio move pays off for Widger

by Ken Weingartner / USTA media relations manager

Sam Widger was no stranger to success in Indiana in recent years, but this season the longtime driver took to calling Ohio home when it came to racing. The change has worked out well, with Widger setting a career-high with $4.25 million in purses.

Prior to this year, Widger spent some of the early parts of recent seasons racing at Ohio's Miami Valley Raceway while Harrah's Hoosier Park was on its three-month winter break. This year, Widger finished sixth in wins at Miami Valley with 91, two victories behind Tyler Smith in fifth. In the previous two years, Widger was 10th in the standings.

Widger was no worse than third in wins among drivers at Hoosier Park from 2016-2022, which included a stretch of four consecutive second-place finishes behind the track's perennial leader, Trace Tetrick.

This year, he raced at Hoosier only for several weeks after it opened in March. When Miami Valley wrapped up its season in May, Widger decided to focus on Ohio and began driving at Eldorado Scioto Downs.

"I raced the last several years at Miami Valley when they were off at Hoosier," Widger said. "I like time off here or there, but three or four months is too long for me to go without driving horses; I love it so much."

"This year, I had a good meet [at Miami Valley] and thought I would go to Scioto and see what happened. The money is good, and I had some momentum going. I think it's hard to switch between tracks. I would have gotten drives at Hoosier, I wasn't worried about that, but I thought I'd just go ahead and stay out here and see how it went."

Widger finished the Scioto campaign with 125 wins at the track, good for fifth in the standings. He currently is sixth at Hollywood Dayton, with 51 victories.

"It's worked out really well," Widger said. "I've met a lot of new people and got to put some faces to names. The driving is a little different here, but that's OK."

The Ohio ovals are all five-eighth-mile tracks; Hoosier is a seven-eighths.

"You just have to adjust," said Widger, who competed for two decades on the Chicago circuit before heading to Indiana. "That being said, I loved [Illinois'] Maywood Park, the half-mile racing. The best horse doesn't always win, the draw is a lot. I like the smaller-track racing."

Among Widger's top moments this year were winning an Ohio Sire Stakes championship with 2-year-old female pacer Daisy's Star at 30-1, an OSS consolation final with 2-year-old male pacer Racing Rebel, and a Buckeye Stallion Series title with 3-year-old female trotter Vintage.

"I picked up Daisy's Star late; I drove her twice before the final," Widger said. "She showed up big. I've always picked up some horses late in the year that were contenders. It's just kind of worked out for me over the years."

Widger, who got his first career victory in 1986, has visited the winner's circle 7,597 times in his career and earned $71 million in purses. This is his third consecutive year with a career high in purses, following his $3.83 million in 2021 and $4.16 million in 2022.

"I've been very blessed to be able to do what I love and get good horses," Widger said. "Thanks goes out to all the owners and trainers for supporting me over the years and using me and believing in me."

Misty Coast repeats in DSBF prelim

by the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund

Stephen Messick's homebred Misty Coast established herself as the filly to beat in next week's $110,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) series final for 3-year-old pacing fillies with a 1:55.1 win in her $20,000 second-round preliminary division on Wednesday (Dec. 6) at Bally's Dover.

Following a 1:53.1 score in the first round, Misty Coast and driver Art Stafford, Jr. seized control from She Is Risen (driven by Corey Callahan) on the first turn before controlling splits of :28.1, :57.2 and 1:26.2. The daughter of Powerful Mist—Cruisinthe coast widened her margin of clearance steadily through a :28.4 closing quarter, defeating She Is Risen by 5 lengths. Lulu Mist (Trae Porter) tracked the top pair throughout and lunged late to just miss the runner-up spot.

Misty Coast, who has now won 14 races and earned $242,550 in her career, is trained by Les Givens. She paid $2.10 to win.

The second division saw Hold My Wine follow up a second-place finish to Misty Coast in the first round with a 1:55 victory of her own. In line to Montrell Teague, the Badlands Hanover—Step Lively filly sat third behind dueling leaders Direct Mist (Ross Wolfenden) and No Gel Nikki (Pat Berry) through a :27.2 quarter before brushing to the fore with just over a lap remaining. Hold My Wine traveled uncontested through middle splits of :56.4 and 1:25.4 before pulling away from her rivals in the final three-sixteenths. Kims Secret Search (Tim Tetrick) sustained a first-over bid through the final half mile to finish second, 10-1/4 lengths in arrears; Mavericks Missy (Russell Foster) followed live cover and finished third.

Hold My Wine, who has won seven races and earned $83,513 as a homebred for George & Tina Dennis Racing, is trained by Joe Columbo. She paid $2.10 to win.

In addition to Misty Coast and Hold My Wine, the following fillies have qualified for the $110,000 series final, scheduled for next Wednesday (Dec. 13): Chatty Kathleen, Lulu Mist, She Is Risen, Kims Secret Search, No Gel Nikki and Mavericks Missy.

KODACK BLACK REPEATS IN SECOND DSBF PRELIM

Kodack Black, who won the $110,000 Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) summer series final for 3-year-old male trotters in July at Harrington Raceway, is poised for a second seasonal title in the First State after coasting to an open-length score in his $20,000 second-round DSBF series division on Tuesday (Dec. 5) at Bally's Dover.

Montrell Teague sent Kodack Black to a clear lead over Reddy Fox (driven by Art Stafford, Jr.) on approach to the first turn, and the pair controlled splits of :30, 1:00 and 1:29.1 before accelerating clear through the far turn. The Kodak Lindy—Love On Broadway gelding capped his 1:58 mile with a :28.4 final quarter, dismissing of Reddy Fox and evading runner-up Hespookshescores (Russell Foster) by 8-1/2 lengths. Royal Mistake (Justin Vincent) finished third.

Kodack Black, whom Clyde Francis trains for George Teague, Jr. Inc., David Collins and Lakiyah Teachey, is a 13-time winner with $207,979 in career earnings. He paid $2.10 to win.

The other division, a non-wagering event conducted before the pari-mutuel program, went to Joe Columbo trainee I Got It Made. In line to Ross Wolfenden, the Iron Mine Bucky—Rapsong gelding sat last in the four-horse field before vaulting down the grandstand in mid-stretch to win in 1:58.4, out-kicking the first-over Perfect Twenty (Victor Kirby) by a half-length. Longtime pacesetter Paleface (Ross Shand) was a gamely defeated third.

I Got It Made is now a four-time winner with $63,484 earned for owner/breeder George and Tina Dennis Racing.

Second-round winners Kodack Black and I Got It Made will be joined in next Tuesday's (Dec. 12) $110,000 DSBF series final by first-round winner Paleface, Hespookshescores, Reddy Fox, Royal Mistake, Youngbuck and Perfect Twenty.

SHE IS STRONG ROLLS TO EASY DSBF PRELIM SCORE

After a 25-length romp in first-round action, She Is Strong made easy work of her competition once again in the second leg of the Delaware Standardbred Breeders' Fund (DSBF) series for 3-year-old trotting fillies at Bally's Dover, coasting to an easy 1:58 win in her $20,000 preliminary event on Monday (Dec. 4).

Trainer/driver Art Stafford, Jr. put She Is Strong on an uncontested lead through a :29.4 first quarter, and the daughter of Anders Bluestone—Nidaros led pocket rival Starlight Lounge (driven by Cody Polisenio) through middle splits of :59.1 and 1:28.4 before drawing clear to win by 5-3/4 lengths. Royal Flirt (Justin Vincent) finished third, another 4-3/4 lengths in arrears.

Jeffery Clark owns She Is Strong, a 14-time winner with $231,625 in career earnings.

The second division saw Lady Brass ($4.80) and driver Russell Foster capitalize on an early break in stride by 2-5 favorite and first-round winner Last Nights Hit (Stafford) en route to a 2:00.3 score. The CR Commando—Savannah Montana filly trotted unopposed through fractions of :29.2, :59.3 and 1:30 before edging away from the pocket-sitting Tymal Jacquelyn (Polisenio) to win by 3-1/2 lengths. Last Nights Hit failed to catch the top pair after her miscue but saved third.

Clifton Green trains Lady Brass, a two-time winner with $90,570 in the bank, for LCT Stable.

All eight fillies who started in the first two preliminary rounds qualify for the $110,000 DSBF series final, scheduled for next Monday (Dec. 11).

Crown Prince Gar, 24, dies

Winbak Farm is saddened by the loss of Crown Prince Gar, 2, 2:01.4h; 3, 1:57.4; 1:57.1f ($229,569).

"Crown Prince Gar was a favorite of the team," said Jack Burke, Winbak Farm general manager. "He had a unique spot pattern that made him stand out and between his looks and personality, he was very loved."

Crown Prince Gar was bred by Winbak Farm and was named after Garrett Bell, Winbak Farm's former general manager and nephew of Winbak Farm owner Joe Thomson.

"Crown Prince Gar was one of the first foals bred by Winbak Farm to stand at stud," said Thomson. "We owned him during the entirety of this life and he held a special place in our hearts."

As a racehorse, Crown Prince Gar won 16 times. He was a former 2-year-old colt trot track record holder at Harrington Raceway (a record he held for 7 years).

At 2, Crown Prince Gar was second in the Arden Downs Stakes division at The Meadows and was third in a Kentucky Sire Stakes leg at Lexington's Red Mile and a Reynolds Memorial division at Pocono Downs.

At 3, Crown Prince Gar won two Maryland Race Fund divisions (Ocean Downs and Rosecroft). He was second in Landmark Stakes at Goshen Historic Track and the Old Oaken Bucket at Delaware Country Fair. He was third in the Connors Memorial final at Hazel Park, Kentucky Spring Championship final at Red Mile, and Matron Stakes elimination at Dover Downs.

As a stallion, Crown Prince Gar stood in Ontario in 2005 and in Delaware from 2006 to 2016.

From 21 horses born, he was the sire of All Shoes On Deck, 1:54.4f ($336,944), Odessa, 1:55.3 ($199,016), and Whichwayrightleft, 3, 1:58.1f ($173,927). His offspring averaged $84,865 per starter.

"Crown Prince Gar was able to enjoy his well-deserved retirement with the best of care," said Burke. "He will be missed. He was one of the first trotting stallions that we stood in Delaware and helped improve our Delaware breeding program to what it is today."

Shawn Wiles voted Member of the Year by U.S. Harness Writers Association

Shawn Wiles, the executive director of racing and facilities at Monticello Raceway, has been recognized for his efforts on behalf of the United States Harness Writers Association (USHWA), the sport’s leading media organization, by being voted USHWA’s Member of the Year in a polling of past winners of the award.

In 1972 Wiles started working as a caretaker on the backstretch of the very track at which he holds among the highest positions today, working his way through the horsemen’s ranks until becoming the first American to be a second trainer for the Continental Stable, one of the earliest operations to “invade” North America and be a powerful force, especially in the trotting ranks, starting in the 1980s.

A graduate of the Ohio State University ATI program, Wiles went from the backstretch to the Monticello frontstretch in 1994, and climbed up the management ladder as quickly as he ascended working as a horseman, resulting in the supervisory position he holds today.

A member of USHWA for 35 years and approaching his 20th year as a member of the board of directors, Wiles served as president of the Association during 2018-2020, and today continues in an extremely important role as chairman of the sponsorship committee. The work of Wiles and this committee in partnering with the sport’s top horsemen and organizations allows USHWA to continue to present its leading lights on as electric a stage as possible, culminating annually with the Dan Patch Awards Banquet in the honoring of the standardbred sport’s stars, both equine and human. And Wiles doesn’t just “sit in the management box” – in addition to his sponsorship selling, on Banquet night you can find him setting up the trophy table display, selling raffle tickets, or doing any number of other jobs. “This kind of constant, pervasive work is what made Shawn attractive to the voters,” said Debbie Little, immediate past USHWA of the Year.

Shawn Wiles will be honored at USHWA’s Dan Patch Awards Banquet, presented by Caesars Entertainment, set for Sunday evening (Feb. 25, 2024) at Rosen Centre on International Drive in Orlando FL. To inquire about sponsorship opportunities for the Dan Patch weekend, contact Wiles at swiles@rwcatskills.com or USHWA President Barry Lefkowitz at barryl22@aol.com. A room reservation link appears on the USHWA website www.usharnesswriters.com; those wishing to advertise in the USHWA Dan Patch Souvenir Journal should contact Kim Rinker at trotrink@aol.com. Information on purchasing Banquet dinner tickets will appear on the USHWA website as procedure becomes finalized.

New medication restrictions in Ontario

As part of its continued commitment to protect Ontario racehorses and strengthen the integrity of racing, the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario (AGCO) introduced changes to the rules of racing on June 5, 2023 to promote the welfare of equine athletes.

After continued consultations with industry stakeholders, the AGCO paused implementation of TB 15.40.01 and SB 6.54.01, which restrict certain medications for horses participating in official workouts or qualifiers, on Aug. 4, 2023.

Starting Jan. 1, 2024, rules TB 15.40.01 and SB 6.54.01 will take effect.

Horses participating in workouts and qualifiers must not test positive for any substance that is a corticosteroid, analgesic, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory, or local anaesthetic (anesthetic) including, but not limited to, substances that have a Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency (CPMA) elimination guideline.

The regulated medications can mask pain associated with injuries and/or have been linked to an increased risk of injuries and fatalities. In line with our continued focus on equine welfare, the implementation of these rules aims to protect horses and ensure they are only training at high speeds when they are well enough to do so.

Supporting guidance documents

The AGCO committed to providing additional guidance ahead of the effective date. The below information aims to provide licensees more clarity about the new requirements:

Tip Sheet: Your Responsibility to be Familiar with CPMA Elimination Guidelines and Medications Regulated in Official Workout and Qualifier Testing

Provides additional clarity on rules TB 15.40.01 and SB 6.54.01 testing requirements, examples of regulated substances not included in the Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency's (CPMA) elimination guidelines but falling under the restricted categories, and guidance on navigating the CPMA elimination guidelines website.

Q&As: Out of Competition Testing for Licensees

Provides answers to specific questions about the implementation of rules TB 15.40.01 and SB 6.54.01, licensee expectations, and the impacts to racing.

Licensees can also submit specific questions about the new rule requirements using our iAGCO portal.

Changes to the thoroughbred rules of racing

As of Jan. 1, 2024, new rule being added in Chapter 15: Misconduct, Needles, Syringes and Searches, of the thoroughbred rules of racing stating:

15.40.01 No horse participating in a workout shall test positive for any substance that is a corticosteroid, analgesic, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory, or local anesthetic, including but not limited to, those substances that Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency has listed an elimination guideline.

Changes to the standardbred rules of racing

As of Jan. 1, 2024, new rule being added in Chapter 6: Violations, Penalties and Expulsions, of the standardbred rules of racing stating:

6.54.01 No horse participating in a qualifier shall test positive for any substance that is a corticosteroid, analgesic, non-steroidal anti-inflammatory, or local anesthetic, including but not limited to, those substances that Canadian Pari-Mutuel Agency has listed an elimination guideline.

All other rules outlined in Information Bulletin No. 90 – Restricting the Use of Certain Medications for Horses Participating in Workouts or Qualifiers are in effect.

All AGCO licensees are expected to stay up to date with thoroughbred and standardbred rules of racing on the AGCO website.

'Racine' rings the bell in Big M feature

The veteran mare Racine Bell knows much about winning, and more specifically, winning while flashing blinding speed, which is precisely what she did in the featured $23,000 winners over for fillies and mares on the pace Saturday night at The Meadowlands.

The 6-year-old daughter of So Surreal—Ty's Artist, who took her lifetime best of 1:47.2 in the Perfect Sting at The Big M on July 2 of last year (beating defending Horse of the Year Test Of Faith), brought her usual speed show to the dance, and those who backed her at 4-5 cashed after another wire-to-wire score, this one in 1:50.

"She likes the front," said winning driver Jason Bartlett. "Nobody left under me and she got to the front pretty easy."

Leaving from post 7 in the seven-horse field, Racine Bell fired away from the gate and had the lead before the field hit the first turn. Beach Cowgirl, the 8-5 second choice, sat in the pocket as Racine Bell hit the quarter in :27, half in :56 and three-quarters in 1:23.2.

In deep stretch, Beach Cowgirl came after the leader after vacating the pocket, but Racine Bell dug down for more once that one was alongside her, and went on to a safe neck win. Caviart Davia finished third.

"The other horse was getting close," said Bartlett. "[Racine Bell] has been doing that this year a little. Before she would just run off. Now she's smarter and just does what she has to do. This was her last start of the year, and they are looking to come back for the Blue Chip Matchmaker at Yonkers in the spring."

Bartlett has enjoyed his Racine Bell experience.

"It's been a great ride," he said. "She's come a long way since she was a baby but she's always had that great speed. She's very smart and definitely one of the best I've ever driven."

As the public choice, Racine Bell returned $3.80 to win for her trainer David Dewhurst. She's now won 37-of-95 lifetime starts, good for earnings of $1,164,749 for owners Chris S. Lawton and Dale G. Lawton.

CARRYOVER REPORT: There was huge action in the 20-cent Pick-6, as a double carryover of $37,839 led to over $105,000 in "new money" being bet. The total pool of $143,689 saw many patrons share the pot, as after a sequence that saw winner's odds of 6-1, 1-5, 7-5, 8-5, 8-5 and even-money, those with six correct collected $226.00.

The 20-cent Pick-8 went unhited for a third straight time, so there will be a triple carryover of $16,541 offered on the wager.

Patrons should be aware that the Pick-8 carryover will be offered on tonight's card.

A LITTLE MORE: Bartlett (four), Yannick Gingras (three) and Dave Miller (three) combined to pilot 10 of the 14 winners on the card. Dewhurst, Ron Burke and Edwin Quevedo all had training doubles. All-source wagering totaled $3,198,190, the 55th time from 80 racing programs that betting busted the $3-million barrier during 2023.

Outrageous Show gets it all in Steven MacRae Memorial final

Doing all the heavy lifting on the outside, Outrageous Show was upset bound in the Steven MacRae Memorial final on Saturday afternoon (Dec. 2) at Red Shores Racetrack and Casino at the Charlottetown Driving Park.

The $4,500 Steven MacRae Memorial Fall Series Final had Rockin Novel (driven by Ken Murphy) guard the pylons at the start to trip the opening quarter in :29 flat over a wet track listed 2-seconds off. Heavily favored Keeper Floored (Marc Campbell) came calling past the quarter to swoop up and take the lead at the half of :58.2 while Outrageous Show (Corey MacPherson) was on the move on the outside first-over. Outrageous Show and Keeper Floored battled to the three-quarters of 1:29.1 but it was Outrageous Show who prevailed in the stretch drive by three-quarters of a length in 1:59.3 at 7-1 odds. Keeper Floored was second with Philthebank (Jason Hughes) completing the triactor. Jeff Holmes trains the winning son of Hes Watching for owner Paul Holmes of Warren Grove.

Write One was the best in the $3,200 Steven MacRae Memorial consolation winning off the front in 2:01.1 for driver Myles Heffernan, Sr., trainer Trevor Hicken and owner Jackie Heffernan of Summerville.

Hughes had a double as a trainer/driver with Sugar Bowl winning the $3,500 fillies and mares preferred pace in 1:57.3 for owners Tommy Collings and Brian MacPhee, while Acefortyfour Dome won the fillies and mares preferred 3 class in 1:57.2 for owner Donald MacRae. Hughes is only three victories away from career win 2000.

Ron Matheson had a pair of victors from his Charlottetown barn with Southern Heart (Corey MacPherson) in 2:02.1 and Outrageous Style (Gilles Barrieau) in 1:59.2. Outrageous Style is a full-sister to Steven MacRae Memorial final winner Outrageous Show to give Paul Holmes an owning and breeding double on the day.

Jessiejesorjessica hit the wire first in the $3,100 open trot with a 2:01 clocking for driver David Dowling and trainer Jennifer Doyle.

Sophie Mongeon to chair the Quebec Jockey Club

There is big news in the world of harness racing in Quebec, as the appointment of Ms. Sophie Mongeon as president of the board of directors of the Quebec Jockey Club has been confirmed.

She is the first woman to hold this position since the creation of the QJC in 2009. She is no stranger to the racing industry, being the daughter of Andréa Filion of the well-known Filion family and Dr. Réjean Mongeon, a veterinarian who got his start at Blue Bonnets Raceway. Ms. Mongeon has been at the forefront of the Quebec Jockey Club over the past 18 months, and her dynamic presence has quickly become apparent.

Claude Lévesque, the president of the Jockey Club for the past seven years, leaves with a sense of accomplishment. It was an immense task, to be sure, but one to which he devoted several hours of his precious time daily.

Lévesque will have marked, in his own way, his long involvement on the organization's board. His vast knowledge of the environment, his experience at many levels, especially as an owner and breeder, has greatly contributed to the growth of the industry during his mandate. He therefore holds out the torch when the industry he helped to develop is in good health.

With the appointment of Ms. Mongeon, we can expect a person who listens to people in the industry and is well aware of what horse people are going through, having spent her youth on a farm. Her experience as the owner of her law firm for more than 25 years, representing accident victims, workers and victims with large companies or government authorities, will be an asset.

She is not afraid to advocate for causes that are close to her heart, there is no doubt that her goal is to promote our industry as a flagship of sports activity in Quebec.

Her experience on the airwaves of 91.9 Sports/BPM Sports, her media interventions on current affairs and her knowledge of social networks ensure that she will bring freshness and fresh eyes to what is happening in this industry that is too little known and too little publicized.

From her own lips, she welcomes this appointment with humility, but also with joy and pride, well aware of everyone's expectations. We can only wish her the best of luck and the most fruitful of mandates.

Breedings sought to benefit New Vocations

New Vocations Racehorse Adoption Program is currently organizing its 26th Annual Stallion Auction to be held via OnGait.com Feb 6-8, 2024. The Standardbred Transition Alliance accredited charity offers retiring racehorses and broodmares a safety-net through rehabilitation, retraining, and placement in carefully screened and monitored homes.

New Vocations embraces racing and the excitement and joy of racehorse ownership. At the conclusion of a horse's racing career, New Vocations stands ready to assist with its aftercare needs.

"We rehabilitate the horses, break them to ride and care for them until a qualified adopter can be found," said executive director Dot Morgan. "Then we educate the adopters on the characteristics of racehorses, answer myriads of questions, encourage them through problems and offer training guidelines. New Vocations adoptees can be returned at any time, for any reason throughout their life."

The stallion auction is New Vocations' biggest standardbred fundraiser of the year and a perfect opportunity for stallion owners to show their support of aftercare. If you don't have a breeding to donate, please consider a monetary donation.

To donate a breeding, please email dot@horseadoption.com or call 937-205-4667. Monetary donations can be made through the website at www.NewVocations.org or sent to New Vocations, 719 Dolan Lane, Lexington KY 40511. To maximize advertising, breedings need to be received by Jan. 1; however, breedings will be accepted right up until the auction and throughout the spring.
